Blasting delays traffic

Motorists on Highway 70 in the Hondo Valley near Highway 380 are asked to use extra care driving in the area the next few weeks. Blasting to widen the road can cause falling debris and rocks on the road.

Delays of one-half hour to one hour can be expected while Wylie Corp. of Albuquerque works on the highway improvement project. The total cost for the project is $4.37 million.

Pilot cars will lead traffic through the construction area at regular intervals but motorists should watch for rocks and debris on the highway. The blasting will continue for several weeks with completion of the project to be in late October.

Castles in the air, in Carrizozo?

People in the Carrizozo area probably thought they were seeing things Saturday when a huge 25-foot-square castle floated in the air above the Carrizozo Recreation Park near the golf course.

The Concord Air Castle was to have been one of the attractions at the Carrizozo Buzzard Days celebration held Saturday and Sunday in the park. The plastic castle was being inflated when a gust of wind tore it loose from the anchor holding it to the ground. The 600-pound castle floated up in the air and across Carrizozo Lake before finally settling down in the middle of the lake.

The castle drifted to the edge of the lake where it was retrieved. The owners decided it was too windy to try to set it up again. The Buzzard Days celebration continued for two days with activities for all ages. There were 19 vendor booths, horseshoe pitching contests, games and prizes for the children, refreshments and entertainment.

The new coffee shop will be open 6 a.m. to 3 p.m.

Commissioners to hold emergency meeting today

The Lincoln County Commissioners have scheduled an emergency meeting for today at 4 p.m. at the Ruidoso Village Hall. The landfill situation will be discussed.

County files action

Restraining order halts EID landfill regulation

By Ruth Hammond

Lincoln County Attorney Robert Beauvais filed a temporary restraining order (TRO) in district court May 12 which will keep the Environmental Improvement Division (EID) from enforcing the new landfill regulations for 10 days in Lincoln County.

A hearing will be held at 9 a.m. May 19 before District Judge Robert Doughty in Alamogordo. Doughty will decide at that time if the TRO should be dissolved or become a temporary injunction.

The landfill situation was discussed by the county commissioners during the May 8 regular county commission meeting when county manager Nick Pappas announced the county landfill on the Fort Stanton mesa would be closed by May 14, the day the new regulations were to take effect.

Commissioner Karon Petty asked that no action be taken until after a personal tour of the landfill was made by the commissioners, EID personnel, the county manager and other authorities.

The commissioners met in special session May 12 in Ruidoso in joint session with the Ruidoso Village Council to discuss the landfill situation. During the two-minute county commission meeting, commissioners adopted a resolution to officially close the landfill.

A review of the draft minutes of the May 8 and May 12 county commission meetings showed no action by county commissioners requesting the TRO be filed.

The county will be allowed to use the Fort Stanton landfill on state property according to an agreement signed June 14, 1983 between the county and the state. The landfill is located on 280 acres.

The site is not a public landfill and only refuse brought in county vehicles will be accepted at the site.

Capitan well bid rejected

Mayor Benny Coker called a special meeting of the Capitan Village Council May 15 for the purpose of opening bids for the new exploratory well.

One bid was received from R.W.S. Drilling of Roswell. This bid came in higher than the engineer's estimate and was rejected by the council. The council will now go for a list of proposals which will be opened at its June 12 meeting.

The solid waste situation was discussed. The council will follow Dr. Bernhard Reimann's guidelines. These guidelines incorporate immediate steps to be taken to comply with the new regulations.

A solid waste committee has been set up by Coker. The committee consists of Dan Davenport, Wayne Hobbs and Dr. Reimann. The mayor will also appoint committee members from the fire department, chamber of commerce, and planning and zoning.

The Capitan Village Council advises local citizens to get license numbers and report them to the Capitan Police Department if they see someone dumping trash illegally.

It was noted that an employee is needed at the Capitan dump eight hours a day. This dump will be kept open at the present time. Eventually the old trench will be closed and a new one opened and documented.

The council decided to begin negotiations to buy 10

LORENZO BELTRAN with Kayla and Bud Clay Hammond

Lorenzo Beltran saves two children from drowning

Lorenzo Beltran of Carrizozo had a strange dream Saturday night. He dreamed someone was drowning in Carrizozo Lake in the recreation park near the golf course.

Sunday morning at 9:30 a.m. Beltran's quick thinking and brave actions kept the tragedy from happening.

Beltran was at one of the Buzzard Days vendor booths in the park when he heard someone yell for help. When Beltran turned around, he saw two small children in the lake. Neither child could swim.

Three-year-old Bud Clay Hammond was about 20 feet from shore. Beltran saw the child surface and go under water. Nearby, and also in the water was Bud's six-year-old sister Kayla. Kayla was screaming for help and trying to get to her brother.

Beltran ran 50 yards across the park to the lake. While he was running, he saw the boy surface one more time and go under. By the time Beltran reached the water's edge both children were under water.

Beltran knew he could not wade in the water on the slippery rocks near the shore and get to the children in time. He had helped build the lake several years ago and knew the water was about four and a half feet deep where he last saw the children.

