Commissioners canvass votes

Sign SBAC termination agreement with Ruidoso

By Ruth Hammond

Lincoln County voters were canvassed by county commissioners during a special meeting Nov. 14.

Other business included signing an agreement to terminate the Sierra Blanca Airport Commission and give to satisfy requirements of the traffic safety grant.

Failure to comply jeopardizes the number of vehicles available to sheriff-elect McSwane, since two vehicles may have to be returned if there is not compliance with the grant. The commissioners ask Samuels to attempt improve the plan. Lincoln County was one of the first counties in the state to complete the plan. The Lincoln County Community Right to Know Committee continues to update the plan regularly.

—Change Order No. 1 for the Fort Stanton road project was approved. The change order is for work on culverts and drainage and will increase the cost of the project by $4,810.

—Commissioners approved a cash transfer of $200,000 from the general fund to the road fund until the county receives co-op money from the state highway department. Once the money is received from the state it will be deposited into the road fund and transferred back to the general fund.

—The termination agreement submitted by John Underwood, Ruidoso village attorney, for the termination of the Sierra Blanca Airport Commission, was approved. Underwood had prepared the termination agreement Oct. 17.

The termination agreement calls for all rights, powers, duties, and liabilities existing for the SBAC and all funds belonging to the SBAC to be transferred to the Village of Ruidoso. The county has been fiscal agent for the SBAC and is to provide a full accounting of all funds. All property and improvements in the name of the SBAC are to be transferred to the Village of Ruidoso by way of quitclaim deed upon execution of the agreement by the village of Ruidoso, the SBAC and the county.

According to the termination agreement, the Village of Ruidoso agrees to hold the county harmless from any obligations and duties existing under the SBAC agreements other than liabilities for negligence or malfeasance of office which may have occurred during the period of the effective dates of the agreement.

The News asked if this would relieve the county of any obligations for further capital improvements for the airport. Commissioner Bill Karn said, "Ruidoso could come before the county commissioners and ask for a mill levy or a bond issue to go to the voters for the airport."

County commission chairman John Hightower said the termination agreement had "been in the works for some time." He told of the county being presented with a bill for the hangars at the airport and after the county refused to pay Ruidoso found that the county was not liable for the hangars. Ruidoso later imposed a three mill levy on Ruidoso property owners to pay for the hangars.

County commissioner-elect Karon Petty asked how much money the county has

Ruidoso refuses to sign the SBAC termination agreement

The termination of the Sierra Blanca Airport Commission is on hold until after Jan. 1 when the new county commissioners are seated.

According to Ruidoso Village Clerk Tammy Maddox, Ruidoso councilors met Tuesday afternoon and by a vote of four to two agreed to postpone signing the termination agreement until after the first of the year.

Apparently, the councilors discussed a countywide mill levy and the possibility of the new county commissioners being willing to budget funds for the Sierra Blanca Regional Airport, or being willing to impose another mill levy on property owners to help pay for capital improvements for the airport.

The termination agreement had been drawn up by Ruidoso Village Attorney John Underwood in October and was approved by the present county commissioners on Nov. 14.

the airport, along with all rights, powers, duties and liabilities, to the Village of Ruidoso and approve sending a letter to sheriff Don Samuels concerning over-expenditures in the sheriff's budget.

The letter to Samuels states, "The law and department of finance and administration requires that 50 percent of your fiscal budget remain at the end of your term. In order that sheriff-elect Jay McSwane may have his legal share of the budget to work with, the commissioners advise you as follows: (1) Your employees have accumulated 2,635 hours in overtime as of Nov. 11, 1988; and (2) The projected monetary value of the compensatory time is $28,213.05. Due to the above facts it is projected by the commissioners you will have over-expenditures of your budget by the sum of $28,213.05, in excess of 50 percent."

The commissioner's letter to Samuels asks that he take all necessary action to attempt to alleviate this fiscal deficit in order to assure that the new sheriff will have a satisfactory budget within which to work and will not begin his term by having a large number of sheriff employees taking comp time for several weeks and/or having to pay them.

The letter also addresses the problems with the traffic safety grant, in that an adequate number of hours have not been put in in order to rectify the problems.

