

Cimarron Superfund site

More testing needed to confirm information

By Ruth Hammond

The investigation of the Cimarron mill Superfund site will be a side-by-side process that will include sampling and a feasibility study as well as the development of a work plan for the project.

By combining the steps in the process, it is possible the cleanup at the site could be a short term situation, according to Paul Sieminski. He is the US Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) remedial project manager.

Sieminski was in Carrizozo May 9 for the EPA Open House to answer questions about the project. He said specific problems, such as the barrels of cyanide on the site, could be dealt with quickly.

Ralph Forsythe of Carrizozo said people are willing to buy the barrels of cyanide as well as the ore piles on the site. Sieminski said he will try to resolve that situation as soon as possible.

Several residents of the community attended the Open House and voiced their opinions about the negative publicity surrounding the investigation.

Sieminski said the process could not be stopped but no rash decisions will be made and the public will be involved during the entire process. He said the main concern at this time is the possible contamination of residential wells in the area.

It will take six to eight months before the results from testing of the wells is available. There may be a need for the contractor to sink other wells in the area to test other water.

Scott Shafer asked that specifics about the investigation be put in writing. He was told all documents and materials produced and used by EPA during the Superfund process will be available for public viewing at information repositories. These information repositories have been established at Carrizozo City Hall, Ruidoso

Library, the Environmental Improvement Division (EID) office in Santa Fe, and the EPA office in Dallas, TX.

Jim Edwards, NM-EID in Ruidoso, said there were other problems than cyanide. These include heavy metals, arsenic, chromium, mercury and cobalt.

Edwards is the EID representative who first found the cyanide contamination at the site in 1981 when a worker became ill and was taken to the hospital in Ruidoso. Edwards then took samples at the site. A certified notice of violations was sent to Cimarron Mining on June 22, 1982 for discharging into a non-permitted discharge pit. No action was taken by the state EID because the company filed for bankruptcy in July 1983.

Hunter Nolan, project manager for Camp Dresser & McKee Inc., the contractor designated to take samples at the site, said his company will deliver a workplan draft for the cleanup to EPA May 31 for their review. The workplan will be included in the repository information.

Also attending the Open House to answer questions were NMEID representatives Carl Stubbs from Ruidoso and Ron Conrad of Santa Fe, and EPA community relations representative Ellen Greeney.

County Commissioners

Fuel supply bid awarded

Three proclamations were approved by Lincoln County Commissioners during the May 8 meeting.

The week of May 7-13 was proclaimed National Hospital Week to pay tribute to the staff of the Lincoln County Medical Center and Carrizozo Health Center and Corona Health Clinic for their many contributions of care, programs, and services to the community.

May 8 was proclaimed Cooperative Extension Day to mark the 75th anniversary of the enactment of the Smith-Lever Act which established the Cooperative Extension Service.

The month of May was proclaimed Older New Mexicans Month to publicly recognize and acknowledge the tremendous debt of thanks owed to all older citizens.

Two proposals for audit services for the county for 1988-89 were received. Don Wingfield of Roswell and Harry L. Jones of Ruidoso submitted proposals. They were referred to county manager Nick Pappas for recommendation at the next meeting.

Two bids were received for annual fuel supplies for the county. Commissioners accepted the low bid from LaMay Distributing Corp. in Carrizozo. J & R Oil Company of Hondo also submitted a bid. LaMay's bid was for 94 cents per gallon for regular gas, 91 cents per gallon for unleaded gas and 71 cents per gallon for diesel for a total bid of $6,040.78. J & R's bid was for $1.045 for regular,

$1.045 for unleaded and 79 cents per gallon for diesel for a total bid of $6,724.27.

Commissioners approved the replat of lots 18A and 18B, being a replat of blocks I, K, and M in Middle Cedar Subdivision. Commissioner Karon Petty said the action should have been taken by the Extra-territorial commission instead of the county commissioners.

No action was taken on a request submitted by Mayor Clark Smith of Lordsburg. Smith asked the county commissioners to adopt a resolution supporting Hidalgo County in their objection to the proposed 23,480 acre landfill in Hidalgo County.

Lincoln County Commissioners tabled any action and referred the resolution to the county attorney.

Commissioners accepted Pappas recommendation to not implement the rural addressing program for the county at this time. Pappas was concerned that the county's financial position at this time does not allow for expenditures for mapping and hiring a coordinator.

No action was taken but commissioners confirmed the county will strictly enforce the signs ordinance as it relates to the new Sierra Blanca Airport access road.

