Sheriff's report

Victim won't press charges

Jose Rios, recovering in a Roswell hospital from three stab wounds in the back, has identified his assailants but refused to press charges against them.

The incident occurred July 26 near Tinnie in an argument over a truck battery. David Morales, 22, who reportedly did the stabbing, was jailed and held on $5,000 bond. His brother, Hector Morales, 25, who was present at the scene, was jailed on charges of conspiracy to commit a felony and held in lieu of a $2,500 bond.

The sheriff's office reported yesterday that the two men are expected to be turned over to the US Border Patrol for further action.

Jerome Kenneth Francisco, 25, Yahtahay, NM was arrested July 26 and charged with DWI and driving on a suspended license. He was released on $600 bond. Freddy Jarrison, 20, Galup, who was in the vehicle with Francisco, was charged with being a party to a crime and is in Lincoln County Jail in lieu of $200 bond.

Jose Luis Portillo, 26, Ruidoso Downs, was arrested July 22 on charges of DWI, disorderly conduct, battery and public intoxication. He was sentenced to 32 days in jail, by Judge Valenzuela.

Jeffrey Sterling Welch, 22, Ruidoso, was arrested by the sheriff's office July 27 and charged with DWI. He is free on $500 bond.

Richard Victor Montoya, 32, Ruidoso Downs, was arrested by the sheriff's office July 24 on charges of battery, and on a NCIC warrant out of Santa Fe. He was released July 25 to the Santa Fe Sheriff's Department.

Christopher Lewis Coleman, 38, Ruidoso, was arrested July 27 on a fugitive warrant out of Texas. He was released on $5,000 bond.

REPUBLICANS MEET AUG. 3

The Lincoln County Republican Party will meet at Carrizo Lodge on Aug. 3 at 6 p.m. for the regular monthly meeting. County chairman Pat Hume urges all people to bring their stubs and money for the raffle tickets to the meeting.

A work meeting for officers, members of the central committee and others will be held at Carrizo Lodge from 3 to 5 p.m.

'THE SOUND OF MUSIC' production by the Alamogordo Music Theater is now in rehearsal with Millie Ruth Payne featured as Maria.

'Sound of Music' to play in Carrizozo

The Alamogordo Music Theater will present its summer show, "The Sound of Music," in Carrizozo on Aug. 9 at 2 p.m. in the Carrizozo school old gym.

The Carrizozo presentation is sponsored by the Carrizozo Woman's Club. Tickets at $5 for adults and $4 for senior citizens and students are available from any Woman's Club member, the United New Mexico Bank and the J. G. Moore Insurance Agency.

The special road performance is one that the Alamogordo Music Theater has wanted to do. AMT board president Cliff Hall said, "We are delighted with the interest shown that allows us to take this show on the road. He said he was pleased that "it's finally going to be a reality" to have Lincoln County involved.

The musical is directed by Martha Julian and will feature Millie Ruth Payne as Maria in the title role of the well-known story about the VonTrapp family. Payne has been a feature in many AMT musicals and recently played Annie in "Annie Get Your Gun."

Carrizozo Board of Trustees

Clovis contractor is low bidder on street paving

By RUTH HAMMOND

Bids for the street paving project in Carrizozo were opened by the Carrizozo Board of Trustees at the July 28 meeting. Three bids were received with K. Barnett and Sons Inc. of Clovis being the apparent low bidder.

The bids were reviewed by Joe Shain of Pajo Technical Services, engineers for the project, and must be approved by the CDBG office in Santa Fe before approval to proceed with construction is given.

The CDBG (Community Development Block Grant) money will pay for paving of three miles of streets in Carrizozo. Mayor Bob Hemphill said he will hand carry the necessary papers to Santa Fe for their approval.

The engineer's estimate for the project was $460,425. Barnett's bid was in the amount of $474,004 with bids also being received from Connie H. Danley Construction Company, Inc. for $598,142 and from T. Brown Constructors for $554,847.

In other business, Glen Ellison spoke to the trustees about Carrizozo's participation in the "We the People Picnic" on Sept. 19 to celebrate the recognizing of the United States Constitution's 200th anniversary.

Ellison's plans for the local event include honoring William C. McDonald, the first elected governor of the state, and will consist of a William C. McDonald Memorial Parade, Old Home Tour and Luncheon.

Trustees agreed to pay the cost for any town employee to take and complete the Emergency Medical Technician (EMT) class that will begin Aug. 11.

Trustees voted unanimously to require that all town employees who drive municipal equipment be required to take the scheduled defensive driving course.

Trustee Patsy Sanchez reported that the Neighborhood watch program would begin next week.

Trustee Eddie O'Brien asked if there had been any start on the signs being placed at the edge of town honoring Dorothy Payne as the first gold medal winner from New Mexico in the first National Senior Olympics. Woody Schlegel reported that the Car-rizzo Chamber of Commerce would discuss it at the Aug. 11 meeting.

The request for proposal for engineering services for water system improvements will be published calling for proposals to be submitted by 4 p.m. Aug. 25. The proposals are to include the experience of the firm and project team in the design of municipal water systems, the experience of the firm in working with small communities, the experience in and knowledge of the Carrizozo area, a project approach to the water system study and design with a proposed schedule for the project improvements.

The scope of work will include investigation of the existing water wells, storage facilities and transmission system, analysis of current conditions and problems that exist in the system, priorities and alternatives for improvements and complete designs and plans.

A request was received to have a stop sign placed on 3rd Street where it intersects with B Avenue. The stop sign will be installed.

