Traffic safety grant compliance questioned

By Ruth Hammond

Routine business was conducted during a short Lincoln County Commission meeting Tuesday.

The county received a copy of a letter from John Fenner to Rex Skellet, chief deputy for the Lincoln County Sheriff's Department. Fenner is the chief of the Traffic Safety Bureau with the State Highway and Transportation Department.

The letter stated that approximately 928 patrol hours had not been documented as of Sept. 27, 1988 for the traffic safety grant. This means that the sheriff's department is in partial non-compliance with terms of the traffic safety grant because not all of the agreed to patrol hours and county match has been provided.

According to the letter, the Traffic Safety Bureau will extend the termination date of the grant to Dec. 31, 1988 from the Sept. 30, 1988 ending date. The extension of time will enable the sheriff's department to achieve compliance.

Skellet said the department will try to get the 928 hours in, "but it may be difficult."

The letter also stated that action on a new grant application for the period of time from Oct. 1, 1988 to Sept. 30, 1989 would be held in abeyance until the current year grant is satisfactorily completed.

Skellet said it was his understanding that the bureau would wait until after the November election and then discuss the matter with the sheriff-elect.

In other business, commissioners accepted the recommendation of the road review committee to not open a road located between the Bonito cutoff and Nogal hill. The gravel road is in section 27.

—A joint powers agreement between Lincoln County and Otero County to pay $1,250 with the money to be applied to the South Central Mountain RC&D secretary salary was approved.

—Commissioners agreed to let Alto Lakes Golf and Country Club use a small triangular parcel of land lying between Fort Stanton and High Mesa Drive, directly off Highway 37. The land will be used for a rock-type structure and a sign. Commissioners instructed county attorney Gary Mitchell to draft an agreement allowing them license to use the land.

—Change order no. 4 for the Sierra Blanca Access Road was approved. The change order calls for regarding of a slope and will cost an additional $26,939.

—Commissioners approved releasing two bonds to Bill McCarty Construction Company, Inc. The bonds, one for $91,000 and another for $28,000 are held by the county for a full year following issuance of certificate of substantial completion.

The $28,000 bond was for work on the Lincoln County subdivision roads reconstruction, Eagle Creek/Shangri-La portion and the $91,000 bond was for the High Mesa Area portion, including all work east of High Mesa Road at Hig Sta. and including the Sun Mountain Loop Area.

—Commissioners received a request to vacate a road running north and south on the east end of Los Corralitos subdivision. The current road review committee will view the road and make their recommendation. On the committee are Bill Rawlins, Leota Pfingsten and Patay Sanchez with Frankie Silva as alternate.

—All three bids received for maintenance for the heating/cooling system at the courthouse were rejected. Clearer specifications will be written and the matter will be advertised for bidding again.

—An executive session was held for litigation update.

CARRIZOZO WOLVERINES thank the Carrizozo town council for buying uniforms for the little league team. Boys 10, 11 and 12 years old are on the team coached by Peter Aguilar and Nick Serna. Presenting the banner at the Oct. 11 town council meeting were Wayne Downs, Jimmy Brown, Jeff Maynard, Jacob Caldwell, Matt Coulter and Billy Sheehan.

Carrizozo hires woman police officer; Cable TV may be sold

The Carrizozo Board of Trustees has hired Corina Chavez of Tinnias as police officer. Chavez has successfully completed a year-long course at Silver City for certification. Her certification papers will be issued by the state immediately.

The decision to hire Chavez came after a 45-minute executive session for personnel during the Oct. 11 meeting of the town council. A full house attended the meeting.

In other business, the council discussed transfer of the cable franchise from Hoot and Linda Gibson to Scott Cable Communications Inc., DBA Simmons Cable TV.

Bill Mason, general manager of Simmons Cable TV in Alamogordo, told trustees that the offer had been made to the Gibsons to buy the franchise but before the sale could proceed a new ordinance would have to be adopted by the town.

The council gave tentative approval for the transfer. The proposed ordinance will be advertised and a public hearing will be held Nov. 8 before a final decision can be made.

Mason said the company plans to completely rebuild the Carrizozo system with new electronics. The work would be scheduled for late spring if the ordinance and sale are approved.

The nationwide company now owns cable systems in Alamogordo and T or C and recently purchased the cable system in Tularosa. Mason said the company would probably have two days a week set aside for connect and disconnect service and people needing service would call an 800 number.

—There were no objections to the proposed zoning change requested by several residents. The change will be from A-1 agricultural and low-density residential to A-2 agricultural and low-density residential open space. All properties in the new zone will have the required acreage except for the Pat Vigil property which will be "grandfathered in" with the existing acreage.

—Trustees approved vacating a portion of the alley on the other side of the highway and deeding the property back to Robert E. and Verna Rodman.

—Two proposals for engineer for street design were received. Pajo Technical Services submitted a proposal with fees of 5 percent of construction costs for engineering design and an additional 5 percent of construction costs if a full-time inspector is needed.

Wilson and Company submitted a proposal with a fee of $19,800 which would include inspection. Both proposals will be referred to the street committee for evaluation.

—Two bids were received for the foam roof for the Rec Center. Foam America's bid was for $39,900 and Future Tech Insulation and Roofing's bid was for $37,900.80. Both bids will be referred to a committee for evaluation.

—The Carrizozo Wolverines Little League football team presented a "thank you" banner to the town council for providing money for uniforms. The money came from the town's outdoor recreation fund. The banner was made by the players.

—Mrs. Lucinda Silva spoke to the council about a car that was in her yard when it was impounded by city police following a high speed chase through town. The car was owned by Silva's nephew Johnny Montoya.

Mrs. Silva said police did not have the right to impound the car. Police officer John Northrop Jr. said the car had been impounded after a search warrant had been denied by Municipal Judge S.M. Ortiz.