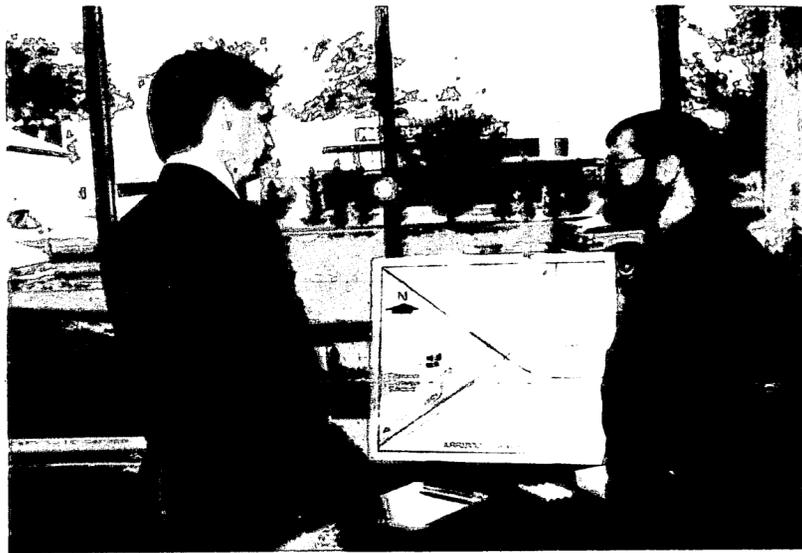

A quitclaim deed was accepted from Forest N. Wilcox for property in the Angus townsite. The quitclaim deed is to correct a mistake made in the original survey and does not change property ownership.

Sheriff James McSwane asked the commission to advertise for adoption of the fair labor standards act. This will be on the agenda for the next meeting.

Pappas said the county will close the landfill on Fort Stanton mesa that is being used by the county and the village of Ruidoso. The landfill will be closed by May 14, the day the new landfill regulations are to take effect.

The contracts with the state highway department for bridge repair which were tabled from the last meeting, have been sent back to the state to be rewritten.

An executive session was held for personnel at 5 p.m. before the commission meeting. Another executive session for personnel was held following the regular meeting.

Ceremony opens horse trails at Fort Stanton

The ribbon cutting ceremony and dedication to officially open the horse trails and parking lot for phase one of the National Center for the Western Horse (NCWH) was held May 5 at the parking lot on State Road 214 one mile south of Highway 380 near Fort Stanton.

The parking lot will be used to park horse trailers while rider travel the nine miles of marked trails on the Fort Stanton Reservation on Bureau of Land Management (BLM) property.

Fran Cherry, district manager for BLM, opened the ceremony with a welcome speech. He asked visitors to not pick any plants, arrowheads and to be careful of livestock.

Robert O. Anderson, businessman and co-founder of the NCWH, said, "This project has been in my mind for a number of years." He said that Fort Stanton is one of the best preserved native grasslands in the southwest and added, "It is our hope that horseback riding will become a national recreation activity."

Malcolm Schnichter, with the BLM representing state BLM director Larry Woodard, said, "It is our intent to avoid conflict with the Fort Stanton Hospital." The nine mile of presently marked trails are situated so as not to go near the facility.

After the ribbon-cutting ceremony, 28 people on horseback made the ride to a campground at a BLM riparian area for a barbecue lunch. Other people were driven to the area for the lunch and a one-man program presented by Boyd Barrett.

Woodard was scheduled to officiate at the ribbon cutting ceremony but was in China and unable to attend.

Carol Reamy will be the new secretary for the chamber.

Roland Bailey talked about the American Legion holiday flag project. The chamber of commerce contributed $300 to buy 20 flags for this project. These American flags will be put up for the first time on Memorial Day.

Man killed in accident

Lincoln County Sheriff James McSwane reported the death of Ronnie Garland in a one-vehicle rollover on Highway 54 north of Carrizozo May 5. Garland, 43, of Pampa, TX, was ejected from the vehicle and was pronounced dead at the scene.

A passenger, William E. Budlong, 32, of Farmington, was injured and transported to Lincoln County Medical Center in Ruidoso for treatment. The accident happened near mile marker 157. McSwane said alcohol was involved.

The sheriff also reported his department is looking for a person who possibly received injuries acquired while leaving an establishment in Hondo. An attempted breaking and entering of the Phillips 66 in Hondo was prevented by a guard dog.

McSwane said the person may have several dog bite wounds and other injuries. The sheriff's department received the call of the attempted burglary at 7:16 a.m. May 10.

