

Commissioners confront a hodge-podge of problems

By Doris Cherry

Positive reports from Economic Development to finalizing a transportation board, bid awards and hearing about another bad country road, the Lincoln County Commission covered most of their business within two hours Tuesday.

George Puckett, executive director of Economic Development Corporation of Lincoln County, EDCLC, presented his quarterly report, which favorably told of businesses, brought by the group to the county, potential businesses looking at Carrizozo or Capitan, updating bylaws with a new ethics code, new fiscal budget to coincide with the county's, the project with the Small Business Assistance Center of NMSU with EDCLC, work with a number of local companies for business help and other community participation. Lincoln County supports EDCLC with mill levy funds.

New livestock panels and insulation will be installed at the Lincoln County Fairgrounds, thanks to the two bids awarded by commissioners Rick Simpson, Bob Hemphill and Karon Petty. Thomas A. Huey Mfg. Co. was low bidder with $5,830 for the 27 panels. Jack King, fair president, reviewed the bids and found they all met county specifications. Phil Straley and Luke's Welding Service also bid on the panels.

Hoot Gibson Construction Company will insulate the fair building for $8,250, the only bid. Commissioners heard county manager Nick Pappas tell of how the state legislative appropriation of $75,000 may not be enough to cover all the projects at the fairgrounds; new bleachers, canopy, panels, insulation. If there are not enough funds to cover all, he suggested the county could provide general operations funds to cover the balance. Commissioners approved the low bid and providing funds from the county funds to cover the balance.

A new fire truck and pumper for Glencoe Volunteer Fire Dept. will be purchased if the county can find acceptable financing and approval by the state fire marshal. The lowest best bid for a truck came from United Fire and Safety Equipment, Inc. for $110,220. The department must have at least $42,000 as a down payment, which the county can loan or grant to the department. However, the department was rated this spring and will not receive additional funding, even with purchase of the new truck now.

Simpson credited the department for its "remarkable" work in the last few months, and Hemphill said awarding the bid for a new truck would carry more weight with Carl Standefur, state fire marshal, and could lead to getting surplus funds from the state.

On that argument, commissioners approved the truck bid, contingent of acceptable financing.

The contract for road chips was given to Valley Transit Mix for $14 a cubic yard of ¾ inch chips and $14.50 cubic yard of ¾ inch chips delivered to the job site of Schlarb Road.

Commissioners granted a waiver and allowed a transaction of two lots in a "red tagged" subdivision. The Woodlands Subdivision was red tagged by commissioners in April for having roads not brought to county standards by the subdivider. The subdivision was first platted in 1982 and since has been through foreclosure. Since the sale of the two lots began before the "red-tagging" in April, county attorney Robert Beauvais advised commissioners (in a written document) to allow the waiver. They agreed and approved the sale. Petty also wanted the customer to sign an affidavit concerning the red tagging and not hold the county liable for the condition of the roads.

Another set of roads were discussed, and approved for a two-year wear period. After the two years, roads in Ruidoso Valley Estates Subdivision will be added to the regular county maintenance program. After inspection by county engineer Joe Shain, road supervisor Tommy Hall and P&Z chairman Patsy Sanchez, with very favorable comments, commissioners accepted the roads.

The Lincoln County Transportation Development District board is complete. Commissioners accepted the group's recommendation to appoint Ginger Mangum as the seventh member chosen from at large. County Treasurer Shirley Goodloe questioned why no one from Corona was appointed. A board member stated Corona was considered; however, no written nominations were received for a Corona person, as required by the ordinance. A person from Corona will be considered if a nomination is submitted and a vacancy occurs.

The length of terms also were set for the seven board members. Jeremy Jordon of Lincoln, David Cummins of Capitan, Nancy Radziejewicz and Ginger Mangum will serve one year. Harold R. Mansell, Ruidoso Downs, Chuck Rominger, Carrizozo, and Al Junge, Ruidoso, all will serve two years.

As soon as Mangum was approved, the board left the meeting to talk with Iron-Horse Railroad representatives. A proposal to fund a feasibility study from the New Mexico Transportation Authority for the Iron Horse Railroad steam project will be delivered to Santa Fe before today's (Thursday) deadline.

Hubert Quintana updated commissioners on the Water Defense Association lawsuit and asked for an amendment to the county contract for legal services. To prepare for oral arguments for the case in the court of appeals, sometime in 1991, Quintana asked for an amendment to include Niel Stilling and Kay Marr as a legal team to investigate hydrolic and economic studies and increase legal costs from $18,000 to $23,000. Funds are available from the appropriation from the state legislature to pay the extra cost, Quintana said. All commissioners approved the amendment which Quintana will bring at a later date.

Who and what's at stake

Nov. 6, the day of Political Judgment

Election day 1990 is near.

On Tuesday, Nov. 6, voters will go to the polls to select a new governor and Lt. governor, vote for a senator, re-elect an incumbent congressional representative, vote for state representative, secretary of state, state auditor, treasurer, attorney general, commissioner of public lands, corporation commission, two justices of state supreme court, and local offices including, commissioners from three districts, two magistrate judges, clerk, treasurer, assessor, sheriff, probate judge, cast yes or no votes on retaining five judges, and several amendment and bond questions.

Lincoln County Clerk Martha Proctor noted a problem with the printing on sample ballots already issued in the county. The ballots show the justice of the supreme court as a single block. She emphasized this does not mean there is just one justice seeking election, even though the block states "vote for one." Rather the block should have been divided into two, with "vote for one" stated in each segment.

In other words, voters have the choice of voting for Republican Kenneth B. Wilson or Democrat Gene F. Franchini for position 1 and Democrat Seth Montgomery is running unopposed for position 11. Proctor said the ballot on the actual machines will be reprinted to avoid confusion.

Aside from the candidates, several constitutional amendment and bond issue questions are on the ballot.

Candidates for US senator are incumbent Republican Pete Domenici and Democrat Tom Benavides. Rep. Joe Skeen runs unopposed as US representative. Democrats Bruce King and Casey Luna are seeking the governor-Lt. governor slots against Republican Frank Bond and Mary Thompson. Republican Cecilia Martinez-Salazar is running against Democrat Stephanie Gonzales for secretary of state. Democrat Robert Vigil runs unopposed for state auditor.

Republican Robert Corn runs against Democrat David King for state treasurer. Democrat Tom Udall and Republican William Davis are candidates for Attorney General. Republican John Bigbee Jr. and Democrat Jim Baca run for Commissioner of Public Lands. Democrat Eric Serna and Republican Pete Salazar run for Corporation Commission. Republican Gene Franchini runs against Republican Kenneth Wilson for Supreme Court justice position 1. Democrat Seth Montgomery runs unopposed for justice position 11.

Locally, state representative for district 52, which includes Carrizozo and south to Otero County line, Republican Paul Harrington, from T or C runs unopposed. Candidates for State Representative for District 56, which includes Ruidoso and Hondo Valley, are Democrat John Underwood and incumbent Ben Hall. For District 57, which includes Capitan and Lincoln, incumbent Republican Dick Knowles runs unopposed.

