County trash was officially turned over to the Lincoln County Solid Waste Authority Tuesday.

Lincoln County Commissioners approved a joint powers agreement with the authority which will assume the responsibility of collection, transportation and disposal of trash generated by county residents. The Lincoln County Solid Waste Authority (LCSWA) was given the power to develop and implement a plan for the disposal system and to collect fees.

The county was the last entity of the LCSWA to approve the agreement. Currently, the county is contracted with Southwest Disposal Corp. of Alamogordo, which requires a 30-day termination notice. Carrizo and Corona, also members of LCWSA, are still bound to Southwest Disposal contracts until their terms expire.

County manager Andy Wynham expressed his appreciation for the agreement because the county is soon to run out of money in its special account in the general fund which finances the current "free" dumpster system. He predicted the transition from the private vendor to LCSWA for trash collection will go smoothly, since he has been in contact with the company. The transition for some of the LCSWA entities was not so smooth. Wynham was to contact Southwest and give them the county's 30-day notice.

Commission chairman Stirling Spencer said he "drug his feet" in approving the agreement with LCSWA to assure county citizens get proper service from LCSWA. Once the county was handed over, it hasn't much pull except through its two members on the authority board. "I used this as a lip jerker until I was happy with the services to the county," Spencer said.

Commissioners also signed a joint powers agreement for billing for solid waste collections. This will be the first time county residents will be charged for trash collection. Bills of $5.25 a month per household will be mailed to county residents to pay for the costs of purchase, installation and collections of dumpsters in 70 sites around the county.

LCSWA manager Gene Green explained the 70 sites will consist of one or more dumpsters and can be changed if needed in the future. Most sites will be on dedicated county roads or on private property where owners will sign agreements to allow the dumpsters a space in exchange for the collection fee.

Some 20 sites will be in the Ruidoso area subdivisions; nine (SEE PAGE 2)

Polling Places Designated

Lincoln County Commissioners designated 16 polling places for the upcoming Nov. 3 general election at their Tuesday meeting.

Lincoln County Clerk Martha Proctor presented a resolution which designated the polls, including four which were relocated from their previous places to provide better access for persons with physical mobility limitations. Precinct #4 poll, formerly at the Angus School House, was moved to the Otero County Electric Co-op building on Highway 48 on Angus Hill. Voters in Precinct #6, who went to the White Mountain School before, will cast their ballots at Ruidoso Civic Center. Precinct #7 poll also will be at the Ruidoso Civic Center. Voters had previously gone to the county sub office.

Precinct #11 poll will be at Ruidoso Downs Senior Citizens Center. It was relocated from Ruidoso Downs Village Hall.

All other polls will remain the same locations as the primary election. Precinct #1 Corona Village Hall; Precinct 2A Lincoln County Courthouse Carrizozo, 2B Nogal Fire Station; Precinct #3 Lincoln County Fair Building Capitan; Precinct #5 Bonito Fire Station Sun Valley; Precinct #8 Ruidoso Middle School; Precinct #9 Ruidoso Public Library; Precinct #10 Ruidoso Downs Senior Citizens Center; Precinct #12A St. Jude's Parish Hall San Patricio, 12B Hondo School, 12C Old Capitan City Hall; Precinct #13 Carrizozo School; Absentee Precinct Lincoln County Courthouse in Carrizozo.

For the first time in 30 years, Lincoln County voters will not cast ballots on the lever machines. Due to the 10 presidential candidates on the ballot, voters will make their selections on paper ballots. The mechanical lever machines will accommodate only nine candidates in any position.

In order to make the counting of votes quicker and easier for poll workers, Proctor has leased several OpTech machines which will count the

Lack Of Quorum Hinders Board

Now is a crucial time for the Lincoln County Solid Waste Authority, which has the opportunity to fulfill its original goal of obtaining a landfill.

But the love affair with the countywide trash government has worn off. And with LCSWA going to the negotiation table with Alamogordo and Otero County on a regional landfill, there is an urgent need to have votes electronically. Commissioners approved a contract with Rick Emmons to serve as OpTech technician. He will be responsible for programming, clearing, inspecting and repairing the machines. He also will be on standby on election day (SEE PAGE 12) members willing to attend those crucial regional meetings.

Five members of LCSWA showed up for the regularly scheduled meeting Monday in Ruidoso Downs, one short of a quorum, and thus no work was accomplished. The same thing happened in Tularosa Thursday, Oct. 15, when a few LCSWA members met with offi-

First Place Award For News Reporter

A dangerous intersection in Carrizozo and the effects of the state's Anti-donation clause were enough to get Lincoln County News reporter Doris Cherry busy calling people and writing investigative stories last spring.

And enough to gain the top prize in investigative reporting for Class II weeklies (circulation under 3,000) from the New Mexico Press Association.

The award was announced at the New Mexico Press Association annual convention last week in Albuquerque.

The intersection of Highway 54 and 380 in Carrizozo has been the scene of numerous accidents, some resulting in injuries to those involved. Appeals from the Town Council and police to install a traffic light or some other measure to make traffic take notice of the intersection resulted in limited action on the part of the state highway department.

After the article appeared, the highway department installed several signs warning motorists about the intersection.

The anti-donation clause of the New Mexico Constitution is seen by some as a way to protect the public's money, and by others as a hindrance to economic development. (SEE PAGE 4)

Two Fatalities In County This Week

Two persons died in Lincoln County within the week.

James A. Mansfield, 66, of Capitan, died Monday after a feeder he had moved with a loader fell and crushed him underneath.

Lincoln County Sheriff's office received a call at 8:59 a.m. Monday, Oct. 19, from Mansfield's wife that a tractor accident occurred at the Brazel/Pixie Arthur Ranch south of Capitan. Two deputies were dispatched and Fort Stanton ambulance. When the deputies arrived they found Mansfield pinned under the feeder.

The deputies moved the feeder and administered CPR. Capitan ambulance arrived and transported the man to Lincoln County Medical Center in Ruidoso where he was pronounced dead.

After an investigation, the deputies deemed the death an accident. Medical Investigator Jim Stover later came to the scene for an investigation.

At 8:43 p.m., Oct. 17, James

M. Napier, 43, of Alamogordo was killed after he was ejected from his vehicle on Highway 70, near Hondo. According to state police, Napier was west bound when his vehicle struck a delineator pole, causing him to lose control of the vehicle. He was ejected from the vehicle, which left the roadway and came to rest eastbound, north of the highway. Napier was pronounced dead at the scene and his body was taken to LaGrone's Funeral Home in Ruidoso.

C'zozo School Board Sets Goals For '92-93

By RUTH HAMMOND

The Carrizozo School Board decided on their goals for the coming year during their regular meeting Oct. 20.

Board chairman Gary Hightower said, "One of the main duties as a school board is to set some goals."

During the 20-minute discussion about school board goals, the board referred to their own individual suggestions by number instead of what the specific goals were. The only goal mentioned was to have driver's education and it was not clear if that will be one of the nine goals determined by the board.

