

Capitan School Board Hears About Fort Stanton Proposal

by Doris Cherry

Fort Stanton may very likely become a temporary home to more than 200 problem juveniles complete with its own school and sports teams, if Dan Lopez has his way.

Lopez, founder of Desert Hills juvenile treatment facilities in Tucson and Albuquerque, told the Capitan Board of Education at its meeting Sept.

14, that his company is the only contender in the state's request for proposals to lease Fort Stanton which the governor closed as a state hospital and training school for developmentally disabled adults early this year.

Desert Hills, a part of Youth International which was founded by the former owner of Jiffy Lube, is putting together a "massive proposal" to turn the Fort into a vocationally focused facility for 15-17 year old problem boys and girls who are referred by the courts, mental health counselors, and insurance programs.

Lopez said the juveniles will come "from all walks of life." Some will be in danger of dropping out of school, or dropped out of school and not in trouble yet. Some will come from out of state. Others will have been convicted of non-violent crimes in southern New Mexico. "We propose to take Springer-type kids who don't really belong there," Lopez said.

Many of the juveniles will come from families with military insurance programs, others will be referred by insurance plans covered by private companies, Lopez said.

Lopez assured the board his company would not enroll any of the juveniles in the Capitan

School District unless the juvenile's parents live in the district and the district approves. Discharged juveniles may be integrated into the district, Lopez said.

The Fort will have its own certified classroom staff in both regular and special education. Lopez said he plans to apply to become part of New Mexico Activities Association, which will enable the facility to participate in interscholastic sports.

Vocational training will be provided at the farm, bakery, laundry, butcher shop, and greenhouse.

The project will employ about 300 people, Lopez said, with a commitment to re-employ many of those laid off by the governor's closure.

Lopez said he learned about

Hunter Safety Class In Carrizozo Will Be Offered October 2-6

A hunter safety class will be given in Carrizozo October 2-6. Instructors for the class will be Lincoln County Sheriff's deputy Larry Cearley and Carrizozo Chief of Police Duane Vinson.

The classes will be held from 6 to 9 p.m. each evening in the Carrizozo School Library. Enrollment will be during the first class Oct. 2.

Children under the age of 10 must be accompanied by a parent.

Youths under the age of 18 are required by New Mexico law to successfully complete a hunter education course before buying a license to hunt with a firearm.

Anyone under the age of 18 must have the required hunter education certification and the certification card in hand while hunting.

Adults who plan to hunt in other states where certification is required may also take the class.

Classes will include safe gun handling, hunter ethics, wildlife identification, and conservation.

Carrizozo FFA Set To Host Beef Field Day On October 26

Carrizozo FFA Chapter will host FFA Chapters from Lincoln County schools to a Beef Field Day on Oct. 26.

Included in the day's activities is a demonstration on butchering beef, given by members of the New Mexico Livestock Board. The beef will be donated by rancher James McDaniel.

FFA members attending will be fed the famous Carrizozo FFA five-inch burgers with all the trimmings.

Low Cost Mammogram Begins Oct. 2

The Altrusa Club of Ruidoso and the Lincoln County Medical Center will sponsor a low cost mammogram program during October.

The cost will be $55 for patients between the ages of 30 through 64. Patients with breast implants or augmentation will not be eligible for the program.

Appointments should be made by the patient by calling Dianne Vowel at 505-258-4210 for information and times.

Visitors were (from left) Rio Arriba County Director of Planning Patricio Garcia, Michelle Montoya from the New Mexico Environment Department office in Santa Fe, Environmental Director of the Rio Arriba County Planning Dept. Matthew Maestas and Lauren Reichl with Rio Arriba County Planning Dept. At right are LCSWA employee Calvin Griffin and former LCSWA manager Joe Lewandowski. Representatives from San Miguel County and some of the northern New Mexico Pueblos also toured the LCSWA facilities Monday. The groups are interested in establishing similar solid waste operations in their areas.

LCSWA Will Interview Eight For Manager Job

by Doris Cherry

Members of the Lincoln County Solid Waste Authority (LCSWA) board will interview eight manager finalists during a special meeting Friday.

