County Manager Andy Wynham Resigns

by Doris Cherry

Lincoln County is on the search for another county manager.

Tuesday Lincoln County Commissioners accepted a letter of resignation from county manager Andy Wynham, following a four hour closed session held to discuss personnel matters, specifically Wynham's recent appointment to the Carrizozo

Municipal Judgeship. Most of the discussion was held without Wynham's presence.

Wynham had recently been appointed as Carrizozo Municipal Judge to fill a term vacated by the death of S.M. Ortiz. The judgeship involved relatively little time, with only four tickets being processed in that last month, Wynham said.

During an interview with THE NEWS Wednesday,

Wynham said they (the commissioners) used the judgeship for the closed session, and it was the personnel matter. But one commissioner in the closed session told Wynham that the judgeship was "The straw that broke the camel's back."

Unable to solicit definite reasons for their displeasure, Wynham submitted his resignation. "Basically I said this was enough," he said. "I've worked too hard and I think I've been a loyal county manager for each of the commissioners as individuals and to the commissioners as a whole."

Wynham said he mainly resigned because he believed the commission wanted to impose restrictions on what he did with his personal time.

County To Receive $6.7 Million And Plans To Spend $8.8 Million

by Doris Cherry

Lincoln County Commissioners sped through the regular business portion of their meeting Tuesday, approving the proposed 1994-95 fiscal year budget, the final plat of the Sonterra Subdivision in the Fort Stanton area, the Maternal and Child Health Plan and hearing from the Bureau of Land Management.

But commissioners took nearly four hours in closed session for personnel discussion, after which they unanimously accepted the resignation of county manager Andy Wynham. (Please see related story).

Commissioners continued to make adjustments to the 1994-95 preliminary budget Tuesday during the public hearing phase of the process. Commissioners approved the village of Ruidoso's request of $12,500 for the public library, swimming pool and other parks and recreation programs highly utilized by county residents, and to subsidize the village's fire department responses into county areas.

Also commissioners questioned the purchase of a new utility vehicle for the county planning department which is poised to begin a signing process for county roads as part of the 911 emergency telephone system. Instead they proposed the use of a used assessor's vehicle for the planning department, if the vehicle is in good working order.

The salary increases for elected officials, set to begin on Jan. 1, 1995, was left in the budget. The commission had instructed the county manager to ask for a state attorney general's opinion on the legality of commissioners voting a raise which appeared in conflict with the state constitution. But the manager said the request for an opinion must be submitted by the county's state representative John Underwood, who in turn had asked that the manager draft the request which he would then submit. However the manager had been called out of town on a family emergency and was unable to draft the document yet.

Also in the budget is an $800,000 fund established under facilities expansion, with plans to enlarge the courthouse.

With a total of $6,766,937 in total revenue from all sources including mill levies, grants and cooperative road projects, the county budget showed an estimated total expenditures for all departments, including general, road, detention, hospital and clinics, senior citizens and fire departments, to be

Recycling Program Continues To Grow

by Doris Cherry

Lincoln County Solid Waste Authority nears the end of its first year with manager Joe Lewandowski, and its third year of existence. Beginning as a consortium of elected officials county wide, the authority is now responsible for garbage collection and recycling county wide, and half ownership in the prospering Lincoln/Otero Regional Landfill.

Lincoln County Solid Waste Authority (LCSWA) members met in a special session Monday at their office in Ruidoso Downs and reviewed a bare bones proposed budgeted offered by Lewandowski. The budget which conservatively showed revenues up only slightly based on increased commercial accounts, maintained a current level of service, gave no employee raises and sought to purchase only the most needed of equipment and vehicle.

Lewandowski said he plans to emphasize maintenance in the coming fiscal year, while as last year he worked to get the trash collections organized.

With total revenues projected to be $1,116,385 for the 1994-95 fiscal year, up some $100,000, expenditures were projected to be $1,408,174. Leaving $132,611, members reviewed Lewandowski's wish lists and gave the nod to several equipment and vehicle purchases. The transfer station on Gavilan Canyon will get a Tommy lift for the flat bed for special collections. Members considered the scale to weigh the large transfer trucks to get maximum capacity without overloading a necessity. Other wish list items agreed to included fencing at the transfer station, a lease on a residential trash collection truck and a back-

Hemphill To Speak At Carrizozo Graduation

Carrizozo Board of Education at its regular meeting April 19 approved certified staff, graduation speaker, valedictorian and salutatorian.

The board approved the recommendation for Robert Hemphill to be the speaker at the Class of 1994 graduation May 20. Rachel Archuleta was approved as Valedictorian and Renee Roper as Salutatorian.

The 1994-95 school calendar was okayed. The calendar was the preferred option out of five possible schedules prepared by the calendar committee which consisted of about five staff members. Kay Patterson chaired the committee which extended the five possible calendars to the entire staff.

A majority of staff chose the calendar which has the first day of school on August 23. The first holiday will be Sept. 5 for Labor Day. Students will have early dismissal on Nov.

23 and Nov. 24 and 25 for Thanksgiving. Christmas holidays will begin with early dismissal on Dec. 21 and extends through Jan. 3, with students returning to class on Jan. 4. The next holiday will be Feb. 20 for president's day. Spring Break will be March 20-24 and the last day of school will be May 26, 1995.

After a closed session for discussion of limited personnel the board approved the certified staff recommended by the superintendent. Staff rehired for the 1994-95 school year were Sharon Baker, Karen Brown, Kenneth Butts, Mercie Epperson, Cheryl Fifer, Teresa Flores, Mike Gaines, Cherri Goad, Doug Jarrard, Dale Mitchell, Gabriel Papponi, Kay Patterson, Mariann Patterson, Dana Rhoten, Ginger Shafer, Bryan Wetzel and Wini Wilmore.

The board accepted a letter of resignation and retirement from librarian Julia Hollis. Letters of resignation from Stacey Weyermuller, Tom and Jackie Moffett were accepted.

Dr. Elna Stowe was officially hired as superintendent of school on a one year contract.

County Manager Resigns . . .

His feelings were the result of chairman Monroy Montes comments during the meeting that the board was going to define the parameters of the manager's job in terms of the management style.

Commissioners during the closed session questioned Wynham about how responsive he could be to county needs when he is involved with the Volunteer Fire Department, the emergency medical services, Little League and going to school in addition to the judgeship.

Wynham acknowledged that he is county manager 24 hours a day, but said he has had no trouble dealing with county business.

The News contacted county commission chairman Monroy Montes on Wednesday afternoon for a telephone interview. Montes said that Wynham, "was no longer compatible with the commission."

"I expect 100 percent loyalty from a county manager," Montes said in regards to Wynham's judgeship. "We paid him well enough and he had a lucrative contract. Under those circumstances I expect 100 percent loyalty," Montes said.

Montes said he thought Wynham's judgeship was a conflict with the manager's job. "It will no longer work if he (Wynham) spreads his time and efforts too thin," Montes said.

Montes said he remembered clearly that Wynham had made mention of the need for help in the manager's office. Instead, Montes thought that Wynham should have concentrated on making the manager's department better.

Wynham told THE NEWS that the commissioners' actions Tuesday did not make sense to him. "We had this great working relationship that went to pieces in one day. In reality I don't think there were any real complaints in terms of our relationship," Wynham said.

"I could not fathom this issue would cause the level of turmoil it did," Wynham said. He said he had believed the commissioners were reasonable men who could use facts and logic to analyze the situation and come to a reasonable conclusion. "Unfortunately my attempt of finding a reasonable conclusion hit a brick wall."

"They seemed to be having uncontrollable anger about...the judge," Wynham said. "I asked them to share with me the straws that broke the camel's back. And there were no definitive complaints."

Wynham said commissioners did not ask him to resign for the judgeship. Instead Wynham said Bill Schwetzmann asked how he would feel about resigning from judge. "I said honestly I don't want to. I know that they wanted me to say I was resigning as judge. I couldn't believe it was necessary."

Wynham said he offered a compromise to serve as judge for six months, then reconsideration of whether the judgeship affected his job as county manager. But they did not consider that.

Montes told THE NEWS Wednesday that no one actually asked Wynham to resign as judge. But Montes said the consensus with the commission was to put the manager on notice about the conflict regarding the judgeship.

"I personally had no other real problems (with Wynham's performance)," Montes said Wednesday. He said the county manager's office was progressing real fast and had "moved light years" under Wynham's management.

Montes said he requested the closed session, believing the closed to public session the appropriate place to discuss the matter, and not the newspapers.

"I applaud Andy for being as good a manager as he is. I wish him all the luck," Montes concluded.

But Wynham told THE NEWS that resigning the judgeship would not have mattered. "I could not believe these five men could not be reasonable and sit down and have adult mature conversation. That is not what we had. I felt in my mind if I had offered to resign as judge it would not have altered the relationship," Wynham said.

Wynham said commissioner Stirling Spencer came out of the closed session two times to talk with him. And it was Spencer who took Wynham's resignation offer to his fellow commissioners in the closed session. Commissioners then came into open session, out of closed session and without further discussion unanimously accepted Wynham's resignation terms and conditions.

In Wynham's resignation letter, Wynham proposed to work through May 17 and the county will pay him severance pay, including the cash equivalent for the employers portion of the county's health insurance plan, for the 26 weeks which will commence May 18 and terminate on Nov. 22. Payments will be periodically or in a lump sum at his election.

