In a related incident, another methamphetamine lab was located in a small camping trailer in the Ruidoso area owned by Elmo Silva on April 4. Found inside the trailer were miscellaneous chemicals and equipment commonly used in the "cooking" of methamphetamines. The trailer was seized.

Cattle producers to meet April 13

Shirley Goodloe, chairman for Lincoln County in the New Mexico beef checkoff campaign, invites all cattle producers to attend a meeting in Capitan at the fair building on April 13 at 7 p.m.

Purpose of the meeting will be to dispense information and answer questions about the referendum vote to be held May 10. Any person who has owned cattle between Oct. 1, 1986 and March 31, 1988 is eligible to vote, including 4-H and FFA members.

"We want to inform the people and give them the opportunity to voice their opinions about the referendum," Goodloe said of the meeting. "This is one of the most important issues to face the beef industry in our lifetime."

The checkoff dollars have been used to promote the beef industry through media in the form of consumer advertising, at the meat counter as retail sales promotions and in restaurants through food service promotion efforts.

Programs include the television commercial with James Garner promoting beef, designed to show consumers that beef is light, low in calories, great tasting and fits lifestyles today; a sports health program featuring Houston Astro pitcher and cattleman Nolan Ryan; health care professional advertising placed in professional journals; physicians and dietitians read; and development of materials for use by state beef councils.

Commissioners vote to keep O Bar O road open

By Ruth Hammond

During an all-day session April 5 the Lincoln County Commission voted to keep the disputed O Bar O road (county road C-024) open to just inside the Forest Service land, two-tenths of a mile.

Several people voiced their opinions about the matter. When commissioners agreed to remove the remainder of the road, to the microwave tower, from the county maintenance system, commission chairman John Hightower remarked that the Forest Service had closed the road at the forest boundary on occasion.

Smokey Bear District Ranger Steve Sams stated the temporary closing had been for "resource protection only."

In other road decisions action on an alternate route for C-024 through the Flying W Ranch was tabled; an alternate route for C-024 through Indian Divide will not be considered at this time; Davis Drive of Shangrila subdivision until I will be closed but limited access will be allowed to federal and state agencies and state lessees; county road D-020, known as Straley road, will be closed; county road D-022 will have portions closed and portions open; county road B-036 will be closed, this road runs to Sid Goodloe's house; and the road west from Schlarb road to the Carrizozo school vo ag barn will be opened subject to space being provided for the blade to turn around.

Capitan C of C elects officers

By Bartley McDonough

The following officers were elected at the April 4 meeting of the Capitan Chamber of Commerce: president, Dick Beck; president-elect, Frank Miller; vice-president, Bartley McDonough; secretary, Betty Hobbs; treasurer, Kay Strickland.

Maxine Wright and Dr. Farris will serve on the board of directors for a one-year term. Serving a two-year term will be Hazel Bradford, Dorothy Smith and Bonnie McEuen.

Capitan students applying for the $500 scholarship should have the application in the chamber's hands by April 22. Chamber members will select the recipient at its May 2 meeting.

Dorothy Smith reported on a meeting held March 25 in Ruidoso concerning the film industry in New Mexico. She said the Economic Development Corporation of Lincoln County will meet April 14 at the UNM Bank in Carrizozo. The public is invited to this 7 p.m. meeting.

April 16 has been scheduled as clean-up day in Capitan. Those volunteering to help should meet at 8 a.m. in front of the bank. Those wishing to have trash picked up should place it by the street (not the alley) on this date.

The chamber has reduced the cost of its note cards by 45 percent. These practical cards feature a picture of Smokey the Bear and the museum. They can be purchased at B&L Pizza, Smokey Bear Restaurant, Capitan Bargain

Store and the Smokey Bear Museum.

The chamber of commerce will look into the possibility of selecting a citizen of the year.

Chamber members discussed the July 2-4 Smokey Bear Stampede. There will be an ice cream social at the senior center July 2. Other events are being planned with the idea of keeping visitors in Capitan.

The chamber voted to buy more Christmas ornaments for the next Christmas season.

