

Commissioners To Get Keys To County Jail

The Lincoln County Detention Center, commonly called the county jail, will be under the management of the Lincoln County Commission beginning September 3.

The surprise action came late during the Aug. 11 county commission meeting when county manager Andy Wynham presented a report and proposal for exchange of responsibility of the Lincoln County Jail in response to a letter he received from Sheriff James McSwane.

McSwane's letter to Wynham on Aug. 4 stated: At this time, I am formally notifying you, as the County Manager, and the three County Commissioners that in 30 days from the receipt of this letter, I am dissolving my responsibilities to the Lincoln County Jail. Due to the restrictions placed on budget practices to purchase food and unrealistic requirements that must be met, I see that it is impractical for the Sheriff to continue in the operation of the jail.

McSwane told the News, "The jail has become such a burden to the sheriff's department it draws staff from deputies to the sheriff and secretaries and field deputies and administrative staff to try to keep the jail in compliance. We spend 50 percent of our time making decisions and overseeing the jail."

McSwane said that without the jail duties he can obligate more time to field and operations of the sheriff's department. "I have not been able to provide the law enforcement protection in the county that I was elected to provide," he added.

Wynham's report and proposal included a suggestion for the county commission to appoint Wayland Hill as the interim detention center administrator. Hill has 15 years experience in the facility.

County Over - Rules P&Z Recommendation

Sheriff James McSwane explained his recent ammunition purchases to Lincoln County Commissioners during their regular Aug. 11 meeting.

McSwane said 19 officers are required to qualify quarterly and each one uses 100 to 150 rounds of ammunition for each qualification. Officers are required to purchase their own weapons at a cost of $400 to $1,200 each. Shotguns and high-powered rifles are purchased by the department.

McSwane is one of the three firearms instructors in the department. He displayed three targets used during qualifications. "Our biggest issue is safety," McSwane said.

Commissioners approved the solid waste ordinance with minor changes. The wording "or any private party" was inserted in Section 4, subsection A, which gives the county the power to execute contracts with any municipality, county or other local unit of government, including the Lincoln County Solid Waste Authority, for the collection, transportation and disposal of solid waste generated in the unincorporated areas of Lincoln County.

Commissioners set a fee of $5.25 per month for collection services.

In other business, commissioners over-ruled recommendations made by the Lincoln County Planning and Zoning Commission (P&Z) and by the Lincoln Historic Preservation Board (LHPB) concerning a fence violation in Lincoln.

LHPB had noticed a chicken wire fence on the building across from the old courthouse in Lincoln and requested the owners follow the historic ordinance or remove the fence.

A certified letter sent to owners Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Avila was refused. P&Z recommended the county commission support the Historic Preservation Board and take appropriate action.

Commissioners listened to a request from Mrs. Avila and her sister and voted unanimously.

Ruidoso Says OK To Wind Surfing

By AL STUBBS

The Ruidoso Village Councilors, Tuesday night gave the go-ahead for wind surfing and non-motorized boating on Grindstone Lake, but no effective date has been established.

Boats, canoes, kayaks and such must be small enough to be hand-launched. Details on adequate insurance to protect the village from liability, signage, furnishing of restrooms and pay phone, refuse collection and other details remain to be worked out.

Councilors after much debate and consideration voted to table any action on a proposed ordinance, 92-18, which would erase lot size limitations on property owned by village councilor Ron Andrews and wife, Jill, across from White Mountain Meadows near the intersection of Hull Road and Gavilan Canyon.

The lot size limitations were specified in a Land Use Agreement ten years ago between the village of Ruidoso and a couple by the name of Nelson. The Andrews recently purchased the "Nelson tract" and were requesting from the council permission to divide the tract into lots less than one acre in size.

The tabling of the ordinance amending the land use agreement effectively blocks subdividing into units less than one acre in size.

The new ordinance was opposed by Bill McCarty and White Mountain Development, owner of White Mountain Meadows. Many letters, most of them form letters, opposing the Andrews request were received by the council from property owners in White Mountain Meadows.

Andrews, speaking only as a citizen and not a councilor and John Underwood, attorney for McCarty, argued both sides of the issue at length at the Tuesday night meeting. Andrews indicated that despite the tabling "we will go ahead with our plans."

Jill Andrews said Wednesday, "We are going to start over with our request." She said the council, she believes, wasn't fully aware of the effect of the tabling action.

Rick Evans of Evans and Co. Realtors, 1103 Mechem, who refused to take down a banner at his place of business after being advised it was illegal, is off the hook at least temporarily.

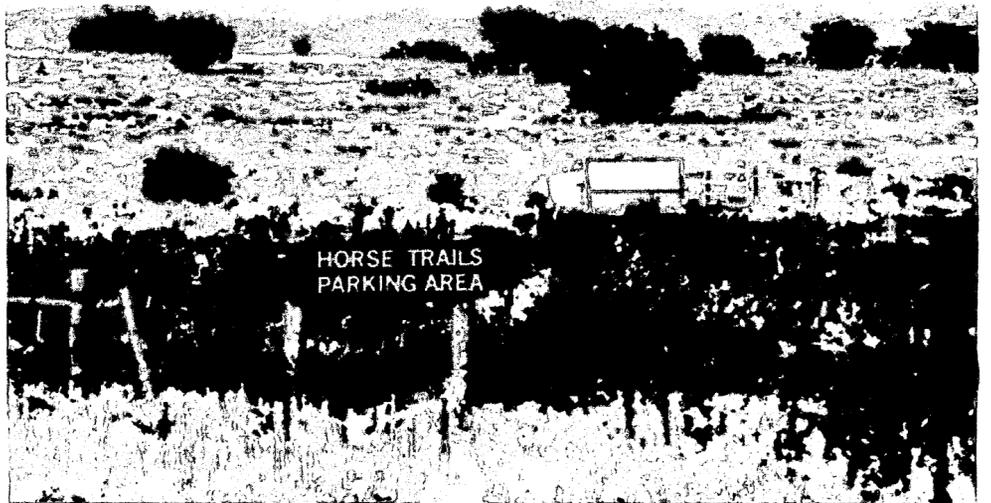

Evans had been advised by the village attorney that a criminal complaint was pending against him because of his refusal to remove the sign after he was issued a citation.

