Holland gets two-year contract as principal

By Doris Cherry

Carrizozo Board of Education spent more than four and a half hours in closed session at two different meetings before the two-year contract for principal Mel Holland was approved.

When the vote was taken it was close—two members for and two members against. President Wally Ferguson broke the tie and Holland became the principal of Carrizozo Schools for the next two years.

Board members Hoot Gibson, Nat Palomarez, Nick Serna and Eugenia Vega discussed the contract in a three-hour closed session for personnel at a special called meeting Friday, Feb. 16. No action was taken at that meeting.

At the regular meeting Tuesday, the board again went into a closed session for personnel after hearing about the Chapter I program and the science fair.

Initially, Palomarez moved to approve a two-year contract which Gibson seconded, without any previous discussion at that time. However, Serna requested a closed session to further discuss the contract. To avoid parliamentary procedure problems, the board then tabled the first motion and approved going into closed session which they did at 8:13. At 9:48 p.m. the board returned and opened the meeting. At that time Gibson moved to approve the contract. Gibson and Palomarez voted for the contract and Vega and Serna voted no. Ferguson broke the tie and gave the job to Holland for another two years.

Holland was not at the meeting.

After the contract approval a large number of the audience left the meeting.

Before the closed session Sharon Baker, Chapter I director, discussed the program and what it means to students. Carrizozo Supt. Danny Burnett complimented Baker who took over the program in August. "There have been tremendous strides in the program," he said.

Baker credited the program's success to the more individualized attention given to the students who are involved in the daily program. Currently 32 students receive individualized help in language arts, which stresses reading and a little writing, and 13 in math. To qualify for the Chapter I program a student must score 45 percent or below the National Curve Equivalency on CTBS tests.

Chapter I subjects are taught a grade level below the student's actual level to help them pick up skills they lack, Baker said.

A major change in the Chapter I program this year is the methodology and techniques, Baker added. "More individual attention on individual problems."

In response to Ferguson's question why students are in the Chapter I program, Baker said often a student who misses a lot of school in their early years, or is not mature enough.

"The idea of the program is to work yourself out of a job," Baker said.

Students are "excited" from the program once they achieve the skills they lack, she added.

The Chapter I program entails about 20 minutes each day of the closely supervised instruction assistance. Baker credited her two aides, Josie Vega and Margaret Barela, for their "marvelous" support in the Chapter I class. Presently about four students are assisted with an instructor.

"It's not a perfect situation, but it is a healthy alternative to stumbling through class with problems," Baker said in response to Ferguson's question about the self image students have when placed in Chapter I.

"Sharon has taken a run-of-the-mill regular type program and turned it into a shining star for the district," Burnett said.

Also before the closed session the board heard Mariann Patterson who sponsored this year's Science Fair. She said 21 students will go to the regional contest at Eastern New Mexico State University March 3 with their various projects. She was pleased with this year's fair with projects that are "getting better."

The fair was judged by 12 professional and science educated local people.

Patterson encouraged all to attend the regional and state science fair where participants receive the same type of support as in athletics.

Steve Harkey from the Carrizozo FFA Alumni Association presented a $1495 meat saw to the school's VoAg program. The saw adds to the more than $20,000 given to the school from the group for various projects and scholarships. VoAg teacher and PFA sponsor Mike Gaines credited the group for their support which he termed "more valuable than anything in the world."

After the board accepted the saw, it heard of the 1990-91 board goals as compiled by Burnett based on previous board discussion. The list includes: expansion of communications with the community with a quarterly newsletter sent to parents; continued improvement of the campus with use of mill levy and bond issue funds; establish a chain of command when administrators are absent; health and hazard reporting procedure to document any hazards found on campus; a reward system for excellent employees; and continue to improve education.

Burnett said the prime goal is to "make education fun for kids."

In other business, the board:

—adopted Section 1200 of the school board policy.

—acknowledged students of the month of February: Amanda Greer in elementary, Keri Shafer in mid-high and Abe Padilla in high school.

—commended the girls varsity basketball team and coach Gerald Montes for a successful season.

—transferred $527.50 from line item 3.300 to 14.800 to pay for election advertising.

—heard Burnett say he wants to send as many staff to conferences as possible. In response to Ferguson's question, Burnett said the absences would be scheduled to avoid problems. Serna questioned if only certified staff will be able to attend. Burnett said he will encourage all staff to go for training.

Ruidoso gets lion's share of 'pork funds'

Ruidoso received the lion's share of funding requested by different Lincoln County groups at this year's session of the New Mexico State Legislature.

The 1990 Capital Projects Act passed by the legislature authorizes expenditures of $48.6 million from a variety of sources to finance numerous public works projects throughout New Mexico.

House Bill 25 substitute combines about 200 House and Senate bills into a single package initially developed by the House Taxation and Revenue Committee's subcommittee on capital outlay.

The capital projects measure is commonly called the Christmas tree Bill or a pork barrel bill since a major accomplishment of some legislators is to get funding for projects in their constituency.

According to Ruidoso Village Manager Frank Potter, the civic-events center will receive $130,000 from the state general fund appropriations. The funds will be added to the $668,000 already in an account for the center which will be constructed at the old airport property next to the golf course being constructed by Colbert Golf, Inc. The village has contracted with Holmes, Sabatini and Eeds architectural firm in Albuquerque to design the center. The firm also designed the Albuquerque convention center. The village originally requested $600,000 for the project.

Also, Ruidoso's Main-Street project will receive $10,000 to design the sidewalks for the downtown area. The funding came from House Memorial 75. The original request was for $100,000.

Also from the state general fund was $75,000 to renovate the Lincoln County Fairgrounds in Capitan. According to Lincoln County Fair Association president Jack King, the funds will be used to replace the existing 1940s wooden bleachers around the arena and construct handicapped access bathrooms. The stands also will have a cover constructed over them, King added. The association requested $300,000 to also insulate the exhibit hall and install gas heatings in the office and hall.

"We're tickled to get what we got," King said.

Fort Stanton Hospital and Training School received $35,000 for a natural gas pipeline from the Capital Projects Fund.

$140,000, through the state engineer's office, will go toward replacement of the water pipeline serving Nogal.

Lincoln County's $460,000 request to construct a judicial complex to house a new courtroom and associated space did not get funded. County manager Nick Pappas said he was "extremely disappointed."

According to Rep. Ben Hall, who represents parts of Lincoln County which include Ruidoso and the Hondo Valley, the Zia Senior Citizens will receive $36,000 to initiate a senior center in San Patricio. Zia director Barbara Ward, Lincoln County Commissioner Rick Simpson and a group of Lin-

Capitan principals' contracts renewed

Capitan school principals Bill Stowe and Jerry Newsom will continue in their positions another year.

The contract extensions were approved at the Capitan Board of Education meeting Feb. 13. The board had little discussion and did not go into closed session to discuss the contract extension. Capitan Supt. Scott Childress had advised the board on the rules governing closed session and all members agreed to approve the extensions in open meeting.

