No action taken on landfill suit

Lincoln County Commissioners took no action during a special meeting May 3 to discuss the possibility of joining with other counties in the lawsuit opposing the implementation of landfill regulations by the Environmental Improvement Division (EID).

County attorney Robert Beauvais told the commission the new landfill regulations could have a substantial financial impact on the county. Other counties faced with the same problem plan to file a restraining order before May 14, the day the new regulations are to take effect.

"Our position is that the legislature can't ask us to comply with the new regulations without providing the money to pay for the monitoring required," Beauvais said.

County Treasurer Shirley Goodloe said she had attended a New Mexico Association of Counties board meeting and the big thrust was to get the new landfill regulations implemented to stop other states from using New Mexico as a dump.

Commissioners agreed to take no action regarding joining in the lawsuit which would have cost the county $2,000 to participate.

Solid Waste program to be discussed

New solid waste regulations will be explained by Jim Edwards at the May 9 meeting of the South Central Mountain RC&D. Edwards is with the New Mexico Environmental Improvement Division (EID).

The meeting will be held in Carrizozo at the Carrizozo Woman's Club building beginning at 9:30 a.m. The public is invited.

The agenda includes reports on progress measures on La Luz erosion, Weed water system, Capitan critical area treatment and Don Canyon Trail. Barbara Luna will report on the prescribed burn workshop held recently.

After lunch a review of the draft of the revised plan, and setting objectives and priorities will be discussed. The state RC&D council meeting will be held May 18-19 in Truth or Consequences.

EPA here to discuss Cimarron mill site

By Ruth Hammond

The US Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) will hold an Open House in Carrizozo Tuesday, May 9, to discuss the Cimarron mining and mill Superfund site.

The Open House will be held at United New Mexico Bank from 5 to 7 p.m.

According to EPA, the Cimarron mill site contains levels of cyanide that are potentially toxic to human health. The site was used from 1979 to 1982 as a metal recovery mill using a solution of cyanide salt and metal stripper. Prior to 1979, gold was extracted using cyanide.

In 1984, an inspection revealed two cyanide solution tanks, a discharge pit, a tailings impoundment, an uncovered tailings pile, and a drum storage area.

The site was proposed for addition to the National Priorities List (NPL) June 24, 1988 for the Superfund process. The Superfund was enacted by Congress in 1980 and authorizes EPA to respond to releases or threatened releases of hazardous substances that may endanger public health, welfare or environment.

After a site is discovered, it is inspected usually by the state to determine possible health risks to the human population, potential hazards created by substances at the site, potential for the substances at the site to contaminate air or drinking water supplies and potential for substances at the site to pollute or harm the environment.

If the site's problems are serious enough, it will be added to the NPL. Sites on the NPL are eligible for Superfund money. Congress increased the size of the Superfund to about $8.5 billion in 1986 by amending and reauthorizing the Superfund law.

The next step in the Superfund process is to conduct a remedial investigation to assess the type of contaminants present, identify the degree of contamination and characterize potential risks to the community.

An expanded site inspection was completed at Cimarron in September 1988. The surface and subsurface soil samples indicated contamination which included cyanide, arsenic, chromium, mercury and salt.

The fact sheet provided by EPA states, "The process bathing tanks on the site contain hazardous materials which were disposed of in an unlined, non-permitted discharge pit. Solid wastes were placed directly on the ground at the tailings waste pile area. The solid and fluid discharges have contaminated ground water, surface, and subsurface soils at the site."

Remedial investigation field activities are scheduled to begin this month at the site. The first stage will involve resampling the existing monitoring wells, and conducting additional soil samples.

Several types of specialized equipment will be required to collect the soil and water samples and prepare them for analysis. Protective clothing, including respirators, may be worn by workers at the site.

Sample analysis results from the first round of sampling should be available in September 1989. From these results, the remedial investigation continues to the next step, a risk assessment to determine any potential threat to human health and the environment.

The Open House is a portion of the Superfund community relations activities to ensure that citizens are kept well-informed about cleanup plans and progress and to give citizens the opportunity to participate in the decision-making process for Superfund actions taken at the Cimarron site. Public involvement in the Superfund process contributes to sound decisions and greater protection of human health and the environment.

Information repositories have been established at Carrizozo City Hall, Ruidoso Library, EID office in Santa Fe, and EPA office in Dallas. Copies of all documents and materials produced and used by EPA during the Superfund process at the Cimarron site will be available for public viewing at these information repositories.

