Bingaman at Hondo rally

US Senator Jeff Bingaman spoke at the Democratic rally in the Hondo Valley Saturday. He asked voters to vote Democratic in the November general election.

The old fashioned rally was held at the home of Lincoln McTeigue and featured a free barbecue, balloons, beer and campaign speeches. Several hundred people attended.

Among officials and candidates from around the state attending were former Governor Jack Campbell, state Democratic chairman Ray Powell and Vicente Jimenez, state voter registration coordinator.

Many Lincoln County candidates were on hand to pass out campaign cards and visit with those present. A voter registration booth was at the rally for the convenience of those who had not registered to vote. Voters must be registered by Oct. 11 to be able to vote Nov. 8 in the general election.

FB annual meeting set

The Lincoln County Farm Bureau annual meeting will be held Oct. 3 at 7 p.m. at K-Bob's Restaurant in Ruidoso.

Bud Eppers from the Public Lands Council will speak on the American Heritage Trust Fund Act of 1988.

The Farm Bureau is an agricultural organization serving the ag community. It is not affiliated with the government but the group does lobby at state and federal levels for ag programs and against things detrimental to ranchers.

Open house to honor school employees

Carrizozo Woman's Club will host an open house on Sunday, Oct. 2 to salute the Carrizozo Schools staff for the 1988-89 school year.

All Carrizozo School employees will be special guests at the open house that will be held at the Woman's Club building from 2 to 4 p.m.

The public is invited to attend and meet school employees. Refreshments will be served.

Sierra Blanca Airport

Where the money came from, and where the money went

By Ruth Hammond

Construction of the Sierra Blanca Regional Airport has cost more than $11 million so far with another $11 million in capital improvements planned in the next five years.

According to a complete financial accounting made by Lincoln County for the period from October 1985 through Aug. 30, 1988, a total of $11,850,058.97 has been spent on the airport.

A total of $11,858,102.77 has been received with $7,214,890 coming from the Federal Aviation Administration (FAA). Other receipts: US Treasury $999,999, state $1,022,157, local sale bonds $2,420,490.55, Lincoln County mill levy $164,524.62, water sales $18,108.45, interest earned by Lincoln County $17,274.16, T-Hangars $608.10 and a voided warrant for $50.

Expenditures of $11,850,058.97 included $5,854,290.65 paid to Nielsons for paving, $3,060,239.73 paid to Tricon Kent for ground work (preparing the ground for paving), $1,124,986.41 to Leeds-Herkenhoff for engineering, $1,000,000 paid to New Mexico State University for the land, and $4,157.75 paid to US Department of Interior for cost to transfer the land.

Other expenditures: $125,373.03 paid to Heckman-Haworth Inc. for Fred Heckman as administrator, $393.36 paid to E. Dean, consultant, $3,567.04 paid to Brach for the hedgehog cactus study, and University of New Mexico for archaeology study $59,480.80.

Water costs for the airport: $76,994.47 paid to Rodgers & Co. for water well drilling, $21,773.99 paid to Smith Machinery for water well supplies, $250 paid to the state for application for water rights, and $67,500 paid to Betty Shrecengost for water rights.

Legal fees for the airport: $110,399.24 paid to Steven Sanders, $25,693 paid to Twelfth Judicial Court for the suit of Beavers vs Tricon Kent (the Sierra Blanca Airport Commission was brought into the suit), Mitchell-McCormick legal fees $4,928.29, reimbursement to the county for legal fees $4,959.50; and legal ads in Ruidoso News $274.69, Lincoln County News $331.53, Albuquerque Journal $56.42 and Albuquerque Publishing $56.35.

Utility costs: Otero Electric $23,271.73, Bixby Electric for installing lights $167,117.19, Ruidoso Septic $1,532.78, and $14,770 to Southern Avionics for the directional beacon.

Groundbreaking costs: Apache Arts $211, C&L Lumber $102, Cree Meadows $234, Ruidoso Office Supply $59.54, Ruidoso Printing $261.15, and Ruidoso Signs $219.98.

Travel costs: Conrad Buchanan $214, Fran Sidens (to take minutes of meetings) $126.72, and $933.66 paid to Tim Morris for travel and rent of his pickup.

Fire crash equipment and snow removal equipment costs: Estes International $47,870 and Thunderbird $13,934.

Miscellaneous costs: Credit Card Telephone for credit cards for SBAC members, Fred Heckman and Steve Sanders $1,838.63, Don Wingfield for audit $5,161.41, and Village of Ruidoso for reimbursement of equipment $26,494.03.

The five-year capital improvement program calls for $990,000 to be spent in 1988-89 for pump station, reservoir, water lines, waste water disposal system and underground electrical distribution system.

Capital improvements planned for 1989-90: taxiway guidance sign system, loop road and parking lot, executive hangar lease plot taxilines and T-Hangars expansion for a total of $887,000.

Capital improvements planned for 1990-91 will cost $4,000,000 for phase I construction runway. Phase II construction runway and water well, well equipment and collector lines is scheduled for 1991-92 at a cost of $3,150,000. The terminal building is to cost $2,400,000 in 1992-93.

Total cost of the capital improvements from 1988 through 1993 will be $11,427,000 with an estimated total non-federal share of $4,103,000. It is a federal requirement that federal funds be spent only on eight items. The matching funds may come from the state or other sources.

The financial report provided by the county states: "This report will show through documentation that Lincoln County has fulfilled and honored all of our commitments to date to the Sierra Blanca Regional Airport."

The county did earn $16,927.33 in interest which could be earned only from state and local funds. The entire amount of interest earned was placed back in the airport budget and accounted for.

Carrizozo Board of Trustees

Brooks Construction requests city water

The Carrizozo Board of Trustees received a request to furnish water to Brooks Construction. Brooks recently bought three acres adjacent to the Cimarron mill site across the overpass, and is building a shop for a permanent yard location.

The matter was discussed during the Sept. 27 meeting of the town council. Brooks has offered to install the water line 800 feet from the mill site to his own property and he wants his own water meter.

