Liquor election Tuesday

Registered voters living in Carrizozo will go to the polls next Tuesday to vote on the issue of whether Sunday sales of alcoholic beverages by the drink will be allowed inside the city limits.

The only question on the ballot will be: Shall Sunday sales of alcoholic beverages by the drink for consumption on the licensed premises of licensees be allowed in this local option district?

The special election was called after a petition signed by 96 eligible registered voters in the town was submitted to the state. Verification of the signatures was conducted by the Lincoln County Clerk's office.

Paving plans progressing at Corona

Bob Echols of Brewer Engineering went over Phase I street paving plans with Corona Village Council members Thursday and said final documents were to be submitted this week for approval.

The plans call for 24-foot pavement (two inches of hot mix) and a 36-foot base course. Minor drainage ditches approximately 12 inches deep are included in the design.

Echols and council discussed the aerial photos, drainage flows and ways to rectify water drainage problems.

In other business, the council agreed to renew the Fire Department CD for another 60 days, to continue membership in Southeastern New Mexico Economic Development District and in the New Mexico Municipal League.

Council learned that the building permit for the village park restrooms has been received and work can proceed. Village of Corona also received money for a lawn mower from the Litter Control and Beautification Department. The mower will be used for weed control in small areas inaccessible to larger mowers.

Council will meet in special session on June 30 at 6:30 p.m. to open bids for Phase II of the street paving project.

Lincoln County Commissioners

Projects approved; Senior Olympics plans presented

By RUTH HAMMOND

The Lincoln County Commission met in regular session June 16 and approved the CDBG project feasibility study for the Fort Stanton historical preservation, the New Mexico primary health care grant contract and the Eastern New Mexico Area Agency on Aging contract.

Guests at the meeting were senior citizens who participated in the Senior Olympics at the state meet held in Roswell. Barbara Ward, project director for the Zia Senior Citizens Centers in Lincoln County announced that there were 32 contestants from the three centers and that they brought home 45 awards.

Dr. Amy Barton told of the money-raising projects being conducted by the centers to help raise money for the expenses for the trip to the National Olympics that will be held in St. Louis, MO, June 26-July 5. A clock built and donated by Bud Payne is being raffled. The clock is made in the shape of New Mexico and has a horseshoe from the Ruidoso Downs racetrack on it as well as turquoise.

Ward said there will be more contestants from Lincoln County who have qualified to participate in the national contest. The three gold medal winners previously announced who were qualified to participate were Dorothy Payne of Carrizozo, Virginia Danielson, Capitan, and Pat Bailey, Capitan. Ward said that the rules for participating in the national contest will include even more senior citizens. Bud Payne and Fabian Valderrama of Carrizozo have qualified and Ward said she would soon have a complete list of those who would be attending nationals.

The contract for the New Mexico primary health care grant was approved. This contract covers a one-year period with the Carrizozo clinic providing certain services and the grant to be received in the amount of $13,229.

The money is to be used for the purchase of specific medical and dental equipment as listed in addition to paying for services provided to the indigent population as required.

Walter Henn and Robert Finley were reappointed to the Lincoln County Lodger's Tax Committee for a two-year term.

The Chaves County Soil and Water mill levy was approved. This is a continuation of the assessment of 3/4 mill.

The county safety policy was approved. County attorney Gary Mitchell said the purpose of the safety policy is to cut down on the insurance rate. The 21-page document lists the county safety policy, accident reporting procedures, forms for accident investigation reports, hiring process, minimum safety rules for employees, safety enforcement, safety training, vehicle maintenance checklist and the drug, substance, alcohol abuse policy.

Transfer of funds was approved to clear up some old balances. County Treasurer Shirley Goodloe said she had called the Department of Finance Administration in Santa Fe to ask them what to do with old balances and the DFA said to put the money in the general fund. Funds transferred were CETA Title I Fund 440 78 cents, CETA Title VI Fund 447 $610.40, EEA V Title V Fund 448 $3.34 and Refund Bond Escrow Fund 564 $3,029.46.

Change Order No. 3 was approved for the amount of $6,621.60 for Eagle Creek road. Audean Franklin questioned whether this was a cost overrun and was told that the money was coming from the contingency line item.

Mitchell said contracts usually had a 10 percent contingency for items that might arise with a contract. This contingency should take care of change orders. Franklin said, "We appreciate your watching closely for cost overruns."

The 4th billing for the Alto paving assessment district was approved. The bill was for $179,473.19 to McCarty Construction and $17,391 to Pajo Technical Services for engineering.

The contract with the Eastern New Mexico Area Agency on Aging, Inc. was approved subject to modification of the allotment exhibit to a sub-total of $10,692 from local cash instead of $12,000.

The contract is for the grant money the Zia Senior Citizens Center will receive and lists scope of services to be provided.

The resolution for the New Mexico State Highway Department cooperative program, county arterial program and school bus routes program was approved with amendments to bring the total estimated cost down because the road fund balance was not sufficient to do all of the estimated cost as submitted in December.

The co-op program with 60 percent state money and 40 percent county money was reduced from 5.2 miles to 3/4 miles of base course on Fort Stanton road. The road will be 20 feet wide. The state share will be $50,000, county share will be $33,300 for a total of $83,300.

The county arterial program money will be used for the same project with $123,500 in state money and $41,200 in county money. For the county match of the money labor and equipment can be used.

The school bus route will be county road E-031 with 6 inches of base course 24 feet wide for one and one-fourth mile.

The contract for professional services for the Community Development Block Grant (CDBG) for a feasibility study of the Fort Stanton Historic Preservation was approved. The contract had been sent to Santa Fe for changes before being presented to the commission. Approval by the commission was contingent on approval by the state.