—Transfer of ownership of liquor license No. 5530 from Robert A. Crenshaw, dba White Oaks Exchange Saloon, to James Dale Penrod, Sr. was approved. There were no objections during the public hearing.

—Commissioners endorsed a labor survey that will be conducted by the Economic Development Corporation of Lincoln County, Nov. 28 through Dec. 3. The labor survey is needed for EDC/LC to apply to the state to become certified. A random sampling of people in the county will be called and asked questions about availability for work, full or part-time, etc. All names will remain confidential in the survey.

—County clerk Fran Sidens presented the final printouts of the election for canvassing by the commissioners. The final printouts contained all the totals from amendments and bond questions which had not been on the printouts on election night.

—Commissioners accepted a letter from the department of public safety congratulating Lincoln County Emergency Coordinator Nancy Guck for completing and submitting the Lincoln County draft chemical disaster contingency plan as required by the state.

The State Emergency Response Commission will review the county plan and provide a critique in an effort to further strengthen and

Causey freed of murder charges

Murder charges against Vance Causey were dropped by District Judge Pablo Marshall after hearing testimony in a preliminary hearing Nov. 10 and 11.

Causey has been in jail since January, charged with murdering his wife, Cathleen Causey, on or about Aug. 3, 1987 in Otero County.

Originally scheduled for trial in district court in Carrizozo in October, a stipulated order of remand for preliminary hearing was signed by District Judge Richard Parsons calling for a preliminary hearing before a district judge. Preliminary hearings are usually conducted before a magistrate judge.

Exculpatory evidence that had not been presented to the Otero County grand jury because it was not known at that particular time was presented during the preliminary hearing before Judge Marshall of the 7th Judicial District.

After hearing two days of testimony, Marshall was not convinced that Cathleen Causey had been killed or that Vance Causey should be charged with murder. The chief state medical examiner had said Cathleen Causey's injuries indicated death was by asphyxiation. An independent medical examiner disputed the finding, saying the injuries were the result of an accidental fall in the bath tub.

Causey had said he had left his wife alone in the house and when he returned he found her unconscious in the bathtub. He was represented by attorney Gary Mitchell in the proceedings.

Payne appeals, sentence upheld

Ruidoso Municipal Judge Bill Payne was found guilty of DWI by Magistrate Judge John W. McLemore of Roswell on May 23, 1988.

The alleged incident occurred on or about Dec. 5, 1987.

McLemore handed down a deferred sentence if Payne would attend and complete DWI school at which time the DWI charges would be dismissed.

Payne, through his attorney Gary Mitchell, appealed the decision. He appeared before District Judge Ralph W. Gallini, 5th Judicial District, on Nov. 9. Gallini imposed the same sentence handed down by McLemore.

It is not known at this time if Payne will appeal to the appellate court.

Scouts to collect food Saturday

Boy Scouts from Carrizozo Troop 153 will go door-to-door Saturday, Nov. 19, asking for donations of canned food to be used in Thanksgiving baskets for the needy. The troop plans to distribute the baskets as a service project.

Alamogordo cuts off Capitan water supply

Capitan Mayor Benny Coker announced at Monday's village council meeting that water from Bonita Lake had been turn-off.

Capitan is using only well water at this time. Mike Rannels, attorney for Capitan, said he had made an effort to contact Alamogordo officials. A meeting has been set up for Nov. 21 at 9 a.m. Rannels comment was "I can tell after the meeting if we have two communities working in good faith with each other."

David Cox said he had been without water for four days.

Coker recognized the Capitan Lady Tigers as state volleyball champions. He proclaimed the week of Nov. 14 through Nov. 18 Capitan volleyball championship week. Coach Pam Allen noted that the average grade point for her team members was 3.6.

Present to discuss the Capitan master plan were Mark Sawyers, Jim Strozer and Chuck Easterling. Sawyers represents the Southeastern New Mexico Economic Development District and Strozers represents A. Wayne Smith & Associates. Strozers is working with engineer Chuck Easterling to come up with the master plan. Sawyers will work with the financial aspect.

