Commissioners can levy tax

Election not necessary to pay for airport bonds

By RUTH HAMMOND

Residents of Lincoln County may get to help pay for the Sierra Blanca Regional Airport without being allowed to vote on a bond issue.

People have assumed that the issue would be in the form of a bond election with voters making the decision as to whether they would have increased property taxes to help pay for construction of the new airport that is being built on the Fort Stanton mesa.

While approval by voters is one way of having the tax imposed, another way is for county commissioners to authorize tax rates for general purposes. The state legislature authorized maximum rates that can be set by county commissioners.

Tax rates of $8.85 on each $1,000 of net taxable value of both residential and non-residential property in the county for the 1986 property tax year and a rate of $11.85 for each $1,000 of net taxable value of both residential and non-residential property for the 1987 and subsequent tax years may be assessed.

Questions of paying for the construction of the new airport were raised when county commissioners met with the Sierra Blanca Airport Commission on June 5 to discuss the current budget and the proposed budget for the next fiscal year. It was announced at that time that there was a shortfall in the current budget of $362,611.

The shortfall could be even greater if funds due to be received from the state are not spent on eligible items and if bills being submitted by the SBAC this month are for non-eligible items.

Among items not eligible for FAA or state funds are purchase of water rights, drilling the water well at a cost of $76,994.47, secretarial fees for taking minutes at the SBAC meetings, attorney fees in the amount of $32,868.75, engineering fees related to water and administration costs of $99,167.77 for an 11-month period.

Preparation of the budget for the Sierra Blanca Regional Airport and the distribution and accounting for funds for the development of airport facilities is one of the duties of the Sierra Blanca Airport Commission.

The Sierra Blanca Airport Commission (SBAC) was created in the Sierra Blanca Airport Master Plan which was a joint powers agreement signed on Jan. 16, 1978 by the Mescalero Apache Tribe, Village of Ruidoso, Village of Ruidoso Downs, Village of Capitan and Lincoln County.

The SBAC consisted of five members, one member designated by the governing body of each of the five entities signing the agreement.

Prior to the first day of April each year, SBAC was to prepare a budget for airport finances for the ensuing fiscal year and the budget was to show in detail the revenue and expenses from the preceding year and in detail the anticipated revenue and expenses for the succeeding year.

Expenditures allowed in such approved budget were to control the year's spending program for the airport. All spending was to be done in accordance with the state law pertaining to disbursement of public funds.

Lincoln County was designated as fiscal agent for the SBAC to receive and disburse all funds secured by the SBAC and/or ordered to be disbursed by the SBAC as required by law to insure the proper and adequate accounting records according to and subject to supervision of and regulations of the state of New Mexico.

The joint powers agreement clearly states that the SBAC shall not itself levy taxes or borrow money; and it shall not approve any claims or incur any debt or obligations unless there is unencumbered cash in the appropriate airport fund to the credit of the SBAC with which to pay the same and such expenditure is authorized in the budget.

It was not stated at the June 5 meeting if the previous budget had been approved with the projected $362,611 shortfall.

Another power of the SBAC as listed in the joint powers agreement is to make recommendations and to assist the County of Lincoln in electorale consideration of a general obligation bond issue for airport development.

The Environmental Assessment for the Sierra Blanca Regional Airport released May 1986 stated that Lincoln County had approximately $4,000,000 of general obligation bonding capacity available, based on current assessed valuation.

Although the joint powers agreement did not obligate the county as far as specifically requiring a bond election or bond assessment, it did obligate the county in conjunction with the other four entities for providing funds for any shortfall by stating, "No party hereto initially contribute funds at the outset of the agreement, but the parties should provide any additional funds, as required for the payment of current expenses of the Sierra Blanca Regional Airport or as otherwise mutually agreed."

The possibility of a bond election or assessment was not discussed at length by county commissioners at the June 5 meeting. One possible solution to the shortfall would be to cease construction of the airport until the necessary funds are available. This suggestion was not endorsed by SBAC members and airport administrator Fred Heckman.

Plans are being made to restructure the SBAC with only Lincoln County and the village of Ruidoso as members. The new joint powers agreement with only Ruidoso and Lincoln County being represented must be approved by all five entities before it will take effect.

Questions as to whether the current and previous SBAC members fulfilled their duties of providing for the proper development, management, distribution and accounting for funds for the development of airport facilities have been asked.

Anyone wishing answers to these and other questions should attend the special meeting of the Lincoln County Commission today at 1:30 p.m. in Ruidoso village hall for the Sierra Blanca Airport Commission meeting.

Health clinics set for month of July

Health clinics for the month of July have been scheduled for the health office in the courthouse in Carrizozo. Call 648-2412 for appointments for services.

The cancer screening clinic will be held July 7. Services include cancer prevention and control, early detection, referral and follow-up, public and professional education and patient support.

The WIC program will be held July 8. Services include nutrition education for pregnant women and young children.

The family planning workshop will be held July 9 and the family planning clinic will be held July 21. Family planning services offer physical exams and lab tests, including PAP smears, contraceptive supplies, pregnancy testing and referrals, follow-up and education.

Family planning clinics require that fees be assessed for services rendered to patients with incomes above a certain level. The charges for various services are based on the actual cost of providing those services.

Fees will be assessed on a sliding scale based on a patient's ability to pay. Both family size and gross annual family income will be used to determine the percentage of actual costs that a patient will be assessed. No one will be denied services because of inability to pay. Proof of income is required.

The well-child clinic will be held July 23. These services include a complete medical history, updating immunizations, health promotion, periodic physical exams, counseling, referrals and follow-up and screenings for development status.

Neighborhood Watch formed in Carrizozo

Bill Rawlins of Ruidoso and Sgt. Duane Vinson of the Lincoln County Sheriff's Department were guest speakers at the Neighborhood Watch organizational meeting held in Carrizozo City Hall on June 22.

Carrizozo trustee Patsy Sanchez scheduled the meeting in an effort to get the program started in Carrizozo. A previous meeting had been held at the Zia Senior Citizen Center on June 11 to give information to senior citizens about the program.

It has been proven in a number of cities, both large and small, across the United States that community crime prevention programs involving citizens have a measureable impact on controlling burglary and other crimes. This is true if the programs are well organized and if the leaders follow through and keep the programs going.

Rawlins told of the Neighborhood Watch program in Ruidoso and brought literature and gave suggestions as to how to get the program started.

He said it is important to get law enforcement officials involved in the program as they can help with leadership. He stressed that it is important for people to tell neighbors when they will be out of town and to develop the buddy system for watching each other's property and homes.

Periodic meeting, twice a year or so, training of people to be "watchers" and the placing of signs and decals were all explained by Rawlins. He said the placing of signs in neighborhoods in Ruidoso had been successful in reducing crimes in those areas.

The Neighborhood Watch program is a deterrent to crime because the burglar doesn't understand it. He never knows when a neighbor might be observing his movements from behind a window blind or watching him from behind a bush in the yard.

Vinson described methods of marking valuables. He said that recovery of property is the reason for marking items, and told the audience that usually items have been sold to a "fence" even before they are stolen from homes.

He said the most popular items to steal are VCRs and microwave ovens. Other target items are color TVs, guns, firearms, cameras, etc. Most items are taken from homes in bed sheets or pillow cases, and quite often the burglar is only in a home less than five minutes to steal the items.

Vinson and Rawlins both stressed the need for an accurate description of vehicles that may be involved in a crime. License numbers and the color of the vehicle are especially important.