In the letter, Wynham also wrote "I hereby release, discharge, acquit, indemnify, protect, save, keep harmless, and forgive Lincoln County, its elected officials, officers and employees, and the Board of County Commissioners from any and all claims, causes of action, rights of action, liabilities, loss, damages, costs, expenses of whatsoever kind and nature imposed upon, arising out of, relating to, or incurred in connection with my employment contract of October 5, 1993, by and between the Board of County Commissioners of Lincoln County and Andrew C. Wynham, and my employment with the County of Lincoln generally."

Wynham closed the letter by writing it had been a rewarding experience and a pleasure working for the citizens of Lincoln County.

Although Spencer had voted to accept the resignation, Wynham said he thought Spencer made the vote to indicate his support of Wynham's terms.

Wynham was in Virginia to be with his seriously ill grandmother when he learned that the Carrizozo Town Trustees had appointed him to the judgeship last week. Before he could return he heard that commissioners were concerned about the appointment. Wynham said he talked to each commissioner individually Monday about the judgeship issue and felt the issue was resolved.

During the closed session Wynham said he explained the magnitude of the judgeship in Carrizozo. Magistrate Judge Gerald Dean told Wynham that he had dealt with only four tickets for Carrizozo in the last month.

Wynham said he wants the people of Carrizozo to also know that he had assessed the actual physical requirement for being Carrizozo judge and found it was very small. Wynham said he submitted his name for consideration for judge after a casual discussion with Carrizozo Mayor Cecilia Kuhnle who was concerned about filling the judgeship. He offered to be judge, for free. He then added his name to a list of persons wanting judge consideration. Two other appointees offered by the mayor were rejected because the trustees could not reach a unanimous decision. Only Wynham's appointment brought the necessary unanimous vote.

"I never lobbied, or talked with a single trustee once about the judgeship," Wynham said.

Wynham said he believed he had a good working relationship with commissioners. "But the issue about the judicial thing made them decide to be angry. Instead they tried to create other issues to say there had been a problem."

"They're the elected body. If they look bad after making decisions after I recommend a counter position the odds are they look bad because they made a bad decision," he said.

Wynham acknowledged some of the points commissioners made in closed session. He had lobbied for the pay increases for county workers and elected officials, because he thought they deserved it. Also he had not yet sent a written request to Rep. John Underwood who would in turn ask the state Attorney General for an opinion on the legality of the pay increase for elected officials, as commissioners had directed during the April 19 meeting. Wynham said that he had been given no deadline on the AG request, and also he had been out of town on county business and the family emergency.

Wynham was hired by the three member commission of Monroy Montes, Stirling Spencer and Bill Elliott in March 1992. One of the first tasks he faced as a new county manager was the road front footage tax assessment rebate. Hundreds of thousands of dollars were returned to people who owned property in subdivisions where roads were never built, but the front footage tax had been assessed for years. "It was an amazing project to go through. It was a hell of an accomplishment."

Wynham also served as county manager through the transition from the three to five member county commission.

During Wynham's tenure as manager he upgraded the county emergency medical services with purchase of new equipment, two new ambulances and budgeting for two more new ambulances this year.

Wynham's office assumed management of the jail and operated it at a lower expense than previously, with higher employee morale, better training and better equipment.

Wynham was instrumental in getting authorization to expand and remodel the jail, sheriff's office and dispatch areas in the courthouse in

County To Receive $6.7 Million

$8,852,875. The county will begin the next fiscal year, on July 1, with an estimated cash balance of $4,191,422 and is estimated to end the next fiscal year on June 30, 1995 with a cash balance of $2,105,484.

Commissioners unanimously approved the preliminary budget resolution which also states that the commission will continue the existing special mill levy of 1.75 mills; apportioned with 1 mill to roads, 625 to capital outlay and 125 for facilities.

When commissioners came to the request for the final plat approval of the Ranches of Sonterra Subdivision, commissioner Bill Schwettmann declared a conflict of interest and declined to vote. His fellow commissioners allowed him to be involved in the discussion, but agreed he should not vote.

The county Planning and Zoning (P&Z) Commission had recommended approval of the final plat, based on the developer meeting several conditions set over the course of planning process. Also an issue concerning who has jurisdiction over the planning, the county or the Ruidoso-Lincoln County Extra Territorial Zoning Commission, was resolved because the subdivision has no lot less than five acres. Because of this, the county took jurisdiction in the planning process.

Some variances were granted on some roads and inter-sections. P&Z also made several suggestions to the subdivision disclosure statement, such as lots along the river have no rights to the water and the county hospital is financed with mills levied on property and others. The developer incorporated these into the statement, which prompted chairman Monroy Montes to say that the statement was the best he had seen.

Registered surveyor and site developer Tim Collins pointed out several features of the subdivision on the plat tacked to the wall of the commissioners' chambers. In response to a question from commissioner L.Ray Nunley, Collins said that a common area will be dedicated on an 8.5 acre lot where parking and picnic tables are planned. The subdivision's eastern border adjoins the Fort Stanton Bureau of Land Management property.

Montes said that it may have appeared that the subdivision appears to have been pushed through the planning process. However, the project has been ongoing since last year. Commissioner Stirling Spencer said the reason for the speediness of the project was the developer was the first one to work with the county to resolve issues.

The $9,700 state funded Maternal Child Health Plan got approval and accolades from commissioners. The plan shows statistics on the number of pregnant women, teen pregnancies, health care providers and recommendations to improve the health care of women and their infants. The plan shows the primary barriers to prenatal health care for pregnant women are economics, tradition and language, and the isolated rural nature of the county. The plan states the commission has given support with its $2,500 for a new department and remodeled county sub-office space in Ruidoso for the eventual Maternal Child Health Staff which the plan recommends.

Bureau of Land Management

ment public relations officer Howard Parman invited the commissioners to attend a public open house at 7 p.m. Tuesday, May 17 in the Lincoln County Commission chambers in the courthouse in Carrizozo. Parman presented commissioners copies of the federal register and the Environmental Impact Statement (EIS) executive summary on the BLM Rangeland Reform '94 (increasing grazing fees, etc.) Parman said he and other members of the BLM Roswell Resource District staff will be at the open house to discuss how the public can best comment on the BLM proposals on rangeland reforms. The comment period on the draft reports is scheduled to close by July 28.

Parman said that anyone wishing to comment on the draft reforms or impact statements should write individual letters and be very specific. "Detail in the letters your dislikes and suggestions," he said.

BLM will hold a public hearing on the draft EIS beginning at 8 a.m. and 7-10 p.m. on June 8, at Pearson Auditorium on the New Mexico Military Institute campus in Roswell.

Copies of the draft EIS and other information is available from the Roswell BLM Resource Office in Roswell or may be viewed at the Lincoln County Commissioners' Chambers in the courthouse in Carrizozo.

In other business, commissioners:

--Approved the consent agenda of the annual mill levy request from Chaves Soil and Water Conservation District; reimbursement for transportation and extradition of prisoners; a resolution endorsing the Regional Juvenile Services Task Force for a regional juvenile detention facility. Montes was elected chairman of that regional task force; and the resolution which annually renews the liquor dispensing license fees at their previous rate.

--Awarded audit services to Emmons, Hagood and Company of Albuquerque. Awarded a bid to Lardo Corp. for a semi-automatic defibrillator for a county ambulance and awarded a bid for microfilming the county clerk's records.

--Heard from an Alto resident who voiced his opposition to the county budgeting funds for operation of the Rural Events Center (former Super Select Sales Barn) in Glencoe.

Montes said he was misquoted about the county spending funds to run the center, and that he still is not in favor of raising taxes to support and operate the facility. Montes also said that the county will get a report on the condition of the building before the final sales contract is closed with the Ruidoso Super Select Sales Inc. board.

Carrizozo. In the detention center there is improved security and less exposure to legal action because prisoners have a recreation area.

Dispatch was upgraded from a crowded closet accessed through a toilet to a top quality facility that dispatches emergency and police for three municipalities and the county and is 911 capable for Ruidoso and the county.

During his tenure, the fairgrounds ownership dispute was settled. An independent Fair Association was established to manage the fair grounds, without involvement of county government. And the facility was enhanced with state funding.

The county senior program has improved and expanded with the hiring of director Cheryl LaBelle who has won the hearts of many of the seniors. The county has increased funding for the senior program. More state dollars have gone to the Corona Center which is set for remodeling some time this year. The program is poised to begin the Ruidoso Downs full service senior center upon a successful agreement with the village of Ruidoso Downs. The application process has begun for a county-owned San Patricio senior center facility. Wynham said he pushed for an independent center last year but could not interest commissioners. This year he was able to get them to authorize application of a Community Development Block Grant for the center.

Rural addressing has moved little during Wynham's tenure, but with the installation of the 911 phone system, the groundwork was laid for the road signing phase to begin.

With no future plans yet, Wynham said he will miss living in Carrizozo.

"Living here has been the greatest experience," Wynham said. "I always felt an accepted part of the community and at home." Leaving will be devastating for his wife Heidi and his children who had believed they would be living in Carrizozo for a long time, he added.

