Fireworks display in Carrizozo

The Carrizozo Volunteer fire department will sponsor a fireworks display on July 4 at dark at the Carrizozo recreation park near the golf course. The Carrizozo Lions Club will assist with the display.

Fire Chief Albert Najar encourages residents of Carrizozo and Lincoln County to bring their personal fireworks and set them off at the park for two reasons: (1) safety, and (2) to let other people enjoy them.

The fire danger is extremely high in Lincoln County and officials estimate it is the driest it has been in more than 30 years. Conditions are described as "explosive" and fire officials are urging all people to use caution with fireworks.

Najar said the golf course will be well watered to help eliminate fire danger during the fireworks display. Three Carrizozo fire trucks with crews will be at the scene to help with the display and to ensure safety by reducing the possibility of fires.

In the event of a fire in town, two crews and trucks will go to the fire while the third truck will stay at the park.

Najar said a special surprise is planned for the finale at the fireworks display. Everyone is invited to attend. Donations to help pay the cost of the fireworks will be accepted by the Carrizozo volunteer fire department. Contact Najar or any Carrizozo volunteer fireman.

Carrizozo town ordinances prohibit the use of fireworks inside the town limits and anyone involved with causing fire damage by using fireworks could be held liable for damages.

Swimming pool is open

The Carrizozo swimming pool opened Tuesday for the summer. Pool manager Roger Lindley announced daily hours will be 11 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Adult swimming will be each Monday and Wednesday from 6 to 8 p.m. Admission is $1 for children, $1.50 for adults and 75 cents for senior citizens. The telephone number at the pool is 648-2291.

Republicans to meet July 10

Lincoln County Republicans have rescheduled their monthly first Monday meeting for July 10 due to the holiday.

An informal dinner meeting will begin at 6 p.m. at the Inn-Credible Restaurant in Alto. For further information call 258-5403. All Republicans living or visiting in Lincoln County are invited.

Library open for public

Summer hours for the Carrizozo School library will be 8:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. each Monday through Aug. 7. Librarian Julia Hollis invites the public to make use of the library during the summer.

CHEESE AND WINE SOCIAL FRIDAY

The "Last Friday Cheese and Wine Social" sponsored by the Carrizozo Chamber of Commerce will be held June 30 at Stearns Insurance Agency from 6 to 7:30 p.m.

The event is held the last Friday of each month at a different location in Carrizozo.

Arson suspected in late night fire

"Arson is suspected," Carrizozo Fire Chief Albert Najar said of the fire in the old Prehm building on 12th Street in Carrizozo late Tuesday night. Carrizozo volunteer firemen responded at 12:30 and fought the fire until 6:30 a.m. Mop-up crews were on the scene until well past 10 a.m. when the walls left standing were pushed down for safety.

Firemen battled the blaze which threw flames more than 150 feet in the air. Trees behind and beside the building caught fire and sparks from the inferno blew as far as three blocks away.

Sparks landed behind the Carrizozo Animal Clinic building and caused a grass fire in that area. Ned Pieters climbed the fence and stomped the fire out that was dangerously near a propane tank.

Water was sprayed on the Hooten building across the street to protect it from the fire. Water was also sprayed on the old Gambles store building diagonal from the Prehm building when sparks were landing on the roofs of these buildings. Volunteer firemen climbed up on the roofs to check for further damage during the fire.

Explosions inside the Prehm building were caused when ammunition and a 55-gallon barrel of kerosene exploded. Cases of old whiskey and wine bottles also exploded. The noise was heard more than half a mile away from the scene.

A power utility pole caught on fire and telephone and TV cables were burned. Otero County Electric Cooperative workers shut off the electricity to the power pole.

The red glow from the fire is reported to have been seen from Tularosa. Many Carrizozo residents watched as the old landmark burned. Citizens assisted firemen by stomping out small grass fires half a block away caused by the flying sparks.

Najar said a grass fire on the south side of town about 2 a.m. was caused by arson. Four firemen left the Prehm fire to extinguish the grass fire and returned to the scene of the Prehm building.

The Lincoln County ambulance responded and was on standby during the fire. The ambulance was parked nearly a block away because the intense heat from the fire could be felt half a block away.