Various charts were shown. A commercial core development area was shown. The possibility of a recreational trail system was mentioned. It's low cost was pointed out. Sawyers said that if the village doesn't have a plan, it would be difficult to get state and federal aid.

There was a discussion as to how to get tourists to slow down and spend money in Capitan. The speed limit might be changed. It was noted that shade trees are nice for tourists and more might be added.

Easterling said the near term would be the next five years. The long term would be the next 25 years, depending on the economy and other factors.

The next phase is the final plan. He asked for local input. Easterling said he would get the whole package back to the council within 30 days. Coker said they would probably do business right after the end of the year holidays.

The bylaws of the Capitan Volunteer Fire Department were mentioned briefly. Coker said that some of the language might be changed or re-written. The mayor will have something to bring before the council at its December meeting.

School board election Feb. 7

During the Nov. 15 meeting, the Carrizozo Board of Education approved a resolution and proclamation calling for a school board election on Feb. 7, 1989.

Board position No. 1 and board position No. 2, each for a term of four years, will be filled. These positions are currently held by Tommy Guevara and Richard Hollis.

Any resident of the Carrizozo Municipal School District who is a registered voter and who desires to be a candidate should file a declaration of candidacy with the Lincoln County Clerk on Dec. 20, 1988 between 9 a.m. and 5 p.m. This is the only day to file to have the name of the candidate on the ballot.

Write-in filing date is Jan. 3, 1989 in the Lincoln County Clerk's office before 5 p.m. Only votes cast for a declared candidate or a declared write-in candidate will be counted.

The resolution and proclamation calling for the election is to be filed with the county clerk on or before Nov. 25, 1988. The clerk will publish the proclamation in a newspaper of general circulation within the school district at least once between the dates of Nov. 26 and Dec. 19, 1988.

All precincts in the Carrizozo Municipal School District will be consolidated and the polling place will be at the school. Polls will be open from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m.

In other business, school Supt. Danny Burnett announced that board member Nat Palomarez will be inducted into the School Board Hall of Honor for highlighting 25 years of service as a school board member.

The induction will take place during the State School Boards Association meeting Dec. 2 and 3 in Albuquerque. The Carrizozo School Board has been selected as a finalist as School Board of the Year and the winner will be announced at the state meeting.

—Mike Gaines, vo ag teacher and FFA sponsor, told the board about the trip FFA students took to Denver for the meats judging contest, and Kansas City recently. Students Leah Patterson, Lisa Hightower, John Maxwell, Jeanna Sims and Loren Patterson told of highlights of the trips. Ribbons and plaques the Carrizozo team won were displayed. The Carrizozo team ranked 3rd in the nation in the Denver contest.

—Burnett read a letter of thanks received from Corona School regarding the band program. The two schools have combined their bands for programs (essays). The Corona school band marched in the Carrizozo parade and the Carrizozo school band participated in Corona's last home football game band program in conjunction with the Corona school band.

—Burnett reported that the Britt Detective Agency had brought the drug dogs to Carrizozo school twice and found nothing. "We want to let the people know we will be diligent about looking for drugs," Burnett said.

Burnett said the last time the agency brought the dogs they took Goldie, one of the dogs, to the elementary for a demonstration that was enjoyed by students. The school is continuing with drug education for students and a Border Patrol agent is on the campus each Tuesday to talk with the students.

—The board accepted Burnett's recommendation to hire Linda Brown as administrative aide to complete the 1988-89 school year.

—Letters of commendation were sent to Evelyn Schwartz, first year English teacher, and Mike Gaines, vo-ag teacher.

—The board approved adjustment of mileage on bus No. 5, Sharon Hefker's bus, for five miles per day for a new first grade student at Bingham.

—The joint powers agreement between the school and Cooperative Educational Services was approved. The school had signed a joint powers agreement at the time the school joined CES. CES provides materials, equipment and services at a reduced cost for the district.

—Julie Barham's presentation regarding the education program at the school was sponsored by the Carrizozo Teacher's Association.

—Mike Gaines showed the board the license the school meat lab has received to cut meat. The school has waited more than a year for the license.