Trustees approved paying travel and training expenses for four volunteer firemen to attend the state fire school.

The Carrizozo town attorney asked for approval to withdraw from the Mescalero Apache water suit because the town buys water from Alamogordo and will be represented there.

Hemphill read a letter received by Schlegel that involves the moving of a business to Carrizozo early in 1988 that is a non-profit, public service Crisis Center for women and shelter care for abused women.

The Christian based charitable organization serving all the public on a first-come, first-served basis, asked of any property which may be available gratis or for a very low fee.

The organization "hopes to house anywhere from four to 10 women and several couples, with room enough for staff to live in (two families) and have a place for an office.

Schlegel said that he had contacted the organization and trustees discussed possible buildings that might be available.

The letter, signed by Ms. Susan E. Barefield, states, "Alamogordo is our preference; however, we will consider any area in the southern part of New Mexico."

Lonnie Mathews of Carrizozo spoke to trustees about the water pressure being low. It was explained to him that the problems last week were due to the fire hydrants in town being checked. He was also told that the water system improvements are scheduled to be constructed using money from the general obligation water bonds approved by the residents of Carrizozo.

Mathews said, "I have lived all over the country and all over the world and this is the best place to be."

Secretary Baldrige had strong ties to this area

US Secretary of Commerce Malcolm Baldrige died in a rodeo accident Saturday after the horse he was riding while cattle roping fell on him. The accident occurred at the Jack Roddy Ranch in rural Brentwood, CA.

Baldrige had a passion for rodeos and was scheduled to appear Saturday night at the Cotra Costa County Fair. He competed in about three professional rodeos a year and had participated regularly in Sunday roping competitions.

One such competition he is reported to have competed in was the White Oaks Rodeo in 1970. Jack Roddy, World Champion Bulldogger at the time, attended the White Oaks Rodeo with companion, later identified as Baldrige, and they both competed in events at White Oaks.

Roddy participated in the calf-roping and was challenged by Bud Crenshaw to a matched steer wrestling. Accounts of the event are recorded in the Lincoln County News on July 27, 1978 even though the event happened in 1970.

Baldrige and his wife Midge were owners of the 70,000 acre Monte Prieto Ranch near Claunch, west of Carrizozo.

Baldrige had been a ranch hand and later attended Yale University. His love of rodeos was evident by the mementos that filled his office: bronze cowboy statues, a coiled lasso, a saddle he won at a 1978 rodeo and belt buckles he won in roping contests. He was voted in to the Cowboy Hall of Fame in 1984.

He was a moderate Republican and one of only three members of President Reagan's original 1981 Cabinet remaining on the job. He rivaled Herbert Hoover as the longest-serving Secretary of Commerce in history.

A memorial service was held yesterday and funeral services were held this morning in Washington.

In Washington, Sen. Jeff Bingaman paid tribute to Baldrige on the floor of the US Senate.

"Malcolm Baldrige was the kind of man who went down well with the people of my state," Bingaman said. "He loved the West and, as a champion rodeo performer, he lived the life of a westerner. He owned a ranch in Mountainair; he was one of us. He was what we in my state would call 'the genuine article.'"

Family Crisis program outlined to ARC members

Warren Theidt of Ruidoso presented the program "Family Crisis" at the July 27 meeting of the Association for Retarded Citizens (ARC) of Lincoln County.

Theidt explained that victims of family violence in Lincoln County now have a Family Crisis Center in Ruidoso that will have services to help meet their needs. The Family Crisis Center is a subsidiary of the Refuge in Roswell and will have volunteers on call seven days a week, 24 hours a day, to respond to calls for information or help.

Theidt said members of the advisory board recently completed a course which was a series of training sessions for crisis center advocates.

The training included teaching crisis center advocates the Cycle Theory in domestic violence and the pattern in domestic violence. It is (1) the tension-building phase when tension rises and the recipient of the abuse tries to calm the batterer by being nurturing and compliant, and as tension rises and control is lost, the recipient withdraws from the batterer and the batterer becomes more oppressive; (2) is the acute battering incident and is characterized by the uncontrollable discharge of tensions that have built up in phase 1; (3) is the loving-contrite phase when the batterer is extremely loving and tries to make up for the battering by begging for forgiveness and promises it will never happen again.

The Cycle Theory is a recurring cycle when the loving behavior gives in to little abusive incidents and tension building cycle recurs. The three phases can vary in both time and intensity for the same couple or between different couples.

Theidt said that understanding these phases can help victims predict the batterer's behavior and thus protect themselves. He said while it is common for the wife and children to be recipients of domestic violence it is not uncommon for the husband to be the victim in some cases.

Theidt read statistics compiled in 1983 that stated that one-third of all calls made by all law officers nationwide involved in domestic violence cases, six million wives had been abused by husbands in one year; this involved mental as well as physical abuse; 2,000 to 4,000 women were beaten to death each year; 60 percent of all families experienced some form of domestic violence and many domestic violence cases are not reported. Theidt also told of the Family Violence Protective Act, a new law that became effective July 1. The law relates to domestic affairs, enacts the family violence protection act, provides for court-ordered protection of victims of domestic abuse and provides remedies.

According to the law a victim of domestic abuse may petition the court for an order of protection without having to pursue any other court action such as annulment, separation or divorce.

Theidt said the Family Crisis Center in Ruidoso at 257-7363 can provide a place for battered family members to stay, and will offer help to the victims.

