Another grant for airport

The Sierra Blanca Regional Airport in Lincoln County has been awarded a Department of Transportation Airport Improvement Grant, Senator Pete Domenici, has announced.

The $140,000 package will be used to purchase snow removal equipment for the mountain-top airport.

"I am pleased that the Sierra Blanca Regional Airport has received these needed funds," Domenici said.

"The new equipment will help make this relatively new airport more attractive in the winter months to the businessmen, tourists, and other travelers that want to fly into Lincoln County," he said.

Woman raped; suspect is identified

A woman in her mid-20s was raped and beaten severely at approximately 3:30 a.m. Aug. 27. The incident happened in the Ruidoso area.

Elmo Silva, 28, has been identified as the person committing the rape. He is 5 feet 8 inches or 9 inches tall, Hispanic, has a slight mustache, medium build, and has tattoos on his knuckles and arms.

According to assistant district attorney Scot Key, Silva is considered to be armed and could be dangerous. Magistrate Judge James Wheeler has issued an arrest warrant for Silva for criminal sexual penetration in the first degree and false imprisonment. Wheeler has ordered no bond be set for Silva.

Silva had not been apprehended by press time. The DA's office is soliciting information that could assist law enforcement officers in apprehending the suspect. Ruidoso Police Department is investigating. Anyone with information is asked to contact detective Mike Lovelace at 257-7365 or Crimestoppers.

Silva was recently convicted on a drug charge and was on conditional release pending his appeal of the case. He was last seen in Roswell.

Basic EMT classes this fall

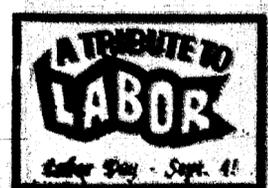

Basic EMT training will be offered in Carrizozo this fall.

Lincoln County Instructor Coordinator Kathy Williams will teach the class under the direction of the University of New Mexico School of Medicine EMS Academy.

Anyone wanting to be a licensed EMT is invited to attend. Cost of the class is $40 plus cost of textbook. A person must be 18 years of age by the end of the course or older to be licensed as an EMT.

Classes will be held twice a week until the 120-hour course is completed. Dates and times for classes will be determined at the organizational meeting.

For more information attend the Sept. 18 meeting or contact Lincoln County EMS Director Maggi Bohks at 648-2385 or Kathy Williams.

Options for landfills heard at county commission meeting

By Ruth Hammond

Lincoln County Commissioners discussed landfills during the Aug. 28 meeting.

Dr. Dereld Morgan, dean of college of engineering at New Mexico State University, told commissioners there are many options to the problem of running out of land for landfills.

"US waste is about 70 percent paper," Morgan said and presented one option which would be to have major recycling centers. NMSU offered the county help with studying the problems concerning a landfill operation in Lincoln County.

"We have to be careful and not compete with private engineering firms or the private sector," Morgan said. NMSU can help the county prepare for an environment impact statement (EIS) study prior to making a decision.

"We are willing to help you up to the point you hire an engineering firm," Morgan told commissioners. He added that landfills should be designed for the type of compaction that will be used on solid waste prior to putting it in a landfill.

Morgan did say that people earning $35,000 per year and more were willing to separate their garbage for recycling compared to lower income families who would not separate their trash for recycling.

Attending the commission meeting with Morgan were John Owens, dean of agriculture and home economics at NMSU; Dr. Bob Gilliland, associate dean and director of cooperative extension service at NMSU; and Bobby McCaslin, professor in the department of agronomy and horticulture at NMSU.

In other county business, commissioners approved an agreement with Eastern New Mexico Area Agency on Aging, Inc. for cash in lieu of commodities for Zia senior citizens centers. The maximum amount granted by the contract will be $8,724.58.

Amendment to the county arterial program (CAP) presented by the state highway department was approved. The state increased its share for the Magado Creek road project by $9,441.

The state department of finance and administration (DFA) has approved the county budget for fiscal year 1989-90 with minor cosmetic changes. Totals approved by DFA were $3,309,696 un-audited beginning cash balance of $3,492,558 on June 30, 1990.

Contract with the Village of Ruidoso was extended 60 to 90 days for services at the county landfill after Sept. 7. The original agreement was for Ruidoso to provide services until Labor Day.

