

Learn to Control Brush

The public is invited to see a demonstration of the Solo Mistblower, a chemical sprayer for use in controlling brush and weeds. The Carrizozo Soil and Water Conservation District Board will demonstrate the machine next Thursday, January 22 at 3 p.m., weather permitting.

The group will meet in the Soil Conservation Service Office and Pat Sheaver, Area Range Conservationist with the Soil Conservation Service, will explain the versatility of the machine, with a demonstration to follow.

The Carrizozo Board has purchased the Mistblower for people within the district to rent at a nominal fee. Chemicals are available also. The board bought the machine primarily for use in the control of broomweed and other noxious plants and shrubs.

If you would like more information, please contact the office in the annex or call 648-2941.

Bingaman and WDA Discuss

The Water Defense Association met with Senator Jeff Bingaman in Roswell to discuss the situation regarding the Mescalero Apache Tribe claims to divert 91 percent of the flow of the Rio Ruidoso as it leaves the reservation.

Co-chairman for the WDA are Michael Hurd and Kenneth Nosker. They are researching every available source of funds to carry on the legal defense to protect their water rights.

Several government entities have pledged their financial support. Among these are: Lincoln County, the Village of Ruidoso Downs, the Village of Capitan, the city of Roswell, the Chaves County Commissioners and the Utilities Council of Chaves County.

More than 300 small acreage irrigators out of the Rio Ruidoso have contributed $10 an acre. The average acreage among the irrigators is 15 acres in the Ruidoso, Bonito and Hondo River water systems.

Nosker said the members are frustrated by the fact that it is necessary for the United States Attorney to be helping in the proposed taking of the water rights.

The WDA is continuing to seek funds for the legal battle.

'EMT of the Month' Awards will Begin

By DOROTHY GUCK

"EMT'S". More than a set of initials for a cursory glance. These initials signify a vital service of which every citizen of Lincoln County should know.

Emergency Medical Technicians are volunteers for Lincoln County ambulance service. They are persons often responsible for your life in a critical situation. Ambulances are located in Alto, Capitan, Carrizozo, Corona, Fort Stanton, and Hondo. But many of the technicians live in rural areas, where they go to the scene of an emergency call to stabilize victims while awaiting the arrival of an ambulance.

There are 50 active members of the Lincoln County Ambulance Association who have completed 105 hours or more of training, and passed a state licensing exam. They must update their qualifications by retesting and relicensing every 2 years. The county furnishes the supplies and equipment which they are trained to use.

EMT's are dispatched by radio and beepers by Lincoln County Sheriff dispatchers, who are trained to be of the utmost efficiency and are extremely important to the immediate help in crucial situations.

Each member of the EMT organization is a volunteer from all walks of life, who devotes off-hours from their jobs, to the service of the people of Lincoln County. Beside their ambulance work and skills, they promote safety; often teach CPR and First Aid; give educational help for better health in schools and communities; are on standby at sports events, and much like police and fire department personnel, spend many hours of service saving lives and providing comfort.

Although the EMT's get lots of support from the Lincoln County Commissioners and County Manager Suzanne Cox and other County Departments, it is their personal involvement and care that is most responsible for the welfare and life of many victims of maladies such as accidents, strokes, heart attacks, etc.

In order that the general public may better understand the importance of the service the EMT's provide in the county, each month, one EMT will be chosen to highlight for that month. His personnel write-up and views will be published. At the end of the year, one person will be chosen as the "EMT of the Year."

If you need the services of the EMT's, call the Sheriff's office at any of the following numbers: 648-2342; 354-2909; 258-5607.

The January EMT of the Month is Phil Keller. He has been a cabinet maker and maintenance man at Fort Stanton since 1977. After graduating from high school in Clayton in 1960, he attended the University of New Mexico as a pre-med student. He worked as an ambulance driver to supplement schooling expenses.

After living and working at several locations, he chose

Lincoln County to make a permanent home. His wife works at the Capitan post office, a son is in college, a daughter in 7th grade.

Phil is on call for EMT service five 12-hour periods a week. This leaves little time for a social life, but his family is very supportive of his wishes to volunteer so many hours to help people in need of special medical care.

He said, "We EMT's work in rather a morbid, unhappy part of life, caring for the emergencies of suffering patients. So we have to keep our spirits up to smile and look at the sunny side. "When we have our meetings and training sessions, we swap stories but only the humorous ones."

Then he went on to tell of one funny incident that occurred while he was on call. "My partner and I were told by a doctor to drive our ambulance to a home to pick up a mental patient and carry him to the hospital.

"When we arrived at the house on a summer night, the lights were on, and the door wide open. We knocked and called. No one answered. We stepped inside the house. A closet door was open with an empty gun holster in plain view. The thought went through our minds that the patient might be hiding, ready to use the gun on us. We slowly made our way searching the house, then stepped out apprehensively into the wooded back yard.

"There was a noise seeming to come from up in one of the trees. My partner and I cautiously approached the tree, fully expecting to find our patient hiding there.

"Suddenly, my partner screamed, 'He's on my back! Get him off!'"

"I removed a hissing cat. The whole neighborhood heard the loud yelling. Our patient came out from the house next door to see the cause of the noise. He had been visiting — of course, without the gun."

Phil said he put in the long hours of volunteer work because he enjoyed being a help to people, especially children and the elderly. "Some old sick lady may need only the comforting feeling of being wanted and important to someone," he said. "The most rewarding part of our job is when a patient or her family gives us a sincere 'Thanks.'"

Park Improvements on Tap for Corona

Improvements planned at the park in Corona got more support during last week's Village Council meeting when FFA representatives offered their help with the project. According to FFA President Travis Lightfoot, the organization had decided last fall to make park improvements their voluntary community service project. The work is to be the Building Our American Community project for the year with about 24 members expected to participate. Referring to Land and Water Conservation funds already allotted for the project, Lightfoot said, "When we found out you (Village Council) would be getting all this money, we were still wanting to do the work," said Lightfoot. Tommy Mulkey, FFA vice president, suggested with Lightfoot that the organization could work cooperatively with the council to make the planned improvements. Under terms of the grant, $7,000 is to be received from federal Land and Water Conservation funds; $3,500 has already been allotted from New Mexico; Corona will need to come up with $3,900 in funds, materials, or labor.

The FFA also asked the council to consider supplying one thin sheet of metal to enable completion of a marquis. The sign is to be placed on the highway to announce school events. After discussing probable expense, council agreed to pay for the material but asked FFA to supply a close estimate.

