County commissioners

Area organizes to oppose Tribe's water rights appeal

By Ruth Hammond

Roads and water were discussed at the Feb. 13 Lincoln County Commission meeting.

Hubert Quintana, director of the Water Defense Association (WDA), presented an executed copy of the joint powers agreement between Lincoln County, Chaves County and the New Mexico Department of Finance and Administration, local government division.

The agreement provides for the administration and use of $225,000 appropriated for hydrological studies and technical and legal services in preparation of the appeal of the water rights decision.

Quintana said the Mesquero Apache Tribe has not filed an appeal at this time but the announcement has been made that the Tribe will appeal the decision.

The Tribe had asked for 17,931.7 acre-feet of water a year from the Hondo basin and Retired Supreme Court Justice LaFel Oman's decision on Jan. 26 was to provide the Tribe with 1,372.4 acre-feet annually for existing uses and 950 acre-feet annually for growth.

Quintana asked for and received from the commissioners, a letter of concurrence with Chaves County asking DFA to waive the requirement concerning advertising for an attorney.

Quintana said the attorney who has worked on the case understands the case and is certified to practice before the US Supreme Court. Quintana said that advertising for an attorney could delay the process of preparing for the appeal.

Road business included a request from road superintendent Tommy Hall to temporarily hire Ed Lundquist as mechanic until the county can advertise for the position. The commissioners agreed.

Commissioners accepted the recommendation of the road review committee to deny a request to vacate county roads E-015 and F-003. These roads provide the only access to BLM land.

The Sandia Court Road located in block 4, between tracts three and four and tract five in the Capitan North Subdivision was vacated.

Action was tabled concerning opening a portion of Forest Road 9012-A.

The road review committee of Leota Pfingsten, Patsy Sanchez and Bill Rawlins was appointed to review a request to open roads east of Corona.

A resolution concerning work on the Bonito Lake road will be presented at the Feb. 27 meeting.

Commissioners discussed the Sierra Blanca Access Road. The contractor plans to begin work March 15, weather permitting, and complete the work by May 12. The commissioners had toured the road with state highway department officials, the contractor, engineer, and a representative from the company conducting the core drilling. Problem spots in the road will be corrected prior to acceptance.

Liquor license fees were designated. County fees will be $400 for dispenser's license, $25 for club license, $250 for retailer's license, $250 for canopy license, $250 for restaurant license and special permits will be $10 per day.

The resolution certifying the county has 1,380.29 miles of public roads maintained by the county was approved. This includes 304.52 miles in subdivisions.

Pat Hume, John White and Noema Page were appointed to the Board of Registration. Opal Mills was appointed alternate. State statutes require the appointments be made at the first county commission meeting in February in each odd-numbered year.

Voting machine technician contracts were signed with J.N. McDaniel, Paul Bace, and Joe Gestig. McDaniel has been a voting machine technician for Lincoln County for more than 25 years.

Capitan adopts fire department bylaws

By Bartley McDonough

Bylaws for the Capitan Volunteer Fire Department came up for discussion once again at Monday night's meeting of the Capitan Village Council.

This discussion centered around loaning fire department property such as tables and chairs for private purposes. State law says that public equipment cannot be used for private purposes.

Fire department spokesman Jimmy Wright said that tables and chairs had been loaned out on occasion for weddings but that nothing else had been loaned out in this manner.

Eventually a paragraph was deleted and language recommended by village attorney Don Dutton added.

A motion by trustee David Rouleau to adopt the bylaws received a second. On a roll call vote, trustees Myrl Ray, Jack Pogue, Norman Renfro and Dr. David Rouleau voted in the affirmative, and bylaws were finally adopted by the council.

Mayor Benny Coker told those present that he had recently had been elected chairman of the Southeastern New Mexico Economic Development District (SENMEDD). Coker told those who elected him that he would reach out and get as much as he can for the village of Capitan. The SENMEDD consists of 27 communities in five counties.

Dorothy Smith questioned the holiday schedule. Smith felt that placing the holidays commemorating the birthdays of Washington and Lincoln during a month other than February is wrong. The holiday schedule was adopted.

Coker appointed Dr. Bernhard Reimann and Dick Beck to the planning and zoning committee. Coker also appointed trustee Rouleau to oversee the village safety board.

