

Mechem Drive To Be Widened

By DORIS CHERRY

Ruidoso Village Council sent its support of the New Mexico State Highway Dept. design for Mechem Drive which will widen the street to five lanes in certain areas by approving a resolution at its meeting Tuesday.

Councillors also hired a new lawyer and narrowly approved a company to study the feasibility of a small "Dial-a-Ride", mass transit system for the village.

Councillors approved a resolution which endorses the

New Mexico State Highway and Transportation Dept. (NMSHTD) redevelopment of Highway 48 or Mechem Drive. Option A-1 design involves reconstruction of the roadway from the intersection with Sudderth Drive into three 11-foot lanes to Buckner (just north of Handi Hanks shopping center). From Buckner to Warrior Drive (entrance to golf course and civic center) the street will widen to five lanes. From Warrior to the village limits the street will go back to three lanes. All construction is estimated to take two years to complete.

The resolution also calls for a citizen committee appointed by the council to work with the highway department, consideration of the busy times in the village when scheduling construction, authorization for village staff to pursue state funds to relocate village utility lines, a type of bid letting to encourage not only the lowest cost but fastest construction time and a provision allowing a week to discuss data conflicts over traffic counts between highway department officials in Santa Fe and concerned Ruidoso business people.

A public meeting was held with NMSHTD officials and design experts on Nov. 2. Only 10 citizens attended the meeting where design options were presented. The five lane stretch continued to concern some of the business owners along it, especially those between Cedar Creek and Warrior Drive. Some 18 months ago, NMSHTD proposed making the entire length of Mechem five lanes. That was loudly disapproved by Ruidoso residents and business owners alike.

Since, NMSHTD engineers have spent many months of study and compromise on that original five-lane design. Options including the reconstruction to a three-five-three lane design and just resurfacing rehabilitation of the present roadway were presented at the Nov. 2 meeting.

At the council meeting Tuesday, businessman Craig Rawlins, whose business is in the five-lane area, challenged the traffic counts indicated on the design. He requested the state re-evaluate the counts, which at 14,000 cars in an eight hour time, seemed to him excessive.

Rawlins, who said while he favored the reconstruction it will create problems, mainly very steep driveways and the cutting of about 40 beautiful trees in front of the cemetery. Rawlins worried some businesses could close if their access and parking are lost to the rights of way for the five-lane street.

"The five lanes are too dramatic," he said.

Mayor Victor Alonso said Rawlins was the perfect person

County Purchasing Policy Is Commended

By DORIS CHERRY

Lincoln County Commissioners formally accepted the final canvass of the 1992 general election ballots at their meeting Friday.

All three new commissioners elect, Ray Nunley, Wilton Howell and Bill Schwettmann, were in attendance and smilingly watched as reelected commissioners Stirling Spencer and Monroy Montes and lame duck commissioner Bill Elliott approved the canvass. Clerk Martha Proctor said all tallies were the same as counted on election night, except for one adjustment on a constitutional amendment.

The adjustment did not affect the outcome of that question.

Spencer called it a "different election," because of the paper ballot. Several voters he spoke with had said they liked the ballot. He commended Proctor and her staff for the election going "real smooth." Spencer also noted the "great accolades" for how Proctor handled the election reported on a Roswell television station.

Commissioners also approved the $8,000 lease payment with Ink Impressions Inc. for the OpTech voting machines used in the election.

A purchasing problem, noted by the county's auditor, was relieved when commissioners amended the purchasing policy. The county policy, more strict than the state's, was amended to allow purchases of up to $900 without having to obtain at least three quotes from different vendors. Previously the amount was $300. Violations of that amount were noted by the auditor.

Also a petty cash fund of $1,000 was established for the sheriff's office for use as Per Diem for out of state Transportation and Extradition of prisoners, emergency per diem, or for purchases where normal purchasing procedures are not feasible. The fund is to be a checking account and a reconciliation with supporting documents shall be submitted to the finance office monthly.

County manager Andy Wynham said the amended purchasing policy will give the county relief until the end of the year when he plans to reorganize his office to allow for appointment of a full-time purchasing officer. Commissioner Elliott feared such a transition to a purchasing agent for the entire county might be difficult for the department heads and elected officials who do the purchasing now.

The purchasing policy was one of the financial problems noted by the county's auditor. Wynham also distributed copies of the 1991-92 fiscal year audit, conducted by Emmons and Company. Since commissioners had not seen the audit until that day, although it was in the county manager's office for two weeks, they postponed any action until the Nov. 24 meeting.

Wynham said the audit contained some findings which have been corrected, some which he agreed need improving and some findings which he did not consider problems.

Steve Hansen, engineer with the Bureau of Reclamation, presented a report to the Carrizozo Board of Trustees at their Tuesday meeting about the Superfund cleanup at the Cimarron Mill site.

Extensive testing of the seven wells on the site began in September in preparation for pumping the contaminated water into the town's sewage system.

Hansen said they hope to sample the sewage treatment plant next week. It will take a couple of days to get the results and pumping could start soon after that.

Hansen said that after pumping begins, the sewage water and sludge will be tested every two weeks and the contaminated water leaving the mill site will be tested every week.

Hansen also said town foreman Faustino Gallegos is free to sample the water leaving the site any time he desires. Gallegos told trustees he would take samples as often as they want.

Lincoln Fire Destroys Home

A Lincoln area man and his wife are homeless this week, following a fire that totally destroyed their home.

About midday Thursday, Nov. 5, Lincoln fire marshal Jack Rigney spotted a large amount of smoke coming from an area where there was to be a controlled burn in the area of Torres Ranch, or commonly known as Busbee in the Lincoln Valley. By the time Rigney got back to the structure which was south of Highway 380, the house was almost engulfed in flames.

The resident, Joe Griego, 50, had called the Capitan Fire Dept. at 11:40 a.m. but Rigney spotted the fire before any of the department had arrived. When Rigney arrived, the neighbors were also at the home assisting Griego who was suffering from smoke inhalation and had cuts from the glass of a window which had blown out from the heat. Griego warned all present to not go close because there was ammunition in the house and it was exploding in the heat. Rigney went back to the Lincoln Fire Station and radioed other members of the fire department, including chief Scott Chapman. They returned with two pumper units.

Capitan Fire Dept. arrived with its mini pumper and 2,000 gallon tanker. US Forest Service and New Mexico State Forestry brought one unit each. When all fire personnel arrived there were some 20 firefighters at the scene. By 4:21 p.m. firefighters advised the Lincoln County Sheriff's office they would be at the scene for a couple more hours. By 8:11 p.m. Lincoln fire units were back at their shed and advised they would check the area later for hot spots.

Capitan ambulance transported Griego to Lincoln County Medical Center where he was treated and released.

Rigney said the firefighters did not try to save the structure, since the exploding ammunition created a hazard. Instead firefighters contained the fire to prevent its spread to the wooded area surrounding the structure.

Rigney said the fire was considered an accident and was not the result of the controlled burn.

THE CAPITAN LADY TIGERS raise their #1 Regional Trophy high following their three game win over Ft. Sumner.

Artists Invited To Enter Christmas Palette Program

The Village of Ruidoso Arts and Film Commission once again invites artists to contact either Jerry Perry at 257-3131 or Barbara Westbrook at 257-9518 to enter the Christmas Palette program.

Last years program generated 18 finished palettes by area artists, reflecting their own unique impressions of Christmas. These palettes, plus 18 more will again be mounted on telephone poles in Ruidoso, as last year, with the cooperation of Texas-New Mexico Power Company, the brackets fabricated by the Village of Ruidoso with donated design and labor by Ralph Gary, the lumber donated by Mayor Pro-tem Barbara Duff, cutting and assembling by contractor Glenn Remington, Jerry Perry, and Paul Westbrook, and painting prep by Bill Riggles. The Palettes will be mounted lower and inward this year.

The Palette Program has been recognized by New Mexico Magazine for their Christmas issue, with article written by Jackye Mienecke of Las Cruces, and photographs by Bill Riggles of Ruidoso. The palettes for this year must be painted and returned in time for Thanksgiving mounting. All area artists are invited to submit and participate.

Capitan Plans Collective Bargaining

By DORIS CHERRY

Come April 1, 1993 public employees in the state of New Mexico will be entitled to participate in collective bargaining.

To be prepared for that eventuality, the Capitan Board of Trustees discussed a proposed ordinance and revision of their personnel policy to accommodate the bargaining and to provide clear cut job descriptions to avoid problems with the American with Disabilities Act (ADA).

At the Capitan trustees meeting Monday, village attorney Robert Beauvais said trustees need to look at the public employees collective bargaining act, recodifying the village personnel ordinance and the ADA together. If the village does not pass an ordinance to address the collective bargaining and establish a board consisting of management, labor and a third neutral party, the state will do so. If the state assumes the responsibility, local control will be lost and decisions may not be appropriate to the community.