Beltran made a shallow dive and swam underwater looking for the children. They were close together and Beltran was able to grab both children at the same time and swim back to shore holding on to both of them.

Neither child needed treatment. They were wet, cold, scared and crying. Their parents are Josh and Chris Hammond of Carrizozo.

When asked about the incident later, Beltran said Kayla was the brave one because she was trying to save her brother.

Kayla said the reason they were in the lake was because Bud Clay had thrown a stick in the water and waded out to get it. When Bud Clay had trouble and fell in the water, Kayla called for help and tried to get to her brother.

Memorial Day services planned for Carrizozo

The third annual Memorial Day program will be held in McDonald Park in Carrizozo May 29.

The celebration will include a parade, speeches, music and refreshments as well as a newly installed sign in the park.

"We hope this annual Memorial Day celebration will become a tradition," said Glen Ellison, organizing chairman for the event. He admits this is his favorite project.

The celebration last year included the unveiling of a marker honoring William C. McDonald, first elected governor of the state of New Mexico. The monument holds a bronze plaque and was dedicated during the Memorial Day celebration in 1988.

The new sign to be in place by May 29 will draw attention to the park and the present marker. The sign will read: "Welcome to Bar W Country" to recognize McDonald's ranching ties to this area.

McDonald's Bar W ranch was about two miles north of Carrizozo. He was instrumental in a town being placed here, then led the way in bringing the county seat here. As the first elected governor after New Mexico gained statehood, he directed the state in a fashion that few have been able to match.

The 1989 Memorial Day services will begin with a parade through town at 2 p.m. followed by the entertainment in the park. The event is sponsored by the town of Carrizozo and the Carrizozo Chamber of Commerce.

Ellison will accept donations to help with costs involved.

EDC asks county for half-mill tax levy

Members of the Economic Development Corporation of Lincoln County (EDC/LC) attended the county commission budget workshop Monday and asked commissioners to continue the one-half mill funding for EDC/LC.

The one-half mill tax levy had been approved by the previous county commission on Aug. 30, 1988. The county was to provide said receipts from the levy as they were received and as the county budget allowed.

EDC was to promote economic development of new business and industry in the county and to assist with

Stolen property recovered in burglary ring 'bust'

Two full-size pickup loads of stolen property were confiscated by the Lincoln County Sheriff's Department when a burglary ring was busted May 12. Property that had been stolen as far back as a year ago was recovered.

Lincoln County Sheriff James McSwane reported several people had identified some of the property. McSwane asks that anyone who was the victim of an unreported burglary to contact his office to identify the confiscated stolen property.

Helena Herrera, 49, of Ruidoso Downs, and Jose Javier Del Rio, 40, Ruidoso Downs, were arrested and both were charged with possession of stolen property and receiving stolen property.

Herrera was released on her own recognizance and Del Rio remains in custody in the Lincoln County Jail on $50,000 bond. McSwane said the two suspects are alleged to have been involved with as many as 10 burglaries in Lincoln County this past year.

According to McSwane, information acquired during a search may lead to arrests of other suspects locally and in El Paso and Albuquerque.

Other sheriff department activity included the arrest of Luis Chavez, 39, of Ruidoso Downs. Chavez was arrested by the Ruidoso Downs police May 10 on a bench warrant for failure to appear in Magistrate Judge Dean's court on a summons for worthless checks.

The sheriff's department served a criminal complaint on Chavez charging him with arson and conspiracy to commit arson in reference to the arson-caused fire at the Madison residence in Ruidoso Downs last year.

After a search was made of Chavez residence, the sheriff's office also charged Chavez with possession of a controlled substance. The search warrant was signed by Magistrate Judge Dean. Found at the residence was a small quantity of methamphetamine, drup paraphernalia, and items believed to be stolen property.

Chavez appeared before Magistrate Judge Wheeler in Ruidoso May 12 where bond was set at $10,000. Judge Wheeler then released Chavez to Chavez' wife custody on all charges.

Chavez appeared before Judge Dean May 15 and paid off the worthless checks.

May 11 a horse was reported stolen from Ranch of Ruidoso. The horse was recovered and investigation of the incident continues by the sheriff's department.

May 12, in Carrizozo Dr. Dale Goad found approximately 400 blasting caps in his basement. Goad took the blasting caps to the Carrizozo Health Center in his vehicle where they were recovered by the sheriff's deputies and state police.

May 13, four tires on a vehicle parked in the lot across the street from the Outpost were slashed. Juvenile probation officer Vince Vega also found two tires slashed on a vehicle at his home. One of the vehicles was owned by the state and the other vehicle was owned by Vega.

May 14, damage to several vehicles at Phillips 66 in Hondo was reported. The sheriff's office is currently investigating the vandalism.

May 15, Brian Kenneth Uschok, 24, Alamogordo, was arrested and charged with criminal trespass at Sierra Blanca Regional Airport.

Judge Parsons defends judicial reform move

"Every six years judges have to run whether they have an opponent or not," began Judge Richard A. Parsons of the Twelfth Judicial District Court as he addressed Federated Republican Women of Lincoln County at their April meeting.

His topic was the recent state constitutional amendment voted in at the last general election, the so-called judicial reform amendment.

