

Flu vaccine available

Recent cases of flu in the area have been reported and the county health department urges people to take advantage of the flu shots that are available.

The flu vaccine is in the Lincoln County Health Office in the courthouse in Carrizozo and shots will be given on Tuesdays and Fridays. It takes two weeks for the flu vaccine to make the body immune to the flu virus. People wanting the flu shots should get them as soon as possible.

County officials conduct workshop

The Lincoln County Commissioners and elected officials held a workshop session with various federal, state and county agencies Jan. 11.

Among agencies represented were the State Department of Finance and Administration, New Mexico State Highway Department, Soil Conservation Service, New Mexico State Forestry Department, Department of Public Safety, Property Tax Division, New Mexico State Agency on Aging and the Traffic Safety Bureau.

More than half the agenda of 21 items was related to public safety and health issues.

Barak Wolff of the Emergency Medical Services and Dr. Walter Hopkins, medical director for Lincoln County EMS, discussed the EMS service. Lincoln County EMS is the state's top volunteer EMS system. Hopkins attributed this to the leadership of Nancy Guck, Lincoln County EMT Association service director, and county manager Suzanne Cox.

Fort Stanton Hospital and Training School general information was given. The facility was established as a hospital for the developmentally disabled in 1966 and provides intermediate care for the mentally retarded. Fort Stanton has agreements and services with Lincoln County that include a sanitary landfill, animal control, fire department, EMT service and ambulance service.

Also included on the agenda: the county auditor, explanation of the county computer system, county extension office, radio communications, Lincoln National Forest, the district

Fairground improvement approved; fire department bylaws tabled

The Capitan village council met in regular session Monday evening. Absent were Mayor Benny Coker, village clerk Janet Keel and village attorney Mike Runnels.

Buddy Bundick of the Economic Development Corporation of Lincoln County appeared before the council asking for help in obtaining $269,700 for improvements to the fairgrounds. Bundick wants to get everybody united behind this project. Various ways of getting this financed were discussed. Capitan trustees passed a resolution in support of this project. Bundick will visit other communities in the county seeking the same support.

An EMS grant in the amount of $5,000 is being sought. It was reported that 95 reflector type signs will be bought at a price of $7,000.

Safety council appointments were announced. Dan Davenport will be the assistant chairman, secretary and safety officer. Named assistant secretaries were Deborah Cummins and Janet Keel. A chairman will be named attorney's office, and the Lincoln County Medical Center.

All Lincoln County elected officials attended as did many members of their staffs. A potluck dinner was held during the lunch break.

later. The committee consists of Randy Spear, Terry Cox, Tom Hammtreee, Deborah Cummins and Dan Davenport.

Once again, the fire department bylaws were tabled.

Village attorney Mike Runnels was represented by attorney Don Dutton. Members of the Capitan Volunteer Fire Department reported they had reached an agreement with Runnels. Dutton proceeded to say what he felt the fire department needed to do. A policy concerning training, education and physical requirements should be written into the bylaws.

An hour and 20 minutes was spent in a discussion, which included some repetition.

It was learned that the fire department had used a model ordinance from Santa Fe.

Dutton and trustee Rouleau said near the end of the discussion that they thought they agreed in principle. Mayor pro-tem Norman Renfro said he had nothing against the bylaws.

Commissioners tackle school bus route issue

By Ruth Hammond

Lincoln County Commissioners met Jan. 9 and listed priorities for the school bus route program. The state provides 100 percent funding for the program.

Commissioners also listed the first priority for the county arterial program where the state pays 75 percent of the cost and the county pays 25 percent.

After much discussion about priorities, commissioners rescinded the action taken and tabled the matter until a special meeting Jan. 11 at 4 p.m. The extra time will enable commissioners to personally inspect the roads before making a final decision.

In other business, Commissioner Karon Petty asked that the commission, county planning and zoning commission and the extraterritorial zoning commission study the new county zoning ordinance within the next 120 days.

—Bill Vreeke of Bohanan Huston, engineers for the Sierra Blanca access road, reported the road project cannot proceed until warmer weather. He said it will take six weeks to complete the project.

When asked about opening a portion of the road, Vreeke said it would cost the county $12,000 for temporary signs, temporary striping and other work. The matter was tabled.

—Hal Sims of the Economic Development Corporation spoke to the commission. EDC/CO president Buddy Bundick was scheduled to speak but was at the Capitan town council meeting which was held at the same time as the county commission meeting.

Sims asked the commission to approve a resolution calling for work on the county fairgrounds. Areas needing special attention are wooden bleachers, the livestock barn and show ring, insulation for the exhibit hall, calf and steer chutes, and lightings.

Commissioners approved the resolution.

—The official county holiday calendar was approved. Dorothy Forsythe objected to the county observing Martin Luther King day on his birthday Jan. 16 but trading Lincoln's birthday and Washington's birthday for other days.

Forsythe said she

New electric rates are explained to chamber

Bill Mershon was guest speaker at the Jan. 10 Carrizozo Chamber of Commerce meeting. Mershon is general manager of Otero County Electric Cooperative which serves a portion of Lincoln County.

