

Few 'big winners'

Primary election winners subject to final canvass

By Doris Cherry

Tension ran high in the county commissioners chambers in Carrizozo Tuesday night as the tally of county votes in the primary election came out close for a few local candidates.

The tally for the Democratic governor's race went similar to the statewide votes, with the slot going to Bruce King. He won 53.6 percent of the Democratic votes cast in Lincoln County.

All vote tallies are uncanvassed totals and can change with the final canvass to be done by the Lincoln County Commission this (Thursday) afternoon.

The closest of all local races was for the Democratic candidate for probate judge. At the 10:45 p.m. final tally, Ruth Hammond had 545 votes to Peggy Wash's 543. Carrizozo revenues decline but town faces higher costs Revenues are down and expenditures are up in the town of Carrizozo.

Carrizozo Town Trustees put their stamp of approval on the tentative budget for 1990-91 and sent it to Santa Fe for Department of Finance and Administration approval.

Major street improvement projects helped put the budgeted expenditure column above the estimated revenues column, although some funds, such as airport and juvenile recreation, will draw from the beginning cash balances to remain in the black.

According to clerk-treasurer Carol Schlarb, revenue from gross receipts taxes in Carrizozo are down from last year, as well as revenue from cigarette and gasoline taxes. Combined with lowered valuation rates, revenues are generally lower than last year.

Water department revenues, which are not included in the general fund and cannot be used for expenses other than water, are up from last year.

After numerous work sessions the trustees approved the estimated expenditures of $895,388 and estimated revenue of $728,482. The beginning cash balance of $430,306 will carry the town through the year. The budget includes raises for all employees: 15 percent for department heads Schlarb, Chief Choncho Morales and foreman Faustino Gallegos; 10 percent for employees Carlos Gallegos an Manuel Vigil, 11 percent for Kathy Palomarez and Christi Monrreal, 7 percent for Paul Samora; 11 percent for John Northrup Jr. and Rosemary Gallegos (in police) and 5 percent for Rick Emmons (police) and 10 percent on the $200 for added duties for Municipal Judge S.M. Ortiz.

Estimated revenues for the general fund are $205,449. Expenditures are estimated at $230,805, but combined with the cash balance from last year of $181,154, the estimated ending cash balance is $155,798.

In the fire department the estimated revenue is $29,646 and expenditure is $90,448, with a cash balance from last year of $62,336. The expenditure reflects the construction of a new fire station, to be located northeast of the old garage on Highway 54, (near Allsup's). The estimated ending cash balance is $1,534.

Grand jury indicts soldier for vehicular homicide

A district court jury will determine whether a young soldier is guilty of vehicular homicide.

The Lincoln County Grand Jury indicted Michael R. Velasquez, 18, Santa Rosa, on four different charges as a result of a fatal accident south of Carrizozo on Oct. 7, 1989.

The May 24 amended indictment charges Velasquez with one count of homicide by vehicle (reckless); a third degree felony; count two of defective equipment, a misdemeanor; count three reckless driving, special penalty, and count four of great bodily injury by vehicle, a third degree felony. All charges stem from the accident on Highway 54 when Velasquez's vehicle ran into the rear of the vehicle driven by Cynthia Morales of Carrizozo.

The impact caused the Morales vehicle to leave the roadway and overturn two and a half times, ejecting her and her infant Naomi. Cynthia was severely injured and the infant later died of her injuries at Lincoln County Medical Center in Ruidoso.

The grand jury indicted Morales on a count of failure to comply to safety belt use as required. Originally, the indictment from the district attorney's office included a child abuse charge for not having the infant properly restrained in an infant seat. That charge was thrown out when testimony determined the infant was restrained.

Count one on Velasquez stated he allegedly did kill Naomi Morales, two months old, in unlawful operation of a motor vehicle; count two stated he allegedly did drive any motor vehicle unless the equipment was in good working order and in a safe mechanical condition as not to endanger the driver or occupant or any person upon the highway; count three stated he allegedly did operate a motor vehicle carelessly and heedlessly in willful and disregard of the rights or safety of others and without due caution and circumspection and at a speed or in a manner as to endanger or likely endanger any person or property, and count four did cause great bodily injury by vehicle to Cynthia Morales.

The indictments were based upon testimony from witnesses State Police Officer Jim Long, Officer Steve Standridge, Ruidoso Police Officer Laura Standridge; Rosemary Zink, Dave Skinner (state police) Ernest Swift, Rick Evans, William Edmond Jones, Angelo Vega, John Northrop, Michael

Judge slaps IRS wrist in Lietzman case

A federal judge ruled the Internal Revenue Service must give back Otero County public defender Harry Wilcox's salary seized in February as part payment of the multi-million dollar tax bill for his wife Carolyn Lietzman.

According to a report in the Albuquerque Journal June 5 issue, the IRS has taken about $600 a pay period from Wilcox as part of the "jeopardy" assessment against Lietzman, who the IRS claims owes $6.3 million in taxes for 1981-83. Feb. 22, the IRS requested the jeopardy determination, which meant the agency could seize assets until a federal tax court decides if Lietzman owes money.

The Internal Revenue Code allows the government to freeze bank accounts, assets and salaries if it believes the taxpayer may attempt to hide or dissipate them.

Lietzman responded to the determination by asking US District Judge John Conway's court to review the request.

Conway said the government was in jeopardy at a May 25 hearing, then after Memorial Day holiday, he ruled IRS created an undue hardship by attaching Wilcox's salary.

According to Lietzman's attorney, Jack Campbell, the Wilcoxes have a baby and were having difficulty feeding the child.

IRS argued it is taking only half Wilcox salary. Conway ordered IRS to free any contingency fees Wilcox earned while representing his wife in a wrongful death suit for the death of her first husband Robert Lietzman. The suit was settled for more than $500,000, Wilcox will get about $90,000 for his legal fees.

Robert Lietzman was investigated by IRS for failure to pay back taxes on millions of dollars from business interests from casinos and hotels in the Far East and ranches in New Mexico.

IRS negotiated a settlement before his death. However, IRS claimed in February that Carolyn owed separate taxes for income from her husband, Robert Lietzman.

Carolyn is arguing the deal between IRS and Robert Lietzman only applied to him, not to both him and herself.

MEDIA FRIENDS?

Excerpt from an Albuquerque Journal editorial:
A few months ago, Interior Secretary Manuel Lujan told a Journal reporter how much he missed Albuquerque. "I don't have to watch what I say in front of my friends," the long-time New Mexico congressman sighed.

people and politicians. This, says Acuff, merited about a foot of type in the Tucson morning daily, which apparently has not heard of such a terrible thing before.