Request for proposals (RFP) for legal services for the county were presented to the commission as had previously been requested. The RFP will not be advertised at this time. Commissioners asked that RFPs be received no later than 5 p.m., Dec. 1 with award of the legal contract to be made Dec. 11.

County attorney Bob Beauvais reported approximately 25 lawsuits have been filed concerning delinquent Alto Paving Assessment District accounts. Commissioners want the accounts brought current.

Lincoln County will participate in Otero's County's juvenile lawsuit concerning new rules for jail certification for the detention of juvenile delinquents. Commissioners agreed to participate in name only with no money to be paid to join the suit.

Use of interest funds generated by reserves of the hospital mill levy were discussed. The interest money goes into the general fund and is used by the county and is not added to the hospital fund.

The Board of Finance will meet at 5 p.m., Sept. 11 to discuss county money.

Budget increases to create line items for the school bus project, CAP road project and cooperative road agreement projects were approved. Cash transfer from general fund to the road fund in the amount of $200,000 for purchase of materials needed for the three road projects was approved.

The resolution for the transfer of the funds states: "this amount ($200,000) will be transferred back to the general fund upon receipt of state highway reimbursement."

Prior year bills in the amount of $73,910.91 and a budget increase of the same amount were approved.

Commissioner Rick Simpson did not attend the commission meeting. Commissioners Bob Hemphill and Karon Petty tabled any action on selection of a new chairman for the next eight months.

During the first meeting of their team on Jan. 3, Hemphill was elected chairman and commissioners stated they would elect a new chairman every eight months.

According to the New Mexico County Commission handbook prepared by New Mexico State University, "The chairman holds office for the duration of the year. The office of chairman is not liable to change (AG opinion)."

AG opinion 69-110 listed in state statutes 4-38-8 and 4-38-10 states: "A board of county commissioners shall elect a chairman to serve as such during his term of office. Only if the chairman either resigns or ceases to be a member of the board may a new chairman be legally elected."

Hemphill asked county attorney Bob Beauvais if selection of a chairman could be a personnel matter. Beauvais said it would and could be discussed in open or closed session.

Election of a new chairman will be an additional cost to the county with expenses for new letterheads, a new facsimile stamp, and travel for signatures on vouchers.

County manager Nick Pappas reported that elected officials were meeting periodically and discussing matters of interest. The personnel policy has been discussed and is being compiled.

Pappas asked commission approval to negotiate with the Village of Ruidoso to pave the road to the county sub-office in Ruidoso at a cost of $9,000. A joint powers agreement will be presented at the next commission meeting.

EMS director Maggi Bohks announced the Corona ambulance will arrive soon.

EMT Byron Yancey went to Alabama to take delivery of the new unit. Bohks discussed with commissioners planned use of the old ambulance.

Pappas stated water was seeping into the basement of the courthouse annex building and there is water damage where papers are stored. He said he had received four responses to request for properties.

County clerk Martha Proctor asked commissioners to provide safe storage place for territorial documents that are in the basement. The matter is to be on the agenda for the next meeting.

Petty stated she had toured the courthouse with Simpson during the last commission meeting and said, "I think we could rearrange and get the files back in district court." She was referring to the district court files that are being stored in the foyer of the courtroom.

Pappas said apparently there was a problem with the request for proposals for engineering services and the matter would be corrected to provide for new procurement rules.

Pappas said the highway department will work with the county to reduce the $70,000 match required by the county for the $360,000 bridge. Pappas and road superintendent Tommy Hall went to the bridge for a meeting with the highway department but did not know the highway department had cancelled the date to view the bridge.

Commissioners tabled action to finalize salary negotiations for personnel at the Carrizozo Health Center pending negotiations with Lincoln County Medical Center and Southwest Community Health Services (SCHS), not to exceed 90 days.

Steve Keller, administrator of Lincoln County Medical Center in Ruidoso, asked

WALT AND RUTH Wilson of Ancho were injured when this Ford pickup they were in was hit by a train at the railroad crossing in Ancho at 11:50 a.m. Saturday, Aug. 26. Walt was driving and was thrown from the vehicle. Ruth was pinned inside. Both were transported to Lincoln County Medical Center for treatment. Walt suffered broken ribs and cuts and bruises. Ruth's injuries were a broken collarbone and numerous cuts and bruises. Their condition was listed as stable at press time.

