State EMS awards go to Lincoln County

By Ruth Hammond

Four state Emergency Medical Services (EMS) awards were presented to Lincoln County EMS personnel during the recent Statewide EMS convention held in Albuquerque.

Dr. Walter Hopkins of Pueblo, Colo., was awarded the NMSRAB Sabine Award, which is the highest award presented in the state level and is given for special public service during the call of duty in EMS. Hopkins is a medical director for the Lincoln County EMS.

Four EMS awards were on display at the annual NMSERB Systems Excellence Award for interagency cooperation to Lincoln County EMS and department for other EMS.

The Lincoln County EMS team of Eddy Don Edwards and Larry Vigil received an award for planning and participating in various EMS competitions which had been held in the state.

Eight EMS awards from Lincoln County were presented for coordination.

Also attending the luncheon were representatives from Lincoln County Commission Chairwoman Suzanne Cross.

Hopkins served as a naval historian during World War II. He lived at the Masonic Home from 1941 to 1945, participating in battles such as the Battle of Midway. He earned the Distinguished Flying Cross and other medals.

After the war he received a B.A. in biology, chemistry and physics from North Texas State University. He went on to teach all the science classes of Lincoln High School and coached football, basketball and baseball.

Hopkins then graduated from the University of Texas Medical School in Galveston in 1955 with a medical degree of sciences. His first practice was as a family physician in the small town of Muleshoe from 1955 to 1976. During this time he developed an emergency medical system to cover for rural areas that were unable to establish a system of area for rural areas. He trained and continued to train the latest version of the emergency medical system. For his efforts, Hopkins started his own medical service, which was named Lincoln Emergency Medical Services.

Hopkins then became the medical advisor for the Office of the Medical Investigator, which has served as a medical director for Chavez County EMS.

Hopkins and his wife, Patricia, retired to Las Vegas Ranch in Picacho. They have five children. Their work has taken a great part of time and has affected their family life. Dr. Hopkins has been an influential figure in the development of the region's medical services.

Dear Montes family has a history of being in politics. This great-great-grandfather was one of the three men who went to the Governor in 1899 and asked that Lincoln County be created and that the Lincoln County government be created. Unfortunately, Gonzales was one of the first three county commissioners in 1869. In later years Gonzales was one of急忙 the largest landowners in Lincoln County.

Montes had filed to have a nominating petition with the signatures of registered voters in Lincoln County to be certified as an independent candidate and have his name on the ballot. He presented a petition with 36 signatures even though he needed only 25 signatures.

"I am dedicated to doing what's fair," Montes said. He added that his business helps all 30 of Lincoln County's needs and meeting with people in all 30 of the counties.

THANKS!!

To all of our family and friends who helped us to reach the great anniversary year, we will remain one of our very special memories.

Is a power line running through your child's favorite play area in the house?

A power line near a tree can turn your child's favorite play area into a dangerous place.

Before you let your child build a tree house or climb a tree, make sure there are no power lines nearby.

Even if children don't touch a line directly, they can be shocked if they touch a branch that is touching the line.

If you'd like more information about power line safety, call or visit your local TIP office today.

OPINION

The political parties have resorted to their best efforts to sway the public's attention away from the real issues at hand. Democratic candidates are now attacking each other, not the Republican Administration. This is their way of diverting attention from the failures of their own policies and plans.

If I attended my first Democratic national convention as a spectator, I would write a lot about it at the time. "As I attended my first Democratic national convention as a spectator, I wrote a lot about it at the time."

- The format was the signature of that convention. There were more than a thousand people present, and the atmosphere was charged with energy. The speeches were well-delivered, and the candidates were charismatic. The delegates roared their approval when a candidate spoke about the need for change and progress. The convention was a spectacle to behold. I felt a sense of excitement and hope at that moment.

- The debate was intense and passionate. The candidates discussed the issues of the day, and there were many heated exchanges. I learned a lot about politics and the candidates' positions on various issues. The delegates were engaged and involved in the proceedings. The convention was a turning point in the campaign. It was a moment to remember.

Merry of many moments (and not much procrastination at all) planning this film, both mental and hand...now I find myself sitting here in Tombstone... working hard at an independent film. It's just me and all my friends again...I've been a little too much of an independent filmmaker lately. I'm not sure I'll be able to find a sponsor that will support me. Please consider giving a dollar or two to my film so I can continue making films like this one. Thank you.

Those were the same days when tenants in San Juan County were turned away by the local health department. Now, however, the county is taking the initiative to address the issue of homelessness and poverty in the community.

On Monday, the San Juan County Board of Commissioners will hold a public hearing to discuss the possibility of setting up a task force to address these issues. The hearing will be held at 10 a.m. in the commission chambers in Farmington.

The public is encouraged to attend the hearing and provide input on the proposed task force. The hearing will be followed by a discussion of the county's overall budget and financial plan.

In other news, the county is moving forward with plans to build a new courthouse in Farmington. A groundbreaking ceremony is scheduled for later this year.

The county is also working on plans to improve its public transportation system. This includes a proposed bus route to connect Farmington and Española.

Finally, the county is exploring the possibility of creating a new department to oversee its water and sewer systems. This is seen as a necessary step to ensure the long-term sustainability of the county's infrastructure.

For more information on the proposed task force, or any of the other issues discussed above, contact County Administrator Joe Thomas at (505) 327-1000.

The County Board of Commissioners would like to hear from you on these matters. Please join us at the public hearing on Monday, and let your voice be heard.