Police Chief Randy Spears said a new Chevrolet Caprice had been purchased through the state purchasing agency, saving the Village of Capitan over a thousand dollars.

The village is going out for sealed bids which will be opened at the March 13 meeting of the council. The minimum bid on a dump truck is $1,200 and the minimum bid on a pickup is $500.

Resolution 89-2, a line item increase of $5,000 for professional services, was adopted by the council.

Coker proclaimed the month of February as American History Month.

The open meetings act was adopted. This was amended to read: advance notice for a regular meeting will be three days; advance notice for a special meeting will be 72 hours; advance notice for an emergency meeting will be as much time as possible under the circumstances.

Lincoln Cablevision was represented by Paul Crown. Crown told the council that it is no longer necessary to get the council's approval for rate changes.

Crown said his rate for ESPN had more than doubled in the last two years. Channel 14 out of Albuquerque (Fox Network) should be back on Channel 12 in Capitan in about three weeks. It takes 16 antennas to pick up the Fox Network. Station WOR should be back on Channel 13 by Feb. 15.

"I can only transmit what I receive," Crown said. It was learned that more stations are in the works.

A special meeting of the water board was held Tuesday morning. The media in the filter plant will be tested and a decision made as to what type of media will be

Bomb threat closes school

The threat of a bomb in the school forced the closing of Carrizozo Schools Monday.

A male caller said there was a bomb in the school. A thorough search of the buildings was made following dismissal of classes, but nothing was found.

Students will be required to make up the missed day at a time to be scheduled. School Supt. Danny Burnett offered a $100 reward for information about the male who called in the threat.

The bomb squad from Holloman Air Force Base was contacted, but apparently did not show up.

Sheriff's posse to organize

The Lincoln County Sheriff's Posse will officially form Feb. 25 at 4 p.m. at the Elk's Lodge in Ruidoso.

Election of officers and voting on proposed bylaws will be on the agenda.

Memberships will be $10 per year. All memberships accepted and paid at the Feb. 25 meeting will be considered charter members. Everyone interested in joining the sheriff's posse is invited to attend.

A meeting to prepare the proposed bylaws will be held Feb. 18 at 4 p.m. at Elk's Lodge in Ruidoso.

County, city offices to be closed Friday

Lincoln County offices in the courthouse in Carrizozo and the Carrizozo City Hall will be closed Friday morning from 8 a.m. to noon to allow employees to attend the funeral services of Marian Schlarb.

The county assessor's office will remain closed all day. Mrs. Schlarb had been tax assessor and deputy assessor for Lincoln County since 1953.

Marian Schlarb is dead at 70

Marian Louise Schlarb, 70, died at her home in Carrizozo Feb. 14 following a lengthy illness.

Graveside services will be held Friday, Feb. 17, at 10 a.m. at Evergreen Cemetery in Carrizozo with Rev. John Torrison officiating.

A resident of Carrizozo since 1945, Mrs. Schlarb served as Lincoln County Tax Assessor and deputy assessor since 1953.

She was born May 5, 1918 in Orange, CA. She married Fred Schlarb on May 3, 1941 in Wilson, KS. He preceded her in death on March 13, 1956.

Mrs. Schlarb was a member of the Carrizozo Chamber of Commerce, Federated Republican Women of Lincoln County, the Methodist Church and a past member of the Rebekah Lodge and the Carrizozo Woman's Club.

She is survived by two sons, Charles and Robert of Carrizozo; three daughters, Betty Payton and Mary Hernandez of Carrizozo and Frances Horton of Yorktown, VA; one brother, Charles Miller of Gypsum, KS; 13 grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

Funeral arrangements were by LaGrange Funeral Chapel.

Two requests for CDBG applications

Lincoln County received two requests for applications for the Community Development Block Grant Program. The requests were submitted Monday during the first of three hearings for public input.

Monica O'Reilly, representing Environmental Action Group Loving Earth (EAGLE) in Ruidoso, asked the commissioners to apply for a $25,000 grant to be used for a feasibility study regarding the recycling of solid waste in the county.

"Shortly, legislation will mandate that municipalities and counties recycle much of their solid waste," O'Reilly said. "We think it would benefit the county to prepare for this eventuality. We think that it would also be beneficial to investigate the feasibility of locating some industry related to recycling in Lincoln County, especially since there is a railroad in Carrizozo."