Jack Zibert, representing Tom Growney Equipment Co., discussed specifications for a grader. Mayor Ernest Lueras explained that there was really not much wrong with the one now being used; "It's just so old that it's hard to get parts for it," he said. Zibert agreed to supply specs. Bids must be let for the purchase.

In other business, Council agreed to renew the water CD for 180 days. It matures Jan. 15.

Under old business, Council again discussed application for Litter Control and Beautification Grant Program funds. Village Clerk Beatrice Chavez informed council members that $350 is the maximum granted to any one community; Council agreed to apply with the intention of purchasing a lawn mower should the grant be awarded to Corona.

Mrs. Chavez reported that a liability insurance school will be held in Albuquerque on Jan. 29-30 at a cost of $150. After discussion, council agreed to let the clerk find out more about the school and whether or not it would be of benefit for a town Corona's size.

Capitan Approves Curfew Ordinance

By BART McDONOUGH

Those present at the monthly meeting of the Capitan City Council Monday night heard Mayor Benny Coker and Trustees Dave Strickland, David Rouleau, and Norm Renfro approve a 3 percent cost of living salary increase for village employees. This increase is retroactive to Jan. 1, 1987. Mayor Coker stated that he is pleased with the budget for the past six months.

Street Superintendent Guy Henley reported that his equipment is basically in good shape. He could use two tires for the blade at a total cost of $700 which will have to wait for a while. He continues to haul gravel from Ft. Stanton.

Water Superintendent Terry Cox recently attended a week long workshop concerning water and waste water. Mayor Coker praised Cox and other village employees for their rapid work on repairing a major water leak Jan. 5. This was in Hideaway Hills.

R.L. VanNorman reported that the village's CD investments are in good shape. Police Chief Randy Spears reported that he is receiving good cooperation from the sheriff's department.

A new 15 year non-exclusive contract with Lincoln Cablevision was approved by the council.

An amendment to water ordinance 87-1 was approved by the council. This levels a five dollar monthly penalty on overdue bills until paid in full.

Finally, the council approved ordinance 87-3. This is an ordinance establishing a curfew and liability of parent or guardian for violation.

The ordinance reads as follows: A. Restrictions 1. "It shall be unlawful for any parent, guardian, or person having custody of a minor under age 18 years to permit or allow such minor to be upon any public thoroughfare or any public place, or other place, at any time between the hours of 10 p.m. and 5 a.m., Sunday through Thursday, and the hours of 12:00 a.m. and 5 a.m. on Friday and Saturday of each week unless accompanied by a parent or guardian."

2. "This shall not apply to any minor who shall be accompanied by a parent, guardian or adult acting with the authority of the parent or any minor upon an errand of necessity or attending religious services, or any legitimate show or athletic event."

B. Parent or Guardian Label. 1. "It shall be the duty of any peace officer to apprehend and take into custody any minor under the age of 18 years found in violation of this Article. The taking into custody of such minor by any peace officer shall not be termed an arrest. The peace officer or juvenile authority shall thereupon, at the earliest possible time, notify such parent or guardian; and such parent or guardian shall, upon conviction, be deemed guilty of violating this Section for permitting violation of this Section."

2. "In the event that the said parent or guardian cannot be located within a reasonable time, said minor shall be remanded to the custody of the proper juvenile authorities. In no event shall such minor at any time be unduly detained in any lockup or jail except as provided by the Children's Code of the State of New Mexico."

The next stated meeting of the Capitan City Council is Feb. 9 at 7 p.m.

Satellite to Bring New Classes to Carrizozo

Carrizozo Schools have purchased a satellite dish for $3,500 with money received from a federal grant.

Superintendent Dennis Sidebottom said the purpose of the satellite dish is to be able to offer students certain upper level college prep classes that are not available now. He said the declining enrollment is one reason that classes such as physics, advanced placement English and advanced calculus are not scheduled.

Students will receive dual credit for the upper level classes, high school credit and college credit.

Sidebottom said the school intends to contact universities that offer classes over satellite and use inservice classes for teacher training in addition to the classes for students.

Another advantage will be that the school can tape programs from educational channels to be used in classrooms such as science, social studies, Spanish and language arts.

NEW ADDITION at Carrizozo School will allow students to obtain college credits for classes being beamed in from satellites.

School District Elections Near

The count-down is beginning for the school district elections that will be held Feb. 3 from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m.

Absentee ballots may be cast in person in the office of the Lincoln County Clerk in the courthouse in Carrizozo from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. any Monday through Friday until 5 p.m. Jan. 30. At that time the county clerk will record the number of unused absentee ballots and then publicly destroy all remaining ballots.

Each school district in Lincoln County will be filling two vacancies on their respective school boards. There are two candidates for the two seats in Ruidoso; two candidates for the two seats in Hondo; three candidates for the two seats in Carrizozo; four candidates for the two seats in Corona; and seven candidates for the two seats in Capitan.

Any challenge or contest concerning any of these school board elections must be directed to the district court.

ENCHILADA SUPPER at Zia Senior Citizens Center in Carrizozo will be held Jan. 23 from 5 p.m. to 7 p.m. Vena Kastner, Dollie Ward, Viola Vigil and Rosa Chavez are some of the volunteers who will assist in putting on the enchilada supper.

Enchilada Supper Planned

The Carrizozo Zia Senior Center will have an enchilada supper on Jan. 23 from 5 p.m. to 7 p.m. Carry-out service will be available in addition to being served at the center. The public is invited to attend.

The three senior citizen centers in Lincoln County, one at Corona, one at Capitan and the one in Carrizozo, operate using federal, state, and county money that must be matched by funds raised by the senior citizens. The enchilada supper is just one of the many fund raisers the center will hold during the year to earn the center's share of the funds needed to operate.

Club President Receives Letters from Officials

Carrizozo Woman's Club

By RUTH HAMMOND

Carrizozo Woman's Club president Sue Stearns sent letters to US Sen. Pete Domenici and Congressman Joe Skeen expressing her support for the selection of the Stallion Site as the final location for the

Ground Based Free Electron Laser Technology Integration Experiment (GBFEL-TIE, known as the Star Wars project.)

Stearns received answers from Domenici and Skeen and read these letters to members of the Woman's Club at the Jan. 8 meeting.

The letters she received thanked her for taking the time to express her support, and each letter explained some of the criteria used for the selection of the site.

In other business, the Woman's Club agreed to make a cash donation of $25 to Brownie Troop #12 in appreciation of their entertainment and help in honoring the state president at the District IV Woman's Club Convention held in Carrizozo in October.