Mershon explained electric rates and the proposed rate changes that were listed on the back page of the December issue of Enchantment Magazine. He said that only 500 of the 11,000 customers served are presently being charged a demand rate for higher usage of electricity during a short period of time.

The proposed rate schedule change would eliminate the demand rate. This would cause the charge for each kilowatt hour to be spread among all electric customers and would increase the prices for all customers instead of just those who are now being charged extra for their higher usage.

Danny Burnett noted that the proposed rate increase would impact low income and handicapped people who are on fixed incomes. Mershon agreed, and said this gives them an incentive to find another solution instead of increasing the rates.

The Otero County Electric Cooperative was started in 1939. The 50th annual meeting will be held the first Saturday in August. Mershon invited everyone to attend.

During the business meeting, chamber president Dorothy Forsythe read a letter from State Representative George D. Buffett of Bernalillo County. Buffett said he is concerned with the ill-health of New Mexico's economy and he thinks economic development should be a main issue in the upcoming legislative session.

—Treasurer Phyllis Schlegel reported the chamber has 49 members.

—Scott Shafer said the Economic Development Corporation of Lincoln County (EDC/CO) met with State Representative Ben Hall last week. Hall told the EDC that the legislature is working to keep Fort Stanton open and is trying to find funding to build a new hospital facility in this area.

EDC/CO will hold an annual meeting Jan. 19 at 7 p.m. in the Texas-New Mexico Power Company in Ruidoso. Two new directors will be elected to the board. Chamber members agreed to give Shafer the chamber's proxy to vote in the election.

—Ned Pieters will host the "last Friday Chamber after hours" this month. The chamber will pay $20 of the cost.

—Polly Chavez reported the art class project to paint Christmas decorations on business windows was not as successful as hoped because someone from out of town had painted several windows.

—Chavez suggested the chamber have residents register for the Christmas decorating contest and have different categories. She said the chamber should begin to promote the contest in November.

—Shafer thanked Mershon for the help the Electric Cooperative gave the town by installing the Christmas decorations.

—Members agreed to hold chamber meetings at noon the second Tuesday of the month. Those attending are asked to bring their own lunch.

Carrizozo trustees accept resignations

The Carrizozo Board of Trustees accepted resignations during the Jan. 10 meeting.

Margaret Lueras LaBelle resigned as deputy clerk effective Jan. 27. The trustees will send her a letter of commendation for a job well done for the three years she has been deputy clerk. The town will proceed with a job description and advertise for the position.

Johnny W. Anderson resigned as member and treasurer of the Carrizozo Lodgers' Tax Committee. The town will send Anderson a letter of thanks for serving on the committee.

In other business, Alan O'Brien of Wilson and Company, engineers for the town water improvement project, presented the results of the town water study. He said the rehabilitation of the water storage tank will be completed this week. Cathode protection devices are being installed at this time.

The original bid for rehabilitation of the water storage tank was $58,000 with the final cost being $46,000. The savings to the town will be used on other water improvements.

The water system map for the town is complete. It shows where valves and lines are in the town. Wilson and Company also developed automatic pressure controls for the water storage tank. When the level goes down the pumps will automatically be turned on to pump more water.

O'Brien said the addition of the six-inch water line has helped water pressure in the town when it is running in thought it was a disgrace to celebrate ML King's birthday and not celebrate the nation's presidents' birthdays on the day they were born. She said it would be better to trade King's birthday for Nov. 24 or Dec. 22 instead of Lincoln's or Washington's birthday.

—Board appointments: Patsy Sanchez, James Sanchez and Lamoyne Carpenter were appointed to the P&Z Commission, Bill Elliot and Ben Hall were appointed to the ET Zoning Commission, Nancy Guck was named civil defense director for two years, Bill Morris was appointed to the Lincoln Historic Preservation Board, and Dub Williams and Bill Carrigan were appointed to the property tax protest board.

Jack Page will be the elected official on the personnel board and other members will be Israel Miranda, District I, Glen Crane, District II, and Betty Patton McCabe, District III. The county employee will be appointed later.

Carrizozo Health Center Advisory Board appointments were Joan Means, Dale Goad, Aileen Lindamood, Hal Sims, Ernie Gonzales, Kay Sultemeier, John A. Hightower, Sarah Gnatkowski and Bob Hemphill.

The remaining appointments will be made at a later meeting. There is one position open on P&Z, one position open on ET, and one position open on the Lincoln Historic Preservation Board.

—Patty cast a nay vote on the payroll register because she objected to the wording used. The motion passed.

—A request to open a road on the mesa above Nogal was received from Richard and Beverly Thorp. This will be referred to the road review committee.

—Sheriff James McSwane submitted a policies and procedures manual for the commissioners and county attorney to review.

—The Bonito Fire Department firefighters retirement act was approved.