The condition of the line which runs under Highway 380 was discussed. Town crews were instructed to test the water line to find out if the pipe is good before proceeding with the request.

The old water line went to the mill with the meter being near the fire hydrant on the town's side of the highway. Since the water line has not been used for a few years the condition of the waterline is unknown. The testing is to be completed prior to the next town council meeting Oct. 11.

In other business, the town received a request from People for Kids (PFK) to designate Oct. 29 as official Halloween night in Carrizozo. A proclamation stating Oct. 29 is Carrizozo's official Halloween night was signed by the mayor and all four trustees.

Police officer John Northrup presented a list of suggestions to improve the police department. Mayor Bob Hemphill told Northrup that most of the things on the list "only need a purchase order number and should be ordered."

Trustee Harold Garcia asked that the town find out if the town is receiving gross receipts tax on propane gas sales made in the municipality.

Trustee Albert Baca asked that yield signs be placed at the intersections of C Street and other streets where C Street has been paved.

Baca said he had received a request for the town to vacate the portion of 3rd Street from where it intersects with D Street to Highway 380. This portion of 3rd Street was not paved and access to the highway is scheduled to be closed by the highway department. Thomas O'Rear and Paul Samora are the two property owners making the request.

Trustees approved advance per diem and mileage for Mike Morrison to attend the Airport Manager meeting in Albuquerque, Sept. 30.

Hemphill announced that a consultant had quoted a price of $2,250 to write the specifications for mechanical work on the Rec Center roof. Trustees agreed to have the mayor pursue the situation and get quotes from local contractors for the work before making a decision to pay a consultant for the specs.

It was announced that city attorney Richie Askeew is working on the ordinance for condemnation of buildings.

A public auction will be held at 6 p.m. Oct. 11 in city hall to dispose of surplus property. Among the things listed to be sold were nine or 10 golf carts in various stages of being dismantled, part of an old trailer, a pile of junk, a boat and Cushman parts. The entire list will be available at city hall.

The town received a letter from Peggy C. Smith, owner of the old Girard

Proposed zoning ordinance goes back to drawing board

The proposed zoning ordinance that brought protests from residents all over the county will be drafted before being presented again to the planning and zoning commission.

Action on the matter was taken during the Sept. 22 Lincoln County Planning and Zoning Commission meeting. P&Z member Betty Shrecengost made the motion to have a committee work on the proposed ordinance and the motion was approved unanimously.

Named to the committee to work on the ordinance were Ben Hall, Sid Goodloe and Shrecengost. P&Z chairman Mack Bell will also assist with redrafting of the ordinance.

Even though it was not a public hearing, three people in the audience of 33 people made comments. Peggy Holden said the ordinance as presented at the last meeting, "Was the most ridiculous thing I've ever read." Carl Holden objected to the county manager being designated as the enforcement officer because, "we have law and deputies." Jerry Carroll suggested, "the final product be submitted to the voters by referendum vote."

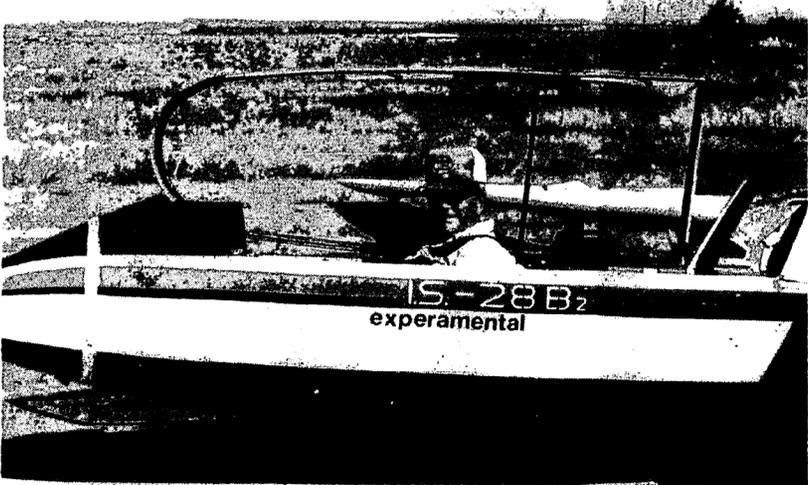

Bell thanked each person and said comments would be noted. "All comments made during the public hearing held Aug. 25 and those made at this meeting will be used by the committee during the rewriting process," Bell said.

Scheduled to begin at 6:30 p.m., the meeting got a late start because of the rain and some of the members arriving later than planned. There were six P&Z members of the nine-member board present for the meeting; Bell, Shrecengost, Hall, Goodloe, Walt Wilson and Lamoyne Peters. Not present were P&Z members Modesto Chavez, E.J. Fourati and Alton Whittaker.

In other business, the P&Z denied a replat of lot 24,

"REALLY WONDERFUL," is the way Johnson Stearns described his ride in a sailplane Saturday. "It was like being a bird. There was no noise." Carrizozo Chamber of Commerce president Betty Howell also took to the sky for a demo ride. The rides were furnished by members of soaring clubs from Albuquerque and Alamogordo while the groups were at Carrizozo Municipal Airport for another fun fly this past weekend. The chamber served coffee and doughnuts to club members as they arrived Saturday for the two-day event. Refreshments were provided by Four Winds Motel and Plains Realty.

New Mexicans given tour of Ft. Stanton

Several people from around the state were in Fort Stanton Sept. 17 for a family day, complete with visits with their relatives, a tour of facilities, barbecue and organization of a parents association.

Ervin Aldaz, Fort Stanton Hospital and Training School administrator, welcomed visitors and gave a brief history of Fort Stanton from the time it was established in 1855. Through the years it has been used as a tubercular center for Merchant Marines and a state TB hospital before becoming a facility for mentally retarded, now a developmental disabilities facility.

Aldaz introduced staff members and department heads and answered questions about programs for the clients. Services provided for clients include medical, psychological, social services, academic education, basic skills-education, recreation, residential services, and scheduling and transportation if further treatment is needed.