LOOKING THROUGH THE FENCE

Irishman or Earthman

By MICHAEL MCKIM SWICKARD

My mother's father was an excitable Irishman. Just before dawn each day he got up and, without any regard for the noise, brewed a pot of coffee.

Then at the kitchen table, in a loud voice, he started the day by cursing everyone who had ever done him wrong. "Damn that John, he thought he could pull a fast one on me but I showed him..."

Once he made it through the rather extensive list of people who had personally offended him, he moved to world affairs which was an excuse for him, as an good Irishman, to blast the British Empire. He would roll through 800 years of British oppression over Ireland in about 30 minutes.

While still in bed, early in the morning, I would hear the first morning birds chirp and then I would hear an unflattering reference to King Billy.

I knew it was about time to get up when he got to the Yeats poem, Parnell's Funeral. "Can someone there/Recall the Cretan barb that pierced a star?"

My father was very even tempered. He almost never got mad at things. I thought he was going to lose his mind when he stayed at my grandfather's house.

One morning my calm and considerate father blew up and said some uncharacteristically hot words to my grandfather about "idiots who talk in loud voices to themselves that early in the morning." It surprised my grandfather given that my father was so even tempered and my grandfather was just being Irish.

It probably landed my dad on the cursing list, though I don't recall hearing my dad's name ever mentioned. For one thing, my father was German and Irish so he wasn't all that bad.

I was thinking about my grandfather's Irishness last month on St. Patrick's day. I have my father's calm nature, yet there is a little of my grandfather in me when it comes to historic Irish-British relations. Maybe it has been a patterned response from listening to my Irish relatives.

I have now lost most of my interest in remembering all the hurts that the Irish generations have had to endure. I used to be proud of being Irish. I sang the songs of rebellion from the first moment I could talk.

I still think it is fine to be from Ireland, and I'd love to visit the land, but I don't think I want to define myself by the hurts the Irish have accumulated.

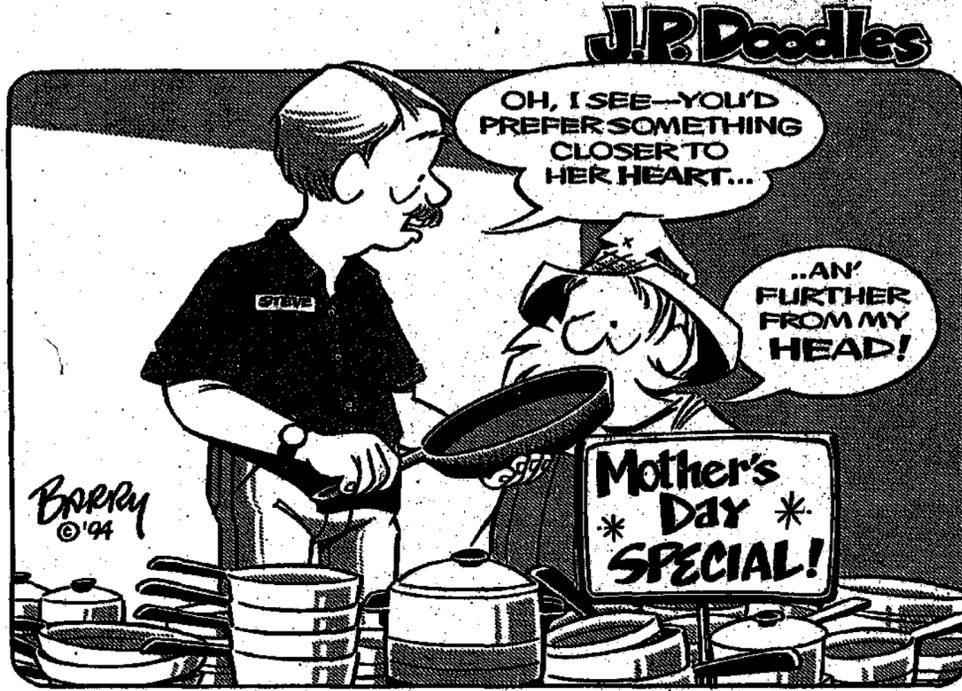

Further, I do not wish to be identified by category. Be it a definition by ethnographic or geographic—or even religious, age, education, socioeconomic, regardless of category, I have become aware that segregating ourselves into the categories allows us to be less human.

As children many of us have read Robinson Crusoe, about the man alone on an island for years. When he finally runs into another human being he does not stop and try to decide if he wants to associate with someone who is in a different ethnic category.

I am an Earthman first and foremost. Like Crusoe, I have wandered seemingly alone in my categories for many years, but no more. We can realize where we come from as a lesson about the human experience, but we must live without the categories.

It was fine for my grandfather to curse all of the people who had done him wrong. He was reacting to their actions. But it was not right to hate people for who they were, not what they did. I'd rather be an Earthman than an Irishman. MS

Inside The Capitol

by Jay Miller

SANTA FE--There's more good economic news for New Mexico.

A recent Inside the Capitol column reviewed two articles from popular magazines predicting that Las Cruces, Albuquerque and Santa Fe will be among the nation's hottest boomtowns well into the next century.

We ended by wondering about the outlook for communities not along the Rio Grande corridor. That brought a quick response from state Department of Finance and Administration boss Kay Marr. Her economics dug out the following information.

Data from the University of New Mexico Bureau of Business and Economic Research show gross receipts from retail trade during the past three months were up over this time last year in several cities not along the Rio Grande corridor. Silver City was up 11.5 percent, Ruidoso up 12.4 percent and Artesia up 7.9 percent.

Building permits for the first nine months of 1993 were up sharply in Alamogordo, Carlsbad, Farmington, Roswell and Ruidoso.

And there are other figures that look encouraging for the rest of the state. Mining employment that has taken a decade-long dive of 43 percent in the state and nation, shows a little glimmer. While mining employment nationwide continued its downward spiral with another five percent decline in 1993, New Mexico had a 4.5 percent gain.

New Mexico also outperformed the nation in manufacturing employment last year with a 3.8 percent gain, while the nation was experiencing a 1.3 percent decline.

And we keep hearing good things from Roswell and Portales about their rapidly-growing dairy industries. Evidently their milk processing and cheese making is going to be second to none in some areas.

Of course we know the picture isn't rosy everywhere in New Mexico. Some communities are suffering and have been for a decade or more.

But statewide our future is looking brighter. State Budget & Tax News, a magazine that only people such as Marr and Taxation and Revenue Department Secretary Dick Minzner read, recently assessed the fiscal and economic conditions of every state, ranking them on a five-point scale from double minus to double plus. Only New Mexico and North Carolina received a top rating in both categories.

State Policy Reports, another magazine for the wonks, evaluated the "economic momentum" in each state by measuring growth in income, employment and population. New Mexico ranked fourth behind Nevada, Utah and Florida. Our jump from 14th the year before brought us in for special mention, along with Arizona and Georgia, as having an "impressive and potentially sustainable gain."

Of the three components of the "momentum" index, the magazine says employment is the best indicator of fiscal condition. New Mexico ranked third in employment gain from December '92 to December '93, behind Utah and Nevada. Our gain was 4.26 percent, compared to a national increase of 1.17 percent.

New Mexico also came in for special mention, along with Georgia, for having "already enacted significant tax cuts this year." Of course one reason we "already" did it is that our short legislative session ended in mid-February. States with fulltime legislatures eventually could join us in that category.

Bonding companies also have decided they, like New Mexico. In October, the state's general obligation bonds were upgraded from AA to AA+ by Standard & Poor's. New Mexico had been AA for nearly four decades.

The news was even better for the state highway debentures sold in November. Standard and Poor's gave them an AAA rating, their highest. No other highway debt in the nation has the top rating. The Highway Department's financial advisors estimate the ratings could result in saving as much as $612,000 in cumulative debt service expenses.

After more than a decade of bad economic news, it's encouraging to start hearing something good again.

Tourism Regional Marketing Board Members Are Appointed

Appointments to a newly created State of New Mexico Department of Tourism Regional Marketing Board were announced last week. Appointed to serve on Region 3 the Southeast Region are: Dennis Dufmanson, Superintendent, White Sands National Monument; Kathleen Michelena, Community Events Director, Ruidoso Convention & Civic Events Center; David Vigil, Owner, Ellis Store B&B/Lincoln; Bill Hirschfeld, Citizen, Ruidoso; Craig Ridgeway, General Manager, Holiday Inn, Clovis; Jack White, Jr., President, White's City.

Six regions within the state were established. The primary focus being marketing and advertising, with other areas of responsibility for regional activity such as tourism management programs and hospitality training programs as additional focus. Regions will (SEE PAGE 11)

THE OTHER SIDE

Hizzer: A politically correct ambiguously gendered possessive pronoun coined out of the blue in my column last week. Closely related to an earlier effort in the third person nonparticular tense. (c.f. Hesse and Himmer.) I eliminated "Shehe" because of phonetic difficulties and further decided that "masculofemininous" was too complicated for the crowd I run with. Whatever happened to I'difference?

If you are politically astute, you should recall that Presidents Clinton and Nixon were "Slicky Willy" and "Tricky Dicky", respectively, both prior to inauguration. So, why are you surprised?

I have a friend who lost about the same amount as Hillary earned during the same time dealing with the same commodity broker in the same commodity. He's wondering if she is enjoying his money.

Your money will be cheerfully refunded if not satisfactory. "But sir, your money is fine." "It's our product you're having difficulty with."