Trustees considered a model ordinance provided by the

Paul Westbrook Alleges Journalistic Terrorism

Invasion of privacy became an issue at the Ruidoso Village Council meeting Tuesday night.

An allegation of journalistic terrorism was lodged against the Ruidoso News editor, and reporter Chuck Stallings by Ruidoso resident Paul Westbrook.

While not serving on any volunteer board, Westbrook alleged his past life and business dealings before moving to Ruidoso were investigated by the newspaper.

Westbrook said that his wife, Barbara Diehl-Westbrook, had volunteered to organize the Ruidoso Arts and Film Commission shortly after they relocated to the community.

"That was her crime," Mr. Westbrook said.

Soon after Mrs. Westbrook's appointment to the board by Mayor Victor Alonso, investigations of the Westbrook's lives began by the reporter. Stallings even went so far as to demand Alonso dis-appoint Mrs. Westbrook from the Arts and Film Commission, Westbrook said.

However, Westbrook added, all the calls did not dredge up any dirt against them, otherwise that would have become news.

"Our lives have been terrorized and trashed by such grotesque actions," Mr. Westbrook said.

Stallings, present in the audience, did not deny any of Mr. Westbrook's statements.

Westbrook said that Ruidoso News chose to investigate their lives because of their outspoken support of the current village council, the same council which defeated the slate of candidates endorsed by the Ruidoso News.

"Their crime is they won the election," Westbrook said.

Mr. Westbrook said the negative news coverage discourages some from coming here. "We are the losers."

Mr. Westbrook then asked Stallings to apologize publicly to himself and Mrs. Westbrook. Mayor Alonso then invited Stallings to respond at the podium.

Stallings said he consulted his publisher after seeing the item on the agenda of the meeting. He was advised to tape the meeting and get the video tape of the meeting for the lawyers to review.

At that comment, councillor Bill Karn laughed.

But Mayor Alonso said he didn't disagree with anything Mr. Westbrook said. Alonso said, "I confirm the person who made the calls." Stallings called him and alleged Mrs. Westbrook was not who she said she was and then asked Alonso if he would dis-appoint her from the Arts and Film Commission.

Alonso said he never investigated the background of people who serve on volunteer committees, since there is nothing at risk. "There's nothing to lose, and all to gain. It is my policy to never investigate anybody who serves free gratis."

"After living here 17 years, I feel the best single economic move is to rid the town of the Ruidoso News editor, and reporter sitting here," Alonso said.

"The lawyers will review this," Stallings said.

Councillor Barbara Duff echoed Alonso's sentiments about negative reporting from the newspaper. For two and a half years she has begged the newspaper when it will be positive, only to be told that will happen 13-14 months down the road (after the current terms expire). She was chagrined over the allegations by the paper in articles and editorials uncomplimentary to the council, which in her opinion have the purpose to "destroy the community."

"I don't care what they (editor and reporter) think of me, when they start tearing down the community, it gets my tail in the wind," Duff said.

Councillor Jerry Shaw said a certain amount of disagreement is healthy and hoped there would be two sides represented in the newspaper.

Alonso closed the discussion of the item by saying, "I'm sure we'll see more chapters in the next few weeks."

Harold Garcia thanked Hansen for his help. Trustees Patsy Vallejos and Doug Whittaker did not attend the meeting.

In other business trustees considered a request for a water hook-up for the Jody and Bill Serrano property west of town. Bob Means, the previous owner, received approval from the town council in 1972 for the water hook-up but did not hook into the town's water supply.

The board discussed the situation as to whether the town would jeopardize the moratorium on no hook-ups outside the city limits if they did agree to abide by the decision of the 1972 board of trustees.

Trustee Garcia was not sure of jurisdiction with only two members of the board present to vote on the matter.

"I have the right to vote (as mayor) and we do have a quorum," Kuhnelt said.

Town Clerk Carol Schlarb said she had called the attorney when Patsy Vallejos said she would not be at the meeting. The attorney said two members and the mayor would be a quorum.

The board agreed to allow the Serranos water hook-up with the stipulation that their water hook-up would be disconnected if water pressure to other properties on the line to Valley of Fires dropped.

Gallegos said he would talk to the Serranos about connecting their water line in the industrial park instead of the line on Highway 380. Using water from the line in the industrial park would not affect water pressure.

The board discussed the memorandum of understanding with Bureau of Land Management (BLM) for water service to the Valley of Fires. Dave Stout of the Roswell Resource Department attended the meeting to answer questions.

The memorandum of understanding will be sent to the town attorney before it is signed by the board of trustees. Stout said BLM will need several copies of the signed document.

Police department head Charlie White reported that October was a slow month. He thanked the citizens who assisted on Halloween, including the Carrizozo Volunteer Fire Department, Ernie Gonzales, Lincoln County Sheriff's deputy Gilbert Sambrano and others. There was no vandalism to report and the town had a safe Halloween.

White asked for permission to get price quotes on a FAX machine for the police department that could also be used by the fire department.

White said he has received no word from Santa Fe on the video camera. His other priority for the police department is a computer.

Airport manager Hal Marx reported there have been 51 operations at the airport this month.

Garcia was appointed as board member for the Southeastern New Mexico Economic Development District (SENMEDD) and Lovelace was appointed alternate.

County Purchasing Policy

more than eight months of consideration. Developer Jerry Deal again requested approval of the development of Units 1 and 2 of his River's Edge Subdivision. Approval of the subdivision was delayed because Deal wants to develop the subdivision in two phases. He repeated to commissioners that he plans to totally develop phase one with roads in place before he sells any lots. The roads will be private, never dedicated as public access, but will meet all county subdivision road specifications.

The controversy arose with the commissioners and the county Planning and Zoning Commission over whether to allow approval of the subdivision as a total development, or to force Deal to seek separate approval of Phase One and Phase Two. Phase Two will entail a bridge to be constructed over the river as well as roads. Deal said that he plans to finance Phase Two with the sale of Phase One.

Commissioners had considered the approval numerous times, and numerous times had sent the subdivision back to Planning and Zoning.

P&Z wanted Deal to construct all the roads, then post a bond in the amount of 50 percent of the cost of the construction, then have the plats reflect the units separately.

"If all the roads are in, there is no need for a bond," said county attorney Robert Beauvais. He recommended commissioners approve the total development, from a planning point of view. "I think we're getting a better deal with Mr. Deal," Beauvais said.

But Wynham worried that Phase Two might never be built, leaving a liability for the county sometime in the future. He cited several subdivisions which were approved by the county on paper, but do not exist. Currently, the county has paid or is reimbursing upwards of $60,000 in subdivision road taxes collected on roads which were never built.

After considerable discussion commissioners approved the subdivision contingent Deal develop the Phase One as a unit complete with cul-de-sac and roads built to county specifications, then at a later date develop Phase Two with a bridge built to county and state standards to connect with Phase One and that the access to the subdivision off Highway 70 be approved by the New Mexico State Highway Dept.

In other business,

commissioners:
 —Approved a cooperative agreement between the Sheriff's Dept. and the U.S. Dept. of Agriculture, Forest Service for law enforcement and patrol on forest lands. Forest Service will provide $20,000 annually. Dept. Charlie Engleking will continue in that capacity.
 —Okayed the maintenance agreement for radio communications with A&B Electronics, Inc. with an office in Ruidoso Downs.

—Approved replat of T36B and T36C in Deer Park Woods subdivision Unit 2.
 —Okayed a road width variance from 28 to 22 feet in Fox Run Subdivision.

—Re-opened County Road C-019 in the Loma Grande area as requested by Fred Pfingsten.

—Directed the road review committee to review County Road A-065 in the Arabella area for recommendation on re-opening as requested by Bill Welch.

—Directed the road review committee to review Pinon Road and north half of Pine Ridge Road for opening and vacate south half of Pine Ridge Road in the Capitan area for recommendation.

—Directed the road review committee to review AO-60 and BO-41 off Highway 247 (Pine Lodge Road), both with locked gates, for possible closure, as requested by county road manager Bill Cupit. Owners of the properties on which the roads are located will be mailed certified letters telling them they are in the wrong to place locks on the county roads, and request written redress. If no response is made, the county will take judicial proceedings.

—Directed the Road Review committee to look at CO29 and CO30 in the Carrizozo area for closure. Spencer abstained from voting since the roads are on properties he or his family own.

—Granted permission to Cupit to travel to Santa Fe to review policies from other counties concerning county maintenance of school bus routes on private roads.

—Approved a letter be sent to the Lincoln County Solid Waste Authority requesting it purchase a magnet to be installed on county equipment to remove nails from the road leading to the construction landfill outside of Capitan.

