

Turn Down The Volume In Ruidoso

by Doris Cherry

Turn that volume down! In 30 days, anyone who plays a car boom box or hand-held boom box on the streets or sidewalks of Ruidoso can be fined.

Ruidoso Village Council Tuesday adopted an amendment to the village code that added wording to the definition of general nuisance, unreasonable noise. The amendment added the words, "commercial or public buildings or on public rights of way" to the end of the definition that reads, "the playing of any radio, television, phonograph, musical instrument or other sound-producing machine in such a manner or with such unreasonable volume as to disturb the quiet, comfort or repose of persons in any dwelling, motel, hotel, hospital, sanatorium."

Police chief Lanny Maddox said the amendment was to focus on boom boxes in cars and hand held.

The amendment was a result of a request made by Stephanie Chastain, a Sudderth Drive merchant and originator of the "Respect Ruidoso" campaign, who complained that the noise from boom boxes was detrimental to business.

Councilor Joe Gomez asked how the noise ordinance would affect football games at the stadium. Maddox said the noise in a stadium is the norm. There were no comments from the general public. Anyone wanting to put a new fence on a property in Ruidoso will need a permit. Councilors approved an amendment to the municipal code which requires that all new fences must have a permit before they are installed. This will help the village monitor which existing fences will be "grandfathered" (or allowed to remain as they are) under the terms of the revised fencing codes.

The new amendment also requires a Side Development Approval from the village planning commission for all installations of barbed and/or razor wire. The use of the wire is restricted to public and private properties where security is needed, such as around swimming pools, or commercial areas.

Councilors also approved an amendment to the village code pertaining to the Uniform Fire Code, to reference the most current editions of the Uniform Fire Code and The Life Safety Code, and to provide that the more restrictive provision of the codes will be the standard in the village.

A resolution amending the 1994-95 Fiscal Year Budget was approved. The amendments included adjustments to the budget made by the New Mexico Department of Finance and Administration (DFA). A mistake made by DFA was noted by village

ALTO LAKE NEARLY DRY. Despite recent rain showers, Alto Reservoir is nearly dry. The reservoir is a source of water for the village of Ruidoso, but a dry winter and equally dry summer, has left the small reservoir nearly depleted. The village is operating off its wells exclusively, and recent smelly water is not a risk to health, the mayor announced at the village meeting Tuesday. The village continues to ask for voluntary restrictions on outdoor watering.

Public Hearing On Ruidoso Water October 11

by Doris Cherry

On Oct. 11, the citizens of Ruidoso will have a chance to voice their comments about a proposed ordinance which will establish a water contingency plan.

Under terms of the proposed plan, residents who water streets or sidewalks during periods of prolonged drought could be cited.

The proposed ordinance was presented to the Ruidoso Village Council Tuesday. Village manager Gary Jackson said the village got to a point this summer where the water situation was very serious.

"During the holiday season we had astonishing peak water demands," Jackson said.

Now that temperatures are down, and summer crowds are gone, the consumption of water has gone down. But that high demand, combined with a dry winter and summer, has drained Alto Reser-

Weeds Should Be Cut In Carrizozo

by Ruth Hammond

Carrizozo residents are responsible for cutting weeds not only on their property but also on the sides and front of their property as well as to the middle of the alley behind their property.

The Carrizozo Board of Trustees discussed the matter during the Sept. 13 meeting and asked that the town's weed ordinance be published in the Lincoln County News in order for residents to know they are responsible for cutting the weeds.

According to the ordinance, weeds are all rank, noxious, poisonous, harmful, unhealthy vegetation, or any growth whatsoever of an offensive or unsightly nature, or which is deleterious to health, and include, but are not limited to pigweed, Russian Thistle, Ragweeds, Lambsquarter or Kochia.

Weed control is to improve visual appearance of the community. It is not meant to put a hardship on its citizens, but rather to enhance the beauty of the community.

The weed ordinance also states residents are responsible for the area located between the property line and

Lincoln County Decides To Re-join New Mexico Association Of Counties

by Doris Cherry

Lincoln County ended its isolation from the other 32 counties in New Mexico, when the county commission voted to re-join the New Mexico Association of Counties.

During the regular meeting Tuesday, commissioners Monroy Montes and L.Ray Nunley voted to join the New Mexico Association of Counties (NMACo). Commissioner Wilton Howell voted no. Commissioners Bill Schwettmann and Stirling Spencer were absent; Schwettmann to be a pallbearer at a funeral and Spencer left at noon for other business.

Lincoln County withdrew from the association in 1992, complaining of too high of dues ($12,500 a year) and diverging points of view on various county issues with the Association.

But new county manager Carolin Cooney requested the commission rejoin the NMACo. She said NMACo had contacted her and expressed its interest in having Lincoln County come back to the association. Cooney supported the association because she believes in the networking of information such an association will provide.

Representatives of the county offices-clerk, treasurer and assessor-present at the meeting also supported joining NMACo.

Commissioner Nunley also supported rejoining, to give newly elected county officials access to the information and networking that NMACo provides. County attorney Alan Morel wanted the county to join to network with other county attorneys about the same legal problems encountered by all counties.

Howell asked where the money will come from for dues, and for county officials and their employees to attend the NMACo conferences.

Capitan Sirens Will Blow Next Tuesday

Next Tuesday, the fire siren on the Capitan Fire Station will sound its usual two long blasts.

Residents should take notice of the siren because a change in the sound could mean an inmate has walked away (escaped) from Camp Sierra Blanca near Fort Stanton.

Capitan Fire Chief David Cummins is working with the warden at Camp Sierra Blanca minimum security prison, to alert residents of an escape by blasting the fire siren.

Cummins told the residents gathered at the September village trustee meeting that the fire department has proposed to alert residents of an escaped inmate with a slow constant blast that will last three to four minutes. Since residents in the subdivision cannot hear the siren, Cummins asked downtown residents to call their subdivision neighbors.

Also, Cummins said that the public will be notified of inmate "walkaways" by the local radio stations.

JENNIFER ELDRIDGE of Capitan, 21, will represent Lincoln County in the 1994 New Mexico State Fair Rodeo Queen competition. She is the daughter of Jack Eldridge and Adaleen Schweitzer. Eldridge will ride her Quarter Horse, Tom, in the competition. She is sponsored by the Lincoln County Fair Board Association. New Mexico State Fair Queen candidates must be single girls between the ages of 17 and 23 and are judged 60 percent on horsemanship and 40 percent on personality. Judging will be held Sept. 22-24.