FOOL THE EYE

Most of the month of July I spent visiting art galleries in the area. The work of Alamogordo artist Penny Thomas was on my list of gallery-hopping stops.

Thomas, known as "Penny Rollin" on some of her artwork, primarily works with black and colored pencils but has a knowledge in most medias.

"Trompe L'oeil" or "Fool the Eye" is one aspect that Thomas has a fascination for. She draws subjects from animals to airplanes. Her goal is to get her work to look as real as possible.

"When I draw a coin, I want it to look as if I could pick it up from the paper."

Her work is displayed at a shop next door to a leather shop, "Thomases" at 9th and White Sands Blvd. Penny works at Thomases, which is owned by her parents, Vern and Jean Thomas.

Thomas moved to Alamogordo 10 years ago from Chicago where she attended Prairie State College, taking classes in graphic arts design. She also participated in the Fine Arts Program at Mentor High School, Mentor, OH. Locally she has taken classes in various media.

LA LUZ GALLERY

Thomas has been the recipient of yearly ribbons in drawing and graphics at the miniature show at Gallery La Luz. She has received numerous awards including honorable mention in the Chicago Suntimes Youth Art Contest; the Gold Key award in the Scholastic Art awards in Youth Magazine; and first and third places in the Hammond Arts and Science Fair drawing.

WHO TELLS TOKYO ROSE?

In 1945 while I was busy playing jacks or jumping rope mom read household hints in Lincoln County News. Dad was probably interested in the current events around the nation.

"Keep the Japs in the Dark!" was the front page headlines of an Aug. 3, 1945 issue of Lincoln County News:

"Censor your own talk and letters. Who tells Tokyo Rose? Japan's famous radio propaganda girl amazes fighting men by telling them where they are, where they are going, and other startling things.

"Who tells Tokyo Rose? You do!

"Surprising, isn't it? True, though! If all of us guard all information relating even remotely to the location, to the movements of men, ships and materials, or new weapons, Tokyo Rose's sources of information would be dried up and she would have nothing left for her radio program but musical recordings. Let's limit Tokyo Rose to her music.

"Don't mention the location of men, ships movements or materials to the Pacific Asiatic area. Don't tell anything that you learn from a friend or from a letter. KEEP JAPS IN THE DARK!"

HOUSEKEEPING IN 1945

Households in 1945 did not have all the modern appliances and other conveniences we have now. Basic housekeeping tips such as the ones I include in my column were available in Lincoln County News back then. Hints of 1945 included:

"If you have difficulty driving a finishing nail into hardwood without bending the nail, drive a nail through a bottle cork, then into the wood. After the nail has started well into the wood, pull the cork off and finish driving the nail.

"So that you can see what is on the back row of each canned goods shelf, have fitted in stair-step shelves that raise each row of jars about two inches higher than the previous one.

"In the kitchen where little space is available, place the trays from under the gas burners atop of the burners. A good place to stack the soiled dishes before washing them!"

MAKE PLANS NOW

Aug. 11 through 15 are Lincoln County Fair days. Now is the time to take inventory of the arts and crafts projects you have finished and enter them in the fair. You still have time to complete any items that you have started.

OPINION

Some things just never go away, even if they were never there in the first place. Take the myth that the Republican Party is the Party of War. This enduring legend probably stems from the Civil War presided over by Republican President Abraham Lincoln, bolstered by the fact that Republican President William McKinley conducted the Spanish-American War. But those two wars occurred in the 19th century. All wars in which the United States participated in the 20th century belong to Democratic Administrations: Wilson (World War I), Roosevelt (World War II), Truman (Korean War), and Johnson (Vietnam War).

One can hardly carry on a conversation with a Democrat without him mentioning that Republicans have a history of waging war. Perhaps Democrats harbor this myth because they must believe their party stands for something other than special privileges for homosexuals and militant minorities, abortions on demand at taxpayer expense, trillion-dollar budgets and unlimited amounts of money for those who don't work but who DO vote. My history book, which must be as good as yours, says all our 20th century wars were begun during Democrat Administrations.

It was Woodrow Wilson and his Democrat Administration that kicked off the 20th century by sending US Marines and the US Navy to Tampico, Mexico, and later had the Marines occupy Vera Cruz in 1915. In 1916 Wilson ordered troops to Santo Domingo, Dominican Republic. In 1917 he and his administration led us into World War I—unless, of course, it can be established that a Republican blew up the Lusitania. In spite of Wilson's war record he is better known to this day as a harbinger of peace through his support of the disastrous League of Nations and for the dream of a "war to end all wars." Amen.

Our next "biggie" was handed us with compliments of Democratic President Franklin D. Roosevelt, who lied to congress, to the American people and to the world while secretly providing all possible aid, military and financial, to Great Britain. While he was secretly funding the "freedom fighters" of that era he was on the radio telling the American people "No American boy will ever serve overseas as long as I'm president." The Japanese bombing of Pearl Harbor, which his administration provoked, gave him the excuse he needed to declare war on Germany, Japan, et al.

The Korean War began under the administration of Democratic President Harry S. Truman in 1950. It was continued under Republican Dwight Eisenhower, who was able to arrange an armistice at Panmunjom, July 25, 1953. The armistice didn't hold and the war ground on for several years.