A former undercover narc in his book, "Corrido de Cocaine," tells of one of the chief industries of Pima County—narcotics smuggling. "The author took the marvelously unusual approach of interviewing people who rent stretch limos to people with purple shades, lizard Lamas and 12 lbs. of gold chains around their necks. Some few of them seem to have come by their pockets full of pictures of Grover Cleveland by illicit means."

Acuff ends his article entitled, "Bribe News Astounds Us" with this: "One day perhaps the Mordida will be discovered by the Media."

MEDIA HUMORIST

And in the Hobbs Flare Chuck Mittlestadt tells a Lujan joke. Environmentalists jumped all over Interior Secretary Manuel Lujan last week when he came out against the red squirrels over in Arizona. Those folks shouldn't be so hard on Manny, because he figures a squirrel is a squirrel. And besides, he was basing his opinion on all the squirrels he remembers from New Mexico politics."

MEDIA MORDIDA

The Pinal Pioneer, now into its second year of publication, always has news tidbits that tickle my funny bone. "If you are of the opinion that no opinion is good opinion don't read this newspaper," says the Pinal writer. Editor Mark Acuff writes that wire services sent out the news recently that a leading informant has indicated that heavy duty drug dealers in Mexico routinely bribe

MEDIA IDEA

Editorial page editor George Pinkerton in the San Gabriel Valley Tribune (an independent newspaper) tells of a drug war innovation.

In Anderson County, South Carolina, Sheriff Gene Taylor is using billboards in his anti-drug efforts. T he billboards read: "Need cash? Turn in a drug dealer."

Taylor's program is modeled after one used by federal drug enforcement agents, in which informants may be granted up to 25 percent of the value of assets seized. The idea is similar to the Crime Stoppers program in terms of safeguards for informants and in the payments being made after cases are cleared in court.

MEDIA WATCH

The Rio Grande Sun is keeping tabs on absentee voting and notes that the list of absentee voters has climbed to 315.

And would you believe that the Sun listed all 315 names of people requesting the ballots and their postal addresses?

MEDIA PULITZER

A state trial court in Atlanta ordered the Georgia Department of Human Resources in April to release the records of child abuse involving 51 children who died while under state protection in 1988-89 to the Atlanta Journal and the Atlanta Constitution.

The decision caps a dispute that began in 1988, when the newspapers started investigating flaws in Georgia's child welfare system. The department had refused the files. Under the direction of the state attorney general, however, the department prepared summaries of 42 cases for reporters' use. The information contributed to the newspapers' investigative series published last summer. The series was a finalist for a 1990 Pulitzer Prize.

MEDIA BRIEF

"A quick read on what people are talking about," is how USA Today describes its column "Lifeline." SEX, DRUGS, ROCK & POLLS: "Almost 4 of 5 college students favor legalized abortion," says the MTV-College Track Report, a survey of 1,008 undergraduates. Most challenging moral dilemmas they face: pre-marital sex, followed by abortion, drugs and drinking. Half of the students have tried marijuana, but 69 percent oppose legalizing it. Ex-president Ronald Reagan (a staunch abortion foe) was the most admired world leader.

MEDIA UNHUSHED

Dr. Melvin Ansheff, a 15-year veteran psychoanalyst, on the problems affecting young people today: "Sex education is really the most devastating thing that has ever come to our country, probably the greatest calamity since the Civil War."

Ansheff points out in "The Spotlight" (reports on events which are vital to your welfare but which otherwise he hushed up or distorted) that the main business in Planned Parenthood is not to keep children from having sex, but to dispense sex information and contraceptive information. Their budget several years ago was about $140 million, half of which was subsidized by the taxpayers. He charges that sex education is the primary cause for rising illegitimate birthrates, teenage pregnancies, drug abuse, criminal activity and the high suicide rate among young people.

When school ends, your children have one more lesson to learn

You can help protect your children this summer by reminding them of the dangers of electricity. Children often play unsupervised outdoors during the summer, so they should know these basic rules.

- Never touch power lines with anything.
- Don't play in trees near power lines.
- Substations are not playgrounds. Children and adults — shouldn't go near them.
- Power poles are not for climbing.

For more information on electrical safety, call or visit your local TNP office today.

Last week, dry cold winds. Temperatures 28 to 62 degrees. Sultry nights.

The Smokey Bear Museum had 1,136 registered visitors last week, among them Jo Ann Earl Jones from Phoenix, AZ. She is the daughter of Dean and Della Earl. Dean was district ranger at the time of the fire. Jo Ann held Smokey right after they brought him to base camp. She said they fed him oatmeal that made him sick. A Shuttle Jack Tour Bus with 44 people from many states and over 200 Good Sam's visited the same day.

Rev. Irwin Loud of the Capitan Church is retiring. There is a reception being held in his honor June 3.

The Capitan Extension Club with their flea market and bake sale was a success.

There were more Good Sam's RVs this last weekend than ever. We always appreciate them.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Rice just returned from visiting their children and families in Maryland.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Purcella are visiting their son and daughter-in-law in California.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Neath-erlin of Carlsbad spent the Memorial Day weekend with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alton Whittaker.

Confirmation was held at the Sacred Heart Church last Sunday. Bishop Ricardo Ramirez of El Paso officiated. The students were prepared for confirmation by Inez Marrs. Ladies of the Sacred Heart Church prepared brunch for participants, their sponsors and their families.

Roz Ann Coons entered the Lincoln County Medical Center in Ruidoso Sunday for a tonsillectomy.

Mrs. Irma Moss of Roswell and Capitan died Saturday, May 12. She spent a lot of time here with her daughter and son-in-law, Kirley and Darinne Lykins, who have a summer home on Fourth St.

Howard Wright, who recently underwent gall bladder surgery in the Presbyterian Hospital in Albuquerque, is doing O.K. but must remain until his system is stabilized.

Many have inquired about Catherine Grantham after her heart surgery some time ago. She is with their daughter in Albuquerque where she can be close to her doctor for a while. We do miss them.

The Capitan Chamber of Commerce held its regular meeting June 4 at the Smokey Bear Restaurant. Plans are in progress for the 4th of July parade, dedicated this year to Virgil Hall, Sr., for his years of service with the Capitan Fire Department.

The Smokey Bear Museum has 33,051 registered visitors in the month of May. Among them nine people from the United Indian Christians; a tour bus of 44 form "Hi Neighbors" of Roswell and 10 Girl Scouts from Lubbock, TX.