—Burnett presented a funding formula expenditure study as it relates to the schools in the area and how much it costs to educate each student. It costs $4,167.47 per student in Carrizozo, $3,3394.97 in Capitan and $5,102.15 in Corona. It was noted that Corona has more transportation costs.

RINGSIDE SEAT

According to The Weekly Kansas City Star of 1895, women and the law are not naturally compatible.

From her experience on the San Francisco municipal bench, Theresa Meikle draws some surprising conclusions.

"From her ringside seat at life's turbulent show, the comely jurist summarizes her observations":

Women still suffer from the old failing of making decisions by emotion instead of by reason.

Neglected wives deserve a fat share of blame for family breakups.

Women want their own way, and have little liking for the law unless it helps them get it.

"When a man is caught in a crime, is convicted and sentenced, he usually shrugs his shoulders and takes it. But a woman begins to cry, to tell of children and sick relatives who need her and try in every possible way to wiggle out," the woman judge said in 1895.

NO TURKEY

The weekly Kansas City Star, the Southeast's largest farm weekly, in 1935 reported that the 2,300 prisoners in Sing Sing, NY will eat no turkey on Thanksgiving day.

That's for psychological reasons prison officials said. So many persons outside the prison will not be able to afford turkey, it was thought it would be better not to have it there.

The prisoners ate chicken instead.

INVITATION TO INVEST

What an interesting experience reading a newspaper dated 1894, "The Old Abe Eagle," published in White Oaks.

This is what the Eagle, official paper of Lincoln County, had to say about advertising in 1894 in White Oaks:

"If the town expects to get any benefit from whatever revival of enterprise may come this spring or summer it should advertise what it has to offer.

"In this age it takes pushing to get there.

"A merchant who does not advertise gets no new trade, while his hustling competitor will finally get that of his old stand-bys.

"Every town in the west that amounts to anything is made up of people who believe in keeping whatever they have to attract investors everlastingly to the front.

"White Oaks has much to offer as many towns that have gone much faster and farther in the race of progress. But comparatively very few people will ever know anything about it unless their attention is called to it.

"Men who want to buy anything or invest in any enterprise naturally look for advertisements of what they are interested in; they naturally expect that towns have inducements to offer will advertise them; they as naturally go where they are invited to investigate and

ALICE FAYE?

Marcella Markham tells of the trials and triumphs of adulthood in a collection of cartoons from 1978. Here is a sampling:

Old is when you wheel a baby carriage and everybody knows the baby isn't yours.

Old is when candidates for public office are your age or younger.

Old is when your sons starts treating you with respect.

Old is when you decide to look elegant every day, even in the supermarket.

Old is when your children ask you, "Who are Glenn Miller and Alice Faye?"

Lady Tigers take state volleyball championship

By Bartley McDonough

The Captain Lady Tigers completed their mission Nov. 12 by winning the state Class A volleyball championship.

The Lady Tigers, 22-0 on the season, defeated the Floyd Lady Broncos in four games to become the state champions.

These Lady Tigers are Colynn Washburn, Lora McKay, Karie Cox, Sherry Gowen, Marnie McDaniel, Kim Eckland, Nanette Boyd, Leslie LaRue, Vickie Sedillo and Gina Griego. Pam Allen is their coach.

The Tigers faced the Texico Lady Wolverines in 1st round action winning this match 15-13, 15-3, 13-15 and 15-11. Marnie McDaniel had five service points in the 1st game followed by Kim Eckland with four, Karie Cox led the Tiger attack in the 2nd game with eight service points. Kim Eckland contributed four service points in the 3rd game and Washburn and McKay split scoring honors in the deciding game with five service points each. Kills by Washburn aided the Tiger cause. McKay, Eckland and McDaniel were also busy on defense. The Tiger victory in the 4th game was led by McKay, Cox, Gowen and Washburn.

The tenacious Tigers showed the Sandia Prep Lady Sundevils what Tiger pride is all about, winning this 2nd round action 15-9, 15-9, 15-12. The Sundevils rated out to a 1-8 lead in the 2nd game before the fighting Tigers could catch up at 9-9. The score was tied five different times in the 3rd game before the Lady Tigers eliminated the Sundevils.