Forest Service promotes Sams to post in Utah

The Ruidoso-based ranger for the US Forest Service was promoted this week to a new job in Utah.

Steve Sams, district ranger for the Smokey Bear Ranger District of the Lincoln National Forest, will become district ranger for the Flaming Gorge National Recreation Area in northeastern Utah.

Sams, who was chosen over about 20 other applicants from across the country, will report to Manila, Utah, in May. "The Flaming Gorge is a national recreation area because its sheer beauty attracts 700,000 visitors annually from all over the world," according to Forest Supervisor Jim Abbott. "We are sorry to see Steve leave, but he is going to manage one of the most important pieces of land in the Forest Service."

Sams has served in the Forest Service for 21 years. He became the ranger at Ruidoso in April 1984, after coming from Payson, AZ.

RATTLER ROUNDUP

Highlights of the April 15-17 Wild West Rattlesnake Roundup at the Otero County Fairgrounds include hourly snake-handling shows, cooked rattlesnake meat, a crafts fair and contests for the largest rattlesnakes caught and the most rattlesnakes caught for the show.

Promoters of the roundup say the event will attract tourists, rid the area of snakes and educate people about rattlers' habits, but animal rights activists have other opinions. "Promoting an act of cruelty under the guise of entertainment to serve the community is a lot of bull," said the director of the Alameda Park Zoo in Alamogordo. "This is an inhumane and ecologically dangerous activity."

A promotional tabloid says the snakes can be captured with tongs, forceps or snares or can be flushed out with gasoline fumes. The Forest Service and Bureau of Land Management issued a joint statement asking hunters not to use gasoline because of the potential of starting brush fires.

Promoters say they will pay $2.50 a pound for each live rattlesnake brought to the fairgrounds and will offer $100 for the largest snake and the most snakes.

Meanwhile the forest and land agencies warn hunters that they can be fined if they capture snakes on public land without a permit and then sell them, or if they catch endangered native species.

NEW 'E' STAMP

The price of mailing a first-class letter is now 25 cents rather than 22 cents. The local post office is selling the new E stamps. (I have yet to find out what the E stands for.) People may also buy three-cent stamps to use next to the 22-cent stamps many people still have. Additional postage increases affect post cards, which now cost 15 cents, rather than 14 cents.

POLITICAL PENCILS?

Michigan has county commission woes of their own. When the Allegan County Sheriff's Department submitted a $930 bill for 5,000 pencils bearing the sheriff's name, county officials balked.

The pencils were to be distributed to students to promote the department's new Youth Services Bureau, and that's why the bill was submitted to the county finance committee as a school safety expense.

The finance committee co-chair said, "Nine hundred dollars worth of advertising pencils is quite a lot for us to put our John Henry on."

Sheriff Robert Schra said his name appears on most items distributed by the department.

AND WHATEVER

Because of a concern about contracting AIDS, the correctional officers at Central New Mexico Correctional Facility have been issued surgical gloves for use when handling violent, injured or sick prisoners.

A public information officer for the department said the penal system does not have any AIDS. "We have 12 inmates of 2,650 in the system that have tested positive for AIDS. That means they do not have AIDS, may not get AIDS, but may be able to pass the virus on."

The officer would not say how many, if any, of those inmates are housed at CNMCF at Los Lunas. "When looking at prisons, we generally have a higher risk group from the standpoint of drug abuse, needles and whatever."

In addition to the gloves, each housing unit has CPR masks for use when giving mouth-to-mouth resuscitation. There is a training program for both staff and inmates at CNMCF.

CONSTANT EXPOSURE

Young people growing up today face many pressures... constant exposures to alcohol and other drug use in movies, television, and advertisements along with pressures from friends to smoke or use alcohol or other drugs.

The National PTA, a Crime Prevention Coalition member, believes that parents and peers are the keys to dealing effectively with pressures and stresses in the lives of children. For the fourth consecutive year, the National PTA sponsored Drug and Alcohol Awareness Week last month. PTAs around the US used this time to kick off education programs and to cooperate with drug abuse prevention organizations.