Cooney said she was not with the county when the budget was drafted, and she was unable to "fight for it." She also said that expenses for employees to attend the affiliate meetings can be controlled in the various departments.

Chief treasurer's deputy Joan Parks said treasurer Janice Ware budgeted more for the new treasurer (elected in November) to go to the National Association of Counties. However, the national association provides information that is often unusable for a county the size of Lincoln.

Commissioners presented recognition awards to Petra Sandoval for her 25 years of service to Lincoln County and to Mary Dose, in remembrance of her husband Don Dose who dispatched for the Lincoln County Sheriff's Office up until the time of his death last year. The two were presented plaques featuring the Lincoln County logo.

Commissioners also:
--Appointed Bessie Jones, Windsor Laceywell and Bart Young to two year terms and Virginia Danielson and Wayne Mason to a one year term on the Lincoln County Senior Citizen Olympics Committee.

--Accepted the low bid of $10,203 from El Camino Resources for a Line Matrix Printer and low bid of $10,579 for a heavy duty hydraulic rescue tool (extrication equipment) from Independent Fire Co. for Glencoe PaloVerde Fire Department.

--Appointed Monroy Montes to the Economic Opportunity Board in Albuquerque.

--Appointed Nunley to the Southeast Regional Planning Organization Technical and Policy Committee which deals with the New Mexico State Highway Department.

--Authorized a Road Review meeting with commissioners Nunley, Montes and Schwettmann to view roads in the Hondo area requested to be opened by Fernando Montoya, and Albert Salcido and Alberto Montez. The date of the review will be published, so owners of the road can be present for the review.

--Authorized "writing off" of uncollectible ambulance charges not covered by Medicare or Medicaid, totaling $7934.17.

--Approved purchase of one AVC voting machine for absentee-early voting.

--Okayed purchase of a commercial type mixer for the Carrizozo Senior Citizens Center and okayed the use of a linen service for all county senior centers at a cost of $600 a year.

--Approved the application and certification for payment request No. 1 for the Lincoln County Fairgrounds Improvement Project.

--Postponed consideration of participation in the New Mexico Retiree Health Care Authority until a representative from the authority can meet with commissioners. Participation in the program could cost the county about $20,400 a year.

--Tabled a proposal to install a cellular phone in the county manager's vehicle until the mid-year budget review.

--Accepted the final 1994-95 fiscal year budget, as adjusted by the New Mexico Department of Finance and Administration. The adjusted budget shows the county will have $4,480,337 beginning cash, estimated revenue of $6,693,588, estimated expenditures of $9,014,250 and an estimated ending cash balance of $2,159,675.

educating the public on water conservation will be made during March, April and May. Moderate condition will be triggered if winter snowfall is light with low runoff into Alto Reservoir in April. When the level of Alto drops to at least three feet below the benchmark, and wells produce less than 1,800 gallons per minute, voluntary water conservation by the public will be urged. Lawn watering will be on an odd-even system and municipal uses will be reduced. Warnings will be issued for poor watering practices.

Water rationing will be triggered when Alto Reservoir drops below 12 feet and/or the wells produce less than 900 gallons per minute. When this happens no outdoor watering will be allowed, citations will be issued after the first warning, and the public will be advised by the media and mail outs.

Penalties in the proposed ordinance are $500 and/or up to 90 days in jail. Each violation will constitute a separate offense.

Jackson said that even though it is now raining, he wants to the village can educate the public about the contingency plan by next spring.

Mayor Shaw suggested a rebate for people who install low water use commodes. "Even if we get through this year, it's still a good idea to conserve," she said.

Councilor Robert Donaldson asked why there is nothing in the proposed ordinance about restricting or charging higher rates for extremely heavy water users. Last month, Jackson said that one residential water customer was using more than 1 million gallons of water a month. Jackson said he will give a water study report with proposed new water rate structure sometime in January. The last water rate increase in Ruidoso was in 1981.

The public hearing on the proposed water plan will be held during the Oct. 11 regular meeting.

While the water is nearly gone in Alto Reservoir, there is plenty of water in Grindstone Reservoir. But the water in Grindstone is not available to the village water system at this time because there is no water treatment plant at the reservoir, and no transmission lines to hook into the system.

But the village is working on a "fast track" to get designs completed and permits issued from the federal and state environmental agencies to begin work on a Grindstone treatment plant and water lines. The village went to the state legislature in January to obtain funding to construct the plant and water lines. With the help of Rep. John Underwood, the state appropriated $675,000 to Ruidoso for the project.

At the meeting Tuesday, councilors voted to allow village staff to authorize "task orders" for the John Carollo Engineering firm to complete the design in order to submit applications for permits from the EPA and the New Mexico Environment Dept. in October.

Jackson said the village's goal is to fast track the design, permitting and construction so the Grindstone plant will be in operation by Memorial Day 1995. "We're in a position where days may be critical by next Memorial Day," Jackson said.

In more legal water matters, the council met in closed session to discuss threatened or pending litigation in which the village is or may become a participant concerning water rights. After the council returned to open session, councilors unanimously approved retaining the Fred Hennighausen law firm of Roswell for legal matters concerning water and to hire Jack Atkins and Associates for engineering technical services, with service fees to be limited to $20,000 each.

A stoplight at the intersection of Mechem Drive and Cree Meadows Drive may soon be installed. Based on traffic counts made at the intersection during the peak visitor's season, the New Mexico State Highway Department is planning to install a light at the intersection as part of the Mechem Drive upgrade project. The village is asking the department to allow a temporary light to be installed at the busy intersection. Part of allowing the traffic light will be the closure of Country Club drive which comes into Cree Meadows Drive almost at the intersection.

The public will have a chance to hear state highway department officials talk about the traffic light, and other planned improvements to Mechem Drive during a public hearing at 6:30-8:30 p.m. Wednesday, September 28 at the Ruidoso Convention Center. Written comments on the project will be accepted by the department until Oct. 12.

Also at Tuesday's meeting, councilors reviewed the 1995 Capital Improvements Plan which was submitted to the Southeastern New Mexico Economic Development District in preparation for the legislative committee hearings on September 19-20 in Roswell. The village is scheduled to appear before the committee at 10:30 a.m. September 20.

The CIP prioritizes the village's capital needs, with the waste water infiltration problem topping the list. Proposed improvements to the wastewater collection system are estimated to cost $1,156,000 in 1995. The CIP list includes 20 other items from water distribution as number two to Main Street as number 21.