Board members Preston Stone, Tom Trost, Ken Cox and Ron Roybal approved the contracts unanimously.

Also at the meeting, the board approved two budget increases; $1430 for Chapter I programs in language arts and mathematics and $40 for handicapped instruction. The $1430 will increase the budget for such line items as supplies and materials, library and audio-visual aids supplies and substitutes for both programs. The increases will be forwarded to the School Finance Division of the State Dept. of Education in Santa Fe.

Other financial approvals were made for a cash transfer of $118,205 from the debt service fund to operational. Last year the state board of education made a mistake on assessing the school district's tax rate and thus undercharged property owners in the district. To make bond payments the board approved a loan from the operational fund to pass the debt service. The increase in this year's tax payments offset the prior year's mistake. Upon receipt of the extra funds, the board unanimously approved payment of the loan to operational from the debt service fund. The situation is for this year only, Childress pointed out.

Another cash transfer involved payment of the operational fund for a $303.65 loan made to the cafeteria fund at the end of the last school year so that fund could end the school year without a deficit. Despite an effort to increase the number of students eating at the cafeteria, the numbers remain static. Cafeteria participation has not increased considerably since the school went to a longer lunch schedule, but students appear to be more relaxed and are taking more time to eat, the board learned.

The board also approved the authorization of Bill Stowe and Jerry Newsom to sign athletic and activity checks. Formerly, only Childress and a bookkeeper were authorized to do such. Newsom will be able to sign elementary activity checks and Stowe high school.

Some students from Myrum Whitaker's Contemporary World Problems class, a junior-senior honors program, told the board about their activities and the invitation for Cong. Joe Skeen to speak at the school. The class involves the students selecting a timely world topic, researching it and presenting a report to the class. Speakers also supplement the class program.

The 1990-91 school calendar was approved. The Christmas holiday was changed to begin at the close of class the Friday before Christmas and to last until Jan. 7, 1991. The school year will end May 24, 1991. Spring break is scheduled for

LCMC administrator Keller to leave

Lincoln County Medical Center administrator Steve Keller is leaving May 25.

Keller tendered his resignation at the LCMC board meeting Tuesday night. In his letter he stated he will pursue other professional opportunities and further his education.

In a telephone interview Wednesday, Keller said he will remain with Southwest Community Health Service, which has the lease for administration of LCMC.

Keller, who came to LCMC in fall 1986, said he accomplished his goal of bringing the hospital together to make it accessible for the entire population of the county. During his stay at LCMC Keller initiated the remodeling project and helped bring new equipment and personnel to all areas of the hospital.

Keller said he wanted to thank the people of Lincoln County and the county officials for their support of LCMC and the Carrizozo Health Clinic and for their friendship during his time here.

Keller was recruited by Southwest from Mercy Hospital in Tiffin, OH where he was assistant administrator of nursing services.

He plans to relocate in Albuquerque in another Southwest capacity.

Also at the LCMC board meeting, Dr. Chris Robinson, chief of staff, announced Dr. William Harrison, OB-GYN, will leave Ruidoso June 30. Dr. Harrison has served as chief of staff at LCMC.

Keller also announced the new doctors who have arrived or are planning to.

join the LCMC staff. Dr. Roger Beechie is now back with a private practice in Ruidoso, Dr. James Pine-more, a certified surgeon and proctologist also joins the staff. Dr. Vickie Williams, OB-GYN, is finalizing her agreement to be part of LCMC, and Dr. Gary Jackson, internist, will join the doctors at LCMC soon. Keller said another general practitioner is looking at the area also.

Sections 9 through 12 of the board policy were approved. The sections deal with free or reduced price lunch policy, non-discrimination policies providing equal opportunities for boys and girls, transportation and child abuse/neglect reporting procedures. One minor revision dealing with individual coaching was made to the policies.

Stowe reported on the financial aid workshop which resulted in the seniors being about six weeks ahead in applications for further schooling.

He also presented a copy of a memo sent to parents concerning the excess of six absences, without notes, a semester. By policy, credit can be withheld or grades changed to failure due to attendance if proper documentation is not provided by parents. Parents have the right to appeal to the superintendent and board of education.

Stowe reported the first period homeroom has worked well by avoiding class interruptions later in the day. Sports scheduling is underway for next year also. Stowe's goal is to get high school games on Friday and Saturday only, which will take about two years to modify contracts. Junior high games will have to include weekdays.

The board also briefly discussed the need to wait for the legislature to adjourn to discuss funding.

The board adjourned the meeting began. The next regular board meeting is at 7 p.m. Thursday, March 8.

Lincoln County seniors traveled to Santa Fe during the session to request the funding. Rep. Dick Knowles, who serves on the Agency on Aging Committee and represents parts of Lincoln County, also made the request for the funding.

Jim Martin on the senate side directed the language in the bill to specify the San Patricio center, Hall added. Carrizozo will receive $40,000 for improvements to E Street.

Restoration of Building 13 at Fort Stanton will be accomplished with the $150,000 appropriated for that project. Hall introduced that request also.

Hall said the short session was not wholly satisfactory because too much legislation was introduced and the budget was delayed until the final hours. The 30-day session is intended to be used to deal with the budget only, Hall said.

All funding is for the next fiscal year which begins July 1.

ABC-TV's PRIME TIME Live co-host Sam Donaldson (center) listens to Lincoln County Heritage Trust director Bob Hart (left) plans with Pam Simon, ABC-TV program producer. The group was in Lincoln Sunday and Monday to film segments which will air on the show early Monday.

ABC's Sam Donaldson, Prime Time Live Crew films in Lincoln

By ROSALIE DUNLAP

Prime Time Live returned to Lincoln again over the weekend. Prime Time Live was first approached by Gary Miller last spring. A crew from ABC Television Network filmed Billy the Kid/Garrett Days and Old Lincoln Days in Ft. Sumner and Lincoln last summer. This footage was shelved for various reasons.

A new crew and producer arrived in Lincoln Saturday afternoon to begin filming Sunday afternoon.

Local and area residents dressed in period costumes, others riding horses, displaying their riding abilities and rope tricks performed, in front of cameramen both Sunday and Monday.

Sunday afternoon Pam Simon, ABC-TV program producer, interviewed Rafaelita Pryor, Joe Salazaar, Fred Pffingsten and Sam Hammond.

Pryor and Salazaar told of their family participation in the Lincoln County War. Pryor talked about her grandfather, Captain Saturnino Baca, and Salazaar about his grandfather, Higinio Salazaar; Pffingsten about Old Lincoln County and Hammond about his part in "Young Guns" movie and the impact it had on Lincoln. It was 112 years ago Feb. 18, 1878 that John Henry Tunstall was killed.

Sunday morning, with the weather still cooperating, the film crew did the scenes with Sam Donaldson in front of the courthouse.

Donaldson then interviewed, Dr. Robert Utley, Santa Fe, author of "High Noon in Lincoln," William Tunstall of Roswell and Paul

Hutton of Santa Fe.

