'The Kid' pageant set for Aug. 7-9

This year's Billy the Kid Pageant is scheduled for Aug. 7, 8 and 9 in Lincoln. Performances are scheduled for 8:30 p.m. on Aug. 7 and 8. The Sunday performance is at 3:30 p.m. The first practice for the cast is 6:30 p.m., July 21, at the pageant grounds on the west side of Lincoln. Diane Shrecengost is pageant director.

A fiddler's contest will take place Saturday at 1:30 p.m. The popular parade will be on Sunday at 1:30 p.m.

Arts Festival
in Ruidoso

The 16th Annual Arts Festival, sponsored by the Ruidoso Valley Chamber of Commerce, will be held in New Mexico's Southcentral mountains on July 24, 25, & 26.

More than 110 of the finest artists and artisans will be on hand to offer fine collectable and gift items. Selected from over 350 applicants, the festival participants will be coming from six states: New Mexico, Texas, Oklahoma, Colorado, Arizona and California.

Oils, pastels, bronzes, wood carvings, fabrics, and metal-work will all be featured at the show. Hours are: July 24, 4 - 9 p.m.; July 25, 10 a.m. - 8 p.m.; July 26, 10 a.m. - 5 p.m.

Location is at Ruidoso-Mid School under the big tents, near the "Y" off of Sudberth/Highway 37. For more information please call the Convention and Visitors Bureau at 257-7395 or write to: The Ruidoso Convention and Visitors Bureau, P.O. Box 698, Ruidoso, NM 88345.

The joint powers agreement has been approved by the county and by Ruidoso. It must also be approved by Capitan, Ruidoso Downs and the Mescalero Apache Tribe, the Department of Finance Administration (DFA) in Santa Fe and the FAA before it will take effect.

EMT basic training
class scheduled

An Emergency Medical Technician (EMT) basic training class will be given in Carrizozo at the Carrizozo school beginning Aug. 11 at 6:30 p.m.

Instructors for the course are trained through the University of New Mexico School of Emergency Medicine.

Nancy Guck, director of the Lincoln County EMS Service, said volunteer EMTs are needed in the Alto, Capitan, Carrizozo, Corona and Hondo areas. Persons interested in taking the basic EMT class are asked to contact Guck at Box 711, Carrizozo, or call 648-2385.

Carrizozo starts
'courtesy cart'

The Carrizozo Woman's Club is beginning a new service for newcomers to the area called "Carrizozo Courtesy Cart."

The welcome service will include calling on the newcomers and presenting them with a ditty bag filled with items provided by local businesses.

Businesses wishing to have items or coupons included in the ditty bag should contact Debbie King in Carrizozo. Serving on the committee with King are Linda Gibson, Cheri Goad and Phyllis Schlegel.

Property taxes to rise

Commissioners approve tax hike for Sierra Blanca Airport

By RUTH HAMMOND

Property taxes in Lincoln County will be increased this year, effective Nov. 1, according to a resolution approved by the Lincoln County Commissioners at a special meeting on July 15.

Proceeds of the tax increase are to be used for the local match to meet and obtain federal grants in and for the construction of the Sierra Blanca Regional Airport and for courthouse improvements. The tax increase is for the 1987 property tax year only.

The increase to property owners will be one dollar on each one thousand dollars of net taxable value of both residential and non-residential property. A total of $248,827 will be raised this year by the tax increase.

The state legislature in 1986 approved a law that made it possible for counties to increase taxes for general purposes.

The portion of the money used for the local match to meet and obtain federal grants will enable the airport to receive a grant from the Federal Aviation Administration (FAA) in the amount of $4,700,000. This money will be used for construction of the new airport that is being built on the Fort Stanton mesa. Other funds will be included for the construction.

More than 40 people attended the special meeting and several expressed their opinions about the mill levy. Mary McDonald asked who would pay for utilities and was told that the Village of Ruidoso would pay for utilities.

One man in the audience asked if the increase would be for only one year and when he was told it would be just for one year the man asked, "You mean we will have to be here next year and go through this again?" He then said, "Next year is an election year. How do these men expect to get elected again if they increase taxes next year?"

Al Junge said, "We have to finish the airport and the tax increase will have to be passed."

Glen Ellison said that there "must be something good about the airport" and said a public relations job was needed to sell it to the people of Lincoln County.

Sarah Gnatkowski said that she was personally opposed to the airport and hoped that it would not be a continual drain on the county.

The resolution for the tax increase was approved unanimously.

The new joint powers agreement for creating an airport commission known as the Sierra Blanca Commission was also approved. It states that the Mescalero Apache Tribe, the Village of Ruidoso Downs and the Village of Capitan desire to withdraw from the Sierra Blanca Commission as voting members but desire to remain as ex-officio members.

Lincoln County and the Village of Ruidoso will remain as members and shall continue to develop and operate a Sierra Blanca Regional Airport. The new airport commission will have six members. Three members shall be elected members of the Lincoln County Commission and three members shall be elected members of the governing body of the Village of Ruidoso, with governing body being defined as including the mayor who may serve as one of the three elected members.

Said members shall be elected officials of the representative governing bodies so they may be accountable to the citizenry of the county. The chairman and secretary are to be chosen from one governing body and the vice-chair will be from the other governing body with these positions being alternated every two years.

The Village of Carrizozo

and the Village of Corona will also be ex-officio members but shall have no voting powers and no liability.

Lincoln County will continue as fiscal agent and shall provide for and be responsible for any deficits incurred for capital improvements. Lincoln County will also ensure that the facilities and capital improvements reasonably necessary for the normal and businesslike operation of the airport are provided in a timely manner.

The NEWS questioned what would be "reasonably necessary for the normal and businesslike operation" and was told that safety was the main concern, but the new airport commission would make these decisions.

The NEWS stated that mud in the parking lot, while an inconvenience, would not be a matter of safety such as jets parking on gravel would be.

Rene Burton of Carrizozo said that it was "kind of in-

Town plans to honor Senior Olympics gold medal winner

"I think a sign should be put at the edge of town saying 'Welcome to Carrizozo, home of Dorothy Payne, first gold medal winner from New Mexico in the first National Senior Olympics,'" Carrizozo Trustee Eddie O'Brien told the Carrizozo town council at the July 14 meeting.

Other trustees agreed and Mayor Bob Hemphill said he would write a letter to the Carrizozo Chamber of Commerce suggesting a special fund be started for such a sign.

The first national Senior Olympics were held in St. Louis June 26 through July 5 with 10 competitors from Lincoln County making the trip. Bud Payne, Dorothy's husband, placed 7th in throwing horseshoes and Rusty Lanelli of Ruidoso placed 5th in table tennis in addition to Dorothy Payne's winning the gold medal and remaining undefeated in throwing horseshoes.

In other business, the council approved the low bid from United New Mexico Bank at Carrizozo and Eppler, Guerin & Turner, Inc. for the general obligation water bonds for the town in the amount of $150,000.

Proceeds of the bonds will be used for the purpose of construction and purchasing a system for supplying water for the town. The project is to include modernizing existing wells, running new lines from the wells to the filtration plant and to test, inspect, clean and refurbish the storage tank as required.

The council awarded the payee agent registrar for the bonds to the First National Bank of Dona Ana County for a fee of $100 to setup and $100 annual with the total being $1,400.

Bond ordinance No. 134 authorizing and empowering the issuance of the $150,000 general obligation water bonds for the town was adopted.

Glen Ellison spoke to the board of trustees about his concern for making a better effort to make Carrizozo a bigger and better town. He said he thought there was a lot here to be offered.

Bud Payne told the council, "I think you are doing a tremendous job," and asked for a variance to place a wind generator on his property. He also spoke about the fire plugs and was told the town will be checking all fire plugs starting this week.

Payne also spoke about the Sierra Blanca Regional Airport and said he felt that the county could not afford to plow the snow off the road to the airport in the winter and police the area.

Hemphill said he had formally welcomed Martin Marietta to Carrizozo and said they had responded that the people here were very friendly.

