Man being held as murder suspect

"Currently there is an ongoing homicide investigation in Lincoln County with the Lincoln County Sheriff's office in charge of the investigation," Harry Wilcox Jr., senior trial prosecutor for the 12th judicial district attorney's office, told the NEWS Wednesday. "The sheriff's office initiated the investigation shortly after 7 p.m. on Oct. 13."

The investigation determined a male victim had allegedly been murdered on the Storm Brothers Ranch in Glencoe. Wilcox said that after consulting with the sheriff at the scene of the homicide it was determined that it would be in the best interest of the investigation to call in the state police crime lab to process the forensic evidence. The crime lab arrived in Carrizozo at approximately 3 a.m. on Oct. 14.

"We have a suspect in custody at Lincoln County jail," Wilcox said. John Richard Baudin, 5 feet 10 inches, 135 pounds, age 25, was booked into the jail after midnight Oct. 14 and charged with an open count of murder.

Wilcox will meet with Sheriff Don Samuels to review the physical evidence which was gathered by the forensic lab team prior to filing formal charges.

"After being advised of his legal rights, the suspect did voluntarily consent to an interview with Sheriff Samuels," Wilcox stated. "I will ask Magistrate Judge Gerald Dean Jr. that the suspect be held without bond and anticipate calling a Lincoln County Grand Jury in approximately two weeks."

The name of the victim is being withheld at this time pending further notification of family.

"I am unable to confirm or deny the use of any dangerous weapons during the commission of the homicide," Wilcox said.

Wilcox invokes US Constitution

O Bar O case goes to federal court

The criminal trespass case of the State of New Mexico v. Mario Ramirez, Lindburg Abney and the US Forest Service for trespassing on the O Bar O Ranch near Carrizozo on Aug. 19 has been removed from the jurisdiction of Carrizozo Magistrate Judge Gerald Dean Jr. to federal court.

The incident leading up to the case being in court started when Carolyn Lietzman, owner of the O Bar O, placed two forest service men under citizen's arrest and brought them to Carrizozo to file charges against them.

Harry Wilcox Jr., senior trial prosecutor for the 12th judicial district attorney's office, entered an appearance on behalf of the State of New Mexico to prosecute the case.

"The case has been removed to federal court in Albuquerque by a petition of removal by the United States Attorney's office," Wilcox said. "We have received notice from federal court that the matter has been set for Oct. 22 at 10:30 a.m. in federal court at the federal building in Albuquerque for first appearance and arraignment on petition for removal."

"I anticipate filing a motion to remand the case back to state court under the doctrine of abstention," he said. "When our forefathers met and penned our constitution, and after convening with 55 state delegates, the concept of federalism was well delineated, leaving matters of national concern, such as trade, commerce and national defense, to the federal government and leaving state's certain rights, including criminal law with the state government. Our forefathers provided in the constitution for the concept of separation of powers."

"There is a delicate balance between the federal and state governments," he continued. "I will ask the federal judge to cloak himself with equity and harbor our forefathers intent by preserving that delicate balance and abstaining from federal jurisdiction in this matter. Clearly there is no federal question and the matter should be remanded back to state court where it belongs."

Nielsons files protest in airport road bids

By RUTH HAMMOND

Construction of the access road to the Sierra Blanca Regional Airport is being halted due to a written protest filed by New Mexico Nielsons Inc. The written protest was received by Bohannon-Huston Inc., engineers for the road project, on Sept. 29.

Ruidoso municipal judge Bill Payne was designated as hearing officer to preside over the hearing and render a judgement. Payne, a former Lincoln County magistrate judge and Carrizozo municipal judge, will notify the parties of his decision by Oct. 15.

The protest letter submitted by Chris Eastin, president of New Mexico Nielsons, Inc., referred to a section of the procurement code that became effective June 19, 1987 that requires that bids exclude gross receipts or local option taxes.

Frank Salazar, representing Nielsons, stated that the rebid on Sept. 17 was more than a violation of the procurement code and asked for fairness and equity by having the project rebid.

Nielsons, Inc. of Cortez, CO had submitted the apparent low bid at the original bid opening on Aug. 26. New Mexico Nielsons, Inc. of Santa Fe submitted a bid that was $151,922 more than the low bid submitted at the rebid opening on Sept. 17.

Twin Mountain Rock Co. of Albuquerque submitted the low bid at the rebid and after tabulation by Bohannon-Huston Inc. county commissioners awarded the bid to Twin Mountain Rock contingent upon approval of the state highway department.

Salazar told Payne that Nielsons had access to a certain gravel permit with high quality gravel that could be used for the construction of the access road. He referred to the first bid opening several times.

"What does the first bid letting have to do with today?" Payne asked.

"We were the low bidders the first go-round." Salazar answered and mentioned the gravel pit, apparently referring to the gravel pit that is on forest land.

"How does the gravel pit fit in with this hearing today?" Payne wanted to know. He asked if it had any bearing on the hearing and later asked, "How are you aggrieved more than the other bidders?"

Mark Massmann, manager of Twin Mountain Rock Co., clarified some things by noting that New Mexico Nielsons, Inc. did not bid the first time. Nielsons Inc. of Colorado submitted that bid and became aware that residents bidders received a 5 percent bidder preference which would have made the Twin Mountain Rock bid the low bid the first time as well as at the rebid.

It was also mentioned that the bid specifications used for the bidding were obtained from the highway department with the same language the highway department uses in all of their bids and that all bids received by the highway department have been awarded with the same wording.

Both Nielsons and Twin Mountain Rock included all applicable taxes in their bids.

All work on the access road is halted until the matter is settled.

Carrizozo paving work nearing completion

A dangerous situation on Lava Loop caused it to be deleted from the paving project that is being completed within the next two weeks in Carrizozo. Engineer Joe Shain of Pajo Technical Services told the Carrizozo board of trustees at the Oct. 13 meeting that a gas main running under Lava Loop is three to nine inches below the surface and it would be dangerous to put heavy equipment on the street.

"We will not go into Lava Loop like it is," Contractor Don Herman with K. Barnett and Sons, contractor for the street paving, told the council. He explained that the work would have to be done by hand, "With a pick and shovel."

Shain's proposal for Lava Loop was to have a drainage recommendation was to enter into a contract with engineers Wilson and Company of Albuquerque for initial water system improvements.

The work involved would not be for a complete master plan for water improvements but would include having the tank checked, pressure equalization valves installed and the drop in water pressure on the east side of town remedied.

Questions about the proposals for engineering services received by the town were asked by trustees with task force members Sims, Ruth Hammond and Mayor Bob Hemphill explaining why the recommendation was made.

3 charged in Coffee Cup break-in Three Carrizozo men are being charged with receiving stolen property under $100, a petty misdemeanor punishable upon conviction by a $500 fine and six months in the county jail, in the break-in at the Coffee Cup Cafe in Carrizozo on the night of Oct. 7 or early morning of Oct. 8.

Tony Ortiz, owner of the Coffee Cup Cafe, discovered the apparent break-in at 7:45 a.m. on Oct. 8. Entry was made through the storage room.

Charged in the incident are Timmy Barela-19, Johnny Gallegos 18, and Gilbert Silva 18. All three men entered a plea of innocent at a first appearance before Magistrate Judge Gerald Dean Jr. on Oct. 13. Trial date is to be set.

Items stolen and recovered were nine pounds of chicken valued at $27.81, 15 pounds of brisket valued at $21.75 and a case of Cokes valued at $7. Ortiz stated that he would like to have the door replaced, value of $150 to $200.