Three separate executive sessions were held for litigation and personnel.

Food bank asks for volunteers

Volunteers are needed at the Carrizozo/Corona Branch of the Lincoln County Food Bank.

The space for the Food Bank is being provided by Carrizozo's Family Pharmacy in the rear of the store.

Workers need to sign up there for one-hour shifts on Tuesdays from 11 to 12 noon and on Thursdays from 3 to 4 p.m.

Food donations and cash donations are still being accepted, but at this time volunteers are the most urgent need.

INTERIM SUPT. L.C. Cozzens was presented a plaque at the June 11 meeting of the Capitan Board of Education. The plaque contained the inscription "In appreciation for your invaluable service." Cozzens is shown with the board, from the left: Tom Trost, Cozzens, James McDaniel, Hollis Fuchs, Kenneth Cox and Preston Stone.

Engineer selected for Phase II street paving

The engineer for Phase II of the Carrizozo street paving project was selected after the Citizens Task Force made recommendations to the Carrizozo board of trustees at a special meeting on June 12.

Trustees accepted the recommendation to award the contract to Pajo Technical Services, Inc. of Las Cruces. Pajo is also engineer for Phase I of the street improvement project.

Two proposals for engineering services were received by the town and were opened at a special meeting on June 11. The proposals were taken under advisement to be reviewed by the Task Force.

The Citizens Task Force then met on June 12 to rate the proposals according to technical approach, work management plan, staff experience, corporate experience, familiarity with local context and costs. Out of a possible 110 points, Pajo scored 99 and Matotan and Associates, Inc., Albuquerque, scored 80.

Members of the Task Force are Paul Baca, Mary Chavez, Paul Guevara, Linda Haller, Ruth Hammond and Hubert Quintana of the Southeastern New Mexico Economic Development District (SENMEDD).

SENMEDD will be administrator for both street paving projects which will result in a savings for the town as none of the administration costs will be doubled and the money saved will be transferred into construction.

Quintana said he will send the necessary papers to the Community Development Block Grant (CDBG) office for approval. Once CDBG approves the engineer's contract the project can begin.

Pajo's work management plan calls for submittal of final plans and specifications for construction immediately after the engineering contract is approved. After the CDBG office approves the plans six to eight weeks must be allowed to advertise for bids, award the contract, hold preconstruction conference and issue notice to proceed with construction.

If the CDBG office does not delay in approving the plans, construction on the streets could begin in August and be completed this year. Actual work is estimated to take 60 to 90 days.

Carrizozo School Board

Long bus rides may be cut with new proposal

Carrizozo vo ag teacher Mike Gaines presented the Carrizozo school board with a solution to the long bus rides the students living in the Ancho area must take twice a day. His proposal was to have the Ancho route separate from the White Oaks route and to have the White Oaks route include the loop in the area of the ag barn.

This would shorten the length of the routes as well as the length of time students must be on the bus.

Gaines explained the proposed routes to the board at the June 16 meeting. Board members agreed that it would balance the routes but made no decision at this time. School Supt. Dan Burnett will make the final decision when he takes office July 1. The proposal then must be approved by the state.

In other business Gaines reported that Carrizozo received many awards at the state FFA convention held in Las Cruces.

Among awards received by Carrizozo FFA members were 3rd place for a scrapbook by Leah Patterson for which she received a plaque and Lisa Hightower placed 4th overall for the FFA quiz.

Administrative secretary Peggy Frazier reported that 12 Carrizozo students and six Corona students were taking driver's education this summer.

Resignation was accepted from school bus driver Sam Roper who will retire July 1. Lois Roper, as co-owner, will take over the Ancho route with David Roper as relief driver.

Resignation was accepted from school bus driver

Lois Roper from the Oscuro bus route. She will be driving the Ancho route.

A lengthy discussion was held concerning absences and decisions made by the attendance committee. Barbie Roper said the state mandates that more than 10 absences by a student called for a hearing before the attendance committee which consists of four teachers and a student. The parent of the student must be present at the hearing and the student may be present.

The discussion was brought about because of a parent wanting to appeal a decision made by the committee. The parent was not at the school board meeting and no decision was made.

The board requested that Barbie Roper send a letter to

THE NEIGHBORHOOD WATCH program will be started in Carrizozo. Carrizozo trustee Patsy Sanchez and Chief of Police C.A. Morales were among guest speakers at the Zia Senior Center to give information and provide pamphlets. An organizational meeting is scheduled for 6:30 p.m., June 22, at city hall. (Story on Page 2)

Neighborhood Watch to organize in Carrizozo

More than 30 people attended a meeting at the Zia Senior Citizens Center in Carrizozo on June 11 to get more information about a "Neighborhood Watch" program.

Carrizozo trustee Patsy Sanchez organized the meeting and had guest speakers and pamphlets on ways to protect homes and businesses. Lincoln County undersheriff Rex Skellett spoke about ways to insure personal safety as well as home safety.

Sanchez said that mapping out has been started to number houses in Carrizozo. Dr. Amy Barton discussed the need for the identification of homes. She said that when she first came to Carrizozo to practice medicine it was extremely difficult to find homes because of the lack of a numbering system. She stressed the need for numbering to help ambulance crews in case of emergencies.

Carrizozo chief of police C.A. Morales and police secretary Rosemary Gallegos also talked to the audience about safety methods. All guest speakers answered questions.

The pamphlets covered how to take a household inventory, how to burglar-proof homes and businesses and why these steps are necessary. Most of the pamphlets were printed in Spanish as well as English.

A meeting to actively organize the Neighborhood Watch will be held on June 22 at 6:30 p.m. in Carrizozo City Hall. Sanchez invites everyone to attend and help organize the program.