Sharon Hefker was the January "Woman of the Month." The presentation was made by Barbara Langley.

A Valentine bake sale is scheduled for Feb. 13 at the United New Mexico Bank. Proceeds from the Valentine bake sale will be sent to the Girl's Ranch for their bedspread and drapery fund.

A discussion was held concerning a trip by members to the Boy's Ranch in Belen or the Girl's Ranch in Lamay. Plans will be finalized at the February meeting.

Ruth Hammond displayed the doll for the money making project in which members are asked to make clothing or other items for the doll. The doll and clothes and layette will then be raffled later in the year.

A discussion was held concerning placing the General Federation of Women's Club sign on the main street in Carrizozo. The local club won the sign for increased membership and agreed that it should be placed where persons traveling through town would see it.

Suggestions were made for a community improvement project.

Sue Stearns presented the program for the evening, "Resource Education in Conservation."

Outdoor Classrooms? The slide presentation explained various ways students can learn in outdoor classrooms. Members discussed the possibility of showing the slide program to the school board or teachers.

Sharon Hefker reported that the December bake sale was a success.

The birthday calendars are in. Secretary Trudy Torison said the calendars may be picked up from her at the United New Mexico Bank.

Space Center Rates Change

ALAMOGORDO — In an effort to simplify the admission rate structure at the Space Center, a new price schedule will go into effect Sunday, Feb. 1, 1987, at the International Space Hall of Fame and the Clyde W. Tombaugh Space Theater.

Executive Director, Gregory P. Kennedy said the new rates will reflect slight increases in some areas and decreases in others. He noted that the old system is cumbersome and sometimes confusing. "The new system is simpler and the small increases that occur merely reflect our recent expansion and increased operating costs."

Under the new program, the age for a child's ticket drops from 6-17 to 12 and under. All theater prices remain constant with slight increases for the adult ISHF and combined tickets. Family rates (parents and children 12 and under) and adult tour rates (10 or more) remain the same. Student tours (10 or more) will have a rate decrease from $2.50 to $2.25 per student.

This will be the first price change at the Space Center since February, 1985.

The Space Center is a division of the New Mexico Office of Cultural Affairs. For more information, call 437-2840 in New Mexico, or 1-800-545-4021 out-of-state.

WOMAN OF THE MONTH: Sharon Hefker was selected Woman of the Month for January by the Carrizozo Woman's Club. The program recognizes women who are positive role models.

Hefker is Woman of the Month

Sharon Hefker was selected Woman of the Month by the Carrizozo Woman's Club for January. She was presented a plant arrangement by Barbara Langley.

Sharon has been a member of the Carrizozo Woman's Club since 1971 and is a past Woman's Club president. She is an active member of the republican women's party, the Future Farmers of America alumni, and is a member of the Carrizozo Grizzly Booster Club.

Her hobbies include sewing and shopping and she has bowled on the Monday night Roadrunner bowling league for seven years.

Sharon is married to Jack Hefker and they have three children, Melody, Marcia and Justin. For the past 11 years she has driven the Bingham school bus route.

The Carrizozo Woman's Club joined with the General Federation of Women's Clubs in an attempt to focus attention on a unique program in which women are recognized and honored for being positive role models.

Woman of the Month is a program that promotes excellence for all women. It brings recognition to exceptionally talented women who have defied tradition and proven their ability to make major contributions.

JUST FOR TODAY

New Year's resolutions are made everyday of January and broken just as often. I came across the following passage which could be a way to omit the yearly resolution list which most of us make but usually don't follow. Instead we could live our daily lives day by day.

"Just for today I will try to be happy. Abraham Lincoln said, 'Most folks are about as happy as they make up their minds to be.' He was right. I will not dwell on thoughts that depress me. I will chase them out of my mind and replace them with happy thoughts."

"Just for today I will adjust myself to what is. I will face reality. I will try to change those things which I can change and accept those things I cannot change."

"Just for today I will try to improve my mind. I will not be a mental loafer. I will force myself to read something that requires effort, thought and concentration."

"Just for today I will exercise my soul in three ways: (1) I will do a good deed for somebody - without letting him or her know it. (If he or she finds out I did it, it won't count.) (2) I will do at least two things that I know I should do, but have been putting off. (3) I will not show anyone that my feelings are hurt; they may be hurt, but today I will not show it."

"Just for today I will be agreeable. I will look as well as I can, dress becomingly, talk softly, act courteously and speak all of no one."

"Just for today I'll try not to improve anybody except myself."

"Just for today I will have a program. I may not follow it exactly, but I will have it, thereby saving myself from two pests - Hurry and Indecision."

"Just for today I will have a quiet half hour to relax alone. During this time I will reflect on my behavior and will try to get a better perspective on my life."

"Just for today I will be unafraid. I will gather the courage to do what is right and take the responsibility for my own actions. I will expect nothing from the world, but I will realize that as I give to the world, the world will give to me."

PEDESTRIAN REBIRTH

Like the late Birdie Walker, I too collect newspaper and magazine clippings. Here is an April 17, 1980 opinion from the De Baca County News:

The pedestrian is rapidly becoming the forgotten man. Not only does he find it increasingly hard to get around downtown, but if he should feel the urge to walk down a country road he would do so, in most instances, at the risk of life and limb.

Walking any distance greater than two blocks is regarded either as an amiable eccentricity or a waste of time. As far as young cyclists are concerned, they are often regarded as nuisances on the road.

This is not because their actions are considered unpredictable, but because they are likely to interfere with speed and the impatient desire to get somewhere fast.

It is indicative of the conditioning attitudes that have undergone in favor of the motor vehicle that both walkers and cyclists are often regarded as nuisances and are treated with disdain or contempt.

Most doctors contend that if people walked more there would be fewer heart ailments. A walk a mile or two to work, and the same distance back, might be regarded with horror by those who drive their cars a couple of blocks to the corner drug store.

Nevertheless, it is a healthful exercise all the more useful in these days of rising energy costs.

The voice of the pedestrian may be hard to hear above the noise of traffic, but it is important that it should be heard because what it has to say makes a lot of sense.

FASCINATING FACTS

Fascinating facts about US presidents includes the following:

-Ronald Reagan is the first movie actor to make it to the White House as leader of our country.

-Ulysses S. Grant (1869-1877) was the only president to get arrested while in office - for driving a team of speeding horses through the streets of Washington, DC.

-During his presidency, John Quincy Adams (1825-1829) used to "skinny dip" in the Potomac River every day (weather permitting).