Commissioners Joint powers agreement approved

During a special meeting on Oct. 13 the Lincoln County Commission approved a joint powers agreement with the Village of Ruidoso. The agreement concerns construction of buildings at the Sierra Blanca Regional Airport.

According to the joint powers agreement, the building inspector employed by the Village of Ruidoso will issue all building permits and perform all necessary inspections on buildings and other improvements to be constructed on properties owned by the Sierra Blanca Airport Commission for an initial period of six months, with the parties reserving the right to extend the agreement by written authorization by both parties.

In response to a question about construction of the runway at the airport not being able to withstand the stress of planes landing because of caliche under the runway, commissioners responded that clay had been removed from the area and dirt had been added.

"We know of no other problems," Commissioner Bill Karn said.

Other business conducted during the special meeting concerned approval of a change order for the Alto paving project as submitted by engineer Joe Shain of Pajo Technical Services.

Fair board members named

Three new members were elected to the Lincoln County Fair Board Oct. 12 meeting: Linda Fuchs, Hub Traylor and Betty Joiner will replace Dee Proctor, Harvey Martin and Lynn Willard.

Chairman Ralph Dunlap appointed a committee to develop a master plan for the Lincoln County Fairgrounds, and will also submit an application for a grant to improve rodeo facilities.

Fair board members learned that an application has been made for Exxon over-charge funds to insulate the fair building.

The goat section of the fair came in for much discussion. Jean Cunningham is the chairman of this department. It was also determined that the 4-H people will have first priority

Motor Vehicle has new home in Ruidoso

The Motor Vehicle Division of the Taxation and Revenue Department has announced that its office in Ruidoso has moved to a new location. The address is now 1096 Mechem, Suite A-7, at the Ruidoso Financial Center, telephone 258-5293.

The office is managed by Mrs. Linda Brewington and is open Monday through Friday from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Closed during the lunch hour.

This office handles both drivers license and vehicle registration/title transactions.

Accidents at Highways 54 and 380

The intersection of Highways 54 and 380 in Carrizozo was the scene of two accidents in two days.

Raymond Johnson, 74, and Mary Johnson, 69, of Las Lunas, were injured when their 1987 Dodge collided with a 1986 Chevy driven by Karen DeBerge of White Oaks on Oct. 8.

The Johnsons were transported to the Lincoln County Medical Center in Ruidoso.

DeBerge was cited for failure to yield right of way.

A non-injury accident occurred at the same intersection on Oct. 9 John M. Kirk of Albuquerque was cited for a stop sign violation when his 1988 BMW collided with a 1982 Ford driven by David Hugh Newkirk of Capitan.

ROSEMARY ZINK, CFNP, administers emergency first aid at the scene of the accident on Oct. 8 at the intersection of Highways 54 and 380. Assisting outside the car are EMTs Tommy Guevara, John Torrison and Carrizozo Chief of Police C.A. Morales.

Carrizozo Chamber of Commerce

County medical center in an $8 million a year business

Steve Keller, administrator for the Lincoln County Medical Center in Ruidoso, was guest speaker at the Oct. 13 Carrizozo Chamber of Commerce meeting. He gave an informal talk about the hospital and explained that it is a health care facility for the entire county.

Referring to the hospital as "your hospital-your facility," Keller said the hospital takes all people. "The 42-bed hospital has more specialists than primary care and new doctors are coming in," he added.

Renovations, including a new roof and increasing the sizes of the laboratory and radiology departments, were described. He said the Corona clinic had been reopened and "we are looking at more expansion in physical therapy."

Approximate figures for the past year: 1,000 in-patients, 6,000 out-patients, 3,600 emergency room patients, 180 out-patient surgeries, 310 births and a total of 12,000 people seen at the hospital.

"The Lincoln County Medical Center is the largest private employer in the county," he said. "Wages paid every two weeks total $94,000." The hospital brings in $8,000,000 every year.

Talking about the mill levy that supports both the hospital and the Carrizozo Health Center, Keller noted that the hospital had $1.4 million in bad debts last year with more than 50 percent of these being residents of Lincoln County.

Dr. Dale Goad, dentist at the Carrizozo Health Center, told of the cooperation with the present administration and the county manager Suzanne Cox.

Lincoln County Assessor Marian Schlarb spoke about the "great administration for medical people and the EMTs."

Keller, formerly of Albuquerque, has been at the LCMC for 11 months. He said he is glad to be in Lincoln County and that the youngest of his four children had been born

In other business, Goad reported that the new seal on the apron at the Carrizozo Municipal Airport was being put on this week. He noted that Helene McCoy, president of Air Ruidoso, had met with the Carrizozo airport committee to make arrangements to provide regular commuter service out of Carrizozo to and from Albuquerque and El Paso.

Air Ruidoso is currently providing "on demand" service out of Carrizozo with a seven-passenger Navajo. Avis rental cars are also available in Carrizozo with advance reservations. Reservations are necessary for Air Ruidoso also.

Glen Ellison, chairman of the chamber committee to acknowledge a person each month for their efforts in cleaning up the town, noted the first four areas to be recognized.

CHAPARRAL 4-H ELECTS LIGHTFOOT

Chaparral 4-H members elected Tye Lightfoot president for the current year during its regular meeting Oct. 1.

Others elected were Randy Lesly, vice-president; Traci Kelley, secretary; Tina Aaron, reporter; Denise Lightfoot, treasurer; and Dan Bell, parliamentarian.

The group will meet Nov. 5 when members will sign up for projects for the year.

Paving

Interviews were held with three of the engineers on Sept. 23.

After a lengthy discussion about what work was to be done by the engineers, trustee Fatsy Sanchez made the motion to enter into contract negotiations. The motion passed with Sanchez and trustee Albert Baca voting aye and trustee Linda Haller opposed.

The lease agreement with resident airport manager Mike Morrison was approved.

Sanchez reported that the house numbering in Carrizozo was complete and that residents would be notified of their new permanent house numbers soon.

Procedure was started to amend wording in the penalty assessment ordinance ditch at the edge of the street and to have the town crew put in base course.

During the explanation as to why Lava Loop should be deleted from the project, trustee Eddie O'Brien excused himself and left the meeting. O'Brien lives on Lava Loop and with other residents on Lava Loop has tried to get the street improved.

In addition to deleting Lava Loop, the council agreed to delete 2nd Ave. from the paving project and to add paving of 14th Street from Birch to E Ave. and to have a culvert placed at the corner of 8th and B Ave. with a drop inlet.

The paving project will be completed by the end of the month. The project had an under run of $7,000 in earthwork and that money, along with tax infrastructure money, will be used for the additional work agreed on by the council.

In other business, Hal Sims, chairman of the citizen's advisory committee for water improvements for the town, reported that the task force's

CECIL B. MCDANIEL

Graveside services were held at 3 p.m. Oct. 15 at Nopal Cemetery for Cecil D. McDaniel, 50, of Tucson, AZ.

Fr. Ed Griffith officiated at the services, under direction of La Grone Funeral Chapel.

Mr. McDaniel was born June 11, 1937 in Nogal, where his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carl McDaniel, make their home. He was a fabricator for the Atlantic-Richfield Co.

Survivors include the parents; the widow, Georgia Ann McDaniel, Tucson; five sons, Derral, Henry, Richard and Roger McDaniel, all of Arizona; a brother, Clarence McDaniel, Colorado; a sister, Shirley Ann Falcetto, Colorado; and one grandchild.

Betty Howell reported that the Carrizozo golf course would be open year-around and signs are needed at the golf course. "The green fees are reasonable," she said.