TROUBLED GOVERNOR

"The troubled governor of Arizona has been accused of selling jobs for campaign donations. Gee whiz, almost every politician does that, although most of them are just a little smarter when they do it." —Chuck Mittlestadt.

TAKE NOTE

April 15th is National Grippers Day.

Sale items needed

The Carrizozo school junior class is accepting donations of clothing, dishes and miscellaneous items for a rummage sale. Items may be taken to 501 E Ave. or call 648-2241 after 5 p.m. to have larger items picked up.

Sullivan to seek sheriff's office

Former Lincoln County Sheriff Tom Sullivan has announced his candidacy for sheriff in the 1988 election year subject to the Democratic primary. Sullivan served as Lincoln County Sheriff from 1983 through 1986.

He supervised a 31-county district for the narcotics service for seven years. Sullivan has been employed at Camp Sierra Blanca, NM Department of Corrections for the past 13 months as chief classification officer. He also served in that capacity from August of 1979 to August of 1980.

Sullivan graduated from the Southwestern Police Institute, School of Police Supervision, at the University of Texas at Dallas, and the International Associations of Chiefs of Police, School of Management in Austin, TX. He has attended two forty-hour National Homicide Investigator's seminars, one at the University of Texas, Austin, and one at the National Law Enforcement Institute, Denver, CO. He is a graduate of the Texas Department of Public Safety Law Enforcement Academy in Austin, and the Department of Justice Drug Diversion School in Washington, DC, and has attended numerous other law enforcement related schools and seminars.

Sullivan is past president of the New Mexico Sheriff's Association (1984-85) and past president of the Texas Narcotics-Officer's Association (1976-77), an 1,100 member organization of federal, state, municipal and county law enforcement officers primarily involved in drug enforcement. He is a past director of the

New Mexico Narcotics Officer's Association.

During his tenure the Sheriff's Department served 5,654 civil papers, worked 638 traffic accidents, answered 1,386 animal control calls, recovered over a million and a half dollars worth of stolen property, filed 196 narcotics cases and recovered drugs valued at over one million dollars. Over 3,000 marijuana plants were seized that were grown by Lincoln County pot farmers and the department

Samuels to seek a second term

Don Samuels has announced his candidacy for re-election as Lincoln County Sheriff.

Since taking office two years ago he has become a certified law enforcement officer in New Mexico. He has also attended seminars as a means of continuing his education and efficiency in such matters as homicide investigations, child abuse, sexual assaults, search and seizures; and also attended a two-week seminar at the FBI Academy on management.

"Despite undue political pressures applied by the incumbent county commission, county manager and county attorney, my office has maintained professionalism," Samuels said.

He listed as accomplishments under his administration his achieving cooperation among all law enforcement agencies. He has investigated four homicides, with two cases solved and the other two have arrests with bound-overs. A kidnapping involved a manhunt and subsequent arrests. He lists numerous arrests for drugs and burglary, including recent arrests and confiscation of a metamphetamine lab.

He has also formed a task force among several law enforcement agencies including municipal, county, state and federal agencies. The program is a cooperative effort in apprehending known criminals. "And it is working," Samuels said, in reminding voters he has had about 13 years' experience in law enforcement.

"For over a year I have not gone to the news media with certain information, because my attorney has advised against it," he said. "Our legal system will indicate the facts happening in our county government; therefore, making allegations to the media does nothing but destroy confidence in the minds of our tax-paying citizens, and I will not participate in such negative activities," he continued.

"I have done a good job as your sheriff; therefore, I am asking for your continued support of honesty and integrity in this office."

Ellison enters the commissioners race

Glen Ellison is a candidate for county commissioner (Dist. 2) on the Democratic ticket in the June primary. His opponent will be incumbent John A. Hightower.

Ellison is a retired school superintendent and has extensive experience in budgeting and accounting. He works on several community projects, such as the Diamond Jubilee Bicentennial Celebration, Memorial Day services, Pony Express and other projects, most of which involve public relations.

He came to Lincoln County in 1962, and presently resides south of Carrizozo.

"I am entering the race for county commissioner because I know once battle lines are formed they are defended bitterly, and forever," Ellison said. "I think the county needs someone who doesn't know where the battle lines are and who doesn't think they should be there in the first place."