Beware of rocks on roads

Lincoln County Sheriff James McSwane is asking motorists to be careful driving on all roadways. Recent heavy rains have caused rocks and debris to fall on and wash across highways and county roads.

McSwane said his deputies have responded to several reports of large rocks and debris on state, federal and county roadways.

Sheriff department activities for the week include a report of a pistol stolen in Carrizozo Aug. 24. The matter was referred to Carrizozo police.

Aug. 25 sheriff deputies responded to a call of a dog bite in Corona. State police officer Brown is investigating.

Aug. 26 deputies assisted state police at the accident in Ancho where a train hit a pickup. Walt and Ruth Wilson were injured in the accident and transported to Lincoln County Medical Center in Ruidoso.

Aug. 26 a burglary was reported at a residence in Carrizozo.

Aug. 27 Mike Morrison reported a newspaper stand stolen from a business in Ruidoso. The stand was recovered Aug. 29.

Aug. 27 an attempted burglary was reported at Alto Alps Condominiums. Nothing was taken. Officers also responded to an accident with injuries near Lincoln on Highway 380. State police are investigating.

Nosker case dismissed

The case of Kenneth Nosker being charged with criminal damage to property concerning an incident alleged to have happened on or about June 24, 1989 has been dismissed.

According to papers filed in Magistrate Judge Gerald Dean Jr.'s court, the state feels the matter would better be heard in a civil court proceeding.

WATER SEEPS UNDER the shelves holding territorial records in the basement of the Lincoln County courthouse annex building. County Clerk Martha Proctor has asked county commissioners for a safe storage place for the priceless documents. Sam E. Chavez, bureau of elections clerk in the clerk's office, is shown with the antique records.

Grizzlies hold for 14-8 win

The Carrizozo defense came up with a super effort last Friday night in a 14-8 football season opening victory over the visiting Buffaloes from Melrose.

Melrose had four shots to score the tying TD from inside the Grizzly 5-yard line in the last two minutes of the game, but were stopped at the Grizzly 1-yard line on fourth down.

The game, played in a light drizzle from start to finish, was scoreless until 4:30 left in the second quarter when senior tailback Dennis Vega broke several tackles and scooted down the sidelines for a 49-yard TD run... scoring the first TD of the season. PAT failed and the half ended with the Grizzlies holding on to a slim 6-0 lead.

Carrizozo received the opening kick-off in second half and proceeded to take it all the way to Melrose's two-yard line. Senior full-back Michael Chavez carried it in from there to make the score 12-0. The 2-pt. conversion by junior quarterback Kevin Sheehan made it 14-0 Grizzlies.

Melrose got their only score of the night when (#43) Joe Draper picked up a Grizzly fumble and returned it 55 yards as the clock ran out in the third quarter. 2-pt. PAT closed the gap to 14-8 Grizzlies.

The Grizzly defense bent several times during last period, but held on for the victory. Playing solid games were the front four of Ron Serna, Leroy Zamora, Alfonso Lucero and Michael Vega and the linebacking crew of Mark Guevara, Rod Serna and Kevin Sheehan. Other players comprising the defensive team were defensive backs Abe Padilla, Michael Chavez, Chris Schlarb and Lee Najjar.

Carrizozo travels to Hatch this Friday and meet the Bears at 7:30 p.m.

Lady Tigers volleyball season begins

The Capitan Lady Tigers open their volleyball season Sept. 1 against Tatum, with two games on their own court. Action begins at 4:30 p.m.

The junior high girls have three games scheduled Sept. 5 in Capitan. Teams from Ruidoso will provide the opposition scheduled for 8:30 p.m.

Coach Pam Allen told the News last Saturday's scrimmage did what it was designed to do. All Capitan players got in plenty of playing time. Strengths and weaknesses were weighed and will be dealt with in practice.

The Capitan girls are well balanced, have size and the ability to block well. The Lady Tigers have speed for defensive plays in the back court, and hit well. Allen said the setters are doing an excellent job.

The teams involved in Saturday's scrimmage were Socorro, Moriarty, Alamogordo, Artesia, Goddard High and the host team.