Howell appointed Sue Stearns and Ellison to serve with her on the nominating committee for officers for the chamber.

Phyllis Schlegel announced that the Harvest Moon Ball would be held Oct. 31.

Executive director Woody Schlegel told of a man coming to his real estate office and asking about the NEWS headline of Sept. 10 about "Harassing newcomers."

When asked what his reply was to the man, Schlegel declined to comment in public but said he would give his answer in his office "one on one."

A one-vehicle accident five miles south of Carrizozo on Highway 54 on Oct. 8 caused the driver to be pinned underneath the military water tank when it rolled over. Adding to the emergency situation was a grass fire in and around the vehicle and the victim.

Quick action by state police officer Mory Pitkofsky and EMT student Mike Gaines of Carrizozo in putting out the fire and stabilizing the patient until the ambulance crew arrived helped save the life of John Gretzinger, 22, Lincoln County EMS director Nancy Guck praised the huge team effort of the state police, the Lincoln County Sheriff's Department, Carrizozo Volunteer Fire Department and the Lincoln County EMS for their efforts.

Death-fighter pins were awarded to EMT-B John Torrison, EMT students Mike Gaines, Beverly Graham, Steve Graham and Mike LaFayette, CFNP and EMT-B. Guck said a Death-fighter pin would also be awarded to state police officer Pitkofsky.

Gretzinger was transported to Gerald Champion Memorial Hospital in Alamogordo and later moved to the Fort Bliss hospital where he remains in stable but critical condition.

A one-vehicle rollover north of Carrizozo on Oct. 8 left the driver Micci Boyce injured.

She was transported to the Lincoln County Medical Center and released.

Two Fort Bliss soldiers were killed in a single car accident four miles north of Carrizozo on Oct. 7. The vehicle was traveling southbound on Highway 54 at a high rate of speed when the driver lost control and the car skidded off the highway and overturned three times. Officers reported that the vehicle probably flipped end over end once.

Both men were ejected from the vehicle. The driver Michael Cox, 22, was pronounced dead at the scene and the passenger Steven Grove, 22, died enroute to the hospital.

Officers said alcohol was involved and stated that had the victims been wearing seat belts they probably would have survived the accident.

Saddle up, folks. We've got a lot of territory to cover this week.

In Des Moines, Iowa, Mr. Bill Wadie has come up with a solution to the problem of drunk driving. Just handle DDDS (Drunk Driving Death Syndrome) as we are handling AIDS. By applying the AIDS philosophy of solving the problem, he comes up with this error-proof formula: 1. Declare drunk driving an alternate lifestyle. 2. Proclaim drunk driving a civil right. 3. Stop law officials from testing for drunk driving. 4. Begin massive educational programs in schools to promote safe drunk driving, including free distribution of alcohol. 5. Appoint drunk drivers to important political positions to represent the drunk driving community. 6. Demand that social security cover all costs related to drunk driving, including hospital and medical costs resulting from accidents, all sobriety programs, etc. 7. Demand that the federal government find a cure for DDDS without depriving drunk drivers of their right to drive while drunk. Mr. Wadie's proposal makes more sense than the identical AIDS program. More people die of drunk driving than they do of AIDS, so this DDDS program is of vital importance. Contact your closest bureaucrat. (Make that "nearest" bureaucrat; there are no "close" ones.)

In Washington, DC last week 200,000 homosexual activists, led by AIDS victims in wheel chairs, marched past the White House demanding protection from discrimination, more federal funds for AIDS research, and laws protecting their lifestyle. While the nation's queers are demanding all that Mr. Bill Wadie asks for drunk drivers, perhaps we should examine how AIDS is being handled in other countries.

The toughest laws in the world against sexual contact with a person carrying AIDS is the Soviet Union. Five years in prison! For anyone actually transmitting the disease to another, eight years in prison. A new Soviet law forbids its citizens to have contact with Americans, Africans and other foreigners.

In Iraq all tourists must carry cards as evidence they are AIDS free. This goes for China and South Korea. In Taiwan, anyone knowingly spreading the disease is subject to a three-year jail sentence. In Hong Kong, homosexuality is punishable by a life sentence in prison. In India, foreign students may soon be required to furnish proof of freedom from AIDS. The bad the United States can't be as enlightened in handling AIDS and homosexuality, which is why we have more of the disease than other countries. Yet the Rev. Jesse Jackson led that parade of homosexuals and AIDS victims in Washington, and lent his support to the spurious right of homosexuals to spread their filthy and deadly disease, all the while honoring them for doing so.

Shed a tear for Daniel David Candelario. While exercising his civil right to rob a bank in Oakland, CA he found that a bank employee had planted a smoke bomb in a bundle of cash he was in the process of stealing. When poor Daniel stuck the bundle into his pants pocket, the bomb exploded. Daniel suffered severe burns in his treasured genital area, and is suing the bank and the city and society and God for $2 million. He asks punitive damages from the public, one of whom allegedly made derisive and unkind remarks about his injury. He claims that the bank and the manufacturers of the bomb knew or should have known the bomb was "inherently dangerous." Furthermore, the whole affair was an unconstitutional invasion of his "private parts." Judge Bork, where are you?

In Fort Atkinson, WI the US Department has ordered school officials to delete the word "girls" from reference to pompon girls in the student handbook, and to allow both sexes to jiggle and twitch at school functions. And the same agency has ordered Aldrich Junior High School in Beloit to change the symbol of its "Warriors" ball teams from a savage warrior to a "more majestic brave." So reports Reason Magazine. The district has 30 days to comply, else the school loses federal funds. Isn't this the same Department of Education that President Reagan promised to abolish in his first term?

Just about the time the American public becomes convinced that Congress is a composite of idocy, along come the Italians. While the Pope wasn't looking, Italians elected pornographic actress Ilona Staller to parliament on the Radical Party ticket. To thank her supporters, Staller invited all of them to Rome's Piazza Navona fountain to kiss and fondle her breasts. Her well-wishers were delighted and turned out in droves. Riot squads from the police had to disperse the erotically-charged crowd. Three pillars of the famous fountain were damaged during the melee. She is now in parliament and is immune from prosecution for obscene behavior in public.

In Moscow (that's the Soviet Union, son) a popular joke is about the Russian who goes to the auto agency and puts down cash for a new car. He asks when he can pick up the car. "In 10 years" he is told. "Morning or afternoon?" he asks. "What difference does it make?" the auto dealer replied. "Well," the man explained, "the plumber has promised to come that morning."

In California an emotional State Assembly narrowly defeated a bill that would set up social security and retirement pay for paid animal performers such as Bengi the dog and Morris the cat once their glory days are over. The bill would have forced owners of animals used in movies, TV, stage or advertising to pay 1% of their animals' pay into an Animal Trust Fund, from which grants would be made to those who run shelters for broken-down, injured, crippled and aged animal actors.

Inside the Capitol

By Jay Miller

SANTA FE—The New Mexico Oil and Gas Association Convention, held in Santa Fe last week, was a good opportunity for candidate-watching.

Since this is not an election year, no candidates were invited, according to Executive Vice-President Darwin Van De Graaff. But it is an amazing fact of political scheduling that when large numbers of influential people are gathered together, large numbers of candidates also "just happened to be in the neighborhood and thought they'd drop by."

HOPE: There was a note of optimism among many delegates. Oil prices are up some over last year at this time and the nightly news from the Persian Gulf gives every indication that foreign oil just might become somewhat scarce. Now, if we could just do something about Canadian gas.

Higher prices at the gasoline pump aren't anything to cheer about but the effect on jobs and the economy has a positive effect on every New Mexico citizen.