After an executive session for personnel, the council gave the mayor permission to ask county commissioners for their approval for the town to contract for police protection for August while Chief of Police C.A. Morales is on

The mayor will actively pursue the hiring of a certified police officer for the town.

The resolution for the contract with the Southeastern New Mexico Economic Development District (SNMEDD) in the amount of $240 for the year was approved. SENMEDD provides services for the town that include help with grant applications, advice in the areas of economic development, etc.

The bids for construction of the street paving project will be opened July 28. Three bid packets have been requested by prospective bidders.

Trustee Patsy Sanchez reported that the first beautification project was complete and the second beautification project, that would include cleaning, was ready to begin.

Sanchez also reported that Mountain Bell would be helping with the house numbering and that all lots in town would be numbered.

The first billing from Pajo Technical Services for engineering for the street paving project was received and will be sent on to the SENMEDD, administrator for the project.

Capitan range

Rifle matches scheduled

The New Mexico High Power Rifle State Championship Matches are scheduled for July 17, 18 and 19 on the rifle range three miles east of Capitan.

Competition is open to any NRA member, except that junior competitors may be individual members of an NRA affiliated club in lieu of individual NRA membership. No adult non-NRA member may compete in this tournament. All competitors must be members of the New Mexico Shooting Sports Association or members of their respective home state associations.

There will be two divisions of rifles. They are the NRA match rifle and service rifle. The targets are placed 200, 300, 600 and 1,000 yards. The state championship service rifle "leg" match will take place Friday afternoon. It is not necessary to enter the NRA matches to fire in this event. It is open to any citizen of the United States 16 years of age or older. Only 100 competitors will be accepted in this event with priority given to the non-distinguished.

Current NRA high power rules will apply.

DAN BURNETT, Carrizozo school superintendent (center), spoke at the July 14 meeting of the Carrizozo Chamber of Commerce meeting about plans by the state to consolidate small schools. After the meeting Burnett talked with Phyllis Schlegel (left) and Roy Dow.

Capitan votes to sign joint powers agreement

By BART McDONOUGH

The Capitan Village Council voted July 13 to give Mayor Benny Coker permission to sign a joint powers agreement with the Mescalero Apache Tribe, County of Lincoln, and villages of Ruidoso and Ruidoso Downs. During a long discussion the mayor explained that if the agreement was not signed, the Sierra Blanca Regional Airport and millions of dollars could go down the drain.

The council voted in this manner: Dr. David Rouleau, abstained; Norman Renfro, yes; Kelly Beavers, no; Dave Strickland, yes.

Engineer Jack Atkins reported that the new well is on budget. A pressure test will be done and the lines flushed. A pump will be installed and the Magado Creek Crossing completed. Atkins stated that Capitan would have water in a couple of weeks. Mayor Coker later stated that Capitan should have the ability to get water from this well by July 24. Water rights were also discussed.

R.L. Van Norman, chairman of the financial advisory committee, reported the following: The Capital Improvement Fund will have earned a total of $43,736.31 in interest at the end of one year.

Van Norman reported that "the principal of the GO bond was reduced in the amount of $30,000 as of July 1. Total interest paid for the year ending June 30 was $49,145. The effective interest paid for the first year was 4.07% not using the amount of interest due in August.

After listing the total available funds, their location, interest rate, and due dates, the total amounts to $571,222.14.

Van Norman said "It is anticipated that the $300,000 in CDs that come due in August will most likely be reinvested in US Treasury bills depending on what the project engineers proposals are."

The council selected Atkins Engineering of Roswell with reference to the GO bond water revisions.

The council approved the bid from H.N. LaRue & Son to provide gravel for the village. The cost will be $6 per cubic yard at the mine site and $8 per cubic yard delivered.

Also approved was a bid from J&R Oil Company for gasoline and diesel fuel. Regular gasoline will cost the Chamber honors Olympics champ

Guest of honor at the July 14 Carrizozo Chamber of Commerce meeting was Dorothy Payne of Carrizozo, winner of a gold medal in throwing horseshoes in the first National Senior Olympics held in St. Louis June 26-July 5.

Capitan...

Mayor Coker reappointed R. L. Van Norman to the Eagle Creek Board of the Inner-Community Water System. Frank Warth was appointed to the P&Z Board.

The garbage disposal contract will be discussed at the Aug. 10 meeting of the council. Pappy Coons of Capitan submitted his bid for animal control. It was pointed out that the county is in this business, but not helping Capitan very much. Coons reported that he had picked up several animals and hadn't charged the village for it. The mayor plans to get this situation straightened out at a later date.

Ordinance 83-4 now becomes Ord. 87-5. This raises the correction fee from $5 to $10. The new ordinance is effective Aug. 1. A new ordinance will raise the business registration fee from $15 to $25. This should generate about $1,200.

The council approved ordinance 87-5 concerning outdoor storage of vehicles. This clarifies the following terms: Motor vehicle—any licensed, wheeled vehicle which is self-propelled or intended to be self-propelled. Inoperable vehicle—any motor vehicle, licensed or unlicensed, which by reason of dismantling, disrepair, or other cause is incapable of being propelled under its own power.

Inoperable vehicles will be given a period of up to 60 days to be stored in a storage area. "An owner may store a nonlicensed and non-registered or inoperative motor vehicle or the parts of a motor vehicle provided such vehicles and parts and the outdoor storage areas are maintained in such a manner that they do not constitute a health, safety, or fire hazard and are effectively screened from ordinary public view by means of a solid fence. All storage areas are to be kept free of weeds, trash, refuse, garbage, and any other objectionable items."

The council will meet in special session July 21 at 5 p.m.

mains the undefeated champion against 17 opponents in the event.

Dorothy expressed her thanks to chamber members and the entire county for their support and donations in helping pay expenses for the group to go to St. Louis.

Ten competitors from Lincoln County participated in the national contest. Rusty Lanelli of Ruidoso placed 5th in table tennis and Bud Payne, Dorothy's husband, placed 7th in throwing horseshoes.

Other guests at the chamber meeting were Cindy Sanchez, sales representative for this area for New Mexico Magazine, Carrizozo school superintendent Danny Burnett and Glen Ellison.

Burnett spoke about plans by the state to consolidate small schools in the state. He said that small schools are doing a good job and are turning out quality citizens.

He suggested that residents make their opinions about the proposed consolidation known to state representatives and state senators. He said that schools in small towns are usually the mainstay of the community and that it is necessary to defeat the consolidation issue.

Burnett plans to attend a meeting in Albuquerque on July 28 concerning the consolidation issue and said he would "go to war against it."

Barbara Ward, project director for Zia Senior Citizens Center in Lincoln County, announced that a grant has been received from Mountain Bell with the money to be used to hire five young people to work to help senior citizens.

The young people, both girls and boys aged 15 through 18, will work 12 hours each week and will not only help the senior citizens but will learn from them as well.

Scott Shafer reported that the new Christmas decorations for the town have been ordered. The new fixtures will be added to the decorations that were bought last year to be placed on poles with street lights in Carrizozo. A definite date for delivery of the decorations has not been set.

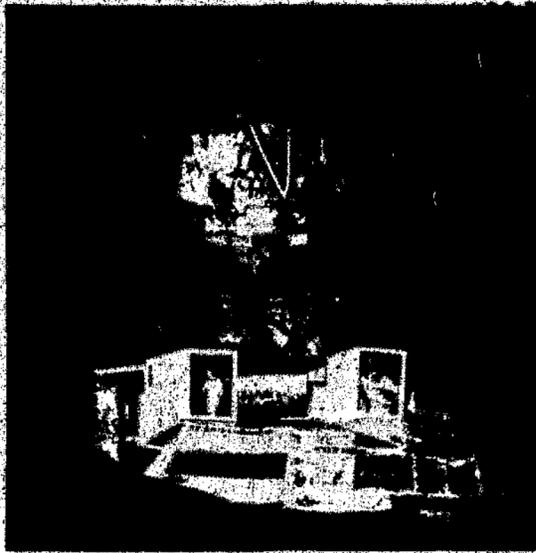

Shafer also reported that the Carrizozo Municipal Airport is still functional and that the town crews have been cooperative in mowing and cleaning at the airport. He said that the problems with the new taxiway should be remedied within the next 10 days.