—The open meetings act was approved. The commissioners must give five days notice in advance of regular meetings, 24-hours notice in advance of special meetings and three-hours notice in advance of emergency meetings.

—Commissioners approved transfer of vehicles from the assessor's department. One vehicle will be sold at public auction and one vehicle will go to the maintenance department.

—Commissioners approved a budget increase and new line items for the payment of the one-percent re-appraisal fund as required by the state legislature. The money is in the budget now but the state requires new line items instead of transfers for the money to go into the re-appraisal fund.

GED classes are still available

There is still time to register for Adult Basic Education classes. The classes are free to out-of-school adults.

Classes in GED, ESL, English/vocabulary improvement, and citizenship will begin the week of Jan. 9. An ESL class will begin the week of Jan. 9.

An ESL class with a Spanish speaking instructor will be held at the Immaculate Conception Parish Hall, 705 Delaware, Alamogordo. Other class locations include NMSU-A, HAFB, Tularosa, Carrizozo, Corona and Ruidoso.

Schedules are available by calling the ABE office at 437-5015 weekdays for times and registration information.

conjunction with the 10-inch line. The piggling operation will not be done at this time due to the bids coming in higher than the estimates.

—The open meetings act was approved. The board of trustees meeting for public business must give three days notice in advance of regular meetings, 24-hours notice in advance of special meetings and emergency meetings and emergency meetings may be called by the mayor with whatever notice is possible under the circumstances to consider any matter that needs emergency treatment because of a clear and present danger to health, welfare or safety of the people of the town.

Meetings will be held the second and fourth Tuesdays of the month at 6 p.m. in city hall.

—The 1989 holiday calendar was approved. It will coincide with the county holidays with the addition of a governor's day that employees may take whenever they want with five-days notice.

—Bob Means asked the board for a variance to put an auto repair shop in the Little Store. He was told to come to city hall during regular business hours and get the paperwork to request the variance. The mayor suggested Means request a permanent zoning change instead of a zoning variance. The matter will be advertised and public hearings will be held for public input before the variance or zoning change can be granted.

—Connie G. Morales sent a letter requesting a zoning change for the Simmons Garage location she purchased. She will have to obtain the paperwork to request the variance and public hearings must be held before the zoning change can be granted.

—Trustee Albert Baca said he had received a request for the town to close 6th Street from Aspen to Rock Island. After discussion, the board agreed the street could not be closed due to a high pressure gas line and a sewer line being in that street.

—Baca said the town should receive the paperwork from Southern Pacific within the next few days for property SP may sell or lease to the town. The location of the property may be the site for the new firehouse.

—Mayor Bob Hemphill presented prices for radios for the maintenance vehicles.

—Trustees approved paying advance per diem to John Northrup Jr. for attending defensive tactic school in Las Cruces for three days.

—Action on the town personnel policy was tabled to the Jan. 24 meeting.

—The town received a letter from the Environmental Protection Agency stating the availability of a technical assistance grant at the Cimarron Milling and Mining Superfund site near Carrizozo. The grant is available to a citizen's group to secure the services of a technical advisor to increase citizen understanding of information that will be developed during the Superfund process. By law, only one grant for a maximum of $50,000 may be awarded to one citizen's group at this Superfund site.

—New regulations for the Community Development Block Grant (CDBG) were read. The application is due March 17, 1989. The town will hold public hearings for input to find out what the townspeople want the town to apply for this year.

—Requests by the town for state highway co-op money are due soon. The town pays 40 percent of the costs while the state pays 60 percent. Trustees agreed to consider applying for the co-op money every other year. The present co-op agreement for street work will be completed this summer.

—The town received six copies of the new code book of town ordinances from SCS and Associates in Albuquerque. SCS did not have the authority to change the contents of any ordinances as the board of trustees is the only body that can change contents of ordinances.

SCS noted several paragraphs in ordinances that are old, outdated or in direct conflict with existing state law. SCS recommended having the town attorney review specific ordinances to determine if the items should be changed or not.

The town paid $1,400 for the work SCS did on the code book.

—The town received a

Louisiana firm opens plant in Ruidoso area

Juma Farms, Ltd., with headquarters in Monroe, LA, has opened a manufacturing business in Lincoln County.

The additional plant is in Carrizo Canyon near Ruidoso. The firm manufactures wood products such as wooden letters and numbers, shelf brackets, and other products sold nationwide through large retail stores.

Dave Talley, Juma's president, said he has contracted with Mesalero Forest Products to furnish ponderosa pine for the products from the sawmill located near Mesalero.

The firm, already in operation, will employ from seven to 10 people, according to Talley.

Talley has been working closely with the Economic Development Corporation of Lincoln County in opening the plant. He expressed his thanks to the EDC and Buddy Bundick, its president, for their assistance in completing negotiations with the Mesalero Forest Products.

Mark Free, who has moved here from Monroe, is the plant foreman.

To accurately portray right-handed Gary Copper as southpaw Lou Gehrig in the movie, "Pride of the Yankees," the director reversed the numbers on the uniform, shot him at third base instead of first, ran him from home to third. Then these scenes were simply spliced in backward.