Tuesday night, the council agreed to a moratorium on any criminal complaints involving banners until a committee, including Evans, can review the village's sign ordinance.

Evans claims there is evidence throughout the village that other ordinances are not being enforced. He maintained that his banner hung from under a porch does not violate the sign ordinance. The large banner reads: "Rocky Mountain Bike Rentals."

The council agreed to hire two "experts" in sewer line televising to work on lines in the upper canyon and in Paradise Canyon, two main lines. Cost should not exceed $10,200. Village manager Ron Wicker said that having temporary personnel do the televising and analysis would be much cheaper than

Jr. High Football Practice

Football practice for Carrizozo Jr. High boys in grades 7-8 will begin Monday, Aug. 17 after school.

All players must have their physicals and parent permission forms before they can receive any equipment. The first week will be devoted to conditioning and non-contact work. Players should come in shorts, T-shirts, and shoes.

This non-contact week is mandatory. Players should come ready to work. If there are any questions call coach Aguilar at 648-2333 or 648-2973.

Capitan To Move Big Fire Truck

Two village trustees in Capitan were named by Mayor Frank C. Warth, Monday night, to work with the Capitan Volunteer Fire Department on plans to expand the main fire station in the village. Named were Leroy Montes and L.C. Cozzens.

The two were to meet with firemen Tuesday night to shape up plans to move the village's "big truck" from a substation to the main fire station. Remodeling and new construction at the main station would be required.

Pat Huey presented the proposal to the council, Monday night. He said that it is desirable to have the "big truck" in a more central location. The present main fire station has two bays; a third would be added.

"We may not have the money right away," Huey said.

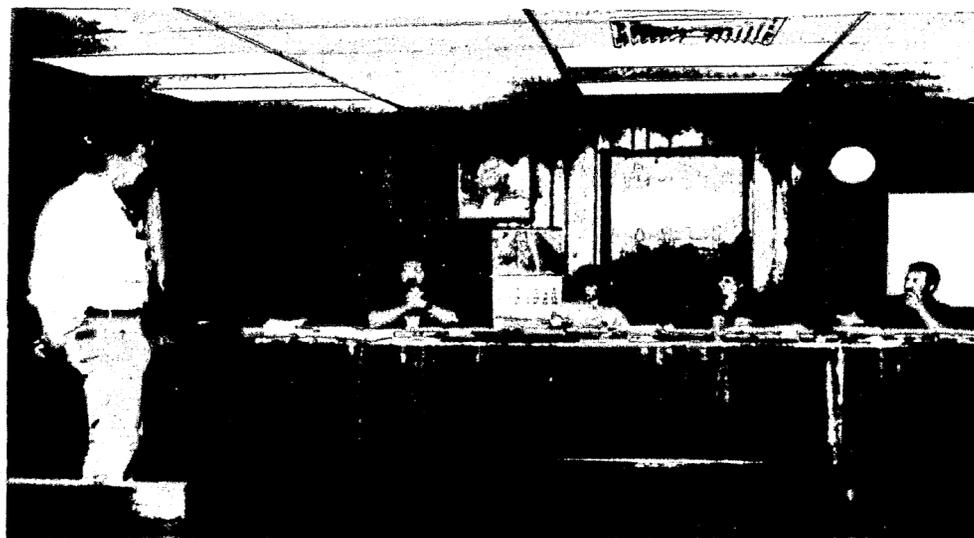

In other business Warth said that Otero County, Cloudcroft, Tularosa, Lincoln County including Capitan are working to find a site for joint solid waste disposal. He said it will probably be in the "Three Rivers area."

Trustee Montes said he had heard that refuse collectors were not doing as good a job as when individual communities collected their own garbage and trash.

Warth said that Capitan residents appear better satisfied with the job being done by the Solid Waste Authority.

"I wish people would stop throwing trash on the ground, however," he said. He said an ordinance prohibiting such

Trustees Discuss Litigation; Refuse Whittaker Resignation

Litigation was discussed by Carrizozo Trustees during closed session following the Aug. 11 town council meeting.

After the 90-minute closed session Mayor Cecilia Kuhn announced she was directed to write a letter to the Attorney General's office, to the attention to Mrs. Clifford and Attorney General C.C. Udall, to fully outline the position of the town of Carrizozo with regard to a recent trial in district court.

Kuhn also announced a discussion revolved around the appeal of a judgement adverse to the town and the town attorney reported on the status of the appeal he filed in district court.

Another matter of business brought before the board after the closed session concerned trustee Doug Whittaker's new home just outside the city limits. Whittaker was elected March 3 of this year to serve a two-year term. At that time he lived in Carrizozo.

Whittaker said he has had inquiries by a few townspeople (since he moved to the edge of town, just outside the city limits).

Whittaker offered his resignation as town trustee. The board of trustees had a lengthy discussion and it was clear to them that Whittaker did not have a conflict with serving the citizenry of the town and the trustees did not accept Whittaker's resignation.

Prior to the regular meeting trustees held a workshop to consider a joint powers agreement with the county for the Lincoln County Sheriff's department to provide dispatch services for the Carrizozo Police Department.

According to the joint powers agreement, the town would pay $4,000 for full time dispatch services for the 1992-93 fiscal year. The agreement as presented had been approved by county commissioners earlier in the day at the county commission meeting.

Carrizozo Trustees decided to hold another workshop session at 5 p.m. Aug. 18 to consider the matter again before making a decision to accept the joint powers agreement.

During the regular town council meeting trustees heard behavior is going to be enforced. Montes asked if residents "can still go to the dump for free?"

"Only with yard trash," Warth replied.

Regarding a pictorial spread and editorial in the Ruidoso News about unsightly dumpsters on Sudderth Drive. Warth, who serves on the Lincoln County Solid Waste Authority, said, "We can give customized service at a higher rate."

Warth reported on a wetlands project being pursued to attract exotic birds and other waterfowl to the area. He said the bid package is on schedule, that it would go to the state Department of Finance and Administration in about three weeks. "We expect it to fly by April 30, 1993," Warth said. Dr. Bernard Reimann was to address the Ruidoso Noon Lions Club on the project, Wednesday noon.