Clients can learn ceramics, farming and use computers in addition to being involved in many activities. Groups of clients regularly attend athletic events and participate in social activities.

Aldaz stressed that the purpose of Fort Stanton was to do what is in the best interest of the clients. "This is their home," he said. Many clients have lived at Fort Stanton for several years.

of the replat of a part of blocks, I, K, and M in the Middle Creek Subdivision because the lot is too steep and there is little or no soil for a drain field for liquid waste disposal.

Jim Edwards and Carl Stubbs of the Ruidoso office of the New Mexico Environmental Improvement Division discussed problems with the area before the P&Z denied the replat.

Airport . . .

The county, through proceeds from the one mill levy, has contributed $164,524.62 with $141,252.89 used for grant obligation and $23,271.73 used to pay Otero Electric. The county was only obligated to put in $86,603.

Private investments were supposed to have been $68,047 but only $608.10 has been received, leaving a shortfall of $67,438.90.

All financial records are public information and may be inspected at the courthouse anytime during regular office hours.

After an outdoor barbecue, family members met and agreed to organize a parents association, that will be called "Families for Fort Stanton." Membership is open to anyone interested in keeping Fort Stanton as a facility for the developmentally disabled. Dues were set at $10 per year per family.

Ima Cooper of Artesia was elected chairman of the association and Pat Randle of Roswell was elected first vice-chairman. Ruth Hammond of Carrizozo will be secretary and treasurer. The group will meet again at Fort Stanton at 1:30 p.m., Nov. 6.

"Families for Fort Stanton" will be especially concerned with the suit filed by the Protection and Advocacy group. P&A is trying to close all institutions in the state, even though guardians for many of the clients have stated they prefer their family members stay at Fort Stanton or one of the other institutions.

Four to attend ARC national convention

Four people from Carrizozo will attend the 39th Annual ARC National Convention in Albuquerque Oct. 6-8.

Representing the Association for Retarded Citizens (ARC) of Lincoln County will be club president Phyllis Schlegel, secretary Gary Nickless, treasurer Mary Funk and membership chairman Ellie Bannister.

ARC/Lincoln County was one of six chapters in the state to meet membership goals and received $250 to pay expenses for one person to attend the National Convention.

Theme of the convention will be "Up, Up and Away—The Sky's the Limit." Highlighting the convention will be actors Larry Drake and Woody Harrelson. Drake portrays Benny Stulwicz, a messenger with mental retardation, in the NBC-TV series "L.A. Law." Drake will deliver the opening keynote address. Harrelson plays Woody the bartender in the popular comedy series "Cheers." He will be master of ceremonies during the awards banquet.

The convention will feature workshops, business sessions, entertainment, the awards banquet and the release of hundreds of hot air balloons on Saturday morning. The convention coincides with the annual International Hot Air Balloon Fiesta that is held in Albuquerque each year.

Lincoln welcomes fall

Old Lincolntown will usher in the fall season with a Community Market on Saturday, Oct. 1.

Featured is a day-long village yard sale at various residences. Several other activities are also scheduled.

There will be an art show on the lawn of the Wortley Hotel, with local artists displaying their work.

Nora Henn and Cleis Jordan will give short piano recitals at intervals throughout the day on the antique grand piano at Dr. Wood's House Museum.

The Lincoln Balladeers, composed of David and Charlotte Lee, Agatha Long and Ann Buffington, will present a program at 4 p.m. in the courtyard of the Lincoln County Heritage Trust Historical Center. The program, titled "Hard Times—A Tribute to the 30s," will present cowboy and folk songs of the Depression Era, accompanied by guitar, mandolin and hammered dulcimer.

Museums in Lincoln will be open from 10-5. The Wortley Hotel will be open for breakfast, lunch and dinner.

"Plan to spend the day. There's lots going on and fall is a beautiful time to visit Lincoln," says Ann Buffington, coordinator of the event, which is sponsored by Lincoln Pageant and Festivals Corporation.

LOWEL MASON
Gospel Music-Nashville Style

International T.V. and recording artist, Lowell Mason, will be appearing in Carrizozo, Oct. 7, 7 p.m., at the Carrizozo Community Church.

Mr. Mason has been called the World's Smallest Gospel Singer because of his unique height of only 46 inches. His voice, however, has no comparison to his size. When he sings, his booming bass voice brings a thrill to everyone that listens.

SOME SADDLE—Lisa Nairn, the 1989 New Mexico State Fair Queen, accepts the traditional saddle from Slim Green (far left) and Fern Sawyer, as State Fair Commissioner Jimmie Randalls (behind saddle), join in on the ceremonies during the State Fair. Fern Sawyer was making the presentation on behalf of her mother, Dessie. For more than 20 years, Dessie Sawyer has had Green make one-of-a-kind saddles for the New Mexico State Fair Queens.

This area received 9 of an inch of rain last week. Cold fall winds. Cloudy with little sun all week.

The Smokey Bear Museum had 776 registered visitors, Sept. 19-25.

The Capitan homecoming football game was played Friday night with Springer. Score 25 to 6 in favor of Capitan. Two of our boys, Nathan Roybal and Shawn Seay, were injured. I wish them a good recovery. Nita Hale was chosen homecoming queen. The dance given at the school Saturday night for this event was a success and the students had a good time.

The Democratic party held a free barbecue at Lincoln McEllegue at Hondo Saturday. Among them were Jeff Bingaman and Jack Campbell. County candidates too. The Lone Star Express made the beautiful music.

Welcome to Tommy Hall, who is now our county superintendent of roads in this district. Good luck and worlds of success.

Happy birthday to Lee Payne, son of Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Payne, whose day was Sept. 29. May you have many more with health and happiness.

Jon Mayer, son of Jon and Janet Mayer of Capitan, is on leave from the Marine Base in Eustis, VA for 10 days. He will then go to Okinawa.

Mr. and Mrs. John Westbrook of Texas, parents of Mark Westbrook, left Monday after being here to help him a couple of weeks get located for the winter. They enjoyed their visit here and are such lovely people.