Keep the forest safe for woodland creatures.

When a tree dies in a forest fire, eventually, another tree grows to take its place.

But when a child dies in a forest fire, nothing will ever take its place. But sorrow.

Remember. Forest fires kill more than trees. And only you can prevent forest fires.

TAKE A NAP

My mail this week included words of wisdom, "All I Ever Really Needed To Know I Learned In Kindergarten," by Robert Fulghum.

The sender, who enjoyed the piece, suggested that it be shared by column readers.

By the way, Linda Gibson, who sent the clipping was not aware that Larry Wilson, commencement speaker for the graduating class of the University of Phoenix in New Mexico included Fulghum's advice which stems from sandbox experience.

My daughter Annette was among those 90 graduates last month in Albuquerque. As her dad and I proudly watched as she received her degree, we recalled her pre-school days, which seem like only yesterday. . . . "Take a nap every afternoon. When you go out into the world, watch for traffic, hold hands and stick together."

KINDERGARTEN PHILOSOPHY

"Most of what I really need to know about how to live, and what to do, and how to be, I learned in kindergarten. Wisdom was not at the top of the graduate school mountain but there in the sandbox at nursery school.

"These are the things I learned: Share everything. Play fair. Don't hit people. Put things back where you found them. Clean up your own mess. Don't take things that aren't yours. Say you're sorry when you hurt somebody. Wash your hands before you eat. Flush. Warm cookies and cold milk are good for you. Live a balanced life. Learn some and think some and draw and paint and sing and dance and play and work everyday some.

"Take a nap every afternoon. When you go into the world, watch for traffic, hold hands and stick together. Be aware of wonder. Remember the little seed in the plastic cup. The roots go down and the plant goes up and nobody really knows how or why, but we are all like.

"Goldfish and hamsters and white mice and even the little seed in the plastic cup—they all die. So do we.

"And then remember the book about Dick and Jane and the word you learned, the biggest word of all: LOOK. Everything you need to know is in there somewhere. The Golden Rule and love and basic sanitation. Ecology and politics and sane living.

"Think of what a better world it would be if we all, the whole world, had cookies and milk about 3 o'clock every afternoon and then lay down with our blankets for a nap. Or if we had a basic policy in our nation to always put things back where we found them and cleaned up our own messes. And it is still true, no matter how old you are, when you go out into the world, it is best to hold hands and stick together." -R.F.

KIDS AND TV

Often TV serves as an electronic babysitter, cutting children off from active mental participation and creativity. Reading a book typically requires greater active participation by a child. Books tell stories, inform, stimulate and motivate the learning process.

Getting children to read is the challenge.

"Reading Rainbow" to the rescue! Reading Rainbow is the old tradition of children's storytime transported to TV weekdays at 11 a.m. and repeated at 4:30 p.m. on KNME-TV (Channel 5).

Each featured book sets the stage for host LeVar Burton to further explore aspects of the world about which children are curious and eager to learn.

The books are narrated, often by celebrities, as the book's illustrations are pictured on the screen. Today (Thursday) Gilda Radner narrates the story of "The Tortoise and the Hare." Tomorrow James Coco narrates "Pocahontas," a tale about a flying #### porker.

GARDENER'S DIARY

How does my garden grow?

The squash seeds were planted June 9. God has been watering for me.

According to the seed packet information it takes 8 to 10 days for germination. Today (June 16) I inspected my anticipated crop of zucchini.

Instead of 10 hills spaced 4 feet, I planted the seeds in one long, narrow hill. With pieces of mini-blind slats I marked the area where I planted 4 to 5 seeds eight days ago.

What appeared like pebbles in the dirt now resemble rocks, some over an inch long. Tiny, green seedlings are visible but not in the marked area. I don't know if it is squash or a new growth of weeds.

There are two variety of ants roaming all over my garden. Do you suppose they carried the rocks to my planting area and went underground and buried my seeds?

If God continues to water my crops, I can harvest in 50 days. I am going to keep my eye on those wandering seedlings, growing pebbles and hyperactive ants.

It should come as no surprise that the Sierra Blanca Airport under construction near Ruidoso will be paid for in large measure by property owners of Lincoln County. Three years ago Gaylord Freeman did an exhaustive research paper on the proposed airport. As I recall, he found that before the smoke cleared away that airport would cost about $5 million more than the estimated cost, all of which would come from county taxpayers. In this newspaper (May 14, 1987) Al Junge of Ruidoso reported that the 1978 SBAC contract is in financial trouble. He said that for at least a year he had inquired about what would happen if the SBAC had an operating deficit, and Fred Heckman, airport administrator, replied that "no deficit was expected." Later, May 4, 1987 Heckman told a group that the "construction phases of the airport may fall as much as $700,000 short of funds," with an operations shortfall of about $120,000. Last week the Lincoln County Commissioners got the news that there is at present an operations shortfall of $379,729. So, Heckman at first said there would be no operations shortfall, then he projected a deficit of $120,000, and now the operations shortfall is $379,729. Will it reach a million dollars before fall?

Every dime of this shortfall must come from Lincoln County property owners, few of whom ever saw the airport site and who will probably never use airport services, provided it is completed. John Hightower, commission chairman, said last week there's no way the county can come up with that money. Villages of Ruidoso, Ruidoso Downs, Capitan have already said they had no money, even though they obligated themselves to pay by signing a joint powers agreement. That leaves the county property owners holding the sack for this and future shortfalls. It has already been proposed that a property tax increase of three mills be imposed. If this is done, what will the increase be when all the other shortfalls surface?