EPA representatives will be at the Open House to discuss the site and the plans for the upcoming remedial investigation.

Hondo Fiesta set for May 5-6, Hondo gym

The 37th annual presentation of the Hondo Fiesta will be on Friday and Saturday nights, May 5-6, in the Hondo school gymnasium.

More than 100 students in colorful costumes will perform in a dazzling display of Spanish, Mexican and New Mexican dances.

Dancing teachers are former participants in the Fiesta, Franklin Herrera, Cecilia Gomez Sanchez, and Deborah Romero Gomer. Porfiria Zinn is the instructor for the elementary students.

The Hondo Valley Fiesta Dancers have been an integral part of the Hondo Valley Schools since the group was founded in 1948 by Mr. and Mrs. Fermin Montes.

The Hondo Dancers have received national recognition for their performances in such diverse places and occasions as the Festival of Arts in Tucson, the National Folk Festival in Nashville, the Hemisfair in San Antonio, and a festival in Disneyland. International appearances have included performances at festivals in Chihuahua City, Los Mochis, Acapulco, and Mexico City. This year's fiesta is titled La Fiesta de la Paloma Blanca, The Feast of the White Dove.

Two arrested in Hondo shooting

Lincoln County Sheriff James McSwane reported his officers arrested two people in a shooting incident in the Hondo area on US Highway 70 on April 24. A vehicle driven by Jackie Mays was shot at and rammed.

Gretchen Torres, 27, Hondo, was arrested May 2, and Olegario M. Godines, 24, Ruidoso, was arrested May 1. Both were charged with aggravated assault with a deadly weapon. The suspects are in the Lincoln County jail being held on $2,500 bond each.

The sheriff's department is also investigating an alleged forgery in Carrizozo.

April 27 it was reported someone is soliciting funds by phone for the Fraternal Order of Police (FOP). McSwane asked anyone receiving such a call to contact his office immediately for investigation because at this time he has no knowledge of any solicitation being conducted.

Lincoln Ramblings

By Rosalie Dunlap

Many friends said their goodbyes to Leo Joiner Friday afternoon at the Hondo School gymnasium. Our sympathy goes to his family.

Bishop and Mrs. John Penn were luncheon guests of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Hammond, and then toured Lincoln town last week.

Catholic Church services at San Juan Church are no longer being held in Lincoln on Saturday afternoons. We hope this will change sometime in the future.

Best News. The Wortley Hotel is now open. Hours are Friday through Sunday, 7 a.m. to 8 p.m.; Monday through Thursday, 7 a.m. to 2 p.m.

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Dennis are managers with Ceil Chaffin and Betty Hobbs as cooks, Pam Preciado and Shirley Sedillo as waitresses. A very good crowd attended Sunday.

Work is progressing on the restrooms behind the courthouse. Linda Hart will be doing some archeology studies this week on an area found last week.

Exhibits are being put into place at the courthouse. Everyone is looking forward to seeing what will be included.

Other activities coming up are open house at the visitors center, May 20; storytellers, June 10; La Reunada, June 17-18; and others in July and August.

There will be surrey riders available soon. Also on display is the Lincoln Heritage Trust new acquisition, a church wagon.

Mrs. Reidy and daughter Ruthie and Markie, husband John and children Jay and Joanna of Albuquerque were Lincoln visitors over the weekend.

Also visiting from Santa Fe Sunday was Bill Shrecengost Sr.

Congratulations to Jamie and Robin Widener on the birth of a daughter, Lauren Amanda.

Congratulations to Dolly Ward on her big 80th birthday celebration. We were so sorry we were unable to attend.

The Lincoln County Historical Society has started on its garden west of Dr. Woods' house. Elaine Beaudry of Capitan is chairman for this project.

Lincoln and Billy the Kid are featured in the German magazine GEO this month. This special issue covers the Southwest USA, including the states of New Mexico, Arizona, Colorado and Utah.

Other areas of New Mexico covered are White Sands, Navajos, Old Highway 66, Chaco Canyon, and Santa Fe.

The articles were written as a result of a tour of international travel agents two years ago.

TO A LOT OF GOOD PEOPLE

I came back to Carrizozo because of fond memories. I came in a time of need. I needed a home and friends for my two children. I needed some support as I waited for my wife to come over from the Philippines. I needed friends.

A lot of good people have helped me carry my burden, bore testimony for me even to the Congress of the United States. For these things I am thankful.