—Approved Resolution 92-9 for budget adjustments for road, establishing a line item for front footage tax refunds, Carrizozo Health Center facilities improvements and Lincoln County Medical Center capital outlay.

—Allocated $289 for expenses for Dr. Bernhard Reimann of Capitan, chairman of the Lincoln County R-911 Board to attend a meeting in Santa Fe to review requests for proposals for equipment.

New Mexico Municipal League. Beauvais advised trustees to modify the ordinance to include provisions which will allow trustees to serve as management on the bargaining board. The ordinance must also provide some type of grievance procedure.

"I recommend this board have a policy to be prepared when the union contacts the employees," Beauvais said. The unions can't contact employees during regular working hours, but the village cannot prevent employees the opportunity to meet with union representatives. The village has no history of management problems.

He recommended the village have the bargaining board appointed and in place by April 1.

Beauvais' major concern was the ADA, since individuals with disabilities who are excluded from jobs which have no physical limitations listed in their descriptions could sue the village. He recommended revising the personnel ordinance and policy to reflect limitations in the job descriptions at the same time as setting up the bargaining ordinance and board.

He suggested trustee Gordon Ross, who agreed to work on the personnel ordinance revision, to contact the personnel department at the village of Ruidoso for a copy of its personnel ordinance which has been revised to meet ADA requirements. That could be revised to meet Capitan's needs.

Also, Mayor Frank Warth and clerk Deborah Cummins will take a facilities inventory to determine what will not meet ADA guidelines. Beauvais indicated the high counter might be a problem for someone in a wheelchair, but if services can be brought to the person, there is no problem. "As long as a wheelchair can get in the front door you're in compliance."

Trustees L.C. Cozzens and Ross and the mayor will work on the job bargaining and personnel ordinances. "We have our vehicle to begin with," Cozzens said.

Warth made a Lincoln County Solid Waste Authority (LCSWA) update. He serves as chairman of LCSWA which is working jointly with the Otero County Solid Waste Authority (OCSWA) on a 50-50 partnership in a regional landfill. Each authority will have one vote.

The City of Alamogordo will be the lead agency in the deal to expedite the opening, Warth said.

At 6 p.m. Thursday, Nov. 19, the two entities will meet at the Tularosa Community Center to discuss sites for the landfill. New Mexico Engineering Institute will review its study of five sites, all in Otero County.

Beauvais credited Warth for forcing OCSWA to the 50-50 partnership. Warth had threatened to withdraw from the discussions at the joint meeting when Alamogordo and OCSWA were reluctant to let LCSWA be a 50-50 member. As a result, each authority has one vote, rather than a 22-member board to represent all communities in Lincoln and Otero Counties.

The joint landfill organization will be the first time such a regional effort has been undertaken in the state. "The state is excited, it's exactly what the Solid Waste Act wanted local government to do," Beauvais said. "The state is so anxious to see this succeed. The idea of getting six local governments together was a miracle. There's no word for 10 getting together."

LCSWA and OCSWA will meet at 6 p.m. Nov. 19 at Tularosa Community Center. Requests for proposals are out to select a consulting engineer to carry out the permitting process.

Village hall invites the public to come by its annual Christmas Open House from 1-3 p.m. Saturday, Dec. 12.

Trustees met in closed session to discuss personnel.

Lincoln County through the Economic Development Corporation and through chambers of commerce in Carrizozo, Capitan and Ruidoso continue to seek ways to bring more jobs and dollars to the area.

It's often been said by Governor King and others that tourism is our biggest and most important industry in New Mexico. Are we taking full advantage of the potential in this field?

Ruidoso wants to be known as the Playground of the Southwest. Several "mainstay" entertainment features are evident in this area. They include horse racing, skiing, fishing, hiking, camping, first class golf courses (four of them in the county), unparalleled scenery, fine restaurants, Smokey the Bear Park, the Mal Pais near Carrizozo, Museum of the Horse, colorful and historic old Lincoln town, Mescalero Apache reservation, old mining town White Oaks, art and music, horseback riding and more.

Part of Lincoln County's problem and Ruidoso's quandry is getting the message out on the location of this resort area. We aren't on an interstate route, Air service may be pending, but it isn't here. The good news is that the Ruidoso Chamber of Commerce and Apache Trails along with other entities are spending many dollars trying to get the word out about "the best kept secret in the southwest" - Lincoln County.

Promoters have tried through the years to provide other entertainment features for the area to draw people here. These have included a "Mystery Spot" in Ruidoso Downs where a crazy house seemed to defy the laws of gravity, ice skating rink, major amusement park with sky rides, etc., at the Downs.

Contemplated are wind surfing and an ambitious narrow gauge railroad project. Many plans have potential.

As we see it, future economic growth involves inter-county and intra-county cooperation. Apache Trails is an example.

Apache Trails is a cooperative organization involving towns and villages in Otero and Lincoln County.

Our question is this? Could Apache Trails be expanded to include Grey Line-type bus tours of attractions along the "Apache Trail." We can envision tour directors expanding on the Lincoln County War, mine history at White Oaks, how the old church in Mescalero came to be, history of the Mescalero Apache tribe, how the volcanic Mal Pais came to exist, the Spanish influence in the Hondo Valley, Smokey Bear history, homes of noted artists, art gallery information, Museum of the Horse, race track history. Many tour packages could be developed, including those in cooperation with Otero County to include stops at The Lodge in Cloudcroft, Space Museum and White Sands. Of course, we would like to see the tour bus headquarters situation in Lincoln County.

Several factors indicate more emphasis on tourism in this area. One is the development of the Civic Center in Ruidoso, a facility which is bound to attract more conventioners to the area. The proposed Performing Arts Center has great potential in attracting major cultural events to the area.

Some movement toward a "Branson, Missouri" type country western, Blue Grass, etc., music center is indicated.

We have the attractions or potential attractions, and the word about Ruidoso's location is spreading. Ruidoso is about 135 miles north of El Paso, 180 miles south of Albuquerque, due west of Lubbock, near Holloman AFB, close to Robert H. Goddard Country, not far from White Sands Missile Range, a stone's throw from Trinity Site, same altitude as Santa Fe, located 200 miles to the north.

We aren't hard to find. Just look closely at any map of New Mexico. We may be in small print, but we're big in hospitality. The future appears bright.

Inside The Capitol

SANTA FE—Help me, before I vote for another incumbent!

The plaintive cry rang out from crazed voters in 14 states last week who overwhelmingly approved term limitations on state and federal officials while also returning incumbents to office.

Term limits were the single biggest issue on state ballots since the advent of the citizen initiative at the turn of the century. The ballot question passed by large majorities in all 14 states where it appeared. Victory margins ranged as high as four to one.

Yet all those states also returned large majorities of their incumbents to office. Does it mean voters are incapable of throwing the rascals out themselves? Is the system so rigged toward incumbents that it's necessary to set up an automatic trigger to do the dirty work? Or are term limits brought on by voter frustration and anger at incumbents who have created the nation's fiscal nightmare, governmental corruption and political stagnation?

Or could it be that although voters figure their own lawmakers are basically OK, they want to send a message to all the big shots in Washington and state capitals that we little guys are still the boss and that they better not get too big for their britches?

Because New Mexico joined the union shortly after most western states adopted the initiative system by which citizens can directly put issues on the ballot, Congress had become wary of "letting laws be made in the streets." The framers of New Mexico's constitution were told it would not be approved by Congress if it contained an initiative process.

That restriction was not placed on Arizona, which joined the union the same year. Arizona was one of the states imposing term limits last week.

But New Mexicans have their way to knock lawmakers down a notch. We are one of only a few states that require a constitutional amendment to compensate legislators for their work. They regularly ask us for a raise and almost as regularly, we turn them down.

Since New Mexico lawmakers have the say over whether a term limit measure ends up on our ballot, we'll never get the opportunity to vote on that question. So it's a wash—they get to keep their low-paying jobs indefinitely.

Possibly a combination of the two might work. Lawmakers could put a constitutional amendment on the ballot limiting their terms and raising their pay. It probably won't happen.

For the past few years, as ethics legislation has come into vogue around the country, the New Mexico Legislature has considered—and rejected—tying salary increases to an ethics bill. But lawmakers figure that sends a horrible message:

"We'll be ethical if you pay us to do it."

Many constitutional scholars feel states are powerless to limit congressional terms. They argue that the Constitutional Convention debated term limits and rejected them. But term limit proponents argue that if the federal constitution is silent, states are free to impose limits.

In addition to the 14 states that approved term limits last week, Oklahoma and Colorado did it two years ago. Taking a cue from some of the defeats of term limits in the past two years, term limit proponents in this year's 14 states removed retroactive provisions from their proposals.