DA Closes Investigation On Shooting By RD Policeman

The office of the district attorney has reviewed the reports of the investigation of the Sept. 5 incident in which Michael Shirley was shot by officer Chris Condon of the Ruidoso Downs police department. The incident occurred at the Texas Connection Cafe in Ruidoso Downs.

Officer Condon was in uniform and responded to a request of the restaurant owner/manager to observe an individual acting suspicious. The caller suspected the man, later identified as Michael Shirley, to be intoxicated.

Officer Condon arrived at the restaurant and observed Shirley for several minutes. Shirley asked the waitress for cigarettes and was told there was no cigarette machine.

Shirley left the restaurant and went to his vehicle and returned to the restaurant. Back inside the restaurant, Condon observed Shirley to be carrying a large survival type knife in his rear pant pocket. As Shirley was paying for his food, officer Condon approached Shirley and ultimately asked to see some identification. Shirley produced the knife and an alter-

THOUGHTS

FROM THE EDITOR'S DESK

Are Sports Just Games?

By Ruth Hammond

Next month will be exceptional because there will be no World Series. We received word yesterday that the baseball season has been cancelled because of the baseball strike.

Avid baseball fans are disappointed. Anti baseball fans shrug and wonder what all the hoopla is about. And fans of other sports are ignoring the entire baseball fiasco.

The success of most sports depends on spectators. It is the spectators who keep sports alive not only during the season but during the off season as well. Spectators pay the big bucks to attend their favorite events, buy sports-related clothing and other sports items such as collector cards and memorabilia.

Some people take their sports interests to heart. They can tell you who won the third Super Bowl, and in case you don't know, it was the New York Jets over the Baltimore Colts. Broadway Joe Namath was the upstart Jets quarterback who announced to the world that the Jets would win. Namath never doubted that his team would be the first American Football League team to win a Super Bowl. At that time there were two football leagues. Today there is only the National Football League with both the National Conference teams and the American Conference teams.

Namath taught the world a lesson that day. He proved that if you believe in something it can happen. His dedication to his sport and his dedication to his team is to be admired.

Other sports figures through the years have had the same faith in their chosen activity. Babe Ruth's well known home run is an example. Vince Lombardi, long time coach of the Green Bay Packers, Chicago Bears coach George Halas, Jackie Robinson, Lou Gehrig, Willie Mays, Bob Cousy, Bob Pettit, George Mikan, A. J. Foyt, Bobby Hull, Jessie Owens, Sonja Henie, and Mark Spitz are all well-known for their sports.

Without the spectators it is doubtful any of these people would be remembered today. It is the spectators who are responsible for the success of any sport. It is the spectators who memorize scores and statistics and root for their favorite athletes and teams.

Not all spectators understand why athletes and coaches participate in their chosen sports. At a high school championship playoff game a few years ago a woman was surprised when the coach lost his temper after his team fumbled the ball. The woman said, "Why is the coach mad. After all, it's just a game."

Sporting events are NOT just games. School sports teach youngsters many things such as working together as a team, making correct choices, and pride in accomplishments. The same is true for individual sports where those participating learn to try to do their best at whatever they are doing.

School sporting events may be considered as "just games" for the students, from elementary through high school and on to college, but they are not "just games" for the coaches because the coaches are paid for doing their job. Usually contracts for coaches are renewed or declined based on win loss records.

Spectators are important at school sporting events to boost the morale of the team. Spectators at professional sporting events provide the funds to pay salaries.

Professional sporting events are a business. Everyone involved is paid, including the players, coaches, managers, trainers, bat boys, ticket sellers, food vendors, announcers, grounds keepers, and the people who clean the stadiums.

The business of professional baseball took a nosedive this year when the baseball strike brought the season to an abrupt halt. Not only the players and owners were affected but also all the support people and the spectators. It does not matter why there was a baseball strike. What matters is that the year of 1994 will be remembered as the year there was no World Series.

Professional Baseball Strikes Out

THE OTHER SIDE

I have several friends who are members of the BPOD, which is the feminine auxiliary of the BPOE, and in spite of what you might have been taught, the female version of this genus of Elk is a Doe. The Wapiti has a Cow, but it also has horns, and besides that BPOD is phonetically more pleasing than BPOC, not to mention less dangerous. Anyhow, some of them were having what we referred to as a "Doe Do" the other night, and I was certainly glad I had been fortunate enough to have overcome my stuttering problem, because referring to it as a "Doe Doe Du Du" just wouldn't do.

We were engrossed in a complicated mathematical problem the other day, something to do with splitting the tab, and my very astute companion suggested that I might ought remove my shoes so I could count up that high, but I didn't see how that was going to help the situation. I never count on my fingers and toes because the ability to count by fives is somewhat beyond my grasp. Besides that, we were counting pennies, not piggies.

I understand the New Mexico state bar association is advocating the development of a code of conduct for real estate brokers. This has developed out of the prohibition against brokers practicing law, and the humble officers of the court decided it was time to write down some of the things that brokers were apt to do that were in violation of this prohibition. I have just been given access to one of the earlier drafts of their proposal, and it contains the following items:

1. Brokers may fill in blanks on printed forms which have been approved by whatever agency approves such things, but are prohibited from X'ing out inappropriate sections therein and filling the blanks with incomprehensible verbiage, which function constitutes the essence of practicing law.
2. Throwing the baby out with the bath water is exclusively reserved to members of the legal profession.
3. Brokers shall not advise (sic) their clients concerning legal relationships. (After all, this was an early draft.)
4. Brokers are absolutely prohibited from making more money on a deal than the lawyer does. (This provision may be subject to review to SANTA FE—Wild horses, for which the White Sands Missile Range refuses to take any responsibility, are wandering the range as a result of the "bums rush" the federal government gave area ranchers 50 years ago.

Our country decided it needed the White Sands area for a bombing range in the early days of World War II. Ranchers who were working the land were required to leave their homes and property in order to aid the nation's war effort. As good citizens, they left willingly, with assurances they could return as soon as the war ended.

But the German V-2 rockets, captured at the end of the war in Europe, caught the military's fancy as a potent future weapon. So White Sands Bombing Range became White Sands Missile Range. And it still is today.

Some horses were left behind during the ranchers' hurried exit. They figured they'd be back soon enough, but one year kept leading to another.