Heckman appears annoyed at the county's reluctance to fork over nearly $400,000 to cover the current shortfall, telling the commissioners that $400,000 is not a lot of money considering all the money that's already been invested in the airport. It is a lot of money when no money is available. Heckman, who is being paid about $100,000 a year to administer SBAC, can't plead poverty—as can the county treasury.

Lincoln County has a population of 12,000 and a current budget of about $14.5 million. That makes the tax load for in-place services $1,209 per capita for 1987-88. A family of five would pay $6,045. Even with this expense, law enforcement protection around the clock cannot be afforded. By contrast, Lea County with approximately 50,000 population has a current budget of $11.7 million which works out to about $234 per capita to run Lea County. Lincoln County taxpayers will be paying about five and one-half times what Lea County pays for similar county services. How, then, do we justify building a second airport at a probable cost of $30 million (nobody knows the cost of sure, but estimates go as high as $40 million)? And why doesn't anybody know for sure what the airport will cost? Because, I think, nobody asks the questions.

Hightower says his commissioners have just become aware of "what we've gotten into," and asks "where will this money come from?" If he had asked the proper questions of SBAC he would have received the answers. County Commissioner Ralph Dunlap says he was not informed of the true facts as to this shortfall. Had he asked the proper questions he would have received the answers. They have had since 1976 to ask these and other pertinent questions, and evidently haven't. Neither have news reporters who attend SBAC meetings. I suggest asking SBAC these questions: When does Heckman's contract expire? Will it be renewed and at what figure? Had these and other questions been raised, and answers received, we wouldn't be in this mess today because nobody but an idiot would obligate taxpayers to undisclosed amounts of money.

Aileen Lindamood is upset. She heard over KOA (Denver) Night Show that Tom Hayden, one of America's most respected traitors, was scheduled to speak recently at San Jose State College. But he reckoned without Police Tip Wynn, who remembered the famous traitor of the Vietnam War and told him to get out of town. The speech was not delivered. Aileen's anger is that the media did not pick up on the activity of Hayden, a Democrat, now serving in the California Assembly and carrying on his undermining of the United States—with loving and financial help from his wife Jane Fonda. Not long ago, 102,907 California voters signed a petition to have Hayden removed from the Assembly. Thanks to the black speaker of the Assembly, Willie Brown, Hayden's seat was saved. There are two reasons why both Hayden and Jane Fonda deserve punishment as traitors to their country. Both violated US law by traveling to Vietnam during wartime to meet with communist leaders; and both violated Art. VII, Sec. 9 of the California Constitution by actively supporting and advocating a North Vietnam victory over the United States. And how does their conduct in Vietnam square with Art. III, Sec. 3 of the US Constitution which says: "Treason against the United States shall consist

Smoke signals in Lincoln County

Shall we circle the wagons?

BY J.A. "AL" JUNGE

"Chino calls New Mexico Governor anti-Indian."

This headline appeared in the El Paso Times on June 3, 1987.

President Chino of the Mescalero/Apache Tribe is unhappy that our governor has agreed to assist the Lincoln County based Water Defense Association with a state donation of $75,000.

Chino hollers "Foul." It is very easy for one to have mixed feelings when the subject of Wendell Chino is concerned.

Here is a man whose ability to govern his tribe is without question. Who, in a few years, has placed his tribe on a strong financial foundation and who is never reluctant to take on all comers when the tribe requires an advocate. These characteristics are Chino's long suits. The other side of the coin, however, has a different complexion.

President Chino has not proven to be a strong champion of the white man. In fact, his paternal protectionism of the Indians has made this fact all too true.

There are those of us who live in Lincoln County as neighbors of the tribe. We talk of the need for cooperation and understanding with the tribe; however, during the more than 10 years I have lived here these are just words—nothing more.

From time to time, there have been public meetings in Ruidoso and in many instances Wendell Chino is the guest speaker. In this situation you can bet your life that he will vent his wrath on the white man. Why there has not been constructive and explorative meetings to discuss these differences escapes me.

Those of us who are being sued by Chino have volunteered thousands of dollars into a Water Defense Fund. This is a must. We have no choice.

So, who pays the costs of the tribe suing us? Why, we do. The cost of the suit as far as the tribe is concerned is paid by the US Treasury—That's you and me—the taxpayer. Thus far over $2 million dollars has been paid by Uncle Sam for Chino's attorneys and court costs. And there are more expenses to come. And we, in turn, dig into our pockets to pay our court costs and the tribe's court cost, so, we pay it all.

And now comes the governor, who realizes what will happen if Ruidoso and the Hondo Valley end up with no

Inside the Capitol

By Fred McCaffrey

SANTA FE—Those elected to public office for the first time usually don't have the faintest notion of what duties their office actually involves. Trouble is, having campaigned vigorously to get the job they may be reluctant to admit their ignorance about what must be done once they have gotten it.

Clinton P. Anderson once admitted privately to me that he had a certain fondness for, improbably, Dick Nixon. It turned out that the latter, on first becoming a senator, had officed across the hall from Our Clint, and Anderson had been allowed to guide Nixon's footsteps in a kind of paternal manner as the latter set up his office.

I also was a part of the original staff for Pete Domenici when he became the state's first Republican US Senator in many a year, and I remember how innocent of knowledge about organizing a senatorial staff all of us were at that time.

The same thing is true when a governor of New Mexico takes over from another governor—and in fact, the situation is exacerbated when the incoming man and the outgoing man are from different political parties.

DIFFERENCES: It is only natural, therefore, that—without this being as critical as the language makes it sound—the office of Gov. Garrey Carruthers is presently staffed virtually entirely by amateurs. Almost none of those who are there, including the top man himself, has ever had any experience in the jobs they presently hold.