Hightower said he had hoped to have the goals put in the board member's packets to review at the meeting.

The nine goals were not announced and will not be publicized until the school publishes their report in the News sometime before Nov. 15.

An hour discussion was held on advisory committees which were established when Danny Burnett was school superintendent. The advisory committees are in the board policy.

Committee chair people were assigned and committee members are volunteers. Two non-certified committee members had asked if they would be paid at the rate of time and a half for their time spent in committees. Committee meetings (SEE PAGE 3)

Don't Lock Gates On County Roads

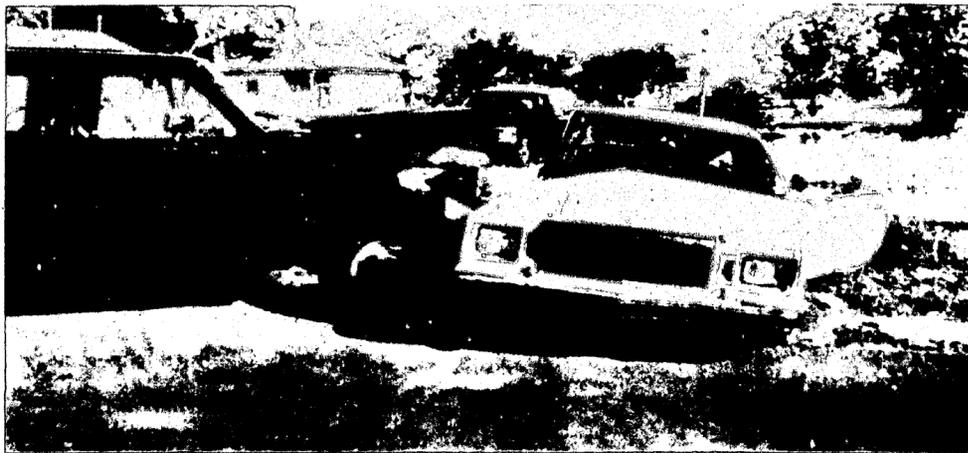

Persons who put locks on gates across county roads should be aware those roads might be closed.

Lincoln County Road Manager Bill Cupit told county commissioners Tuesday that he is instructing his staff to report county roads with locked gates. The locks will be photographed, then Cupit will request the commissioners close the roads, which means they could no longer be maintained by the county.

By law, any road classified as a county road, and which is receiving county maintenance, must be kept open. While gates are acceptable, those may not be locked.

Cupit said several county roads have been locked since the hunting seasons began.

EILEEN LOVELACE received minor injuries when the car she was driving was hit in the side at the intersection of 11th St. and C Ave. in Carrizozo early Thursday morning, Oct. 15. Her car was totaled. Dale Mitchell, driver of the pickup, was not injured.

sites on the west side of the county; 24 in Alto, Angus, Capitan area and north on Pine Lodge Road; 17 sites in the Hondo Valley. The dumpsters will be serviced by the five collection trucks owned by LCSWA.

Green said three sites in San Patricio, Carrizozo and Eagle Creek Sports Complex, have been proposed for collection of white goods (old appliances, furniture and other non-household trash) and demolition waste. That waste will be hauled to the Capitan landfill.

Negotiations are ongoing with the New Mexico State Highway Dept. for locating dumpsters within highway rights of way. However, many of the highways involve federal highway funds and permission for dumpsters within the rights of way must come from Washington D.C. as well as Santa Fe.

The county road department was committed to help upgrade the dumpster sites on a limited basis. Any extraordinary costs to upgrade the sites will be paid by LCSWA.

County residents who own more than 300 contiguous acres may "opt" out of the collection fee, by applying for a variance. Green has only approved two or three variances, but he predicted more will be submitted after people receive their first bill.

Spencer was insistent that all county resident be serviced, including those in isolated, distant areas. Green said he plans to keep some of the dumpsters at the LCSWA yard in Ruidoso Downs, to fill unseen needs.

"I know there will be some shifting around," Green said. Anyone seeing a need for a dumpster or who has a suggestion about a dumpster site can contact the LCSWA office in Ruidoso Downs at 878-4697.

Commissioners also approved a resolution which will rededicate the environmental gross receipt taxes which had been pledged to pay for the acquisition of assets for LCSWA. The authority now has the opportunity to become partners in a regional landfill with the newly formed Otero County Solid Waste Authority and the City of Alamogordo. However, it needs some collateral to use to negotiate that partnership. It is estimated that the total collections of the special tax in Lincoln County will be nearly equal to that collected in Alamogordo.

Commissioner Bill Elliott said LCSWA is the first such group in the state and the fact that it soon will join with OCSWA is very historical. "It's very difficult to get entities together as there is always a turf problem."

Wynham was appointed to replace Spencer as one of the county's two members on the LCSWA board.

Also at the meeting Tuesday, sheriff James McSwane presented a proposed resolution for a budget adjustment, and budget justifications which would allow him to hire a records coordinator. McSwane showed where he could take funds by deleting the civil processor; deleting the female transport officer; reduction of hours of the three part-time dispatchers; cutting back on office supplies, maintenance of vehicles, fuel, equipment rental and uniforms in order to provide $11,117 for the records coordinator.

McSwane said he needs a records coordinator to help monitor grants and be a receptionist in the Carrizozo sheriff's office. McSwane turned the jail over to the county commissioners two months ago, citing problems budgeting the jail. Commissioners, in order to hire another jailer, cut the funding for the records coordinator. McSwane had said two-thirds of the coordinator's time was occupied with jail documentation.

After McSwane presented his justifications commissioners denied his request.

In other business, commissioners:

—referred Jerry Deal's request for final plat approval of his River's Edge Subdivision back to the county Planning and Zoning because of questions whether the subdivision will be developed in one or two units.

—directed county road manager Bill Cupit, county attorney Robert Beauvais and county road review committee member Bill Rawlins return with a specific proposed policy which will allow the county to do limited maintenance on private roads which are school bus routes.

—proclaimed the week of Oct. 18-23 Lincoln County School Bus Safety Week, and showed their appreciation and support for the 48 Lincoln County school bus drivers who safely transport over 3,000 students over 564,000 miles a year. Take a few minutes and say "thank you" to a school bus driver.

—awarded the annual concrete supply for Carrizozo District #2 to Carrizozo Ready Mix (Gary Lovelace) for $80 a cubic yard within 10 miles of city limits.

—gave final acceptance to roads in the Mountain Lake Subdivision, based on recommendations from Cupit. Elliott insisted the county contract an engineer to "sign off" on such projects, rather than leaving it to the county road manager.

—tabled a request from Fred Pfingsten to reopen .8 mile of County Road C-019 until the Nov. 6 meeting.

—approved the emergency management budget from EMS Director Maggi Bohke.

—accepted the contract agreement with J.M. Brooks for an addition to the Hondo Valley Fire Dept. with a retainage of five percent as allowed by state procurement code.

—okayed the contract to provide $1,050 for library service for the bookmobile with the New Mexico State Library.

