Goads celebrate 10 years in Carrizozo

By Ruth Hammond

Dale and Cherri Goad came to Carrizozo Aug. 6, 1978 to fulfill a two-year obligation for Dale's dentist scholarship. In return for the scholarship, he was to serve in an underserved medical and dental area for two years.

When the Goads arrived in Carrizozo there was no dentistry practice, there were no patients, no equipment and the office building was an empty steel shell. The Goads helped re-design the interior of the building to allow for larger patient rooms and storage of necessary equipment. Dale planted seedlings around the building that are now full grown trees. As they built the dentist practice, Dale as a DDS and Cherri as a certified dental assistant, they became aware of the history of the area.

Long before the end of their two years of service, the Goads decided to make Carrizozo their home and live here permanently. The people were friendly, it was "a good way of life" with a casual atmosphere and a beautiful location.

"Carrizozo seemed more like a big family," Dale said, "Everyone was on a first name basis. That made a difference."

The Goads decided Carrizozo was "an excellent place to raise children." Their sons, Briton, 7, and Adrian, 4, are Lincoln County natives; both were born at Lincoln County Medical Center in Ruidoso.

The Goads are active in church, school and civic groups. They are members of the Church of Christ and PFK (People for Kids) at Carrizozo schools. Dale is chairman of the Carrizozo Municipal Airport Committee and a member of the Rotary Club. Cherri is a member of Canyon CowBelles, Carrizozo Woman's Club and both helped with Tiger Cubs last year. They have both served on different school committees and help with the pre-school screening.

Cherri teaches dental health in the Carrizozo, Capitan and Corona schools in addition to substitute teaching in Carrizozo. She earned her elementary teaching certification at Abilene Christian University in Texas where her father is a professor. She received her dental assistant certification from the University of Texas Dental Branch at Houston. Currently she is working on her master of arts in teaching.

Dale received his BS degree from Abilene Christian University and his DDS from the University of Texas Dental Branch at Houston. He graduated in June 1978, just two months before coming to Carrizozo to begin practice.

The Goads could have gone to Arizona, North Dakota, South Dakota or Estancia, but they chose Carrizozo. Looking back at their 10 years here, they remarked that they have enjoyed building the dental practice and watching the intermingling of the three cultures in the area.

"This is a beautiful location," Dale said of Carrizozo. Cherri agreed, "We like the outdoors and this area gives us lots of opportunity to be outside." As a family, the Goads spend much time camping, fishing and canoeing. In the winter they like to ski. Archery is another hobby the family enjoys.

The Goads did live near Spencer Park but recently bought a home and acreage at the edge of town.

District court action

Bartlett rape case dismissed

District Judge Richard Parsons has dismissed charges of criminal sexual penetration that were brought against Boyd Bartlett of Ruidoso last year.

The case had gone to trial in May, but after three days of testimony and eight hours deliberation, the jury of six men and six women could not reach a unanimous decision. A mistrial was declared and a new trial was set for Sept. 6.

Penni Adrian, attorney for Bartlett, requested duplicates of tape recordings that were mentioned during the trial.

Judge Parsons ordered the state to produce the tapes and when they were not produced, Parsons dismissed the charges against Bartlett for the state's failure to comply.

The state contends that they did comply by producing all the tapes that were available.

Apparently there was mention during the trial of two different tape recordings. The state says there was only one tape with a Spanish translation and an English translation.

Adrian insisted the reference to the tapes was for two different tape recordings and wanted copies of the tapes. She sent $72 in payment for the tapes.

The charges against Bartlett have been dismissed with prejudice which means the same charges cannot be brought against Bartlett again. The property bond posted by Bartlett was also released.

Tigers defeat Tatum, 28-14

By Bartley McDonough

The Capitan Tigers defeated Tatum, defending state champions for the past two years, 28-14, on Aug. 26 at Tatum.

The undefeated Tigers (2-0) played this one in the rain. Coach Blaine Miller told the News that Capitan's offensive line "played a tremendous game." All 30 Tigers got to play.

The Texico Wolverines visit Capitan this week for a Saturday night game scheduled for 7:30 p.m. The Wolverines defeated Cloudcroft last weekend and will bring a team that features quickness with excellent offensive and defensive backs. Texico can also throw the ball.

The Tigers featured an attack which scored in every quarter. The rain held the Capitan passing game to a minimum.