Donaldson queried all interviews, "Do you believe Billy is buried in Ft. Sumner? and "Do you believe Pat Garrett killed him?" Utley and Tunstall, who have entirely two different views, gave their reasons for their beliefs.

Utley believes the "traditional" stories about Billy the Kid while Tunstall believes Brushy Bill Roberts was Billy the Kid. It is hoped there will be some results from the compute studies of various photographs by the time of the broadcast, which will be sometime in March. Donaldson leans toward the views held by Utley. He has an interest in New Mexico and Lincoln by virtue of owning a ranch in Hondo, attending New Mexico Military Institute, and growing up at Anthony, NM.

The ABC-TV crew were Pam Simon, producer; Tony Barrett, director; free lance Jim Bowen, camera; Rob Lee, video engineer, and tulip cane operator Chris Eperset and son Eric of Santa Fe.

Others participating were the families of Shrecengost, John Parker, Boyd Barrett; the Dunlaps; Lincoln County Heritage and Trust, Bob Hart, New Mexico Monument, Jack Rigney, personnel; Mike Petel, New Mexico Tourism Dept.; Casa de Patron; Jerry Flores; New Mexico State Police and Lincoln County Sheriff's Dept.; Jim Hicks and family who furnished the wagon with horses; and Lincoln County Sheriff's personnel and others too numerous to mention.

Magistrate court proceedings

In Magistrate Judge Gerald Dean's court, David Pacheco, 27, Carrizozo, made his first appearance Feb. 20 on charges of aggravated battery with a deadly weapon, a third degree felony. Bond was set at $5000 and Pacheco remains in the Lincoln County Detention Facility. The charges stemmed from an incident at 4 Winds Restaurant in Carrizozo Feb. 8. A date will be set in district court for a preliminary examination.

Eddie Chavez, 33, San Patricio, was charged with assault on a police officer on Oct. 21 and a DWI and disorderly conduct in Ruidoso Downs Feb. 19. Judge Dean set bond at $1700 for the combined charges. The Oct. 21 charges stemmed from an incident at a wedding in San Patricio. Chavez pled guilty to the disorderly conduct charge Feb. 20.

A court date set for Feb. 27 to hear the charges of illegal dumping of garbage on Kenneth Nosker and Jake Harris and the Village of Ruidoso Downs will be rescheduled at a later date. The men's attorney's called for a continuance.

Reports for duty

Navy Lance Cpl. Jon A. Mayer, son of Jon A. and Janet Mayer of Capitan, recently reported for duty at Henderson Hall, Arlington, VA. He is a 1985 graduate of Capitan High School.

Feb. 17, officer Rick Emmons arrested Steve Ortiz after Magistrate Judge Gerald Dean issued a warrant for his arrest based on charges made by his wife Debbie after a domestic violence incident. Ortiz was transported to the Lincoln County Detention Facility and booked.

He was released the following day after criminal charges were dropped by Debbie.

Two other accidents without injuries were investigated; one at Crossroads Motel at 7:30 p.m. Feb. 16 and the other at 2:15 p.m. at Kings Foodmart. No citations were issued in either accident.

REAL ESTATE UPDATE

CHUCK ROMINGER

SHOULD I RENT WITH OPTION?

QUESTION: My home is for sale. One prospect offered to rent it with an option to buy. What is your advice on this situation?

ANSWER: The "Rent with option to buy" offer is usually made by someone who is not a serious buyer for ANY house. I'd suggest putting the offer aside and looking for a bona fide prospect who wants to BUY the house — not rent it. However, if you MUST rent your home under these circumstances, be sure that there is a consideration for the option over and above the rent. Remember, you are reducing your sales prospects down to one — and that one is quite dubious.

Renting your house with an option to buy, REDUCES YOUR PROSPECTS TO ONE!

CHICANO IN CHINA

The grocery bags you saw me carrying last Thursday were not full of groceries. They were books I checked out from the rural bookstore which makes monthly runs across Lincoln County. This month again I am into history reading: For Old Times Sakes by Clarence Siringo Adams and Apache, Navajo and Spaniard by Jack D. Forbes.

The book titles that got only a passing glance from me included: The Great Depression of 1990; Pancho Villa and John Reed; The Complete Book of Picnics; Black Robed Justice; Your Biblical Garden and The Best of Russian Cooking.

I should have checked out but passed up: Soup, Beautiful Soup; Typing in 24 Hours; Nothing, Down; Comida Sabrosa; Do It Yourself Accupuncture Without Needles, and Playing Blackjack as a Business.

Wouldn't it be silly for me to bring home The Surrogate Mother; The Care and Repair of Gasoline Engines; Better

Beer and How to Brew It; Farming and the Computer? Since I don't expect to do any international traveling in the near future, I have no desire to read Chicano in China.

Tourism officials to visit Lincoln County

A group of Albuquerque tourism volunteers who annually speak to thousands who spend millions are in the Ruidoso area Feb. 24-25.

The volunteers staff the Albuquerque Convention and Visitors Bureau visitor information centers at the Albuquerque International Airport and at Old Town. The volunteers disseminate Albuquerque and New Mexico information to more than 180,000 visitors annually.

They'll be in Capitan, Lincoln, Ruidoso, and Carrizozo to get acquainted with the area. The volunteers can use the information they gather during their trip to inform tourists about exciting areas to visit in New Mexico.

They arrive in Capitan at 11:30 a.m. on Feb. 24 and tour the Smokey Bear Historical State Park and Museum. The heat pump provides comfort for you & your energy budget

The heat pump is the most efficient heating and cooling system you can buy to heat and cool your home throughout the year. The heat pump keeps your home comfortable by removing heat from your home in the summer and transferring heat into your home in the winter. It keeps your energy budget comfortable by using less electricity than a traditional electric resistance heating and cooling system.

OPINION

● Our dissertation on National Condom Week which ends, Feb. 24, has caught the attention of the New Mexico Health and Environment Department in Santa Fe. A representative called Tuesday to find out what the problem is with us. I think I capsuled the feelings of local citizens in a 30-minute conversation as to this vulgar and obscene approach to school children's sex education. The very nice lady said the "comedy approach" to condom use is popular and well-received in Oakland, San Francisco and Boston, and was surprised that it touched off a firestorm in this area. Considering the reputation of those cities for things immoral, I'm not surprised. If any reader wants to complain about our tax dollars being spent in such a fashion, call Roy D. McKeag, director, Public Health Division, New Mexico Health and Environment Department in Santa Fe, phone number 827-2389, who is responsible for this trash.