During their regular meeting Monday in Ruidoso Downs, LCSWA members accepted the recommendations of the executive committee to interview eight applicants from the 71 applications submitted for the manager's position. The committee had narrowed the list of applicants to 10, all of whom were contacted and told of the salary range, and the need for the person to relocate to Lincoln County. Eight of the 10 finalists made positive response to the provisions, one of the 10 had already accepted a another job and the other was unwilling to accept the provisions, reported LCSWA president Frank Cummins.

Cummins said all finalists have had experience working for governmental entities, and some with experience in similar solid waste authorities. All but one agreed with the salary range, except one from New York who said he needed a minimum of $56,000 a year. LCSWA members will interview the finalists by telephone conference calls during a closed session of the special meeting Friday.

The eight finalists are Steven Devan of Clinton, New York with five years experience as manager of the Utica New York Solid Waste Authority; Ted T. Johnson of Alliance, Nebraska, who is

Health Survey Indicates Alcoholism Is Major Problem In Lincoln County

by Doris Cherry

Alcoholism is rated the number one health problem in Lincoln County according to a health needs assessment survey commissioned by Lincoln County Medical Center (LCMC).

Results of the survey were given to medical providers who met at the hospital in Ruidoso on September 14. Consultant Jan Randolph who conducted the survey said she was surprised the survey respondents placed alcoholism as the leading health problem in the county. "You rarely find the community speak out as they did," Randolph said. "As the number one problem it sends a direct message to the behavior health community for the need to plan a structured response."

Randolph said that the top health problems, alcoholism, child abuse, drug abuse, high teen pregnancy rates, high risk behavior and so on will not be solved by one single group, rather it will take a systematic partnership between the behavior and primary health providers.

The survey showed the medical services needs of the community are: more mid-level and primary care doctors; more dentists especially ones who will take Medicaid and Medicare patients; more alcohol and drug treatment. For the survey respondents who were 65 years old or older the need for more home health services was ranked first, followed by the need for adult day care, increased access to special ser-VICES, cost of pharmacy services and need for more primary care providers.

The survey indicated that 49 percent of all respondents are uninsured, with the main

Carrizozo School Gets Ready For Accreditation Team Visit

by Doris Cherry

The State Department of Education Accreditation Team will visit Carrizozo School District the week of December 4.

In order to spruce up the schools and to do some badly needed repairs and renovations before the visit, Carrizozo Board of Education considered several options presented by Superintendent Paula Papponi at the regular meeting Tuesday. Papponi provided updates on the cost to run the town swimming pool, a new floor for the new gym, cost to replace the stage curtain, to install a cooling system district wide, upgrade the high school entry and repairing the elementary exterior walls.

Under board direction, Papponi had met with the Town Council about the swimming pool. It was suggested by the council that the school could take over operation of the pool. Papponi said in a letter from the mayor, the town would want the school to assume payroll for a lifeguard, provide all pool maintenance, and list the town as a secondary party under the school liability insurance. Papponi recommended the district not take over operation of the town swimming pool, because the cost of the lifeguard and maintenance would be prohibitive. Also because the school insurance company will not provide coverage for the pool under the town's arrangement.

A new wood floor for the new gym will be too expensive, with cost estimates from $60-70,000, but for about half the cost of a wooden floor, the district might consider a "synthetic" suspended floor that comes in different colors. Papponi suggested the district consider the synthetic floor based on the cost, and because a wooden floor has high year maintenance costs. The board requested Papponi invite the synthetic floor company representative to bring a sample of the floor to the school for a demonstration.

The district is waiting on a cost estimate to replace the old gym stage curtain. The curtain can no longer be repaired and has been vandalized. Papponi said she wanted to replace the curtain before the accreditation team visit, and definitely before graduation in May.

Overly hot and stuffy classrooms have led to poor conditions in which to instruct and to learn. Papponi said several teachers and students have complained about the hot classrooms so she looked into the cost of having coolers installed in every building.