Further, we know for a fact that the Anaya people, who felt themselves traduced by things said about them during the last campaign, pouted and did literally nothing to help the new kids set up shop.

When it comes to something like a US Senate or House staffing problem, there are those in Washington who are willing to give lots of help, even across party lines, as Anderson did for Nixon. When it comes to being governor of New Mexico, however, little such counselling is available.

Sometimes, even if it were, the newly elected chief executive wouldn't take it. I remember well how, at his first news conference, Toney Anaya said, in answer to a question from me, that he would have no use for the office manual the outgoing governor, Bruce King, had kindly had prepared for him. I further remember that four years later Anaya lamented that he had not profited from his predecessor's kindness.

RESULTS: What happens when that kind of thing takes place—a newcomer tries to "invent" the whole office of governor for himself—is always a period of confusion, as we try to get everybody headed off in the same

WASHINGTON

Les Kinsolving

Arafat's Murder Inc. sales office defended by Shultz, liberal media

WASHINGTON—The so-called Palestine Liberation Organization, whose years of existence have been continuously characterized by lying and by murder of Jewish civilians, has for years been maintaining offices both here and in New York.

The United States Government refuses to negotiate with the PLO, because this murderous organization refuses to recognize the right of our ally, Israel, to exist. But for years, the Department of State has allowed this stateless organization of gangsters to maintain these two information offices.

Several US Senators, including such liberals as Teddy Kennedy of Massachusetts, Paul Simon of Illinois, Carl Levin of Michigan and Howard Metzenbaum of Ohio, have, to their credit, co-sponsored the Anti-Terrorist Act of 1987, which will close down these terrorist organization offices. In its continuing and increasingly outrageous discredit, the Department of State is opposing this bill. Secretary of State George Schultz noted that the PLO is registered as a foreign agent. And Schultz added:

"So long as that office regularly files reports with the Department of Justice on its activities as an agent of a foreign organization, complies with all other relevant US laws and is staffed by Americans or legal resident aliens, it is entitled to operate under the protection provided by the First Amendment to the Constitution."

In the category of allowing us to be thankful for small favors, Mr. Shultz notes: "We retain the right to deny entry to, or expel, any individual PLO representative directly implicated in terrorist acts." (How about those PLOs who are indirectly involved, as accessories — which includes everybody?)

This astonishing announcement by the Department of State is a criterion under which the cities of New York and Washington could welcome the establishment of information offices for the Mafia (based originally in Sicily), not to mention the Japanese Red Army and Italy's Red Brigade, or what is left of the Bader-Meinhof Gang.

Yet The Washington Post has denounced these liberal senators and called for defeat of this anti-terrorist bill, because, among other reasons: "The right of other justly despised political entities — the American Nazi Party, for example, and the Ku Klux Klan — to speak, march, petition and publish."

How many times in the last two decades have either of these two detestable organizations done anything as vile as taking an elderly man in a wheel chair, putting a bullet in his head and pushing him into the Mediterranean Sea? The PLO did this to an American citizen named Leon Klinghoffer. And the State Department defends their "right" to maintain a pseudo-embassy here. The Post contends that kidnapping, assault, murder and bombing are already against the law. "But speech—in particular the dissemination of politically oriented information, including propaganda—is not and cannot and should not be made a crime." Shall the FCC, which recently warned such dirty mouths as Howard Simon, now be receptive to nightly commentary by Sirhan Sirhan?

This is the same mentality which defended the alleged right of Nazis to march through the suburb of Skokie, Illinois, which is heavily populated with alumni of concentration camps.

It is the same mentality, that believes in such speech-at-any-price as would outlaw any concept of disturbing the peace, as well as the classic conclusion of Mr. Justice Holmes about the right to shout "Fire!" in a crowded theater.

We have enough home-grown nuts in the United States without permitting foreign terrorists to open pseudo-embassies in our nation's capital. While the American Nazis may have an office across the Potomac River from here in Arlington, VA, and the Klan somewhere in Louisiana, this is altogether different from allowing the Klan to open an office in Harlem or the American Nazis to open an office next door to Temple Emanu-el in Manhattan, or a foreign gang of pirates like the PLO to water—and Chino is protesting!

If we lose this water suit, it could mean the end of Ruidoso, the Downs, and the Hondo Valley, as we now know it.

In the news report, Chino is said to claim only 3400 acre feet while the water suit apparently involves some 18,000 acre feet of water. While smoke signals appear on the horizon, who are we to believe? Should the tribe be awarded the full amount they will be in a position of controlling more water than flows in the Ruidoso River each year.

Many of us "locals" emigrated from Texas where we were educated in minerals rights, but believe you me, we have received a quick education in water rights and who stands tall in the final control of water.

Perhaps in the not to distant future a lone Indian will walk along Sudderth, in the former business district, now overgrown with weeds, where visitors once mingled buying gifts and Indian curios; an area now desolate, with stores and businesses closed and vacant, with a single street light to greet the lone pedestrian with a strange silence. Then, the Indian says, "I won!"

Polo, which is something like playing golf on horseback, is an exciting sport in which spectators watch horses run without having to lose money on them. Which is one reason why the opening day of the San Patricio Polo Club was so delightful last Saturday. The club, located in the beautiful Hondo Valley at San Patricio, was founded 50 years ago by the late Peter Hurd. Hurd's Sentinel Ranch is the site of the polo field, where an enthusiastic 15 or 20 players turn the game into one of skill and daring. It is a dedicated group headed by Michael Hurd, the artist's son. Here, the game is played by both men and women and on horses that double as cow horses, pack animals and less glamorous duties. At the east end of the field is the new and elegant Hurd Gallery where, between chukkers and after, players and friends gather in the presence of Hurd paintings and those of his widow, Henriette Wyeth Hurd, are on display at prices from $85,000 to $125,000. This is the retreat of the social members who pay $50 a year to enjoy dancing, cocktails and fellowship at stated intervals. Since people around here are fond of horses, enjoy sports and socializing in elegant surroundings, it seems strange that more people don't play polo at San Patricio, or at least take out a social membership which guarantees evenings of fun and entertainment. For a social membership call Barbara Blumsthal, 633-4324. The food alone is worth the cost!