—approved a resolution with amendment which gives support of sponsoring the 1994

Governor's Rural Economic Development Forum. Economic Development Corporation of Lincoln County director Karen Kopp said her group is seeking to have the forum at the Ruidoso Civic Center. The resolution originally sought financial support also, but that was deleted because it would bind future commissions. Kopp was told to return for financial support if the forum is to be held in Ruidoso.

—appointed Gary Rue of Ruidoso Downs and Molly Mason of Capitan to the Lincoln County Fair Board. Rue will serve until 1993 and Mason until 1994.

—tabled the appointment of member-at-large on the Lincoln Historic Preservation Board until it is resolved whether to retain the Certified Local Government status which requires seven members.

—signed an agreement with Otero County Mental Health Association to provide $10,000 in exchange for mental health counseling services for county residents.

—heard acting Zia Senior Citizens Center director Cheryl LaBelle thank Wynham and county clerk Martha Proctor for their explanation of the county's senior citizens center budget. LaBelle presented a card, signed by several seniors at the Carrizozo Center, to Proctor. She said in her more than six years with the centers she had never seen the budget presented where the seniors could understand it. "It really made a difference," she said. The presentation helped the seniors realize the county's needs and budget constraints.

—met in closed session for personnel and possible pending litigation.

St. Jude's Mission Fiesta

Everyone is invited to take part in two days of prayer, song, and dance to celebrate the 25th Anniversary of the first mass celebrated at St. Jude's Mission.

Fiesta schedule: Saturday, Oct. 24 will include Fiesta Mass at 8:30 p.m. at which time the Fiesta Queen will be crowned. The two fiesta Queen candidates are Vanessa Salcido, granddaughter of Ms. Elvira Salcido and Tara Richardson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Richardson. Fiesta Queens and Kings from the past will also be recognized and honored. A procession will follow in honor of St. Jude, the Patron Saint. The Coronation Dance (live music) at St. Jude's center begins immediately after Mass and the procession.

Sunday, Oct. 25 live entertainment will begin at 10 a.m. with dancers (Roswell group), the Hondo Fiesta Dancers and singing. There will be a horseshoe tournament, cakewalk, dinner, turkey bingo and fun and games for all. We will end our celebration with the drawing for raffle prizes.

Pony Express Work Day Is A Success

The first Pony Express work day was a success. Demolition of the White Oaks arena was started to make way for a new arena with the consent of owner Ken Crenshaw.

Workers included Karen Mills, Gwen Myers, Richard and Matthew Daniel, Debbie Woods, Gary Niederstadt, Marcos Barela, Scott Annala, and Lisa Crenshaw Vega.

Carrizozo Chamber Officers Elected

Carrizozo Chamber of Commerce elected its 1993 officers at the October 13 meeting.

Recommended by the chamber nominating committee, members unanimously elected Mary Lou Webster president, Glen Ellison vice president, Hal Marx recording secretary, Patsy Serna treasurer and Doris Cherry corresponding secretary.

The officers will be installed at the November meeting, set for noon Tuesday, November 10 at the Carrizozo Airport Terminal.

Dues are due, and reminders will be mailed to current members, both private and businesses. Individual memberships are $10 a year and businesses $40. First time business memberships are $20.

Cans to take donations for Christmas lights, with a goal of purchasing lights for the Fred Chavez park area next year, will be placed in United New Mexico Bank, Ruidoso State office and other locations throughout town after Halloween. The chamber is in need of coffee cans, either regular or large size, for the donation cans. Bring the cans to the news office before Halloween.

Bank, Roy's Gift Gallery, Fina, Four Winds, Kings Food Mart, Sturges Venture Market, Pueblo Video, Lincoln County News

A get well card for ailing Ralph Forsythe was signed by all members.

are to be held as needed and the board thought the committee members would not ask for pay to attend the committee meetings.

The board announced the reason for the committees is for better communication and if the staff does not want the committees they would "do away with them."

Hightower also said that teachers will not be open with the principal or the school board because the teachers know their individual teacher evaluations are "over their head."

The budget committee may have a difficult time this year. The new funding formulas will have three different unit rates paid to schools. Each school will be assessed individually as to which formula will be used and one man will make those decisions on a school by school basis.

Regional workshops will be held to train administrators in the new funding formula.

Superintendent Jimmie Banks told the board the school count on the 40th day was 228 1/2, down from the projected 237 students. This will have little effect on the school budget because funding is calculated on units and the school has the required units.

De'Aun Willoughby presented the school audit. Last year the school had $106,000 more in revenues than expenditures and ended the year with $169,000. She suggested the school request additional security from the bank in order to have deposits 100 percent secured.

Willoughby commented that the community supports the school because of the $45,000 students raised during the year.

Vo-ag teacher Dale Mitchell reported to the board that the $551.90 the FFA members raised at the fair will be used for FFA activities such as expenses for the trip to Kansas City, judging contest trips, FFA materials and manuals, and scrapbooks, etc.

The board approved the date of May 19, 1993 for baccalaureate next year for the graduation announcements that are now being printed out of town. Attendance by seniors at the baccalaureate is a voluntary activity.

The cafeteria health inspection was good.

The school received a letter from the New Mexico Public Insurance Authority offering to pay the school $105,046 for hail damage to the school roofs. The board agreed to accept the offer which is near replacement cost.

The board agreed to pay $200 for a team of experts from the New Mexico School Boards Association to review the school personnel policy.

A proclamation for Oct. 25-31 to be designated as Red Ribbon Week for Drug Free Schools was approved.

The board rejected the bids for construction work for compliance with the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) and will consider re-bidding the entire package or bidding the work in sections to give local people an opportunity to bid on portions of the work.

The next school board meeting will be Nov. 17 at 6 p.m. The earlier time was set because of daylight savings time.

McCreight Attends Aging Workshop

Lincoln County Home Economist Betty McCreight attended a "Meeting the Challenges of Aging Workshop" in Clovis Oct. 14. The workshop was sponsored by New Mexico Cooperative Extension Service and Western Rural Development Center and was held in conjunction with the Curry County Extension Homemakers meeting.

Darlens Dickson, Curry County Home Economist, was the Curry County Extension Homemakers representative who helped sponsor the workshop. In addition to McCreight from Lincoln County, Home Economists from four other counties attended: Joy Best from Roosevelt County, Rosalva Medina from Eddy County, Brenda Bishop from Quay County, and Ruth Jones from Lea County.

The workshop was presented by Dr. Vicki Schmall, Ph. D. - Gerontologist working with Oregon State University Extension Service.

The purpose of the workshop was to educate participants on aging issues and to provide an opportunity for practitioners in the aging field and Extension personnel to collaborate on programming.

The seven topics were: The Challenges of Aging in the 1990s; Loss and Grief in Later Life; Working with Older Adults; Working with Families of Older Adults; Overview of Resources on Aging Issues; dealing with Memory Impaired Elders; and Collaboration Among Participants.

