Carrizozo may join county economic development group

The Lincoln County Economic Development Corporation was explained to the Carrizozo town council at the Oct. 27 meeting. Ronnie Paulger, president of the 1st National Bank of Ruidoso, and Don L. Shaw, vice-president of Pioneer Savings and Trust in Ruidoso, spoke to the council about the EDC.

"We want you to join and be a participant in the organization," Paulger said. "We are trying to raise $30,000 to $40,000." The $200 membership would be "seed money," according to Paulger.

"Economic development is far-reaching. With a countywide effort we will have some clout on the state level," Paulger continued. "If the corporation is successful we will have to come back to the members for more money." "It is a long term and expensive program," Shaw said. "We have to look at a $100,000 a year budget to do an adequate job. We need a large amount of support and some financial support." He said the two major sources of development at this time are agriculture and tourism.

Class A members in the LCEDC will be municipalities and will appoint a board member. Class B members will be individual members, either own a business or be a property owner, and will elect a board members. Seven board members will be from Class A and eight board members will be from the private sector.

"Your economic development in Carrizozo is a step ahead of Ruidoso," Paulger mentioned, referring to the Carrizozo Economic Development Committee that was formed last year and has been active in responding to inquiries.

"Do not expect to see anything happen in the first two or three years," Shaw said. "We still have to develop the demographics, get freight rates, etc."

Paulger said the LCEDC has received more than 60 inquiries from the business quarter but has been unable to answer them.

No action on the matter was taken because there was not a quorum. Trustees Albert Baca and Linda Haller and Mayor Bob Hemphill were present for the meeting but did not constitute a quorum. The matter will be on the agenda for the Nov. 10 meeting.

In other business, Municipal Judge S.M. Ortiz presented new forms that will be used for persons to sign a waiver releasing the town of any liability when doing community service for the town.

Some of the people that had previously been sentenced to time in the county jail will work off their time by doing community service work with no risk to the town.

The contract for engineering services for water improvements for the town was presented to the council. This item will also be on the Nov. 10 agenda.

Hemphill said the daily police reports are coming in late. He asked Chief of Police C.A. Morales to see that the reports are in the office the day after they are worked.

The town received a letter from Carrizozo school superintendent Danny Burnett with the budget of operations for the swimming pool for the summer.

State proposal invites "a war"

Educators oppose consolidation of small school districts

By RUTH HAMMOND

"You little schools will have a war on your hands," State Representative Maurice Hobson told local school board representatives on Oct. 20. "A lot of money is spent in small school districts and large school districts like Albuquerque with 15,000 students can educate a child for $3,000 per student."

Hobson referred to the $7,100 cost per student in Corona and $3,900 cost per student in Carrizozo that the state funds for education through the state equalization guarantee.

"I think some day we will have to look at some type of consolidation," Hobson said. "Maybe share administrators." Hobson was speaking to personnel from the Carrizozo, Corona and Hondo school boards at a meeting to discuss school district boundaries, funding for students attending schools out of district and the proposed consolidation of small schools. All schools in the county were invited to the meeting.

"As far as consolidation," Carrizozo school board president Wally Ferguson said. "We are progressively going backwards if we expect people to move to town."

Corona school superintendent Lucille King agreed and mentioned that several Corona students were on the school bus as early as 6 a.m. now. Consolidation would mean even longer bus rides for students.

The meeting was attended by King, Hondo school superintendent Carlos Thomas, Hondo school board member Jimmy McTeigue, Carrizozo school superintendent Danny Burnett, and Carrizozo school board members Hoot Gibson, Tommy Guevara, Nat Palomarez, Richard Hollis and Ferguson.

Held at 5 p.m. in Carrizozo, the early time was set to enable Hobson to attend and discuss the issues before driving on to Santa Fe. Hobson, a member of the Legislative Finance Committee, asked for direction in the matters discussed.

"Have you looked at your own school?" Hobson asked when told of students attending school out of district. "Have you looked at yourselves critically and talked to these people one on one?"

"Yes, we have done that," Ferguson answered. "We have gone out one on one."

"We are really proud of our program," Ferguson continued. "We have as many of our students attend college as any school." He noted the high SAT and CTBS scores of Carrizozo students.

"I want to hear more from you," Hobson said. "I want some answers." He explained the state budget last year included $1.5 billion to run all of state government.

"We probably have better quality than big schools," King said. Corona now has two grades to a classroom in many instances. "One student lost is $7,000."

"The reason the bigger schools can educate students at less than $3,000 per student is because they have 35 students per classroom." Carrizozo computer teacher Bob Hemphill said. "If the legislature forces them to comply with Senate Bill 106 it will cost them more per student." SB106 limits the number of students in classrooms.

"A lot of the money spent at the bigger schools is not spent to educate students," Carrizozo athletic director Ron Becker said. "It is just for paper shufflers."

Hobson discussed the issues with those attending before leaving. While no definite decisions were made, Hobson said he did feel that he had a better idea of what the small schools wanted.

During the Carrizozo school board meeting held after Hobson and the other guests left, the board approved sending a resolution for consideration of the executive committee for the New Mexico School Boards Association.

The resolution strongly opposes consolidation of the existing 88 school districts in New Mexico for many reasons. Some reasons are: consolidation removes local control from rural communities, depletes a major source and perhaps the most important source of economic development from small communities, taxpayers in rural communities will be at the mercy of urban centers in terms of mill levies, bond issues and budget expenditures, consolidation presents a great potential for discrimination in that one community may be able to control the educational process and policy of another, rural educational communities have been able to provide children with classroom experiences and student/teacher relationships that urban centers have been mandated to try to provide, there will be no significant savings from consolidation and the chances for competing and participation in one or a number of activities and athletic events, for students in small school settings, will be greatly diminished.

In other business, the board approved the policy regarding appropriate access to public education for students affected with AIDS, as mandated by the state.

Policies regarding protection of civil rights and rights to privacy for employees infected with AIDS, and instruction on AIDS to students were approved as mandated by the state.

Principal Mel Holland reported that more than 90 percent of the student body attained a 2 point grade point average for the first six weeks.

Carrizozo school will not be eligible for emergency funding this year because of raises given to employees.

Change in policy for graduation requirements and grade classification was approved.

Members approved the policy prohibiting certain psychological counseling and teaching techniques, such as mind altering techniques.

Ancillary services contract for Gloria Burch to provide speech therapy was approved.

