Water bond passes

Carrizozo voters turned out Tuesday to approve the general obligation bond in the amount of $150,000 for the town. A total of 123 people voted, with 96 in favor of the bond and 27 against.

The official canvass was conducted by Magistrate Judge Gerald Dean Jr. at 9 a.m. on Wednesday. The Carrizozo board of trustees will accept the official canvass at the May 26 meeting.

Truck driver killed

The driver of an 18-wheel tractor-trailer was killed about 2:15 p.m. Saturday on US 54 near Three Rivers when he lost control of the vehicle following a tire blowout.

Mark R. Hartoch of Clearfield, Utah was pronounced dead at the scene by medical investigator Rosemary Zink.

The vehicle was traveling south on US 54 when there was a blowout on the left rear inside tire. The driver lost control and drove off the west side shoulder. He then overcorrected, crossed the highway and drove off the east side shoulder. The tractor-trailer rig then spun around and rolled onto the driver's side, pinning him in the cab.

Investigating officers were Pat Wood of the state police, assisted by Lincoln County Deputy Lerry Bond and NMSP Lt. Darden.

Stearns wedding anniversary celebration set for Saturday

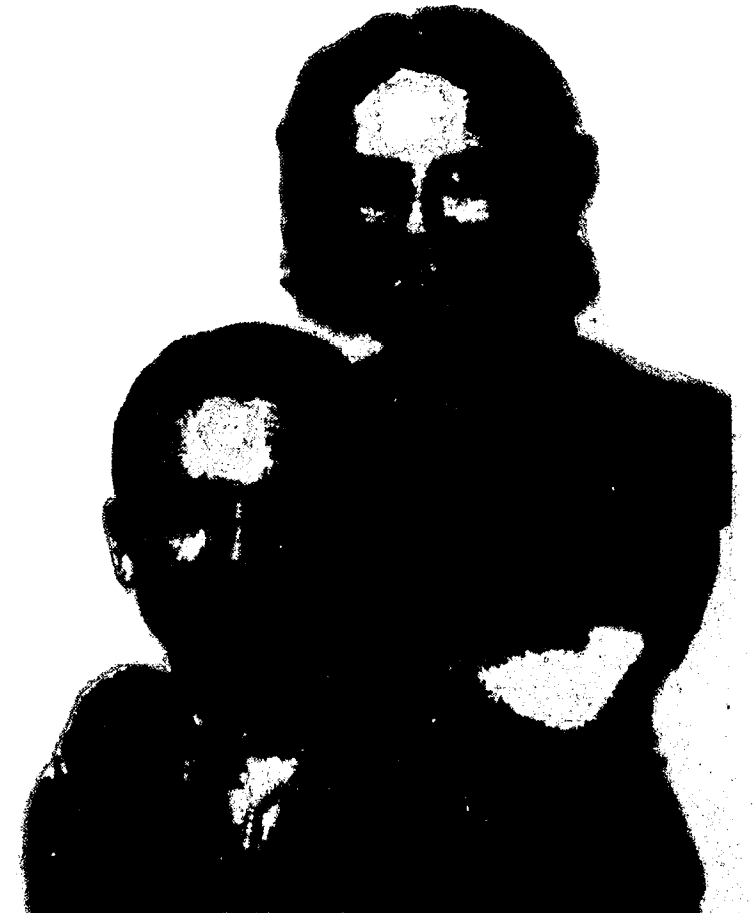

Margaret and Johnson Stearns will celebrate their 50th wedding anniversary on May 23. Their children have planned a party in their honor and invite family and friends to attend and "bring a hearty appetite and fondest memories to help make this a special occasion."

The party will be held at 1 p.m. May 23 up Nogal Canyon to Pennsylvania Canyon. In case of bad weather it will be held at the Carrizozo Country Club.

Instead of bringing gifts, they are asking that people write down a special memory or story of Margaret and Johnson and bring it to the party or send it to Bob Stearns, Box 98, Nogal 88341 before the party. These stories will be included in a scrapbook to be presented to Margaret and Johnson.

Their children are Bob and Sue Stearns, Charles and Judy Glover and Hoot and Linda Gibson. Their grandchildren are Johnny Bob and Steve Stearns, Vickie and Rhonda Glover and Jonna and Lori Gibson.

Commissioners make cuts at budget workshop

By RUTH HAMMOND

The Lincoln County Commission met May 19 for a budget workshop to make adjustments before the final budget hearing schedule for May 26.

Budgeted fund expenditures from the general fund for the 1987-88 fiscal year that will be presented at the budget hearing total $2,225,643. This amount is $3,092 more than last year's budgeted expenditures of $2,222,551.

Commission Chairman John Hightower explained some of the problems with not having enough money for all the budget requests that were submitted. "It is the federal government showing off expenses to the county with no funding. We have a considerable amount to cut from the budget requests," he said.

One area that will not receive the amount requested was the full time salary for the secretary in the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS) office. Commissioners have proposed reducing this position from 40 to 30 hours per week.

Several persons voiced their opposition to the reduction in hours of the secretary. After a lengthy discussion and acknowledgement that Otero County contributes $1,500 toward the secretary's salary, the commission left the position funded from the general fund for 30 hours per week.

This position had originally been funded from revenue sharing but must now come from the general fund as there is no more revenue sharing money coming from the federal government.

Several reductions were made in requests from departments that are listed in Line 18 "Other Services" of the budget. Region IV Mental Health's request of $7,200 was reduced to $5,400, State Fair Exhibit's request of $900 was reduced to $675, New Mexico Regional Library (for bookmobile services for the entire county) request of $1,400 was reduced to $1,050, Ruidoso Library and swimming pool request of $4,500 was reduced to $2,250, Carrizozo swimming pool request of $1,500 was reduced to $1,125, Predatory Animal Control request of $8,500 was reduced to $6,375, Ruidoso Care Center request of $3,000 was reduced to $2,250 and White Mountain Rescue request of $2,100 was reduced to $1,650.

Requests for salary increases for county employees ranged from 3 percent to more than 10 percent. Commissioners kept salary increases at 3 percent and had to defend their stand on this more than once.

Barbara Ward, program director for Zia Senior Citizens Center, had submitted a request for salary increases of 5 percent.

Hightower mentioned that Zia employees had received two salary increases during the year, apparently referring to the salary increase received from the county commissioners last July and funded out of the general fund and the 2.5 percent cost of living allowance raise for center employees provided by the Eastern New Mexico Area Agency on Aging on March 6.

Last year the county funded expenses for Zia employees for their salary increase and insurance expenses for liability, property, vehicles, workman's compensation and unemployment. The remaining money for operation of the senior citizens centers comes from the Eastern New Mexico Area Agency on aging.

Sheriff Don Samuels spoke to the commissioners about the law enforcement line items. His original requests totaled $911,493 at the May 5 meeting, and he was told at that time that his budget requests must be reduced.

Samuels told the commission on Tuesday, "What ever we have to live with, we will just have to live with." His proposal at this time was for three percent salary increase, capital outlay for seven vehicles with grant applications to cover the cost of two of the vehicles, and the hiring of two new employees with their salaries to be paid from grant money.