He has taken interest in county affairs, having attended the commissioners' meetings for the past three years.

He has a degree in economics from North Texas State College, Denton, TX, and two masters degrees from Eastern New Mexico University, Portales, both in education.

Dunlap to seek re-election

Ralph Dunlap announced today his candidacy for the Democratic nomination for Lincoln County Commissioner, District 1.

Dunlap, 61, has been a Lincoln County resident since 1982, and he brings with him over 30 years of experience as Lincoln County Extension Agent as well as his term as county commissioner.

As a retiree, Dunlap has no business, professional or other commitments to keep him from serving as a full-time commissioner. The position is not just a one or two time a month obligation, but a full-time job and position of trust. Throughout the past 15 months he has worked toward getting all of Lincoln County working together.

He is active in many organizations, including Economic Development Corporation of Lincoln County, Lincoln County Fair, Lincoln Pageant and Festivals Corp, Lincoln County Farm Bureau, Lincoln County Rural Water Users Association, member of the Southeastern Economic Development, and the Water Defense Association, Rotary, and Veteran of Foreign War and Carrizozo Masonic Lodge.

During the past 15 months as Lincoln County Commissioner, he has helped to provide more employment for the people of Lincoln County through contracts for the Sierra Blanca Airport, airport access road, and the renovation of the Lincoln County Medical Center.

Although in office less than a month, Dunlap initiated emergency procedures to deal with the snow emergency of January 1987. Dunlap has also been active for many years in water conservation and water rights adjudication. He has continued to be active in the Mescalero water suit, water priority suit, adjudication, El Paso water suit and Bonito Reservoir suits.

During the past 15 months he has helped to get the airport access road, Highway 42 improvements and initiated new bridges at Picacho and Glencoe.

Dunlap has helped to develop the masterplan for the development of Ft. Stanton so that it will not interfere with the present uses as Ft. Stanton Hospital and Training Center. Plans include the establishment of a Ranch Heritage Center, along with horseback riding trails and recreation area.

As a member of the Sierra Blanca Regional Airport Commission, Dunlap helped initiate action that resulted in a $125,000 reimbursement from eligible activities by airport contract administrator and lawyer.

Dunlap is a World War II veteran and served a year in

Ernest V. Joiner's

Mrs. Wanda McCormick, attractive wife of Mike McCormick, was at the Lincoln County News office last week in support of her husband's candidacy for district attorney, 13th judicial district. After some discussion, she said, "My husband is not a politician" and finds it difficult to get out and meet people. My impulse was to interrupt with, "Knock it off; he has my full support." She had no way of knowing I hate politicians, and seldom vote for one except when all the candidates are politicians and one must choose between bad and evil. Show me a politician and I'll show you a person who has been a failure as a professional or businessman. Public office is usually the last refuge of an incompetent. I give you congress as an example. Mrs. McCormick appears to be right in assessing her husband's lack of political charisma, as I found upon examining his background.

On the other hand, he served on active duty with the 101st Airborne Division based in Ft. Campbell, KY and was on reserve duty with the Special Forces (Green Berets). No place for a politician. That takes him out of the "wimp" classification. Unlike our current political hero, Jesse Jackson, he doesn't shout incomprehensible rhetoric, wave his arms while spouting meaningless phrases and whipping up "holy roller" hysteria among his audience. He is quiet-spoken, thoughtful and unobtrusive. But he was good enough at his profession to have served eight years as DA for Carlisbad, Artesia, Roswell, Hobbs, Lovington, Eunice and Jal. Aside from a successful private law practice, he has been instructor in government and criminal justice at NMSU, member of the National District Attorneys Assn., president of the New Mexico District Attorneys Assn., member of the New Mexico Supreme Court's Committee on Uniform Criminal Jury Instructions and Rules of Criminal Procedure, cited in 1982 by the New Mexico Supreme Court for outstanding service to the judiciary, and served as faculty advisor at National College of District Attorneys. Not a bad record for a man who doesn't "politic" his way up by assuming a phoney charisma and cultivating rhetoric loaded with empty promises—the very thing that drives voters to elect politicians. Then they're disillusioned when the politicians don't deliver, so they vote into office another politician with the same qualities. It seems impossible for voters to learn from experience that charismatic promises don't hold up.