Playing for the Lady Tigers are Kim Eckland, Lori McKay, Lesley LaRue, Karis Cox, Cindy Castillo, Kerrie Rennels, Vicki Sedillo, Jennifer Eldridge and Crystal Dalton.

Also suited out are Sonya Sanchez, Tammi Peralta, Jessica Newcomb, Kim Robinson, Kelly Cox, Brandi Peralta, Tammy Payne, Kelley Witter, Sunshyne Trost, Letty LaRue and Cody Morton.

Norman Gline is Coach Allen's assistant.

Hondo Schools open on an upbeat note

Hondo Superintendent of Schools Mrs. Maria Fuentes Leas feels up-beat about this coming school year.

Enrollment is up and with creative planning and an excellent K-12 staff, many new offerings will be available. Others are planned for next year.

At the high school, in addition to state required classes, a new, innovative "Principles of Technology" class; computers, Advanced math, Child Development and psychology will be offered. "Though we are a small school, we have many of the same offerings as a larger system, but on a much more personalized basis. Thus, instead of having a ratio of one to 25 or 30, ours is often one to 10 or 15," Leas said. "That comes down to quality versus quantity. The result is an excellent curriculum, enthusiastic students and teachers who are not exhausted."

Mrs. Leas and the school board is working on new ideas including some satellite programs for next year. They are also incorporating part-time staff utilizing local talent. This year by hiring author-historian Lynda Sanchez, Spanish language and culture classes are offered and later possibly an anthropology and world affairs course will be included. Because so many top area artists and musicians have indicated an interest in teaching on a part time basis, Mrs. Leas hopes to offer art and music to both elementary and high school students.

Leas stressed that they have a truly talented and multi-certified group of instructors. New this year in addition to Mrs. Sanchez is Mr. Merced Gonzales. He will be the acting principal and athletic director as well as teach and coach. He comes from Animas, a district known for its winning seasons for years.

Mike Walden is another versatile individual. He will be the biology and computer teacher and coach basketball and football. Mrs. Loyce Watts brings a rich background to the English and business programs. She taught many years in Texas and Dexter.

Supt. Leas, was recently named Alumni of the Year by the NMSU Alamogordo branch campus.

commissioners to table the salary negotiations until all three commissioners were present. He said the negotiations with SCHS and LCMC were one matter and the salary negotiations were another matter.

Hemphill said it may be or may not be two different matters and added, "It may be a moot point."

"I see it as two different items," Koller said, and asked commissioners to consider the salary negotiations at the next commission meeting with all three commissioners in attendance.

"I made the motion and I feel I can vote to table one pending the other," Petty said. "I made the motion because I think one encompasses the other."

The salary negotiations were discussed by commissioners during the June 12 meeting with the final decision apparently being to pay Boris Gonzales the $38,000 net salary he had been promised.

A closed session was held to discuss personnel.

Capitan loses to Eunice

The Capitan varsity football team traveled to Eunice Aug. 25 and was defeated 51-0. Coach Blane Miller said the Tigers moved the ball well between the 20 yard lines, but were hurt by 4 fumbles and 3 interceptions.

Coach Kerry Scott brings his Tatum Coyotes to Capitan Sept. 1 for a 7:30 p.m. encounter with the Tigers. The Coyotes are the defending Class A state champions, and have lost 8 key players from last year's team.

Tatum has very little depth. The Coyotes are average size and rely on quickness.

The running backs are Warren Russell and Nathan Roybal. Sean Seay is the full-back, and Heath Huey runs the team at quarterback.

Defensive linemen are Julian Affuso, Ronald Reynolds, Weldon Smith and Jason Walinski.

Linebackers are Larry McEuen, Sean Seay and Heath Huey. Bobby Griego, Nathan Roybal, Warren Russell and Dan Seay are defensive backs.

Coach Miller said "the Tigers will work each week to improve our areas of weakness and build upon our strengths. We appreciate the support of all our fans."