Adjustments in the law enforcement budget resulted in capital outlay for three new vehicles and did not include the new vehicles that would be purchased with grant money as the formal notification of the awarding of the grants has not been received. If the grants are obtained later, the vehicles may then be purchased with the county making a budget increase for the grant income and the expenditures for the vehicles.

Samuels' budget for law enforcement will be for $570,942 and the budget for corrections/jail will be $188,807. These figures compare with last year's budget of $583,142 for law enforcement and $179,756 for corrections/jail.

The major reduction in law enforcement was in the line item for full time salaries from $303,636 last year to $292,232 this year. This reduction was brought about by the department pay scale that reflects the number of years of experience of personnel. As personnel with several years experience are replaced with personnel with fewer years experience, the overall line item for salaries decreases.

The corrections/jail budget main increase was in part-time salaries, group insurance and full time salaries. The increase in full time salaries reflects the 3 percent pay increase.

A new position was also added in the county clerk's office. Lincoln County Fran Siddens told the commission that her office is ready to begin microfilming of all old records as required by law. She explained that the new employee would have to be trained to do the work properly and would then be qualified to do the microfilming for all county of-

Sunday collision on US 380

3 dead, 6 injured in headon

Three persons died and six injured, three critically, in a headon collision Sunday afternoon on Highway 380 west of Carrizozo.

Dead are the driver of a 1970 Oldsmobile 98, a citizen of Mexico whose name is being withheld pending notification of relatives. He was pronounced dead at the scene, along with two of his passengers, Jorge Nevarez, age unknown, and Francis Padilla, 31, both of Albuquerque. Passengers in critical condition are Raul Serrano, 19, and Pepea Pasqual Nevarez, 23, both of Albuquerque.

Listed in critical condition is the driver of the westbound Ford, Charles Sanchez, 33. In stable condition are his passengers Ellen Sanchez, 33, Charles Sanchez Jr., 4, and Deon Valdez, 15.

The Oldsmobile was headed east on US 380 at a high rate of speed. Lincoln County Sheriff's office said the speedometer was hung on 105 miles per hour following the crash. The driver entered a dip in the road, went airborne, and when the vehicle hit the ground the driver lost control. The car slid sideways and collided with the Ford which was westbound.

Two passengers in the Oldsmobile were airlifted to the University of New Mexico Hospital. Occupants of the Ford were taken to Ruidoso Hospital.

Investigating officer Steve Standridge of the New Mexico State Police, said alcohol was involved in the Oldsmobile. Standridge was assisted at the scene by Lincoln County Sheriff's deputies.

Rosemary Zink, medical examiner, pronounced the three persons dead at the scene.

The Sanchez and Valdez youngsters were released from the Lincoln County Medical Center Sunday. Charles and Ellen Sanchez were reported in stable condition.

Fire truck purchase on hold

The order for a new fire truck for Carrizozo will not be placed at this time. Bids for the new truck were opened at the April 28 meeting and the bid was to be awarded at the May 12 meeting, but action on the matter was tabled at the request of Fire Chief Albert Najjar.

Najjar told the council he had just learned that the bids exceed the terms allowed in the procurement code and was unable to reach the state fire marshal before the meeting.

The bid from Monarch Equipment Inc., Belen, in the amount of $104,489.33 included a payment schedule for 10 years and the bid from Thunderbird Fire Safety Equipment Corp., Albuquerque, in the amount of $105,763 included a payment schedule for seven years.

The present procurement code requires a payment schedule not to exceed four years. Najjar said this reduction in time would increase the payments beyond what the fire department could afford.

Mayor Bob Hemphill said that both bids exceeded the amount allowed by the state procurement code, according to the state department of finance and administration and the Municipal League. He also said the procurement code will change after June 21 to a term of eight years.

The town has 45 days from the time of opening bids to award the bid, and during this time will contact the DFA and the Municipal League to find out what can legally be done in the matter.

In other business, Hemphill said a representative from the state highway department had been in Carrizozo on Tuesday to discuss changes in the street paving project.

The state wants to close the entrance of 3rd Street where it joins with Highway 380 and E Street at the intersection near A & I Supply. The state may even fence the highway right-of-way at that point which would require people to use Drexel Blvd. to get to 3rd Street by way of D Street, C Street or B Street.

The dangers involved with making the end of 3rd Street into a cul de sac were discussed. Hemphill said the state denied approval for the paving on 3rd Street to include 3rd Street where it intersects with E Avenue and the highway, and the paving will end at D Street on 3rd Street.

The state highway department has a co-op agreement with Carrizozo to provide $50,000 to be included in the street paving project, but the guidelines provided by the state highway department must be followed for the town to qualify for the money.

Trustee Albert Baca informed the council that Val Reyes wanted to place a mobile home near the Rec Center. Zoning in that area of town excludes mobile homes and the council agreed to proceed with the regular steps for a variance.

Hemphill proclaimed the week of May 24-31 as Soil and Water Stewardship Week.

Hemphill said he had met with the state aviation agency and contractors at the airport because of excessive moisture under the new apron area where the new tie downs have been installed. He said samples were taken and the matter would be reviewed later.

After an executive session for personnel the council offered policeman Gilbert Archuleta a three-month extended probation period. The executive session had been called because Archuleta's six-month probation period was completed.

$1.8 million budget for Capitan schools

By BART McDONOUGH

The Capitan Board of Education at its regular session May 14 learned that it will have a total of $1,875,917 in the operational fund to work with during the 1987-88 school year.

The following statement will be on all school contracts during the next school year: "The terms of this agreement are contingent upon sufficient appropriations being made by the legislature of New Mexico for the performance of this agreement. If sufficient appropriations are not made by the legislature, this agreement shall terminate upon written notice being given by the board of education of the Capitan Municipal School District #23 to the contractor. The board's decision as to whether sufficient appropriations are available shall be accepted by the contractor and shall be final."

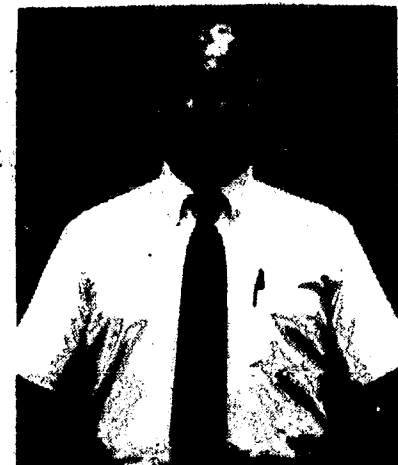

The board approved a plan to award school employees a service pin at 5-year intervals beginning with the completion of the 5th year of employment. A suggestion to pay teachers for unused sick leave was placed on "hold."

The base pay for a teacher with a BA degree and no experience will be $17,250 for the 1987-88 school year.

Dr. Amy Barton gets Golden Merit Award

Dr. Amy Barton arrived back home this week in Carrizozo after receiving the prestigious Golden Merit Award from the Medical Society of New Jersey for 50 years of medical practice. Dr. Barton received her medical degree in 1937 from the University of Michigan. She served a one-year internship at Grace Hospital in Detroit.