To be really effective, a Neighborhood Watch program must be an ongoing thing. A good program requires continuing effort, continuing education and constant follow-up. People must not assume that a small drop in the crime rate means that the problem is solved. Prevention of crimes must continue.

Studies by law and justice planning offices indicate that there is reduced dollar loss from burglary in Neighborhood Watch areas. Other savings (harder to measure in dollar) result from reduced police investigation expenses, reduced court costs and other criminal justice expenses and reduced suffering by burglary victims.

A few things that people can do to discourage crime: Make it tough for the thief to get inside your home. Lock up and light up. Make your home look as if somebody is home at all times. Have adequate insurance before a loss occurs, and if you become a burglary victim get help from a law enforcement agency.

The Neighborhood Watch program in Carrizozo has started. Donations will be accepted for the program with which to purchase signs and decals that will designate Neighborhood Watch areas. Persons wishing to make donations may contact Patsy Sanchez.

Barry DeWees is new Capitan principal

By BART McDONOUGH

Notes from Capitan Board of Education meetings on June 11 and 18.

It was learned that the driveway on Highway 380 will be widened from its present 16 feet to 32 feet wide. The water from the well on the property obtained from the US Forestry Service is not suitable for irrigating the new football field. The school is looking to update its computer system in the school offices, and Larry DeWees will be the new high school principal. The board also made a decision on the roofing project.

DeWees comes to Capitan from Farmington High School where he has been an assistant principal and school athletic director. DeWees received a bachelor of science degree in biology from Chadron State College in 1969. He earned a master of science degree from Texas Tech in 1975. His resume indicates he received administrator's certification from New Mexico State.

Larry and Judi DeWees have two sons, Dallas 14 and Denver 10. DeWees was chosen as athletic director of the year for New Mexico during the 1966-67 school year. He has taught biology and anatomy, coached wrestling and football. His special interests include extemporaneous speaking, and counseling young people who are involved with drugs.

Pioneer Western of Ruidoso was awarded the roofing and insulation bid. John Lavis of El Paso was awarded

Voters approve Sunday drinks

Voters in Carrizozo approved the Sunday sales of alcoholic beverages by the drink at the election Tuesday. 45 percent of the registered voters in the municipality turned out to cast their votes and approve the referendum by a two-to-one vote.

Of the total 233 votes and five absentee ballots cast, 152 were in favor of the Sunday sales issue and 86 were against.

The official canvas of the votes was conducted by Magistrate Judge Gerald Dean Jr. Wednesday morning. The official canvas will be accepted by the Carrizozo board of trustees at the June 30 meeting.

The special election was called after a petition signed by 96 eligible registered voters in the town signed a petition and submitted it to the state. The issue had previously been defeated by six votes when a special election was called in March 1986.

More EMTs are needed

Preston Stones are EMTs for the month

By Dorothy Guck

A few years ago, Willa and Preston Stone suffered a couple of drastic accidents. Their little daughter had her hand badly cut in a cement mixer. A short time later, Preston was seriously injured when the spoke of a wheelbarrow, flung by the explosion of a tire, gashed his head.

"Forty miles from a hospital," Willa said, "we suddenly realized that our knowledge of medical care in an emergency should include more than knowing how to apply a BandAid."

"And there are several other families in our area," Preston added, "who live farther from medical care than we do."

Those accidents sparked the determination of Willa and Preston to learn all they could about emergency care. They both took their basic EMT training in 1982. Now they are jointly chosen by vote of the Lincoln County EMT members as the EMTs of June.

Willa, daughter of Marie and Bill Edgar and granddaughter of the late Lon Merchant, was raised on a ranch in Lincoln County. She got her college degree at New Mexico State University, taught home ec and science in Vaughn two years and science in Carrizozo for seven years.

Preston's father was a ranch manager in various places in New Mexico and Texas while he was growing up so that he attended schools in Claunch, Corona and Gail, TX. He graduated from high school in Capitan when his father was transferred from Gail to the Block Ranch. Preston was in the army three years with half of that time on duty in Vietnam. He and Willa were married in 1969. Preston managed a ranch between Vaughn and Santa Rosa for three years, then moved back to the Edgar Ranch north of the Capitan Mountains in 1971. They have 10-year-old twins, a boy and a girl.

"When we first started our volunteer work," Preston said, "we were so far from town we couldn't be in an ambulance alert unit. We maintained first response kits with oxygen, C-collars, two short boards and one long board. Now, many EMTs are supplied radios by the county, but we bought our own in 1983, as it was and still is our only means of being on constant call. The sheriffs department provided the crystals for its use."

Willa said, "our pager hours are at all times. As we are not on 8 to 5 working hours as so many EMTs are. We are available night and day for volunteer help. When we get a call, we travel in our own vehicle with our equipment to give first aid while waiting for the ambulance."

"On Hwy 48 north of Capitan, the area east of the 50 road marker is handled by a Roswell ambulance. From 50 west to State Road 42 is in the Capitan ambulance area, but we are first responders, to all calls."

Willa is a member of the CowBelles, a 4-H leader, and treasurer of Trinity Baptist Church in Capitan. Preston is a member of the Capitan School Board, Lincoln County Fair Board, Otero Electric Cooperative Board, and a Sunday School teacher at Trinity Church.

Preston said, "most of our calls are very traumatic because they are from people we know. Seldom do we have auto accidents of strangers on 48. The state EMS is aware of the necessity for first responders in the New Mexico rural areas, but we need more volunteers to take the necessary training. Our ranch neighbors have, until recently, always had to 'make do' with whatever home care was possible, and often that I feel the satisfaction, due to resulted in tragedy. Willa and our EMT training, of being farmers living in the rural areas of New Mexico, we are receiving better education in more efficient management of our ranch lands. It is, or can be, hazardous work. So it is necessary that we become better educated in the methods of dealing with physical emergencies, when we live 40 to 50 miles from hospitals. More people should take advantage of the opportunity for EMT training. Your knowledge could save lives."

The Stones are often called to assist the Game Department, Forest Service and the Sheriff for fires, hunting accidents, and lost persons.

With the continued updating and proficient development of the Lincoln County EMS, the Stones feel the volunteers will increase, and more people will experience the benefits of their knowledgeable care.

Anyone wishing information about seeking EMT training should call Nancy J. Guck, Nogal, NM, phone 354-8741, evenings.

Cub Scouts 'adopt' cemetery

Cub Scouts in Pack 153 chose as their summer project to give the Evergreen Cemetery in Carrizozo a new look.

Starting in May they began clearing weeds and cleaning the cemetery each Monday. Since then they have hauled off more than 100 bags of trash from the cemetery.

During the summer months their project has been scaled down to taking care of roses that were planted at the cemetery. Each boy in the pack waters the roses one day a week which will keep the roses growing.

A cement border is to be placed around the roses later this summer and the boys will place a plaque in that area at that time. An official ceremony will be held with all the boys and den leader Linda Brown present.

Cub scouts working on the project this summer are Jim Brown, Jeff Maynard, Bud Maynard, DeWayne Langley, Paul Fitzpatrick, Justin Serna and Miguel Garcia.

FOR KIDS SAKE

Thousands of children are reported missing from their homes each year. Many are taken away against their will, under circumstances that immediately places them in great danger.

The FBI has conducted numerous investigations into child pornography and sex rings which abduct, buy and sell children nationwide and internationally. Very often there are no clues as to the whereabouts of children missing from homes and neighborhoods.

Some of these children are later found dead, murdered and unidentified.