My wife will be here shortly, and I am proud to be bringing her to Carrizozo, NM.

TOMORROW'S HEIR-LOOMS

A quilt exhibition featuring more than 100 antique, traditional, and contemporary quilts, and quilted clothing will be presented by the New Mexico Quilters' Association May 5, 6 and 7. Featured in the three day show, to be held in the Youth Hall at the New Mexico State Fairgrounds, are full-sized quilts and dozens of wall quilts.

On Sunday only the public is invited to bring in quilts completed (pieced and quilted) before 1945 for free documentation as part of the New Mexico Heritage Quilt Search. This free service will be from 9 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. It takes approximately a half-hour for experts to date, photograph, and analyze each quilt. A written copy of the document for your quilt will be available for a fee.

Throughout the show, members of the NM Quilters' Association will be on hand to answer questions and to demonstrate quilting techniques. Local quilting shops will have booths featuring fabrics, books, templates, and dozens of quilting aids.

WHERE IS IT?

Has household clutter taken over your home? Look around. Unused items have piled in the closet and floorspace is limited. I know what happens when clutter takes over. Locating an item becomes a scavenger hunt.

The key to reorganization is being able to get rid of things you don't need or no longer use. One time honored tradition is to put all the items in boxes and call the classified ad department for details about arranging a yard sale. For 20 words or less and $3.50 you are ready to turn unused articles into cash. That set of matching plastic bowls and never used clothes the children have outgrown may be useful to others.

ORGANIZE WHAT'S LEFT

Now that you've gotten rid of what you don't need, organize what's left. Start in the kitchen. Hang utensils, like stirring spoons, inside doors, increasing your cabinets' storage potential. Another hint is to organize the same things in a single drawer. For instance, pot lids are easier to find when they're all together, and so are the baking pans or household paper products.

In the kids rooms, no matter how many times things get put away, they seem to come back out almost immediately. One way to handle small toys and objects that get frequent use is to hang shoe bags on the backs of doors or on available wall space. The clear plastic storage are useful since all toys are immediately visible; you needly rearrange and out from underfoot.

Store makeup and other grooming items in a tool storage case, new fishing box or sewing box. The various sized trays and compartments are ideal for your assortment of lipsticks, powders, perfumes and polishes.

Home organizing just takes a bit of imagination and an investment in low-cost containers. Now where did I store that extra sewing box? Is it in the hall closet, the washroom or the large bedroom?

PRACTICE MAKES PERFECT

Hundreds of state prison inmates in Texas have been getting face-lifts, liposuction and other cosmetic fixes at taxpayers' expense for more than 20 years. The operations have been performed at Galveston's John Sealy Hospital, which provides medical and surgical staff for the state prisons and is a teaching hospital for the University of Texas Medical Branch in Galveston.

The hospital said the Texas Corrections Department is not charged for surgery on inmates, but the expenses are paid by taxes. The medical school says the practice helps surgeons perfect their skills. School officials also cite studies suggesting that inmates are less likely to return to prison if they look better when they leave.

SPICE FOR SPEECH

When congressmen need spice for a speech they often rely on the Congressional Research Service to supply accurate quotes. In "Respectfully Quoted," the service has issued an entertaining collection of 2,100 quotations it has gathered over the past 50 years.

Authorship of memorable quotes has been straightened out.

For instance, "It is better that one hundred guilty persons escape than one innocent person should suffer," often attributed to Oliver Wendell Holmes or Louis Brandeis, was first said by Benjamin Franklin.

John F. Kennedy's often quoted line, "Ask not what your country can do for you—ask what you can do for your country" is borrowed from Syrian poet Kahlil Gibran's query, "Are you a politician asking what your country can do for you or a zealous one asking what you can do for your country?"

PROFESSIONAL JOKER

Humorist Will Rogers: "So when all the yielding and objecting is over, the other senator said, 'I object to the remarks of a professional joker being put into the Congressional Record.' Taking a dig at me, see?"

"Well, he had me wrong," Rogers adds. "Compared to them I'm an amateur, and the thing about my jokes is that don't hurt anybody. You can say they're not funny or they're terrible or they're good or whatever, but they don't do no harm. But with Congress—every time they make a joke it's a law. And every time they make a law it's a joke."

Piano recital Sunday event

The Spring Recital for piano students will be presented Sunday afternoon, May 7, 4 p.m. in Trinity United Methodist Church sanctuary, Carrizozo.