President John F. Kennedy didn't get the US involved in a shooting war, but it wasn't for his lack of trying. He is best remembered for his inept handling of the Bay of Pigs, which caused the Soviets to move missiles to Cuba. He called out American reserves to reinforce Berlin, and grossly overreacted to the Soviet threat. His inflated, warlike rhetoric consistently aggravated cold war tensions, my history book reminds me, and states, "The big increase in military spending under Kennedy offer another example of dangerous saber-rattling, and provoked similar increases by the USSR." He also managed in 1961 to commit the US to aid the Republic of Vietnam, which commitment his successor in office carried out.

That would be Lyndon B. Johnson, another Democrat. His escalation of the war effort contributed greatly to his decision not to seek reelection to a second term. On the other hand, Republican candidate Richard M. Nixon campaigned for the presidency on the promise to end that war. He had small successes. In his first year in office he reduced our forces in Vietnam by 75,000. By 1970 US forces there were reduced below 400,000. By the end of 1972 fewer than 24,000 soldiers were in Vietnam. After Watergate in 1973, Republican Gerald Ford's administration initiated a cease-fire, but the war dragged on until 1976, when our two-decade involvement in Vietnam ended. Cost: 50,000 American lives; $110 billion in money.

So how come the Republican Party is the Party of War? The Civil War and Spanish-American War, the only two credited to Republican Administrations, happened a century ago. It seems strange that so many people can remember to connect Republicans with these two hundred-year-old wars—yet can't remember where they laid their false teeth 20 minutes ago, where they placed their car keys this morning, or what they had for breakfast yesterday.

And the myth goes on. Democratic congresses have attempted to keep war a Democratic prerogative by passing laws like the War Powers Act and Boland Amendment so as to hamstring any Republican president from impinging on their traditional right to wage war. The invasion of Grenada by President Reagan infuriated Democrats, who now demand the right to wage any other military operation by a show of congressional hands. Grenada wasn't even a war, and not a single American life would have been lost had it not been for a couple of loose-lipped congressmen who alerted their Marxist friends in the Grenada government of the pending invasion.

If I took a while for the media to find out the dictionary meaning of the term Genocid, but not before it had accepted the Soviet definition of the term as being a policy of "openness." Gorbachev announced his new policy as being "openness" to reveal some of the shortcomings of the Peoples Paradise. While liberals worldwide are dewy-eyed over such a new and drastic policy in the Soviet Union, Haguists have consulted their English-Russian dictionaries to find that Genocid means "publicity" not "openness." And publicity is what Gorbachev is getting all favorable. Are we the "useful idiots" Lenin spoke of?

Broadway's alarming AIDS casualty rate

NEW YORK—For what seemed like every hour-on-the-hour CBS News kept reporting the death of Michael Bennett, who staged and choreographed Broadway's all-time long-run champion: A Chorus Line. On Thursday, July 2, in memory of this 41-year-old genius who died of AIDS, they dimmed the lights just before the 4,958th performance of A Chorus Line.

Considering the growing AIDS casualty list from Broadway and the arts, it could be wondered if dimming the lights on this glittering Broadway classic was the most appropriate and valuable and effective memorial.

It was touching, but wouldn't it have been more valuable if they could have either excised, or altered, one of the episodes in A Chorus Line? We mean that one dancer who, during the director's questioning of everyone about their background, delivers a combination True Confession and Apologia-promo for his addiction to sodomy.

If this was regarded as an essential to the portrayal of Real Life Upon The Wicked Stage, could it now be revised into reality? For there are so many practicing homosexuals who are either AIDS carriers or AIDS patients on Broadway's and Hollywood's death rows.

Twelve years ago, when A Chorus Line opened and became a hit, things were enormously different. Sodomy, according to one segment of this huge hit, was purportedly no more than just an "alternative life style," opposed by the allegedly Blue-Nosed Majority, who simply needed educational conversion in view of their old-fashioned convictions. So this one male dancer tells all and delivers an appeal for tolerance of buggery (which classic and legal word he does not, of course, mention in his sexual orientation soliloquy.)

Would the producers of A Chorus Line be willing to revise this invitation to either sodomize or sympathize? It is not likely.

Not even with actor-playwright Harvey Fierstein contemplating Bennett's untimely death and announcing:

"We have suffered terrible losses, but we're not the only ones. I know bankers. I know people who work in bookstores. I know... people who are unemployed with AIDS!"

There was no acknowledgement from Fierstein that the buggers of Broadway not only brought it on themselves but, where they are bisexual, distributed it to heterosexual women.

If the idea of chastity has ever even occurred to Mr. Fierstein, it appears to have come and gone rapidly. For his worry, as expressed in The Washington Post, is:

"I'm afraid that kids wanting to come to New York to work in the theater will be told by their parents: 'Don't go! Everyone there has AIDS!'"

Well, not EVERYONE! Just a long, long death list—which is growing. And this is because there are few, if any, voices on Broadway that are willing to suggest abandonment of buggery as an alternative to early death, both for one's self and for what may be millions of other Americans.

Mr. Fierstein, along with Colleen Deuhurst, president of Actors Equity, declares that what is really needed is — not self-control, folks — but education!

Yes! That's it! There hasn't been a daily newspaper in the Western World that in the last six months has had a day go by without an AIDS story. Other literature on AIDS has been as massive as chastity has been rare. And the homosexual community keeps assuring the public that it is practicing "safe sex" — with condoms, which leak and break.

But Fierstein of Broadway declares defiantly: "Nobody ever has to get AIDS again. It doesn't have anything to do with quarantine or any of the garbage the heterosexual community has been talking about."

That's it, Mr. Fierstein: Garbage! But there is talk of it. And quarantine would seem to be one hell of a lot more effective than your "education" — which continues right along with more and more light-dimnings along the Great White Way.