(City) Montreal and board of directors James Verdugo, Tommy Guevara, Refugio Najer Jr. and Robert M. Hemphill, secretary.

With the advice and consent of the board of trustees, Hemphill appointed those elected. This action was taken at the request of the state fire marshal.

You can have a ladder accident and never leave the ground
Ladder safety is more than avoiding falls. Ladders conduct electricity, so they can also cause accidents around the power lines — before you ever leave the ground.
To prevent such accidents, make sure you don't snag a power line when you're carrying a ladder around the yard. Before you climb the ladder, place it away from power lines.
Aluminum and other metal ladders are especially good conductors of electricity, but you can be injured by power lines with a wooden one too.

OPINION

On this day (Jan. 8) 25 years ago, President Lyndon Johnson declared unconditional war on Poverty. Poverty won. After spending an average of $600 billion a year to win the War on Poverty, (600 billion times 25 equals three trillion 100 billion dollars) we have more Poverty in America than at any time in our history. The Blessed Poor, of course, don't get all this money, else they would all be millionaires. The bulk of this money, says Prof. Walter E. Williams, Temple University economist, goes to what he calls "the Poverty Pimps" who oversee and administer programs to wipe out Poverty. These 15 million Poverty Pimps have a vested interest in seeing that Poverty not only remains a national concern, but that Poverty increases. Their jobs depend on it.

Back in 1980 this column pointed out that if the Poverty outlay of $600 billion a year were divided by the then 25 million people who fell below the Poverty line, each Poverty client could be paid a total of $240,000 a year if the head of the house could come up with eight children—and what Poverty papa couldn't do that. That kind of money would erase Poverty, but it would also put millions of Poverty Pimps out of work, and congress would be deprived of the one type of program that insures that more than 90 percent of incumbent congressmen are re-elected at every election.

Poverty is America's biggest industry; bigger than the entire military establishment. Harken to the words of Thomas Sowell of the Hoover Institution at Stanford University: "The poor are a gold mine. By the time they are studied, advised, experimented with and administered, the poor have helped many a middle-class liberal to achieve affluence with government money." Donald Lambro, newspaper columnist, must have been reading my lips when he wrote: "If the poor didn't exist, congress would create a program to import them, so important are they in fabricating arguments in defense of many social programs that, in fact, do little to help the truly poor."

In 1968 Shirley Schelbly wrote a book that exposed in depth, for the first time, what happens to money we think is going to provide food and housing for the poor. She titled it "Poverty is Where the Money Is." She describes the role of Michael Harrington in disposing of Poverty funds. Closely associated with the Socialist and Communist parties, Harrington's specialty was taking Poverty money to promote riots against the Vietnam War, denouncement of the profit motive, and urging equal incomes for everybody. Saul Alinsky, Communist and agitator, was given $10,000 a year of Poverty funds to "rub the sores of discontent" at Syracuse University. Hundreds of thousands of dollars were funneled to Cesar Chavez, head of National Farm Workers Union, to create as much unrest among California farmers as possible, thanks to the Office of Economic Opportunity. There are dozens of such instances upon which Poverty money was lavished, but there is not enough space here to list them.

A few congressmen opposed the lavish appropriations for the War on Poverty. Cong. William B. Widnall, (R-NJ), said: "Anybody who gets up and speaks against a slogan like that (War on Poverty) is considered automatically a man without a heart, without humanitarianism, without any concern for the people who are underprivileged." And Rep. B.F. Sisk (D-CA) said on the floor of the House, "Lord knows, no politician is crazy enough to oppose the poor." Now do you understand who's running this country?

About 10 years ago the public began growing about the amount of tax money being spent on the poor, especially in light of such poor results in reducing the incidence of Poverty. That's when the Poverty Pimps, to renew public interest and keep the money coming, switched from the Poor to the Homeless. We bought it. Now the Compassion Crusade is for the Homeless more than for mere Poverty. The Poor and the Homeless are our enduring Sacred Cow before which we yearn to genuflect.

One beneficiary of the War on Poverty was its creator, Lyndon B. Johnson. When he was thrust into the presidency he had little money, practically none aside from his salary as vice-president. When he left the office of president his fortune was widely publicized as being $15 million dollars. Not bad for a former school teacher and a salesman for Wear-Ever cooking utensils.

The poor have been around a long time. As far back as 450 B.C., Thucydides, an Athenian historian, observed that the real disgrace of poverty is in declining to struggle against it. (The individual, not the state.) Twenty-five hundred years later in America, everybody is struggling against Poverty—the rich, the well-intentioned, office seekers, political incumbents, assorted malcontents, the conscience-stricken, and a bored middle-class. In short, just about everybody but the poor. They are privileged. They have dedicated and activist volunteers to press a never-ending campaign for more of whatever somebody else has.