Hal Sims of Carrizozo asked commissioners to apply for a $25,000 grant for a feasibility study for locating a state tourist information center in Carrizozo.

There are tourist information centers at ports of entry in the state and Sims said Carrizozo would be a good location for another tourist information center because of the traffic on Highways 54 and 380.

Carlsbad, Elephant Butte and other areas in the state would benefit because travellers could get information about places to see and be given information on routes to take.

Eligible funding categories for the CDBG include community infrastructure, housing, public service capital outlay, economic development, emergency and planning.

Both requests received are in the planning category. The grant assistance from CDBG, if received, may be used for development of a comprehensive community development plan, data gathering and special studies, base mapping, aerial photography, development of a local statement of objectives, development of indi-

New EDC executive director outlines economic goals

George Puckett, executive director for the Economic Development Corporation of Lincoln County (EDC/LC), was guest speaker at the Feb. 14 Carrizozo Chamber of Commerce meeting.

Puckett said EDC/LC will be working to bring industries into the county to create jobs for people, more money for county merchants, and to improve education for children.

After the meeting Puckett was scheduled to tour the Carrizozo Industrial Park and meet with local business people. He encouraged people to become members of the EDC.

In other business, chamber members agreed to donate $50 to help with travel expenses of Carrizozo students who will participate in the regional science fair in Portales. School superintendent Danny Burnett said 30 to 35 students were winners at the local science fair and will advance to the regional contest.

A silent prayer was observed for chamber member Marian Schlarb.

Betty Howell reported the board of directors had discussed the Superfund cleanup of the Cimarron mill site and decided it would take top priority in chamber action.

Members agreed to

STATE COOK-OFF

I am over 18 years of age, with a non-professional food status and I haven't owned one or more head of beef or dairy cattle in the 12 months preceding Oct. 1, 1989. Therefore I am eligible to enter the 1989 New Mexico National Beef Cook-Off sponsored by the New Mexico CowBelles and other beef promoters.

King Food and Shop Rite, both NEWS advertisers, have the entry forms and contest rules. Just ask the friendly folks at the counter, they'll direct you to the contest literature and the meat counter.

Contestants competing in the state level will travel to Alamogordo for a chance at the first place winnings of $300 (second is $200; third is $100 and four honorable mentions at $50 each.) A state winner will advance to Portland, OR for the national contest and a chance at $10,000.

Did you get compliments on Sunday's beef dish? Better hurry and mail the recipe to beat the March 1 deadline.

SUBMITTED NEWS

Have you something important that you want the world to know about? Or maybe just local folks and neighbors?

Limited staff makes it difficult for a weekly newspaper to send reporters to get club news. In an effort to help clubs and others who would like to submit news items for consideration by the editor, I am suggesting a few tips.

In the first paragraph all news items should contain the "five W's" (who, what, when, where, and why). For example, "The Class of 1974 (who) will hold an organizational meeting (what) beginning at 7 p.m. Tuesday, Feb. 21, (when) in the REA Building, 513 12th St. (where) to discuss the upcoming 35th Reunion (why)."

The first paragraph of the club's news story should contain these five W's. As for the rest of the story pronouns (I, my, you, our, and the like) should not be used. For example, "One need not be a member to attend the club's bazaar," rather than, "You don't have to be a member to attend our club's bazaar."

In addition, it is requested that all items submitted include the writer's name and day-time telephone number (not in the story) in case more information or clarification is needed.

All items submitted should be typed and double-spaced to ensure all names and other information are recorded correctly. The use of all capital letters is discouraged to ensure that capitals are used correctly. If no typewriter is available, neat hand printing could do as well.

The sooner the news item is submitted, the greater are its chances of being published if the editor approves it. Space limitations are another consideration. Call the NEWS for story deadlines. Quoting prices in a story is not news, that's called an ad.

HEART MONTH

February is National Heart Month. To help you take better care of yours, there's a toll-free hotline offering facts on heart-healthy diets. Whether you're already on a low-fat, low cholesterol diet or just starting one, hotline operators can provide valuable suggestions on healthy food selections.

The hotline 1-800-533-VITA will be answered Monday through Friday, from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Eastern Time through March 31. Nutritionists will be available to answer questions and callers can also get a free booklet on lowering blood cholesterol that includes a diet and exercise plan.