-John F. Kennedy (1961-1963) was the only president to have won a Pulitzer prize. As author of 'Profiles in Courage' he was awarded the prize for biography in 1957.

-Andrew Johnson (1865-1869) never went to school and in fact, was taught to read and write by his wife (he married when he was 18).

-Gerald R. Ford Jr. (1974-1977), was once a male model and appeared on the cover of Cosmopolitan magazine.

Obituary

MARY ARCHULETA

Mary Archuleta, a lifetime resident of Carrizozo, died Wednesday, January 14, 1987 at Gerald Champion Memorial Hospital in Alamogordo.

She was 78 years old. She is survived by three sons, Willie Archuleta, 29 Palms, California, Ernie Archuleta of Carrizozo, and Gilbert Archuleta of Carrizozo; two daughters, Louisa Ramirez of Odessa, TX, Elevera Lucero of Bernalillo, NM. Twenty-one grandchildren and seven great-grandchildren. Three brothers, Guillermo McKinley of Gallup, Yldro McKinley of Albuquerque, and Emiliano McKinley of Tularosa. Two sisters, Frances Samora of Albuquerque and Anstacia Chavez of Phoenix.

Funeral services are pending with Hamilton Funeral Home in Alamogordo.

Assault Reported

Mr. E.J. Thornton, 89, of Carrizozo had an unwelcome visitor on Jan. 13 about 7:15 p.m. He told the NEWS that the intruder jumped him from behind, hit him in the back of the head, knocked him down and then 'beat up on him.'

According to Mr. Thornton, he is O.K. He did say that the unknown assailant did not get his money but did make off with his keys.

The incident is being investigated by the Carrizozo police department and Byron Baker of the Lincoln County Sheriff's Department has been assigned to the case to assist and make available any resources needed in the investigation.

Elderly/Disabled Credit

"Credit for the Elderly and the Permanently and Totally Disabled," and includes it with his or her Form 1040, the IRS will compute the credit.

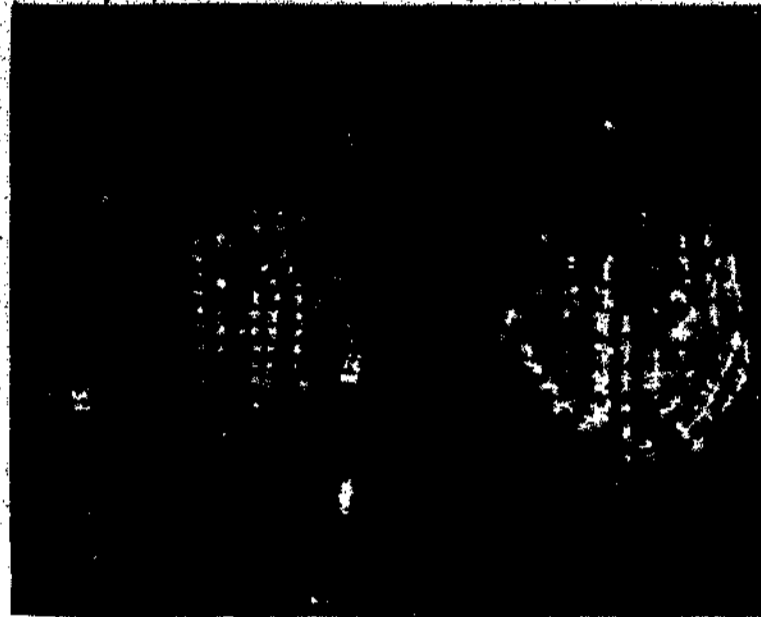

Order Publication 524, "Credit for the Elderly and the Permanently Disabled," by using the order blank in the tax package. For more details, call the IRS at 1-800-424-1040.

You could be due a tax credit worth up to hundreds of dollars if you are 65 or older, or if you are under 65 but are retired on permanent and total disability and if you received taxable disability benefits in 1986, the Internal Revenue Service (IRS) says.

If the taxpayer fills out the first two parts of Schedule R,

CARRIZOZO FOOTBALL COACH Mel Hoffend congratulates sr./running back Tommy Escamilla on being named to the Class A/All State 1st Team (offense.)

TOM LUTTERMAN (left) and Joe Jarvis, both of Ruidoso, were recognized recently for reaching service anniversaries with Texas-New Mexico Power Company. Lutterman, electric serviceman in the Ruidoso District Office, was recognized for five years of service, and Jarvis, electric service supervisor in the same office, was recognized for 20 years of service.

Texas-New Mexico Power Co. Employees Honored for Service

Joe Jarvis and Tom Lutterman, both of Ruidoso, were among Texas-New Mexico Power Company employees honored for service to the company at a fall awards banquet Nov. 14.

Jarvis, electric service supervisor in the Ruidoso District Office, was recognized for 20 years of service to TNM. Lutterman, an electric serviceman in the same office, was recognized for five years service.

Also receiving a five-year service award at the banquet was Storekeeper Ben Alexander of the Alamogordo Construction Center.

Now "Johnny" Can't Write

Scholastic experts used to warn that "Johnny" can't read. Now a new Education Department survey finds that most public school children are bad writers, too.

Albert Shanker, president of the American Federation of Teachers, called the report "very disturbing, indeed shocking." Said Shanker: "It goes to the heart of what our aims in education are about." The survey was conducted by the National Assessment of Educational Progress, a 17-year-old project mandated by Congress. And despite recent efforts to reemphasize educational "basics," little or no progress is apparent. In fact, the national survey of 33,000 fourth, eighth and eleventh graders concluded that students perform worse in writing than in any major subject, and that writing deficiencies are linked to serious shortcomings in critical thinking and communications.

From the 30,000 writing samples studied, it was found that: (1) Most of the students could not write well enough to succeed in school, much less in the post-graduate world.

(2) In analytic writing, the area that gave students the toughest time, only 2 percent of the fourth graders, 13 percent of the eighth graders and 25 percent of the eleventh graders were deemed adequate. Analytic writing measures the ability to think critically and organize thoughts on paper.

(3) In "persuasive" writing, the students did nearly as poorly. Less than a third of those surveyed scored "adequate." Persuasive writing means precisely what it says: Persuading others to accept one's point of view.

In another disturbing result, student attitudes toward writing grew more negative through the grades. Thus, 37 percent of the fourth graders said they liked to write, but only 39 percent of the eleventh graders did. This would seem to indicate shortcomings at the teaching level. According to Archie Lapointe, executive director of the National Assessment, there is "pretty impressive evidence" that teaching methods need improvement. Indeed, many teachers now attend special workshops on writing instruction, and more and more schools are installing word processors in classrooms. But whether this produces any new Hemingways, much less office workers able to write an understandable memo, is open to question. As one educational specialist conceded: "A turnaround may take decades."