In 1970, the feds finally decided they weren't ever going to give the land back. The ranchers were paid a small amount for the private property that was taken. But for a rancher who'd been waiting 28 years to get back to his place and his way of life, it was a kick in the face. Many decided to fight their treatment.

The next 24 years were filled with delays and denials by the feds. In the mid-eighties New Mexico's congressional delegation went to bat for the ranchers and got action.

But the Onsruds have sent me a copy of the reply they received from a deputy assistant secretary of the Army, giving them a brief history of their own situation.

As if they didn't know. The Onsruds vow to keep the fight. Only 14 survivors remain of the 150 ranchers who were evicted in '42.

In another case of possible federal government skullduggery, producers of the tabloid television show "Sightings" tried to solve the Taos Hum by putting a hum hearer in a "Faraday Cage" that blocks ultra-high-frequencies, such as UHF television signals.

The only hearer willing to be tested was Sara Allen. But directing the U.S. Claims Court to consider providing some equity.

But in 1988 the court decided the minimal compensation paid ranchers between '42 and '70 for withdrawing the grazing land, plus the private land acquisition payments were sufficient.

Earlier this year, I received a letter from Lee and Dolly Onsrud from Oscura, near Carrizozo, asking for ideas on how they could continue the fight for their land rights.

I suggested that with recent government openness and compassion toward other wartime victims, such as the Japanese-Americans whom we incarcerated and the plutonium test victims, that a letter to new Defense Secretary William Perry might produce a response similar to Energy Secretary Hazel O'Leary's admissions about human plutonium testing.

she continued to hear the hum, which she thinks comes from extra-low-frequency radio transmissions by the military.

On a happier news front, the Deming Duck Races survived complaints from East Coast animal rights groups trying to discredit the 15-year tradition for cruelty to losers.

Duck Downs officials invited the objecting parties to attend the event and judge for themselves rather than fretting 2,000 miles away. As expected, none of the offended groups showed up to observe or complain.

Gov. Bruce King did show and participated by racing a duck and entering the tortilla toss, in which he flipped his tortilla only 37.6 feet, compared with the winning heave of 170 feet.

No mention was made of Republican challenger Gary Johnson's presence, but an advance copy of the racing form sent to members of the press listed a Johnson entry, suggestively named "Two Terms."

Neither King nor Johnson were listed among the winners. Presumably, we would have heard by now if they had been abandoned to "wander in the desert" — the alleged treatment for losing ducks.

Beverage Container Recycling Approved By Municipal League

The New Mexico Municipal League Resolutions Committee voted Aug. 31 in favor of a resolution asking the New Mexico State Legislature to pass the Beverage Container Recycling Act sponsored by Representative E. Shirley Baca (D) Las Cruces and Senator Liz Stefanics (D) Santa Fe.

Recycling of beverage containers is now considered by many local governments throughout New Mexico as an important part of the solution to New Mexico's growing landfill and waste disposal crisis.

The Beverage Container Recycling Act reduces solid waste management costs for local governments by increasing the diversion of recyclable materials away from the landfills. The Act also creates an additional source of funds to operate curbside and other recycling programs of New Mexico's cities, villages and other municipalities.

New Mexico now generates 1,400,000 tons of waste each year. Forty-eight counties and cities (24%) of the state's population have less than ten years of room left in their landfills. The New Mexico Solid Waste Management Plan requires solutions to this growing crisis.

The Beverage Container Recycling Act creates a simple system for recycling all beverage containers including beer, alcohol coolers, minerals waters, juices, soda water, and other carbonated beverages.

Unlike many "bottle bills" in many other states, New Mexico grocers need not redeem the deposits. Beverage containers can either be redeemed for five cents at state authorized redemption centers or collected through local curbside or drop-off recycling programs. For more information, contact the Beverage Container Recycling Coalition at (505) 254-1244.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

EDITOR: For those of us lucky enough to live in Lincoln County, we know it would take more space than is available here to reflect on the many joys and benefits of calling this "Playground of the Southwest" our home.

Area residents are truly fortunate that many fine organizations exist to enhance and preserve our admired lifestyle. It is with similar objectives in mind and a sincere wish of "safety for all" that I proudly announce Lincoln County now has a Mother's Against Drunk Driving organization.

As the coordinator of this local effort, I would like to personally and forcefully state that it is our goal to prevent driving while under the influence of alcohol. It is not however, our intention or desire to prohibit the consumption of alcoholic beverages.

We are implementing several community programs designed to inform and educate all age groups. If you are interested in becoming a member of our organization, or would like to help in any way, please contact:

EDITOR: Our crime epidemic is no mystery nor is it an unsolvable problem as many believe.

Our police officers are doing their jobs, remarkably, well. The problem lies, largely, in our failed legal, judicial, parole and penitentiary systems.

Singapore and Turkey have low crime rates, because they stress punishment vice rehabilitation. I have been to Turkey; repeat offenders are rare there, because the ex-convicts, definitely, do not want to return to the harsh prisons.

During the 1800s, crime, here in the U.S., was a severe problem. This was, primarily, due to the lack of police officers and corruption within both the police agencies and judiciary. As the police force increased and corruption decreased, crime began to significantly, drop. However, during the late 1800s we began converting our criminal justice system from punishment to rehabilitation. With each passing decade, punishment has been reduced and rehabilitation increased. Our crime rate has rose, proportionally.

Considering New Mexico's criminal justice system, answer the following questions:

1. Since we do not execute convicted felons, why are they given the death penalty?
2. Since the majority of convicted felons do not spend their lives in prison, why are they given life sentences?
3. Since our "country club" style prisons do not deter crime, why do we want to build more of the same?
4. Most of the violent crimes are committed by repeat offenders. Why wouldn't crime be reduced if we did not give the violent felons the opportunity to become repeat offenders?
5. Why are the law-abiding citizens used as whipping boys for the criminal's illegal activities?
6. Why do an alarming number of prisoners escape or are released on furlough?

CAPTAN NOTES

By MAUREEN BULL

Greetings from my old house by the side of the road to your house.

First and foremost let me begin this weekly column by congratulating Ruth Hammond for her magnificent article about our "Country Club Prisons." And I might add, if you did not take time to read her article on Page 4 of the September 8, 1994 edition, shame on you. She, so eloquently wrote, what so many of we readers also feel about the exceptionally good treatment the offenders are getting. And much, much better; if I may add my two cents worth, than the average person living and working right here in Lincoln County. So I say congratulations Ruth for saying it like it is or for hitting the proverbial nail squarely on the head. No one could have said it better.