That means term limits won't be going into effect until around the turn of the century. Expect a suit in the U.S. Supreme Court shortly after. Even if the largely Republican court were to let politics color its thinking, it isn't sure which way the members would decide. This issue crosses party lines and political philosophies in both directions.

In the likely event, states can't limit federal terms, proponents hope the momentum behind this effort will force Congress to put the question out to the states. That would be when we get our chance.

Letters To The Editor

DEAR EDITOR: We would like to thank the Capitan Volunteer Fire Department and the men who gallantly helped save our personal belongings and our son's pet snake and contained the damage to where we are able to repair and move back in this week.

We appreciate all you did.

Thank you Very Much, HUGH & ROSE BARNES Capitan, NM

EDITOR—Over a year ago, the John Birch Society launched a book barrage exposing President Bush. The monthly bulletin to Birch members read: "There is no more dangerous individual in this nation than the man who inhabits the White House." Birchers charge "conspiracy."

Washington Post writer, Sidney Blumenthal, calls it "the establishment" rather than "the conspiracy." In February, 1988, Blumenthal wrote, "George Bush, in fact, has been a dues-paying member of the Establishment, if it is succinctly defined as the Council on Foreign Relations and the Trilateral Commission." (That's part of it.)

The Birch gameplan was to circulate 45,000 copies of a 166 page paperback entitled, "The Establishment's Man," by James Drumney. The book charges "conspiracy." Its evidence is convincing.

Free copies were sent to all U.S. Senators; to all members of the House; to governors; to state senators and assemblymen. Some teachers and clergymen were targeted as were talk show hosts. Emphasis was on communicators.

Results are in. The President was unseated. Full credit goes to Bill Clinton (himself a CFR member) and credit goes to Ross Perot. The Birch book bridge? Difficult to evaluate, but, together they got the job done.

The Other Side

By Owen Russell

Whew! I attended my last Continuing Legal Education seminar for the year yesterday in Albuquerque, and am glad I am again smart enough to get along for a few more months. I have a real hard time understanding how we can practice law if we know something about it. It seems to limit my maneuvering ability. How can I effectively argue something if I'm surrounded by little rules that get in the way with what I'm trying to accomplish? How can you be happy if you already know what you are about to get?

I wouldn't complain so much if other professions were also required to exhibit knowledge in their chosen fields, such as bookkeepers knowing how to count, real estate brokers knowing what a real estate is, librarians knowing how to read, politicians knowing how to listen, cooks knowing how to fry, columnists knowing how to spell, newspaper reporters knowing the difference between truth and fiction, secretaries (sic) knowing how to make coffee, garbage men knowing what time it is, just to name a few.

Anyhow, there was this room full of lawyers, along with several bankers and a few others who refused to state their purpose. The instructor, who was a lawyer on other occasions, commenced to tell us a lot of stuff about real estate that we all knew years ago. The one significant thing I discovered was that when a question came up that we didn't know the answer for, neither did he, but he did exhibit his skill, which was considerable, in the various methods for avoiding a direct answer to a question for which there is no satisfactory answer, which I guess was the skill we were really supposed to be sharpening by attending the seminar. If that's what we were there for, it was successful.

Last week, I reported that all the statewide bond issues failed to pass, which was a rather hasty comment on my part, since apparently three of them did pass when all the votes were counted. It seems that they were all being defeated in the early returns but the three that passed found enough votes later on from other remote parts of the state to gain a majority. I also understand there were several politicians who were looking for those "come from behind ballot boxes" during the night but didn't think to ask the supporters of the bond issues where they were.

Maneuver v., (Never mind. Nothing I can say can top the definition in the dictionary. The word is found between "Manet", an impressionist painter, and "man Friday", a man impressed into servitude on a Friday by Gilligan's predecessor, neither of which facts tend to shed any light on the meaning of maneuver but do illustrate the skill I was being taught at my seminar.)

I have previously defined "oxymoron" as being a light that obscures the vision, but "maneuver" may be the culprit that creates the situation which allows an oxymoron to germinate. cf. Tunnel vision. (You don't recall what an oxymoron is? Well, it is a phrase that is internally inconsistent but gives you room to maneuver between the inconsistencies so you can wind up on both sides of the argument, which may also be described as taking the high road to low places.)

Illustrate v. The skillful use of your maneuvering ability to describe something in another way that is as obscure as the original description. (I thought I knew what you were talking about until you illustrated it). It may also be a picture of something which words alone cannot describe. ("Oh, Why didn't you say so in the first place," was his response to my description of the bull, but I couldn't determine if he was referring to the animal or the method of presentation.)

HIGH SCHOOL COMPETENCY EXAM

Grade 10 Results

The New Mexico High School Competency Exam, a graduation requirement, measures basic skills in reading, English (including a written composition), mathematics, science, and social studies. Scores are reported for each of the sub-tests, and student mastery is determined within each sub-test. The performance of New Mexico Students on this examination reflect high levels of achievement.

Seventy-six percent (76%) of all New Mexico tenth-grade students passed all sub-tests in 1991-92.

Over eighty-six percent (86%) of Capitan's tenth grade students passes all sub-tests in 1991-92. Students have opportunities in the eleventh and twelfth grades to pass the sub-tests failed. All students in the Classes of 1989 through 1992 passed the examination.

COLLEGE ENTRANCE EXAMS

The college entrance exam used most frequently in New Mexico is the American College Test (ACT), English, math, social studies, and science are measured on a scale ranging from a low of 1 to a high of 36. The composite score is an average of the four area sub-test scores. The average ACT score for New Mexico students are slightly below those for the nation. Capitan's student scores have increased gradually each year for the past five years, to surpass the state and national averages. All seniors at Capitan High School are encouraged to take the ACT rather than just college bound students. A student may take the test several times. The 1989-90 state and national averages are unavailable. District scores for Capitan students are below:

OF SPECIAL INTEREST

The students of the Capitan Municipal Schools are to be commended for their hard work and superior performance in attaining excellent results in National and State Examinations.

The teachers of the Capitan Municipal Schools are to be commended for setting high standards and for expecting students to achieve.

The parents of the students of the Capitan Municipal Schools are to be commended for their support of the teaching staff and reinforcing the schools quest in achieving its mission.

The Integrated Learning System (Computer Lab) is meeting our expectations as an excellent teaching tool. There are 3 different programs in this system. The majority of the students in grades K-8 are in Math Concepts and skills and Reading Programs. Students are averaging a gain of one (1) month for each hour spent in a program. The lab provides reinforcement of enrichment of the basic curriculum objectives.

STUDENT ACHIEVEMENT

NEWMEXICO PORTFOLIO WRITING ASSESSMENT GRADES 4 and 6

The portfolio Writing Assessment, a performance-based assessment, is administered to all fourth and sixth grade students in New Mexico. This assessment was mandated by the Public School Reform Act (1986). Between 1988 and 1991, New Mexico schools were utilizing the Direct Writing Assessment in grades 4 and 6. This assessment provided secure prompts, revealed to the student only at the time of testing. Interest in portfolio assessment and a national trend toward assessments that are instructional led the State Department to design and utilize a new approach to the assessment of student writing. In 1992, for the first time, students in grades four and six were given the opportunity to participate in the Portfolio Writing Assessment, a newly constructed writing assessment program designed by the State Department of Education in collaboration with the State Evaluation Advisory Committee and educators from across the State.

For this assessment, three prompts are provided at each grade level. Early in the school year, the teacher is provided with these prompts and a guide which assists the writer in understanding the criteria for good writing. The teacher provides lessons for the class and the student writes toward the assigned topic until both the teacher and student are satisfied that the student's piece of writing demonstrates his best efforts. This is repeated with each prompt. Pre-writing activities and drafts are stored in the students portfolio for review and reflection. In the spring, the prompt selected for scoring by the State Department is announced. The teacher and student then work together to select the best piece of writing for transferring onto a scorable booklet. The student's writing is then scored against a set of criteria with score points ranging from 1 through 6, 6 being the highest score possible.

Although not mandated for the eighth grade, districts have the option of using this instructional and assessment tool for their eighth grade students. This provides an additional checkpoint for students before they are required to pass the written composition portion of the High School Competency Examination at grade ten.