REMEMBER WHEN . . .

Remember when closets were for keeping things in, not for coming out of?

BEST TASTING BREW

Tea with lemon is well known. How about hot tea lemonade? To make 8 to 12 servings you will need:

- 1/2 cup cold water
- 1/2 cup granulated sugar
- 9 teabags
- 2 quarts boiling water
- 12 whole cloves
- 1/2 cup lemon juice
- lemon slices

Combine 1/2 cup of cold water and 1/2 of granulated sugar in a saucepan. Bring to boil. Immediately reduce heat and simmer 19 minutes to make a simple syrup. Pour 2 quarts boiling water over tea. Brew 3-5 minutes. Add simple syrup, whole cloves and lemon juice. Cognac and rum to taste may be added, if desired.

BACK THEN AND NOW

The Sewing Club, now known as the Cedarvale Quilting Club, is the oldest club in Torrance County. It was organized in 1916. In 1940 they held their meetings in the old Baptist Church building. Later, they traded this building for a house. In 1953 when the Cedarvale School consolidated with Corona School, the club met in the kitchen and dining room of the vacant school house. In 1980 the old Pythian Sister's building was purchased and renovated.

Quilting bees are now held weekly. It has been estimated that more than 2,000 quilts have been quilted by the club. Originally they met in the homes of members, served potluck dinners and quilted for each other. The quilting bee was a time to meet, have fun, and accomplish a worthwhile task.

AROUND CORONA

Crown CowBelles met Feb. 2 in the school lunchroom for a hamburger in pita bread. They then adjourned to the recreation room where Robin Pfeiffer was coffee hostess. Present were 15 members and two guests, Monique Johnson and Jim Young. Myra Richards attended from Roswell and Nell Eddington from Las Cruces.

President Sue Maness appointed Katie Sultemeier and LaVern Gage for the Man of the Year committee, deadline April 15.

Mrs. Maness presented JoAnn Proctor with the past president pin for the last two years. She then recognized Crown's Woman of the Year, Loretta Proctor, and gave her a poem written by Crown's Poet Laureate, Clara Porter. "When is a Cow Not a Cow" is the subject for the poster contest.

A card was signed and sent to Irma Hoogerhuis who is recovering from ear surgery. Members had seen Ruby Davidson on Channel 4 in a news brief concerning the new Roswell nursing home. Mrs. Davidson went the next day to stay with a granddaughter, Jacque Sue Allen, and family where she will have therapy for a few weeks.

Checks for $100 each were authorized for Tina Aaron and Dan Bell who will be attending the 4-H Citizenship Focus week in Washington, DC this summer. The cost for each is said to be $857.

JoAnn Proctor was authorized to purchase a large filing cabinet to be

OPINION

● I am a dead man, and you're next. The nation got the word Friday evening when a television science segment presented evidence that the use of electricity in the home causes cancer. If one lives near an electric transformer, or along a power line, that person is also in jeopardy. The most assured method of demising yourself is to sleep on an electric blanket. Next come the usual household appliances such as irons, stoves, washers and dryers. The argument for this newest terrorist activity is that electricity sets up a magnetic field in those exposed to it, and that magnetic field causes cancer in the human body. So busy yourselves ripping out electric wiring and junking appliances, and bring back kerosene lamps, candles, and bonfires.

● We know by now that everything causes cancer, according to somebody. We began kicking off the cancer-causing campaign more than 50 years ago when a chiropractor in Amarillo, Texas, published an article claiming that food cooked in aluminum utensils caused cancer. That knowledge, although refuted for 50 years, still persists. Then there's smoking, which renders one dead of cancer. Then there's ethylene dibromide (EDB) which makes people nervous even they don't know what it is. The thought of EDB makes people as nervous as a vegetarian at a barbecue just to walk into a supermarket where muffin, cake and cookie mixes are sold. One woman shopper in an organic food store expressed her terror by saying she's "afraid to feed my family." She said this as she picked out vegetables scarred and stunted by insect bite and nourished by horse manure, thus demonstrating her faith in nature, her distrust of processed food, and confidence in the media's con men.