SANTA FE—Who are our state's most valuable public servants? Does the governor head the list.

It seems fairly obvious or at least desirable that the governor should be the most valuable. But that is not the way it works out even in our materialistic society when it comes to compensation.

By statute the governor receives $63,000 per year. That figure can only be changed by the legislature with which governors frequently do battle. How would you like having to go to your biggest competitor whenever you needed a pay increase? That may be why governors don't receive salary hikes very often.

All six state university presidents are more highly compensated than the governor. These are University of New Mexico president Gerald May at $90,000 a year; New Mexico State University president James Halligan at $88,525; New Mexico Institute of Mining and Technology president Laurence Lattman at $80,000; Western New Mexico University president Rudy Gomez at $75,000; Eastern New Mexico University president Bob Matheny at $72,673 and New Mexico Highlands University president Gilbert Sanchez at $71,400.

University presidents also typically receive a house furnished by the university, an expense account for maintaining the house, an entertainment expense account and a car or car allowance. The governor also receives these same fringes so in this instance we are comparing apples with apples.

The New Mexico Junior College president in Hobbs also receives more than the You're an ex-officio, congratulations!

EDITOR—This letter is addressed to the Sierra Blanca Airport Commission, attorneys for same, and the Lincoln County Commissioners.

Speaking as a Lincoln County resident for many years, but not of the village of Ruidoso, please permit me to express my feelings of anger, frustration, and sorrow. I am not an adversary of our new airport and my voting record will certainly bear this out.

As everyone knows by now, there are only two entities who will control the new airport and will make any decisions which will certainly have to be made in the future. These entities would be the Village of Ruidoso and the Lincoln County Commission. The Mescalero tribe, Ruidoso Downs and Capitan are now "ex-officio" members. The reason behind this decision was because these entities could not or would not contribute financially to the design and construction of the new airport.

On the contrary, these ex-officio members, along with the other two, contributed $500 per year each for 10 years. It wasn't much, but it was all we could afford, and it did serve to get the airport on the drawing board.

Since the county commission has passed a tax increase to further the construction and cover the short-falls, every citizen in Capitan will continue to contribute to the cause, like it or not.

Now enters Carrizozo and Corona. These villages were asked 10 years ago to become entities on the airport commission, but due to their remote locations or other reasons, politely refused. But now, since their money is needed, they have been drafted, and the grand title of "ex-officio" members has been bestowed upon them.

Has any one ever stopped to think what the combined population total of Capitan, Carrizozo, Ruidoso Downs, Lincoln, Corona, Hondo, Nogal, and all the other small communities of Lincoln County would be as opposed to the population of Ruidoso?

Consider where these communities do most of their shopping and also consider the taxes, both past and future, and tell me again who is paying the most on this so called shortfall.

With six voting members on the new commission, sooner or later there will be a deadlock and the five other "ex-officio" members will be offered no say-so whatsoever.

Just for public record, I think our Mayor Benny Coker has done an outstanding job for you during the past several years on the airport commission and deserves at least some recognition for his contributions.

Speaking for myself, I feel that every resident of Lincoln County, Ruidoso notwithstanding, has been violated to some degree.

All in all, I still feel we need this airport and I wish you well.

DAVE STRICKLAND, Capitan Village Trustee.

Bataan, Philippine survivors sought

EDITOR—The surrender of American troops in the Philippine Islands at the beginning of World War II had a tremendous effect upon the State of New Mexico.

I am currently researching the impact the Philippine surrender, and in particular Bataan, had upon the communities of New Mexico—economically, socially, and emotionally. In order to have accurate information, I must know of all New Mexicans who were stationed in the Philippines in late 1941 and early 1942, and their New Mexico hometown.

I have a list of enlisted men in the 200th Coast Artillery as of March 1942, so those names are available to me. Were you (or someone you know/knew) an officer in the 200th, served in another branch of the United States Armed Forces, or a civilian in the Philippines? Please help me in my search by sending me the following information on a postcard: the name of the individual, the branch of service and unit, rank, age in 1941, New Mexico hometown, and if they survived or not (if you don't know all that information, give what you can). This would provide me with valuable information and help ensure that my statistics are as accurate as possible. My address is given below.

You need not be a survivor yourself or a relative of a survivor. If you can provide is the name, service and hometown, that may be more than I currently have. This period is an important part of New Mexico's history and little has been done about it. Time is now the enemy, for the longer we wait the fewer there are who have first-hand knowledge. Thank you for helping spread the word.

EVA JANE MATSON, 2130 Hixon Drive, Las Cruces, NM 88005.

Congress, investigate thyself!

EDITOR—Some thoughts to ponder regarding the Iran-Contra hearings:

Perhaps the covert action conducted by some members of the National Security Council was inevitable when one considers the facts. Namely, that some members of the congress, including the ex-unlamented Speaker of the House from Massachusetts, apparently did everything in their power to prevent aid to the Contras. Not content with this, some members have gone so far as to support the Communist cause in Nicaragua financially.

If the above is true as the hearings have brought out, perhaps as Colonel North pointed out, there is enough blame to go around and thus far at least Congress has shown little inclination to shoulder its share of that blame, and in fact refuses to even consider that aspect of it.

In view of their irresponsibility in passing the Boland Amendment, their sanctimonious questioning and questioning of Colonel North and Admiral Poindexter would be almost laughable if it were not so ominous.