According to information available, the sheriff's office dispatched a town police officer to Sands Motel where there was a report of someone trying to break in. When the police arrived, Montoya was there and was questioned by the police.

While the information Montoya gave the police was being verified through the sheriff's office, Montoya asked if he could sit in his car (Cont'd on P. 2)

Fast shuffle fills a council vacancy

By Bartley McDonough

Mayor Benny Coker presided over Monday night's meeting of the Capitan Village Council. Also present were trustees Norm Renfro and Dr. David Rouleau.

Mayor Coker once again appointed Myrl Ray to fill the seat vacated by Dave Strickland earlier this year. On a roll call vote Rouleau voted no, Renfro yes. Mayor Coker broke the tie voting yes and Ray was installed by village attorney Mike Runnels.

Those present later learned why Trustee York was not present. Coker read his letter of resignation from the council dated Oct. 3. Coker said York had done a good job and accepted his resignation. Coker then appointed Jack Pogue to fill the vacancy.

Coker said Pogue is on the water advisory board, attends council meetings on a regular basis and is knowledgeable about the village budget. The roll call vote: Rouleau no, Renfro yes, Myrl Ray yes.

Mayor Coker proclaimed Alpha Delta Kappa week. This is a national teacher's sorority.

A one-year report was given on the new well. The static level, 150 feet, had not changed. The draw down had not changed. Coker said the well is rated outstanding by the state engineer's department. Monthly tests are done on the well. Dr. Rouleau requested a full test report which will be done.

Dorothy Smith represents Capitan on the board of directors of the Economic Development Corporation of Lincoln County. She reported that a new business had opened in Ruidoso Downs as a result of the efforts of this corporation.

Smith said a man from NMSU was doing a labor survey in the county, and that a request had been received from Phoenix wanting to dump waste at White Oaks. She said the EDC/LC had received leads from Santa Fe and some money for advertising. Smith said that EDC/LC is interested only in "clean business."

Rouleau questioned why the race track could not be used during the off season. It is privately owned but might serve some good purpose.

Rouleau also wanted to know the status of the filter plant. Coker said that with a full council "we will move ahead once again." Coker will set up a workshop on the filter plant in the near future.

Coker announced that Rex Fields had resigned from the water advisory board. He also said a workshop will be scheduled to review the by-laws of the Capitan Volunteer Fire Department. The municipal league will be represented and the workshop announcement will be published in local newspapers.

Pending a review by attorney Runnels, Mark Martin will receive water from the village. This is solely for his domestic use. He is not to sell the water from his line to other users.

Coker said the Capitan community is lucky to have dedicated people on the cemetery board. The grounds have been re-arranged, there is a new gate, and Wanda Galloway has made a donation to the board. A sign was installed earlier this year by Pat Joiner. The clean up effort by the Smokey Bear Lions Club last weekend was noted.

Coker will attend the National Rural Water Users meeting Oct. 25-27 in Oma-

Work begins this week on water tank

Work is scheduled to begin this week on refurbishing the Carrizozo water storage tank. The interior is to be sandblasted, cleaned, primed, painted and disinfected before being placed back in service.

The process will take two to three weeks, depending on outside temperature and humidity. Conditions must be at a certain state for the work to be completed.

Carrizozo residents are asked to conserve water during this phase of the water improvement project. There may be low water pressure and increased chlorine content of the water, but there is no danger. There is a possibility of some discoloration of water during and immediately after the work is being conducted.

Baca goes to prison

Paul D. Baca, 22, of Carrizozo has been sentenced to 24 months in prison for probation violation. He will serve the time in the Western Correction Facility in Grants.

Baca had been found guilty of charges of commercial burglary, larceny over $100 but less than $250, and contributing to the delinquency of a minor in May, 1988. He was sentenced to 24 months imprisonment and a fine of $3,600.

District Judge Richard Parsons suspended the prison sentence and placed Baca on probation with the terms that Baca pay the court fine, pay probation costs, not violate any laws, not associate with felons and attend substance abuse counseling.

Baca was arrested on probation revocation July 25, 1988. The probation violation was that Baca did ingest alcohol beverages and marijuana and he was convicted of battery in magistrate court.

Resignations from sheriff department

Max Watson and Sandy Baca have resigned from the Lincoln County Sheriff's Department. Watson was a sergeant and Baca was a dispatcher.

Watson's resignation became effective last Friday after four years with the department. He will begin his new job as field inspector with the state motor transportation department in Moriarty this week.

Baca's last day with the department was Sept. 10. She moved from the area.

RC&D to meet

Wayne Gyulai and Dick Smith will be guest speakers at the South Central Mountain RC&D meeting Oct. 18 in Corona.

Gyulai is senior program officer with the Economic Development and Tourism Department in Santa Fe and will speak about economic development and tourism. Smith is with the Soil Conservation Service in Roswell and will speak about the Claunch-Pinto brush control (Cont'd on P. 3) because he was cold. After he got in his car, he left the scene and a high speed chase through town followed.

Montoya was taken into custody and put in jail after being apprehended. Apparently the car was impounded for a search to see if there were any burglary tools, etc.

Mayor Bob Hemphill told Mrs. Silva he would talk to the judge and find out why the search warrant had been denied and get more information on the incident. Hemphill is to pursue the matter and discuss the situation with Mrs. Silva.

—Volunteers are needed to conduct a labor survey for the Economic Development Corporation of Lincoln County. The survey will be a random sampling of people in the area to find out who is available for work, education level of workers, if people work more than one job per year, and if people will work part-time as well as full-time. The survey is needed before EDCLC can be certified by the state.

—Mechanical work on the Rec Center roof was discussed. Some of the old water coolers will need to be removed and caps will have to be made for the openings for the air conditioners. The town received an estimate of $400 to repair the solar heater on the roof.

—The week of Nov. 20-26 was proclaimed as Adoption Awareness Week.