CHARITY: Nothing has more effect on state revenues than the economic health of New Mexico's oil and gas industry. You undoubtedly noticed the three tax increases in a period of just 14 months. Those hundreds of millions of dollars out of our pockets were merely to offset the tax losses from the "oil bidniz."

If the oil business recovers sufficiently, we might see some of that money back in our pockets, again.

But don't start spending it just right now. Lt. Gov. Jack Stahl announced to the convention that the Carruthers administration has a better idea. What we do is take all the additional tax revenues from a recovered oil industry and put them in a piggy bank for a rainy day. We will call it the "Revenue Stabilization Fund."

Some of you may ask, "Well, how does that differ from the piggybank we created 15 years ago and called the 'Severance Tax Permanent Fund'?"

A funny thing happened with that rainy-day fund. After about 10 years the oil industry was doing so well that everyone said, "Gee, we're doing so well with all our oil and gas revenues, we'll never have to use that piggybank." So we threw away the key. We passed a constitutional amendment which made it impossible to touch anything but the interest from the fund.

A year later, the bottom dropped out of our state's economy and the rainy day came.

Now, it's great to have a fund like the severance tax permanent fund. The problem is, we already did. It is called simply the "Permanent Fund." We started it at statehood and put all our land revenues in there. Now, we have two permanent funds with well over a billion dollars apiece.

Big piggybanks are marvelous—but how many of them can we poor folks afford?

FAITH: Some of the candidates who trusted Darwin wouldn't throw them out even though he would make two of any of them, were:

Congressman Bill Richardson, who dropped hints he will be running for statewide office in 1990. You can bet on it.

State Sen. Bill Valentine, dressed just like they teach you in campaign school and looking "warm and personable" just like his ads say.

Bernalillo County District Attorney Steve Schiff, explaining that his friends thought he ought to get out of Albuquerque, occasionally. Like Valentine, he's interested in the US Senate but won't announce until after the 1989 legislature.

Farm and Livestock Bureau

Water rights dominates farm, livestock meeting

The annual meeting of the Lincoln County Farm and Livestock Bureau was held Oct. 5 at K-Bobs in Ruidoso.

Hubert Quintana, newly appointed executive director of the Water Defense Association, introduced the speaker of the evening, Richard Simms, attorney for the Water Defense Association, who gave an historic overview of ownership of water rights within the State of New Mexico. He also spoke about that period in time when the federal government began to intervene on behalf of Indian tribal claims of water rights in New Mexico and other states.

Elected to the board of directors of the Lincoln County Farm and Livestock Bureau for a two-year term were James McDaniel, Harvey Ronnell, James Widner and Shirley Goodloe. They join Ralph Dunlap, Buddy Guthrie and Walt Wilson.

Members were informed that the state organization endorses the nomination of Judge Robert Bork to the United States Supreme Court.

Kenneth Nosker, member of the state board from District 2, was nominated for re-election to that position. District 2 consists of Lea, Chavez, Otero, Eddy and Lincoln counties. Nosker spoke briefly about the water situation.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Guck were present and received a scholarship in the amount of $300 on behalf of their daughter Leslie. Leslie is majoring in wildlife science and has earned a 3.29 grade point average at New Mexico State University.

The 1987 annual meeting of the New Mexico Farm and Livestock Bureau is Dec. 2-4, at the Hilton Hotel in Albuquerque.

"DON'T THINK FOR ONE MINUTE THAT YOU CAN GO OVER MY HEAD!"

Police Chief Swenor defended

EDITOR—If basic principles of character such as honesty, integrity and just plain human decency still mean anything in this day and age, I feel it is time we, the citizens of the Village of Ruidoso, take a long, hard look at how changing times and political influences appear to be shaping the future of our Village.

Dick Swenor was appointed as Chief of Police a little over six years ago. From the moment of his appointment, he wholly devoted himself to developing a standard of public safety both enviable by peer agencies and a credit to the Village itself. Whether a person is "pro" or "anti" law enforcement, an honest examination of this issue, it would have to be said that Chief Swenor and the officers under his command have indeed "fairly" and impartially executed and enforced the laws of the Village, the State of New Mexico and the Federal Government, as is mandated by the oath they are all sworn to. As a former employee of the Ruidoso Police Department, I can vouch for the fact that Chief Swenor expects excellence from his personnel. He dedicates himself to help each individual employee grow and fulfill his or her greatest potential. All of these efforts, if you honestly stop and think about it, have served to enhance the overall image and reputation of the Department . . . a formidable asset to the Village of Ruidoso.

Ironically, it was that same staunch belief in professionalism and an unwillingness to compromise ethical standards of conduct that was instrumental in forming the "beginning of the end" for Chief Swenor's service to the Village of Ruidoso. A service that this community will sorely miss. Particularly if the self-serving desires of our mayor and certain council members are allowed to dictate the police department's operations.

In July 1984, as you may recall, the Ruidoso Police Department was directed by the Federal Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms and the New Mexico State Police to assist in the conduct of a gambling raid at a private residence in the Village. As a police supervisory officer at that time, I had occasion to participate in the arrest/booking aspect of that operation. During this procedure, I was approached by a man who informed me that he had given Chief Swenor his job and that he could take it away just as quickly. . . then he informed me that that went for my job as well.

Some months thereafter, that man surfaced as a mayoral candidate, vowing as a campaign promise that if he were elected, nothing like that gambling raid would ever occur in Ruidoso again. Subsequently elected, Mayor Lloyd L. Davis has succeeded in executing those promises.

The intrusion into the Police Department's operations is demonstrated by examining some actions taken by the mayor and council: A vehicle was confiscated in a drug raid, and according to federal drug laws, should have become the property of the Police Department for use primarily in its drug enforcement operations. Instead, because this vehicle belonged to a friend of the mayor, it was taken from the Police Department and given to Village Hall for administrative usage.

One issue we should all be concerned about revolves around the headline in the Thursday, Oct. 8 edition of the Ruidoso News, regarding the selection of a new chief of police. It is well known that I am a former captain of the Ruidoso Police Department, and as a result of this notoriety, I am frequently asked "what is going on over there?" To answer everyone's question, what "is going on over there" is as follows:

Political influences are in motion here as well. I am personally familiar with the selection process as well as the articles of the Village of Ruidoso Personnel Ordinance relevant to it. I have first-hand knowledge that one candidate was not included in the process after the first round of selection procedures . . . so I cannot help but wonder how he suddenly became one of the final four applicants to be considered as he was reflected in that article. That candidate himself told me he had been eliminated in the first round and additionally said that he wasn't worried about it because Lloyd knew who he wanted. If this is true, the mayor has once again bent the Department to his own convenience . . . a dangerous forewarning of possible things to come.

As a concerned citizen of this Village, I have presented these matters for your individual and collective consideration for two major reasons:

My primary and utmost concern is for Dick Swenor. He is without a doubt one of the finest men I have ever had the pleasure of knowing, much less the privilege of working for. Granted, as a supervisor under his command, we had our differences of opinion; however, in all earnestness, I have never known any individual to give so selflessly of himself, sacrificing his family and seriously jeopardizing his personal health/well-being to achieve goals and ideals he believed in. I cannot bear to stand by and see his sense of self-worth so needlessly damaged. He has given far too much to this Village for us to casually sit back and allow him to leave office feeling that he is the scapegoat for economic depression and every other adverse situation that may confront the Village. We cannot, with clear conscience, allow this man to step down feeling defeated and convinced that everything he ever strived for and believed in has been a mere exercise in futility. Come on folks . . . we owe him much more in return for all he has done than this!