If Congress intends to conduct foreign policy meddling in every aspect of it, some members even leaking information to prevent certain covert actions, we are indeed in trouble in this nation.

The American people have a duty as well as the right to communicate with their congressmen and express their disapproval of this attempt to usurp the rights accorded to the president and his executive branch of government.

Twenty-four children participated in the event. Next Playday is set for Aug. 9 at the fairgrounds in Capitan.

County 4-H attend state conference

Ten 4-H delegates, Sid Gordon and Charlotte Hill, attended State 4-H Conference at NMSU July 13-19. Present were approximately 850 senior 4-H members from across the state.

Beverly Bell won state record book competition in achievement.

Sandra Copeland won a $750 scholarship as well as a trip to Chicago from the Santa Fe Railroad. Beverly and Sandra will both attend the National 4-H Congress in Chicago in December.

Jason Hill got 1st in public speaking, Leah Patterson 2nd in impromptu public speaking, Dawn Hill 3rd in clothing demonstration and Marsha Hecker got 1st in meat ID.

Sandra Copeland was 1st high point individual in crops; Dan Bell also judged crops. Warren Russell got 5th high sheep showmanship.

Dawn Hill, Terry Kirby, Lisa Hightower and Dan Bell did consumer decision making judging. The Lincoln County delegation also helped with programs and spotlights during the state fashion review.

Vega bowls 'em over in state tournament

Fred Vega of Carrizozo won the singles scratch with a score of 806 in the three-game series in the 34th annual New Mexico Men's Championship Tournament held in Albuquerque.

He received an "800" ring for his win. He also placed 4th in all events and 2nd in scratch in all events. He missed winning a trip to Florida by seven pins. The trip would have been an all-expense paid trip to participate in the Masters Bowling Tournament.

governor as do the second in command at UNM, NMSU and NMIMT and the third in command at UNM and NMSU. If the governor had been interested only in compensation he might have done better to have stayed with his old employer, NMSU, and worked his way up through the ranks.

The highest paid employee working for a state agency is Dr. Ann Hughes, a psychiatric physician administrator who was brought to New Mexico as part of the effort to finally achieve accreditation for the Las Vegas State Hospital. Hughes is paid $85,164.

There are 21 other physicians working for state government who make more than the governor. They are all covered by the state personnel system, but as a result of special provisions can be paid more than the $55,550 maximum for classified state employees.

The only state agency employee other than these physicians who is currently paid more than the governor is state investment officer Pete Hidalgo at $73,000. Hidalgo is an exempt employee which would normally mean that he could be removed at anytime the governor desires. We understand, however, that Hidalgo has a contract which protects him from hasty removal by a governor angered by an investment decision such as continuing to invest in companies doing business in South Africa. The rationale for the high salary is the necessity of having a top-notch professional to invest the state's money. Hidalgo can win or lose much more than his annual salary in any transaction he makes for the state.

Three local school superintendents make more than the governor. These are Albuquerque superintendent Lillian Barna at $78,750, new Los Alamos superintendent David Barbosa will make $84,000 and Hobbs superintendent Edgar Wilhelm receives $63,906.

2 1/2 inches of rain and violent winds ended Thursday night.

There were 2,184 registered visitors at the Smokey Bear Museum July 19-26.

Cathleen Massey is now back at her duties at the Smokey Bear Museum. She is not completely well but able to be there. Keep smiling on, Cathleen, we need you.

Highlights of last week was the Capitan Class Reunion, with 300 attending. Everyone really enjoyed it. Some left Sunday and some are still here. My heart was with all of them though I was unable to attend. Many came to my home; what a joy for me. Those who came were Lucille Alton Tiffin, Albert and Vera Arnold, Canyon City, CO; Mrs. Madge (Lee) Miller and her Joy Flower, of Las Cruces; Byrd and Evelyn Parks of Mountainburg, AR; Jimmy and Beaula Kent of Canyon City, CA. Those children of yesterday give a senior such a joy. I later did see Jean and Percy Parker, R.L. Womack, Wallace Merchant and wife, Eva Mae Coleman of Alamogordo. I hope to meet them in two years.

Richard (Pappy) Coons still answers to dog calls in Capitan and will until our city decides on the contract.

Madeline Cheney accompanied her grandson, Fred Cheney of El Paso, to West Liberty, KY while he was enroute to Connecticut. She visited her daughter, Evelyn,

Mr. and Mrs. Erwin Grover for six days, and they returned last week.

Dean and Glenys Wade of Houston, TX are vacationing at their summer home Rancho Torres.

Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Payne and family attended the Ward Leslie reunion at the school in White Oaks last Saturday. They enjoyed a good time with good food, barbecue and dance.

Vernon Payne of San Angelo, TX visited them while he was here attending the class reunion.

Chris Peralta, who is employed with R.O. Communications in T or C, spent last weekend at home with his parents and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Tate just returned from a vacation in Minnesota. He allowed the Capitan Junior Riding Club to practice at his arena last Sunday due to the Capitan arena being flooded.

Benny Stensrud of Chico, CA is here visiting her father, Candelario, and family and the class reunion. She talks to Pearl Sauderback on the phone and has been to visit her and reports that Pearl is very happy in her Washington home.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard (Pappy) Coons attended his 40th class reunion in Yoleta, TX where 375 attended. They reported a good time with good programs, barbecue and dance. He stated the orchestra played music from 40 years ago to this date.

Mr. and Mrs. J.C. Harris of Ruidoso Downs, accompanied by Willa Mae Luck of San Diego, CA spent several hours visiting me at my home last Wednesday afternoon.