Anthony Sanchez hit pay dirt first for the Tigers on a 1 yard play. Johnny Castillo ran the pigskin in for the two point conversion. The Tigers scored in the 2nd quarter but failed to convert. Halftime found the score tied at 14-14. Jerrod Martin got loose in the 3rd quarter for 52 yards but could not convert the PAT. The final Tiger tally came on a four yard run by Castillo who also got the extra two points.

The Tigers rushed for a total of 330 yards. Capitan picked up 17 1st downs along the way to just eight for the Coyotes.

Martin got 163 yards on 22 carries. Sanchez ran for 114 yards on 19 carries. Castillo carried the ball five times for 19 yards and Gallegos got 37 yards on five carries. The Tigers swarming defense found Lance LaMay, Anthony Sanchez and Tino Gallegos each getting eight tackles. Guck looked good and received credit for a fumble recovery. Several major colleges and universities are watching the Tigers.

The Capitan squad offense; QB, Tino Gallegos; runningback, Johnny Castillo, Jerrod Martin and Anthony Sanchez; tight ends, Heath Huey and Chris McCarty; tackles, Kent McInnes and Chuck Cox; guards, Sean Seay and Lance LaMay. Clay Guck runs at center.

The wedgebusters, the kicking team, include Henrik Petursson Clay Guck, Chuck Cox, Nathan Roybal, Scott Irion, Johnny Castillo, Anthony Sanchez, Lance LaMay, Shane LaMay, Chris McCarty and Heath Huey. The Tiger's team managers are Anthony McEuen, Edward Fowler and Arthur Miller.

Tom Guck keeps the stats and announces home games. Don Eckland is responsible for filming the games. The Tiger cheerleaders have the spirit to complete the winning combination.

Lady Tigers take three from Menaul

The Capitan Lady Tigers traveled to Albuquerque Sept. 3 and soundly defeated Menaul in all three matches.

Capitan won the varsity match 15-11, 15-9 and 15-5. Coach Pam Allen said the highlight of the match was a quick set from Kim Eckland to Lora McKay for a kill.

Lora McKay led the lady Tigers with 10 kills. Also receiving credit for kills were Colynn Waaburn 8, Marnie McDaniel 2, Kari Cox 2, Nanette Boyd 3 and Leslie LaRue 1.

Coach Allen said this was a team effort. The girls "played extremely well in all areas of the game." Coach Allen also told the News that the serving game will come in for attention this week.

The Lady Tiger's "B" squad defeated Menaul 15-2 and 15-2. The Tiger's "C" squad won in two games 15-4 and 15-1.

OPINION

● I still can't understand the commissioners' preoccupation with the proposed planning and zoning ordinance that just about everybody opposes. To make matters worse, I have been handed a copy of Ordinance No. 1985-9, enacted in 1986, which covers about the same territory as the newly proposed monstrosity. No. 1985-9 is a solid waste ordinance for the county. About half its provisions are duplicated in the newly proposed ordinance. No. 1985-9 has never been enforced, so why is it on the books? If the county will not enforce No. 1985-9, why should we expect the new ordinance to be enforced? Let us hazard a guess. No. 1985-9 is not enforced because it was intended to be a means of punishing a political enemy or rewarding a friend. At least one person alleges he was threatened with No. 1985-9 because he wouldn't "keep his mouth shut." Using No. 1985-9 as an example, the proposed zoning ordinance would not be invoked except to "shut somebody's mouth."

● Harassing the American people has largely been reserved to state and federal governments, both of which are tireless in eroding individual rights. We have become so inured with government meddling that we seldom protest when the county and town follows the lead of Big Brothers in stripping people of their individual and property rights.

● On June 13, 1985 the following column appeared in this space. See if it still makes sense, and see if things are better or worse:

● "We are taxed in our bread and our wine, in our incomes and our investments, on our land and on our property not only for base creatures who do not deserve the name of men, but for foreign nations, complaisant nations who largesse and promise us to assist in the keeping of the peace—these mendicant nations who will destroy us when we show a moment of weakness or our treasury is bare, and sure it is becoming bare! We are taxed to maintain legions on their soil, in the name of law and order and the Pax Romana, a document which will fall into dust when it pleases our allies and our vassals. We keep them in precious balance only with our gold. Is the heartblood of our nation worth these? Were they bound to us with ties of love, they would not ask our gold. They take our very flesh, and they hate and despise us. And who shall say we are worthy of more? ... When a government becomes powerful it is destructive, extravagant and violent; it is an usurer which takes bread from innocent mouths and deprives honorable men of their substance, for votes with which to perpetuate itself." Ronald Reagan in 1985? No. Cicero in 64 B.C. Does anything ever change?