● I was so upset I neglected to continue my observations on the release of Nelson Mandela in South Africa. The media fails to mention why Mandela was sentenced to life imprisonment in the first place. First, his being black had nothing to do with it. He was, and remains, a terrorist. At the time he was arrested 27 years ago the police found him in possession of 210,000 hand grenades, 48,000 land mines, 50 tons of high explosives, and plans of 107 buildings and installations that were to be blown up. Police also found a hand-written document, "How to Be a Good Communist," presumably in his own writing. That's enough to get a life sentence for a white person in this day and age in the United States. As Raymond C. Wilson explains in his letter to the editor, this information was gathered from an article in the Aug. 8 issue of the Washington Inquirer written by Allen C. Brownfeld. As far as I know, the Inquirer was the only newspaper to explain why Mandela was arrested and sentenced in the first place. Too bad. Mandela's first speech upon his release was to the effect that he was a dedicated communist, and that he would resort to violence unless the communist organizations like the African National Congress got their demands. He was offered his freedom years before his recent release if only he would promise not to use violence to overthrow the government. He refused. That's the world's new hero who is being welcomed by heads of state around the world, including President George Bush, who has invited him to the White House.

● People seem to have trouble remembering certain events. Not many remember what happened one day last October when three military men, drinking beer and running their vehicle up to 100 miles an hour, rear-ended a pickup just south of Carrizozo, killing a baby and seriously wounding its mother. Law enforcement officers did not take the three into custody. They did not test them for alcohol. They were not cited for speeding, reckless driving or drunk driving. Nobody suggested they be charged with vehicular homicide. They went on their merry way. For weeks we tried to find out what District Attorney Bert Atkins was doing about the matter. Always his response was that the matter was "under investigation." Here it is five months later and the matter is hush-hush. Atkins said there were problems with the case, but wouldn't explain those problems.

● Now our intrepid DA has another case he may sweep under the rug, ignore, or say the matter is "too complicated." On Feb. 14 between 4 and 5 a.m., several bundles of steel fence posts were stolen from behind Joe Hooten's Ranchers True Value store. One bundle of five posts was left behind by the thief, along with a man's coat. Police Chief Choncho Morales investigated. By mid-afternoon Morales had identified the owner of the coat, and that it came from a vehicle belonging to a resident of Carrizozo. Questioning the owner of the hatchback, it was learned that the owner of the coat had loaned his vehicle to Marcus Barela from 4 to 5 a.m., the time frame in which the posts were stolen. Green paint from the posts was found on the vehicle. Having identified the driver at the time of the theft, Morales referred his evidence to DA Bert Atkins. Atkins' response was that Barela would not be arrested and questioned because of a lack of "probable cause."

● People have been arrested, tried and sentenced on less circumstantial evidence that is apparent in this case. He wouldn't have had to arrest Barela to ask him to explain his whereabouts on the night in question. In this case, evidence being what it is, Barela could have legally been taken into custody and questioned. What does Atkins need to pursue a case, a written confession in advance of questioning?

● This incident, as well as others, convince me that Bert Atkins is not qualified for the office of district attorney. Either he doesn't know his duties or hasn't the guts to carry them out. It will be my pleasure to vote against him when he comes up for re-election.

Inside The Capitol

By Jay Miller

SANTA FE — Lawmakers had better think twice before passing a lot of constitutional amendment proposals for next November's ballot.

That ballot is already overcrowded with retention elections created by the "judicial reform" amendment voters were duped into approving in 1988. The retention elections are to be non-partisan, according to the new constitutional provision. That means they cannot be in the usual place on the ballot. Consequently all judges will appear on the bottom of the ballot, along with proposed constitutional amendments and bond issue questions.

Lawmakers have introduced 39 proposed constitutional amendments. At the time this is being written only three of those proposals have been killed. And the death of one of them apparently occurred by accident. Rep. Albert Shirley of Churchock was chatting on the floor of the House with Gov. Garrey Carruthers when the electronic tally board was turned on for the customary 30-second vote. Shirley didn't get his vote recorded within the required time so the amendment, which requires a two-thirds majority, died by one vote.

Also killed were proposed amendments to allow the state highway commission to appoint its chief officer and an attempt to change the policy for investment of the state's permanent fund. Currently the highway commissioners and Gov. Carruthers are engaged in a major battle over whether chief highway engineer Dewey Lonsberry should keep his job. Former highway commissioner and now state senator, Louis Whitlock, tried to get that power transferred to the commission. But 29 senators disagreed.

Sen. Joe Fidel of Grants tried to get the state investment council to invest more money in bonds in order to get a faster return on the state's money. That was a revenue enhancing measure being talked about early in the session. But Senate Democrats changed their strategy and decided not to help Republican Garrey Carruthers raise money for his programs. Fidel's proposal was tabled indefinitely early in the session.

But 36 possible constitutional amendments remain alive. Hoyt Clifton, the Bureau of Elections director for the office of the secretary of state, jokes that it appears next November's ballot will be about 10 feet square. Or in the alternative, every voter will be issued a magnifying glass in order to read the ballot.

Until about 30 years ago, it was fairly common to have special elections for constitutional amendments. A bill has been introduced this session to hold a special election for just such a purpose. A far better solution, however, would be to exercise some restraint on the number of issues placed on the November ballot.

More than 10 different amendments have been proposed for lengthening legislative sessions, lengthening legislators terms, paying them a salary, upping their per diem, providing for legislator expense accounts, giving them life insurance benefits and taking all these limitations out of the constitution and allowing lawmakers to set their own compensation, per diem and mileage.

Word around Capitol corridors has it that the sponsors of all these amendments have gotten together to write one joint proposal involving as many of these benefits as might be saleable to voters.

And guess what they're

Good ship 'Ruidoso' sinking; captain, first mate missing

By A. J. (AJ) JUNGE

The good ship "Ruidoso" has sprung a leak, a gaping hole, through which thousands of tax dollars are being lost never to be recovered. And the captain cannot be found.

Those struggling to keep the ship afloat are using a novel approach. The cargo hole remains and the cargo level is being maintained by pumping more tax dollars into the ship's hold. The ship will stay afloat only so long as an adequate cargo of dollars remain. The future is certain but the question—Why not repair the leak?

Deficits in Ruidoso's operating departments started sometime ago and have presently reached proportions which are now being questioned by taxpayers. If the city spends more than budgets allow, it must withdraw funds from reserves or reduce expenses or raise taxes. In Ruidoso withdrawing funds from reserves and raising taxes are acceptable by the council—reducing expenses are not.

Ruidoso's Administration does not know the meaning of the term "deficit spending." In fact, as long as robbing our reserves or raising taxes fuel the present spending binge, uncontrolled spending will continue until taxpayers say "enough."

Taxes have increased 50 percent since 1988 — just two years. Our total property tax is the highest, now set at 37.489 per thousand dollars of taxable value. Our Administration receives 18,042 of this amount. Roswell's cost is 5.526 and Alamogordo at 8.910 points out our passion with the idea that additional taxes are cure for all of our ills.

Ruidoso's budget was overspent by $945,000 for the year ending 7-1-89. To effect this shortage $800,000, was taken out of savings (surpluses). This action was approved by the present council, without discussion, by a 5-1 vote.

During the past 18 months Ruidoso's cash reserves have been reduced by $1,321,000—lost forever.

How does the present council replenish reserves? Simple, raise taxes, which was done.

There is no reason to increase taxes.