The National Assessment survey did indicate one simple pathway to good writing. It found that children with lots of books and other reading material at home are better writers — and readers — than youngsters in culturally deprived households.

Abraham Lincoln proved that a century and a half ago. Young Abe read all the books he could lay his hands on by the light of the fireplace in his family's log cabin, and went on to write one of the greatest compositions in the English language: The Gettysburg Address.

Differences to be Felt Here

SANTA FE—The start of this new year brought more changes to Washington than it did to New Mexico, and the differences will make themselves felt here.

It is dramatically different for our state to put a Republican into its highest local office, but even that level of power-shifting does not match what has happened in the White House.

There, the Great Communicator has been shown to be almost nothing but that—a sort of puppet or marionette, who got stood up in front of the microphone when those who were really running things there had a message they wanted us to hear. We now know these folks were not even bothering to tell the man in the Oval Office some of the things they were attempting in his name.

Thus the rest of his term is liable to be a kind of regency, with much of the respect Reagan himself was able to stir in the hearts of the faithful reduced to a tiny glow, and some others actually doing the job we elected him to do.

ON THE HILL: That shift will have strong effects on Congress, which had already changed considerably when both House and Senate fell firmly into the hands of the Democrats. That foretold considerable resistance to Reagan's ideas on Capitol Hill thereafter, but the weakening of the President increased chances of such moves by a long margin. In legislation, this is likely to be a strongly Democratic year.

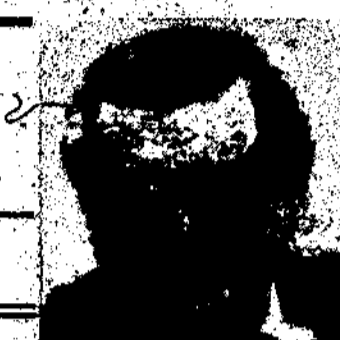

In a state like ours, where

Wallace (NBC): "Yes?" Donaldson (ABC): "No"

Should Reagan Question His News Conference Questioners?

WASHINGTON — It's really too bad that the White House press office has such an ironclad rule prohibiting airing of any of the daily news briefings conducted by Presidential Spokesman Larry Speakes. For without this rule, I would be able to broadcast the tape-recorded evidence that while Chris Wallace of NBC would be perfectly willing to be questioned by President Reagan at any Presidential news conference, the notoriously unrestrained Sam Donaldson of ABC is not.

This revelation took place at the White House daily news briefing on December 15, 1986, when I asked Speakes:

"Since you promised on Thursday night (at the White House Christmas reception for the media) to propose to this press corps what the President told me he 'would LOVE to do' — in a two-way news conference, where he is not only questioned but he has a chance to question his questioners about anything that they or the media had aired or published — could we see a show of hands of anybody here who for any reason would want to avoid such a wonderfully newsworthy give-and-take — which Mrs. Reagan said she 'would LOVE to see' and which a lot of listeners in Philadelphia and New York would love to hear?"

LARRY SPEAKES: We have a motion on the floor. All in favor of the proposal say "Aye."

This evoked what is audible on the tape: a number of "ayes" from the assembled reporters. But since a voice vote is always less than conclusive, I asked: "I'd like to see a show of hands, because I'd like a roll call vote on those who are unwilling to be questioned by the President."

SPEAKES: All who are in favor of — uh — who would not.

KINSOLVING: There's not a single hand raised, Larry. It's unanimous!

SPEAKES: No. Wait a minute. All who are in favor of Lester's motion, that is on the floor, that the President should be allowed to question you, raise their hand.

This was NOT my motion at all. For I would never have proposed such an absurdity as the "allowing" of the President to do anything he wants at his news conferences. But Larry Speakes, who is obviously opposed to what the President said he would "LOVE to do" — Larry can be both fast and clever. But this alteration did not conclude the question, as Larry wished. For Chris Wallace of NBC asked:

"Do we still get to question him (the President)?"

KINSOLVING: Sure! It's two-way.

WALLACE: I'll go for it.

Two-way. UNIDENTIFIED VOICE: We ALL go for it.

STEVE TAYLOR, UNITED STATIONS: Could we devote an hour to it, so we all get the same amount of time for questions?

This might have been answered, except for Charles Bierbaum of Cable News Network, who asked that we go back to the (generally fruitless) questioning about Iran Etcetera, which had continued endlessly for weeks. But I asked:

"Larry, could we just see a show of hands of those who would be opposed to this (the two-way Presidential news conference)?"

SAM DONALDSON, ABC

NEWS: If the President gets to be a reporter and ask questions, then I get to be President for a day — and do HIS job. Would you approve of that?

KINSOLVING: You're opposed to that? You would be opposed?

Before Sam could confirm his opposition — which really surprised me — Speakes recognized another questioner, and the subject changed. This was unfortunate, because the vote on this issue was never clearly resolved. Neither was Donaldson's more than average chutzpah, in attempting to define the President's "job" as excluding his right to ask questions of his questioners. Surely the First

A NEWS EDITORIAL

The Carrizozo school board was treated to an example of how dogs sniff out and find drugs and illegal substances. The dogs and their trainers presented the unique demonstration at the Dec. 16 school board meeting. In addition to showing how the dogs do their work, the man had a display case of drug related items that had been taken from students. These items included an empty soft drink can with holes punched in the side to convert it into some kind of smoker (for marijuana). There was an extensive variety of drug related items.

Ed Britt, the owner of the dogs and the company that provides the services, incorporations, companies, and schools, said the reason he is in this business is to help people. He expressed genuine concern for students and said that he wanted to get the students early and get help for them. He also said that in many cases it is the parents, not the youngsters, using the controlled substances. Much of the information he shared with the school board was as disturbing as the fact that quite often it is the parents who are using the drugs.

The Carrizozo Board of Education did not decide at that time if they should hire the Britt agency to sniff out drugs at the school. The matter will be discussed at the Jan. 20 school board meeting. Anyone wishing to make their feelings known on the matter should attend the meeting to voice their opinions.

While the NEWS usually will not endorse a controversial subject such as this, at this time we feel it is necessary to state that we are definitely in favor of the drug dogs. The reason is that it might possibly help one student say no and if anything will help even one youngster stay away from drugs it is more than worth the money.