Carrizozo Fire Hydrants Will Be Flushed By Fire Department On Sept. 25

Carrizozo Fire Chief LeeRoy Zamora announced the Carrizozo Volunteer Fire Department will flush fire hydrants in Carrizozo Monday, Sept. 25 starting at about 6 p.m.

Water pressure may be decreased and water may be dirty or cloudy during the time the fire hydrants are being flushed and checked.

Two Carrizozo High School Seniors Are Statewide Winners

Two Carrizozo High School seniors have been recognized for their efforts.

Debbie Bond was named a statewide winner of the World War II Commemorative Essay contest. She will be recognized on Memorial Day in Albuquerque with Gov. Gary Johnson.

Bond will also receive $500 which she said she will put toward college.

Bond came to know about the essay contest from her history teacher Gabe Papponi.

Senior Angie Odom received noticed Tuesday that she is one of five statewide winners of the New Mexico Junior Livestock Association scholarship. The scholarship is based on grades, and the student's future plan. Odom learned about the scholarship from her FFA Advisor Randall Robbins.

The application process required Odom to complete an application including her future plans, which Robbins said was "outstanding." Then Odom went to the state fair to be interviewed along with the 600 other applicants.

Carrizozo School Gets Ready . . .

She presented two different cost estimates, one which was over $135,000 and the other for about $8,900. The higher cost project would involve installing centralized coolers with duct work to distribute the cool air to the classrooms, the lower priced project would involve installing coolers on windows of the different classrooms. The coolers would be taken down in the winter to prevent freeze damage and loss of heat through the openings.

The board made no decision on the proposed cooler project until they could discuss what each project involved.

Another proposed project left undecided was the repair of exterior walls at the elementary school. The current stucco over foam is not very durable, and children waiting in line have damaged the exterior coating. Papponi said the damage has not been done maliciously, rather just wear and tear from children waiting in line. She said she did not think repairing the stucco would be effective since the underlying foam is soft and easily damaged. Instead she offered a proposal to cover the lower part of the walls with painted metal. Again the board reserved decision until they could meet with the contractor who proposed the work.

The board moved forward with a project to remodel the high school entry. Ventura construction provided the best quote to remove the old carpeting and install grey and maroon tiles, repaint and remodel the support columns. Barnett Carpets also provided a quote just to tile the floor. Papponi said it would be good to have the old carpet replaced before the accreditation team visits.

One area where the district may not get good points from the team is the playground. Susan Hightower spokesperson for the school playground committee of herself, Tena Greene, Gray Gallacher, Kelly Gallacher, Shelly Lindsay and Stacy Hendrix said they have been to the playground four times. There they asked the kids questions about the playground and its equipment.

"Oddly enough most of their comments had to do with safety," Hightower said.

She said the large wooden playground structures have splinters and need to be sanded and sealed. The committee also looked at ground covers, especially where the older boys play unsupervised football during recess. She suggested the area be dug out, contained and filled with sand. Currently the area washes out to the street on the north. Teachers also suggested sand be placed in high traffic areas.

The board commended playground committee members who recently helped paint playground equipment.

Another problem is the lack of shade on the playground. But that problem has a solution; which VoAg teacher Randall Robbins provided during his presentation on the well projects.

Robbins and another teacher worked together on a grant submitted to the RC&D council to purchase small trees for the street side of the playground, and another grant to the New Mexico Re-leaf project to provide funds to purchase several very large trees to plant in the same location. Papponi said if the school receives the grants students should be able to help plant the trees. "We need to make the kids feel they own the playground," she said.

Robbins has also offered to have his wood working class construct picnic tables for the playground.

Hightower said the playground committee is willing to volunteer work on the playground equipment because the cost of new playground equipment is very high. "I don't know if the equipment will pass the state regulations now with the splinters," Hightower said. "But we're proud of what we have, but it needs some work."

Papponi said she contacted a company which provided playground equipment for the city of T or C and another consultant. Board president Hightower asked to have estimates for new equipment at a future meeting.