Her first practice was in Garberville, CA from 1939-41. In December 1941 Dr. Barton accepted a position as college physician at Texas State College for Women in Denton, TX. She returned to her home state of New Jersey in 1943 and set up her own family practice.

In August, 1973 Dr. Barton went to work at the New Mexico Rehabilitation Center in Roswell. She arrived in Carrizozo on June 1, 1973 and assumed the practice of Dr. A. N. Spencer.

Dr. Barton is one of the founders of the American Academy of Family Physicians founded in 1948.

This physician lives near Carrizozo Airport where she sees an occasional old friend and patients. She has been active with the senior citizens on the local and state level.

Supper, talent show crowd pleaser

Senior citizens of Capitan, Carrizozo and Corona sponsored a soup supper and talent show at the Carrizozo Recreation Center on May 16. Proceeds from the money-making event are to be used to send state gold medal winners to the National Senior Olympics in St. Louis from June 27 to July 2.

The National Senior Olympics are held every four years and this will be the first opportunity for senior olympians from Lincoln County to attend. The cost per person to attend the national contest will be $475 per person, which covers roundtrip air fares and their room and board at the university in St. Louis.

A total of $573 was achieved at the soup supper and talent show and is still short of the goal. Another money-making event will be scheduled in June and donations are being accepted for expenses for the senior olympians.

The Zia Senior Citizens Centers extend a special thanks to everyone who helped Beulah Moore and the many volunteers who have helped, including the business community, service clubs, cake and cookie makers, soup makers, and the furniture movers; and singers Sheriff Don Samuels, Scott Shafer, Cricket Smith, Neel Bingham, Liz MacVeigh, Roy Dow, Hal Sims and Juan Cardiel of Alamogordo; and musicians from the Camper Ranch Club of America—Ceell and Alyce

Green, Cliff Miner, Gordon French and Neal Bingham.

The exact number of senior olympians going to the nationals will be decided next week when 34 Lincoln County senior citizens participate in the state meet in Roswell from May 27-30.

Beulah Moore was master of ceremonies.

'Cents-off coupons' to aid Food Bank

The Lincoln County Food Bank, Carrizozo-Corona branch, is asking for help in purchasing food for the Food Bank by couponing. The cents-off coupons found in magazines and newspapers can be turned into cash for purchasing food for the Food Bank.

Clip cents-off coupons and take them to the Family Pharmacy in Carrizozo or give to any Food Bank volunteer which is located in the back of the Family Pharmacy. The Food Bank is open Tuesdays from 11 a.m. to noon and Thursdays from 8 to 4 p.m.

Volunteers will then attach the food coupons to items in King's Food Mart in Carrizozo. When you purchase an item with an attached coupon, King's Food Mart will redeem it and place its cash value in the fund of the Food Bank.

Pete and Debbie King have volunteered to redeem the coupons with the Food Bank receiving the proceeds. This method of making money for Food Banks has been tried in other communities with success.

reported that the bond and insurance certificates for the new football field and track are in proper order. All contracts are in. Concerning re-roofing and insulation of a portion of the elementary building, French said he will receive bids on June 16 and begin construction on June 18. This project will cost the school $24,500. The total cost overall is $29,000. The length of the project is 45 days. French informed everyone that an existing well will produce 10 gallons of water a minute. A 20,000 gallon storage tank may be placed near the well.

After hearing a presentation by Rachel Lacy the board agreed to recognize rodeo as a sport. A rodeo letter from the school may be earned. It was suggested that Mrs. Washburn be asked to be the sponsor. A policy for reduction in force was discussed. This is to be acted on in June or July.

The board approved the receipt of $65,169 in federal grants for the educationally deprived (Chapter I) and $12,254 for the library (Chapter II).

Ernest V. Joiner's

● The media and liberal congressmen are riding high these days. They are in a Reagan-bashing frenzy. Among their orgasmic delights is pointing out to an uninformed public that the Reagan foreign policy is totally inconsistent. Perhaps. But he has never been inconsistent in his total support, with or without congressional approval, of the Contra freedom fighters in Nicaragua. That is more than congress can say on the same issue.

● In 1979-1980, congress voted financial aid to the communist-controlled Sandinista government of Nicaragua. Then congress changed its mind, and in 1983-84, actually gave financial support to the Contras. Then comes another switch, and in 1985 congress stopped all assistance to Nicaragua's Contras and/or Sandinistas. Another switch, and in 1986 congress was providing humanitarian aid, intelligence and communications equipment to the Contras. Still another switch. In 1987 we are once again providing lethal military assistance to the Contras. Is such behavior consistent? Does any member of congress, in view of its record on the Nicaraguan question alone, have justification for citing anyone for inconsistency? If Reagan seems unable to make up his mind, what can be said for this congressional coterie of clowns which can't even decide which side it's on!

● In a similar vein, congress is trying desperately to prove that the Reagan Administration broke the law in supplying covert aid to the Contras. What congress implies is that Reagan allegedly violated the Boland amendment passed by congress first in 1982 and widened in 1984. This amend prohibited spending funds to overthrow the Sandinista regime in Nicaragua. Congress claims the president broke the Boland amendment in the Iran/Contra action. Even Sen. Daniel Inouye (D-Hawaii), an enthusiastic Reagan-basher, admits the Boland amendment is flawed and probably unconstitutional. But what the hell, let's destroy the president anyway!

● But if Reagan breached Boland by supplying aid to the Contras, did congress breach Boland by authorizing US aid to the Contras in 1984 (the year Boland was passed)? Did congress again breach Boland in 1986 when it sent humanitarian aid to the Contras? Again, didn't congress breach its own law by again furnishing some military assistance to the Contras? According to its own law, congressmen have violated the letter and spirit of a federal law and should be serving jail time for it. Now, if flagrantly violating federal law is cause for punishment, look at how congress broke the Gramm-Rudman-Hollings law that forbids congress to adopt a budget deficit of more than $108 billion for fiscal 1987-88. Last week, on May 15, without blinking a Democratic eyelash, congressmen voted to ignore the law and adopt a budget calling for a deficit of $134 billion--$26 billion more than the law allows! Why do Americans tolerate these inconsistent, hypocritical, lying, lawbreakers in their lucrative jobs?

● Democrat spendthrifts in congress want more money for social programs and less for defense. Under the present Democratic budget, defense spending by 1991 will drop to 5.1 per cent of the gross national product--the lowest level (except for one year) since World War II. The defense budget was higher under Jimmy Carter than it is today. The defense budget is lower now than under Kennedy, Nixon or Johnson. For the record, Sen. Pete Domenici of New Mexico, a strong supporter of national defense, said of the Democrat budget, "If we adopt the Democratic budget, in four years we will have undone all that we accomplished in the 1980s." And the Democrats will have crippled the most pressing and urgent defense program of our times--the Strategic Defense Initiative (SDI)

● People who are bawling that Star Wars (SDI) won't work are upset that we're already halfway there. Here's a couple of dramatic tests and experiments already conducted without help from an anti-military defense, anti-SDI congress. On June 10, 1984 the US Army fired a replica of a Soviet missile warhead from California toward a target 4,000 miles away. Half-way around the world, technicians in the Western Pacific fired a non-nuclear interceptor rocket 70 feet long and topped with an ultra-secret sensing device so advanced that it could detect the heat of a human body 1,000 miles away. Performing flawlessly, the interceptor crashed into the "enemy" warhead 100 miles above the earth. Collision occurred at a speed of more than 20,000 miles per hour, generating sufficient "kinetic energy" to destroy both objects.