Karie Cox scored six service points in the 1st game; Cox and McDaniel paced the Tigers with five service points each in the 2nd game. The 3rd game featured the serves (7 service points) of Sherry Gowen.

Coach Allen said, "our match against Sandia Prep was the finest match I've ever watched." Colynn Washburn made a huge contribution with her blocking game.

The championship match with Floyd was a hard-fought contest with the Lady Tigers winning the fight 15-13, 15-7, 6-15 and 17-15. Karie Cox got the final winning serve and the Tigers found out what it's like to be state champions.

Colynn Washburn led the Tigers in the 1st game with 6 service points. It was Marnie McDaniel and Lora McKay in the second game with 5 service points and 4 service points respectively. Sherry Gowen chipped in 3 in the 3rd game and McDaniel and Eckland 4 each in the 4th game.

Nanette Boyd came in the 1st game to take up the slack when Colynn went down with an ankle sprain. Nanette blocked, served and passed extremely well.

Coach Allen said the match with Floyd was extremely difficult for several reasons. One of these reasons was the fatigued factor. The girls had to play two excellent teams in the 1st two matches. "We had some illness that was beginning to take its toll. Colynn's injury and the pressure alone playing for the state championship with the knowledge that this is your only shot at it this season, made it more difficult."

Allen went on to say "I felt that the girls did a lot of things well. The 1st and 4th games against Floyd were both come-from-behind games. Lora, Colynn, Marnie and Sherry had extremely good games offensively. Kim and Karie made some very good decisions as setters. Leslie LaRue blocked tough in the middle. Nanette gave us some great passes. Vickie Sedillo and Gina Griego gave us un-dying confidence."

The support of the community and student body contributed to the state championship. "Our fans did a great job and we appreciate them. This was the culmination of two years of hard work for these girls not only in mental but physical preparation as well. This is without a doubt the finest group of ladies I have coached in 20 years. They are an excellent volleyball team," Allen said.

PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS, the Captain Tigers have played excellent volleyball in the 1988 season; and

WHEREAS, the Captain Tigers have displayed good sportsmanship; and

WHEREAS, the Captain Tigers have completed the season 22 and 0; and

WHEREAS, the Captain Tigers have won the 1988 Class A State Championship; and

WHEREAS, the young people on this team are a tribute to the Village of Capitan and its citizens.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that the Village of Capitan, of Lincoln County, State of New Mexico, Mayor Benny Coker, do hereby proclaim the week of November 14, 1988 as "VOLLEYBALL WEEK" in honor and appreciation of the Capitan High School Volleyball team.

Done at Capitan, New Mexico, this 14th day of November, 1988.

has undergone extensive testing. Bernhard Reimann, a specialist, told the council that the water is meeting and exceeding minimum requirements. He added "We're lucky to have that well."

The sodium content is 10 times better than what is permissible.

Coker named Dorothy Smith to the P&Z board after receiving the resignation of Jimmy Wright.

Coker said the garbage cans at the cemetery had been donated by Ron Grimes. He also said that Stan Cox had terminated his lease on the old coop building. Jim Davenport said he would like to use it to store some items belonging to the village.

The drainage project on the west end of town has been completed except for one minor item.

Dorothy Smith said a labor survey will be done the week of Nov. 28 through Dec. 3. Telephone calls will be made generally between 6 p.m. and 9 p.m. Questions will be asked to get an overall idea of the labor pool available in the county.

The Capitan Village Council meets each month on the second Monday at 7 p.m.

Highway construction, maintenance hearing

The New Mexico State Highway and Transportation Department will hold a public hearing on Nov. 30 at ENMU-R in the Campus Union Building Banquet Room between 1 and 3 p.m. to receive input on their 1989-1994 Five Year Construction and Maintenance Plan.

The Five Year Plan addresses basic needs of the state highway system including road rehabilitation and replacement, bridge replacement and rehabilitation, and new road construction to be undertaken during the next five years.