Our young people have a difficult time telling their peers that they want to be different and are not going to try drugs. They feel that if they say "No" they will be called names and no longer be one of the crowd. It is important for them to be "one of the group." This is easy to understand, since we adults have been through it even if we have a tendency to forget. And in case any of you adults are foolish enough to say that being a youngster is fun, you are definitely not "with the program."

The use of the drug dogs will enable the youngsters to have another excuse and one that will certainly be valid. All the student need say is, "I don't dare try drugs because today just might be the day the drug dogs will be here." The school, including the teachers, office personnel and the superintendent will not be warned in advance when the drug dogs will make an inspection at the school.

In conjunction with the drug dogs will be the need for the school board to enforce strict regulations for anyone, this means teachers as well as students, who are accused by the drug dogs. For the benefit of the people who did not see the demonstration, I can attest to the fact that the dogs can and do locate the drugs.

If the school board does hire the Britt Agency, an assembly will be presented for the students to prove to them that the dogs do know their business. The demonstration for the students will be enjoyable and informative.

WASHINGTON UPDATE

from Senator Pete Domenici

MASAU: The God-Man Welcomes Tourists

At this time of transition in New Mexico, our state needs to diversify its interests and explore new horizons. Tourism has always been one of our greatest strengths, and we must look that direction again as a means of economic development. We cannot stagnate and wait for things to get better, while international trade and changing markets transform previously lucrative interests such as oil, natural gas, potash, and uranium. We must take bold, aggressive, and creative action and move into new areas to secure our fiscal solvency.

While last year was bleak on most New Mexico economic fronts, the statistics show a significant increase in tourism. Visits to New Mexico's 11 National Park Service sites increased by 14 percent between January and October of 1986 as compared to the year before.

Tourism brought an estimated $2.1 billion worth of gross receipts in 1986. That's twice what it generated in 1980. In terms of gross receipts, tourism is the second largest industry in the State.

In terms of employment, tourism is the largest industry in the State, larger even than the State Government. There are now more than 45,000 people employed in tourism-related jobs in New Mexico. If you put them all in the same place, it would form the third largest city in New Mexico. These figures signal a path for us to take, an economic course for us to pursue.

Recently, the renowned travel expert, Arthur Frommer declared New Mexico to be one of the ten best vacation spots in the world. We are fortunate to live in a State of such magnificent beauty and a proud history.

In order to promote the natural, cultural, and historical treasures of New Mexico as a destination for tourists, other members of the delegation and I recently introduced the Masau Trail Act. The Act will create the Masau Trail, an automobile touring route which will link a number of prehistoric and historic cultural ruins of the Native Americans and the early Hispanic settlers in northwestern New Mexico. The Trail will include El Malpais National Monument, El Morro National Monument, and Chaco Canyon Cultural Historical Monument, as well as other national, State, and local sites of interest.

The Act is named after Masau, the great God-Man who welcomed the Indian people of the Earth from the underworld as they came through the sipapu, or place of emergence. According to the history of the Pueblo Indians, mankind has existed since the beginning of time, but lived for a long time underground. Eventually, man emerged from the underworld and was welcomed by Masau. The Pueblo people then followed Masau's huge footprints, which were as large as a man's arm, across the Earth.

The Masau Trail is a multi-governmental, multi-agency concept. On the Federal level, the National Park Service, the Bureau of Land Management, and the National Forest Service will include lands under their control in the Trail. The State of New Mexico and various local governments, as well as the Indian Tribes in the area, will be invited to participate in the Trail.

The Masau Trail will enable contemporary visitors to learn about the history and culture of New Mexico by following in the footprints of the Indian people and early European settlers who once roamed this land. It will allow visitors to the region to appreciate the history and culture, from ancient times to modern day, which is represented in the region. The Masau Trail will emphasize the interrelationship of all of the sites along the Trail.

There would be no actual "trail" cutting a wide swath through our state; but rather, individual markers with the Masau footprint at these historic sites, linking them symbolically, explaining their significance.

One can see examples of Masau's footprint in the ancient Indian rock carvings which cover the volcanic escarpment on the west side of Albuquerque. I have been working on finding ways to provide protection to this area, which includes more than 10,000 ancient Indian and Hispanic rock carvings in a 17-mile stretch. Hopefully, in the coming year we will be able to incorporate the Albuquerque petroglyphs into the Masau Trail.

The hub of the Trail will be an interagency visitors' center along I-40 in Grants. The center will provide visitors with an overview of the Trail, as well as specific information about the various components of the Trail, and orient them to the sites.

The Masau Trail will include the El Malpais National Monument, which will also be created by the Masau Trail Act. El Malpais National Monument will consist of approximately 126,000 acres. This area will be administered by the National Park Service. The main focal point of the El Malpais National Monument will be the Ice Caves.

The Masau Trail Act is just one of many plans in the works for the future — plans to forge ahead with new, diverse interest to help restore, preserve and maintain New Mexico's economic future.

The new machinery for the Mill was all put in place on Tuesday, and the work of reduction was renewed after a rest of the several months during which necessary repairs were being made. 35 tons every 24 hours in the future will result in a golden harvest, and the whole party, under the able and efficient management of Supr. If satisfactory, a lease of the Gallagher Mill, at the upper end of town, is reported to be in contemplation to reduce the ore from the new find. This is the way to make White Oaks a lively and prosperous camp and to set every boy, croaker and all, saying, "I told you so."

John E. Wilson informs the Leader that he expects to have his new mill in readiness to begin operations in a few days. He further says that he will have an ample amount of water when the well is cleaned out. The last blasts put in tapped a good sized vein and filled the holes being drilled. After the discharge the water rushed in so fast that the well could not be cleaned out. As soon as the connection can be made between the mill and well the water will be pumped out, and if necessary a tank will be cut in the slate when all the water for running the mill will be received. The enterprise which has characterized this work is deserving of the greatest success.

so much depends on what the federal government spends for defense, that could make a difference. Democrats, by and large, do not appear as convinced that defense spending should continue at its present rate as Republicans are. Those in power in Washington now are also hardly proponents of the Star Wars concept, which was one of Reagan's pets. If they cut spending on such items as these, our state will suffer eventually.

THE DELEGATION: At least we were smart enough not to throw out of office any of our Congressmen, and thus they, along with our two Senators, moved up a notch or two in seniority. That helps them when it comes to important committee assignments—and what helps them helps us as well. The more power they have in their respective assemblies, the more probable it is that New Mexico will be taken care of.