When Harry Truman took over the presidency upon the death of FDR, old Sam Rayburn of Texas gave him the following fatherly advice: "From here on you're going to have lots of people around you. They'll try to put a wall around you and cut you off from any ideas but their own. They'll tell you what a great man you are, Harry. But you and I both know you ain't."

District court caseload down, problems remain

"It is with some degree of pleasure that I advise that as of May 1, 1987, the docket for Division III cases stood at 461 total," District Judge Richard A. Parsons told the NEWS recently.

Parsons became judge of the newly formed Division III in the 12th Judicial District after the election in 1984 calling for a resident judge in Lincoln County, Division I and II are in Otero County in Alamogordo.

JUDGE PARSONS

When Parsons took office the caseload stood at 658 cases. Since that date 2,618 cases have been closed and the outstanding caseload has been reduced to 461.

"In effecting this result," Parsons said, "I note that I set and heard cases on 20 Saturdays in 1985, 29 cases in 1986 and 10 cases so far in 1987. This results in a contribution of well in excess of two and one-half months extra court time, not counting the commensurate and beyond number of Sundays that had to be used for paperwork."

Parson's effort to reduce the caseload may have the diverse results for the district court. During the last fiscal year, the 12th Judicial District was the only district in the state that did not receive an increase in funding and in fact received a cutback of 8 percent.

Due to the cut in funding to the district, one-third of the personnel in the Lincoln County office and one-fourth of the personnel in Otero County were let go.

"So what have I accomplished?" Parsons asks. "The caseload is down to 461. What will the legislators say if it remains at that figure? How can I ever attempt to justify the need for an additional judge or adequate funding? Admittedly, the caseloads of the other judges have doubled, but that is because, as I look back at it now, they are sensible and prudent."

Parsons says he will continue to work on some Saturdays, particularly for either docket calls or pre-trial settings.

"Obviously, I would like to see the docket remain low and manageable," he continued, "but with the new problems it would seem that the better course of conduct for me to follow would be to follow the practice and procedure of every other district judge in the state of New Mexico."

establish a propaganda office here.

There are any number of the world's nations which are denied this privilege without any violation of the Constitution. But George Shultz and The Washington Post contend that foreign murderers and kidnapers are, by our Constitution, guaranteed the right to setup a sales office in our nation's capital.

Michael Pounds attends leadership seminar

Michael Pounds of Corona High School attended the 1987 Hugo O'Brien Youth Foundation New Mexico Leadership Seminar June 5-7 on the University of New Mexico campus in Albuquerque.

The seminar is for outstanding sophomores. Michael was chosen to attend because of his high school leadership potential, concern for others and the desire to learn.

Students representing 100 New Mexico High Schools joined the program in which they had the opportunity to interface with recognized leaders in business, industry, government, science and education through give and take "rap" sessions. Through this type of exposure, the leaders attempted to provide both exploration and advocacy of the American economic incentive system and the democratic process.

The purpose of the New Mexico Leadership Seminar is to create the opportunity for students to recognize and reward their leadership potential. The seminar is designed to further develop their leadership abilities and to promote greater pride and understanding of America's free enterprise system. The ultimate objective is to watch the student's self-development, understanding, positive attitude toward the business world, and how they can become a contributing leader in society.

Michael is the son of Steve and Myla Pounds, Corona.

The Carruthersites are still in that condition. That's why we get things like memos being written and circulated (including to the press) that should never have been composed in the first place; and cabinet secretaries giving off statements that the governor is later forced to disavow; and office staff mistakenly not returning the calls from citizens who have some objective importance because the greenhorns don't even recognize the names.

It's a different period, for which most citizens are willing to make some adjustment, as long as it doesn't go on too long.

But I sense that Carruthers and his people have almost run out their allotted span in this regard. The natives are growing restless, and these people would be wise to start operating more like professionals and less like amateurs, and to do that very shortly.

By Margaret Rench

We received one inch of gentle rain last week. There was a few hours of sunshine daily. Then cold. The last two days have been warm.

There were 1,612 registered visitors at the Smokey Bear Museum, June 7-9. On Saturday there were 12 students with two teachers from the Marlbridge Farms in Austin, TX.

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Wrinkler of Odessa, TX, visited here Sunday. Mrs. Wrinkler is the daughter-in-law of Mrs. Petree, who now lives in Portales and is 97 years young. We do miss Mrs. Petree here in Capitan where she was a resident of many years. It is good to know she is doing well.

Would the person or persons who took the Smokey Bear Album from the Smokey Bear Museum, please return it? Now, this album is the one of Smokey Bear Day and Stamp Dedication Day. There is no way those articles can be replaced. It would be too bad if these albums had to be put away. But that will have to be done if this continues to happen. There are no negatives of those pictures. This is the first time that this has ever happened to historical items. It is a terrible loss. If you should read this, please send it back or bring it home where it belongs. Its value is great to this museum and area.

The new bridge that crosses the creek just north of the city hall is finished. It is well built and widened with black top. A good addition and looks safe. At this time the crew is taking the detour bridge out.

Last Friday morning the fire alarm sounded. Firemen went to Baca Camp where an RV was on fire. They were congratulated for their speedy work.