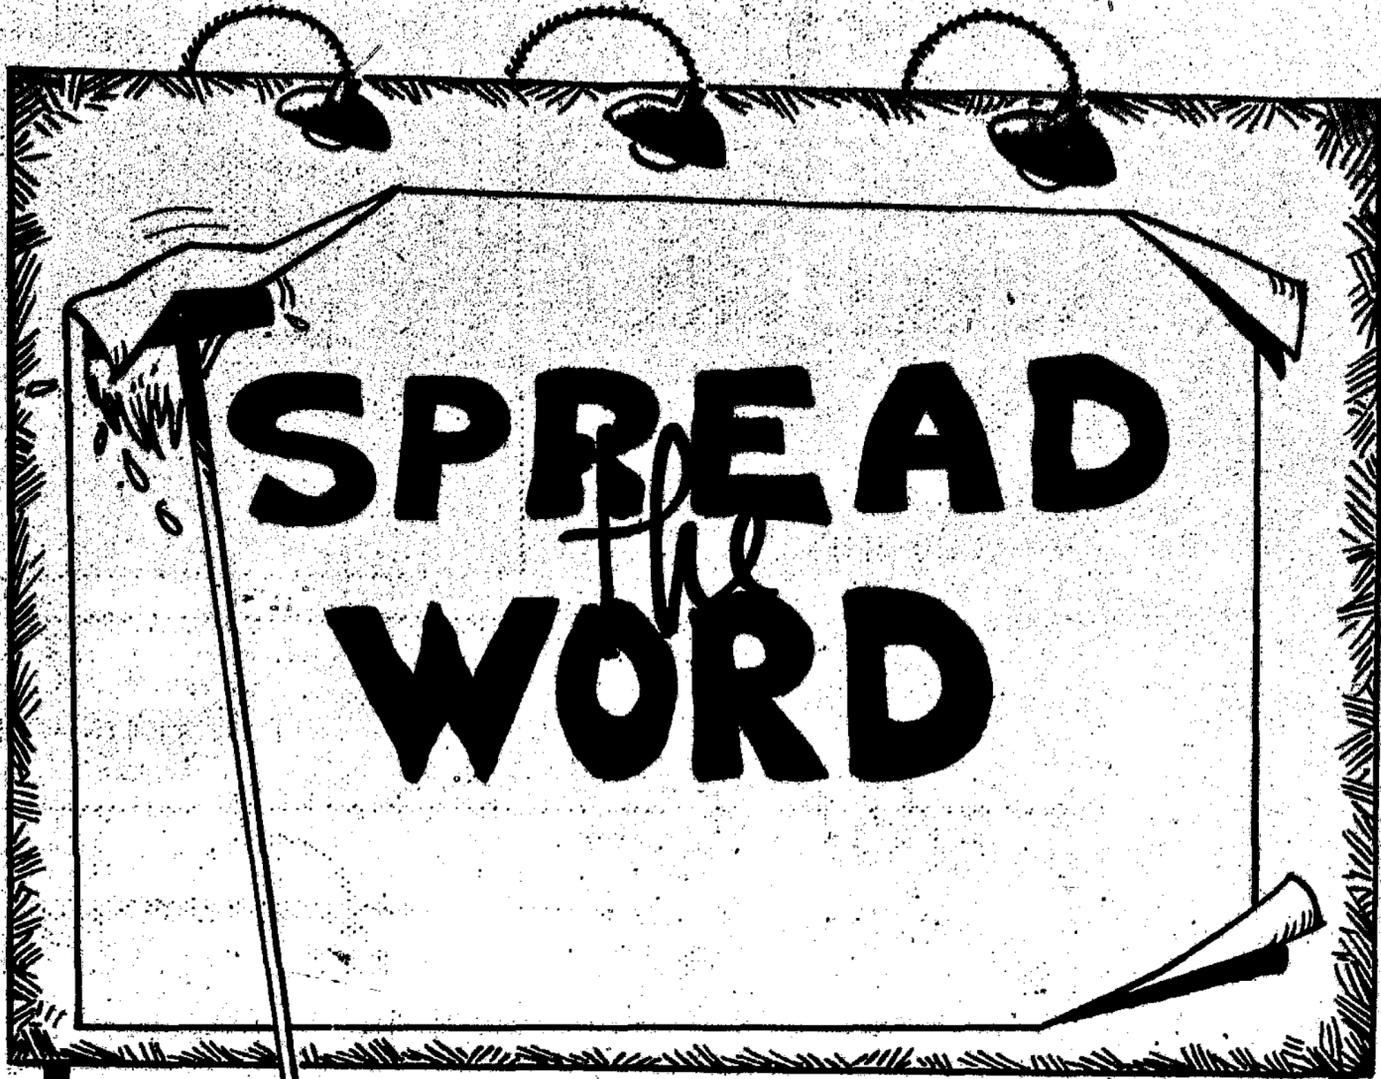

Secondly, for the very sake of our own future existence as individuals and as a community, we all need to become more attuned to what is going on regarding issues of public concern. Even if you have never been concerned about politics before, it is time to start paying attention and realizing that decisions made today are indeed crucial to our tomorrows. We must insist that only the most highly qualified individuals with the foresight to think of what is best for the Village aside from their personal desires are placed and/or retained in positions of public trust. We must also consider the extent to which we will permit our elected officials to meddle in and handicap vital departments such as the Police Department.

DAVID W. PFEFFER, Ruidoso.

ANTHONY SANCHEZ rambles against the Reserve Mountaineers. Sanchez was the workhorse in this Capitan victory. Other Tiger players are: 11, Tino Gallegos, 73, Kent McInnes, 37, Jerod Martin, and 22, Kerry Clements.

UNIDENTIFIED TIGER (dark jersey) clears the way for Jerod Martin (37) during Capitan's 35-0 victory over Reserve. Other Capitan players are: 11, Tino Gallegos, 86, Mike Shanks, 55, Bobby Coggins.

Mountaineers lose to Tigers, 35-0

By BART McDONOUGH

Kimmo Hintikka, attending the Capitan Schools on the ASSE International Student Exchange Program, kicked five straight extra points Oct. 10 as the Tigers defeated the Reserve Mountaineers 35-0. The high school senior from Finland is staying with the Howard Shanks family.

The Tigers scored early in the game when Jerod Martin went around right end and 40 yards to pay dirt. Capitan 7, Reserve 0.

On its next possession the Mountaineers began play from their own 35 yard line. John McKay, Luke Hall, Jeremy McCarty, Johnny Castillo and Heath Huey looked good on defense for the Tigers. The Tigers eventually set up play on the Reserve 39 yard line. Anthony Sanchez, Martin, and Tino Gallegos gained short yardage for the Tigers who were hurt by a holding penalty along the way.

The Mountaineers next drive was marred by a 15 yard pass interference penalty and a fumble recovered by John McKay of the Tigers. The Tigers found themselves at midfield as the 1st quarter came to a close.

Sanchez got a total of 22 yards on two plays that were called back on penalties. Capitan did complete a 9 yard pass to Johnny Castillo but were forced to punt. Reserve, operating from the Tiger 47, were hurt by two good defensive plays by Johnny Castillo. A pass then went astray and the Mountaineers had to punt.

The Tigers began this series from their own 33 yard line. Anthony Sanchez turned out to be the workhorse eventually taking the ball in from the one yard line. With three minutes 30 seconds left in the half Capitan went 14-0.