FLAMES FROM the fire at the old Prehm building in Carrizozo lit the skies Tuesday night.

County commissioners

Contract offered to Beauvais

By Ruth Hammond

Lincoln County Commissioners agreed to employ Robert Beauvais as county attorney for up to six months at a cost of $19,500. According to the state purchasing policy, the county is allowed to procure professional services having a value not exceeding $20,000.

Commissioners took the action to offer the contract after a closed meeting lasting two hours 42 minutes during the June 26 commission meeting.

The contract agreement offered to Beauvais is contingent on Beauvais acceptance of amendments made to the original contract. If accepted, the contract will begin July 1. Beauvais has been with the Parsons & Bryant law firm in Ruidoso and has been the lead attorney with the firm representing the county from April 24 to June 30. It is reported Beauvais has resigned from Parsons & Bryant, effective June 30.

When commissioners voted to go into the closed meeting to consider a professional services contract for an interim period, the News asked why the county had not advertised for requests for proposals prior to the termination date of June 30. Commission chairman Bob Hemphill answered, "It was purely an oversight."

In other business, a certificate of appreciation was presented to J. N. 'Snooks' McDaniel for being voting machine technician for Lincoln County since 1962. McDaniel said when he started the county had eight voting machines and now has 18.

—Walter Henn was reappointed to the Lincoln County Lodger's Tax Committee and Jamie Miller was appointed to replace Robert Finley who did not want to be reappointed.

—The Lincoln County Fair Association requested the county offer $1 to the Village of Ruidoso for a surplus hangar. Commissioners agreed. The building will be dismantled and moved to the fairgrounds. Preliminary plans are to utilize the materials to enhance the livestock exhibit area and sale pavilion.

County equipment will be used to help move the materials and the fair board will be responsible for erecting the structure on site.

—Airport Scenic Drive is the name chosen for the new Sierra Blanca Airport access road. Dedication ceremonies for the newly named road will be held Aug. 4 at 10 a.m. at Sierra Blanca Regional Airport.

—Lloyd A. and Merryann S. Curtis notified the county they would like to purchase adjoining property that was created when the new airport road was built. Commissioners instructed county manager Nick Pappas to proceed with the legal steps for survey, platting and advertising the sale of all small areas that were created when the new road was built.

—A workshop will be held at 1:30 p.m. July 12 for public input to determine how much of a proposed one mill levy will be used for county infrastructure needs and how much if any will be used for economic development. The regular meeting will be held at 2 p.m. that same day.

—Pappas reported on the landfill situation. Commissioner Karon Petty asked that notices be sent to Sun Valley and Alpine Valley with a bill for garbage services provided at the county landfill.

The county also needs a contract signed with Ruidoso Downs by June 30 or the county may not allow Ruidoso Downs to use the county landfill.

Several complaints were received concerning the blowing trash on Fort Stanton Road and the new airport highway. Apparently people using the county landfill are not covering their loads of

Please, do NOT feed the bears

A black bear walked through the Flying J Ranch in Alto June 26 and wandered on across Highway 37. Lincoln County Sheriff James McSwane said the dry conditions are causing bears to look for food at lower elevations. People should not feed bears because the bears will return again when hungry and will enter residences in search of food.

When school ends, your children have one more lesson to learn

You can help protect your children this summer by reminding them of the dangers of electricity. Children often play unsupervised outdoors during the summer, so they should know these basic rules.

- Never touch power lines with anything.
- Don't play in trees near power lines.
- Substations are not playgrounds. Children — and adults — shouldn't go near them.
- Power poles are not for climbing.

Carrizozo town council

Changes to be made in lease

Carrizozo trustees approved the purchase of software during the June 27 town council meeting. The computer software will be purchased from Triadic Enterprises of Deming at a cost of $19,000.

Two proposals for the software were opened at the June 13 meeting. A proposal from L & R Ltd. of Cuba in the amount of $6,500 did not meet proposal specifications.

Triadic has software in several cities and counties in the state and met all town specifications. The $19,000 will include installation, training and a six-month warranty.

The town budgeted $19,438 for the software which will enable the town to do all business on the computer. Water, sewer and garbage billings as well as daily, weekly and monthly reports will be processed on the computer.