Let's face it. The poor are the underpinnings of our government structure. If these props were removed, the crash would signal a national crisis. We need the poor. If we had none, someone would be forced to invent the poor. The poor are the foundation of Christianity as well as the basis for our present form of government. Jesus knew about this, else why would He have said, "The poor you always have with you." Christians have been trying to prove Him wrong ever since He said that. They'll do almost anything to end Poverty—except lower our tax money by doing each year a $10,000 a year income, and cut out the Poverty Pimps.

Inside The Capitol

By Jay Miller

SANTA FE—Recent increases in the number of women elected to the New Mexico Legislature have produced a lot of pride and a number of misconceptions.

The reason for pride is obvious. The 15 women elected to the 1989 legislature is the largest ever and brings to 28 the total number of women who have served as lawmakers during this decade.

The misconception is that women have reached this level starting from almost nothing a few decades ago. It is true that 30 years ago there were hardly any female lawmakers. During the 1950s, there were only nine women elected to the legislature. That fell to five in the liberated 1960s. In the 1970s the number picked up to 12.

But looking at just the past 40 years hides some amazingly good years during the first three decades women had the right to vote. That 30 years far outstripped the next 30 in terms of the number of women lawmakers and their power.

One misconception cropped up in the much-read Santa Fe New Mexican obituaries, which reported the death of Margaret Neal Huestis, "New Mexico's first female legislator," who represented Lovington in the House of Representatives in 1939.

The day wasn't very old when I received a call from an angry Mary Ellen Sheeha of Santa Fe. She reported that her aunt Marie Cavanaugh of Ft. Stanton had represented Lincoln County in the House a full 10 years earlier and that Louise Coe of Glencoe was representing Lincoln County in the Senate even earlier than that.

I was prompted to do some research. And there it was. Louise Coe had been elected in 1924 and served until 1940, the last six years as senate president pro tempore. Marie Cavanaugh was elected in 1928 and served until 1934. Oddly, Lincoln County, which was always heavily Republican, not only was represented by two women but by two Democratic women.

Margaret Neal was not the first female in the New Mexico Legislature. In fact there were 21 elected before her and another three elected at the same time she was in 1938. You could say she missed being first by a country mile.

The honor of being the first woman elected to the New Mexico Legislature goes to Bertha Paxton, who won her seat in 1922 at the very next election after women gained the right to vote. The ladies didn't waste any time back in those days. Paxton also would have had the honor of being in the first class of women elected in the nation.

By the end of the Roarin' 20s eleven women had been elected to the New Mexico Legislature. The 1930s saw another 18 serve and there were 17 more in the 1940s. These women held leadership positions in their parties and served as committee chairmen.

The Dark Ages for women in the legislature did not begin until the 1950s.

Another misconception occurred when another New Mexico political columnist reported that newly-elected state Senator Mary Jane Garcia of Las Cruces is the first female Hispanic ever elected to the senate. It would be more correct to say she is the first female Hispanic senator using a Hispanic surname during her term of service.

Lucy Keys Brubaker of Valencia County served from 1982 to 1984. Consuelo Jaramillo Kitzes Burrell of Santa Fe County served from 1972 to 1976. Both were Hispanic female senators.

In all, 76 different women have served in our state's legislature. Only 11 of them were in the senate. The longest tenure was Louise Coe's 16 years in the senate. The runner up is Sen. Christine Donisthorpe of Bloomfield who will have 14 years service at the end of the four-year term to which she has just been elected. Donisthorpe has served as a committee chairman and as the GOP national committeewoman. With her energy and durability, she is a good bet to break the endurance record of 16 years by being reelected in 1992.

The feat of the 46 women who got themselves elected in the 1920s, 1930s and 1940s as compared to the 26 who were elected in the 1950s, 1960s and 1970s is even greater when considering that during the earlier period there were only 78 members of the legislature. During the latter three decades the number of lawmakers increased to over 100.

So, next you think today's women are blazing new trails, remember Aunt Marie and her friends were doing it all 50 years ago.

The Lincoln County Sheriff's department is continuing the investigation into the possible homicide of Tony Dudley of Houston, TX.

Dudley's body was found Dec. 30 in the Block Ranch area north of Capitan.

Sheriff James McSwane said that small amounts of a substance suspected to be marijuana were found in Dudley's pickup. Official test results of the substance have not been completed.

Dudley was reported missing by his family Dec. 10 and a search was conducted after Dudley's pickup was found Dec. 28. The partially decomposed body was found two days later and sent to Albuquerque for an autopsy. Results of the autopsy are expected within the next two weeks.

Snowstorm affects TV reception

Bob Sanders, technician for Lincoln Cablevision in Capitan told the News Monday that electric power was lost to Buck Mountain during the latest snowstorm. This affected the signal on Channels 7 and 10. This situation should be corrected soon.

Channel 12 has been changed from an Amarillo station to Channel 14 out of Albuquerque. This is the Fox Network. Lobo games also appear on this channel. A three-phase antenna has been ordered which will triple the signal level for Channel 12.

The de-scrambler for Channel 13 is being repaired. This will take 60 to 90 days. Station WOR out of New York will then return to this channel.