Robbins' plan to plant trees on the north side of the playground is largely dependent on irrigation from one of the school's wells. Robbins reported on the progress of the wells, that the pumps are in, plumbing and electrical work is done, and all that remains to be done is to complete the work on the pressure tanks and well houses, which will be provided by L&L Well Drilling and Pump Co. of Nogal which was the best bidder for the project. Robbins said the well near the VoAg classrooms can provide water to the football field, and to the trees which will be planted at the north end of the playground. The wells will operate on automatic switches set to go on during the night when there is low water use and low evaporation.

Robbins also hopes to provide water to the yet to be constructed greenhouse.

Once the pumps are running Robbins plans to have the water tested for certain minerals and salts on list compiled by county agent Barry Herd.

The public will get a better chance to know what is going on at Carrizozo Schools when the "read a board" sign is installed. With consent from land owner Alma Maki, the sign will be located on the Central Ave. side of the fire station. Papponi thanked LeeRoy Zamora, board member and fire chief, and town trustee Harold Garcia for their help in finding a location for the sign. Papponi also thanked Beth Hightower for interceding with her grandmother Mrs. Maki, and a special thanks to Mrs. Maki.

In other business, the board:

—Approved a policy on dealing with salvageable materials.

—Adopted a resolution to donate un-usable/obsolete foot lockers to Carrizozo Fire Department.

—Accepted a donation of special education materials from Anita Sambrano.

—Accepted a donation from Lollie Lueros of a Bicentennial Commemorative Plate from the Roy Harmon Estate.

—Approved the superintendent's recommendation to employ Charles Casey of the Principal Financial Group to act as consultant for the district for the February 1996 election on the Two Mill (SEE PAGE 3)

Hondo Valley Schools, PVT Start Partners In Education

Penasco Valley Telephone Cooperative, Inc. (PVT) recently announced that an agreement has been formed between the Hondo Valley Schools and PVT for Partners In Education.

According to Janice Burk, PVT public relations representative, "PVT wants to help the Hondo students realize that their life boundary does not have to be only the Hondo Valley and its limits. We want the students to know there are people who are not their parents or school officials interested in their achievements."

In a meeting with the Hondo superintendent, Margarito Uranga, and teachers Omar Barragan, Marilyn Burchett and John Nelson, the desire was expressed to have career awareness in telecommunications presented to their students.

PVT representatives will be "going into the classrooms and telling about telecommunications." Superintendent Uranga said, "We are excited what this relationship with Penasco Valley Telephone will mean to the Hondo Valley Schools. There can be so many 'growing' possibilities for our students."

Fort Stanton when former administrator Ervin Aldaz wrote him asking if Desert Hills had any openings. Once Lopez saw the facility he went to the governor and secretary of general services offering to lease the Fort.

Because state procurement codes prohibit leasing state property without soliciting proposals, the state began a nationwide request for proposals currently being advertised and promoted. Deadline for the proposals is November 13. The state will announce the winning proposal on December 29. "We're very, very confident we will get the (proposal)," Lopez said.

Included in the proposal are plans to restore some of the historical buildings and train juveniles to give tours. The museum will be moved close to the post office. As part of orientation, juveniles will be taught the history of the old Fort.

And with the help of the Lincoln County Commissioners several Lincoln County youth may be employed with a Youth Conservation Corps grant to work on Building 13 and the old dietary.

Also proposed is a small, locked juvenile detention center which can be used to detain Lincoln County youth who have been arrested.

In response to a question from a board member who asked about security at the facility, Lopez said there is always a chance for a juvenile to walk away. Last year, Desert Hills in Albuquerque had two walk-aways, one found in 30 minutes, the other after seven hours. Lopez said the juveniles will be placed in different levels of care based on their situation, with two adults to one juvenile in maximum security. Also the kids will monitor the kids, Lopez said.

"We plan to be very active in the community," Lopez said.

State Bar Cancels Convention At Inn Of Mountain Gods

The 1995 State Bar of New Mexico annual convention scheduled for Oct. 11-14 at the Inn of the Mountain Gods in Ruidoso has been cancelled due to low registration.