"Much misinformation is floating around," he said, displaying the syndicated newspaper column "Capitol Comments."

"For example, the writer of this column says the amendment allows judges to sit on the bench for life. That simply isn't true."

In 1990, Twelfth District Judges Robert Doughty, Sandra Grisham and Parsons will stand for retention on the general election ballot. Voters in Lincoln and Otero counties will decide by a "yes" or "no" vote whether or not to retain them for another six-year term.

"Our names will not appear on either the Republican or Democratic ballots," Parsons continued, "but somewhere down near the bottom with the question, 'Shall we keep the present judge?' to be answered by the voter, 'yes or no.'"

If the answer is "no," an involved procedure is in place to select a successor since no opponent appears on the "yes or no" ballot.

"A bi-partisan commission... submits a list of several candidates to the governor who will then select one to fill the vacancy."

"That individual will have to run in the next general election as either a Republican or Democrat and will have opposition. Following that election, the judge will then stand for retention in succeeding elections."

Overall, Judge Parsons favors the judicial reform.

amendment. "First, it raised the minimum age from 30 to 35. Second, it doubled the years required—six instead of three—for a candidate to be out of law school. And third, it's taken judicial selection out of party politics."

He continued, "The good part is that a judge will not be displaced because of party feeling. The judge will have to run against himself. He conforms to the mores of the community or he's gone. You must stand on your own."

Responding to questions from the audience, he mentioned the low pay scale for judges and the lack of opponents. "New Mexico ranks 44th in the nation in paying its judges," he noted. "Even a graduate fresh out of law school is offered more," he quipped.

OPINION

● Last week I attended the 50th reunion of my graduating class at Texas Tech University. More than 100 former classmates joined me in remembrance of our college days. The nostalgia got a bit heavy. There was some discussion about how the country is going to hell. That struck a bell. I went back to a column I did on Aug. 23, 1979 that dealt with foolishness and follies of young people over the past 50 years that caused their elders to predict the country truly has gone to hell. Here is how I handled the situation then. See if it doesn't apply today.

● No doubt you're fed up with the inanities, follies and foolishness that occupy much of the average American's time these days. Be of good cheer. We have less of it now than we have had during the past 50 years. Youth's preoccupation with vit-ins, anti-war demonstrations, love-ins, abortion, hedonism, rock and roll music, anti-nuclear power, drugs, dirty jeans and long hair is to be preferred to the craze for goldfish swallowing, panty raids, bathtub gin, fumbling sex and non-involvement that beset earlier generations. Once, the fads and follies had no meaning; stood for nothing. Today we have a better class of fools and foolishness in this country than in any preceding era. People today act the fool far more worthy ends than ever before. They stand for something that counts. What kind of statement is made by swallowing a goldfish? If you think we're going to hell in a handbasket, you're wrong. I draw your attention to some of the stupidities and assinine fads I've survived over 50 years. Few of them had any meaning at all—except that they characterized a vibrant, restless, innovative society. Or, 'looking' at it another way, where there is no foolishness there is social stagnation.

● I've lived through the War to End All Wars, and a dozen that followed it; through the administrations of 12 presidents, from Woodrow Wilson to Jimmy Carter, and each was worse than the preceding one. If I sometimes berate runners and joggers, I have only to recall the physical culture boom of Bernard McFadden; the Omnipotent Oom of Pierre Bernard, which began with yoga and ended God knows where; and the Krishnamurti of the 1920s who went around proclaiming himself to be Buddha, and established a school of theosophists. And there were the Bunion Derbies of the '20s when it took a gang of runners 526 hours to run from New York to Los Angeles (1929) with the winner collecting $25,000 and the adoration of the American public. Then there were the dance marathons of the 1930s, when June Havoc broke all endurance records for staggering around on a dance floor for I don't remember how many days. Shipwreck Kelly was sitting on flagpoles all over the country, and L. Ron Hubbard was pushing some "health stuff" called Dianetics. Gaylor Hausler was prescribing blackstrap molasses for everything from corns to ossified livers, and Royal Jelly, food of the queen bee, would make you live forever. Pee-Wee golf swept the nation. The drinking man's diet damned near killed off the flower of American "personhood" with that "calories don't count" stuff. Many starved to death but stayed smashed enough to enjoy it.

● I remember when Frank Sinatra went by the name of Marty O'Brien, and was a lousy bantam-weight fighter . . . And Major Bowes Amateur Hour of the 1930s . . . The lucky Strike Hit Parade . . . Theda Bara . . . silly putty, Bell bottom pants, Rudolph Valentino, zoot suits, Jesse James, Bonnie Parker and John Dillinger . . . and there was chlorophyll and Confederate flags and Dr. Francis Townsend and his Old Age Revolving Pension plan that was going to give every person $200 a month for doing nothing.

● I have endured the music of Stephen Foster, Jelly Roll Morton, Mitch Miller, Vincent Lopez, Cab Calloway, Step Fields, Spike Jones, John Philip Sousa, Phil Spector, Fats Waller and Paul Whiteman. I watched in honest agony over such songs as "Yes, We Have No Bananas," "Judy Winks Doo," "The Music Goes Round and Round," "Murray Close," and "Goodnight Beena." I suffered through the ravens of the 50's, rascally coats, hula hoops, Davy Crockett coonkin caps, disc whistles with little propellers twirling away on top, college students eating phonograph records, college students swallowing goldfish, college students on panty raids, college student pushing beds down the nation's highways, crawling into telephone booths and automobiles, and college students period. And Elvis Presley.