OPINION

So you think we have a war on drugs? We aren't even in the running. Singapore is one of the safest of the world's great cities. It is a city-state in Southeast Asia with a population of about 3 million crowded onto an area of 236 square miles. In Singapore those guilty of drug trafficking, murder, kidnapping, or use of a gun to commit a crime faces death on the gallows. Pushers of an ounce or more of morphine or a half ounce or more of heroin are hanged. Those guilty of selling lesser amounts get 20 years in prison plus 15 lashes from a cane that leaves scars for life. Singapore rewrote its penal code in 1973 because it suffered from the same disease we suffer in the US today—lenient judges and light sentences for criminals. In 1972, 1000 armed robberies were recorded; in 1988 there were only 38. Before 1973 the murder rate was 50—four years later it has been reduced by 80 percent. Tell us again that capital punishment doesn't deter crime!

A woman acquaintance returned from Singapore two weeks ago. She reports it is the cleanest city on earth, and for good reason. Drop a gum wrapper or other piece of trash on sidewalk or street and you pay a heavy fine and/or go to jail. The people are clean and well-groomed. Voting in this republic city-state is compulsory, as it is in Australia and Belgium. Write graffiti on public walls and get three lashes from that famous cane.

Meanwhile, back in the United States, we pass idiotic and nonsensical laws. In Pennsylvania a law prohibits singing in the bathtub. In Alaska it's illegal to disturb a grizzly bear in order to take its picture, while in Missouri it's against the law to carry an uncaged bear down any highway. A Texas law forbids that ladies on calendars hanging in saloons be indecently clad. In New York, it's illegal for children to collect old cigar butts. In Arkansas it's against the law to put a blindfold on a cow on public highways. And in Virginia a law passed in 1930 prohibits "corrupt practices of bribery by any person, other than candidates."

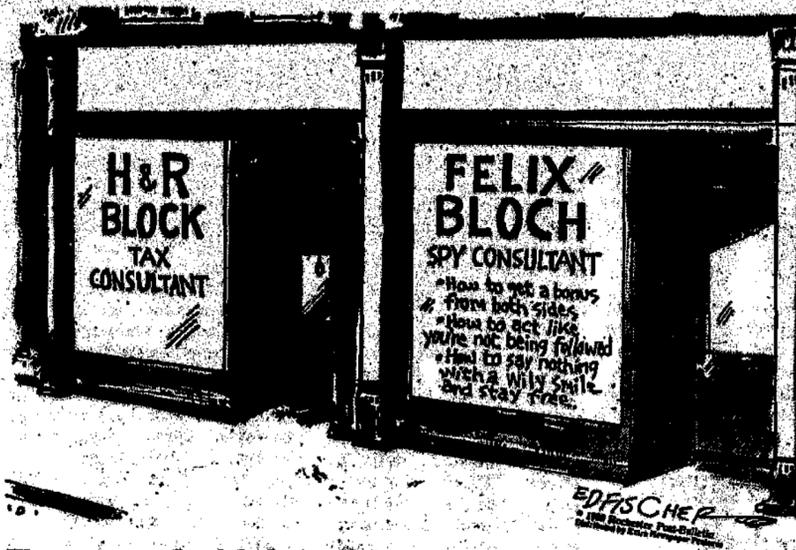

Americans are concerned, even outraged, that Japanese are investing so heavily in the United States. They express the idea that Japanese will soon be "owner" of our economy. I am no Japanese afficionado—I remember them from World War II, and we will one day be at war with them again. But in the meantime, give the devil his due. Japanese investment in the United States is far less than that of other nations. Great Britain, not Japan, is the largest foreign investor in the US, with investments totaling $74.9 billion. The Dutch rank second with more than $60 billion invested here. Japan is third with $33.4 billion. Then comes Canada, West Germany, Switzerland and Sweden. Total foreign investment in the US is between 5% and 7.5% of the total assets of our nation, estimated at $30 trillion. So relax, for now. The good news is that American business has far more investment in foreign countries than those countries have here, something like $1 trillion at this time, with a current market value many times that figure. Feel better?

Now that the eulogies have subsided over the death of US Rep. Mickey Leland (D-Tex.) in a plane crash in Ethiopia a couple of weeks ago, perhaps it is time to examine him more closely. Leland, to his credit, was a champion of refugees and those suffering from hunger. But he was also a champion of the communist-ruled countries that imposed hunger on their citizens and inhuman treatment that triggered the refugee problem. Leland was especially interested in relieving hunger in Ethiopia, but he has never criticized the Marxist tyranny of Ethiopia that caused the hunger. He was a friend of communist regimes in Ethiopia, Angola and Mozambique. He was the member of congress known as the "best friend of Fidel Castro." He supported the Sandinistas in Nicaragua, the FMLN communist guerrillas in El Salvador, and the communist regime the US ousted in Grenada. He has never been known to criticize a communist regime, for anything. Leland was an enigma. On one hand he championed the poor and hungry; on the other supported communist regimes that promoted poverty and hunger. RIP.