—Trustees approved trading property on Lava Loop with Robert E. and Verma Rodman for the street. The trade will allow driving area to remain where it is now and the Rodman's will receive the property that had been designated for the streets.

—The Rodman's requested that the street intersecting with B Street that deadends at the cemetery be named Hawkswagon Blvd. No decisions were made after trustees discussed the possibility that the street is actually 2nd Street.

—A letter was received stating that new laws require that juveniles only be held in non-juvenile jail facilities for less than six hours. The juveniles can only be in the non-juvenile facilities for booking and processing and then must be transported to a juvenile facility.

—Hemphill reported that work on refurbishing the water storage tank is to begin this week. Residents can expect low water pressure for the two to three weeks it will take to do the work.

There may be some discoloration of water and the chlorine content of the water may increase as additional chlorine will be used for purification purposes. There is no danger even though the water will smell of chlorine.

—After the executive session and the unanimous vote to hire Corina Chavez as police officer, trustees discussed having Chavez ride in the police car with another officer for training for possibly 30 days.

—It was announced that the damaged police car is being repaired.

Carrizozo CC plans a morning meeting

The Carrizozo Chamber of Commerce has planned a morning meeting for Nov. 8 at United New Mexico Bank, 7 to 8 a.m.

A continental breakfast of doughnuts, rolls, coffee and juice will be served. There will be no charge.

The decision to hold a breakfast meeting was made during the Oct. 11 meeting.

In other business, the slate of officers for 1988-89 was accepted: president Dorothy Forsythe, vice-president Scott Shafer, treasurer Phyllis Schlegel, corresponding secretary Woody Schlegel and Betty Howell, present chamber president, will join the board of directors as ex-officio. Board members retaining their office are Danny Burnett, Glen Ellison, Pete King and Johnny Anderson.

—James Hobbs of the Flying J Chuckwagon in Alto was guest speaker. He will be printing a 32-page book with listings of maps of the area, things to see and do, attraction, shopping, and will have ads from businesses in Lincoln County.

Hobbs opened the Flying J seven years ago and said through the years he has realized the need for a comprehensive guidebook for Lincoln County. He plans to distribute the booklets to lodgers in the area, to the state visitor's centers at each end of the state and in El Paso and Alamogordo. There will be two editions, a winter-spring and a summer-fall. He plans to have 60,000 copies printed.

—Dale Goad reported that the two hangars have been built at the Carrizozo Municipal Airport.

—Phyllis Schlegel announced the 6th annual Harvest Moon Ball will be held Oct. 29. United New Mexico Bank has donated a $100 savings bond to be raffled at the ball. Music is to be provided by Lone Star Express of Capitan.

—Betty Howell asked the board of directors to arrange an evening banquet for installation of officers.

If a glass of water were magnified to the size of the earth, the molecules comprising it would be about as big as a large orange.

Causey murder trial on hold, preliminary hearing scheduled

Instead of going to trial next week, Vance Causey will have a preliminary hearing conducted by a district judge. A stipulated order of remand for preliminary hearing was signed by District Judge Richard Parsons this week.

Causey was alleged to have murdered his wife Cathleen Causey on or about Aug. 3, 1987 in Otero County. A change of venue was announced in July and the trial was to have been held in district court in Carrizozo.

Judge Parsons had scheduled the week of Oct. 17-21 for the trial.

According to the stipulated order of remand for preliminary hearing, defense counsel Gary Mitchell represented to the court and counsel that there exists exculpatory evidence regarding the death of Cathleen Causey in which an expert forensic pathologist is of the opinion that the death was accidental and not as a result of a homicide.

defendant Vance Causey. The preliminary hearing is to be held as soon as possible, not to exceed 45 days from the date of the order, and any extension of this time period will require the matter to be brought before the court of the 12th Judicial District. Causey is to remain in custody until the preliminary hearing.

The exculpatory evidence was not presented to the Otero County grand jury because it was not known at that particular time. Causey's right to due process, to equal protection, to effective assistance of counsel, and in fair play, demands that said exculpatory evidence be presented at a preliminary hearing.

The preliminary hearing is to be in front of a district judge to be selected by Judge Parsons. The exculpatory evidence is to be presented at the preliminary hearing as well as any other evidence relevant and material to the death of Cathleen Causey and any actions against the

The drainage project on the west end of Capitan is on schedule. The culverts were to be laid beginning Oct. 11.

Kay Kiper is new temporary help in the Motor Vehicle Department.

The Smokey Bear State Park came up for a short discussion near the end of the meeting. A joint powers agreement was renewed, and Coker proclaimed Nov. 20-26 as National Child Adoption Awareness Week in Capitan.

Flu shot clinics are scheduled

The county health nurse has scheduled flu shot clinics for Capitan and Carrizozo.

Health officials emphasize the use of the vaccine for the elderly and people with other health problems most likely to be seriously ill or to die from the flu and its complications.

Flu vaccine is recommended for people who are at highest risk, such as adults and children with long-term heart or lung problems, residents of nursing homes and other institutions.

Other groups who are at moderately increased risk and should have the vaccine are healthy people over 65 years of age, people with kidney disease, cystic fibrosis, diabetes, anemia, severe asthma, and people who have a type of cancer or immunological disorder that lowers the body's normal resistance to infections.

This year's flu shot contains the strains A/Taiwan/1/86, A/Sichuan/2/87, and B/Victoria/2/87 to provide immunity against the types of flu which have been circulating in the past year and are thought to be most likely to occur in the United States this winter.

The Carrizozo flu shot clinic will be held Oct. 18 from 1 to 3 p.m. in the Carrizozo Senior Citizens Center. The Capitan flu shot clinic will be held Oct. 25 from 9 a.m. to 12 noon at the Capitan Senior Citizens Center.