The council accepted the resignation of Montes from the Eagle Creek Water Board because he said it's difficult for him to make daytime meetings. Trustee Gordon Ross was named to fill the unexpired (1993) term.

A quorum was present for the meeting. Gilbert Montoya was absent.

THE JUNIOR LIVESTOCK SALE was held at the conclusion of the Lincoln County Fair Saturday afternoon in Capitan. Buyers watch as the winning livestock is sold to the highest bidder.

a report from engineer Raymond Dennis on the street paving project. Dennis said he hopes to have final plans and bidding specs at the Aug. 25 meeting. The paving project may be completed later this year.

Copies of the list of streets to be paved in this phase of the Community Development Block Grant (CDBG) paving project will be available at city hall.

In other business trustees declined to pay a bill received for airport fuel that was delivered 10-22-88. The copies of the bill that were presented to the town are not legible.

The plaque is to be placed on the railroad sign in Fred Chavez Park soon.

Airport manager Hal Marx reported an increase of daily business at the airport this month. He requested the town build a handicap ramp at the front door of the terminal building to comply with the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) because the ramp at this time is at the back of the building.

Police department head Charlie White asked for and received permission to purchase camera equipment to be used in investigations. Trustees also agreed to allow an increase in the weekly hours for relief officer Murry.

White expressed his thanks to officer Murry and police secretary Rosemary Gallegos for their help in the investigation of the vandalism on 12th Avenue this past weekend.

White also spoke to trustees about the amount of fines being assessed for citations.

Trustees discussed the Cimarron mill site and the plans for two new monitoring wells to be drilled downstream. Representatives from all three agencies will be invited to attend a town council meeting to discuss the matter further with the board of trustees.

Carrizozo Chamber Considers Dinner

Carrizozo Chamber of Commerce members are considering hosting a dinner in November for installation of new officers. The matter was suggested during the August 11 monthly meeting and will be discussed at the September 8 meeting.

Corresponding secretary Mary Lou Webster reported she has mailed 12 packets of information about Carrizozo and surrounding area this month in addition to sending two packets of Carrizozo brochures to other chambers of commerce offices in the state.

Hal Marx and Rene Burton reported on the July 25 Fly-In. Severe weather conditions in other areas prevented many pilots from attending the event which included a tour of the White Oaks Schoolhouse Museum and a variety show at White Oaks Casino. Those attending enjoyed a barbecue dinner at Carrizozo Airport after the program.

Chamber President Ruth Hammond announced copies of the Official Visitor's Guide are available at the Lincoln County News Office. She told members of the many calls and letters received at the News office requesting information about the area as well as requests for information and photocopies of newspaper articles about relatives who lived here years ago.

Members reported on the Lincoln County Fair, Old Lincoln Days, the Pony Express Race, and the next Fly-In which will be held September 27. Everyone attending will be asked to bring a toy which will be given to a child at Christmas.

Members were urged to vote FOR the hospital and clinics mill levy in the special election September 15. This will not increase taxes and will help make certain the superior health care will be available. Absentee ballots are now available through September 12 at the County Clerk's office in the courthouse.

Oregon Trail Descendants Recognized

The Oregon Trail Project is issuing special certificates to anyone whose ancestors came west via the Oregon Trail between the years 1811 and 1911.

"This is a tribute to those hardy pioneers who came overland by wagon, handcart or foot along the Oregon Trail," said Jane Walls Golden, chairperson of the Oregon Trail Project. "Entire families, with all their worldly possessions in tow, left homes and loved ones to follow an inner voice that promised a better life 'out west.'"

Recognizing descendants of Oregon Trail travelers commemorates the sesquicentennial (150th anniversary) of the peak year of westerly migration, Golden explained.

"People began to head west in 1811 using the Old Platte Road," she said. "But the exodus was at its height in 1843 when about 300,000 pioneers journeyed west of the Missouri River to begin new lives. The Old Platte Road then became known as the Oregon Trail."

To qualify for an Oregon Trail certificate, Golden said applicants must prove direct descent from a person who traveled any part of the Oregon Trail between 1811 and 1911. To receive an application or more information, write to the Oregon Trail Project at 4620 Overland Rd., #206, Boise, Idaho 83705.

Al's Musings

BY AL STUBBS

It's "Thistle Time" in Lincoln County. The pesky weeds (which do have a pretty flower atop all the stickery stems) are seven feet tall in places. A whole "grove" is in place along the walking trail on the west side of The Links.

Part of the problem at the Fort Stanton (Merchant Marine and Military Memorial) Cemetery is thistles, according to Capt. Victor Schaerer or "Captain Vic" as he is known.

Doug Houston, VFW Commander, recently asked who is taking care of the Fort Stanton Cemetery. The request for information brought a response from Captain Vic.

He says a Memorial Service Team composed entirely of military veterans plus himself, representing the Merchant Marine, clean up the old cemetery just before Memorial Day each year. Camp Sierra Blanca people mow the cemetery periodically, and the maintenance department at Fort Stanton replaces crosses, we're told. A special "Maritime Day" Memorial Day service is presented each year at the site. It honors Merchant Marines and all military veterans.

Captain Vic contacted Doug Houston. "I believe he is better informed about the cemetery project," Captain Vic writes. Vic is a U.S. Coast Guard and Navy veteran of World War II.

No one can keep ahead of the thistle army, that's for sure. Extraordinary moisture this spring and a relatively wet summer have made them giants.

Librarian Marylou Gooch said at an 80th birthday party for village counselor Barbara Duff Sunday that the thistles are extra tough this year. She said one brushed her car and broke off an aerial. Now that's tough. Sharpen your hoes if you plan to go after them, wherever they might be. Some fine specimens are along the Forest Service walking trail up Cedar Creek. Check it out!

We don't know whether or not the opening was an "Official Opening" or not at the new Civic Center, Friday, but there was a ceremony, Mayor Victor Alonso and parks and rec director Kathleen Michelena were among speakers at the first event to be staged in the center. The event was the "Salute to the Arts" sponsored by the Ruidoso Arts and Film Commission.

An art show plus jazz, bluegrass and contemporary and classical music was presented live over three days. We tuned in Saturday after trying blueberry cobbler offered at the concession stand. Shrimp to peel was another offering.