Proceeds of the flea market and bake sale held by the Capitan Extension Homemakers goes to help the Capitan 4-H Club. Recent donations helped ten 4-Hers attend summer camp and one senior 4-H member go to Washington, DC.

Mr. and Mrs. William McIntosh of Roswell were honored at a reception at the Leisure Inn on June 2 for the occasion of their 50th wedding anniversary. Members of the Capitan Roundtable were guests. In attendance were Alice Traylor, Gladys Pew, Frances Shaw, Mary Dean, Eleanor Service, Maureen Sullivan and Harriet McGinnis of Big Springs, TX.

The Terry Stricklands attended the May 31 wedding of his brother, Joe Strickland, and Lynette Stoll of Roswell.

Speaker emphasizes need for recycling

"We must educate both children and adults about recycling," stressed Richard Harrold, addressing Federated Republican Women of Lincoln County (FRWLC) at their regular meeting Tuesday, May 22 at K-Bob's in Ruidoso.

Because of that, Harrold, a Ruidoso News reporter, attended the sixth Town Hall meeting, New Mexico First, held in Gallup earlier this month. Chief topic was the environment. FRWLC is concerned with the county's landfill situation and in January began a group recycling project. "Preserving Lincoln County's natural beauty and water is important to us," said the FRWLC recycling chairman.

Harrold covered several points in his program. "Town Hall recommends changes through the marketplace rather than through legislation." He cited an example of packaging which would then create a larger market for paper to be recycled. He also touched on the need for new laws governing non-coal mining. "Presently a company can begin to mine, then leave the area without restoring the land to its original state."

Questions from the audience dealt with local markets for recyclables ("Markets are difficult in New Mexico because of the need for water, but transportation is also a problem.") and preventing the importation of out-of-state garbage ("El Paso is already dumping seven million tons of garbage a year at Sunland Park.")

During the business meeting preceding the program, Ron Services, candidate for probate judge, addressed the group.

FRWLC meets Tuesday, June 26 at K-Bob's. They invite any Republican women residing in or visiting Lincoln County to attend. For further information, call 336-4050.

Carrizozo revenues decline

Summer funding for the swimming pool, juvenile recreation, is estimated to expend $4,800 and have revenue of $3,396. A cash balance of $2,685 will keep the fund out of the red and result in an estimated cash balance of $1,281.

Cemetery fund is estimated to cost $4,600 and revenue of $600. This will cover part-time seasonal employees to maintain the cemetery. The beginning cash balance is $4,994.

Sanitation department (solid waste collections) is the only other department expected to make money. Although the beginning cash balance is $3,469, estimated revenues are $77,704. Estimated expenditures are $66,900, leaving an estimated ending cash balance of $14,300.

Airport, with a beginning cash balance of $8,586, has estimated revenues of $4,015 from sale of fuel and hangar rentals, and budgeted expenditures of $8,015. Leaving a cash balance of $4,586.

The Lodgers' Tax Fund, taxes at 3 percent on each dollar paid on lodging in the town of Carrizozo, has an estimated revenue of $7,836. Half of that goes into a cash transfer to the Lodgers' Promotional department. The remaining $3,918 must be expended for promotional, such as advertising or brochures for the town, by the end of the year.

The Lodger's Promotional department, with a beginning cash balance of $22,107, is estimated to gain $3,918 for an estimated total of $26,025. The total reflects several years accumulation. According to Schlarb, the funds cannot be used for anything unless a facility, such as the recreation center, is converted to a civic-convention center. If that occurs the funds can be used for the facility.

Local government—correction, is to pay for jail stays of persons placed in the Lincoln County Jail by Carrizozo Police. $2,995 was budgeted for expenditures, and $1,010 is the estimated revenue. The $2,085 beginning cash balance will keep the fund in the black.

Law enforcement police fund, a flow-through fund from the state, is budgeted at $17,900.

Gasoline tax is estimated to bring in $14,315, combined with the beginning cash balance of $13,327, the total of $27,642 will be used to improve E Avenue. The tax can only be used for streets. Other street improvements will be done from the special gross receipts tax for infrastructure, one-quarter of a percent, with a beginning cash balance of $41,041. Estimated revenue is $26,630 and estimated expenditure of $38,880. A cash transfer of $25,000 will be made into the Community Development Block Grant (CDBG) matching fund, to leave a cash balance of $3,791.

The CDBG grant and state highway funds (approprinted by the state legislature) are estimated to bring in $163,540. With the $25,000 matching funds, expenditures are estimated at $188,540, leaving nothing in balance.

Outdoor recreation fund, established by resolution by the trustees for equipment for the golf course, will receive revenues from the sale of water for highway construction projects. The revenues are estimated at $8,000 and expenditures also $8,000.

General obligation bond fund for water projects has a beginning balance of $13,976, estimated revenue of $19,003 and budgeted expenditure of $20,228, leaving a balance of $12,751. The project-acquisition fund for water improvements has a budgeted expenditure of $31,327 from the beginning cash balance.

Water and sewer fund is estimated to make almost $3,000. The beginning cash balance is $31,118, estimated revenues are $149,438, budgeted expenditures are $146,540, leaving a balance of $34,016.

Meter deposit fund is $8,224 in beginning balance and is expected to make or spend no money. The fund is for any meter which might be installed in the town.

The grand total is $430,306 in beginning cash balances, $728,482 in estimated revenues, $895,388 in budgeted expenditures and $263,400 in estimated ending cash balance.

The budget will be adjusted with any suggestions made by DFA for final approval in July.

Stirling Spencer gets scholarship

ROSWELL—Stirling T. Spencer, son of Stirling T. Spencer of Carrizozo, has been awarded a $2,165 Legislator's Scholarship for the 1990-91 school year at New Mexico Military Institute.

The scholarship, which pays about half the student's fees and tuition, was made possible by a program approved by the 1989 New Mexico Legislature. Each of the state's 112 senators and representatives was asked to nominate up to four candidates from their own district. The NMMI scholarship committee then picked the best-qualified of the nominees.

Whitaker off to UofC Institute

Capitan High School teacher Myrum Whitaker will learn about her favorite subject and earn six credits this summer.

Whitaker was selected to join other nation-wide applicants at the Institute on the Civil War at the University of California at Chico.

The three-week institute will last from June 25 to July 13 and will feature classes on the Civil War, what Whitaker terms "her favorite topic."

Whitaker had to write an essay as part of the application. About 125 other rural teachers applied for the institute, but only 25 were chosen.

Once completed, Whitaker will have earned the additional credits which give her a total of 15 over her Master's degree.