Las Cruces man is accused of 'laundering' money

LAS CRUCES—Retired Lt. Colonel Gary L. Flack, a Las Cruces resident, was arrested Tuesday and charged with conspiracy to violate custom laws. He made his initial appearance before Magistrate John Darden and was released on a $50,000 unsecured bond.

If convicted, Flack, a civilian employee at White Sands Missile Range, faces a maximum penalty of five years imprisonment and a $500,000 fine.

He is charged with bringing in approximately $349,000 in US currency to the United States from Korea without filing a Report of International Transportation of Currency or Monetary Instruments. It is alleged that the $349,000 was not declared by Flack upon entering the United States and was later delivered to one Bong Y. Kin in Los Angeles, CA on or about Dec. 31, 1987.

The charges and arrest are the result of an investigation by the Internal Revenue Service, Criminal Investigation Division and the United States Custom Service.

JASON GIBBS is a freshman Presidential Scholar at the University of New Mexico this fall. Gibbs is a graduate of Corona High School and is the son of A.J. and Jeanene Gibbs of Corona. At UNM, he will major in political science.

MacVeighs installed at Eastern Star

Installation ceremonies for officers of Comet chapter #29, Order of the Eastern Star, were held Saturday at the Carrizozo Masonic Hall. Elizabeth and Bill MacVeigh took the reins as Worthy Matron and Patron. Following their investiture they were escorted to the East given grand honors and a warm welcome from members and friends.

The couple were then honored with their chosen songs "I'll Walk With God" and "Faith Unlocks the Door," sung by Mr. and Mrs. Scott Shafer. The duo was accompanied by Mrs. Jane Shafer at the piano.

Installing officer was Helge Craig, assisted by Wilhelmina Chapin, marshal, Carroll Sorenson, chaplain, all of Alamo #11; Opal Armstrong, secretary, and Doris Pounds, musician. Armstrong is from Ruidoso #65 and Pounds is from Comet #29.

Other elected officers installed were Janette and Glenn Baldwin, associate matron and patron; Frances Shaw; secretary, Agnes Heim; treasurer; and Margaret Bohks, associate conductress.

Installed as appointed officers were Frances Degner, chaplain; Jake Harris, marshal; Valda Watson, musician; Anita Weber, Adah, Sharon Baker, Esther, Florence Harris, Martha, and Anna Belle Burrow, Electa; and Vera and Jack Forrester as warder and sentinel respectively. To be installed at the October 6 will be Darla Dunaway, conductress, and Mary Lu Nickels as the Star Point of Ruth.

Following the ceremonies a reception was held in the dining hall. A prayer was given by Rev. John Bartleson, minister of the Trinity United Methodist Church in Carrizozo.

A decorated sheet cake, inscribed with "Elizabeth and Bill, Comet #29 WM & WF" was served along with various types of sandwiches and mints with a pink punch.

Summer's over, but you can still take some of the joys of the season into fall and winter. As the leaves begin to scatter and the weather cools, thoughts turn to brisk days in the country, bulky sweaters and fresh pumpkin pie. Among nature's rich colors and textures, picnics, the staple of summer dining, are as much fun in, say, an apple orchard as they were on the beach. For a real autumn feast, fill a thermos with a hot and hearty lentil or split pea soup. Stuff a picnic basket with a crackling loaf of french bread and a large chunk of pungent cheese, Morbier or Camembert. Don't forget the season's first apples, crisp and sweet. Freshly roasted chestnuts or pumpkin seeds make a wonderful snack and for the beverage, think of something refreshing and low in alcohol which will complement the rich flavors of autumn's foods.

Wine coolers, for example, are a good choice for all picnics. Of the many brands now available, Seagram's Cooler has the advantage of being neither too sweet nor too dry with its crisp combination of white wine and a special blend of natural citrus flavors. It's a cooler guaranteed to warm up your fall picnic.

● One of the strongest arguments pro-abortionists use to justify the murder of 1.5 million unborn babies a year is that a woman is morally and constitutionally entitled to have control over her own body—to be free to choose whether to have a baby or abort it. Now let's apply the same line of reasoning to mandatory seatbelt laws. A driver is forbidden by law to exercise control over his own body if he is compelled to wear seatbelts. He is being denied his right to kill or injure himself in the manner of his choice. Why does the "body control" theory apply to women in one instance and not in the other? A second argument is that unbelted drivers cause injury and death, and Big Brother wants to save your life whether you want him to or not. On the other hand, doesn't abortion not only kill babies, but their mothers as well? A recent study shows that complication arising from abortion is the 6th biggest killer of women in the United States! Put these two issues alongside each other and the hypocrisy is inescapable.

● Isn't a person's decision to smoke cigarettes or not to smoke them an exercise in one's right to control his own body? Not any longer. When that surgeon-general's warning went on cigarette packages, most people knew that it was the foot in the door and that sooner or later all smoking will be forbidden—for our own good, of course. Our political leaders have determined that flammable sleepwear is dangerous and bans its manufacture and sale. Does anybody give a damn that I might prefer flammable pajamas? Half of everything on earth causes cancer, so there goes half our world. Everything toxic is banned these days. When one considers that everything we eat, wear and breathe is toxic to some people, but not to others, what happens to the pro-abortionist contention that one should have control over his own body?

● When a person goes on drugs he is making an independent judgment and exercising control of his own body. Not so, says Big Brother. You may have an abortion at taxpayer expense but you cannot smoke marijuana. I like to use cyclamates and saccharine instead of sugar, a personal choice. Or so I thought. To hell with my personal choice and jurisdiction over my own body, says Big Brother. But go out and get an abortion, on the house.

● Such ferocious paternalism can be explained. Our leaders want all of us to know they are interested in our health and safety—for two reasons. They need us all to stay alive so we can continue to pay the highest taxes of any people on earth. And they need us to feel grateful enough for all they've done for us so that we will vote to keep them in office for life to enjoy the use of our money.