The civic center is looking great. Art from Dave McGary's bronzes to Herb Brunell and wife's neat color photos were on display and were for sale, along with many other offerings. A number of bands and musical groups performed. Sunday the Bluegrass Division moved to the Forest Service RV park up Cedar Creek. That's where the birthday party with cake was staged by friends for Barbara Duff with bluegrass music as a background. Neat!

We took granddaughters to entertainment centers in Ruidoso last week and found the daytime entertainment industry alive and well, from go-karts or racers, miniature golf, video machines, juke box, pizza and roller skating.

Fact: golf balls used for Miniature Golf at the new course in town will float.

The Hatfields and McCoys of Tennessee could take some lessons in battle tactics via a visit to Ruidoso, unfortunately. The feuds in the Tennessee mountains are more overt than the ones in Lincoln County, however. The Lincoln County war may be fought all over again, this time with different weapons.

Isn't politics wonderful. Sticks and stones . . .

We heard that the Texas Club and Mitchell's both have sold. And someone won a huge jackpot in the video gaming room at the Inn of the Mountain Gods over the weekend. Multiple thousands!!

The first annual Governor's Housing Conference will be held Aug. 26-28 in Albuquerque. All those who deliver housing and housing services in New Mexico including builders, bankers, contractors, mortgage lenders, real estate gents and brokers, and local, regional and state agencies are welcome and urged to attend.

Letters To The Editor

EDITOR—It is with much interest that I read in your paper the letters from Raymond C. Wilson of California. Until then I had never heard of this Council of Foreign Relations or the Trilateral Commission. I have since read "The Secret Government of the United States" by Mary M. Davison. Copy righted 1962. Also, "The New World Order" by Pat Robertson. I believe these to be the two most informative, profound mind boggling books I have ever read. They are also very frightening.

J. R. HANNA, Dallas, Texas.

County Jail . . . (Con't. from P. 1)

Wynham also suggested hiring an additional jailer to allow Hill the flexibility and time needed to run the jail properly. This will allow Hill to perform much of the clerical work which was previously provided by other sheriff's department employees.

Wynham states in the proposal, "Since the sheriff has indicated that he has been giving 50 percent of his time to the administration of the jail, then the administrative burden to the rest of his staff will be greatly diminished by this exchange of responsibilities. That coupled with the reduced burden of providing administrative support to the jail by his sheriff's office personnel should allow for the reduction of administrative positions in that department."

McSwane objects to Wynham's proposal to delete either the administrative secretary position or the records coordinator position from the law enforcement budget to offset the cost of providing additional personnel in the jail.

"I can't afford any loss of staff," McSwane said.

Commissioners will have many decisions to make concerning this situation, including transportation of prisoners and funding for a vehicle if one is needed by the detention center, modification of the sheriff's office to allow for a separate entrance for the detention center and the sheriff, and additional costs as yet not determined.

Lincoln County will be the 23rd county in the state to have separate administrators for the jail and law enforcement. New Mexico state statutes do not require the sheriff to fulfill those duties.

"If we can run the sheriff's office without the burden of the jail," McSwane said, "People will see an increase in community law enforcement, an increase in the sheriff's participation and supervision and activities, including investigation and generally what the general public elected me to do."

County commissioners instructed Wynham to proceed with the proposals presented.

LETTERS POLICY

Letters to the editor of the Lincoln County News are encouraged. Each letter must be signed and must include the writer's telephone number and address. The phone number and mailing address will not be printed, but the writer's town or village will be included with his or her name. Letters will be edited for grammar and spelling. Letters may be shortened without changing their meaning.

The editor has the right to reject any letter.

SANTA FE—Can Bill Clinton and Al Gore, Jr. win New Mexico?

This is the last week for state Democrats to fanticize about a big victory in November. Next week is the Republicans' turn for a national convention and they'll put on a great show—enough to make the nation forget about the Blues Brothers for several days.

Four years ago Democrats were talking victory at this time only to have it evaporate in the next few weeks under a withering assault of unanswered media attacks on their candidate Michael Dukakis.

That same Republican media assault will be back this year. Gone is the nasty Lee Atwater. But still around is his chief protege, Mary Matalin, who scripted those assaults four years ago.

And she's doing it again. Now with the title of deputy campaign manager, Matalin is churning out Clinton "bimbo alerts" and issuing press releases about "sniveling, hypocritical Democrats."

But this time Democrats have learned their lesson. They have employed James Carville, a media consultant and campaign strategist with as many rotten credentials as Matalin. At the Democratic National Convention Carville told state party chairmen, "When the Republicans start the b.s., we'll throw it right back." The crowd cheered.

Matalin and Carville are their parties' top negative campaigners. Carville, from Louisiana, is known as "the Ragin' Cajun." Matalin, who grew up on Chicago's tough South Side the daughter of a Yugoslavian immigrant, is called "the ragin' Croation." They don't come any meaner and nastier.

So what does this delightful situation hold for those who sit in front of their TV sets every night watching that trash?

My hope is that media attention to the highly successful art of negative campaigning will focus on the process rather than the substance of the ads. If the media does its job, the campaign style itself will become the subject of analysis.

In addition to media embarrassment that it hasn't probed negative campaigning before, another factor might help focus attention on this despicable feature of modern day politics. Matalin and Carville, the two hired guns, who'd like to rip each other's faces off, are privately lovers.

That's right, lovers. Not much has been said about it yet, but the affair has been going on since January 1991. The two reportedly hope to escape to Venice after the election and go to cooking school.

Neither William Shakespeare nor the creators of Hill Street Blues dared create a scenario that preposterous.

How can Matalin and Carville deal with such a bizarre relationship. Obviously both think of themselves as professional cut throats, just doing a job. Matalin says she has to "compartmentalize my sweet baby James from Carville the Ax-Murdering Consultant from Hell."

The Matalin/Carville romance may be exactly what the country needs to put negative campaigning in perspective. Despite their penchant for highlighting controversy, media analysts can't help but see the humor in a game of oneupmanship between Matalin and Carville.

Could the two top practitioners of negative campaigning have caused the end of their craft as we know it? That would be wonderful. But next week's episode is sure to have some more twists.

So much for the gossip. Back to Democrat presidential chances in New Mexico.

