Ringers to host state horseshoe championship

The Carrizozo Buzzard Ringers will host the New Mexico State Horseshoe Pitching Championships Aug. 19-21. The event is expected to draw more than 80 contestants from around the state.

Signs of local businesses will line the fence surrounding the horseshoe pits at the Carrizozo Country Club. The public is invited to attend any or all of the contests.

Defending 1987 women's state champion Vickie Vermillion Comstock of Carrizozo and defending 1987 men's state champion Tom Schara of Albuquerque will compete in the event.

There will be an added purse of $2,000, which is the first time for an added purse in the New Mexico state championship tournament.

The Buzzard Ringers will sponsor an enchilada dinner at the County Club Aug. 12 from 5 to 8 p.m. to raise money to help pay for prizes. The public is invited to attend.

Local businesses and townspeople have shown their support for the state meet in Carrizozo and the Buzzard Ringers have extended a "special thank you" to all who have helped with plans for the contest.

The Senior Citizens are planning a pancake breakfast Aug. 20 for the horseshoe pitchers and the public.

Domenici staff to consult with area residents

Staff members of US Senator Pete V. Domenici will be present in the county commissioners room of the Lincoln County courthouse on Tuesday, Aug. 16, 10 to 11:30 a.m.

Anyone who is experiencing difficulty with a federal agency who would like Domenici's assistance is welcome to visit with the senator's staff. Additionally, anyone who would like to convey an opinion to the senator is welcome to do so.

Rabies outbreak in Carrizozo area

On Aug. 6 a resident of the Carrizozo area was attacked and bitten by an unvaccinated cat. Twenty-four hours later, a fox exhibiting unusual behavior was captured in close proximity to the owner's home.

Both animals subsequently tested positive for rabies at the New Mexico Health and Environment Division in Albuquerque. The laboratory specimens from both the cat and the fox are being sent to the Center for Disease Control (CDC) in Atlanta, GA to identify the animal species where the rabies virus originated.

Because the fox had a skunk odor about it, a skunk is suspected to have initiated the disease in this animal.

A physician has instituted appropriate post-exposure rabies treatment for the owner of the cat. All previously vaccinated domestic animals on the owner's premises have been administered rabies booster vaccinations and are being quarantined for 60 days. All unvaccinated domestic animals have been euthanized.

These are the seventh and eighth reported cases of rabies in the state in 1988. With the exception of one case of rabies originating in Las Cruces, all reported cases this year have been found in the Artesia to Carrizozo area. These latest cases underscore the importance of abiding by the New Mexico state law which requires that all dogs and cats over three months of age be vaccinated once yearly against the rabies virus. In addition, livestock owners in these endemic areas may wish to contact their veterinarian regarding recommendations for rabies vaccinations for their livestock, according to F. Lynn Willard, DVM, Ruidoso.

"Finally, the public must be advised to avoid contact with wild animals, especially skunks, foxes and raccoons. Hunting season will soon be starting and hunters in the Artesia-Carrizozo areas should exercise extreme caution when contracting wildlife. Hunters are advised that wearing gloves while dressing wildlife would be appropriate," said Catherine Tonn, DVM, Ruidoso.

Further questions regarding rabies vaccinations for pets or the public health aspects of the rabies virus should be directed to local veterinarians, local health officer, or the Office of Epidemiology, New Mexico Health and Environment Department, 827-0006.

Commissioners, clerk end battle

The battle between the Lincoln County Commissioners and Lincoln County Clerk Fran Siddens came to an end Aug. 4 when an agreement between the parties was reached.

The battle which began in January over procedure for preparation of minutes of the county commission meeting lasted seven months.

The disagreement started when Siddens refused to change the minutes of the Dec. 22, 1987 meeting according to commissioners' requests. The commissioners filed a writ against Siddens asking her to comply.

Siddens answered the writ and filed a motion to have county attorney Gary Mitchell disqualified from representing the commissioners in the matter. District Judge Robert Doughty upheld the motion and disqualified Mitchell.

Siddens then went to the New Mexico Supreme Court and asked that the county be required to pay her legal fees. The Supreme Court ruled that Siddens, as an elected official, was to be represented by the district attorney.

The court date of Aug. 15, which had been scheduled for the writ hearing against Siddens, has now been vacated with the agreement that was reached.

The stipulation for dismissal agreement includes payment of $18,462.26 to the law firm of Parsons & Bryant for Siddens' legal fees. This money will come from the clerk's balance at the end of the last fiscal year. Siddens had $19,367 in her budget on June 30, 1988.

The agreement reached between the commissioners and the clerk is an eight-page document that was approved during an eight-minute special emergency meeting Aug. 4.

According to the agreement, the disputed minutes of the Dec. 22 meeting will not be recorded as presented by Siddens. Certified court reporter Dama Wimberly will transcribe the minutes of three meetings—Nov. 12, 1987, Dec. 22, 1987, and Jan. 12, 1988 from the tape recordings of those meetings. The transcribed minutes of the Nov. 12 meeting will be attached to the Dec. 22 transcription as exhibit "K". The Jan. 12 transcription will be attached to the Jan. 12 minutes. These minutes as amended will become the official minutes of these meetings.

Siddens stated in a press release that the commissioners had "sued me because I wouldn't cooperate with them in their effort to discredit Sheriff Don Samuels by altering the minutes of the Dec. 22, 1987 commission meeting."

She further stated that at the beginning of the lawsuit she was determined to accomplish three goals: (1) to protect the public right to know the truth; (2) to protect the constitutional integrity of her office for all county clerks statewide; and to secure legal representation at the county commission's expense.

Siddens says she has accomplished all three goals and the agreement reached recognizes that the procedures she used in her office for minute keeping are appropriate.

The commissioners stated in a press release that the agreement will provide that if a dispute arises over the minutes, there will be a review of the tapes in a public meeting; the clerk is not to put the minutes on permanent minute paper until after the review and this will provide a way for corrections to be made and will prevent the editorializing of the minutes.

Commissioners have a separate lawsuit against Sheriff Don Samuels that is still pending.

Carrizozo trustees deadlock over water sales to mining company

By Ruth Hammond

Carrizozo trustees came to a deadlock during the Aug. 9 meeting after a 30-minute discussion concerning the sale of city water to a mining company.

Pioneer Metals Corp. in Denver had offered the town $10,000 for the option to purchase water from the town. Trustees Harold Garcia and Linda Haller were in favor of rejecting the proposal.

Trustees Albert Baca and Dale LaMay voted no on the motion to reject the proposal. Mayor Bob Hemphill broke the tie by also voting no. The matter was tabled.

The proposal was for a three-year option to purchase the water. The $10,000 offered would be non-refundable and the mining company also offered to pay the first month's charges of $450 in advance.

Specifics of the offer included the payment of $3 per 1,000 gallons of water, which is in excess of the amount residents pay, with the stipulation that no more than an average of 5,000 gallons of water per day per month would be obtained by the company. Another stipulation in the proposed contract was for the company not to exceed 20,000 gallons in any given day.

