Landowners see proposed zoning as a threat to their property

By Doris Cherry

"Ruidoso is not concerned with what happens to Lincoln County," said Carl Ducept, a county landowner and visitor at the regular meeting of the board of Lincoln County Commissioners to live in the county, not in Carrizozo Monday.

Ducept and Howard expressed their concern about the proposed threemile expansion of the area. Extraterritorial Zone (ETZ) during the audience participation segment of an otherwise routine county meeting.

The men said they chose Ruidoso, and are concerned the village will use the ETZ Puckett, both landowners in as a step to annexing the the Eagle Creek area, properties in the three-mile zone. Eagle Creek falls within the proposed expansion

Ducept was mainly concerned the expansion proposal will go through due process without the public being well enough informed about what might happen to their properties if it is accepted. He accused the local media of presenting "propaganda" supported by special interest conduct public hearings to number of years in other airport away" last year to groups and not what affects Lincoln County as a whole.

"We don't know what is happening," Ducept said. Board chairman Karon

Petty told Ducept the county directed Ruidoso to write an ordinance and prepare maps which will indicate which areas are to be included in the expansion. After this is accomplished the county will collect opinions about the proposal.

"I have people who like the idea." Petty said.

report on the proceedings of county meetings. Ducept replied the articles may be accurate but "sociological aspects" of the reporting reflect partisan feelings promoted by certain newspapers.

Petty cut the discussion short when she said "there is a better time to discuss" ETZ and she told the men to keep up with Ruidoso's actions.

Commissioners Petty and Bob Hemphill, Rick Simpson was absent, also approved a remodeling project at the county jail upon Sheriff James McSwane's request. He said the communications area of the jail was badly designed and in need of improvement to give extra space for attorney-prisoner conference rooms and to better provide security to his dispatch officers.

After Petty questioned if the sheriff and deputies could do the remodeling as they are not licensed contractors, McSwane said he wanted to keep his costs to a minimum by using his deputies' volunteer labor but he would contact the building inspector to assure the job is performed properly. He said there are enough funds in the jail line item to remodel.

County attorney Bob Beauvais agreed the sheriff's department needs space reorganization and said there are no restrictions on the construction when it does not concern jails which do not incarcarate juveniles. "It is not a very good situation," he said about the current space. McSwane said the jail currently does not comply to state penal regulations.

"I feel capable to supervise and meet the standards," McSwane said.

Officer charged with harassment; plans made to clean up the town

Trustees concluded its regular meeting Tuesday with a closed session which lasted two hours and 15 minutes to conduct an official police hearing concerning a formal complaint of harassment by a village policeman.

A formal letter of complaint from attorney Gary C. Mitchell on behalf of Carrizozo resident Sandra Morales stated Carrizozo policeman Rick Emmons and Lincoln County Deputy Gilbert Archuleta consistently tailed her vehicle for no apparent reason. The letter requested the officers stop tailing Morales.

Hemphill also said Emmons' police car had unusual headlight settings which made them appear brighter than normal. Emmons reportedly corrected these.

Beauvais read a memo he prepared establishing officers' responsibilities. Officers are charged to uphold the laws of the state and the Town of Carrizozo. Power comes from the police chief, or the officers' own initiative in only two situations: when there is probable cause and an on-going investigation.

Hemphill then instructed Emmons to be very careful not to infringe on the civil rights of any citizens of Carrizozo, but for citizens to expect officers to stop them if there is probable cause of breaking the law. "Not at any time are you,

The People for Kids Halloween Carnival scheduled for Oct. 28 has been cancelled. The mayor pro-. claimed Saturday as the official trick or treat night. So beware of goblins and witches.

Commissioners approved the request provided the remodel meets the standard building code for penal institutions and falls within the budget.

"It's long overdue," Hem phill said.

Also Monday, Pappas said the search for a new landfill remains a priority He contacted the state land office and found acreage appropriate for another landfill near the existing site on Fort Stanton mesa. Pappas favored the site because of its proximity, to Ruidoso.

Petty was not worried about Ruidoso as the village will do what is most economically sensible. She encouraged securing the site before that village makes an agreement with Roswell for solid waste disposal.

At Petty's direction, Pappas will contact county engineer Joe Shain to research the site and seek permission from the state land office to make core drills to determine whether it will meet EID standards.

Pappas also reported the need for a counthouse annex is vital as he fears Judge Richard Parsons might sue the county for additional space for the district court. He requested permission to meet with the Carrizozo Village Council to discuss rental of the old municipal building located south of the county courthouse for the additional space.

Petty suggested the county offer $1 a year lease. and improvements, which may be utilized later by the senior citizens centor located the statement and Chief Morales agreed to the warning if Emmons follows the chain of command.