A discussion was held about the possible mill levy that could be assessed by the county commissioners to help pay for the Sierra Blanca Regional Airport that is being built on the Fort Stanton mesa.

Glen Ellison said it is a serious situation and explained that at the July 7 meeting of the county commissioners that it was explained to the audience that the county had been committed to help in 1978.

A rose was presented to Ruth Hammond in honor of her special day and to thank her for press coverage.

Fires station paving bids let Corona Village Council at the July 9 regular meeting accepted a low bid of $64,552 from Agri-Building Co. of Albuquerque for the proposed fire station. Although Council accepted the bid, it must now go to Santa Fe for final approval.

Several persons attended the meeting to ask for approval of a slight remodeling project at the Senior Citizen Center. Site manager Dorothy Bradley explained that the center needs approximately 10 feet of the bowling alley area. Council approved an 8-foot area expansion and also granted a request to paint a shuffleboard court on the front hallway floor.

Hubert Quintana of Southeastern New Mexico Economic Development District reported that state officials have assured him that Phase II street paving plans are quickly moving through the system. Council awarded the Phase II engineering and design contract to Brewer Associates (the firm which has done Phase I) during a special meeting on June 30.

Because the same company is doing both phases, an approximate savings of $26,000 will be realized in engineering and administrative costs. The savings will go into actual construction. Quintana advised the council that advertising for bidders for both phases can be done by mid-July with construction to begin by late September.

In other business, the council hired Dollie Proctor for the assistant clerk position and voted to reinvest the $6867 water CD for another 180 days. Upon receiving approval from Santa Fe, council voted to purchase two lots adjoining the Village Hall at a cost of $1800.

Council approved a $698,963 budget for 1987-88 which now goes to Santa Fe for final approval. Budgeted expenditures include some $418,000 in Community Development Block Grant funds (for street paving) and $109,000 for a new fire station and equipment.

'Woman of the Year'

Margaret Stearns was presented a floral arrangement at the Carrizozo Woman's Club salad supper on July 9 in honor of being selected as the 1987 Woman of the Year.

She was chosen by secret ballot by Woman's Club members with the nominees being the five women who were honored as Woman of the Month during the year: Sharon Hefker, Mignon Sims, Judi Sidebottom, Rosemary Shafer and Margaret Stearns.

Club president Sue Stearns congratulated Margaret on being chosen 1987 Woman of the Year and then told club members, "You chose Margaret because of her contributions through the years. She is a member of the Canyon CoyBelles, FFA alumni, a member of the board of directors of the Carrizozo Country Club, a member and organizer of the Nogal Presbyterian Church and she enjoys two bridge clubs and Woman's Club."

Margaret is a 1936 graduate of Carrizozo High School and attended Highlands University. She married Johnson Stearns on May 23, 1937 and they recently celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary. They have three children, Bob Stearns, Judy Glover and Linda Gibson, and six grandchildren.

She has worked all her life and has been active in community organizations and civic projects. She was owner of the J.G. Moore Insurance Agency for several years until she retired. She has also owned a laundromat, ranch, farm/orchard/fruit stand, liquor store and hotel.

She likes to travel and has been to Hawaii, Tahiti and has driven the Alaskan Highway. Her hobbies are needlework, piano, cooking, bridge, puff painting and golf.

Woman of the Month is a program to recognize outstanding women in the areas of the arts, business and the professions, labor, community service, education, science and sports. It is based on the belief that it is important to provide positive role models who will inspire other women and encourage all individuals to promote excellence for women.

Each of the nominees at the salad supper was presented with a corsage and Sus Stearns announced, "We can be extremely proud of all of these ladies. I am honored to call them my friends and family. Each has done much to help our community in a positive way. They all have the same thing in common, they are achievers and they leave a mark on our town by the good they do."

WOMAN OF THE YEAR selected by the Carrizozo Woman's Club is Margaret Stearns (left). She received a gift from club president Sue Stearns at the salad supper held July 9 to honor the Woman of the Year.

Heroin trafficker tops crime list

John Natale, 43, is in Lincoln County jail following his conviction by a 12th District Court jury on charges of trafficking in heroin, possession with intent to distribute.

He is being held on $50,000 bond with no 10 percent.

Municipal Judge Martin Valenzuela of Ruidoso Downs sentenced two men on July 9 for appearing drunk in court. Meletone Sanchez Jr., 53, Ruidoso Downs, was sentenced to 15 days in jail for the offense. Ortiz Ernesto Najera, 30, also of Ruidoso Downs, was given 10 days in jail for the same offense.

Donald Lee Pendleton, 40, Ruidoso Downs was sentenced to two days in jail and a $300 fine for DWI by Judge Valenzuela.

Barbara Jean Ragsdale, 27, Lubbock, TX was released on $7500 bond July 10 on charges of defrauding an in-keeper and fraudulent use of a credit card.

Natalio M. Chavez, 58, Carrizozo, was found guilty of careless driving and DWI 2nd offense by Municipal Judge Gerald Dean Jr. and released on $1050 bond.

Baldemar Apodoca, 18, Carrizozo, was arrested July 11 on charges of DWI, resisting arrest, concealing identification, driving in the wrong lane of traffic, assault on a police officer, and having no valid drivers license. He was released on $10,000 bond with no 10 percent by Judge Gerald Dean Jr.

Delois Nell Riley, 22, Capitan, was charged July 14 with embezzlement over $100. She is free on $2500 bond pending trial.

ARC sets meeting

"Family Crisis" will be the program for the quarterly meeting of the Association for Retarded Citizens (ARC) of Lincoln County on July 27 at New Horizon's Development Center in Carrizozo at 7 p.m.

Warren Theidt of Ruidoso will present the program. All persons interested in being involved with a support group for family members of retarded persons are invited to attend and bring a friend.

Mental retardation cuts across the lines of race, educational, social and economic background and can occur in anyone. Persons with mental retardation constitute one of the largest handicapped groups in America and each year more than 100,000 babies and young children are born with or acquire the condition.

Ellie Bannister, secretary and membership chairman of ARC/LC, asks that people consider becoming members. She said, "A strong membership will gain more community support for important legislative action necessary to not only obtain more services for retarded people but to insure that services they have now will continue."

ARC is a nonprofit organization that works to promote the welfare of mentally retarded people of all ages. Membership in the ARC can make a difference in the lives of children and adults who are mentally retarded.

OPINION

Because I function better in this business while at a high level of indignation, I read Ellen Goodman's syndicated column. Her frequent jeremiads symbolize the core philosophy of liberal to leftist views, so it is vital to read and analyze what she and others write if we're going to make sense out of a complicated and divided society.

Here is a widely read columnist deriding Col. Oliver North for his testimony before the US Senate's Kangaroo Court in Washington. She was scornful that the committee could find no personal moral fault with the man most of the nation considers a patriot and a hero.

Is she referring to the public morality of this country where its congressional leadership supports the murder of a million babies a year through "morally imposed" abortion laws and the public accepts it? Is it the public morality that coddles, protects and fawns over homosexuals, sexual deviants and social misfits?

Is Goodman referring to the public morality that imposes the humanist notion upon public school students that traditional Christian morality in America is passe, and that one need only be concerned with whatever it is that makes him/her feel nice?

Or is this master of mythomania talking about that public morality wherein her liberal mentors in congress have laid a heavy burden of debt upon their constituents; which, only as she wrote last week, was raised to $232 billion—which amounts to $10,000 per person for every man, woman and child in America?

Perhaps she is talking about a public morality that tolerates and even honors its congressmen for raising private funds for the Nicaraguan communist government while it is prosecuting Col. North and others for raising private funds to support the anti-communist Contras?

Maybe Goodman is talking about that public morality spawned by congress in 1978 when it passed a law requiring a balanced national budget, then ignored that law? And when in 1981 the same congress again passed a balanced budget law, and again ignored that law?