With the Senate changing from Republican to Democratic, Jeff Bingaman, our junior Senator, will take on increasingly important jobs. His gain in power, however, will not be counterbalanced by Domenici's loss. Our senior Senator is still what is called "ranking member" of the Budget Committee, but that's a long way from being chairman. When he held that latter job, he could say yes or no to lots of requests from lots of Senators, and that gave room for logrolling that worked to the benefit of our state. Now his power in that regard is notably weakened.

COOPERATION: One step in the right direction is the resolution of our new governor, Garrey Carruthers, to work closely with the Congressional delegation, no matter which party its members belong to, for the good of the state. We haven't always had that kind of meshing of the national with the state capital during the past four years, and we can profit from having it restored by the use of good sense on the part of all concerned.

Amendment rights of free speech ought not to be denied the President, if he ever dares to ask Donaldson a question. And this is surely closer to the realm of possibility than Sam's astonishing suggestion of himself as President for one day.

Chris Wallace is a hardball questioner of the President, even though he is hardly as wild as the enormously amusing Donaldson. But whoever would have imagined that while Wallace would be perfectly willing to engage in fair-exchange-questioning of the President, Sam Donaldson would not?

Has anyone ever before had cause to think that Sam Donaldson is either shy or humbled by the President—or unwilling to take as much as he dishes out?

Corona sports

Corona basketball teams began the new year with a heavy schedule last week. In games at Lake Arthur, Corona girls and varsity boys both took wins. Denise Lightfoot was the consistent high scorer throughout the week, pitching in 20 at Lake Arthur. Mary Romero ran a close second with 18. Lake Arthur lost it in the third quarter when they managed only eight points while Corona racked up 18. The final score was 49-38.

Corona boys led throughout the varsity game and brought home a 51-46 win. Travis Lightfoot was high scorer with 22; Michael Pounds and Dan Bell each contributed 10.

The Cardinals hosted Fort Sumner Friday night and had disappointing losses. Even though Tommy Mulkey scored 23 and Lightfoot had 16, Fort Sumner posted a 56-49 win. In the girls game, scoring was very even except in the second quarter when Fort Sumner sizzled the hoop with 17 points to Corona's 7 - three of which were at the free throw line. Corona managed to keep pace in the second half, but never closed the gap and fell to a 39-25 defeat.

The Cardinals travelled to Mountainair on Saturday and split a couple of games there. The girls trailed 12-6 at the first period, but closed the gap to an 18-20 deficit at the half. Mountainair came back hot and outscored Corona during the entire second half to take the 41-30 win. Consistent top scorer Lightfoot managed only 10 points as she and Beverly Bell fouled out.

The boys hung on for a 62-50 win after Mountainair scored 15 points to Corona's nine in the 4th period. The Cardinals were in foul trouble as Lightfoot, Mulkey, Pounds and Eric Wetzel each had four. Even so, Lightfoot tallied 22 points, Mulkey put in 14, and Bell added 11.

In junior high action, the Cardinals opened their season on Friday with a heartstopping 16-15 loss to Fort Sumner. On Saturday, the Cardinals came out on top with a 30-27 win over Mountainair after an exciting see-saw court battle. Randy Lesly was high scorer with 14 and Shane Owen chipped in 10.

FRANKIE GALLEGOS (sr.) won the 'Free Throw' shooting contest at the Smokey Bear Classic in the boys division.

Note

Navy Ensign Michael J. Clarke, a 1961 graduate of Ruidoso High School of Ruidoso, was designated a Naval Aviator. Presentation of the "Wings of Gold" marked culmination of 18 months of flight training.

Clarke's curriculum included basic studies in engineering and navigation, training flights in simulators, aircraft familiarizations, basic and advanced instrument training, extended navigation flights and landings aboard an aircraft carrier.

Now Available!! The 1987 Raider 4x4 IS AVAILABLE FOR INSTANT DELIVERY AT HIGH COUNTRY MOTORS!!

They Must Have Had Lincoln County In Mind
When They Made This One!!!

Starting at . . . $9,999<sup>00</sup>*

Built by Mitsubishi Motors Corporation and offered for the first time by Dodge. Raider is the sport utility that "can do."

Its proven 2.6-liter engine churns out plenty of torque. A standard five speed manual transmission provides off-road control and overdrive highway economy. Automatically locking front hubs, front and rear tow hooks, skid plates, cargo tie-down hooks, and front and rear mud guards are standard; while an optional Off-Road Package can take you even farther.

Engineering features like these helped specially prepared Raiders win the grueling Paris-Dakar Endurance rally for the past four years.

Raider's full instrumentation includes a tachometer, oil pressure gauge, volt-meter, temperature gauge, speedometer, and fuel gauge; plus a trip odometer, inclinometer and warning lights. Air conditioning and an AM/FM stereo radio with two speakers or an AM/FM stereo/cassette with four speakers are also available. A black rear step bumper with chrome accents makes entering or exiting the tailgate a breeze.

Raider "can do" for you, too!

*Base price excluding factory and dealers installed options, tax and fees.

Capitan News

By Margaret Rench

Last week there was lots of ice, terrific winds and the last three days there was sunshine, one of which was very warm, no moisture.

Meet the Candidate Night for the Capitan School Board election will be Jan. 27 at 7 p.m. in the foyer by school cafeteria.

The Smokey Bear Invitational Classic Basketball Tournament was held last Thursday through Saturday. Congratulations Capitan girls, who won their own tournament. Estancia won 2nd, Carrizozo 3rd. The Alamogordo JV team won consolation—this team also won the sportsmanship trophy donated by Norm Renfro.

Dexter won the boys division of the tournament. Reserve 2nd, Carrizozo won 3rd. Estancia, consolation, Hagerman won the sportsmanship trophy. There were eight girls teams and eight boys teams. Communities were Capitan, Carrizozo, Dexter, Hagerman, Reserve, Mountainair, Estancia and Alamogordo JV teams.

Congratulations to Jina Griego who now is the vice president in charge of recreation and inspiration for the Future Homemakers of America. She traveled with her teacher, Laura Jones and received this honor last weekend in Glorieta.

The District FHA Conference will be held in Carrizozo on Jan. 24.

The Capitan girls named to the all-tournament team were Katherine Sanchez, Kateri Sanchez, Nita Hale and Marnie McDaniel. The Capitan boys chosen for their all-tournament were Ronnie Sanchez and John Parker.

The Capitan 8th grade is raffling off one baby lamb (male or female), winners choice. Tickets can be purchased from any 8th grader. These tickets can be purchased Jan. 12 through Feb. 13. The drawing will be Feb. 13 and will be announced during study hall. The price is 50 cents each or $ for $1.