● If you are the average citizen your entire earnings from Jan. 1 to May 1 went to pay the cost of government, provided you didn't spend any of it on food, shelter, clothing or other luxuries. In addition to these annual taxes, the federal government has run up a $1.5 trillion debt and more than $6 trillion more in unfunded liabilities. This debt will never be paid, because there are 545 scoundrels who won't let it happen.

● These scoundrels include 100 US Senators, 435 congressmen, one president and nine Supreme Court justices. Since President Reagan is trying to curb the spendthrifts, let's reduce the number of scoundrels to 544. "There is not a single domestic problem," says Charley Reese of the Orlando Sentinel Star, "from an unfair tax code to defense overruns, that is not traceable directly to those 545 people." He didn't exempt the president as I did. If the farmers are in trouble, these 544 are responsible. If the tax code is unfair, it's because they want it unfair. If the budget is impossible, it's because they want it that way. If the nation is a haven for every unsavory alien, it's because they want it that way. If justice is neither speedy nor sure, it's because it serves their purposes better. For as Reese bluntly put it, "There are no insoluble government problems."

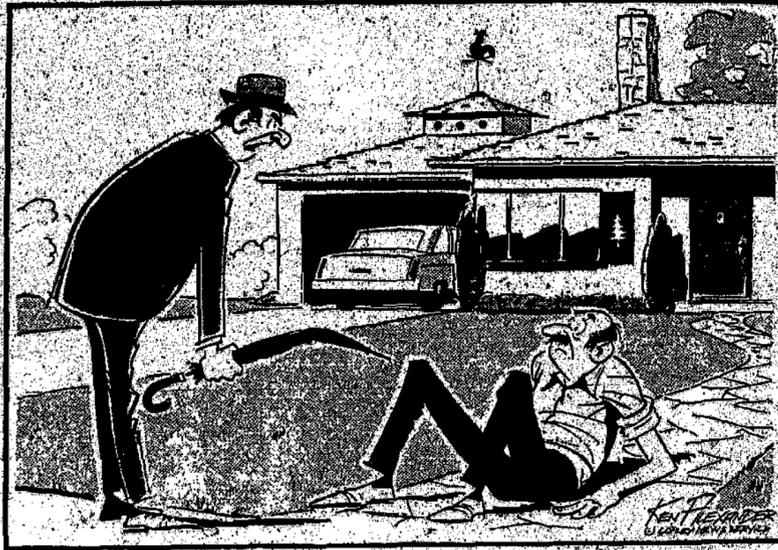

● Why does a nation of 215 million people allow themselves to be impoverished and humiliated by a motley crew of 544 self-serving politicians? In a year's time, every one of them could be ousted and forced into honest labor. They, and they alone, have emptied the treasury and burdened us with an impossible debt. Every last one of them have violated their oaths of office. The people are the boss of this gigantic department store, and they haven't the gumption to discipline these 544 employees.

● How much difference is there between the governments of 1776 and 1985? In 1776, King George III was the tyrant, but not even he treated us the way Washington does. By comparison, George III was the soul of compassion. King George never forced his subjects to labor from January to May just to pay their taxes. Wouldn't it be better to be governed by a known and responsible monarch than by the 544 scoundrels and their hundreds of anonymous, faceless, unelected, irresponsible bureaus.

● I would rather have one of King George's troops quartered in my home than to deal constantly with the unbridled authority of the IRS. I would rather face the Officers of the King than be subject to the terror tactics of a Franchises Tax Board. King George toyed ever so gently with restricting freedom of the press, speech and assembly, but every session of congress brings new restrictions on all three. The pitifully small taxes demanded by the king, which so enraged the colonists, is chickenfeed compared to those we whimper-

● The colonists complained in the Declaration of Independence that the king had cut off trade with parts of the world; today Washington tells us with which countries we may trade, under what conditions, and

Inside The Capitol

By Jay Miller

SANTA FE—Santa Fe's hippies of the 1960s and 1970s have become the WIPPIes of 1988.