● Back to square one. It is okay to kill a baby and its mother. But you will not drive without a seatbelt, smoke in a public place, get eyestrain from watching a computer terminal, use drugs, wear flammable pajamas, work overtime without pay, or fail to pay taxes on time.

● This week we begin discussion of seven constitutional amendments to be voted upon by the public in the general election, Nov. 8. Constitutional Amendment No. 1 is titled: "A Joint resolution proposing an amendment to Article 4, Section 10 of the Constitution of New Mexico to restrict legislative retirement." This title is a deliberate attempt to mislead voters. There is no such thing in the constitution as "legislative retirement." How does one "restrict" something that doesn't exist? What this amendment would do is pay, in addition to what legislators already receive, an additional $6,000 per year per legislator. Legislators now receive $75 per day for attendance during each session, plus 25 cents per mile per diem. Legislators are not public employees. They work 30 days one year and 60 days another. We never lack for qualified candidates for the legislature. We have a citizens legislature. To begin paying them any additional sums would turn that body into another group of professional politicians. At present, all legislators are employed elsewhere, and presumably working plans for their own retirement. Now they want New Mexico voters to supply their retirement, and give them an incentive to remain in the legislature rather than in private business. Under this amendment, the $6,000 annuity limit will be set by the constitution, but the amount of the annuity and requirements for retirement eligibility will be determined by the legislature. And there is nothing to prevent it from decreasing the amount of their contributions to the retirement fund or decreasing the length of legislative service required before they retire and receive their benefits. Voters rejected this monstrosity in 1961. They would do well to again vote NO on this deceptive piece of legal jargon that would cost New Mexicans dearly.

● Before we proceed next week to Amendment No. 2, please read Jay Miller's column, "Inside the Capitol," on page 4. He has been covering politics in Santa Fe for many years. He knows a crook when he sees one, and he certainly knows how political artful-dodgers cloak evil intentions in sugary deception to make it attractive to voters.

Inside The Capitol

By Jay Miller

SANTA FE—Over half of the state constitutional amendments we will be asked to approve on Nov. 8 contain WEASEL WORDING. No, it's not too early to be talking about constitutional amendments. Those which we do approve will be around a lot longer than any of the candidates about whom we've talked about so much already.

I won't tell you how I think you should vote on the amendments, but I do want you to be ready for the trick questions.

Back in the days when we were less gullible, constitutional amendments seldom passed without a major promotional effort or a very good reason for their passage. Not only did the reason have to be good, it had to be obvious.

The conventional wisdom was, "People will vote against what they can't understand."

That has changed. In 1986, 10 out of 11 proposed amendments were given a thumbs up by the voters. Was it because they understood them? They may have thought so but what they saw was not what they got.

Here's how it works. There isn't room on the ballot to list the entire amendment so the only thing we see in the voting booth is the title which legislators chose to put on their proposal.

And our lawmakers have gotten sneaky on us. Often what we see now on the ballot is only part of the story or is a favorable characterization of the proposal.

An example of the latter is Constitutional Amendment 6 "to provide for judicial reform."

The primary change in the proposal is to create a system for appointing judges. If one's idea of judicial reform is for voters to give up their right to elect an entire branch of government, then Amendment 6 provides for judicial reform.

The only problem is that when the wording has been straightforward in the past, the proposal has been defeated by great majorities.

There are three cases of proposed amendments only telling part of the story this year.

Amendment 1 proposes "to restrict legislative retirement."

The rest of the story is that the constitution doesn't even provide for legislative retirement at the present time.

As a matter of fact, the state constitution says that except for a per diem and mileage allowance, "no other compensation, perquisite or allowance" is permitted for lawmakers.

The proposed amendment provides for annuity benefits not to exceed $6,000. That is the "restriction" on legislative retirement about which the title speaks.

Amendment 2 allows the governor to remove a previous chief executive's appointees "as provided by law."

It sounds good but here's what they don't tell you.

In order to provide for some continuity in government, the framers of our state's constitution provided that appointees could be removed only for "incompetency, neglect of duty or malfeasance in office."

The proposed amendment would remove that wording and insert "unless otherwise provided by law." If the law doesn't say anything about how a particular appointee is to be removed, then the governor can remove the person with impunity.

Amendment 7 proposes "limiting terms of office of elected county officials."

Oh, really? What it does is limit their terms to four years instead of two years. It limits terms, alright, but it sure looks like an increase in the limitation to me.

The same amendment proposes "to standardize county elections by granting counties the option of adopting five-member boards of county commissioners."

You tell me how allowing counties to increase their commissions to five members while some will surely stay at three has the effect of "standardizing" county commissions. We're back to the favorable characterization syndrome again.

Unfortunately, I can't advise you to vote against the amendments that try to pull the wool over your eyes. One of them is badly needed. Another seems like a pretty good idea.

But to sell an idea through subterfuge is not really what our forefathers had in mind when they gave us a means of changing our constitution.

Amendment is attempt to control judgeships

By PHYLLIS BRISCOE

The ballot in November will include a proposed constitutional amendment (#6) touted as "judicial reform" or "merit selection of judges." It is just another attempt to reduce your already minimal control over your government and give it to a small group of lawyers and the governor.

Backers of such schemes who say "politics and judicial decision making are incompatible" are ignorant of the fact that a major portion of judicial decisions—and those with the most far-reaching effects—are political decisions. From state district court to US Supreme Court, the law means what the court (judges) says it means.

To say that politics can be removed from the courts is to admit gross ignorance of the fact that the courts make up one of the three divisions of our form of government—our political structure. And anyone who still insists that allowing judges to be appointed by some elected official will give politically non-partisan appointments was asleep during the recent nomination of Bork and McGinnis for the appointed US Supreme Court.