May 7: The sheriff's department dispatched an ambulance to mile marker 293 on Highway 70 for an accident with injuries. The person injured was transported to St. Mary's Hospital in Roswell. The incident is being investigated by the state police.

May 8: The sheriff's office and state police are investigating an attempted burglary and criminal damage to property at Hondo Valley School. A grinder was used to try to gain entry into the safe.

Capitan council adopts traffic ordinance

The Capitan Village Council passed Resolution 89-8 at the May 8 meeting. The council supports the New Mexico Municipal League in its effort to prevent the closing of landfills in New Mexico until funding is made available by the state.

A copy of the working budget for fiscal year 89-90 was reviewed and will be approved by the council at a later date.

David Saum presented a proposal to lease the village co-op building. Attorney Don Dutton will review the legal aspects.

The council adopted ordinance 89-1 enacting, amending, and repealing certain sections of the 1983 New Mexico uniform traffic ordinance.

"In general, the ordinance amends certain definitions, increases certain penalties and offenses, deletes obsolete language dealing with driving under the influence, allows second and third driving under the influence offenses to be tried in municipal court, increases the penalties for driving under the influence convictions for second, third and fourth offenses, raises the fee to defray the cost of the chemical and other tests incident to driving under the influence, authorizes the court to order an offender into a substance abuse program, adopts mandatory correction fees, adopts procedures on reporting convictions and other matters relating to the uniform traffic code."

The council approved the purchase of new street signs for all streets in the village limits.

It was reported that Capitan's water usage is at a peak. All water is coming from the new well.

Bids will be opened May 15 for drilling a new exploratory well. The bids will be opened at 10 a.m. at the village hall.

RITCHIE ASKEW BENEFIT DANCE

MAY 12 — 8:00pm to 12:00pm

AT THE BARN IN RUIDOSO

Ritchie Askew came to Carrizozo and Lincoln County of his own choosing. Ritchie and family. He came with a face full of sunshine and a heart full of love... both highly visible.

He gave when he was asked to give, time, money and opinions. He would listen to anyone, at any time... often it a sacrifice... but it was a dedication he had to help people.

It came natural for Ritchie to be a public defender. Sorta like a duck finding a water hole. He loves playing music... especially the piano.

When Ritchie walks in, the place takes on a little warm glow. We often ask Ritchie to tell us one more story... which he assures us are "true stories."

Ritchie Askew is truly a unique and remarkable person. Or in quite his "owning."

A few days ago Ritchie came face to face with a tragedy. His health was failing and he went in for surgery. The doctors report he is seriously ill and quite likely fighting a case he can't win.

Those of us who have known him have insisted we be allowed to do something. A fund raise is being planned at the Barn in Ruidoso Friday, May 12, 8:00 pm to 12:00. The money will be used for his needs, but especially for a get-away trip that he has long desired himself. A time for peace and quiet and rest... a time for gathering.

Anyone wanting to be a part of this effort is asked to contact Ritchie Askew at the Ritchie Askew Law Office in Ruidoso.

LOOK UP

Before you cut down

You can prevent an accident by making sure there are no power lines nearby before you cut down or prune trees.

Pruning tools, saws or branches contacting a line could turn you into a conductor of electricity and cause serious injury.

If you have branches that are close to power lines, call your local TWP office to report the problem.

If the branches are too close, we'll trim them away from the line for you.

Ernest V. Joiner's OPINION

● Last week Iran declared war on the United States and the western world and urged other nations to unite in killing Americans and blowing up factories in Western countries. This country is not, of course, attaching any significance to this declaration of war. Marlin Fitzwater, White House press secretary, just remarked the act was "appalling" and that the United States would hold Iran responsible for any attacks on American citizens or interests. That's a pretty bold statement, coming from a spokesman for a US administration that cannot even hold Daniel Ortega responsible for acts against Americans in Nicaragua or Gen. Noriega for attacks against Americans in Panama. Truth is, the US isn't going to hold any nation responsible for anything—Panama, Nicaragua, Iran or whoever. We have become a gutless nation and the world knows it. That's why our nose is tweaked around the world without fear of retaliation. Our energies and resources have been diverted to more important matters, such as crucifying Oliver North for standing up for the best interests of his country at a time when a yellow-bellied congress wouldn't.

● Perhaps it is time to relieve the bungling US bureaucracy of our vital covert operations around the world. Now that congress has stripped the president of his right to conduct foreign policy, including covert operations, our country is in jeopardy. There is nobody in government with the guts and gumption to do the dirty work necessary to keep the nation strong and its enemies at bay.