Current, water, sewer, and solid waste (trash) pump more than $500,000 annually into the city operations account. This amount is OVER AND ABOVE the amounts necessary to operate those departments. From this obvious bonanza of dollars more than $250,000 is then transferred to the Finance/Administration to operate these departments. This transfusion of funds helps to pay the several newer positions in management which have added to city staff during the last several years.

The Ruidoso Administration needs a transfusion of operating skills along with a new concept that says if your business is falling the first matter to be considered is "can you reduce operating expenses?" Except in rare cases do you continue to bor-

What we don't hear about Mandela

EDITOR—For some reason, we never hear why Nelson Mandela was in prison in the first place. We hear him cheered as a hero, but we listen in vain to learn why he was imprisoned in the Republic of South Africa these past 27 years.

In the Aug. 8 issue of the Washington Inquirer, reporter Allen C. Brownfeld sheds some revealing light on an otherwise dark issue. To begin with, Brownfeld argues that Mandela was not a "political prisoner." According to Brownfeld, Nelson Mandela spent those 27 years in prison a convicted "terrorist."

Brownfeld uses for evidence these interesting items found in Mandela's possession when the police arrested him: "210,000 hand grenades, 48,000 land mines, 50 tons of high explosives, and the plans of 107 buildings and installations that were to be blown up. The police also found a 23-page handwritten document entitled, 'How To Be A Good Communist.'"

Well, I suppose that if you are going to be one, you just as well be a "good" one. Recent news releases tell us that he is invited to the White House to be a special guest of President Bush. And, that ain't bad.

RAYMOND C. WILSON, San Juan Bautista, CA.

Meet Victor Alonso

EDITOR—I wanted to write this letter as a private citizen, because I am concerned about Ruidoso and Lincoln County. Sometimes stories about people need to be told, regardless of what they're doing. Ruidoso and Lincoln County are filled with great stories of our people. One person, whose story I feel has not been told, is Victor Alonso.

Victor Alonso was born in Mexico City in 1946. His parents lived on a ranch owned by a Mr. Peyton, an American who owned Peyton Packing Co. in the US and who employed Victor's dad as a ranch foreman. After the second world war there was a scarcity of labor, so Mr. Peyton asked Victor's father to come to America and work in El Paso. That is how, when Victor was 3, the Alonso family moved from Chihuahua to El Paso and, with Mr. Peyton's help, was able to acquire the legal resident status.

Victor grew up in El Paso, in the poor section of town known as San Juan, then in the outskirts of El Paso, but now located in the center of town. He went to Guardian Angel School, a Catholic school, his first year, and can still recall very vividly when he, totally Spanish-speaking, faced his first day in school without knowing a single word of English. He got a head start at that school and when he went to public schools, he was able to complete grade school through high school with honors. He attended Yaleta High School, where he graduated 6th out of 406 and where he played fullback on a winning football team, was student body president, president of the French Club, member of the Debate Team and of the Honor Society, recipient of the Senior Class Scholarship and of the Kawliga Award for science. He attended the University of Texas at El Paso where he received a B.S.C. in Metallurgical Engineering, a commission in the US Army as Second Lieutenant in the Corps of Engineers, an honor graduate in Tau Beta Pi, a distinguished military graduate, and president of the Joint Engineering Council.

His first professional job was with IBM at Austin, TX, as a materials engineer. Victor was discharged honorably in 1971. He was married to the former Virginia Sotelo, also from El Paso, in 1972, and the couple set up housekeeping in Round Rock, TX. They had two children, Victor David and Angela Mari, and lived in peace until 1975.

The couple took a trip to Ruidoso and decided that they would buy a restaurant in order to live here. The following few years were very trying, with the couple adjusting to a new business. A new town and a four hundred percent drop in pay, and trying to raise a 3 and a 1/4 year-old.

In the years that Virginia and Victor have been married, they have taken into their home seven members of their families, for periods ranging from six months to two years. These family members have needed as little as room and board all the way to a foster mom and dad, but the couple have been helping family members as their mission.

Victor is a member of St. Eleanor Catholic Church, where he is a lay presider and lector for the Spanish masses. Virginia is a Eucharistic minister, and Victor David a lector and youth leader. The couple's business, "Don Victor Mexican Food Restaurant," has been in business for 14 years. Victor has served on the Ruidoso Village Council, first as an appointee of Mayor George White after the death of Councilor Sherman Atwood in 1985, and later, after being elected for a two-year term in 1986.

Victor is running for the office of mayor because he believes it is time for a change and he can offer the people a positive choice in the election.

The major concerns of the candidate are, as you know:

(1) The need for a local attitude of "glasnost," where political power is exercised to encourage diverse thinking, consensus building and compromise, and where people are encouraged to participate, not intimidated or insulted.

(2) The economic uncertainty of Ruidoso's tourism-based economy, where the candidate will continue to pursue improving tourism to the area by completion of existing commitments at the new golf course, civic events center, etc., and additionally, by supporting the economic diversification of the area by working to support the Economic Development Corporation of Lincoln County more actively than has been done in the past.

(3) In the area of landfills, the candidate believes that Ruidoso should lead in the area of recycling and not wait for the state to legislate this eventual necessity.

(4) Underlying all other concerns is money—how to get enough of it to make Ruidoso's future better, without increasing taxes. Hard choices of budget cuts in some areas may be necessary to promote areas of high priorities.

(5) A closer cooperation with the Mescalero Apache Tribe in areas of common interests, and continued strong defense of water rights where our interest's diverge.

I've lived in Lincoln County since 1978 and have learned about the interesting and colorful history that we share. When we look at it, Lincoln at one time was the "Big Town," White Oaks at one time was the "Big Town," Carrizozo at one time was the "Big Town," Ruidoso needs to look around.

Help for low-income

EDITOR—Some people are not aware that they might be eligible for rebates from the State of New Mexico. This includes people who are drawing Social Security, welfare, public assistance, AFDC and SSI. These people may or may not be working for wages also. You must bring proof of all income.

Depending on the number of dependents, you could be eligible for low income and medical tax rebates if your income is under $16,000, and married, or under $10,500 and single.

VITA, (Volunteer Income Tax Assistance) who are individuals trained by IRS, will be at the Capitan Senior Citizen Center every Friday until April 13 from 1:00 to 3:30 to assist you in filing for those rebates. Bring you W-2s, award letters from the state regarding public assistance, and any other pertinent information to the center and let them help you.

Individuals over 65 year old could also be eligible for property tax rebates, or rental rebates, so bring this information, too.

We file federal and state returns for senior citizens, low income individuals, and the handicapped.

There is no charge for this service. If you cannot come in on Fridays, call for an appointment, 354-3172, for Jo. If you need a ride call the Capitan Senior Citizen Center and ask for Henry.

JO MAYBERRY,
Capitan.

Sims hits back

EDITOR—First I would like to thank Alex Valdez, Secretary of Human Services Department of New Mexico for responding in a letter to the editor of the Lincoln County News. I am glad to see his attention directed toward a rural area.