Rosemary Shafer was hired to teach three- and four-year-old developmentally delayed students one-half day for 150 days.

Trudy Torrison was employed, under the supervision of Rosemary Zink, as temporary replacement for the school nurse.

Freddie Nava's resignation was accepted. The school has received 25 applications for the job of custodian.

The 1986-87 school audit report was accepted.

The school accepted a donation by Alice Wright of a 1953 Chevrolet pickup for the vo ag department.

Domenici measure will allow fire protection at airport

The United States Senate today approved an amendment offered by Senator Pete Domenici that will make Sierra Blanca Airport eligible for federal fire protection funding under the Airport and Airways Improvement Act. The measure was attached to a bill currently before the Senate to authorize Federal Aviation Administration (FAA) spending from the Aviation Trust Fund.

"The amendment I offered today will ensure that the Sierra Blanca Airport Commission receives the funds necessary to fully equip the airport with on-site fire protection equipment," Domenici said.

In order for an airport to receive federal fire protection funding the FAA requires that an airport have scheduled service using aircraft that carry at least 30 passengers.

Without Domenici's action today, Sierra Blanca airport would not have been eligible for fire protection funding since all commuter services in New Mexico use planes seating fewer than 30 passengers.

Domenici added, "Sierra Blanca is unusual because airport officials anticipate significant charter services in the future. Ruidoso is a home year-round to tourists and attracts everybody from skiers to horse racing fans. This heavy but unscheduled passenger traffic makes on-site fire protection particularly important."

St. Jude's Fiesta Nov. 7

Bishop Ricardo Ramirez of the Diocese of Las Cruces will be the main celebrant at the Fiesta Mass for St. Jude's in San Patricio on Nov. 8.

The celebration will be in honor of the 20th anniversary of the building of St. Jude Church. The mass will be offered for Peter Hurd, who donated the painting of San Ysidro when the church was built. His painting is displayed in the church.

Featured at the mass will be the Hondo Fiesta Dancers who will dance following the mass. In the procession will be a representative of each of the mission churches of the valley, carrying the statue of their patron saint.

Following the Hondo Dancers Sunday there will be a cake walk and at 11:30 a.m. will be the Fiesta potluck.

Vehicle crash rate soars

Sheriff's office gets $50,000 safety grant

State Representative Maurice Hobson of Dist. 52 (Otero, Lincoln, and Sierra Counties) presented a grant to the Lincoln County Sheriff's Department.

The grant is from the Traffic Safety Bureau, of the State Highway and Transportation Department and provides $50,000 of federal traffic safety (402) funds to the Lincoln County Sheriff's Department to implement a Selective Traffic Enforcement Project (STEP).

According to Hobson, the project provides for the salary of one law enforcement officer and funds for the purchase of two patrol cars to patrol the highways during the periods when driving while intoxicated (DWI) and other hazardous moving violations are highest and traffic crashes are most frequent. The county will pay the salary of the officer using the second vehicle. The objective of the project is to increase public awareness and to reduce traffic crashes and related injuries by increased enforcement.

Lincoln County has experienced a significant number of motor vehicle crashes in recent years. In 1986, there was total of 510 motor vehicle crashes in Lincoln County—eight crashes involved fatalities and 146 were injury crashes with 209 people injured. In 1986, the death rate in Lincoln County was 5.4 deaths per 100 million vehicle miles driven compared with a state rate of 3.75.

STATE REPRESENTATIVE Maurice Hobson (right) presents a grant to Lincoln County Sheriff Don Samuels. The grant will provide $50,000 of federal traffic safety funds to the sheriff's department to implement a Selective Traffic Enforcement Project (STEP).

Halloween carnival at Carrizozo school

People for Kids (PFK) will sponsor the Halloween carnival at Carrizozo school to be held in the old gym on Oct. 31 starting at 6:30 p.m.

PFK president Rosemary Shafer announced there will be 20 booths including a cake walk, haunted house, bingo, jail, country store with homemade and rummage items, face painting, dime toss, basketball throw, homemade ice cream, ring toss, helium balloons, sponge throw, clock raffle, popcorn, Grizzly items, throw at a clown face and food booths.

"Many of the booths will be new this year," Shafer said. "The response has been tremendous, and we are looking forward to a successful Halloween carnival." She said there will be a cash award for the best booth.

The Halloween parade of students in costume will be at the end of the homecoming parade through town Friday at 2 p.m.

Admission to the carnival is 25 cents.

Villain to try again, this time in Capitan

Unsuccessful in his first attempts in Carrizozo, the villain will try his luck in Capitan next Tuesday when the Carrizozo Little Theater Group will present "The Trueheart Boarding House Prospers Anew" at 7:30 p.m. in the school auditorium.

The melodrama will be presented in conjunction with a chile dinner prepared by Capitan senior citizens. Cost for the dinner, play and other entertainment will be $3.50. Proceeds will go to the Senior Olympic fund. Dinner will be served at 6:30 p.m.

Directed by Beulah Moore and assistant Josh Hammond, the melodrama will be a repeat of the performance held in Carrizozo last month.

The villain, out for his own gain, with the help (?) of his inept son Archibald Jr., will try once again to win out over the heroine, members of her family and a series of has-been actors.

The public is invited to attend and "boo and hiss" the villain. Show time is 7:30 p.m. Nov. 3 in the Capitan school auditorium.

OPINION

New Mexico residents are taking the stock market crash in good humor. Nobody is jumping out of basement windows. Hamburger joints are flourishing. The economy is intact. Only those eastern yuppies, guppies and buppies are losing their TV and telephone equipped stretch-limousines—which gives them time to understand that what goes up do come down, and that it may be morally wrong to get rich off the backs of others and without producing any tangible thing to benefit society.

When President Theodore Roosevelt delivered his message to Congress on Jan. 31, 1903, he said something our greedy folks failed to grasp: "There is no moral difference between gambling at cards or in lotteries or on the race track and gambling in the stock market. One method is just as pernicious to the body politic as the other, and in degree the evil worked is far greater." And economist Henry Hazlitt saw the stock market this way: "There is no more mean, stupid, pitiful, selfish, envious, ungrateful animal than the stock-speculating public. It is the greatest of cowards, for it is afraid of itself."