The proposed amendment calls for a myriad of nominating commissions. Each of these would have three non-lawyer laymen and from five to nineteen lawyers, depending on interpretation and circumstances.

In no case could the non-lawyers constitute a majority; while big, powerful law firms would find it easy to control these commissions.

Qualifications for the various judicial offices are defined and would not be determined by the commissions. However, the commissions would have unlimited discretion in deciding which and how many of the qualified applicants they would recommend to the governor for his appointment. The governor could appoint only from the recommendations made by the commission.

After appointment, a judge would face one partisan election and a possible lifetime of periodic retention elections. On balance, that part of the scheme is at least as bad as it is good.

It is claimed that elected judge's decisions are influenced by campaign contributions from lawyers who appear in their courtrooms. If so, that is minimal compared to the debt they would feel to the small, powerful group of lawyers whose nomination was necessary for their appointment and on whose favor any future nominations would also rest. Add to that the debt to the appointing governor and the future need for his favor.

Would these nominating commissions be better able to determine "merit" for judgeship? Merit, as beauty, is in the eye of the beholder.

Letter to the Editor

He remembers Sheriff Sullivan

EDITOR—I remember Tom Sullivan and Co. I voted for him in two sheriff's elections. But it was when he improperly tried to intimidate me in the previous commissioners court for opposing parts of Ordinance 86-9 (Lincoln County solid waste) that expanded the power of his and County Manager Mrs. Suzanne Cox's office, he got my attention.

It was Sullivan's chief deputy, Charlie Cox, who ran a background check through law enforcement channels on me, then reported the classified information to private citizens in Cox's church, and in the community, in order to "discredit my position. That hurt!

Later at the sheriff's office, when informed by two citizens that a rancher had illegally locked a gate across a county road (C-001), his deputy refused to act, stating that "when in Rome, do as the Romans." The inference was that certain ranchers are privileged.

This same deputy, at a later time and place and in front of a highway patrolman, stated that "it was against policy and he could not arrest a county commissioner (Kenneth Nosker) even if he saw the commissioner break the law (breach of the peace) because he's my boss."

I do not name this deputy because of his position and honesty.

Do we recall Tom Sullivan's public remark that he did not like to enforce the state laws on trespass because they were written by attorneys?

These same people had a senior citizen under surveillance by a deputy because of his (Shorty Hollis) requests for justice and equality under the law.

Was it one of Tom's deputies that failed to secure the crime scene and preserve evidence in the McKnight murders?

How about the big drug busts? All I recall from the papers is that they were either street corner, user variety—or an accident.

Shall we return to the Good 'Ole Days (read that 'Ole Boys) who have and are now costing this county thousands of dollars in legal fees (for illegal entry, search and arrests) plus back pay?

If a person doesn't stand for justice and equality for ALL, does Sullivan deserve the job of sheriff?

All the above, and more, is witnessed, recorded, or part of the public record.

JERRY CARROLL, Osguro, NM.

How much is too much?

EDITOR—Our national debt has gone into orbit. It is virtually impossible for us to visualize its size. Just visualizing a billion dollars staggers the imagination.

I don't know who figured it out, but one description says that a billion dollars laid end to end would extend some 95,000 miles.

Or, if you laid dollars bills end to end wrapping them around the equator, a billion dollars would circle the globe three and one half times.

A billion dollars would weigh more than a thousand tons.

At 25,000 dollars salary per year, you would have to work 40,000 years to earn a billion dollars.

It was the late Senator Everett Dirksen who pointed out to congress that if you spend a billion here and a billion there, the first thing you know, it could run into big money.

VERSATILE PINTO BEAN

A NEWS subscriber in Roswell, NM has shown interest in the bean fudge and mock pumpkin pie recipes I mentioned in this column some time ago.

Few foods are as versatile as pinto beans. Not only are they served in appetizers, soups, salads, main dishes but also in breads, cake, pie and candy recipes.

I have not made the following recipe, but for those who are curious about the fudge made with pinto beans here is the list of ingredients and how to make the candy.

- 1 cup warm cooked pinto beans (strained)
  - 1/2 cup melted butter or margarine
  - 1 cup cocoa
  - 1 tablespoon vanilla
  - 1 cup chopped pecans (optional)
  - 2 pounds powdered sugar
- Mash or sieve beans. Add melted butter or margarine, cocoa and vanilla. Mix in powdered sugar gradually. Add nuts if desired. Press into a 9 x 13-inch buttered pan. Store in the refrigerator.

When using cooked pinto beans in dessert recipes, the beans should be cooked in water until soft without the addition of seasonings. Here is another version of the pinto bean fudge.

- 3/4 cup canned milk
- 1 1/2 cups sugar
- 1 1/2 cups diced marshmallows (or diced)
- 1/2 cup chopped nuts
- 1/2 cup strained, cooked pinto beans
- 1 1/2 cups chocolate chips
- 1 teaspoon vanilla

Combine sugar and milk in a pot. Boil 5 minutes, stirring constantly. Add remaining ingredients and stir until marshmallows dissolve. Pour in buttered pan. Cool and cut in squares.

The pinto bean, along with its other Phaseolus vulgaris cousins, is one of America's gifts to the world. Beans of this species were not known in the Old World until the time of Columbus. Beans found in ancient caves in Mexico, date back to 4000 BC. They are just as popular today because of their cost, nutritional value, ease of preparation and versatility.

Someone did stop me in Carrizozo to tell me that she had eaten pinto bean pie. Next week: Mock Pumpkin Pie.

IT'S THAT TIME

Now is the time for political jokes to begin surfacing. Let's kick off the season with this one:

At a banquet for a famous political leader, some six speakers rose to eulogize the guest of honor, stressing his integrity, his honesty, his sense of duty and his contributions to charity. Puzzled, one listener turned to her husband and whispered, "What the matter—why does he need so many character witnesses?"

