Surratt to stand trial for murder on Aug. 22

By Ruth Hammond

According to reports, Matt Surratt is somewhere in Texas, and is to remain there until his trial on Aug. 22 to determine if he is guilty of killing his school classmate, Katina Chavez.

Surratt was 16 when he was charged with an open count of murder in the death. He turned 17 while waiting for a hearing to decide if he should be tried as an adult or as a juvenile. From March 4 until the hearing June 2 he was kept in custody in the juvenile section of the Otero County Jail in Alamogordo.

District Judge Robert

Doughty ruled on June 3, after hearing testimony for two days, that Surratt was amenable to treatment and rehabilitation if convicted and should stand trial as a juvenile. Doughty released Surratt on the condition that Surratt leave the state until the trial. Surratt was to stay with relatives at an undisclosed location.

Katina's family assumed that Surratt was to leave the state immediately. They were outraged when they received reports that he was in Roswell "running around with a friend."

Authorities were notified and Judge Doughty issued a bench warrant for Surratt's arrest. Surratt was taken into custody once again and put under certain restrictions.

A detention hearing was scheduled for June 8 but was held June 7 with District Judge Richard Parsons presiding because Judge Doughty was out of town. Parsons quashed the warrant on the condition that Surratt would leave the state immediately.

Surratt's attorney, Gary Mitchell, told the court he (Mitchell) had advised Surratt that he did not need to leave the state right away. Mitchell said he had delayed Surratt's departure from the state "to get some things accomplished."

"Who is running the show?" asked Katina's maternal grandmother Louisa Salas. She complained that Surratt did not obey the law and should be returned to jail.

The tragedy of Katina's death has affected many lives in the Hondo Valley. People do not trust one another and they keep wondering who else was involved in the death.

Katina was an athletic 15-year-old. She was active in volleyball and basketball. Her family agrees that Surratt could not have committed the murder alone. "If it was just him and her, she could have fought him off."

The family has hired a private investigator to find out if there was anyone else involved. Manuel Lopez has 12 years experience as a licensed, bonded and successful private investigator. He is actively working on the case.

Anyone with information is urged to contact him, day or night, at 505-293-8080. All information will be kept confidential.

Katina's body was found in the Rio Ruidoso near her home early Feb. 21 after an all-night search. Reports showed she had been murdered.

Surratt was questioned by the Lincoln County Sheriff's Department and released prior to his being taken into custody and charged with the open count of murder.

"I think they had something on him, some evidence," Salas said. "That is why they arrested him." Other family members agree.

The trial to determine whether Surratt is guilty of murder will be held Aug. 22. The location of the trial has not been announced. Apparently the trial will go to a district judge because Surratt has not requested a jury trial.

The slide show and talk will take place, appropriately, at the Old Lincoln County Courthouse, Friday, June 17 at 7:30 p.m.

Carrizozo town council

Trustees favor tax levy for economic development

Carrizozo trustees are in favor of the county assessing a one-half mil levy with the money to be used for economic development. Approval of a resolution to that effect was given by trustees at the June 14 town council meeting.

Scott Shafer, vice-president of the Economic Development Corporation of Lincoln County, attended the meeting to answer questions and give information about EDC/LC.

Shafer said EDC/LC is working for state approval and certification to help the group in its effort to bring economic development to all communities in the county.

EDC is seeking support of all communities in the county before formally submitting the request for the levy to the county commissioners June 28. Funding from the levy will finance the group for a year.

Trustees agreed it was an important issue and were unanimous in their vote in support of the resolution.

In other business, Dale Goad presented a sample ordinance to trustees containing proposed zoning changes to allow more open area in properties at the edge of town. The matter will be on the agenda for the June 28 meeting.

Glen Ellison asked the town to place a light to shine on the plaque in McDonald Park and to place a sign by the marker giving more information than is on the plaque. He also asked that the dumpster be moved from in front of the plaque.

Trustees discussed methods to improve the park and will pursue grants for park improvement. Property at each end of the park is for sale, and if the town could receive a grant to purchase either or both properties there would be ample space for parking and restrooms.

Trustees discussed the problem of the mobile home on

B Street not complying with city ordinances by being connected to city water and sewer. The mobile home has a water hose run from Woody Schlegel's property in Plains Mobile Home Park.

Schlegel said that six weeks ago he had agreed to let the people in the mobile home use the water for two weeks. No one seemed to know where the raw sewage is being released.

The matter had been discussed at the May 10 and 24 meetings. Chief of Police C.A. Morales had contacted the residents to notify them they were in violation.

Mayor Bob Hemphill will send a letter concerning the matter to the residents.

The Carrizozo Volunteer Fire Department and other city employees will participate in the mock disaster to be held somewhere in Lincoln County June 20. If the town does not participate it will be required to conduct a city mock disaster within five years.