In other business, action on renewal of the American Mineral Recovery Inc. lease was tabled. Trustees had questions about the cost of water and want further clauses added to the lease prohibiting the lessee from selling water, and may add a clause concerning hazardous waste.

Action was tabled on a request from Waste Management of Alamogordo to adjust residential and commercial rates and for the town to provide a person to monitor the convenience station.

Sam Sasser of Waste Management will be invited to attend a special meeting June 29 at 6 p.m. at city hall to discuss the matter of collection of solid waste in the town.

A resolution to pay $240 to Southeastern New Mexico Economic Development District (SENMEDD) for services was approved. The rate is set by the census of the town.

The town will advertise an amendment to the 1983 uniform traffic ordinance and place it on the agenda for adoption at a July meeting. Amendments to be considered are the changes made by the 1989 state legislature.

Placing of stop signs on intersections of the newly paved streets was discussed. The town has received complaints of speeding on E

Street and 5th Street and C Street.

Mayer Ed Herring urged people to take their private fireworks to the Carrizozo recreation park on July 4 and set off the fireworks in the park. The town will be well watered prior to the fireworks display to help reduce the possibility of fires.

A fireworks display will be presented by the Carrizozo Volunteer Fire Department at dark. Three fire trucks and crews will attend to help prevent any fires.

Ernest V. Joiner's

• Many years ago in this column I predicted that the federal government would one day destroy the American family, and do it in a manner to delight parents. The carnage is right on schedule. The opening gun was the school lunch program, instituted when "experts" in government found that children were not getting an adequate diet at home and without adequate diet such children could not do well in school, and society would therefore be the eventual loser. So government, with parental blessing, began taking over the feeding of children.

• Last week another milestone toward government takeover of the American family was accomplished, again with the cheers of parents glad to be relieved of still another responsibility to their children. The Democratic Congress passed a child day care bill. Under terms of the bill, child day care will be provided by government so that both parents in a family can devote full time to working so they can pay taxes to the government so that government can afford to take care of their children! Cost of day care for the first year is set at $1.7 billion, plus $3 billion more in tax credits. Now neither parent will have to put up with their kids during the day, a responsibility many have been trying to evade for years. Minority Leader Robert Dole told his colleagues that "child care is a family issue, not a government issue." His fellow congressmen felt differently because public support for day care is manifest everywhere.

• The government takeover of children is taking place, not in the face of parental protest, but with parents' support. The day is not far off when government's attention will be called to the fact that children are not being properly housed or clothed. Naturally, the argument will be that improperly clothed and housed children are at a disadvantage in becoming happy, useful and worthwhile citizens, and government is better prepared to assume such responsibility than are parents, especially those in low and medium income circumstances. Then, with little opposition and with great fanfare, American children will be quartered in government dormitories and provided clothing (uniforms)—just like soldiers in the US military. With food, health care, education, recreation already provided children by government, the demise of the family will finally be completed. Parents are "free at last" while retaining the pleasure of creating even more children.

• The US Supreme Court ruled last week that a person has the right under the First Amendment to the US Constitution to burn or otherwise desecrate the American flag. The First Amendment guarantees the right of free speech, and burning the flag was, strangely enough, viewed by the court as "speech." A bit of mind-boggling is required at this point. This fellow who violated Texas law by burning and spitting on the flag was not arrested for anything pertaining to speech, only to what he did. Putting the matter in one perspective, a man burns a flag and is exonerated because free speech is protected by the constitution. Another fellow burns down the courthouse and is arrested and convicted for arson, destruction of public property, and God only knows what else. Why was the flag burning a matter of free speech and the courthouse burning was not?

• The court seems to confuse "speech" with "expression." There is a difference between speech and expression, albeit the two are related. Nowhere in the constitution is freedom of expression guaranteed, except through speech. But there is no argument that freedom of speech is guaranteed. There are many forms of expression that involve no speech. For example, body language is a form of expression, and it is done without any spoken word or utterance. It would have been nice had the court defined speech and expression, explained interrelation of the two terms, and given examples of where speech becomes expression, and vice versa.