● Those who regard modern dances as stupid and degrading are lucky they can't recall the far-fetched and grotesque of the big apple, black bottom, take walk, camel walk, cha-cha, Charleston, clog-clog, fox trot, frog, grizzly bear, hully gully, the jerk, jarey bounce, jitterbug, Lambeth walk, limbo, Lady hop, mambo, mashed potato, monkey, mouse, rumba, shimmy, slip square, swin, tango, twist, two-step, Watusi, turkey trot, bunny hug, shag, Suzy Q—all of them responsible for more broken ankles, slipped discs, dislocated shoulders and broken arms than 20 years of rock and roll and disco dancing can ever hope to record.

● The world came to an end on Thursday, Oct. 23, 1929, but I never noticed. Black Thursday ended the era of R. Scott Fitzgerald, Harold Teas and the Jazz Age. There was the Era of Wonderful Nonsense, the Dry Decade (Prohibition) and the Lawless Decade. I outlasted the expanded steel rows of the Great Depression, the soup kitchens, breadlines, bank failures and closed factories. $20 billion were lost on the New York stock market that Thursday, and many of the men who lost it were selling apples on the streets for a nickel apiece. There were 4 1/2 million workers idle by 1931 before Franklin D. Roosevelt burst upon the scene with his "Happy Days Are Here Again," printing green money, the NRA, the CCC, the WPA and the rest of the SANTA FE—Who should be charged with the responsibility of leading New Mexico's economic development effort?

Traditionally we have looked to the governor for establishing direction and implementing a plan. We have been critical as governor after governor has been unable to produce. We have been especially critical of Gov. Garrey Carruthers, a professional economist, in whom we had high hopes of being our state's economic savior. So far, the draft of an economic development framework is about all he has to show for his college degree and campaign promises.

But should the governor and his economic development agency be the ones we expect to implement economic development plans?

No, says one of Carruthers' recently appointed economic development commissioners. State government does not have the resources to lead the economic development effort. Those tools are in the hands of the private sector, especially the banking industry.

Joe Mangum is president of Sunwest Bank of Roswell. He points out that banks have a monopoly on the capitol pool in every community. Banks are the ones that have the wherewithal to make things happen. They should be leading New Mexico's economic development, Mangum says.

Accordingly, the Bloomfield native has set out to practice what he preaches. Six months ago, Mangum and his officers looked for the most promising area for economic development in Chaves County. They decided it was the dairy industry. A little research revealed that the Pecos Valley between Roswell and Carlsbad produces the highest quality alfalfa in the nation. Growers of the feed are shipping it nationwide and, in at least one case, transporting it as far as Japan because of its high nutrient content.

In addition the Roswell area is a great place to produce the "contented cows" we have heard "Elsie" talk about all our lives. Dairy cows like mild weather and low humidity. The Pecos Valley has higher lows, lower highs and less humidity than the large well-known dairy farming areas such as Wisconsin, Dallas and Chino, CA. Land values and taxes can run 25 to 50 times higher in these areas than in Chaves County.

Environmental restrictions are much more oppressive in other states and localities because of denser population. Evidently in Chino, developers built residential areas adjacent to dairy farms and then discovered an odor they found unpleasant. Dairy men in that area are faced with regulations that attempt to make cows smell like rose bushes.

All these factors combine to produce dairy cows giving 15 percent more milk with 20 percent higher butterfat at a 30 percent lower cost.

As a result Mangum and Sunwest Bank set a goal of doubling Chaves County's 10,400 herd in the period of a year. That would increase dairy producers' income from $30 million to $60 million and nearly all of it would stay in the county to turn over many more times in the economy.

Mangum reports the program is well on its way toward meeting the goal of doubling Chaves County's dairy herd with more expansion to come. More milk production means more opportunity for processing the raw material at home instead of shipping it to out-of-state dairies and cheese makers. Look for future efforts in those areas.

Development of the dairy industry won't be the end of it for Mangum's bank. Possibly the next effort will be to find a textile mill to process the region's fine wool.

Mangum says a governor can be very helpful facilitating meetings and contacts that no businessman or bank has the prestige to do. He says Carruthers was most helpful as a drawing card to set up the meetings of dairy farmers and feed producers to get his first project off the ground. A governor can also smooth a path through the bureaucracy and assure potential businesses of the state's interest in them. Promotional tours to foreign countries are much more successful with the state's chief exec to open doors.

But Mangum sees banks as having the major responsibility to encourage expansion in existing businesses and to attract new ones because it is banks that have a corner on the money needed to achieve those ends. The state can't and shouldn't be in the investment business.

Roswell is not the only location in New Mexico that possesses uniquely valuable characteristics. It merely has taken the best advantage of them. Mangum is currently on a tour of the economic development area of the state he represents on the governor's commission. He encourages each community to spend time deciding what it is and what it can be.