The contract had been discussed by trustees during executive session July 26 and had been sent to city attorney

Richie Askew and the Municipal League for their input as to changes.

Garcia objected to the town considering selling water to the mining company when there was a moratorium on selling water to residents just outside the city limits.

In other business, trustees approved a lease agreement for Dr. David Rouleau of Capitan to build a hangar at the Carrizozo Municipal Airport. The hangar is to be built within 90 days.

An ordinance was adopted enacting a new zone A-2 for more open space in certain areas at the edge of —Trustees granted a temporary variance to Jimmie Luna to have a travel trailer parked on his property on Central for 60 days. Luna is using the trailer to store tools while he is remodeling the two buildings. The variance will expire Oct. 11.

—Alan O'Brien of Wilson and Company, engineers for the water improvement project for the town, reported that the inside of the water storage tank was in better condition than had been thought. He said the lines were also in better condition

DR. DAVID ROULEAU (right) will build a new hangar at the Carrizozo Municipal Airport. The lease agreement was approved during the Aug. 9 Carrizozo town council meeting. Dr. Dale Goad, chairman of the Carrizozo Airport Committee, presents the signed lease to Rouleau.

A COMPACT CAR? Tito Salcido, 21, of Hondo and a juvenile were in this 1985 Oldsmobile when it missed the turn at the railroad tracks at the White Oaks turn-off north of Carrizozo Saturday at about 4 a.m. The car skidded and landed on the tracks. Before the car could be moved it was hit by a train. The occupants of the car were not in the car at the time it was condensed to its current compact state. Both occupants were booked in the Lincoln County Jail for detox and released the next day. The incident is under investigation by the sheriff's department.

Reflections on the Pony Express Race

By GLEN ELLISON

The Lincoln County Pony Express Race went off in grand style Saturday, Aug. 6.

Old-timers commented they had never seen a crowd that big before assembled at the finish line. The whole thing went off as flawless as if it had been rehearsed numerous times.

About 9:45 a.m. the crowd began to grow tense and began watching down the road to the east. Then a few minutes later someone shouted: "Get out of the road, here they come."

You look far down the road to the bend and see a horse and rider are coming. It all seems so simple, the man on the horse dismounts, hands over his mail, accepts congratulations and answers questions, his team grabs the horse and walks him to cool him down. One by one the other riders come in, much to the same routine.

Jamil Hindi was the winning rider with a time of just over one hour fifty minutes.

His sister Anna finished 2nd at just over one hour fifty-one minutes. Cordell Vigil came on in 'as did Justin Hefker and the 1988 race was over.

There was no evidence of horse abuse, nor were there any words of anger or controversy. All teams came in in a five minute period and the awards were made 15 minutes later.

Now finished is a year of work. One year in a web of years. It is certainly one of the world's great endurance races for horse and rider. For the next hour or so, mingling with the crowd, are the people of the team—some of the truly great horse people of the United States. With folks they know they grin and tell little happenings over the race. The excitement in their faces tell why they are there—it is a big thing to them. You know you are being counted as a friend or you wouldn't be hearing the story. There is a very solid bond amongst the horse people.

A celebrated Englishman wrote: "All the world's a stage and all the men and women merely players: They have their exits and their entrances; And one man in his time plays many parts. . . . There is the real story of the Pony Express. When you walk into the Hindi home at Duran, you know you are in an American castle. The new $2500 saddle will sit there somewhere near the Thomas Catron dining room set. The home, the family, the barns, the ranch are so American you sense the awesome legacy of our country. The Hindi folks won the race in 1971. The year before Brahmaiah had lost the foot race after the dismount for a second place finish. Those of us who have known him all these years watched with pleasure and admiration as he put the touch of the master to the Hindi Arabians in the 1988 Lincoln County Pony Express Race.

The Hindi team had a bad year in 1986. A horse got in deep trouble. A year ear-

State FFA officers meet President at White House

WASHINGTON, DC—Jason Gibbs, first vice-president of the New Mexico FFA Association, was one of more than 100 state FFA officers who met recently with President Ronald Reagan. The White House meeting highlighted the week-long FFA State Presidents' Conference in the nation's capital. The conference, sponsored by Chevrolet as a special project of the National FFA Foundation, Inc., is designed to help newly-elected FFA state officers improve their leadership skills by expanding their knowledge of FFA and the issues facing American agriculture. Jason, 18, is the son of A.J. and Jeanene Gibbs of Corona. He was elected vice-president of the New Mexico FFA Association at the State Convention in Las Cruces in June. President Reagan welcomed the state officers and adult FFA leaders to the White House and to Washington, DC. He told the audience, "In going back to Iowa and talking to many of the farmers there, and businessmen and government leaders, I heard a great deal about changes in American agriculture during the last few years. In many ways, these changes are reflected in your own organization's emphasis on broadening the public's perception of what FFA is all about. Because you're not only an organization for farmers but an organization for all those looking for opportunities in agricultural marketing, management, production, engineering, research, communications, government and other areas" Reagan continued, "Your 400,000 members, 7,800 chapters are testimony to a number of young lives that FFA influences in all these wide areas. And, believe me, having traveled the world as I have during these past eight years, I can tell you how important this work is to the hopes of so many millions for a better world and a better future."

The State Presidents' Congressional luncheon on Thursday featured remarks from Congressman Wes Watkins of Oklahoma and from E. P. Feely Jr., sales manager in charge of trucks/Chevrolet Motor Division. Watkins stressed the importance of FFA's role in developing agricultural leadership.

Friday morning the officers met for a special briefing with Secretary of Agriculture Richard Lyng.

During the conference, July 25-29, the state officers also participated in leadership workshops, meetings with their congressional representatives, tours of Washington, and special presentations about agriculture

CAPITAN NEWS

By Margaret Rench

APIANO, a Steinway square grand built in New York in 1859 and brought across the country by covered wagon is part of the furnishings of the former home of Dr. Earl Woods, country doctor in Lincoln about 1913. At the Woods house, Lincoln County Historical Society guides George and Elaine Beaudry of Capitan, greeted visitors who were in the village for the annual Lincoln Days event.

Capitan to kick off 1988 football season

Football practice began Monday in Capitan for the 1988 season, and head coach Blane Miller said there will be two weeks of two practices a day.

The morning practice is from 8 to 10:30 o'clock. The afternoon practice begins at 4 and is over by 6:30. The Tigers return 11 lettermen from a team that went 3-8 last season.

New assistant coaches are Jim Fowler and Norman Cline. Fowler will coach offensive tight ends and split ends, defensive ends and linebackers. Fowler comes to Capitan from New Braunfels, TX and has 27 years coaching experience.

Norman Cline has 12 years teaching and coaching experience. Floyd, NM was his last teaching assignment. Cline will coach offensive and defensive interior linemen.

Reporting to practice Monday were: seniors, Clay Guck, offensive center, defensive tackle; Jerrod Martin, offensive halfback, defensive end; Anthony Sanchez, offensive halfback, defensive corner; Tino Gallegos, quarterback and defensive halfback; Johnny Castillo, tight end and defensive end; Lance LaMay, guard and defensive linebacker; Kent McInnes, tackle both ways; Fernando Miranda, tackle both ways; Luke Hall, guard and defensive nose guard.