• If expression is equated with speech, then it seems to me no person can be convicted of any crime because every act is an expression of some kind. What about a case where a man rapes a woman and defends his action on grounds it was an expression (or statement) of hatred toward women? Should he be punished or absolved by virtue of his constitutional right to free expression? An angry constituent beats up on his congressman (heh! heh!). He obviously made a political statement in the cause, and was just as obviously expressing a loathing for the congressman or for something he had done. Since the court has fused speech with expression, must the man be held accountable under terms of the First Amendment?

• Another aspect of the case intrigues me. Did the flag burner in question have to prove his act was motivated by reason or logic? In the rape case, must the attacker prove to a court that his act was constitutionally motivated? How would one go about proving that the courthouse was burned for reasons other than exercise of one's freedom of expression? As I see this decision, the perpetrator of any act, however felonious, is presumed to have vented his constitutional right to free speech and is automatically protected. Methinks this case will go down as another argument over the number of angels that can safely dance on the point of a needle.

ANOTHER DAY-ANOTHER CHANCE SOMETHING WILL BE FOUND HAZARDOUS TO MY HEALTH

ED FISCHER

Inside The Capitol

By Jay Miller

SANTA FE—Some Democrat legislative leaders are seriously considering the complete elimination of your property taxes. Imagine, the most hated of taxes—gone forever!

For several reasons this idea may actually hatch some day soon. One consideration is that New Mexico's property tax is already very low in comparison with other states. Anyone who has moved to our state since 1935 usually has a story to tell about New Mexico's low property taxes being one of the first "enchanted" features they encountered in this land.

New Mexico's property tax revolt occurred 54 years ago. We were considerably ahead of most states. But it made sense. Our country was in the middle of the Great Depression. A coalition of large landowners, consisting of farmers, ranchers and railroads combined with representatives of poor landowners, primarily heirs to old land grants, whose property had been subdivided through the generations to the point it would only produce a poverty-level existence. The result was a Proposition 13 piece of legislation some 45 years before California thought of it.

Some think the property tax appraisal and administration program now costs about as much as it brings into state and local government coffers. Eliminating residential property taxes would allow drastic staff cutbacks in both the state Capitol and in every county seat.

Property tax staff have the most difficult job of all tax collectors. Every property valuation is a judgment call with the potential of incurring charges of anything from incompetence to bribery. Their decisions, good or bad, are bound to cause controversy, mistrust and countless days each year of government time and money to counsel, defend and adjudicate.

It is very tempting to eliminate a subjective tax which is difficult to administer and update, a tax that is especially regressive in New Mexico and a tax that wasn't bringing in much money anyway. The action would cut off an entire slice of tax collectors throughout the state.

The gamble could be worth it. The possibility is good that many people could be attracted to a state that advertises no property tax. Although a few states levy no property tax at the state level, it is the primary source of revenue for nearly every local government in the country except in New Mexico.

Five states impose a poll tax, including nearly Nevada, Wyoming and Texas. All three have published laws that prohibit such taxes.

time. Five states levy no sales tax. That doesn't seem to be touted as often. Possibly these 10 states are worried they may have to impose those taxes someday.

But New Mexico could make quite a splash becoming the first state in years to eliminate a major tax.

There are, however, downsides to eliminating residential property taxes. It would cause a greater reliance on sales and income taxes. Sales taxes, although the least painful, are the most regressive of taxes. They are also the most sensitive to an economic slump. A low-income rebate for sales tax paid on food and medicine can help the regressiveness a little. But it is still dangerous to narrow government's tax base by eliminating a revenue source.

Talk so far has been about eliminating only residential property taxes. They are the biggest problem to administer. The thinking is that industry would still be induced to relocate to New Mexico because of the perk it would provide to their employees.

Should we or shouldn't we?

On another tax front, New Mexicans who need to obtain professional licensure in our neighboring state of Texas are burning about a law passed two years ago in that state "temporarily" increasing license fees from $25 to $135. Santa Fe structural engineer Ken DeLapp sent me a copy of his license renewal which designates $27.50 to be deposited in the Foundation School Fund and $82.50 in the General Revenue Fund.

DeLapp says this is the second year he has had to pay "this ridiculous donation to the poor Texans."

