

Bond Questions Defeated In County

By DORIS CHERRY

The majority of the 6,034 voters in Lincoln County remained true to Republican incumbent presidential candidate George Bush giving him 45.6 percent of their votes in Tuesday's election.

But by the time four precincts had been tallied at the courthouse Tuesday night, Bush was conceding the presidency to Bill Clinton. With 85 percent of the state's precincts reporting, Clinton had 45 percent of the vote and Bush had 38 percent. Some 81.5 percent of the eligible registered voters cast ballots in the election.

Independent Ross Perot gained 24.4 percent of the votes in Lincoln County, closely behind Clinton's 29.5 percent.

U.S. Representative Joe Skeen, from Lincoln County, won big in Lincoln County gaining 63.5 percent of the votes. Throughout his District 2, voters approved the 12-year incumbent at a rate of about 56 percent. Opponent Dan Sosa of Las Cruces gained some 44 percent of the votes from 95 percent of the district's precincts. Write-in David L. Pilley gained 12 votes in Lincoln County.

Several other Republican candidates who won in Republican Lincoln County also lost their races. Justice of the supreme court Democrat candidate Stanley F. Frost won the state, but lost to Republican Harris L. Hartz in Lincoln County. Democrat candidate for Judge of the Court of Appeals Position 9 Lynn Pickard won the state, but lost in the county to Republican Joanne Birge. Other races were undetermined because of their close numbers at press time in published reports available Wednesday.

Lincoln County voters agreed with voters state wide and approved the Constitutional amendments guaranteeing victims rights. Voters also approved the amendment allowing four-year terms for county officials. That amendment failed statewide.

In local races one Democrat, Lonnie Ray Nunley, gained a seat on the Lincoln County Commission. Nunley gained 72.2 percent of the votes for his District 2 seat over Republican candidate Robert M. Kakuska with 27.8 percent of the votes.

Incumbent county commission District 1 candidate Republican Stirling Spencer retained his seat over Democrat Harold Garcia. Republican Wilton Howell defeated Democrat Charles Griffin for commission District 3. Republican William H. Schwetmann defeated Democrat Fred Hansen for commission district 4. Incumbent Republican Monroy Montes retained his seat for commission district 5, over Democrat J. James Sanchez.

Incumbent Republican probate judge J.O. "Bud" Payne retained his seat over Democrat candidate Jerry Wright.

Lincoln County voters chose not to raise their property taxes and defeated all nine bond questions.

The following is how Lincoln County voters cast their ballots in all races, constitutional amendments and bond questions on the ballot.

Record Set By Lincoln County Voters Tuesday

A record heavy 81.5 percent of the record 7403 registered voters in Lincoln County came out in the cold, windy and snow flurried weather to cast their ballots Tuesday.

Most voters seemed to like the paper ballot and most poll workers found few problems with tallying votes at the end of the day.

But Precinct 2A workers at the courthouse in Carrizozo burned the midnight oil when they had to hand count 247 paper ballots after their Optech machine failed to tally all the ballots sent through the machine.

Registration drives this summer and early fall was one reason for the 630 new registrations for the election.

And a record 1027 voters applied for absentee ballots. Of that 977 were accepted and received the ballot. But when the count was taken of the absentee ballots only 928 were counted. Elections clerk Sam Chavez said some of the absentee ballots were rejected, because the voters did not follow directions.

The paper ballot sped voters along at the polls, with many workers reporting no long lines of voters waiting to make their choices, as with the lever machines in the past.

At Precinct 13 in Carrizozo, poll workers said watching the reaction of voters when the Optech machine grabbed the paper ballot was entertaining.

During the actual voting, the Optech machine at the Ruidoso Middle School poll was the only one in the 17 precincts to develop problems. That machine was replaced with another and voting continued. Other than a wrong key, there were no problems with the tally after the polls closed.

Poll workers at Precinct 2A in the courthouse in Carrizozo thought things were going smoothly until they closed the poll and opened the machine. While checking the count on the machine to the number of ballots cast, they discovered many of the ballots had not registered. Once they discovered this, they had to begin the long process of counting the ballots by hand.

"They did two hand counts," Chavez said. "They did a good job and ended the day at 1 a.m. still smiling."

Chavez credited Carol Zumwalt, Terry Luna, Carol Wilson and Cheryl Smith for their dedication and cheerful attitude in light of having to take three counts of their ballots. Their first count was put into the computers in the clerk's office at mid-night, but the workers made one more count to make sure the first was accurate.

Overall, county clerk Martha Proctor and her staff were pleased with the turnout and the election.

On election night Proctor said she did not think she will recommend the county to go to the Optech machines as a permanent way to vote.

School Board Holds Emergency Meeting

It was an emergency meeting, called for the purpose of discussing personnel.

And they held it in closed session.

Carrizozo Board of Education invited five school staff into the closed session, the meat of the "emergency" meeting held at 3:30 p.m. Wednesday.

Carrizozo School teachers Dale Mitchell, Terri Flores, Gabe Papponi and Mariann Patterson and school staff person Linda Brown were invited into the closed session for personnel by board president Gary Hightower. Board members Hightower, Jan Barham, Eugenia Vega, Nick Serna and Mary Funk approved the closed session with a roll call vote. Before going into the closed session, which is off limits to the general public unless invited, Hightower told the staff he hoped they could "iron out some subjects" that night.

Although not specified, the subjects appeared to have been of a pressing matter. The News read to the board the subsection of their own Open Meeting Act Resolution which states "Emergency meetings will be called only under circumstances which demand immediate action to protect the health, safety and property of citizens. The board will avoid emergency meetings whenever possible." The News asked Hightower if the personnel matter demanded immediate action to "protect the health, safety and property of citizens."

"I do believe it does," Hightower responded. Then he closed the meeting.

The board returned to open session at 8 p.m. Hightower announced no decisions had been made in the closed session. He went on to say the urgent things the board considered in the closed session will be dealt

Gas Rates Guaranteed for 9 Years

By DORIS CHERRY

As the weather turns colder, many Capitan and Carrizozo residents are turning on the heat. For some, this will be their first winter to heat with natural gas supplied by Capitan-Carrizozo Natural Gas Association.

The public-owned gas association is hooking up new customers daily. Staff is able to provide the service now that they no longer have to maintain the natural gas transmission line from their main supplier, El Paso Natural Gas, to their branch lines within the village and town.

In May the C-C Natural Gas Association (CCNGA) board, whose members are appointed by Capitan and Carrizozo trustees, unanimously approved a proposed purchase of the major transmission line and rights of way by Natural Gas Processing Company of Wyoming. While Natural Gas Processing Co. had proposed purchase of the CCNGA three years ago, the CCNGA board could not accept those terms until it studied whether such a sale would be prudent.

CCNGA delayed action on Natural Gas Processing's previous offers, which ranged from partial purchase to full buy out of all assets, by appealing to the Public Service Commission, which regulates natural gas operations. After three years of compiling engineering and other information, the CCNGA board decided to sell the transmission line to Natural Gas Processing.

CCNGA took the proposal to the Capitan and Carrizozo Boards of Trustees, who ultimately gave their approval to the sale.

When proposed to trustees in May, terms of the sale were that Natural Gas Processing would take over the major transmission line which runs from El Paso Natural Gas lines near Corona to a point south of Capitan along Highway 48. CCNGA would retain the distribution and lateral pipe system which supplies gas to homes in Capitan, Carrizozo, Nogal and Ft. Stanton. About 15 percent of the gas through the transmission line went to those homes. The remaining 85 percent was sold to Zia Natural Gas Co. which supplies homes in Ruidoso to Inn of the Mountain Gods in Mesalero.