These middle-aged anachronisms are intent on stopping the transport of low-level nuclear waste material to the Waste Isolation Pilot Plant near Carlsbad. Further steps to insure the safety of WIPP and of nuclear waste transportation are not an option. There are no compromises in their idealistic world.

There are also no alternatives. These are the same people who find time to worry about fossil fuels destroying our environment and causing the much-talked-about "greenhouse effect." So coal and oil are not suitable alternatives to nuclear energy.

These WIPPIes are also against construction of dams, which can generate hydroelectric power. Solar power is about it for them and the fact that it has not yet been harnessed efficiently doesn't bother.

But the sad truth is that for 45 years we have been producing nuclear waste and have not yet found a politically acceptable way to dispose of it. Not much is said about how this waste is currently stored. If these protesters only knew, it would definitely put some curl in their hair.

Sooner or later a way must be found to move a 45-year accumulation of nuclear waste from its "temporary" storage to a safe depository. And for the good of us all, it should be sooner.

But the WIPPIes propose no alternatives. Instead, they turn out in droves to demonstrate in parks and to hassle witnesses at legislative committee hearings.

Unfortunately, Department of Energy officials have not generated the best public relations effort to reassure our citizens about WIPP safeguards. There is a good reason for it—they are complete novices at the PR game.

DOE has always operated on a completely classified basis before. This is their first shot at open, honest communications with the American public. And they haven't perfected their act yet.

One of their problems is that they have generated a lot of distrust, especially among the WIPPIes, with their previous cloak-and-dagger diplomacy.

One way to generate a lot of credibility would be to come out and say, "Hey folks, if you think this is scary, let us tell you about some of the things traveling your highways right now. I'll blow your minds—and probably more."

But it will never happen. DOE will continue to truck nuclear weapons and high explosives in unmarked vehicles along our state's unimproved highways.

Part of DOE's problem is that it is dealing with people's fear of the unknown. We don't know all the possible long-range effects of nuclear radiation. People can only fear the worst.

But it is no reason to reject nuclear generation of power. There will always be risks to any progress.

As far as we know, nuclear energy has been relatively safe so far. Accidents such as the one at Three Mile Island cause great hysteria but little else.

The complete meltdown at Chernobyl killed something like 19 and caused harm to hundreds and maybe thousands of others.

That is a horrible tragedy but it must be put in perspective. Chernobyl was the dreaded meltdown that some had feared would burn a hole all the way to China. But it didn't.

Every year there are coal mining accidents or oil rig explosions which take more than 19 lives and we say, "Oh, that's one of the hazards." In a day or so, the news coverage disappears from the papers and everyone forgets.

And then there is the dreaded unseen killer of coal miners, black lung disease, taking lives on a delayed basis similar to nuclear radiation but not causing frantic demands to discard coal as an energy source.

Let's face it: Nuclear power is with us to stay. In the history of mankind, no power source has ever been ignored because of its dangers. Imagine the caveman rejecting fire because of its potential to burn down forests.

And while we're listening to the WIPPIes telling us to deny nuclear energy, our what we may trade. With high taxes attached. They complained they were deprived of the right of trial by jury; today Americans face trial by bureaucrats in city, county, state and federal agencies. Colonists said that taxes were imposed on them without their consent; so what else is new? Colonists objected to establishment of arbitrary government in a neighboring province; Washington imposes a 5th level of government, regional government, arbitrarily and without our consent. The king was charged with warring against the people; Washington wars against the people. There was no redress of grievances resulting from the arbitrary actions of the king; there is no redress of arbitrary action by the bureaus that govern us, either.

● Framers of the Declaration of Independence charged that George III "has erected a multitude of new offices, and sent hither swarms of officers to harass our people, and eat out their substance;" today few complain that Washington is doing the same thing, only there are more of them and they are more efficient. They complained the Crown was transporting colonists beyond the seas to be tried for pretended offenses; today congress is debating the Genocide Treaty which, if enacted as seems certain, will transport US citizens to the World Court at Hague, Holland, to be tried without any reference to US law. Treaty law supercedes constitutional law. For example, Mayor Marion Barry of Washington, DC has accused President Reagan of genocide because he continues to do business with South Africa. Under the proposed Genocide Treaty the president could be tried and sentenced for the crime by the World Court—from which there is no appeal.