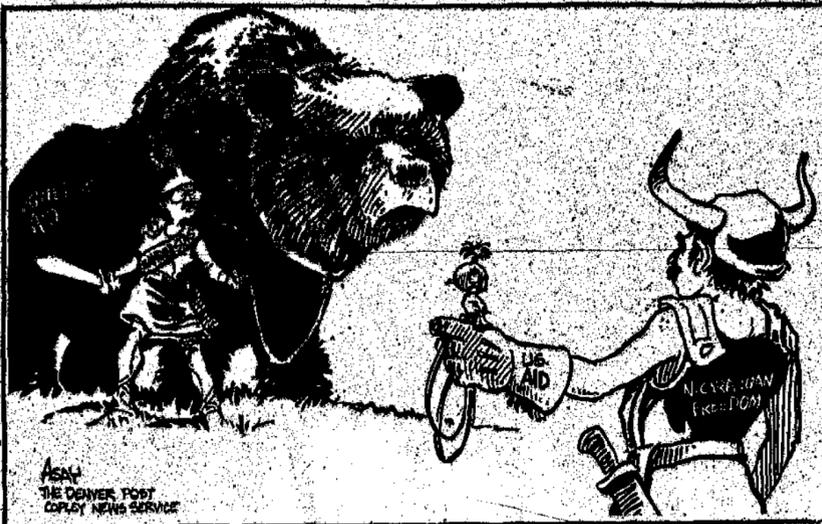

Of course, she must be referring to that public morality that sent former US Rep. George V. Hansen of Idaho to prison for writing a book critical of the Internal Revenue Service, but honors and enriches Jane Fonda for having committed treason against her country.

Brighten up, students; class is now in session! Today we are having a quiz on war, politics and geography of this century. Do you know how many countries have fallen to communism during this century? Can you name a dozen? Is so, write down their names.

Armed forces outrage; will Capt. Brindel be a scapegoat

WASHINGTON — The United States Navy has relieved from command — and is reportedly preparing to court-martial — three of the highest ranking officers of the USS Stark.

Capt. Glenn Brindel, 43, of Pittsburgh, PA was the skipper. The exec was Lt. Commander Raymond Gajan, 35, of Rockville, MD. Lt. Basil Moncrief, 32, of Corpus Christi, TX, was tactical action officer.

Even if they are not court-martialed, their careers are probably finished — unless Secretary of the Navy Jim Webb is prepared, once again, to go public against the State Department's "Rules of Engagement," under which Captain Brindel was ordered to operate.

Before he was relieved of his command, Captain Brindel told a news conference in Bahrain:

"Our rules of engagement provide authority to shoot anyone down that shows hostile intent. That means that he is shooting at you." (This is like an order at Bunker Hill: "Don't fire on them until they shoot at you first!")

The total unreason of such a rule is clearly demonstrated in what we have learned of the capability of the Exocet missile. This missile, when fired by a plane, is too small to show up on radar. It is one foot in diameter and approximately 30 feet long, but weighs about 1,500 pounds.

The AWACS plane that plotted the entire flight of that Iraqi fighter did not detect its firing of these two Exocets — which missiles came at the Stark at a speed of 600 miles an hour.

The missiles came in just above the waves. From the ship's vantage point on surface, these missiles were coming from behind the horizon, which was only 10 miles away.

The distance from the horizon, 10 miles away, to the Stark required only one minute for these missiles to reach the side of the ship, because they were traveling 10 miles a minute.

This meant that the Stark, under the "rules of engagement" had one minute (60 seconds) to:

- 1. Detect the missiles. 2. Identify them. 3. Declare them a threat. 4. Act on them — that is, take defensive measures. All this is virtually impossible to do in one minute — especially at night.

However, there was a way in which this disaster — and the death of 37 Navy men — might have been avoided.

The Stark is equipped with both the Phalanx — which can fire 3,000 rounds in one minute — as well as the High Impulse Air Defense Missile System.

These highly effective defensive weapons systems were not used — or were used ineffectively. And there is a world of difference. A TV set that is in good working order and turned off is operational. It is activated when it is turned on.

Why weren't both of these enormously sophisticated and effective weapons systems activated and left on automatic — ready to fire at anything coming at the ship?

One answer, which would seem reasonable, is that if those weapons were left on automatic, they might shoot at all kinds of things, from friendly aircraft to merchant ships to fellow vessels of the US Navy.

What the American people are NOT being told about the Phalanx and the High Impulse is that they can be programmed to impose parameters and threat criteria.

This means that if there is a line of US ships in motion, these weapons can be programmed to avoid any of the other ships. Or they can be limited so they don't fire at anything that is more than 500 or 1,000 feet away.

The single most important consideration is that these weapons can be set for speed. They can be set to fire, automatically, at anything coming at them in excess of a certain speed — such as the Exocet's 600-miles-per-hour.

To be able to do this, and for these weapons to work in time, the weapons systems must be activated and ready — not merely operational.

But the State Department's "Rules of Engagement" required that these weapons systems be kept inactivated! As Captain Brindel noted:

"Our rules of engagement provide authority to shoot anyone down that shows hostile intent. That means that he is shooting at you."

Radioman Rick Runager of Lusby, Maryland, confirmed this by noting, on the air, that these rules of engagement required the ship to wait out the attack without responding. And he noted: "The ship could have defended itself better, but it was just waiting it out to see what the plane was going to do."

And so, the lookout on the Stark, only seconds before the Exocets hit the ship, first realized it was a missile and started screaming:

"Inbound missile! Inbound missile! Hit the deck!"

That was of no help to those crewmen who were asleep — and who were instantly killed when the second Exocet hit the Stark and blew a huge hole in her side.

Iraqi planes and Iranian planes have repeatedly flown into such range as to be able to launch missiles — before suddenly reversing course. It's a sort of Persian Gulf game of "Chicken" or Russian Roulette.

To expect a crew to remain on full alert at all times, because the State Department's rules of engagement have forbidden them to keep their weapons on alert, is the height of folly — and the cause of the death of 37 young Americans.

Secretary of the Navy Jim Webb has not yet spoken out as this is written, although congressman Les Aspin's House Armed Services Committee rushed to judgment. They returned from Bahrain with a report faulting the Stark's officers but not the weaponry.

They blamed the Stark for not radioing the Iraqi plane when it was 43 miles away — rather than 13. The difference is about

Lt. Col. Oliver North—a present day Paul Revere

By J. A. "Al" JUNGE

It took no time at all for President Reagan to declare Ollie North "an American hero!"

It has taken, thus far, several months and more than four days of inquisition for our august Congress, through select committees, to prove to the American people that the President of the United States was correct in his praise of Col. North.

Col. North gave Congress as well as the citizens viewing television a real in-depth education of not only what happened in Iran but also a concise observation of how deep the communists are involved in Central America.

As Paul Revere's call to arms over 200 years ago, North has called our senses to the fact that communism is a real threat in Central America.

The disturbing fact in the Select Committee hearings is that the hearings are supposed to be of an investigative nature while, in fact, watching the proceedings one soon realizes that the intense grueling by attorneys was of a prosecuting nature—no more, no less. Col. North is not supposed to be on trial, but in every sense of the word he is being tried. Fortunately, in this case, the jury will be the American people who will weigh the pluses and minuses of the Iran-Contra effort made by Col. North.

Besides facing several hundred inquisitors including lawyers, congressmen, staff, investigators and others, the media has made a point of prejudging Col. North by headlines and news which, taken at face value, would point to Col. North's guilt. The action by the media was

Inside the Capitol

By Jay Miller

By GARREY CARROTHERS, Governor

SANTA FE—If you're wondering why the governor's name appears at the top of this column instead of Fred McCaffrey's it's because a one-time shot at writing the column was part of an agreement the two of us made when Fred served as governor for a day on June 8.

We agreed he wouldn't pull any punches as acting governor, and I wouldn't pull any punches as acting political columnist.