Gambling in the stock market is no different than shooting craps or spitting at a crack in the sidewalk. One can make a lot of money in the stock market, and one can also make a lot of money throwing dice or playing blackjack. The difference is that playing the market is more like going to college because every time stocks take a tumble, another class graduates from the School of Experience. Playing the stocks is a respectable way to get something for nothing, or a great deal for very little. Old Sam Walton of Wal-Mart stores, lost more than a half-billion dollars in last week's market crash. His response? "It was only paper!" And paper it was. When speculators bid up the price of a corporate stock to three times the company's assets, the gain is paper.

I've never owned stocks. But several years ago I entered the metals market by buying gold at $400 an ounce as a hedge against inflation and the possibility of a worthless US currency. Two years later I sold out at more than $800 an ounce. My broker chastized me, saying gold would go to $2,000 an ounce inside a year. Within three months it went to $850 then dropped as low as $300. This taught me two lessons: first, take a reasonable profit and don't be greedy; second, don't speculate in stocks. I may have missed being a millionaire, but I haven't had to jump out of the office window, had to agonized over "what might have been," or suffer an impoverished lifestyle.

In this 200th year of the US Constitution let us contemplate the condition of individual rights, freedom and justice. In drug-ridden Miami where murder is getting monotonous, police arrested a mother who broke a law by letting her children eat canned sausages on a train because the family had missed dinner. She faces 60 days in jail. . . . In Provincetown, MA the town crier may lose his job because of allegations he said sodomists, lesbians and the devil had taken over a local church; and in further exercise of his free speech rights, he was steering tourists away from restaurants that employ homosexual waiters, proving that it doesn't pay to screw around with screwballs. . . . In San Antonio, TX a judge sentenced a convicted burglar to an eight-year prison term after the burglar complained to the judge that his original sentence of seven years in prison "was bad luck". . . . In Jackson, MS one James Luke Price, a man who helped organize a neighborhood crime prevention program, was jailed last week for burglarizing his neighbors' homes. . . . In Santa Ana, CA a 10-year high school reunion memory book cannot be printed unless it includes a photograph of a sodomist alumnus and his lover, so said the judge. . . . Last week Congress voted with the Soviets again by turning down an effort to force the Soviets to abandon its new embassy on a hilltop overlooking Washington, a site chosen because the Soviets' spy apparatus could intercept all State Department messages. . . .

One of my continuing frustrations is why the government legislates such things mandatory seatbelts to protect individuals but will have little part in protecting the entire population of the United States by implementing the Strategic Defense Initiative (SDI) or by refusing to quarantine the victims of AIDS to save us all from eventual annihilation. I went through this seatbelt fiasco in California and got to New Mexico just in time to face another mandatory seatbelt law as this state became infected with the imbecility syndrome rampant in other states. I suppose that if I went to hell tomorrow there would be somebody there to apply seatbelts to keep me from falling into the boiling cauldron. Anyway, the following item from this column of May 1978 will show my abiding distaste for seatbelt fatuity:

I have this recurring dream, that if someone bashed in a federal bureaucrat's head, the landscape would be spattered with seatbelts. Bureaucrats are hooked on seatbelts, like Joe Califano and his no-smoking obsession. Seatbelts have already been ordered on school buses, airplanes and automobiles. Now the Federal Aviation Agency wants a law to force airline passengers to stay buckled in their seats, like sardines in a tin can, for the duration of their flight. With a nod to human rights, passengers would be allowed to unbuckle to go to the lavatory. There must be unrequited anguish that the federalists haven't been able to order seatbelts on roller skates, skateboards, bicycles, motorcycles, riding horses and surfboards. We may soon be required to strap ourselves into a train seat for the Los Angeles to Chicago run. We may be fined for failure to laminate ourselves into our theater seats or fish from an open boat without seatbelts in place. It must worry hell out of our protectors that, so far, there has been no way to put seatbelts on the lowly pedestrian to prevent him from falling on his butt. I suppose the republic would be endangered if a dither fell out of his unbelted chair and ruptured his sacroiliac; so, seatbelts at the

Ben Bradlee blunders again

The Washington Post is, once again, between a rock and a hard place.

It's pampered, Pulitzer prize-winning Watergate hero, Bob Woodward, claims in his new book that he got inside the hospital room of CIA director Bill Casey, despite a 24-hour CIA guard.

And, furthermore, Mr. Woodward, and Simon and Shuster publishers, hope that 675,000 potential book-buyers will also believe that Bill Casey would have selected Woodward of the Washington Post to hear his death bed confession!

If you are naive enough to believe this—which Casey's widow, daughter and doctor have denounced as a lie—then you will probably be gullible enough to put more money into the pocket of this journalistic rogue Bob Woodward by buying his book.

Woodward tried to get into Casey's hospital room. But he was caught by the CIA. It is unfortunate that this knave, who would take advantage of a dying man, wasn't jailed at the time, or sued afterwards. The Washington Post refused to report his story when it allegedly happened. They are now in the position where either their Big Star, Bob, is, by their rejection, demonstrated to be a liar by his own paper—or else the Post stands accused of withholding news in order to promote sales of one of its writers' books.

If this Woodward report has any truth—and I believe it has none—the Post should have reported it when it happened. But now they are serializing this Gough's Gleamings on page one.

Illinois Congressman Henry Hyde, who did such a superb job in focusing on the hypocrisy of the Iran-Contra Inquisition, has now come up with an absolutely delightful solution to a contemporary Washington mystery.

How did Bob Woodward ever get by all those CIA guards in order to gain access to the dying Bill Casey?

Well, explains Congressman Hyde, Woodward was disguised as a bedpan (!) My esteemed colleague and dear friend Tom Marr denies this. He says that Woodward was disguised as the CONTENTS of a bedpan!

At the Washington Post they are trying, with obvious desperation, to preserve some shred of their credibility, in what looks like Janet Cooke II. (Janet is that monumental liar who, under Bob Woodward's guidance wrote an extended lie about an 8-year-old heroin addict—who never existed).

Joseph Laitin, who is paid by the Post to be what is called "ombudsman" (but which really means "castrate") now claims that Woodward "is being vilified high and low for doing his job."