The state fire marshal sent a letter stating the Carrizozo Fire Department apparatus was in good operational condition and overall, the department was in good condition.

The marshal has recommended that the town renovate the present fire house or move to larger quarters. Town officials will look for a larger building or property suitable for building a new firehouse.

Hemphill announced that plans for the town to purchase the IBM System 34 computer from the county is "up in the air." He will check further to see if the town will be able to buy the computer or will have to lease it.

Trustees tabled any action on the business registration application submitted by Corner Pocket Deli until after a conference is held with Val Reyes, lessee of the Rec Center.

Hemphill reported the progress on the water improvement project. Engineers have suggested possibly laying a temporary water line from the water storage tank to the town while the "pigging" of the lines is being conducted.

Use of a temporary line would eliminate the possibility of the town being without water should there be any major problems. Cost of a temporary line has been estimated at $18,400.

An alternative is for the town to install a permanent line. Estimated costs for a permanent line are $21,000 for a line diagonal from the tank to town and $26,300 for a line straight to town property and over to another area of town.

Installation of a permanent line would increase water pressure and be an alternate line for the present line which is 30 years old. Trustees will discuss the water further before making a decision.

Trustees agreed with Hemphill's appointments of Gail Journey and Patsy Sanchez to the Carrizozo Lodger's Tax Committee. Their terms will be for two years, replacing Ruth Armstrong and Barbara Ward. Other members of the LTC are Willie Silva, Johnny Anderson and Ruth Hammond.

An executive session was held for personnel. No announcements were made following the one-hour and 39 minute closed session.

Capitan Village Council

Proposed ordinance triggers some heat

By Bartley McDonough

A heated discussion erupted near the end of the Capitan Village Council meeting Monday evening. At question was a small section of proposed Ordinance 88-4 dealing with the organization of the Capitan Volunteer Fire Department.

This section, key word in bold print, reads as follows: "The chief of the fire department shall be elected by the members of the fire department and APPOINTED by the mayor, with the approval of a majority of all members of the governing body."

The fire department was asking that this section be changed to read as follows: "The chief of the fire department shall be elected by the members of the fire department, submitted to the mayor and the governing body for a majority approval."

Fire Chief Virgil Hall said the fire department had lived with existing Ordinance 64-4 for many years and questioned why the change was necessary. Mayor Benny Coker said it is in order to comply with rules of the state.

Village attorney Mike Rannels said he had just returned from Santa Fe and while there had visited the state fire marshal's office. He had discussed the mayor, council, fire department relationship with state fire officials.

Rannels stated funding would be jeopardized if this set up is not maintained.

During the discussion Chief Hall and Assistant Chief Pat Huey wanted to know why Mayor Coker had approached two members of the fire department about being fire chief. Coker's answer was vague.

Coker stated twice during the discussion that "we have a good fire department and the fire department has nothing to fear as far as this council is concerned."

The issue was finally put to a vote with trustees Strickland and Renfro voting in the affirmative. York and Rouleau voting against the issue. Mayor Coker broke the tie by voting yes and Ordinance 84-4 was approved by the council.

In other business the council accepted the resignation of assistant municipal judge Lydia Hall. Hall is resigning for health reasons.

Coker reappointed Duffy Morton, Hollis Fuchs and Joe

Gemoets to two-year terms on the planning and zoning commission.

Jimmy Don Wright of planning and zoning said that he was disappointed with some of the work being done by Easterling. Easterling is doing the P&Z ordinance. Attorney Rannels said the village should demand a work schedule and pay only for work completed.

A cemetery report was given by Dorothy Smith. Smith said most physical improvements had been done by George Beaudry and N.C. Grantham. A proposed list of rules for the cemetery was presented. The cemetery board is seeking perpetual care. No action was taken by the council.

Buddy Bundick gave a lengthy report concerning the Economic Development Corporation of Lincoln County. Bundick is asking for a 1/2 mil levy and is seeking the support of all communities in the county. The levy would generate in the area of $120,000. $47,500 would be for a permanent director and his secretary. This mil levy would be held accountable on a yearly basis.

Bundick said the corporation is looking for small type

Minor changes made in county election results

Minor changes were made in the primary election results for the county after the county clerk's office canvassed the votes. The new figures were presented to the county commissioners for the official canvass on Friday.

Winners in each race at the county level remained the same, even though seven changes were made in total votes received. Two totals were changed for Democrats: Inez Marrs, unopposed in the primary for county clerk, received 989 votes instead of the reported 984, and Albert Zamora in the sheriff's race received 307 votes instead of 302.

Five Republicans vote totals were changed: Shirley Goodloe, unopposed in the race for treasurer, received 1,220 instead of 1,212; Bill Karn, county commission District 3, received 591 instead of 593; Julia Samora in the assessor race received 562 instead of 560; Joe Wheatley in the assessor's race received 432 instead of 434; and Jimmie Luna Sr. in the sheriff's race received 515 instead of 535.