Not since Barry Goldwater got buried as badly as McGovern and Mondale have New Mexicans voted for a Democratic presidential candidate. That was 28 years ago. Since then the West has been a near-solid Republican presidential stronghold.

But Democratic national strategists are looking at New Mexico, as one of the few states where they might break into the West. And they're getting smarter.

This column carried an item from New York last month telling how convention delegate Carol Cloer from San Juan County warned the national campaign to listen to New Mexicans when deciding strategy for this state. Her example was the importance of making an appearance at the Navajo Nation Fair in September.

The Clinton campaign says it's taking a close look at doing just that.

Bonito Land Exchange Plans Will Continue

Cy Jamison, director of the Bureau of Land Management, said today he will allow the Roswell District to continue with certain administrative actions on the proposed Rio Bonito land exchange. On July 29, 1992, Jamison had put the exchange on hold until the BLM's resource management plan covering Lincoln County could be completed in late 1994.

In a memorandum to New Mexico State Director Larry Woodard dated Aug. 10, 1992, Jamison stated the Roswell District has resolved his concerns about the effect of the exchange on Lincoln County and the net gain of federal acreage in the county.

Under the Roswell District's proposal, Lincoln Valley Land Company, the proponent of the exchange, will make up the difference between property taxes Lincoln County would have collected on the land and the payments in lieu of taxes the BLM would pay to Lincoln County for the land until the resource management plan is completed. The Roswell District will simultaneously complete the resource management plan and begin the surveys needed for part of the BLM administered land in Lincoln County to be transferred to private ownership.

through either exchanges or sales. Additionally, BLM will immediately begin action to accommodate some private structures located on federal land by selling 160 acres of public land in Lincoln County to the affected private landowner at fair market value.

In the Rio Bonito Land Exchange BLM would acquire about 1,115 acres of land plus 330 acres of water rights from private owners in Lincoln County, near the village of Lincoln. In an exchange for land of equal value, approximately 36,719 acres of public land in Dona Ana, Otero, Sierra, Eddy, Chaves, San Juan and Valencia counties would be transferred to private ownership. All public land involved in the exchange had been previously identified in management plans as lands to be transferred from federal ownership.

The Lincoln County Board of Commissioners had opposed the exchange, protesting the action to Woodard and Jamison. Over the past months BLM's Roswell District had been negotiating with the Board to resolve their concerns. The Board's interim land use plan requires parity between federal and pri-

The Other Side

By Owen Russell

SANTA FE—I was busy counting my blessings the other day when I realized that, although I have two grandchildren who are fastly approaching puberty, I don't feel like a grandfather. I'm not sure how a grandfather is supposed to feel, but I certainly don't think of myself as fitting the stereotype I imagined when I was a grandchild. Grandfathers are supposed to be old and wise and grouchy, too fragile to play baseball, have teeth like stars (that come out at night), comb their hair with a washrag, and teach their grandchildren loathsome personal habits. Well, there are not many of those things that fit me. I may be loathsome and grouchy, but I have most of my teeth and hair. I am still fairly athletic, ugly doesn't make as much difference as it used to, and I'm not yet ready to sit on the porch and chew tobacco and whittle.

The one thing that I don't seem to have any desire for is to meddle in the lives of my children and grandchildren. They are fine to have around and I try to stay in contact with them on occasions, and I wouldn't trade them for anything, or at least, I haven't had an offer yet I felt was acceptable, but I just don't feel a desire to be involved in their world. My interests seem to be pretty self-centered, and I feel their's probably are, also. Somehow, I have just never had the paternal instinct to be possessive of my children. I raised them and now they can go their own way, and I can only hope I have prepared them to take care of themselves.

It seems to be a common idea that children are unconsciously thought of as being for their parent's benefit. You are proud when you have a baby, and my kids are going to be a credit to the family name, and I am going to enjoy my grandchildren in my elder years. All of these thoughts are commendable, but they all are also phrased in a selfish manner. You are not thinking about the welfare of your children but only are considering the benefits you can obtain from them. You have a life to live on your own and you should not structure it in anticipation of it fitting in with the life of your children after they have left the nest. This is not only destructive to your relationship with your children, but it is particularly harmful to your own well-being. I know a great many older people who have looked forward to spending their twilight years caring for and doing things with their children and have been sorely disappointed when their children rejected them. They have spent many years structuring their life on the false hope that they would be welcome in their children's homes and when they find the children are not overjoyed with the idea, they have no other interests developed to pass the time. Consequently, they wind up feeling helpless and left out. When people get to the point that they no longer feel useful, they die, so if you want to die, just keep trying to become a burden on your kids. And all of this because you still think your children were created for your amusement. Someday you will realize that your interests are not compatible with those of your children, who are at least twenty years younger and worlds apart from you.

I hope I get enough of this morbid conversation trend I have been in for the past few weeks pretty soon. It sure is a lot more fun to tell jokes. Which reminds me, have you heard the one . . . !

FACTS and FICTION

By BETTY JOINER

Lincoln County Pony Express Race, Aug. 1, 1992. Four teams entered; 1st place, Waasha-Tsitsi with the time of 1 hr. 38 min. and 25 sec., 2nd place, Hindi's Arabians, 1 hr. 42 min., 52 sec., 3rd place, Gachupin Team, 1 hr. 43 min., 13 sec. 4th place team, 1 hr., 52 min., 27 sec.

Ruth Birdsong and Merle White started the 24th annual pony express race at 8:00 sharp with a good start for all the riders. The cool overcast morning helped the riders set another record time. The 1993 calendar with mining stories is for sale at Birdsong's Crafty Cage or by writing to LC Pony Express Race, Box 803, Carrizozo. I sent out close to 420 letters all over the US with Texas, Mississippi and Oklahoma having the most. Belgium and Mexico were two foreign countries receiving the special postmarked letter.

The Little Britches Rodeo was fun with toe sack races, stick horse races and goat dressing. Grownups and kids both enjoyed the boot scramble. Jake and Josh Jones played the guitar and fiddle and Krystal Roybal sang several Spanish songs to the guitar music played by Jessie Cervantes. The Lincoln County Fair Queen Pee-Wee Coons awarded the saddle and other awards about 2 o'clock. The barbecue people from Clint, Texas served good barbecue and Snowball Prudencio from Hondo had the good hamburger stand for the two days. Ruth Birdsong would like to thank all the people who helped to keep this annual event going. Several different people came forward this year offering their help for the next year.