FINGERPRINT CHILDREN

Fingerprinting is the most positive means of identification. I had three of my sons fingerprinted during a Halloween Carnival. The fingerprinting was sponsored by the Carrizozo Valley of Fires Lioness Club in cooperation with the Lincoln County Sheriff's Dept. I keep the fingerprint information with the boys shot (immunization) records, and other important papers.

Having your child's fingerprints available can lead to their identification and possible recovery should your preventive measures fail and they become missing. It is also wise to keep other identifying information on your children, such as dental records and a recent photograph.

Establish a block parent agreement within your neighborhood watch group, where parents take turns providing a safe house where children can take refuge if frightened or in trouble.

WARN YOUR CHILDREN

Warn your children never to go into other people's houses without your permission . . . never go into buildings or vacant lots or other areas without your permission . . . never to play around or go near parked automobiles . . . never to go anywhere with anyone without your permission even if the person says he has your permission . . . not to accept gifts or candy or anything from strangers . . . to tell you when anyone offers them anything, for any reason . . . never to go to the playground alone or remain there after most of the children have gone . . . never to help strangers look for something, not even a lost

If there's a way to spend taxpayer money on trivial matters, leave it to a Democrat to find it. Rep. William V. Alexander (D-Ark) found a new way to squander money last week when it was revealed that he had ordered the 3 1/2-year House and Senate debates on the Boland Amendment published in the Congressional Record—at a cost of $197,382.

Aside from spending money, the Democrat-controlled Congress' first priority is to pull down the presidency. They thought the Iran/Contra affair would do it, but so far President Reagan has weathered the storm. Reagan said he had no knowledge of the complicated shipments of arms to Iran and the funneling of money to the Contras.

I nominate for Hero status Air Force Gen. Richard Secord (retired), Asst. Secretary of State Elliott Abrams, and Admiral John Poindexter—all of whom took abuse from the Kangaroo Court and gave back as much as they took.

Poor old Calvin Coolidge doesn't get quoted much. When he was president he made a speech in Massachusetts in which he said something applicable to my new stable of Heroes: "Patriotism is easy to understand in America. It means looking out for yourself by looking out for your country."

The media has been no friend to President Reagan; but President Reagan has been a friend of the media. Last week he vetoed a bill passed by the Democrat congress which would have compelled broadcasters, radio and television, to "cover issues of public importance and present opposing views."

It was reported here last week that Lincoln County has a current budget of $14.5 million, as compared to Lea County's budget of $11.7 million. That is true. It should be mentioned, however, that not all of Lincoln County's budget derives from property taxes.

What is happening is that Lincoln County is being supported by taxpayers in all the other New Mexico counties, and by those in all the other 49 states. The idea of taxing people in New Hampshire, California, Florida and elsewhere to support Lincoln County's budget is as abominable as taxing Lincoln residents to support welfare in Chicago and rapid transit systems in Massachusetts.

Should the League of Women Voters monopolize the Presidential Debates?

WASHINGTON — I have been present to cover the televised presidential debates ever since 1976, when the League of Women Voters began hosting them.

What particularly irritated me was the inevitable preliminary, when one of these gushing women came on stage for her moment, in the limelight, in order to use up time with a generally extended, and boring, and unnecessary pitch for The League of Women Voters.

This organization has 110,000 members in all 50 states and the District of Columbia as well as three US territories. It is often described by its detractors as "The League of Women Democrats" — or by some of its more acerbic critics as "The League of Women Vultures."

I don't subscribe to the "vultures" bit; but I would surely suspect the League as being Democrat-dominated, just like the Big Media.

What I regard as incredible is their continuing insistence that during these debates there should be no applause.

I can even recall one of these cooey League hostesses rebuking one audience, because we laughed!

I ask you, is THIS American — or is it downright UnAmerican?

Why should one organization monopolize these debates, for which they ask for public contributions of one quarter of a million dollars?

And why should one organization, in the course of monopolizing these events, continue to confine their selection of media questioners to the Big Media — the big, rich and liberal Democrat-dominated Big Media, rather than any of the many thousands of smaller media?

Now the League of Women Voters, which is allegedly a staunch defender of women's rights, from speech, equal opportunity and collective bargaining, has a picket line in front of its national headquarters.

A representative of District 925 of the Service Employees International Union noted:

"When the League was founded in 1920, one of the issues it fought for was the right of workers to organize, and the rights of women workers. It's really hard for us to realize that when we wanted the same rights, they said 'No!'"

The League pays an average salary of $10,000 a year. It has also forbidden its workers to speak to the press on internal matters — and is demanding that this muzzle policy be part of the contract.

The League also opposed the first attempt to unionize, earlier this year, saying:

"Unionization would not be in the best interests of the League or its employees." How about THAT, Democrats? Isn't your part historically identified with the right of trade unions to collective bargaining? Why should an organization that acts like this be allowed to monopolize the Presidential Debates?

Thank God, somebody's making money!

By RON BACIGALUPO Columnist for the Denver (C) Downtowner

You don't realize how bad off the Republic is until you listen to all these bleeding hearts crying about oil profits.

Thomas Jefferson would turn over in his grave if he read today's newspapers, or even heard the phrase, "windfall profits tax."

The Speaker of the House of Representatives, which hasn't been able to do anything about energy shortages or inflation for the past decade, calls the oil profits a "national disgrace."

What a mean irony, coming from Tip O'Neill, who presided over that spineless group of unconvicted felons called Congressmen, generally conceded to be in the assorted pockets of any and all industries which are federally regulated.

Labor leaders, whose lack of knowledge of the free enterprise system is only surpassed by journalists and television commentators, cry out the dirty word, "profit," knowing full well that their pension funds are invested in the stock market.

The federal government, whose post-war policies and Middle Eastern intrigue got us into the energy mess in the first place, has only been able to respond by doing the same thing it has learned how to do since 1945 — create a bureaucracy: the Department of Energy.

The quintessential crime being committed by the federal government in a "windfall profits tax" lies in the fact that the profits were made legally in the free market, and companies pay their just taxes on those profits — as do the 40 million

Inside the Capitol

By Fred McCaffrey

SANTA FE—This is my last column for the weekly papers of New Mexico. I will be replaced in this spot, beginning next week, by Jay Miller, who assumes my role as a commentator on political affairs in the state.

I think you will like Miller and appreciate his depth of knowledge of New Mexico politics, as well as the fact that he knows all corners of the state. One of the reasons I chose him to fill this job is that he is not one of those newspaper persons who has limited his career entirely to the metropolitan areas of the country.

As I pack my bags for a move to a land far south of this one, I go with the conviction that New Mexico cannot solve its problems as a state until it begins to solve the problems of its small communities.

PROGNOSIS: Is it doing that? Not very much at present, I must report, nor do I see much effort of that essential sort, looming up in the state's future.

You know what the problem is. The large towns have the votes, and votes are what politicians listen to. They may be kind and friendly when those from less populous areas come to call on them, but when it comes to putting their power to use, the big towns get the attention.

Albuquerque is home to about one-third of the people of the state, but as is almost immediately apparent to anybody who watches things here in the capital city, it sure gets more than a third of the attention of government.

When it comes to legislation, for example, the counties have an association to speak for them and the municipalities have an association to speak for them.

But the more populous counties and the larger towns pay higher dues to such groups. So whom do they represent most fervently when the lobbying has to be done? You can figure out the answer for yourself—and then is little likelihood that the condition is going to change of its own accord.

ASSEMBLING: Thus, I have seemed to me for some time that what might be called the "barren" areas of the state ought to organize themselves, just to make sure their voices get heard. It's too easy to be lost in the crowd up here in Santa Fe, and my experience tells me that's exactly what happens.