If intruding the hospital room of a dying man, and taking advantage of a twin tumor to elicit a confession is "his job" at the Washington Post then that newspaper is today's version of the old Hearst newspaper chain, which Senator George Morris of Nebraska had the courage to call "a vast sewer system." Post Apologist Laitin writes: "The decision of the editors not to run this visit as a news story, when it occurred, was wise. The visit was a blip on the screen, a nonstory." That is not what most of the American people think, Mr. Laitin—even though few if any of them will be given a chance in your paper to question this incredible apple-polishing, bootlicking, self-serving statement you have written, as one more illustration of the theme song of Post "ombudsmen!" "I Sing The Song of Him Whose Bread I Eat."

Inside the Capitol By Jay Miller

SANTA FE—Is Jeff Bingaman the most boring man in the US Senate?

The October issue of "Albuquerque Living" asks the question on its magazine cover. The inside article doesn't answer the question. The writer would have to know all 100 senators or know someone who does and is willing to tell.

The question is just cheap sensationalism designed to grab the reader's attention. Since it works, we all use it.

What the article does is assess the senator's performance, his chances of reelection and the effectiveness of his chief aide Vince Murphy. The writer bases his conclusions mainly on the opinions of political functionaries from our nation's capitol rather than his own knowledge of Bingaman and Murphy.

Since I have known both men for many years, let me give you my slant.

THE INCUMBENT: If you are making out your dinner party invitation list, you may not want to include Jeff. He won't keep everyone in stitches all evening. But why would you care about the social skills of your US Senator anyway? Some US Senators have even gotten themselves in trouble for their socialization.

New Mexicans have typically looked for senators they feel are sincere, honest and competent. They seem to see that in Bingaman.

Bingaman's performance record mirrors his personality. His legislative initiatives are largely in the area of the less flashy. They are aimed at solving very basic problems facing our country such as international competitiveness and long-term solutions to our nation's declining position in a global economy.

Vince Murphy was characterized by the magazine as conservative, cautious, not very bright and not very effective. These assessments came from Washington, DC. If New Mexico political analysts had been asked, I dare say the assessment of the big, jovial Irishman would have been quite different.

Murphy is different from political staff leaders "inside the beltway." Murphy is from New Mexico and spends three weeks a month in state. Many US Senators hire chief aides who are professional congressional employees that bounce from office to office. This fraternity is not charitable toward non-members. Any country bumpkin from as far out in the sticks as New Mexico is naturally going to be thought of as ineffective.

THE ANNOUNCED: What about Bingaman's reelection chances? Three challengers have declared their intent to vie for the opportunity to run against the Junior Senator.

State Senator Bill Valentine says he will run primarily against Bingaman's "cold and aloof" image while characterizing himself as "warm and personable." It is surely well-researched and strategized like everything else in his campaign, but I can't imagine it selling in Santa Rosa.

Corby Morris, a three-time Reagan state campaign manager, has the best grassroots organization of the challengers. Since he closely parallels Bingaman in personality and image, he will challenge the senator on the issues.

Rick Montoya may have the best shot at Bingaman if he can get through the primary. With a background and personality similar to Gary Carruthers, he will be a sharp contrast in image to Bingaman.

Letters to the Editor

Our 'friends' at the UN

EDITOR—When will the United States finally have the guts to quit playing footsie with the hypocritical UN majority that attacks us while we pay the biggest part of the UN bill? Conceived idealistically but unrealistically as an international force for peace, the UN today is dominated by Communists and irresponsible states that engage in oppression and aggression themselves, while manipulating the UN forum in attacks upon the United States.

Though the UN does little against the real aggressors of the world, its General Assembly voted 79 to 28 to condemn the United States for the bombing raid against Libya in retaliation for the involvement of Libya's Moammar Gadhafi in international terrorist attacks.

The UN General Assembly, siding with Gadhafi, demanded the United States pay Libya for its losses.

The UN action was sponsored, of course, by the Soviet Union and its puppet states plus the Arab countries, and picked up support from a variety of authoritarian regimes that often impose tyranny at home and vote for such resolutions as this one abroad.

Fortunately, the UN General Assembly vote has no power of enforcement. It is simply more anti-American propaganda. But the United States is foolish to pay the largest share of UN expenses to prop up this international hypocrisy and provide a stage for mounting attacks against us. The United States could do well without the UN.

HOMER BOYCE, Lodi, CA.

The legislation of evil

EDITOR—If we don't soon find some way to appoint a conservative Supreme Court, America is well on her way to self-destruction. Our present Supreme Court has twisted the constitution to accommodate the goals and aspirations of all the evil ones in our society: the criminal, the sexual molester, the pornographer and the abortionist, to name but a few. I will now quote from several paragraphs of a circular published by "Citizens for Decency through Law."

"Law enforcement officials estimate that more than 1.5 million youngsters are sexually molested, filmed or photographed each year for the private pleasure of an abuser, or for profits in the "kiddie porn" trade."

A sleazy pamphlet entitled "Where the Young Ones Are" lists 378 places in 59 communities in 34 states where children can be found for sexual purposes.

"Lust for Children," one of 350 child-porn magazines on the market, tells a sex molester how to pick up little girls, what games to play to induce their cooperation, and what acts to perform that will leave the least evidence. Another magazine, "Baby Sex" shows actual photographs of adult males engaged in sexual intercourse with a six-month old female infant.

I think these three paragraphs tell it all and there is no need of comment by me.

If you people of New Mexico aren't outraged to action to call your senators to demand that they confirm President Reagan's nominee to the Supreme Court, I wonder if the Lord will destroy us all for our terrible transgressions?

CORNELIUS U. MORGAN, Baltimore, MD.

dining table. This must be a great season for seatbelt manufacturers. If I can find one, I have designed this neat seatbelt to prevent people from falling off the john. Also on my mental drawing board is a nylon parachute-type harness for greater safety in the shower. The harness is suspended from the ceiling on a heavy spring. It prevents slipping on the wet, soapy floor. It also has great recreational benefits. A showerer can bob up and down like a baby in a jumper. The only drawback is how I can design it to put that second person into it comfortably.

There are lots of hunters to be educated before deer season ends

This year, as in the past, Operation Respect is in force, and hunter patrols will be providing assistance during deer hunting season, which begins Nov. 7-8, with additional dates of Nov. 11-15, and Nov. 18-24.

Operation Respect activities are planned to assist hunters and landowners alike with specific problems which may arise during that time, according to Bureau of Land Management spokesmen. First and foremost is respect for each other's rights and knowledge of rules. By respecting the rights of others and following some simple rules, visitors can protect and conserve the natural resources of New Mexico.