● This hype that mixes sold by Betty Crocker, Mrs. Wright, Duncan Hines, Pillsbury and other companies which have been making cooking chores easy for generations, began more than five years ago. To date there is no evidence of one person contracting cancer from these mixes which supposedly contains EDB. There is no proof that EDB ever caused cancer in anybody, even in a laboratory rat. If two biochemists are believable. According to Dr. William Havender, biochemist with the California Department of Health Services, normal rats have a 30 percent chance of getting cancer without any help. But a laboratory rat would have to eat a 1,000-pound muffin laced with 5,000 parts per billion of EDB every day just to increase the cancer incidence from 30 percent to 50 percent. And rats are not people, as a rule. Excuse me if I accept the observation of a biochemist over the cancer mongers. Dr. Bruce Ames, head of the biochemistry department, University of California at Berkeley, an expert in cancer-causing substances, told the press: "I think the whole thing is being exaggerated wildly." He said it is safer to eat EDB-laced muffins than it is to eat peanut butter. Because, he said, peanuts contain a cancer-causing natural mold "a thousand times more potent than EDB." Besides peanut butter, Dr. Ames listed such foods as celery, mustard, lettuce, potatoes, mushrooms and peppers as containing natural carcinogens. "We're getting 10,000 times more of nature's pesticides than we are of man-made pesticides," he said.

● Dr. Ames continues: "People think nature is benign, but every plant in nature has to make toxic chemicals because otherwise the insects would eat it right up."

● Right now the nation is busy bankrupting itself by removing all asbestos substance from homes and factories. Cancer, you know. Remember when broiled steak and hamburgers were touted as cancerous? And tomato catsup? And cyclamates? And radiation? We still hear about the tragedy of Three Mile Island nuclear power facility that had a radiation leak that terrorized the nation. Yet not a single person died from that accident, nor did one ever get sick.

● Back in 1975 I was among a group of bon vivants passing the bottle and discussing how to bring order from distorted news of the day. One philosopher opined that statistics are dangerous because they can be slanted to prove almost any point. Whatever the controversy, he said it will have to be resolved, not by statistics, but on the basis of which side presents the most convincing figures. Challenged to prove his point, he stated a hypothetical case wherein the Prune Advisory Board (PAB) decided to increase prune consumption by eliminating one of the fruit's chief competitors, the apple.

● First, he said, PAB would hire a statistician. Then, if he were worth the salt of his apple, he would maneuver his math in such a fashion as to produce figures and percentages to prove that: Every apple you eat brings you closer to death; that apples are related to plane and auto crashes, stock market crashes and the crime crunch; and that an apple a day keep the doctor away—which is why so many die of medical neglect.

● On the third pass of the jug he opined that a special blue ribbon committee composed of well-paid scientists, nutritionists and key people would come up with dramatic findings, all based on statistics, directed toward scaring the daylight out of the public, and nationally broadcast by specialists from Madison Avenue. All the propaganda generated would be worded so that, while they could be challenged, they could not be disproved. Like this:

● Ninety percent of all sick people have been found to have eaten apples in some form at some time within one year of their diagnosis. 99.99 percent of people who die of cancer have eaten Mom's Apple Pie. 100 percent of all children engaged in wars of aggression have eaten apples. 97.5 percent of all Communist sympathizers among apples in their homes were

1st. PRESIDENTIAL NIGHTMARE

WELCOME TO YOUR FIRST NEWS CONFERENCE MR. PRESIDENT... I'M SAM DONALDSON!!!

Inside The Capitol

By Jay Miller

SANTA FE—Many had been watching and waiting for the spark that would ignite the 1969 Legislature.

The fire was set last Friday night in the volatile New Mexico Senate as the confirmation of Health and Environment Secretary Carla Muth was rejected after eight hours of continuous debate.

It was a night that sent long-time legislature watchers into huddles trying to remember when something of this nature last occurred.

There was consensus that no cabinet secretary had ever been rejected for confirmation since the beginning of the cabinet system 12 years ago following Gov. Jerry Apodaca's massive reorganization. After that, memories were stretched to their limits. There were recollections of two commission appointments being rejected during the last 25 years. Both were due to major conflicts.

No one could remember a job appointee ever being rejected. A few had been withdrawn, such as Joe Johnson, an HED appointee during the Anya administration. A few went down to the wire and were approved by only a few votes following some tradeoffs—the most recent being Alex Moore, an Anya economic development boss.