I am looking at some notes on health care that I may have used parts of before in this column, but in order to present a unified discussion, I intend to resort to my propensity toward literary license which will allow me to repeat myself if I so desire. Therefore, without due regard for the sensibilities of my readers I hope this is still plural in the present, the following discussion, of the structure and philosophy of health care.

Premise One: Your health is predetermined by your own expectations.

Premise Two: Your body is designed to regenerate itself.

Premise Three: Preventive maintenance is cheaper than crisis management.

Premise Four: The health of the health care industry is dependent on your illness.

Premise Five: Government control of health care delivery will extend essential services at a reasonable cost to those who don't now have adequate care.

Premise Six: None of the above are true.

Premise Seven: All of the above are true.

Premise Eight: One or more of the above are true.

Conclusion: On the basis of the aforementioned assumptions, I can't determine why your chickens died, but if you will send me a soil sample... You either planted them too deep or watered them too much.

The concept of holistic medicine incorporates the first three premises. The natural healing processes are encouraged and when you get that way, you try to stay that way. This will ultimately be the future of health care.

Premise four is a problem which will likely be exacerbated by the expansion of governmental involvement in the industry. Formerly, the medical community had to depend on patients to produce its revenues, but technological advances have nearly priced their services out of the market. With Uncle Sugar picking up some of the tab, or controlling the pricing structure, more services will be available to more people, but the quality of care will necessarily decrease.

I recall when Medicaid was made available to welfare recipients who had formerly not had adequate care, and now could indulge in it to their heart's desire. The result (SEE PAGE 5)

Letters to the Editor

EDITOR—How can we change our school's "Buddy System"? (Buddy-meaning how faculty and teachers stick together against parents and students.)

Recently, we have had teachers who have taken our children on "excursions" - lose them, and then blame the kids for the entire ordeal. The outcome was a last minute "search", the "Lost" Kids were kicked out for five days.

Now—just what happens to the "teachers" who were responsible? NOT A THING—ZIP—NADA—last time I looked—ADULTS WERE RESPONSIBLE!

We entrust our children to the teachers on trips, believing they will look out and be cautious and level-headed, when it comes to the safety of our kids. And now both the principal and teachers are concentrating their efforts on blaming the children. (Hiding behind them?) If the kids are at fault for getting "lost."

What are the these "teachers" guilty of? We as parents should show a united front and demand they own up to their involvement—in all situations.

A CONCERNED CARRIZOZO PARENT, and yes — for as many times as I've heard parents don't care or get involved — WE DO — we just need someone to hear us!

VON SANDOVAL, Carrizozo.

EDITOR—Treaties are binding formal agreements between nations. When the U.S. Senate ratifies a treaty, it commits the U.S. Government and its citizens to abide by its contents. Some legal "experts" maintain that treaties take precedence over the U.S. Constitution and become the "supreme law of the land".

Treaties are significant. They affect us! Do we have a right to know how our senators have voted on treaties? I believe so; Senator Domenici and Senator Bingaman do not.

On April 22, 1992, the U.S. Senate voted in open executive session to ratify the UN Covenant on Civil and Political Rights. The vote was a division vote whereby those in favor stood, and then those opposed stood. The presiding officer visually determined that the constitutionally required 2/3 of the senators constituting a quorum voted to ratify.

When a division vote is taken the individual votes are not recorded. The only way to know which senators were present and how they voted is to ask each one.

Eight months ago I began an attempt to obtain an answer from our senators as to whether or not they were on the senate floor when this treaty was ratified and, if so, how they voted. After two letters to each senator and numerous phone calls to their Washington offices, I have received

OTHER SIDE

was a lot more people in the system getting treated for illnesses they wouldn't have had if a doctor hadn't told them they were sick. So much of medical care is demanded for reasons of comfort rather than physiological repair that the profession has gotten itself into a trap of treating imaginary illnesses just to get the patient out of the office. I recognized an attitude amongst doctors a long time ago that they felt an obligation to make the patient feel like they had done something. I went to a doctor one time complaining of a persistent headache. He told me he didn't know what was wrong with me but take these pills anyway and we can run some tests which will probably not discover anything. The only reason he was giving me the pills was to make him feel like he had done something. (More on this later.)

Letters to the Editor

nothing but evasive non-answers.

What is The United Nations Covenant on Civil and Political Rights?

The treaty is hailed as the UN equivalent of our Bill of Rights. But read the text of the treaty and you will discover that there is a fundamental difference. The rights in our Bill of Rights are absolute... they are our inalienable birthright and government is enjoined to protect them. The rights in the UN treaty are relative... they are benevolently granted by the UN and can thus be revoked by the UN...the UN protects them at its pleasure.

There are other "human rights" treaties which will be submitted to the U.S. Senate in the near future:

1. The UN Covenant on Economic, Social, and Cultural Rights
2. The UN Convention on the Elimination of All Forms of Racism
3. The UN Convention on the Elimination of All Forms of Discrimination Against Women
4. The OAS American Declaration of the Rights and Duties of Man

Because these treaties are based on a "relative rights" philosophy they do not truly affirm or protect the rights they address. Because these treaties compromise U.S. sovereignty, they endanger our "inalienable rights". Inevitably these treaties will serve to bind us to the "absolute dictates" of the UN.

Will Senator Domenici and Senator Bingaman be on the senate floor when these treaties are put to a ratifying vote? Will they vote "aye" or "nay"? You can ask them, but do not be surprised when they answer your question without answering it.

In matters of this nature our senators apparently do not feel obliged or obligated to account for their actions; actions which are taken in our name by virtue of the votes electing them to office.

When our elected officials deem themselves above accountability, they forfeit their right to hold their positions of public trust. It is our responsibility to reward their arrogance with removal from office. Our own vital self interest demands it!

CAPITAN NOTES

By MAURENSU SILVA

Greetings from my old house by the side of the road to your house.

First let me wish every mother a most Happy Mother's Day and especially a Most Happy Mothers Day to Thelma Trost of Warren, Illinois.

Thelma Trost is the mother of our Tom Trost who is being profiled today and there is a special reason why I am profiling him today. Last week I received a beautiful card from Thelma with an embroidered picture of a pretty house with the following inscription: Let me live in a house by the side of the road and be a friend to man. Inside it said "From our old house in Northern Illinois to your house by the side of the road in New Mexico. From Bob and Thelma Trost. I was so impressed and most pleased and I wish to thank them again. Also thank you for having such a fine son and for allowing us to have him in Capitan.

Tom Trost was raised in Northern Illinois and graduated from Warren High School. He attended two years of Junior College, played basketball, then enlisted in the Army in July, 1968. He took his basic training at Ft. Leonard Wood, Missouri and his Military Police Training at Fort Gordon, Georgia. He served in Vietnam from December 1968 to December 1969 where he was a machine gunner on ambush and reconnaissance. Tom was then stationed at White Sands Missile Range here in New Mexico from January 1970 to July 1971. He met and married Ruby Montoya on April 3, 1971. Then he attended New Mexico State University and worked for a time in Las Cruces. But they moved to Long Beach, California for 10 months where Tom worked on ambulance duty in Los Angeles County. Their son Stormy was born in California, but they later moved back to New Mexico and Tom worked at the Lincoln County Medical Center in Ruidoso as an emergency room technician. That was in 1973 and in 1974 their daughter Sunshyne was born and her father had the privilege of delivering her at the hospital.

In 1975 Tom returned to college at New Mexico State in Las Cruces. He worked and attended college until his graduation in 1978. He graduated with a bachelor degree in Independent Studies with emphasis in sociology and psychology. In 1978 Tom started working as a social worker at Ft. Stanton Hospital and Training School and is currently Director of Social Services and works with the Jackson Transition Team. In 1975 Tom was elected to the Capitan School Board and is the President of the School Board at this time. He is also a member of the VietNam Veterans of New Mexico. In 1980 Tom and his wife Ruby moved to the Indian Divide and since that time has divided his time between work, serving the community and remodeling his house. Then in 1987 another little Trost was born. That was in 1987. His name is Javier. And if you have not met Javier you have a pleasant surprise in store for you. (My granddaughter thinks he is quite a catch. She is 7!) At the present time Javier is in the first grade at Capitan Elementary School. The family are members of the Capitan Church of Christ. Their daughter Sunshyne graduated from Capitan High School in 1993 and attended West Texas A & M for a semester but was not too impressed. As of this writing she plans to enlist in the Air Force. And Stormy, who graduated from Capitan High School in 1992 is a PFC in the United States Marine Corps and is stationed in Camp Le Juene in North Carolina.

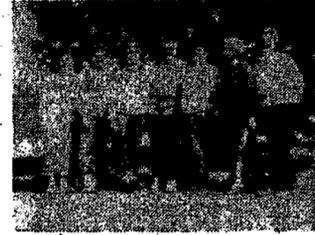

Ruby Montoya Trost was born and raised in Las Cruces, New Mexico and graduated from Mayfield High School. After graduation she moved to New Jersey, but soon returned to Las Cruces and worked as a telephone operator there. She attended New Mexico State University also. When they were living in Ruidoso, Ruby owned and operated a crafts and jewelry store. Then they moved to Capitan and Ruby drove a school bus for Frankie Silva and also worked at the school as an instructional assistant. At the present time Ruby is assistant coordinator and coach for Odyssey of the Mind program. So let us all congratulate this fine family and thank them for deciding to make Lincoln County their permanent address.