Lee Payne was home from ENMU last weekend to visit his parents and attend the homecoming game.

David and Della Bonnell of Glencoe were in Capitan Friday to attend the homecoming game and watch their niece, Della Joiner, in the homecoming queen contest.

Cruces, last weekend here in their home. It was good to see them again.

The ambulance answered a call Saturday and picked up a patient from the Smokey Bear Motel. It was George Archuleta, who has been a resident there for some time and he was employed at the Rodeo. He was taken to Lincoln County Center where he died of a heart attack. He was 63. George was born and reared in Capitan. When he graduated he went into the military and became a paratrooper. Later he settled and married in Roswell. His wife died several years ago. I extend my sincere sympathy to his family.

The circus is coming to town!

The Carrizozo Lions Club is bringing one of the country's most acclaimed circuses to Carrizozo's old rodeo grounds, Sunday, Oct. 9.

When the National Geographic Society decided to feature a circus on the award winning Explorer TV series, they looked for a traditional traveling tent circus. Although not the largest, Culpepper & Merriweather Great Combined was chosen because it features a totally traditional performance under the big top. The National Geographic film crew traveled with the show and filmed the documentary which was later aired on the award winning, nationally televised Explorer series.

For the second successive year, Culpepper & Merriweather Great Combined circus will perform for 14 days for the Chicago Parks department. Chosen from all other tented circuses, the show is being brought back by popular demand. Last July, thousands thrilled to the sight of a traditional circus performance under canvas.

Such a hit was the show that the Chicago Tribune broke with tradition and published four pages of pictures and text about the show. The Sun Times also carried a glowing commentary in pictures and text.

Reduced prices advance sale tickets ($2 children, 2-14 years; $3 adults) are on sale at Johns TV Service, 1101 E. Ave., or may be purchased from any member of Carrizozo Lions Club. Tickets at the gate are $2.50 for children; $3.50 for adults.

PFK plans Halloween carnival

People for Kids plans its annual Halloween Carnival for Saturday, Oct. 29 at 6:30 p.m. in the Carrizozo old gym.

A poster contest for grades K-12 is being coordinated by chairman Polly Chavez. Halloween posters from each grade will be judged by local merchants with a winner selected from each class. Each winner will receive a gift certificate at Taste Freez or Gift Gallery. All posters completed will be displayed.

1988-89 PFK officers are Melissa Leslie, president; Mary Sainz, vice-president; Susan Hightower, secretary; and Debbie King, treasurer.

PFK's Oct. 11 meeting will feature a tour of the ag farm facilities, including a newly constructed slaughter area and a renovated processing area. Instructor Mike Gaines will describe new techniques and equipment now being utilized by ag students.

This meeting begins at 6 p.m. on Oct. 11 at the ag farm.

Hondo School activities

The Hondo Eagles defeated N.E.C.A. last weekend, 31-18. Loving defeated the Lady Eagles volleyball team in three games.

Corona visits Hondo Sept. 30 for a 7 p.m. football game. This is homecoming for the Eagles.

Queen candidates are: 12th grade, Stacy Maez; 11th grade, Angie Romero; 10th grade, Teresa Montez; 9th grade, Celena Copeland; 8th grade, Emily Flores; 7th grade, Tanya White.

Subscribe to the Lincoln County News!

The varsity volleyball team played in Cloudcroft and won. The junior varsity lost.

The 7th and 8th grades volleyball teams won their games in Tularosa. There was a volleyball tournament in Capitan last Saturday in which six teams played. The junior cheerleaders held a car wash last Saturday.

Last Sunday afternoon the last play day of the Junior Riding Club was held at the fairgrounds, with parents and children participating. It's the last for this season.

The motorcycle rally was held near here and Capitan, and many of them enjoyed the Smokey Bear Museum.

Obituary

H.T. "Shorty" Hornbuckle, 83, Ruidoso, died Sept. 23 at Lincoln County Medical Center after a lengthy illness. Funeral services were held Sept. 26 at LaGrone Funeral Chapel with Rev. Ken Cole, pastor, First Christian Church, officiating.

Mr. Hornbuckle was born Oct. 2, 1904 at Clovis, NM and was married to Mary E. "Dugan" Wilson, Jan. 7, 1940 in Clovis. He lived in Ruidoso since 1959 where he was a member of the Texas section of Professional Golfers Assn., in which he served as president, vice-president and tournament director. He was also on the board of directors of the American Bank of Commerce, Albuquerque.

He is survived by his widow; a son, Harold T. Hornbuckle of San Angelo, TX; and a granddaughter, Rochell Hornbuckle of Las Cruces, NM.

OPINION

Some debate. The confrontation between Michael Dukakis and George Bush Sunday smacked more of a Miss America contest than a debate, what with emphasis put on body language, appearance, control, poise—everything but the bathing suit competition. The estimated 100 million people watching the event probably learned little about either candidate other than that the Duke was trying to appear tough and the vice-president occupied with not messing up his language. There was a lack of convincing rebuttal. For example, Dukakis claimed that he had balanced 10 Massachusetts budgets. Bush let him get away with this semi-lie, for in Massachusetts a balanced budget is mandatory—thanks to the state legislature and none to Dukakis, who had no choice but to approve a balanced budget as required by law.

All my adult life I have heard presidential candidates air their aims and purposes. Few ever deliver on any campaign promises, and for good reason. They have little to nothing to do with national policy, foreign or domestic. Congress has everything to do with them. But while we focus attention on what the Duke and Bush would do if elected, congressmen receive little attention despite the fact that they have arrogated most executive powers to their already powerful legislative powers. If you think the President of the United States has power to enact his program, take a look at President Reagan. In his current term he has been unable to pressure Congress into supporting his agenda, whether it be aid to freedom fighters or Star Wars. Why? Because the majority of congressmen are Democrats or left-leaning liberals whose purpose is to destroy Republican programs put forth by the president. Yet the American people believe that the president leads the country and imposes his own agenda. He does not. Now and then he sneaks in a display of authority and decision-making, such as the invasion of Grenada. Congress will now see that he does not do such a thing again.