More malapropism, the unintended misuse of words. Shortly after Pearl Harbor the WACs (Women's Auxiliary Corps) was trying to buy up thousands of yards of cloth for uniforms. This prompted a general in the Quartermaster's Corps to send a telegram to all army purchasing agents: "All WACs clothing must be held up until needs of regular army personnel have been fully satisfied." Everybody reads classified ads in their newspaper. I'll bet you missed these: "Bed for sale. Four-poster, over 100 years old. Perfect for antique lover." And another, the ending of which reads: "Send no money. You will be bilked later."

The power of misinformation

Lack of communication turns Ruidoso into two armed camps

By J.A. "AL" JUNGE

Ruidoso has become a city of two armed camps.

Why?

While some may think this to be an overstatement to a complicated problem the answer is simple.

This writer has attempted over a long time to emphasize the importance of communication, and unfortunately the idea has received very little notice.

The administration and the council have withdrawn into a shell to the point that any suggestions regarding improvements in the city operation are considered as interference. To compound the problem, our local news source is inclined to print news items and articles favorable to the administration, omitting facts that are unfavorable thereby cheating the reading public on how the city is actually functioning.

It seems that every tax increasing agency took the opportunity to increase taxes during the past few weeks.

The county's increase of 1% mills can be understood due to the expected increase cost in landfill operations.

The local school board wants a $3 MILLION bond issue.

Our local news reported the board as saying that "taxes will decrease" because, in time, other bonds will be retired. If the board is simply substituting one bond for another, why not say so. I will believe the tax decrease when I see it.

The city increased the mills tax to the limit based on "the need to continue adequate city services." While increasing taxes the council failed to investigate the fact that the current year's budget was overspent by $1,288,000. The local news made no mention of the over budget spending although it was discussed (with no action taken) at a council meeting.

Recently the city purchased a new garbage truck. At the time of the purchase there was verifiable evidence that the truck being purchased was inferior to another truck being bid. Our local news was aware of the facts but elected to go along with city officials who purchased the truck under question with full knowledge of some potential problems. In this case the news could have influenced the council's action — and rightly so.

In connection with the situation dealing with the petition and negative referendum which requires the use of the old airport, the local news has taken a biased position. In an editorial, first stating that the petition is a good idea, and then stating that the referendum is a bad idea, the local news has misled the public.

name from the petition it's not too late." The fact that names could be added during the same time frame was omitted from the editorial.

These comments regarding local news reporting are to point out the fact that voters of Ruidoso know very little of what is actually happening in their town. Those few who charge up the ramps at city hall find little consolation for their efforts. Communications between the administration, the council, and the public continues as a low priority item.

Without the mayor's support the council study sessions (held before council meetings) have been discontinued, with one councilman refusing to attend any such meetings. This action eliminated an important form of communication with councilmen ill-prepared to conduct a regular meeting.

Most other cities have study sessions — not Ruidoso!

What does this have to do with "Armed Camps?"

Many months have elapsed since we first started talking about a civic center, a golf course, and a hotel. Almost immediately the council and the administration gave the impression that "no outside help was needed or wanted." Plans to build a civic center were completed along with proposed financing, all of which was shelved when it appeared that those who did the planning were not on the best terms with the administration or the local news. So, the civic center plans were shelved.

About a year ago an Airport Planning Board, made up of nine local citizens, was formed to oversee and to make suggestions for the best use of the old airport land.

This group developed a criteria of plans dealing with a proposal to construct a hotel and golf course on the airport property. These recommendations were presented to the city council and adopted. The council then appointed the city attorney and city manager to negotiate a lease for these two projects. Giving this assignment to the city attorney was a disservice to him as a negotiator. Instead, a select committee made up of a number of local qualified persons should have been given this job. There were members of the Airport Planning Board, the P & Z, local real estate, bankers and others who should have been given this job.