Bureau of Land Management personnel from the Roswell District Office and the Carlsbad and Roswell Resource Areas will concentrate their patrols on heavily utilized areas during the three hunting stratifications mentioned above.

Roswell Resource Area personnel will also be accompanied by members of the district's multiple-use Advisory Council. Carlsbad Resource Area personnel will manage a deer hunter information center at the Dunken Fire Station on NM State Rt. 24, as well as at the Hobbs Red Cross Station at Hope. All BLM hunter patrol personnel will be providing assistance to hunters and ranchers to resolve any conflicts over use of and access to public lands.

BLM will also be in direct contact with the New Mexico Department of Game and Fish and the sheriff's office. In addition, during the deer hunting season, BLM will again have available at the various hunter contact stations a series of seven access maps. These maps sell for $2 each. The maps can also be obtained at the BLM offices in Roswell at 1717 W. Second Street and the second floor of the Federal Building.

The maps show land status and public access roads, in addition to lands and roads that cannot be entered without the landowner's permission. Says Wanita Martin, a rancher's wife and a member of

ARC program directed to younger students

Patricia Coulter and Rosemary Shafer presented the program for the quarterly meeting of the Association for Retarded Citizens (ARC) of Lincoln County on Oct. 26. Coulter is special education coordinator and diagnostician for Carrizozo schools and Shafer teaches developmentally delayed three-and four-year-old students at Carrizozo school.

Coulter told of the new state funded program for these students who are developmentally delayed. "My job is to help identify students who qualify for the program," she said. There are four students currently in the program.

The program is held three hours each day four days a week and includes helping develop language skills, fine motor skills and gross motor skills. The daily program includes art, music, playing with clay, story time, snacks and this week the students will fingerprint with pudding.

"It is a fun way to learn," Shafer said as she told of using puppets, music, models and records to help develop language skills. Occupational therapy activities include eye-hand coordination, eye convergence, walking backwards and hopping.

"There is a purpose for every activity," Shafer added and explained that lacing beads helps develop fine motor skills and outside activities such as jumping in a hoop helps develop gross motor skills.

Students will be added to the program as they are identified. Families with children who might qualify are urged to contact the school.

During the short business meeting plans were finalized for the 5th annual Harvest Moon Ball, Oct. 31. Members agreed to donate a 1988 ARC calendar and a game of Lincoln County to the list of door prizes. There will also be a raffle for $100 at the Ball.

ARC Christmas cards and 1988 ARC calendars are now on sale. Entries for the 1988 ARC contest are to be submitted to the local ARC by Nov. 2. The winning pictures at the state level will be sent to the national contest. The winners will be used for the 1989 calendar and 1988 Christmas cards.

Bingo game to be moved in Capitan

The Capitan Chamber of Commerce voted Monday to move Thursday night bingo to the old hardware building next to Cummins, Inc. The date for this move will be either Nov. 5 or Nov. 12.

Chairs and tables will be purchased and possibly a bingo machine with a lighted board. A date will be set soon when chamber members will clean up the building.

The Christmas decorations have arrived at a cost of $2,513.77. A portion of this cost will be defrayed by the Village of Capitan. They are to be installed the second week in December with the help of Otero County Electric Cooperative.

Smokey Bear Medallions are still available from chamber members at a bargain price. Write the Capitan Chamber of Commerce, P.O. Box 441, Capitan, NM 88316.

The next meeting of the Capitan Chamber of Commerce is Monday, Nov. 2, 11:30 a.m. at the Smokey Bear Restaurant. The annual Christmas lighting contest will be discussed at this time.

Work begins on US 380

Construction has begun on a stretch of US Highway 380 four miles west of Capitan, according to project manager Jim Hawley.

The new construction will include improved alignment for two sharp curves and a new structure over Salado Creek.

Traffic delays will be minimal, Hawley said. However, he advises extreme caution and observation of signs and flag people when driving through the one-mile construction area.

It was very cold and windy, and the week ended with 10 inch of light rain. This Monday started with 30 degrees, warmer than it has been for six weeks. It's warm, lovely and quiet at this midday Monday, Oct. 26.

There were 472 registered visitors at Smokey Bear Museum Oct. 19-25. Last Friday there were 40 RVs from Albuquerque RV Club and they enjoyed the park and museum. They went to Baca Camp for a couple of days and will visit the area. Mrs. Ott Richardson, sister of the late Pauline Utterback of Portland, OR visited there last week. Tom Utterback, Pauline's husband, worked with the Soil Conservation here. From here the Utterbacks moved to Oregon City, OR. Pauline died in 1961. Tom and Mrs. Richardson live in Oregon City.

The Smokey Bear Museum received a newspaper article from Prescott this last week. In which there was article written by Jennifer ARP "The Prescott Courier" Tuesday, Oct. 6, 1987. The article was about Harlow Yeager, former US Forest Service Ranger, who gave 40 1/2 years of life to fire prevention. In May 1950 Yeager was supervising a crew of about 75 army soldiers. They were battling a stubborn blaze in the Lincoln National Forest. They had been working all night, and ran the flames into a rockslide. Yeager had the soldiers patrol the area until dawn. Yeager and a New Mexico Game and Fish ranger were sitting by the only radio waiting for dawn when they heard a strange noise. Yeager described the sound as a kind of "squalling" but said at first they passed it off as being radio interference or a bird. Yeager said he decided to look around and walked over to the rock slide. There was a little bear upon a snag in the rockslide. Yeager yanked him off the snag and held for a few minutes. He noticed when he put the bear back on the snag that he was badly burned. Yeager rejoined his crew and asked what could be done about that little bear and was told he would have to be left behind due to government regulations governing wildlife.

He was told violators would face a $300 fine. He ignored the warning and ordered one of his men to get the bear and carry him back to camp. Yeager had to stay behind for the arrival of a clean-up crew. By the time Yeager caught up with his men "Smokey" was on his way to a hospital in Santa Fe. Yeager's roll got forgotten in the rescue of Smokey and he was too modest to fight for his share. Yeager is still around living in the outdoors, wishing he was still with the forest service. The reminder Yeager has of that historic day in May 1950 is a plaque an old Forest Service buddy made when he retired in 1961. The plaque, which is now prominently displayed in his home, reads "Found Smokey Bear, May 1950, Lincoln National Forest Fire."

In that paper there was lots more of interest on forest fires. I hope all of you have enjoyed this as much as I have. It was thoughtful of the individual to send that message.