The trustees began their meeting at the regular time with only Albert Baca, Dale LaMay and Mayor Hemphill present. The two did not constitute a quorum, but Hemphill began the meeting as he said trustee Harold Garcia would arrive later.

After trustee Harold Garcia arrived at 7 p.m. the board began to take action.

Kevin Powers of the bonding company of Eppler. Guerin and Turner presented information concerning the sale of bonds based on gross receipt tax revenues, in order to purchase solid waste removal equipment.

Hemphill said he inquired about the bond because of the steadily increasing fees from the private solid waste removal contractor.

We feel we're at at the mercy of the contractor," Hemphill said. He did acknowledge the contractors' services were excellent.

Powers said the bond is the most common way New Mexico municipalities finance capital improvements.

The Carrizozo Concerned Committee waited until the board finished their business to present their proposals.

Committee member Joe Hooten said the town and business people of the community need to be aware of the impression created as #### visitors drive through the town. He warned the town could lose its most valuable assets, the school and county courthouse, if villagers and business people do not take interest in creating a better image. Hemphill said he met with Hooten and agreed the first place to start on village improvements is along 12th St. and Central Avenue, the main business section of town.

Beauvais said this would not constitute discrimination if it is a part of an overall plan for town improvements. "It is a logical place to start," he said.

Hemphill asked the committee to contact the businesses on those streets to get board: opinion before any punitive action is taken.

"You want us to prepare the way for you to take legal action," committee member Dorothy Forsythe asked.

But Hemphill did not commit the town to such, except in the case of the burned Prehm building, about which the first legal steps are being taken. He added he is in the process of getting main street improvements from the state highway department. The improvements will be similar QUESTION: 1 plan to buy a larger home. Do you have any advice on the merits of selling versus centing out our present home?

ANSWER: I would strongly consider selling over renting. To keep the house rented, you'll have to pay advertising costs or fees to a broker. Maintenance costs take a bite out of rental income, Each time there is a turnover the house will have to be cleaned and redecorated. A vacancy can result in a loss that could take years to recover. OPINION

• One of the things I like about a newspaper is the letters-to-the-editor department. There you find out what readers really think about current issues, uncolored by reportorial or editorial restraint. Right or wrong, they say what they think. Letters are the best-read part of any newspaper, aside from the front page, because people want to know what other people think, not just what an editor thinks. I was surprised that more people don't write letters to this newspaper No more. People think they can get into trouble writing a controversial letter to the editor, and that's true. Criticize a local patron or designated honcho and somebody can lose a job. If the writer isn't a town or county employee he stands a better chance of surviving a letter to the editor. But nearly everybody works for these two entities, or has a relative who does, and the relative can easily lose his or her job. This is why we get a lot of good letters with the admonishment, "Don't print my name." So we don't print the letters at all. It is patently unfair to ask the editor to take the risk while the "culprit" goes his merry way. Some of the finest letters go unpublished because of the request for anonymnity. . D.

 One letter asks why Corina Chavez, a woman with the only college education among deputies in the Lincoln County Sheriff's Department, and a graduate of the New Mexico Police Academy, was fired shortly before her probation period, without any explanation, and replaced as a deputy by the then dogcatcher. We can't publish the letter but we can investigate the incident, and we will.

An Alamogordo reader wrote an anonymous letter chastizing me for not supporting abortion rights for women. Frankly, madam, I don't give a damn whether you slaughter your child or not. What I object to is your option to do the slaughtering then send me the bill for it. You bawl that you want control over your own body, which you sure as hell had when you became pregnant. I support control over your own body. Chop your arm off for all I care. But when you exercise control over my pucketbook to pay for your abortion I get pretty mad. This whole issue of abortion has little to do with abortion. What the issue is: does the mindless out-of-control female who invites pregnancy entitled to having her abortion paid for by taxpayers of this country. Where is the taxpayers' responsibility in paying for the irresponsibility of pregnant women? If the woman victim isn't responsible, why must I be? Women allegedly want control over the bodies; I want control over my pocketbook. So the bruhaha is simply this — who pays for the uncon-trolled control of your body? The woman bought the iden, so she pays for it. I do make one concession. If the woman's life is at stake, or if she is a victim of rape or incest, I'll help with the bill. No other exceptions.

A local reader (no name again) wants to know why the soldiers from Ft. Bliss haven't been arrested for drunk driving, vehicular manslaughter. open containers, etc. The recent rearend crash that killed a baby and seriously injured the mother appears to have been swept under the rug. This newspaper can't get anybody to talk about the matter. Those men are running loose. Better your letter should have gone to the sheriff's department, highway patrol or district attorney. But we'll keep trying to uncover what happened and why those men are not being prosecuted or courtmartialed.

SANTA FE-Saturday is a major occasion in the economic life of the City of Artesia.