● The colonists "chafed under tariff barriers and trade restrictions," as to this very day. The colonists never had to pay a fee and get a permit to build an out-house in the country, or to take one down. They never had to get permission from the king to build a house, and the king never told a farmer what he could plant, how much he could plant, or where. The king never freed our children from honest work so they could become delinquents, revolutionaries and dummies. The king didn't force a person to support a horde of deadbeats against his will. A man could make as much money as his hard work and industry permitted. He could educate his children and bring them up as he saw fit. He wasn't told when he could buy a drink; that he had to join a union in order to support a family; or be forced to buy a permit to catch a fish or shoot a duck.

● If the American people got so worked up over some petty restrictions and interference in their lives by King George III, why is it that they are so content with present-day Washington that they touched off an annual Fourth of July celebration to observe the "end of tyranny" by George III?

We were all losers

EDITOR—Open letter to Fran Siddens, Lincoln County Clerk, Carrizozo.

I very much disapproved of your letter in the Lincoln County News, Aug. 25, 1988. You not only misused the office of the Lincoln County Clerk with offensive remarks. You are also a loser. Whether you realize it or not, you are a resident, taxpayer and voter, as well as myself and hundreds of other people in Lincoln County.

We are all losers, not winners, in the court battles between the county clerk and county commissioners.

It took money and time from the county taxpayers that could have been spent to improve the county.

I hope, Mr. Siddens, you will use your energy more in the future on the job you were elected to do.

RUTH A. COOPER,
Ruidoso Downs.

US aid to the Soviets

EDITOR—For years, the US government has committed our nation to various US-USSR disarmament treaties. Sold to the American people as a method of forestalling nuclear war, these treaties have all been broken by the Soviet Union while they have been honored by the United States. Each new treaty amounts to a further exercise in unilateral disarmament. We disarm; they cheat.

If disarmament were really our own government's goal, the United States could put a stop to the flow of strategic goods, high technology equipment, and money that the Soviets need to build their weapons. But help to the Kremlin is not only continued; it is increased. Disarming the Soviets can be accomplished by stopping all aid and trade. An equally important point is that signing disarmament treaties with the Soviets disarms only the United States, because only our nation honors the various treaties. We are being reduced to a position where the loss of our sovereignty and merger with Communist nations in a one-world tyranny will be presented as the best available alternative.

Foreign Affairs is a very prestigious magazine. The Journal of the Establishment's pinnacle of power, the world government's promoting Council on Foreign Relations, should never be ignored. Its pages carry important elements of the strategy of the one-world merger maniacs. This is the magazine where you can find what the promoters of the New World Order plan for the United States and the American people.

Editing the news

EDITOR—I thought the front page of your fine newspaper was for news—until I read the article (Sept. 1, 1988) "Proposed Zoning Ordinance." Now it appears that the "Cox Administration" has taken over your front page.

I attended the same P&Z meeting, and what was left out by your reporter was, I believe, significant. You be the judge.

1. Glen Ellison called for a showing of hands for those persons who opposed the ordinance. The response was 90-95 percent. This is the "several people" mentioned in your story?

2. Kenneth Nosker stated that "there is only a few (3 to 4) miles of private land on the airport road." Do we need a countywide, oppressive and offensive ordinance just to give the controllers a political axe?

3. After Mr. Bell's statement about hazardous waste dumps, I was recognized by the chair and stated that "This county already has an effective waste ordinance, No. 1985-9."

Didn't the county attorney Gary (The Mouth) Mitchell know about Lincoln County Ordinance No. 1985-9? If he did, and failed to advise the commissioners and P&Z, he should be fired. On the other hand, if he did not know about it, he should be fired for sure.

4. There were also threats of possible violence if this suppressive ordinance was enforced. Tempers were high and the language used occasionally hard. Did any of this show up in the article written by your reporter? No.

Does being a neutral reporter mean to "neutralize an opinion" contrary to your own? Is this editing of an event by selective reporting going to be the News' policy? If so, cancel my subscription.

LITERACY DAY
Today, Thursday, Sept. 8, is International Literacy Day. Celebrate the right to read by curling up with your favorite books or newspapers.

Literacy means primarily the ability to read and write. It also means that a person is able to read, write and use numbers skillfully enough to meet the demands of modern society.