Funds from the sale will enable CCNGA to retire the $374,235.47 in remaining debt incurred to construct the pipeline in 1965 and receive a $50,000 cash payment.

Rates to customers will be guaranteed for nine years. CCNGA also will not have to be responsible for the transmission line, nor for its insurance, billing and collection, and maintenance and installation of distribution lines will be retained by the association.

The major reason for the sale of the transmission line was the extreme high cost of upgrading the line to meet future demands. The cost of replacing the aging four-inch transmission line with a six or eight inch line to meet future demands was estimated to cost some $2.5-3.5 million. Financing such an upgrade would have increased the cost of gas to the

Farm-A-Syst Is Extension Program

LAS CRUCES—High-risk agricultural practices that could contaminate groundwater supplies soon will be identified by New Mexico farmers and ranchers on their property under a new self-assessment program.

The Farmstead Assessment System, also known as Farm-A-Syst, provides landowners with a 200-page publication of worksheets and fact sheets to let landowners rank themselves on a scale of one to four in their water quality protection practices.

The educational program also shows landowners where to spend their time and money to lessen the danger of contamination, and all information remains confidential, said

Craig Runyan, water quality program coordinator with New Mexico State University's Cooperative Extension Service.

"For example, the farmer or rancher will be asked how close to the wellhead he stores certain things, or how close to the water well are fertilizers or pesticides mixed or loaded," Runyan said.

Extension agents in all 33 New Mexico counties will be trained in the Farm-A-Syst program Nov. 9-13 in Albuquerque during an Extension waste management conference. Program packets will be available to landowners through county Extension offices by the first of the new year, Runyan said.

Election Day Gathering!

FOUR MONTH OLD ARRON VALLEJOS isn't sure about all the doings at the election day reception Tuesday night in the courthouse in Carrizozo. Newly re-elected county assessor Patsy Serma gives a big smile for Arron being held by Becky Hill. Arron is the son of Loree and Bobby Vallejos of Carrizozo. Loree is the county deputy clerk.

Hammond Article In NM Magazine

The November 1992 issue of New Mexico Magazine features an article about Fort Stanton in Lincoln County being the scene of the first internment camp in the United States during World War II.

The article was written by Ruth Hammond, co-publisher and editor of the News.

"Germans sit out war in desert dry dock" tells about the German crew of a luxury liner who scuttled their own ship after being fired upon by the British on Dec. 17, 1939, two years before the United States entered the war. The sailors were rescued by Americans and brought to the United States. They stayed near San Francisco until March 1941 when they moved to the old CCC camp at Fort Stanton.

The Germans stayed at Fort Stanton for the duration of the war. They were considered guests and were never treated as prisoners of war. Crew members made friends in Lincoln County.

The article includes photos of the 82,000 ton German luxury liner Columbus before and after being scuttled by the crew, a photo of Fort Stanton as it was in the 1940s, and Capt. Wilhelm Daehne, skipper of the Columbus. Also included is an illustration by Shirley Lynn.

Natural Gas Processing had also informed CCNGA that it would seek Public Service Commission approval to pursue its own transmission line.

Current CCNGA president Wayland Hill of Carrizozo said

terms of the sale have not changed since it was proposed by Natural Gas Processing in May.

The legal paper work is now in the hands of the Public Service Commission in Santa Fe, which will make the final decision.

No time frame for the final decision has been given to CCNGA, Hill said.

For now, Zia Natural Gas has assumed responsibility for the transmission line and CCNGA is busy hooking up new customers.

Expert Endorses Broom Snakeweed Control Program

LAS CRUCES—An international chemical application expert endorsed a broom snakeweed control program of New Mexico State University's Agricultural Experiment Station (AES).

Graham Matthews, NSMU distinguished visiting professor from Imperial College in Ascot, England, toured the university's Corona Ranch Oct. 23 to observe AES experiments on the toxic shrub.

"I think the program is well-thought out in terms of comparing herbicide treatment with controlled burning to see which might be a lower-cost technique," Matthews said.

Snakeweed causes livestock abortions and reduces animal performance and productivity. The snakeweed problem could partially be solved with changes in herbicide spray nozzles, Matthews said.

"I think the next stage of research here would be to look at the spray coverage on weeds using different droplet sizes to find which nozzle has the best effect on the plant," Matthews said.

The consultant to the World Health Organization and the Natural Resources Institute recommended an integrated approach to control the weed, combining weed counts, controlled cattle grazing, herbicide application and burn programs.

Aggressive Campaign Makes Safe Halloween

An aggressive campaign by police, fire department and EMS personnel made for a safe evening for trick-or-treaters and residents alike.

Carrizozo Police Dept. head Charlie White reported he and fellow officer Bill Murry, four EMS and four firefighters were out on the streets in police units, fire trucks and ambulance from 7:30 to 11 p.m.

White had organized the high visibility patrol to deter pranksters from doing any criminal damage. And it worked, White said.

No eggs were confiscated, however, two eggs were discovered thrown in two different locations in town. "The kids with the eggs never got an opportunity to throw them," White said.

While traffic was relatively heavy, and there were many trick or treaters, there was no serious damage and no injuries, White added.

Over 50 bags of Halloween treats were checked at Pueblo Video, which had been established as a check point for the goodies. Some items were rejected, mostly rotten apples and unwrapped candy. All rejected items were replaced by safely wrapped candy.

"The night went very well, better than we had anticipated," White said. "It showed local agencies can cooperate to conduct such an operation. The kids of Carrizozo behaved themselves very well. I was really pleased."

White personally thanked Brian Cleary, Mike Monreal, Chief Lee Roy Zamora, Jim Hawkins Jr., Sam and Kim Roper, Maggi Bohks, Ernie Gonzalez, Tina Gonzales, Dave Vermillion, Gilbert Sambrano, Bill Murry, the staff at Pueblo Video and the community for making Halloween 1992 a safe and relatively egg free time.

'Serving Lincoln County Since 1974'

Al's Musings

By AL STUBBS

Lincoln County is exporting its music talent but not permanently. The Flying J Wranglers of Ruidoso will be entertaining in Cloudercroft this weekend at the Chuckwagon of the West Jamhoree.

This event is a gala for the Sacramento Mountains Historical Museum Capital Campaign.

Also performing with the local Wranglers Friday and Saturday nights at the Cloudercroft High School gymnasium will be the Bar D Wranglers of Durango, Colorado.

The Flying J Wranglers, as you probably know, perform north of Ruidoso nightly at the Flying J Wranglers Chuckwagon Dinner and Show every summer. James and Cindy Hobbs are owners. They are good citizens who are regionally minded.

James Hobbs is a director of the Ruidoso Chamber of Commerce, but beyond that he is active in the regional Apache Trails organization which includes communities in both Otero and Lincoln County. He has a broad outlook on development of the area.

Another first class Ruidoso musical group has entertained in Otero County recently also. The Castle Mountain Music Makers, who made a name for themselves in Ruidoso this summer, were featured at the Flickinger Center in Ruidoso recently. They normally perform at the "castle" out on U.S. 70.

The Sacramento Mountain Historical Museum wouldn't mind a few Lincoln Countyans in the audience, Friday or Saturday night. A $10 bill will get you in.

We'll put Cindy Hobbs of the Flying J Wranglers and Lou Ann Ellison of Castle Mountain, vocalists, up against any in the Southwest. Sure winners! Branson doesn't have all the talent.