Sure, the international spotlight is on the president, whatever his party. But Congress is where policies are implemented and where the real power lies. Reagan can't spend a dime unless Congress authorizes it through appropriation. Congress controls the money, and all of us by now should realize that power is where the money is. Reagan has a Democrat/liberal Congress, which is why he can do nothing. Whether the next president is Dukakis or Bush, Congress will still have the power, not the president. So why bother with what either of them thinks or believes? Better we should be concerned with what our congressmen think or believe.

Our inability to understand the power of Congress can be blamed partly on the media. They focus on presidential candidates, seldom referring to the established fact that 98 percent of incumbent congressmen are re-elected at every national election. Yet, when voters get fed up with an administration they throw the president out, leaving congressmen undisturbed to continue their evil ways, and with the public still largely ignorant of who's running the country. Voters who truly want a change of policy at the highest level will forget about the president and concentrate on turning incumbent congressmen out of office until such time as the balance of power between the executive and legislative branches is restored.

You think Dukakis or Bush are getting away with contradictory statements? Look at what happens in Congress. Take Jeff Bingaman. Bingaman claims the federal deficit should be reduced through spending cuts, yet he votes consistently in Congress against cuts in spending. He claims to support small business in New Mexico at the same time he is taking campaign money from organized labor, whose "best interests" he pushes. He can't have it both ways. Labor is no friend of business, and vice versa. We pay no attention to such hypocrisy and continue to hold the president responsible.

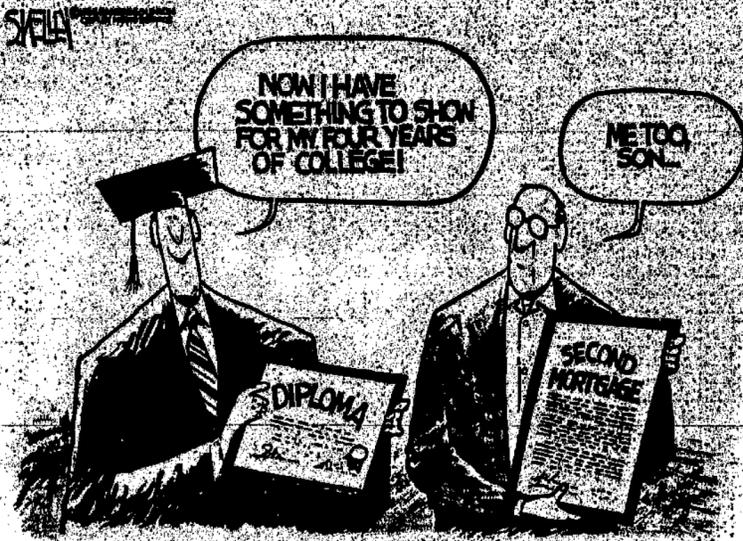

Why do we elect a president because we like his policies, then re-elect congressmen to see that his policies are not implemented? Why has the president's term in office been limited to two while a congressman can hold office for life? If it makes sense to limit a president to two terms in office, doesn't it make sense to limit a congressman to two terms in office?

Want to have some fun? Let's elect Dukakis president and at the same time provide him with a Republican-controlled House and Senate! Poor old Dukakis couldn't even get a pass to the White House bathroom without a "continuing resolution" issued by the Congress. That's what we did in Reagan's second term. We overwhelmingly re-elected him as president and at the same time handed him a Democratic-controlled Congress to see that he does nothing, and he hasn't. Speaker Jim Wright, as big a political punk as he is, has more power today than the President of the United States simply because he controls the House of Representatives.

We can't expect any help from entrenched politicians, but I hope some day a nationwide initiative will be approved that will limit a congressman to two terms in office, and no more.

Non flaut, an inflexible who played with various National League agrees holds the record for getting hit by pitched balls.

Inside The Capitol

By Jay Miller

SANTA FE—The government keeps making it tougher for charities and other non-profit organizations to raise funds.

It began shortly after Ronald Reagan became president in 1981. He immediately took a scalpel to federal social programs and, under the banner of "the new federalism," channeled that responsibility back to state and municipal governments.

At the same time, Reagan hailed the spirit of American voluntarism, a traditional strength of our nation's culture. He called upon volunteer organizations to take up the slack left by the demise of federal assistance.

Reagan's idea had a lot going for it. Federal giveaway programs of all sorts have tremendous administrative costs that siphon indirect assistance before it ever reaches the individuals, organizations, or corporations Congress has determined to be needy.

In addition, the idea of charity beginning at home is an American tradition. Funds should be raised by non-profit and governmental entities as close to the source as possible. Those are the folks who understand the needs best.

However, a number of factors have interacted to put a tremendous strain on the system.

First, charities and non-profits that had been accustomed to raising all their own funds were now in competition with those that had been on the federal dole. The battle for the local tax dollar and corporate and individual contributions became fierce. Then, a tightening economy added another strain. While the east and west coasts are beginning to boom again, middle America is still feeling the pinch. In New Mexico, there is still no light at the end of the tunnel. Our rich natural resources are all suffering from depressed markets and prices.

Economic development is still just a campaign catchword. And Heaven help us if Uncle Sam ever decides to pull out.

Organizations that raise money with raffles and drawings have been hit by restrictive interpretations. I'm told the Federal Communications Commission says radio stations can't advertise fundraising events that include drawings or door prizes if it costs money to get in the door (unless the state has a lottery act).

Artists, who donate their work for drawings or auctions, used to be able to deduct the fair market value on their income tax return. New federal laws and regulations allow artists to deduct only the cost of their materials which went into the work of art.

and local trade groups that for many years have received state tourist advertising money to jointly promote local attractions and events, are now being hobbled by Attorney Gen. Hal Stratton's opinion that seeks to enforce the anti-donation clause of New Mexico's constitution.