There were 184 registered visitors at the Smokey Bear Museum from Jan. 5-11.

I have learned that Graduation Day is May 16. The Spring break is March 23-27.

Happy 19th wedding anniversary to Kay and Terry Strickland whose day is Jan. 19 with many more happy years together.

Danny Cummins left last week for San Diego, CA to attend Point Loma College.

Ron McDaniel, Glynn Story and Todd Proctor left Monday to NM State University in Las Cruces to enter their second semester.

Maxine Wright and daughter Terry Strickland spent last weekend in Lubbock, TX visiting her mother who is ill and is in a nursing home. Chin up Elsie Kidd and get well soon. We all do care.

Frances Vigil is home at this time after one week in the Ruidoso hospital. I wish you the very best and quick recovery, Frances.

Elsie Faye Carl and her husband Shorty have been in California for several months. Shorty recently underwent a serious heart attack. He had planned on returning with Elsie but at the last minute could not. Therefore, she came alone via plane to Albuquerque, via bus to Carrizozo, where she picked up her transportation that had been stored, and while enroute to their home in Ruidoso Downs she visited me for a while which I did enjoy. She will try to sell their property before returning to California.

History and progress got together Monday morning Jan. 12 when the little house that was on the former Kingston property was moved from there to its new location back of the laundry. This two room house was built in the spring of 1932. A room was added several years after. Last Sunday that room was taken down and that little house was put on wheels ready to be moved. It was stuccoed and painted white and looked as sturdy as the day it was built. It will last many years yet.

The Worthy Grand Matron and Worthy Grand Patron of the Order of Eastern Star will make their official visit to Comet Chapter #29 in Carrizozo Jan. 29.

The monthly meeting of the Capitan Board of Education has been rescheduled once again Jan. 19 at 7 p.m. The board meets in the old elementary building.

Hondo Eagles will meet the Carrizozo Grizzlies on the court at Carrizozo Friday, January 16. The game begins at 6 p.m. On Tuesday the 20th the Eagles play Capitan at the Hondo school gym at 5:30 p.m.

Tinnie Baptist Church will have their monthly Fellowship Dinner following Sunday School and Worship Service January 18 in the Fellowship Hall.

On Wednesday, Jan. 21, La Junta Extension Club, plans to meet at the Tinnie Post Office and carpool to the home of Hazel Day in Arabela. Co-hosting the meeting is Lorena Radcliff. The program, starting at 10:45 a.m. is "How to Update Clothes Hanging in Your Closet" by Charlotte Hill, Home Economist.

One part of the 75th anniversary of New Mexico Statehood celebration which began Monday, Jan. 12 was an "Eat Right, New Mexico" campaign, encouraging everyone to exercise more and lose weight. I was surprised to learn that oatmeal helps reduce cholesterol level in the body. My German grandmother knew what she was talking about when she said, "It's good for you."

If you see the dust flying at the courthouse, it may be Alice Blakestead and Chris Harkey. A project into its third year, the Lincoln County records previously stored in the basement, are being sorted, indexed and catalogued for the clerk's office. At present, the emphasis is on researching early water records, but eventually all the records will be available, many on microfilms, for the public's convenience. Chris, who lives in Carrizozo, and Alice, a Hondo resident, are working with county clerk Fran Siddens and consultant Dr. Donald Lavash, formerly of the State Archives.

Don't miss it. Everyone's talking about the movie "Crocodile Dundee." It's the best way I know to spend a dollar and 2 adventure-packed hours this month. An Australian hunter, at home in the wild Outback, tackles the unknown on a "Walk-about" in New York City. Mick Dundee could appreciate the following.

- You Know You live in a Small Town when . . .
- Country music is more popular than rock.
- Third Street is the edge of town.
- You call each dog you pass by name and he wags his tail at you.
- You miss church on Sunday and receive 50 get-well cards.
- Pick-up trucks outnumber cars three to one.
- When you walk for exercise, every car that passes offers you a ride.
- You dial the wrong number and talk for 15 minutes anyway.
- Thank God for small towns and the people who live in them.
- A note of concern for Dan Storm, Glencoe. Hope you are feeling better.

NOTICE OF PROPERTY TAX REPORTING REQUIREMENTS

Property which was valued in 1986 in this county by the county treasurer is not required to be reported or revalued for 1987 or subsequent years. EXCEPT FOR:

- 1. mobile homes
2. livestock, and
3. land used for agricultural purposes

If for any reason, your property was not valued last year and it is subject to valuation this year, you are required by law to report it to the county assessor on forms provided either by mail or at the assessor's office.

All nongovernmental entities (property owners) which claim to be exempt from the property tax must report their property and claim their exemption for 1987. If the exemption was not claimed in 1986.

Reports for mobile homes, livestock, land used for agricultural purposes, property not valued last year, and claims for exemptions by nongovernmental entities must be completed and mailed or delivered to the county assessor not later than the last day of February.

If you made improvements to your real property and:

- 1. the improvements cost more than $1,000 and
2. a building permit for the improvements was not issued,

you must report the nature of the improvements and their cost to the assessor not later than the last day of February. These reports must be on forms provided by the assessor.

If you believe your property decreased in value during the preceding year, you must report, on forms provided by the assessor, a signed statement which:

- 1. describes the property decreased.

This statement must be filed with the county assessor no later than the last day of February.

All veterans who wish to claim veterans' exemption should bring, or mail, their certificate of eligibility to the assessor's office each year for endorsement. This should be done before the last day of February of each year.

If the head-of-family exemption was claimed and allowed in 1986 no new claim for that exemption is required to be filed. However, if that exemption was not claimed and allowed in 1986 and it is now claimed, claim must be made by the last day of February by filing with the assessor the form provided by the assessor.

Beginning in the 1982 tax year, taxpayers are responsible for declaring their property classification to the assessor, as residential or nonresidential. When the declaration is accepted by the assessor, it shall remain as such and need not be made in subsequent years unless the classification changes. If a taxpayer has not declared their property to be residential in 1986 and desires that classification for 1987 they must complete a declaration of residential classification and return the signed declaration to the county assessor's office by the last day of February, 1987.

Ranges

Q: Why don't cake mixes bake well in my new black cake pans? A: Whirlpool home economists advise using shiny aluminum pans when preparing cakes. Darker pans absorb too much heat and cook faster giving the look of overcooked cakes. Pies, on the other hand, need to have darker crusts or they will appear underdone so the use of darker pans, glass, or even stainless steel are highly recommended.