Cloudercroft has one of the same problems as Ruidoso. A Hobbs resident recently wrote the Mountain Monthly there:

"... the only thing I find lacking in your wonderful little village is public restrooms! If you expect people to come here and stay for any length of time, to eat, drink and shop, you will have to provide these facilities sooner or later."

The contents of that letter certainly apply to Ruidoso as well as to Cloudercroft. Before village fathers even consider restrooms at Grindstone Lake, Midtown needs them first. A shopper with a weak bladder isn't going to linger in the shops too long. And they may not return. Our loss.

Well! it's all over. We have new elected officials. Even if your man (or woman) didn't win, you, as a citizen, can write the winners if you think they get off track. Or use the fax machine or telephone. Just be careful of dishing out undue criticism. Sometimes elected officials take too much undeserved abuse. When something's wrong, put the blame where it belongs. Blanket condemnation is juvenile. And give credit where credit is due. We too often forget to say thank you for a job well done.

We recently read an article which said people lived in this area 7,000 years ago. Carbon dating has authenticated the existence of the ancient culture. We'll bet that even in ancient days people argued over politics. They may have even clubbed one another.

Even when Roswell had Walker Air Force Base and its 13,000 Air Force personnel and dependents, a mass transit system was tried and failed. It just doesn't seem practical for a village the size of Ruidoso. We're too independent. Give up our automobiles? No way, Jose. We predict that a study, if honestly done, will result in a negative report. We have to ask if study money would be well spent? Tourists would have to leave their autos somewhere in order to ride a bus. And there's very little parking. Where would they leave them?

Passive Solar Workshop

LAS CRUCES—Home buyers and builders can learn how to design houses that capture and hold the sun's heat at a workshop in Albuquerque Nov. 12.

The "Passive Solar Design Strategies" workshop at the Albuquerque Amfac will teach how to position homes, choose building materials, calculate solar gain and insulate and weatherize.

"Passive solar is an especially good house design strategy for New Mexico because we have sun most days of the year," said JoAnn Emmel, energy specialist with New Mexico State University's Cooperative Extension Service.

Passive Solar Industries Council (PSIC) guidelines allow participants to design or adapt a home without making lengthy calculations, Emmel said.

Workshop instructors are Robert W. Jones, consulting partner with Balcomb Solar Associates; and Brian K. Johnson, energy engineer with the state Energy Minerals and Natural Resources Department.

"Builders and designers can learn how to expand their market and answer their clients' questions about performance, comfort and costs," Emmel said.

The PSIC developed the workshop. Additional sponsors include the New Mexico Cooperative Extension Service, state Energy, Minerals and Natural Resources Department and Public Service Company of New Mexico.

A $30 preregistration fee covers a design manual, refreshments and lunch. Registration at the door is $40. For more information, call JoAnn Emmel at (505) 646-3425 or contact your county Extension office.

Inside The Capitol

by Jay Miller

SANTA FE—Congratulations to Tuesday's winners. The challenges staring at you are some of the biggest ever faced by our elected leaders. May you be up to the task.

Losers, take heart. Most of our top governmental officials have at least one loss under their belts—some, many more. That's true even at the presidential level. Both major party candidates previously had lost big ones.

Writing a political column with a several-day delay has its disadvantages when election time draws near. It's tempting to take a big chance and write as if I knew Tuesday night's results. But upon reflection, I always decide that's more risk than anyone needs to take. You'll have to wait until next week to get my analysis of the results.

Some of those results we know already. Well over half the 137 legislative and statewide offices are uncontested in the general election. There are even some legislative seats that will be filled by new lawmakers who had no opposition in either the primary or general elections. They will take office in January without ever having had an opponent.

The pressure for term limits seems ironic when both political parties send recruiters throughout the state trying to scour up candidates—often without success. If interest in running for our citizen Legislature continues to wane, we may soon have races for which no one files.

Cynthia Nava, a Dona Ana County Democrat was one of the new senators receiving a free ride in the general election. Recently, when Senate President Pro Tem Manny Aragon was in Las Cruces, he took occasion during a speech to announce that Sen. Fernando Macias, a Democrat representing a district neighboring Nava's would no longer be the prettiest member of the Senate. Nava will be taking that title, Aragon announced.

Is Dona Ana County getting a corner on good looking lawmakers?

From a reporter's standpoint, this presidential campaign was the most enjoyable ever. New Mexico saw more of the candidates and surrogates than in the past several elections combined.

Regardless of the presidential race's outcome in New Mexico, it appeared from here that the Republican strategy of hitting the smaller towns was more effective. Sure, Albuquerque and Santa Fe have more voters and are larger media markets, but big shots aren't such a big deal in big cities.

The GOP dropped down a notch and hit New Mexico's medium size communities like Roswell, Clovis, Alamogordo and Farmington where they were the only game in town. Everything shut down for the celebrities.

Bus trips came into vogue this campaign. It started with the Clinton/Gore trips that began the day after the National Democratic Convention in July. Pres. Bush then picked it up and, before long, both major parties in New Mexico were busing around the state.

It's a little strange the candidates didn't use trains ala Harry Truman in 1948 since both candidates were comparing themselves to the former president last summer. State Democrats used the gimmick in the 1990 election. Although trains are more romantic, they can't stump every community in the state.

A controversy flared last week concerning the inflation of a hot air balloon on Albuquerque's downtown Civic Plaza. Tuesday morning's Albuquerque Journal ran a large, color picture on the front page showing the pink piggy bank balloon belonging to United New Mexico Bank. The balloon was the centerpiece for a Monday rally featuring Pres. Bush.

On Tuesday BankAmerica applied to the City of Albuquerque for a permit to inflate its balloon on Wednesday for a Red Ribbon Drug Free Day celebration on the Civic Plaza. But the request was rejected for safety reasons.

Gov. Bruce King was requested to intervene with the City since the Red Ribbon campaign operates out of his office. But King declined to pressure for a law to be broken.

BankAmerica officials reportedly are furious and want to know where United New Mexico Bank gets its extra pull. We may hear more about this.

Carrizozo Students Hear Quayle Speak

By JAMES SMITH

Vice-President Dan Quayle visited the 'Land of Enchantment' Oct. 28 to make a bid for George Bush's re-election campaign. After landing in Air Force Two at Holloman AFB, Quayle was escorted to Washington Park in Alamogordo by a procession of limousines, where he discussed reasons to vote for Bush and reasons not to vote for Clinton. Quayle spoke to a group of about 5,000 New Mexicans, composed of young and old alike.

Quayle was accompanied by New Mexico's Pete Domenici and Joe Skeen, who vocalized their support for the Bush/Quayle campaign.

Quayle attacked Clinton's integrity, saying that we must have a president who has character and integrity, and attacked Clinton's policies on issues such as health care, saying that under his plan, Americans would ultimately be able to receive medical attention only in times of dire emergency, and health care would become 'rationed'.

Quayle also attacked his opponents running mate, Al Gore, by discussing his views on the environment. "Bill Clinton," Quayle said, "has said that if he is elected president, he will put Gore in charge of the environment." Quayle said that the book Gore wrote about environmental problems contains Clinton's actual plan for dealing with the issue. He said that Gore wants to spend $100 billion in foreign aid for the environment, and that he also wants to completely eliminate the internal combustion engine. Quayle said that this would be a step down instead of a step up for America's technological standing, and said "If Al Gore eliminates the internal combustion engine, what are we going to do, all ride horses?"