Al's Musings

By AL STUBBS

You've got to give her credit. Most people 80 years old would prefer to rest on their laurels and sit by the fire. Not Ruidoso village councillor Barbara Duff. The Culppepper & Merriweather Circus came to town, Tuesday, and Duff was determined to be a part of it.

She announced early-on that she would be riding an elephant into the ring as their 5:30 performance started. Over in Alamogordo, people were riding camels and ostriches as a "Sun-bird" promotion. We doubt if any of the riders in Otero County were 80 years old. Barbara Duff is an octogenarian.

Not only did Duff plan to ride the elephant, she talked fellow councillor Frank Cummins into doing the same thing at the 7:30 performance. Bravo! Frank isn't anywhere near 80 years old.

Another Ruidoso citizen who is going strong at 80 is former councillor, Al Junge. He used to give this newspaperman a hard time a few years ago when we headed up the editorial staff as editor at the Ruidoso News. What he really wanted was for the editor to hire a $60,000 investigative reporter. There is no way a weekly newspaper can afford such as that.

Well, Junge and this editor have become fast friends in recent months. He retains his interest in many affairs of village and regional government. We admire such enthusiasm in octogenarians. (that's not a bad word.) Bravo.

Another octogenarian you have to admire is Dan Storm who is a few years past 80, but who is everywhere in the county, it seems. He must attend every funeral in the county, writing interesting background in detail. He is a friend to everyone. Would that we can be as active at his age! Bravo.

A power in her church, Hazel Kennedy, is considerably over 80. We took a photo of her when she obtained her driver's license when she was 90. Hazel says she will join the senior citizens group when she gets to be a senior citizen. She is only 92. In addition to being active at the First Methodist Church, her daughter, Corinne Swearingin says Hazel is active in the Woman's Club, Garden Club, Ruidoso Care Center Auxiliary, she is a lifetime member of the Lincoln County Hospital Auxiliary. Incidentally, we had to go to church to find out that Corinne and Dan Swearingin celebrated their 45th wedding anniversary, Sunday.

Dan told the congregation when reporting a "joy" that he and Corinne were wed in the very same Methodist Church in 1947. Swearingin along with Bill Hart and a few others are real old timers in Ruidoso.

LETTERS POLICY

Letters to the editor of the Lincoln County News are encouraged. Each letter must be signed and must include the writer's telephone number and address. The phone number and mailing address will not be printed, but the writer's town or village will be indicated with his or her name. Letters will be edited for grammar and spelling. Letters may be shortened without changing their meaning. The editor has the right to reject any letter.

Double Bravo Hazel Kennedy.

Judge Jim Wheeler isn't 80, but he'll probably feel 80 years old Saturday night after the Ruidoso Evening Lions Club "roasts" the popular magistrate. Proceeds from this event will go to provide scholarships for high school students. Lion L. Ray Nunley gets a gleam in his eye when he talks about the roast. Wonder what he's up to? We recall he did a number on Bones Wright some time ago during a roast. The last person to be roasted was Dr. R. L. Annala, another Lincoln County old timer who isn't 80 as yet.

Enough of age. You'll be voting with paper ballots November 3, so be prepared to spend some time in the voting booth. Lines will be long because of the nine or so candidates for president, several bond issue proposals and constitutional amendments. People over 65 and other people with good reason can vote absentee. Pick up applications for absentee ballots at the county sub-station near village hall in Ruidoso or obtain ballots at the county clerk's office. It's the quick, efficient, easy way to vote. If you're over 80 or even younger, your legs get tired standing in line. Make it easy on yourself.

Tax Bills To Be Delivered By Halloween

Lincoln County property owners will soon receive their 1992 tax bills.

Lincoln County Treasurer Janice Ware and staff will be sending out 25,151 tax statements within a week. The bills will be heat sealed next Tuesday and then be put into the mail within two days, Ware told Lincoln County Commissioners at their meeting Tuesday in Carrizozo.

By law, the tax bills have to be in the mail by November 1. This year valuations are up in nearly all school districts and tax rates are down in all districts.

The Treasurer is charged to collect a total of $8,698,472.17 for 1992. Tax payments are due, paid in full or the first half, by Nov. 10 and become delinquent Dec. 11. The second half of the taxes will become due by April 10, 1993 and delinquent by May 11, 1993.

There are $1,004,889.11 in delinquent taxes from 1988-1991 yet to be collected.

The tax bills will be in the same form used last year. The form is easy to read and is understandable to the public. Ware received many favorable comments about the form, used for the first time last year. It also saved Ware's office money over the form used previously.

Health Office Closed Friday

The Lincoln County Public Health Division offices in the courthouse in Carrizozo and the county sub-office in Ruidoso will be closed on Friday, Oct. 23. Nurse Theresa Luna and staff will be attending a training session.

Luna said regular office hours will resume next week.

Inside The Capitol

by Jay Miller

SANTA FE—On Election Day '92 half New Mexico's counties will be back on the paper ballot.

And it won't be just the small counties where voters will take their pencils to the polls. Some of the more populous ones such as Chaves and Eddy will be using paper ballots.

The problem was created by an overly large number of political parties that met New Mexico's easy criteria for getting on the ballot. Slightly over 2,000 signatures are all it took this year to qualify a minor political party for the ballot—that's one-half of one percent of the votes cast for governor in 1990.

The only catch is that the eight minor parties that made it on this year's ballot must poll one-half of one percent of either this year's presidential vote totals in the state or one-half of one percent of the governor's race vote in 1994.

If everyone who signed a petition to get a minor party on the ballot then voted for the party's candidate, the party could stay on the ballot. But it doesn't usually happen that way.

In the last presidential election five minor parties qualified for the ballot. Only one, the Libertarian Party, polled enough votes to qualify for this year's ballot. None of the other four minor parties ran any candidates in the 1990 elections. So of the eight minor parties on this year's ballot, seven are new.

The ballot also has to have room for H. Ross Perot, who doesn't have an official party. That means a voting machine must be able to accommodate 11 positions in order to be able to handle the presidential race.

Lever machines, still in use in 13 counties in the state, can handle only nine rows. So those 13 counties are having to rent machines that tally paper ballots.

State Bureau of Elections Chief Hoyt Clifton says this won't be like the oldtime elections at which paper ballots were stuffed into a box and counted by hand. No siree, there are now machines that will count those paper ballots and do it faster than lever machines can.

Clifton says this year's paper ballots will look very much like the absentee ballots that are now being used. Instead of marking an "X," voters complete the missing part of an arrow that points to their candidate.

The paper ballot system works well, according to Clifton. Three counties, including high-tech Los Alamos, had already purchased the system prior to the current ballot problem arising.

Maybe some of the counties renting the paper ballot systems this year will like them well enough to stick with them. Don't you suppose some voting machine salesman had already thought of that angle.

As both Republicans and Democrats woo Perot to throw his support their way, another thought is crossing the minds of the major parties and their incumbent candidates. If Perot is a serious contender on election day, voters who punch his button, pull his lever, or fill in his arrow will be less likely to return to traditional voting patterns further down the ballot.