First of all, I very much enjoyed spending the day with Fred McCaffrey. On a personal level, I find Fred very warm and very funny. (Some of his columns, I must admit, have not left me with the same feeling.) I also found many of his remarks throughout the day—which included a staff meeting, a cabinet meeting, a news conference and numerous other public and private gatherings—to be highly insightful and pragmatic.

Let me also say that I appreciate Fred McCaffrey's contribution to New Mexico during the past 10 years.

I often have referred to Santa Fe as "The Company Town," and to state government as "the company." Every company must have critics—very necessary players in the system of checks and balances that has made our democratic society workable for more than 200 years. Fred McCaffrey is perhaps the best known of these critics on New Mexico's political scene today.

While I'm not aware of a single occasion during my six months in office on which Fred called me or any member of my staff to confirm any item that ran in his column, I recognize that his function as critic is different from that of other writers and reporters.

While relying less on quotable sources and factual data, such critics must call on insight, satire, humor, a keen interest in the workings of state government and their own writing skills to do their jobs. No one I can think of has combined all of these qualities with more style and wit during the past 10 years than Fred McCaffrey.

That's not to say I think Fred McCaffrey is always right about everything he puts in his column. But that's not really the point. The really vital function that Fred McCaffrey has provided to his many readers throughout New Mexico during the past 10 years is that he has made them—and their elected leaders—stop and think.

Whether or not we agree with what he writes, his columns have provided us with an insight we would not have found elsewhere. While Fred's remarks often are caustic, anyone who knows him understands that his words come from his heart. Fred McCaffrey cares about New Mexico—and its political process.

We'll miss you, Fred. Best of luck in Montserrat.

By JAY MILLER

My thanks to the governor for writing this column. I had originally planned to do my first column as a critique of Fred's performance on his day as governor but Gov. Caruthers got a much more complete view of Fred's talents that day. His comments indicate a very firm grasp of reality in my opinion.

You might be interested to know that Fred and Jan are also "honeymooning" on Montserrat.

patently unfair to Col. North. Nevertheless, Col. North has conducted himself exceptionally well and has lashed out more home runs than striking out at bat.

The notoriety covering several money orders that Col. North had cashed and used the money for his personal expense was blown out of proportion by the press: headline, "North cashes money orders."

Col. North, under interrogation, showed that he had placed his own personal funds in the Iran account when the account ran out of money. Cashing the money orders was to replace money that he had advanced to the Iran account.

The media "licked their chops" when it was discovered that a money order had been cashed at a store selling women's apparel. After all, Col. North had a beautiful secretary; so, draw up your own conclusions. In fact, Col. North had purchased pants for his two young daughters. Did the media make much of their obvious incorrect conclusion? No way. This point was very quietly reported.

Yes, the media leans towards an obvious conclusion—North is guilty! Guilty of what? Following his superior's orders? Breaking the law? The Boland Amendment which some members of the Select Committee believe IS THE LAW, is apparently so flawed in its interpretation that the American Bar Association is doubtful that the law is constitutional. Congress members are divided as to the validity of the Boland amendment.

Watching most of the Select Committee hearings for the week closing last Friday some very interesting facts developed:

Covert operations are necessary for national defense. Because secrecy is of the highest importance it is necessary that those involved are only those with "the need to know." The hearings brought out that, in some instances, the Department of Intelligence was not informed. Chairman Daniel Inouye stated that during his years on the Intelligence staff he could say that "Not a single leak had occurred." On camera, at a later interview, a former member of the Intelligence Department said that Inouye may have been in correct in saying "no leaks" during his intelligence term but there were leaks, from time to time, and in particular, a major leak from this same group happened only last December 1986. The leak almost blew our handling of the arrest of a terrorist in the case in which our planes intercepted his plane in mid-air.

The "prosecuting" attorneys were an interesting group, not only by the way questions were framed but also in their appearance and overall demeanor. They were attired in black as well as their staff—also in black and to the rear—not smiling and with what appeared to be a slight smirk with the taste of blood in their air. "We will give you a fair trial, then, hang you at sunrise." The attorneys took up too much time with little left for the Select Committee, and this was noted by several congressmen.

When requests or objections were entered by Col. North's attorney to Chairman Inouye without exception his reply "Please continue." Inouye was completely inflexible.

Inoue's making observations on television after the conclusions of the Select Committee meetings is a gross miscarriage of good investigative hearings. His "suggestions" are mostly unfounded, and we would like to see him return to his pineapple plantations in Hawaii.

The repetition of questions, asked again and again, was so evident as to make the redundancy laughable. How Col. North kept his composure was a remarkable feat in itself. At one point Col. North's attorney pointed out that the same question had been answered 125 times.

The Committee meetings and hearings along with all of the expenses that can be tied to this venture could well have funded the Contras for a long time to come. What a waste of your money and mine. To accomplish what? To attempt to embarrass the President? YOU BET. The Democrats, like gangbusters, were easy to anticipate in what they would say and how they would slant the questioning.

30 seconds. The committee stressed, however, that they had not obtained all the facts. And they noted that the Stark's officers and men were "heroic" in keeping the ship from sinking.

For a captain in the US Navy to be relieved of command of his ship because of this admittedly incomplete investigation — and because the State Department's rules of engagement prohibited his keeping his guns loaded in a war zone — is an absolutely towering injustice. Secretary Webb MUST sound off. And he surely ought to make public the names of those at the State Department who signed on those rules of engagement.

This is a repetition of the Beirut Marine disaster — when, Secretary Webb noted, the Marines were ordered by the rules of engagement not to dig in — because it might upset the Shi'ite Moslems.

We simply MUST put an end to the State Department's apparent idea that it is better for 241 of our Marines and 37 of our sailors to die — rather than our causing an international incident.

What is so alarming here is the fact that the hearings have confirmed what we have suspected for a long time — many of our elected officials, our congressman, do not believe that there is a communist menace in Central America and in other parts of the world. Many have supported organizations which are communist oriented.

And in the meantime, Col. North continues to handle everything thrown at him. The prosecution has lost the game. Col. North has come very close to a no-hitter.

Col. North has explained extremely well the communist threat and why our vigilance must be continued and maintained, recognizing at the same time that there are those who leftist views would lead us to believe that there is no communist threat.

I am personally grateful that his dedication to the values we all consider dear will protect my grandchildren and great-grandchildren in the years to come. Gratitude, however, is not enough, so I am sending today a check to: Lt. Col. Oliver North Defense Fund, US Marines Corp Headquarters, Washington, DC.

Psychic Forum at Ruidoso

Southwest Pacific Forum of Albuquerque will produce Ruidoso's second metaphysical festival and psychic fair this year at the Ruidoso Inn, July 17-19.

Friday and Saturday there will be a channeling presentation each evening at 7:30 p.m. Friday will feature two channeled entities, "Heltha" and "Ezariah." Saturday will feature "Montief." Questions from the audience and open dialogue is welcomed.

A psychic fair will be held Saturday and Sunday from 11 a.m. to 7 p.m. each day. Participants from Albuquerque, Santa Fe, Alamogordo and El Paso will be available for personal consultation.

Lyle Koehler, an anthropologist on sabbatical from the University of Cincinnati, is the channel for "Heltha." Lyle will participate in the Friday evening channeling presentation and will also be available at the psychic fair. Beverly Smith of Albuquerque is a certified hypno-therapist, an ordained minister and a trance channel.

Jan Michaels, of Amarillo, TX is the trance channel for "Montief" and will be the featured guest at Saturday evening's channeling presentation.

Others participating in the psychic fair will be Michael Jackson of Alamogordo, Emma Stockton of Albuquerque, Elle of Santa Fe, Dr. Steven Steinlich of Albuquerque, James Snyder of Vancouver, BC, Nancee Pepin of Albuquerque, as well as others. Southwest Pacific Forum will produce festivals in Roswell on Aug. 1-2 and Las Cruces Aug. 8-9.

Thanks for the memory

EDITOR—We wish to express our deep appreciation to all the hard working, good folks who worked to make the recent Carrizozo High School Reunion a success.

It was truly a labor of love. So many came so far. It was wonderful to renew old friendships and to know how many of Carrizozo's graduates have done so well coming from a small school.