Whether Mr. Valdez believes it or not I would much rather work with his department than fight. I do understand his dilemma of an expanded budget and no funds. But pharmacy services are only 8 percent of the total Medicaid budget and last year pharmacy was burdened by 42 percent of the total cost containment for the entire state. Pharmacy has done enough!

This cut-back is why I was forced out of the program. These, across the board cuts, can devastate rural areas.

I want to thank the countless people who have written letters to him and to the legislators. We must stand up for what we believe in. I just get upset sometimes when I see another nail driven in the coffin of rural America.

One thing I must address right now is the Medicaid Departments reply to your letters. They have inferred I may have questionable business skills or some other reason for stopping Medicaid, since it took me so long to finally quit the program. It took me from April to December to finally run out of cash reserves while I was waiting for the Medicaid Department to do the right thing. I had to quit Medicaid or leave Carrizozo. I just want the state to recognize that we are being hurt out here. Bureaucratic decisions do make an impact on our communities. The people remember the nice hospital in Carrizozo, the Medicaid office, the employment office and Medicaid pharmaceutical services. I just wanted to get the Medicaid Department's attention, and nothing I said can be refuted. Now that I have it:

Come on, Alex, let's bury the hatchet and do what is good for the recipients of New Mexico.

Yes, Medicaid is growing at an alarming rate. Mostly due to more and more people being put on it. Our state's illogical traditional roll, in solving problems, has been to cut services to rural areas and raise taxes. In all fairness to Mr. Valdez, this is the result of liberal legislators. You can't keep placing more people on welfare, and use raising taxes as the solution to the problem! The answer is, to increase our tax base and provide jobs for these people. The way to do that is to be supportive of existing small business and have a positive business climate to attract industry and other business. They must quit sending an anti-business message to the rest of the world. We are losing our professional people and business to Arizona, Texas, Colorado and others. I would encourage all business and citizens to get active in state functions.

Mr. Valdez urges me to continue to participate in the program. It is his department that has driven me out. I would love to go back into the program and so would the people of Carrizozo. This is why we are still fighting. We don't want strings attached like one pharmacy per county, mail order or whatever nonsense approach someone can inflict upon us from the big city. We are not asking for a lot, just don't hurt us anymore.

Thank you for your support and understanding.

HAL SIMS,
Registered Pharmacist, Carrizozo.

going to call it? That's right. It's going to be "legislative reform." At least these folks are quick learners. In 1988, they watched lawyers take the election of an entire branch of government away from the voters by calling it "judicial reform." And they watched county officials lengthen their terms in the name of "reform."

Another common thread is that judges and county officials both got what they wanted by wrapping it up in a big package that looked too complicated to sift through. It is very possible lawmakers may decide to do the same thing. Few who understand the legislative process would argue that our lawmakers do not deserve more compensation for their public service efforts. The current system discourages many good prospects from making the sacrifice. It is upsetting, however, to see the old bugaboo "reform" back on the scene.

By the way, there are two amendments being proposed that would repeal the judicial reform that was passed two years ago. Now that's an amendment that should make it to the ballot.

The world's first newspaper was probably Tsing Pao, a court journal published in China. It is said to have begun as early as the 500's and continued until 1935.

Members also served food items at the concession stand with the help of the Alumni. Carrizozo FFA members did well at the 1990 Lincoln County Fair.
4. Carrizozo FFA members assembled a display booth for competition at the New Mexico State Fair and received 2nd place with the title, Agriscience: A Bold New Experiment, which earned a premium of $130.00. In addition several members exhibited welding projects. Paul Herrera won 1st place with a Headache Rack and Loren Patterson won 1st place and Champion in his category with a Pregnancy Testing Chute. Kristy Gore placed 1st and Champion with a Portable Welding Table and Jesus Navarrete placed 3rd with a Lawn Mower Service Table. Brett Barham also placed 2nd in his division with a Headache Rack.
5. Six members and three Alumni attended the National FFA convention in Kansas City, Missouri in November. Those who went made up the Ag. Mechanics and Meats teams, who judged at the national level. The Meats team placed 6th in the nation in the Gold Emblem Category with Leah Patterson placing 6th Overall in the Contest. Other members of the team were Marcia Hecker and Lisa Hightower. The Agriculture Mechanics team placed 26th Overall in the Bronze Emblem Category. Members of the team were Ted Ofluit, Loren Patterson, and Brett Barham.
6. Leah Patterson received a National FFA Firestone Trust Fund Scholarship for $750.00 and the State FFA Agriscience Scholarship for $1,000. Marcia Hecker received the Advisory Committee Scholarship for $200.
7. Four members attended the District Leadership Conference held at Deming High School in October. Students learned valuable leadership skills from the district and state officers. Four members attended the Made for Excellence Conference in Clovis in January. This conference was a first in New Mexico and focused on leadership in relation to drug awareness and peer pressures at school.
8. 1000 students representing 37 schools and 10 4-H Clubs from throughout New Mexico, judged at the seventh annual invitational contest sponsored by Carrizozo FFA and Carrizozo FFA Alumni. Over 100 local folks were involved as contest group leaders, tabulators, timekeepers, chefs, and organizers. This contest was a complete success and will be held again on March 17, 1990.
9. The Carrizozo Agriculture Curriculum took on a new look as we plan for the 90s. New classes were developed to include woodworking; Agriculture Buildings and Structures; Animal Science, Agriculture Mechanics, Horticulture, and Agriculture Education I and II. Program enrollment reached an all time high with 82 students enrolled. For the first time 8th grade students are active FFA members.
10. Carrizozo FFA members celebrated National Agriculture Day with the CowBelles by having lunch and a short program. Staff members and FFA members were invited.
11. Chapter members processed numerous beef, pork and lamb carcasses as a part of the educational curriculum. In addition to learning the slaughter and process steps, students learned sanitation practices, record keeping and management skills needed to run a business. Several demonstrations were provided by State and Federal Meats Authorities. The Meat Lab became full licensed as a Meat Dealer in New Mexico.
12. FFA members spent many hours entering all chapter records, award applications, program of activities, budget, inventories, project records, and news articles on computer.
13. Students constructed welding projects and repaired small gas engine for people in the community. The most popular welding projects were framed stock panels, pickup headache racks, grill guards and feeders.
14. Woodworking projects included sawhorses, tote boxes, cutting boards and cedar chests. For the first time in over 20 years Carrizozo School students are building fine wood projects made from scratch. Students gained a variety of skills in project planning, layout, drafting, fabrication, construction and finishing. The woods curriculum is a welcome addition to complement the Agriculture Program.
15. 1989 and 1990 brought the addition and completion of two new facilities to the Vocational Agriculture Program at Carrizozo. The new Slaughter Building is 20' x 25' tall. This addition brings our Meats facility into compliance with the State regulations. The new Woodworking Equipment was installed in the wood shop. This addition will expand the curriculum to include all types of woodworking and carpentry.
16. On January 15 student teachers from NMSU visited the Ag. program and witnessed first hand, a slaughter demonstration at the Meats Lab. The teachers were on a field trip to learn about agriculture facilities.
17. Carrizozo Agriculture Program was sighted as exemplary in the area of special education implementation by the State Department. The program was also commended by the department for the delivered curriculum, facilities and student organization.

row operating capital—even from yourself.