Take the Rev. Jesse Jackson (please). Never held an elective office. Never conducted a business that wasn't financed by taxpayer money or by money wheedled from the pulpit. The closest to a successful business that this man has headed is "Racism, Inc." He is an ignorant, flamboyant oaf who trades in racism by condemning racism (as he perceives it) in others. Democratic candidates never question his misrepresentations and downright lies; and the media doesn't challenge a word he says. For example, in a nationwide television speech he referred to a US military presence in Costa Rica. There isn't an American military presence in Costa Rica. But the media doesn't call his hand because they know they would be branded racist by the chief proponent of racism. His fellow candidates let him get away with murder because they don't want to lose the black vote. If any white candidate had gone to Cuba to conduct US foreign policy and embraced Fidel Castro; gone to the Middle East to conduct US foreign policy and embraced Yasir Arafat and the PLO; violated the Logan Act which forbids private citizens from communicating with foreign heads of state; accepted gifts of money from the PLO; and blackmailed US corporations out of millions of dollars—the media and most Americans would have nailed his hide to the wall immediately. Instead, both are cooperating to make him President of the United States, with no questions asked.

Inside the Capitol

By Jay Miller

SANTA FE—Shades of Jerry Apodaca. Lunch-hour physical fitness has returned to state government.

Actually, under Apodaca, it wasn't an "hour." In the interest of efficiency in government, Jerry introduced the "33-minute lunch hour."

It wasn't a bad idea. State payrollers had gotten a bit lax about the length of an hour and Jerry, himself, had found some state office telephones that went unanswered at 1 p.m.

To add insult to injury, Apodaca began encouraging physical exercise at lunch time.

Volleyball nets started springing up behind state office buildings and there was much spirited competition. But, then, enthusiasm waned. Some said it was because an employee had busted a finger and thought the state should pay.

For whatever reason, organized fitness programs disappeared from the scene until this month when highway department chief Dewey Lonsberry breathed life back in.

It wasn't for the same reasons. If you will remember, Apodaca was a bit of a health nut. He's the one who got stopped by a New York policeman for running through Central Park. Jerry couldn't produce any identification and got himself in even deeper when he tried to explain he was the governor of New Mexico. Can you imagine one of New York's finest trying to picture his own governor out for a solitary run?

No, Lonsberry had a much more respectable Republican purpose in mind—saving money.

The state now self-insures its workers' compensation claims. Lonsberry was concerned about how to reduce the number of claims when he got a package in the mail from the Health Net folks promoting their Get Fit program.

He delivered the packet to department management analyst Carol Lopez with instructions to develop a fitness program that might cut down on workers' compensation claims.

Lopez, who is a dynamic, immersed herself in the project. Upon reading the wellness program literature, she discovered that employee exercise programs have been demonstrated to not only reduce worker comp claims, but also reduce absenteeism and increase productivity and endurance.

She found highway department employees to be outstandingly cooperative in helping her get the program started. She also got strong support from Lonsberry and his staff. Lopez, who is a veteran of service in other state agencies, says the frequent conception of the highway department as a bastion of bureaucracy is refreshingly incorrect. She has found a lot of progressive attitude there.

With voluntary employee assistance, a one-mile walking track was laid out on the sidewalks encompassing buildings in the South Capitol Complex.

Inauguration of the track was held a week ago with Lonsberry and Gov. Garrey Carruthers leading the walkers. Reportedly, the two even sprinted down the home stretch.

Other cabinet officials were also invited but most politely declined. Taxation and Revenue boss Vickie Fisher made a sign saying "I'd rather be eating." Lonsberry had presented all cabinet members with Health Net t-shirts at a cabinet meeting that morning. Lonsberry wore his out of the meeting. Other cabinet members were less enthusiastically clutching theirs.

Most of them were heard to agree with members of the press that a brisk walk to the Bull Ring Restaurant for some good, heavy fried food was more their style.