The clause is in our constitution for good reason. Our state's founding fathers didn't want taxpayer money being channeled to friends of public officials. But our ambitious AG has gone a step too far.

His idea of tightening agreements between the state tourism division and local bodies in order to insure that the state receives some value for its investment is good and probably was needed in many instances.

But it could have been handled with much less disruption of the cooperative advertising programs. Instead, Stratton acted like the proverbial bull in a china closet while solving the problem.

Certain community celebrations such as Santa Fe's Fiestas have come in for a double whammy. This celebration has drawn thousands of visitors to the state yearly. The Fiesta Council had used cooperative funds to mail brochures to interested individuals throughout the nation until encountering the curve thrown by Stratton.

Add to this a whammy from the far side of the political spectrum. The American Civil Liberties Union filed a suit a few years ago to enforce the separation of church and state doctrine as it applies to public funds being used for anything that might be slightly religious.

The doctrine is a cornerstone for the founding of our nation. But some community events involve such a strong religious history and tradition as to be inseparable from the secular aspects.

In the final analysis, the shift of responsibility to the local folks for meeting our own needs may be for the best. But if we are going to assume that responsibility, it would surely be nice for the state and federal governments to make our job easier instead of harder.

Retail sales seminar set for Oct. 4

The Ruidoso Chamber of Commerce and the South-eastern New Mexico Economic Development District (SENMEDD) are sponsoring a seminar entitled "How to Get and Keep More Satisfied Customers."

The seminar will be held on Tuesday, Oct. 4, from 6 to 9 p.m. in the meeting room of the Texas-New Mexico Power Company. Cost is $15 per person, which includes the book, "Winner's Guide on Retail Selling" by Peter R. Bol.

The three-hour seminar has been prepared to provide men and women in the retail sales profession with up-to-the-minute, practical, proven successful techniques, ideas, possibilities and suggestions for getting and keeping more satisfied customers.

Guest speaker will be Charles H. Storm, owner of C. Storm and Company, a business and personal development firm in Roswell. Storm was in the trust banking business for 37 years. He was a faculty member of banking schools at Oklahoma University, Oklahoma State University, Southern Methodist University, and presently, Eastern New Mexico University.

Election of officers for C-C was slated for Sept. 28. The usual executive session for personnel lasted 33 minutes. After the closed session it was announced that no applications from certified police officers had been received. The town will advertise for a person physically capable of passing all requirements for a 10-week basic course at the New Mexico State Law Enforcement Academy.

Topics to be discussed include ways to increase your business without costing a cent, words or language which turn customers off, the importance of a positive mental attitude toward business and how to handle customer objections.

For reservations contact Sunny Hirschfeld at the Ruidoso Chamber of Commerce, 257-7895.

Trustees . . .

Hotel, Smith said that the property had been repossessed Aug. 19 but that the previous owner had a 90-day redemption option. Smith said that she had contracted for signs to be placed on the building and entrances to be boarded up until after the 90-day redemption period had ended.

Wayland Hill was reappointed as board member for three years to the Capitan-Carrizozo Natural Gas Association. He has served in that position two terms and Hemphill was reluctant to make the reappointment because, "Personally, I feel six years is long enough to be on a board."

Trustees discussed the matter with Ned Vallejos, manager of C-C Natural Gas Assn. Vallejos had recommended that Hill be reappointed. Hill's term was to expire at the end of September and the town received notice of the vacancy on Sept. 23.

Hemphill said he thought the board should limit the number of terms a board member can serve.

Soaring words of thanks

EDITOR—The Albuquerque Soaring Club and the White Sands Soaring Society (Alamogordo) would like to thank the Carrizozo community for making us welcome.

We wanted to end our flying season with a fun fly at an airport somewhere between our two club operations, and were very glad we picked Carrizozo. We had a wonderful time.

A special thanks to Mike Morrison, the airport manager. We appreciate the help he gave us in running a smooth and safe operation, and his extra time and effort to accommodate our special needs. Next time, Mike, we promise a little more notice.

Like all enthusiasts we enjoyed seeing our sport featured in the Lincoln County News, and want Ruth Hammond to know we think she wrote a terrific article. And to Betty Howell and the Chamber of Commerce, many thanks for your hospitality.

Flying Carrizozo this year was a first for us and you made us very welcome. Don't be surprised to see us back again another year.

Questions—no answers

EDITOR—On Sept. 1 this year it was five years since the barbaric attack on KAL 007 with the loss of 269 lives, 69 of them American and including Congressman Larry McDonald. What really happened in the 12 minutes after the attack? There are many, many unanswered questions?

How could KAL 007 remain airborne without the crew being in at least partial control of the aircraft? How could the plane descend so fast during the early stage of the descent, then slow down to less than one-half the initial rate without the crew being in substantial to standard procedure? Why were there no "May day" signals from KAL 007 during the minute or more it was in radio contact with Tokyo after the attack? How could the supposed "crash" site and location of debris be so close to the point of attack, when the plane had to be going so fast to remain airborne during the 12 minutes plus? Why was so little debris (and so few bodies) found, considering what has been recovered in the wake of other disasters involving large aircraft? Why was the debris recovered devoid of the sort of items one would expect to come from the plane's cargo pit? How does one explain the radar tracking that followed KAL 007 toward Sakhalin Island after the attack? How does one explain the confirmed report from the FAA (based on information from the Japanese self-defense force) that the jet was tracked by the Hokkaido radar to a landing on the island? If the airliner was under sufficient control of the pilot to make a 180 degree turn and head back toward Sakhalin, why would the Captain choose to ditch it in the sea rather than land it on a runway?

If KAL 007 landed instead of crashed it means the Soviets have pulled off another incredibly audacious and typically malign deception with the co-operation of elements within our government and the United Nations.

ATTENTION NEWS-HOUNDS

Albuquerque Journal columnist Jim Arnholz last week wrote, "Listen up, newshounds. You're about to leap into the forefront of big time investigative journalism. This is your chance to become an Anonymous Source."