Quayle also said that according to the latest statistics, America's economy is growing at a rate of 2.7%, a vast improvement that can be attributed to Republican leadership in the government.

Quayle said that the media was also using its power against George Bush, and said that the American people should not let the media decide their president for them. "Let's annoy the media by electing George Bush president," Quayle said, amidst cheers of agreement.

Quayle's visit to New Mexico came on the same day that his opponent, vice presidential candidate Al Gore, was also visiting the state in an attempt to win votes. Quayle's opposition to Clinton/Gore was simply stated when he said, "This country simply can't afford to have a liberal Democratic President and a liberal Democratic congress."

(ED. NOTE) The Carrizozo High School annual staff was in Alamogordo Oct. 28 selling ads for the school yearbook and had the opportunity to hear Vice President Quayle speak.

School Board

with administratively. He also said board policy changes will be made in the future.

At the conclusion of the meeting, only Mitchell, Brown and Patterson remained.

The regular board of education meeting will be at 6 p.m. Tuesday, Nov. 17. The earlier hour was set for winter months during standard time.

The Other Side

By Owen Russell

Well, I assume you all voted for the candidates of your own choosing and are satisfied with what you did, even if he or she didn't make it. I survived the exit poll without disclosing to whom my congratulations were due.

The results of the election seem to indicate that the American people are not buying the ultra-right conservatism any longer, that in fact what is desired is the mid-stream. After all, we are pretty average. Clinton overwhelmed Bush in the electoral college, and the popular vote was pretty close to what had been predicted. Bush was soundly defeated but Clinton's mandate is a bit slim because of the Perot factor. It will be a little difficult for him to claim he speaks for the people when more than half of them voted against him, and I'm sure Ross Perot will be standing on Clinton's door step saying, "Nineteen percent of the people said they wanted some of my programs. How do you expect to satisfy them? But, I guess we asked for this fiddle contest, so as long as we can pay the band, we should enjoy ourselves.

However, the most significant feature of this election seems to be that the guns were aimed only at the top. The outcome of the congressional elections were pretty much the same as before. There are a few new faces, but neither the Democrats or Republicans gained any particular ground in numbers.

Locally, the second significant feature is that all of the state wide bond issues were defeated, which seems to indicate that the electorate in the state as a whole are saying "enough is enough". The only bond issues that did well were in Bernalillo County, and they were all for local projects.

What this should tell us is that the people are going to be willing to sacrifice creature comforts until their income improves. This may make some of Clinton's plans hard to accomplish without a showing of extreme need and ability to pay. He may be in a position where for every program suggested, he will have to fund it from cuts in another existing program, sort of a "pork-barrel transference" theory.

Oh well, if we had wanted life to turn out all roses, we would have planted a rose bush.

Isn't it a wonder how people's names will change as they go through life. I first remember being called "Quit That", then it became "Dammit", then "Itchy", then "Dear", then "Owen", then "Sir", and then "Oooh Honey". I am hoping the last one stays around awhile. (This is a variation on an earlier theme, but if musicians can get away with it, why not I?)

I now know why people drink when they go dancing. It's so their head will hurt enough the next morning they won't notice the pains in their legs.

Once in a while some significant statement or other hits you where you live. The other day a friend of mine told me about an event that happened when he was about 6 years old. His mother had been quite ill for some time, and finally God smiled on her and took away her pain, leaving her five year old son and his grizzled old father (of 30 or so) all alone. At the funeral, a well-meaning matron of some distinction commented, "Son, whatever in the world are you and Father going to do now without Mother?" And the boy replied, "I guess I'm going to have to learn to cook." Well, he did and he still is.

The moral of the story is that when things seem the darkest you must look in the obvious places for remedies to your condition, and sometimes adults can't see the sun for the clouds. There is a silver lining.

Last Thursday, a drug awareness program was held for parents by the school children. The kids have been involved with Drug Awareness Resistance Education. This was a chance for them to show what they've learned from the D.A.R.E. program. At the school library, the kindergarten class revised the story of Little Red Riding Hood and presented a skit with the message, "don't talk to strangers". First and 2nd grades sang a catchy tune — "We Love Hugs, Not Drugs!". Third and 4th grades put on a skit with the theme, "be cool, don't do drugs". Fifth and 6th grades gave an informative skit about the dangers of prescription drugs. Two prizes were given as door prizes to Ben Witt and Randy Warren. We would like to encourage more parents to come to school and find out what their children are learning.

Mr. and Mrs. Archie Perkins had their 57th wedding anniversary last week. Friends and family stopped by to help them celebrate.

Ms. Ann Gwinn of Carlsbad, came for a short stay with her brother and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. John D. Holleyman. She also got to visit with her niece, Lois Ann Ratliff, husband Darryl and their daughter, Karen. Ms. Gwinn's nephew Lon Holleyman and his wife Margaret also stopped by to visit.

Pauline McCloud of Cedarvale has returned home after a month's worth of traveling that took her to see daughter Mildred and family in West Virginia and daughter Nora Ann and family in Tennessee. Ms. McCloud went by train and enjoyed seeing the countryside very much.

The school Halloween carnival was a big success. All the ghouls and goblins had a wonderful time. The costume contest was judged by Ilene Garfield and Margret Holleyman. It was not an easy job, but after much consideration the following won 1st place for their respective age groups: Adults—Jeanette Stewart and Sherri Luera for a great horse costume. 7th - 12th grade was a tie between Shayla Marshall, Lindsey Bonds and Kim Riley for the gruesome threesome. 4th - 6th grade, Travis Herod who was a cute pirate. 1st - 3rd grade was a really tough choice.

Becca Herod won for a very original bag of jolly beans. Age 3 - kindergarten was Stacy Merritt as a beautiful ballerina and young Walter Gensler won for his Bugs Bunny costume in the birth to age 2 category. Also, a big "Hat's Off" to the creators of this year's "Haunted House" a real bone shaker!

There will be a meeting tonight Thursday, Nov. 5 for the Fellowship of Christian Cowboys at 7 p.m. in the school auditorium. The guest speaker will be Butch Allen from Portales. Mr. Allen attended high school here in Corona and is well known in the community. Everyone is invited, refreshments will be served.

Maria Romero-Chavez and her husband Danny are in town for a short visit during a base change. Maria has been at the San Vito Air Force Base in Brindisi, Italy, she will now be stationed at Chicksands Royal Air Force Base, England. Both Danny and Maria are former residents of Corona. They both enjoy living abroad, but are happy to be back for a visit to see friends and family.

Bob Burroughs and family are back from a four-day weekend in Uta, Iowa, where they drove to attend a surprise birthday party for his mother, Ms. Frieda Burroughs.

Patsy Mulkey will be driving the school bus for Lee Sulzmaster, who is recovering from surgery in El Paso. We hope she gets well soon.

Remember: deadline for this column is the preceding Monday. You can submit items to Margret Holleyman at the senior citizen's center.

Spruill-Mulkey Wedding Held September 11

The First Baptist Church, Corona, was the setting for the wedding of Molly Kay Spruill of Estancia-Ewing and Steven Lee Mulkey of Corona. The couple's traditional vows were exchanged in a double-ring ceremony on September 11, and performed by the brides' father, Rev. John R. Spruill, assisted by Rev. Mel Gnatkowski of Ancho. Molly is the daughter of John and Donna Spruill, pastor of the Baptist Church. Stevens' parents are Lee and Patsy Mulkey of Corona.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride wore a floor length gown of satin and iridescent netting with floral appliques and seed pearls. The gown was cut in a southern-bell style with off the shoulder puffed sleeves. Her veil of white silk illusion was held in place by a seed pearl head band. The groom and his attendants were clad in black cowboy tuxedos. Molly's attendants wore polished cotton tea length dresses in a peach and teal floral design.