It is obvious that Lonsberry still has some convincing to do before swaying most of his colleagues.

He may find himself becoming more sought-after, however. Reportedly, at a recent Government Days appearance in one of New Mexico's cities, a local citizen expressed great desire to meet Mr. Lonsberry. Ah, Dewey, I'll bet the press won't let that one fade away.

Meanwhile, Lopez reports that the fitness program has spread to all six highway department districts and its meeting with employee enthusiasm around the state.

Wellness programs seem to be the big thing in business and industry to create more productivity and eventually reduce costs. If it works in its pilot run at the highway department, other agencies should adopt it.

Lopez says if the programs turn out to be as good as initial indications appear, it will be a valuable saver of our tax money. She said they have already considered the employee injury problem and have decided the cost will be negligible when compared with the benefits to both employees and the public.

Democrats weakness is Jesse's strength

By J.A. "AP" JUNGE

Jesse Jackson, first black President of the United States, wins election with support of those wanting a change in our government!

Strange headlines? Not necessarily so, unless a gigantic change takes place in how we perceive the future of this great country.

What is behind the strength of Jesse Jackson?

Simple. He talks about the things the people like to hear. Less government, more money for the "less fortunate", reduce military power even at the risk of our becoming less than self-reliant which, in turn, will affect our European Allies in the same mode. With the obvious result, nothing serious, except perhaps a third (final) world war.

And in the meantime, a part of our population will continue to be "less fortunate" or poor. History will prove that no matter how much or how long this funding goes on, this fact, however unfortunate, will remain as a fact of life.

Jesse is black. Nothing can change this fact.

Bringing blacks into the voting process has presented a new challenge to the Democratic Party. Blacks voting in large blocks of 90 percent or more upset the voting balance and this fact is causing concern and accounts for the fact that the Democrats are now faced with Dukakis, a liberal with questionable credentials, and Jackson, a fire and brimstone preacher with credentials less favorable than Dukakis.

Dukakis, Jackson's chief opponent, is the Governor of Massachusetts who is strongly critical of the government, boasting that his state unemployment is the lowest of all states while overlooking that government contracts has resulted in the low employment figure. He backs Gay Right legislation and is strongly supported by the Gay and Lesbian political group. He opposes gun ownership and follows the liberal line to reduce the military. Dukakis is a phony liberal not endowed with the speaking ability of Jackson. The blue collar workers do not like him and vote for Jackson as the other alternative.

So, with the black voters along with the white voters, not enamored with Dukakis, will give Jackson a lot of delegates he would not get with a less liberal opponent.

It is probable that black voters would vote for any black regardless of his inexperience, background or political persuasion. Jackson's affinity to Castro, his statements on the PLO are well documented. His close association with Louis Farrakhan, a violent foe of our government and a strong critic of Israel, is well known and not denied. Mayor Koch of New York does not support the Jackson cause, along with a number of influential black mayors who apparently see beneath the Jackson rhetoric.

Does the average voter weigh these facts when he enters the voting booth? Perhaps not. Jackson is the only candidate who had not filed his election expense with the Federal Election Committee.

'Why do we do it'

EDITOR—Last year's summit meeting between President Reagan and Secretary Gorbachev is over and a new one is being arranged. But "Gorbachev" has subsided a little, so it is time to sit back and consider what the Soviets really want. Why are they so anxious to have these meetings, and why do they go all out on the publicity stuff? Of course, nuclear disarmament on their terms. But what is the real reason for all the Soviet activity?

I believe the reasons behind the scenes are that the Soviet economy is suffering from years of socialist central planning and their country needs infusion of Western cash and credit and high technology to get their industrial machine going again.

As Judy Shelton states in the Wall Street Journal for March 22, 1988 "Mr. Gorbachev's primary objective is not aimed at reducing nuclear stockpiles; this would have only a negligible impact on defense spending. His real goal is to create a political atmosphere conducive to obtaining Western economic assistance to ease the Soviet budget crisis."

The Gorbachev smiles and glasnot is merely a front, and behind all this is his statement of last November. "We are moving toward a new world, the world of Communism. We will never turn off that road."