Other changes were in the percentage of registered voters casting their ballots. A total of 57.6 percent of registered Democrats voted and 55.1 percent of registered Republicans voted.

Lincoln County Clerk Fran

Siddens reported that printout sheets from each voting machine will be sent to the secretary of state for review and audit in preparation for the state canvass to be held June 28.

Members of the state canvassing board are Governor Garrey Carruthers, the chairman, Supreme Court Justice Tony Scarborough and Secretary of State Rebecca Vigil-Giron.

The state board will certify the election results and the certificates of nomination will be issued beginning July 8. County candidates will receive their certificates of nomination from Siddens, with each certificate being signed by the county commissioners.

All candidates are to file post-election reports on campaign contributions and expenditures no later than July 7. Primary election winners who fail to file their finance reports by the deadline will not receive their certificate of nomination until the required statements are filed. In addition, a $10-a-day penalty will be assessed against all late filers.

Seven injured in Saturday mishap

"There were no fatalities due to the rapid response," EMS director Nancy Guck said of the accident Saturday in which seven young people were injured. Occupants of the Chevrolet S-10 blazer were a Christian group on their way to El Paso.

The accident occurred eight miles north of Carrizozo on Highway 34 at 11:30 a.m. when the vehicle left the road and overturned several times. All seven were transported to Lincoln County Medical Center in Ruidoso.

Two of the more seriously injured were transported to LCMC in the advanced cardiac life support (ACLS) ambulance from Ruidoso. ACLS was needed due to the extent of the injuries. Later these two patients were air-lifted by helicopter to hospitals in El Paso. They were reported to be in stable condition.

In addition to the ACLS ambulance, ambulances were dispatched from Carrizozo, Corona, Capitan and Alto. Several people helped the 16 EMTs as they worked to save the lives of the victims, aged 15 to 24.

The Carrizozo Volunteer Fire Department was called as EMS backup and sent two trucks and several firemen. They assisted by directing traffic, lifting and moving patients and holding IV bottles.

"They (the Carrizozo firemen) were general overall excellent assistants," Guck said.

Guck reported that LCMC had extra doctors, nurses and technicians waiting for the injured as they arrived at the hospital. "All patients were cared for efficiently and immediately," she said.

The vehicle is totaled. The family has asked that the names of the injured not be released.

Jeffrey L. Yeatman of Ruidoso has been named to the President's List at Texas Tech University, which requires a perfect grade average score of 4.0 points. He is majoring in mass communication.

buckle to the Lincoln County Fair, helping with the buyer's luncheon and having a 1st place float in the Smokey Bear Stampede Parade. The club also donated money so that school FHA members Gina Griego and Sarah Dockery could go to Washington, DC.

The Corriente CowBelles participated in the drive for hunger, a state GowBelle project. # Capitan News

By Margaret Rench

This area received an inch of rain. Several times there was hail the size of marbles. Plenty of thunder and lightning.

What a delight to welcome "Cafe-Ole" on West First Street in Capitan. Jamie and Sandra Miller opened it three weeks ago and to date is a big success. They have renovated and improved inside and out and it's a dream to enter and relax and enjoy the food. Their specialties, Mexican food and lunches at noon, are really appreciated. They too will serve dinner in the evening, lunch is 11:30 a.m. to 2 p.m.; dinner 5:30 to 9 p.m. There is homemade french bread, cakes and pies made fresh daily.

They have lived in this area 12 years. They moved from Loma Grande and they love Capitan. Sandra worked at Cree Meadows for three years in pastries and wedding cakes. I wish them success galore and happiness in all they undertake.

The Capitan Chamber of Commerce is working on the July 4 Frontier Times Parade. They want everyone to participate. Anyone who would like to enter, contact Dick Beck. They are encouraging kids to decorate bicycles and join them. Aggie Kingston at the Saw Shop has entry blanks for them. There are many trophies given.

Capitan Smokey Lions Club became chartered, May 2. They have 29 members. There will be a charter night dinner at the school cafeteria June 20 at 6:30 p.m. They are expecting 200 Lions and their spouses. The Ruidoso Non Lions sponsored the Capitan group. They do such good community service. As I mentioned last week they have a framed lithograph for raffle the night July 4. The money will be used for sight conservation.

The Capitan Cemetery Board met at the Smokey Bear Restaurant June 2 to discuss further improvements for the cemetery. Many things have been accomplished to help its appearance. Some projects at this time is to enlarge the cemetery and improve roads. An effort is being made to set up a perpetual care fund. Donations are being accepted.

Mock disaster in county Monday

A mock disaster will be held somewhere in Lincoln County Monday.

It will include all responders in the county: EMTs, fire departments, law enforcement from local as well as county and state levels, county road department, US Forest Service and civil defense.