Junior Warren Russell will play halfback and corner on defense. Sophomores reporting were: Heath Huey, quarterback and defensive linebacker; Dallas DeVees, split end and defensive halfback; Dean Seay, tight end and defensive linebacker; Larry McEuen, fullback, defensive linebacker; Jerry Stockton, tackle both ways. McEuen and Seay are the punters. 10th grader Chuck Cox will be at tackle on offense and defense.

Freshmen at Monday's practice were: Jimmy Stockton, guard, defensive linebacker; Ernie Gallegos, guard and defensive tackle. 8th grader Jeff Cox will play guard and defensive nose guard.

Expected out later are seniors Chris McCarty and Richard Griego. McCarty is a split end and defensive cornerback. Griego plays tackle both ways. Others expected out are sophomore Julian Affuzo and freshmen Scott Irion, Stormy Trost and Dannon Sime. Affuzo is expected to play tackle and defensive nose guard. Irion will be at halfback both ways. Trost will be at tight end and defensive end. Sime goes at tackle both ways. Some of these assignments will change as the need arises.

Coach Miller said he is pleased with the team's attitude, and forecasts an exciting season. "I expect a championship team playing with basic fundamentals.

It took all last week, but this area received 2 inches total rainfall and it has remained cool and cloudy. Such beautiful moisture. It's magic, so green and refreshing.

Let us remember to prepare for the Lincoln County Fair, Aug. 18-20. It's always great, but let's make this one the greatest.

The Smokey Bear Lions Club is holding a car wash at the bank lot in Capitan, 9 a.m. to noon, Aug. 13. They also have a quilt raffle. It is on display at the bank. Tickets are $1 each or $5 for six. This money is to be used for sight preservation. The drawing will be Aug. 20. Tickets can be purchased from members.

The Smokey Bear Museum had 2440 registered visitors, Aug. 1-7.

The Lincoln Pageant held last weekend was a big success as is reported to me. Record crowds. Was like a city all of the time. There was lots of food and so much fun. Many camped out near Lincoln with their horses, and said they had such a wonderful happy time.

Lacine Salazar, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Salazar of Salazar Canyon near Lincoln, is recording a country western album with LPG Label in Nashville. The promoter is Little Richie Thompson of Nashville and Belen, NM. She is appearing in Denver, CO for a benefit performance, Aug. 15-20. Labor Day she will be performing in Des Moines, IA, with a group of well-known western music stars.

Lacine is a 1985 graduate of Capitan High School. She sang in the school choir and also with the Sacred Heart Church Choir for eight years. She has appeared in talent shows and benefits in Ruidoso and Alamogordo. She has made the statement, "She hopes to make Lincoln County as proud of her as she is of Lincoln County."

The Capitan Junior School cheerleaders are Sharice Hall, Tiffany Fritz, Tonya Kennick, Carol Kennick, Tinnie Coons and Christina Imhoff. They have been busy all summer trying to earn money for their uniforms, shoes and poms poms.

They held a raffle on a handmade beaded basket which will be drawn Aug. 12. They had a raffle to begin with for a cord of split wood to be delivered by Sept. 15. Mr. and Mrs. Tracey of Nogal won that. They have also had a bake sale and a car wash at Cummins. They held another bake sale at the Capitan Mart. On Aug. 19-20, the girls will be having a yard sale on Main Street and also a bake sale in front of Cummins on Aug. 13. They still are needing to earn some more money to cover costs of all their poms poms. If anyone has any household items that they would like to donate to the cheerleaders for their yard sale, please call Vicki Hall at 954-2365 before Thursday, Aug. 11. The girls will be cheering for all of the junior high volleyball and football games for the 1988-89 year. Vicki Hall is their cheerleader sponsor for 1988-89.

Harriett Kline of Virginia Beach, VA will arrive in Capitan to visit her daughter Beth. Mr. and Mrs. Blayne Miller and family through the 18th. She will travel by plane to Dallas where her sister Carolyn will meet her and they will drive through to Capitan.

I had the pleasure of meeting and talking to David Bungay of Los Angeles last Thursday, who was here on business with his property up Nogal Canyon. He was so surprised to find me in a rain forest, but very happy about it. He stated he likes my news and appreciates it. Thank you, Mr.

Bingo Thursday night at the Dean Building next to Cummins Store in Capitan is calling you. Come have fun and maybe you will win.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Gemoets celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary at an open house at the Senior Citizens Center, Aug. 5 during a Parker family reunion. Family members attended from Montana, California, New Jersey, Texas, New Mexico and Massachusetts. I wish this happy couple many more happy years of wedded bliss.

OPINION

● New Mexico ranks first in per capita deaths due to chronic drug and alcohol problems in the nation—six times the national average. Jay Miller, our Santa Fe correspondent, said in a recent column that Gov. Carrey Carruthers has circulated a letter pointing out that as many as 50 percent of high school students have tried marijuana; 22 percent have used hallucinogenic drugs; 34 percent of 9th graders are habitual alcohol users; 12 percent of 4th graders use inhalants; 23 percent of the 4th graders have tried alcohol and 1.2 percent of 4th graders are regular users of marijuana. Then he addresses the devastating result of the above statistics—51 percent of all homicides are drug or alcohol related; 46 percent of all suicides are drug or alcohol related; and 64 percent of all traffic fatalities are alcohol related.

● This is a disgraceful situation. If parents can't even oversee and control their 4th grade children in regard to alcohol and drugs, perhaps the educational approach to curing drug abuse should be directed toward parents rather than to school children. If children do indeed represent the nation's future, and I believe they do, this parental lack of responsibility toward the children must eventually lead to government taking total control of child upbringing. Many times it has been pointed out in this column that government has moved in to take charge of feeding school children who are not being properly fed at home. Now on the agenda of both political parties is the matter of government support for child day care centers. That is the other foot in the door toward socialization of child rearing. Unless parents exercise their legal and moral right to control their children in drug and alcohol matters, the government will be glad to assume the responsibility—and parents are giving it the best of all possible reasons for doing so.

● It's Pearl Harbor Day again. Congress has passed and sent to the president a bill giving $20,000 to every Japanese-American sent to relocation centers in World War II. This is the fourth time the United States has paid Japanese-Americans for the inconvenience they endured for having been barred from the West Coast at the outbreak of war with Japan. In 1948 Congress passed Public Law 886 which allowed such people $40 million for all personal and real property loss. In 1951 Congress amended PL 886 to read Public Law 116 and again paid millions to Japanese-Americans for further claims against the government. In 1956 Congress once again amended PL 116 which became Public Law 673 and millions of dollars more were paid to them. Congress recently amended PL 673 which became Public Law 442, which gives them an additional $1.25 billion. When can we expect an amendment to PL 442, and how many billions will it cost American taxpayers?