That means a lot more incumbents are likely to lose than were already on their way out. We could end up with enough incumbents being defeated this year that term limit proposals may lose some of their lustre.

New Name For Health Program For Children

SANTA FE—The name of a Medicaid health program for children has been changed in an effort to promote its use. Early Periodic Screening Diagnostic Treatment (EPSDT) has been replaced by "Tot to Teen Healthcheck." The change is linked to New Mexico Outreach, a collaborative prenatal and child health campaign.

"We found most people didn't recognize or understand EPSDT," said Bruce Weydemeyer, director of the state Human Services Department's Medicaid program. "Tot to Teen Healthcheck is a consumer-friendly name that will be easier to sell."

If a family qualifies for Medicaid, healthchecks under the program are free for children up to age 20. Physical exams, immunizations, hearing and vision testing, eyeglasses, lab tests, growth and development tests, hearing aids and help with transportation are all covered. Caseworkers at HSD income support offices will soon begin telling clients about the service under the new name.

"We will be stressing how important it is that children receive check ups and immunizations regularly and that this is a good prevention program," Weydemeyer said.

The program recommends babies start getting screenings at two months of age. Dental care is also provided and it is advised that children see a dentist beginning at age three. Teenagers should be seen by a medical professional at 14, 16, 18 and 20 years old.

So why is a financially strapped program like Medicaid promoting one of its services? Part of it is a federal mandate that will require 80 percent of all Medicaid eligible children to receive an appropriate number of health exams by 1995. Currently only 28 percent are participating in screenings. Another is prevention. Weydemeyer said no matter how healthy a child may seem, some things need to be checked by a healthcare professional. Sometimes children are too young to tell parents when they are sick or a problem is too small to be noticed.

"This is one way to keep a child healthy," he said. "A simple healthcheck can detect illnesses early on that otherwise would end up costing the Medicaid program a lot more. Immunizations are one of cheapest and most effective methods of preventing disease."

Anyone interested in receiving Tot to Teen Healthchecks must first be eligible for Medicaid. To apply they should make an appointment at their local HSD income support office. For more information call 1-800-552-8195.

Cherry's development. Cherry's article explored how the anti-donation clause directly affected an appointed commission in the village of Ruidoso and prevented the Village of Capitan from providing money for prizes at the local county fair.

Entries in this year's New Mexico Press Association contest were judged by members of the South Dakota Newspaper Association. Cherry has been reporter for Lincoln County News since September 1989 and continues to be reporter for the weekly paper which was established in 1905 and is still located in the Lincoln County seat—Carrizozo.

Cherry has a degree in journalism from New Mexico State University. She covered county commissioners and Capitan Village and school board for Lincoln County News from 1978-80, was a correspondent for Roswell Daily Record, and was also reporter/photographer for Ruidoso News in 1985-86 and 1988-89. While with the Ruidoso News she received honorable mention for a photo series from New Mexico Press Association.

Cherry is married and has three children. She really enjoys her job with the weekly Lincoln County News and considers it the best of two worlds, because it allows her time enough to be mom, and news reporter.

The Other Side

By Owen Russell

In spite of myself, I have been watching the Presidential Debates for the past couple of weeks and am now well informed on those issues which the candidates are willing to discuss, which aren't very many, but do bring a few thoughts to mind.

Bozo: An interchangeable term applicable to clowns in general. Also, an individual suffering from a congenital osteo-ranial deformity who disagrees with your unimpeachable conclusion, as in "Even if that bozo had the IQ of an Einstein, he would still be a bonehead."

Intellectual Gridlock: No one can say anything that makes sense.

Bush: Endowed with Ideological Gridlock.

Clinton: Epitomizes concept of Philosophical Gridlock.

Perot: If elected, will soon become acquainted with Political Gridlock.

Rush Limbaugh: Makes sense until you think about it. Quayle: Doesn't think about it.

Gore: Hasn't thought about it.

Bessie: Grampaw's roan mule to whom it all makes sense.

Here I am trying to decide who I should vote for and the national press tells me it won't make any difference anyhow because Clinton has it in the bag. That's sorta the way it looks, but knowing so now kinda takes all the fun out of it.

What Clinton should have said: When asked by Susan Rook, correspondent for CNN, if he would make a pledge concerning the minimum income level below which he would not raise taxes, he should have responded, "Lady, I don't need two minutes to answer that question because I'm not going to crawl out on a limb." Instead, he lived up to the challenge and provided an answer which was about as bright as the question, which might have been the appropriate thing to do. She stated the question in such a manner as to expose her opinion of herself, which is much more favorable than that shared by her listeners, and he answered the question without revealing any substance. This must be a good example of the old lawyer's joke that you usual get the answer your question deserves.

What I would like to see that will never happen is a candidate who will throw caution to the wind and refuse to answer a loaded question on the basis of his courage of convictions. He should flat refuse to answer the question as in "If I provide an answer to that question, I will expose the fact to the public that I am competing with you for the last remaining bed at the pecan farm, so I decline." "So, your answer is no." "Yes." (And now shall we bow our heads and pray for a power failure.)

I am working on trying to determine who I should vote for and if I can see through the fog, maybe by next week I can come up with my recommendations. Until that time, you are all on your own, but please be wary of the hand you shake because it make extract your jewelry.

One question that has not been asked of Perot is what his basis for selection of Supreme Court candidates may be. It might be interesting to see if he has an opinion in that area. So far, all we know is that he is in favor of saving the economy, which is something all lawyers should be interested in since it is a practice of futility to sue someone who has nothing. Why chase an ambulance if the occupants, or those who produced the occupants, cannot produce a profitable jurisprudential exercise.

Don't I recall a furor a few

Cloudercroft Bears Maul Tigers 20-0

A happy homecoming for the Cloudercroft Bears was a sad day for the Capitan Tigers. The Capitan boys lost 20-0 in a total shut-out that put them in a three-way tie for the district playoffs. After a four-game winning streak, the Tigers couldn't hold up to the size and defense of the Bears on their home field. "We were mentally unprepared," said Tigers coach Ed Davis. He said the boys lined up incorrectly in their defense, which led to the loss.

The Tigers were inside the Bear 25-yard line five times during the game. They even got to the half-yard line, but came away empty.

"The Bears always play aggressive and they really wanted to win," Davis said.

With the district game loss, the Tigers fell to fourth place in Class A ratings. Capitan is now 1-1 in its district and 5-3 in season play. That district record puts them in a three-way split for the play-offs with Cloudercroft and Carrizozo, who also have 1-1 district records.

The Tigers will meet top ranked Loving at home Friday. Kick-off is at 7:30 p.m. for the district game. Loving is rated number one and is deserving of it, Davis said.

The Tigers have got to win the crucial district game

NEW CAPITAN FHA OFFICERS are president Meagan Vinson, vice-president Sherry Dockery, secretary/treasurer Devon Darby, Farmingtonian Wilson LaRue and district vice-president Lety LaRue. The officers were installed during a ceremony which highlighted leadership qualities from the grocery store by using food item analogies to describe each office.