Maybe it's time to come right out and say that Albuquerque and Bernalillo county, which already have such a large share of the state's economic wealth, can fight their own battles, while those in the other parts of New Mexico must join together to fight theirs.

And, as I look up from putting books and other items into boxes for shipping, let me say another thing I have said before: New Mexico taxpayers should organize, just as I encourage the less-populated areas to organize, to make their combined voices heard in the Roundhouse.

I would like to see the day come when a legislature begins with three budgets on the table before it—one from the executive branch, one from the legislative branch, and one from the people.

I am disturbed when I see that certain voices mean more in government than other voices. I would like to return to the time when all our citizens were taken seriously and not fobbed off with excuses while those from the cities get fawned on.

That's the kind of conditions I wish you as I thank you for reading and considering my words. All I can add now is "Good-bye, and God bless you!"

Americans who own shares in those companies, either directly or through Mutual Funds which most Americans own as a retirement hedge against what inflation has done to their impotent social security benefits!

If Exxon made $2.60 a share in that past, three months, almost as many Americans got a check last week that didn't have an eagle on it as those who got their welfare checks.

Hallelujah! And what does the Fed want to do with the "windfall profits tax"? Fuel the bureaucracy, of course. They need money for their urban mass transit programs (UMTA — or more appropriately, "oomph, pah, pah").

This scheme from the folks who brought us AMTRAK! You recall the Fed's cutting AMTRAK service during the height of the gas shortage and its own fuel economy blasphemy.

Wow! A better use for such stolen money would be to purchase North Dakota and create a National Farm for the hopelessly silly!

They also, generally, speak of using the money for the poor. These Robin Hoods in the Federal bureaucracy love the poor; and if the poor did not exist, they'd have to invent them. Which, of course, they have. Furthermore, they are creating them in direct proportion to the numbers of dollars they are taxing the rich.

If that needs further explanation, go to any library and check out a big, green, college freshman textbook written by Paul Samuelson and treat yourself to the bare essentials of an economic education. So oil companies made big profits last week; and the President, Congress and Organized Labor are hemorrhaging in their apoplexy to get their hands on some of it. It would make more sense for the Treasury Department to buy stock in oil companies to shore up their sagging dollar. Take the Social Security jackpot and invest it in some company that's keeping ahead of inflation instead of gurgling profits taxes back into the bureaucracy.

What a great deal the Federal Government has: they regulate an industry, control prices, and the policy falls an 8th Grade economics quiz—as well as the public which it was intended to serve. So they decontrol that industry and add a tax to whatever gain the industry might make because of the failure of their own earlier policy.

More appropriately, then, the windfall profits tax should be called the "Federal Policy Failure Tax" (FPFT — or "pffft," maybe, because that's what'll happen to the money once they get hold of it and stir it into the alphabet soup agencies in the bureaucracy).

One wonders if anybody remembers how this country came to acquire such an enormous federal government in the first place. It came about through taxing individuals and corporations for the right to remain free and included such things as health, education, military protection, a road system, and recreation areas, and a justice system. Today, it has grown to include hundreds of regulatory agencies and a welfare system that clearly needs non-productive people in order to grow and survive.

In the process it cheated every American senior citizen out of their life savings and

Lincoln Ramblings — by Rosalie Dunlap

Ralph and I have been traveling first to Colorado to see my ill uncle, then to Dallas to visit our son Wayne.

We got the grand tour of the Comanche Peak Nuclear Project at Glen Rose, TX where Wayne is employed. Then he took us to see the sights of Dallas, South Fork Ranch, lunch at the sphere, saw the log cabin that belongs to the family of Hattie Phillips.

When we returned home we had word that Lois had developed an infection in her knee. After the successful knee replacement surgery in May this was a big disappointment. The surgeon finally had to do surgery moving a calf muscle to her knee to give her better blood circulation, and also had a plastic surgeon do a skin graft on her knee.

She is home now but will be on a heavy dose of antibiotics for up to six months and in a cast for six weeks.

Thanks to everyone for your concern and prayers.

The Lincoln garage sale was a great success over Memorial weekend.

Chris and Dora Zamora are busy running the old Bradley fruit-stand at Hondo.

Thomas Shreengost was one proud young man recently. He was the top novice 4-H'er at the State Wool Judging Contest in Roswell. His 4-H leader is Lee Crandall of Hondo.

Lincoln Town is so pretty and green with all the recent rains. It has been a little on the warm side the past few days.

David Lee worked at the post office last week while Ellen Faye and Eddie Womack fished at Chama and Tucumcari. They reported a great promised so little to the next generation that they became cynical well before their time and became interested in their Country only when it appeared in the 60s that they were about to be exterminated as a generation in the Viet Nam war. Is this the legacy of Jefferson?

A welfare state; a disenfranchised youth; foreign powers shooting the finger at the American flag; and the President and Congress upbraiding an industry for making profit. What is going on?

Have they forgotten where money comes from? Do they really think it comes from a printing press?

It does not take a bright person to know that the federal government is the father of inflation and that the rest of us are fueling it just to keep up or try to get ahead.

So today I am very happy to know that somebody is making a big profit in America. The oil, or energy companies, might be the last ones to share the American Dream. And I salute their stockholders for having something to tide themselves over with during the upcoming recession.

Leota Pflingsten is doing fine. She underwent surgery on both eyes at St. Joseph's Hospital in Albuquerque. She had a detached retina in one eye and a tear of the retina in the other eye. She was in the hospital for five days, returning home Wednesday.

The Roundtable met at the Wortley Hotel last Thursday. All were having a good time and it was nice to see so many friends at one time. One friend, Gladys Fox, we hadn't seen for so many years. Years do go by so quickly.

Donna Sisneros of Hondo is home following surgery recently.

Lincoln residents celebrated church at the home of Hattie Phillips. Sorry we missed it, but we were in Arizona.

Mrs. Pam McArthur was home over the weekend. She is attending college in Portales.

Horace Cordova is still improving his property. He has put up a picket fence on the front of his yard. Nice!

The McSween Dig opened Saturday morning. TV reporters and cameras were in town Thursday and Saturday. There were so many people in Lincoln over the weekend.

Betty Shreengost and Rosalie Dunlap attended an acequia dedication at Espanola Tuesday. Governor Carruthers introduced members of newly formed Acequia Commission.

The members are Betty Shreengost, Lincoln; Gilbert R. Gallegos, San Miguel County; Longino Vigil and Gilbert Pena, Santa Fe County; Wilfred Gutierrez and Fred Vigil, Rio Arriba County; Andres Martinez and Bob Ortega, Guadalupe County.

The commission will oversee the allocation of state and federal funds earmarked for the renovation of New Mexico's 1,200 acequias.

Carruthers issued an executive order May 1, 1987 which created the commission. That follows a federal government allocation of $40 million last fall to cover 75 percent of the cost of acequia work. New Mexico State Legislature passed House Bill 266, which authorizes $500,000 as the state's share of project costs. Local acequia associations will be required to provide the remaining 7.5 percent of the renovation costs.

The Acequia Commission's duties and responsibilities include providing assistance to the governor, the Interstate Commission and the US Corp. of Engineers in developing criteria for acequia rehabilitation priorities; to serve as facilitator for communication between local acequia organizations and the state and federal government; and to review and comment to the governor and Interstate Stream Commission on any plans or legislation affecting New Mexico acequias.