Letters to the Editor

EDITOR—If the American people were asked to surrender their freedom to some form of socialist world government, few would do so. Yet, this is precisely the goal that has been pursued by powerful individuals for decades.

These architects of the new world order—many of whom are members of the Council on Foreign Relations (CFR), the Trilateral Commission (TC), and other elitist groups—have been able to direct the course of US foreign policy under Republican and Democratic administrations alike.

Last Sept. 4 the Los Angeles Times reported that private conversation within both campaigns is increasingly about a new world in which the Soviet-American conflict is rapidly receding and in which economic issues seem more intractable to either party's traditional solutions. But voters are unlikely to hear much on either point.

If the CFR and TC memberships numbered in the millions, their dominance in the upper echelons of the Bush Administration would be less notable. But the CFR's membership is only 2,540 and the TC lists less than 100 from the United States. Members of these organizations have also held important posts in previous administrations, particularly in areas related to money, foreign policy, and national security. Yet, the internationalist agendas of these organizations carried to their ultimate conclusions would mean an end to our monetary system, our US foreign policy, and even our national sovereignty.

The presence of a conspiracy to abolish the United States of America in favor of some kind of world government is not even considered by many fellow citizens, but evidence about its activity is available for anyone who has eyes to see.

A new book just published is available entitled, "The Shadows of Power" by James Perloff, also the "Best Enemy Money Can Buy" by Antony Button, showing how the United States built the Soviet Union into a world power.

Lincoln Ramblings

By Rosalie Dunlap

The weather continues to be hot and dry. The Lincoln area has been fortunate there has been no fires.

Herman and Pam McArthur had their little granddaughter, Roswell, visit them last week.

The Joy O'Callahan seminar, storytelling afternoon by participants and the concert was very well attended. Seventy participated in the seminar with 200 or so at the concert.

John Shreengost visited David Amastae in El Paso, TX last week. Sounds like he had a great time.

Joe Salazar is the new evening cook at the Wortley Hotel.

The La Reunada was also well attended. The speaker, Dr. Michael L. Olsen gave a very good program. "Fear the Wind Blow: The Agriculture Heritage of New Mexico," Boyd Barretts "Tales of Enchantment", plus the tour of the Block Ranch. Thanks to all who helped put the La Reunada together.

Lacine Salazar is home between singing engagements. She was on Sharon Bells TV show "New Mexico Today" recently.

Work is progressing on the pageant grounds. The fence is nearly complete as are the new restrooms.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Dunlap accompanied by Christina McKinley of Portales attended the golden wedding anniversary of Rosalie's aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. John Blundell. Rosalie was their flower girl. All of the wedding party except the minister are still alive but only three were able to attend.

The new State monuments restrooms behind the courthouse are coming along slowly.

San Juan's Day was celebrated Sunday following the church services. Friends and neighbors gathered at Chris Jr. and Dora Zamora's home for a covered dish meal.

It was dry from New Mexico to western Nebraska. The wheat and corn crops will be short unless they get rain in the next few days.

The State monuments and Lincoln County Heritage Trust hosted 88 GPA's and their families last week on the one night it was cold. Everyone had a good time. Following the barbecue the GPA's and families toured Lincoln town and shops, which were open for the evening event.

Rosina Locke's sisters, Bessie Pendergrass, Tulsa, OK and Elizabeth Daniels, Ft. Smith, AR visited her last week.

We may see more of these night gatherings and tours of Lincoln.

Walter Joann is recuperating from surgery he underwent last week in the Lincoln County Medical Center. We were so sorry to hear Louise Joiner fall and break her hip Sunday evening. We wish her a speedy recovery.

Sharon Daughtery, Manny Gonzalez, and Ron Smith are busy putting new turf in the Lincoln Park today (Monday).

By the way

LOOKING BACK

"Millions of people of the populous states of the mid-west don't know Highway 54 exists," according to A.J. Zimmerman, executive secretary of the National US Highway Association.

In the Lincoln County News story of May 22, 1959, Zimmerman's message at the Spring convention held in Carrizozo was:

"Our problem is to better advertise this fine highway and bring more people on 54 all the way from Chicago to El Paso."

Roy E. Shafer, state president of Carrizozo, opened the meeting. Officers and delegates to the convention went into executive session for a half hour's additional business.