The following is a note from our Mike Currin regarding a new program that is to be instituted in the Capitan School System this fall. It will, above all else, instruct our students on how to correctly compose, write and address correspondence, and the same day that I received Tom Trost's mother's letter I returned to the post office and asked Mike if the stamp from Thelma's letter could have the honor of being the first stamp deposited in the jar. And so it was and we thought we would try to tie all of this together and profile the Trost's fine son and family and thereby extending our best wishes to Thelma and Bob Trost and a Happy Mothers Day to Thelma especially, with her son. Tom being the President of the School Board.

Okay all you fine citizens of Capitan and the surrounding area, here's the deal: Inside the post office lobby in Capitan you will find a container for your use (canceled) stamps. If you will be so kind remove the stamps from your cards, letters, and packages and place them in that container. They will be turned over to the students at Capitan Schools in the fall. Thanks, Mike Currin, Postmaster, Capitan.

Nina and Gordon Ross were hosts to a Cavener family reunion recently when Nina's five sisters, brother and spouses enjoyed a week together in Capitan. Oleta Jordan came from Denver, Naomi and her husband Otis Horton from Commerce, Texas; Eudora and husband Ed Harris from Portales; Roedean and husband Lonnie Jordan from Artesia; Reba and husband Don Loring from Clovis; and brother Buddy and his wife Ann Cavener from Houston.

The Cavener family of eight children, seven girls and a brother, grew up in Roosevelt County. The four oldest girls were born in Oklahoma but moved to New Mexico by covered wagon in 1923 to their grandmother's homestead farm. The four youngest children were born on that farm in the old Pleasant Valley community near Elida where all attended grade school.

In 1934 Eastern New Mexico University, as we know it now, was established as a Jr. College and Jennie Mae, the oldest daughter, now deceased, was one of the first students. Each of the other children attended Eastern after graduating from Portales High School. Six of the seven sisters are retired from teaching careers in New Mexico, Colorado and California and brother Buddy, a mechanical engineer, is married to a retired teacher.

The week was filled with fun activities including sewing (14 broomstick skirts), crafts, golf for the fellows, dominoes and other games, reminiscing about times gone by, and eating lots of home cooking. The tradition in these annual get togethers is that each sister brings food specialties and then everyone shares in their goodness and the resulting weight gain.

I must have been born with the Bag Lady syndrome. Whenever I see any discards I feel it is my duty and obligation to sort through it. Not that I always follow my inclinations, however, because they could be downright embarrassing. After all there must be discretion in all things, including hobbies and urges. But last week I had just taken my bag of refuse out to the corner of the lot for pickup and Bennie had just deposited the refuse from the cafe. With the refuse was an assortment of cardboard and I was sorting through it when Virginia Jones joined me. She apparently was on her way to the post office, but like me, the sight of anything being discarded draws her like a magnet. There we were big as life and twice as natural and having a whee of a time, when a car drove up behind us and a familiar voice called out. Well if it isn't the two 'bag ladies' of Capitan. There was Elaine looking like she had just left the beauty parlor and Lou Roberts also looking lovely, quite in contrast to us. Naturally I tried to explain why I was there, but they both just laughed. Ha Ha they chimed, a good story.

Becki Throop, daughter of Elaine Beaudry and the late George Beaudry attended the Washington State Parents Teacher Association meeting at the Sea-Tac (Seattle-Tacoma) Red Lion Inn in Seattle.

Her expenses were paid by the Kapowski Elementary School of Graham, Washington. Becki is president of the Graham PTA and only the present president and the 1994-1995 executive committee were invited. Over 2,000 people from the State of Washington attended and the speaker was Mac Bledsoe of Yakima, Washington. Mr. Bledsoe is a public speaker of note and an experienced and talented orator who commands $5,000.00 fee for each session. He is famous in his own right, but is the father of quite a famous son, Drew Bledsoe who is a star football player with the New England Patriots. Mr. Bledsoe Sr. impressed his audience with his oratory, but he also stressed to the audience how to hold an audience, which he does so easily, how to be a good public speaker, which he certainly is, how to be a public speaker at Parent Teacher Assn., and how to set goals for creative fund raising and how to come up with unique ideas. Becki enjoyed every minute of it as she related it all to her "Mom" via telephone, naturally. Congratulations Becki on the honors you have won, both as a student, as a mother of two young lads and as a parent. (We have so few parents that have the time to become involved in their children's school and I think it is high time we offer praise that is so well deserved to the mothers that do. So again I say congratulations Becki and your two fine sons will remember this for the rest of their lives. They have a Mom who cares and a Mom who has plenty of time for them and their interests. What a wonderful world this could be if all the young mothers could or would follow your fine example.

On May 11, 1994 the Capitan F.C.E. (Extension Club) meeting will be held at the Capitan Senior Center, starting at 9:30 a.m. Program: Exercise and Fitness presented by Melba Robertson. Craft Project-Gift Bags- instructed by Bonnie Thetford. There will be a $1 charge for supplies. Hostesses, Frances Shaw and Mollie Mason. Submitted by Melba Robertson and her telephone number is 354-2272.

So happy to report that Mae Crouse is doing nicely after her rough time and is now enjoying her daughter who came to visit her and Robin. Her daughter, Irene Cowell, lives in Hyattsville, Maryland and will be here until May 11 or 12. She and her mother Mae will motor to Roswell on Thursday where their daughter and sister Wilda Kilgore will drive in from Seminole, Texas to visit with them.

Here is another installment of the Johnny Martin Ranch saga!

"Johnny Martin was raised on the High Lonesome Ranch, located near Pride, Texas. His father homesteaded the place in 1901, moving there from the Spade Ranch near Colorado City, where he was foreman for many years. In 1916, after riding after cattle in a pouring rain, he died of pneumonia. Johnny was only eight months old.

Back at the Graham ranch, during the 30s the drought had all but disappeared it seemed if only shortly. Both the Graham-Sowell ranches prospered again. Dugan sold off the last longhorn cows, buying herefords to replenish his stock he had held onto for so long. The last two longhorn cows he had the slaughter house save their horns and hoofs, which he mounted and placed on the wall of the ranch house. (After his death, my grandmother brought them to the present ranch where they remain today, above the fireplace.) C.J. and Emma Graham's sons married and started their own ranches. The daughters of Dugan and Leslie Sowell grew up and married also. Mary became Mrs. Mary Butler of Arkansas, Erma became Mrs. Erma Burch of Santa Fe, and Wilma became Mrs. Wilma Martin of Capitan. Wilma married Guy H. Martin (Johnny) in 1937 at Hot Springs, New Mexico.

My grandmother related many stories to me of life on the Graham-Sowell ranches as (SEE PAGE 8)

Capitan Notes

well as stories passed down to her from her mother Emma Graham. Such as the time Oliver Lee and his friend hid out at the Graham Ranch from Pat Garrett, the sheriff and his men. Mother Graham would hang out a white sheet on the clothesline to signal Oliver that the coast was clear to come in. She would feed them and provide them with any news she had picked up on events.

Another story relating to Graham's sister Erma, involved them both trying to put out a fire in the log corral at the Sowell Ranch. Somehow or another the logs making up the corrals had caught fire and they saw it from the house. They rushed to try and put out the flames before they reached the barns, throwing dirt on the burning logs without success. Erma then started throwing the logs to the ground and Wilma would try to put out the flames. At any rate they succeeded in removing the burning logs and saved the rest of the corrals and the barn. When their parents returned home, they related their story. But A.B. didn't believe them and went to see for himself. 'Sure enough there the burned logs lay. He told them to try and move one of the logs and when they tried, they couldn't. Those logs were about 10 to 15 feet long and weighed over a couple of hundred pounds. How they moved them they could not explain. Four cowboys had to work together to replace those logs. Everyone just chalked it up to adrenalin-caused by fear.

More next week. (Ironically, when we moved to Santa Fe in the 1960s one of the first ladies I met was Erma Sowell Burch and I remember her relating this scary time to me one day and it was unbelievable. Today it still is. Strange that, after first hearing the story in Santa Fe, that I should meet her great nephew and be relating the story to you.)

To be concluded next week. Stay tuned!

And so for this week Happy Mother's Day to all of you Mothers and to you Fathers also. Guess if we didn't have fathers, we wouldn't have any mothers to congratulate.

Remember if you have any news, please call me at 354-2591. See you next week!

FORT STANTON FACTS & FICTION

Lots of good cowboys have bit the dust this past month. One of the very best in Lincoln County was taken to the hospital last week. Fletcher Hall was, thrown from one of his race horses and had a bad broken leg and several broken ribs. When Fletcher didn't come in for lunch that day, Emogene went to find him and he had been laying on the ground for a couple of hours. I understand Fletcher is out of ICU and doing much better. Fletcher we miss you and hope you will be back in the saddle soon.

Joan McQuire and Wesley L. Pounds were united in marriage at 2 o'clock in a double ceremony April 16 at Christ Community Church.