If every community could establish the public-private partnership Roswell has so aptly demonstrated over the years New Mexico would no longer have to suffer economic hardships—and future governors could claim miracles they didn't achieve.

Letters to the Editor

'I am pleased'

EDITOR—I am pleased to note that the Lincoln County News, in a recent issue, carried a story on the district court docket.

District court operations are important to some of your readers. I hope that the reporter has established a liaison with the clerk of the district court and that we can look forward to regular coverage on the very important happenings in the district court, including new cases filed.

DAN D. SWEARINGIN, Ruidoso.

Gives little, takes all

EDITOR—According to General John Galvin, our supreme commander in Europe since Gorbachev came into power in the Soviet Union, they have produced 700 combat aircraft per year and a nuclear submarine every 37 days. They are building tanks so fast the Kremlin controlled Warsaw Pact nations already have 30,000 more than NATO. They maintain a force of 5 million men in uniform.

Under these circumstances shouldn't we take another look at Gorbachev's plans to reduce his military by 500,000 men, 10,000 tanks, 8,500 pieces of artillery and 800 combat aircraft?

These reductions aren't really so dramatic as they appear. If he succeeds with all of his cutbacks, Gorbachev will have reduced his troop strength by a mere 10 percent and will still maintain a 2.5 - 1 superiority over NATO in tanks and artillery. He has really given up very little for all the praise he received in return.

Gorbachev's speech at the United Nations on Dec. 7 delighted the trust-the-Soviets crowd and their disarmament-at-any-price cronies. But these persons failed to consider the Soviet teetering economy, restless satellites, continued military buildup and empty treasury. A thorough reading of the Kremlin leader's address, and a realization of what else he had in mind during his visit to the US suggests that Gorbachev's all-consuming goal was to obtain Western financing for his sick regime.

He obviously wants the United States to rescue not only his economically strapped economy, but also those of his similarly strapped satellites. The Soviet Union is clearly on the ropes. It's time to end all assistance to all REDS now!

ELLEN EDWARDS, Lodi, CA.

People show they care

EDITOR—First, let us thank you for your gracious assistance in publicizing the Ritchie Askew fundraiser last Friday night. Glen Ellison said something a lot of us wanted to say, and we thank him too.

But we especially want to thank all the people who in one way or another helped. There was a large group of people there from Carrizozo and then gave generously.

We are proud to note that about $2500 was raised which will assist Ritchie in the weeks to come as he seeks treatment. Perhaps the more important thing was, Ritchie was there to see a lot of people really care. He was very appreciative.

Our prayers, best wishes and thoughts will be with Ritchie in the days to come.

JIM SELBY, Carrizozo.

Word from Wise

EDITOR—Open letter to Mrs. King.

I have just discovered after reading last week's paper that you are the self-appointed "Watchdog of Teacher Activities" in Carrizozo. I must therefore confess to you that I was at the Mall in Alamogordo on Wednesday, May 10, between 2:30 and 3:30 p.m. (I did not go to Corona that afternoon, as school was not in session.)

By the way, if you snapped a picture of me trying on those orange and purple shorts at J.C. Penney's, please don't show anyone. I looked rather ridiculous.

BILL WISE, Carrizozo.

Sir Isaac Newton, originator of the theory of the law of gravity, had a hobby—alchemy, the "science" of trying to create gold from other metals.

A 62 takes tourney

A 62 gave the team of Tom Baker, Ron Becker, both of Carrizozo, and Bryan Turnbow and Ted Turnbow of Nogal the victory in an 18-hole scramble held Saturday at the Carrizozo Golf Course in honor of Buzzard Days.

Second place went to the team of Louis Peralta, Albuquerque, Doug Whitaker, Nogal, Richard Silva and Martin Espinoza, both of Ruidoso, with a 67.

A sudden death playoff for third ended on the first hole with an Alamogordo foursome winning. They included Harry Young, Corkey Massey, William Stage and Ron Whitely with a 68. Fourth place with a 68 went to the team of Allan Austin, who also had closest to the pin on No. 4, John Barber, Jimmy Yee, Joe Houghtalin, all from Alamogordo.

Paul Guevara of Carrizozo won longest drive on No. 5.

Judicial . . .

When asked about possible conflicts of interest between his judiciary and his law firm Parsons & Bryant who was recently awarded the contract for county attorney, he responded, "Cases involving Parsons & Bryant are automatically assigned to either Judge Doughty or Judge Griesham."

In the business meeting preceding Parsons' program, FRWLC president Norma Page announced the appointment of Marilyn Ward as youth activities chairman.

FRWLC's next meeting is Tuesday, May 23, at the Smokee Bear Restaurant in the department (not emergencies) call 366-4068.

BVFD conducts rope rescue exercises

Members of Bonita Volunteer Fire Dept. (BVFD) practiced high-angle rope rescue Saturday on cliffs at Eagle Creek.

"Given our geographical location, rope rescue is a possibility on every run we make," said Greg Lane, BVFD training lieutenant.

BVFD serves the communities of Alto, Aragon and Bonita. For information on the department (not emergencies) call 366-4068.