The brides' attendants included Mrs. Sherry Gensler of Corona as matron of honor, the brides' sister, Mrs. Joanna Taylor, Tajique, and Miss Becky Bush, Estancia, bridesmaids. Naomi Spruill served as her big sisters' flower girl. Steves' best man was Joseph Erramouspe, Corona, and groomsmen/ushers were Brian Tupper of Ft. McClellan, Alabama and Chad James of Santa Fe, cousin of the groom. Music for the ceremony was performed by Mrs. Betty Mitchell, Estancia, on the piano and Mr. Olan James of Las Cruces playing the violin.

Family members attending from out of town were Molly's grandparents from Kerrville, Texas; Mr. and Mrs. Claude Stovall and Mike and Debbie Stovall and son Forrest of San Antonio, Texas; and cousins from Estancia, Bryan and Terri Green with son Dane. Members of Steve's family from out of town included his brothers, Scott and Sheres and Josh of Alba, Texas and Tommy of Roswell. Also attending were Steve's grandparents Mrs. Effie Mulkey, and Mr. and Mrs. Dean Bradley, and cousin Adis Robertson, all of Alamogordo. Alvin James and daughter Tana, of Santa Fe; Mrs. Charlotte James and sons John and Darrall of Las Cruces, Allan Robertson, Albuquerque, and Clelin and Dorothy Donoho of Clayton.

FORT STANTON: FACTS and FICTION

By BETTY JOINER

Ruth Hammond's article "German's sit out war in desert dry dock" is very worthwhile reading in the November issue of the New Mexico magazine. It is about the history of Fort Stanton and the pictures are very interesting. Great article, Ruth!

Visited with Genevieve Duncan Sunday. Appreciated her positive comments about my column. She is very active in the First Christian Church. It is growing and offering more services to everyone who attends. Bill Kennedy, the pastor and all his helpers have done a great job in recruiting new members, involving the whole community and making everyone feel welcome.

Was very sorry to hear of the death of Clyde Williamson. He was Mary Williamson's husband and attended many of the post office conventions. Do not know the details of where he was buried.

Inez Marrs and Ann Ferguson traveled to Las Cruces Monday night to install the "Collegiate CowBelle" officers. This is a group of young college girls who formed a cowbelle organization at the college. Corriente CowBelles were responsible for starting this group.

Ghosts and goblins were everywhere on Thursday and Friday. The clients always like Halloween. The sing-a-long at the rec center with Ron playing the guitar and singing was a favorite of the clients too. Many participate in different skits and songs. All the employees work hard to put the carnival together each year. On Sunday the parents and children spent the day together. Many parents come from all over to observe the activities and spend the day with their children. Pat and Brink Randle were up from Roswell.

ELECTION PROJECTS—Students in grades 6 and 2 studied about the election process. Ruby Armstrong's sixth graders learned the history and reasons for the Electoral College; discussed political debates; and studied presidential elections. On election night they viewed televised election results at their teacher's home. Their election project culminated with a barbecue celebration. Second graders urged people to vote with posters at business windows. They learned the history and requirements for voting; the history of the White House and about a typical working day for a president. Their teacher Jackie Alastuey displayed their essays "If I were president" at the school's board room on election day.

BASKETBALL CLINIC—The '92-'93 basketball district clinic, sponsored by NMAA (New Mexico Activities Association) was attended by coaches Ken Butts, Kay Patterson, Veronica Baca and Joe Price, athletic director. Dan Salzwedel, NMAA executive director told his audience of coaches and officials that basketball generates community spirit and involvement. The clinic held at Alamogordo High School on Nov. 2 included the viewing of an instructional film "Basketball for the '90s". Other topics that Salzwedel covered: process for rating of officials; conduct rating and report forms; and rules revisions.

ART SHOW—This year's annual New Mexico K-12 Student Art exhibition will include art work by 5th grader Robert Shafer. This exhibit is in the Art Education Gallery in Masley Hall (Art Education Building) in the College of Education on the University of New Mexico campus. An opening reception honoring the students from all over the state was held Sunday, Nov. 1 in the gallery. The art will be on display until Nov. 28 and the public is invited to view the show.

ART EXPERIENCE—Eleven 7th and 8th grade art students visited Zia Senior Citizen Center on Oct. 27 for the purpose of viewing an art exhibit and observing seniors painting. The painters under the direction of artist Dorothy Leslie have been taking lessons twice a week. A collection of their work was displayed for the benefit of the school students. The works in oil and acrylics featured landscapes. On hand to answer student's questions were Ruth Pratt, Pat Baker, Jim Giles and Maydelle McDaniel. Dolly Ward and Elaine Valderrama were not able to meet with the students. Leslie, who began teaching the art sessions in May, said that her students had never painted and is very pleased with their efforts and enthusiasm. The Zia Center artists will visit the school students in their art class sometime.

The school art classes are involved in recycled art projects created with donated materials. School patrons who have organized their junk closets and would like to find a home for the discarded should contact Polly Chavez for arrangements for pick up. Or the materials may be boxed, labeled and left at school for the art program. Art works can be created with odd buttons, beads, yarn, all-occasion cards, ribbons, calendars, costume jewelry, etc.

COMPUTER CONFERENCE—Terri Flores, math teacher, and Linda Brown, accompanied students Scot Brown, James Smith, Bryan Turnbow, Chad Patterson and Renee Roper to the 3rd Annual New Mexico Supercomputing Challenge held Oct. 25-26-27. The event held at the Baptist Conference Center was both a learning experience and a competition. Through workshops, educational materials and the help of a technical coach, students and teachers were exposed to hands-on scientific problem solving. Instructors from sponsoring national laboratories, computer vendors, and universities provided training that allowed participants access to a network and supercomputers. The Carrizozo students witnessed communications with universities in Ireland, Canada, and Germany. A 'modem' at Carrizozo Schools will allow students to communicate across the nation through Los Alamos National Laboratory.

FOOD DRIVE—Members of the National Honor Society are sponsoring a Thanksgiving food drive. Students are bringing non-perishable food items to school. Those needing extra help for Thanksgiving may call the high school office and leave a message for members Micha Schlarb or Amy Funk.

CARRIZOZO GRIZZLY JUNIOR HIGH FOOTBALL TEAM

Jr. High Football Is Learning Experience

Carrizozo Grizzly Junior High football team concluded its season last week with a 2-3 record for the year.

"It was a learning experience for all of us", said coach Peter Aguilar. And a great pleasure for me individually to be associated with all of these fine young men. All eighth graders moving up to the varsity next year should be great additions to next year's team. Seventh graders coming back for another year in jr. high should set their goals for a better year next season".

Following are some comments by coach Aguilar on all the young Grizzly players as they appear on photo above:

SEAD ROPER #75 (7th grade): offensive guard and middle linebacker.—Solid player, very aggressive and hardest hitter on team. Should get better with age and experience. Big things expected from him next year.

VICTOR PARRA #74 (8th grade): center and defensive tackle — Victor only participated in first two games of season. Good team leader and very aggressive. Was sorely missed when he transferred.

ZAC CHAVEZ #24 (9th grade): Tight end and defensive end — Could see him improve day by day, excellent hands, has a lot of natural ability. Very coachable and a great addition to the team. Team's leading pass receiver and scored three touchdowns.