Betty Shreengost will be serving a two-year term.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Dunlap attended an organizational meeting for a Lincoln County rural Water User's Association. The meeting, called by Benny Coker, was held at the Village Hall in Ruidoso. Representatives from Capitán, Nogal, Lincoln, Sun Valley and Cedar Creek were present. Also attending were Don Childress, Albuquerque, Rural Water Users troubleshooter and Jim Dunlap, Farmington, member of National Rural Water Board of Directors.

A steering committee was formed. Ralph Dunlap, Lincoln Water Users, chairman; Jo Steel, Sun Valley Sanitation District, secretary; Paul McClendon, Cedar Creek, and Marlowe Sharpe, Nogal, member.

Anyone wanting more information can call any of the

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Dunlap visited the Ralph Dunlaps Thursday.

Work day was held at the fairgrounds in Capitán last Saturday. Everyone is encouraged to attend the next workday, June 27, and pitch in and help. Our Smokey Bear Stampede is just around the corner.

The La Junta extension Club met at the home of Evelyn Ashley last week. It was announced that Rosalie Dunlap's photo 'Ray's Door' will go on to the National Home Extension Homemakers meeting Aug. 30-June 3 at Indianapolis, IN. Among those attending part or all of the activities at Las Cruces were Phyllis Zumwalt, La Junta Club; Mona and Inez Marrs, Capitán Club; Joyce Hall, Ruidoso-Hondo Valley Club; Jan LaRue of Capitán was awarded the $1,000 scholarship to NMSU. Also, Bessie Jones' homespun yarn will go to National HEH meeting; Leota Pflingsten, 1st on Wood carving; Dorothy Talley, 2nd on Afghan. Congratulations to all Lincoln County Extension Homemakers. More on the other winners next week.

A rustler is roped, and didn't get out on bail

By CHRIS HARKEY

John W. Owen, who took office as Sheriff of Lincoln County in 1903, was a native of Missouri, coming to New Mexico by way of Texas about 1883. He was constable of the White Oaks precinct for two years while acting as deputy sheriff for two years. He was also engaged in ranching on the "Gallo," north of there, according to the White Oaks Eagle for Jan. 1, 1903.

Associate Justice Edward A. Mann of the newly created 6th Judicial District, was born at Beatrice, NB in 1867, was admitted to the bar in 1891, and went to Las Cruces in 1903. Soon after, he was appointed to the judgeship by President Theodore Roosevelt. He served his full term of four years, after which he moved to Albuquerque.

This sets the stage for recalling a story published in the Capitan News for Nov. 1, 1907 concerning these frontier figures. Capitan News editor John A. Haley takes it from here.

A story has been going the rounds of the New Mexico press for some time to the effect that Associate Justice Edward A. Mann of the sixth judicial district, while holding a term of court here in October, took a ride into the Capitan mountains and captured a grizzly bear.

Now, the correspondent who circulated that story must have been possessed of a vivid imagination, as there was but a particle of foundation for the story.

Not that we believe the honorable judge would not be capable of capturing a bear, for we know he would, but that he did not do so on the occasion stated, although it is true that a bear was captured about that time and safely lodged in the county jail.

The facts in the case, as we learned them on the ground, and as may be verified to the satisfaction of any one doubting them by a visit to the county jail, are simply these:

If having been brought to the attention of the court that cattle rustling in this county was on the increase, the judge took occasion to call the sheriff to ask about the matter.

Sheriff Owen admitted that he believed such was the case, but that he had failed so far to "get next" to the outlaws, although he received word the previous evening that one of the gang was seen a short distance from town.

The sheriff was instructed to proceed immediately and, if possible, capture the outlaw, and produce him in court. The judge is known to be a terror to this class of lawbreakers.

Sheriff Owen departed

cap-a-pie and returned the next morning, having in custody a cunning and dangerous-looking prisoner, heavily shackled and firmly bound, and placed him behind the bars.

He reported the capture to the court, and invited the judge, during recess, to walk around to the jail and take a squint at the outlaw, as he had not the necessary evidence to bring him to trial at that term of court.

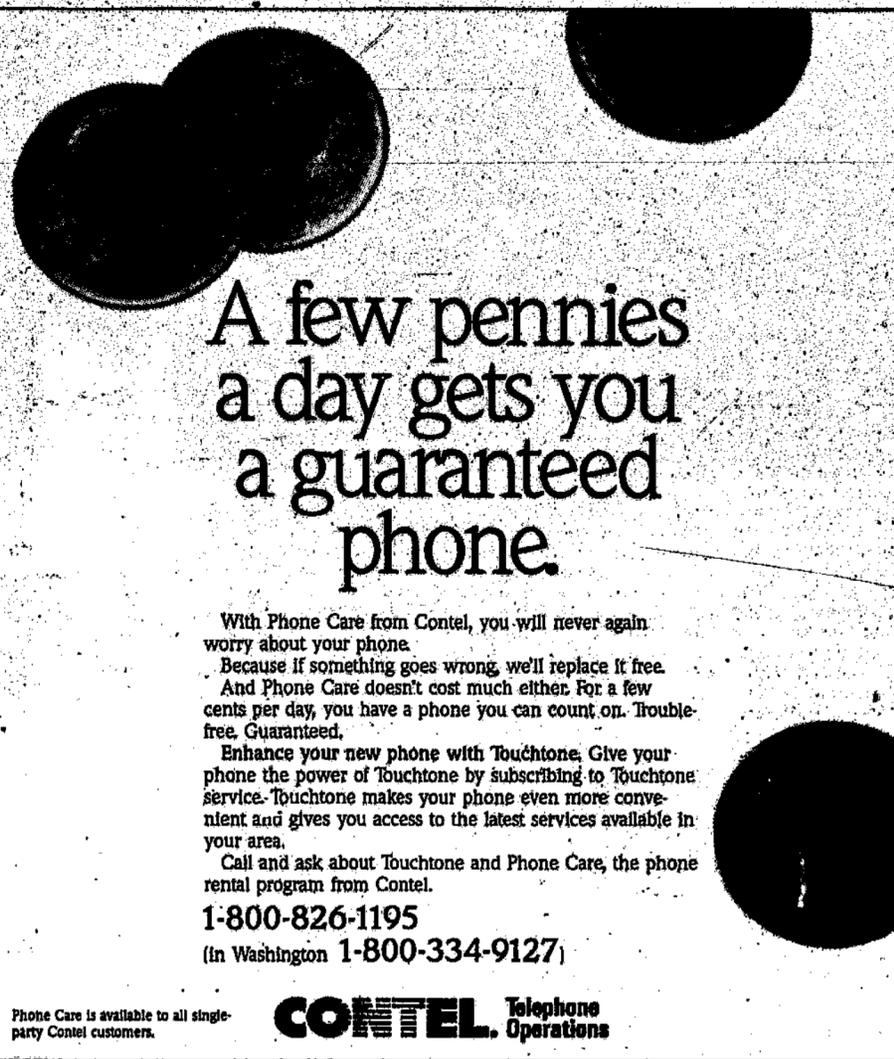

The judge accompanied the sheriff to the jail, who pointed out the villainous-looking rustler, remarking that he believed him to be a member of a "gang" that has been committing all kinds of depredations, and for whom a standing reward of $20 was offered, dead or alive.

"But, sheriff," said the judge, "this is a bear and not a cattle thief."

"Well, your honor," said the sheriff, "he is the only kind of 'rustler' left in the country. You know that you sent the last of the two-legged kind to the pen."

His honor laughed heartily as he walked away, remarking, "All right, sheriff, see that your prisoner does not break jail."