Everyone enjoys the wonderful Halloween decorations at the Capitan Mart.

Junior Varsity football team played in Tularosa last Saturday and also lost.

Mrs. Josie Santi and Frank Annaratone of Memphis, TN spent one week visiting their brother John, and Cecil Annaratone in their home in Capitan. His sister visited them six years ago but his brother had not been here since 1959.

Mr. and Mrs. Boyle (both 85 years of age) of Oklahoma are driving to Capitan and will arrive by the last of this week to visit their daughter Mrs. Jack Conley, for the weekend and then will return to El Paso with them to visit their son and his family.

Mr. and Mrs. Martin (Sonny) Garcia of Socorro visited relatives and friends last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Renfro left Albuquerque for Norfolk, VA to meet Mike and Julia Renfro and baby son who have been stationed in Cuba but have been transferred to Norfolk.

Frances Shaw, secretary of Comet Chapter #29, Order of the Eastern Star, attended the OES Grand Chapter in Albuquerque, Oct. 15-18. Four other members of that chapter attended. Bill and Elizabeth MacVeigh, Anita Weber and Janette Baldwin. All reported a large crowd attended.

Recently, Frances Shaw went to Socorro where her son Jeff and Vicki Shaw of Las Cruces joined her in their travel trailer and they went to Albuquerque to the Balloon Festival. She stayed with them at the grounds. She returned but Jeff and Vicki stayed the entire time as they assisted with the festival, as they do every year.

I had the pleasure of meeting Edith Malcolm last Friday at the beauty shop. She, her husband and four children have lived her for 1 1/2 years. She was a young girl in Capitan in the '30s. I had not seen her for years and I was delighted to see her. She is a sister of Marjorie Payton and Rosalie Gallimore, both of whom live here. Those three ladies were daughters of Mr. and Mrs. John Hobbs. They used to visit their uncle Hunt and aunt Blaise Hobbs before they finally moved here. When I last saw them they were young children. They grew up here. I am happy they are all living here.

Miss Grace Jones, a long-time resident of Carrizozo, died in Sepulveda, CA on Sept. 26 after a long illness. She was buried in Sepulveda, with arrangements being made by her niece, Mrs. Joseph Zamba.

Miss Jones was initiated into Comet Chapter #29, Order of the Eastern Star, on April 19, 1927. She became a 58-year member in April 1927. She would have been 100 years of age Dec. 7, 1927. She is survived by her niece Dorothy Jones Zamba of 9227 Langdon Ave, Sepulveda, CA 91393.

Here is another great lady of long ago that left a pattern for us to follow. She was sweet, kind and gracious. A good business lady. She was in the abstract office for many years until retirement. She was very efficient, loyal and understanding and we all loved her. She was thorough in everything. That abstract office was located in the lower floor of the Masonic Building in Carrizozo.

She well deserved that long life. Though she is at rest, our memories linger of her loveliness. We enjoyed her in Eastern Star.

Zotan silvers rout Ruidoso

The Zotan Silvers won their third straight game Saturday 16-0 against the previously unbeaten Ruidoso Lions in Little League football action.

The Ruidoso squad was in first place and unscored upon before being shutout by the Silvers.

The speed and quickness of Silver running backs Aavron Sumpter and Ernie Trujillo proved to be too much for the opposition. Sumpter was the leading ball carrier with 110 yards on 18 carries, scored one TD and converted on two PATs. Trujillo also had a TD for the winning Silvers.

Defensive standouts for the Zotan squad were Josh Long, Brad Holland, Jeff Maynard, Paul Fitzpatrick and Drew Smith. Offensive standouts were Jacob Caldwell, Willie Silva and Wayne Downs.

The Silvers are 3-1 going into the playoffs which begin Saturday, Oct. 31, and have racked up 46 points in their last three games while shutting out their opponents.

The Zotan Silvers are boys 8 and 9 years old from Carrizozo and Capitan. Coach Mel Holland said playoffs begin Saturday in Ruidoso.

Carrizozo FFA members go to national convention

Seven members of the Carrizozo FFA chapter have been selected to attend the 60th National FFA Convention in Kansas City, MO, Nov. 12-14.

They will join more than 22,000 FFA members, advisors, supporters and guests who will be representing all 50 states, the District of Columbia, Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands at the world's largest annual student gathering.

The 60th anniversary convention will feature keynote addresses from Vice-President George Bush, Chrysler Corporation chairman and chief executive Lee Iacocca, Secretary of Education William Bennett and former Dallas Cowboys quarterback Roger Staubach. Along with these speakers, Carrizozo FFA members will have the opportunity to hear FFA's finest during public speaking contests and when the six national officers deliver their retiring addresses.

During the convention, high school agriculture students will challenge themselves and honor FFA's highest achievers and strongest supporters.

Other highlights will include the naming of the top FFA members in 29 agricultural proficiency areas and 10 national career skill competitions, as well as the Agriscience Teacher of the Year award. Top chapter programs in safety, community development and overall activities will also be included.

Thursday evening at the convention, the Star Farmer and the Star Agribusinessman of America, the two FFA members with the most outstanding production and agribusiness programs respectively, will be announced. At the Friday afternoon session the highest degree awarded to FFA members, that of American Farmer, will be presented to 728 recipients.

Those 728 members are the top two-tenths of one percent of the organization's 416,000 members.

"The convention is an excellent opportunity to motivate members and train them for their futures in the ever-changing agricultural industry," said Kevin Ehlen, national FFA president from Creston, Iowa. "It is also an occasion for recognizing individual members, chapters, advisors and alumni for outstanding achievements."

The convention will introduce the national FFA theme for 1987-88, "FFA—Agriculture's New Spirit," which emphasizes FFA's contribution to the agricultural industry.

"There's no doubt agriculture is facing some major challenges today," said Larry D. Case, national FFA advisor. "But if you're looking for the future of this industry, it will be found at the national FFA convention. These young people represent the new generation of leadership that will carry American agriculture into the 21st century."

Members selected to attend are Leah Patterson, Marcia Heffer, John Maxwell, Jeanna Sims, Fred Vega, Pat Vigil and Lisa Hightower.

"A LIVING LEGACY" an ornamental plum tree is planted at the courthouse by Carrizozo Woman's Club members Lucia Vega and Ramona Ortiz. The Woman's Club planted the tree in recognition of the 200th anniversary of the signing of the United States Constitution.