To illustrate just how far we have strayed in Ruidoso from old, accepted, business practices, the following will point up a case or two:

Sierra Blanca Airport

No one would argue that the Sierra Blanca Airport is a far cry improvement over the old Ruidoso Airport.

The problem is that the operating cost of the new airport is beyond all original expectations.

I remember that I asked the question "How much more will the new airport operations cost than the old airport?" The question was asked at one of the airport commission meetings in its early stages. The answer: "Very little more expense due to the additional revenue to be produced at the new airport."

The Administration would lead you to believe that the Sierra Blanca Airport operations are on a break-even basis. This is not true, since over $200,000 in funds have been transferred to this operation. When the council passed the 5 plus mills tax the reason given was "to continue city services." The airport received $161,876.00 of the mills tax. In addition, after the bonds were sold to cover the sale of the old airport, it was discovered that there would be an excess of funds, each year, after the bonds were paid. In lieu of holding this excess to prepay a portion of the airport bonds, the council elected, instead, to pass this bond money over to the SBAC.

If the Sierra Blanca is losing money, let's just say so! Don't cover up a losing operation by manipulating funds. By the end of this year the Sierra Blanca Airport will have cost over $1,115,000 in operating losses and capital outlay. This operation needs an investigation to determine exactly how this venture is performing—cold facts, no smoke and no mirrors.

GRINDSTONE DAM PROJECT

There persists many pros and cons concerning whether this dam should have been built. However, the dam is a fact which we must now deal with, and a well defined reason for it being built in the first place—a suitable storage for a supply of water. The conclusion of the project has been unaffected by what seems to be unnecessary delays by several councils, and by the fact that funds originally planned for the dam project completion have been used in other water related projects leaving little or no funds to complete the job.

It will cost several millions of dollars to construct a filtration plant, water lines, and a huge holding tank to provide water to the water lines which have been installed over the entire Grindstone area. If these properties are to be sold the completion of the entire dam project must be completed. Until that happens no residential lots will be sold and no water stored at the dam site will be available for the use of the citizens of Ruidoso.

Councils, during the next few years, will be hard put to determine how the dam project can be completed. It won't be an easy task. Where will the funds come from? Funds originating from the Grindstone Project should have been reserved for that project, nothing else.

There are other city functions which deserve mention here but space will not permit. How, therefore, does one go about correcting the obvious?

ONLY AT THE VOTING BOOTH

Even the voting booth presents a problem. This is brought about by the low percentage of eligible voters who actually vote. It seems that it is easier to stay away and complain. The latest school bond election drew a 15 percent turnout of voters. To you who might read this article—did you vote?

Slightly more than one-half of the eligible voters vote in our council elections. This small turnout is the reason so many are not impressed by the present city council. If there is to be an improvement everyone should VOTE. So, in the March election the voters will have the opportunity to vote for a mayor and three councilmen.

The choice should be simple—you vote one way if you are satisfied with the performance of those at city hall. If you are not satisfied, you vote the other way.

THE POSITION OF MAYOR

For a mayor to do a good job he must have a background of a successful business man and a knowledge of the workings of the city administration. Without this background he is "dead on the vine." Two candidates, among those on the present ballot, qualify, to a degree, for the job as mayor.

These two candidates are: VICTOR ALONZO and LLOYD L. DAVIS JR.

Mr. Davis has been a member of the council a number of years ago and has twice been elected to the position of mayor. In the 1984 election he won this office by a scant 31 votes. Mr. Davis' performance as mayor, speaks for itself.

Mr. Alonzo, a graduate engineer, has had experience as a member of the city council and has a reputation of being conservative in the spending of taxpayers' dollars. His present ownership of a restaurant in Ruidoso stands out as one of the few establishments of its kind to remain in business for a period of 14 years with continuous service to its customers. Few businesses can claim that distinction in Ruidoso. Mr. Alonzo knows the value of a dollar, which should be of great help in placing a conservancy over the fiscal operations of the city.

THE POSITION OF COUNCILMAN

There are ten (10) individuals vying for the position of councilman for three (3) places on the city council.

In order for the voter to make the proper choice in selecting a councilman there are several questions which should be answered:

1. What formal business background and experience does the candidate enjoy?

2. Does he or she disclose an aptitude for leadership, including a strong interest in civic affairs?

3. Is there an understanding of the importance of maintaining a reasonable degree of city services while controlling the cost of these services?

4. Is there an agreement that Ruidoso's fiscal problems are serious and that ways and means must be found to correct this serious problem to the extent that the popularity of the candidate might be affected? Will the candidate agree NOT to renew the MILLS TAX?

5. Does the candidate agree that lines of communications must be revived to include an invitation for council visitors to be heard and for open town meetings to be held on a regular basis?

In the final analysis the voter's task this election should be an easy one.

THE BIG QUESTION IS:

If so vote one way. IF NOT, vote the other way. BUT VOTE: It is important that you vote.

Hondo pursues 4-day school research

According to school officials, the final public meeting to discuss the 4-day schedule will be on Feb. 27, at 6 p.m. in the Hondo School cafeteria.

A special presentation by school personnel and two guests, Guy Luscombe, superintendent from Dora, and R. L. Richards, Portales, will be available to answer the public's questions. Both of these men have had direct experience with Alternative Scheduling. They will discuss the day-to-day activities and the overall school year as compared to the regular 5-day week.

In a previous meeting, Jack McCoy, Santa Fe, discussed pros and cons with a capacity audience of over 100 individuals. He spoke from the perspective of the State Department of Education requirements and administrative concerns. Among other items, he noted that Hondo is ahead of schedule with planning, public meetings and obtaining input from the community. Mr. McCoy indicated many positive attributes of Alternative Scheduling such as savings on utility costs, higher student and teacher morale, improved test scores, less student absenteeism and fewer interruptions of academic time.

Theresa Lammers and Jerry Burchett, Alternative Scheduling co-chairmen, feel very positive about the outcome of their committee's planning and inclusion of the community, students and school staff in investigation of this alternative.

As a result of area newspaper coverage, a KBIM

Television News team arrived at Hondo the following day to film the school and to interview School Board President Albert Montez,

Lady Tigers 2nd in district tournament

Capitan's Lady Tigers ended their district tournament in second place behind the Cloudercroft Lady Bears.

Lora McKay, Kim Eckland, Leslie LaRue and Cindy Castillo were named to the all-district team.

The first round of district action for the Lady Tigers came on Valentine's Day in Capitan when the girls defeated Hagerman 60-39.

McKay scored 17 points, all in the first three quarters. She made eight field goals and two of two free shots. Karie Cox scored 9 points, three field goals and three of three free shots. Eckland scored 8, all field goals. All but two players put points on the board.

From that win the girls advanced to play Loving Friday on their home court. The win was theirs 54-29. McKay scored 26 points, 11 field goals and four of five free shots. Leslie LaRue scored 12 points, all field goals. Eck-land scored 7, three field goals and one of two free shots.