Ernest V. Joiner's OPINION

●Last week this column dealt with laws defining rights of prison inmates. I was particularly putraged that convicted murderer/rapist Jimmy Kinslow, who now enjoys the Hilton hospitality of the New Mexico State Penitentiary, has filed two lawsuits against companies that built a shower in his prison bathroom in which he slipped and hurt his leg. Taking advantage of an elaborate law library (to which murderers have almost unlimited access, along with typewriters, paper, carbon paper, duplicating machines, etc.), he wants compensation for "humiliation, unknown future debility, pain and suffering and emotional distress."

●Prisoners rights are spelled out in what is known as the Duran Consent Decree, the result of a class action suit filed by a prisoner named Duran against then Gov. Jerry Apodaca. The result is contained in a book of 153 pages. It states prisoners rights as decreed by the US District Court. As suspected, inmates have more rights than Americans running loose.

●For example, postage must be furnished inmates who write letters and haven't postage money. For Muslims and Jews, the official menu will be marked to show food that contain pork, pork derivatives, pork by-products, or pork seasoning. Their three meals a day must be nutritionally adequate. Food must be served warm at temperatures of at least 140 F, unless it be cold food in which case food temperature must be served no higher than 45 F. Dishwashing temperature must be at least 180 F. Food service personnel must wear clean white outer garments. Two law libraries, not one, must be supplied inmates. Legal assistants will be trained and paid for at taxpayer expense. Tape players and copy machines must be available; access to a notary public is provided.

●Inmates who are drug abusers, alcoholics, emotionally disturbed, or mentally retarded must be provided with appropriate programs and services. Each cell must be at least 60 square feet and equipped with lavatory with hot and cold running water, flushable toilets, bunk, desk, chair or stool, locker or storage space, natural lighting of at least 30 foot-candle at 30 inches above the floor, ventilation which circulates at least 10 cubic feet of fresh or purified air per minute, acoustics that keep noise levels comfortable (65 decibels during day and 45 decibels at night), mirrors over lavatory; sanitary-type drinking fountain or single service drinking cups for each dormitory. Each prisoner is provided with personal hygiene items, cigarettes or other tobacco, and two clean towels which are exchanged at least twice a week. How are we doing so far?

●A qualified fire safety officer must be on duty at all times. Medical and mental health programs are available, as are vocational training, educational programs, work programs; and any special need must be addressed. The prison educational program must be comparable to that in the state public school system. Inmates must receive adequate medical and dental services. A licensed medical doctor will be on call 24 hours a day. Eyeglasses, dentures and other prosthetic devices must be provided inmates. As must physical therapy, detoxification from alcohol, opioids, stimulants and sedative hypnotic drugs. Special therapeutic diets will be served those in need of it. This goes on for 153 pages.

●Do you, law-abiding citizens of New Mexico, enjoy even a fraction of the above in the land of the free and home of the brave? Do you realize how much the above-listed services would cost in your own life? If you want to improve your quality of life, do as Jimmy Kinslow did. Go out and kill three people, commit rape, get sent to prison where you can enjoy all of the above, including movies, television, recreational programs, all at taxpayers expense.

●Oh, yes. I would be derelict not to mention that Bro. Duran was assisted in his lawsuit against the State of New Mexico by the American Civil Liberties Union.