REMEMBER WHEN?

Also in the NEWS that year was the report that the Carrizozo Chamber of Commerce had received an inquiry from the Varo Manufacturing Co., Inc. of Garland, TX, stating that they were interested in locating a facility in this area. The company specialized in the development and manufacture of electronic equipment.

Thirty years ago the company asked if rental housing facilities were available for 50 families and that they would need approximately 50 skilled and unskilled local workmen. The company wanted to know about Carrizozo's schools, hospitals, churches and local taxes.

MEMORY LANE

I stopped last Sunday to chat with those who attended the school reunion potluck picnic at Spencer Park. Among them was Eloy Chavez of Alamogordo. We learned that some of our ancestors have roots in a now extinct town by the name of Raventon. Antonio Luercas of Carrizozo was born in Raventon and he revealed that many local people were also born and raised there.

My interest and study of Lincoln County and New Mexico has led me to inquire about this once thriving little community near White Oaks. Perhaps someone will think of forming a Raventon Historical Society.

UNUSUAL NEWSPAPER

Peter Hertzog put together an interesting booklet about Charles L. Kusz Jr. and his Manzano, NM newspaper, "The Gringo and Greaser." The paper was unique. It was 8 1/2 and 12 1/2 inches in size, three columns to the page, four pages to the edition. At first there were two pages printed in English and two in Spanish; but the Spanish was dropped in favor of an all-English paper after the 13th edition. The front page consisted of two columns of the paper were set in right point italic.

Hertzog writes that in the latter days of the 19th Century in the Territory of New Mexico, all Spanish-Americans were regarded by the Anglos as "Mexicans," or as "Greasers." The Spanish American population did not hesitate on their part to refer to the Anglos as "Gringos," an equally derogatory name, according to Hertzog.

"It is not known why Kusz decided to call his newspaper 'The Gringo and Greaser.' Certainly he was aware of the fact he was sticking his neck out; it could not have been otherwise. He was, however, an opinionated man and possibly felt with such a title the paper could not but help be noticed. It certainly was."

Kusz evidently did not feel that calling a Spanish-American a Mexican was out of order—everyone did. He did feel kindly towards them and he often made observations in his columns regarding their customs. He did this with no disrespect but with a touch which showed great interest in their doings and welfare.

FREETHINKER

Kusz was a freethinker. He disliked organized religions and did not hesitate to dip his pen in gall to call attention to what he felt were impositions of religions on the unsuspecting and docile public.

Says Hertzog, "He had a good sense of humor. At times his wit was devastating and his pen dipped in pure acid. He poked fun at the foibles of his fellow humans, his competitive papers, himself and his good friends."

Hertzog gives a sample of the editor's humor: "A living brainless baby is the latest sensation among the doctors East. Emigrate him to Colorado, let him make a 'strike' in the mines and then watch him grow. A thousand to one he will go to the US Senate." (Volume 1 Number 14)

DEATH LAMENTED

On April 16, 1884, there appeared in the Red River Chronicle the account of the sudden death of Kusz at the hands of assassins. His partner was forced to suspend publication of the Gringo and Greaser. The Chronicle reported: "This is to be lamented, as that sheet was the only paper now published in Valencia County."

Kusz traveled in late 1880 or early 1881 to the Territory of New Mexico to establish himself in the little town on Manzano, in the Estancia Valley of the then Valencia County. He opened an assay office, established a mercantile business, became a rancher with a registered cattle brand, became the postmaster of Manzano twice, a notary public, a commissioner of the Bureau of Immigration for Valencia County and finally the editor and publisher of "The Gringo and Greaser."

CAPITAN NEWS

By Margaret Rench

No moisture last week. Just hot, dry weather.

Just a reminder about the 4th of July parade that is sponsored by the Capitan Chamber of Commerce. It will begin at 10:30 a.m. Tuesday, July 4. Anyone wanting to enter the parade can contact Frank Worth or Dick Beck. The chamber of commerce meeting will be held July 12 at the Smokey Bear Coffee Shop.

Everyone do relax and enjoy July 4. Let it be a happy day.