The institute is sponsored by the National Foundation for the Humanities and is for social studies teachers in small, rural high schools.

OPINION

● A lot of people are going to miss Rev. Irwin Loud, pastor of the Trinity United Methodist Church. He is leaving this weekend for San Antonio, TX on retirement. He will be busy, however, as volunteer chaplain for the Army, Air Force or Veterans Hospital in San Antonio. I don't know what kind of minister Rev. Loud is, and I never heard him preach a sermon. But I have been fascinated by his wit and humor, so much so that I arrange to meet him at the post office regularly. After exchanging some jokes and a lot of laughter, I go back to my office feeling uplifted—and without being preached to. It has always struck me as ludicrous that most ministers appear downright dour, grim, ungrinning, and without humor. If religion is what they claim it is, preachers should be happy people. If they believe what they preach, they should enjoy themselves more than an ordinary person. Bro. Loud certainly fits the mode of a happy person. Rev. Loud is black, but he's not a racist. I told him one of my favorite black preacher jokes one time and he laughed harder than I did! Bless you Rev. Loud, and keep on your happy highway. It has been a joy knowing you.

● Jack D. Key, formerly of Carrizozo, and librarian at the Mayo Clinic in Rochester, MN, has co-authored a new book, "Medicine, Literature and Eponyms." It is fascinating reading. It tells how and why medical terms derive from myth, literature and ancient gods. Jack is also one of the many readers who supply me with authoritative information about how the government squanders our tax dollars to buy constituents' votes so congressmen can hold their lucrative jobs for life. With national elections coming up, you need to know how these congressional leeches are sucking us dry. Maybe such instances will inspire voters to throw out incumbent congressmen. Jack enclosed news of one state that is spending $750,000 on a study of self-esteem. When two Japanese banks stopped providing services to US military stationed in Japan, the US government paid 141 Japanese workers who lost their jobs a severance payment of $200,000 each. Congress pays for water to irrigate crops that it pays farmers not to grow. At Ft. Knox, KY the US Army spent $200,000 to refurbish 13 buildings that were already earmarked for destruction. The US government is spending $1 billion to build a subway tunnel in New York City which will be used by only 220 persons a day. That, the article continues, is the amount of money required to buy several dozen limousines for each rider. Congress is spending $6.4 million to build a private Bavarian-style ski resort in Idaho, and another $1.5 billion to study potatoes. See why we have to raise taxes?

● If you are curious as to why Japanese have so much money that they can buy up large properties in the United States, consider figures released by the Bank of Japan for 1980. The bank reported personal savings of more than $5 trillion, which is equal to $126,000 per household. Dai-ichi Kangyo, Japan's largest bank, listed year-end assets totaling $387 billion—which is $100 billion more than the total assets of the entire United States Federal Reserve System!

● Norman Lear is a Hollywood mogul, a radical environmentalist, and a total hypocrite. He is the fellow who wants the public to be forced to use mass transit systems instead of automobiles, all to preserve his beautiful world. At this moment he is finishing a new home that has a 50-car garage. But for you peasants, mass transit! Another leftwing activist who is constantly bawling about the poor, the unhoused, global warming and the death of spotted owls, is actress Barbara Streisand. She has three multi-million dollar homes in the Los Angeles Beverly Hills area. The reason for three mansions, she explains, is to avoid the traffic. Olivia Newton-John is another Hollywood elitist who weeps copious tears for the poor and homeless. She has just bought her second home in Malibu, and one Casey Kasem has just spent $6.8 million for a home but continues to lease at the Beverly Wilshire Hotel for $20,000 a month. The next time they open their mouths to espouse aid (government aid, not their aid) for the poor, make me happy by slapping their teeth out.

Inside The Capitol

By Jay Miller

SANTA FE—During the primary election campaign season all candidates for governor and congress mentioned technology transfer from our national labs to the private sector as a major answer to weaning our state's economy from its overdependence on military spending.

It's a great idea since the "peace dividend" is likely to be paid out of some of the military spending that is presently occurring in New Mexico.

Obviously, we can never support a reduction in federal government spending in our state. We just need to take better advantage of it. There will always be a need for federal government research for defense and non-defense purposes. We must elect a congressional delegation that can protect New Mexico's federal installations in any changeover from defense to peace time activities such as environmental and health research.

Some first, small steps are now being taken toward technology transfer from our national labs to our state's private economy. Last Friday Albuquerque's Sandia National Laboratory held a "fence cutting" ceremony to allow one of the lab's major buildings to be used by unclassified personnel. It was a positive step in the right direction.

Today, US Rep. Steve Schiff lists on his schedule participation in a Task Force on Technology Transfer dealing with US corporate experiences in Japan. Maybe our first-term congressman can return from Washington with some ideas New Mexico can use.

But all this new knowledge and assistance from the federal level will not help us a bit unless there is a way in which that technology can be transferred to New Mexico corporations.

Our record at this point is abysmal. When a group of scientists from the national lab in Albuquerque or Los Alamos come up with a good idea they think might work in the private sector, they must first go looking for financing for their project. The money isn't likely to come from a New Mexico bank.

The kind of loans we are talking about are not the most secure. New Mexico banks are small and don't have many in their portfolios for many such loans. And we wouldn't want them doing such a thing, anyway. We don't need another crisis on our hands such as that facing the savings and loan industry.

Venture capital is the answer. New Mexico has made some timid attempts to enter that world but is easily frightened away. Meanwhile, other states zoom past us and attract the cream of New Mexico's new ventures to their states to be financed with their money.

New Mexico has a perfect fund to use for such financing. Fifteen years ago, during the state's lean years, our lawmakers had the foresight to create a second piggybank for the state. It is called the Severance Tax Permanent Fund and is to be used for a rainy day. Since late 1982 when the state fell on hard times economically, lawmakers have been arguing about whether that rainy day is here.

The only acknowledgment of a rainy day has been the creation of a couple vehicles to provide venture financing, partly from the severance tax fund. Neither have been allowed to function. The Business Development Corp. got off to a decent start but floundered when government officials turned their backs after a few loans went sour.

Risk, of course, is what venture financing is all about. A lot of failures have to be expected. What bothers lawmakers, according to Senate GOP leader Les Houston, is that every time there is a failure, the public and press assume some politician got a payoff. Houston says our politicians are uneasy about venture financing because they don't like taking abuse.

The other venture capital program has never gotten off the ground as far as financing New Mexico businesses. Its board, appointed by Gov. Garrey Carruthers, has not been able to find any New Mexico loans it feels are worthy of our state's money.