The decision to cancel does not affect plans for the fall annual meeting of the State Bar, presentation of annual service awards, or the swearing-in of officers and commissioners. The State Bar will announce the date and location of that event in the future.

Proposal Made For Fort Stanton As Historic Site

Several Lincoln County residents received a letter from Michael Bilbo of Roswell asking for help in coordinating a proposal to the state general services department to operate Fort Stanton as a historic site for the visiting public. The proposal would have to be made before the Nov. 13, 1995 proposal deadline.

Fort Stanton is one of the most intact 19th century forts in the west, having been established in 1855.

"We must not lose Fort Stanton as a preserved, interpreted historic site," Bilbo writes in his letter.

THOUGHTS

FROM THE EDITOR'S DESK

The Gov and Lois Lane

By Ruth Hammond

Lois Lane and governor Gary Johnson have much in common considering Lois Lane is the fictional reporter working for the Daily Planet in Metropolis while governor Johnson continues to live in La La Land, not totally unlike fictional Metropolis.

The similarity between Lois and the governor begins with the fact that it took years for Lois to finally figure out that mild mannered Clark Kent is also Superman. Gov. Johnson has the same problem because it seems as if it will take him years to figure out that he is the governor of the state of New Mexico and his duties as governor do not include running the other two branches of government, the judicial and legislative.

Lois was fooled by Clark Kent's glasses while governor Johnson is fooled by the rose-colored glasses he wears. Actually governor Johnson's rose colored glasses are invisible or they may be contacts, but governor Johnson does see things in a different light than do the rest of us in New Mexico.

Lois was fooled by the red cape Superman wears versus the street clothes Clark Kent wears while governor Johnson acts as if he is the super hero wearing the red cape and he seems to think he needs to fly around saving the state from itself.

Lois was fooled by Clark Kent's fear of anything dangerous versus Superman's ability to face any adversary while governor Johnson leaps in the middle of things and causes trouble, if not dangerous situations in many areas of our state and it is then that governor Johnson disappears from public view.

Lois didn't stop to look at the fact that Superman and Clark Kent are the same height and weigh the same and look the same with the exception of the glasses Clark Kent wears. Governor Johnson doesn't stop to look at the fact that even though there are many similarities between running a private business and running the state there are also many differences, mainly that governmental entities are required to follow certain laws and rules established by the state while a private business person can take action without having to answer to the taxpayers.

We all know that Lois Lane originated in a comic book while governor Johnson's political career actually began when he was elected governor last November. Lois didn't need any background to be named one of the star reporters for the Daily Planet while governor Johnson didn't have any political background before being elected governor of our state.