Lujan Hears County's Position On Land Swap

The proposed Rio Bonito land exchange may be at an impasse, but at least Sec. of Interior Manuel Lujan now personally knows about the county's position.

Lincoln County Commission chairman Stirling Spencer met with Lujan in Roswell Monday morning and informed the secretary about the county's position regarding parity in the land exchange. The Bureau of Land Management proposes to accept 1,100 acres of private land and 300 acre feet of associated water rights lands along Rio Bonito in the Lincoln Valley in exchange for tens of thousands of acres of BLM lands near Las Cruces, Los Lunas, Artesia and other locations in the state.

Lincoln County commissioners have corresponded with the Bureau of Land Management about the exchange, which they have formally opposed. During the year, Lincoln County adopted a land use plan that requires government agencies to address land parity and other issues. Land parity requires any exchange be made of lands within the county, so the county will lose no tax base. While the other issues have been resolved between the county and BLM, it is that land parity issue that has put a road block in the exchange's path.

The land parity issue has ultimately created the impasse and has created hard feelings between the county commission and BLM officials—from Roswell to Santa Fe to Washington D.C.

Spencer, who has met with BLM national director Cy Jamison several times, talked with Sec. Lujan in Roswell Monday, the meeting arranged by Rep. Joe Skeen. Lujan was in Roswell to campaign for President Bush.

Spencer said he reviewed the issues surrounding the Rio Bonito exchange with Lujan, who was unaware of why BLM wants the Rio Bonito lands. Spencer said he told Lujan about the land parity issue and how BLM has identified at least 30-35,000 acres of BLM lands within Lincoln County that could be offered for exchange or sale.

Spencer also told Lujan the county commission is not against the trade, rather it wants to make sure the land parity issue is settled.

Lujan said he would talk to Jamison about the issue, which left Spencer thinking Lujan was amenable on working out the parity issue.

Jamison has promised to send a representative from his office sometime in late November, after the election, to work with the county on the land parity issue. Until then, BLM has assured it will take no action on the Rio Bonito exchange.

Spencer told Lujan the county will not force the land exchange issue into a legal situation unless BLM takes action without first addressing the land parity.

On Friday, Oct. 16, Spencer went before the National Public Lands Advisory Council in Farmington. The council, made up of private and public members, advises national BLM director Jamison on issues concerning public lands. Spencer advocated a special task force to address the issue of land management in the western states as it pertains to county land use plans.

"That's the new game in town," Spencer said.

He also told the council about the specifics of the Rio Bonito exchange and how all issues but the land parity have been "ironed out." At the council meeting Jamison told Spencer and Ron Green, one of the private land company principals involved in the exchange, that his office will take no action on the exchange until the end of November.

Also at the council meeting in Farmington, Spencer said Jamison said to sell off the BLM lands in Lincoln County. That surprised Spencer, because the proceeds of sale of BLM lands goes into the national general fund, and not directly back to BLM.

According to the Federal Land Trade and Management Act (FLTMA), the Director of Interior determines who is offered public lands for sale. Spencer's opinion is that the BLM lands should be offered to the person who holds the lease of those public lands first, and he has testified to that before Congress.

Also in Farmington, Jamison again offered to sell the county the Rio Bonito water rights, worth over a $1 million.

against Loving to stay in the running for a birth in the playoffs. "Our back's against the wall," Davis said.

Capitan will wrap up its football season with a home district game against long-time rival Carrizozo on Oct. 30.

SBA Offers Help For Businesses

—Small business people and prospective small business owners have an array of free business development assistance available to them from the U.S. Small Business Administration (SBA) and its resource partners.

"The SBA does more than guarantee bank loans for small businesses," says SBA Administrator Patricia Saiki. "We have an 'army' of business development specialists across the country to help people get into business and stay in business. Most of the assistance is free or available at a very nominal charge."

Saiki said the SBA's army of business development specialists place special emphasis on helping small business men and women improve their management ability.

The SBA provides business counseling services through its nationwide network of field offices and through the Service Corps of Retired Executives (SCORE), Small Business Institutes (SBIs) and Small Business Development Centers (SBDCs) and strives to match the needs of each client with the expertise available.

SCORE is a 13,000 person volunteer program of the SBA with over 700 locations. The volunteers are retired business executives whose collective experience spans the full range of American enterprise. SCORE helps small businesses solve their operating problems through one-on-one counseling and through pre-business workshops and training sessions. SCORE counseling is available at no charge. In FY 1991, SCORE counseled over 167,000 clients and SCORE volunteers chalked up over one-million hours of volunteer time.

Small Business Institutes (SBIs) are organized through SBA on 513 university and college campuses. At each SBI, small business owners can receive intensive management counseling from qualified graduate and undergraduate business students working under expert faculty guidance. These students serve as management consultants to entrepreneurs, extensively studying the business and its problems, researching potential solutions, and developing a comprehensive plan of attack to meet the needs of their client. Over 5,000 small businesses — about 23 percent of them owned by minorities and 22 percent owned by women — received, management and technical assistance through the SBI Program in FY 1991.

The SBA organized the Small Business Development Center (SBDC) program to help make management assistance and counseling more widely available to present and prospective small business owners. SBDC services include help with financial, marketing, production and organization, engineering and technical problems and feasibility studies.

The SBDC program is a cooperative effort of the private sector, the educational community and federal, state and local governments. Each state has a lead organization which coordinates program services through a network of sub-centers and satellite locations, often located at colleges, universities and vocational schools. In FY '91, SBDCs trained more than 279,500 small business people and counseled more than 190,600 entrepreneurs.

In addition to its army of business development specialists the SBA has over 100 business publications which are available for a nominal fee. These publications offer expert advice on such topics as financial and personnel management, business planning, marketing and crime prevention.

"Our mission is to help people get into business and stay in business," Saiki said. "The U.S. Small Business Administration's program delivery network is expansive and help is available everywhere in the U.S."

To get more information about the SBA's business development assistance call the Albuquerque District Office at 505/766-1879 or the SBA Answer Desk at (800) 827-5722.

Officials from the City of Alamogordo and members of the newly-organized Otero County Solid Waste Authority (OCSWA) to talk about being partners in a regional landfill.

However, the few members did not make a quorum at the Tularosa meeting. Without a quorum, LCSWA board could not take any action, even though it has 50 percent of the vote with OCSWA. Because of the lack of a quorum, the structure of a regional board to oversee and negotiate the regional landfill for both LCSWA and OCSWA was determined by OCSWA members alone.

A separate board consisting of executive committees from both LCSWA and the OCSWA appealed to LCSWA members but that idea was thrown out by the Otero crowd. Since OCSWA had a quorum, its members voted that all 11 LCSWA members and all their 11 members form one, 22-member board to negotiate the proposed regional landfill.