Howard and Maxine Wright, Bonnie McEuen, Terry Strickland and Melinda went fishing last weekend at Elephant Butte. They caught some nice fish and everyone had a great time.

Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Reeves and baby Veronica of Silver City were guests of her parents, Terry and Kay Strickland, last Tuesday night.

I am sending a belated birthday wish to Lacie Salazar who reached her 20th year June 12. I wish her many more very happy, healthy years ahead and a bright future.

Cathleen Massey is doing well after an illness mentioned last week, and she is on duty at the Smokey Bear Museum. Glad to see you back. Good health.

Erin Keller is visiting her cousins in California for two weeks and is having a great time. They are going to Sea World, something they have desired and anxiously looked forward to.

Grady Hobbs, son of Wayne and Willie Hobbs, entered the hospital in Ruidoso June 12 suffering from bleeding ulcers. Although he was gravely ill for a while, he is reported improved. I wish you a good recovery, Grady.

I am certain many of this area will remember Dale and Jo Ann Sprankle who were residents here for three years. Dale was employed with the Soil Conservation. They moved to Clouderoft where they spent three years, then were transferred to Rollo, MO Soil Conservation. Word has been received from Dale that Jo Ann died from a severe asthma attack June 5. I extend my sincere sympathy to Dale and all the family.

Corona News

Gov. Garrey Carruthers has proclaimed June as "Beef Month" in New Mexico. Crown Cow Belles celebration of Beef Month included a pre-Fathers Day picnic Sunday in Red Cloud Canyon. Family members and friends came from Albuquerque, Anthony, Bloomfield, Captain Garzozo, El Paso, Hagerman, Reserve, Roswell and Tatum to enjoy beef brisket, beef casseroles and a wide variety of foods.

President JoAnn Proctor welcomed the group, and introduced Katie Sultamier, chairman of the Fathers Day Committee, who in turn introduced Crown's Father of 1987, Archie Perkins. She presented the gift of "Johnnie Bond rocks," a rock bearing his name and title, and copies of designs found on Indian petroglyphs. Most of the material and the creative talent all came from the Bond Ranch. Archie has been an active part of the community since 1928 and appreciates this recognition by his friends. The next meeting will be Thursday, July 2. Members and guests will gather at the Porter home at 8 a.m. for the tour of Boys' and Girls' Ranches, with lunch to be dished at the ranch cafeteria.

Nolan Vickrey, commander of Beaver-Bond Post No. 35 for the last three years, has received word from American Legion National Headquarters that he is the 3rd place winner in his category in the national competition among post commanders. He has been awarded a $75 gift certificate.

Friends are planning a come-and-go miscellaneous shower for Waynette Lindsey, bride-elect of Kyle Best. The party will be from 1 to 4 p.m. Sunday, June 28 in the school recreation room. All are invited and are to bring gifts unwrapped.

Frank DuBois, Albuquerque, and Frank Austin DuBois, Las Cruces, were helping with ranch work here this week.

Justin Turner, Bloomfield, is visiting his cousin, Emmet Sultemeier.

Friends have been notified of the deaths of three former area residents: Alton Hillman, Ignacio, CO, Beatrice Kimbel, Belen, and Mrs. Grace Brown, Albuquerque.

Cedar Temple No. 26, Pythian Sisters, held the regular June meeting Monday in Cedarvale. They were joined by members from Primrose in Deming in October. They enjoyed a sack lunch while making plans for filling the bags. The next meeting will be Monday, July 13 in Cedarvale, beginning with a covered dish luncheon.

Mr. and Mrs. Lyndon Robinson, Bret, Kip and Rebekah, Greeley, CO and Rex Robinson with Chet Robinson, and Paul and Bret Hallor, Grants are all helping with the branding and marking this week.

Adis Robertson and Effie Mulkey went to Robert Lee, Bronte, and Stanton, TX to visit Elene Means, Mary and Frank Mulkey and their families. Adis has been teaching in Socorro and is tutoring there this summer.

Nolan Vickrey, Pamela Vickrey, Mrs. Katie Martitt and family wish to express their sincere appreciation for all the kind things done for them during the time of illness and death of their beloved Peggy. These acts of kindness, the prayers and loving words will be forever remembered.

Mr. and Mrs. Byron Yancey and Mrs. Bernice McCord spent the weekend with relatives in Tucumcari. Mrs. McCord remained for a visit.

Mrs. Lee Roy Owen spent the weekend with the Ken Marlowes in Las Cruces and attended the wedding of friends.

Richard Lightfoot has entered the College of Education at UNM. He has sold his shop here to Terri Smith who will begin operation late this month.

Sherrill Bradford, left Wednesday for her home in El Paso after a week in Corona. She will leave Friday for Houston where she is a delegate to the American Association of University Women's National Conference.

Cattle branding was practiced 4,000 years ago. Old tomb paintings show Egyptians branding their cattle.

Miller, Bell win in essay contest

Wanda Miller and Beverly Bell of Corona have won all-expense paid trips to Washington and Philadelphia. The two were among 283 high school government students from around the state who entered an essay contest sponsored by Sen. Pete Domenici in conjunction with the Commission on the Bicentennial of the US Constitution and the New Mexico Law Related Education Project.

1987 celebrates the 200th anniversary of the US Constitution, and according to Domenici, "One of the most important things we can give to our young people is a sense of our history, a feeling of what America is all about. They are, after all, our future, the next leaders of this great country." Essayists explored the topic "Separation of Powers as Provided by the US Constitution" and were required to meet specific essay requirements. Bell and Miller, along with 13 other winners from the state, will enjoy a week of history and government during their week of touring Washington and Philadelphia.