Welcome home Elaine Beaudry. Elaine has been visiting her niece, Brenda Jacobs in Las Cruces the past 10 days and also has undergone serious eye surgery in El Paso. She drove herself to El Paso and Las Cruces but she was not allowed to even think about driving herself back to her home and Capitan. But, as always there were Bea and Ed Peyton to come to the rescue. They drove down and brought Elaine back. Ed drove Elaine's car and Bea brought Elaine home in her car. I wish I had the space and energy to write about the times that Ed and Bea Peyton have come to someone's assistance in time of need in just the 13 years that I lived in the area. If they were not helping someone, they would not be happy. And dear Bea, who is an excellent nurse has nursed so many folks free gratis, I might add. I too have been the recipient of her kindness and generosity and as it is an interesting little saga, will tell you-all. Hang on.

When I first bought this old "casa" it needed so much 'doin' and 'fixin' I did not know where to start. So I must back up a bit, if I may. The first folks that I met when I came to Capitan were George and Elaine Beaudry. We met, we connected, we liked each other and we felt like kindred spirits because they had moved here a couple of months before I did. George said "where do you want to start? The kitchen being the place where I spent most of my time, I said "How about the kitchen." "What do you want to do," asked George? Elaine spoke up in her inimitable way and said "May I suggest you start with paint?" So we decided on pale green paint, which was all well and good. "We'll be down in the morning," said George, as they left. Next morning they were at my door ready for action—Me? I had barely gotten out of bed and certainly had done absolutely 'nil' toward preparation. Elaine took off for the store and returned laden with boxes.

I asked the need for them and she said "You'll see" and then ushered me out of the area completely. Over my protestations, she began emptying my cupboards and drawers of their contents. (I like to think anything behind closed doors is mighty private. Not Elaine.) George was champing at the bit to get started with his paint sprayer and Elaine was hurrying and scurrying back and forth between the kitchen and the dining room, where I might interject this. All my kitchen paraphernalia was neatly ensconced in boxes side by side in rows in my dining room, and on the floor. I asked her how I was supposed to find anything when I needed it and she retorted with "That Maureen is YOUR PROBLEM". Well they went to work and inside of three hours my kitchen was a beautiful soft velvety, green that looked like it had just arrived from the Emerald Isle itself. And ever since that time, no job was too small to fuss with or too large to tackle for those two to do for me.

Now I can wallpaper. I am not a professional, but I can suit me and that is not always the easiest thing to do. So Elaine told Bea that I was going to tackle that kitchen alone and Bea dropped in on KEITH COX (71) outs down an Estancia runner during Capitan's 24-6 homecoming victory over the Bears. Others in the photo are Josh Turnage (21), Michael Fish (11), and Neil Montes (12) on the far right. her way to the post office. I then had quite a bit of the side wall papered. (I started real early in the morning.) Bea took one look and cautioned, "Don't you dare climb up there and try to do that ceiling alone. Let me go home and feed Ed and I'll be right back." And she was. Bea actually did the most difficult part. She insisted on my keeping both feet on the floor and just cut and paste and hand the strips up to her. By seven that night we had finished and viola, my kitchen looked like something out of a magazine. And so I say publicly and humbly, Thank you George up above us, thank you Elaine and thank you Ed and Bea Peyton. They are the kind of folks that you are proud to call Friends. We all have acquaintances, but friends are few and far between.

Do not have too much people news that is the 'goin' and 'doin' things, but the Senior Citizens did have their monthly pot-luck on Wednesday and they had a good turn out. But they most always do. They are a great bunch of folks.

Alice Phelps and Jo Blazer have been attending "Cloth Painting Classes" in Roswell. Now girls are you two going to model these beautiful fashions or possibly take orders or what do you have in mind? We inquiring minds want to know. I must admit I envy all you talented and artistic ladies and I congratulate each and everyone of you for your artistic accomplishments, which also includes my aforementioned friends, Bea and Elaine.

I called Virginia Danielson and also Mollie Mason and Thelma Stephens to get the results of the 'biggie' Senior Citizens get together and contests. Perhaps someone else will pick up on it.

Hear by the grape vine that Joe Arnett and Leo Cooper have been under the weather. Hope by this writing that you both are much improved.

Thank you for your notes and "kudos". Seems strange that each time I hit bottom and things begin engulfing me I think perhaps I should give up this column and get other things done. Then someone brightens my day by a telephone call or a note and I am ready to be up and at 'em for another week. So Suzy thank you for your very special note.

How we welcome the rain drops, that is all except those unwelcome ones that come through my bedroom ceilings. Looks like another wall papering session as soon as they get the roof repaired and my agility and up and down the ladder routine just ain't what it used to be, but somehow it will get done, that I know.

Sometime ago I ran several articles on the The Good Samaritan of the Week and I would like to do some of those again. So if you know of anyone that has done a kindness for another person, let it be known. There is so darned much violence, and hatred of someone because of having a difference of opinions on race, color, religion or political leanings that I for one am so sick and tired of it, I think it is high time to start a good person campaign. I know there a lot of good people all over the world, that are never noticed or written about. I want to know of the ones right here in our community and area. So come on and enlighten me. I don't want to hear anything "Not nice". Just nice, nice good, good things. And perhaps it will catch on and we will get a new thing going. Let's at least, give it a try, what do you say? Just a day at a time, say something nice to someone, or do something nice for someone and just see how deep, down, good you feel inside you.

And so for another week, it is off to the races. Just a figure of speech, of course. Next week will give you my play by play report of my visit by the Skunk. It came to my front porch and looked at me like I was an intruder. As per usual I was relaxed and enjoying a cup of fancy coffee. But not for long though. To be continued next week.

Happy days and happy nights and above else, happy thoughts about yourself and your neighbors.

And May the Good Lord take a likin' to you and keep you on the straight and narrow. And thank you folks for your kind of remarks, calls and especially the notes. I cherish all of them.

P.S. If you have any news, please call me at 354-2591. We do want to hear about your comings and your goings and what you are up to.

Capitan Nervous Over Water Use This Year

by Doris Cherry

Trash collection will cost the residents of Capitan more this December.

Capitan Village Trustees unanimously approved an ordinance which will raise residential trash rates from the current $7.50 a month to $9.25 a month. Commercial rates, now at $29 a month for each dumpster, will remain the same.