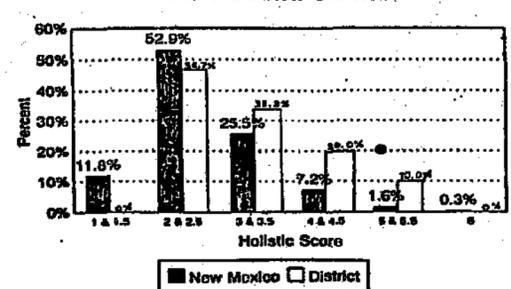

Because the concept of the portfolio assessment is relatively new, the 1991-92 school year has been considered as a trial year for the use of the materials. The four-point scale, used prior to the 1991-92 school year, was expanded to a six-point rating scale, rendering it impossible to make a comparison of the results of this portfolio writing assessment to the results of the direct writing assessment. The scores for the 1991-92 school year should be considered as a baseline from which districts, schools, teachers and students can work to improve writing skills. Because of the nature of the assessment, it is not classified as a test, therefore, no ranking is provided.

NEW MEXICO SCHOLARS PROGRAM

This program makes scholarship money available to certain students who rank in the top five percent of their graduating class, earned an overall score of at least 25 on the ACT, and come from homes with a total family income of $30,000 or less. The Class of 1992 had 1 student eligible for this program, and did not receive the scholarship.

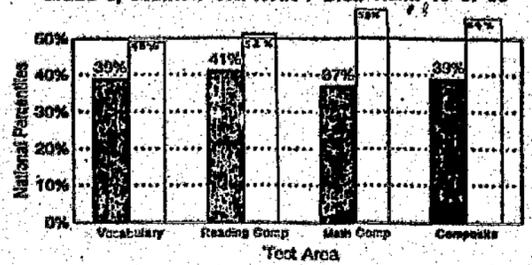

NEW MEXICO ACHIEVEMENT ASSESSMENT (ITBS) GRADES 3, 5, and 8

The New Mexico Achievement Assessment is administered to all third, fifth, and eighth grade students in New Mexico public schools. The norm-referenced test used for this purpose is the ITBS. On a norm-referenced test, a student's score is interpreted by comparing it to the performance of other students. Whether or not a student knows more or less than other students is the important guide. The ITBS is used to obtain standardized student achievement data for nationwide and statewide comparisons in the content areas of Listening and Word Analysis (at grades K-2 only), Vocabulary, Reading Comprehension, Language Skills, Work-Study Skills, Mathematics Skills (comprised of concepts, problems and computation), Social Studies, and Science. The State requires that districts use the ITBS in the areas of Vocabulary, Reading Comprehension, and Mathematics Skills. Districts have the option of administering any or all of the other subtests available. The results of these tests are used primarily for accountability purposes and programmatic decisions in accreditation and budget review. Tables and report results for the 1991-92 school year for grades 3, 5, and 8. Mean percentiles are reported. To understand these results, a mean is defined as the average score. The mean national percentile is 50. By looking at the reported scores for the norm-referenced test, the reader is able to determine how far above or below the national mean a particular district has scored.

Grades 3, 5, 8, State, and Capitan School's summary results are depicted in graphs below. All the data for the ITBS test is for 1991-92 only. As this was the first year to use the Iowa Tests of Basic Skills, Form J, longitudinal statewide data cannot be provided for these results. It is inappropriate to compare ITBS scores to the Comprehensive Tests of Basic Skills (CTBS) scores because these are two different and distinct assessment instruments. While these are obviously both valid instruments, each was normed on different dates and different populations. Additionally, the objectives covered by each instrument are different. It is important to note that lower scores can be anticipated when using a test for the first time and when using very recent norming dates. This may be a reflection in part of different curricular emphasis or focus of domain specifications for the test.

Lady Tigers Ranked Number 1 In State - Head To Playoffs

By DORIS CHERRY

Undefeated and Region D Champs!
The Capitan Lady Tigers, still ranked number one in volleyball match in Capitan Saturday.

The Capitan Lady Tigers volleyball team will take their cohesiveness and skills to the state tournament with hopes of CAPITAN LADY TIGER Tammy Payne spikes the ball over to Ft. Sumner while #28 Stacy Gowen and #14 Anita Aldaz get ready for a return.

Class A volleyball in the state, are on their way to the state tournament which begins in Roswell today (Thursday). The girls won the Region D trophy after their three-game match win over the Ft. Sumner Vixen Saturday night.

"We can see why they're first in the state," was the comment from several Ft. Sumner visitors at the Region D final bringing back the state trophy.

The Capitan girls defeated the Vaughn Lady Aguilas in three straight games 15-1, 15-6, 15-0, in the semi-final Saturday. Ft. Sumner defeated Lov- ing in a hard-played five-game match; 15-8, 11-15, 15-6, 5-15, 15-12 to advance to the final match with Capitan Saturday night.

The Lady Tigers-Vixen match had some exciting volleys, but the Lady Tigers' teamwork and blocking abilities overwhelmed the Vixen who lost; 15-2, 15-4, 15-7. The height and abilities of Lady Tiger blockers Tammy Payne, Pam Pacheco, Sherry Gowen and Tylic Traylor and the talents of other players Kelly Cox, Anita Aldaz, Jessica Cline and Alma Lively contributed to the team's success at the regional final and throughout the year.

"They played great!" said Lady Tigers coach Pam Allen. "I felt Saturday in both matches, the kids put together some things we've worked so hard on all year."

"I was extremely pleased with their performance and mental approach. They had lots of enthusiasm and intensity, yet exhibited poise."

"I'm looking forward to going to Roswell."

In the match with Vaughn, Stacy Gowen served 11 balls which ended in points, including three aces; Tylic Traylor served 10 balls, including one ace; Jessica Cline served nine points, including one ace; Tammy Payne and Anita Aldaz served four each, with Payne making an ace; Kelly Cox served three with one ace.

In the Ft. Sumner match Traylor served 11, Pacheco nine, Gowen eight, Aldaz six, Payne five, Cline three and Alma Lively two. Other players who suited up for the match were Chris Worrell, Kathy Campbell, Catherine Sidwell and Stacy Sidwell.

The state tournament begins today, (Thursday) with the Capitan girls playing Region A runnerup Cimmaron at 7:45 p.m. in the main gym at Roswell High School located at 400 West Hobbs. Other teams playing tonight will be Region A champ Roy against Region D runnerup Ft. Sumner at 6 p.m. at Goddard High, Region B champs Dora against Region C runnerup Magdalena at 7:45 at Goddard, Region C champs Quemado against Region B runnerup Texico at 6 p.m. at Roswell High.

If the Capitan girls defeat Cimmaron tonight, they will play the winners of the Quemado-Texico match at 1:30 p.m. Friday, Nov. 13 in the main gym at Roswell High School. The winners of the Roy-Ft. Sumner match will play the winners of the Dora-Magdalena match at 2:15 p.m. at the Roswell main gym.

The final match of the state Class A volleyball tournament begins at 6 p.m. Saturday at Goddard High School, located at 701 E. Country Club on the corner with Garden Ave. in Roswell.

The match for third place will begin at 1:30 p.m. Saturday, also at Goddard.

Last year the Lady Tigers finished second after they lost a close match to the Dora Lady Coyotes. If the two are matched up again this year, it will be a guaranteed exciting volleyball match.

Grants For Teachers To Be Awarded By GTE

Secondary school math and science teachers in New Mexico are eligible for a $12,000 grant from the GTE Foundation — $7,000 for a school enrichment project and $2,500 each to pursue personal development.

The program, called GIFT (Growth Initiatives for Teachers), makes grants available to selected GIFT teams made up of one math teacher and one science teacher from the same school. Both must have a minimum of three years teaching and experience in their current school district.

Grant applications are available now from GTE. The application deadline is January 15, 1993. Teachers interested in more details may contact GTE's Community Affairs Manager, Mail Code TXD1911A, 500 Carpenter Freeway, Suite 700, Irving, Texas 75062.

More than $5 million in grants have been awarded since the program began in 1983. Teachers in 32 states and the District of Columbia are eligible to apply for the grants.

Michael B. Esstman, president of GTE Telephone Operations - Central Area, said GIFT's objectives are to support and sustain excellence and innovation in the teaching of secondary mathematics and science, and to provide recognition and new opportunities for outstanding, experienced teachers.

In addition to the grants, teachers selected as GIFT Fellows attend a seminar the last week of June at GTE Laboratories near Boston. The group also visits Washington, D.C.

The seminar allows teachers exposure to the cutting edge of technology during visits with scientists and also meetings with other outstanding teachers, education policy makers and government leaders. The grants are funded by GTE Foundation on behalf of GTE area operating companies.

As one of GTE's four operating areas, GTE Central Area — headquartered in Irving, Texas — serves 2.5 million customer access lines in 13 states: Arizona, Arkansas, Iowa, Kansas, Minnesota, Missouri, Nebraska, New Mexico, North Dakota, Oklahoma, South Dakota, Utah and Texas.

FORT STANTON:

By BETTY JOINER

Laura Lacy Jones and Kenny Grissom of Carrizozo were united in marriage at the Christ Community Church in Capitan last Wednesday evening. We all wish the couple many happy years together.