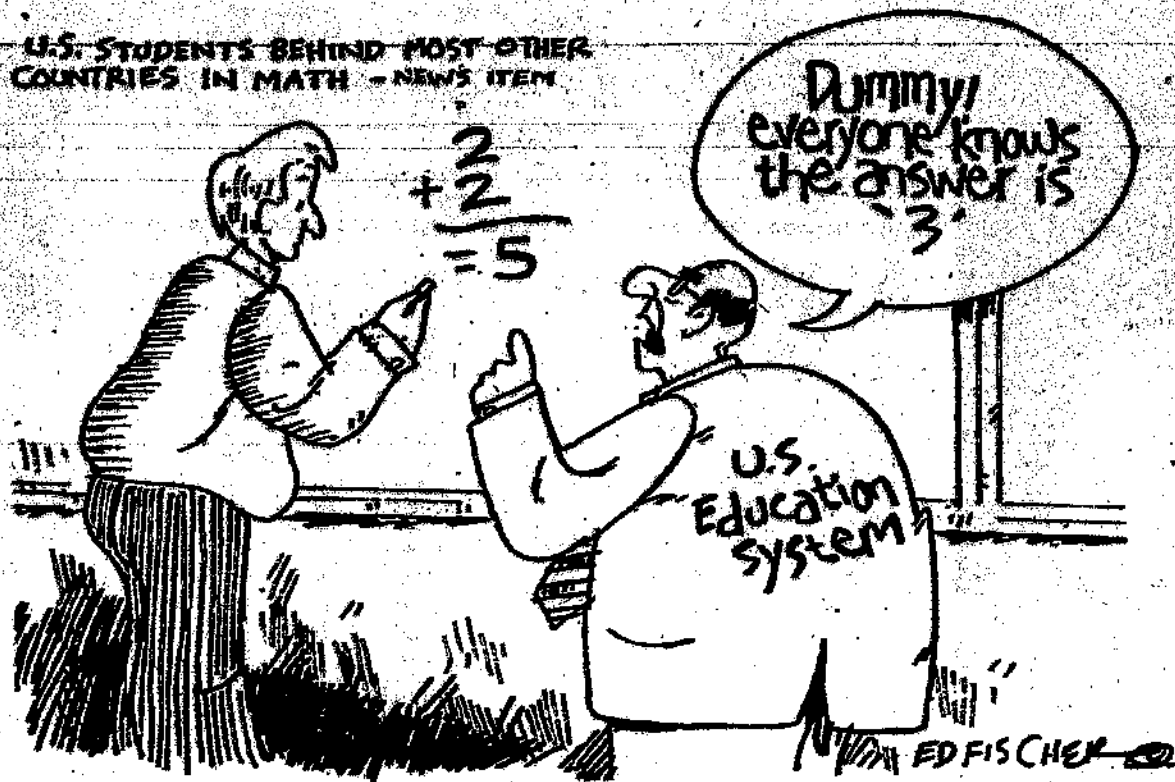

●Preferential treatment for felons isn't just for New Mexico. In South Carolina the other day, a judge summoned soul-singer James Brown from his prison Eden to the judge's chamber so he could sign autographs for the judge's friends.

●If you ever thought of going to heaven, first consider getting sentenced to the federal Pleasanton Correctional Institution (cute name for prison) near Oakland, CA. This "hottly" houses both sexes, and contains almost twice as many women as men. Inmates are not required to work. Flower beds, modern buildings and attractive women are everywhere. Free available services include medical and dental care, tennis courts, swimming pools, gymnasiums, baseball, handball, croquet, movies, concerts, classes in drama, English, math, languages and ballroom dancing. An inmate can do about anything he wants except book a flight to London. And where in London could he find all of the above anyway—free?

●If you are interested in a secure future with all advantages of life's tomorrow amenities, you should consider purchasing something. If you don't have a car, buy a car. If you don't have a house, buy a house. If you don't have a job, get a job. If you're taking a job, you'll have to furnish your own list.

U.S. STUDENTS BEHIND MOST OTHER COUNTRIES IN MATH - NEWS ITEM

Inside The Capitol

By Jay Miller

SANTA FE—There is another Garrey Carruthers veto that isn't making much news statewide, but it is headline material in two or three places.

Gov. Carruthers vetoed the video gaming bill which would have allowed gambling machines in the resorts of Ruidoso, Taos and Angel Fire. Those communities have noticed the veto—and in a big way. A wide cross-section of Ruidoso and Angel Fire residents put forth their biggest lobbying campaigns ever to persuade Carruthers to sign the legislation.

The entire Angel Fire community worked hard on the governor. In Ruidoso, two separate petitions, with several thousand signatures, were delivered to Carruthers. They wanted the governor to know their communities are in an economic slump.

Thousands of letters and phone calls also flooded Carruthers' office and the communities paid special visits to Santa Fe to tell the governor they need a year-round tourist attraction as a boost to their economy. They believed video gaming was just the ticket.

But Carruthers vetoed their bill. He was just not eager to have any more gambling in the state. He had said it last year when he vetoed video gaming in fraternal and veterans' clubhouses. He said at the time that he couldn't see himself ever signing such legislation.

Carruthers worries about the additional underworld activity that always seems to follow an expansion of legalized gambling. He also pointed to federal laws which permit Indian tribes and pueblos to run any kind of gambling operations that are permitted by state law. He said he felt the pueblos around Albuquerque would be the real beneficiaries and that the bill wouldn't accomplish what the communities thought it would.