Such a large group is too unwieldy for LCSWA attorney Robert Beauvais, who prefers the one board made up of LCSWA and OCSWA members. He feared such a large group might not be able to resolve impasses in negotiations.

LCSWA members at the Ruidoso Downs meeting Monday were chairman Frank Warth, vice-chairman Ron Wicker, Frank Cummins, Bill Elliott and Cecilia Kuhnel. Worried about the lack of a quorum at their meetings and at the Otero County regional landfill meetings, they talked about several options such as having alternates, or vote by proxy.

Beauvais advocated allowing LCSWA members to have proxies (another person who has the power to act for another) at the OCSWA meetings. LCSWA member Bill Elliott wanted "warm body" alternates who could act on absent members behalf. Beauvais objected to alternates because they would have to be educated on the status of the board's business. Kuhnel agreed.

"This is not as sexy as it was at first," Beauvais said of the LCSWA board attendance.

Since there was no quorum at the Monday meeting, Beauvais suggested members considered a "no-fault" attendance policy that would oust a member who has missed more than three meetings in a year, regardless of the reason. An ousted member can ask to be reappointed, however. Lincoln County and Ruidoso appointed boards and commissioners operate with that policy now.

The use of proxies will have to be limited by a policy also. Ex-officio member county manager Andy Wynham worried the use of alternates and/or proxies could "get out of hand," and end up with improper representation of the people behind each LCSWA member. LCSWA board consists of one member from Ruidoso Downs, Capitan, Corona and Carrizozo, two members from the county and five from Ruidoso, since it has the largest percentage of population of all member entities. OCSWA has similar representation, with the City of Alamogordo carrying the most weight on that board. Wynham agreed the regional "superboard" was not desired. "It always will be us and them."

The regional LCSWA-OCSWA board, still in its infancy, has no protocol for voting procedures. However, LCSWA members and Beauvais agreed it was embarrassing and an impediment if LCSWA cannot do business at the regional meeting because it lacked a quorum.

Protocol for the regional meetings is expected to be resolved at another meeting of the two county trash groups, to be held again at the Tularosa Community Center at 6 p.m. tonight (Thursday), Oct. 22.

LCSWA members at the meeting Monday, heard the financial report which shows the authority to be at 25 percent through the fiscal year, and revenue collections are running at 36 percent, or 11 percent more than projected at the quarter year.

Also a consensus of the members was to not endorse the "adopt-a-dumpster" project proposed by Ruidoso artist Barbara Westbrook. She had painted a landscape on her dumpster and wanted to start a project where more dumpsters were painted. While some members found the Westbrook painting attractive, they worried about damage to the paintings with normal use, maintenance and possible ash fires. Also, they were concerned the painted dumpsters would not be returned to the businesses or residences who commissioned the art work when the dumpsters were taken in for routine maintenance.

Rather, consensus was that dumpsters should be painted a bland color to blend in with their surroundings.

"Personally, I'm not excited to have the dumpsters painted like this," Elliott said.

No vote was taken on the project since there was no quorum.

and will assist with election schools.

Proctor said she sent Emmons to be trained and certified on the OpTech machines and he will be subject to final approval by the secretary of state.

Emmons will be paid $35 a machine to program and $10 a machine to clear. On election day, Emmons will be paid $17.50 an hour and 25 cents per mile. He also will be paid $17.50 an hour for attendance at election school.

Training sessions and testing of 17 machines began Wednesday.

Proctor said the long, complicated ballot would have been difficult for voters to complete in three minutes, the limit for voters on the lever machines. With the paper ballot, voters can take their time selecting candidates and answering bond and constitutional amendment questions. Numerous privacy booths will be set up at each precinct.

"We're in the market for large boxes for privacy booths," Proctor said. Anyone wishing to donate large tissue boxes or other large boxes should contact Proctor.

Once voters complete their ballots they will take them to the OpTech Machines which will electronically count the votes.

Proctor said her election budget has sufficient funds to cover the unexpected costs of the OpTech machine leases and paper ballots.

The clerk's office has mailed some 600 absentee ballots so far. Proctor thought that many people are apprehensive of the long ballot and want to take their time making their selections. The large absentee vote has, in the past, been an indication of a high voter turnout, she added.

Sheriff's report

Carrizozo Town Trustee Eileen Lovelace was injured in a two-vehicle accident at the intersection of 11th. and C Ave. in Carrizozo, Oct. 14. When police arrived they found Lovelace unconscious in her vehicle. Dale Mitchell, driver of the vehicle which crashed into Lovelace, was cited. Lovelace was transported to Lincoln County Medical Center in Ruidoso with minor injuries.

Also this week, deputies were called to the scene of two fatal accidents.

The following information was taken from dispatch records at the Lincoln County Sheriff's office in Carrizozo:

Oct. 14
 7:16 a.m. Nosker's Package Store requested an officer to take a report on an attempted breaking-and entering. The report was taken.

8:40 a.m. an accident with injuries was reported at 11th St. and C Ave. in Carrizozo. Carrizozo Ambulance transported Eileen Lovelace to LCMC.

9:22 a.m. an alarm sounded at a restaurant in Tinnie. The representative from the alarm company talked with the restaurant manager and reported all was okay.

10:19 a.m. a woman requested an officer to keep the peace while she picked up her son from Capitan School and then to pick up her son's belongings from a residence. Capitan police reported all went well.

6:23 p.m. a deputy made an arrest for DWI on Highway 37 at the top of Nogal Hill.

6:51 p.m. the driver of an 18-wheeler en route on Highway 70 reported kids throwing rocks at his vehicle. When he stopped to call the sheriff's office, the kids ran away. New Mexico State Police (NMSP) were advised of the call.

10:21 p.m. NMSP reported a traffic stop and requested the Dept. of Transportation officer for a trucker he escorted to All-sups in Carrizozo. The trucker had no certified driver's license, no fuel permit or log. DOT officer responded.

Oct. 17
 8:26 a.m. livestock were reported on Highway 380, mile-marker 70, east of Carrizozo. Dispatch contacted a local ranch owner, who advised he would handle the situation.

5:44 p.m. a silent alarm sounded at Lincoln State Monument. The responding deputy advised he could see no force entry, but the post office door opened and he could not reclose it without a key. The state monument ranger was contacted and advised he would check the post office. He also advised that it could be a "critter" setting off the alarm.

7:18 p.m. a Capitan cafe requested an officer to put an injured kitten out of its misery. Capitan police responded.

7:45 p.m. an officer was requested at a Carrizozo residence, where a man said someone was threatening to beat him up. When the officer arrived it turned out the subject only wanted a ride.

8:43 p.m. an accident with injuries was reported on Highway 70, milemarker 297. Hondo ambulance, NMSP, the medical investigator and a deputy responded to the one-vehicle fatal accident where a subject was in the middle of the highway. The man's body was taken to LaGrone funeral home in Ruidoso.

11:14 p.m. a Carrizozo resident requested an officer concerning a civil matter. The officer advised the complainant to consult an attorney.