Lincoln County Fair, Aug. 4-8. Even though it didn't seem like as many exhibits as in the past years, the fair is always an interesting time of the year. Tammy Payne won the calve contest. Amanda Bird had several photographs of her. Dad and won the beef showmanship trophy. Troy Stone won the grand champion lamb and Brett Barham won the champion steer award. Brent Racher won the grand champion swine award.

The new pig pens built by Mike Gaines were put to good use with nearly a 100 pigs entered and lots of lambs, chickens and rabbits.

Hopefully next year some of the dates can be changed where everything won't be on the same weekend.

Lincoln Days, Aug. 7-9: Josh Jones, entered the fiddling contest on Saturday afternoon. He tied for 2nd place with Mark Poindexter of Highrolls in his age group.

Other winners were: Young-uns: 1st Ivan Brown, Lovington; 3rd Wesley Hall, Ruidoso. Middle-uns: 1st Valerie Caswell, Ruidoso.

Old-uns: 1st Jim Bright, Hot Springs, Ark.; 2nd Gene Brown, Roswell; 3rd John

Rhodes, Hagerman. A big crowd attended the pageant on Saturday night with cars parked a mile outside Lincoln. The parade held on Sunday at 11 a.m. with Sy and Ofelia Salas leading it was enjoyed by many locals and tourists. The LC Sheriffs Posse had 10 members riding and looked very good. Many buggies, horsebackers, fiesta dancers and others made for a fun parade.

The Wortley Hotel stayed busy feeding many people throughout the afternoon as did all the food booths. Prudencio's hamburgers were again very much in demand. Dave and Della Bonnell, Pat and I spent the afternoon enjoying the hot weather and listening to Dave and Vera Cooper talk about the good old days when they rode the schoolbus from Glencoe over to Capitan. They hadn't seen each other since they graduated. Lincoln is a great place to visit and one that still offers the old west to anyone visiting.

Fort Stanton News: Alex Trujillo is recuperating from a fall from a trampoline that left him with his leg broken in three different places. After surgery and five days in the Alamogordo hospital he hopes to be doing better. Watch those jumps Alex. Dub Holt is home after surgery on his feet. Progress is slow but Dub hopes to be well soon.

Robert Griego was happy to win a rifle at a shooting match he and his brother-in-law attended at Edgewood last week. Robert said over $500 in prizes were given to those attending.

Phil and Donna Keller enjoyed having Erin, her mother and several of her brothers and sisters here visiting them during the Lincoln Days.

Happy birthday to Jake Jones on his 14th birthday on Aug. 5. He enjoyed his special day with several friends and attended the Lincoln County Fair.

Lu and Gene Parker had their three sons and families visiting over the past weekend. David and family was the only one not making it. Lu took a week off.

Ranch Rodeo in Roswell: Bogle ranches had three teams participating in the ranch rodeo in Roswell last Saturday. Don Bogle, Eddie Davis, Waddie Hobbs and Dan Chavez won first in the penning event and won jackets. They were entered under the X team. The Mashed O Team and Turkey Tracks teams won first and second overall. A total of 11 teams were entered. A dance and awards were held there at the fair grounds at 9.

Postmasters to leave for Tennessee: Shirlene Fitzner, national editor of the Gazette will be leaving for the National Postmasters Convention to be held in Nashville, Tennessee on Aug. 22.

Capitan News

by Margaret Rench

Winnie Mae Hooker Hobbs was laid to rest at Ancho Cemetery, Aug. 8 at 2 p.m.

Surviving are her husband, Jack Hobbs, her mother, one daughter, and one brother. She will be missed by all. They lived in White Oaks.

The Hobbs Family Reunion was well attended the 7, 8, and 9th by around 200 relatives and friends. It was held at Coyote, N.M. hosted by Mr. and Mrs. Donald Hobbs. Thanks to the Curtis Payne band for the dance music. It all helped.

We learned that our special couple Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Pue are leaving Capitan. They are going to make their home in Roswell. We will miss them very much. Good luck the Pue's and may you enjoy your new home.

Welcome home from the hospital David Posley. Glad you are on the mend. We missed you!

Dr. Patricia Sullivan-Anderson of Omaha, Nebraska and daughter Katie are visiting Maureen Sullivan and Tom and Pat Sullivan.

Happy birthday to Alton Whitaker on Monday and congratulations and all those good wishes to a "real swell fall"! We all wish many, many more.

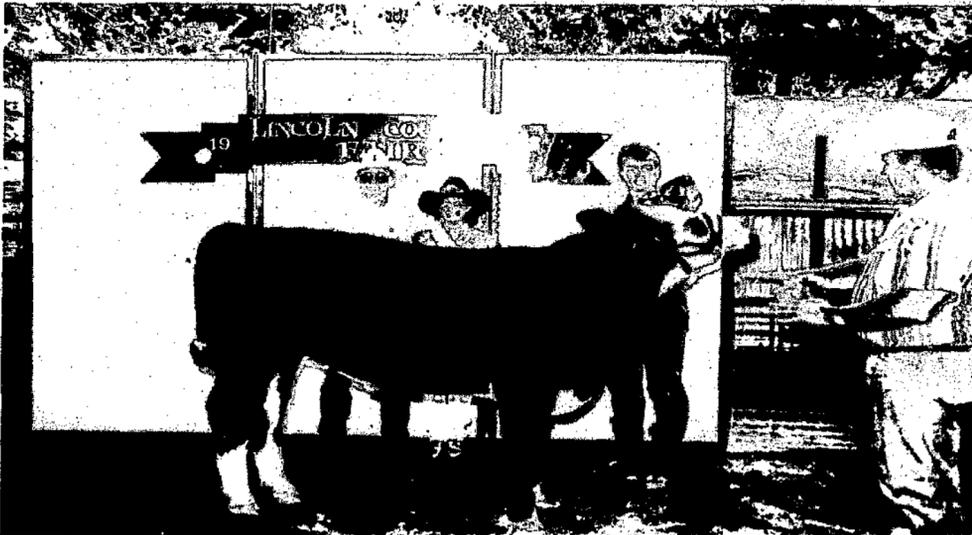

John Michael Sullivan and Jennifer White of Dallas, Texas were united in marriage Saturday, Aug. 8 in San Juan Baptist Episcopal Church in Lincoln, N.M.