"We want people to know that this is a drill and not an actual emergency," said Nancy Guck, chairman of the Lincoln County Emergency Planning and Right to Know Act committee. "There will be sirens blowing in each community and emergency vehicles will be responding as if it were a true emergency."

State officials will observe and evaluate the response time of each responder and note the effectiveness of the exercise.

Mock disasters are scheduled, at state request, to enable the county to try out the effectiveness of the written disaster plan. Members of the committee helped write the plan and will participate in the activities.

celebrated Feast Day June 10 in Capitan. Bishop Theodor Ramirez of Las Cruces Diocese, with Father Ed Griffith, pastor of Sacred Heart Church, celebrated the Feast Day Mass. Both couples renewed their marriage vows, and received a special blessing from the bishop. The bishop invited them to be in Las Cruces at the Cathedral in September where he will be recognizing all couples in the diocese who have been married 25 or 50 years.

● Last week I belabored you with some current lunacies which leads many concerned citizens to believe we have a society gone berserk. Compare the follies and foolishness rampant today with those of bygone days in the United States. You're going to feel much better about conditions today when you finish!

● No doubt you're fed up with the inanities, follies and foolishness that occupy much of the average American's time these days. Be of good cheer. We have less of it now than we have had during the past 50 years. Youth's preoccupation with sit-ins, anti-war demonstrations, love-ins, abortion, hedonism, rock and roll music, anti-nuclear power, drugs, dirty jeans and long hair is to be preferred to the craze for goldfish-swallowing, panty raids, bathtub gin, fumbling sex and non-involvement that beset earlier generations. Once, the fads and follies had no meaning; stood for nothing. Today we have a better class of fools and foolishness in this country than in any preceding era. People today act the fool for far more worthy ends than ever before. They stand for something that counts. What kind of statement is made by swallowing a goldfish? If you think we're going to hell in a handbasket, you're wrong. I draw your attention to some of the stupidities and assinine fads I've survived over 50 years. Few of them had any meaning at all—except that they characterized a vibrant, restless, innovative society. Or, looking at it another way, where there is no foolishness there is social stagnation.

● I've lived through the War to End All Wars, and a dozen that followed it; through the administrations of 12 presidents, from Woodrow Wilson to Jimmy Carter, and each was worse than the preceding one. If I sometimes berate runners and joggers, I have only to recall the physical culture boom of Bernard McFadden; the Omnipotent Oom of Pierre Bernard, which began with yoga and ended God knows where; and that Krishnamurti of the 1920s who went around proclaiming himself to the Buddha, and established a school of theosophists. And there were the Bunion Derbies of the '20s when it took a gang of runners 526 hours to run from New York to Los Angeles (1929) with the winner collecting $25,000 and the adoration of the American public. Then there were the dance marathons of the 1930s, when June Havoc broke all endurance records for staggering around on a dance floor for I don't remember how many days. Shipwreck Kelly was sitting on flagpoles all over the country, and L. Ron Hubbard was pushing some "health stuff" called Dianetics. Gaylord Hauser was prescribing blackstrap molasses for everything from corns to ossified livers; and Royal Jelly, food of the queen bee, would make you live forever. Pee-Wee golf swept the nation. The drinking man's diet damned near killed off the flower of American "personhood" with that "calories don't count" stuff. Many starved to death but stayed smashed enough to enjoy it.

● I remember when Frank Sinatra went by the name of Marty O'Brien, and was a lousy bantamweight fighter. . . . And Major Bowes Amateur Hour of the 1930s. . . . The Lucky Strike Hit Parade. . . . Theda Bara. . . . silly putty, Bell bottom pants, Rudolph Valentino, zoot suits, Jesse James, Bonnie Parker and John Dillinger. . . . and there was chlorophyll and Confederate flags and Dr. Francis Townsend and his Old Age Revolving Pension plan that was going to give every person $200 a month for doing nothing.

● I have endured the music of Stephen Foster, Jelly Roll Morton, Mitch Miller, Vincent Lopez, Cab Calloway, Shep Fields, Spike Jones, John Philip Sousa, Phil Spitzajny, Fats Waller and Paul Whiteman. I writhed in honest agony over such songs as "Yes, We Have No Bananas," "Icky Wicky Woo," "The Music Goes Round and Round," "Mairzy Doats" and "Goodnight Irene." I suffered through two revivals of the yo-yo, raccoon coats, hula hoops, Davy Crockett coonskin caps, the beanies with little propellers twirling away on top, college students eating phonograph records, college students swallowing goldfish, college students on panty raids, college students pushing beds down the nation's highways, crowding into telephone booths and automobiles, and college students period. And Elvis Presley.