Oct. 21 is the dedication of the Federal Law Enforcement Training Center-Artesia. It is expected to bring as many as 4,000 federal agents each year to the town of 13,000. That will bring jobs and a shot in the arm to the economy of southeastern New Mexico.

"It has kind of given us new life after we had the oil crunch and things went downhill," Mayor Ernest Thompson says. Workers from the Artesia community have been renovating the campus of what once was the College of Artesia. a liberal arts school that went out of business in 1971 after five years operation. In 1975, the property again became the site of an institution of higher learning when Artesia Christian College opened. But it closed in 1985 and again the campus was empty. Time passed, and Mayor Thompson decided that if anything were ever going to happen with the property, the city would hve to be the prime mover. He began a simultaneous quest to find a user for the education institation and to drum up a combination of public and private money to buy the property. After months of negotiating, the college foundation to agreed to sell its campus for $500,000, a fraction of its original cost. The city council pledged $250,000. The Eddy County Commission came through with another $50,000. Local oilman Peyton Yates put together a group of 30 to 35 private contributors that raised the remaining $200,000. Then began the hardest part-finding a buyer. Mayor Thompson contacted every state and federal agency that might have a need for a training facility. The Artesia legislative delegation introduced measures to relocate the New Maxico Law Enforcement suits, fingerprinting, inter-Academy from Santa Fe to Artesia.

come the resistance of the Santa Fe County legislative delegation. It was during that conflict that Santa Fe Mayor Sam Pick made his oft-quoted comment "I've always heard that if you know you only have one year to live, move to Alamogordo and it'll seem like an eternity.*

Having no luck at the state level, Artesia set its sight on the federal government. They got US Sen. Pete Domenici to come down and take a look. Domenici pledged to help find a use for the property. Soon various federal agencies were coming to town to inspect the facility.

But Artesia ran into the same trouble it had encountered at the state level. Glynco, GA was the headquarters for federal law enforcement training and it wanted to keep everything to itself. Domenici decided he would have to go the legislative route.

Artesia will soon become one of the few towns where citizens will love seeing federal agents swarming all over, They will be a sign of economic help for this depressed oil patch.

Artesia is another example of a New Mexico community that faced adversity by uniting to find a solution to its problem. It took many people's time and moneyand some risk.

Thompson, Domenici, Yatesa and the good people of Artesia deserve our admiration for helping themselves and at the same time enriching their region and the entire state.

US taxpayers to bail out Gorby

EDITOR-Russian con man Mikhail Gorbachev has asked the US Congress to loan the Soviet Union money to bail out his country's ailing economy; and the liberals in Congress want you taxpayers to guarantee the loans. This way, the taxpayers will pay back the liberal banks (who rushed to make the loans to the communists) if the Russians fail to do so..

The Russians have reneged on their loans many times. So we taxpayers will have to bail out the liberal banks.

The liberals (traitors) in Congress are in favor of this shamefaced deal. The communists will use the money to further build up their massive military strength at our texpayers' expense. Our massive federal deficit will be increased to help them. The shameful liberal Democrate in Congress are in favor of this dangerous deal, while they want to cut our defenses. This traitorous deal must he stopped. The security of our country is at stake.

> MINNIE B. MEHRTEN, Clements, CA.

Reject Soviet refugees

EDITOR-The Bush Administration is pushing for a huge increase in the number of Soviet "refugees" admitted to the US annually.

We are being set up for another fiasco like that which accompanied President Carter's Mariel boat lift. Among the 100,000 refugees who fied Cuba in that chaotic mass exodus were thousands of the most vicious and depraved criminals from Castro's prisons, as well as highly trained Communist agents who are now "in place" in this country. The INS has neither the manpower nor the investigative capabalities to carry out the proper security checks on large numbers of communistbloc aliens.

A lengthy article in the June 4, 1989 issue of the New York Times gives us some ideas of what we might expect. Under the headline, "Soviet Emigre Outlaws Fusing Into a New Mob," the story begun: A criminal underworld of Soviet emigres, some of them skilled in white-collar crime and hardened by Soviet prisons and labor camps, is reaching beyond its base in Brooklyn, using extortion and violence in its own neighborhoods and engaging in multi-million dollar racketeering schemes on an international scale."

As in the past, the vast majority of those seeking to leave the USSR are Soviet Jews. President Bush and many members of congress are saying that since the Soviet Union is showing extraordinary openness in allowing these people to leave, the US must respond in kind by welcoming and absorbing them. There are a number of things wrong with this argu-ment, not the least of which is that Soviet Jews have the option of emgirating to Israel, where they are desperately wanted to offset the burgeoning Arab population. The US is under no obligation to satisfy the preferences of all would-be immigrants and refugees, especially when

• A Socorro reader says congressmen should receive higher salaries, and that I am being unfair when I suggest not allowing any one of them to serve more than two terms. Considering what congress is doing, they are already overpaid. Their salaries are a mere pittence of what they get. Currently, the scendalized congress is running a whorehouse out of the base. ment of the Rayhurn House Office Building in Washington where they can indulge in carnal pleasures of the flesh in posh surroundings they call a gym. The "gym" has a paid staff that costs taxpayers like you $220,000 a year. For all these niceties, congressmen pay a membership fee of $25 a year. You can't join the Valley of Fires Lions Club in Carrizozo for that annual fee.