● On Dec. 6, 1979 I quoted Lillian Carter, then 81, mother of President Jimmy Carter, as saying, "If I had a million dollars to spare, I'd look for someone to kill him (the Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini of Iran)." A lot of Americans agreed with her, including me. Then I continued:

● I have already suggested that an effective and uncomplicated way to eliminate the Iranian lunatic is for the US government to offer a million-dollar bounty for his scalp. In addition to the cash bounty, the US should guarantee protection and asylum to the lucky person who knocks off the ayatollah. There are plenty of adventurers (and a few patriots) who would pay their own expenses to the Middle East and risk their lives for a chance to be hailed as a national hero and be rich and famous at the same time. If such an offer were made by the government there wouldn't be a vacant seat on any ship or plane departing these shores for the Middle East. Around the turn of the century the US government offered cash rewards for distinguished criminals, dead or alive, and there was no lack of bounty hunters. Couldn't the practice be revived on an international basis?

● There is ample precedent for killing tyrants. Assassination has been an effective diplomatic tool in ridding society of ruling madmen for thousands of years. Christian people, who throw up their hands in horror at the idea should recall that a great deal of blood has been shed in the name of Christianity. The Crusades and the Inquisition alone should suffice as examples of murder as an instrument for eliminating the unwanted.

● The US government bungled attempts to assassinate Fidel Castro. The CIA in this killing business was like a bunch of kids playing cops and robbers. Our agents tried everything on Fidel from poison cigars to cyanide in his Perrier. Castro outwitted the CIA agents, and the Agrarian Reformer is still slapping his fatigues in laughter over the matter. Our arranged killings in other countries have met with more satisfying results. But by now we should have learned a lesson; keep the bureaucracy out of it and leave the job to private enterprise.

● In the prevailing Christian ethic it is immoral and sinful for one man to murder anybody, including a tyrant. But it is not immoral or sinful to declare a war and send millions to their deaths in order to kill a tyrant. I have heard little complaint from Christians about the morality of sacrificing the lives of hundreds of thousands of innocents in World War II to achieve the deaths of the "Ayatollahs" Tojo, Hitler and Mussolini. On the contrary, our cannons were blessed by the highest dignitaries of the Christian church. From a standpoint of morality, logic, and decency, consider the government that calls for a few volunteers to murder a tyrant as opposed to the government that forces a million men to fight a war to murder a tyrant. How horrible to take one human life by simple assassination, however evil it may be, but how noble to kill of millions in a declared war!

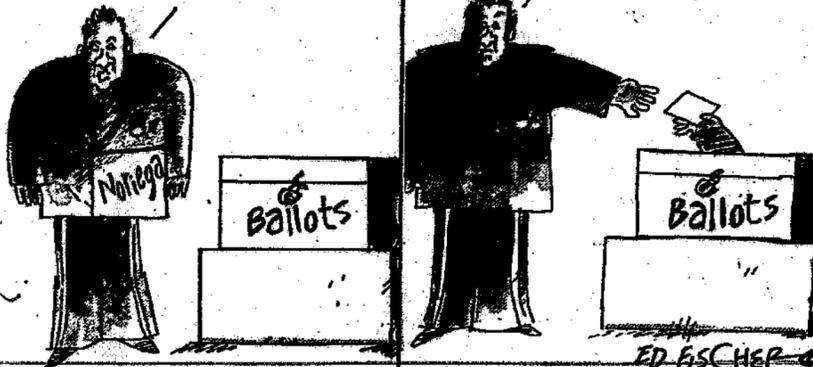

● The most "polite era" in American history must be that of the late 19th century. A man in the Old West knew for a fact his life depended upon how polite he was. To insult a stranger could, and often did, result in a bullet in the gizzard. To insult any woman was courting death by lead poison. This politeness went into decline when society began to frown upon do-it-yourself justice. Today you can insult anybody with impunity (except a racial minority) without consequences. The same applies to world leaders. If they know the certainty of this gullet for violating the rules of civilized behavior, they would be more likely to espouse the principles of civilized people. How madman someone who insults them when not to do so invites assassination.

● Those who deplore the simple "assassination" method of removing tyrants, and those who wish to involve Christian morality. That's either a contradiction or a double standard. This is a Christian country. If you deplore the simple "assassination" method, you should deplore the simple "assassination" method.

President's Bush's suspicion that there is vote fraud is absurd!

Now for the election results

Inside The Capitol

By Jay Miller

WASHINGTON, DC—I had the opportunity to be in our Nation's Capitol when Congressman Joe Skeen announced he would not seek the New Mexico governor's office.