● Those who regard modern dances as stupid and degrading are lucky they can't recall the torture and ignominy of the big apple, black bottom, cake walk, camel walk, cha-cha, Charleston, clog, conga, fox trot, frug, grizzly bear, hully gully, the jerk, jersey bounce, jitterbug, Lambeth walk, limbo, Lindy hop, mambo, mashed potato, monkey, mouse, rhumba, shimmy, slop, square, swim, tango, twist, two-step, Watusi, turkey trot, bunny hug, shag, Suzy Q—all of them responsible for more broken ankles, slipped discs, dislocated shoulders and broken arms than 20 years of rock and roll and disco dancing can ever hope to record.

● The world came to an end on Thursday, Oct. 28, 1929, but I never noticed. Black Thursday ended the era of F. Scott Fitzgerald, Harold Teen and the Jazz Age. There was the Era of Wonderful Nonsense, the Dry Decade (Prohibition) and the Lawless Decade. I outlasted the expanded skid rows of the Great Depression, the soup kitchens, breadlines, bank failures and closed factories. $30 billion were lost on the New York stock market that Thursday, and many of the men who lost it were selling apples on the streets for a nickel apiece. There were 4 1/2 million workers idle by 1931 before Franklin D. Roosevelt burst upon the scene with his "Happy Days Are Here Again" printing press money, the NRA, the CCC, the WPA and the rest of the alphabetical mish-mash we still finance with printing press money. And 3.2 beer!

● I have lived through the Idioties of Howard Scott and his technology racket whereby everybody was going to have an income of $20,000 a year; and of old Dudley J. LeBlanc and his whiskey-spiked Hadaool that had the whole nation drunker than a skunk and feeling great; and Dr. Wilbeld Reich and his Orgone Box for the sexually troubled; and Charles Van Doren waiting to be

County commissioners adopt $9 million budget for 1988-89

The county budget for fiscal year 1988-89 was finalized during the Lincoln County Commission meeting June 10. The $9 million budget includes $4 million that remains to be spent on construction of the Sierra Blanca access road.

Sheriff Don Samuels presented his budget for law enforcement and the jail during the final budget hearing. He had not presented his budgets in time for the preliminary budget hearing May 17 and at that time the county manager's office had prepared budgets for the jail and law enforcement.

Samuels and the commissioners discussed his budget requests for an hour before making final adjustments. Samuels had asked for an increase in salaries for secretaries Patsy Vallejos and Bettye Dean that was more than the 3 percent the commissioners had approved.

Commissioners denied Samuels request and kept the secretary salary increases at 3 percent. Deputies received the 3 percent salary increase in addition to extra money for each year's experience as provided in the personnel policy.

County clerk Fran Siddens asked for additional money to pay for her attorney fees which are now more than $10,000. The State Supreme Court ruled that Siddens was to be represented by the district attorney in her battle with the county commissioners but did not address the matter of the existing legal fees.

"I want it on record that I made this request," Siddens said. "I don't want to tie up another clerk's budget." One-half of the clerk's budget will be available for Siddens and the remaining one-half of the budget is to be available for the new clerk who will take office Jan. 1, 1989.

While commissioners would not agree to pay Siddens' attorney fees "until the court so orders," negotiations between commissioners and Siddens continue and may possibly be included in any agreement that might be reached.

A request for $2,500 to pay for printing of the narrow gauge railroad study was considered by the commission. They agreed to fund the printing costs for $1,500 with $1,000 to come from the manager's budget and $500 to come from the planning and zoning budget.

Another $2,500 to help pay the printing costs has been approved by the Lincoln County Lodger's Tax Committee.

In other business, commissioners approved transfer of ownership of liquor license 163 from Riverside Lounge Inc. to Bonnie R. and Glenn E. McDaniel. There were no objections during the public hearing in the matter.

Approved recommendations made by the planning and zoning commission for final plat approval of Pine Creek Estates subdivision, preliminary road acceptance for Raven Ridge subdivision, replat of lot 4, block V, West Cedar subdivision and amendment to disclosure statement for Mountain Lakes subdivision.

Commissioners approved a variance request on the road width and the low water crossing for Vera Cruz subdivision. P&Z had recommended the variance requests be denied. The variance was approved subject to the county receiving letters from property owners.

Change order No. 1 for the Sierra Blanca access road was approved. The project is scheduled to be completed in October.

High bids were accepted for surplus property: B.C. Pipe and Steel submitted the high bid of $2,003.19 for scrap iron; Means Motor Supply bought the 1982 Dodge pickup for $425; the 1965 Broom Broce went to Borderland Steel for $1,125.51; the Caterpillar to McCarty Construction for $15,000 and the backhoe to Kenneth Jones for $3,133. There were no bids received for the van.

Request for office space in the courthouse for a juvenile probation officer was tabled.

A resolution to redesignate State Road 214 was approved. The new route would be from Highway 380 to the junction of 214 and County Road B-006 and across the new Sierra Blanca access road to State Road 37 and be combined with 37 to the junction of 37 and Gavilan Canyon, then on Gavilan Canyon to Sudderth Drive.