● In September, 1986 an even more advanced homing device was installed in a Delta rocket. It scored a bulls-eye on a second Delta test rocket. Now experiments are taking place on a ground-launched system called ERIS (Exoatmospheric Reentry-vehicle Interceptor Subsystem). This new interceptor is only 20 inches in diameter and less than 14 feet long. Its homing device is the most accurate ever developed. One hundred of these ERIS rockets deployed with existing radar systems near Grand Forks, ND, could already provide a limited defense against nuclear missiles for virtually all of North America. They could all be in place within five years. The public supports SDI by a margin of 78 to 13 percent. But Democrats and liberal Republicans in congress can't bring themselves to provide for the nation's defense, preferring to spend the money instead on social programs that further their chances of re-election.

● Back to congress, which is violating federal law that impairs the security of the United States, adds heavy burdens on taxpayers, and makes a mockery of the democratic system. It can be argued that such conduct at federal levels is only a reflection of what is happening at local and state levels of government, and that lawmakers in Washington only reflect the criminal mentality of their constituents back home. Here are examples that support such a position.

People For The American Way, Norman Lear's extremists

WASHINGTON — Remember all those bumper stickers that proclaim: THE MORAL MAJORITY IS NEITHER.

That was a sort of clever take-down of a title which could be considered presumptuous. And the Rev. Jerry Falwell apparently recognized this, because as Moral Majority's leader, he brought about a name change -- to the Liberty Foundation.

One of the loudest critics of the Moral Majority has been an organization founded and directed by TV producer Norman Lear, one of whose most profitable contributions to the American cultural level was that dreadfully hammed up epic about Archie Bunker.

Mr. Lear, who strongly criticized Moral Majority, surely did select a modest and unpretentious name for his organization. He called it "People For The American Way."

That is absolutely neat, Norman. Thus anyone disagreeing with Mr. Lear's People For The American Way (or PAW) is un-American!

Two people who have dared to disagree have been two members of PAW's advisory board, who have resigned. One of these two is George Higgins, a Monsignor who is a renowned liberal and labor priest. Monsignor Higgins resigned after noting: "It is inconsistent and counterproductive of them to retaliate against new right extremism with its own form of extremist propaganda."

The other man who resigned from People for Norman Lear's Way is Gerald Ford. Mr. Ford formerly served as President of the United States. He resigned after a not-at-all-complementary description of the ideologues he found assembled in Mr. Lear's organization. President Ford told GOP officials in Washington that he had been persuaded to join PAW, because it billed itself as a non-profit, non-partisan group that describes itself as "working to protect civil liberties."

But Mr. Ford has reached the conclusion that People For The American Way is comprised of "basically radically liberal activists trying to operate under the guise of non-partisanship."

The Roman Catholic magazine Commonweal, which is hardly right wing, has noted "People For The American Way's weakness for slippery half-truths and use of deceptive facts in ads and literature."

People For The American Way has strong supporters and participants in two clergy among others. The Rev. Charles Bergstrom, a Lutheran lobbyist here, and the Rev. John Buchanan, a strong Southern Baptist clergyman and former Congressman from Alabama.

Bergstrom has contended: "Fundamentalists won't countenance disagreement. They are arrogant in presuming that they have THE Christian position on all issues."

Mr. Lear on Feb. 17 of this year told the John F. Kennedy School of Government at Harvard:

* "The social disease of our time is America's obsession with short term success, its fixation with the proverbial bottom line."

* "Business tends to subvert the moral-cultural values that undergird the entire system, such values as social conscience, pride in one's work, loyalty to one's community... We are captives of a culture that celebrates instant gratification and individual success, no matter the larger cost."

* "Everything I know about human nature tells me that we are innately selfish. We do look out for ourselves first!"

Well said, Norman! As nobody can deny.

Especially since this very same Norman Lear has been revealed as associated with three financiers indicted on 31 counts of using "rigged and fraudulent transactions in US Government securities, from 1978 to 1983, to create more than $1.1 billion in bogus trading losses and interest expenses. These supposed losses were passed on to investors for use as income tax deductions."

The New York Times describes Mr. Lear's financial involvement as "one of the largest tax fraud cases ever filed... which produced more than $350 million in fraudulent tax deductions for wealthy investors!"

Capitol

SANTA FE--It's time to get out of the columnwriting business; it seems to me, when you see the merry-go-round revolving for the fourth or fifth time.

When those in important offices in state government are just discovering the good and the bad things that you first saw a dozen or more years ago, it's hard to pretend that their discoveries are exciting ones. At that stage, it's time to pack it in.

Anyone who wonders why I plan to make my way to a Caribbean island later this year may take those two paragraphs as containing their own explanation. The same old mistakes, made for the same old reasons, no longer hold any charm for me. I have watched them being made too many times, and I have had a chance to say about all I ever expect to say about how inexcusable most of them are.

I'm not the only one who feels that way.

SERIOUS EMPLOYEES: I talked recently with an employee of state government who is in a position to do research on many of the vexing questions that arise in connection with running the state of New Mexico. This person has filled that role, with some distinction, for more than half a dozen years.

Here's the explanation from that source about why it's time to move out of state government: "Working each year with lawmakers especially, one gets tired of the repetition. Almost every legislative session acts as though it was starting the whole process of government from scratch."

It's a valid complaint, in my view.

What makes it even more frustrating is that the very same elected officials who were talking about simply can't bring themselves to believe that certain people may have some previous experience, and perhaps even a little wisdom, acquired over the years, that they could profit from listening to. After all, almost everyone who runs for office seems to feel, if you are not elected, as they have been, you must be a mere peon, whose views cannot possibly matter.

They seem intent on learning by experience, but only by their own experience. That means that each time a new crop of such folks comes around, we have to start all over.

FURTHER COMPLICATIONS: What finally drives most who leave government out of it, the friend I quoted earlier believes, is that so many of those who are impor-

Governments kill more people than war

EDITOR--A lot of people have been killed in wars. But many more have died at the hands of ruthless regimes.

R.J. Rummel, a political science professor at the University of Hawaii, has put together some statistics on deaths by war and by governments during this century.

He found that a total of 35.7 million people died during World War I, World War II, Korea, Vietnam and numerous smaller conflicts.

That's a terrible toll, but the report on deaths by totalitarian or authoritarian governments is much more terrible.

He found that these regimes have killed 120 million people during this century. These figures include 39.5 million killed by the Soviets, 45 million by the Red Chinese and 2,270,000 killed in Southeast Asia in the wake of the Communist takeover. A person living in this "enlightened age" is three times more likely to be killed by government than in war.

Much has been written about horrible war. But not much has been said about the horrendous mass executions that have been carried out by ironhanded governments around the globe.

$230,000 for attorney fees?