But this was the first outright rejection. Gov. Garry Carruthers had pledged to stand behind Muth all the way. This apparently meant Muth would not be asked to withdraw. It didn't mean Carruthers was willing to do any bargaining. The chief executive had reportedly announced there would be no deals.

It sounded like a presidential statement that "we will not negotiate for hostages." And maybe that is what Muth represented—a hostage in a political struggle, taken because Carruthers had voted Dunes pet projects following the 1968 legislature and because he had campaigned for many unsuccessful GOP legislative candidates.

Several Democrats confided that this was their best opportunity to get back at Carruthers. They had chosen the most vulnerable of his appointees and administered a slow, painful death.

Muth had been the subject of criticism from many health system users. Sen. Manny Aragon, in summary remarks toward the end of Friday night's debate, said in his 14 years as a senator, he had received more complaints about Muth than any other appointee.

Curiously, Aragon sounded somewhat conciliatory in his final remarks. He said he hoped Carruthers could find somewhere in state government that Muth could serve the people of New Mexico.

Little did he suspect that the governor had a trick left up his sleeve. As soon as the vote was taken, he issued a press release naming Muth as deputy secretary, a position not requiring confirmation, and assigning his chief of staff, Marilyn Budke, as acting secretary.

Expectations are that Budke will remain in that role for the rest of Carruthers' term. And although she will have a hand in smoothing out department problems, it is unlikely the governor plans on losing her as his chief adviser.

There were numerous Republican threats throughout the evening. They were only slightly veiled to preserve Senate "decorum." GOP Sen. Victor Marshall of Albuquerque warned that the majority must learn to share power as Republicans had learned the hard way during the past four years. He said that "crushing the minority only poisons the atmosphere and gums up the works."

Sen. Tony Williams, R-Valencia, argued that rejection of Muth would "pervert the process of Senate confirmations." Does rejection of a gubernatorial appointee pervert the confirmation process? Or does the duty to confirm also imply the right not to confirm?

With the scarcity of Senate rejections over the years, might it be time to consider rejecting the entire confirmation process? It was established to protect against obviously bad appointments. Many will argue that numerous appointees who were easily confirmed had far fewer qualifications for their jobs than

Letters to the Editor

EDC choice criticized

EDITOR—The EDC/LC made a very good labor survey of Lincoln County, New Mexico.

They found out that no one in Lincoln County was qualified for the job as executive director of their operation. They had to go all the way down yonder to Austin, Texas to find someone with all of that high-tech knowledge.

I guess all we are qualified for is paying taxes. Mr. Puckett did regard the people as the greatest assets, and he should. We are footing the dam bill (thanks to the county commissioners.) I am so excited.

The Emperor's funeral

EDITOR—Much pomp, circumstance and honoring will be accorded the late Emperor Hirohito at his funeral in Tokyo later this month by heads of state and world dignitaries.

A brief review is in order as to his Majesty's accomplishments during his heyday of the 1930s and early 1940s:

Massive, inhuman cruelties accompanied the Japanese armed forces during their aggressive invasions and occupations of western Pacific nations during this time period.

The mass executions, tortures and enslavement of the peoples of Korea, China, Mongolia, Dutch East Indies, Burma, the Philippines, etc. should never be forgotten. And let us not forget the Bataan Death March in which daily executions, beheadings, tortures and starvation was routine.

On Wake Island 97 US civilian POWs were beheaded after their usefulness as forced slave laborers was no longer required. Those US G.I. POWs taken to Japan to work at forced slave labor in industrial compounds (which incidentally are, still in operation) likewise were systematically beaten, tortured, starved, etc.

During all of this wide ranged suffering, privation, unnecessary abuse and unconscionable cruelties by the Japanese, only one person in the world could have prevented or stopped this barbarism: the Emperor of Japan chose not to interfere with the activities of his armed forces in their massive cruelties. Only the atomic bombing of Hiroshima and Nagasaki and the certain invasion of Japan by US armed forces caused the Emperor to, finally, step in and stop the carnage to save his people.

The diary of the Emperor's Lord Privy, Koichi Kido, reveals Hirohito's great delight at news of his army's "conquests." News of the success of the sneak attack on Pearl Harbor caused the Emperor "to be so joyful he was at a loss for words."