Mike, as he has always been known in Capitan is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Sullivan. Both brothers, Paul and Brian were members of the wedding party. A reception followed at Tinnie's Silver Dollar Restaurant and the beautiful bride and handsome groom were radiant as they danced the first dance together and cut and served the wedding cake. We wish you both all the good things in life Mike and Jennifer and offer our heartiest congratulations.

Mrs. Becki Throop and her two sons Randy and Adam are visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Boudy. Becki and Randy and Adam live in Graham, Washington and certainly did enjoy Old Lincoln Days and the county fair.

Jace Anderson, of Omaha, Neb., joined his wife, Dr. Patricia Sullivan and daughter Katie and attended the Sullivan wedding. Dr. Sullivan is the daughter of Maureen Sullivan and sister of Tom Sullivan. They also think New Mexico is the "tops" and would love to live here.

Until next week happy thoughts to all.

Lincoln Traveling Lodge Exhibit Opens August 22

The Lincoln Traveling Lodge, sponsored by Carrizozo Lodge #41, A.F.&A.M., will have its grand opening August 22 in the old Lincoln County Courthouse in Lincoln, New Mexico. The traveling lodge room exhibit will be upstairs in the West Room as it was in the Murphy-Dolan Store. This could be the only traveling masonic lodge open to public viewing. New Mexico State Monuments is putting the exhibit together.

Masons will register at the LaPlacita Shop next to the tower from 7:30 a.m. to 9 a.m.

The grand opening begins at 9 a.m. in the Lincoln Park near the Dr. Woods Annex. There will be a flag ceremony and comments by Mac Page, Grand Master of Masons in New Mexico. Tom Carpenter, Director of the State Monument Division of the Museum of New Mexico, will also have comments. The opening ceremony will conclude with a ribbon cutting ceremony at the Courthouse Museum.

A barbecue, open to the public, will be served at noon at the pageant grounds. This will be followed at 1:30 p.m. by a talk on "Masons in early Lincoln County" by Herman Weisner, a Mason and Lincoln County war historian. All of these events are open to the public.

There will be an outdoor meeting (for masons only) of Carrizozo Lodge #41 at 3 p.m.

The elected officers of Carrizozo Lodge #41 are: worshipful master, Woodrow A. Schlegel; senior warden, Mike Shivers; junior warden, Barney Hicks; treasurer, W.W. Gallacher Jr.; secretary, J.S. Stearns. More information may be obtained by calling secretary Stearns at 648-2878. Carrizozo Lodge #41 was chartered on October 20, 1909.

The following is taken from the New Mexico Freemason. "In Freemasonry the highest honor is the bestowal of the Lambkin or White Leather Apron; the highest degree is the Sublime Degree of a Master Mason; the highest body is the Grand Lodge; the highest office is the Most Worshipful Grand Master; the highest privilege is to be accepted to Membership in a Lodge, and the highest duty is to live by the obligations and Principles of Freemasonry."—Bartley McDonough/Ralph Dunlap.

Ruidoso Says

hiring a firm to televise the lines to find weaknesses and damage.

A public hearing is set for September 8 at a regular council meeting concerning Ordinance 92-19. This ordinance has to do with renters being more liable for delinquent utility charges. The ordinance in effect transfers more responsibility from property owners to "principal occupants."

Mayor Alonso said that Paul Crown of Lincoln Cablevision is donating two telephone poles for use at the Civic Center. The mayor said that the new Civic Events Center has no sign identifying it as such. A banner or sign between the poles will so designate the center until a permanent sign can be placed on the property. It was suggested that two poles for the same purpose might be erected at the Y to advertise activities at the Civic Center.

In other action the council:

-Approved expenditures of $3,000 to continue with Phase I of the River Trail involving obtaining easements from property owners who have land adjacent to the Rio Ruidoso in midtown.

-Amended the 1992-93 budget to reflect a mill levy reduction put into effect by DFA in Santa Fe. The village was not notified that the debt service tax rate was reduced last year from 11.189 mills to 10.332 mills. That resulted in a total tax rate of 15.557 in fiscal year 1991-92 instead of 16.424.

The budget adjustment also includes hiring part time people to televise sewer lines, replacing a stolen sewer department generator, backhoe repair and bond reserve.

It also includes increase airport insurance costs totalling $460, adjustments involving sub-letting the gymnastics building, selling two firetrucks and purchasing a new cab and chassis and noting a carryover balance in lodger's tax funds of $55,826.

-Approved a picnic license for the Noon Lions Club for a cheese and wine tasting function at the Civic Center, August 28-30 during an Antique Show and Sale at the Civic Center.

-Okayed bid awards for obsolete computer equipment, approved a payment to Bradley Construction continuing work on the Civic Center, dealt with debris removal ordered at 103 Los Padres Circle in Forest Heights.

The council went into executive session at 10:30 p.m. No official action was taken in open session after the closed session.

Bonito Land

vate lands be maintained in the county.

BLM's current land use plan does not identify any lands for exchange or sale in Lincoln County. Previously, BLM accelerated its schedule to complete the new resource management plan in late 1994 to meet the needs of Lincoln County. Throughout the current planning process, BLM will continue to work with Lincoln County to ensure their concerns are addressed.

Lincoln Valley Land Company first proposed the exchange to BLM in September of 1990. Negotiations between Lincoln Valley Land Co. and BLM continued until October 22, 1991, when an agreement to exchange land was signed.

Telephone Service:
A True Value

John Van Tussenbroek
Local Manager

Recent statistics from the Department of Labor show that telephone service is one of the best values.

In the past five years, food and beverage costs have gone up over 23 percent, housing costs up over 21 percent, and medical care skyrocketed over 45 percent. During this same period, the cost of telephone service increased by little more than 3 percent nationwide.

At GTE, we're doing our best to make your telephone service an EXCELLENT VALUE.