'On My Own' By Pat Kite

Momma's choice

Momma wanted me to marry Daryl. There was no mistaking the glint in her eyes while eulogizing his even disposition, respectful demeanor and excellent financial prospects.

The young law student had been a suitor for several years, twist and tween my other beaus. Momma used to mention, repeatedly, that we had many, many things in common. "But, Ma," I protested, "he's just like a brother." I wanted someone dashing and debonair. The stolid sensible Daryl didn't come near fitting that description.

So instead I met, and wed, Prince Charmin. After that fiasco ended, I avoided gentlemen who were dashing and debonair. Did I wish I'd listened more carefully to Momma? You betcha buttons. But two decades and many miles apart, I never expected to see Daryl again.

Then, attending a business conference, there he was, back row center. Several weeks later, he called, said he had legal business up my way, and could he take me out to dinner? Sure enough.

It turns out Daryl had never married. Instead, he continued to live with his parents. "The people I work with tell me it's about time I got my own place," he commented. "But why should I? I come and go as I please. Mom doesn't bother me. Oh, once in a while she tells me to clean my room, but I don't mind."

Out to dinner we go. Seated at the restaurant, he puts four pats of butter on his roll, takes two bites, then looks at the menu. The highest price ed meal was $8.75. "I don't think I'm hungry," he said. "You can eat if you want to."

Being single a long time, I've developed an acute ear for certain things. So I said, "I'm not all that hungry either. Why don't we find a place that has a lighter menu?" We left the waiter looking at Daryl's half-eaten roll.

We arrived at Peisy's Hamburgers, one of the better joints in town. Daryl inspected the salad bar, watched the cooks broiling hamburgers, then checked the posted menu prices. They averaged out at $3.75. "The way they make them here is too greasy," Daryl said. "It's not healthy."

Fine. No problem. "I know a really great Burger Barn," I said. Daryl was happy. He put one cup of roquefort on his lettuce salad, then didn't eat the mayonnaise, then complained to the manager that they hadn't given him extra mayo. The manager gave him a paper cup of mayo. All the mayo went on the burger. He really didn't eat much of the burger, but the mayo soon disappeared.

On the way home we talked about retirement. In 14 years, he had never taken a day's sick leave or vacation time, as he was planning to retire early. In 10 years. Wasn't that great?

Daryl's disposition was still even, his demeanor respectful and his financial prospects undoubtedly superb. "Excuse me, Momma," I said to Heaven long after Daryl had departed. "That business about having a better life married to that fellow? For once you were wrong."

'A crooked crook's crime, capture, and escape'

By CHRIS HARKEY

It wasn't as easy being a crook in Lincoln County in the 1900s as some people believe. The White Oaks Eagle dated Jan. 25, 1900 tells the story of "A crooked crook's crime, capture, and escape."

This robber's first victim was the Brothers' Hotel, called the Southwestern Hotel, located in White Oaks and operated by Mr. and Mrs. J.A. Brothers. Mrs. Brothers operated the hotel, with the help of daughter, Emma, following the death of her husband. The Brothers had come to White Oaks in 1880, and were among the earliest settlers there.

Malagra, mentioned in this newspaper account of the sheriff's first encounter with this "tall, lean, long-legged" fast running robber, is now called Malagra Springs. It is located east of the railroad tracks at Oscuro, about 15 miles south of Carrizozo on Hwy. 54.

Here's how the Eagle editor played the story:

THE WHITE OAKS EAGLE White Oaks, New Mexico January 25, 1900

Henry C. Williams who was arrested at Malagra last Thursday morning by deputy sheriff John W. Owen on a charge of having robbed Dr. W.T. Bishop at the Brothers Hotel Wednesday night, was landed behind the bars here Thursday evening about 7 o'clock. The money taken from Dr. Bishop was recovered and also a six-shooter stolen from Pete Thompson at the Palace Saloon.

Williams was at the residence of Alfred Littel on Wednesday evening and stated to Littel that he intended to leave town that night and that he was not going to pay his board bill, and that in case officers followed him he would not be taken alive. Littel, who was sick at that time, advised him to pay his board bill and leave like a man, or if he could not pay all, as much as he could and tell them he was going away.

He did not take such advice, but went to the hotel, robbed Dr. Bishop, who has been confined to his bed for several weeks. He left the hotel, appropriated J. C. Klepinger's horse, a saddle blanket and a bridle from another, and rode to Carrizozo, where he turned the horse loose, bought a ticket for El Paso, sat down, to await the train's arrival.

Ben Gott, who drives the hack for Paul Meyer to the station, daily to meet the train, which was then past 10, saw Williams who at once became uneasy and started down the track toward El Paso.

The train was late more than an hour, but officer Owen had in the mean time arrived and had learned that Williams had gone in the direction above described, and boarded the train having given instructions to the engineer to slow up in case they came in sight of a man walking on the track.

When about 3 miles out the train slowed up and announced the appearance of a man near the track at the head of the train. Owen was in the Caboose, and while he was getting off the train Williams, as the individual turned out to be, was getting on near the engine in front.

As soon as Williams saw Owen he turned to the other side of the train, jumped to the ground and ran with the greatest speed possible toward the mountains with Owen in pursuit.

Owen is thick and short, while Williams is long and lean and the pursuer was soon disturbed by the sound of wheels on rails. Williams was seen to get on his horse. He remained in the castle Friday night until 3 o'clock a.m. or near that time when he escaped by burning a hole in the Calaboose where the fastenings for the lock was attached, and made his escape.

It is thought by many who have examined the situation that he had one or more confederates who must have assisted him with tools, etc. in breaking jail. He rode Pete Thompson's horse away this time, making two horses he has stolen in effecting his escape.

Deputy Owen is after him and it is hoped that he will again land him behind bars.