Old-timers invited

EDITOR--Thank you for your article on La Remada, the gathering of descendants of old Lincoln County families, scheduled in Lincoln on June 17-18. However, I would like to correct one error in the article. The event is sponsored by the Lincoln County Historical Society, not the Lincoln County Historical Planning Committee.

We would like to extend a special invitation to all area old-timers and families of early settlers of Lincoln County to attend. A schedule of weekend activities will be sent out soon. For more information, write Lincoln County Historical Society, Box 91, Lincoln, NM 88338.

President,

Thanks from the Lions

EDITOR--On May 6 the Carrizozo Lions Club held a Walkathon to raise funds for the blind. We were assisted by Chief Morales and Lincoln County Deputy Charles Engelking, who patrolled the 10-mile Walkathon route.

Lions Club members, citizens of Carrizozo, and parents of participating children thank all of you on behalf of the walkers, who were: Patsy Vallejos, Delores Lueras, Jonathan Sparks, Jackson Sparks, Jasmine Chavez, Mary Ann Otero, Natalie Chavez, B.T. Gallegos, and Amanda Belk. A special thanks to sponsors of this event.

Taxpayers fund Communist nations

EDITOR--There can be little doubt about it, we are witnessing astonishing cracks in the Iron Curtain, and serious splits in the Bamboo Curtain. News from Europe and from Asia tell us that the socialist experiments in the USSR and in Red China are in serious trouble, perhaps the most serious since WWII.

And how stands "the land of the free and the home of the brave" amid this golden opportunity to free those unfortunates enslaved behind the Communist curtains?

We stand with open checkbook offering unlimited credit. The International Bankers pour more billions into the Communist countries at interest rates far below what you and I can borrow at the local bank. More than that, all such Communist loans are guaranteed by you and me, the American taxpayers. (And we wonder why our income taxes are so high!)

How could socialism ever survive without the International Bankers financing it?

Chamber to co-sponsor Memorial Day event

Carrizozo Chamber of Commerce members took action at the May 9 meeting to agree to co-sponsor the third annual Memorial Day services and celebration that will be held in McDonald Park May 29.

Glen Ellison, organizing chairman for the event, told the chamber, "We need to brag about William C. McDonald being the first elected governor of the state and his home was in Carrizozo."

The event will include a parade through town, speeches, music and refreshments in McDonald Park. The parade will begin at 2 p.m. with the program in the park to follow at 2:30 p.m.

In other chamber business, president Dorothy Fosythe appointed a budget committee to work on a chamber budget for the year. Members of the budget committee are Janice Christopherson, representing the Carrizozo Lodger's Tax Committee, chamber treasurer Phyllis Schlegel, Scott Shaffer from United New Mexico Bank, and Forsythe.

Members agreed to tell New Mexico Magazine the chamber is interested in placing an ad in the vacation guide, and the February and March 1990 issues. A final decision as to whether to place the ad will be made by the chamber by September 1, 1989. It will depend on the amount of money available for advertising at that time. The ad for the three issues this year cost the chamber $1,600 with an undetermined amount due back from the state for coop advertising.

Certificates will be printed to be presented to Carrizozo graduates May 19. The certificate is a one-year honorary chamber membership for each graduate.

The winner of the chamber scholarship will be announced at graduation.

The last Friday cheese and wine social will be held May 26 from 7 to 8:30 p.m. at Sand's Motel and RV Park.

Final plans were made for the Buzzard Days celebration that will be held May 13 and 14 at the Carrizozo Country Club, golf course and recreation park.

SPEECH ANXIETY

"Does anyone have any opinions on this?" You had opinions, but kept silent. Right? I know the feeling. The symptoms of speech anxiety are: a rapid, pounding heart-beat, shaking, perspiring hands, a dry mouth, breathlessness, stammering, a high-pitched voice. Some of us suffer for days in anticipation, while some of us are fine until we begin to talk.

Recently I had the occasion to talk to a group of people. I began by telling them that I was not accustomed to speaking to more than 22 people at one time and that my hands were sweating. The paper I held with both hands was shaking so bad I thought it would tear so I held it with one hand instead.

Anxiety about speaking in public often starts when we're children and persists through adult challenges. Like PTA meetings, classes, a formal presentation, a toast at a wedding, a work proposal or a speech in front of a large audience.

Last month's Woman's Day magazine had advice for those of us who are afraid to speak in public. Nervousness, the article stated, stems from facing a strange and unfamiliar experience. It comes from the painful memories of critical parents, teachers or classmates. Perfectionists feel they must be brilliant or the talk is a total disaster. And many women simply feel their opinions don't count.

CALM YOUR NERVES

Calm your nerves, but abstain from caffeine and alcohol, the Woman's Day article says. Impossible you say, but the writer of human behavior says caffeine and alcohol can increase anxiety, decrease control.

Other tips: Study your topic and organize your ideas on index cards. If you'll be speaking impromptu in a class or meeting, make notes before and during the meeting so your comments will be brief and to the point. Walk to the place you'll be speaking, if possible, to work off any nervous energy. If you cannot do that, arrive early to check the setting and equipment.