He ended his veto message by exhorting in full caps THIS DOG WON'T HUNT, a phrase made popular by Texan Ann Richards, the first night's keynote speaker at the Democratic National Convention last summer. Somehow, many residents of the communities felt it was a flippant way of saying, no, to thousands of the governor's constituents.

And in Ruidoso Carruthers has many loyal constituents. Lincoln County is the most Republican county in the state. It is one of two that have more registered Republicans than Democrats. In vetoing their pet bill, Carruthers has put the heads of Ruidoso in the lurch.

In a letter to the editor of the Lincoln County News, a reader asks how Carruthers could veto a bill that would allow gambling machines in Ruidoso and then sign one that extends pari-mutuel wagering to simulcasts of races from tracks around the country even when Ruidoso Downs is closed. Both allow more gambling. The reader ends his letter by saying, "Speaking of hunting dogs, Mr. Governor, you may never get to hunt in Washington, DC."

Before Carruthers puts his political popularity to the test again, however, he has a more immediate problem. He and his wife Kathy will be touring New Mexico soon on a much-publicized spring vacation. The idea is to promote in-state vacations by the citizens of our fair state.

Of course, a governor can't take a vacation like you or me. He must have an advance team tour the state first to set up the trip and make sure everything is to the liking of the governor and his security force.

And the advance team is doing one other thing. It is asking each community to provide free meals and lodging for the First Family. The timing of this request to the Ruidoso Chamber of Commerce couldn't have been worse. It came just after the veto announcement.

Several communities have expressed dismay at the request for freebies. At a press conference last week, Carruthers was asked about the practice. The governor answered that he had no intent to accept complimentary meals and lodging since one of the purposes of his trip was to keep a diary of his expenses so he could let New Mexicans know how much it costs to vacation at home.

It sounds like a good idea, at least when the governor hits Ruidoso. Frankie Jarrell, editor of the Ruidoso News suggests in last Thursday's edition that "the Carruthers entourage might be well-advised to bring a tent and pack a lunch" when they visit Ruidoso.

Scammers steal good credit records, sell to deadbeats

The Better Business Bureau of New Mexico has warned both retailers and consumers about a dangerous new virus-like fraud—"credit doctors"—showing up in communities across the country.

Essentially, "credit doctors" are computerized con artists who steal personal data on people with good credit histories—from local credit bureaus' computer files—and sell it to people with bad credit records.

Companies unwittingly grant credit to these poor risks—and end up footing the bill when a credit applicant stops making payments or vanishes. Innocent people find that they're asked to pay for items they never bought and negative information often goes into their credit records.

The BBB is not aware of any "credit doctors" operating in New Mexico as yet, according to BBB President, Jerry Shipman—but it's only a question of when. Credit scams historically have hit first in Texas and California, but soon move to New Mexico and this particular scam could be very damaging to our community.

Houston, for example, has been hit especially hard. Richard McClain, president of the Better Business Bureau of Metropolitan Houston, says the scam has cost the city's economy millions of dollars.

Automobile dealers are especially vulnerable to the scam—unscrupulous salesmen furnishing "credit doctors" names of "patients" to whom they sell.

dealer sold cars to 93 consumers who had used "credit doctors." The dealer lost more than $1.5 million. Two other dealerships had to be sold because of losses suffered as a result of cars being sold to consumers with false credit histories.

Beyond autos, Houston police have found more than $15 million worth of items obtained by this brand of phoney credit—ranging from small merchandise to homes.

While this scam is first reported from Houston, there are signs that it is spreading into a national scheme.

Here's how the "credit doctors" operate, according to McClain: First they swipe or buy code numbers merchants use to get access to computers maintained in local credit bureaus. Credit files of consumers in other cities can also be accessed.

Unscrupulous people who wish to get credit by any means hear about a "credit doctor" from a friend or salesperson and they, "the patients," make the contact.

The "doctor" accesses the credit bureau files and manipulates them until he finds a name similar to that of the patient. When he finds a similar name with a favorable credit history, he illegally appropriates the information—including the social security number, the job history, and the credit history—and sells the information to "the patient."

Finally, the "doctors" teach the "patients" how to fill out credit forms they submit to lending institutions. Charges by such "patient cars" usually run from $500 to $1,000.