Candidates for magistrate judge, division I are Republican incumbent Gerald Dean Jr. and Democrat Benny Coker; for magistrate division II candidates are Democrat Harold Mansell and incumbent Republican

County solid waste authority proposed

The Lincoln County Solid Waste Committee has a proposal for the Lincoln County Special District Commission.

The proposal includes the formation of a Lincoln County Solid Waste Authority (LCSWA) which will be responsible for the collection, transportation and disposal of solid waste generated in Lincoln County; volume reduction; implementation of recycling programs; administering a composting program; developing educational/public information programs regarding solid waste; establishing rates for solid waste removal and programs to provide for special waste such as household hazardous, industrial and contractors.

Also LCSWA will develop procedures to initiate operation of the program; billing Lincoln County residents in both incorporated and unincorporated areas where service will be provided and granting of variances in billing and enforcement of collections.

The special district commission, comprised of county commissioners Rick Simpson and Karon Petty, Ruidoso mayor Victor Alonso and Capitan mayor Frank Warth and Ben Hall, selected as chairman, met for a public hearing Wednesday night in Carrizozo. They took input on the proposal to create a LCSWA membership of representatives of each unit of government from within Lincoln County chosen by a formula based on community population and amount of solid waste generated. Proposed composition was: Capitan, Carrizozo, Corona, one member each; Lincoln County, two members; Ruidoso five members and Ruidoso Downs one member.

The chairman of LCSWA will be elected by the board annually. The committee recommended the mayor of each municipality and county commission chairman serve until the by-laws are approved.

The proposal also addresses legal structure, financing, scope of work and factors to be considered.

Since the Wednesday Carrizozo meeting was after the NEWS deadline, a full report will be in the Nov. 1 issue of The NEWS.

The next public hearing will be conducted at 6:30 p.m. Nov. 1 in the Ruidoso Village Administration Center.

Carrizozo trustees

Town's water sale problems clarified by highway dept.

Cash that $10,000 check, Carrizozo.

New Mexico State Highway Department took center stage at the Carrizozo board of town trustees meeting Tuesday night.

Ken Parker, who has worked with the town to negotiate a contract to purchase water from the town for various highway construction projects, was back again to clarify some confusion over a $10,000 check.

Previously, trustee Harold Garcia was reluctant to cash the check, which basically was a payment from the state for five million gallons of Carrizozo water for any construction contractor needing it in this area in the next four years. Parker assured trustees the check was good even if the contractor chooses to get water from another source.

Parker appeared to be skeptical about the reliability of that other water source and alerted trustees to be prepared if the contractor needs water. The town can no longer take water from the golf course lake after Jan. 1 as it does now, because the water rights run out. After that date, water must come from a town hydrant or some transfer of rights from the McBride well must be negotiated with the state engineer to use the lake.

Garcia told of the accessibility problems with the location of the McBride well, which makes it the least desirable source.

Parker assured trustees if the contractor uses the water he will be the assignee on the contract. "We've already paid for five million gallons, the contractor pays us," Parker said.

He then requested trustees allow him to change the contract between the town and New Mexico State Highway Department (NMSHD) to sell water at $2 for 1000 gallons for one or two more projects than listed on the contract. To which the trustees agreed.

When discussion drifted to the situation between Jones Construction and the town, Parker didn't know what happened.

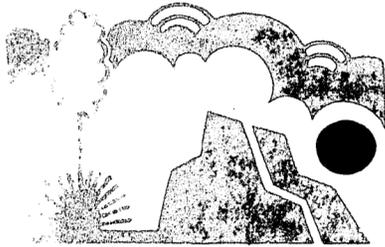

The other NMSD representative to speak was Tim Basler, who came in response to a request by the trustees for help with the Highway 54 and 380 intersection, the scene of numerous accidents.

Basler, who studied the intersection for about three hours that afternoon, found no problems. He considered the approach signing more than adequate to warn drivers on Highway 54.

Trustee Dale LaMay suggested a flashing light on 54, (Con't. on P. 5)

Monday, Nov. 5, shots will be given from 8:30 a.m. to noon and 1 to 3 p.m. at Ruidoso Senior Citizens Center. Wednesday, Nov. 7, the nurse will give shots from 1-4 p.m. at the Hondo Senior Citizens Center.

The Ruidoso Health office will not administer immunizations Monday, Nov. 5.

animal control officer Angelo Vega, Oct. 23.

The charge, a petty misdemeanor, carries a maximum fine of $500 and six months in the county jail, and was filed on the mayor on behalf of the town of Carrizozo.

Kuhnel, who initiated an adoption program for animals at the town pound and has spent her own money to buy food for impounded animals, elected to have the town attorney Robert Beauvais represent her.

Dean said he had never handled a situation as this before and considered it odd; the county charging a town and its mayor. He also advised Kuhnel of her Miranda rights.

When Kuhnel wanted to know if the sheriff's office issued the ticket to the right person, herself or the town trustees, Dean replied he could not advise her of legal defense. Neither could he read an incident report or anything about the circumstances involved.

No bond was set, to which Kuhnel replied, "if I run, I'll take the town with me."

Pending a letter of appearance from Beauvais, the judge will set a hearing or trial on the charge at a later date.

New style trick or treating

Capitan High School Chapter of the Future Homemakers of America (FHA) members will be out trick or treating on Halloween night.

A little too old for high school kids? Not really, the FHA members will be taking young children trick or treating in the community for parents who can not do so. They plan to trick or treat in town and end up at the school Halloween Carnival.

Letters to parents will be sent with elementary students this week, telling of the project and seeking parental permission.

The FHA chapter has been busy. After election of officers president Helen Luna; vice-president Crystal Dalton; secretary Tammi Peralta; student council representative Jessica Newcomb, vice-president of inspiration and recreation Pam Pacheco, vice-president of public relations Amy Cline and historian Letty LaRue, the chapter began work on its Halloween Safety Booth for the Eastern New Mexico State Fair in Roswell.

The chapter won second place for the booth and received $40, which paid for materials and left some over for other activities.

Refrigerators

Q: Why do stored vegetables become wilted and dry?
A: Whirlpool home economists suggest checking the storage areas. Crispers must be sealed tightly, leaving no gaps, to ensure correct humidity. Here are some suggestions they offer to help keep foods fresher, longer.

Leafy vegetables...remove store wrapping. Trim or tear off bruised and discolored areas. Wash in cool water, drain and store in crisper. Vegetables with skins (carrots, peppers)...store in crisper, plastic bags or plastic containers. Fruits...wash, let dry and store in refrigerator in plastic bags or crisper. Do not wash or hull berries until they are ready to use. Sort and keep berries in their store containers in a crisper, or store in a loosely closed paper bag on refrigerator shelf.

OPINION

● The theory of "survival of the fittest" philosophy is accepted by most Americans. However, this natural law has been somewhat eroded by society's attempts to insure that everybody survives, regardless of their natural abilities. The law still applies to animals, fish and wildlife where the strong survive and the weak fall prey. It also applies to sovereign nations, where the strong survive and the weak ones fall prey. As witness the case of Iraq devouring Kuwait. Nations are conquered because they are militarily weak, or haven't the will to resist. "Bully" nations seldom take on a powerful one, as witness the case in World War II. Hitler's Germany took on her weaker neighbors. In the end, it took a combination of the next most powerful countries on earth to defeat the Nazis. Do you think Japan would have gone to war with the US had it not been deceived about our strength?