DWAYNE LANGLEY #34 (8th grade): Running back and defensive end. First year player that kept getting better and better each week, especially on defense. Can be as good as he wants to be. One of hardest hitters by seasons end.

PAUL FITPATRICK #35 (8th grade): Fullback and linebacker. Solid player, can run, block and plays tough defense. Good enough to practice with varsity. Great future.

CURTIS WHITFIELD #61 (7th grade): Kicker and defensive line. Expect big things from Curtis next year. Learned a lot this year.

WILLIE SILVA #13 (8th grade): Quarterback and linebacker. A quiet team leader with great natural ability, speed and football instincts. Can do anything he sets his mind to, will be great addition to varsity next year. Scored six touchdowns.

RODNEY ZAMORA #58 (8th grade): Offensive and defensive line. Showed a lot of improvement by seasons end. Will eventually make a fine football player, good attitude, willing to learn.

JUSTIN SERNA #22 (8th grade): Wingback and cornerback. Hard-nosed kid, a pleasure to work with, will be one of the better ones when he finishes growing. Willing to take on anyone twice his size.

MATT DANIEL #88 (7th grade): Offensive line and linebacker. Improved by leaps and bounds, can play just about anywhere. Will be tough 8th grader next year — great hitter.

DAVID MEDINA #73 (7th grade): Offensive and defensive line. Will make exceptional player if he continues to work hard — willing to learn.

ERIC CHAVEZ #7 (7th grade): Back and cornerback — Youngster with a lot of desire. Willing to learn and looking forward to next year.

DUSTIN ARMSTRONG #83 (7th grade): Tightend and defensive end. Showed great improvement by year's end. Should have a fine season next year. Very coachable.

COLE McMAHON #85 (7th grade): Wideout and defensive safety. Smallest player on squad and one of the hardest workers—fast learner, good work ethic. Will be a good one.

MIKE (Spike) FEE #8 (7th grade): Small in stature, real big in heart. Willing to do anything to get playing time. Will be sorely missed next year.

J.P. ORTIZ #66 (7th grade): Offensive and defensive line. A lot of talent and did everything asked of him. Fast learner who will be counted on for big things next year.

TYLER CLUFF #68 (7th grade): Offensive and defensive line. Probably most improved player by season's end. Another who should be quality player next year.

JOSH THORTON #56 (7th grade): Offensive and defensive line. Good attitude, hard worker and great potential. Excellent football player. Should be dominating player next year.

CODY TURNBOW #53 (8th grade): Offensive line and linebacker. Great team player. Willing to sacrifice himself for betterment of the team. Will be a good one when he fills out.

BUD MAYNARD #32 (8th grade): Fullback and wideout, safety. Tough competitor—will make a fine player if he works hard in practice. Quality player when he works hard. Smart enough to play more than one position. Very valuable player to team.

THOMAS MEANS #4 (8th grade): Team manager. Hard worker, performed duties well — always there.

Lady Grizzlies End Volleyball Season

It was a disappointing end to a good season for the Carrizozo volleyball team.

The Carrizozo Lady Grizzlies very much wanted to travel to Ft. Sumner to be part of the District 3A finals last Saturday. But the Vaughn Lady Aguilas stopped the Lady Grizzlies short of their goal by defeating them at district semi-final Thursday, Oct. 29.

Before fans on their home court, the Carrizozo girls played five games but lost the match: 15-11, 8-15, 15-11, 8-15, 12-15.

The loss ended the season for the Carrizozo girls with a 7 win, 3 loss district record and a 9-9 regular season record.

At the conclusion of the District 3A final between Vaughn and Ft. Sumner, with the Vixen district winners, four Lady Grizzlies were named to the All-District team. Yvonne Estrella, Lori Gibson, Rachel Archuleta and Amy Funk received plaques which indicate they were chosen by district coaches for their outstanding volleyball play.

Lady Grizzlies coach Kay Patterson said a 7-3 district record was not a losing season and was proud of her team's success. The four All District players, she said, speaks highly of the team's accomplishments. She hopes for a great season next year, with many of her younger players eligible for the varsity team.

Other All-District winners were Jolene Lopez from Vaughn, Serena Blea and Meslissa Archuleta from Mountainair, Kelly Haynes, Criquet Scott, Kim Crenshaw, Wendy Bridges and Brandie Hammon from Ft. Sumner.

The Lady Grizzlies gave fans some exciting action at the semi-final with Vaughn. Yvonne Estrella had 40 hits, 25 kills, one ace, two blocks, 12 digs and she served three balls which ended in points in the five-game match. Rachel Archuleta had 29 hits, 13 kills, one ace, five blocks, two digs and one service points. Renee Roper had 26 hits, five aces, nine kills, two blocks, eight digs and 12 service points. Lori Gibson had 24 hits, two aces, 13 kills, nine digs and 14 service points. Amy Funk had 12 hits, four kills, two blocks, four digs and nine service points. Lynette Hernandez had six hits, one ace, two kills, two digs and six service points. Amanda Vega had two hits, two aces, four digs and 10 service points. Natalie Chavez had two digs and three service points.

Other Lady Grizzlies who suited out for the district semi-final were Julie Gallegos, Sarah Funk and Kerstin Lucke.

Lady Aguila Jessica Archibeque led her team in service points with 19 for the match. Albertina Gutierrez served 11, Patricia Tenorio served 10, Pamela Baca and Jolene Lopez served nine each, Raquel Pacheco served eight and Vanessa Garcia served one. Florida Tapia is the Lady Aguilas coach.

District 3A runnerup Vaughn will play the undefeated Capitan Lady Tigers in the first round of the regional tournament at 11 a.m. Saturday, Nov. 7, in Capitan. Ft. Sumner will play District 5A runnerup Loving at 1 p.m. The regional final will begin at 7 p.m. at Capitan School.

The girls will have a week off, then will begin basketball practice.

Grizzlies Earn Playoff Berth

By JAMES SMITH

The Carrizozo Grizzlies and the Capitan Tigers met head-on last Friday night in Capitan. Though both teams were evenly matched with tough defenses and loads of penalties, the Grizzlies were able to walk away with a 7-0 win. The fans who went to the game to see the age-old rivalry weren't disappointed. They were treated to a last-second, heart-pounding game.

The flags flew during the game, as both teams racked up penalties. The Grizzlies were penalized 100 yards during the course of the game, and the Tigers were penalized over 50.

Besides penalties, there were also several turnovers, ten to be exact, that kept each team from moving down the field. Each team turned over the ball five times.

The ball moved back and forth through the first half, with neither team being able to reach the end zone. The scoreboard also remained empty through the third quarter, leaving the last quarter of the game to determine which team would end their season and which one would move on to the playoffs.

The fourth quarter proved to be an exciting and climatic finish to the game. After recovering a fumbled punt, Carrizozo's Cory Collins finally broke through the tough Tiger defensive line and dove into the corner of the end zone for what would be the only touchdown of the game. Heath Rickman then kicked the extra point to set the score at 7-0. With time running low, the Tigers fought to bring the ball downfield, attempting to tie or beat the Grizzlies in the last few minutes of the game.

Capitan's Chris Smith dashed 30 yards down the field on one play, then 20 yards on the next one in an attempt to put the Tigers in scoring position. In the last minute of the game, the Tigers pushed the ball all the way down to the three yard line, but the clock ran out before they could start a final play.