Thank you so much for a wonderful memory.

The cure is the cause

EDITOR—How long will the American people leave untouched these castles of sand built by the liberals? Each time a new horror is brought to the public attention, as a result of the secular humanization of public schools, the liberal establishment offers as a cure the same medicine that caused the horror in the first place, only more of it.

In their sex education classes, where they teach our children that promiscuity is a good that should be sought after, they are causing the acceleration of the AIDS plague.

When are you, my fellow Americans, going to demand that the sex education of your children be restored to you to whom it was originally given by the Creator? If you don't do something soon to decelerate the growth of AIDS, it is estimated at its present rate of growth, every American will be infected by the year 2000.

The Supreme Court has recently rendered a decision making all infectious disease a civil rights issue rather than a public health problem. This again will cause the acceleration of the AIDS plague and numerous other diseases.

On behalf of yourself and your loved ones, write Bingaman and Domenici and demand that they confirm President Reagan's new appointee to the Supreme Court so that corrections and reversals to terrible decisions of the present court can be made. Better still, call them.

Some basics in buying stocks

How short selling increases your investment flexibility

When you buy stock, you're "going long," to use Wall Street parlance. Holding a long position means you buy stocks you hope will appreciate so you can sell them later at a profit.

There is another way to "invest" in stocks — the opposite way. You can "go short" by selling a stock you don't own, in anticipation of a price decline. If the price falls, you buy other shares at a lower price and pocket the difference, which is your profit.

Short selling is riskier than buying stocks because, theoretically, your loss can be unlimited if the stock goes up instead of down. After all, there's no ceiling on how high a stock can go. However, in the real world, you can stop your loss at almost any point. All you have to do is instruct your Financial Consultant to buy the stock back if the price increases by a certain percentage (perhaps 10 or 15 percent) over the price at which you sold short. So you can get out of a losing transaction quickly and keep most of your capital intact.

When does it make sense to sell short? Mainly in bear markets, when more stocks are falling than rising week after week and month after month. In such a market it's unrealistic to assume that you can consistently manage to find the very few stocks that will buck the downward market trend. It's much easier to go with the trend, hoping that stocks will keep falling.

one thing, short sales can be made only through margin accounts. The shares you sell short are borrowed for you by your brokerage firm. If the stock is traded on an exchange, generally you must follow the "uptick" rule, which means you may not short a stock unless its last price was higher than the previous one. Such a rule does not apply to over-the-counter stocks, so you may short an O-T-C issue even if it's already declining.

There is an alternative to short selling that has a similar effect — buying a put option. This gives you the right (but not the obligation) to sell 100 shares at a certain price by a certain date. The advantage of a put is that if the stock advances, instead of declines, all you can lose is the price of the put (called the premium), which normally is a small percentage of the market price of the stock.

The disadvantage is that a put has a specific lifetime, usually nine months or less, after which it expires worthless. There's no time limit on a short sale, which means you can wait longer if your stock doesn't fall quickly but you still believe it will.

Before investing in any option strategy, you should request the options risk disclosure document from your Financial Consultant.

If short selling appeals to you, start slowly — shorting only one stock at a time — and work with an attentive Financial Consultant who will help you monitor and evaluate your position regularly. When you master short selling, you'll have much more investment flexibility and be able to earn profits whether the market is rising or falling.

Periods of market volatility also provide good short selling opportunities, but primarily for aggressive investors who want to try to capitalize on sudden market corrections.

The mechanics of a short sale are more complicated than simply buying stocks, but your Financial Consultant can help you learn the ropes. For

Capitan alumni reunion July 24

The Capitan High School Alumni Reunion is scheduled for the weekend of July 25. This year's reunion will celebrate the 75th anniversary of Capitan High School.

Registration will begin the night of July 24 in the foyer of the multipurpose building and will continue Saturday morning at the same location. A lunch will be served at noon Saturday and the business meeting and program will be at 2 p.m. in the gym. Part of the program will concern the 75-year history of the high school.

The reunion committee consisting of Herbert Lee Traylor, Tom Guck and Diane Riska have put together a directory and history folder with all graduates listed from 1917 to the present. These will be given away at the reunion.

Activities conclude Saturday night with a dance at the fair building. Selden Burks and his band will provide the music between 9 p.m. and 1 a.m.

All correspondence should be mailed to: Capitan Alumni Association, Box 673, Capitan, NM 88316.

Capitan News

By Margaret Rench

Last week this area endured intense heat. The sun was bright and the winds hot. The morning of the 7th was 24 degrees. After that it was from 34 to 38. Nights hot and very sultry. This Monday is cloudy and cool.

The Capitan Junior Riding Club held its second playday Sunday with 23 participants. The high point girl for 5 and under lead class was T.J. Maroon; 5 and under riding class was Kendra Riddle; 6 through 8 high point boy was Cody Erwin; and 6 through 8 high point girl was Sonja Wood; 9 through 12 high point was Tammy Payne and 9 through 12 high point boy was Mike Fish; 13 and up age group was high point girl Sherry Gowen. Other kids competing were Jessica Livingston, Fee Wee Coons, Della Joiner, Tinnie Coons, Stacey and Shelby Gowen, Stacy Erwin, Tammy Higgins, Cody and Shawn Wilson, Casey Cunningham, Casey Riddle, Shane Carpenter, Tyson Coons, Mario Maroon and Stacey Thorne.

The next playday will be Sunday July 26 at 1 p.m. at the fairgrounds in Capitan.

Thanks to John and Jerrle Wilson, Jane Erwin, Pat and Josie Gowen, Mr. and Mrs. Cunningham, Pappy Coons, John Fish, Andy Trujillo, Ed-dy Jones, Ricky Vigil, Cindy Livingston and everyone else who helps with the Riding Club.

A great big thanks to everyone who helped with the concessions stand during July 4. Romo, Don and Kim Eckland, Benolyn McKibben, Inez and Bob Marrs, Patsy Peralta, Sandy Daughtery, Linda Fish, Denise Byrd, Sarah Knothowski, Coleeta and Bell Elliott and everyone else did a super job, giving many hours of hard work.

The CowBells will be having their annual roping on Saturday, July 18, at the fairgrounds in Capitan. A concession stand will be available.

KYLE and WAYNETTE

Waynette Lindsey to wed in August

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Lindsey of Corona announce the engagement and forthcoming marriage of their daughter Waynette to Kyle Best, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Best of Floyd. The couple will be wed Aug. 10 in Portales.

Miss Lindsey attended Corona High School where she was a cheerleader, student council president, National Honor Society secretary, and annual staff business manager. She was active as a member of the Cardinal volleyball and basketball teams and represented Corona and New Mexico in the national Miss Teen of America pageant in Duluth, MN. As a senior at Floyd High School, Miss Lindsey participated in volleyball, basketball, NHS and student council. She was Homecoming Sweetheart and was honored as Most Beautiful, Best Dressed, Friendliest and Cutest Smile.

Mr. Best is a graduate of Floyd High School where he was a member of the Mustang State Champion basketball team for two years. He is active in New Mexico High School Rodeo Assn. and has competed at the national finals four consecutive years. In 1985 he won the NMEHRA calf roping title and will represent New Mexico at the National High School Rodeo Finals in Pueblo, CO.

The couple plan to attend ENMU where she will study accounting and he will major in vocational agriculture.

Friends and relatives are cordially invited to attend the wedding and reception at 6:30 p.m. Aug. 10 at First Baptist Church in Portales.

Farmers, ranchers in leadership conference

National legislation affecting New Mexico farmers and ranchers and natural resource issues will dominate the agenda when the New Mexico Farm and Livestock Bureau convenes its Annual Summer Conference July 30-31 at the Inn of the Mountain Gods in Mesalero.

One of the nation's leading livestock experts will explore national issues affecting cattlemen. Alfred Keating, director of the Livestock Marketing Division of the American Farm Bureau Federation, will address delegates Thursday, July 30 at 1:30 p.m.