Pastor Ed Vinson and Grover Dobbins, brother of the groom, officiated. Grover sang the "Hawaiian Wedding Song" and Doris Pounds, mother of the groom played the piano. The maid of honor was Candy Thomas and Mrs. Terry Bullcock ran a camcorder of the wedding. Both Candy and Terry from Roswell were close friends of the bride. The best man was Willy Kern of Capitan, and a close friend of the groom. Ring bearer was Joan's son, Michael. A reception was held in the church afterwards.

The bride graduated from Roswell High School and from ENMU in 1990. The groom attended Capitan Schools and also took classes from ENMU.

Both are employed by Garner Zenke in Colorado Springs, Colo., where they will make their home.

A correction from a while back. The alumni tickets being sold are to make money for frames for all the composites of the upcoming and previous senior pictures. In the old gym years ago when you entered the front door there were all the past pictures. The alumni wants to do this again and this is what the raffle is for. Also frames for athletic pictures to be put in the case will be purchased. Any extra money will be for special school projects.

The Capitan Alumni has in Barbara Beckley's possession the following T-shirts and golf shirts for sale: 1 large and 5 XL grey T-shirts, 4 medium, 2 large and 9 XL grey golf shirts. If anyone is interested, contact Barbara.

Pat went to the doctor on Monday. Dr. Annala said he was doing good but to not be lifting or riding for another two weeks. He says this is really getting old quick.

Phil and Donna Keeler are very proud of their daughter Erin. She recently graduated from OR University in Oklahoma. Phil and Donna just got back from attending Erin's graduation. She plans to go on and get her masters in marine biology. Congratulations to all of you.

Shelly and Tony Take have returned to Clevis to their home there. They had spent the winter here in Capitan. We are already missing you three. They were up over the weekend to help Janice and Barry brand at Hondo. Ronnie and Teke have spent some time with Grandma and enjoyed the branding too. Eddie Davis and Todd Proctor helped also. Audrey and Kersti spent the day with us.

Rosalee and Johnny Patterson surprised me on Monday. Sure had a nice short visit with them. She has been busy making little coyote decorations for the upcoming convention. L.C. Perkins and Helen stopped by over the weekend to pick up the decorations. They also stopped in at Faye Womack's to pick up her decorations.

Liz Montes, Mrs. York, and Debbie Padilla brought the little headstart group out to the Fort last Thursday. Jane showed them the greenhouse and all the plants and showed them how to pot a plant.

Dr. Kuydendall will be retiring this week from many years of practice. He has given me many laughs and we will all miss him. I think it must be a great feeling to know that having been a doctor you have accomplished more than anyone could ever know. Thanks Dr. for all you have done through the years and I'm sure will continue to do. Dr. Kuydendall and his wife will make their home in Alto.

Til next week. Help other people to cope with their problems and it will be easier to cope with your own.

GARDEN TIP

Tomatoe and Pepper Cans.

For those of us who just can't wait to get our peppers and tomatoes in the ground, here's a simple way to protect your investment, from the nippy night air.

Take a #10 can (gallon size) and cut one end completely out. Cut the other end almost all the way around, leaving enough attached that the lid can be opened and closed fairly easily.

Now you're ready - open the lid and place the can over your planted seedling. Push it firmly in the ground so the wind won't blow it over. The can will protect your new plant from the hot sun, harsh winds, and all our helpful family pets. Then when the evening turns cold, close the lid, and the can will help protect your starts from the frost. By the time the lid falls off in your hand, your plants should be tough enough to handle our cool nights.

You can leave the can on if you like, for early support and a great caterpillar guard. It's a little extra work, but well worth it for "EARLY BIRDS."

Ronnie Gunkel Returns From Deployment

Navy Airman Ronnie A. Gunkel, a 1990 graduate of Capitan High School, recently returned from a four-month Persian Gulf deployment with Carrier Airborne Early Warning Squadron 115, forward deployed to Atsugi, Japan, part of the aircraft carrier USS Independence Battle Group.

The squadron served in support of the United Nations sanctioned Operation Southern Watch.

CARRIZOZO SCHOOLS CLIPBOARD

Compiled by Polly Chavez

FOREST EDUCATION- Teacher Bryan Wetzel's 5th grade class went to Cedar Creek Campground on April 28. As part of the field trip, sponsored by the New Mexico State Forest Service, each student attended eight stations. At the wildlife observation station, students learned how ruthless nature can be when there is not enough food to go around. At the soil conservation station they learned how different areas grow different plants and how important they all are. In the archaeology section, students learned how to tell the ages of arrowheads. Students also learned how to identify trees, and used the equipment that loggers and foresters use to measure trees. They learned how important grass is in watershed management and why we do not want mud in lakes and streams. Everyone examined the equipment used by firefighters to put out housefires, grassfires, and forest fires. The class saw a demonstration of how a foaming agent in water helps put out fires. Lynn Hutchinson, NM State Forest Service, organized the trip for the class.

FLOWER PLAY-April 28, parents, grandparents and friends of the preschool program were invited to a skit entitled "Flowers Make A Rainbow." Preschool teacher Cherri Goad read a poem while each student (with skit props) presented their flowers until the entire class made a bright flower rainbow. The students' play included a stroll through a literary garden based on the book, "The Rose In My Garden" by Arnold and Anita Lobel. Each student wore a different garden flower to match verses of a flower song. A special presentation was made to Carol Cluff, former preschool aide. With the help of Forest Hansell, the class constructed quilt blocks for a baby quilt for Cluff's baby, Amy. Refreshments were served.

HISTORY STUDY-The junior class went to Alamogordo April 26 to watch "Schindler's List" as part of their U.S. history study of the Holocaust. The movie was based on the life of Oskar Schindler, a Nazi Party member who saved 1,100 Jews from the concentration camp.

DISTRICT AWARD-The Carrizozo Soil and Water Conservation District (SWCD) Science Fair Award provides a $100 savings bond each year, as applicable, for an outstanding science fair exhibit that might involve soil erosion, brush management, grazing management, or other aspect of resource conservation. Jim Brown, sophomore, received this year's SWCD award. Brown's exhibit, Electrolysis in Float Tubs Phase 2, involved testing various materials used as electrodes, suspended in steel drinking troughs, for the purpose of reducing corrosion of the troughs. This has potential for extending the life of steel drinkers, saving water, money, and time. Drinking water has always been a major key to grazing management. SWCD encouraged Brown to continue with the project, testing additional electrode materials. Brown took his exhibit, which was one of the overall winners in the Carrizozo Science Fair, to the Regional Science Fair at Portales. He placed first at regionals and exhibited at state in Socorro. Past winners of SWCD savings bond include DeWayne Langley and Shad Roper, Carrizozo students.

BABY ARRIVES-Carrizozo Schools 4th grade teacher Dana Rhoten and his wife Kathy are parents of Michelle Jean, born April 24. She weighed 6 pounds, 11 ounces. The Rhotens, who live at Ruidoso, have an older daughter, Ashley, who attends North Hill Elementary.

Capitan FHA Team To Represent NM At Nationals

Once again the Capitan FHA Parliamentary Procedure team has won the right to compete at the National FHA meeting, July 9, in Orlando, Florida.

The senior division team of Angie Hutchison, Renee Smith, Tay LaRue and Nolan LaRue won the right to compete at the national event by placing first at the State FHA Leadership Meeting and Star Events competition in Glorieta April 23.

Meaghan Vinson, a New Mexico State FHA officer for the past year, will attend the national meeting to represent the state, along with Capitan's FHA advisory Jan LaRue, at the planning meetings for FHA's 50th anniversary celebration set for next year. Vinson also competed at the state meeting, and took a gold in the senior job interview category. The theme of this year's state meeting was "A League of Their Own." Banners and other competitions were based on the theme.

In the junior division, Capitan FHA members Michele Ingle and Lily Cherry won silver medals for the junior division chapter banner. Stephanie Hestor won the bronze in decorated cakes.

In the senior division, Hutchison and Smith won bronze medals in the chapter banner.

At the state meeting, Capitan adult volunteers Inez Marrs and Juanita Smith were named Honorary FHA Members. Only three adult volunteers are given the membership each year in the state.

The Capitan FHA chapter will begin raising funds to send its team to the national event. Several fund raisers are scheduled.

Athletic Scholarships Available

Over 100,000 collegiate athletic scholarships are available each year to male and female high school and junior college student athletes. Contrary to popular belief, students don't have to be all state to qualify. Much of this money goes unused. A new publication with forms, sample letters and tables of factual information is available for student athletes. It takes them step by step through the important process of getting an athletic scholarship and includes college and conference listings.

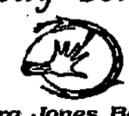

For information on how to get a collegiate athletic scholarship, send a self addressed (business size), stamped envelope to the National Sports Foundation, 611A Willow Drive, P.O. Box 840, Oakhurst, NJ 07756.

Hunters Cited For Unattended Campfires

(ALAMOGORDO, NM) Forest Service law enforcement officers recently issued six violations notices for leaving a campfire unattended and not completely extinguished. Most of the violations took place on the Clouderoft Ranger District of Lincoln National Forest during the opening weekend of the spring turkey hunt.
One of the abandoned campfires had already begun to spread into dry grasses when it was discovered during a routine patrol.
"Turkey hunters left their campfires hot," stated Officer Charles (Hoot) Murray. "A large percentage of the Forest's wildfires have been attributed to this sort of negligence by humans."
In past ten years on the Lincoln National Forest, the percentage of human caused fires was 48% as compared with 52% lightning caused wildfires. Fire danger is presently high to very high. Vegetation and trees contain little moisture due to last year's dry winter and will ignite easily. Another factor is how rapidly fire can spread when driven by brisk spring winds.
Officers gave an example of a past incident where a hapless camper lost a tent and all of his personal belongings when his unattended campfire escaped.
"People must be aware of fire danger and their responsibility to take precautions when they choose to have a campfire. Penalties for campfire violations can be $500 fines and up to six months in jail, or both," Murray said. Individuals found guilty of causing a forest fire are liable for resource and property losses plus the costs of fighting the fire.