Letter to the Editor

Does Reagan remember?

EDITOR—On his national radio commentary on Oct. 29, 1975, Ronald Reagan declared: "But isn't there also a moral issue? Are we not helping the godless tyranny maintain its hold on millions of helpless people? Wouldn't those helpless victims have a better chance of becoming free if their slave masters collapsed economically? Maybe there is an answer—we simply do what is morally right. Stop doing business with them. Let their system collapse, but meantime buy our farmers wheat ourselves and have it on hand to feed the Russian people when they finally become free."

What happened? He has sent more aid to the "Evil Empire" than any other president since Roosevelt and Truman. Why?

MARJORIE MILLS, Stockton, CA.

How EDC is funded

EDITOR—I see in last week's paper (1-5-89) that the EDC (Economic Development Corporation of Lincoln County) is holding its Annual Certificate holders' meeting.

Since the EDC is operated on taxpayers' money, I would like to know who in the hell these certificates holders are.

Since we the taxpayers are funding it, we the taxpayers should tell who shall direct it.

JIM PAYNE, Carrizozo.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Cindy K. Lynch, secretary of EDC, explains. When EDC began it was funded by the sale of Membership Certificates at $200 each. A Certificate Holder is a person or business that paid the $200 membership. Now that the county is funding EDC on a year-to-year basis, taxpayers' interests are represented by the Lincoln County Board of Commissioners. Commissioner Karon Petty, representing Lincoln County and its taxpayers, is the county's Certificate Holder for 1989.)

Opinion . . . (Cont'd from opposite column)

Personally, I have no compassion or regard for the indigent poor. They have been living out of my wallet for almost 50 years, and out of your pockets for as long as you have worked your jobs. In 1984, using government statistics I calculated that the War on Poverty was costing $1911 for every man, woman and child in the United States; one-half the then national budget! I will not support any social program that is financed by government funds extracted from taxpayers. Any charity I exhibit will be on a private one-to-one basis and not through any local group financed by federal funds. It is time the Blessed Poor get off their collective duffs and work for a living. If they don't, I have a suggestion.

Force every able person (not the aged, mentally and physically disabled) into a work program similar to the old Civilian Conservation Corps and Work Progress Administration created by Franklin D. Roosevelt. Give them a minimum wage, free food and housing on condition that they do honest work five days a week. Our national highways need repair and we haven't the money, estimated at a trillion dollars, to repair them. They can build and repair roads, clean up highways and parks, build bridges, pick up garbage wherever found, and improve the environment, just as the CCC and the WPA did. They can attend the sick and elderly. Illiterates should be forced to attend night school and sent to bed without dinner if they refuse. They should be released from such a program if and when they go out and get a job in the private sector, and on their own initiative. They should be (probably for the first time in their lives) subjected to strict discipline. I think it would be surprising how many of the current crop of the Blessed Poor would find those jobs before the program actually began.

In this land of opportunity there is no valid reason why an able-bodied person should live in Poverty, unless he chooses to do so.

The saguaro, the plant of the cactus family can live up to two hundred years. Specimens weighing over ten tons have been found.

TALL, DARK AND FLYS
He can't actually fly, but the way he orbits on the basketball court it appears like he can. Who is this leaping lizard?

Any parent of a boy should know the answer: Michael Jefferey Jordan, age 25, No. 23 and the Chicago Bulls' star.

The Jan. 9, 1989 Time magazine has a profile on the high-flying basketball player. Before it was whisked out of my hands I was able to learn more about the "Superman in Shorts," as some sportscasters call Jordan.

I didn't know that Jordan enters his fifth year in the National Basketball Association... has won every major individual award the NBA has to offer... was Rookie of the Year after his first season... this season, averaging more than 34 points a game, he could be headed for his third consecutive scoring title.

At 6 ft. 6 in., he is a full inch shorter than the average NBA player, but he overcomes this handicap by spending most of his time above the others. Reading about Jordan I learned basketball language like: double-clutch lay-up and and hyperspace dunk.

Jordan is always on the go. Minutes after a game, a fashionably dressed Jordan heads out of the lockerroom for a few hours (and a few nonalcoholic drinks) at choice night spots.

Jordan: "I try to be seen as Michael Jordan the person, not a black or white. I guess I am a pioneer, and at some time I may come up against a racial barrier, but at least I have cleared the way a bit." (from his goal to be a role model for youngsters of all races.)

MEDICAL TERMS

People believe to cure a cold, kiss a mule on the nose. People believe to cure a sore throat, wrap a piece of bacon around your neck. And did you hear about the new medical terminology making the rounds?

Artery—the study of paintings.

Barium—what you do when CER fails.

Cassarean section—a district in Rome.

Dilate—to live long.

Nitrate—lower than the day rate.

Node—was aware of.

Outpatient—a person who has fainted.

KIDDING ASIDE

The season of the sniffle is here.