Aside from the $89,500 salary for compresemen, a complimentary whorehouse, unlimited variations around the world and a hundred other perks they have voted for themselves, there is the matter of segressional pensions. The moment Oliver North was found guilty he last his $23,100 a year pension. This does not apply to congressmen convicted of felony. Sen. Herrison Williams (D-NJ) was expelled from the Senate in 1981 after being convicted for bribery. Since he was thrown out, he has collected more than $300,000 in pension money. Frank Thempson (D-NJ) has been paid more than $160,000 for being a crock. John Murphy (D-MY) will have ressived more than $350,000 by the and of this year for his conviction in the Abacaen case. In June 1988 Domenici was successful in tacking a $7 million amendment onto the general appropriations bill for purchase and renovation of the Artesia facility for use as a satellite of the Federal Law Enforcement Training Center. Three months later the bill was passed by both houses and signed by Pres. Ronald Reagan. During the quick journey of the legislation through Congress, Domenici and Rep. Joe Skeen, who both served on key committees, were able to turn the officials of the Georgia facility into allies, Glynco and Artesia have developed a close and hospitable relationship as the two locations cooperate to make the New Mexico satellite into the most efficient operation possible.

Officials expect the Artesia campus to accommodate 150 agents at a time for courses ranging from a week to 11 weeks in firearms, investigative techniques, physical education, driver training for high-speed purviewing, computer operation and human relations skills.

When the center hits full stride, it is expected to bring 120 to 130 jobs to the som-

Kate McGraw, who writes the column "Capitol Comments" recalled that she met Al Romero when he was with the Local Government Division and she was reporting the city beat for the Alamogordo Daily News. It was McGraw's first experience with how city budgets are written in New Mexico. She stepped on some toes when she inquired, persistently, why the commission had put $40,000 (at that time, nearly three percent of the city's total annual budget) under a separate category called "Miscellaneous," What's it for? McGraw wanted to know. Miscellaneous what?

McGraw said that it made then-Mayor Mike Glover so mad, he called up the paper and told McGraw's bouses they should fire that bosses they should firs that "questioning-troublemaker-who-does-she-think-she-is." Just another excessively polite state bureaucrat, McGraw thought.

Romero smiled, he shook hands with everyone, he talked about how wonderful it was to be in Alamogordo again, he compared notes on the difficulties of selling bonds that year and then they all genially settled down to discuss the budget.

Your budget looks very complete, very practical and well-organized," Romero told the smiling commissioners. "I just have one question. "What the devil is this

Opinion . . . (Con't from P; 4)

The average American dreams of earning $1 million in a lifetime of work. But, according to a study made by the National Taxpayers Union, nearly half the retired members of congress will collect more than $1. million in pension benefits over the course of their lives. Former House Speaker Thomas P. O'Neill Jr., who recently retired from congress, will received another $1 million if he lives to be 87, and he's almost there. So don't give me that crap about congressmen being underpaid, If they were, in their own opinions, underpaid—why do they work so hard to be re-elected? And if congressmen are underpaid, why are there so many candidates for those jobs?

PROCLAMATION

Whereas, the Federal Bureau of Investigation reports have shown that pornography is the third highest source of income for organized crime and the modium through which they launder the profits of their illegal drug operations; and

Whereas, the United States Supreme Court has ruled "that obscenity is not within the area of constitutionally protected speech or press," and in a 1973 decision said: "The sum of experience, including that of the past two decades, affords an ample basis for legislators to conclude that a sen-. sitive key relationship of human experience, central to family life, community welfare, and the development of human personality. can be abused and distorted by crass commercial exploitation of sex": and

Whereas, children especially have been victimized by the effects of pornography, as increasing numbers of them suffer the pain and humiliation of incest, molestation, rape, child pornography, child abuse, and murder; and .

Whereas, never before in the history of civilization has pornography been so readily available to all segments of society, entering every home in some form - either through books, magazines, radio, telephone, television (commercial, cable, or satellite), audio cassettes, video cassettes, records, or computers; and

Whereas, our Federal Government has established a National Obscenity Enforcement Unit to combat this plague across the nation and needs the support of citizens since all laws are based on community standards;

Now, therefore, I, Robert E. Hemphill, Mayor of the Town of Carrizozo, New Mexico, do hereby proclaim the week of October 29. 1989, through November 5, 1989, تلوا