At NMSU Regent's Summer Program

CARRIZOZO SCHOOLS CLIPBOARD

A weekly school column from Carrizozo Municipal Schools that serves as a bridge to parents, businesses and community groups who welcome knowing more about their school. News about student, staff, and board members will be highlighted.

—SCHOOL BELLS RING: Faculty and staff kick off a new school year on Friday, Aug. 14 with a breakfast prepared and served by Charlotte Emmons, cafeteria manager and assistant Sandra Jiron. With a good, hearty breakfast under their belts the educators head for meetings and room preparations. The students will converge on the campus bright and early Aug. 17. The teaching folks say, "This has been a long, slow, boring summer - NOT!"

A new school year brings in new faces. Carrizozo Schools welcome Ruby Armstrong, 6th grade; Veronica Baca, language arts and yearbook coordinator; Karen Brown, speech and language therapist; Richard Brown, music director; Paula Land, special ed/regular ed psychologist; Bryan Wetzel, 6th grade; Peter Aguilar, head junior high football coach; Candie Aguilar, 3-4 year old program aide; Carma Cookston, occupational therapist; Sandra Jiron, assistant cook and Jim Ann Rasco, nurse.

The '92-'93 school year brings change in positions and duties - Cheri Goad, 3-4 year old program; Wini Wilmore, 3rd grade; Linda Brown, attendance clerk/administrative secretary, Christetta Butts, administrative secretary; Polly Chavez, D.O.E. (Dept. of Energy) aide, yearbook darkroom specialist and photographer; Barbar Roper, Writing to Read program aide.

—GRIZZLY PRIDE: The new school year brings a new look to the interior of the high school building. Principal Joe Price's summer project involved re-painting the hall graphics. The walls now sport school colors. Meanwhile head custodian, Nat Chavez and his staff, Pat Jiron and Ralph Baroz are feverishly working to beat the calendar. The high school lockers have been moved and old carpet removed in preparation for new gray carpet. There have been several room changes in Manire and Clegg Hall buildings.

—JOIN FORCES: A determined Lincoln County Sheriff James McSwane approached county commissioners last Tuesday to present to them a contract which will enable his department to establish a school program to help battle the war on drugs. The elementary school curriculum is designed to teach about drugs and alcohol, the consequences of their use, and the skills necessary to resist the pressures to experiment with their use.

Carrizozo School gives full support to D.A.R.E. which aids children in saying "No" to drugs and alcohol. (D.A.R.E. is an acronym for Drug Abuse Resistance Education.) When an earlier request to seek a budget increase to implement the program did not materialize, McSwane sought the help of the Regional Cooperative Center IX based in Ruidoso. Result? A grant that will provide a salary for an officer who is scheduled to attend a seminar in Roswell.

The joint agreement between Carrizozo Schools and the Sheriff's Department will focus on providing accurate information about drug and alcohol; teaching student decision-making skills; showing children how to resist peer pressure; and giving children ideas for alternatives to drug use.

—FFA UPDATE: Superintendent Jimmie Banks and Principal Joe Price took their turns flipping burgers on a brand new double gas and charcoal grill. Harvey Roco designed and built the grill especially in time for the yearly fund raising event. Roco expressed gratitude to the administrative duo help as well as to the following: board member Gary Hightower and his entire family; board member Jan Barham and son Brett; Martha Bond and daughter Debbie; teacher Ginger Shafer and niece Keri and FFA member Lee Greer. Rose was appreciative of the cooperation for supplies and food at King's Food Mart and for the propane tank donated to the chapter by Doris Maxwell.

FFA'er and '92 grad Brett Barham has souvenirs of this year's fair - as usual; ribbons for swine, reserve champion; steer, grand champion; the Swine Showmanship award and the Jim Racher traveling trophy.

—ART ACHIEVEMENT: Twenty-eight art students from Carrizozo had their art judged at the fair. The two top blue ribbon first place winners were Mike Fee, champion and Joel Leslie, reserve champion. Fee also was awarded a gift certificate for a restaurant meal. Other first winners were Cara Baker, Nicholas Morero, Michelle Samora, Cheri Sanchez and Lee Sumpter.

Work of other artists that caught the judges' eye: in second place - Mary Beth Bond, John Green, Matthew Hernandez, Ryan Roper, in third place - Meghan Booty, Annie Green, Renee Rael, Katie Ventura; and last but not least, in fifth place Bud Hammond.

—CARE CONNECTION: Another school year brings excitement to students but sometimes with it comes tough decisions to make. Carrizozo Schools will again offer the I Care Hotline (ICH), available 24 hours a day, 7 days a week. Students who need someone to share their thoughts and concerns will have someone to talk to who is trained. The ICH is a crisis intervention program designed as a communication assistance service. As part of the service, through music and inspirational stories, students are reminded weekly that ICH is available to them regardless of the problem. Topics on tape vary: physical abuse, boy/girl problems, friendship, self-esteem, grades, family problems and much more.

—MUY BUENO: Kay Patterson, volleyball coach recently returned from Lobo Volleyball Team Camp beaming with enthusiasm for the upcoming season. Her girls had plenty of playing time and did "an excellent job." All her Grizzlies played varsity level even though four girls did not have that much varsity experience. The four-day camp in the Duke City August 1-4 was attended by Natalie Chavez, Julie Barham, Yvonne Estrella, Amy and Sarah Funk and Lynnette Hernandez. Other team members were unable to attend due to work, family vacations and other commitments.

Individual clinic at Ruidoso High School was attended by 8th graders Julie Barham and Katie Hightower and 9th grader Debbie Bond. The event featured Norm Brandle, UTEP head coach of the Lady Miner Volleyball Team. Outstanding players on the Miners assisted Brandle in skill teaching to the Zozo girls.

—JOIN HANDS: Local ministry representatives met with Banks and Price at the Methodist church to discuss common concerns - youth. Church heads were Virgil Ashcraft, Evangelistic Assembly; Dave Bergs, Santa Rita Catholic community; Thomas C. Broom, Trinity United Methodist Church; John Johnson, Carrizozo Community Church; Hayden Smith, First Baptist Church and Paul Wetzel, Church of Christ. In cooperation with Banks and Price the ministers will spearhead a project that will benefit Carrizozo students - teen gatherings at the Rec Center following home games.

Polly Chavez is the Carrizozo School news coordinator.