During the next five months when you hear political rhetoric about technology transfer, ask the candidate how he or she plans to finance the risky business involved with making it happen. Until we get some politicians with the guts to give us solutions to that problem, Harry Kinney's garbage dump idea is our only workable answer.

SANTA FE—New Mexico is almost completely blowing an economic development opportunity that sits just south of our border.

It is not news to anyone that we are a poor state. We're somewhere in the mid 40's in per capita income ranking. If it weren't for minerals, federal government installations and tourism, we'd be dead last. Two of those blessings, we didn't have much to do with. The third is due to a few powerful US senators over the years, who muscled some nice projects into the state.

The bottom line is, we've never done much for ourselves. What's the problem? Is it laziness, ignorance, defeatism or accidents of geography that prevent us from increasing our standard of living to anywhere that of our neighbors? It's probably some of each, coupled with an element that made their fortunes elsewhere and can now enjoy living among us happy natives, enjoying the unspoiled beauty of our land, and never have to worry about our economic conditions.

Regardless of the source of our problems, we can't afford to miss any chance to better ourselves. One of those chances is currently slipping through our fingers.

While we weren't looking, the City of Juarez, Mexico has been developing into an economic giant. It had a long way to go from the dirt poor border town it was. And it isn't halfway along the road to attaining a US quality of life. But Mexican authorities, and especially Juarez economic planners, have been doing some marvelous things while we were looking other directions for our salvation.

In 1965 Mexico instituted the Border Industrialization Program to correct the anemic economic conditions that existed along its frontier with the United States. Mexican government economists designed an ingenious plan to both attract foreign capital and employ the masses who were without work. Many of these Mexicans had been crossing the border for years to work in US fields as Bracero labor. But our government began cracking down on that practice.

The solution was to allow duty free importation into Mexico of manufacturing equipment, machinery, raw materials and supplies, on a temporary basis. The government guaranteed that everything brought in under this program would be exported. Foreign companies were allowed to own up to 100 percent of their Mexican production facilities.

The advantage to foreign businesses is that they can take advantage of cheap Mexican labor while still being able to use the far superior transportation, communication and supply systems of their own country.

The idea caught on. It has been mushrooming for the past 25 years. Almost a half million Mexican citizens are now employed in 1800 production plants, called maquilas, most of them along the border. Juarez, Mexico's largest border city, has 125,000 people employed in the program. The city, whose citizens once streamed across the border looking for any kind of work, now boasts a labor market in which employees can search for the best jobs among over 300 plants. Juarez officials claim virtually complete employment in the city.

What's in it for New Mexico's economy? The Juarez plants purchase raw materi-

Grand jury indicts

Gaines, Linda Brown, Larry Vaughn and Rosemary Gallegos.

Cynthia Morales was indicted on the first count for having failed to have her seat belt properly fastened over her body when the vehicle was in motion.

Cynthia's attorney Gary Mitchell filed an entry of appearance and a plea of not guilty May 31 on the seat belt charge.

The indictment against Morales seemed a waste of time, Mitchell said, because the charge is a petty misdemeanor.

He did appreciate what the grand jury did, and considered it a proper indictment for Velasquez.

An account of the grand jury as interpreted by Velasquez's attorney David Serna of Albuquerque was it was hostile and accusatory.

Mitchell said it is the duty of the grand jury to accuse.

Serna, in a telephone interview, said again the grand jury was very hostile, and its duty is to inquire into all the facts, in a neutral and detached way. "This grand jury was not neutral and detached," he said.

Mitchell said Serna took the grand jury as hostile since he is trying to defend his client. Serna's statement that the proceedings are for financial gain for Morales has no basis, Mitchell continued. "It had nothing to do with the grand jury."

The family, devastated by the death of the infant and the enormous medical costs for Cynthia's treatment is just trying to salvage what is left of their lives, Mitchell continued. "There are no big bucks out there, no one is in it for the money."

Morales' medical bills are now in excess of $60-80,000.

The child abuse charge against Cynthia hurt her greatly, Mitchell said, since the child was strapped in.

Velasquez's attorney Serna said the articles which appeared after the accident in the Lincoln County News did not differentiate whether the driver was drinking or just the passengers.

"He rarely drinks and had nothing to drink that day," Serna said.

My client will testify he volunteered at the scene of the accident to any and all law enforcement that he would take a breath or blood test for alcohol or any other substance, but the investigating state police officer Jim Long declined because he had no reason to suspect Velasquez was drinking.

The officer arrived at the scene an hour and a half after the accident occurred.

At the scene of the accident and later, Velasquez maintained his brakes failed and he was unable to avoid hitting the Morales vehicle. Serna said Velasquez's father testified in the grand jury he had the brakes repaired and believed them in good working order. When tested by the state police, the brakes reportedly did not work.

Serna also said Velasquez said he helped the emergency personnel assist Morales at the scene of the accident.

Velasquez, who was stationed in El Paso at the time of the accident, is now stationed in Germany. He did testify at the grand jury.

"It will be difficult for my client to get a fair trial because of the weeks and months of inaccuracies (reported by the Lincoln County News)," Serna said.

Serna continued he does not usually comment on a case before a trial, but felt he has to give Velasquez's side of the story.

Serna filed an entry of appearance and a plea of not guilty for Velasquez.

"He pled not guilty and he will be found not guilty," Serna said.

He also will request a change of venue for the trial, the change must be made by the judge based upon an evaluation of the case.

Serna acknowledged any time a human death is involved it is incumbent on the law enforcement personnel to investigate, incumbent on the prosecution to properly present the case in court, and incumbent on the grand jury to properly consider it for the money."

Serna considered the indictment on Velasquez a "grave mistake."

Now it is on us to show my client is innocent, Serna said.

Velasquez did not intentionally cause the accident or the fatality, Serna maintained. "But you wouldn't know by reading (the Lincoln County News articles). It's almost like yelling fire in a crowd," he said about the articles.

He said the articles will jeopardize the chances for Velasquez to get a fair trial in Lincoln County.

The case is now up to the court system, Mitchell said.

Mitchell considers Judge Richard Parsons' court to be the "fairest in the state," with a record for processing cases in a quick manner.

No court date has yet been set.

Did You Know? HAY FEVER TRIVIA

● You can't avoid closing your eyes when you sneeze. A motorist in Hampton, N.H. found this out the hard way when he sneezed while passing another car, lost track of his road position, and hit the car in front of him.

● When pollen counts are high, getting rid of the day's pollen accumulation by washing your hair frequently and bathing before bedtime will help you sleep better.