● This game begins in grade and high school. Weaker kids are chased home and often beaten up by the school bullies. I was one of those victims, and there are many more. One bully laid for me almost every afternoon after school, with at least two pals as backups. They beat me up regularly. Finally, I hired an ex-prizefighter. He not only beat up the bully, but his pals too, and promised to break their legs if they ever even glared at me again.

● Every community has its adult bullies, too. They seldom resort to physical violence, but they intimidate and threaten to coerce the weak into complying with their wishes. Standing up to them takes guts and ingenuity. Fail, and you're a weak sister the bullies control but can't respect.

● Congress bullies the American people, and we don't fight back. We don't even have the guts to say "no" to any of them, which is why 98 percent of incumbent congressmen are returned by the voters. That's the way it is. The strong and the tough survive; the weak pick up the tab, and keep their mouth shut.

● Congress is telling us they're going to solve the national deficit by raising taxes on the rich. That is hogwash. In the first place, had they wanted a balanced budget they would abide by the law they passed in 1978 called the Balance Budget Act of 1978. And if they had been serious they would abide by the Gramm-Rudman-Hollings Act which they are now circumventing, and which will be trashed very soon. The so-called tax on the rich will not happen. The burden will fall on middle class Americans, as it always does. Economist Walter Williams made it plain in a recent article. If congress confiscated all the earnings of people making $200,000 a year or more, he points out, the money collected would run government for only 20 days! The added tax money will not come from the rich. It will come from middle income families and the poor, as it always does. But we believe them when we know they're lying. The survival of the fittest philosophy lives on.

● The only reason the United States has not been conquered is because we have rich resources and keep a strong military defense. Had it been otherwise, we would be a part of Spain today, or the Soviet Union. Our indigent weak sisters want to disarm America now that Gorbachev has smiled and Sen. Joe Biden has declared the Cold War at an end. The likes of Biden, Metzbaum and Ted Kennedy can't wait to cut the defense budget, again and again.

● Consider this. Biden openly declared war on Saddam Hussein. In the same week he joined with a senator from South Carolina to cut the military budget, all but destroy SDI, the Stealth Bomber and other critical items necessary to a powerful defense. Here we are on the verge of war in the Middle East, and Bullyboy Biden wants to cripple any chance of winning it.

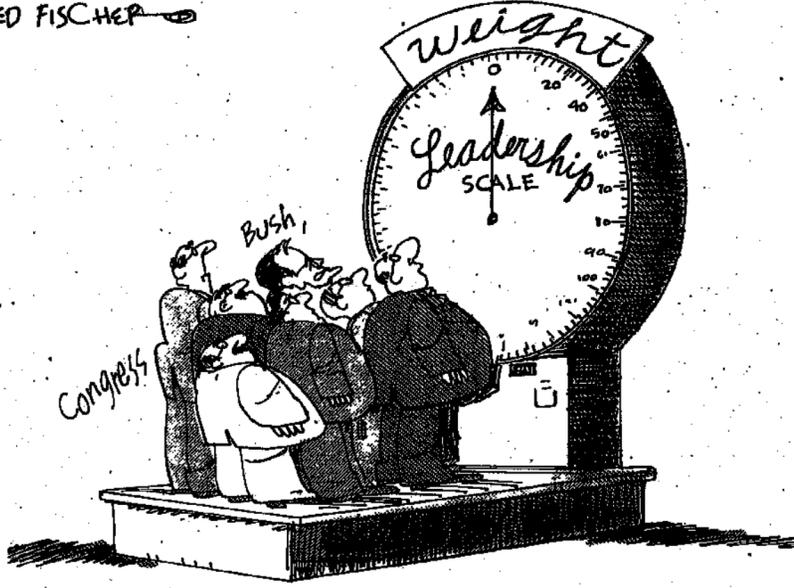

● Few liberals and few environmentalists will stand for increasing our nuclear arsenal. Fifteen non-European countries either have or are developing missiles that can deliver nuclear, chemical and biological warheads. Much of the world hates us. We are especially despised in the Moslem world. It makes the world a dangerous place, and no declaration of a vanished Cold War can change that. The world is being bullied by Saddam Hussein. If the defenses of this country hadn't been built up during the Reagan Administration, we wouldn't have had troops or equipment to speed to Saudia Arabia to forestall further Iraqi aggression in the Middle East. And while all this is going on, are Americans aware that the United States is now defenseless against ballistic missiles that 16 countries already have, and who hate us? And do you know that a recent poll reveals that 64 percent of the American people believe we do have a missile defense?—which we do not?

● Don't forget to write your congressmen and thank them for killing SDI, the Stealth Bomber, and reducing the defense budget. This will make us more attractive to terrorist nations that want us dead in the first place.

● Back to Square One. In all life the theory of survival of the fittest plays the top hand. The strong survive; the weak perish. This is a dangerous world and danger is always present, and that applies to a coyote on the run or a corporate director at his desk. We always have our bullies and aggressors just waiting for a sign of weakness, which is the signal to move it and take over.

● If the American people are to survive they must oust the present congress and demonstrate the power of the people. Get rid of congressmen-for-life who bully their constituents while, at the same time, they allow themselves to be bullied by vengeful heads of other states, thus threatening the lives and securities of all of us. Nov. 6 is a good time to begin housecleaning.

ED FISCHER

Inside The Capitol

By Jay Miller

SANTA FE—Gov. Garrey Carruthers insists that when all the facts are known from the highway probe, he and his administration will emerge virtually spotless.

That very well may be. But in the meantime, the investigation's handling could not be making his administration look much worse.

There are allegations that as much as $600 million were mishandled during the last four years or so. Carruthers says that is ridiculous because only about $600 million in highway funds have been spent during his administration. He claims his internal investigation reveals not much more than $100,000 was misspent.

Unfortunately that investigation, the major report issued by federal transportation officials and Attorney General Hal Stratton's probe of the State Highway Department, are all still under wraps and will be right through election day. What will be the voters' conclusion about whether they want to select another Republican to carry on the open and honest kind of government that Carruthers claims during his past four years?

If I were a GOP strategist, I'd have to hope that all the truth would come out tomorrow, because events of the past several months send the message of a first-rate cover-up.

Last spring federal transportation officials wrote a confidential report detailing numerous charges of fraud, bribery and conspiracy involving the New Mexico Highway Department. They sent copies to Gov. Carruthers, Attorney General Hal Stratton and US Attorney Bill Lutz. Somehow, at least one additional copy leaked out.

The press quickly publicized allegations contained in the report. Some of those charges involved the reluctance of Stratton and Lutz, both Republicans, to vigorously pursue prosecution of the case.

About that time news broke that Stratton's chief investigator on the case and an assistant AG also working the case had departed the AG's office under fire. The former investigator had much to say about Stratton's foot-dragging on this particular case.

So it wasn't surprising that Stratton went to court to silence his critic. The case had been before three judges and now at the state Supreme Court level. Each hearing on the case added a few more reason for voters to believe that a cover-up was in progress for political reasons.