Skeen had been the target of a recent campaign by New Mexico GOP leaders aimed at drafting him to run for the governor's seat. Skeen's official word at his press conference was that he needed to continue his work in Washington where he can do as much, if not more, for the state than he could as governor.

Afterward we sat and talked at length about that work and about why he made his announcement so quickly after the start of speculation.

The jovial congressman says he is excited about the tandem relationship he and Sen. Pete Domenici have developed. Skeen points out that he and Domenici serve on about the same committees in the two houses, including the powerful money committee. This enables them to introduce legislation benefitting the state in either house and have their partner guide it through the other house. Skeen says it is working very effectively.

Timing was the primary motivation behind Skeen's early announcement that he would not be a gubernatorial candidate. The New Mexico GOP is currently engaged in an intensive recruitment drive to assure they field their strongest candidate against the Democrats next year.

Both sides have become a little edgy about the possibility of the next governor being eligible to run for a second term. Eight years is a long time to be locked out of the governor's mansion. The GOP feels especially vulnerable because congressional and legislative redistricting is scheduled for 1991. We have already elected the 1991 Senate. The probability of a Democrat House is very high following the 1990 elections because of the Demo's 45-25 advantage now. With a Democrat legislature, the GOP's only hope of having a say in redistricting is to put a Republican in the governor's office.

The GOP has a large field of governor hopefuls from which to draw. The problem is that nearly all of them have tried before and failed to make it through the gubernatorial primary. Left over from the 1986 field of seven primary election candidates are Colin McMillan of Roswell and Frank Reed of Santa Fe, who have expressed great interest in making another run. Adds that Bill Sage of Albuquerque, who lost a bid for the GOP nomination in 1986, has been hanging at other New Mexico GOP party chairman Ed Lopez's interested. He dropped the primary race to Steve Schiff in the 1st Congressional District last year. Rick Montoya of Las Cruces, who finished a strong second to Bill Valentine last year for the right to challenge US Sen. Jeff Bingaman is also interested.

It's a long list but it doesn't contain any proven winners—even in a statewide GOP primary election. That's why the Republican hierarchy went looking for a winner in five-term congressman Joe Skeen. But the sheep rancher from Picacho has already paid his dues. He headed the GOP ticket for governor in 1974 and 1978 and missed narrowly both times. In addition he was the lieutenant governor candidate on the ballot with Pete Domenici in 1970. Can you imagine a Domenici-Skeen ticket ever losing a race?

But they did. They lost to a ticket headed by a guy named Bruce King. And the big cattle rancher from Stanley is back to try it again for a third time. Is the Republican leadership worried the third time may still be the charm for them in beating King? At last week's press conference Gov. Garrey Carruthers made some unsolcited remarks about King when he was asked why no Republicans had jumped into the governor's race yet. He volunteered that King's past success at the polls may not lead to future success.

That could be, but it wasn't the question. The reporter wanted to know why Republicans are holding back from entering the 1990 governor's race. Carruthers said he didn't see any reason why they should feel compelled to announce their intentions for another four or five months. But then he admitted to this reporter that he was already in the race at this time four years ago and that he wasn't the first.

The reason why there are no GOP candidates in the governor's race is that they were being asked to hold back until Skeen made his decision about running. If he had agreed, he would have liked a free shot in the GOP primary. Joe decided he should give everyone a quick decision. Now that he has, will the flood gates be opened? Or will it still be "four to five months?"

Nutritional services available to elderly

As part of its recognition of Older Americans Month in May, the New Mexico State Agency on Aging has released current statistics about nutritional services for older New Mexicans.

Every day more than 6,300 meals are served to senior citizens in meal sites throughout the state. Carrizozo Zia Senior Center and Capitan Zia Senior Center are a part of this effort.

In addition to the noon day meal served five days a week, meal sites provide the opportunity for recreation and socialization to seniors who may live alone and lack the support of family or relatives.

For those too ill to attend a meal site, every day in New Mexico approximately 2,200 seniors citizens receive meals delivered to their homes.

For more information call Carrizozo Zia Center at 648-2121 or Capitan Zia Center at 354-2840.

BRUCE KING, governor of the state from 1971 to 1974 and 1979 to 1982, has announced he is seeking the Democratic Party nomination for governor. King, 65, is a lifelong resident of Stanley, NM.

Letters to the Editor

Plug for a plumber

EDITOR — I'm just giving a plug for Ned's Plumbing, 1212 E Ave.