During your presentation make eye contact with people in the audience. Envision the audience in a less threatening way. Keep up a positive inner dialogue and don't put yourself down. Smile and look glad to be there even if you're not.

EXACTLY

Estancia's newspaper, "The Citizen," included an article, "What is a mother?" According to Estancia kindergarten children, a mother is: one who takes care of us, washes dishes, buys us clothes, lets us wear shorts, helps with homework, likes to ride bikes, likes to clean her room before she cleans the rest of the house, she likes to take baths, likes to watch her TV stories.

A mother is a big person who makes tortillas, chile and beans, exercises and goes to the store, reads books to us. A mother is someone who tells you what to do. When it is time to go to bed, she tells you, "Go to bed."

A mom cleans stuff. She likes to do the laundry and take out the trash and she like "pretties."

OH SURE

"In the height of the pollen season, take a vacation to a place that is free of pollen: a beach, for example, or a cruise aboard ship."

This is one suggestion that the New York Times News Service carried in their article of health and fitness, "Pollen and Allergies."

Every spring many Americans come down with what they think is a cold that seems to hang on and on. They are allergic to the pollen of spring. I know the feeling as I quote tips sneeze and cough.

The writer of the allergy article means well, but a cruise abroad ship at this time is out of the question. He suggest that I know the pollen count and stay indoors when it is high. I am to avoid outdoor activities from 5 a.m. to 10 a.m., when pollen is released. (The pollen count declines as the day goes on.)

Other more practical hints: close window at night, use air-conditioning, which cleans the air of pollen, keep the car windows closed, do not mow the lawn during the grass pollen season, and stay away from freshly cut grass, do not hang sheets or clothing out to dry (they collect pollen), and watch the weather.

Rain cleans the air of pollen, and some activities can be planned with that in mind.

But rain also causes plants to grow. If rain is followed by several days of warm, windy weather, both the pollen count and the risk in exposure will be especially high.

I don't know which is worse: speaking in public or the pollen count.

REMEMBER WHEN

Remember when the last thing you needed after a day's work was exercise? . . . the woman who could press 200 pounds worked in a laundry? . . . it was the patient who needed the insurance, not the doctor? . . . an adult seldom ran unless in pursuit of a train or a kid?

alphabetical mish-mash we still finance with printing press money. And 3.2 beer!

• I have lived through the idiocies of Howard Scott and his technology racket whereby everybody was going to have an income of $20,000 a year; and of old Dudley J. LaBlanc and his whiskey spiked Hada-col that had the whole nation drunker than a skunk and feeling great; and Dr. Wilhelm Reich and his Orgone Box for the sexually troubled; and Charles Van Doren waiting to be fired by NBC for cheating on the $64,000 Question television show. All eyes, I weathered the topless and bottomless waitresses, the chain letters and Upton Sinclair and his End Poverty in California (EPIC).

• What a delight to have persisted through the ups and downs of women's hemlines, and the emancipation from bustle to crotch dusters. In 1919 women's skirts were 6 inches above the ground; in 1927 they were at the knee; in 1957 came the sack; and in 1960 the flapper returned, with hemlines slightly below the navel. Then there were those Eugenia hats of the 1930s that almost defeathered the bird population of the world and sold for $6 and under. It wasn't easy, but I rode out with grace the era of floursack drawers for the girls, the teddy and camisole; the taffeta ankle-length bathing suits and high-button shoes; bloomers, chemise and corsets.

• It took a tough hombre to outlive the Satan Slayers and Hell Robbers of my era. Billy Sunday, who played baseball for the old Chicago White Stockings before turning against the Devil, struck terror in the hearts of million along his Sawdust Trail. Then there was Almee Semple McPherson, world's most pulchritudinous evangelist, who mixed just enough sex with religion to make it interesting. I buried Father Divine who rode the New York streets in splendor in his $28,000 Duesenberg limousine, along with his successor, Mother Divine, and Dr. Frank D. Buchman and his Moral Rearmament.

• I have outlived three-fourths of my enemies and am planning to bury the rest of 'em. There was only one man I ever swore to kill, and some of Gen. Rommel's men took care of that deed for me in North Africa in World War II. I have persisted in spite of the KKK, Sen. Joe McCarthy, abolitionists, suffragettes, anarchists, wobblers, Bahaists, behaviorists, birth control advocates, Black Power advocates, Hedonists, hippies, homosexuals, idealists, Marxists, populists, occultists, One-Worlders, pacifists, phallists, planned parenthood advocates, revolutionists, Scientist, Sun Worshipers, Technocrats, Theocrats, Democrats, Theosophists, Tolstoyists, vegetarians, yogas and welfare-staters. I have got to be one tough cookie.

• Emerson said it: "Each age has its own follies, as its majority is made up of foolish young people." He would have been more correct to have added: "But folly is for people of all ages." We all have a hand in seeking progress by trying out new ideas and new things. This couldn't happen in a country tied by tradition, ritual and a philosophy of "no change."

ADOBE RUINS of Oliver Lee's bunkhouse remain standing near the Sacramento Mountains 10 miles south of Alamogordo.