Anthony Archuleta led the Grizzlies with 128 yards, and also leads this season with 721. Carrizozo's defense also played well, led by juniors Lenny Beltran and George Vega with eight tackles each. Others who led the unbreakable Carrizozo defense to their third season shut out included Michael Barela, Heath Rickman, Raymond Najar, Fernando Medina, Blas

Herrera, Nathan Portillo, Anthony Archuleta, and Jonathon Vallejos. Beltran also intercepted the ball once, and Najar, Medina, Herrera, and Vallejos each recovered one fumble. Rickman was also able to block Capitan's only field goal attempt. "We've only given up one touchdown in the past three games," said defensive coach Ken Butts, "if our defense keeps on playing that well, we should keep on winning."

The Grizzlies will next move on to the state semi-finals, and they play the Tatum Coyotes in Tatum next Saturday at 7 p.m. Also on Saturday, Texico will play at Loving to determine who will move on to the state finals.

CARRIZOZO GRIZZLY CORY COLLINS (#12) runs with the ball while Capitan Tiger Carlos Preclado (#62) comes in for a tackle. Preclado's tackle came a bit too late, for Collins made it across the Grizzly goal line to score the only touchdown in the Carrizozo-Capitan football game Friday, Oct. 30. The Grizzlies won 7-0.

Capitan Lady Tigers Are District Champs

By DORIS CHERRY

The hard-hitting Capitan Lady Tigers won the District 5A district championship in three straight games Saturday.

Before a gym packed with fellow students and community fans, the undefeated Capitan team knocked off the Loving Lady Falcons in three games 15-8, 16-14, 15-9.

Lady Tigers Tammy Payne, Kelly Cox, Pam Pacheco, Stacy Gowen and Tycie Traylor were named as All-District players. And their coach Pam Allen was named District Coach of the Year.

As district winners, the Lady Tigers will host the regional tournament Saturday, Nov. 7. The tournament will begin at 11 a.m. Saturday, Nov. 7 when the Lady Tigers play the District 3A runnerup Vaughn Lady Aguilas. District 3A winners Ft. Sumner Vixen play District 5A runnerup Loving Lady Falcons at 1 p.m. The regional championship will start at 7 p.m. All matches will be played in Cummins Gym (the old gym) in Capitan.

The Capitan girls have their goal set on the state Class A championship, and with their undefeated record this season, that goal seems to be within their grasp. The team is now rated #1 in the state Class A.

Coach Allen, who was honored by students Friday for having won more than 100 matches in her career at Capitan High School, said the kids have worked extremely hard this year and are playing very good volleyball.

"We're fortunate here that the kids are dedicated and work extremely hard," Allen said.

"They have a lot of pride in themselves and in their team.

About the match Saturday, Allen said the girls played a very solid offensive game, the best they've played all season. "The hitters went after the ball with blood in their eyes."

Allen was pleased with the choices the setters made, mixing up their sets and giving all the opportunity to strike the ball.

The girls also played a pretty good defensive game, but Allen was not especially happy with their serve receiving. She plans to have the girls work on their techniques this week.

Allen also credited junior Anita Aldaz who had a very good match Saturday. A real consistent player, Allen said Aldaz plays with "a lot of heart and determination." Aldaz's excellent work ethic is a major reason for her good job on the court.

One of the best things about the district match was the community and student support, Allen said. She hopes to see that same full house at the regional match Saturday.

Along with the praise for her team, Allen credits coaches Ron Becker and Sherry Gowen who played a major role in the success of the athletes this year.

If the Lady Tigers win the state title this year, it will be Coach Allen's fifth championship in her career. Yet she claims she had no secret to coaching successful volleyball teams. "Those things are never achieved by one person," she said. Without the athletes and other coaching staff those successes would not have been attained.

Allen admits she really likes the game of volleyball, which moves very quickly and requires tremendous amount of technique. "Volleyball is a very difficult game for kids to learn. It requires minds that are bright and a good work ethic."

She considers her self to be real blessed to have good people to work with, especially the excellent coaches Becker and Gowen, "who are also great human beings."

Allen is a graduate of Capitan High School and after college began her coaching career at Dexter High School. Under her direction as head coach, the Dexter team won the state title in both 1974 and 1975. From Dexter she went to Goddard High School in Roswell, where she was head coach for five years. During her time there, the Goddard volleyball team won the state championship in 1980. Afterwards she lived in Texas, then returned to New Mexico as head coach at Hobbs High School from 1983 to spring 1987. Her first year at Hobbs, her team went to the state tournament for the first time in 12 years. While the Hobbs teams never won the state championship with Allen as coach, the girls went to the state tournament every year.

"It was hard to establish a tradition. Losing can be a disease and they can catch it real easily."

Allen came back to her alma mater Capitan in the fall of 1987. By 1988, her Lady Tigers were state champs.

"I enjoy being here the most. As head coach I am able to get my hands on the young athletes in junior high and make sure

Ruidoso Ends First Season In 4th Place

The fans loved it, the kids loved it and the team ended its season in fourth place. Ruidoso High School soccer team concluded its first season with a tournament at Alamogordo High School Saturday, Oct. 31. The Warriors lost to the Gadsden Panthers 2-1 in the semi-final game to end the season with six wins, six losses and four ties.

In the first round robin in the championship tournament Saturday, the Warriors soccer team beat Hobbs 2-1. In the next round the Warriors tied with Alamogordo High School 1-1.

A new sports program of Ruidoso High School this year, the soccer team was part of an independent conference with 10 other schools, all Class 4A AAA. Next year, the Warrior soccer team will be part of the New they are headed in the right direction with their work ethic and skills.

Allen will not tolerate dissension and expects the girls to be loyal to their team mates. Allen's father Fletcher Hall was born on a homestead north of Carrizozo. Her mother, Emmagene, came to Carrizozo from Texas Tech to teach home ec at Carrizozo High School.

If the Lady Tigers finish the regional tournament in either first or second place they will advance to the state tournament, to be held in Roswell either 6 p.m. at Goddard High School or at 7:45 p.m. at Roswell High School. The state championship match will be held at 6 p.m. Saturday, Nov. 14 at Goddard High School. The match for third place will be played at 1:30 p.m. at Goddard also Saturday, Nov. 14.

Mexico Activities Association in Class 3AAA.

"The fans loved the soccer," said assistant coach Roy Seay. "They didn't know it was such a physical game. They liked the fast action, it was real exciting." Seay went on to say there were a good number of fans at the games at home and on the road.

Senior Wally Mario averaged a goal a game during the season and ended with 21 goals. Matt Harshey, a junior, was an outstanding goal keeper. "He was the pillar of our defense," Seay said. Harshey was a state select player in the Olympic Development Program when he played junior league soccer.

Seay and head coach Dean Hood developed the high school soccer program out of their junior league program. Ruidoso Schools Superintendent Mike Gladden and the Ruidoso Board of Education asked the men to develop the program in the high school as an alternative to traditional sports, hoping to involve more students.

The team is co-ed, and two girls came out at the first of the season. One left with an injury and the other became ineligible.

A large group of freshmen will return to the team next year, Seay said. They have their goal set on the state championship in the next three years.

The team's whole level of play was more than the coaches anticipated. "The whole team played great, with a whole defensive effort," Seay said.

The defense greatly hinged on freshman Cory Hood's effort. Eric Pena came off the bench and showed the coach he could be a starter. Seniors Aaron Lauban and Wally Mario were outstanding forwards, helped by fellow seniors Casey Ward, Jason Macy and Hemanth Pai. Seay said the seniors were the "quiet leaders" who performed on the field.