The resolution will be sent to the state highway department for consideration.

A budget increase of $30,000 was approved with the additional revenue to be used for repair of the road to the Eagle Creek summer home area.

Resolution 76-72 was approved for road projects using state highway-department cooperative program money (state 60 percent and county 40 percent), county arterial program (state 75 percent and county 25 percent), and school bus route (state 100 percent.) The coop and cap money will be used on the Fort Stanton road and Fort Stanton mesa and the school bus route is the Transwestern road.

Kay Dennis, Carolyn Cantrell and Richard Seeley were re-appointed to the Lodger's Tax committee for terms of two years.

Legal fee agreement with A. J. Ferrara was approved. Ferrara will provide legal representation for the commissioners in the cases of the commissioners versus Siddens and the commissioners versus Samuels.

The legal fee agreement includes a fee of $75 per hour to be paid not to exceed $20,000.

Carrizozo Mayor Bob Hemphill submitted a request for the town of Carrizozo to purchase the IBM System 34 computer from the county at a cost of $3,000.

now needed to cover line items in the law enforcement and jail budgets that are in the red.

Total expenditures in excess of the amount budgeted amounts to $33,822. This total includes estimates for June bills and are only projections based on previous bills.

The commissioners had encumbered the money from the law enforcement budget with the money to be used for legal expenses. Samuels had objected at the time because he had planned to use the money to purchase additional vehicles for the department.

When the total of $33,822 was announced, undersheriff Rex Skellett said, "That comes pretty close to $34,000."

Commissioners canvassed the votes from the June 7 primary election. See accompanying article.

An executive session was held for possible litigation.

fired by NBC for cheating on the $64,000 Question television show. All eyes, I weathered the topless-and-bottomless waitresses, the chain letters and Upton Sinclair and his End Poverty in California (E.P.I.C.)

● What a delight to have persisted through the ups and downs of women's hemlines, and the emancipation from bustle to crotch dusters. In 1919 women's skirts were 6 inches above the ground; in 1927 they were at the knee; in 1957 came the sack; and in 1960 the flapper returned, with hemlines slightly below the navel. Then there were those Eugenia hats of the 1930s that almost defathered the bird population of the world and sold for $6 and under. It wasn't easy, but I rode out with grace the era of floursack drawers for the girls, the teddy and camisole; the taffeta ankle-length bathing suits and high-button shoes; bloomers, chemise and corsets.

● It took a tough hombre to outlive the Satan Slayers and Hell Robbers of my era. Billy Sunday, who played baseball for the old Chicago White Stockings before turning against the Devil, struck terror in the hearts of million along his Sawdust Trail. Then there was Aimee Semple McPherson, world's most pulchritudinous evangelist, who mixed just enough sex with religion to make it interesting. I buried Father Divine who rode the New York streets in splendor in his $28,000 Duesenberg limousine, along with his successor, Mother Divine, and Dr. Frank N.D. Buchman and his Moral Rearmament.

● I have outlived three-fourths of my enemies and am planning to bury the rest of 'em. There was only one man I ever swore to kill, and some of Gen. Rommel's men took care of that deed for me in North Africa in World War II. I have persisted in spite of the KKK, Sen. Joe McCarthy, abolitionists, sufferageettes, anarchists, wobblers, Bahaists, behaviorists, birth control advocates, Black Power advocates, Hedonists, hippies, homosexuals, idealists, Marxists, populists, Nazis, New Dealers, messianists, nudists, panssexualists, occultists, One-Worlders, pacifists, phallists, planned parenthood advocates, revolutionists, Scientologists, Sun Worshipers, Technocrats, Theocrats, Democrats, Theosophists, Tolstoyists, vegetarians, yogas and welfare-staters. I have got to be one tough cookie.

● Emerson said it: "Each age has its own follies, as its majority is made up of foolish young people." He would have been more correct to have added: "But folly is for people of all ages." We all have a hand in seeking progress by trying out new ideas and new things. This couldn't happen in a country tied by tradition, ritual and a philosophy of "no change."

JUSTICE FOR ALL

Tuesday, June 14 was Flag Day in case you wondered why the flags were flying. Carrizozo Lions Club member Jim Selby was in charge of setting out the 58 flags around the town. Glen Ellison assisted.

To test your knowledge of The Pledge of Allegiance try your hand at the following quiz. Answers are given below.

1. Who is the author of the Pledge of Allegiance?
2. In what year and where was the author born?
3. When and where was the Pledge first used?
4. What was being observed when the Pledge was first recited?
5. Has the original wording of the Pledge ever been altered?
6. When were the author's words officially designated as the Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag?

Embarrassing, you want embarrassing? I didn't know any answers.