For the increased residential trash rate, Lincoln County Solid Waste Authority (LCSWA) will loan each household customer a new 90 gallon polycart for placing trash at no extra cost. The rate increase will begin the first billing after the carts are delivered, expected to be sometime in mid-November.

Also the board's approval paved the way for the Capitan Class C landfill to be open seven days a week, with no charge to residents to dump their yard waste, old furniture and appliances, and other large items. The landfill is currently open only five days a week.

A public hearing was held on the ordinance before Monday's regular trustee meeting. Those present heard LCSWA manager Joe Lewandowski explain rate options available to Capitan. With all but the last option commercial rates would have increased $3 a month to $32 and residential rates ranging from $8 to $9 a month. The last option was for residential rates at $9.25 a month with poly carts, and no increase for commercial customers. Merchant David Cummins said that his commercial trash rates had increased from $200 a month in 1990 to $1100 a month in August, 1994. He said that commercial customers were already paying their fair share for the 33 containers in the village.

Cummins, and two trustees endorsed the poly carts, saying the containers are sanitary and easy to use. LCSWA will maintain the containers, and customers will be responsible for keeping them clean.

Capitan was the last governmental entity in LCSWA to approve a rate increase, or some type of financial adjustment. Ruidoso Downs and Ruidoso councils both approved rate increases. The county approved postponing of LCSWA's loan payment for one year and assistance in constructing stations for roll off containers for large items.

Lewandowski said with the rate increases and adjustments, customers in each community will now pay 15 percent more than the cost of providing trash services. Lewandowski indicated that the equalization will enable future increases to be done on a percentage "across the board."

Lewandowski said that when the new poly carts are delivered, if residents contact LCSWA, crews will haul off old trash cans and racks.

The village's lack of control over subdividing of large areas.

The village will continue to bill residents for solid waste services. LCSWA will continue to bill commercial accounts directly. Residents will be notified of the rate increases by letters mailed from village hall.

Unsubdivided tracts of land in the past has led to a situation where a new resident is left without water. Randy White recently purchased a tract of land in Mesa Verde Two Subdivision. The land was annexed into the village in 1982, and since then it has had four different owners. Also in those years, the original 10 acres were divided into two, five-acre tracts. The two tracts were filed in the county assessor's office as such, and taxed.

One of the tracts had the original water tap, but no water tap was demanded for the other tract, until White purchased it. On good faith, White installed a septic tank, and a meter pole, hoping to relocate his family by the end of September. He was told he could get water.

But during the process, his request was questioned, then referred to the village attorney. Robert Beauvais then wrote an opinion, citing state law which requires that any request for subdividing land go through the municipality's planning group, which then would make a recommendation to the trustees. Beauvais wrote that White would have to go before the village Planning and Zoning, Water Advisory Board (WAB), then come back to the board for final approval.

While some of the Water Board and P&Z members who were present thought the village had a responsibility to provide water to White's property, Mayor Norman Rehfo held to the established policies of the village, and ordered the situation to go through P&Z and the Water Board for recommendation. Both groups were to meet next week to consider the matter.

Beauvais' comment about the situation was that there are many such subdivided tracts, especially in Mesa Verde, and providing water to all the tracts without consideration by the P&Z and WAB would be setting a precedent the village cannot afford at this time.

Dr. Bernie Reimann of the WAB reported that the village has used 155 acre feet of water so far this year. The village is entitled to 139 acre feet per year. Trustee Gordon Ross said the village used 45 million gallons in 1993 and has used about 50 million gallons in eight months of this year. Those figures made Reimann and Ross "very nervous."

Trustees heard that the village's acquisition of 12 acre feet of water from property owners in the Lincoln Valley has been stalled by a protest. The protest must now be processed by the State Engineer's Office.

Dr. Reimann also reported that the Wetlands has been reseeded and that 150 mosquito fish had been placed in the lake and wetlands area. Dr. Reimann has been invited to speak on the wetlands at the American Society of Civil Engineers conference being held at the Inn of the Mountain Gods in Mescalero on Friday, September 16.

In other business, trustees: --Approved the resolution outlining the Capital Improvements Plan, which is used to prioritize village projects for future funding. The major project after the downtown streets upgrade is water storage.

--Approved a resolution finalizing the annual agreement for services with South-eastern New Mexico Economic Development District.

--Approved a resolution which is the first step in cleaning up a certain property within village limits.

--Okayed a year renewal in the four-year contract with Teresa Engelsing for the Smokey Bear Museum.

--Re-appointed Mayor Renfro to the C-C Natural Gas Board.

--Awarded the bid for property behind the old co-op building to Ned Pieters for $1107.

--Heard an update on the MRS from Trustee Ross who sits on the Regional MRS Committee. All members of the committee, except Cloudercroft, remains opposed to the MRS on Mescalero land.

--Heard a request to place a four-way stop sign on the corner of Stanton Street and 2nd Street to slow the unobstructed traffic. Trustees will make a decision on the sign at the next meeting.

--Referred Mark Hughes' request to run a water line to a trailer on his property to the WAB. Hughes lives in the county and gets water from a tap on the Bonito water line.

Trustee Byron Carpenter read a letter commending police officer Carlos Brito for his efforts during the recent inmate escapes from Camp Sierra Blanca. Officer Parker also was commended.

The state has sent the agreement for the $110,000 Community Development Block Grant for the upgrade of 4th Street. Construction is expected to be done in the Spring next year.

Capitan Tigers Win Homecoming Game

Last Friday night, Sept. 9, the Capitan Tigers were on their home field for the first time this year, matched against the Estancia Bears.

It was a 24-6 victory for the Tigers. The defense played a major role in the victory as they scored one touchdown and held the Bears to just 40 offensive yards.

Scoring touchdowns for the for the Tigers were Michael Fish, Alan Hazel, Ernie Trujillo, and Josh Turnage. Neil Montes ran one in as well, but it was called back because of penalties.

It was a good Homecoming for the Tigers as they still remain undefeated after three weeks of play.

cation ensued. Shirley advanced towards the officer with the officer retreating towards the rear of the restaurant. Officer Condon drew his weapon and repeatedly ordered Shirley to drop the knife.

Condon was walking backwards; Shirley advanced towards him to within arms length. Condon attempted to persuade Shirley to put down the knife and at one point grabbed Shirley's right wrist, but Shirley broke free. Shirley then grabbed for Condon's weapon and at that point officer Condon fired his weapon three times, striking Shirley in the arm and chest area.