Had a plumbing problem with my recreational vehicle while passing through, and although committed to a job for the day (much more lucrative to him than my job), Ned took the time to help me. It was appreciated.

You have a good man there.

GEORGE ELIAS,
Grahamsville, NY.

Not satisfied

EDITOR—In answer to the letter from Charlene Brown in the Lincoln County News, she is right: I'm not satisfied with the Carrizozo School, and feel the administration is improperly handling the staff and some of our children are paying the price, from physical and mental abuse, to just plain poor education.

I have called the superintendent to notify him that some of his teachers and aides were off school grounds during school hours on many, many occasions. I have reported fishing trips on school time, and other such irregularities over the past three months. Nothing was done.

I called the school May 8 to ask for a position at the next school board meeting to discuss why my complaints were ignored. The superintendent called me back and said he would have to know what I was going to say. I said I wanted to tell the board it should investigate these irregularities because I have documents, pictures, dates, and time to prove they were somewhere else when they should have been at school. He said he would have to see the pictures first. I refused to show them to him, and the board refused to look at any of my statements—from doctors, human services, police statements, and those battered boys. He denied me a meeting with the board.

Charges against this administration are being filed in federal district court. The court date will be publicized so taxpayers can see some of the things their tax dollars are buying.

My thanks to the many who have supported me in this effort.

LINDA KING,

ing of Christianity and references to God in its schools, yet authorizes same on its coinage; this Christian nation whose pledge of allegiance refers to "one nation, under God," yet orders removed from public buildings references to Christianity or to God—all the while providing chapels for worship in the Congress, opening sessions with prayer, and using tax money to pay a division of chaplains. No wonder we get confused about Christian morality, in theory and in practice.

● So I am out of step with Christians who see no virtue in "sacrificing" an evil man to enrich the public good. The aforesaid ayatollah should be killed—by one agreeable man if possible, not by a million soldiers with licenses to kill and destroy.

● The Book of Samuel supports the idea of sacrificing one man to save the lives and property of many. Chapter 17 tells how the Philistine and Israelite armies were squared off for battle. The dice were loaded in favor of the Philistines. But Goliath of Gath, a Philistine giant with some social conscience, challenged one of the Israelites in hand-to-hand combat to decide the issue and avert mass killing. The Israelites produced the boy David, promising him great riches, and Saul's daughter, if he fought and overcame Goliath. David agreed, thus becoming what we might today call a "bounty hunter." He knocked out the giant Goliath with a single stone from his sling, then cut off his head with Goliath's own sword. David saved the Israelites that day, and God smiled upon him. Of course, David got into a peck of trouble later, but it had nothing to do with his killing Goliath.

HELPING HAND

A Picasso here, a Van Gogh there. You see them on business windows all over town. What you are actually viewing are one-of-a-kind posters telling about Buzzard Days May 13 and 14. The artists of these original works are students in kindergarten through 4th grade who are giving the promoters of the event a helping hand. (A few 5th graders made posters also.)

Kindergarten artists have not had extensive instruction on drawing the human figure, but anyone can see that their stick figures are having fun eating goodies at the booths around the country club, listening to live country music by the golf course lake and playing games. See the Buzzard Days ad in this newspaper for more details for an action-filled weekend coming up.

Not all stick figures are in the water. Walking, eating, modeling, and flying fish, among many species, can live on land.

Applique the material to the back of the quilt, making sure the stitches don't go through to the front. The most vital points to include are the name and location of the quilt maker and when the quilt was completed. Drew doesn't recommend embroidering or quilting the name or information because either method would probably limit what you would include.

HISTORICAL VALUE

In addition to an increase in their historical value, quilts with biographical information are worth twice as much money. Other facts to document are colors, the occasion for which it was made, awards it may have won, specific circumstances under which it was made, and descriptions of the binding, handstitching and fabrics.

If you own a purchased quilt or a family piece that you don't know anything about, include such points of

IRS BEANS

Internal Revenue Service employees in Philadelphia are volunteering to work on a book of their favorite recipes as part of a continuing national effort by the agency to put on a kinder face.

Featuring such dishes as "After-Audit Red Beans and Rice" and "Divine Dividend Cookies," the book of some 200 recipes is expected to have a first printing of 5,000.

Dave Allen, an IRS personnel director, is quoted in Insight magazine, "I just thought it would be good for employee morale and as public relations, too. It shows the IRS as human."

VOLUNTEER DRINKERS

Last month five Roswell residents volunteered to consume alcoholic beverages to help police learn to detect the more subtle signs which reveal whether a motorist has been drinking.