At one point, a district judge ordered the Attorney General's office to produce a copy of the federal highway report. He sent a deputy sheriff with an assistant AG to produce a copy of the document immediately. When the assistant AG got to his office, the report and related materials had mysteriously disappeared.

This led to a sheriff's department investigation and the brief jailing of another assistant AG. The sheriff's investigator has charged some employees of the AG's office originally lied about knowledge of the highway report being hidden.

During this period US Attorney Lutz has indicated no interest in pursuing any of the federal highway staff's allegations. State Demo leaders pointed out that this is the same Mr. Lutz who enthusiastically tried to prosecute former Gov. Toney Anaya during most of his administration. None of Lutz's attempts to nail Anaya, a Democrat, were successful.

Stratton then announced that in order to maintain the public's faith in the judicial process, he was turning the entire case over to a special prosecutor, who would take his findings to a special grand jury. State Demo leaders countered that this may just be an effort to keep the case from getting into the hands of the next attorney general, who could be Demo Tom Udall.

The only allegations Stratton has taken directly to court involve two Hispanic Democrats from Espanola. Demo leaders have publicly noted the irony that all allegations against Republicans will be heard in private by the grand jury.

These developments have already led to GOP governor candidate Frank Bond putting a lot of distance between himself and Carruthers, whose policies Bond had originally committed to carry on.

It is hard to believe that GOP chances could be hurt any worse by the handling of the highway prosecutions—unless maybe state GOP Chairmen John Lattanzio were to write a scathing letter to the Supreme Court or the grand jury or the special prosecutor or ...

By the way ...

drugs. Alcohol is the first step toward the use of illicit drugs. Beer is the drug of choice among teens and illegal. The average age of today's beginning alcoholics is 11 and 12 years old.

Even teens from "stable" families are using drugs, including marijuana, four times more dangerous than cigarette smoking. Marijuana slows the ability to react and the chemical content is more potent today. The habits of addicted youths are learned at home. Other difficulties lie in communities who ignore legal consequences of illicit use of drug and alcohol.

Students will be encouraged to wear red ribbons for the length of the week-long observance. The Red Ribbon Campaign originated when federal agent Enrique Camarena was murdered by drug traffickers in 1985. The red ribbon became the symbol of reduced demand for drugs. The 1990 Red Ribbon Campaign is the third annual recognition of the anti-drug movement in the US and is sponsored by the National Federation of Parents.

Letters to the Editor

The quiet give-away

EDITOR—A treaty was signed earlier this year which will give up five Alaskan islands and adjacent oil-rich seabeds to the Soviets (who have illegally occupied the area since the 1920s.)

Even though the treaty is supposed to require 2/3 approval of the senate, the US State Department is pushing to implement the giveaway before too many folks find out!

Wrangel, the largest of these islands, is the size of Rhode Island and Delaware combined. The five islands, Wrangel, Jeannette, Henrietta, Herald and Bennett were declared to be part of the district of Alaska by the United States government in 1900. The treaty would also abandon to the Soviet Union an oil-rich seabed about the size of California.

The text of the treaty has not yet been made public, and it has not yet been submitted to the senate for ratification. The signing of the treaty received virtually no publicity. According to State Department Watch, a private organization, "it is understood that the State Department intends to implement the agreement before the public and Congress have a chance to act."

Please write to your senators and representatives in opposition to this transfer of US territory to the Soviet Union. Point out to your lawmakers that we should not give the Soviets territory or grant them control over an oil-rich seabed, particularly during a time when we need to become oil independent so we can maintain our national independence.

Ask your senators to co-sponsor S.Res. 20 and your representative to co-sponsor H.R. 2383. Submitted by Senator Jesse Helms S.Res. 20 expresses the sense of the senate that no territory of the United States can be transferred to another country except by treaty.

Commissioners

Commissioners implemented the Lincoln County Flexible Compensation Plan which will provide insurance coverage at the employees' option. The deduction for the insurance will be made before taxes and will add up for some savings to the county in terms of social security matches.

A Lincoln County Employees Retirement Plan was considered. Petty wanted to leave the plan to the next commission, but she was reminded by Mignon Sims, county financial director, the plan was a response to a challenge by this commission to find an alternative retirement plan after the county opted out of the state retiree act.

New phone wiring will enable the county departments to communicate without extra phone calls and will provide a more flexible phone system. It was approved.

When department heads and elected officials reported, Goodloe pointed out the new tax forms which provide payment stubs as well as tax information. She hopes the new bill, which will be mailed directly to all property owners, not banks or financial institutions, will not be too confusing to property owners who have never gotten a bill before. Reading the bill should give property owners information they need to pay this year's bills.

Two purchase order violations were paid, reluctantly on one. The road department "flat dropped the ball" and forgot to pay a $600 bill. A $9.97 bill from the sheriff's office for the county's drug dog, dated from August, was reluctantly approved by Hemphill and Simpson. Petty refused to approve the payment and said the sheriff should pay for it himself.

Finally, commissioners heard from Betsy Eldridge who lives 20 miles north of Capitan on a county road. She said the bus does not go on the road, but she now works at Hondo School and has two children of her own who attend school. The road also is used by many wood haulers and cattle trucks and has many low spots which collect water. She asked if caliche from two established pits could be hauled to the road and the low spots raised for better drainage.

Hall said the road department is now working on Alamo Canyon and will move to Schlarb Road to finish up state highway department co-op projects. After those are done, Eldridge's road will be put on the "things to do" list.

but Basler said the department will not place any kind of hazard beacon without study first. Because numerous councils have asked for help with the intersections, trustees requested the NMSHD conduct a field study of the intersection.

Resident Harold Desjardins asked if a special crosswalk can be placed on 54 near Roy's Gift Gallery, since at least two blind persons cross there to go to the post office. Basler said such a crosswalk is unusual for just one person, but at trustee's request he will add that study to the intersection study.

A public hearing for the Block Grant to improve town streets determined that a request from Mayor Cecilia Kuhnel, town foreman Faustino Gallegos and town clerk Carol Schlarb to change the scope of work was acceptable. Originally, E Ave. from 14th to 17th Streets was to be repaved. After study, the town staff determined it would be better to pave Cedar and Dogwood, which are both dirt. The two streets are east of the railroad tracks. The grant and additional $45,000 from the state, will pave E Ave. from Highway 54 to 8th St.; 11th from E to B; Birch from 14th to 4th. Also if enough funds are left, the group proposed to pave 2nd Street, which connects deadend Aspen to Birch.

Yvonne Acosta with Southeastern New Mexico Economic Development District, which contracted with the town for technical assistance with the grant, discussed the change and other needs. The specifications for an engineer for the project will include a rights-of-way study for the streets.

With no public objection, the project was changed to include Dogwood and Cedar. Anne Hyeman delivered a message from Zia Center director Barbara Ward who was expecting a letter from the town concerning its intent to allow the center to use the fire department bay after the department moves to its new building. Although such a letter was requested at the last town meeting, none was delivered as of Tuesday.

Ward needs the letter to inform the state which provided a grant to refurbish the bay for additional recreation space for the center. If the state is not informed of the town's intention soon, the funds will revert to the state.