When the United States entered World War I, the army found that 700,000 young men could not write their names on their draft registration cards. This discovery led to the preparation of special books for illiterate soldiers. Many men in military service received instruction at home, in training camps, and overseas. The movements to eliminate illiteracy continued to grow after the war.

What else is noteworthy?

Sept. 9—California became the 31st state in the union in 1850. Wagon trains heading west, the gold rush in 1849 and Hollywood have given America some of its richest folklore.

Sept. 10—Honor your grandparents or older friends by doing something special for them on National Grandparents Day. Or visit a senior citizens' center or nursing home.

Sept. 12—Take time this week to study Hispanic heritage in honor of National Hispanic Heritage Week.

Sept. 13—New York City was declared the temporary capital of the US.

HELL-FIRE CLUB

After several aborted attempts to establish newspaper in the pre-Revolution era, the Boston Gazette came into existence with William Brooker as editor and a young printer, James Franklin, as publisher. Within a year Brooker was fired and his successor removed the publication from Franklin's printing shop. Franklin established his own newspaper, the New England Courant, the first step in 1721 of freedom of the press in America. His assistant was his younger brother, Benjamin.

In his first issue, James chided Cotton Mather's attempt to use the new process of inoculation to stem an outbreak of smallpox in Boston. Later, he attacked the government for laxity in its campaign against piracy and was jailed for contempt of government. After his release a month later, he attacked religious hypocrisy of the Puritans by noting in the Courant: "There are many persons who seem to be more than ordinary religious, but yet are on several accounts worse, by far, than those who pretend no religion at all."

Cotton Mather and his "Hell-Fire Club" (which he had established to suppress Franklin and other democratic upstarts) went quickly to work. Mather succeeded in getting the provincial government to crush Franklin by invoking powers of censorship. He was forbidden from further publishing the newspaper or any other pamphlet except "if first be supervised by the Secretary of this Province." From that day, James stayed in the background, and Ben, at age 17, gave up his printing apprenticeship in the back-shop to take command of the Courant.

FIRST OFFERINGS

Among his first offerings in the Courant, Ben reprinted an essay written under the name "Cato," a pseudonym for two authors back in England whose writings were laying the basic foundations of journalistic criticism of government power. An excerpt from that essay: "Without freedom of thought there can be no such thing as wisdom; and no such thing as public property without freedom of speech, which is the right of every man, as far as by it he does not hurt and control the right of another; and this is the only check which it ought to suffer, the only bounds which it ought to know... whoever would overthrow the liberty of a nation must begin by subduing the freedom of speech."

ADULT BASIC EDUCATION

Carrizozo and surrounding area residents, age 18 and older, have the opportunity to enroll in adult basic education this fall at Carrizozo Public School.

GED classes begin Sept. 20. GED class will provide instruction or review in reading, math, and English areas covered on the GED exam. The initials stand for General Educational Development. The exam is also known as high school equivalency test. If you would like further details get in touch with Mark Nickless (648-2901) after 4 p.m.

Do you know someone who would like to learn to read? Under the same program there will be a beginning reading class. Pat Coulter (648-2241) can give you more information.

DID YOU KNOW?

I didn't know that in 1843 Kit Carson married Josephina Jaramillo of Taos by whom he had seven children. The last, a girl, was born just one month before his death in May, 1868 at Fort Lyon, Colorado Territory.

Carson was a famous American frontiersman, known as a trapper, hunter, guide and soldier. He joined a wagon train carrying goods to Santa Fe in New Mexico when he was 17 years old.

As part of my Hispanic awareness reading I learned that "La Bamba" star Lou Diamond Phillips is Jose Chavez y Chavez in "Young Guns." 20th Century Fox announces in 1988 that the movie is about "six young kids" hired to guard an Englishman's ranch "against the mob."

Chavez y Chavez is one of the Regulators who declare war against the corrupt Santa Fe Ring-controlled Lincoln County mob just before the beginning of the Lincoln County War.

Davy Delgado (Santa Rosa News) writes that Hispanic participants in New Mexico history as portrayed in Hollywood motion pictures have never been quite authentic. "Dozens of John Wayne-type westerns showed Hispanic cattlemen, sheepmen and townfolk as 'Mexican' servants, peasants and desperados of unappreciable character."

Phillips plays Chavez y Chavez, the imposing "Mexican-Indian" who becomes the group's spiritual guide. Emilio Estevez is William H. Bonney, the wild gunman who became Billy the Kid.