● If you are genetically pre-disposed to allergic reactions, you really can't escape them. Move from New York City to the Mohave Desert and chances are you'll simply exchange your sensitivity from taxi-fumes to cactus flowers.

● Hot herbal teas such as fenugreek, anise or horehound act as decongestants for some allergy sufferers.

● Mount Sinai Medical Center in Miami Beach, Florida has proven that hot chicken soup can help stuff up allergy sufferers by stimulating mucus flow.

● Antihistamines not only cause drowsiness, they dry out the mouth, and that can cause cavities, since saliva washes away bacteria and helps to disinfect the mouth.

● Decongestants help ease the misery of hay fever by shrinking nasal membranes, but overuse tends to cause a rebound effect. When the results wear off, the membranes are more swollen than before.

● Mast cells in the eyes and nose are the chief culprits in the allergic reaction. When stimulated by pollen, cat dander and other allergens, they release histamine, which sets off the whole cycle of allergic symptoms: red, itchy eyes, runny nose, sneezing and wheezing.

● A plant extract from ancient Egypt—khellin—is the basis for cromolyn sodium, which in the form of Nasacrom and Opticrom works to stabilize the mast cells and prevent the allergic reaction from occurring.

Schlarb, Ramirez found guilty on disorderly conduct charges

Curious Carrizozo citizens and family members dotted the Carrizozo Municipal Court Chambers last Thursday afternoon to hear the fate of two sisters charged with disorderly conduct and interfering with a police officer.

Municipal Judge S.M. Ortiz found Carol Schlarb and Carmen Ramirez guilty of disorderly conduct and interfering with a police officer after nearly three hours of testimony from witnesses who were at an incident which occurred April 14 at Four Winds Lounge in Carrizozo.

Schlarb and Ramirez each were fined $195 and given 10 days in jail. However, Ortiz placed the defendants on six months probation in lieu of the 10 days in the Lincoln County Jail.

Attorney Don Dutton defended the sisters, who pled not guilty to the charges filed by Carrizozo Police Chief Choncho Morales after the incident. Town attorney Robert Beauvais appeared on behalf of the town.

Ramirez was not at the hearing, but signed a stipulation from her attorney agreeing to submit to a sentence the same as Schlarb, if they were found guilty. Schlarb was present but did not testify on her own behalf.

According to various police reports, statements by witnesses and testimony during the hearing, the women were at the lounge when a fight occurred. During the rumpus a victim, Harold DesJardins of Carrizozo, was injured. When Carrizozo police officer John Northrop arrived, he found a bleeding DesJardins sitting on the sidewalk outside.

Kelly Gregory, an EMT who was present at the scene, assisted DesJardins and suggested the police call the physician's assistant at the Carrizozo Health Clinic to further treat the man who possibly had a broken nose.

Northrop wrote Schlarb was asking DesJardins who did it to him, and tried to get him to tell police. The report stated Chief Morales, who came to the scene, was not getting far with questioning, and Schlarb persisted in trying to get DesJardins to tell Morales who hit him. At that point, the report stated, Morales told Schlarb to shut up and go home.

Northrop's statement included a scene where Morales grabbed Schlarb's arm and told her "to get the hell out of here." Morales said he did this after Schlarb pushed him in the chest first, but it could not be established as no witnesses saw this happen.

Morales admitted he grabbed her arm.

A witness, Christi Beltran, said the women were shouting obscenities and making vulgar gestures about who was responsible for DesJardins' injury.

After a lengthy exchange between the lawyers, Judge Ortiz ruled the women were guilty.

Subpoenas were issued to Northrop, Morales, Beltran and Darla Portillo, who was not involved in the incident but was present at the lounge when the incident occurred. Gilbert Archuleta and Gilbert Sambrano, officers with the Lincoln County Sheriff, were also subpoenaed but were excused because their testimony was hearsay.

The women's attorney can file appeal within 15 days of the hearing, but had not yet by Wednesday, June 6.

In a telephone interview Wednesday, Beauvais said he went back to the case law to study disorderly conduct cases. After review and thought, Beauvais wrote a letter to Judge Ortiz and Morales requesting the disorderly conduct charge be dropped if the ruling is appealed.

"It is very difficult to make a disorderly conduct charge stick," Beauvais said.

According to previous cases, a disorderly conduct charge must involve a subject who is trying to incite or create a situation of possible violence, which did not seem to be the case in this incident, Beauvais said.

The request will not affect the disposition in the municipal court, only in an appeal, Beauvais said.

The victim was not at the hearing.

Have Your Cake And Eat It, Too

Your just dessert? With fewer calories and less cholesterol, it just may be.

Some late-baking news: Simple revisions in the preparation of your favorite dessert recipes can make them healthier for your body—and just as delicious to your taste buds. By reducing cholesterol, fat and sugar—but not the rich flavor and light texture—the home economists at Swans Down Cake Flour have adapted many old-time favorite recipes.

WHITE CAKE
1-3/4 c Swans Down cake flour
1 c granulated sugar
2 tsp. vanilla extract
2 tsp. baking powder
1 tsp. grated orange zest
1/2 c vegetable oil
1/2 c water
6 egg whites
1 tsp. cream of tartar

Preheat oven to 350°F. Grease and dust with flour two 8 or 9-inch round cake pans. Sift flour before measuring.

In a mixing bowl, blend all ingredients except egg whites and cream of tartar. In large bowl, whip the egg whites until frothy; add the cream of tartar and beat until whites are stiff. Fold egg whites into flour mixture. Turn into cake pans and bake 25 to 30 minutes until the cake springs back when lightly touched in the center. Cool 10 minutes, then remove from pans and finish cooling on racks.

Frosting and filling ideas:

LEMON-STRAWBERRY LAYER CAKE
Spread 1/2 cup reduced sugar strawberry preserves between the layers. Drizzle cake with Light Lemon Glaze, allowing the glaze to drizzle down the sides of the cake. Decorate cake with sliced fresh strawberries.

LIGHT LEMON GLAZE
Mix 1 cup sifted powdered sugar with 1 tsp. fresh lemon juice, 1/2 tsp. grated lemon rind, a dash of salt and 2 to 3 tsp. hot water until mixture is smooth and can be drizzled onto the cake.

ials, components, machinery, equipment and services from over 25,000 US companies in every state but Hawaii. Less than one percent of those suppliers are located in New Mexico. Illinois aggressively works at supplying the Juarez maquila industries. That state, alone, boasts over 7,000 suppliers. New Mexico has 231, mostly located along the border.