Arnholz was seeking a grocery store tabloid about a Martian colony in New Mexico. "I need it. If you'll send it to me, I can assure you of anonymity. Nobody will ever find out you actually buy grocery store tabloids. I protect my sources."

Jim's plan of assuring anonymity gave me the idea to ask By the Way readers for their help. I have found a recipe for bean fudge. The treat is made with mashed beans.

I want to know if anyone has ever made or tasted bean fudge. Nobody will ever find out you actually made the fudge or gave it to someone. I protect my sources. Trust me.

In the same recipe booklet I found a recipe for mock pumpkin pie in which mashed beans are included in the ingredients, and no pumpkin.

If you have made either of these holiday goodies let me know. I won't say who told me (unless you give me permission).

COOPERATIVE VENTURE

This week I met Betty McCreight who is Lincoln County's home economist and has been at this position for the last two weeks. McCreight, former Gallup resident, now makes her home in Carrizozo.

She is interested in helping this community form an extension homemakers club. There are five clubs in the county, but none in Carrizozo. They meet once a month to study the latest research and information in foods, nutrition, clothing, housing, consumerism, arts and crafts, budgeting, human relationships, community affairs and more.

Bowling results

The Monday Night Roadrunner bowling league began competition Sept. 19 with eight teams.

The league has openings and invites any women interested in bowling each week to join one of the teams. Action begins at 7 p.m. on Mondays at the Rec Center.

Standings after the first night: (teams are not named at this time and will be listed by team number.) (1) team #6, (2) team #3, (3) team #8, (4) team #2.

Individual high scores: scratch game, Debbie King and Jill Baca with 188; handicap game, Jill Baca - 238; scratch series, Gloria Wheeler 517; handicap series, Gloria Wheeler 583.

Team high scores: scratch game, team #6 with 475; handicap game, team #6 with 620; scratch series, team #6 with 1,316; handicap series, team #6 with 1,700.

Conservation information available

The US Department of Agriculture's Soil Conservation Service has several publications on conservation of soil and water resources. The publications are available to local governments, private groups and local landowners interested in soil and water conservation.

The handbooks are prepared and used by soil conservationists, technicians and engineers who are skilled in erosion control and water management.

Appropriate parts of these publications can be obtained from the local SCS office in the courthouse annex. For more information and technical assistance call 648-2941.

VERY INTERESTING

I was fortunate to come across the Old Farmer's 1988 Almanac which forecasts weather, has Zodiac secrets, recipes and more. The almanac established in 1792 includes new, useful and entertaining matter.

Did you know that Nov. 23 is "Franklin Pierce Day of Atonement" in New Hampshire? The entire state practices self-flagellation on this date for being the birthplace of the 14th president.

The almanac tells me that Ashland, KY holds a Great Worm Race on July 4. Some rules: "No worm can be any longer than eight inches and we will be checking for stimulants. For our protection and your safety, you should know we're not responsible for any worms trampled, lost or eaten."

Attention to all who were born under the sign of Virgo (Aug. 28-Sept. 22): Colors that draw us luck are shades of brown. Our quality: curious. Our ability: to organize.

NOT YOURS, RIGHT?

"If everybody says it can't happen to their kids, then whose kids is it happening to?"—ad for Partnership for a Drug-Free America.

Still not your kid? Or maybe you're not so sure anymore. The public service ad says that the best way to know for sure is to talk with your child. "Of course, speaking to your child like this takes a lot of courage. And to do it effectively takes a lot of homework, like reading articles, attending meetings, and talking to other parents. This way, your child will see you as a well informed source."

I was at school last Friday and a young student handed me a paper and was gone before I could ask anything. The loose-leaf school paper had a drawing with a circle-slash logo. The message was: "Say no to drugs. Be Smart, Don't Start."

The students, who know I often discourage teenage drug use also know that I promote drawing, a form of creative expression.

Capitan defeats Springer, 25-6

By defeating the Springer Red Devils 25-6, the fighting Capitan Tigers have taken over undisputed possession of 1st place in Class A football for the state of New Mexico.

Homecoming queen Nita Hale was there, along with her court and a big crowd. The Tiger Band looked good as did the fireworks display.

Springer took the opening kickoff but couldn't move the ball. A fumble on 2nd down put the Devils back in business near mid-field. Springer did get a 1st down but couldn't cut it on the next series.

The Tigers began their drive to pay dirt from their own 26 yard line. Gallegos got 4, Anthony Sanchez a big 34 yards followed by 9 yards from Jerrod Martin. Martin also got the 1st down. Tino Gallegos got the next 1st down by himself on two plays.

Martin got short yardage and Tino Gallegos ramed the ball in for the TD. Gallegos was also responsible for the extra 2 points. Capitan 8 Springer 0. The Tigers had enough points on the scoreboard for the victory. Springer had the ball on its own 35 yard line when the quarter ended.

A fumble eventually gave Capitan the pigskin just 25 yards from pay dirt. Cox recovered the fumble. Jerrod Martin got the TD on the next play but the Tigers were detected clipping. Capitan finally settled for a field goal from Petrusson. Capitan 11, Springer 0.

The Red Devils drove 65 yards on their next possession to the Tiger 4 yard line. The entire Tiger defense prevented a Springer score. Looking good were DeWees, Castillo, Martin and LaMay. Clay Guck looked good all evening.

Capitan set up offensive play at midfield to start the second half. Sanchez got 3 yards followed by a Jerrod Martin rumble to the Devil 5 yard line. Martin scored and Petrusson converted. Capitan 18, Springer 0.

Dallas DeWees intercepted a Devil pass later in the quarter but the Tigers couldn't cash in. Capitan owned the ball at mid-field as the 3rd quarter ended.

The 4th quarter began with Sanchez completing a pass to Tino Gallegos for 24 yards. Gallegos got good yardage to the Springer 4 and a 1st down. Johnny Castillo fought for 1 yard before Sanchez took it in. Petrusson added the extra point. Capitan 25, Springer 0.

Sanchez almost intercepted a pass on Springer's next possession. It was clear to the goal line.

Capitan put in several subs including Victor Delgado.