Shirley was transported by ambulance to the Lincoln County Medical Center where he underwent surgery and expired on the operating table at approximately 11:30 p.m.

All of the customers at the restaurant and personnel have provided statements. These statements are consistent with the above facts of this ordeal. All of the witnesses have expressed that officer Condon acted properly in the manner which was justified.

Pursuant to the review of this investigation, the Twelfth Judicial District Attorney's Office has confirmed this matter as justifiable homicide. Absent any further new information to the contrary, the matter is considered closed in respect to any criminal prosecution.

Officer Condon has been on administrative leave pursuant to Ruidoso Downs Police Department policy and pending this investigation and pending a psychological evaluation provided for all officers involved in shootings. Officer Condon is expected to return to work within the week.

In a press release Sept. 12, district attorney Bert Atkins stated, "The District Attorney's Office would like to thank the Ruidoso Police Department and Ruidoso Downs Police Department for their assistance and cooperation throughout this investigation."

middle of the alley adjacent to the property, and the area located between the property line and the curb, and the area located ten feet outside the property where there is no curb.

Weeds and grass are to be a height of no greater than six inches on their property as well as the area adjacent to and five feet back of the curbs, sidewalks, and streets.

When it has been determined there is a violation of the weed ordinance, the town will notify the owner or owner's agent by certified mail directing that the cutting of weeds and grass and removal of the cuttings be made within ten days.

If the owner or agent in charge of the property fails to comply, the town may cut and remove the weeds and grass at the expense of the owner. If the charges are not paid within 30 days the town may file a lien against the property.

The entire ordinance is printed in this issue of The News on page 10 and is available for inspection at city hall. Please refer to the entire ordinance for more information.

In other business, the town council re-appointed the Wayland Hill as the town's representative on the Capitan Carrizozo Natural Gas board of directors.

The board approved a water connection for property owned by Jack Garrett just outside the city limits.

Garrett said he is in the process of selling the property and the well is bad. The house is about 30 feet beyond an existing water line.

Garrett is to pay for a water tap, meter deposit, and turn on fee as well as pay for installation of the line.

Forest Hansell gave the board a list of needed repairs for the Rec Center.

The board accepted the recommendation of the Carrizozo Lodger's Tax Committee to re-print the color brochures that were printed in 1991. The number of brochures to be printed will depend on the cost for re-printing.

Police chief Charlie White asked for permission to begin repairs on the van the department owns. The board asked White to obtain three price quotes in order to comply with state purchasing regulations.

Action was tabled on golf cart fees, the draft resolution for the beautification committee, and the policy and procedures manual/domestic violence/police department.

Healthy Meals And Exercise Are Important For College Freshmen

by Betty McCreight
Lincoln County
Home Economist

Freshman college students often bring home more than just the laundry when they return from school. Many gain weight during their first year away from home.

Students living at home had their parents to plan healthy, balanced meals for them. When they go to college, students are able to choose their own meal patterns and foods, often making unhealthy decisions.

For many students, college is also the time they begin to drink large amounts of alcohol, which is very high in calories.

How do you avoid the freshman 15? Be aware that the potential exists. Here are some suggestions to avoid weight gain:

- Don't get into the habit of eating while studying. Habits are hard to break once they are started.

- Try to avoid late night snacks. If you do have to snack late or while studying, choose low calorie foods, such as raw vegetables and fresh fruits, or foods that are difficult to eat, such as sunflower seeds, pretzels and air-popped popcorn.

- Drink low calorie beverages, such as diet sodas, water, and unsweetened or artificially sweetened tea or coffee.

- Set up a routine meal pattern of balanced meals with nutritious snacks.

- Establish an exercise routine.

- Avoid fried foods, sauces and added fats. Choose fruits for desserts. Select low-fat dairy products.

- Incorporate as many raw fruits and vegetables into your diet as possible. These foods are low in calories and very filling.

Even if students are slowly monitoring their weight, they should not put unrealistic expectations on themselves. Even with the best intentions, some students put on a few pounds while at school.

County Ambulance May Double Rates

by Doris Cherry

Lincoln County Ambulances have been charging the same rate for services since 1985. Those rates may double if a proposal to increase rates that was authorized by the Lincoln County Commission is approved by the New Mexico Corporation Commission.

Lincoln County Commissioners, in their meeting Sept. 13, accepted a proposal drafted by Gregg Kotilla, Paramedic for the county Emergency Medical Services. The proposed increase will double the present rate for basic ambulance service from $75 to $150 for the first mile of ambulance transport. Each additional mile up to 50 miles will cost $5 a mile and each mile over 50 miles will cost $4 a mile.

Other charges for ambulance uses will double, except for splints, which will increase only 33 percent.

Commissioners Monroy Montes and L. Ray Nunley were concerned about the 100 percent increase. But Kotilla explained that even with the rate increases, the services will be lower than those charged by surrounding communities and counties.

The revenue generated by the rate increases is expected to be about $27,000 a year, Kotilla told commissioners.

Kotilla also proposed to initiate an Advanced Life Support (ALS) system that could increase the revenue to $40,000. However, EMS would have to acquire more equipment to do the ALS service. Kotilla also presented a proposed paramedic intercept program involving a four-wheel drive vehicle stocked with ALS equipment which would meet the ambulances to provide the ALS service.

Kotilla said that Lincoln County is known for having one of the best ambulance services in the state.

While all other commissioners voted for the rate increase, Nunley voted no. He said it was not because he was against an increase, but because of the increment of the increase.

County EMS director Maggi Bohks announced to commissioners that she will retire on November 15. Commissioners authorized advertising for applicants for the position. Bohks is currently drafting a job description, and will assist with interviewing and hiring a new person for the position.

There is no county policy concerning the use of county letter heads and there will be none in the near future. A motion made by commissioner Wilton Howell to draft a policy for the use of letterheads did not receive a second, and thus died on the table.

Howell was upset about a recent letter to Governor Bruce King and a press release issued by Commissioner Stirling Spencer concerning Camp Sierra Blanca minimum security prison which was written on county letter heads.

Howell contended that issuing the press release, which he said contained some "misrepresentations of the truth," on a county letter head was not appropriate. "Such liberties should not be taken," Howell said. "It looked like a personal agenda without the consensus of the board."

Howell agreed that residents of Lincoln County are upset over the housing of violent prisoners at the minimum security facility, which he had tried to call attention to in January. Howell contended Spencer visited the camp at that time and reported that all was fine at Camp Sierra Blanca.