● I have a friend who was sent to a relocation center. She has fought for many years against compensating Japanese-Americans for inconvenience and financial losses she says never happened. I asked her if she would accept her $20,000. She replied that she would, but only to punish ignorant and ill-informed Americans for their stupidity. She says the cunning Japanese are experts at manipulating congressmen and extracting money from a gullible public.

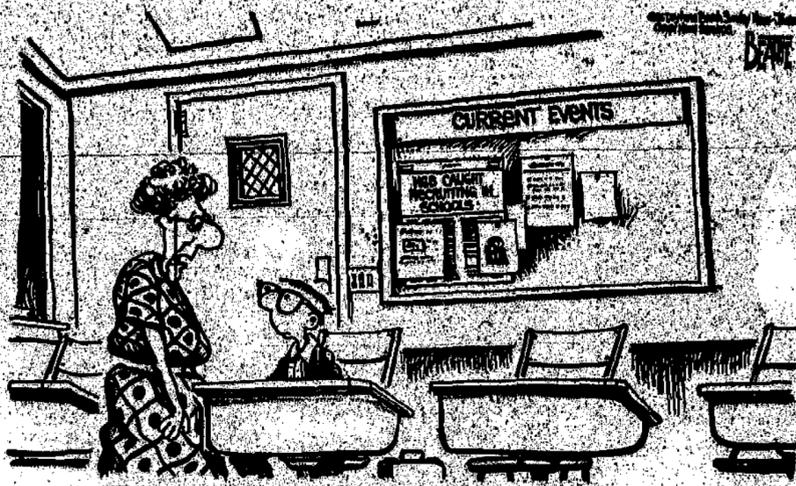

● A few weeks ago in this column I predicted that the American Indians, observing the success of Japanese-Americans in draining the treasury, would start beating the drums for compensation for the manner in which they were treated. Last week a Cherokee Indian filed a lawsuit in Albuquerque for damages from the federal government for moving his ancestors from their homeland in a forced march known as the Trail of Tears. "I've always said that if they pay the Japanese, they should pay us," said Woodrow Bussey who filed the claim on his own behalf.

● I also predicted this (and more) in this column on Jan. 30, 1986, as follows:

● "Once this monkey (Japanese-American demands) is off our collective backs, we can entertain similar demands from the Indians, who got a bad deal. And the blacks, who got a bad deal. And the Chinese, who got a bad deal. Everybody who ever got a bad deal is entitled to a ton of money, right? Don't forget that Abraham Lincoln imprisoned thousands of political enemies without benefit of trial, and their descendants should be given money. Lincoln shut down 300 newspapers, violating the Constitution's freedom of press section. The press needs to be compensated. General Sherman introduced terrorism into modern warfare during the Civil War, and every Southerner has as good a case for compensation as the Japanese-Americans. There is not a man alive who has not, at some time, suffered a punctuation of his civil rights. Round these maudlin up and cover them in money! Give rein to your humanitarian instincts—give the store away!"

"I THINK FREDDY IS DUE FOR A TRANSFER."

Inside The Capitol

By Jay Miller

SANTA FE—Something has to be done about the ridiculous cost of political campaigning.

Not only is the amount of money obscene, but the amount of the candidate's time that is consumed in the process of obtaining it robs us of many opportunities to learn more about them.

No matter how much candidates would like to delegate fundraising chores to surrogates, sooner or later the big spenders start requiring a lot of the candidates' personal attention.

It is not unusual for a major lobbyist to get hit a dozen times by the same candidate. As the politicians say, "No good deed goes unpunished."

But with each "hit" it is necessary to escalate the effort. The responsibility for contacting the big contributors moves up through the campaign staff until it reaches the campaign chairman. From there it goes to the candidate and his or her spouse.

At that point the candidate has to start committing increasingly bigger chunks of time to the big money sources.

In addition to escalating demands on a candidate's time, the campaign finance chairman has to invent increasingly sensational methods of attracting the attention of previous contributors.

US Sen. Jeff Bingaman's campaign staff is now enclosing "A Special Request to my Supporters" in every mailing that goes to previous givers.

The insert says, "Dear Friend, We have just learned that Bill Valentine has returned from Washington and says he expects to raise $1.5 million with the help of the National Republican Senatorial Committee between now and November. That's about $500,000 more than we now have in the bank. And he's already started to run television ads for his campaign.

"Please use the enclosed envelope for any additional contribution you can make."

And that is only the beginning of the escalation.

How do we curtail the escalating costs? One possibility is through spending limits. There have already been caps put on contributions by individuals and campaign committees to federal candidates. And they haven't been very successful.

Additional money can be given through family members or through separate campaign committees. Much is already being done through separate political committees to aid candidates by methods which the candidate would not want to be identified with personally.

Government financing of campaigns is being used in presidential races. Efforts to extend that to other federal and state offices have not met with much enthusiasm.

Both methods have their downsides but they are better than leaving our government to the independently wealthy and those who are willing to crawl in bed with the big-money special interests.

One candidate who won't be having as many money problems as might have been expected is Steve Schiff, the 1st Congressional District Republican nominee.

Schiff has been picking up support from all sides. First, his primary election opponents Ed Lujan and John Budagher signed on for significant campaign roles.

Lujan has been putting together a finance committee for Schiff, who spent considerably less than his primary opponents. Lujan did a superb job of fundraising during his primary election campaign and is now personally demonstrating the spirit of party unity for which he worked so hard during his stint as party chairman.

Budagher is helping with North Valley voters in Albuquerque and with veterans. Both are key coalition groups which Schiff wanted to target in his campaign.

And now comes the congressman himself. Manuel Lujan has just been named the Schiff campaign chairman. Manny is expected to help especially with Hispanics and federal issues.

Schiff's press release also mentions that he wants Manny to help him with Republican voters. I wonder if that was a misprint.

Tom Udall isn't likely to be a major threat to steal very many of Schiff's Republican votes.

And anyone who watched the Democrat reaction to Lujan's visit on the floor of their national convention, knows that Manny is most dangerous when he starts courting the other side of the aisle.

brought interesting guests to the home of Angelina Province last week. They were Erika Hagen, a teacher from Pforzheim, Germany, and her son Martin, who has been an exchange student in the Lubbock, TX, High School, and who will study music in a college in Kentucky on a scholarship. Also his friend, Bettina Winkler from Baden-Baden, Germany, who will be attending college in Germany.

Mr. and Mrs. David Cummins and Courtney spent last weekend in Albuquerque visiting Mr. and Mrs. Kenny Cummins while attending the Associated Grocers meeting.

The Hobbs reunion was held at White Oaks Saturday and Sunday with over 100 in attendance.

Mrs. Irene Mason underwent hip surgery July 6 in Baylor Hospital in Dallas and has been convalescing at the home of their daughter. Doing nicely and will come home to Capitan Aug. 12 where her husband is waiting. I wish her the very best and good recovery. She is 79 years of age and her husband is 85. Bless you both and have continued happiness.