EDITOR--I thought the taxpayers of Lincoln County would like to know how much of their money the county commissioners spent the past 12 months. (March 1986 through March 1987) to attorneys for legal fees. Keep in mind that the commissioners budgeted $45,000 (professional services, $25,000; litigation, $15,000; paving district, $5,000).

Steve Sanders	$58,860.47
Gary Mitchell	$26,804.49
Total	$85,664.96
Budget	$45,000.00
Budget Overrun	$40,664.96

Plus Steve Sanders received $89,148.00 from the Alto Road Accessment and $17,454.39 from the Sierra Blanca Airport Commission from March to December. The month of December he billed SEAC for $15,222.07; for January he billed them $10,596.07 and for February his bill was $12,515.90.

The grand total for attorney fees for Lincoln County was $230,601.39. The fiscal year for the county is June to June and I feel sure the figures would even be more if I had waited until June.

Attorneys may want us to think they can walk on water and they deserve 10 percent of our county income, but I don't think the taxpayers of Lincoln County will agree.

Please come to the next county commissioners meeting Tuesday, May 26 at 9 a.m. at the courthouse in Carrizozo and show the commissioners that we care how they spend our tax dollars. They will be voting on the budget, and it is very interesting to see how our money is spent. Thank you again for listening to me.

● In Fairfax, VA the city was paralyzed recently by a snowstorm. A resident attached a snowplow to his pickup truck and cleared three streets near his home. One neighboring jackass complained to the police, and Walter Bainbridge found himself charged with "unauthorized work on a public highway without a valid permit." He paid a $100 fine for the luxury of being a nice guy. Ruelutely, he commented: "If I hadn't plowed the street out the police wouldn't have been able to get to my house."

● In Alamogordo, NM a man admitted blinking a local bank out of $5,000. He was indicted, tried, and found guilty by a jury. But the judge overruled the jury verdict and found him innocent. Now he is suing the bank for false arrest and for prosecuting him too vigorously. He is also on trial a second time for swindling the bank out of the $5,000 he freely admits he took!

● In Albuquerque, an elementary school must pay a 12-year-old boy $35,000 for being so onery his teachers had to repeatedly paddle him. The jury said the boy had been deprived of his constitutional rights. I have a copy of the US Constitution on my desk. I defy anyone to point to a passage that says it is unconstitutional to paddle a naughty child. Oh, the jury also found that the boy had been "psychologically traumatized" in the process of being disciplined, which sounds even more painful than a sore butt. But what is "psychological trauma, and is it good or bad?"

It happens every now and then

A hidden gold mine is found in the Capitans

By CHRIS HARKEY

Stories of gold, lost mines and hidden treasures have excited New Mexicans for generations. As late as three months ago, some local people are rumored to have located a cache of gold bars in the mountains near White Oaks, and to have sold the loot in Canada.

The Carrizozo Outlook for March 10, 1911 quoted an article in the Roswell Register-Tribune about location of a hidden mine in the Capitan Mountains, and how it was lost again.

Here is how the story was reported:

Dr. T. E. Presley, the local prospector, and to some a dreamer of the golden lure, assisted by the old south western scout, J. A. Norman, manager for the Nogal Peak Milling and Mining company, has come into a life's desire. Capitan mountain has gold in her heart and he and Mr. Norman are the first to make the discovery.

The first in this age. This is how it came about.

Sometime since when Mr. Norman was traveling in the Capitan Mountains, an old rotten cabin was pointed out to him by the natives. He made investigations, and being a friend of the local eye, nose and ear specialist, put him wise. Two weeks ago, the prospectors, hopes at an enthusiastic pitch visited the old rotten cabin, on the south side of Capitan peak, about eighteen miles from Pine Lodge; investigations showed peculiar conditions.

The house is at the foot of a hill; a spring is a short distance up the mountain; the mine is between the two.

It was not an easy matter to locate anything out of the ordinary. A fact that is easy proven when known that for more than a hundred years passers-by have stumbled at the threshold of the former prospector's hole, even then hunting for the lost mine.

Presley and Norman know a good prospect, and realized that there should be somewhere at that place, under those peculiar surroundings, a showing. They began to move things. The first to attract their attention was a pile of logs. In moving them, they took twelve out of a hole. This looked suspicious and going further, found several feet of rock piled in the hole; taking the rock from the hole they found the red dirt, in this dirt four feet from the bottom was an old drill, made of the axle of a buggy. Deeper into the hole two feet was an oldstyle rock hammer, and at the bottom was a worn, homemade pick, all the tools being badly rusted. The traces of the use of black powder for blasts is evident.

The prospectors are not saying to the public how fast they went down that hole, but a few intimate friends see that both have lost some avordupois due no doubt from over and fast labor. At the bottom was the 'gouge' or soft dirt, this was brought to the surface and panned, panning out $25 to the ton, and samples are in the possession of the prospectors. The hole is forty-five feet deep.

The opening is three and a half by seven feet. Dr. Presley and Mr. Norman are sure that the granite walls have the gold veins.

WHO FIRST DISCOVERED?

That the original prospectors were crude and far away from supplies may be judged from their materials found; that it was a hundred years at least in the past that these bold adventurers faced the frontier in search of the yellow stuff is without doubt; it is without contradiction that they knew they had something good and in their endeavor to conceal it until they could return, hid it from the world until the recent find. In the past history of the present natives there have been several strangers in that country looking for the "lost mine" but were never able to locate it. The late prospectors think there were four, at least, in the pioneer party of gold seekers. Near the mine is a large peeled pine cross, fourteen feet high. The early Spaniards usually erected such a monument to their dead in a strange country. It is the theory that Indians killed one or more of their party, the Spaniards erecting the cross and piling the trash, rocks, and other material in the mine hole, thinking they would return.

The native Mexicans have been living in that country for half a century and this old cabin has been a mystery to all of them.

'Ah, Billy yer finally come home'

Texas Gov. Bill Clements on May 11 conceded that Sheriff Pat Garrett did indeed shoot Billy the Kid in New Mexico in 1881, thus ending a Texas claim that Garrett lied about killing the famous outlaw.

The concession was made after Carruthers challenged Clements to a cow chip throwing contest to settle the issue once and for all. The challenge was issued as the two met during the meeting to organize the Governors Border Conference.

The Pat Garrett-Billy the Kid issue arose in April when the Dona Ana County Commission asked Carruthers to declare war on Texas after a story surfaced in which a Hico, Texas man claimed to have been Billy the Kid. The man died in 1950 at the age of 90, according to the story.

"I am delighted that the truth of this matter has been determined once and for all," Carruthers said. "With Gov. Clements' concession of the issue, New Mexico once again has established its everlasting claim to the heritage of Billy the Kid and Pat Garrett," he said.

Sheriff's arrest report

According to Lincoln County Sheriff's Office records, Richard Frank Tatum, 44, Ruidoso Downs, was arrested May 13 on charges of destroying and tampering with public property. He was released on $600 bond, May 13.

Joe Gonzalez Sanchez, 59, Ruidoso Downs, was arrested by Ruidoso Downs Police May 13 on charges of DWI second offense or subsequent. He was sentenced to 10 days in jail by Judge Valenzuela.