As a result, negotiations were accomplished by the city attorney and presented to the council and to the public in a special called meeting on June 19, 1989, and it soon became apparent that many of the suggestions previously made by the planning board and adopted by the council had been omitted in the preliminary lease placed before the council and the public.

There were many suggested changes in the lease which were discussed. Several speakers appeared before the council laying out criticism of the lease provisions and making suggestions to improve the city's position and, in some instances, the discussions became heated, with the council hearing the speakers. As a result, the city must learn to take the heat—the customer "is always right."

The council paid little attention to comments and suggestions by those in the audience and voted 5-1 to accept the preliminary lease as drawn and to continue to negotiate with the other parties. The writer's attempt to delay the vote until the suggestions made were considered was rejected 5-1 by the council. This means that the final lease, will, no doubt, contain provisions which will not be accepted by the general public.

It was at this meeting that the idea of the negative referendum was conceived. During the next few weeks petitions asking for a referendum were circulated and 511 names were obtained. 357 signers are necessary to validate a petition at this time. Then the fun began.

Normally, a petition loses about 2-3 percent of the signatures due to various reasons. Due to the concerted efforts of those opposing the petition 122 names—in excess of 20 percent—have been removed. If one can believe a few of the many rumors now floating about the city, you can find the very interesting accounts of those who were "encouraged" to remove their names.

Letters to the Editor

Paying for AIDS

EDITOR—With this new medicare bill that congress has passed to cover catastrophic illnesses, it looks like the medical cost of the AIDS plague is being dumped directly on the backs of we senior citizens. If we dare to live beyond 65, we face imminent bankruptcy. Regardless of the fact that we have saved all our lives for those supposed golden years, this is our plight.

Senator Helms estimates that the medical costs of the AIDS plague will soon reach 1.6 trillion dollars. Considering that it is mostly young people that contract AIDS, due usually to their own transgressions, and die from it in a few years, I think the wrong people are footing the bill.

CORNELIUS U. MORGAN, Baltimore, MD.

A Huey Newton postmortem

EDITOR—It seems as though a minimum is being said about Black Panther Huey Newton being a Maoist communist. It is almost as though the newscasters would like to forget that the Black Panthers and Huey Newton were very much the same breed of communist as those Red Chinese communists who recently slaughtered the Chinese students protesting in Beijing.

In an interview published Dec. 6, 1970 in the San Jose Mercury News, Newton warned, "We intend to overthrow the United States government by force and violence—armed struggle is the only way."

Well, Huey Newton never lived to see that day, although he did live to see, at least, two administrations in Washington extend easy credit and vital technology to those Red Chinese communists in Beijing.

So, it appears that Huey was wrong when he said, "armed struggle is the only way." It took the Bush administration as well as the Reagan administration before it, to provide the Chinese communists with aid and trade, a far deadlier way.

RAYMOND C. WILSON, San Juan Bautista, CA.

Another Grindstone Dam?

EDITOR—It is with much interest I read glowing articles extolling the economic and aesthetic benefits of the proposed hotel-golf course project. If its proponents are to be believed, it is indeed the Second Coming. (Gosh! and here I thought that faint glow above Mr. Hubbard's head in a recent news photo was just a camera spot.)

I have always been a great believer in the free enterprise system. As such I cannot help but wonder, if this is a truly feasible project, why must it be so heavily subsidized by us taxpayers in terms of fire, flood, water, taxes, and who knows what else?

If, on the other hand, it required these subsidies to exist and can not support itself without them, how then could it ever support Ruidoso?

As I listen to the arguments in support of this project, I recognize the same fuzzy thinking, advanced by the same self-serving interests that brought you (also at great taxpayer expense) that Pinnacle of Prosperity—Grindstone Dam.

We all know what a stellar success that has been, don't we?

For a REAL discussion of the water issue involved I suggest the reader obtain a copy of the Aug. 17 Lincoln County News.

Will Ruidosans again make the mistake of following these Purveyors of Puffery?

WALT DURK, Ruidoso.