Now, the above are the exact facts of the story of Judge Mann and the bear; and, further, the bear has never been out of Lincoln since his capture, although he has made several futile attempts to break jail.

'On My Own' By Pat Kite
Word games

Over the years I've developed a fetish about the word "divorcee." It is applied, often without rhyme or reason, to 70-year-olds who were marital-bonded for 50 years and 17-year-olds who made it through five days. This leads, on occasion, to media statements as:

"Miranda Mar lay injured at the bottom of Guggle's Gorge for seven days. Temperatures dipped to freezing and there was no food or water. I have a strong desire to live and I guess I did by the grace of God," the 37-year-old DIVORCEE told highway patrolmen yesterday after she had been lifted 800 feet to safety."

We seldom see the word DIVORCEE, which applies to males. In lieu, men are usually called BACHELORS. Out of curiosity, I researched this in my Webster's and came up with the following definitions:

BACHELOR: (a) A young knight who follows the banner of another. (b) A person who has received the lowest degree conferred by a college, university or professional school. (c) An unmarried male. (d) A male animal, such as a fur seal, without a mate during breeding time.

Having nothing better to do on a Saturday night, I searched for a corresponding phrase which described the unmarried woman who was not a divorcee. As such, I came up with MAIDEN. (a) An unmarried girl or woman, (b) A former Scottish beheading device resembling the guillotine, (c) A horse that has never won a race.

Let widows feel neglected here, especially since WIDOWERS get off word easy with "A man who has lost his wife by death and has not married again." I returned to my webbers. Definitions for WIDOW include: (a) A woman who has lost her husband by death, (b) An extra hand or part of a hand of cards dealt face down and usually placed at the disposal of the highest bidder, (c) A short line of type left hanging at the end of a paragraph or carried over to the next column.

Which brings us, in a round-about fashion, back to DIVORCEE. Not only is it an annoyance, but in several states isn't even accurate. For example, my degree reads "Dissolution of Marriage," and therefore I must logically be a DISSOLUTEE. This inspired me to compose, before I went to wash dishes and watch a late dateless Saturday night TV rerun, a concluding definitive paragraph, one which would make my former English teachers proud.

"Diane Dingo, a 59-year-old dissolutee with 14 children, was bit by a streetcar at 5 a.m. while on her way to work as a scrubperson. Diane's ex-husband, a bachelor, cabled her from his suite at the Ritz with best wishes for her speedy recovery. Mr. Dingo has been seen squirring about town a 17-year-old maiden he met in a massage parlor..."

And if you think all this is stranger, go look up MARRY. Would you believe one of the definitions mentions "rope?"; Or maybe you would.

CowBelles pick Herd as 'Father of the Year'

The Corriente CowBelles celebrated their annual Father's Day Picnic June 20 on the Tinsley Ranch north of Capitan to select Lincoln County Extension Agent Barry Herd as the Father of the Year for his untiring work for the livestock industry in general and with the Corriente CowBelles in particular.

Grady Eldridge was the first recipient of this award, followed by Bill Edgar and Bob Marrs.

There are approximately 35 members of this club presided over by the following officers: president, Betsy Martin; 1st vice president, Linda Dyson; 2nd vice president, Jeanette Smoot; secretary, JoAnne Jackson; treasurer, Betty Russell; and parliamentarian, Linda Ponder.

These are some of the CowBelle accomplishments for the past year: Assisted with 4-H events and furnished trophies for the FFA banquet. These ladies erected the Lincoln County Brand Board in Capitan, awarded two scholarships and a trophy at the Lincoln County Fair. They also sponsored the buyer's luncheon. They entered a float in the Smokey Bear Stampede Parade, sponsored the Lincoln County team roping, and would like to remind the public that this 3rd annual event is scheduled for July 18 at the fairgrounds in Capitan.

The primary goal of the Corriente CowBelles is to promote the beef industry.

THE PHOTOGRAPHER caught these longtime Lincoln County residents at the Corriente CowBelles' Father of the Year Picnic June 20. From the left, Sid Goodloe, Shirley Goodloe, Fletcher and Emma Gene Hall, Buster and Jeanette Smoot.

THE LINCOLN COUNTY Planning and Zoning Committee met June 18 to consider the plat for Vera Cruz subdivision and the replats of Middle Cedar subdivision and Red Cedar subdivision. Tim Collins, standing, explains changes in the replats.

Did Amy Carter and certain clergy march for Col. Gadhafi

By Rev. Les Kinsolving

It was cold and rainy on Saturday morning, April 25, in our nation's Capitol.

But this did not stop the 19-year-old daughter of former President of the United States Jimmy Carter from what may well have been her march for Colonel Gadhafi.

Amy was among the estimated 75,000 people who were bussed in from 70 cities to participate in what was called the "Mobilization for Justice and Peace in Central America and South Africa."

Even more dampening than the cold, wet rain on Saturday morning was the revelation at the top of Page One of The Washington Times from former Sandinista military official Carlos Rondon.

Rondon broke with the new Marxist regime after he helped topple Anastasio Somoza. He told The Times that Libya's Col. Muammar Gadhafi gave "several hundred million dollars in military and economic aid" to the Managua Marxists after a visit last month to Tripoli by Victor Tirado Lopez, commander-in-chief of the Sandinista revolution.

"Libya put the money in a secret fund that Miguel D'Escoto manages," noted Rondon. The Times contends that this is "standard operating procedure to build public opposition to anti-Marxist policies in the United States"—and that these funds were secretly channeled by diplomatic pouch to the Nicaraguan Embassy in Washington and then to protest organizers across the country." (The Nicaraguan Embassy denied all.)

The weekend rally, including a Monday morning civil disobedience demonstration at the CIA in Langley, VA, was sponsored by, among other groups, the Communist Party USA; TransAfrica; and something called the "November 29th Committee for Palestine."

Promotional leaflets for this event included demands that the Reagan Administration "Free Palestine" and provide "No Aid to Israel"—as well as "Out of El Salvador" and "Free Puerto Rico" and "Support The African National Congress!"

Presiding Bishop Edmond Browning of the Episcopal Church; stated Clerk James Andres of the United Presbyterian Church and the Rev. Artis Broiwen, General Secretary of the National Council of Churches also sponsored this March for Muammar, as did such kooky Catholic prelates as Thomas Gumbleton of Detroit, Waller Sullivan of Richmond and Francis Murphy of Baltimore.

This lineup of what Comrade Lenin so accurately and happily predict would be "useful idiots" was topped by that great publicity hound, Rev. Jesse Jackson and the District of Columbia's Congressional Delegate, the Reverend and Honorable Walter Fauntroy. Sadly for Jesse, this Spring Fling didn't even make page one of the left-wing Washington Post.

So the Legions of Amy Carter, 19, and Abby Hoffman, a 50ish hanger-on from the '60s protest era, (The Gruesome Twosome) announced the following: "Monday 6:30 a.m. Demonstrators protest at CIA headquarters in Langley. Organizers expected to commit acts of civil disobedience that will result in dozens of arrests."

Right on, Baby! As of Monday afternoon, April 27, there were more than 35 dozen arrests. And these arrestee addicts hardly looked either heroic or sensible.

Several of them lowered their pants to reveal fan-the-bomb symbols painted on their derrieres! They also triumphed in blocking the front entrance of the CIA for more than three hours, although CIA workers went to work through other entrances.