PATCHWORK MEMORIAL

This month in Washington, a quilt the size of nearly eight football fields and weighing 16 tons will be displayed near the White House. Panels 3-ft. by 6-ft. produced by friends and relatives commemorate a single life lost to AIDS. There are 8,288 panels. While the quilt is on display outdoors, it will be guarded by 300 volunteers who have been trained to fold it in as little as 45 seconds should the weather turn bad.

Closer to home, the Cedarvale Quilting Club got ready for its quilt show at the Cedarvale Senior Center on Saturday, Oct. 15. The ad in the NEWS last week included tiny scissors, a trade mark of quilters and seamstresses.

UPCOMING EVENTS

Knowing that I read newspapers from all over, a sister-in-law in California sent me the newspaper "Highlander" for the San Dimas and La Verne area. I read a letter to the editor in which the writer gives thanks to an individual for the passage of legislation restricting chemical plants being located near their schools and hospitals.

The letter writer also acknowledges the efforts of the organizer of the San Dimas - Concerned Citizens Committee who fight environmental issues.

The Highlander was very interesting, including this ad, "Everyone needs to communicate. Better than chiseling your thoughts in stone, put them in the classifieds. That's the easy way to tell and sell."

INFORMED PUBLIC

I was among the "other interested persons" listening to Steve Gilrein when he spoke at the county commission room about the Cimarron mining site. He passed around a "Superfund Fact Sheet — US EPA Region 8." Gilrein said the public will be kept fully informed about actions taking place at the site (near the overpass).

The US Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) during the next few months will conduct a site assessment in order to determine if additional access should be restricted or if the site needs stabilization prior to the full scale investigation.

If any person is interested in my fact sheet, I will be glad to share it. Gilrein ran out of sheets and there weren't many local people on hand to hear him speak.

Unwanted teenage pregnancy

Health nurse provides critical information

Unwanted teenage pregnancies can be prevented. Information on ways to prevent pregnancies is available at the county health office in the courthouse annex in Carrizozo.

All information given to teenagers is confidential and parents are not notified. The state-funded program includes booklets, personal counseling on physical and emotional changes in the body during teenage years, and choices teenagers can make in preventing pregnancies.

More than 4,000 teenage girls in New Mexico will become pregnant this year. Some of these girls are barely out of elementary school when they are faced with decisions that will affect their entire lives.

An unwanted teen pregnancy is not only tragic, it is the end of childhood for the mother. Babies born to teenage mothers have the risk of being born premature or with a low birth weight and an increased risk of being abused or neglected.

Many teenage girls think, "It won't happen to me." They are reluctant to discuss methods of birth control with their parents or other adults. An equal number of teenagers believe they are too young to get pregnant.

The name "Family Planning Clinic" is misleading to teenagers because they think it is only for older people who don't want more children or for adults who want to space their children a few years apart.

It is these young people who need to be informed about unplanned pregnancies. The public health nurse can give them the vital information they need.

"Choices" is one booklet available to individuals of all ages. It explains that women have choices about their lives and gives descriptions as to different methods of preventing pregnancies.

Other booklet will tell of the hassles of becoming a teenage parent, understanding adolescence, and separate booklets explain puberty in girls and boys. This information will be given to both boys and girls.

"Ten Ridiculous Ideas That Will Make A Father Out Of You" is geared to boys and gives a list of ideas that boys may have heard from friends or older guys. It contains factual information to help boys make decisions for themselves.

Many people object to having this information available for teenagers even though these same adults will not talk freely with their teenage children about the dangers involved in teenage pregnancies.

New Mexico has the 7th highest rate of teenage pregnancies in the nation. This fact alone makes it important for these young people to have a place to get the correct information. These young people need a person they can confide in and the public health nurse is available for both information and guidance.

The Health Office will schedule appointments with teenagers for the viewing of film strips and video presentations concerning unwanted pregnancies. Methods of birth control are described. One method is saying, "No!"

The fact that at times body chemistry can take over and cause common sense to fly out the window is a major reason this information is available. Giving teenagers the access to this information is one way to help them delay becoming pregnant until they really want a baby.

In addition to providing information on preventing pregnancies, the health office conducts immunizations clinics, pre-natal clinics, well-baby clinics, cancer screening clinics, and general services. These clinics are open to people of all ages. For more information on services provided, call 648-2412. The nurse is in the Carrizozo office on Tuesdays and Fridays.

Booklets are also available concerning sexually transmitted diseases such as AIDS. It is important for people to know that this deadly disease can be prevented. For more information on AIDS, contact the health office or call the AIDS Information line, 24 hours a day, 7 days a week: 1-800-343-AIDS. This is a toll-free call.

Judgeships . . .

Consider these reported ratings for Judge Burt Cosgrove: The majority of Albuquerque lawyers responding to a poll (Alb. Journal, Jan. 9, 1988) rated only two out of forty judges as inadequate in any of eight categories. Cosgrove was rated inadequate in half of those categories. The same Judge Burt Cosgrove received the "1988 Jurist of the Year Award" from a non-partisan citizen's "watch-dog" organization. (Alb. Journal, Sept. 30, 1988). The People's Commission for Criminal Justice cited Cosgrove "for his strict adherence to ethical standards. . . Judicial merit as determined by lawyers still seldom resemble judicial merit as determined by voters.

New Mexico Supreme Court Chief Justice Tony Scarborough called this proposed amendment " . . . a piece of garbage. . . a terribly flawed piece of legislation." Justices Harry Stowers and Dan Sosa of the Supreme Court also oppose this amendment.

As they did with a similar proposal in 1982, the voters of New Mexico would be wise to vote NO on this proposed amendment.

Witter had a total of 15 serves in the two games.

Junior varsity action found the Lady Tigers defeating Lake Arthur, 15-6 and 15-3. It was Kerri Runnels with five serves and Jessica Newcomb with six.