How foolish it is for the USA and Western countries to fall for this line. We should know better after 70 years of dealing with Communist regimes and their record of deceit and broken treaties. Instead, Western banks and governments are funnelling into the Soviet economy billions of dollars and credits to the extent that the external debt has risen to $37.5 billion from about $25.6 billion in the three years of Gorbachev's rule.

So, the question naturally arises, why are we and other governments financing our own demise? Why are we making it more difficult to compete in this world? Why does our government spend billions of dollars on military defense against the Soviets and at the same time lend that regime money and provide new technology? Why? Why?

There is only one answer to these questions. The answer is that the persons who control events in this world, the Insiders, are determined to so change the USA that we can then be merged with the USSR into a One-World Socialist state which they will control.

What better way for them to accomplish their goal than to bankrupt this country. But, we can beat them at their game if we use every effort to expose what they are up to.

ROBERT E. MERRILL, Greenwood, VA.

Subsidizing murder

EDITOR—Once again it is that time of year when we "render unto Caesar the things which are Caesar's," and it seems that Caesar demands a lot of rendering. As we cough up those tax dollars, many will seriously wonder if we couldn't get along without some of the many services that "Caesar" seems so anxious to provide us.

For example, many of us are convinced that we could get along much better without the state and the federal governments pumping millions upon millions of taxpayers' dollars into those agencies providing abortion on demand. A great many of us bitterly resent our government subsidizing such slaughter of the unborn.

We insist that everyone should have the right to a birthday. We further insist that such a right comes from an authority much higher than the United States Supreme Court.

One writer puts the carnage in graphic prospectus when he points out that in one typical business day, we kill more unborn babies than the American forces lost in the entire Revolutionary War, 1776-1783. He further points out that during the past 14 days, any 14 days, we have killed more unborn Americans on the operating tables than we lost in the entire Vietnam no-win war. They are aborting over 1.5 million each year.

This authorized slaughter is paid for with our tax dollars. That is wrong; it is dead wrong.

Capitan News

By Margaret Rench

Last week had sunshine with cold winds; only two nights with no ice. Easter Sunday was so beautiful and quiet at sunrise, but cold. Spring is having a hard time arriving.

The Smokey Bear Museum had 384 registered visitors in March. They only lack two states out of the 50 since October. We love that representation. The first three days of April there were 392 persons registered.

Monday morning, April 4, Elliott Barker, who was Fish and Game Department supervisor at the time Smokey Bear was found dead at the age of 101 years in Santa Fe. Friday we had a light skiff of snow. The Capitan Mountains was visibly white and it was very cold. In our area, no moisture.

The Capitan Chamber of Commerce held its meeting Monday and elected new officers.

The Lions Club is being organized in Capitan.

The Hay Depot is progressing nicely. They are a lovely couple who work together. We are proud and happy to do our business with them. I wish them continued success.

Happy birthday to Crystal Wilmette, April 7; Everett Dotkins, April 7; and Evelyn Leslie, April 12. May you have many more with good health and happiness.

Curtis and Beverly Payne will celebrate their 11th wedding anniversary April 19. I wish them many more such happy years together.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Guyann became parents of a daughter, March 29. Name is pending.

Students of Capitan returned to their studies Monday morning after Easter Break.

Howard Wright, Terry Kay and Melinda Strickland, David and Wanda Strickland and Joe Strickland enjoyed fishing at Elephant Butte on the Easter weekend.

I enjoyed dinner at the home of Doris Pounds and her family Easter Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Grover Dobbins and two children, Mr. and Mrs. Rogers and little daughter, all of Roswell. Sometime after dinner Laura Lacy and her two children joined us. Those few hours were joy and happiness.

Now this time, I cannot understand, no joke. Early Wednesday evening someone broke 10 businesses and the school windows with rocks. Why? I just cannot vision any human with such ugliness and hatred towards another to inflict such expense. Evidently you have not worked for what you get to do such mean things. You should have to pay for all those expenses, plus, then do work for some time to help keep our village clean. I hope you read this and turn around and do good instead of such naughty things. Shame on you.