This Brave Brigade of

NOTICE OF MEETING AND BOND SALE

TOWN OF CARRIZOZO, NEW MEXICO
GENERAL OBLIGATION WATER BONDS
SERIES AUGUST 1, 1987 - $150,000

ISSUE AND PLACE AND TIME OF SALE

PUBLIC NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the Board of Trustees (herein the "Board") of the Town of Carrizozo (herein the "Town"), Lincoln County, New Mexico, on Tuesday, July 14, 1987, at the hour of 11:00 a.m., Mountain Daylight Time, at the offices of Eppler, Guerin & Turner, Inc., Suite 300, 1450 University Boulevard, N.E. in Albuquerque, New Mexico, 87102, will cause sealed bids to be received and publicly opened for the purchase of the Town's General Obligation Water Bonds, Series August 1, 1987, in the aggregate principal amount of $150,000 (herein the "Bonds").

NOTICE OF BOARD OF TRUSTEE MEETING

PUBLIC NOTICE IS FURTHER GIVEN that the Board of Trustees will meet in open, regular session at the Town Hall, 100 - 5th Street, Carrizozo, New Mexico at 8:00 p.m., MDT, on July 14, 1987, to determine the best bidder, to award such Bonds, to adopt an ordinance authorizing the issuance of such Bonds and to consider other action relating to such Bonds and any other matters as may come before such meeting.

DETAILS OF BONDS AND MATURITIES AND AUTHORIZATION

The Bonds will be issued as fully registered bonds, will be dated as of August 1, 1987 (herein "Series Date") will be issuable in the denomination of $5,000 and any integral multiple of $5,000 (provided that no Bond may be in a denomination which exceeds the principal coming due on any maturity date and no individual Bond will be issued for more than one maturity) and will mature serially on August 1 of each year as follows:

Table with 4 columns: Years Maturing, Amounts Maturity, Years Maturing, Amounts Maturity. Rows include years 1988 through 1993 and 1994 through 2000.

Both principal and interest shall be payable in lawful money of the United States of America, to the registered owners as shown on the registration books kept by the registrar, as will further be provided in the bond ordinance to be adopted following the sale of the bonds. The registrar (i.e., transfer agent) and paying agent for such issue will be designated at the time the Board adopts such bond ordinance on July 14, 1987. The Bonds will constitute the general obligations of the Town, payable from general taxes which may be levied without limitation as to rate or amount. The Bonds constitute all of the bonds authorized to be issued at the special election held in the Town on May 19, 1987. At such election, the registered electors of the Town voting on the question authorized the issuance of such Bonds in an amount of not exceeding $150,000 for the purpose of constructing and purchasing a system for supplying water for the Town.

INTEREST RATES AND LIMITATIONS

The following interest limitations are applicable:

- (1) The maximum net effective interest rate permitted for such issue is twelve percent (12%) per annum, provided, however, that if the net effective interest rate on such issue is greater than ten percent (10%) per annum (based on the actual price to be paid to the Town for such issue, calculated to maturity according to standard tables of bond values), such rate must be approved in writing by the State Board of Finance, and the Town may not issue the Bonds before such approval.
(2) The maximum stated interest rate permitted is twelve percent (12%) per annum.
(3) Interest shall be payable February 1, 1988, and semiannually thereafter on August 1 and February 1 in each year.
(4) No bid shall specify more than one interest rate for each maturity.
(5) Each interest rate must be stated in a multiple of one-eighth (1/8th) or one-twentieth (1/20th) of one percent (1%) per annum.
(6) Subject to the foregoing limitations, it is permissible to bid different or split rates of interest.

PRIOR REDEMPTION

Bonds maturing on and after August 1, 1996, are subject to prior redemption at the Town's option in one or more units of principal of $5,000 on and after August 1, 1995, in whole or in part, or in part on any interest payment date thereafter in such order of maturities as the Board may determine (and by lot if less than all of the Bonds of such maturity is called, such selection by lot to be made by the Registrar in such manner as he shall consider appropriate and fair) for the principal amount of each $5,000 unit of principal so redeemed, accrued interest to the redemption date and a premium computed, as follows (expressed as percentages of principal amounts of Bonds so redeemed):

Table with 2 columns: Dated When Redeemed (Both Dates Inclusive), Redemption Premium. Rows include August 1, 1995 through July 31, 1996 (1%) and August 1, 1996 and thereafter (None).

Redemption shall be made upon prior published notice and mailed notice to a representative of the original purchaser and to each registered owner as shown on the registration books kept by the Registrar in the manner and upon the conditions provided in the bond resolution to be adopted following the sale of the Bonds.

FEDERAL TAX EXEMPTION

In the opinion of Sherman & Howard, Bond Counsel, assuming continuous compliance with certain covenants and representations described below, interest on the Bonds is exempt from income taxation by the United States of America under present federal laws (except to the extent of the alternative minimum and environmental taxes, discussed below). The Internal Revenue Code of 1986, enacted into law on October 22, 1986 (the "Tax Code") imposes several requirements which must be met with respect to the Bonds in order for the interest thereon to be exempt from federal income taxation (except to the extent of the alternative minimum and environmental taxes, discussed below). Certain of these requirements must be met on a continuous basis throughout the term of the Bonds. These requirements include: (a) limitations as to the use of proceeds of the Bonds; (b) limitations on the extent to which proceeds of the Bonds may be invested in higher yielding investments; and (c) a provision, subject to certain limited exceptions (one of which exceptions will be applicable to these Bonds), that requires all investment earnings on the proceeds of the Bonds above the yield on the Bonds to be paid to the United States Treasury. The Town will covenant and represent in the Board's ordinance authorizing the issuance of the Bonds that it will take all steps necessary to comply with the requirements of the Tax Code, to the extent necessary to maintain the exemption of interest on the Bonds from federal income taxation (except to the extent of the alternative minimum and environmental taxes mentioned below) and to avoid the application of any penalties. Bond Counsel's opinion as to the exemption of interest on the Bonds from federal income taxation is rendered in reliance on these covenants, and assumes continuous compliance therewith. The failure or inability of the District to comply with these requirements could cause the interest on the Bonds to be subject to federal income taxation from the date of issuance.

The Tax Code contains a 20 percent alternative minimum tax provision applicable to corporations with respect to taxable years beginning after December 31, 1986. Under the Tax Code, during 1987, 1988 and 1989, 50 percent of the amount by which a corporation's "adjusted net book income" exceeds the corporation's alternative minimum taxable income (determined without regard to this adjustment and the alternative tax net operating loss deduction) is included in the corporation's alternative minimum taxable income for the purpose of calculating the alternative minimum tax applicable to the corporation. For taxable years beginning after 1989, 75 percent of the excess of a corporation's "adjusted current earnings" over the corporation's alternative minimum taxable income for purposes of the alternative minimum tax applicable to the corporation. Both "adjusted net book income" and "adjusted current earnings" include interest on the Bonds.

In addition, under section 59A of the Tax Code, as amended by the Superfund Amendments and Reauthorization Act of 1986, for taxable years beginning after December 31, 1984, a 3.12 percent "environmental tax" is imposed on the excess of a corporation's modified alternative minimum taxable income over $2,000,000. "Modified alternative minimum taxable income" is defined as alternative minimum taxable income determined without regard to the alternative tax net operating loss deduction and the deduction allowed for the "environmental tax." Interest on the Bonds is included in calculating the "net book income" and "current earnings" adjustments used in determining a corporation's modified alternative minimum taxable income in the same manner as described in the previous paragraph with respect to a corporation's alternative minimum taxable income. This environmental tax is applied in addition to, and not as a substitution for, the alternative minimum tax discussed in the previous paragraph and the regular tax.