Here are the Flag Day quiz answers, thanks to The American Legion Auxiliary's National News (May-June 1988):

1. The author is Francis Bellamy.
2. He was born May 18, 1855 at Mount Morris, NY. He died Aug. 28, 1931, before his work was designated as a national pledge.
3. The pledge was first used at the dedication of the World's Fairgrounds in Chicago on Oct. 21, 1892.
4. The 400th anniversary of the discovery of America by Christopher Columbus.
5. Bellamy's original wording was altered slightly by the First and Second National Flag Conferences in 1923 and 1924. The words "under God" were added on Flag Day, 1954, when President Dwight D. Eisenhower signed into law House Joint Resolution 243.
6. It was officially designated as the Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag by Public Law 287, 79th Congress, approved Dec. 28, 1945.

Eager to know more about Bellamy, my search in World Book revealed that he was an associate editor of The Youth's Companion.

SPANGLISH READING

A pleasant surprise last week was a letter from Fr. Joe Sys, former Santa Rita pastor. We enjoy the Spanglish in his letters (half Spanish and half English). Although his nationality is not Hispanic he talks fluent Spanish.

His first interest has always been his order, Missionaries of Africa. He is recuperating from open heart surgery again and is looking forward to 1991 when he celebrates "mis bodas de oro de sacerdotado" (golden anniversary as a priest). That's when he hopes to fly to New Mexico again, regardless of the shape he'll be in.

He writes that someone has sent him a copy of Lincoln County News, including this column. "Muy bien, sigs," he writes (Very good, keep it up!)

Another NM friend tells him by letter that he must see the movie "Milagro Beanfield War." While in Washington, DC Fr. Sys saw the film and recommends the movie highly "to anyone even vaguely liking NM."

NO MORE UGANDA

Fr. Sys is adjusting to moving into a new house, in a city and state he left in 1980 to return to Uganda. At his age (75) he says he won't be "unretiring again" and gives up hope of ever returning to Africa.

Founded in 1868 by Cardinal Lavignerie in Algiers, North Africa, the Missionaries of Africa now has over 2640 members working in or for African countries. As an international organization with headquarters in Rome, Italy, the order is known outside the United States as White Fathers and is represented in 15 ## countries.

Fr. Sys lives at Lavignerie House, named after the order's founder. Florida's hot muggy season is 88°. He writes that they have no pool, but he must hurry to a neighbor's pool to build up a tan to show off.

"Show off where?" By the end of July he will be in Detroit, where he and his sister will board Sabena Charter for Brussels. "Was going to defer working on my family tree for another year but at 76 would I feel any better? Peppier!"

Lincoln County friends and former parishioners can write to Fr. Sys at this address: Missionaries of Africa, 3757 7th Ave. N., St. Petersburg, FL 33710.

ENTREPRENEURIALS ONLY

Another new and different magazine crossed my path. Another world was shown to me in the May 1988 Venture, a magazine for entrepreneurial business owners and investors.

If you need publicity, but don't know how to get it, you can dial the PR Hotline. For $100, charged to your credit card, Alan Caruba will lay out your options in a 60-minute phone consultation.

Want to reach up to 1,250 media outlets? A press release sent to PR Newswire, an electronic service, will do the job. Want to get on TV or radio? A notice in Radio-TV Interview Report, a monthly newsletter, will put your name before 5,200 producers and news directors. It all comes down to this: It takes money to make money.

Ellis Hodge, Crown CowBelle Man of the Year for 1988, was honored at a picnic supper at the Ranney ranch Saturday evening, June 11.

Hosts were George Ranney and Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Johnson, assisted by Mrs. Betty Getz, a house guest from Chicago. Katy Sultemeier, committee chairman, was MC for the festivities. She introduced Marvin Pounds who entertained with his guitar. He sang several songs, one an original shoot 'em up which rhymed dodge, lodge and Hodge. Mrs. Clara Porter read her poem written for the occasion and presented it with drawings of some registered Herefords. The MC handed the honoree his special gift of "Johnnie Bond rocks." Pictured on the rocks were yucca, windmill, fence, etc.

Geraldine Perkins gave the invocation. Johnson presided at the grill and members, families and guests enjoyed everything from hamburgers to freezers of ice cream and a chocolate cake baked by Martha Garza. The cake was appropriately inscribed and was decorated with the American and New Mexico flag, a windmill and a bluebird of happiness sitting on a fence.

Hodge said, "This is just about the nicest thing that ever happened to me." Not even the blackout dampened the festivities.

The next meeting of Crown is July 7 at the Latham ranch.

Sonia Cope and Deanna and Joe Brown came from Roswell Saturday evening to join their sister Michelle at the party for their grandfather, Ellis Hodge. Phyllis White, longtime friend of Mr. and Mrs. Hodge, came from Tularosa.