Garcia alluded to problems with fire department funds and the new building project, but no members of the volunteer fire department were present. He said it seems the department is $6,000 short of finishing the project, even though it assured the trustees there were enough funds.

Town attorney Robert

Beauvais cautioned trustees on transferring funds from the town general operational funds unless they are earmarked for the fire building. "Or you've just made a contribution to the fire fund."

SWT Distributors provided the lowest bid for a greens mower for the golf course, at $10,956. The Toro 04350 will be delivered if leasee Ted Turnbow says its okay. Funds to purchase the mower come from the sale of water from the golf course lake.

Oct. 28-Nov. 4 was proclaimed Pornography

Awareness Week in the town of Carrizozo by the mayor. White ribbons, to signify support of the anti-pornography campaign, will be available at First Baptist Church, town hall and possibly the banks.

Windows in the rec center will be replaced and the bowling equipment parts arrived. The carpet might be stretched if a good bid is obtained.

The new purchase order policy compiled by trustees Patsy Vallejos (not present at the meeting) and Gilbert Archuleta was reviewed.

Sheriff's report

Search and rescue find 3 lost boys

Lincoln County Sheriff James McSwane mounted his horse and rode with the posse to look for a lost 7-year-old boy in the White Mountain Wilderness.

Saturday, Oct. 20, Steven Cooper, El Cajon, CA went hiking up the river from Three Rivers Campground in southern Lincoln County. After more than an hour gone from the camp, Gerry Reagan, an adult with Cooper's party, called Lincoln County Sheriff's office at 6:21 p.m. to report the boy missing. SO called the New Mexico State Police (NMSP) in Alamogordo and a search and rescue operation began.

The operation grew to include State Police Mounted Patrol, Lincoln County Sheriff's Posse, Otero County Reserves, White Mountain and Alamogordo Search and Rescue squads and deputies from both Lincoln County and Otero Counties Sheriff's offices.

About 2:30 a.m. Sunday, rescuers found Cooper, dressed in shorts and a tank top, four miles up trail 44 near White Horse Hill in Three Rivers Canyon. Hypothermic and unconscious, the boy was taken to Gerald Champion Memorial Hospital in Alamogordo.

NMSP called another search and rescue operation Saturday in another part of the outback of Lincoln County. Two Boy Scouts were lost in the Copeland Canyon area on the northside of the Capitan Mountains. Sam Darden, 13, and Justice Sealey, 14, were found at 10:30 a.m. Sunday one mile east of Seven Cabins Canyon, near State Road 163.

Other sheriff's activities include:

8:39 p.m.—domestic violence in Capitan resulted in the arrest of a Capitan man. William Bates was arrested after Stephanie Hoy reported Bates came to her house and kicked in the door. Three other fellows also came to get Bates, then tore up the house. McSwane, NMSP and Capitan Police Chief Randy Spear responded.

11:12 p.m.—Debra Grossman of Ruidoso Downs reported hearing a shot fired from a .38 special. Ruidoso Downs PD and SO responded and found nothing.

OCT. 17
10:12 a.m.—an enamored donkey in the Magga-do Creek area was reportedly attempting to tear down fences and accost some mares. The owners, who were out of town, were contacted at a restaurant in Santa Fe and told of the incident.

7:18 p.m.—a report of vandalism, sugar put in a gas tank, was taken from a person at Twin Spruce Trailer Park near Ruidoso.

6:38 p.m.—Natalina Salazar in Carrizozo reported a breaking and entering. Someone broke a window and stole food. Morales responded.

7:32 p.m.—Clint Guffy at Ft. Stanton was injured in a one-vehicle motorcycle accident. He lost control of the motorcycle while negotiating a curve, slid, then hit a wall. He was taken to Lincoln County Medical Center (LCMC) by his father.

9:00 p.m.—Glencoe Palo Verde Volunteer Fire Department responded to a vehicle fire on Highway 70. A 1982 Chevrolet pickup belonging to Oscar Guillen of Crown Point, Indiana, was burning. SO and Ruidoso Downs PD also responded.

OCT. 18
8:06 a.m.—Mrs. Epperon at Carrizozo High School reported a stolen wallet. She later called back and said the wallet with lots of water was found after someone tried to flush it down the commode. Morales responded.

9:34 a.m.—Tommy Hall, county road supervisor, was involved in an accident in his county truck one mile south of Capitan on Highway 48. The second vehicle did not stop at the scene of the accident. NMSP responded.

3:13 p.m.—a neighbor reported smoke coming from Mary Franklin's mobile home near Carrizozo Golf Course. Carrizozo VFD and SO responded. The smoke came from faulty wiring.

7:39 p.m.—Ruidoso Downs PD reported criminal damage to property at Shirley Estovillo's residence. SO responded and located the owner of the vehicle which ran through a fence. The driver made arrangements to pay for the damage.

OCT. 19
7:06 a.m.—Slocum Ranch requested traffic control to move cattle across Highway 380. SO obliged.

7:34 a.m.—15-20 cows were in the roadway at the intersection of Highway 37 and 48. The cows in the road there were to become an everyday event.

9:10 p.m.—Willy Winters, driver for TNMO buses, called from Four Winds Restaurant and said a passenger reported another passenger had a gun. However, the driver did not see a gun. Carrizozo patrolman John Northrop Jr. checked out the subject and found no gun.

1:49 p.m.—Joe Ensor in Alto reported an Indian looking man, about 50-55, stopped him, on Angus Hill, showed a badge and said he was under arrest, then decided to let him go. SO advised Ensor to get the license number if the incident occurs again.

11:07 p.m.—Four Winds Lounge reported three subjects, one adult and two minors, attempted to purchase liquor. They were intoxicated and under age and the bartender would not serve them. Very drunk, they drove away and were a possible "tragedy" in the making. Capitan, SO and Ruidoso PD were alerted.

11:17 p.m.—Charlie LaBelle, jailer in the Lincoln County Jail, requested the physicians assistant to treat prisoner Dwight Blaney who apparently was assaulted.

Northrop responded to assist and Blaney was later taken to LCMC to treat his out lip.

OCT. 22
7:27 p.m.—SO dispatch lost power for about 16 minutes. County building supervisor was notified.

3:19 p.m.—Four Winds Restaurant in Carrizozo called for an ambulance to assist a man who got off the bus, then fell down in the restaurant. The subject had to be subdued and handcuffed, as he was very combative and in and out of consciousness. EMS, SO responded and took the man to LCMC.

OCT. 23
1:05 a.m.—Civil Air Patrol through Alamogordo NMSP called SO about an Emergency Locator Transmitter (ELT) signaling in the Carrizozo area for about 4 hours. SO checked with Carrizozo airport manager who checked out the planes with no results.

More than an hour later the ELT signal continued. A search and rescue squad began to pack up for the Carrizozo area from Alamogordo. Chief Morales was called, who then called Stirling Spencer who also owned a plane in the area. At 3:14 a.m. Spencer called SO and reported he checked his plane, heard no signal, but flipped the ELT switch. CAP reported hearing no more signal. Search and Rescue was contacted on route and told to return home.