PRESS PREJUDICE

Every day I learn something of interest about the Constitution of the United States as drafted and adopted by the 13 colonies. The need for the First Amendment became essential as rights of America's early citizens came under a flood of challenges by individuals and organizations. The rights most often attacked were freedom of the press, freedom of speech and freedom of individual opinion.

Freedom of the press and the right of free speech are so fundamental to human liberty that hundreds of authors have written on the subject.

I'd like to remind you that the uncensored content of this newspaper is made possible by the Constitution of the United States. Almost everyone is familiar with the destruction of empires and societies and peoples when the free press is taken under control. History is full of examples (Hitler, Mussolini, Stalin) of enslavement of peoples when the right of free speech and public opinion is taken over by dictatorial powers.

To learn more about the Constitution I wrote in: Constitution, Washington, DC 20599. The Commission on the Bicentennial of the US Constitution will send you information if you request it.

CHILDREN LISTEN

Children learn to look to adults to help, for comfort, for advice, for love.

At any given time there are an estimated one million to two million children missing from their homes and neighborhoods. Very often there are no clues as to their possible whereabouts or the circumstances of their disappearance.

Last Friday, Carrizozo students kindergarten through grade 5 listened attentively as state policeman Maurice "Mory" Pitkofsky gave tips on avoiding strangers and saying "no" to drugs. Officer Pitkofsky presented his program through skills (role playing) involving the students.

The younger children were told how to recognize the difference between concern and contempt, compassion and deception.

The effect of two cans of beer on a driver was explained to the older students. The procedure for a field sobriety test was demonstrated.

"Two beers" is the response the officer gets from a driver when the officer inquires, "Been drinking?"

The officer said at his school presentation that the answer is always "two beers" from adult drivers.

MOM AGAINST TEEN DRINKING

In the past, I have often tried fighting teen drinking and driving by offering tips in this column. I have written about "enabling." By failing to insist that children suffer the natural consequences of their alcohol use, parents and others "enable" teens to continue to use and abuse alcohol.

Alcohol and other drug use by children is as illicit as underage driving, as stealing from a store, or as vandalism.

HELP PROMOTE SOBERNESS

From the classroom to the athletic field, students in every corner of the United States can take part in programs to attack drinking drivers of all ages. The classroom can be an effective area.

For example: —Public speaking class can prepare student speakers for anti-drinking-and-driving programs.

—Library aids can distribute book markers with "don't drink and drive" messages to fellow students.

—Art class can design a cover for a recipe book of non-alcoholic drinks developed by students in an all-school competition.

—Science class can study the effects of alcohol on the body.

—English class can write theme papers and essays on anti-drinking-and-driving topics.

—Physical education and health classes can conduct units on alcohol and drug abuse throughout the state.

—Computer class can create computer-generated anti-drinking-and-driving posters to display in school.

GIFT OF THE PAST
"Carrizozo Story" is a collection of fascinating items compiled by Johnson S.

Stearns and printed at Lincoln County News. As I read the little booklet I go back to the time of my grandparents.

In his introduction Stearns describes his book as: "A collection of stories, mostly having to do with Carrizozo and vicinity old-time ranchers, merchants, railroaders, miners, prospectors, bankers, lawyers, school people and children, the county's women-folk, visitors, doctors, their animals and surroundings. There is a sprinkling into life as it was in those early years around Carrizozo and is now. Excerpts from old local newspapers shedding light on the developing town and area. The book makes a dandy gift of the past to give at Christmas to a resident (or former resident).

Stearns in his book writes, "You hear folks, 'wished we had of written it down' or nowadays, 'wished we had of taped all those old stories.' We all do."

He has given us a headstart.

His book can be purchased in his real estate office, next door to Coffee Cup, also called Paul's Place. Western Auto down the street also has the book on sale.

Halloween carnival at Corona

Ghosts and goblins and assorted eerie creatures will arrive in Corona early Halloween Friday evening at the annual carnival.

Costume contestants will be judged at 8 p.m. followed by crowning of the Halloween Carnival King and Queen at 8:30. Contestants in the annual money-raising project are Katrina Archuleta and Orlando Chavez, Michelle Hendricks and Randy Lueras, Suzy Hall and Jesse Post, Maria Arellanes and Randy Lesly, Sherry Porter and Clay Post, and Julie Furgason and Jason Gibbs.

Among traditional booths and events will be Jacob's ladder, a slave sale, gun shoot, dart throw, bowling, golf, food booths and bingo. Senior class members will be taking orders for homemade burritos, tequitas and tamales.

The fun begins at 6 p.m. in the Corona School auditorium.

DEATH-FIGHTER PIN is awarded to State Police Officer Mory Pitkofsky by EMS director Nancy Guck for his life-saving actions at an accident south of Carrizozo on Oct. 8. Death-fighter pins are awarded to exceptional individuals who have saved lives.

Corona to tangle with Magdalena

Corona Cardinals head for Magdalena and a district playoff game Saturday at 2 p.m. after a decisive 33-0 win over Vaughn last Friday.

The Corona team has not managed a victory at Vaughn in recent memory, and the last regular season game last week put a sweet 6-2 record on Corona's 1987 book.

Coach G. Ray Johnson was happy with his team's performance, saying, "We ran the ball real well against Vaughn; we were up for it."

If Corona wins at Magdalena, the Cardinals will advance to a playoff position opposite Roy on Nov. 7 at an as yet undetermined site. Corona fell to Roy 28-18 in the second game of this season, but Johnson feels his team has come a long way since that meeting.

Tigers undefeated in district play

The Capitán Lady Tiger Volleyball Team traveled to Cloudercroft Oct. 22 and defeated the Lady Bears in 4 games, 13-15, 13-11, 15-10, and 15-13.

Capitan girls went on to win the district round robin on Saturday by defeating Lake Arthur, Hagerman and Hondo. The district tournament is being played this week with Capitan drawing a bye all the way to the championship game to be played in Capitan Saturday night at 7 p.m.

Capitan defeated Lake Arthur in four games 15-4, 8-15, 15-5 and 15-0. The Lady Tigers then defeated Hagerman in three games, 15-1, 15-4 and 15-10. Later, Capitan defeated Hondo 15-4, 15-3 and 15-4.