Lincoln County Sheriff deputies transported Darrell Lynn Ramsey, 29, from the Texas State Penitentiary at Huntsville, where he was serving a sentence, to Lincoln County to face a charge of embezzlement of over $2500. Judge Richard Parsons ordered him held on $5,000 bond.

Meletone Sanchez Jr., 53, Ruidoso Downs, was sentenced to 10 days in jail for contempt of court, May 15. Sanchez had appeared in Judge Valenzuela's court intoxicated, which triggered the sentence.

Stefan Woodrow Bowers, 18, was arrested by Ruidoso Police on May 17 for violation of probation. He was released two days later on orders of the Adult Probation. He is now on probation for violation of probation.

Amaya Jorge Reyes, 36, was arrested by Lincoln County Sheriff's Office May 17 on charges of being a party to a crime. He was released May 18 on $125 bond set by Judge Gerald Dean.

Ubaldo Cerros Armandarez, 29, was arrested along with Bowers on May 17 on charges of careless driving, DWI, leaving the scene of an accident, and no insurance. Judge Gerald Dean released him May 19 after posting $500 bond.

Stephen Paul Dunn, 34, was arrested on a warrant from Bernalillo County charging him with aggravated assault in Albuquerque and for parole violation out of North Carolina. Dist. Judge Richard Parsons set his bond at $10,000 on May 18. He was turned over to the Bernalillo County Sheriff's Office the next day.

Eugene Stephen O'Neill, 20, of El Paso was arrested by the Lincoln County Sheriff's Office on a warrant from Judge Wheeler on charges of driving while license is suspended or revoked. He was held on $500 bond.

tant in state government, whether elected or appointed, eventually reach a stage where they refuse to accept the facts that are right under their noses, simply because the facts are too painful.

"Nobody who knows anything real about New Mexico government at this point in our history," this observer says, "believes anything other than that it is absolutely essential that we cut its cost by cutting its size. Yet you and I have had to sit on the sidelines and watch administration after administration sponsor and espouse expansion of what we know should be reduced. That's hard to remain patient with. It's difficult to pretend respect for those who are unwilling to face reality, because facing reality would force them to do what is difficult and not at all pleasant."

The point this position boils down to is this: It's hard to continue to give even material support to those who repeatedly refuse to do what must be done. The bad so many of New Mexico's current crop of politicians fit into that category.

ON MY OWN
 By Pat Kite

Dateless In Paradise

My daughter does not have a boyfriend. According to Cosmopolitan, Glamour, Good Housekeeping and Fit magazines, all female persons between the ages of 14 and 44 1/2 have a boyfriend, a husband, a social disease or all three.
 Having none of the above makes a person feel like sort of a current relations outcast.
 "I wouldn't mind if so much," says my daughter, "if people would just leave me alone. Instead, whenever anybody says 'hello,' the next sentence is 'Well, tell me about your boyfriend!'"
 My daughter, a delightful, witty, sensible but rather shy person, says the question ruins what up until then had been a lovely day. "I never know how to reply," she comments.
 "If I say I don't have a boyfriend, I feel abnormal, like I have two heads or severe halitosis."
 "If I say I'm not going with anybody right now, I get pitying glances, along with comments like, 'Well make a little effort and you're sure to find somebody nice!'"
 "If I say I'm doing fine without a boyfriend for the time being, I get raised eyebrows that suggest I'm not just a wallflower, but the wall itself."
 In various evening rap sessions, we have tried to come up with appropriate responses to stupid questions. I have suggested saying:
 "How nice of you to ask about Ersatz. He's in Tibet right now, chasing Chippendale earwigs."
 An alternative: "It's interesting you mentioned it. Rasputin and I just broke up last night. Have you got a few hours? I'll tell you all the details." (If the person happens to have a few hours, I suggested my daughter begin by describing the knitting pattern she was using when Rasputin walked in the door and precisely what happened when she dropped a purl stitch.)
 Another alternative: "Actually I'm collecting money in case Reggie and I elope. Do you happen to have...?"
 My daughter thinks my ideas are just as stupid as the question. "Well, tell me about your boyfriend!"
 "I don't see why I have to have one," she protests. "I'm happy. I'm enjoying life. I don't really miss not having a boyfriend. If one comes along fine, if one doesn't, that's fine too."
 "How are magazines supposed to sell perfume, lipstick, deodorant, 72 shades of eye shadow and bust expander machines if all women had your attitude?" I argue.
 "Women might buy them anyhow," she states.
 "What about nylons?" I persevere.
 "Just because you don't like to wear nylons," she remarks.
 "The Devil invented nylons on a hot day," I say.
 "If you wore nylons, you might have a boyfriend," she says.
 "Have you ever thought of minding your own business?" I query.
 "Just making conversation," she says.
 "Well, if people ask about your boyfriend, they're just making conversation too."
 "No, it's not. It's sticking their nose into my private business," she says.
 "Listen. How do you think I like it everytime somebody asks 'How's your ex-husband?'"
 "Tell them Ersatz is fine and chasing Chippendale earwigs in Tibet," she says.

Hondo Valley News

By PAM McARTHUR

Two young women who are residents of the valley represented their senior classes as valedictorians during respective graduation ceremonies last Saturday. Jeannie Moir of Hondo High School and Johnna Patterson, Picacho, a graduate of Capitán High, named salutatorian of Hondo High School was Gail Aragon. Congratulations, ladies. (My apology for reporting misinformation in last issue).

The last day of school is Wednesday, May 27. As this year comes to a close it seems appropriate to acknowledge the dedication of all who teach. Education is the best tool we are given for life. Notes of appreciation also to the custodians for their work: Billy Joe Brady, Hondo; Emilio Montoya, Tinnie; and Fernando Montoya, Arabela. And to the bus drivers who are so faithful at their task: Lois Clements, Picacho; Johnnie McLeigue, Hondo; Kathy Herrera, San Patricio; Fernando Montoya, Arabela; Gabriel Sanchez, San Patricio; and Magdalena Soso, Hondo.

The school board continues its search for a superintendent upon the resignation of Eufrazio Vigil. In a series of recent meetings, they have conducted interviews with several applicants.

Due to the commencement of Ruidoso's annual racing season, the traffic on Highway 70 has significantly increased in past weeks. The new black-topped shoulders on the road between Riverside and Hondo help, but it is still a dangerous stretch for travelers.

On Sunday, May 24, Mac and I celebrate our 25th wedding anniversary, re-affirming our vows at the Church of the Holy Mount, Ruidoso. Other couples who also desire to recommit themselves in their marriage are invited to join us at the altar during Eucharist. After this announcement at St. Anne's, Glencoe, John Cooper of Arabela asked incredulously, "You mean you're going to marry this guy again?!"

The Silver is special, but "The Golden Anniversary is the nation's highest award for stamina," writes Nancy McIntyre of the "San Antonio Express." "Few couples survive 50 years of an obstacle course tougher than a commando operation. A vintage marriage requires extraordinary skills and timing. You must know when to charge and when to retreat, when to cry and when to shut up." Apparently, there is now a marriage manual available which warns of some 4,000 signals indicating con-

nubial danger ahead. "Every contributor to this directory is a recipient of the golden paddle award for shooting the rapids of matrimony without going over the falls." McIntyre quotes a man, aged 101, who is married to a 95-year-old woman. "I tell my wife I love her every day. You have to use your head to get along with someone."