The Mountaineers couldn't get anything going and were forced to undergo the indignity of having their punt blocked by Tino Gallegos and recovered by William Beckly. The Tigers, 20 yards from pay dirt, had 2 short gains by Martin and Sanchez erased by a major penalty. Moments later Gallegos completed a pass in the end zone to Mike Shanks for the Tiger's 3rd TD. Reserve almost got a touchdown on a big pass play to McKenn, but went to the locker room at halftime trailing the Tigers 21-0.

Reserve worked an on-sides kick and began play in the 2nd half on the Tiger 45 yard line.

McKay got a big hit during Reserve's next possession. A 4th down completion fell short and the Tigers took over on their own 38 yard line. Capitan couldn't move the ball and punted. Reserve penetrated to the Tiger 25 yard line but were hurt by a penalty and 2 incomplete passes.

Capitan then drove 58 yards, Sanchez taking it in from the 8 yard line. Sanchez, Clements, and Gallegos kept this drive alive with good offensive play along the way. Capitan 28, Reserve 0.

The Mountaineers penetrated to the Tiger 14 yard line but were stopped as the result of a bad pitch out. The Tigers then mounted a 67 yard drive which was culminated with a 20 yard TD pass to Kerry Clements. There was no further scoring in the game and Capitan defeated conference foe Reserve 35-0.

Friday, Oct. 16, is homecoming for the Tigers. The tough Cloudcroft Bears provide the opposition for a 4 p.m. game that could go a long way in deciding the conference champion.

The Capitan Lady Tigers defeated the Ft. Sumner Vikings last Saturday in 3 straight games. The Tiger junior varsity lost 2 games out of 3. The Estancia Lady Bears visit Capitan Oct. 17 for games beginning at 4 p.m.

School notes: Tiger fans are asked to wear orange and black on homecoming day.

Capitan school telephones have been re-programmed as follows: elementary school only 354-2238, administrative office (superintendent) 354-2239, high school only 354-2567.

Capitan school board notes

Vicki Hall appeared before the Oct. 8 meeting of the Capitan Board of Education and asked that something be set up for the gifted student. Superintendent Scott Childress will present a plan at the December meeting of the board of education.

The evaluation model and revised termination policy were approved by the board.

Former student David Evans was approved as a custodian. David will take care of the new football field, set up some playground equipment, and work with the other custodians.

The board approved the activity transportation contract at $1.20 per mile. This allows for more money under certain circumstances.

Architect Jim French reported that everything is going smoothly with the new track and football field. The installation of the track was scheduled to begin Oct. 12 with completion in a week to 10 days if good weather prevails.

French reported a wide variance in levels concerning the new 70-foot football lights. Modifications were to be made Oct. 13. The board of education wants to be able to adjust these lights without outside assistance. It will cost $70 an hour for a crew to come from Amarillo to do this job, and the billing begins when the crew leaves that city. The board doesn't want to spend that kind of money or time. French will report back at the November board meeting.

Principal DeWees is still negotiating with the Pepsi Cola people concerning a new scoreboard. The track equipment has arrived but has not been inspected. A few modifications will be made on the fencing. The sprinkler system will be adjusted so it doesn't saturate the track. The school will seek a part time nurse while Ms. Rasco is on a leave of absence. Bus driver Roger Garner is moving and will be replaced by Billy Mowell.

The board received an enrollment report. The elementary school is "stable." High school enrollment is more than 500.

When evaluated, Capitan students are among the highest in the state.

The next meeting is scheduled for Nov. 12 at 7 p.m.

Young Capitan skier ranked 1st in state

ASPEN, CO — Capitan skier Molly Canning wins honors in the nationwide Coca-Cola Jr. NASTAR racing program. The young skier placed first in New Mexico in the 5-6 year-old category.

"Molly can take great pride in being ranked first in New Mexico in her age class. It's no small achievement for a young recreational racer," said NASTAR commissioner and former US Ski Team Coach Bob Beattie. "Especially in this Olympic year, it's important to recognize and encourage the efforts of our promising athletes."

Molly earned her season-best 76 handicap while racing at Red River, NM.

The Coca-Cola Jr. NASTAR program ranks the top 10 boys and girls in six age categories in each of 43 states. Racers are ranked according to their single best NASTAR handicap earned last season.

For the first time this winter, US Ski Team members will be setting NASTAR's national standards, so young skiers can now compare their handicaps to their favorite US Olympic racer.

Last season, more than 100,000 youths raced in Coca-Cola Jr. NASTAR at 150 ski areas nationwide. Racers compete in the following age categories: 4 and under, 5-6, 7-9, 10-12, 13-15 and 16-18.

ART LINKLETTER?

Celebrity Art Linkletter has joined the line of well-known people who are begging me to accept money.

Several Lincoln County News readers commented on the sweepstakes topic of last week's column. Jane Allred, Captain, phoned in to admit that she has been "sucked in to the misleading" practices. Cheap perfume was sent to her on one occasion.

Linkletter's plea arrived after Thursday's publication of my column in which I tell about my recent prize notifications.

"Mrs. Chavez, the only way I could hand you the one million dollar prize is if you send in your entry because your entry could be drawn as the one million dollar winner only if you mail it. Mrs. Chavez, I'm Art Linkletter and I will personally hand you your one million dollar prize if your entry is drawn as the Super Prize Winner. So, please mail it today! It could be exciting for both of us." (Mrs. Linkletter and Mr. Chavez may raise an eyebrow at Art's last statement.)

Art is encouraging me, on behalf of Spencer Gifts (mail order catalog) to mail my entry now.

Hubert Atwater Jr. of Somewhere, USA also puts in his two-cents worth. He tells me that he almost didn't send in his entry and he begs me to enter. (A photo shows Hubert receiving an envelope from Art.)

"Send in your entry!" Hubert pleads, "It's the only way you can win the one million dollars - and have dinner with Art Linkletter!"

Can you just imagine the grocery store tabloid headlines: "Art Linkletter and small town Newspaper Columnist Seen Dining!"

SEVEN NAMES

Then Spencer Gifts take over: "Which name will Spencer Gifts put on the one million dollars we give to the super prize sweepstakes winner?

"Will it be Mrs. Chandler, Mrs. Chavez, Mrs. Allison, Mrs. Russell, Mrs. McCormick, Mrs. Gardner, or Mrs. Morris?" Spencer Gifts asks.

"Only one in seven enter our sweepstakes for the one million prize. Who is it going to be? Who wants the million dollars and will send in their entry?"

FINAL NOTICE

Spencer Gifts reminds me that this is my last catalog, "our records show you have not ordered for quite some time now (I have never ordered) and we must remove your name from our mailing list."

I'M SO LUCKY

"However," Spencer Gifts continues, "if you have recently sent in an order, or plan to order from this catalog, do so as soon as possible as our circulation department has been notified to discontinue your future catalogs. As soon as we receive your order your name will be reinstated on our active mailing list."

Plus with any order of $10 or more a Christmas Bonus is reserved in the name of Mrs. Chavez. "We can't tell you what it is, to tell you now would only spoil the surprise," Spencer Gifts teases me.

Plus free with any order: Sophia perfume by Coty worth $25. (I must send $1.50 for processing costs.)

Plus I may have already won a Lincoln Town Car, a romantic Hawaiian vacation for two, a color TV or cash.

Then I spotted a note to my postmaster on my catalog: "If not forwardable, deliver to current resident."

RICH AND FAMOUS

With so many people with famous names begging me to accept money I should consider entering the political field. To be on a first name basis with so many celebrities could be a plus.