The district tournament looks like this: Oct. 27, Loving at Hagerman; Hondo at Lake Arthur. The winners of these two games are to meet Oct. 29 with the winner of this game traveling to Cloudercroft on Friday night to play the Lady Bears. The winners of this game then comes to Capitan on Saturday night to play in the championship game with the Lady Tigers.

The Lady Tigers wound up their regular season with a 13-3 record, undefeated in district play. The girls attribute their success to working together as a team.

The Capitán Lady Tigers

with their jersey numbers are: 1. Kateri Sanchez, 2. Karl Cox, 3. Colynn Washburn, 4. Lora McKay, 7. Kim Huey, 8. Sherry Gowen, 9. Danielle Riska, 10. Brenda Griego, 11. Marnie McDaniel, 12. Kim Eckland, 13. Tyana Trollinger, 21. Nanette Boyd, 22. Leslie LaRue, 25. Tenna Trollinger. The Tigers are coached by two graduates of Capitan High School, Pam (Hall) Allen and Frank Silva.

An all-district team will be announced at Saturday's night's district championship game along with the coach of the year, trophies to the top teams, and a sportsmanship award.

Santa Rosa crushes Capitan, 62-29

By BART McDONOUGH

The Capitán Tigers, 1-1 in district play and 2-7 overall, travel to Carrizozo, Friday, Oct. 30, to renew an old rivalry with the Grizzlies. The Tigers received a 62-29 spanking last Friday at the hands of the Santa Rosa Lions. The Grizzlies are looking for their first win of the season. Gametime is 7:30 p.m.

The Tigers stayed in the game through the 1st quarter which ended with the score of 6-0. Flores scored on a 19 yard run up the middle with 2:07 left in the quarter. Then the burly Santa Rosa backs got going and the Lion's attack exploded.

Arrelin found pay dirt 1 minute into the 2nd quarter, going 36 yards. The Lions passed for the 2 point conversion. Santa Rosa 14, Capitan 0.

With 7:56 left in the 2nd quarter Flores scampered 58 yards to put Santa Rosa out front 21-0.

Capitan got on the scoreboard on the ensuing kickoff return when Kerry Clements rambled 90 yards with the pigskin. The Tigers failed to convert. Santa Rosa 21, Capitan 6.

A penalty nullified a 50 yard TD run by the Lions, but Santa Rosa scored 3 minutes later when they intercepted a Tiger pass 10 yards from pay dirt. They took it in on the next play, kicked the extra point, and extended their lead to 28-6.

The Tigers ran 3 plays. The 4th down punt was blocked on the Tiger 11 yard line. Aragon took it in on the next play. The extra point was no good. The Lions stopped a Capitan scoring threat by intercepting a Tiger pass in their own end zone as the 1st half came to an end. The scoreboard showed a 34-6 Santa Rosa advantage.

The Lions drove the ball 61 yards down field punching it over from the 1 yard to open the 2nd half. The extra point sailed through the uprights. Santa Rosa 41, Capitan 6.

Capitan's Jerod Martin went 78 yards on the following kickoff return for the 2nd Tiger touchdown. Hintikka added the extra point. Santa Rosa 41, Capitan 13.

With 4:36 left in the 3rd quarter the Lions scored on a 52 yard run and added another touchdown less than a minute later on a 33 yard fumble recovery and run. The quarter ended 3 minutes later with Santa Rosa on top 55-13.

Three minutes into the 4th quarter, a holding penalty nullified a Santa Rosa TD. The Lions did score 2 plays later and added the extra point. Santa Rosa's 62 points was now on the scoreboard.

Midway through the final quarter Capitan crossed pay dirt on a 28 yard pass play to Mike Shanks. Tiger quarterback Tino Gallegos ran the ball in for the 2 point conversion. Santa Rosa 62, Capitan 21.

With both sides using younger players, Capitan mounted a 90 yard scoring drive, Clements taking it in from the 14 yard line. Nathan Roybal got several nice gains along the way.

Thinking about buying a new washer or dryer?

If you are in the market for a new electric washer or dryer to ease your work load, look for these features.

WASHER

- Does the unit have water level controls that let you adjust the amount of water to the size of the wash load?
- Does the unit have various warm and cold water options so you can take advantage of lower cost cool water washing?
- Do the cycle options let you match soil conditions from light (short cycle) to heavy (soak cycle)? Can wash water be reused on additional loads (suds sayer)?

DRYER

- Does the unit have a time setting to allow for a specific number of minutes?
- Does the dryer have thermostatic sensing to detect temperature increases in the air exhausting from the dryer?
- Does the dryer have moisture sensing, which responds to the moisture level in clothes?

Purchasing a new electric washer or dryer can make your life easier and more energy efficient. For more information about electric washers and dryers, visit our office today.

LEGAL NOTICE OF HEARING BY PUBLICATION

IN THE DISTRICT COURT COUNTY OF LINCOLN STATE OF NEW MEXICO

No. CV-87-383 Div. III

IN THE MATTER OF CHANGE OF NAME OF BERNITA J. HOFSTAD

TOWHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

This is notice, pursuant to 40-8-1 N.M.S.A. et. seq., that BERNITA J. HOFSTAD has filed a Petition for Change of Name, requesting that her last name be changed from Hofstad to Deaton.

That a hearing upon the Petitioner's said application for Change of Name will be had before the District Court of Lincoln County, in the Lincoln County Courthouse, located in Carrizozo, New Mexico on the 9th day of November, 1987, at 9:00 A.M.

Pursuant to 40-8-2 N.M.S.A. notice of the nature of the application, the time and place and when and where the Petition will be heard, is hereby given by publication, once each week, for two consecutive weeks in Lincoln County, the county of the Petitioner's residence and the county where the said Petition for Change of name will be heard. Witness our hands and the seal of this Court. Date: October 20, 1987.

MARGO E. LINDSAY, Clerk of the District Court, Of Lincoln County, New Mexico.

Published in the Lincoln County News on October 29 and November 5, 1987.

Hunters . . . (Cont'd from P. 4)

CowBelle's organization in conjunction with Operation Respect, "By informing the hunting public of the opportunity in quality hunting by respecting private hunting rights, and visual range improvement by leaving clean campsites, Operation Respect has resulted in fewer conflicts with livestock producers." Operation Respect of New Mexico sends a message to hunters in 1987: Return home with good memories, exercise good judgment, be safe, protect lives and property rights, enjoy without destruction, show proper concern for private property and do not trespass.