Freshmen Matthew Norbury, Matthew Ensor, Scott Christianson and Eric Pena greatly improved their play during the season, Seay said. All the players met many personal goals set early in the season. With the real good core of young players, the coaches have high hopes for a real good season in Class AAA play next year.

With continued support from the school board and the fans the Warriors soccer team promises to give everyone plenty of exciting action, and a state championship in the near future.

Hondo Students Attend Ruidoso Little Theater

More than 35 junior high and high school English, drama and speech students attended the Ruidoso Little Theater's production of "Steel Magnolias" on Sunday evening, October 25. It was the theater's final production for this year.

Parents and students both participated and enjoyed the evening. This project was started last year by instructors Cheryl Bowman and Ray Sharbutt. It was such a hit that once again this year a large group from the community decided to attend.

"It is a unique opportunity to take advantage of local talent and to give our students a chance to view live drama and experience the audience/cast relationship," noted both teachers.

According to both instructors, this kind of love of drama and writing is encouraged. Two Hondo students have already had articles published in the national publication, HIGH SCHOOL WRITER. Robin Smith and Elena Cruz have both had their short stories published within the last six months.

Sheriff's report

The regular rifle deer season began with the first hunt Nov. 2-4. The second hunt will be Saturday, Sunday and Monday, Nov. 6-8 and the final hunt will be Thursday through Saturday, Nov. 14.

Spotlighting hunters were reported in the Corona area in the early hours of Monday, Nov. 2, but the responding deputy was unable to locate the subjects. In New Mexico it is illegal to hunt deer by spotlight.

The following information was taken from dispatch records at the Lincoln County Sheriff's Office in Carrizozo.

OCT. 27
 7:33 p.m.—Capitan ambulance was dispatched to a Capitan residence for a 73 year old man who was having a hard time breathing and having chest pains. The patient was transported to Lincoln County Medical Center (LCMC) in Ruidoso after being transferred to Med 1 ambulance from Ruidoso.

OCT. 28
 6:43 p.m.—Corona ambulance transported a patient to Gerald Champion Memorial Hospital in Alamogordo.

7:18 p.m.—a cow was reported shot. The Hereford/Angus cross cow was shot and laying in the middle of the road about three miles up Nogal Canyon. The investigating deputy radioed the sheriff's office to call a man about possible suspicious vehicles. A man in the area advised he was located about 1/2 to 1/3 mile from where the cow was shot, glassing the area from a hill from just before sunset until just after dark. He saw four vehicles go up and down the road at the time. A "be on the look out" was issued for the vehicles to Carrizozo, Capitan, Ruidoso and Ruidoso Downs Police Departments.

7:35 p.m.—a possible drunken driver was reported on Highway 54. A deputy was enroute to back up a state policeman who was investigating a plane landing west of Highway 54 and came across the drunken driver in the area. The man was arrested and taken to the Lincoln County Detention Facility in Carrizozo.

9:46 p.m.—an anonymous woman caller reported a loud party on Central Ave. in Carrizozo. Carrizozo police arrived at the scene and advised of four vehicles at the house, but no noise. The officer patrolled the area for about an hour, but still heard no loud noise.

OCT. 29
 1:53 a.m.—an ambulance was requested at a 10th St. residence in Carrizozo, for a grandmother having trouble breathing. Carrizozo Ambulance transported the woman to Angus Hill where she was transferred to Med 1 ambulance from Ruidoso. Med 1 transported the woman to LCMC.

8:16 a.m.—an ambulance was dispatched to the Alto area for a patient with cancer. Ruidoso Ambulance transported the patient to LCMC.

8:23 a.m.—a breaking and entering was reported in the Capitan area.

10:41 a.m.—an Alto woman reported stolen or lost plates off a utility trailer. A report was taken.

8:01 p.m.—Otero County Sheriff's Office reported a subject chipping at rock at the Three Rivers Petroglyphs site. About 30 minutes later a Lincoln County deputy had a vehicle stopped on Highway 54 at Oscura. The subject's drivers license checked out okay. The Otero County deputy advised he would head up to the site with the Lincoln County Deputy. At 6:52 p.m. the Otero County Deputy requested the time of arrival for the Bureau of Land Management officer, who would not be there for 30-50 minutes. All this prompted the dispatcher to write "Possible not right subject?"

 9:25 p.m.—Carrizozo Allsup reported a man fell down and can't get up, and has a possible concussion. The subject refused the dispatched Carrizozo ambulance.

OCT. 30
 6:12 a.m.—an officer was requested to take a report on an accident without injuries involving a deer was reported at milemarker 273 on Highway 70. New Mexico State Police (NMSP) responded.

9:03 a.m.—a Ruidoso real estate office requested an officer in reference to a possible fraud. The investigating deputy advised the situation might be civil, but will continue with the investigation.

1:55 p.m.—a possible one vehicle rollover was reported at milemarker 296 on Highway 70 (in Hondo). NMSP and Hondo Fire Dept. responded and Ruidoso ALS transported the injured to LCMC.

3:37 p.m.—an accident with injuries was reported at milemarker 56 on Highway 380 west of Carrizozo on Red Hill. A woman was thrown out of the vehicle. Two patients were transported by Carrizozo ambulance to LCMC. The woman was airlifted from Ruidoso to an Albuquerque hospital.

8:19 p.m.—an anonymous caller reported someone shooting guns in the area of Corona School. At 9:23 p.m. another call came in about locals shooting off M80s and a rolled dog in pig manure. The deputy was advised.

9:25 p.m.—a Carrizozo emergency medical personnel brought in a purse belonging to a woman who was involved in a traffic accident. The purse was to be transferred to LCMC.

OCT. 31
 1:31 p.m.—a larceny was reported at the Harkey Ranch. The complainant advised a hired hand quit and took items.

2:18 p.m.—a man reported being threatened by another man with a firearm at Ft. Stanton Caves. The complainant advised the man in a white pickup had a gun and threatened him with same. Capitan police were to take the report at Capitan City Hall.

7:44 p.m.—telephone and mail harassment were reported. The deputy called to have dispatch call a Ruidoso area lodge clerk in reference to a subject whose phone kept ringing. The desk clerk advised it was not their problem as the room was privately owned. Dispatch asked if the phone goes through the switch board, and the clerk said yes. Dispatch then advised the clerk they are in control of the phone and that a deputy will be sent. The lodge later called and asked for the name of the deputy who was to respond.

9:12 p.m.—an accident with injuries was reported at milemarker 2 on Highway 42. Corona ambulance transported the injured to LCMC.

11:26 p.m.—Capitan School reported the money box missing from the school. Capitan police was assigned to investigate.

Sheriff's report

police arrived at the scene and requested Capitan Fire Dept. who responded. The case was closed when it was determined there was no leak, only a clogged vent on a gas dryer.

NOV. 2

5:20 a.m.—shots were reported fired in the area between Texas Club and Ruidoso Village Hall on Jan Lane and Heath Drive, in the Cree Meadows area. The complainant reported a compact white vehicle was being shot at (six rounds heard) and chased by a light colored Blazer type vehicle. The vehicle U-turned at the dead end of Jan Lane and sped back out. When the report was relayed to Ruidoso Police, they advised they received prior calls on the same incident.

5:39 a.m.—spotlighters were reported by the County Road Dept. on Forest Road 144, west of Highway 54, three miles south of Corona. The complainant reported the subjects were in a white 1978 pickup with a roll bar with mounted lights. The subjects were using a hand held spotlight from the back of the truck. The responding deputy arrived in the area at 6:26, but made no contact with the hunters, but he advised he would attempt to locate them.