11:38 p.m. Capitan police made a traffic stop of a drunken driver. The subject was arrested.

Oct. 18
 9:47 a.m. a deputy checked the vehicle involved in the fatal accident.

6:40 p.m. shots were reported fired by Kraut Canyon near Bonito Lake. The responding deputy talked with the subjects and all seemed okay. A report was taken.

8:29 p.m. a woman in Maggado Creek reported a trespassing horse. She advised the horse has been running at large for a couple of years. The horse turns on the water faucet and eats the animal food and her flowers. The assigned deputy was to contact the complainant to identify the owner of the gray gelding.
Oct. 19
 8:59 a.m. Ft. Stanton ambulance was dispatched to the scene of a fatal farm accident at the Pixie Arthur Ranch south of Capitan. A man had chest and abdominal trauma. He was taken to LCMC.

11:15 a.m. a fire was reported one-quarter mile west of Tinnie Post Office. Hondo Fire Dept. responded and advised no further actions were needed by other departments or New Mexico State Forestry.

A Ruidoso woman reported she was defrauded of $160 by Model World Enterprises and she wanted to talk to an officer. She was advised to call the state Attorney General's office.

4:12 p.m. a breaking and entering was reported on High Mesa. The responding deputy advised a representative of the security company was in the house with the complainant, compiling a list of items taken.
Oct. 20
 7:03 p.m. a dog was hit on Mount Capitan Road and Highway 48 in Capitan. The first call reported the dog was either hit by a vehicle or had fallen out of a vehicle. The second call reported a one vehicle accident.

7:20 p.m. Hondo ambulance was dispatched to a San Patri-cio residence where a person was having insulin shock. The ambulance request was later canceled.

7:43 p.m. a deer was killed on Highway 380, mile-marker 75-78. Carrizozo police pulled the deer out of the roadway.

Oct. 21
 12:49 a.m. a fire was reported behind King's Food Mart in Carrizozo. Carrizozo Fire Dept. and Carrizozo police responded. Firefighters extinguished the fire in the aban-

CARRIZOZO SCHOOLS CLIPBOARD

A weekly school column from Carrizozo Municipal Schools that serves as a bridge to parents, businesses and community groups who welcome knowing more about their school. News about student, staff, and board members will be highlighted.

CULTURAL EXPERIENCE—Fifth and sixth grade students toured the Indian Pueblo Cultural Center in Albuquerque on Oct. 13. Teachers Bryan Wetzel and Ruby Armstrong and art instructor Polly Chavez accompanied the students. The center includes a museum and Pueblo House Children's Museum. The museum depicts Pueblo life through exhibits and artifacts from prehistoric to contemporary times. The children's museum is a "hand-on" facility for children to learn about the history of the Pueblos. Carrizozo students handled an atlatl, tools, stone weapons, a fire drill, a mano and metate (used to grind corn). Guides (docents) talked to the students about languages spoken, drums, tools and materials used in making and firing pottery.

The exhibit presents the Pueblo people's story in terms of how their ancestors survived through the physical, environmental, and social changes that occurred over the past 10,000 to 20,000 years. The story is told by relating oral histories that have been passed on to them from generations past and also by using archeological facts. The center originated with the people and the governors of the nineteen New Mexico Pueblos.

Armstrong, the Carrizozo students classroom teacher in Social Studies involved the students in Indian research prior to the field trip. The 5th and 6th grade art classes under the direction of Chavez will focus on Indian arts and crafts.

GRIZZLY BAND—Band students in grades 7 through 12 were introduced Oct. 20 to corps style marching. Twenty Capitan students accompanied Capitan music instructor Dick Valenzuela to Carrizozo for the presentation. The Carrizozo students listened to talks about the marching style and went through drill techniques on the football field. The half-time Capitan show was performed for the benefit of Carrizozo band students.

Carrizozo Schools music instructor Richard Brown, a former corps student welcomed the presentation that showed students what they could accomplish some day. The Grizzly Band has added spirit and lively tunes at three home football games this year.

ADMINISTRATIVE EXCHANGE—Brita Knoell, vice-principal at a school in Dortmund, Germany is a week-long visitor at Carrizozo Schools. She is among 34 German school administrators, who through the Fulbright Exchange Program, are participating in a study program in New Mexico. The group is observing education and culture in the Southwest.

Knoell's host family is Principal Joe Price and wife Earlene, English teacher and school counselor. Monday, Knoell spent part of the day at school meeting faculty, students and staff. She will participate in school activities and attend Friday's football game. Her visit will include sightseeing in Lincoln County.

Knoell, a resident of Schwerte, also teaches geography and English as a foreign language. She has visited the USA several times. She was in New Mexico in 1971 and toured California this past summer. Her interests and hobbies include theatre, museums, photography and painting.

HALLOWEEN CARNIVAL—Carrizozo Schools will sponsor this year's Halloween Carnival. Kindergarten parent, Linda Greer is organizing the event scheduled for Saturday, Oct. 31 from 6-8 p.m. in the old gym. There will be game booths and food booths.

Church, civic, school groups and individuals are encouraged to man a booth at no charge. First, second and third place prizes will be awarded for the best decorated booths. Everyone involved will be responsible for cleaning the gym following the conclusion of the carnival.

So far these are some of the booths: jail, juniors; fishing pond, 4-H; cake walk, second grade; haunted house tour, 5th and 6th grades; Tootsie Roll pull, Jr. High cheerleaders.

Some booth suggestions still available: food (nachos, hot dogs or hamburgers); drinks (coffee, soda pop); bingo, fribee toss, basketball toss, ring toss, penny toss, dart throw, wet sponge toss, bowling with empty bottles. A parent has volunteered to obtain inexpensive items for booth prizes. Contact Greer (354-2447) for details or leave a message for her at the school.

Polly Chavez is the Carrizozo Schools news coordinator.

Yellowjackets Sting Carrizozo 15-0

The Carrizozo Grizzlies were beaten by the Clayton Yellowjackets last Friday at home. Though Carrizozo's defense was able to hold Clayton down to 5 first downs, its offense was unable to reach the end zone. Clayton, a AA school, traveled all the way down from the Northeast corner of the state to play.

The Grizzly defense played an incredible game, keeping the Yellowjackets from scoring during the first half, making the score 0-0 at halftime. The scoreboard remained empty up to the end of the third quarter, when Clayton finally found a hole in the Grizzly defense and ran the ball forty yards for the only touchdown of the game. The rest of the Yellowjackets' points were scored in the fourth quarter when they recovered a fumble in their end zone, making the score 15-0 at the end of the game.

"Our defense played a remarkable game, considering we were playing a AA school who plays several AAA teams," said senior Tom Saiz about the game. The Grizzlies racked up the tackles during the game, with Michael Barela and Blas Herrera leading the team with seven each. Anthony Archuleta followed with five; Nathan Portillo, Jonathan Valléjos and Joe Vega followed with four.

Barela is also leading the team in yardage this season with 495. Archuleta is not far behind with 405. Other Grizzlies with yardage this season