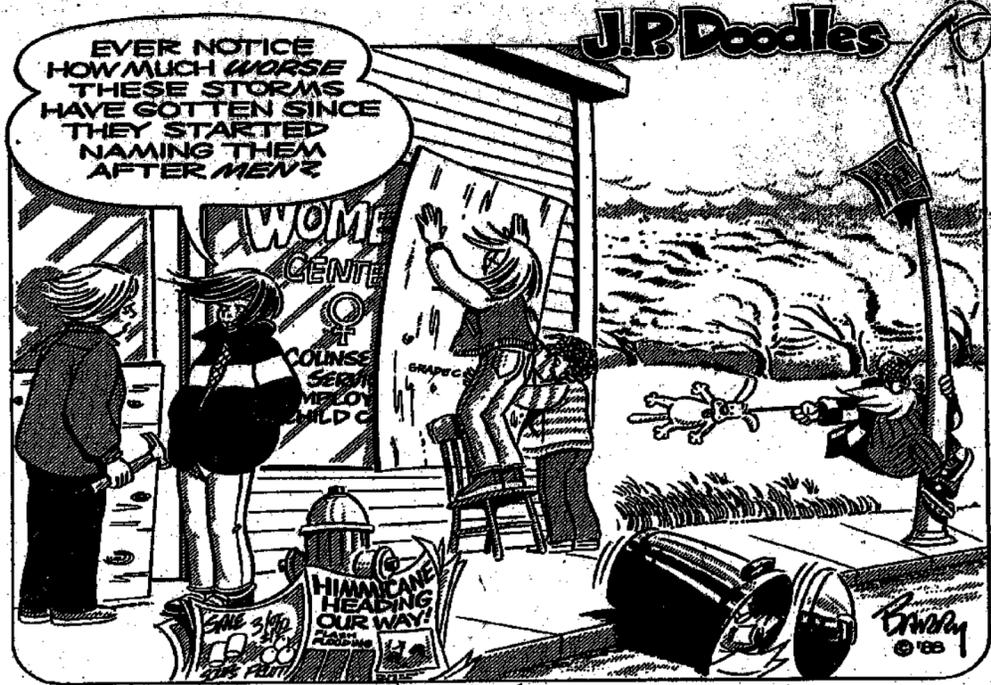

Lois was fooled by Clark Kent's disappearing act every time danger was involved while governor Johnson seems to think he can be unavailable every time situations arise he doesn't like.

Fiction doesn't need to follow facts but real life does. Lois, as a fictional character, doesn't need a reason to be naive and actually it probably helps the storyline. Governor Johnson is not a fictional character but he continues to act as if he was. He will not answer to the people who depend on him for leadership. He makes rash decisions and in the past he has ignored the advice offered by the very people who could help him.

Lois Lane receives a salary of an undetermined amount while governor Johnson seems to believe that undetermined amounts can be used when he refers to the shortfall in revenues the state will receive this fiscal year. He first said there would be a $17 million shortfall and now he is saying the shortfall will be $65 million. He hasn't explained what happened to the $48 million in between the two figures. And no one has yet explained why there is such a drastic shortfall in the projected revenues from what had originally been projected or where the money went.

Lois Lane only lives in fiction while governor Johnson seems to be trying to live a fictional life. The similarities between the two would be humorous if not for the irony of the similarities.

Is our governor a fictional person?

Inside The Capitol

by Jay Miller

SANTA FE—Gary Johnson just doesn't get it.

In the governor's case, we're not talking sexual harassment. He's clean on that count, even according to office staff who aren't happy about other conditions in his office. Although the good-old-boy network that is reputed to run things up there does come in for a lot of criticism.

In Gary Johnson's case we're talking about basic democratic principles such as separation of powers and the plural executive. Young Gary must have skipped that course while getting his political science degree at the University of New Mexico.

Since the beginning of his administration nine months ago, Johnson has run afoul of the legislative branch of government often. It irritates him that the Legislature can decide how much he's going to spend. The issue arose numerous times during the '95 session.

The governor often said he looked forward to lawmakers going home in mid-March so he could start running government his way. He didn't seem to understand that even when the Legislature is not in session, it still is the Legislature, and he can't take over legislative branch authorities.

He ran afoul of the judicial branch of government when he tried to transfer money from the administrative office of the courts to the state public defender's office. Soon after that, the state Supreme Court told him he must have legislative approval in order for the Indian gaming compacts he signed to be valid.

Now Johnson is in trouble with all three branches of government for trying to remedy a projected revenue shortfall by trimming monthly revenue distributions appropriated by the legislature. Had he stuck to just cutting those executive agencies under his jurisdiction, he probably would have been in a spitting match only with the Legislature.

Johnson chose not to cut any of the distributions to legislative agencies but he's still in a fight with them for usurping their appropriating authority by distributing less money to executive and judicial departments.

The governor wandered over into judicial land again when he notified the courts that their monthly distributions would start being less than one-twelfth of their legislative allotment. The district judges in Albuquerque decided they wanted to fight about it. The judges notified their employees they would be getting four days unpaid leave in November to make up for the budget losses. And they voted to sue the governor for withholding some of their allocation.

The state Supreme Court could tell the District Court judges they can't close down, but so far "the Supremes" haven't gone to easily on poor Gary.

Now it's time for a lesson in the plural executive. You see, there are numerous elected officials in the executive branch of state government other than the governor. That's an even harder concept for a fledgling governor to master than the separation of powers among the executive, legislative and judicial branches of government.