Grandma's going to college. This is my last correspondence before I leave for Eastern New Mexico University-Portales to complete my degree. I am already looking forward to coming home, home to the beautiful Hondo Valley where, in the words of Garrison Keillor, "All the men are handsome; all the women are smart; and all the children are above average."

In closing, I wish you peace. Peace is not the absence of war or conflict or struggle, but the presence of that which keeps the fiber of community among us.

Corona prom held

"Take My Breath Away" was the enchanting backdrop theme for the Corona Junior-Senior Prom and Banquet Saturday evening when Beverly Bell and Travis Lightfoot were crowned prom queen and king.

Juniors Julie Furgason and Tommy Mulkey were named princess and prince during the gala activities.

Earlier in the evening students and guests had been treated to a steak dinner and program highlighted by speaker Dr. Henry Casso, director of Project Uplift in Albuquerque. Senior wills and prophecies were read and the group enjoyed a vocal solo, "Take My Breath Away" by Fish Land of El Paso.

The banquet and prom were hosted by junior class members Chad Brown, Sandra Copeland, Julie Furgason, Jason Gibbs, Teresa Jimenez, Lee Land, Alvie McKibben, Wanda Miller and Tommy Mulkey.

Corona FFA banquet highlights the year

The Corona's chapter of the Future Farmers of America finished off another productive year by hosting its third annual banquet recently.

During the evening the chapter recognized its many supporters and presented awards for outstanding accomplishments to the members.

Highlight of the evening was the keynote address by Crystal Tarpley, immediate past state FFA president. Mrs. Tarpley spoke of opportunities and goals to members and support for the program to the parents.

In another important moment, the chapter presented distinguished service plaques to two families who have rendered much service to the chapter. The recipients were Mr. and Mrs. Milton Romans and Mr. and Mrs. John McKibben.

Just as exciting and impressive was the officer election. The Corona chapter officers for 1987-88 are: president, Jason Gibbs; vice-president, Tommy Mulkey; secretary, Sandra Copeland; treasurer, Michael Pounds; reporter, Tye Lightfoot; and sentinel, Traci Kelley.

The chapter presented the Honorary Chapter Farmer Degree to eight families who have given many hours and resources to members. The new Honorary Chapter Farmers are Mr. and Mrs. Kennen Fuller, Mr. and Mrs. George Lightfoot, Mr. and Mrs. Clint Sulzemeier, Mr. and Mrs. Steve Pounds, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Mulkey, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Gibbs, Dorothy Nell Lightfoot, and Mrs. Karen Lightfoot. Also the chapter presented several certificates of appreciation to many supporters. The chapter also presented special certificates to the businesses and individuals who financed the full page FFA Week advertisement.

The winners of the proficiency awards, which recognize outstanding supervised occupational experience programs, were: Alvie McKibben, ag mechanics; Michael Pounds, beef production; Denise Lightfoot, horse proficiency; Sandra Copeland, placement in agricultural production; Tracie Proctor, sheep production; Tye Lightfoot, swine production; Jason Gibbs, turf and landscape management; Beverly Bell, diversified livestock production; and Danny Cordova, wildlife management.

Members also recognized the many degree recipients, including Greenhand, Chapter Farmer, State Farmer and American Farmer. This year Travis Lightfoot, Kim Worley and Tracie Proctor will receive the State Farmer Degree. Marvin Pounds and Steve Copeland will become the first ever American Farmers for the Corona chapter. They will receive their degrees in November at the National FFA Convention.

Preceptor Alpha Nu chapter of Beta Sigma Phi met Monday afternoon in the home of Elinor Smith. Members worked on the Yardstick for the year. Applications for the scholarship were read. Mrs. Smith will present the scholarship at the awards assembly May 30.

Fathers Day will be observed. Changing to a career chapter was discussed and the subject was tabled until after the state convention. Delegates to the convention June 6-7 at the Holiday Inn in Las Cruces are Eva Mae Holleyman, Patricia Perkins and June Tyree. Instead of the usual forums there will be question and answer periods under an international moderator. "Thank you's" are to be sent to Mrs. Trimble and Marcella Chavez for their help with Founders Day.

The date of the next meeting will be announced.

Mrs. Fred Bennett, the former Tammy Owen, daughter of Lee Roy and Juanita Owen, will graduate

William L. Moore, co-author of "The Roswell Incident" was one of a party of five visiting and asking question in Corona. Mrs. Joe Anderson, Bloomington, MS stopped by here after attending a conference at Texas Tech. Mrs. Anderson's granddaughter, Amy Stewart, received a bachelor's degree. Amy plans a career in law. Mrs. Anderson and Miss Kerr will go to Bloomfield and Bayfield, CO before going to Floyd where Wayne Lindsey will graduate from high school and then on to Claude, TX where Bill Stewart is graduating from high school.

Mrs. Floyd Proctor returned Tuesday from a 15-day trip to Marysville, CA where she visited her sister, Mrs. Crawford Mariner, and Mr. Mariner. She enjoyed the Redwoods and the Pacific among other things, like loquats and cherries.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Moore have had as a house guest the last two weeks Ora Lee Miller of Bloomfield. Mrs. Miller is an artist and the sister of Mrs. Moore.

Tuesday the senior citizens were busy with preparations for a chicken and fish supper with salad bar, their monthly fundraiser. Dorothy Bradley has announced that she will be taking the van to Roswell for the senior olympics at NMMI. They will leave May 27 and return May 30. Contestants from Corona include Romanita Chavez, Joyce Winchester, Josie Tenorio, Dick Bradley, Effie Mulkey, and Ella Stewart. Sponsors bought t-shirts and caps. These business sponsors are Mulkey Exxon, Corona Cafe, Shell Station, Jesse's Place, Corona Trading Co, Dempsey Texaco, Village Cafe, and Owen's Hardware.

Soil & Water Stewardship Week, calls for help, hope, healing

The Carrizozo Soil and Water Conservation District is encouraging local churches, organizations and individuals to join the nationwide observance of Soil and Water Stewardship Week, May 24-31.

The local district, which promotes soil and water conservation measures throughout the year, is providing literature and speakers that draw attention to the need for help, hope, and healing to bind the economic and resource wounds on America's farms and ranches.

Bill Bryan, chairman of the Carrizozo District, said the survival and welfare of farmers and the land they till must be a matter of deep concern to all people. "While the grain bins are now full and there is no shortage of fiber and building materials, we all need to be reminded of the serious loss that could result from damage to our basic natural resources—soil, water and air."

Since 1955 the National Association of Conservation Districts has sponsored Soil and Water Stewardship Week, in cooperation with nearly 3,000 conservation districts, as one way to emphasize the importance of good stewardship of basic soil and water resources.

Materials especially designed to carry the 1987

theme of "Help, Hope and Healing" are being distributed by the Carrizozo Soil and Water Conservation District. Members Bill Bryan, Woody

Schlegel, Bob Hemphill, Gordon Barham and Billy Bob Shafer urge everyone to think about the stewardship of resources all the time, but especially during the coming week.