Nicki Fonder Taylor is still in a coma after a one-car accident, July 3. She is in St. Mary's Hospital in Roswell. I wish her a good recovery.

Buddy Morris died Saturday in an Albuquerque hospital. He was buried in the Timie cemetery.

Edna Larmie Wright, who was a longtime resident of Capitan. Her husband, Phil Larmie, died here. Here is her obituary.

Edna Marie Wright of Canyon City died in Colorado Springs, CO July 19. She was born June 15, 1902 in Davenport, Iowa to Theodore P.H. and Bertha (Foelsag) Lantau. She was 85 years of age at the time of her death.

She was a retired Selective Service officer for 20 years in Canyon City. She retired from the Civil Service April 10, 1970. She also worked at the Royal Gorge Bridge. She was a member of American Legion Auxiliary Post #13, Colorado Rebels Riding Club (past president), Fremont County CowBelles, 4-H Grandpa's Square, South Canyon Club, BFW, South Canyon Ditch Company, and Railroaders Sams.

Mrs. Wright moved from New Mexico to Canyon City in 1937. She married Lester Wright May 4, 1957 in Capitan, NM. He preceeded her in death July 1, 1986.

She is survived by six step-daughters, a sister, sister-in-law, numerous step-grandchildren, nephews, nieces, a cousin and a host of friends. Services were held July 22 at the Andrews Funeral Home with the Rev. Wesley W.

Steinmetz officiating. Interment was in Mountain Vale Memory Gardens.

SENSIBLE SWEETS

Chocolate-Cocoa Cheesecake Tarts

Attention: Diets and diabetics! If you're a "chocolate" here's a tasty chocolate treat without too many fattening calories and without added sugar—luscious Chocolate-Cocoa Cheesecake Tarts.

This is a "sensible" recipe from Equal, low-calorie sweetener, so each 1-1/2 inch tart has 2/3 fewer calories than a slice of traditional cheesecake. And this recipe is easy to make. Short cut cooks can even substitute prepared graham cracker tart shells for the homemade crust. (Note: A prepared 8-inch crust has 165 calories.)

Even if your family isn't concerned about calories or too much sugar, they'll love the taste of these rich tarts.

CHOCOLATE-COCOONUT CHEESECAKE TARTS

Crust (or 12 already prepared tart crusts)
 3 cups graham cracker crumbs
 1/4 cup diet margarine, melted
 Non-stick vegetable spray

Filling
 1 envelope unflavored gelatin
 1/4 cup skim milk
 3 tablespoons cornstarch
 1/2 cup skim milk
 2 eggs
 *20 packets Equal, low-calorie sweetener
 3 cups cottage cheese
 1 package (8 ounces) low-calorie cream cheese
 3 packets (1 ounce each) unsweetened liquid chocolate
 1-1/2 teaspoons coconut extract

Crust: Blend graham cracker crumbs and melted diet margarine. Press crumbs evenly over bottom and sides of 1 dozen 3-inch tartlet pans or 2 dozen 1-1/2 inch muffin pans sprayed with non-stick vegetable spray. (If using muffin pans line with muffin/cupcake paper liners.) Bake at 350° F for 15 minutes. Cool. Filling: Sprinkle gelatin over 1/4 cup milk to soften. In saucepan, blend together cornstarch, 1/2 cup milk and eggs. Cook over medium heat stirring constantly, until thickened, about 5 minutes. Stir in gelatin mixture until dissolved. Remove from heat, add Equal. In blender, puree cottage cheese until smooth. Add low-calorie cream cheese; blend thoroughly. Combine cheese mixture, egg mixture, liquid chocolate and coconut extract until smooth. Pour into crusts; spread evenly. Chill 4 to 6 hours or overnight.

Makes twelve 3-inch tartlets or 24 1-1/2 inch tartlets, 1 tart per serving.

Calories per serving:
 3-inch: 242; 1-1/2 inch: 121
 Diabetic exchange:
 3-inch: 1-1/2 nonfat milk, 3 fat;
 1-1/2 inch: 3/4 nonfat milk, 1-1/2 fat

*This recipe was developed especially for Equal low-calorie sweetener with Nutra-Sweet. Success cannot be assured if other sweeteners or preparation methods are used. Other low-calorie sweeteners (such as Sweet 'N Low) contain saccharin and are not recommended because they leave an aftertaste.

- 2 teaspoons pure vanilla extract
- 1-1/2 cups all-purpose flour (unsifted)
- 1/2 teaspoon baking powder
- 1/4 teaspoon baking soda
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 3 tablespoons milk
- 1/3 cup finely chopped walnuts

Lemon-Vanilla Topping*
 Preheat oven to 325° F. Grease and flour an 8-inch loaf pan; set aside. In a large bowl with an electric mixer cream butter and sugar until light and fluffy. Beat in sour cream, eggs and pure vanilla extract. On a square of wax paper combine flour, baking powder, baking soda and salt. On low speed add dry ingredients alternately with milk, beginning and ending with dry ingredients. Stir in walnuts. Turn batter into prepared pan; spread evenly to edges. Bake until a toothpick inserted into the center comes out clean, 50 to 55 minutes. Place pan on a rack. Slowly spoon Lemon-Vanilla Topping over cake. Run spatula around sides of cake to allow excess to drip down. Cool in pan for 10 minutes; turn out onto a rack to finish cooling.