Persistent press persons may uncover skeletons in my closet and ruin my political chances. But then I could write a book and appear on a morning television talk show. I will become a celebrity. I can then beg someone to enter a sweepstakes.

LET'S GET SERIOUS

Jackie Martin, family finance specialist with the Cooperative Extension Service at New Mexico State University, warns consumers to be on the lookout for any sweepstakes operations that may be preying on unsuspecting buyers.

Sweepstakes Clearing House is a Texas-based company that sells merchandise by leading people to believe they have already won a prize. Last year the company mailed hundreds of thousands of prize notifications, but the prize was a credit voucher of $50 to $320 toward the purchase of one of several products, such as a TV or a set of luggage.

Martin says that although Sweepstakes Clearing House promotional material gives a list price for the products they are selling, local stores may sell them at a much lower price.

"What you win is the chance to buy an item you may not need for the price you'd pay at a discount store," said Martin.

MISLEADING AND DECEPTIVE

Last year the Texas Attorney General's office sued Sweepstakes Clearing House for "false, misleading and deceptive acts and practices." The company settled out of court and agreed to a 12-page judgment that tried to end the confusion between a sweepstakes and a sales promotion.

Since the company's name includes the "sweepstakes," the judge ordered that its sales solicitations must be accompanied by a "clear and conspicuous disclaimer that includes language such as: 'This is not a sweepstakes or contest.'" The order also requires the company to write on its credit voucher "not a check" and "non-negotiable." Sweepstakes Clearing House President Steven Hammond says that the required changes are merely a rewording of their mailing. "We agreed not to break the law and we never had. The fact that it was settled out of court speaks for itself." He says that the judgment won't affect his company's business "unless I get more bad press from the court deal."

Capitan News

By Margaret Rench

Last week was very dry, windy and cold with a couple of fairly warm days. The killing frost did arrive. Mr. Mayfield's dahlias are gone for this season. Leaves are falling more each day.

Capitan played football with Reserve last Saturday. Here are the results: Kimmo Hintikho tied a school record for points after touchdowns. He kicked 9. Capitan won 35-0. Anthony Sanchez, Jerrod Martin and Mike Shanks scored touchdowns. Homecoming Friday, Oct. 16 at 4:00 p.m. Tigers play Clouderoff.

The Lincoln County Co-op Shop has lots of consignment gifts from people all over the county. Drop by and check out this new little store here in Capitan. Also, they are offering ceramic classes starting Oct. 13 and Wednesday evening, Oct. 14 at 7 p.m.

The Smokey Bear Museum had 708 registered visitors Oct. 5-11. On Oct. 5, Mr. Robert Owen of Buffalo, NY was a visitor. His grandparents, William and Emma (Perkins) Hardcastle, homesteaded in Capitan Mountains in 1905. They came to New Mexico in a covered wagon and with nine children from Crockett, TX first arrived in Artesia, then went on to Clouderoff, finally ending up in the Capitan. Robert's mother was one of the nine. He visited his uncle, Tom Hardcastle, in Capitan in 1935. He said they moved to Roswell.

Van Norman and Bennie Coker purchased the Bob Aybens property, formerly owned by Roy and Sharon Horton, on East First St. in Capitan.

Thirty-three of Johnny Martin's friends gathered at his ranch home Oct. 10 to celebrate his birthday. Mr. Martin, I wish you many more such years of happiness and good health.

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Hobbs and son Howard went to Elephant Butte fishing Thursday afternoon. Charlene was already there. Beautiful weather, lots of fun, but only one fish. They just weren't biting.

Nicki Taylor's doctors in South Dakota report that she has a good chance for recovery. We wish her complete recovery.

People from Capitan who enjoyed this last weekend and this holiday fishing at Elephant Butte were Virgil Hall Sr., Howard and Maxine Wright, the Terry Strickland, Jimmy Wright, Eddie Jones, Ed Cissons and Dave Morris families.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Paul arrived home last week after several weeks' trail ride in the southwestern mountains. After two days a message arrived from Portales, NM of the death of an old friend. Her brother, Rev. Ray Pate officiated at the funeral services. After that was over they met at the home of her other brother, Cecil Pate, in a family reunion. They had not been together for five years. Last weekend Albert's sister and her husband, Lola and Austin McClain, were their guests.

During elk season hunting last Sunday we saw two elk packed out. It was great to know they are living in our area. They came from Bonita. I hope we have many elk thrive in our area. It's a joy just to know they are there.

Mark Westbrook injured his left index finger seriously last week. Take care, Mark. All will be OK soon. His parents from Texas are arriving this week to visit for several days.

Speedy recovery to Brian Wilmeth, who was injured last week. Also to Hap Allen who was injured in a bad fall. I wish them very best recovery.

Mrs. Sims, who has been to a specialist in Wisconsin has returned to her residence in Capitan after several weeks.

Only Capitan Mart, Cummins and the Village Hardware were open on this holiday. Smokey Bear Museum and State Park too is always open and the visitors continue to come.

Remember, it is time to winterize for its changing to that colder season.

We make sure rural New Mexico hears the latest.

When a pre-schooler in Deming isn't singing the alphabet song, it may be because he's not hearing all his ABC's.

When a retired construction worker from Portales has a little trouble hearing in crowds, there are things he can do to prevent further hearing loss.

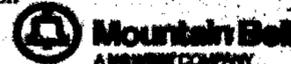

And when the beginning of a cranial nerve tumor is diagnosed in a woman from Raton, specialists can recommend surgery to solve the problem, and save her hearing.

Cases like these, and thousands of other more routine, normal hearing tests are handled every year by the Rural Speech and Hearing Program, funded by the Mountain Bell Foundation. Administered by the Department of Communicative Disorders at the University of New Mexico in Albuquerque, the program travels the state, concentrating on towns and rural areas that may never have had speech and hearing services before.

At pre-schools, senior citizen centers, nursing homes and Health Fairs, audiologists conduct free screenings and workshops, and provide expert counseling, referral and advice.

By sponsoring the Rural Speech and Hearing Program, Mountain Bell is demonstrating its commitment to providing answers to some important community needs. And a dedication to excellent communication in New Mexico, whether it's over the telephone, or over the back fence.

STANNA CHAVEZ and Lee Land were chosen Citizens of the Month at Corona Schools.

Citizens of the Month named at Corona School

Stanna Chavez and Lee Land were named Citizens of the Month during separate hall assemblies held last week at Corona Schools.

The two were selected by teachers based on their observance of school rules, exhibition of concern and regard for others, assumption of responsibility for themselves, helpfulness, and their completion of school work.

Stanna, a 4th grader in Stephanie Sour's class, is "a good student who always has her work done on time and does a good job." Her teachers noted that she is considerate of others and is very helpful. Riding her bicycle is one of her favorite things to do. She wants to become a nurse when she grows up. Her mother is Mrs. and Mr. Tranquillo Chavez.

Lee, a senior, "is respectful and helpful to teachers and fellow students alike," according to his teachers. He is on the football team and has been active in other sports. In addition, he is on the yearbook staff, is a member of FFA, National Honor Society and Student Council. He is the son of Charles T. Land and Fran Land.

Certificates of merit were presented to the honorees and their pictures are displayed on the "Hall of Fame" at the schools. Don't know that their classmates recognized and appreciated the support from the community we really appreciate the letters from the local church.

Cardinals in an easy 69-24 win

Corona Cardinals sailed to an easy 69-24 victory last weekend, this time over New Mexico School for the Deaf.

Corona senior Tommy Mulkey turned in another impressive performance which included scoring 7 of the Cardinal's touchdowns. Helping in that effort were Chad and Heath Brown, who continue to show improvement, and Dan Bell, a sophomore who tossed a couple of notable passes and effectively ran the ball during the afternoon's lopsided play.