If there are road needs you would like to be presented to the Highway and Transportation Department for consideration in the Five Year Plan, contact Suzanne Cox, Lincoln County manager, 648-2385, or Steve Massey, director, Southeastern New Mexico Economic Development District at 624-6131, or submit written comments to SNMEDD, 110 E. Fourth Suite 105, Roswell, NM 88201, or attend the public hearing in Roswell on Nov. 30. For further information, contact Steve Massey at 624-6131.

● If New Mexicans had a chance to give up their right to elect public officials, they would reject it, wouldn't they? Wrong. In the general election the only constitutional amendment to be approved statewide was No. 6 which takes the election of judges out of the hands of the people and puts the selection of judges in the hands of an elite group dominated by the state bar association. There will be no more judges elected by the people in New Mexico. Henceforth the only candidate for election as a judge to appear on any ballot will be the name of the incumbent judge. Voters can vote "yes" or "no" on an incumbent judge. If there are more "no" votes than "yes" votes, that judge can be removed from office, but his successor will be chosen by the same elite group that recommended the deposed one. The people will have no say in the matter. Nice going, folks. Next time you go to the polls, do the country a favor—read the measures on the ballot and be sure you understand them. If you're undecided about a proposed change in the democratic process, don't vote on that measure. There is no law requiring a voter to vote on every issue. A vote cast in ignorance is worse than no vote at all.

● The Albuquerque Journal on Nov. 14 published an editorial concerning a situation in Sandoval County where an elected and sitting town mayor had been elected to the county commission. The new commissioner was also holding on to his position as mayor. The editorial called for the resignation of the man as mayor, citing "conflict of interest" in holding both jobs simultaneously. We have the same situation in Lincoln County where Carrizozo Mayor Robert Hemphill was elected Lincoln County Commissioner in the general election. There appears to be nothing illegal in a person holding two elective offices at the same time. However, there is a potential for conflict of interest, in view of the fact that the Town of Carrizozo works closely with county offices in several ways; for example, the town's dependency upon the county for jail facilities and assistance in law enforcement. The Lincoln County situation is even more complicated than the one in Sandoval County in that Hemphill is also an employee of Carrizozo Public Schools, which points to an added possible conflict of interest—the local school board.

● The question arises: can Hemphill adequately serve as mayor, county commissioner, and a full-time employee of the school board at the same time? Serving as Mayor of Carrizozo may be a picnic, but the position of county commissioner is far more demanding of time and talent. Couple that with his full-time position with the school system and it makes one wonder if he can fulfill the duties of all three positions in a satisfactory manner, and without conflicts of interest. There is no doubt that Hemphill has larger political ambitions, and that as county commissioner his chances of running for the state legislature are enhanced. However, Lincoln County residents are entitled to his complete devotion of time and talent to the job to which he has recently been elected. We suggest that the best interests of the Town of Carrizozo, County of Lincoln and the local school system would be best served if Hemphill would resign as Mayor of Carrizozo and direct his energy toward being a good county commissioner, which the people obviously expect of him.

● We've done it again. The American people have just elected a new Republican president because they approved of his agenda for running the nation. At the same time they elected a hostile Democratic House and Senate to insure that the president's agenda is not implemented. In New Mexico, voters elected Republican Garrey Carruthers because they approved his plan for getting New Mexico going. At the same time they elected a hostile House and Senate to see that his voter-approved programs cannot be put into effect. We are trying to have it both ways and it won't work. The will of the Executive Branch is cancelled out by the Legislative Branch, and vice versa. Why don't we do ourselves and the nation a good turn and start electing presidents along with a sympathetic Congress so that there is agreement and compromise in domestic and foreign affairs? If Speaker Jim Wright is going to continue handling foreign affairs, as he surely will, why do we need a president, Republican or Democrat? If Congress is to run the country, do we need a president, whatever his political party? Try running a business, or any institution, in such a divisive manner and disaster is inevitable.

● The proposed Lincoln County Zoning Ordinance No. 88-4, the content of which was hotly opposed by residents in its original form, has been cut from 102 to 60 pages. The trash and garbage has not been eliminated from the revised ordinance. It will be discussed at a public hearing Nov. 22 before the county commissioners. It will also be rushed through in order for it to become effective before the present members of SANTA FE—Now you've done it. I tried to tell you. But would you listen?