Capitan Schools notes

Supt. Scott Childress told the News that the state highway department has given the school permission to begin construction of the water drainage project. This water-run-off will eventually end up in Magado Creek.

School officials have accepted the locker room for the new football field and track. This just about winds up this project.

Those wishing to use the new track should see Dr.

Childress and get a key to the gates.

Kindergarten enrollment for the 1988-89 school year will be April 22 in the old gym, 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. Bring birth certificates and shot records.

The board of education will meet April 14 at 7 p.m. On the agenda is a review of the curriculum changes at the high school level. Coming up for attention also is the re-employment of certified personnel.

Graduation is scheduled for May 14, 5 p.m., on the new football field.

The Capitan Tiger Booster Club met April 5 with the major business being that of the track meets coming up April 23 and April 30 on the new Capitan track. The Booster Club will buy a host of medals, ribbons, and trophies for the Capitan Tiger Invitational on April 23, and special caps for those running the meet. A meeting will be held April 12, 7 p.m. at the high school for all those working the meets.

The Tiger Booster voted to pay a $50 entry fee for Kateri Sanchez at the all-star basketball game.

A talent show has been scheduled for April 28 and a band concert for May 10.

The junior high will compete in track competition April 9 on the new high school track in Ruidoso. On April 12 they go to the Berrendo meet in Roswell. Another meet is scheduled April 14 in Tularosa. Coach Blane Miller has a tentative dual meet set up with Ruidoso on April 18. This will be on the new Capitan track.

The varsity track teams will compete Saturday in the Mountain Top Relays in Tularosa, beginning at 10 a.m.

Farmers Home to elect new committee members

The Farmers Home Administration (FmHA) began accepting nominations April 5 for election of county committee members under new rules that make it easier for farmers to qualify as candidates and to vote, county supervisor Dale Woods said last week.

FmHA county committees perform a variety of duties for the US Department of Agriculture credit agency, including deciding whether an applicant is eligible for a farm loan.

"One important change broadens the definition of a farmer to anyone who has an interest in a farm in the county as owner, tenant or sharecropper," Woods said. "The new definition also includes the spouse of an eligible farmer. An old requirement that more than half of the candidate's income must come from the farm operation has been dropped."

"The nominating period has been extended to 45 days from the previous 25 days, thus allowing more opportunity for people to run for the committee," Woods said. "At least three eligible farmer voters, including the nominee, must sign the petition."

Two of the three committee members are elected by farmers in the county, and one is appointed by FmHA. One of the elected seats is to be filled for a three-year term at this year's election, which is scheduled for June 30.

"Another important change this year is that one member of the committee can be an active FmHA farmer borrower, or be eligible for an FmHA farm loan," Woods said. "Previously, this was not allowed."

Anyone interested in running for the committee can obtain a petition and other information from the FmHA county office at 1096 Mechem Drive, Ruidoso, NM. The office is located around the back of the Ruidoso Financial Center (take the airport-level ramp.)

confiscated eight vehicles and one airplane in drug-related cases. The sheriff's department, under Sullivan's direction, investigated four murder cases. Three were solved and a fourth was taken to a Lincoln County grand jury. During Sullivan's term, the department installed a National Crime Information Center (NCIC) terminal which gives the department immediate access to nationwide intelligence information and data. The communications network for the department was re-designed and additional repeaters were installed at strategic locations eliminating "dead spots" in the county. "My achievements as Sheriff were the result of a team effort by employees who were proud of their department and took pride in its accomplishments. Responsible leadership produces responsible employees," he said. A 10-year Lincoln County resident, Sullivan has owned and operated Sullivan's Security Service, a private patrol and private investigation business since 1978. He and his wife Pat reside in Capitan where she is a first grade teacher. They have three sons, Mike, who is self-employed in Albuquerque; Brian, a senior at the University of New Mexico; and Paul, a senior at Texas Tech University. Tom is past president of the Carrizozo Rotary Club and is presently a director of the Ruidoso Noon Lion's Club. "With professional, responsible leadership, the Lincoln County Sheriff's Department can once again become a respected, effective, law enforcement agency," Sullivan said.