The volunteers began drinking beer at 11:30 a.m. and continued to imbibe over a period of about three hours.

The officers were tested on their ability to judge the blood alcohol level of each volunteer.

Twenty-two law enforcement officers participated in a course at the Roswell Police Department. The course is designed to teach officers to spot the casual drinker.

A director of police training said it's a great misnomer to say that a driver's abilities are not impaired if his (her) blood alcohol content (BAC) level is under .10.

Although .10 is the legal limit, the highest percentage of alcohol related deaths is caused by drivers with a BAC level ranging from .02 to .07, according to the instructor.

Officers were taught three field tests which help recognize the signs of an alcohol impaired driver. They include the Horizontal Gaze Nystagmus, which tests the driver's ability to follow a pencil with smooth eye motions, the walk-and-turn and the one-leg-stand, which test balance and judgment.

The instructor said moderately intoxicated drivers often claim they are in control and do not feel "drunk" and often fool officers with a calm and controlled appearance. Judgment and coordination may be impaired by as little as two or three beers.

And how did the five Roswell volunteer drinkers keep in control? They didn't. After several beers, they began to lose their inhibitions, became more talkative and cracked jokes.

QUILT SCHOLARS

Today's quilt scholars have to pore over old newspapers, agricultural journals, financial records, and other ancient documents to shed some light on the origins of yesterday's quilts. Despite this efforts some quilts of these works of art remain anonymous.

Sue Drew, 12 years in the quilt repair and restoration business, admonishes quilters and quilt owners to record pertinent information about their quilts. "If every quilt owner's secret wish were answered, every quilt would be signed and dated," Drew says in the Progressive Farmer magazine.

To document your quilt, you will need a typewriter or permanent marking pen and

Patterson wins scholarship

Leah Patterson of the Carrizozo FFA Chapter has been named the recipient of a $750 national scholarship sponsored by Firestone as a special project of the National FFA Foundation. The scholarship will be applied toward further education for Leah at the institution of her choice.

Patterson, daughter of Jim and Mariann Patterson of Bingham, received notice of the scholarship after a national FFA panel judged her application among the best in the nation. Judging criteria included evaluation of Leah's Supervised Agricultural Experience (SAE) program in high school agriculture, FFA activities, school and community involvement, high school grades and career plans. Patterson's FFA advisor is Mike Gaines.

La Reunada

Old Lincoln descendants to meet

A reunion of descendants of old Lincoln County families will be held in Lincoln on June 17 and 18.

The Lincoln County Historical Planning Committee invites all longtime Lincoln County families and the public to enjoy two days of activities.

Many families were represented by the more than 150 persons attending last year's get-together to tell their stories, sing, renew old friendships and tour local sites. They came from Chaves, Eddy, Otero and Lea counties, all of which were part of Lincoln County in 1890. Others came from all over New Mexico and from other states. Photos and documents were copied and personal interviews were taped for the archives of the society to be preserved for future generations.

Among individuals instrumental in making the reunion an annual event are Refatieta Fryor, Linda Sanchez, Alice Blakestead, Morgan Nelson, Ernestine Chesser Williams, Day and Corinne Swearingin, Ralph and Rosalie Dunlap, and Bob and Linda Hart.

Those interested in Lincoln County history should mark their calendar for this special weekend.

It is dry hot, sometime breezy, and there were three warm nights. No sign of moisture.

The athletic banquet was held at the school Monday.

There was team roping at the Arena Tuesday and Thursday nights and the jackpot will be Saturday.

Bill and Mary Harris returned Thursday after six months in Rockport, TX to their home in Capitan. She brought me a paper to show me that their paper has front page pictures of Ruidoso, Lincoln, pictures of our area. It was a good story. Thanks to the writer, June Maytor. We do appreciate that. We have a great country and are proud you enjoyed it.

Gary Keel, wife Tami, and son Chris from Virginia Beach is visiting with his parents, Dock and Janet Keel. Chris is finishing his second year here this month. They are between job transfers.

Isidro and Patsy Peralta and children went to the track meet in Albuquerque last weekend and Frances Peralta accompanied them and visited with all of her children and grandchildren.

Brandi Peralta underwent eye surgery May 1 and will have to undergo the second one next week. She is 15 years old. I wish the best recovery, Brandi.

Mr. and Mrs. Dale Nighbert gathered with friends and relatives at Cimarron (Nile Park) for a weekend of fun and entertainment. Fishing at Eagle Nest was very enjoyable.