Georgia Maples returned Sunday from a four-weeks vacation to Seattle where she visited her daughter and family then to California to visit another daughter and family and she visited the Roy Rogers Museum. She made the trip on Amtrak and what a joyous trip! The scenery was great. She stated she would do that again as that was the most beautiful journey ever. You see things that you cannot see from car or plane. She was met at the depot by her daughter and son-in-law, Mack and Hazel Bradford, and great-grandson Nicholas Morero. They all visited the zoo in Albuquerque before their return.

Erlinda Guzman of Willard, NM is a guest of her daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Luna, and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Pins and family and her brother and wife of San Francisco, arrived Sunday afternoon to visit his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Muse, and family for 10 days.

Cheyenne Reynolds reached her third birthday Aug. 16. A surprise birthday party was given honoring her day Aug. 12 because her mother, Kay Reynolds, will be gone to Las Vegas, NV with her sister Tawnya to attend National Miss America Beauty Pageant, Aug. 14-19. I wish this little one many more such happy birthdays.

An old-time resident of this ranching area, Hilario Trujillo, died at a nursing home in Carlsbad, NM after 10 years serious illness. He was buried in the Capitan cemetery Tuesday at 10 a.m.

The largest eyes of all land animals and those of the horse and cat—about one and a half times the size of human eyes.

A blasphemous movie

EDITOR—According to reports, the movie, "The Last Temptation of Christ," is clearly blasphemous. The first amendment seems to protect blasphemy. We would hope that Christians will not patronize such a movie.

God gives each of us a certain amount of talent, some more than others. He gives us a free will that we may use that talent as we choose. We are free to use it to glorify God and God's truth, or we are free to use it to exalt evil, or that which is sinful in God's eyes.

Being the ruler of this world, Satan can hand out the rewards of this world, but he is a great deceiver. In contrast, Christians may have to wait until the next world before they receive their just reward, however, Christ's rewards include eternity in his kingdom. Regardless, all will face judgment.

Christians should not want to see their Lord and Savior vilified even if it is "just a movie." Christians have urgent prayers to offer. There are souls at stake. There are talents at work.

For example, there is the writer, Nikos Kazantzakis, there is the director, Martin Scorsese, there are producers, there is a big cast of talented actors and actresses, and there may be throngs of viewers. Each has a soul. Christians should pray for those souls who produced this blasphemous movie, and, particularly, we should pray for those who will be misled by it.

She wants to work

EDITOR—I have lived in Carrizozo all my life, was born and raised here. Have been looking for a job, have applied in different places, but they are not hiring, at least that is what they tell me. Then they turn around and hire someone else instead of me.

What does it take to get a job in Carrizozo? I am not asking for a computer job, just a job as a janitor or whatever is opened at the time of application. A job that I know that a woman can handle. Or at least for the one applied for.

People complain they want us off welfare, but yet they aren't willing to give us a chance to let ourselves be proved that we are willing to work.

If employers would look over their applications and hire the way they are supposed to, maybe there would be a lot of people off welfare and holding down jobs for support.

I might not be as educated as some women here in Carrizozo, but I am willing to work hard.

I put an application in at the courthouse and didn't get hired. Some people put applications and get hired anyway.

PATSY VEGA,
Carrizozo.

Help the kids

EDITOR—The Carrizozo Buyers Club would like to invite the citizens of Carrizozo and surrounding areas to join us again this year in helping Carrizozo kids out at the Lincoln County Fair.

We are asking for donations to be made to the Carrizozo Buyers Club so that we may bid and purchase animals at the Fair. The kids work hard from year to year and this is our way of saying thanks to them for their hard work and dedication.

Anyone wishing to join our club please contact me, Bettye Dean, at 648-2341 or Linda Gibson, 648-2981.

We had a successful turnout last year and hope to make this year bigger and better for our kids.

CowBelles plan booth at fair

The Canyon CowBelles met Aug. 3 at the ranch home of Knolene McDaniel. Guests were Linda Edwards of Nogal Mesa and Ina Verle Hooten of Carrizozo.

Plans were made for the Canyon CowBelles booth at the Lincoln County Fair Aug. 17-20 in Capitan. They will sell baked goods, candy, coffee, iced tea, cinnamon rolls, pies and cakes.

The New Mexico CowBelle cookbook and two sizes of CowBelle napkins will also be available at the booth. A new item will be the cookbook compiled of National CowBelle cook-off prize winning recipes.

August birthday members were Margaret Stearns, Cheri Goz and Joyce May. Door prize winners were Margaret Stearns and Lisa Shivers.

The Sept. 7 meeting will be held at the Nogal Mesa home of Amelda Odle with co-hostesses Mattie Bringer, Pat Hume and Genevieve Duncan.

TINTED WINDOW BAN
Officer safety is the foremost consideration in deciding whether to ban the tinted windows on vehicles in Espanola.

"It's gotten out of hand," Chief Richard Guillen is quoted in the Rio Grande Sun. "It's impossible to see into those vehicles, especially at night."
"The officers can't see what is happening in the cars as they approach it," Guillen added.

Another factor is driver-to-driver eye contact. "Most drivers look to see what the other is going to do before turning. It's not just the tinting, the obstruction also prevents eye contact."

The concept is at the study stage and Guillen said he would get a copy of a similar ordinance adopted by Farmington, the only city in New Mexico to have done so. Tints are rated by percentage. The lower the percentage, the darker the tint. The 5 percent tint is virtually impossible to see through.

Farmington police used a heavy advertising campaign to notify drivers about their new ordinance—voluntarily remove tint, pay citation or go to court.

Espanola's municipal court clerk is one of the motorists who might have to remove tinting from their vehicle windows if the city is successful in adopting an ordinance prohibiting the use of dark tints.

ANY REAL NEWS?

"News story during the Democratic National Convention in Atlanta said that 15,000 reporters were covering the affair. Can you imagine how many would have been there if there's been any real news to report?"—Chuck Mittlestadt in the Hobbs Flare.

COLCHA EXHIBIT

Colcha's from Northern New Mexico will be on display at the Millicent Rogers Museum in Taos beginning Aug. 6. The colcha, referred to by one researcher as the "poor man's tapestry," has been produced in New Mexico for over 100 years.

The colcha self-couching embroidery stitch may have come to New Mexico from China or Spain via the Philippines, a long road to travel in search of a new home. Upon arrival in New Mexico it was embraced with open arms by Spanish Colonial women. An alternative to weaving, the colcha stitch allowed for greater flexibility of design while economizing on the use of woolen yarns.

Early colcha embroiderers were able to transform the plain hand-woven fabric known as the "sabanilla" into freeflowing, textured managerie of birds, flowers and deer. The majority of pieces produced at that time were completely covered with stitchery, omitting any evidence of the sabanilla which lie underneath. The resulting masterpiece, the colcha, was then used as a bed covering, wall covering, altar cloth and later curtains.

LINCOLN COUNTY WARS

To put me in the mood for Lincoln Days I read as much as I could about the history of the little town.

I was surprised to learn that the majority of the early population was Hispanic or "Mexican," as that term is generally understood in New Mexico," a 1911 writer writes.

Sheriff George Kimbrell, as census enumerator in 1880 recorded that Lincoln was a community of 638 persons, nearly all of whom were Hispanic and born in New Mexico. Yet most writers refer to my ancestors (on my father's side) as Mexicans while other writers note "Spanish-speaking New Mexicans, universally called Mexicans."