12th Judicial District, Division I; Robert M. Doughty as district judge 12th Judicial District, Division II, and Richard A. Parsons, district judge 12th Judicial District, Division III.

Aside from the questions on the ballot for candidates and judge retentions, five constitutional amendments and six capital projects general obligation bond questions are presented to voters.

The amendments include: 1. to improve the prudent management of the Permanent School Fund and other permanent funds; 2. to remove language regarding the investment of the Permanent School Fund and other permanent funds that limit the ability of the State Investment Officer to diversify the investment portfolio by requiring corporate stock to have paid dividends for 10 consecutive years and to be listed on a national stock exchange; 3. to increase legislative per diem and to provide a monthly salary; 4. to allow the state or any of its political subdivisions, agencies or instrumentalities to undertake limited financial obligations which are payable from general revenues beyond the current fiscal year pursuant to law. (This amendment would allow governmental groups to participate in lease-purchase options for large equipment or other large expenditures beyond a year's time.) 5. to clarify the authority of the Commissioner of Public Lands to exchange lands under his control.

Bond questions will ask voters if the state: A. shall be authorized to issue general obligation bonds in an amount not to exceed $45,720,000 for capital expenditures for state public educational capital improvements and acquisitions, and provide for a general property tax imposition and levy for payment of principal and interest; B. be authorized to issue and sale state library bonds, not to exceed $625,000 to make capital expenditures for land acquisition, planning and design for a new state library, and provide for general property tax imposition and levy and so on; C. to authorize the issuance and sale of Natural History Museum Bonds, not to exceed $775,000 to capital expenditures for acquisitions and renovations to the New Mexico Museum of Natural History and provide for property tax imposition and so on; D. to authorize issuance and sale of Land Acquisition Bonds not to exceed $225,000 to make capital expenditures for acquisition of certain lands affording protection for rare, threatened or endangered species, and provide for property tax imposition and so on; E. authorizes issuance and sale of Red Rock State Park Convention Center bonds not to exceed $275,000 to make capital expenditures for expansion of the Red Rock State Park convention center, and provide for a general property tax and so on; F. authorizes issuance and sale of Senior Citizens Facilities Bonds not to exceed $1,925,000 to make capital expenditures for certain senior citizens' facilities and equipment and provide for general property tax and so on.

Polls open at 7 a.m. and close at 7 p.m. For a complete list of polls or where a voter is registered contact the Lincoln County Clerk's office at 648-2394.

Helpful Facts From Experts At The National LP Gas Association

Propane Space Heaters: Extra Warmth With Extra Economy

Direct heating has moved up in the world. There was a time when direct heating—usually provided by space heaters—was used only to heat chilly vacation homes or warm up the garage when Dad worked late on the car. But the increasing costs of full-house heating and a nationwide conservation effort have given direct or area heating new importance.

Direct heating puts warmth exactly where you need it. It can put wasted space to use year-round, heating everything from a chilly back room or basement, to an entire small house. For people on a strict budget, direct heating can be a Godsend because it's more easily controlled than other heating systems.

Propane gas space heaters are the most energy-efficient, operating at about half the cost of electric quartz or resistance heaters and one-third the cost of kerosene models, report the experts at the National LP-Gas Association. And unlike kerosene space heaters, gas space heaters are clean, odorless and safe because there's no fuel to spill.

There's a propane space heater for every need, every space and every budget.

The simplest device is the console room heater, available in inputs from 7,000 to 85,000 BTUs, making it suitable for tiny rooms or an entire small house. Console heaters come in two basic designs: closed-front or radiant panels. Thermostatic controls and a modulating gas valve plus 100% safety pilot are standard features on most consoles.

Console models with low

Flue outlets can be easily installed in fireplace recesses, too.

Today, the most popular non-central heating system is the direct wall vent furnace. This type of heating unit requires an outside wall through which the vent can be run. Because they're so easy to install, propane wall vent furnaces are particularly attractive for add-on rooms or basements where an extension of the existing heating system would be impractical or prohibitively expensive.

Wall vent units are even being installed to supplement heat in many centrally heated homes. They can provide a comfortable heat level in a selected area of a home, minimizing the operation of the central heating equipment through a lowered thermostat setting.

Direct vent units come in all sizes and configurations, too. One leading manufacturer offers a "mini" line of units with an input range from 6,000 to 16,000 BTUs. The mini-units are ideal for attics, bathrooms, laundries, workshops, porches, or other small areas within the home.

Economical and energy-smart, propane gas space heaters can be used to put heat where you want it, when you need it.

Pointers For Parents

MORE THAN JUST A COLD

One childhood disease that resembles a cold when it starts is actually caused by a virus known as respiratory syncytial virus, or RSV. This virus is the most frequent cause of lower respiratory disease in infants and young children, affecting about 1.9 million youngsters a year. It can also affect older children and the elderly.

Thorough and repeated hand washing is the best defense against RSV, a childhood disease.

Symptoms can range from those of a minor cold to those of severe pneumonia. Most RSV infections start with a runny nose, fever and a cough that may be accompanied by difficulty in breathing or by wheezing.

Doctors now have tests that can determine if a child has RSV in only a day. Earlier tests took as long as two weeks. Fast diagnosis allows a doctor to start treatment sooner. Rapid action reduces the severity of the disease and hastens isolation of infected children to limit the spread of the disease.

Treatment often includes oxygen therapy and lots of liquids. New antiviral drugs now being tested may eventually be used to treat RSV.

Thorough, repeated hand-washing is the single best way to reduce the spread of RSV. It is also very important to cover the mouth when coughing or sneezing and dispose of used tissues properly.

Parents can get a free booklet about RSV and how to prevent it. Send a stamped, self-addressed, long business envelope to RSV Pamphlet, Dept. 883NA, Abbott Laboratories, Abbott Park, IL 60084.

Lady Tigers continue their winning streak

Capitan Lady Tigers were easy prey for the Lady Tiger defense, then Runnels made 3. Dalton made 4 points on 3 aces and a net foul.

The Hondo Lady Eagles were easy prey for the Lady Tigers who won the match in three straight games; 15-0, 15-2 and 15-8. Capitan's Karie Cox sparked the match with her 12 points in the first game, Kerri Runnels made 2 and Lesley LaRue put in another point. Cox blasted into the second game and scored another 7 points. Crystal Dalton made 2. In the final game, Stacey Gowen made 7 service points, Kerri Runnels 6, Kelly Cox 2.

For Hondo, Patricia Salas and Teresa Montez scored one each in the second game. In the third game Tonya Charmichael made 3 points, Faustina Baca made 2 and Emily Flores and Erica Copeland shared a position which made 3 points.

In the Melrose game Saturday in that town, the Lady Tigers found a tougher opponent but still won the match in four games.

A match which displayed the best of the Lady Tigers team spirit, the girls scored evenly and were backed with the defense of Lesley LaRue blocks and kills. Karie Cox began the scoring in the first game, then moved over and let Cindy Castillo try her hand. Castillo made 7 service points assisted by kills from LaRue and Kelly Cox. Melrose finally scored its first 2 points, but lost the ball again to the Lady Tigers. After 2 more points by Runnels, Melrose gained the ball and made a scoring spree to bring the points 9-6. The game went back and forth until Melrose scored 5 points. A kill for the Lady Tigers let Castillo score, then Runnels dinked it in for the final point.