The offices of the secretary of state, auditor, treasurer, attorney general, state land commissioner, corporation commissioner, and state board of education all operate separately from the governor. Although the separation of powers into three branches is common to just about all democratic forms of government, dividing power within the executive branch isn't. But that's the way the framers of our constitution set it up. For some reason they wanted a weak executive.

But that doesn't agree with the Gary Johnson theory of the omnipotent governor. So New Mexico's three elected corporation commissioners, two of whom are lawyers, have decided they need to go to the mat with Gary to straighten out LaLa Land.

Commissioners Jerome Block, Eric Serna and Gloria Tristram have jointly signed a strongly-worded letter to Johnson's finance chief, David Harris, taking issue with the governor's "control allotments," which they charge are "a blatant attempt to illegally veto" their appropriation.

The Corporation Commission didn't threaten a suit in its letter, but it referred to Johnson's "disguise of statutory authority" and his "strained construction of the statute." These guys don't sound as though they're going to give up easily.

F. White of Sebastian, FLA, who was manager of Mawarid Services in Riyadh Saudi Arabia; Danny Sethi of Palo Alto, CA currently a consultant with Corporate Solutions and previous administrator of Palo Alto Sanitation; Mark D. Mehall, East Moline, ILL, current solid waste coordinator of Rock Island County Waste Management; Corlis Dobson, Lufkin, TX, solid waste supervisor for City of Lufkin (with employee numbers and population similar to Lincoln County); Daniel J. Kornoff, San Marcos, CA, current operations manager of Sani-Tainer Refuse Removal Services.

LCSWA members will rate the finalists based on their answers to questions on a pre-determined evaluation system.

LCSWA hopes to have the new manager on board by mid-October. Until that time, bookkeeper Beverly Foote will be acting manager, having been appointed to that position by the board at the end of the last special meeting on September 7.

The role of the manager and the LCSWA board was defined during a discussion about changing the date and time for board meetings. Previously the board considered meeting every two months, but with the manager vacancy, Cummins said the group should continue to meet monthly. That led to new

Spies Steal The Benefits Of Freedom

We're told the Cold War is over, and yet the "ex-Communists" in Russia keep right on spying on us. Even worse, our so-called allies make a regular practice of it too.

by F. R. DUPLANTIER

Last month the White House released a report charging that our allies as well as our adversaries are engaging in economic espionage to get their hands on American trade secrets and technology. Prepared by the National Counterintelligence Center, the report charged that several countries "pose various levels and types of threats to U.S. economic and technical information." The Russians still have the biggest ears and stickiest fingers in the spy game, but our allies clearly have the potential to do more damage than our enemies. Certain self-serving sympathizers "target U.S. economic and technological information despite their friendly relations with the United States" says the report. "In some cases they take advantage of their considerable legitimate access to U.S. information and collect sensitive information more easily than our military adversaries."

The report warns that "some of the countries traditionally considered allies have infrastructures that allow them to easily internalize high-tech information and utilize it in competition against U.S. firms." The unclassified version of the report doesn't name names, but France, Israel, and Japan would surely head the list of spies who love us. Britain, Germany, India, Pakistan, South Korea, Taiwan, Singapore, Mexico, Egypt, and Hong Kong are also nosy neighbors. FBI National Security Division Chief Robert Bryant confirms that foreign countries "are attacking our intellectual property at will," and that a lot of them are "close allies." Nevertheless, says Bryant, "we have to stand up and say who these countries are."

Economic spies are targeting biotechnology, aerospace, telecommunications, computer software and hardware, advanced transportation and engine technology, advanced stealth-type materials and coatings, energy research, defense and armaments, and manufacturing processes. Successful thievery can mean millions of dollars in lost revenue and diminished market share for American businesses, and lost jobs for American workers. "Proprietary business information—that is, bid, contract, customer and strategy—these sectors are aggressively targeted," according to the report. "Fore-

LETTERS to the editor

EDITOR: Please consider the enclosed FAX to Sen. Bingaman as a letter to the editor. With a call to New Mexico voters * PROTECT OUR FLAG * this senator has voiced a "NO" vote for Resolution 31. His present position is that it is "OK" to burn The Stars and Stripes.