The Ruidoso State Bank, Capitan Branch, has a new employee. Their relief teller is Mrs. Edith Malcolm who is welcomed with open arms. Debbie Hobbs is now on two weeks vacation and Mary Lou Vega of Carrizozo is working during that period.

Smokey Bear Museum had 574 registered visitors last week. Among them a Yauck Tour Bus of 44 people, 10 from Midland, TX Church of Christ, bus of 12 from Ruidoso First Christian Church C.O.R.E. group, Boy Scout Troop #110 of Belen, NM, eight scouts and four adults and a church group of 22 who were quartered at Carrizozo for V.B.S. They appreciate all groups and everyone.

The weekend of June 25 the Stanley Pews of Capitan celebrated their 60th wedding anniversary with their immediate family. Present were their four children and their spouses, 10 of their 14 grandchildren with four of their spouses and two of their three great-grandchildren. The families came from all over the USA—Stone Mountain, GA, Morgan Town, WV, Morris, MN, Chicago, IL, Anchorage, Alaska, Portales, NM, Amarillo, TX, and Roswell. It was held at Bonita Park, Nazarene Campgrounds. The celebration observed the June 2, 1929 wedding of Gladys and Stanley Pew. The Pews, natives of Fairmont, MN have resided in the Big Country Subdivision of Capitan for nearly 15 years. May God bless the couple for many years and may happiness always be with them.

Alton and Pauline Whitaker were visited by their grandchildren, Chris and Jimmy Neatherlin of Carlsbad. The couple were celebrating their 10th wedding anniversary.

Happy birthday with good health and happiness always. Anita Chavez July 5 and Margaret Rench June 30.

June 22, Albert and Mildred Muse celebrated their 36th wedding anniversary. I wish them many more very happy and healthy years together.

Albert Muse, Bruce Mark and Tommy Reynolds enjoyed a successful fishing trip at Elephant Butte thru last weekend.

Georgia Maples celebrated her birthday June 22. Her daughter and Mack Bradford took her to K-Bobs for dinner. I wish you many more such happy healthy occasions. Georgia had just returned from visiting her granddaughter in Texas and visited her brother in Hobbs.

Freddie Vega of Carrizozo will be leaving for Colorado to attend the Air Force Academy. Good luck young man.

Kenny and Tami Cummins of Albuquerque spent last weekend in Capitan visiting his parents Hollis and Gloria and brother David and family and assisted in the inventory at the Cummins Market.

Inez Marrs returned last week from California where she attended a large family reunion. While there she experienced two small earthquakes. She said the California people just called them tremors and take them for granted. But to her they were alarming.

We of Capitan just learned of the death of one of our former citizens. Annie Petree a very lovely lady whom we cherished and have wondered and inquired about. She was a good person and loved by all who knew her. A good example to us all.

ANNIE B. PETREE

Annie B. Petree passed away at the Clovis High Plains Hospital June 7 at the age of 93, following a long illness.

She was born Feb. 21, 1896 at Comanche, TX to Mr. and Mrs. Larkin Butler.

She was reared in Texas and spent a number of years in Abilene, TX. She was married to Elsworth Petree Nov. 13, 1923 in Robert Lee, TX. The family moved to a ranch near Capitan in 1936. They resided there until 1969. She retired and moved to Portales, NM to make her home. For the past three years she was at the High Plains Nursing Home. She was a member of the Calvary Baptist Church.

She is survived by six sons, Malcolm Petree of Albuquerque, Wendell of Lovington, Eugene Petree of Deming, Glen Petree of Stanton, TX, Fred Petree of Imperial, CA, and Ray Petree of San Bernadino, CA; five daughters, Mattie Durrie, Carlsbad, TX, Hazel Harrington, Tow, TX, Helen Morgan, Sea Graves, TX, Faye Curtis, Seattle, WA, and Ann Bryant of Portales; and by a number of grandchildren and great-grandchildren. She was preceded in death by her husband Elsworth who passed away Jan. 29, 1942, by two sons Ross Petree in 1962 and Billy Petree 1982.

Her pallbearers were Daryin Jones, Bill Foster, Lavern Wall, Delbert Brown, Andy Well and H.L. Parks. All friends served as honorary pallbearers. A lovely lady gone to rest.