*Lemon-Vanilla Topping: In a small bowl combine 1/2 cup sugar, 3 tablespoons fresh lemon juice and 1/3 teaspoon pure vanilla extract.
 YIELD: about 12 portions.

We believe that being a teenager is tougher than it looks.

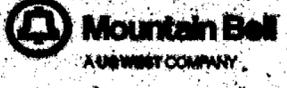

It's easy to remember the great times, the first loves and the last laughs of the teenage years. It's also easy to forget the frustrations, the pressures and the dark doubts about self-worth and the future.

That's where a unique program from Mountain Bell is making a big difference to ninth grade students throughout New Mexico. It's called Choices. And it's about facing the tough questions—and getting the right answers. Led by 81 Mountain Bell volunteers, the two-day Choices program has given over eight thousand students the opportunity to discuss their questions and options about college, career—and even the value of staying in school. In Aztec this year, a young girl changed her mind about quitting school after taking part in the Choices program. She said it made a lot of sense to stay in school after hearing about the job prospects for drop-outs.

Other students say that learning about what to expect after high school graduation makes an important difference in their plans. By spending time with Mountain Bell Choices volunteers, young people are learning that the choices they make today have consequences far into the future. And Mountain Bell is demonstrating its commitment to providing answers to some important community needs.

Lincoln Ramblings

By Rosalie Dunlap

First, a clarification on Charles Jones. He first underwent surgery a few months ago for the removal of a kidney. He recuperated from this surgery in fine shape, then had his lung surgery recently, and is doing fine. The surgery was done in Las Cruces.

Nikki Ponder Taylor was supposed to have undergone surgery on her hip and leg last Friday at St. Marys Hospital, Roswell.

We all lost a dear friend with the passing of Buddy Morris.

The Morris family always took part in the Lincoln Pageant and Buddy always had a great time—a smile, a joke, a word of encouragement for everyone.

Buddy asked little of anyone, always being an independent person. We will all miss him. Everyone is asked to donate to the Mormon Church Missionary fund in lieu of flowers.

Clint Henson has arrived in South Africa. He will be gone for a year.

Clint was so determined to go he did all kinds of work to earn his way to South Africa.

His determination paid off in earnings of over $1000 in a month, and the respect of his employer. We hope to be hearing from Clint on his experiences.

Joy Slane attended the Old Frontier Days in Cheyenne, WY with her older son, Riley Henson from Albuquerque.

The pageant grounds are looking good. All the wooden seats have been reinforced, grounds mowed, a new ticket booth built on the westside of the grounds, and general clean-up.

Casting is shaping up, rehearsals are in progress and enthusiasm is great.

Ronnie Barone will play Billy the Kid with Randy Barone as the Kid's voice, Dave Parks as narrator, Dan Storm as Buckshot Roberts with Ralph Dunlap as his voice. Diane Shrecengost is this year's director again. Others involved are Diana Meyers, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Ward, Matt Borowski, Katherine Sanchez, William Beckley and many others. As parts are firmed up this week I'll have more participants next week.

Fiddlers contest, Saturday afternoon 1:30; Parade, Sunday afternoon, 1:30.

Bill Shrecengost Sr. of Santa Fe was a weekend visitor in Lincoln. He was here for his grandson's 11th birthday.

Thomas Shrecengost celebrated his 11th birthday party with a few of his friends Saturday night.

Diane Shrecengost is keeping busy working at the Wortley Hotel and the Silver Dollar.

We are all going to miss Harriet McGinnis. She is making her home in Big Springs, TX. Good luck, Harriet. The DeWain family, the new Capitan school principal, is leasing her home. Welcome to Lincoln.

Mr. and Mrs. Peg Pfingsten are expecting Mrs. Deanna (Ralph) Vance for a short visit this week.

Lincoln town is a busy place. The McSwen Dig keeps finding exploded rifle bullets (Henry 44) and they think they may have found the west wing wall. The new museum of Spanish Heritage at the Montano building is receiving its share of visitors.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Hart visited in Colorado last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Gary Miller and Doug have returned home from a three-week trip to England.

Welcome to Lincoln to Mr. and Mrs. Willard Davis who bought the Charlie Smith home. They have the Old Mountain Trails Trading Post at the Gazebo Shopping Center, Ruidoso. Also to Mr. and Mrs. Hershel Anderson who bought property west of Lincoln. They plan on putting in a cherry orchard. They already have their acreage fenced, and it looks very nice.

There will be a benefit dinner for Larry Brinkley, injured sheriff deputy, at the Silver Dollar, Aug. 10. The dinner will be $9.50 per person. All proceeds will go to the Larry Brinkley fund to help defray medical costs. Reservations required. Also a fund has been set up at the Bank of Ruidoso and the Valley Bank of Commerce, 2nd St. in Roswell. Larry is in the hospital in Albuquerque. Buddy Morris was his father-in-law, and both were in the same accident.

Raejean Barone is visiting in Houston, TX.

Hazel Day, Lorena Ratcliff, Phyllis Zumwalt and Rosalie Dunlap attended the Ruidoso-Hondo Valley Extension Club tea at the home of Charlotte Hill last Wednesday.

Albert Sanchez has moved to a mobile home. His plans on camouflaging the home look great. When he is finished you won't know it's a mobile home.

Lincoln County Fair Books are now available at the Lincoln County Extension office in Carrizozo.

Lincoln had a small crime wave over the weekend. The Wortley Hotel had liquor and cash stolen. The thieves gained entrance through a screen in the kitchen area. Some cars had the gasoline siphoned.