Programs set for Buzzard Days

Boy Scout Troop 153, under direction of Scoutmaster Dave Vermillion, will present colors followed by the singing of the national anthem at 9 a.m. Saturday, May 13, to open the 8th annual Buzzard Days at the Carrizozo Country Club.

The troop will conduct the youth activities on Saturday which include kite flying, frisbee throw, gunny sack and 3-leg races. The fishing derby is dependent on the water temperature in the lake and is sponsored by the New Mexico Game & Fish Department.

Prizes will be awarded for all events, as well as for poster making by the art classes of Polly Chavez.

The Buzzard Ringers, Eileen Serna, president, have again organized the popular horseshoe tournament which attracts contestants from throughout the state. "President Bush Amateurs" are encouraged to participate.

Ted Turnbow has announced a "Buzzard Day Scramble" at the Carrizozo Golf Course 10 a.m. on Saturday with teams of four persons asked to register by the May 5 deadline. Phone 648-2451 for information.

Bud Payne is sponsoring rattlesnake races at 2 p.m. Sunday, to be held within the horseshoe arena enclosure.

In honor of Mother's Day, there will be worship service and special music on Sunday morning at 10 a.m., and children are encouraged to buy their mom's gifts at the booths and treat them to the "buzzard dinner." Booth spaces include food and beverage, snow cones, jewelry, arts and crafts, stamps and coins, novelty buttons, old magazines and books, quilt displays, and the Zia Seniors have a raffle on a victorian doll house.

Entertainment at the Buzzard Band Stand features the Flying J Ranch western music on Saturday afternoon, square dancing, and walk-on fiddlers. Glen Ellison, organizer, encourages professional and amateur entertainers to participate on both Saturday and Sunday.

Pancake breakfasts will be served at the Senior Citizens Center from 7 to 11 a.m. both days in order to catch early participants in the horseshoe tournament, and the general public is welcome.

Volunteer participation and donations for all categories is welcomed for this annual community event. Please contact Eileen Serna, 648-2191, or Dorothy Forsythe, 648-2116.

George can't be here

Eileen Serna, president of the Carrizozo Buzzard Ringers, received a letter from the White House recently.

Serna had invited President and Mrs. Bush to attend the Buzzard Days celebration to be held at the Carrizozo Country Club May 13-14.

The letter from Joseph W. Hagin II, deputy assistant to the president for appointments and scheduling, states: "On behalf of the President and Mrs. Bush, thank you for your recent invitation. You were very kind to extend this opportunity to the President and First Lady. I regret to write that, due to already heavily committed schedules, they will be unable to accept your invitation. However, they asked me to convey to you their best wishes and appreciation for your thoughtfulness."

The best way to control the problem is through local businesses. May companies granting credit to consumers don't make an effort to verify whether the personal information on a customer's application is actually the applicant's.

When granting credit, businesses should compare the name and the birth date on the applicant driver's license with the information on the application and on the credit bureau report. They should also take the time to confirm the employment history.

CAPITAN NEWS

By Margaret Rench

All of last week there was a very cold wind. Two nights it was 4 to 6 above zero by 7:30 a.m. Monday morning we awakened to clouds and dampness with meadow-larks and robins singing. It felt so good, just like spring. But by noon clear skies and sunshine and now an added breeze of coldness.

The track meet held in Capitan Saturday was a success. One outstanding feature was Roxianne Coons (Pee Wee) a junior who ran the two mile with the seniors and came in first. She is now eligible for state in Albuquerque, May 7-8. She could win there. Good work, Pee Wee.

The Rusty Anchor sponsors the ladies bowling team Monday nights. Those in the team are Bonnie McEuen, Marla Renfro, Mary Allen, and Darlene Bobb. They won first place for the 1988-89 season.

The team roping was held at the fairgrounds Saturday. The entertainment meeting for the Junior Rodeo Club will be held there next Thursday, May 5.

There will be a 4-H Rodeo held in Roy, NM May 6-7. The Capitan chapter will attend.

The Capitan High School gym was beautifully decorated last Friday for the Junior-Senior Prom held Saturday night. The boys wore gray tuxedos and the girls wore their evening gowns. Dinner at 7 p.m. was catered by the Blue Goose. Nita Hale was Queen and John Watson King. Their dance was held in their gym afterward. They celebrated all night and had breakfast at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Cox. It was a lovely affair and they were a happy group.

The Smokey Bear Museum had 505 registered visitors last week. For the month of April there were 2279. On the 30th, 24 children with four adults and their bus driver from Tree Tops School in the Dallas-Fort Worth area visited there.