No one was particularly interested in listening to a discussion of proposed constitutional amendments prior to the election a week ago. Most voters opted to wait until they got into the voting booth to study the propositions.

As with many of my bold assertions, this one is subject to change as soon as anyone comes up with a fact. I base my opinion on three less-than-scientific measurements.

The first came during what I thought was an unreasonably lengthy wait to vote last Tuesday. As it turned out, my 45-minute wait was short compared to what many patiently endured around the state. Not being a patient person by nature, I began to wonder if poll clerks were enforcing the 3 1/2-minute time limit on monopolizing the voting booths.

I decided to time each voter and discovered two distinct patterns. Some voters completed their task in just under a minute. About twice as many spent from three to five minutes to get the job done.

During my wait, a prominent Santa Fean approached me to say that people in his part of the line were confused about whether to vote for or against Amendment 1 if they didn't want legislators to have retirement pay. I answered they should vote against it. The man responded, "But that's not what the amendment says." My reply that I hoped he realized there were other trick questions on the ballot was met with a blank stare.

Later in the day I received a long-distance call from a reader who was in a very long voting line and just happened to be standing next to a telephone at the time. She had remembered reading my column on "weasel-worded amendments" and wondered if the legislative retirement amendment was one of them. I said it was and reminded her there were others. She said she had to get back in line.

Maybe I'm feeling like the national television reporters who are saying, "But I did cover the issues." They contend a review of their videotapes will prove they covered the issues in the presidential campaigns. They say reports on the personal attacks and the poll results were the only topics in which voters were sufficiently interested.

Reports on the issues just didn't register on viewers' minds. The issues viewers remembered were the ones George Bush incessantly hammered home in his commercials. Repetition is the name of the game. In retrospect, I probably wrote my columns reviewing each of the amendments too early. I was interested in starting debate on the controversial ones last summer when voters' minds were not cluttered by candidates and their commercials. I meant to review them just before the election but I, too, was caught up in analyzing the personal attacks and the polling results.

The upshot is that voters have approved two amendments they have rejected for decades.

That isn't necessarily bad in itself. Maybe it is best for county officers to have their terms lengthened from two years to four. Maybe it is best for a committee of lawyers to decide who our judges will be instead of us voting for them.

But we New Mexicans have traditionally chosen to vote for as many of our public officials as possible and as often as possible. The difference with the ballot this time was that neither measure said what it meant.

Amendment 7 told voters it had the effect of "limiting terms" of office of elected county officials. The truth is that it raises the limitation from two years to four.

Amendment 6 told voters it would "provide for judicial reform." Who could be against reform? But the question is: Do we get reform by relinquishing judicial selection to the lawyers? Some people suspect lawyers might be part of the problem rather than being the solution.

But many of those people may have been fooled when they hurriedly read the title

Letter to the Editor

Watch this zoning ordinance!

EDITOR—This is an open letter to all residents of Lincoln County.

Have you read the legal ads in our county newspapers? I realize everyone has had the election on their minds but, our present Board of County Commissioners is trying to pull a fast one.

My husband Buddy and I attended all of the public hearings on the proposed Lincoln County Zoning Ordinance. We also attended workshops and regular Lincoln County Planning and Zoning Commissioners Board meetings.

At the Sept. 22, 1988 Planning and Zoning meeting, the motion was made, seconded and passed to dump the ordinance and start over. Ben Hall, Sid Goodloe and Betty Strengost were named to a committee to construct this new ordinance. The committee was told there was no time limit for their task. Suggestions were made to ask for input from the various unincorporated communities as well as county organizations. Has anyone been contacted in Hondo? How about Picocho, or White Oaks?

The legal notice in the paper states that Nov. 22 will be the last public hearing before the Lincoln County Commissioners approve the ordinance. What happened to all the hearings before the commission can act on a NEW ordinance?

Lincoln County already had an ordinance governing subdivisions, the regional airport, Lincoln, and solid waste. When I talked to Commissioner John Hightower on Thursday, he told me the one on solid waste had never been enforced but, did not tell me why not. Although Gary Mitchell said at one of the public hearings that spot zoning is illegal, it seems that we already have some spot zoning within the county.