Lists Can Help When Shopping At Sales

by BETTY MCCREIGHT
Lincoln County Extension
Home Economist

"Gigantic Sale -- Everything Goes!"

Who can pass up such tempting proclamations that promise savings and a chance to pick up some items at bargain prices?

However shoppers need to take a long-range view of family needs, particularly for large ticket items like major appliances, furniture and gardening equipment. That's better than buying on impulse, just because something has a sale tag on it.

Price is not the only consideration when making purchases. Quality, warranty coverage, service availability, dealer reliability and other factors are important considerations. A good buy is a good buy only if your family needs it and can afford it.

Take stock of clothes and household items that are ready for replacement. For this type of shopping, a consumer calendar notebook may be a good idea. List what you expect your family will need throughout the year, noting sizes for family members. Also list home maintenance and repair items, major appliances and furnishings, and hobby and sporting gear.

Then watch for sales on things you listed. It's a good idea to do some comparison shopping among stores and brands ahead of time -- before the sale.

Your notebook could also include a list of special occasions--birthdays, anniversaries, graduations--and ideas for gifts. With an organized gift list for the year, you can shop for presents, including Christmas gifts, when you find them on sale.

When possible, buy off-season for items like winter coats and swimsuits. They are generally less expensive during pre-season promotions and late-season clearances.

Use shopping savvy. If you want the best selections, shop when sales begin. But if price is what you're after, you'll find that as the sale ends.

Be sure the sale price really is lower. It may be the regular price at another store. Take along a copy of the advertisement to check price, model, size and sale dates. If the sale item is not available, see if the store offers rain checks. And don't forget to ask about the store's policy on returns and exchanges of sale items.

Certain items (such as household linens) are generally sold at reduced prices at particular times of the year, like in January, May, July, August and November.

Spring sales offers a good time to check for coats, winter clothing, after Easter clothing, paints, outdoor furniture, gardening/landscaping equipment and supplies.

OFFICIAL NOTICE OF MEETING AND SALE HONDO VALLEY PUBLIC SCHOOL DISTRICT NO. 20 COUNTY OF LINCOLN, NEW MEXICO GENERAL OBLIGATION SCHOOL BUILDING BONDS SERIES 1994

PUBLIC NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the Board of Education of Hondo Valley Public School District No. 20, County of Lincoln, New Mexico (the "Board" and the "District," respectively) will receive and review sealed bids for the purchase of the District General Obligation School Building Bonds, in the aggregate principal amount of $680,000 at the Administration Building, Hondo, New Mexico, on May 11, 1994, at 7:00 p.m., prevailing Mountain Time. At said meeting, the Board will publicly discuss and consider such bids, award such bonds, adopt a bond resolution and consider such other matters as may properly come before such Board, provided, however, that a satisfactory price be obtained for the bonds.

DESCRIPTION OF BONDS

Said bonds will be dated June 1, 1994, will be issued as fully registered bonds in the denomination of $5,000.00 each or any integral multiple thereof and will mature on May 1 in each of the years and in the principal amounts as follows:

Maturing (May 1)	Principal Amounts
1995	$25,000
1996	$45,000
1997	$50,000
1998	$50,000
1999	$55,000
2000	$55,000
2001	$60,000
2002	$60,000
2003	$65,000
2004	$70,000
2005	$70,000
2006	$75,000

Both principal and interest on the bonds will be payable in lawful money of the United States of America, and the principal of each bond will be payable at the principal office of the paying agent/registrars to be selected by the Board. The interest on each bond shall be payable by check or draft mailed to the respective registered owners thereof at the address as it appears on the registration books of said paying agent/registrars or any successor paying agent/registrars, or by such other customary banking arrangements acceptable to the paying agent/registrars and the person to whom interest is to be paid; provided, however, that such person shall bear all risk and expense of such other customary banking arrangements. Said issue constitutes a portion of the bonds which were authorized at an election held on March 8, 1994 additions to and furnishing school buildings or purchasing or improving school grounds, or any combination of these purposes, and will constitute general obligation bonds of the District, payable from general taxes which may be levied without limitation as to rate or amount.

REDEMPTION

Bonds maturing on or after May 1, 2002 are subject to call for redemption prior to their maturity on May 1, 2001, in whole at any time or in part on any interest payment date thereafter, by the payment of the principal amount of each bond called for redemption plus accrued interest to the date fixed for redemption.

QUALIFIED TAX EXEMPT OBLIGATIONS

The District intends to designate the bonds as "QUALIFIED TAX EXEMPT OBLIGATIONS" for purposes of Section 265 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended (the "Code"). Section 265 of the Code permits the designation of governmental bonds such as these bonds as qualified tax exempt obligations, based upon certain representations made hereinafter:

- (a) The bonds are not private activity bonds;
- (b) The District does not reasonably expect to issue qualified tax exempt obligations in an aggregate principal amount exceeding $10,000,000.00 during calendar year 1994; and
- (c) The District will not designate more than $10,000,000.00 in aggregate principal amount of qualified tax exempt bonds during calendar year 1994.

INTEREST RATE

Interest on said bonds will be payable on May 1, 1995, and semi-annually thereafter on May 1 and November 1 in each year until maturity.

The maximum net effective interest rate permitted on said bonds is twelve percent (12%); provided, however, that if the net effective interest rate on such bonds is greater than ten percent (10%) per annum (based on the actual price to be paid to the District for said bonds, calculated to maturity according to the standard tables of bond values), such rate must be approved in writing by the New Mexico State Board of Finance, and the District may not issue the bonds before such approval is given. It is permissible to bid different or split rates of interest; provided, however, that:

BIDS

- (1) no bid shall specify more than one interest rate for each maturity;
- (2) the maximum interest rate permitted is twelve percent (12%) per annum;
- (3) each interest rate specified must be stated in a multiple of one-eighth (1/8) or one-twentieth (1/20) of one percent (1%) per annum; and
- (4) the maximum interest rate specified may exceed the minimum interest rate specified by no more than two (2%) percent.

Bidders are required to submit a bid specifying (a) the lowest rate or rates of interest and premium, if any, at which such bidder will purchase such bonds. For informational purposes only, each bidder is requested to specify (b) the total net interest cost to the District in dollars and cents and (c) the net effective interest rate in a stated percentage. Proposals should be enclosed in a sealed envelope endorsed "Bid for General Obligation School Building Bonds of Hondo Valley Public School District No. 20, County of Lincoln, New Mexico," addressed as follows: Hondo Valley Public School District No. 20, Administrative Office, P.O. Box 66, Hondo, New Mexico 88338, Attention: Secretary, Board of Education. Only unconditional bids shall be considered. Bids should be submitted on the official bid form which may be obtained from the District's financial consultant (see "INFORMATION" which appears hereafter).

BASIS OF AWARD

Said bonds will be awarded to the best bidder considering the interest rate or rates specified and the premium offered, if any, and subject to the right of the Board to reject any and all bids and re-advertise. The best bid will be determined by deducting the amount of the premium bid, if any, from the total amount of interest which the District would be required to pay from the date of the bonds to the respective maturity dates at the rate or rates specified in the proposal, and said bonds will be awarded on the basis of the lowest net interest cost to the District. The purchaser must pay accrued interest from the date of the bonds to the date of delivery. The bonds will not be sold for less than par plus accrued interest. The District reserves the privilege of waiving any irregularity or informality in any bid.

GOOD FAITH DEPOSIT

All bids shall be sealed and, except the bid of the State of New Mexico, if one is received, shall be accompanied by a good faith deposit of not less than $13,600 (i.e., two percent (2%) of the principal amount of the bonds) in cash or by cashier's or treasurer's check of, or by certified check drawn on a solvent commercial bank or trust company in the United States of America and payable to "Hondo Valley Public School District No. 20." Such good faith check shall be returned if the bid is not accepted. If the successful bidder shall fail or neglect to complete the purchase of said bonds within forty-five (45) days following the acceptance of the bid or within ten (10) days after the bonds are offered for delivery, whichever is later, the amount of the deposit shall be forfeited to the District as liquidated damages and, in that event, the Board may accept the bid of the one making the next best bid. If all bids are rejected, the Board shall re-advertise said bonds for sale in the same manner as herein provided for the original advertisement. If there be two or more equal bids and such bids are the best bids received and for not less than par and accrued interest, the Board shall determine which bid shall be accepted.