In game 2, Karie Cox made 4 points on good Lady Tiger defense, then Runnels made 3. Dalton made 4 points on 3 aces and a net foul.

In game 3, Melrose got off to a scoring spree with 8 points in the first two plays. The Lady Tigers made no points until Tycie Traylor made 4. Even though Karie Cox and Runnels made 3 more aces that was not enough to overcome the Melrose run.

Game 4, the Lady Tigers came out with 4 points early, but Melrose scored on two aces then made three more. Then LaRue stepped up to the serving line and made 4 points. Melrose was not to score again. Vicky Sedillo made 2 points, Castillo one and Runnels 4. The last point was an ace.

Tigers lose one to Cloudcroft, 15-6

The hope for at least one more win so far this season was dashed Friday night when the Capitan Tigers traveled to Cloudcroft and lost 15-6.

At one time in the first quarter the Tigers were ahead of the Bears after Chris Smith scored a touchdown from the one-yard line. The extra point kicked by Dan Seay was blocked and failed to gain, another digit for the Tigers. Score was 6-3. The Bears had executed a successful field goal for 3 points earlier.

The game went on with few problems until the third quarter when questionable official calls confused the team and angered Tiger fans at the game. According to coach Jim Fowler, Cloudcroft

The Lady Tigers junior varsity team also defeated Melrose in three games; 15-7, 10-15 and 15-4. Crystal Dalton made four in the first game, Tammy Peralta made 3 and Tammy Payne made 3. In the second game Stacey Gowen made 4 and Payne 3. In the third game Traylor made 7, Payne 5 and Dalton 2. All other players made at least one point.

The Lady Tigers will play their last home match tonight (Thursday) Oct. 25 when they meet Hagerman for another district contest. The action begins with junior high volleyball at 4:30 p.m. The final match of the regular season is set for Saturday, Oct. 27 against Cloudcroft in that town. That contest begins with junior varsity play at 1 p.m.

The Lady Tigers are 3-0 in district play.

was on its 40 yard line and went for a fourth and one down which the Tigers held. The officials signaled the ball goes over to the Tigers, but before they could play, they called an illegal play which should have been called illegal motion. Penalized for five yards the ball went to the Bears who punted it.

"Supposedly we hit the kicker for a first down," Fowler said. For that the Tigers got a 15-yard penalty for roughing. However, Fowler indicated the reason for the penalty was not visible in the video tape of the game.

The Tigers had the ball to the 1-yard line again, but another 15-yard penalty lost the play. After penalty within the same quarter, the Bears scored a touchdown, but missed the extra point to make it 9-6.

"Our kids got down after that," Fowler continued. The Bears scored their final touchdown late in the fourth quarter, but the extra points were no good, to make the final score Bears 15 and Tigers 6.

Fowler said it was the first time he ever saw officials control the game and not the kids.

At 7:30 p.m. in Tiger Field in Capitan, the Tigers kick off with Loving, the top rated Class A team in the state.

Halloween's haunted past

By KELVIN ROSS

Ghosts & witches! Monsters & vampires! This is the time of year that 3-year-old "ghosts" and 8-year-old "vampires" make the rounds dressed as the things they are most afraid of! Teens and adults spend their time watching horror movies and going to haunted houses. Why! To get spooked!

All of our major holidays center on religion, patriotism and honor — except for Halloween. Where did this unique celebration come from? Why has a scary holiday become one of our favorite celebrations?

Over 2,000 years ago in Great Britain, a group of people called the Celts had their New Years on November 1st. Their New Years Eve parties are probably the source of today's modern Halloween.

On the last night of October, the Druids, who were the Celts teachers and priests, built great bonfires on the hills to frighten off witches and demons. And, just to make sure the demons wouldn't harm them, the Celts would dress up in horrible costumes and mingle with the "evil spirits." The more terrifying the costume, the better the chance that the demons would think that a Celt was one of them. This is where the tradition of dressing up in scary costumes like witches, ghosts, and monsters came from.

In about 800 AD, Christianity decided to begin celebrating November 1st as All Saints Day, wherein the special mass Allhallowmas was said to honor departed souls. The night before was known as All Hallowe'en, which eventually became Halloween.

In England, on All Saints

Day, poor people went begging for apples, nuts and pastries in exchange of promising to say prayers for the departed souls. This was the beginning of what most children consider the very best part of Halloween: Trick or Treat!

Jack-O-Lanterns and Black Cats have their place in Halloween tradition too: Irish lore tells of drunken miser named Jack who enjoyed playing practical jokes on the devil. When he died, Heaven wouldn't let him in because he was a miser, and the devil wouldn't take him either. So, Jack walks the earth with his lantern, until Judgment Day. Scottish traditions say that on Halloween witches would fly through the air on broomsticks and play tricks on innocent humans, sometimes turning them into black cats.

Halloween traditions came to the United States with the immigrants from Great Britain, but were never really popular until the mid-1800s. During the 1800s, Halloween became more of a party-like celebration, taking away some of the more frightening overtones. Trick-or-treating became more popular, and, by the end of the 1900, dressing up in scary costumes and making the rounds was common in most US neighborhoods.

Sometimes children would threaten to play tricks on their neighbors if they didn't reward them with a treat. Unfortunately, after World War II, the tricks sometimes turned destructive. Rowdy kids would slit tires, break fences and street lights. Vandalism, car accidents, and poisoned treats helped dampen some of the enthusiasm for trick-or-treating in many cities.

This is for Evan, Eric and Lindsey... Love you, Granddaddy! (and for your grandchildren and future grandchildren, too)

I'M MAD AS HELL AND I'M NOT GOING TO TAKE IT ANYMORE!

Hello, my name is Jack Gargan. I'm just a recently retired "working stiff." Like most of the people I talk with, I'm fed up with members of Congress who care more about getting re-elected than they do about what's happening to our country.

Specifically, I'M APPALLED that Congress continues to hook the future of our children and grandchildren. Our national debt is now over 3 TRILLION dollars, and going higher by the minute. ENOUGH IS ENOUGH!

I'M BITTER that more than half of all our income taxes go just for the annual interest on that national debt (it's not just some outrageous amount we stuck our children with).

I'M OUTRAGED that Congress even talks about further raises in our taxes while totally ignoring the ONE HUNDRED AND EIGHTY BILLION DOLLARS IN SHEER GOVERNMENT WASTE as documented by the Grace Commission report.

I'M ANGRY that, after being told by the American public that their existing salary was already an overpayment on their abilities, they turned right around and arrogantly voted themselves the biggest raise in history! Then they had the gall to insult our intelligence and call it a "vote for ethical government." If they have to be paid to be ethical they have no business being in public office. And, if it is such a lousy job, how come every one of them works so hard to stay in office term after term?

I'M INCENSED every time I stand in the checkout line behind someone with designer sunshades, designer jeans and $100 sneakers who pay their bill with food stamps, their vote bought and paid for by a congressman who knows how to use federal giveaway programs to keep themselves in office! (I have no quarrel with food stamps going to truly needy people.)