Oliver Lee Memorial State Park full of history

Oliver Lee Memorial State Park is located at the mouth of Dog Canyon 10 miles south of Alamogordo. Named for Oliver Milton Lee, a pioneer rancher and New Mexico State legislator, the area contains adobe ruins from Lee's headquarters building and home.

Lee came to New Mexico in 1884 at the age of 18. He began developing his properties with a series of extensive water-control projects, many of which still serve communities in the Tularosa basin.

His headquarters near the mouth of Dog Canyon was irrigated by a ditch developed by Lee and Francois-Jean "Frenchy" Roehas, a French immigrant who homesteaded at the mouth of Dog Canyon.

Water flows year-round in Dog Canyon, creating a quiet green oasis. It is this water that Lee and Frenchy used to irrigate gardens and orchards.

Lee's land holdings and influence grew during the late 1880s and 1890s. He faced opposition for the use of open rangeland and became involved in the sometimes violent political rivalries present at the time.

It was these hostilities that led to several indictments against Lee. Pat Garrett, sheriff of Dona Ana County and the person who allegedly killed Billy the Kid, was brought into the case.

Lee refused to surrender and built a secret escape from his home in order to avoid being captured by Garrett. The escape consisted of a tunnel from Lee's bedroom to the slaughterhouse some distance away from the house.

Lee could enter the tunnel by removing a false door from the side of the fireplace in his bedroom. A ladder led to a room directly beneath his bedroom. Research showed the room under the bedroom was the same size as the bedroom. The tunnel from the secret underground room led to the slaughterhouse.

After the creation of Otero County, Lee gave himself up and was tried in Hillsboro, NM. The evidence against him proved to be circumstantial, based on hearsay, and in 1899 Lee was acquitted of a murder charge.

Lee's prominence continued to grow and in 1908 he was instrumental in the formation of the Otero County Irrigation Company. For many years he was active in state and local politics and he served variously as a representative or senator in the New Mexico State Legislature from 1918 until 1930. He died in 1941 at the age of 76.

The park commemorates the life and times of Lee. The visitor center at the park offers an interesting look back into the days of Apache Indians that once had a stronghold in Dog Canyon, The US Cavalry as well as extensive history on Lee.

The visitor center is located about one mile from Lee's former ranch. Adobe

FEDERAL DEPOSIT INSURANCE CORPORATION, Receiver for Community Bank & Trust Co., Enid, Oklahoma, Plaintiff, vs. THOMAS SIDNEY ORR, SUSAN ANN ORR and LEWIS BLACKWELL, Defendants.

NOTICE OF SUIT

TO: THOMAS SIDNEY ORR and SUSAN ANN ORR, defendants against whom constructive service of process by publication is sought to be obtained.

You are hereby notified that an action has been commenced against you in the above-entitled court and cause by the above-named plaintiff, the objects of which are to recover upon Promissory Notes and to foreclose real estate Mortgages given to secure the Promissory Notes covering real property located in Lincoln County, New Mexico.

It is alleged in the Complaint that the defendants Thomas Sidney Orr and Susan Ann Orr executed and delivered to Community Bank & Trust Co., Enid, Oklahoma, two Promissory Notes, one dated September 29, 1982, for loan in the principal sum of $68,000.00, payable 180 days after date with interest at a floating rate, initially 4 1/2% per annum, and a Promissory Note dated November 19, 1982, for loan in the principal sum of $82,000.00, payable March 25, 1983, with interest at a variable rate, initially 14% per annum.

It is further alleged that defendants Thomas Sidney Orr and Susan Ann Orr, in order to secure the indebtedness due and owing upon the two Promissory Notes, executed and delivered two real estate Mortgages, one dated September 29, 1982, filed October 15, 1982, in the office of the County Clerk of Lincoln County, New Mexico, Receipt No. 78455 and recorded in Book 108 at page 457 and 458 of the Records of Lincoln County, and the second dated November 19, 1982, filed November 29, 1982, in the office of the Lincoln County Clerk of Lincoln County, New Mexico, Receipt No. 70286, recorded in Book 109 at pages 144 and 145 of the Records of Lincoln County. Both Mortgages created liens upon real property located in Lincoln County and described as Lot 23, Block 13 of Unit 3 of Forest subdivision as shown on the plat filed with the Lincoln County Clerk, May 4, 1989.

due and owing upon the Promissory Note dated September 29, 1982, the total sum of $113,418.25 including interest accrued to March 10, 1989, with interest accruing after that date at a daily rate of 17% per annum or $27.01 per day, and upon the Promissory Note dated November 19, 1982, the total sum of $121,657.66, including interest accrued to March 10, 1989, with interest accruing after that date at a daily rate of 17 1/2% per annum or $29.73 per day. In addition, plaintiff seeks the recovery of all of its costs and expenses of collection including its reasonable attorney fees incurred in maintaining the foreclosure action. By reason of the default, plaintiffs claim that they are entitled to judgment upon the Promissory Notes and to a judgment foreclosing the real estate Mortgages securing the Notes and ordering the property described therein sold in accordance with law.

You are further notified that unless you enter or cause to be entered your appearance in said cause on or before the 25th day of June, 1989, judgment will be rendered against you by default and the relief prayed for in the Complaint will be granted.