The Tax Code contains numerous changes from the provisions of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 which may affect an investor's decision to purchase the Bonds. Owners of the bonds should be aware that the ownership of tax-exempt obligations by particular owners, including financial institutions, property and casualty insurance companies, individual recipients of Social Security or Railroad Retirement benefits, taxpayers who may be deemed to have incurred or continued indebtedness to purchase or carry tax-exempt obligations, and foreign corporations doing business in the United States may result in collateral federal tax consequences. These categories of owners should consult their own tax advisors as to the applicability of these consequences. Other amendments to the federal tax laws could be proposed or enacted in the future and there can be no assurance that any such future amendments which may be made to the federal tax laws will not adversely affect the exemption from federal taxation of the interest on the bonds (from the date of delivery of the bonds or any other date) or the value of Bonds.

DESIGNATION AS TAX-EXEMPT OBLIGATIONS

In the ordinance authorizing the issuance of the Bonds, the Town will designate the bonds as qualified tax-exempt obligations for purposes of Section 265(b) (3) (B) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986 contained in the Tax Code.

BIDS

Bidders are required to submit a bid specifying (a) the lowest stated rate or rates of interest and premium, if any, at which such bidder will purchase such Bonds. For informational purposes only, each bidder is requested to specify (b) the total net interest cost to the Town in dollars and cents and (c) the stated effective interest rate in a stated percent. Proposals should be enclosed in a sealed envelope endorsed "Bid for General Obligation Water Bonds of the Town of Carrizozo, New Mexico", addressed to the Mayor of the Town of Carrizozo, c/o Eppler, Guerin & Turner, Inc., Suite 300, 1450 University Boulevard, N.E., Albuquerque, New Mexico 87102. Only unconditional bids will be considered. Bids must be submitted on the Official Bid Form which may be obtained from either Ms. Carol Schlarb, the Town Clerk or the Town's financial advisor (see "INFORMATION", below).

BASIS OF AWARD

Said Bonds will be awarded to the best bidder considering the stated interest rate or rates specified and the premium offered, if any, and subject to the right of the Board to reject any and all bids and readvertise. The best bid will be determined by deducting the amount of the premium bid, if any, from the total amount of interest which the Town would be required to pay from the Series Date, i.e., August 1, 1987 to the respective maturity dates (without regard to the possible prior redemption of the Bonds) at the stated rate or rates specified in the proposal; and said Bonds will be awarded on the basis of the lowest net interest cost to the Town. The purchaser must pay accrued interest from the date of the Bonds to the date of delivery. The Bonds will not be sold for less than par and accrued interest. The Town reserves the privilege of waiving any irregularity or informality in any bid.

CUSIP NUMBERS

CUSIP Identification numbers will be printed on the Bonds, but neither the failure to print such number on any Bond nor any error with respect thereto will constitute cause for failure or refusal by the purchaser thereof to accept delivery of and to pay for the Bonds in accordance with the terms hereof. All expenses in relation to the printing of CUSIP numbers on the Bonds will be paid for by the Town, but the CUSIP Service Bureau charge for the assignment of said numbers will be the responsibility of and will be paid for by the purchaser.

GOOD FAITH DEPOSIT

All bids shall be sealed and, except the bid of the State of New Mexico, if one is received, shall be accompanied by a good faith deposit of not less than $3,000, either in cash or by cashier's or treasurer's check of, or by certified check drawn on, a solvent bank or trust company in the United States and payable to the "Town of Carrizozo". Such good faith check shall be returned if the bid is not accepted. If the successful bidder shall fail or neglect to complete the purchase of said Bonds within thirty days following the acceptance of the bid, or within ten days after the Bonds are offered for delivery, whichever is later, the amount of the deposit shall be forfeited to the Town as liquidated damages and in that event, the Board may accept the bid of the one making the next best bid. If all bids are rejected, the Board shall readvertise said Bonds for sale in the same manner as herein provided for the original advertisement. If there be two or more equal bids and such bids are the best bids received and for not less than par and accrued interest, the Board shall determine which bid shall be accepted.

TIME OF AWARD AND DELIVERY

The Board will take action awarding the Bonds or rejecting all bids not later than twenty-four hours after the expiration of the time herein prescribed for the receipt of the bids. Delivery of the Bonds will be made to the successful bidder at commercial bank or trust company in Albuquerque, New Mexico, without charge to the successful bidder, or elsewhere at the request and at the expense of the successful bidder, within sixty days of the acceptance of the bid. Payment of the balance of the purchase price due for such Bonds must be made in Federal Reserve Funds or in other immediately available funds acceptable to the Town and to the bank or trust company designated as the place of delivery for immediate and unconditional credit to the account of the Town. If for any reason delivery cannot be made within sixty days, the successful bidder shall have the right to purchase the Bonds during the succeeding thirty days upon the same terms or at the request of the successful bidder during the thirty days, the good faith deposit will be returned and such bidder shall be relieved of any further obligation.

SUCCESSFUL BIDDER'S REOFFERING YIELDS

The successful bidder (or manager of the purchasing account) by submitting the bid, agrees at or prior to Bond delivery to provide in writing to the Town's financial consultant (see "INFORMATION", below) the initial offering prices of the bonds to the public (excluding bond houses, brokers, and other intermediaries) at which price a substantial amount of each maturity of the Bonds was sold to the public.

INFORMATION

Information concerning the Bonds, the Town and the Official Bid Form may be obtained from either Ms. Carol Schlarb, Town Clerk, Town Hall, 100 - 5th Street, Carrizozo, New Mexico 88301 (Telephone (505) 648-2371) or the Town's financial advisor, Eppler, Guerin & Turner, Inc., Post Office Box 25785, 1750 University Boulevard, N.E., Albuquerque, New Mexico 87102 (Telephone (505) 842-0303).

TRANSCRIPT, PRINTED BONDS AND LEGAL OPINION

The validity and enforceability of the Bonds will be approved by Sherman & Howard, Attorneys at Law, 2900 First Interstate Tower North, 633 Seventeenth Street, Denver, Colorado, 80202, whose opinion approving the legality of the Bonds and relating to the tax-exempt status of the Bonds will be furnished to the successful bidder at no cost to the successful bidder. Bond Counsel's final approving opinion will recite in conventional form that such firm has examined the Constitution and laws of the United States of America and the State of New Mexico, a certified transcript of the proceedings of the Board and other documents relevant to the issue of such Bonds. The last paragraphs of such opinion shall be substantially as follows:

"Based upon such examination and assuming continuous compliance with the covenants and representations contained in such proceedings and other documents for purposes of paragraph 2 below, it is our opinion as Bond Counsel that:

"1. Said issue of Bonds in the amount aforesaid is valid and legally binding upon the Town, and all of the taxable property in the Town is subject to the levy of a tax to pay the same without limitation of rate or amount;

"2. Interest on the Bonds is exempt from taxation by the United States of America under present federal income tax laws, except that such interest is required to be included in calculating the book income and current earnings adjustments applicable to corporations for purposes of computing the corporate alternative minimum tax imposed under section 55 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986 and for purposes of computing the corporate environmental tax imposed under section 59A of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended; and

"3. The obligations of the Town are subject to the reasonable exercise in the future by the State of New Mexico and its governmental bodies of the police power inherent in the sovereignty of the state and to the exercise by the United States of the powers delegated to it by the Federal Constitution.

"As Bond Counsel, we are passing upon only those matters set forth in this opinion and are not passing upon the accuracy or completeness of any statements made in connection with any sale of the Bonds."