I am confused. Dad never told me there would be days like this.

During the 1860s the following men married Hispanic women in Lincoln: George Peppin, William Brady, Hugh Beckwith, J.B. Wilson and "Ham" Mills. Writers refer to these men's wives as "native New Mexicans."

And to further confuse me, this Sunday in Lincoln I met relatives who told me that I had more ancestors than I thought in historic "La Placita," as Lincoln was known. I better read up on my roots.

INDIAN RAIDS

I saw several tourists pose for photographs in front of the Torreón, one of Lincoln's earliest structures, a rock tower used for defense against Indian raids. The marker states that the Torreón, built in the 1850s, "protected Spanish-Americans against the Apaches." In the Lincoln County War Murphy's sharpshooters were stationed in the Torreón.

SIGN LANGUAGE

While in Lincoln I toured the Maes Museum and former La Paloma Bar across the Courthouse Museum (formerly Murphy-Dolan Store). I spotted this sign over the bar area.

"Ladies may smoke but be careful where you place your butts."

"OUTLAWS COME AND GO in Lincoln County" without the interference of legal authorities who wouldn't stand up to the lawbreakers, according to whose book you are reading: Boyd Barrett, one-man dramatist from Roswell, has a captive audience as he portrays outlaw Jesse Evans. The patio of the Lincoln County Heritage Trust Historical Center was the site of Barrett's show during the Lincoln Days festivities Sunday.

White Oaks in the News

By Willa Lee Martin

We all know what is in the news here in White Oaks this week. Lincoln County Pony Express weekend, of course.

Friday evening folks started coming in from everywhere and they continued coming in thru the weekend, our community growing to 1,000 folks or more. The Pony Express Race had five teams to sign up this year. We had Vigil brothers, the Werito team, John Vega team and the Hindi's of Hindi Arabians entered two teams. Jamil Hindi team and Anna Hindi team.

From all the information I have been able to gather, this was the fastest Pony Express race we have had. Jamil and Anna Hindi broke the fastest time record for first and second place. The riders carried the US Mail totaling 286 pieces.

The race was followed by a horseshoe pitch and a rodeo. I have some of the winners of events. Those I don't list will be in next two weeks article. Barrel racing 12 and under 4, Tammy Payne and Cody Erwin won this event. Barrel racing open, Tonya Payton and Misty Schaeffer; flag race open, Michael Fish and Annette McMinn; goat tying, 12 and under, Cody Erwin; goat tying open, Annette McMinn; calf roping open, Ronnie Claridge and Eddy Davis; rescue race, hours of hard work it took to get ready and to put the Pony Express program together for this year. We all are looking forward to a bigger and better program next year.

White Oaks continues to get rain showers, with cooler evenings. The algerita berries are already red and I'm told that means an early frost.

A young lady was riding a mule yesterday and reported that the mule fell and she landed on her head. We are all glad to report she has only a few bruises and scratches from this accident and wasn't hurt more seriously. The mule still has not been located.

Velma Fifer and daughter Sara are on their way to Louisiana to visit Velma's mother. We wish them a fun and safe trip.

Capitan 'cease-fire' seems to be working

The ongoing feud between Mayor Benny Coker and the Capitan Volunteer Fire Department appeared to simmer down Monday evening.

Mayor Coker acknowledged receiving the July fire report and the minutes of two meetings held during the month. Coker thanked fireman Linda Wright and fire chief Virgil Hall Sr. for bringing chairs which were used for Monday night's village council meeting.

After an exchange between village attorney Mike Runnels and trustee David Rouleau, a vote to fill the council position vacated by David Strickland with Darrelene Stewart resulted in the following: trustee York, no; trustee Ranfro, yes; trustee Rouleau, no. This seat remains vacant.

Coker announced he would not be able to attend the meeting for the Municipal League in Grants. Capitan will be represented by police chief Randy Spears and village clerk Janet Keel.

Insurance bids for general liability and commercial auto were opened. The bids from Rich Seeley were $7,815 for general liability, $9,291 for commercial auto. Perfection Parks bid $5,245 for the liability and $8,068 for the auto insurance. Attorney Runnels will review the bids.

The council spent 26 minutes in executive session discussing possible litigation and personnel.

Chief Spears of the Capitan Police Department said he had attended a meeting. Certain fines and penalties had been increased and he would like to bring the Capitan ordinances up to date.

Dan Davenport of the water department reported that the water from Bonita Lake had not been of good quality the last few days. He said the well water is in good shape.

The council meeting adjourned at 7:54 p.m. A special meeting to take input for community development block grants (CDBG) was convened at 8 p.m. This meeting was presided over by Mark Sawyers of the Southwestern New Mexico Economic Development District.

Sawyers said $8.2 million had been appropriated for the 1988-89 year. Towns with a population under 50,000 can apply for these funds. The sewer system came in for the most discussion. Trustee Rouleau said the lagoons were not in compliance. He said this is an emergency type situation. Coker felt that if the sewer situation was approached as an emergency, funding for other projects would not be jeopardized.

The streets, water and housing were also discussed.

Along the way it was learned that the Lincoln County Fair Board had applied for a grant to replace bleachers. The top limit for a grant is $500,000 and Frank Warth suggested that Capitan apply for this amount.

PARKING FOR vehicles was scarce in Lincoln last Sunday when people from all over the county visited the historic village once known as "La Placita." Fans awaiting the parade swarm the restored courthouse, originally the Murphy & Co. Store. In 1878 Lincoln was the site of the Wild West's bloodiest battle, the Lincoln County War. In 1910 a new county seat with a railroad was established in Carrizozo.

Old Lincoln Days draws huge crowd

Thousands of people swarmed the streets of Lincoln last weekend to savor this year's Old Lincoln Days.

By early Saturday morning Lincoln was humming with activity. Ron Ellison was hauling customers in his stagecoach and surrey. Marlow Sharpe and Dick Ramsey were panning for gold and Kent Anderson was working with his White Mountain alabaster. La Placita with Bessie Jones, Janice Gnatkowiak and others were spinning and weaving. Boyd Barrett, author of "Trouble in Lincoln County," was engaged with "living history" characters.

The Mountaineers from Carlsbad and Capitan, armed with muzzleloaders, demonstrated an authentic campsite of the 1850s. The New Mexico Volunteers of Albuquerque area and the Department of Texas Fourth US Cavalry Regiment of Lubbock, TX were camped on the school grounds.

Major Larry Goldston gave a 45-minute explanation of the differences in uniforms, guns, saddles and camping gear. At the end they demonstrated their camp.

Joy Stone, Capitan, had her sculpture and photos by her son Clinton. Chevo had his outdoor woodstove kitchen set up and serving tamales; Horace Cordova, Alamogordo, was handcrafting jewelry; Larry Aringdale of Tombstone, AZ told stories of the Old West and Tombstone on the porch of Ramon Meez Museum.