At the regular city council meeting Aug. 28 it was announced that 389 names remained on the petition (357 are needed to pass). I asked the council to accept a motion that we resolve to go to a vote process at the earliest moment. I failed to get a "second" to my motion. I can't understand why so many fear an election by the voters. It has been the writer's contention from the beginning that with so many plans and ideas floating around that it is important that we follow the wishes of the voters—no one else.

By the council's inaction last evening there remains 14 days until an election must be called. During that time additional names may be "encouraged" to remove their names from the petition. Should this occur to the extent that the petition is short the required signatures, this matter may result in legal action in our courts. The handling of the petition is highly suspect regardless of the intent of those involved. There is one thing we can depend on. There will be more delays before we find a final solution.

All of the foregoing is an attempt to explain and to place an emphasis on the importance of communications.

The urgent need for cooperation and a willingness to work together was never more urgent than now.

INK WORTHY
Credibility, Mike Pomper, publisher of the State Line Tribune writes in his "Border Banter" column that this word is a most important word to a journalist. Without it, he says, a newspaperman isn't worth the ink the paper is printed with.

Pomper recalls a few years ago, a local minister came to him and asked him to keep a certain police blotter item out of the Tribune on behalf of one of his congregation members who had been in court.

The publisher told him, "Fine, I can do that easily. But it also means I have to leave town since my credibility will be destroyed." He understood and the item was reported in the paper.

In Virginia, where Pomper was a managing editor at a Washington, DC suburban newspaper, his publisher ordered Pomper to do a story on Page 1.

It was a Sunday morning when Pomper's boss called him. The publisher's son had been drinking and driving. The accident cost at least one life. The publisher directed Pomper to make sure that the story would be on the front page—or his credibility would be severely harmed.

Pomper feels the same way. He's told his Tribune staff that if any member of his family is involved in the kind of police blotter items that normally are printed—you can find it on Page 1 of the Tribune.

Rightly so, Pomper believes that credibility is of utmost importance for public servants or for persons in leadership roles in small communities like Texico, NM or Farwell, TX, the areas served by the State Line Tribune, official publication of Farmer County.

CHUCK'S OUTDOWNS
The Hobbs Flare had Chuck Mittlestadt's opinion regarding a headline that the government should treat citizens like customers: "That's what we need in this world... laughs."

"Newspaper people find out teens are readers, too" writes an editor in one state newspaper.

"Oh, sure, if you have lots of pictures," quips Chuck.

BROKEN ROMANCES

The meter reading system of the future records how long the meter reader handler takes between meters.

"We've broken up a few romances," C. Ken Parker with RTR Water Measurement, Inc. told the Espanola utilities committee who has its eye on a new meter reading system.

The new system, reports the Rio Grande Sun, could recapture losses generally blamed on human error and freed up meter readers for other tasks.

Parker told the committee that there are four opportunities for mistakes in reading meters: The first is when the meter reader reads a number wrong. The second is when he writes it down in his book. The third is when the girl in the office reads it wrong, and fourth is when she keypunches it into the computer wrong.

The new meter system has a built in beeper. It beeps if the meter reader misses a house on his route. It beeps if the customer's meter indicates usage appreciably higher or lower than usual. It beeps for broken meters and leaky lines.

The meter devices are placed in lids covering existing meters, so meter readers no longer have to lift the lids to read the meters. The meter reader of the future would stroll along the street carrying a blue box with numbers on top and a long meter stick. It also records how long the meter reader takes between meters.

MAGIC SCISSORS

In my years of processing film and printing pictures for Lincoln County News my biggest challenge was opening the eyes of one blinking subject holding a perfectly clear sign which was the purpose of the assigned photograph in the first place.

Fortunately, the subject was holding the sign close to his face and fortunately I happened to have a picture of him from another time. I made the sleepy-eyed print, and with my magic scissors I snipped the face from the available print and glued it over the print in which he was holding his sign of accomplishment.

Not even his mother could tell the difference in the end result.

Not so with TV Guide. Television news this week reported that Oprah Winfrey and Ann-Margaret made a complaint about the publication's cover.

This week's cover shows Oprah sitting on top of stacks of money. "Oprah! The Richest Woman on TV!" says the cover headline.

The problem? Oprah's head is sitting on top of Ann-Margaret's body.

"Never do that again," the newscast quoted the ladies as saying about superimposing the head of Oprah on the body of Ann-Margaret.