Cardinal reservist Randy Lesly got some passing practice to Shane Owen (for a gain of 50) and to J.J. Young for 18; and Emmet Sultemeier continued to surprise opponents with his 35 yards gained on the ground through sheer determination.

Corona Coach G. Ray Johnson predicted the team would have some heavy practices this week. "We're going to get our feet wet this next Saturday," he said, referring to a reportedly tough Lake Arthur team. Corona will play there at 1 p.m. on Oct. 17.

Even though the Cardinals are 5 and 1 on the season,

THE CARDINAL defense held NMSD to only 24 points in the game last Saturday. Here Shane Owen (50) and Tye Lightfoot (33) stop the ball carrier; Tommy Mulkey is #11. Corona won 69-24.

4-H elects new officers

October 11, the Lincoln County 4-H clubs held their quarterly council meeting in Corona to elect new council officers: president, Warren Russell; vice-president, Lisa Hightower; secretary, Kelly Racher; treasurer, Kelli Rogers; reporter, Sarah Dockery; parliamentarian, Dan Bell.

Plans are to have the annual 4-H Banquet Sunday, Nov. 22 at 8 p.m. hosted by the Carrizozo club. Troy Reagan is to be guest speaker. He is the state 4-H song and recreation leader. All state officers and ambassadors are being invited.

On My Own... by Pat Kite Callentry made modern

I have just witnessed two 20-year-old females doing battle over what males should pay for on a date.

"You mean you don't pay your own way?" slammed the bantam redhead, hands on hips, her green eyes blazing disbelier.

"Of course not," replied the slender, brunette, simultaneously preening her shoulder-length curls for the benefit of the growing audience, a good portion of whom were male.

"Never?" Red said, thinking perhaps there might be some pride someplace in her adversary.

"Of course not," Brunette repeated. "How could I? I wouldn't even date anyone who expected me to give him money. That would be disgusting."

"It's disgusting to leach off somebody like a parasite," said Red, squaring off for fisticuffs.

Brunette adjusts her pink frothy sweater, making certain it hasn't accrued any dust. "If I asked fellows out," she says, "it would perhaps be a different situation. But fellows always ask me out. And if they ask me out, naturally they expect to pay."

"I don't let my boyfriend pay for me," Red says.

"So that's you," Brunette states. "You do what you want. I'll do what I want."

"But you shouldn't want to be taken care of like you were a little kid," Red persists.

"How do you expect men to realize women are equal human beings if you insist on acting like a dope?"

Brunette is beginning to get insulted. "It makes my boyfriend feel good to take me out," she says. "They like paying for me. Sometimes they even bring me roses. Does your boyfriend bring you roses?"

"I'm not talking about flowers," Red says.

On and on they went, still going at it when I departed. Since I had noticed the rapt male audience wasn't saying too much, later on that day I asked a few of them "who pays for what?" when you date? The age of persons answering was 19 - 27.

(1) The male pays, definitely. My girlfriend and I go to McDonald's for fancy dinners. Fried Francaise.

(2) If I ask her out, I always treat. If she asks me out, she treats.

(3) It's the same as if I go out with one of my buddies. We split the bill.

(4) If a girl asks me out, it's nice if she pays, but I bring my credit card just in case. If I just bump into somebody and go out to eat, it's sort of a Dutch treat.

(5) Whoever does the inviting should pay. If she objects, I pay, but I never take her out again.

(6) Sometimes I pay, sometimes she pays, but I never go halves. One time, when I thought it was her turn, she insisted on going to an expensive restaurant. So I deliberately left my wallet at home.

Everybody came up with an answer except one husky 18-year-old. "How about you, Pete?" one of the fellows finally asked.

Pete shrugged. "I don't understand what all the fuss is about," he said. "If I don't treat my girlfriend right, she just hits me until I do."

The American Legion Auxiliary held the regular meeting Oct. 6. Plans were made to have a banquet at the opening of deer season, Saturday, Nov. 7. This project is to raise funds to help disabled veterans. Comfort items were donated for disabled veterans to be sent to the T or C Veterans Home.

The American Legion and Auxiliary district meeting will be held in Moriarty Sunday, Oct. 8 starting at 10 a.m.

The Auxiliary Unit 35 will meet Tuesday, Nov. 2.

Charlie Wood died in Albuquerque at age 84. Mr. Wood will be remembered here from CCG days.

Kim Steele and two friends of Beverly Hill, CA spent a recent long weekend on the Steele Ranch here. Kim is studio manager for Cable TV Industries, Inc. Kelly Acquista Pace is a commercial aircraft broker for International Lease Corp. Cecilia Strange is administrative assistant for Parker House.

W. T. Keelin Monday was reported ill with pneumonia at the home of a daughter.

Jack Davidson remained hospitalized in Roswell Monday.

Graveside services for Jim Perkins were scheduled for Wednesday morning, Oct. 15, in the Santa Fe National Cemetery.

Walter Lee "Jim" Perkins was born Oct. 30, 1893 in Whitfield, OK. He died of cardiac arrest Oct. 6 at the La Dera Health Care Center in Albuquerque where he lived for several months.

After the death of his wife in 1973 he lived for four years with his brother in Corona, coming from La Junta, CO.

He was a veteran of WWI, serving in France. During WWII he was employed by the Santa Fe Railroad.

Mr. Perkins is survived by one brother, Archie Perkins of Corona, and by three sisters, Daisy Hillger, Mesa, AZ, Kate Schwab, Irving, TX and Addie

Jones, Tracy, CA.

Pauline McCloud, Edna Robinson and Lee Shumate attended the Pythian Sisters Grand Temple session last weekend in Deming. Edna Nourie, Socorro, presided and reported on her successful year as Grand Chief. Cedar Temple received compliments on the ditty bags and contents which included pamphlets from the New Mexico Bad Council.

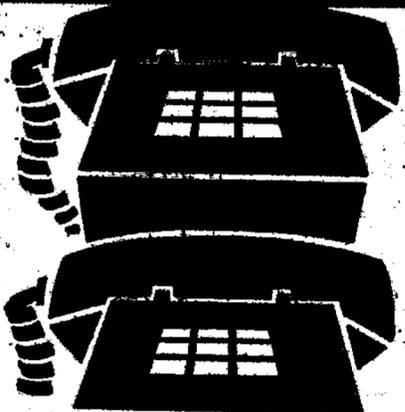

Mrs. McCloud was installed as Grand Chief for the coming centennial year. Installing officers for the New Mexico Grand Temple officers were Elinor Gorman, Supreme Chief, King City, MO; Helen West, Supreme Junior, Bay City, TX, assisted by Genevieve Jones and Mary Jane Woodruff, both of Roswell.

Cedar Temple hosted a reception honoring Mrs. McCloud. Miracle members helped with the arrangements as did Gayle Mary, daughter of the honoree. Table appointments were in shades of pink, the Grand Chief's chosen colors. Her flower is the yucca and the table centerpiece was an arrangement of silk yucca with blossoms in two rustic baskets. Punch, cake, nuts and mints were served.

Mrs. McCloud named Elsie and Ivan Thomas as Grand Temple sweethearts. She will announce committees at a later date. Victory Temple, Socorro, will host the Grand Temple session next year.

Isabel Teague, cousin of Mrs. McCloud and a Deming resident, attended the installation and the reception and invited the Cedarvale-Corona three to her home for breakfast and a visit Sunday morning before they returned home in the late afternoon.