Although colds and flu have many similar symptoms, they are completely different diseases. A cold is a viral infection of the upper airway. Symptoms include sneezing, stuffy or runny nose and a sore throat. The flu packs a wallop to the whole body. The flu begins with a headache and muscular aches and pains and within hours knocks out its victim with fever, chills and malaise.

Another key difference: there is no cure for the common cold.

Children and teenagers under 18 should never be given medication that includes aspirin because there's an association between influenza and Reye's syndrome, which can be fatal.

Drink liquids to replace fluids lost by fever and loosen lung congestion.

Chicken soup?

Any hot liquid will relieve congestion and make you feel better," says a medical expert. And the minerals and fat in chicken soup are an extra plus.

HOT FOOD MONTH

Sick or not if you enjoy a hot, steamy bowl of food on a frosty day, January is your month.

January is National Oatmeal Month, celebrating a major component of favorite cookie recipes and quick, tummy-warming breakfasts. It's also National Soup Month, a time to enjoy soup for supper or lunch.

POTATOE SOUP

Poor Folk's Cook Book, a book of recipes, helpful hints and gardening was put together by a couple of "good ole boys," who without the help of a couple of "good ole girls," just wouldn't be as interesting.

Potatoe soup is a pleasure to all nationalities and all categories of people. It's nutritional, it's filling, it's delicious and satisfying and so inexpensive. It is a meal in itself when served with toasted cheese sandwiches.

Cover with water and cook until tender; 4 or 5 medium potatoes (peeled and diced), 1 onion (diced), 1 teaspoon salt, 1/2 teaspoon black pepper. Do not drain water.

Add: 1 can evaporated milk, 1 cube margarine, 1 tablespoon parsley flakes.

Heat, but do not boil. Thicken with about 1/2 cup flour mixed with enough water to make a liquid. Bring to boil and remove from heat. Serves four.

Bank employees guests at CowBelle luncheon

The Canyon CowBelles met Jan. 4 at United New Mexico Bank in Carrizozo with the officers as hostesses.

Special invited guests were bank employees for their help and support throughout the year. Other guests were Dorothy Ann Wagner of Wheatland, WY, daughter-in-law of Annie Withers, and Polly Chavez of Carrizozo.

The CowBelles gave special thanks to Chavez for her work with Carrizozo art students in pre-school through 10th grade for her help and instructions for the CowBelle beef posters. The state first place and third place winners were Carrizozo students.

CowBelle organizations throughout the nation will again support and donate to the "Cattle Drive for Hunger." In 1988 the CowBelle organization donated $76,000 to the Salvation Army to feed the homeless and starving in the nation.

New Mexico donations are specified to feed the hungry in New Mexico and are not sent out of the state. Donation jars will be placed at United New Mexico Bank and grocery stores for public donations to help fight hunger in New Mexico.

A donation of five $10 beef certificates will be given to the Carrizozo home ec teacher to buy different cuts of beef and teach students ways to prepare the different cuts.

The CowBelle project for the Girl's Ranch continues. Donations for door prizes, birthday parties and other donations will be used where most needed at Girl's Ranch.

New member is Mary Lynn McDaniel of Claunch, daughter-in-law of Knolene McDaniel. The door prize was won by Beanie Leslie.

CAPITAN NEWS

By Margaret Rench

Gold wintry weather, wind, zero. From 18 degrees at night to 4 above all day Sunday. Monday, mid-day 8 degrees, bright sunshine, wind, no moisture.

always. It is a very pretty and attractive place.

There are several other students home from their colleges for that holiday break, and many will leave Jan. 15. It's always great to have them home.

Mr. and Mrs. Dale Nighbert thanks the Capitan Chamber of Commerce for the check they received in the Christmas Lighting Contest.

Marie Edgar died at home last Thursday night unexpectedly. She was buried in Capitan Cemetery Sunday. She is another of our dear ladies who will be remembered with love and kindness. I extend my sincere sympathy to her husband Bill, daughter Willa and two grandchildren.

There is lots of sickness here. Do not worry, all will be O.K. There will be good news and smiles again.

The Smokey Bear Museum had 208 registered visitors Jan. 1-8. The Smokey Bear now has new rain gutters after all these years, thanks to Willie and Howard and Brian Wilmoth. That is good. That is how the museum was built, on donations of everything including labor. That is why it is so successful and will continue to be. Willie Hobbs is the big part of that museum because she believes in it and treats each tourist as if she knew them always.

A new business is coming soon. A bronze foundry will be located in Lincoln Street between the Cattleman's Hardware and the Automatic Laundry.

Welcome to Wendy Gardner and son Chad of Las Cruces who joined her husband Al who is the manager of Cattleman's Hardware. They are now permanently located in their home on West 3rd Street. Welcome to this lovely young couple and their little Chad, and may they be with us for many years to come.

Cafe Ole owners Sandra and Jamie Miller have done more construction, painting and renovating during the holidays. Success be with you Crown CowBelles ate a beef taco lunch at school Jan. 5 and then met in the recreation room with 12 members and mascot Lonnie Sickler present.