Brian Sanchez, who graduated from Carrizozo High School May 15, is recipient of the Truman Spencer Jr. Scholarship.

Spencer served on the Commandant's Staff and Board of Regents at New Mexico Military Institute. He distinguished himself in the Army Air Corps as a squadron commander in World War II.

After the war, Spencer came back to New Mexico and conducted a successful ranching career in Carrizozo. He was the grandson of New Mexico's first Statehood Governor, William C. McDonald.

The scholarship is awarded annually to an NMMI cadet from Carrizozo who has at least 2.5 grade point average and an "A" in department.

Farmers may run for FmHA county committee

Eligible Farmers in Lincoln and Otero Counties are invited to become nominees for the Farmers Home Administration (FmHA) County Committee, FmHA county supervisor Dale A. Woods, had announced.

As a result of the 1985 Farm Bill, two of the three members of FmHA County Committees must be elected. The third member is designated by FmHA. The Lincoln and Otero County Committee assists the FmHA County Office in determining the eligibility of applicants for certain types of FmHA loans.

Generally, farmers who are residents of the county but not FmHA borrowers are eligible to become nominees for the FmHA County Committee.

Farmers in these counties, serving on the committee, play an important role by assisting in the process of loan applications and reviews," said Woods.

One member from each of these counties will be elected for three years.

Nominating petitions must be returned to the FmHA Ruidoso County Office by June 10.

Additional information and application forms for those who are interested in becoming nominees for the county committee are available at the FmHA County Office, 1095 Mechem Drive, Ruidoso, or by calling 258-5294.

The Hondo High School FFA Land-Judging Team was recently chosen as one of five teams to represent the state of New Mexico in the Land-Judging Competition in Oklahoma City.

The Land-Judging Team consists of the following people: Gail Aragon, Patrick Kelly, Moses Chavez, Ronnie Aragon and Matt Surratt. The FFA sponsor is Jerry Burchett, who has been an integral part of the FFA program and the school system in Hondo for the past decade.

The team left May 3 and returned to Hondo the following Friday.

There were 34 states represented at the contest, and 94 teams entered in the Land-Judging Competition. Hondo placed 66th out of the 94 teams.

C'zozo FFA completing BOAC program at airport

Carrizozo, NM—One sign of the changing seasons is the completion of projects. And the Future Farmers of America at Carrizozo are no exception. FFA members are finishing their 1986-87 community service project under the Building Our American Communities (BOAC) program.

Students in the Carrizozo chapter have been finishing up work on airplane tie downs which will make room for 17 more planes at the local airport. The next phase of this project is to paint a happy face in the middle of the runway says FFA Adviser Mike Gaines.

Since 1971, more than 17,000 Future Farmers of America Chapters across the country have conducted valuable community improvement projects as part of the BOAC program. The program is sponsored by RJR Nabisco, Inc.

"Although the projects are designed to meet individual community needs, they represent initiative by our youth to assume some responsibility for improving their home towns," Johnson says.

Fifteen members of the local FFA group began volunteering time to work on their projects in December.

Jamie Patterson is chairman of the BOAC committee. Other members of the committee are Leah Patterson, John Maxwell, Marcia Hecker, Jeanna Sims, Fred Vega, Suzanne Pilley, Paul Herrera, Ron Serna, Rodney Serna, Shawn Gore, Jason Vinson, Tommy Escamilla, Patrick Vigil and Lisa Hightower.

SAFE SUMMER

Lincoln County schools will soon be closed for the summer break. Youngsters 6 through 12 in particular, will be saying, "I'm bored. What can I do?"

Curiosity, impulsiveness, and impatience—these qualities nearly all children have in common. These are the qualities that lead children into trouble. Accidents, not diseases pose the greatest threat to children.

Take a child's-eye tour of your house and yard. Look for ways to make your children's activities safer in the coming summer months.

Know where your child is at all times. Point out the dangers of playing in excavations, abandoned houses, sand pits, old refrigerators, rickety shacks and deserted buildings. Check your yard for rusty nails and broken glass.

Show your child how to drive nails and to saw safely. Do not allow use of your more dangerous power tools until sufficient maturity is demonstrated.

Teach the safe use of kitchen appliances and the sewing machine.

Teach respect for fire, its uses and its dangers. Teach the proper use and storage of hazardous products.

Teach the rules cycling safety. Be sure that the bicycle is the right size for your child and don't allow him to ride double.

A youngster with a bike must learn the rules of the road as well as respect for traffic laws. Teach your child to keep to the right in traffic, and never to ride against the traffic. At dusk and at night, the bicycle should have proper lights and reflectors and your child should wear clothing that reflects light. Shoes should be worn while riding.

Toys can be dangerous and includes shooting toys, air rifles in particular, and conductible kites. Play with these toys should be supervised and used in appropriate areas.

THINGS TO DO

The last day of school signals the start of vacation for children. It's a break from the August-to-May routine of school and homework.

Watch this column for activities to do at home with children. The crafty activities are easy to do at home. Making things, party ideas and learning games are some of the ideas I will share with you to tackle the "there's nothing to do" problem just around the corner.

Handy things to begin saving: string, ribbons, thread, yarn, oatmeal cartons, paper bags, empty jars and lids, coffee cans, plastic lids, orange juice tin cans, berry baskets, cardboard meat trays, boxes and tops; eggs cartons, cardboard tubes from toilet paper, paper towels; scraps of cloth and paper, buttons, rocks, bottle caps, keys, spools, popsicle sticks, and wire hangers.

An assortment of old clothes, accessories and costumes is great for "dress-up" play. Don't ignore the play potential of an everyday cardboard box - from a small shoe box to a large appliance cardboard box.

Stay tuned . . .

VISUAL EXPRESSIONS

A needle is a simple, inexpensive tool. With some thread and fabric, it can be used in a wide range of creative activities, as Carrizozo's art students revealed during the art exhibit.

Needlecraft can help students to explore, express themselves and satisfy their basic need to master the use of a tool.

On display were several stitched works, among them, cross-stitch, patchwork and crochet. A potholder in the shoo-fly design was displayed as was the method for constructing a granny square.

Working with a needle can develop and enhance students (male and female) works in other areas of visual expressions.

MONA'S SMILE

Aspiring artists, first grade students, sketched and crayon colored their version of a print of Leonardo's Mona Lisa. The delightful art efforts of the young artists captured the attention of art show goers.

Leonardo de Vinci painted Mona Lisa (also called La Gioconda) between 1500 and 1504. The mysterious smile has been the subject of endless discussion as to its meaning, and made this one of the world's most famous paintings.

In the early days of the petroleum industry, during the late 1800s, kerosene ranked as the leading product of refineries. Gasoline was considered a useless byproduct.

THE BLOOD DRIVE sponsored by the Carrizozo Woman's Club on April 28 resulted in 16 units being donated with another seven prospective donors being unable to donate at this time. Donor technician Christopher Hancock (left) and mobile specialist Oscar Sambrano from United Blood Services in El Paso provided the professional assistance during the blood drive. Candie Aguilar and Michael Halper are shown after their Gift of Life donations.