The Capitan JV lost one game to Ruidoso but came back to win the series. The scores were 6-15, 15-5 and 15-7. Cindy Castillo and Leslie LaRue had eight serves each in games two and three.

Finally, it was Capitan over Ft. Sumner in JV action, 15-3 and 16-14. Gina Griego was credited with 4 serves and Jennifer Eldridge with six.

Coach Pam Allen said "Saturday in our matches against Ft. Sumner our junior high team performed extremely well." Coach Clayton Allen put in a new system with the 8th grade team that has helped them a lot, especially in transition between offense and defense. Our junior high girls are very good, and Coach C. Allen has done an excellent job with his two teams."

Coach Allen went on to say, "I was especially pleased with the performance of our junior varsity. Our girls came from behind in the 2nd game to win the match in 3 straight. The JV deserves a lot of praise for their performance against Ft. Sumner."

It will be Hondo at Capitan, Oct. 13, 6 p.m.; Capitan at Estancia, Oct. 15, 5 p.m.; Hagerman at Capitan, Oct. 20, 4:30 p.m. and Capitan at Cloudcroft, Oct. 22, 4 p.m. This will end the regular season.

CAPITAN NEWS

By Margaret Rench

Last week with its variations of weather gave 3 of light rain and a trace another day—clouds, winds, cold nights and days with very little sun.

It's Halloween, the Capitan Mart decoration tells us. They are good and very elaborate. Everyone enjoys them.

The Capitan football team played Reserve there. Score 40-12 in favor of Capitan. All three volleyball teams played with Ft. Sumner here and all won their games.

The Lions Club cleaned the Capitan cemetery last Saturday. That's good, thank you.

The Smokey Bear Museum had 678 registered visitors Oct. 8-9. Among them was a group of 44 Knob Hill 1st grade class with their four adults. They were a very nice group. A group of ten from the Texas-New Mexico Power Company, most of them from Ft. Worth, visited Saturday.

It's great to see progress in Capitan. At this time construction has started on an addition to the Cafe Ole building.

Mayor Coker appointed Myri Ray and Jack Pogue to fill vacancies on the council. Council approved.

Janeth Renfro is on maternity leave. Kaye Kiper is MUD clerk temporarily.

Anna Hoodwin and friend from Midland, TX stopped in to see friends in this area. We miss you, Anna.

Happy birthday Terry Strickland, Oct. 11. Gary

Renfro Oct. 16. Good health and all the blessings of happiness.

Happy wedding anniversary to Rhonda Kay and Curtis Reeves who celebrated their second year of wedded bliss, Oct. 11.

Howard and Maxine Wright, Bonnie McEuen and Jo Townley, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Newsom and Mr. and Mrs. Terry Strickland enjoyed fishing at Elephant Butte last weekend.

Zotan Silvers are 3-0

In three games the Zotan team (made up of 8 & 9 yr olds from both Carrizozo and Capitan) have outscored the opposition 74-28 for a perfect 3-0 record.

The second half of the season will begin this Saturday at the Alto Village Softball Recreational facility starting at 10:30 a.m. for those who would like to see Zotan play.

Willie Silva is the leading scorer with 5 TD's to his credit in the last three encounters. Arthur Miller of Capitan is the leading ground gainer with a total of 195 yards followed by Willie Silva with 186 yards and in third place is Trey Allen of Capitan with 150 yards.

Zotan's next scheduled game will be against the Mescalero Redskins at the Alto Village complex this Saturday morning. In the first game of the season they beat the Redskins 24-14. Refreshments after each game have been provided for by Gail's Cross Roads Motel, The Out Post Bar & Grill, and Luciano Chavez's Fina Station.

Bowling results

Monday Night Roadrunner Bowling League team standings for Oct. 3: (1) Shady Ladies, (2) Blue Horizons, (3) Misfits, (4) United New Mexico Bank.

Individual high scores: scratch game—Lucy Rickman 211; handicap game—Bea Ortiz 241; scratch series—Lucy Rickman 558; handicap series—Ina Hooten 656.

United New Mexico Bank won all the team high scores with 544 for scratch game, 648 for handicap game, 1,508 for scratch series and 1,815 for handicap series.

Capitan routs Mountaineers, 47-12

Coach Blake Miller played his second string over half the game Oct. 8 in route to a 47-12 victory over the Reserve Mountaineers. The Tigers rolled off 365 total yards on offense and 18 1st downs.

The two Reserve touchdowns came as the Capitan reserves got some experience in an actual game. The Mountaineers scored on a long pass play just before the half ended. Their second tally came in the 4th quarter on a drive up the middle.

Capitan scored two touchdowns in the 1st quarter and two touchdowns in the 2nd quarter. The Tigers scored single TDs in the 3rd and 4th quarters. Exchange student Hinrik Petursson kicked two field goals and added 5 extra points. Jerrod Martin helped the Tigers with 90 yards on 10 carries. Anthony Sanchez added 62 yards. Big #14, Dallas DeWees, grabbed in 3 pass interceptions.

The following reserves got in a great deal of playing time: Jeff Cox, Weldon Smith, Chris Smith, Scott Irion, Richard Griego, Bobby Griego and Victor Delgado. Coach Miller said "these young men have demonstrated outstanding character throughout the season and their hard work is paying off and will be valuable experience in the future." Miller said the Tigers outplayed Reserve convincingly. He went on to say that Reserve is a young team with a new coach. Coach Miller expects Reserve to be successful in rebuilding their football program.

Capitan travels to Cloudcroft Friday night for a 7:30 p.m. game. Miller told the News "We are now preparing for Cloudcroft, a long standing rival and district member, and must control the line of scrimmage offensively and defensively.

The Tigers play their last two games on the schedule at home. Loving will be in town Oct. 21 and Carrizozo, Oct. 28. Both game are scheduled for 7:30 p.m.