Frances Fuller opened the meeting and introduced installing officer Eve Latham. Mrs. Latham used a collection of bells as she charged each officer with her duties, a cow bell for leadership, church bell denoting faith, fire bell for alertness, hostess bell for fellowship, a school bell for knowledge. This last bell was from the Asperas school which Mrs. Latham attended for eight years, closing in 1941. Installed were: president Sue Maness, daughter of Mrs. Latham, 1st vice-president Karen Sickler, 2nd vice-president Juanita Owen by proxy, secretary JoAnn Proctor by proxy and treasurer Esther Johnson. The ceremonies ended with the reciting of the CowBelle Creed.

Loretta Proctor was recognized as Crown CowBelle of the Year. Special thanks were given three 10-year chairmen: Mrs. Proctor for quilting, Betty Ann Bell, poster contest, and Ruby Davidson, sunshine. Last year Mrs. Davidson was assisted by Robin Pfeiffer. Mrs. Latham is sending a pair of her crocheted house slippers to Mrs. Davidson, who is hospitalized with a broken leg.

All the elementary students participated in the Beef Is Best poster contest. First place winners earned a burger, fries and drink, second place burger and drink, third place burger.

Corona telephone books were displayed for sale. This project of the junior class is welcomed.

Dorothy Vaughan, NOW president, has asked each local to send an item for a silent auction and suggested a piece of art, horse or cow. Muriel Pounds and Lee Sultemeier volunteered for this, and the item chosen will be taken by Cleo Maddon to the national convention in Phoenix late this month.

A belated Christmas gift of $100 each was sent to Boys and Girls Ranches.

Clara Moore, San Antonio, is president of Apache Plumes, the newest local.

Roadrunner will host the District meeting next month in Santa Fe. There will be no legislative tea this year, but there may be a barbecue or other function during the legislative session.

Mrs. Maness named her committee chairmen: Karen Sickler, program; Esther Johnson, budget; Juanita Owen, education and beef promotion; Helen Porter, Beef for Father's Day; Frances Fuller, legislative; Juanita Sultemeier, quilting; Sunshine, Ruby Davidson and Robin Pfeiffer, publicity; Geraldine Perkins; Jeanene Gibbs, Poster Contest; Andee Maness, Beef Cookoff. This is to be held June 4 in Alamogordo. Items are needed for 12 ditty bags for this: Lee Sultemeier, dance; Eve Latham, fair booth; Lee Sultemeier, buyers luncheon.

The next four meetings are scheduled at the school with coffee hostess for February, Mrs. Pfeiffer; March, Mrs. Fuller; April, Mrs. Maddon and May Mrs. Sickler. Eve Latham and Clara Porter will host the June meeting.

The FFA will give the program at the Feb. 2 meeting because they want to practice their public speaking.

Tawnya and David Craig of Playas are parents of Ryan Wayne born Jan. 2 in Deming. The baby has a brother, Russell. Grandmother Sandra Alford spent several days last week with the family.

Mrs. Jack Davidson Sr. tripped in her home Dec. 30 and broke her leg near the hip joint. She was taken by ambulance to Roswell where doctors pinned the splintered femur. She expected to leave the hospital this week and enter a nursing home for two or three weeks of therapy. Mr. Davidson remains at home and is being cared for by his family and Mrs. Henry Clements.

The former Ruth and Nadine Cox with their husbands stopped by briefly Monday afternoon. They were looking for their old home and for the old school buildings. They report an older brother, Ulrich, very ill in the VA hospital in Big Springs, TX.

NOTICE OF PROPERTY TAX REPORTING REQUIREMENTS

Property which was valued in 1988 in this county by the county assessor is not required to be reported or tendered for 1989 or subsequent years, EXCEPT FOR:

- 1. mobile homes
- 2. livestock, and
- 3. land used for agricultural purposes.

If, for any reason, your property was not valued last year and it is subject to valuation this year, you are required by law to report it to the county assessor on forms provided either by mail or at the assessor's office.

All nongovernmental entities (property owners) which claim to be exempt from the property tax must report their property and claim their exemption for 1989 if the exemption was not claimed in 1988.

Reports for mobile homes, livestock, land used for agricultural purposes, property not valued last year and claims for exemptions by nongovernmental entities must be completed and mailed or delivered to the county assessor not later than the last day of February.

If you made improvements to your real property and:

- 1. the improvements cost more than $1,000 and
- 2. a building permit for the improvements was not issued, you must report the nature of the improvements and their cost to the assessor not later than the last day of February. These reports must be on forms provided by the assessor.

If you believe your property decreased in value during the preceding year, you must report, on forms provided by the assessor, a signed statement which:

- 1. describes the property affected,
- 2. states the cause and nature of decrease in value, and
- 3. states the amount you contend the value has decreased.

This statement must be filed with the county assessor no later than the last day of February. The veterans exemption Certificate should be brought in by the last day of February for endorsement.

If the head-of-family exemption was claimed and allowed in 1988 no new claim for that exemption is required to be filed.