The Smokey Bear Museum and State Park will be featured on Channel 11 this year during the racing season, every race day at 6:30 p.m. and 7:30 p.m. and 8:30 p.m. for 230 days.

NOTICE TO PROPERTY OWNERS OF LINCOLN COUNTY PROPERTY TAXES DUE

Notice is hereby given that 1988 property taxes became due November 30, 1988 and will become delinquent December 11, 1988. Taxes may be paid in full by December 10, 1988, or in two equal installments, with the second half becoming due April 10, 1989 and delinquent if not paid by May 10, 1989.

Pursuant to Section 7-31-50 of the New Mexico Property Tax Code, a minimum penalty of five dollars ($5.00) of one percent per month must be charged on all delinquent taxes, and pursuant to Section 7-31-49, one percent per month must be collected on all delinquent accounts.

Owners of personal property such as mobile homes or office equipment, who have allowed taxes to become delinquent more than two years will be served with a demand warrant for collection of these delinquent taxes, pursuant to Section 7-38-53 of New Mexico Statutes Annotated 1978, if delinquent taxes are not paid in full.

Pursuant to Section 7-38-53, property taxes are the personal obligation of the owner of the property and the sale or transfer of property within that tax year does not relieve the former owner of personal liability for property taxes in that year. Failure to receive a bill is not sufficient cause to seek to have property and interest waived.

Should you have questions concerning your property taxes, please contact the Lincoln County Treasurer's Office at 525-5257 or 525-5258.

vs. THOMAS SIDNEY ORR, SUSAN ANN ORR and LEWIS BLACKWELL, Defendants.

NOTICE OF SUIT

TO: THOMAS SIDNEY ORR and SUSAN ANN ORR, Defendants against whom constructive service of process by publication is sought to be obtained.

You are hereby notified that an action has been commenced against you in the above-entitled court and cause by the above-named plaintiff, the objects of which are to recover upon Promissory Notes and to foreclose real estate Mortgages given to secure the Promissory Notes covering real property located in Lincoln County, New Mexico.

It is alleged in the Complaint that the defendants Thomas Sidney Orr and Susan Ann Orr executed and delivered to Community Bank & Trust Co., Enid, Oklahoma, two Promissory Notes, one dated September 29, 1982, for loan in the principal sum of $55,000.00, payable 180 days after date with interest at a floating rate, initially 4% per annum, and a Promissory Note dated November 19, 1982, for loan in the principal sum of $62,000.00, payable March 28, 1983, with interest at a variable rate, initially 14% per annum.

It is further alleged that defendants Thomas Sidney Orr and Susan Ann Orr, in order to secure the indebtedness due and owing upon the two Promissory Notes, executed and delivered two real estate Mortgages, one dated September 29, 1982, filed October 15, 1982, in the office of the County Clerk of Lincoln County, New Mexico, Receipt No. 78455 and recorded in Book 308 at pages 467 and 458 of the Records of Lincoln County, and the second dated November 19, 1982, filed November 29, 1982, in the Office of the Lincoln County Clerk of Lincoln County, New Mexico, Receipt No. 79225, recorded in Book 109 at pages 144 and 145 of the Records of Lincoln County. Both Mortgages created liens upon real property located in Lincoln County described as Lot 23, Block 13 of Unit 2 of Black Forest subdivision as shown on the plat filed with the Lincoln County Clerk May 8, 1972.

It is alleged that payments upon both Promissory Notes are in default and that there is presently due and owing upon the Promissory Note dated September 29, 1982, the total sum of $115,418.25 including interest accrued to March 10, 1989, with interest accruing after that date at a daily rate of 17% per annum or $27.01 per day, and upon the Promissory Note dated November 19, 1982, the total sum of $121,857.66, including interest accrued to March 10, 1989, with interest accruing after that date at a daily rate of 17% per annum or $29.73 per day. In addition, plaintiff seeks the recovery of all of its costs and expenses of collection including its reasonable attorney fees incurred in maintaining the foreclosure action. By reason of the default, plaintiff claims that they are entitled to judgment upon the Promissory Notes and to a judgment foreclosing the real estate Mortgages securing the Notes and ordering the property described therein sold in accordance with law.

You are further notified that unless you enter or cause to be entered your appearance in said cause on or before the 28th day of June, 1989, judgment will be rendered against you by default and the relief prayed for in the Complaint will be granted.