Now we are faced with the unconscionable and unbelievable spectacles of a President of the United States, the Commander-in-Chief of our Armed Forces, journeying to Japan to honor and pay homage to the memory of the beast who caused such carnage and destruction many years ago. Simple justice dictates that Hirohito's demise should have come 43 years ago, at the same time as his cohorts, Hitler and Mussolini.

"Always will our whole nation remember the character of the onslaught against us," said President Roosevelt on Dec. 8, 1941. "Always" hasn't lasted very long, less than 47 years to many Americans, including, apparently, President Bush. But some remember. Some know who gave the order and should have been punished for it.

May those of us who remember how our heads in shame as our "leaders" honor and pay tribute in Tokyo to the corpse of the Beast.

sionally. 78.45 percent of all persons involved in plane and auto accidents had eaten apples within the preceding 14 days. 92.4 percent of all juvenile delinquents come from homes where apples are served on a frequent basis. Of people born in 1825, and who were known to have eaten apples; all are dead. Of the 10,000 attending the first Apple Festival in California in 1900, only half are still alive. All apple eaters born between 1840 and 1850 have wrinkled skins, have lost most of their teeth, hair and sex drives; have brittle bones and failing eyesight—even if they survive at all.

● He was warming up. This team of noted specialists, he said, would find that rats which have been forced fed with 20 pounds of apples per day for 90 days will develop bulging abdomens, suffer severe loss of appetite, and display possible cancerous conditions. He compared Johnny Appleseed to Attila the Hun. Then he leered, "And why do you think that nuclear hot line in the White House is colored apple-red?"

● Two of the group left to return home and tear out their apple trees. One occurred himself, saying he was already late for mass. For the rest of us, we lost a $10 loss. Each.

● In 1964 we offered condolences to readers of this newspaper. Our cancer mongers had discovered that some newspapers have been using ink containing PCBs. PCB is thought by some and by nobody in particular, to induce cancer in laboratory rats, transient Tasmanian wattlebirds, and wayward triggerfish in the Indian Ocean. The mongers wouldn't say for sure that reading this newspaper induces cancer, but since cancer has to come from somewhere, why not from ink on newspapers? As we wrote at the time, "If while reading this otherwise wholesome edition of the NEWS you feel yourself overcome by creeping cancer, call us and we'll come over and shoot with you."

● And don't forget to turn out the lights tonight, and keep them out.

Happy birthday to Butch Allen, Feb. 9, and to Sabrina

The week of Jan. 30, wind and sub-zero temperatures, day and night, ended with the arrival of a snowstorm with 7 1/2 inches of wet snow and more zeros, below and above. Sudden illness struck me and I was unable to write the news. Did not get out until the later part of the week. This was the first time in all of the years that I failed you, and through no fault of mine.

Last week the snow lingered and it was very cold, though the last four days were comfortably warm. The snow melted and there was deep mud. The entire area was white for days and there is much of it lingering. The moisture is great. It went deep and is not spotted.

Muth and far more conflicts and scars on their past. Shouldn't a chief executive have the right to choose his own team? If the process only weeds out the political bad apples, wouldn't the opposing party be just as well off watching the governor sink under the weight of his bad choices for appointments? These questions are not likely to be answered. The confirmation process will continue to plague state government and to provide a rich source of material for political writers.

Capitan . . . LEGALS

(Cont'd from P. 5)
Thank you, Millie Muse for this beautiful blooming plant I received for Valentine's. That is sweet of you and I appreciate it far more than words can ever express.

Congratulations to the 52 students who sent their signed letter to the Lincoln County News last week, for standing by your good teacher. You are on the right track and realize what it takes to get your education. Discipline is necessary if it does take a spanking once in a while. Teachers have their hands full teaching and discipline lets the knowledge come through. Long time ago students knew if they got into trouble in school they would be in trouble at home. Therefore they behaved. Parents believed teachers were right. I still do, and know those teachers are there to do their best. Try that always and you will find I am right. School is so important to your future. Continue to stand by your teachers and absorb that knowledge. I am proud of you.
Congratulations to Charlene Brown on her letter to the editor of Lincoln County News last week on that teacher-spanking that student. Discipline is so necessary. You were correct. Keep up the good work.