The afternoon old fiddlers' contest was won by the following: Under 21, Raylene Goodson, 1st; Tanya Goodson, 2nd—the sisters are from Pecos, NM; 21-60 years, Virgil Burns of Roswell, 1st; John Wolf of Roswell, 2nd; over age 60, Kurt Jarrot of Flying J, Ruidoso, 1st; Smiley Mauldin, Roswell, 2nd; and Gene Brown of Roswell, 3rd.

Backup guitarists were Smiley Mauldin, John Wolf and Roark Griffin. Agatha Long, Capitan, entertained the crowd with singing and yodelling.

Also present were Jim Easterbrook, author, and members of the Ft. Sumner Billy the Kid Outlaw Gang.

The Danza Matachines Pavo Real, Tradicionales Del Valle of Clint, TX performed. Under direction of Sam and Ray Sanchez they performed dances of Indian and Mexican culture of their area.

Members of the Ballet Folklórico de New Mexico dance group were Cathy and Arturo Sanchez, Allen Sanchez, Josie Marrujo, Leonard Martinez and Monica Jo Amar. The Roswell Square Dancers performed before all performances.

The principal activity Sunday was the parade, directed by James Sanchez. Results were:

Sweepstakes (best of parade), Hoof and Wheel Driving Association of Carlsbad, Chunky and Sharon Cline, chairmen; best float, American Legion Ladies Auxiliary, Robin Crouse, Capitan; best mounted rider (man) Bob Molley of the Army of New Mexico Territorial Militia, Roswell; best mounted rider (woman) no entry; antique auto, 1952 black Cadillac, Friends of Lincoln, St. Thomas Islands; best couple, Tom and Pat Sullivan, mounted riders, Capitan; frontier man, "Miner" from Tombstone, AZ; frontier woman, Reneta from the Lincoln Archeological Crew, McSween Dig; frontier group, Army of New Mexico Territorial Militia, Roswell; best mounted group, Fourth Cavalry Unit from Lubbock, TX, Larry Goldston; best commercial entry, Ron Ellison, Sagebrush Stage Line, Hobbs, NM; best band, Dexter High School Band; best single entry, White Mountain Gunfighters Assn; special recognition, US Border Patrol, El Paso, Dave Tsague; best children's entry, Crandal children and Pony drawn buggy; best entry (wagon), Wagon D. from Hoof and Wheel Driving Assn. of Carlsbad.

Parade judges were Ervin Aldaz, Leota Pfingsten and Judy Stubbs. Flag bearers were John Thomas and Wally Ferguson.

Highlight of the annual pageant was the staging of "The Last Escape of Billy the Kid," performed to large crowds on Friday and Saturday evenings and again at 3:30 p.m. Sunday at the pageant grounds. It was the 48th presentation of the outdoor reenactment, with Bill Shreeengost Jr. playing the role of Billy the Kid. Diane Shreeengost was the director.

Lacy wins in rodeo finals

Rachel Lacy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Lacy of Capitan, participated in the National High School Finals Rodeo in Pueblo, CO July 25-31.

Rachel captured 1st place in the second go-around of the breakaway roping. She was 26th overall for the entire rodeo.

Miles Lacy was 2nd high point cowgirl on the New Mexico team which placed in the top five teams nationally. There were 31 cowboys and cowgirls on the New Mexico team.

Rachel Lacy will be a senior this year in Capitan High School.

Chamber members urged to attend county fair

Scott Shafer spoke at the Carrizozo Chamber of Commerce meeting Aug. 9 and asked people to attend the Lincoln County Fair in Capitan, Aug. 18-20.

FFA and 4-H members will exhibit animals in addition to the other fair activities.

Dale Goad reported that Dr. David Rouleau of Capitan had signed a lease agreement for space at the Carrizozo Municipal Airport. Rouleau will build a hangar at the Carrizozo airport within 90 days.

Shafer announced that the Economic Development Corporation of Lincoln County had hired a full time secretary. EDC/LC is continuing to meet with persons interested in bringing industries and businesses to the area.

Chamber members agreed to pay $31 for an ad and monthly listings of meetings in the Carrizozo

Woman's Club calendar.

Two or three members of the Alamogordo Chamber of Commerce will be special guests at the Sept. 13 Carrizozo chamber meeting. Glenn Ellison asked that members bring one or two people with them to the meeting for a "show of force."

A special invitation will be sent to Carrizozo trustees and to the Carrizozo Lodger's

FFA holds its annual picnic

The Carrizozo chapter of Future Farmers of America held its annual alumni picnic July 24 at Angus. Many chapter as well as alumni members attended. Everyone enjoyed hamburgers and desserts. Them members, parents and alumni members enjoyed playing volleyball and horseshoes. During the picnic there was a surprise baby shower for Mike and Melody Gaines.

should have their animals vaccinated and be extremely cautious with any animals that act strange.

—Leroy Lopez' request to purchase a lot from the town was discussed. Research shows that the lot was one of six lots sold in 1974 even though the deeds and payment schedules were not recorded. No taxes have been paid on the properties in question since being deeded to the town in 1972.

The matter will be forwarded to city attorney Askew for legal advice before any further action can be taken.

—It was brought to the attention of the council that recent rains have caused weeds to grow rapidly. Trustees agreed to proceed with enforcement of the weed ordinance. Residents will be notified by letter of violations.

—Trustees agreed to have Hemphill proceed with long distance telephone service for the town from Tri-Tel. The company has reduced rates for new services beginning in August. The new system could result in a savings of $600 to $800 per year for the town.

—Trustees agreed to pay $12 to have the town council meetings listed in the Woman's Club calendar.

—Complaints about old cars being stored on private lots in town were discussed. Trustees agreed to enforce the ordinance concerning dismantled vehicles.

—Four Carrizozo volunteer firemen are attending the state fire marshal's school in Hobbs this week. Garcia said he wanted to publicly thank employers for allowing their employees the time off to attend the fire school.

—O'Brien showed an example of a "pig" that will be used in the pigging operation scheduled for Aug. 30. The first pig will show the diameter of the water line and then another pig will be placed in the line to clean out mineral deposits.

Hemphill thanked the people of Carrizozo for their cooperation in conserving water while the valves were being replaced Monday and Tuesday.

—Another discussion was held concerning a roof for the Rec Center. A sample of the proposed foam roof will be sent to engineers Wilson and Company for its opinion as to whether the foam roof would be adequate.

—Ruth Hammond reported that two animals had been found in the area with rabies and everyone —An executive session was held for personnel and purchase of real property. After the one hour and 15 minute closed session, trustees agreed to hire John Northrop Sr. and Gilbert Sambrano as temporary police officers and to enter into negotiations for the purchase of real property.

Surplus commodities will be distributed

The Albuquerque Bernalillo County Economic Opportunity Board in Lincoln County announces that the US Department of Agriculture Surplus Commodities will be distributed to any eligible county residents.

To receive commodities all recipients will have to meet income guidelines. Please bring with you one of the following to verify your income: Current check stubs, one if paid monthly, two if paid bi-weekly, four if paid weekly; proof of being on public assistance. Also needed are two forms of identification card or current utility bill. A rent receipt will no longer be accepted as an address verification.