Friday, Farm Bureau delegates will hear from State Land Commissioner Bill Hesterman and the Secretary of the Natural Resources Department, Dr. Tom Bahr. Other programs include a look at the new immigration law, and an update on utilities from Dr. Martin Blake, a member of the New Mexico Public Service Commission.

In the service

Pvt. Ryan D. Frost of the 197th Infantry Brigade (Mechanized), Fort Benning, GA recently participated in a joint readiness exercise held in Alberta, Canada. Frost is the son of Brenda Frost of Ruidoso. The private is an infantryman.

Youth Week activities planned

The First Baptist Church in Carrizozo is sponsoring a Youth Missions team from Luella, TX during this week and planning activities while the team is here.

Each morning the Youth Missions team, four teenage boys, four teenage girls and three sponsors, will be leading in Backyard Bible Clubs in Carrizozo and Capitan. In Carrizozo they will be meeting at Spencer Park from 9 to 11:30 a.m.

This afternoon the team will present a puppet show at the Camp Meeting. Tomorrow afternoon the group will leave for White Sands for an afternoon of volleyball, fun and a cookout.

The week's activities were planned to help meet the needs and desires of the people of Carrizozo through good clean fun and spiritual growth. John Torrison, pastor of the First Baptist Church, invites everyone to join in the activities.

MEDIA STARS

Since the Independence Day armed break out at the state penitentiary, the question most often asked during conversations is, "Have they caught any more?"

Corrections Department officials said the 7-man escape began about 8:50 p.m. Saturday. By 9:05 p.m. the inmates were gone. State police and National Guard helicopters combed the area. About 200 area law enforcement officers searched nearby homes and set up roadblocks.

"This is the unluckiest day of my life," escaped convict Hector B. Torres upon being recaptured at Santa Fe Downs after 36 hours of freedom.

"I would prefer if we are going to make national news that it would be with the opening of the opera or the great weather," Diane Baker, director of the Santa Fe Convention and Visitors Bureau.

"We're praying we get them before they do anything to innocent people. We're a little disappointed they got away," Prison Guard Percy Montoya.

OLD AND NEW

When I am in Albuquerque I stop at the museum to see their exhibits. Last week's visit included Four Centuries: A History of Albuquerque.

Among objects of interest: arms and armor used during the Spanish Conquest, the 17th century family tapestry of the Duke of Albuquerque, Hispanic weaving, religious artifacts by early settlers, maps from the 16th-18th centuries, 18th century Spanish coins and Civil War artifacts.

The creation of art is an important part of the human history of this area from pre-Conquest times to the present. Represented in the museum's permanent collection are major New Mexico artists of yesterday and today, as well as outstanding examples of the work of other noted artists.

A feature of the museum is the number of changing exhibitions. They are a nationally accredited museum and they have originated or brought to Albuquerque exhibitions of European masters and Japanese woodblock prints, super realist to abstract painting and sculpture, regional landscapes and our folk art heritage.

A few steps from the museum grounds are the shops and restaurants of Old Town, and just across is the New Mexico Museum of Natural History.

CLOSER TO HOME

Monday I visited "Gallery La Luz" to view the 13th annual miniature art show which continues until July 31. The gallery is located in the historical village of old La Luz at the foot of the Sacramento Mountains. The gallery is an adobe structure with beamed vigas and the traditional kiva fireplace. It lends a southwestern charm and background to the cooperative gallery of the area's artists.

The gallery is open every day, providing presentations, demonstrations, workshops and tours. There are 36 active members. Gallery hours: Monday-Saturday, 10 a.m. to 5 p.m.; Sundays, 1:30 to 5 p.m.

MINIATURISM

Gallery La Luz has earned a reputation nationally for the miniature annual event. The increased interest in miniature art throughout the US and overseas has brought more artists to the show each year.

Miniature art has been described as fine original art done in a small scale. A commonly accepted standard today is the one-sixth rule, which requires that objects be depicted no larger than one-sixth actual size.

Miniature art is an ancient form that was popular in the 18th and early 19th centuries.

Today's miniature artists and collectors are participating in the revival of an art form that goes back to the cave drawings of thousands of years ago. Miniature art, with its minimal space requirements and relative low cost, places fine original art within reach of the serious collector.

PICK ONE UP

Stop by the Lincoln County News for a free copy of the 13th annual miniature art show catalog. Read about Meredith Rambo, winner of the cover design, and Ann Templeton, 1987 judge. Rambo is primarily self-taught in drawing and painting. Templeton is a lecturer, demonstrator and instructor.

The catalog includes a list of winners in the miniature show as well as all entrants and categories.

Artist Pat Beatty was on hand Monday to greet visitors and was very helpful in explaining the procedure for entering works in this annual show, which ends July 31. Discover the beauty and challenge of miniaturism in drawing, acrylic, graphics, mixed media, pastel, watercolor, sculpture and oil.

New work program will aid teenagers, senior citizens

Mountain Bell is establishing a program that will create 250 part-time summer jobs for teenagers that will also benefit more than 800 senior citizens in 38 New Mexico communities, including Carrizozo.

Called Mountain Bell HomeChores, the program matches teenagers with senior citizens who need help with tasks such as yard work, painting, washing windows, and other chores around the home.

Administering the program—which is funded through a $60,600 grant from Mountain Bell—will be three New Mexico area agencies on aging: the Southwestern NM Area Agency on Aging, the Eastern NM Area Agency on Aging and the North Central NM Economic Development District - Area Agency on Aging.

Senior citizens who have work to be performed by the youths will be identified through ACTION, a federal agency that provides aid to seniors, and the New Mexico State Agency on Aging. Referrals will be made by senior citizen centers, visiting nurses programs, senior companion programs and similar groups that have ongoing contact with senior citizens.

Each of the 250 youths to be hired will work about 12 hours a week for the five-week program which will run from July 13 through August 14. Wages for the teens will be $3.50 an hour.

Program directors for the senior citizens' agencies at the local level will be responsible for matching each teen with seniors who need help.

Additional information regarding Mountain Bell HomeChores can be obtained from any area office of the New Mexico Department of Labor, ACTION or the New Mexico State Agency on Aging.

Around Corona

The regular meeting of Crown CowBelles was Thursday, July 9 and was a tour of both Boys and Girls ranches. The trip was under direction of vice-president Frances Fuller. President JoAnn Proctor was out of town assisting her mother in a move from Anthony to Las Cruces.

Reports are that donations toward the quilts and travel fund basket are coming in slowly but are expected to gain momentum before the quilts are awarded the lucky winners at the Lincoln County Fair next month. The basket will be won at the hunter's ball.

The next meeting place is the Summer Festival, Saturday, Aug. 8, and plans for the booth were discussed. The September meeting is Thursday, Sept. 10, with lunch at the school cafeteria and the program at the pottery where Ken Payton will lecture on clays and facets of his art.

Guests on the ranch tour were Barbara Maness, Hagerman, Kimberly Latham and her friend, Angela, Sterling City, TX, and Jeanene Gibbs.

Bonnie Frank and Johnny Mitchell, Cameron, TX, have spent a week with the Owen and Hodge families. Monday they went to Albuquerque to spend the day with Mrs. Ethel Hodge.

Zana and Mitch Crawford, Farmington, are spending a few days with the Clint Sultemeiers.

Mr. and Mrs. Clint Sultemeier and Emmet took Tammie Sultemeier to Denver and saw her settled into her apartment and fashion courses at the Colorado Institute of Art where she says she is very happy with her life. The others toured Colorado for several days and on the way home Emmet stopped off in Bloomfield for a visit.

Steven Mulkey is home from the US Army where he spent most of his time at Fort Bragg, NC. He had two stints in Honduras. He joined his mother and Tommy in Washington for the July 4 weekend. Then the brothers drove home to Corona, and Mrs. Mulkey stayed with Glenda and Larry Sullivan in Reston, VA for the remainder of her vacation.

Kathy Lynn McCloud and Robert Burroughs were married at 8 p.m., Friday, July 10 in the Corona Baptist Church. The Rev. A.L. Miller, retired pastor of the church, performed the simple single ring ceremony before a small gathering of relatives and close friends.