Gloria and Reyes Sanchez enjoyed Troy, Sonja and two grandchildren over the weekend. Troy is working on a ranch up north. Sonja helps with the cooking.

Remember Friends of Smokey are looking for new members to join and help in the large celebration planned for 1994.
Anyone interested can contact Larry Bandy.

Molly Mason, Jo Blazer,
Helen Lock and Bessie Jones were a few of the extension members who attended the council meeting in Carrizozo last week.

The hand maidens are having their Christmas Bazaar on November 12, 13, 14, and 15, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. in the Methodist Church Baggement at 3rd and White Oaks in Capitan.
They will be selling gifts, ornaments, baked goods and other items. The money taken in from these sales goes for anyone in need in the Capitan Community. If anyone would like to join this group contact Doris Pounds or Nina Ross.

Two dear people passed away last week. Mickey McQuire and George Beaudry will be missed by all of their friends. A memorial was held at the senior citizens on Sunday from 2 to 4 for George. Neighbors, friends and family all spoke of the good times and fond memories they had of George.
Elaine our prayers are with you in the time of your grief.
Elaine's sister and daughter were here along with George's son. Anyone wishing may donate to the Capitan Cemetery fund in his memory.

FACTS and FICTION

Mickey's funeral was held at the First Christian Church on Monday afternoon. The church served the family dinner and Bill Kennedy officiated at his service. A full church was evident of the many friends Mickey had made in his life. The Flying J Wranglers and the choir sang several of Mickey's favorite songs.

To Ruth and Elaine we all send our thoughts and cares.
You were both very fortunate to have such wonderful companions.

Happy birthdays go out to Alice Traylor, N.E. Britton,

Paul Bonnell and anyone else.
Mine was the 9th. On Sunday all my family took me out to eat and gave me all kinds of goodies and lots of love.

The third deer hunt will begin on Wednesday. Lots of small and big bucks have been killed this year. Jerry Cazares is missing his hunting due to a broken heel he got while packing out an elk.

Willie Hobbs began working as a second clerk at the Fort Stanton Post Office on Tuesday.
Donna and Betty will be glad to have her for relief.

CAPITAN NOTES

Scores of town folks from Ruidoso, Capitan and the Hondo Valley came to Senior Citizens Sunday to pay tribute to George Beaudry.

George passed away on Wednesday, Nov. 4. He had been in poor health for some time, but appeared to be on the road to recovery when a back-set sent him to the hospital the day before. He went to the polls to vote, however, as well as played a few games of pool at the Center with his friends, then to Ruidoso for some shopping.

Friends were shocked Wednesday when they learned that George Beaudry was gone.
George was a wonderful, caring, helpful and sympathetic friend.
He was always a friend indeed to folks in need. No job was too menial or "too far out" shall we say, to George. He installed light fixtures, changed telephone lines, painted a kitchen for one lady and temporarily mended one lady's roof that the wind damaged while she was out of the country. He installed a heating stove in the dead of winter for his neighbor, did some furniture refinishing for another and was always the first to volunteer for any project that required labor.

He was a member of the former Capitan Lions Club, the Cemetery Board, the American Legion and to sum it all up
George Beaudry was a MAN FOR ALL SEASONS AND FOR ALL PEOPLE! Thank you,
George, for moving to New Mexico. Thank you, George, for letting us know you. Thank you, George, for all the things you did for us. May God keep you handy, in case He needs any assistance up there. The following little poem is very appropriate for you, we think:

Wouldn't the world be nice to live in, cheery through and through if everyone we met was just as nice as Folks Like You!!

'Course we don't get everything we ask for in this world, 'tis true, but one thing never fails us, Folks Like You!!

Mighty sure when I embark for that land beyond our view, I'll find that Heaven is made up of Folks Like You!!

HSD Offers Help To Pay Heating Bills

SANTA FE — A program that helps low income families pay their heating bills will be offered by the state Human Services Department again this winter.

Applications for the Low Income Home Energy Assistance Program (LIHEAP) can be picked up from Nov. 10 to Dec. 9 at local HSD income support offices, utility companies, senior citizen centers, community action agencies, large fuel vendors and some tribal offices.
Anyone receiving food stamps through HSD will automatically have LIHEAP benefits determined for them. They don't need to fill out an application.
Those receiving any other type of assistance through HSD or anyone on both federal Supplemental Security Income and Medicaid will be sent an application. Applications must be returned to HSD by Dec. 9.
Applications received after that date will not be processed.

In order to qualify for LIHEAP certain income guidelines must be met. The maximum gross monthly income for a household of two is $996. For a household of three the amount is $1,254 and a family of four can make up to $1,512. For each additional person in the household add $258. Also, the amount of available cash must be less than $3,000 for the entire household. Applicants must be responsible for paying their own heating bills. Those who live in subsidized housing where heating costs are included in the rent are not eligible.

LIHEAP households do not receive a check but a one time certificate redeemable at their local utility company or other heating vendor. The actual amount of the certificate is based on gross monthly income, the household size, type of heating used, whether they live in a colder or warmer part of the state, and if a household member is over 60, under age one or disabled.

Last winter HSD provided
LIHEAP benefits to a record 83,756 households with an average payment of $87.

Mechem Drive

to go to Santa Fe to review the traffic counts and to serve on the citizens committee. The citizens committee will work with the highway department on the number of driveways and turn-outs needed along the street.

Allen Whitesel, project design engineer with the NMSHTD, invited Rawlins to Santa Fe to review the traffic counts and models.

Mechem business owner Phil Davis was not as agreeable to the design as Rawlins, and considered it all "too much." He too questioned the traffic counts, and worried speed limits would increase to 50 miles per hour. Whitesel said the speed would remain as it is now, 40 miles per hour.

There was some discussion about including bike lanes at the sides of the roadway, instead of sidewalks, but the lanes were not included in the final resolution.

Councillor Ron Andrews

said he had not received any negative calls about the newest design proposal. To him that indicated either a lack of public interest or approval of the design.

Other Mechem businessmen spoke, all in favor of the design. Stan Cape asked for consideration of opinions about the impact of the wide street on businesses. Dan Swearingin said the council should look to the future of Ruidoso and approve the reconstruction, "not undermine it."

With a roll call vote, councillors unanimously approved the resolution supporting the reconstruction project.

Approval of a company to study the feasibility of operating a village-subsidized "Dial-a-Ride" shuttle bus system came on a narrow 3-2 vote. A request for proposals (rfp) for a company to provide services for completion of a feasibility study, conduct a survey and provide a business plan, complete a grant application and contractor guidelines was advertised in the local newspaper, as well as sent to several possible companies and consultants. The only response was from General Business Consultants, Doug Conley and Laury McKnight, of Ruidoso.

They proposed to complete the scope of work within 225 hours at $50 an hour. Funds were budgeted by the village this year for such a study. Councillors downscaled the scope of work to about 100 hours.

Village manager Ron Wickler said the village can apply for federal funds to pay 95 percent of the startup costs and the village provide five percent. After operations begin, the government, under the Urban Mass Transit Authority, provides 50 percent of the operating funds.

Dick Weber, former chairman of the village Transportation Board, recommended hiring the consultants, whom he believed fully qualified. But councillors Jerry Shaw and J.D. James objected. James wanted the rfp advertised in several large newspapers and objected to the project which he envisioned as a major bus system.

"I'm strictly against all of it, based on (public) feed back," James said.

Shaw and James both thought the funds which would be used for the study should go to improve the senior citizens van. Also Shaw did not think the village could afford a transit system.

Councillor Andrews, who owns a lodge, said from his standpoint that many visitors get "landlocked" in their cabins when one of the party goes up the ski hill or out to the race track, because there is no public transportation in the village. A shuttle bus, as envisioned by the transportation board, would provide a way for visitors and residents to get around town without a car. Andrews said Ruidoso is one of the few ski towns without some sort of shuttle service.

Jerry Perry, who ran a privately operated shuttle called Jolly Trolley, spoke about his moderate success in 1985-86. Escalating insurance rates and the depressed oil market caused him to close the business.

After considerable discussion between Weber and councillors, and a citizen's comment that the money for a study could be better used elsewhere, the council approved, by a vote of 3-2, to amend the proposal to allow for only a feasibility study to determine the need for a public transportation system, to produce a statistical sample for a survey and compile the results. By a margin of 3-2, with James and Shaw casting the nay votes, the council approved the Ruidoso company conduct the study.

Before consideration of the proposal, Weber had addressed the council concerning the reason behind a public transportation system and his role with the village transportation board. He said the project has nothing to do with the Iron-Horse Railroad, a private project with which he is involved. Weber has resigned as chairman and from the board.