I'M LIVID when I recall how, in typically gutless congressional style, they let an "outside commission" stick the younger American workers with a raise in Social Security taxes (over $15,000 per year for some couples) to bail out a bankrupt Social Security system to "make it a sound program for our retired senior citizens," knowing full well that there will not be enough money to fund that same "baby-boom" generation who will be footing most of the bill.

I'M EVEN MORE LIVID when I discovered this same Congress then screwed our retired senior citizens by taking 52 BILLION dollars out of the Social Security Trust Fund using voodoo economics to make the federal deficit look not quite as outrageous, while slipping the trust fund and I.O.U. in return. God forbid we have even a mild recession, or our retired folks will also end up holding the bag!

I'M ENRAGED when I see money pouring in to incumbents from PACs, special interest groups who use their money to stifle public interest, to congressmen who will sell their soul for another term in office.

I'M DISGUSTED at the number of shady dealings by members of Congress who get nothing more than a slap on the wrist from their peers when they get caught in the act. Something's mighty wrong with the system when 99% of incumbents are re-elected. The other 1% don't lose. They either go out feet first, or in total disgrace for conduct too embarrassing even for congressional standards.

I'M FED UP with Congress' "to get along, you've got to go along" philosophy. I'M SHOCKED that the world's richest nation can become the world's biggest debtor nation, all within the space of one generation!

I'M REALLY HACKED-OFF that Congress has permitted, and in some cases actually abetted, the $41.1 trillion which will now cost every American family an estimated EXTRA $30 per month for the next 30 years... and not even prosecuting the scoundrels, their friends, who have stuck us with this bill!

I'M TIRED of paying for the "franking privileges" (postage) and printing costs of blatant advertising disguised as newsletters to the voters back home, subsidizing congressmen for everything from haircuts to lunches to health insurance plans, and paying for an army of over-paid congressional "aiders" (more than $2,000 at last count). Talk about an "aiders epidemic!"

I'M INSULTED that Congress, who exempted themselves from Social Security laws, has set up a pension plan that will pay a congressman in six years what the average American under Social Security must work a lifetime for (and there are 14 CONVICTED FELONS currently drawing in congressional pensions—up to $80,000 per year—and 6 more waiting for the wings to reach retirement age).

But mostly, I'M SKID that as a nation we have thrown up our hands in surrender to the politicians and bureaucrats who have put us in this predicament.

BUT I'M NOT GOING TO GIVE IN TO THESE CLOWNS! Maybe one person can't make a difference, but if everyone can... And here's what we must do: We must get to the root of all our problems if elected officials who use their incumbency to put a stranglehold on their office. They devote most of their time and energy in raising money for re-election, rather than to running the country properly. Look no further than the SENATE VOTES EVERY INCUMBENT SENATOR AND CONGRESSMAN TO RE-ELECT THEMSELVES, that we need new people who will pledge to strictly limit the term of their office and to prohibit the federal government from spending money it does not have, except in a national emergency.

GRASSROOTS PETITION FOR RECORDED MESSAGE CALL

1-900-535-2900 EXT 982 ($2.00 PER MINUTE CHARGE)

Won't you help me by supporting this initiative? You CAN make a difference (and this just might be your last chance to do it peaceably). Nothing fancy. Nothing complicated. Just simply pledge to VOTE EVERY INCUMBENT SENATOR AND CONGRESSMAN OUT OF OFFICE. There's no way we could end up with anything worse than what we already have! Our effort will initially be against federal incumbents. If this works, we can then go after state and local problems where they exist. Don't worry about the 5% of good representatives who will be tossed out with the bad guys. There are literally thousands of other public service opportunities for them to move to with open arms.

I've set up a non-profit organization, T.H.R.O., Inc. (Throw the Hypocritical Rascals Out). I've borrowed my life's savings to seed the venture and am working without pay (as are the scores of volunteers who are helping with this project). You can help by doing the following:

- 1) Complete and return the pledge below so I can determine how many of you share my anger and WILL DO SOMETHING ABOUT IT. Don't worry if you can't send a contribution. I am more interested in your VOTING support.
- 2) If you can afford a contribution, no matter how large or small, it will be gratefully accepted and go entirely to keeping this initiative going. These full-page ads cost up to $60,000 a pop so we need all the help you can give.
- 3) Get with your local Supervisor of Elections and get voter registration drives started in your area. Then, make sure YOU vote and get as many people to the polls as you can.
- 4) Write letters to the editor of every newspaper you can, promoting the T.H.R.O. campaign. Send me clippings on anything about T.H.R.O. that gets published.
- 5) Use U.S. flag postage stamps pasted upside-down (distress signal) on all your mail—especially that going to Congress and elected officials. Let's send those jerks a message and flood the mail with U.S. DISTRESS signals!
- 6) Let me know if you, as an individual or as a group, can underwrite the cost of an ad in your local newspaper, shoppers guide, newsletter, etc. If so, I'll provide the "camera-ready" copy to the publication.

BEFORE COMPLETING AND RETURNING YOUR PLEDGE, PLEASE PHOTOCOPY OR FAX TO AT LEAST 2 FRIENDS.

A NON-PROFIT CORPORATION #N38495 CHARTERED IN FLORIDA
 Yes, I'm for real and this campaign is for real! I'm not running for any political office, nor am I supporting or endorsing any individual or party. This campaign is also not directed against any individual or party. It's the "good ol' boy" incumbency system which is corrupt and corrupting our representatives. Our only hope for a cure is a CLEAN SWEEP, and start over from scratch. The only party I'm for is the huge party this nation is going to throw on election day when we throw those arrogant bums out on their collective butts! I have an impeccable lifetime personal and business history and can withstand the closest scrutiny. Check me out.

This full-page ad has already been placed in the following major newspapers: ST. PETERSBURG TIMES, TULSA WORLD, DENVER POST, SAN DIEGO UNION TRIBUNE, RICHMOND NEWS LEADER and RICHMOND TIMES-DISPATCH, PORTLAND (MAINE) TELEGRAM, COLUMBIA (SC) STATE, MIAMI HERALD and ST. PAUL PIONEER PRESS and 3 others. I HAVE 112 MORE TARGETED OVER THE NEXT 90 DAYS. With some of these ads costing upwards of $60,000 each, I need all the support I can get. PLEASE HELP ME.

Yes, Jack Gargan, I'm also fed up with self-serving congressmen and senators who will do anything to stay in office. I therefore pledge to vote against all incumbents, and only vote for new candidates who pledge to strictly limit the term of office and to prohibit deficit spending except in case of real national emergency.

- I am not a registered voter, but will get registered and vote for this.
- I sometimes vote, and will promise to vote for this.
- I always vote, and you can count on me for this one.
- Please contact me. I want to play an active part in this campaign.

OPTIONAL: Also, Jack, if you can hook your life's savings and work without pay to get this thing started, I can send something to keep it going. Enclosed is my contribution of $_____.

Please make checks payable to T.H.R.O., Inc. Thank you. Your contribution will help another full-page ad in another city. I will NOT sell or give your name or address to any person, organization or mailing list.