I asked a maquila manager a few weeks ago why he didn't have many suppliers in the rest of our state. He replied they think it is too far to ship their products. My God, if it's not too far for 700 suppliers in Pennsylvania or 7 suppliers in Alaska, how can it be too far for Northern New Mexico?

Part of the answer is that our state government has not promoted it well enough. There is also a theory that says we don't want to encourage an industry that takes jobs from US workers. But the truth is that we never had those jobs. Mexico took them from Korea, Taiwan, Malaysia and other developing countries.

Sheriff's report

Bears, fires usher in summer season

Bears and campfires are becoming problems in Lincoln County now, says Lincoln County Sheriff James McSwane.

Several bear sightings were made during the last week, including one bear which climbed a two-story balcony and raided a home freezer, destroying both the freezer and the frozen fish inside it.

Campfire restrictions were imposed in the forest areas, with no campfires allowed and smoking only within a vehicle or outdoors in an area cleared of all vegetation for three feet.

In other sheriff's activities:

MAY 31

4:45 a.m. someone reported a person threw a rock at a car window and broke it in the Hale Lake area.

3:57 p.m. a low-flying plane was reported in the Carrizozo area. The sheriff's office contacted US Customs. 9:17 p.m. an open door was reported in the Alto Alps Condos. When officers responded they found the door would not lock and informed the manager the next day.

11:07 p.m. Carrizozo ambulance responded to a possible overdose. Carrizozo Police also responded.

3 p.m. a report of a possible drunk driver turned out to be sightseers.

4:13 p.m. a person called about a bear in the middle of Cedar Creek road. The incident was referred to Game and Fish Department.

Several reports were made of persons who resembled the rape suspect, but all were unfounded.

JUNE 2

10:08 a.m. Cummins Corporation in Capitan reported a fender-bender in the parking lot.

11:52 a.m. windows were broken in a horse trailer in the Ruidoso area. Officers investigated.

12:10 p.m. a report of a stolen purse in the Bonito Lake area was taken. The purse was later recovered.

12:17 p.m. officers investigated a report of a boat in the middle of Highway 380 on the Mal Pais. The incident was referred to state police.

8:20 p.m. a report of three drunk people using the bathroom outdoors in Capitan was referred to Capitan police.

9:19 p.m. a report of a big campfire on the Ski Run Road was investigated, but was put out before officers arrived.

8:53 p.m. a man reported his wife was beating him in the Gavilan Canyon area.

JUNE 4

12:46 a.m. Carrizozo Volunteer Fire Department responded to a grass fire along the roadway south of Carrizozo on Highway 54.

12:34 a.m. a report was taken of a broken window in the old feed store in Carrizozo.

11:42 a.m. Carrizozo VFD responded to a report of a fire at Four Winds Motel in Carrizozo. Some clothing burned in a closet due to accidental ignition.

1:17 p.m. officers investigated an illegal dumping of construction materials on Shadow Mountain Estates, near the Ft. Stanton landfill.

5:45 p.m. officers investigated a report of someone living in a house in the Alto area when no one was supposed to be there. Personal items were removed for investigation.

7:22 p.m. windows were broken at a residence on Tomahawk Trail.

7:05 a.m. a report was investigated of a person running into Highway 54 north of Carrizozo and laying in front of traffic. No contact was made.

2:30 p.m. officers investigated a breaking and entering of a residence in Nogal. The incident later was listed as a commercial burglary. Officers also are working a residential burglary in Nogal of two cars and a boat, reported May 24.

4:03 p.m. the stolen vehicles and boat were located in Capitan.

5:18 p.m. an Alto area resident reported a bear on the porch. Game and Fish and sheriff's officers responded, but the bear left before they arrived.

10 p.m. a big grass fire was reported south of Carrizozo along the railroad tracks. Carrizozo VFD, Ft. Stanton VFD, State Forestry responded.

OFFICIAL NOTICE OF MEETING AND SALE
CARRIZOZO MUNICIPAL SCHOOL DISTRICT NO. 7 COUNTIES OF LINCOLN AND SOCORRO, NEW MEXICO
GENERAL OBLIGATION SCHOOL BUILDING BONDS SERIES JULY 15, 1990

PUBLIC NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the Board of Education of Carrizozo Municipal School District No. 7, Counties of Lincoln and Socorro, New Mexico (the "Board" and the "District" respectively) will receive and review sealed bids for the purchase of the District General Obligation School Building Bonds in the aggregate principal amount of $540,000 at the Administration Building, Carrizozo, New Mexico, on June 14, 1990, at 11:00 a.m., prevailing Mountain Time. At a regular meeting to be held at 7:30 p.m., the Board will publicly discuss and consider such other matters as may properly come before such Board, provided, however, that a satisfactory price be obtained for the bonds.

DESCRIPTION OF BONDS
 Said bonds will be dated July 15, 1990, will be issued as fully registered bonds in the denomination of $5,000.00 each or any integral multiple thereof and will mature on July 15 in each of the following years and in the principal amounts as follows:

Years Maturing	Principal Amounts
1992	$35,000
1993	$35,000
1994	$40,000
1995	$40,000
1996	$45,000
1997	$45,000
1998	$50,000
1999	$55,000
2000	$60,000
2001	$65,000
2002	$70,000

Both principal and interest on the bonds will be payable in lawful money of the United States of America, and the principal of each bond will be payable at the principal office of the paying agent/registrars to be selected by the Board. The interest on each bond shall be payable by check or draft mailed to the respective registered owners thereof at the address as it appears on the registration books of said paying agent/registrars or any successor paying agent/registrars, or by such other customary banking arrangements acceptable to the paying agent/registrars and the person to whom interest is to be paid; provided, however, that such person shall bear all risk and expense of such other customary banking arrangements. Said issue constitutes a portion of the bonds which were authorized at an election held on April 3, 1990 and are for the purpose of erecting, remodeling, making additions to and furnishing school buildings or purchasing or improving school grounds, or any combination of these purposes, and will constitute general obligation bonds of the District, payable from general taxes which may be levied without limitation as to rate or amount.

REDEMPTION
 The Bonds are not subject to redemption prior to maturity.

QUALIFIED TAX EXEMPT OBLIGATIONS
 The District intends to designate the bonds as "QUALIFIED TAX EXEMPT OBLIGATIONS" for purposes of Section 285 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended (the "Code"). Section 265 of the Code permits the designation of governmental bonds such as these bonds as qualified tax exempt obligations, based upon certain representations made hereinbelow:

- (a) The bonds are not private activity bonds;
- (b) The District does not reasonably expect to issue qualified tax exempt obligations in an aggregate principal amount exceeding $10,000,000 during calendar year 1990; and
- (c) The District will not designate more than $10,000,000 in aggregate principal amount of qualified tax exempt bonds during calendar year 1990.