USDA's temporary emergency food assistance program is available to all eligible residents. Rules for participation are the same for everyone without regard to race, color, national origin, sex, age or handicap.

The distribution sites are: Capitan Fair Building, Aug. 23, 9:30-12:00; San Patricio/Saint Jude Center, Aug. 23, 1:30-4:00; Ruidoso, Downs, Aug. 25, 10:00-12:00, 1:30-3:30; Senior Citizens center behind library; Carrizozo E.O.B. Center, Aug. 24, 9:00-12:00, 1:30-4:00.

lier this magnificent stallion had blown the race off in a record time of one hour fifty four minutes. It can be described and explained in many ways but it all wraps up as an unfortunate happening. The world screamed and rightfully so.

But putting a real horse man out of business is about as easy as slipping daylight past a rooster. Perhaps 1987 can be called the tippy-toe year. It was a year when a lot of people got counted. It was a year when the true horse people backed up in their corner and stood their ground. Hindi Arabians came in with a time of two hours, 10 minutes, 10 seconds. In 2nd place was the John Vega-David McMinn team, and in 3rd the Vigil Brothers of Dulce.

The base had been reestablished. The rules had been gone over and everyone duly instructed to follow them. The crowd was a small one but the race was clean and tight. Everyone there suspected that the race had been saved.

So came 1988, the 20th race. Those of us who know the race know who brought it back to a Super Bowl class. At first opportunity we will congratulate them and thank them.

I went into town just before dark Friday and counted over 100 cars. It was supposed to be a big weekend in Lincoln County, and it was. But to me, and I feel I am somewhat typical of the older folks who fought for it, the real pleasure was watching Justin Hecker, Paul Hernandez, John Vega, Grant and Cordell Vigil, Anna Hindi and Tom Owens pick up the load. Paul Hernandez was in the rodeo, not in the race, but I will bet you my hat he will spend a year dreaming.

I was talking with Arvel Runnels about other days. "Arvel, is it true that at T or C when yall were running for 20,000 that a guy tried to rope Benny off his horse?" "Yeah! But he couldn't catch that little mare." "She was a good one, wasn't she Arvell." "She was the best there ever was."

A man and a horse have been a celebrated team for many centuries. In Lincoln County we come close to being as good as there is.

Rape incident investigated

The Lincoln County Sheriff's department is investigating the report of an alleged rape of a 16-year-old female in Carrizozo late Friday or early Saturday. The girl was transported to Lincoln County Medical Center in Ruidoso by Lincoln County ambulance.

In 1906, the Chicago White Sox won the World Series with a team batting average of only .230.

August is Better Speech & Hearing Month
 How about a 'Spring Cleaning' on the house? As you know, hearing aids are prescriptive instruments requiring maintenance and adjustment to obtain maximum benefit, which requires annual check-ups. Normally a $40 charge, from now through the end of May there will be no charge to check and clean your present instrument and test your aided and unaided hearing.

NOTICE OF PUBLIC AUCTION SALE OF REAL PROPERTY FOR DELINQUENT PROPERTY TAX

Notice is hereby given that pursuant to the provisions of 7-38-47 NMSA 1978 the Property Tax Division of the Taxation and Revenue Department will offer for sale at public auction beginning on August 24, 1988, at 10:00 a.m. at the Lincoln County Courthouse in Carrizozo, New Mexico, the following described real property, the sale to continue until all the described property has been offered for sale.

The terms of the sale are as follows: 1. A sale property made under the provisions of 7-38-47 constitutes full payment of all delinquent taxes, penalties and interest that are a lien against the property at the time of sale, and the sale extinguishes the lien. The property is sold subject to the lien for property taxes for the year of the sale, provided those taxes are not yet delinquent. The buyer at public auction, or his successor in interest, will be liable for those property taxes when they become due.

2. The description of the following real property is required by 7-38-47 to be sufficient to permit the identification and location of the real property by potential purchasers. The State of New Mexico warrants no title to properties purchased at public auction sale.

3. Section 7-38-74, NMSA 1978, prohibits officers or employees of the state or of any of its political subdivisions engaged in the administration of the property tax from directly or indirectly acquiring an interest in, buying or profiting from any property sold by the Property Tax Division for delinquent taxes, except that an officer or employee may purchase property sold for delinquent taxes if he is the owner of the property and was the owner of the property at the time the taxes became delinquent. Any officer or employee violating Section 7-38-74 is guilty of a fourth degree felony and shall be fined not more than five thousand dollars ($5,000) or imprisoned for not less than one year nor more than five years, or both, and he shall also be automatically removed from office or have his employment terminated upon conviction. A real property sale in violation of Section 7-38-74 is void.

4. Successful bidders are required to make payments in full of the amount bid before leaving the premises on the day of the sale. Payment is required to be by money order, certified check, cashier's check or real check which is accompanied by bank letter of credit guaranteeing payment for the amount of or in excess of the amount of the real check drawn to the order of the Property Tax Division of the Taxation and Revenue Department.

5. Upon receiving payment for the real property sold for delinquent taxes, the Property Tax Division shall execute and deliver a deed to the purchaser. The deed conveys all the former property owner's interest in the real property as of the date the state's lien for real property taxes arose in accordance with the property tax code. The property tax lien against real property arises on January 1 of the tax year for which the taxes are imposed.

6. After two years from the date of sale, neither the former real property owner shown on the property tax schedule as the delinquent taxpayer nor anyone claiming through him may bring an action challenging the conveyance. Subject to the time limitation stated above, in all controversies and suits involving title to real property held under a deed from the state issued under this section, any person claiming title adverse to that acquired by the deed from the state must prove, in order to defeat the title, that he or she person through whom he claims had title to the real property at the time of the sale, and that either: (1) the real property was not subject to taxation for the tax years for which the delinquent taxes for which it was sold were imposed; or (2) all taxes, penalties, interest and any cost due for the years involved were paid by him or the person through whom he claims title prior to the sale.

7. The sale price of real property at this public auction sale is not to be taken or considered as being the value of that property for property taxation purposes. 8. All persons intending to bid upon property are required to register and obtain a bidder's number from the auctioneer and to provide the auctioneer with their full name and address. Deeds will be issued to registered names only. Conveyances to other parties will be the responsibility of the buyer at auction. Persons acting as agents for other persons will register accordingly and must provide documented proof of being a bona fide agent at time of payment for property purchased. REGISTRATION WILL CLOSE PROMPTLY AT START OF SALE.

9. The auctioneer reserves the right to withdraw from sale any of the properties listed below, to sell any of the properties listed below together, or to sell only a portion of any of the properties listed below. If any dispute arises between or among the bidders, the auctioneer's decision with respect to the dispute is final, and the auctioneer may auction the property again, in his discretion. The auctioneer reserves the right to reject any and all bids. The real property listed below may not be sold for less than the listed minimum price.

Done at Santa Fe, New Mexico, this 6th day of July, 1988.

GEORGE DEL CURTO, Director, Property Tax Division of the Taxation and Revenue Department.