Eva Mae Holleyman and Pat Perkins attended the Beta Sigma Phi state convention June 3-5 in Albuquerque. W.W. "Bill" Ross III was the speaker. Mr. Ross is president of the International Executive Council of Beta Sigma Phi with headquarters in Kansas City, MO. The 1989 state convention will be in Farmington.

Denise Lightfoot and Mary Romero attended Girls State at NMMI last week. Denise was a delegate to the electoral college and says she learned a lot about inside political workings. The girls appreciate the opportunity to be Girl Staters and to meet and make many friends. They said also that they are glad to be from a small school.

Shane Owen attended the Hugh O'Brian Youth Foundation seminar at UNM last week, a busy three-day schedule of lectures and field trips. O'Brian established these annual working conferences for high school sophomores throughout the US after a trip to Africa where he was inspired by the works of Dr. Albert Schweitzer. Mrs. Gordon Owen and Mrs. Lee R. Owen attended the luncheon meeting at La Posado on the UNM campus Sunday which ended the conference.

Mrs. Verna Wherry was expected home this week after exploratory surgery last week in an Albuquerque hospital.

E.R. "Bud" Bagley was taken to undergo hip surgery necessitated after a horse fell with him. Shane Owen is working this summer at the Catlemen's Restaurant in Las Cruces.

Mr. and Mrs. Bo Proctor have returned from a motor trip to Alaska.

Mrs. Floyd Proctor and Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Earl Proctor attended a Williams family reunion in Duncan, OK. Enroute home they stopped in Abernathy, TX to visit Doris and Wayne Preston. Since retirement Mr. Preston is whittling and has become an accomplished artist. Floyd Earl took him some cedar and algerita woods for his carving.

Recent guests of the Hiners were Grace Berry, Linden, TX and Ruth Ann Spurlock, Tyler, TX. The four made several side trips during the visit to White Sands and Albuquerque.

Mr. and Mrs. C.R. Hiner drove to Granbury, TX for a Hiner family reunion Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Bob Bradford left Sunday afternoon on a short vacation trip to California.

Barbara Bradley and Caille Gnatkowski attended a

4-H camp at Scott-Abel last week.

Dorothy Bradley took three senior citizens to the Senior Olympics on the UNM campus last week. Josie Taborio, Joyce Winchester and Dick Bradley, Mrs. Tenorio and Mr. Bradley took 3rd in the 400 meter relay. Mrs. Tenorio took 5th in the 200 meter. Mr. Bradley placed 3rd in the 50 meter, 4th in the 200 meter and 4th in the soccer accuracy kick.

Sincere Thanks to all of you Republicans who supported me in the recent Primary. I feel overwhelmed with friends. And a special thanks to you Democrats and Independents who encouraged me to make it to the general election. I truly hope to have all of your continued support so I may serve Lincoln County as commissioner. God bless you!

Pam Veile is EMT for June

PAM VEILE

Various circumstances affect the constancy of volunteer EMT service—people moving to other areas and pressures of the work of regular jobs, that more volunteers are needed in Lincoln County to take the basic training.

By contacting Nancy Guck at her office in the courthouse, one may obtain more information about the training programs.

The Lincoln County EMT Association chose Pam Veile of Alto as the EMT for June. Pam was born and schooled in a rural area of Ohio near Cincinnati. She worked there a year after high school graduation, then moved with her parents, Lillian and Howard Puckett, to Albuquerque. There, she met Gene Veile, an automobile service manager. Her parents moved to Ruidoso and she soon followed, working at Pioneer Savings, then for the last four years at the Lincoln County Medical Center as account manager.

Pam and Gene have a home between Alto and Ruidoso. Both are cross-country skiers and snowmobilers, and belong to the Alto fire department, where her father is fire chief. It was her father, Howard Puckett, who interested Pam and Gene in taking the EMT basic training in Carrizozo in 1985.

"Since then," Pam said, "we have taken as many hours as possible of continued training to qualify for state and national certification. We are also qualified evaluators and proctors in training tests."

"Each month, Alto EMTs and firemen hold a meeting in our fire station that always includes renewal of training, movies and slides, or special reports from area doctors. It is a never-ending learning process."

"We respond to fire calls too, in case of need for medical assistance," Pam explained. "And whenever an accident occurs in the county where there are multiple victims, May 21 and 22, we attended the Regional EMT Meet in Portales, The Life Guard I helicopter demonstration was especially interesting. We hope to attend later training to be given on the preparation of patients for transportation by helicopters, to facilitate all the service in the quickest time."

"Locally, we often have patients visiting Alto for golf, hiking and skiing who are unexpectedly incapacitated by the high altitude and need our help."

Pam gives insurance physicals in connection with her work, and CPR instructions.

"It is amazing," she said, "how often the use of seatbelts and child restraints is disregarded when it could so easily have prevented serious injuries. Being overly tired and falling asleep at the wheel is another cause of injuries. Obeying traffic laws, keeping alert when driving, and knowing your own physical capabilities, can save a life."