INTEREST RATE
 Interest on said bonds will be payable on July 15, 1991, and semi-annually thereafter on January 15 and July 15 in each year until maturity.

The maximum net effective interest rate permitted on said bonds is twelve percent (12%); provided, however, that if the net effective interest rate on such bonds is greater than ten percent (10%) per annum (based on the actual price to be paid to the District for said bonds, calculated to maturity according to the standard tables of bond values), such rate must be approved in writing by the New Mexico State Board of Finance, and the District may not issue the bonds before such approval is given. It is permissible to bid different or split rates of interest; provided, however, that:

- (1) no bid shall specify more than one interest rate for each maturity;
- (2) the maximum interest rate permitted is twelve percent (12%) per annum;
- (3) each interest rate specified must be stated in a multiple of one-eighth (1/8) or one-twentieth (1/20) of one percent (1%) per annum; and
- (4) the maximum interest rate specified may exceed the minimum interest rate specified by no more than two percent (2%).

BIDS
 Bidders are required to submit a bid specifying (a) the lowest rate or rates of interest and premium, if any, at which such bidder will purchase such bonds. For informational purposes only, each bidder is requested to specify (b) the total net interest cost to the District in dollars and cents and (c) the net effective interest rate in a stated percentage. Proposals should be enclosed in a sealed envelope endorsed "Bid for General Obligation School Building Bonds of Carrizozo Municipal School District No. 7, Counties of Lincoln and Socorro, New Mexico," addressed as follows: Carrizozo Municipal School District No. 7, Administrative Office, Post Office Box 99, Carrizozo, New Mexico 88301, Attention: Secretary, Board of Education. Only unconditional bids shall be considered. Bids should be submitted on the official bid form which may be obtained from the District's financial consultant (see "INFORMATION" which appears hereafter).

BASIS OF AWARD

Said bonds will be awarded to the best bidder considering the interest rate or rates specified and the premium offered, if any, and subject to the right of the Board to reject any and all bids and re-advertise. The best bid will be determined by deducting the amount of the premium bid, if any, from the total amount of interest which the District would be required to pay from the date of the bonds to the respective maturity dates at the rate or rates specified in the proposal, and said bonds will be awarded on the basis of the lowest net interest cost to the District. The purchaser must pay accrued interest from the date of the bonds to the date of delivery. The District reserves the privilege of waiving any irregularity or informality in any bid.

GOOD FAITH DEPOSIT

All bids shall be sealed and, except the bid of the State of New Mexico, if one is received, shall be accompanied by a good faith deposit of not less than $10,800 (i.e., two percent (2%) of the principal amount of the bonds) in cash or by cashier's or treasurer's check of, or by certified check drawn on a solvent commercial bank or trust company in the United States of America and payable to "Carrizozo Municipal School District No. 7. Such good faith check shall be returned if the bid is not accepted. If the successful bidder shall fail or neglect to complete the purchase of said bonds within forty-five (45) days following the acceptance of the bid or within ten (10) days after the bonds are offered for delivery, whichever is later, the amount of the deposit shall be forfeited to the District as liquidated damages and, in that event, the Board may accept the bid of the one making the next best bid. If all bids are rejected, the Board shall re-advertise said bonds for sale in the same manner as herein provided for the original advertisement. If there be two or more equal bids and such bids are the best bids received and for not less than par and accrued interest, the Board shall determine which bid shall be accepted.

TIME OF AWARD AND DELIVERY

The Board will take action awarding the bonds or rejecting all bids not later than 24 hours after the expiration of the time herein prescribed for the receipt of the bids. Delivery of the bonds will be made to the successful bidder at some bank or trust company in Albuquerque, New Mexico, or elsewhere at its request and at its expense, within 60 days of the acceptance of the bid. If for any reason delivery cannot be made within 60 days, the successful bidder shall have the right to purchase said bonds during the succeeding 30 days upon the same terms, or at the request of the successful bidder, during said succeeding 90 days, the good faith deposit will be returned and such bidder shall be relieved of any further obligation. The successful bidder shall make final payment for said bonds with Federal Reserve Funds or other funds acceptable to the District for immediate and unconditional credit to the District for immediate and unconditional credit to the account of the District. It is anticipated that the delivery of the bonds will be on or about July 19, 1990.

INFORMATION

Information concerning the bond, including the District's Official Statement may be obtained from the District's Financial Consultant, Rice and Associates, Suite 1200, First Interstate Bank Building, 320 Gold Avenue, SW, Albuquerque, New Mexico 87102, (505) 243-1784. The Official Statement is deemed final by the District for purposes of SEC Rule 15C2-12(b)(1) (15 CFR § 240.15C2-12(b)(1)) except for the omission of the following information: the offering price(s), interest rate(s), selling commission, aggregate principal amount, principal amount per maturity, delivery dates, any other terms or provisions required by an issuer of such securities to be specified in a competitive bid, ratings, other terms of the securities depending on such matters, and the identity of the underwriter(s).

TRANSCRIPT, PRINTED BONDS AND LEGAL OPINIONS

The written approval of the New Mexico Attorney General of said bonds as to form and legality will be supplied. The legality of the bonds, in addition, will be approved by Simons, Cuddy & Friedman, Attorneys at Law, Santa Fe, New Mexico 87502 ("Bond Counsel"), whose opinion will state in substance that the issue of the bonds in the amount aforesaid is valid and legally binding upon the District, that all of the taxable property in the District is subject to the levy of a tax to pay the same without limitation of rate or amount; that interest on the bonds is excludable from gross income for purposes of federal income tax, and that the District has properly designated such bonds as "Qualified Tax Exempt Obligations." The successful bidder (without cost to such bidder) will also be furnished with the printed bonds (with the opinion of Bond Counsel printed thereon), and a complete transcript of the legal proceedings, including a no-litigation certificate which will state that no litigation is pending to the knowledge of the bonds affecting their validity or the levy or collection of such taxes for their payment.

CUSIP NUMBERS
 CUSIP identification numbers may be typed or printed on the bonds, but neither the failure to provide such number on any bond nor any error with respect thereto will constitute cause for failure or refusal by the purchaser thereof to accept delivery of and to pay for the bonds in accordance with the terms hereof. All expenses in relation to the CUSIP Service charge for the assignment of said numbers will be the responsibility of and will be paid for by the purchaser.

Dated at Carrizozo, New Mexico, this 15th day of May, 1990.