Springer went 82 yards in two plays for its only TD with a little over three minutes left in the game. The Tigers then ran out the clock. Capitan 25, Springer 6.

Nathan Roybal suffered a mild concussion in the game, not considered serious. He should be ready for Dexter. Sean Seay has a cracked vertebra in his lower back. This is an old injury from two years ago. He should also be ready for Dexter.

Fernando Miranda sustained a cut in one hand when stepped on by a cleat.

Capitan travels to Dexter Sept. 30 for a 7:30 p.m. Saturday, Oct. 1, the Tiger JV plays T or C at home. The game is scheduled for 1 p.m.

Nita Hale was crowned Homecoming Queen at halftime of the Capitan-Springer football game.

Lady Tigers win tournament

Capitan Lady Tigers won their own tournament last weekend. Estancia was 2nd, Cloudcroft took 3rd place, and Hatch won the consolation bracket.

Capitan had no trouble beating Hatch to begin the tournament. Ft. Sumner defeated Hope High in five games. It took five games for Cloudcroft to down Elida. Estancia took Carrizozo in three games.

Capitan defeated the Vixens and Estancia won over Cloudcroft in five games to put both winners in the championship game.

Capitan beat Estancia 15-2, 15-17, 15-2 and 15-12 to win its own tournament. In the 5:30 game Cloudcroft beat Ft. Sumner in four games.

In the consolation bracket Hatch had no trouble with Hope and Carrizozo was no match for Elida.

The Hatch lady Bears defeated Elida in four games to win the consolation. Hope beat Carrizozo 11-15, 15-11, 15-11 and 15-8 to win the 5:30 game.

The following athletes were placed on the all-tournament team: Deon Shirley, Karen Kropf and Denise Chavez, Estancia; Carol Clark and Kim Sparks, Ft. Sumner; Cindy Trujillo, Hatch; Beth Morgan, Cloudcroft; Alicia Alexander, Hope; Joretta Creighton, Elida. The lady Tigers placed Lora McKay, Colynn Washburn, Marnie McDaniel and Karie Cox.

Booster Club schedules money-making projects

The Carrizozo Grizzly Athletic Booster Club has scheduled money-making projects with all money earned to be used to buy meals for Grizzly athletes, girls and boys, while at out of town games.

A cord of wood will be raffled; drawing to be held during halftime at the football game in Carrizozo Oct. 22 versus Reserve. Tickets for the raffle are available from any booster club member for a donation of $1 each.

The club is also taking orders for mums for homecoming Oct. 7. The mums are on display at United New Mexico Bank. Orders for mums may be placed with any booster club member. The Booster Club will provide hamburgers and other refreshments at the concession stand during the junior high football game Saturday at 1 p.m. versus T or C.

Membership dues for the booster club are $15 for family, $10 individual, $5 for senior citizens and $25 for businesses. Membership dues may be paid to Lucy Rickman at United New Mexico Bank.

September is Better Speech & Hearing Month

How about a 'Autumn Cleaning' on the house? As you know, hearing aids are prescriptive instruments requiring maintenance and adjustment to obtain maximum benefit, which requires annual check-ups. Normally a $40 charge, from now through the end of May there will be no charge to check and clean your present instrument and test your aided and unaided hearing.

THE CARRIZOZO HIGH School Grizzly Band will march to the tune of George Cohen's "Grand Old Flag" during the half-time show at the Oct. 7 homecoming game against Cloudcroft. The 29-member band under the direction of Bill Wise, is shown practicing for the event, which will kick-off with a fanfare, a piece arranged by Wise based on the school's fight song. The musical portion will be followed by other homecoming activities including the crowning of the queen.

this team. Gowen sparked the team when it was struggling.

Allen told the News, "I would like to thank the booster club, timers, scorekeepers, custodians, ticket takers and especially the young ladies who called the lines. Without their help the tournament would not have been the success it was."

The Lady Tigers play Loving at home Oct. 1 beginning at 4 p.m. Capitan travels to Lake Arthur Oct. 4 for games scheduled for 4:30 p.m.

In other school news Tonya Payton, Lincoln County Fair Queen, was named 1st runner-up at the New Mexico State Fair.

The following Capitan students showed their livestock earlier this week at the Eastern New Mexico State Fair in Roswell: Sarah Dockery, Jolene Edwards, Lisa Edwards, Aaron Russell, Warren Russell and Kyle Traylor.

School photos will be taken Oct. 3 at the elementary school. The New Mexico writing assessment tests will be given to grades 4 and 6 Oct. 10 through 13.

There will be no school Oct. 31. Parent, teacher conferences will go on all day for the entire school.

A dental program was in progress this week for grades 2 and 6. Second graders had a seal put on their permanent teeth that virtually eliminates cavities. The 6th graders had their teeth rechecked. This program was conducted with parent's permission. The dentist was Glen Hadenfeldt of Albuquerque.

The Intelligent Phone

Some phones are smarter than others. They can do more things for you. Touchtone phones are smarter than rotary phones.

Oh, you can still call Aunt Mable in Dallas with your old rotary. And you can still call the pharmacist to refill a prescription or your dentist to set up the appointment you have been putting off and putting off. But there are some things you can't do with a rotary.

The biggest "can't" is access to new, computerized dial-up service - banking information, shop-at-home and other on-demand data and services ahead. Rotary phones just aren't on speaking terms with the new sophisticated electronic services.

Maybe its time to get smarter. Aunt Mable did. Touchtone, the intelligent phone, for the new world of intelligent telecommunications.

Fashion FORECASTS

The Overall Outlook Is Casual

Here's news of denim overalls and jackets for men as rugged as the American West.

True blue, 100 percent cotton indigo denim overalls and jacket will be a handsome duo this season.

According to fashion experts at Cone Mills, one of America's leading textile producers, overalls, such as these from the Lee Co., can be topped with shirts, sweaters or nothing but muscle.

Look for the label "Crafted with pride in the U.S.A." to insure high quality workmanship in the clothes you buy.