Then it was on to Cloudercroft Saturday night for the final round of district play and a heartbreaking three-point loss to the Lady Bears, 54-51.

The game was punctuated by a large number of fouls that kept the Lady Bears at the charity line 18 times, for a try at 28 extra charity points. They were successful with only 11. The Lady Tigers were at the free throw line 11 times for a try at 20 extra charity points. They were successful with 15.

McKay led the scoring with 23 points, nine field goals and five of five free shots. Eckland made 11 points, four field goals and three of four free shots. Vickie Sedillo scored 11, two field goals and five of five free shots.

The Lady Bears' player Michal Warren scored 20 points, six field goals and eight of 15 free shots. Sara Gage made two three-point baskets and one field goal.

The Capitan girls will play Ft. Sumner in the Region D playoffs at 6 p.m. Friday in Cloudercroft.

Grizzlies push their winning streak to 14

Carrizozo ended the regular part of the season with their 14th straight win, 75-56, over visiting Magdalena Saturday night.

The win improved the Grizzly record to 21-1 overall.

Coach Ron Becker's team will prepare to host the District 3A championship finals on Saturday night. Game time set for 7 p.m. Their opposition will be the survivor of the single elimination competition held this week between Corona, Vaughn, Ft. Sumner and Mountainair.

Seniors Abe Padilla and Michael Chavez paced Carrizozo on Saturday as the Grizzlies jumped out to a quick 20-11 advantage over the Steers and increased their lead to 40-23 at the break. Chavez scored 13 first-half points and Padilla added 12.

Magdalena, behind a hot shooting Manuel Martinez, outscored Carrizozo 21-18 in third period but were unable to keep up the fast pace and were outscored 17-12 in final quarter. Martinez scored 22 points for Magdalena in second-half and finished with a game-high 30.

Padilla added 8 second-half points and finished the night with a team high 20 for Carrizozo. Michael Chavez was close behind with 19, Guy Archuleta had 9, Raphael Chavez 8, Dennis Vega and Rebel Sandoval had 6 points each.

The Carrizozo junior varsity closed out its season with a 57-34 win over Magdalena on Saturday. The win raised its season record to 7-4.

Carrizozo had a fine first quarter and led 18-4, but let the Steers make a game of it when the visitors outscored them 16-8 in the second period. Score at halftime 26-20 Carrizozo.

The second half was no contest as the Grizzlies outscored Magdalena 14-8 and 17-6 over the last two periods. Brian Turnbow turned in a fine performance and led the Carrizozo scoring with 16 points, Heath Rickman and Cory Collins had 8 each; Mike Barela and Anthony Archuleta helped out with 6 apiece.

Carrizozo girls varsity season also came to an end last week when they were eliminated in the District 3A playoffs by Mountainair, 68-48, on Thursday night.

Mountainair held a 14-9 advantage after one quarter and increased their lead to 32-21 at halftime. The Mustangs kept the Grizzlies at bay in second half by the count of 36-27.

Lovato 20, Lucero 15, Herrera 14 and Ingalls 11 points led the winning Mustangs. Yvonne Estrella with 16 and Tennie Trolinger's 12 were high for Carrizozo. The win by Mustangs advanced them to the finals in Ft. Sumner on Saturday where they eventually lost to the #1 rated Vixens. Both teams now advance to regional play against Capitan and Cloudercroft.

A young Carrizozo team ended the season with a 10-14 record.

Capitan Tigers lose to Tatum

The Capitan Tigers boys basketball team ended their regular season Friday, Feb. 16, with a loss to Tatum, 60-36.

Tatum's tough man-to-man defense gave the Tigers trouble throughout the game, but coach Blane Miller said his team played the best defensive game of the season.

Heath Huey was high scorer with 10 points, all field goals. Nathan Roybal scored nine, three field goals and three of five free shots. Bobby Griego scored six, all field goals.

Tatum had three players in the double digit scoring, leading to their success.

Both teams shot 42 percent at the charity line.

The Tigers JV team struggled for a win against Tatum JV but could not make it and lost 51-45. Poor scoring in the third quarter led to the boys defeat, as they only scored 4 to Tatum's 13.

Kyle Allen was high scorer for the Tigers with 12, two field goals and eight of 12 free shots. Aaron Russell scored six, two field goals and two of two free shots. All but two team players put points on the board.

Despite the Tigers' 54 percent success at the free shot line, it was not good enough to overcome Tatum's 68 percent success. One Tatum player made 20 points.

The first round of district play Monday in Capitan belonged to the Tigers who defeated Weed 52-30. Huey scored 15, five field goals and five of six free shots. Allen scored 11, three field goals and five of six free shots. Roybal scored eight, two field goals and four of six free shots. Five other players helped with points.

AROUND CORONA

Red, white and pink carnation Valentines were seen all over the village Wednesday, a school band project. It is good to have fresh flowers during the snowstorms.

The cheerleader dance Saturday night was successful for fun and money. Mrs. Ellis Hodge won the painting done for the senior class by Lee Sultemeier.

Barbara Bradley, Melissa Lealy, Shayla Marshall and Colby Wells were the Chapparal 4-Hers who went to Santa Fe Thursday afternoon, did a little sightseeing and attended the legislature session Friday.

Cedar Temple No. 26 and Primrose Temple No. 22 Pythian Sisters held a joint meeting Saturday, Feb. 7 at the Cedarvale Senior Center. A covered dish luncheon honored District Deputy Grand Chief Frances Long of Roswell, who was making an official visit. A Valentine motif was carried out with red and white heart shaped balloons, a heart chocolate cake and at each plate heart candies. Primrose presented Mrs. Long with an assortment of teas and honey, Cedar with a Payton cup.

Valerie Ruebush, MEC, presided and introduced Mrs. Long and other guests including Grand Lodge officers Hub Spurgion, Past Grand Chancellor, and Jack Woodruff, Grand Chancellor; and Grand Temple officers, Mrs. Long announced a change in Grand Temple dates from October to Sept. 20-22 at Socorro. The tridistrict will be March 10 at Deming. The grand chief will make her official visit to Primrose and Cedar March 17 at McIntosh.

Jerry Sharp and Mrs. R.L. Sharp drove to Arcadia, OK Friday. Jerry came home in the snowstorm Monday but Mrs. Sharp expects to remain with the Leslie Sharps for about a month. They attended a show in Shawnee, OK Saturday where Missy Sharp was showing two steers and a heifer. All three won in their class and one was reserve champion in all breeds.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmo Tracey came home from Albuquerque Saturday. Mr. Tracey was dismissed from the hospital Thursday but stayed near his doctor for a couple of days. He is recuperating well from his heart attack and she from her broken leg. A son-in-law, Bill Thompson, came from Medford, OR and will stay with them for several weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. John D. Holleyman spent the weekend with the Ratliffs at Santa Theresa. Mr. and Mrs. Lon Holleyman were there a week earlier, so it must be income tax time. Lois An is the expert.