The Roundtable Club of Capitan was entertained in the home of Eleanor Service. Elaine Neaudry was a guest. Wednesday evening Elaine Beaudry was pleasantly surprised by a birthday party given in her honor at the home of Maureen Sullivan. Fred, the Ft. Stanton bus driver, underwent heart surgery three weeks ago. He is home and doing nicely. I wish you the very best recovery, Fred.

Alice Wright, who would have been 97 in July died in Carrizozo last Wednesday night and was buried at Angus Cemetery. She was loved by all who knew her. She came to Bonita in the 1930s. She was history there and enjoyed those mountains and her home as long as she could. We always looked forward to her coming to Capitan and enjoyed every moment with her. We will miss her smile and intelligence. Her smiles and conversation gave joy to all and we were always so happy to see her. God was good to her.

Hollis and Gloria Cummins were in El Paso last week though it was late when they were returning home they stopped in Tularosa to visit Jim Howard. His daughters said he went to bed early as he had quite an active day and was tired. He is 95 years of age and healthy. To me that is great as I have wondered so much of late about him and the family. Thank you, Gloria for this information. It gives me joy and happiness. I wish he and his family many more years together. May God continue to bless them all.

NO. CV-89-78 Div. III

FEDERAL DEPOSIT INSURANCE CORPORATION, Receiver for Community Bank & Trust Co., Enid, Oklahoma, Plaintiff, THOMAS SIDNEY ORR, SUSAN ANN ORR and LEWIS BLACKWELL, Defendants.

NOTICE OF SUIT

TO: THOMAS SIDNEY ORR and SUSAN ANN ORR, defendants against whom constructive service of process by publication is sought to be obtained.

You are hereby notified that an action has been commenced against you in the above entitled court and cause by the above-named plaintiff, the objects of which are to recover upon Promissory Notes and to foreclose real estate Mortgages given to secure the Promissory Notes covering real property located in Lincoln County, New Mexico.

It is alleged in the Complaint that the defendants Thomas Sidney Orr and Susan Ann Orr executed and delivered to Community Bank & Trust Co., Enid, Oklahoma, two Promissory Notes, one dated September 29, 1982, for loan in the principal sum of $58,000.00, payable 180 days after date with interest at a floating rate, initially 4 1/2 % per annum, and a Promissory Note dated November 19, 1982, for loan in the principal sum of $62,000.00, payable March 28, 1983, with interest at a variable rate, initially 14% per annum.

It is further alleged that defendants Thomas Sidney Orr and Susan Ann Orr, in order to secure the indebtedness due and owing upon the two Promissory Notes, executed and delivered two real estate Mortgages, one dated September 29, 1982, filed October 15, 1982, in the office of the County Clerk of Lincoln County, New Mexico, Receipt No. 78456 and recorded in Book 108 at pages 457 and 458 of the Records of Lincoln County, and the second dated November 19, 1982, filed November 29, 1982, in the Office of the Lincoln County Clerk of Lincoln County, New Mexico, Receipt No. 79226, recorded in Book 106 at pages 144 and 145 of the Records of Lincoln County. Both Mortgages created liens upon real property located in Lincoln County described as Lot 25, Block 13 of Unit 2 of Black Forest subdivision as shown on the plat filed with the Lincoln County Clerk May 8, 1973.

It is alleged that payments upon both Promissory Notes are in default and that same are presently due and owing upon the Promissory Note dated September 29, 1982, the total sum of $113,418.25 including interest accrued to March 10, 1989, with interest accruing after that date at a daily rate of 17% per annum or $27.01 per day, and upon the Promissory Note dated November 19, 1982, the total sum of $121,657.66, including interest accrued to March 10, 1989, with interest accruing after that date at a daily rate of 17% per annum or $29.73 per day. In addition, plaintiff seeks the recovery of all of its costs and expenses of collection including its reasonable attorney fees incurred in maintaining the foreclosure action. By reason of the default, plaintiffs claim that they are entitled to judgment upon the Promissory Notes and to a judgment foreclosing the real estate Mortgages securing the Notes and ordering the property described therein sold in accordance with law.

You are further notified that unless you enter or cause to be entered your appearance in said cause on or before the 28th day of June, 1989, judgment will be rendered against you by default and the relief prayed for in the Complaint will be granted.

Looks like a fountain pen, but when you encounter someone who will not shut up, simply point Dummy Up at mouth of offender (within 5 foot range), push button, and low-grade gamma rays render mouth immobile for 5 minutes—giving you time to get away. Dummy Up is worth a million, but we'll sell you one for only $17.96. Does not work on mothers-in-law. 1tp-May 11.