Councillors unanimously approved the mayor's recommendation to hire Mrs. Patricia Ortiz as village attorney. Mrs. Ortiz was formerly attorney for the City of Clovis.

In other business, councillors:

—Approved councillor James' recommendation to erect three flag poles at the civic center.
—Okayed James' motion to contact the owner of the property north of the post office to clean up trash and weeds, and if it is not done, for the village to do so and charge the property owner.

—Directed staff to review the no parking spaces at the cross walk at the post office, and consider removal of the cross walk due to enforcement problems.

—Tabled indefinitely a request for a permit to place, at the entrance to Upper Canyon, a sign reading "Indian Reservation Entrance Gate closed or open to the public." A group of Upper Canyon business owners at the meeting protested the sign, which they claimed would prevent traffic from Upper Canyon.

—Approved the consent agenda items of a resolution encouraging the governor to conduct studies and analyses of the economic, environmental, and social impacts of the MRS facility proposed by the Mescalero Tribal Council and budget line item changes.

—Heard Barbara Diehl-Westbrook speak about the number of television stations which recorded the Ruidoso Pops Concert and her cooking program. Her information was provided by a publication from Pacific Mountain Network, the uplink company. Of the cooking show, 17 stations carry the show which includes a minute and a half of Ruidoso and area scenery in each episode. The $1,200 worth of free advertising for Ruidoso and Lincoln County through the cooking show, in Mrs. Westbrook's opinion, has offset the small amount of funds she has received from the Lodgers' Tax funds to help produce the next Pops Concert video.

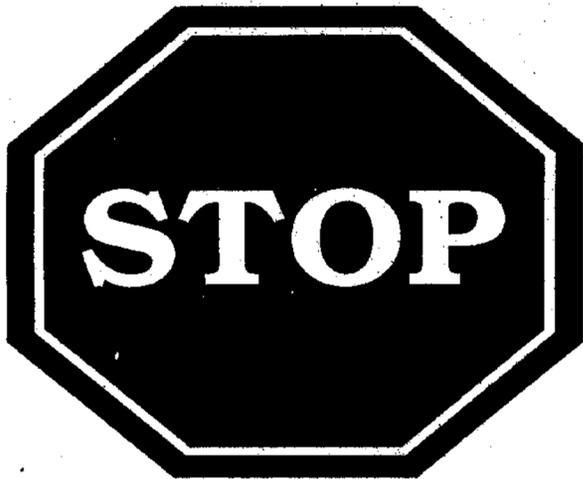

The Lincoln County Solid Waste Collection System will commence Monday, November 23, 1992. Trash containers will be located throughout the county.

Sheriff's report

Hunting season has resulted in the usual numerous complaints of trespassing hunters, lost hunters and an injured juvenile hunter.

New Mexico State Police (NMSFP) out of Albuquerque contacted the Lincoln County Sheriff's Office to report the accidental shooting of 15 year old Steve Apodaca of Albuquerque while at Red Cloud Campground southwest of Corona. The youth was shot in the leg above the knee with a .22 rifle, causing a flesh wound. The youth was transported in a private vehicle to an Albuquerque hospital.

NMSFP contacted District Attorney Bert Atkins about the situation, however, the DA advised not to prosecute on the shooting, which he termed accidental.

A Search and Rescue operation on Nov. 7 to Nov. 8 on Chupadera Mesa out of Claunch ended when Evelyn Esquivel, 47, was found about 2:58 a.m. Nov. 8 about nine miles from her campsite. She was suffering from hypothermia, effects of exposure and various minor injuries sustained in a fall. Physician's assistant Ernie Gonzales out of Carrizozo Health Clinic assisted with the rescue operation. Carrizozo ambulance was dispatched to transport the woman to Lincoln County Medical Center (LCMC) in Ruidoso.

Also during the same operation, a man and his 13 year old son walked in from their campsite, both exposed to a propane leak in their camper. The boy was still exhibiting marked drowsiness, some disorientation, complaining of stomach cramps and general malaise. They both waited for Gonzales and Carrizozo ambulance, then followed the ambulance in their vehicle into Ruidoso.

The following information was taken from dispatch records in the Lincoln County Sheriff's Office in Carrizozo:

NOV. 2

1:40 p.m.—a dead hog head, hide and guts were found on a woman's property on the frontage road off Highway 70 east of Ruidoso Downs. A deputy talked with the woman and took a report.

8:50 p.m.—livestock were reported on Highway 70, at milemarker 269. NMSFP were assigned.

10 p.m.—shots or fireworks were reported in Alto north. The complainant advised it sounds like shots, then later called and said it sounds like fireworks. The responding deputy made no contact with a shooter of a gun or fireworks, but patrolled the area for a while.

11 p.m.—an officer was requested to come to an accident without injuries involving a deer was reported on Highway 380 west of Carrizozo on the Malpais to make a report for insurance.

NOV. 3

9:13 a.m.—a breaking and entering was reported at an Alpine Village residence and an officer was requested to take a report. No items were taken. A report was taken.

11:41 a.m.—Capitan ambulance was dispatched to Ft. Stanton infirmary to transport a patient to LCMC.

2:41 p.m.—Capitan ambulance was dispatched to Dr. David Rouleau's office in Capitan to transport a male patient who was having a hard time breathing to LCMC.

Livestock were reported on Highway 380 between Capitan and Lincoln. A Lincoln area resident was contacted and agreed to check the situation out.

5:44 p.m.—a livestock was hit on Highway 70 beyond Hondo Church. NMSFP were notified.

4:09 p.m.—a possible structure fire was reported on Highway 380 milemarker 93 in Lincoln Valley. The responding deputy advised debris was being burned in a corral and the control burn would continue for the next two days.

NOV. 4

7 a.m.—trespassing hunters were reported on the Ward property in Lincoln. A deputy and Game and Fish were notified. The complainant reported hunters were shooting deer on private property, they had already made a kill at the time of the call. The subjects had discharged weapons numerous times very close to occupied dwellings in downtown Lincoln, and nearby at the complainant's window.

The complainant and visitors, along with other Lincoln residents corralled the subjects as the deputy arrived. The deputy issued several citations. Another subject had already transported the deer to a residence in the Lincoln area. The deputy advised Game and Fish he had an identification on the poachers.

7:09 a.m.—trespassing hunters were reported at the area of the intersection of Highway 37 and 48, on a private 96 acres. The complainant was en route to work but was to attempt to obtain a vehicle description and tag number. A deputy checked the area but made no contact. He checked two vehicles, but the subjects were not found.

7:45 a.m.—an illegal kill, poachers, were reported in the Alto area behind Gady's Pic and Save. The complainant reported two older males in an older model faded or light orange Jeep Cherokee were dragging a dead doe into the trees about 200 yards behind the store, off the dirt road beside the store. The complainant advised he could direct the officer to the site and show him the shell casings and so on. The vehicle's description was given to Ruidoso Police Dept. which was requested to post a "be on the look out (BOLO)."

5:33 p.m.—a fire was reported up Arabella Road, at the base level of Capitan Mountains. It turned out to be a controlled burn. Hondo Fire Dept. paged out, but the call was later cancelled after the fire chief was advised of the controlled burn.

5:47 p.m.—a Carrizozo man walked into the sheriff's office and reported he was being accused of theft. The chief dispatcher spoke with the complainant and an officer.

NOV. 5

8:59 a.m.—a rancher reported hunters on Forest Road 139 and wanted to meet with an officer at the location. A Game and Fish officer was not available but was notified. The county animal control officer was dispatched. Reportedly only two Game and Fish officers were on duty this season since one, Ron Moore, had been injured in a traffic accident and was unable to work.

11:58 a.m.—a structure fire was reported at milemarker 92.5 on Highway 380 on the southside of the road.

4:37 p.m.—a breaking and entering was reported at a residence east of Ruidoso Downs.

5:18 p.m.—firewood was reported on Highway 380 on the Malpais west of Carrizozo. A deputy checked it out and removed the firewood from the road to the shoulder.

5:46 p.m.—a traveler reported two deer were hit on Highway 48 milemarker 15-16. The first caller advised one deer doe was dead, the second call was a deer fawn hunting its mother. Game and Fish was radioed but no contact was made. Sheriff James McSwane handled the call and advised there was no salvageable meat.

7:59 p.m.—a man's vehicle hit a deer on Highway 54 north of Carrizozo. NMSFP were notified.

NOV. 6

2:34 p.m.—a deputy requested assistance to serve a warrant on Phil Wilson, who was armed, at his Peeble Road in Alto residence.

5:53 p.m.—Capitan Shell reported a gas skip. The store had called earlier, but officer showed up. Capitan police advised he had no license number or information.