Attendants were Linda Wetzel and Henry Clements. The bride wore a street length wedding dress of lace over satin, and her veil was waist length and trimmed with tiny pale blue flowers. She carried white roses.

A champagne supper, hosted by Mrs. Wetzel, followed the ceremony.

The couple left immediately for the groom's former home in Iowa. They plan to return next week to Corona where the bride is employed at the Wetzel Cafe and the groom at Corona Motor Co.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Gayle May, Animas, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Burroughs, Council Bluff, Iowa. The Cedarvale Quilting Club is planning a wedding shower Sunday afternoon, July 26, 3 to 5 p.m. at the Cedarvale Center. All friends of the couple are invited.

Mrs. Lee R. Owen and Ellis Hodge were in Hobbs one day last week to attend funeral services for a cousin, Luke Lively. Mr. Lively was the son-in-law of the late Mrs. Maud Stanger.

Mrs. Grace Lackey, Tijeras, is hospitalized in Albuquerque with a broken leg. Reports indicate that the bone snapped as she attempted to shift position in bed.

Cedar Temple Pythian Sisters met Monday for a covered dish luncheon and a work session at Cedarvale. Jane Powell and Erma Ann McGee, Primrose Temple, joined the group. Members are making 75 ditty bags for Grand Temple to be held in Deming in early October.

Sherrill Bradford left Tuesday for El Paso and three days in Dallas where she will attend an AAUW board meeting.

US compensates state for lands within WSMR

The federal government has transferred more than $20 million to the State Land Office as compensation for about 270,000 acres of State Trust Land within the White Sands Missile Range, according to Commissioner W.R. Humphries.

The payment represents settlement of litigation brought by the state in 1979 for compensation for the surface estate of the Trust Lands, which were taken by the federal government during World War II, he said.

"This settlement is a major milestone in the history of the State Land Office and after more than 40 years, the state of New Mexico is finally compensated for the taking of the Trust Lands," Humphries said.

The $20,400,920 payment that was transferred to the State Land Office includes $9,147,878 for the surface acreage, Humphries said, plus $11,015,178 in interest and $239,064 in attorneys fees and costs.

The principal amount was based on the value of the 270,000 acres of Trust Land as of July 1, 1976, which the US Claims Court set as the date the Trust Lands were taken by the federal government. The interest was computed from that same date.

By the terms of a 1983 agreement, 15 percent of the settlement—or $3,064,428—will go to compensate grazing lessees for their loss of value of their interests in the Trust Lands as a result of the federal government's taking of their ranches within the missile range.

The 15 percent payment was approved by the claims court for the lessees, who had joined the State Land Office in an inverse condemnation suit against the federal government for the lost value of the land.

The State Land Office received $176,049 in attorneys fees, Humphries said, and the attorneys for the grazing lessees received $62,103.

That portion of the $17,138,428 balance that represents the principal will be deposited in the $2.5 billion Permanent Fund, which is managed by the State Investment Council.

"This settlement marks the final compensation for the surface acreage within the missile range," Humphries said. "The State Land Office is continuing to establish a settlement for the mineral estate, and we hope to receive an overriding royalty that will compensate the trust if resources are extracted from the mineral estate. This would be very similar to the present method by which the trust would be compensated by royalty."

This settlement does not affect a separate action by the grazing lessees in the claims court for compensation for the loss of federal grazing permits within the missile range. This separate action involves a congressional reference case which Sen. Domenick and Rep. Skeep worked on to help resolve the ranchers' claims.

NOTICE OF ADOPTION OF ORDINANCE

The Board of Trustees of the Town of Carrizozo (herein the "Town"), New Mexico, hereby gives notice of the adoption of its Ordinance No. 134 on July 14, 1987.

The title of said ordinance is:

AN ORDINANCE AUTHORIZING AND EMPOWERING THE ISSUANCE OF $150,000 GENERAL OBLIGATION WATER BONDS OF THE TOWN OF CARRIZOZO, NEW MEXICO: PRESCRIBING THE FORM OF AND OTHER PROVISIONS CONCERNING SAID BONDS; PROVIDING FOR THE EXECUTION THEREOF; PROVIDING FOR THE LEVY AND COLLECTION OF AD VALOREM TAXES AND THE USE OF OTHER FUNDS FOR THE PAYMENT OF THE PRINCIPAL OF SAID BONDS AND THE INTEREST ACCRUING THEREON; PRESCRIBING OTHER DETAILS IN CONNECTION WITH SAID BONDS AND TAXES; RATIFYING ACTION TAKEN TOWARD ACCOMPLISHING SAID PURPOSES AND ISSUING SAID BONDS THEREFOR; AND DECLARING AN EMERGENCY.

A brief summary of the subject matter is as follows:

The preambles recite, among other things, that at the regular municipal election held on May 19, 1987, the Town was authorized to issue its general obligation water bonds in the amount of $150,000, of which none have been issued; recite that the life of the improvements to be acquired with the proceeds of the issue authorized by such ordinance shall be at least thirteen years; recite that after due notice, sealed bids were received at 11:00 a.m. on July 14, 1987 for the purchase of such bonds in the aggregate principal amount of $150,000, i.e., the Town of Carrizozo General Obligation Water Bonds, Series August 1, 1987 (herein the "Bonds") and the Bonds are awarded to the best bidder, United New Mexico Bank at Carrizozo and Eppler, Guerin & Turner, Inc. of Albuquerque, New Mexico, for par, accrued interest and a premium of $-0-; and recite that the Project is a governmental purpose and will not cause the Bonds to be "private activity bonds" as defined by the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended, and that neither the Town nor any subordinate entity reasonably expects to issue more than $5,000,000 face amount of bonds during 1987.

Section 1 ratifies, approves and confirms the action of the Board of Trustees and officers of the Town including but not limited to action taken for the purpose of constructing and purchasing a system for supplying water for the Town (herein the "Project"), the issuance of the Bonds and the acceptance of the proposal for the purchase of the Bonds being issued for such Project.

Section 2, in order to provide funds for the Project, authorizes issuance of the Town's fully registered Town of Carrizozo General Obligation Water Bonds, Series August 1, 1987 and details in connection therewith, including the following: such issue shall be in the amount of $150,000, the Bonds shall be dated August 1, 1987 except as otherwise provided upon reissuance, issuable in denominations of $5,000, or any integral multiple thereof, and subject to other specified limitations; interest is payable on February 1, 1988 and semiannually thereafter on August 1 and February 1, in each year; the place and manner of payment of principal and interest of the Bonds, including provisions for payment of interest, Record Date and Special Record Date; the Bonds to bear interest at varying per annum rates of 9.50%, 9.50%, 9.50%, 9.375%, 6.50%, 6.75%, 7.00%, 7.10%, 7.20%, 7.30%, 7.40%, 7.50% and 7.60% and mature serially on August 1, 1988 through August 1, 2000.

Section 3 provides for redemption prior to stated maturity of Bonds maturing on and after August 1, 1996, on August 1, 1995, in whole at any time or in part on any interest payment date, for the principal amount redeemed, accrued interest to the redemption date, and any applicable redemption premium as provided in the Ordinance; for notice of such prior redemption to be given by the Town and the Registrar; and for payment of amounts due upon prior redemption.

Sections 4 through 8 provide for the manner of execution and authentication of the bonds; for registration, transfer, exchange, replacement, payment, delivery and holding of custody of Bond certificates, cancellation of, and registration records for the Bonds; for successor registrars or paying agents, prior redemption; provide that the Bonds shall be fully negotiable and shall constitute the general obligations of the Town, to the payment of which the full faith and credit of the Town is pledged; and prescribe the form of the Bonds, certificate of authentication, assignment and legal opinion certificate.

Sections 16 and 17 are a repealer clause and a severability clause, respectively.

Section 18 declares an emergency, and provides for execution and publication of this ordinance.

Section 19 provides for the form of this publication.

There also is contained a statement by the Mayor that this ordinance is an emergency (stating some of the reasons therefor).