Spencer said he reviewed the minutes of the January meeting which showed he did express concern about how the state is rating prisoners which are brought to Camp Sierra Blanca. Spencer said it is that system of rating prisoners which has allowed violent inmates to be housed at the minimum security prison that he addressed in the letter to the Governor.

As for Howell's alluding to Spencer playing politics with the letter, Spencer said he is a commissioner of Lincoln County and he does represent the people. "For 15 years the people of Lincoln County have continually worried about the types of prisoners at Camp Sierra Blanca, and the escapes," he said. Spencer asked that the commission draft a letter to the governor regarding the improper type of prisoners at the camp.

Howell responded that he too is alarmed at the prisoner situation. But he thought that Spencer should have sought attention from the governor in the form of a resolution from the commission. "My problem is with the use of the letter-head."

Chairman Montes said that presently there is no commission policy for use of letterheads. He said he hoped such issues could be handled administratively in the future, with direct correspondence through the manager, who will make all commissioners aware of the issue and obtain a consensus.

But when Howell tried his motion to create a policy concerning letter heads, it died with no second. Nunley said he thought such a policy was unnecessary. "I am guilty of using stationary to write the governor," Nunley said. He said the stationary is a "necessary tool to flex our muscles occasionally...to use the stationary as a form of political clout."

Howell withdrew his motion, then said he would get some stationary before he left that day.

Roadblocks will be set up in several county locations
 during Ruidoso's Golden Aspen Motorcycle Rally Sept.
 21-25.

Lincoln County Sheriff's Officers will man the roadblocks and check motorists for licenses, registrations and insurance. Sheriff James McSwane said the roadblocks are to insure the safety of residents and visitors.

McSwane said that this time of year he has great concern for the public safety because so many motor vehicles are coming to Lincoln County, and he wants to make sure everyone drives safely.

Rally organizers have indicated to McSwane that some 25 percent more motorcyclists are expected to come to this year's rally.

McSwane said all his officers will be on duty September 23-25, during the weekend days of the rally.

The Ft. Sumner Foxes came to Carrizozo last Friday sporting a 2-0 record after having beaten Loving the week before and proceeded to make believers out of anyone who thought that might have been a fluke or an upset. The talented Foxes went on to light up the scoreboard with 41 first half points against the Grizzlies and coasted in the second half to their third victory of the season by the final score of 55-0 (enough said). Carrizozo dropped to 0-3 for the season.

Carrizozo will travel to Estancia this Friday in search of their first win of the season against the Bears, 7:30 p.m. kick-off. District 3A play will start the following week when the local squad travels to Animas, followed by another district tilt at home against Cloudcroft on October 7th. The junior high team also lost to Ft. Sumner in an early game Friday afternoon. Their next game will be against Cloudcroft on Sept. 22, at home.

So far Ft. Sumner from Dist. 1A and Capitan from Dist. 3A are the only undefeated teams in pre-district competition, both sporting 3-0 records. Escalante and McCurdy from Dist. 2A are both 1-1, Loving and Tatum from Dist. 4A are both 2-1.

An interesting aspect of Class A football this season is that eight teams will make the playoffs. The season champ and runnerup from each of the four district will make the playoffs. That means the eventual state champ will have to win three playoff games before being crowned. In Carrizozo's district (District 3A) the season champ will be matched up against the Dist. 2A runnerup (Escalante, McCurdy or Dulce), the District 3A runnerup will have to face 2A champ in first round quarter-final games. Winners will advance to the semi-finals the following week, and the state championship game will be played the week following on the 18th or 19th of November.

The Grizzly volleyball team lost their first match of the season at Lake Arthur last Saturday and will be trying to get back on the winning tract today (Thursday) against the Corona Cardinals in a district match, followed by another district contest in Mountainair on Thurs., Sept. 22 against the lady Mustangs.

BEST BETS OF THE WEEK: Dallas over Lions, Denver coach Wade Phillips or Raider coach Art Shell will be canned after one of the two goes 0-3 following their game on Sunday. UPSET OF THE WEEK: Atlanta Falcons over Kansas City Chiefs. BEST GAMES OF THE WEEK: San Diego Chargers at Seattle Seahawks, New York Jets at Miami Dolphins.

manager Gary Jackson. DFA has indicated the need for an increase in property tax rates, for the G.O. Debt Service Fund. Jackson said instead, valuation went up, and the tax rate went down from 9.656 last year to 9.619 this year. The adjusted budget included an increase in the police department to accommodate the hiring of an additional communications officer.

Councilors also approved the consent agenda of: Council meeting minutes, special dispenser's permit for the Chamber of Commerce Annual Oktoberfest Celebration Oct. 21-22 at the convention center; special dispenser's permit for Southwest Turfgrass Assoc. annual conference and trade show Oct. 5-7 at the convention center; approval of the state senate memorial project agreement for funding to surface and improve the upper portion of Sudderth Drive from the stop light to the circle.

The New Mexico Municipal League City Management Association Distinguished Budget Award for 1994 (for cities under 10,000) plaque was presented to village finance officer LeeAnn Nichols for her contributions toward creation of the 1994 village budget.

Mayor Jerry Shaw reported she attended the New Mexico Municipal League Conference in Carlsbad. The conference was attended by 600 people. The annual conference will be held in Ruidoso in 1996.

Mayor Shaw also named several people to the Arts and Film Board. However, the agenda item for appointments to boards and commissions which had been a standing item, was not included on the agenda and the council could take no action on approving the mayor's nominations. The persons she named for the commission were Jay Wright for art, Brian Seal for the Spencer Performing Arts Center, Bob Rowe for community concerts, Stan Monks film, Sandra Weber theater, Danny Flores music, Bruce McElyea photography, and ex-officio members Gary Morton, Jackie Spencer and Richard Farnsworth.

Help Paying Heating Bills Program Taking Applications

New Mexico people needing help with their heating bills this winter may be eligible for benefits.

is 281-3355. Applications will be accepted until Sept. 30.

Congress is expected to cut the appropriation to the home heating assistance program by as much as 50 percent but changes in the way the state Human Services Department manages the program will save an estimated $250,000 in administrative costs.

The savings mean the amount that can go to each household won't be hit as hard by the federal cuts.

Anyone who thinks they might qualify for benefits, including public assistance clients who are not notified in September, can complete an application available in Lincoln County at the Economic Opportunity Board office in Carrizozo. The phone number