6:50 p.m.—NMSFP out of Albuquerque advised of an accidental shooting of a juvenile at Red Cloud Campground near Corona.

9:31 p.m.—fences were reported being out and the horses getting out of a property across the road from Capitan Cemetery. Capitan police was to check the situation out after daylight.

10:09 p.m.—one shot was reported fired, possible poachers, in the Alto area. The responding deputy didn't locate or hear anything, he just saw lots of deer on the highway.

11:23 p.m.—a 1978 Toyota pickup was reported stolen from the parking lot of Incredible in Alto. The complainant advised he went into the restaurant for dinner and when he came out the vehicle was gone. He had left the keys in it. The responding deputy advised someone played a practical joke on the man and had moved the vehicle out of the area. The deputy had found the truck when he got to the restaurant.

NOV. 7

12:10 a.m.—a man reported a lost or stolen portable hand held radio from the parking lot at Smokey Bear Cafe in Capitan.

1:53 a.m.—the driver of an 18-wheeler reported he hit a deer 25 miles north of Carrizozo on Highway 54. The truck sustained damage and the deer was probably dead.

6:31 a.m.—trespassing hunters were reported on Eagle Creek Road. There was a confrontation between the hunters and the property owner because the hunters were refusing to abide by the rules. They insisted "they'll hunt wherever they want to." The seven subjects gained access to the back portion of the complainant's and the neighbor's property via the complainant's driveway. The hunters also were hitting and smacking the complainant's dog while en route through the property. The Game and Fish officer, who was in the Ft. Stanton area, was notified.

8:35 a.m.—an attempted breaking and entering was reported at an Alpine Village residence. A report was taken.

A person was reported living in a residence without permission. The responding deputy advised the complainant requested he meet at noon with the deputy to check out the area and the cabin on Forest Road 120. A report was taken.

10:17 a.m.—trespassers were reported on the Tyree Ranch near Corona and an office or was requested. After a call to the Roswell Game and Fish office, with no luck, a Torrance County Deputy overheard the radio request and radioed the Lincoln County SO that he would check it out since he was only five minutes from the Tyree Ranch. He stopped the trespasser's vehicle and took all the information for Game and Fish.

1:54 p.m.—trespassers were reported at a ranch in Salazar Canyon and all the "No Trespassing" signs were down. No contact was made with the trespassers by the responding deputy.

2:26 p.m.—an illegal kill and trespassers were reported in the Ancho area.

8:51 p.m.—spotlighters were reported two miles from Highway 48 on Airport Road in the Alto area. Game and Fish officer advised he could not be in the area and requested a deputy check it out. The deputy checked all the way to Highway 380 and made no contact with the subjects.

CARRIZOZO SCHOOLS CLIPBOARD

—A weekly school column from Carrizozo Mountain Schools that carries on a tradition to provide information and community news to the Carrizozo Mountain School. News about school staff, and board members will be featured.

SCIENCE/MATH WORKSHOPS—Science teacher Mariann Patterson and math teacher Teresa Flores joined about 300 other educators in Las Cruces on Nov. 6 and 7. The two were participating in workshops and a meeting sponsored by the New Mexico Science Teacher Association and the New Mexico Math Teacher Association. Patterson's sessions were on new science textbooks and image processing on a computer. A workshop about toys in space involved the way toys function in space. Jacks, yo-yo, paper airplane and a paddle and ball were among the toys that astronauts have experimented with. Flores learned more about the TI-81 graphing calculator. A hands-on geometric activity involved the use of a protractor, ruler and compass.

LIBRARY UPDATE—Librarian Julia Hollis reports that the recent book fair was successful because of the support of parents, grandparents and friends of the library. The library has a new look with the addition of new vases and plants. The unique ceramic vases were made by clients at Ft. Stanton Hospital and Training School. The vases were purchased by the library along with the plants which were grown by the clients. The potted plants and vases are sold to the public. Former Carrizozo Special Ed teacher Jane Erwin, who is in charge of the program at Fort Stanton, may be contacted for details about the clients' work and prices.

Library aids Fabienne Michel, Chad Patterson, Joey Thornton, Raymond Najjar and Kerstin Lucke help Hollis with the daily scheduled classes for grades K-12. The students also assist in the checking in and out of equipment, books and periodicals. They process invoices of new materials and literature. They copy, type, shelfbooks and file catalog cards.

The library continues with the pre-school library hour each Thursday with an enrollment of 34. The library is open to the public during school hours. Hollis, a member of the International and the New Mexico Coalition for Literacy, holds classes in adult reading. Hollis has been a school employee since 1978 and began working at the library in 1982.

D.A.R.E. PROGRAM—DARE officer Connie Hopper continues her DARE lessons every Wednesday for grades K-6. The 6th grade core classes will end with a Dec. 16 graduation ceremony. Hopper is taking orders for child or adult size DARE T-shirts. The $6 for each shirt can be left at the sheriff's office or given to Hopper on Wednesday at school.

Red Ribbon Week at Carrizozo Schools concluded with the fingerprinting of 60 children during the school's Halloween carnival. Hopper was assisted by Deputy Charlie LaBelle and his wife, Margaret.

SECOND GRADE RESEARCHERS—Carrizozo second grades may know more about the presidential election and the White House than people who voted on Nov. 3. Their teacher, Jackie Alastuey covered the information prior to the elections. Her students went home each day citing facts and figures about the subject. Trevor Cluff asked his mother, "How old is dad?" Cluff knows that a presidential candidate must be a citizen of the U.S.; he or she must have lived in the U.S. for at least 14 years and he or she must be at least 35 years old.

The second graders compiled their research and made booklets. Their "Election '92" publications included a study on the candidates. According to their findings Democrat Bill Clinton is from Arkansas, where he has made schools better and introduced new businesses. Republican George Bush believed he should be re-elected because he has experience. Independent Ross Perot is a businessman who used his own money to campaign. The students studied issues: jobs, education, environment, economy, homeless people, health care.

The students each wrote an essay "If I were president..." Here are some excerpts:

Trevor Cluff would forbid smoking, build bigger airports, give the army better weapons, ban tree cutting, make better parks, fix houses, establish new businesses, help the poor. "I would use my own money," writes the kind-hearted Cluff.

Anthony Beltran says, "I'd veto the law of beer stores and toxics in the air." He would not allow drinking and driving. He would give everybody money, not take it away.

Maggie Ventura would forbid stealing and "killing of cops and people." She would put a stop to drug use and ask support for McGruff the Crime Dog.

Jesse Ortiz would allow 1,000,000 pets per person but is against drug use, stealing, killing endangered animals, going out on Halloween and owning over 100 acres of land.

Christa Franck says, "I would make rules on no smoking, drinking and driving." She will have maids clean the White House and "boys do the yards."

Raymond Dobbs will not tolerate drug use, killing, smoking, stealing, cutting trees. "I will put you in jail for 80,000 years," is the penalty.

Grizzlies Fall Short Fourth Year In A Row

By JAMES SMITH

The Carrizozo Grizzlies ended their season last Saturday when they lost to Tatum 30-6 in the State semi-finals. Although the Grizzlies were able to get ten first downs against the Coyotes, they were only able to reach the end zone once during the game. "It was like we didn't play good after they scored the first touchdown," senior Nathan Portillo said about the game.

After Carrizozo's first punt, the Coyotes brought the ball past the fifty yard line, then scored on a long pass two plays later. They kicked in the extra point to make the score 7-0. After a fumbled kickoff return, the Coyotes reached the end zone again on a run from the 35 yard line to make the score 13-0. The second quarter saw both teams moving up and down the field, but after another fumble recovery, the Coyotes kicked in the field goal to make the score 16-0 at the half.

After the Grizzlies kicked off the ball at the start of the second half, the Coyotes brought the ball to the fifty yard line, but Carrizozo held them back away from the end zone. Later in the third, however, the Coyotes were again able to break through the Grizzly defense to score on a screen pass. They kicked the P.A.T. to make the score 23-0. They scored on Carrizozo once more on a run before the fourth quarter, and got the extra point, to make the score 30-0 at the end of the third.

Carrizozo's only touchdown came near the end of the third quarter on a run from Anthony Archuleta to make the score 30-6 at the end of the game.

Archuleta was Carrizozo's leading rusher this season with 815 yards. Michael Barela also excelled in yardage with 590. Other Carrizozo rushers included Heath Rickman with 284 yards, Portillo with 221 yards, Cory Collins with 163 yards and 385 yards passing, and Blas Herrera with 124 yards.

Carrizozo finished out their season with five wins and six losses. Their record in District was an impressive three wins and only one loss. Next season Carrizozo will be looking to break their tradition of Regional playoffs, and will be looking to take the State Championship. Best of luck to the Carrizozo Grizzlies in '93!