TIME OF AWARD AND DELIVERY

The Board will take action awarding the bonds or rejecting all bids not later than 24 hours after the expiration of the time herein prescribed for the receipt of the bids. Delivery of the bonds will be made to the successful bidder at some bank or trust company in Albuquerque, New Mexico, or elsewhere at its option, at its expense, within 60 days of the acceptance of the bid. If for any reason delivery cannot be made within 60 days, the successful bidder shall have the right to purchase said bonds during the succeeding 30 days upon the same terms, or at the request of the successful bidder, during said succeeding 30 days, the good faith deposit will be returned and such bidder shall be relieved of any further obligation. The successful bidder shall make final payment for said bonds with Federal Reserve Funds or other funds acceptable to the District for immediate and unconditional credit to the account of the District. It is anticipated that the delivery of the bonds will be on or about June 15, 1994.

INFORMATION

Information concerning the bonds, including the District's Office Statement may be obtained from the District's Financial Consultant, Southwest Securities, Inc. The Official Statement is deemed final by the District for purposes of SEC Rule 15C2-12(b)(1)(15 CFR §240.15C 2-12(b)(1)) except for the omission of the following information: the offering price(s), interest rate(s), selling commission, aggregate principal amount, principal amount per maturity, delivery dates, any other terms or provisions required by an issuer of such securities to be specified in a competitive bid, ratings, other terms of the securities depending on such matters, and the identity of the underwriter(s).

TRANSCRIPT, PRINTED BONDS AND LEGAL OPINIONS

The written approval of the New Mexico Attorney General of said bonds as to form and legality will be supplied. The legality of the bonds, in addition, will be approved by Simons, Cuddy & Friedman, Attorneys at Law, Santa Fe, New Mexico and McCall, Parkhurst & Horton, L.L.P., Dallas, Texas ("Co-Bond Counsel"), whose opinion approving the legality of the bonds will be furnished to the successful bidder at no cost to the successful bidder. The opinion will state in substance that the issue of the bonds in the amount aforesaid is valid and legally binding upon the District, that all of the taxable property in the District is subject to the levy of a tax to pay the same without limitation of rate or amount, that interest on the bonds is excludable from gross income for purposes of federal income tax, and that the District has properly designated such bonds as "Qualified Tax Exempt Obligations." The successful bidder (without cost to such bidder) will also be furnished with the printed bonds (with the opinion of Bond Counsel printed thereon), and a complete transcript of the legal proceedings, including a no-litigation certificate which will state that no litigation is pending to the knowledge of the signor or signers thereof as of the date of the delivery of the bonds affecting their validity, or the levy or collection of such taxes for their payment.

CUSIP NUMBERS

CUSIP identification numbers may be typed or printed on the bonds, but neither the failure to provide such number on any bond nor any error with respect thereto will constitute cause for failure or refusal by the purchaser thereof to accept delivery of and to pay for the bonds in accordance with the terms hereof. All expenses in relation to the CUSIP Service charge for the assignment of said numbers will be the responsibility of and will be paid for by the purchaser.

Corona Elementary Science Fair Awards Are Presented

Corona Elementary's Science Fair projects ranged from bacterial experiments to water filtration systems, and from trajectory rockets to horticulture scrutinization.

Irma Bryan and Kara Wilson-Allen were in charge of the event. Guidelines had to be set, judges selected, trophies and ribbons ordered, among numerous other tasks, before the science fair could begin.

The competition took place April 21, and there were a total of 43 entries ranging from the kindergarten level up through sixth grade. By observing some of the projects, it would have been hard to distinguish the various groups. Some of the younger ones' investigations were truly astounding!

The judges for the events were Lawrence Lowry, Corona's current high school English teacher, and Laben Tubbs, a local rancher with a degree and strong background in chemistry/science. It took the judges approximately five hours to decide on the winning projects, and a mere point separated a number of the entries.

After students had been interviewed about their projects, the results were:

First place winners were Jared Pringle-kindergarten, Alexandra Stewart-first grade, Victor Perez-second grade, Riley Tully-third grade, Miranda Contreras-fourth grade, Albert Sanchez-fifth grade, and Dustin Sultemeier-sixth grade.

Second place winners were Wayne Finley-kindergarten, Michael Finley-first grade, Casey Sisk-second grade, Chauncy Jinks-third grade, Monique Johnson-fourth grade, Delia Gonzalez-fifth grade, and Courtney Perez-sixth grade.

Third place winners were Breanna Webb-kindergarten, Matt May-first grade, Rachel Lueras-second grade, Dustin Pringle-third grade, Rhiannon Alirez-fourth grade, Amanda Giarusso-fifth grade, and Sarah Stewart-sixth grade.

The overall grand champion 32 inch trophy was given to Dustin Sultemeir, for his experiment and construction of an approximately 24" tall trajectory rocket, launcher and distance projections.

Reserve grand champion title and trophy, were awarded to Miranda Contreras for her experiment in water filtration, both natural and man-made, efficiency.

Honorable mention was given to Courtney Perez for her experiment on plant roots and their "zig zag" growth.

The awards assembly was held in the local board room. Parents, teachers, students and other members of the community were present. A remarkable show of good sportsmanship was displayed by Riley Tully when after being called forward as the reserve champion (a misprint) proudly handed the award to the correct owner. All of the children did an outstanding job.

July usually offers a time to make the best buys in summer clothing, shoes, major appliances, air conditioners, household linens and new cars.

Planning large or major purchases to coincide with seasonal sales can lead to substantial savings.

Finally, consider additional costs that are a part of all shopping--transportation, babysitters, and the value of your time and energy.

Recycling Program Continues . . .

hoe. Maintenance got the nod on a used service truck, transmission jack and miscellaneous shop tools.

All departments will get a new radio frequency. Lewandowski was to check with the Federal Communication Commission regional office about the frequency for LCSWA. He had been told that there was some question whether LCSWA was a governmental agency, and thus not entitled to have a frequency on the VHF. A UHF frequency would cost about $20,000 for all LCSWA trucks. A VHF frequency upgrade will cost about $8,000.

Other questions about LCSWA being a governmental agency have come up with the Department of Motor Vehicles. The DMV has questioned LCSWA's right to use the governmental "blue plates", Lewandowski said. Members and the authority attorney said LCSWA is a governmental entity, a special district created by the municipalities and the county.

The proposed budget included revenues from the reimbursements of the Environmental Gross Receipt Taxes that were dedicated from each LCSWA member (all municipalities and the county) to finance the regional landfill.

Members will reconsider the draft budget at their regular meeting Monday, May 16.

At the regular meeting April 18, Lewandowski announced the LCSWA recycling program continues to grow. With a pilot curbside recycling project and increased interest, the recycling center in Ruidoso Downs processed 126,000 pounds in March, double that of the previous month. "More people are getting involved," Lewandowski said.

LCSWA finances balanced in March, with 70 percent revenue and 70 percent averaged expenditures. But overtime for employees is a continuing problem. Lewandowski said employees get a combination of overtime and compensation leave. LCSWA uses the Village of Ruidoso comp time policy, lacking its own.

Lewandowski said LCSWA hasn't any extra hands, and they have been busy especially on special cleanups. LCSWA crews also sometimes work on declared holidays to keep up with garbage volumes. LCSWA Chairman Wilton Howell suggested hiring more employees in the next fiscal year to ease the overtime problem. But Lewandowski said paying overtime is ultimately cheaper than hiring more employees, because of the benefits.

Shaw said she doesn't question the overtime as long as the trash is picked up. "I'd rather see overtime paid than hear my phone ring," she said about complaints of uncollected trash.

Lewandowski also presented the special pickup policy, under which LCSWA has operated for two months. Residents in Ruidoso and Ruidoso Downs will not be charged for special pick ups of limited amounts of brush, pine needles, old appliances and furniture, etc., if the residents are on the villages' billings systems. Lewandowski said 100 bags of pine needles will be the limit for a free pick up.

high school students (second semester eighth graders or higher) who participate in extracurricular activities will be required to have passed all classes (not failed any), and have a C (2.0) or better average for every six weeks. All students in grades seven and eight must have passed all classes, and have a 2.0 at the end of each grading period.

Students who are assigned to In-school suspension (ISS) will not be able to participate in extracurricular activities for the suspension period. A student who is removed from a class for the third time will not be able to participate in extracurricular activities for the remainder of the semester.

The policy also includes a requirement for coaches and sponsors to check academic eligibility on the last school day of the second and fourth week of the six-week grading period. Students will be responsible for coordinating the eligibility forms with each of their teachers and returning the form to their coach/sponsor following the last school day of the second and fourth week in the six-week grading period.

When the forms are returned the coach/sponsor will identify students with grades less than a C. In coordination with the principal the coach/sponsor will contact the teacher of the class(es) to determine how to help the student raise the grade and contact the students' parents concerning the matter.

Coaches/sponsors will establish an honor roll for the students participating in the team/activity and report it every six weeks.

The policy concludes with the statement: "In order for students to be successful in interscholastic activities, students must first be successful in academics. Therefore, certain responsibilities must be met which will ultimately serve the best interests of the student in both academic and interscholastic endeavors at Carrizozo Municipal Schools."

The board also discussed the "Quality of Education Survey" mandated by the State Department of Education. The department lists 10 questions which are to be supplemented with at least five from the board. Board president Jam Barham suggested a question that will ask students and parents if they feel the district provides adequate transportation for affected students. The board will continue to work on the survey, which will be given to students in the fall. The results of the survey will be advertised in the School's Report Card to the public.

The board began a series of budget workshops on Wednesday.

The next regular board meeting will be at 7 p.m. May 17.