This new ordinance will hurt the small landholders and taxpayers in the county.

When the question was asked, on four different occasions, how much it had cost the county for Gary Mitchell to draw all this up and put it in the proper legal language, and for Suzanne Cox to type, we received no answer.

Please, people, call, write, and/or GO to the county commissioners meeting on Nov. 22, 1988 at 1 p.m. It is very important!

CLARA N. GUTHRIE,

the board retire. There is little citizens can do in the short time remaining to get this piece of legislation revised again, or killed. It's almost as if rushing this garbage into law is final act of revenge upon Lincoln County residents for having voted the commissioners out of office at recent primary and general elections. Probably the best way to stop this unwanted intrusion into private property rights is to call upon the incoming board of commissioners to repeal this ordinance as one of the first orders of business, when it meets in January.

Does this inch of blowing snow mean 15 snows this winter?

Mrs. Bell, chairman of the Crown CowBelle beef poster contest, has announced the winners. The theme is "Beef Is Best" and all elementary students entered. First place winning posters are sent to the state convention to be held next month in Albuquerque. First, second and third place winners are as follows: K-2, Millie Thompson, Jack Rose, D.J. Hand; 3-5, Shayla Marshall, Lindsey Bonds, Kathy Jimenez; 6th grade, Ronda Miller, Barbara Bradley, and in a tie for third, Marcus Johnson and Russell Lueras.

The committee for the hunters' dance, Esther Johnson, Marie Owen and Lee Sultemeier, announces the band, Panhandle group from Clovis, and the date is Nov. 19.

New officers will be installed at the Dec. 18 meeting at the home of Robin Pfeiffer.

The Lincoln County Sheriff Dept. will present a drug program for the school grades K-12 at 12:30 p.m. Thursday, Nov. 17. The dog will demonstrate his nosing skills. At 4:30 p.m. the high school girls will play basketball against the junior high boys and at 6 p.m. the high school boys will play the sheriff's crew. Mrs. Kings says there is no charge for these games but donations are certainly welcome.

Mrs. Myra Richards has phoned from Roswell to tell of the arrival of a great-grandchild, a son, Travis Gaines, born Nov. 8 to Mr. and Mrs. Gaines Otwell of La Porte, TX. The baby has two sisters. The mother is one of the twin daughters of the late Dan Richards.

Mr. and Mrs. Mack Bell and Mrs. Johnnie Bond enjoyed a quick four-day trip to Kansas City last week. They stopped in Oklawaha for visits to the old family home and to the Cowboy Hall of Fame. They attended the fifth session of the FFA annual convention and the luncheon where Earl Butts, former Secretary of Agriculture, was the speaker, and where candidates for the American Farmer degree were presented. Beverly Bell was one of the candidates. Congratulations, Bev. There were 23,000 FFA members attending including Jason Gibbs, Marvin Pounds, and six from Corona High School.

of the amendment while standing in the voting booth with a long line of people behind them glancing at their watches.

Word had gotten around that there was something fishy about the legislative retirement amendment. Enough voters figured that one-out-to-defeat it by a narrow margin. Anything involving pay is bound to receive more attention. Unfortunately there will be some retired lawmakers throughout the state and in both parties who could be seriously affected financially by the amendment's defeat. That will be decided in court.

The trick questions that passed may find public acceptance. If they don't, the history of constitutional amendments is replete with issues that have been voted into and out of law.

Corn husk wreaths a club topic

Lincoln County home economist Betty McCreight presented a program on how to decorate corn husk wreaths at the Carrizozo Woman's Club, Nov. 10. Members and guests decorated wreaths during the presentation.

Explaining that wreaths are for all occasions and not just for Christmas, McCreight displayed wreaths that were two years old. She said she prefers straw wreaths because they blend well with corn husks.

During the short business meeting, club president Peggy Najer announced the December meeting will be a Christmas party complete with treats and singing.

Sue Stearns reported that the blood drive held Oct. 27, attracted 24 donors.