ATTENTION: Sen. Jeff Bingaman

This is a request of you to put politics aside as this is not a political issue, but for the voice of the people of our Country. * You have gone against the great majority of the people of the State of New Mexico and the United States on a number of issues, including the so called Crime Bill, that has not, will not, and cannot reduce crime in this Country, or another Country, as proven through history. You stayed on the political far left of true justice. * There are millions of graves around this world of United States Service personnel who have fought and died for this flag. There are millions more who bare the scars of war to keep our freedom from tyranny and the Stars and Stripes flying over our great country. I am but one, a disabled Korean War Veteran on 100% disability. There are thousands of war veterans (and thousands more of military personnel with service time) in the State of New Mexico, that not only support Resolution 31, but will be very disturbed should you put politics and self interest ahead of your God given duties and responsibilities to obey and support the Majority of the people of this great State. * For those that want to burn or desecrate the Start and Stripes—let them go to a foreign country such as China, North Korea, or Russia (which is stronger and more volatile than before the so called fall of communism) where destruction of their flag means facing a firing squad Without benefit of a trial. * The penalties imposed by Resolution 31 should be of earth shattering experience to individual(s). Example: "Burning a United States Flag, or, a State Flag, would result in a mandatory sentence of 20 to 30 years of hard labor without benefit of parole." Thus the next person will take greater thought of the matter . . . !!!

REV. DR. C.L. FULTON

EDITOR: America's senior citizens have been targeted by the Republican leadership to bear the brunt of budget cuts in order to provide tax relief to wealthy supporters and special interest groups. Gingrich, Dole, and Gramm have sold out their parents and grandparents to curry favor with the rich who grease the Republican wheels. I for one will remember the Republicans at election time, and give them a ringing vote of "No Way!"

For the Love of Gregory

by Joann Rice

T. G. I. F.

"Thank goodness it's Friday!" Gregory said after school. "I've got two whole days to do anything I want to. First I'm gonna have ice cream 'til I pop. Then I'll play 'til I drop. And I won't take a bath tonight or brush my teeth or go to bed early. I'm stayin' up 'til midnight, and watch every movie I have, and eat chips, and candy, and chocolate cake. I may not go to bed at all. I might just make it a straight through shot all the way to Sunday night. I can't wait to get started. What do you think, Queen Mother? Is it great to be free or what?"

"It would be, if you were indeed free. I hate to be the one to poke the old pin in your bubble, but..."

He sat bolt upright. "But what? Tell me quick so I won't suffer!"

"Well, tonight you have to sign up for cub scouts, tomorrow morning you get your hair cut, tomorrow afternoon is your piano lesson. And you have to get to bed early, because Sunday is church."

"And I bet I have to take a nap Sunday afternoon, right?"

"Sounds good to me, Gregory."

This is lousy, Queen Mother. Who made this plan, anyways? It had to be mom. She always did go overboard. She thinks I'm sooo special. I guess she wants me to be the governor by 12! Then she'll just keep pushin' me right on up to the White House!"

"Gregory, it's nice that your mom is interested in seeing you excel."

"She's gonna eggshell me right into a nut house! I'm just a little kid, you know! Kids are supposed to play and have fun. Not be pushed and drove over the edge by a... a

"Over achieving mother?" I asked.

"Boy, you got that right! Just when am I gonna learn to act like a kid, if I never get to be a kid?"

"When you turn 40, Gregory, I promise you can go through your second childhood."

"Why then, Queen Mother?"

"Well, most men do."
"It's a mighty long time to wait to have any fun. And I betcha mom will still be tellin' me what to do then. What do you think, Queen Mother?"

"Oh, she'll probably get a little crazy herself by then and give up on you."

"You really think so? How long is it until I'm 40?"

"About 34 years."

"That long, eh? Hmm... Maybe I could lower that a few years. You know, real easy like. Just a few years at a time."

"How so, Gregory?"

"You'll see. I'm gonna start right now! See you later."

"Hey, where are you going?"

"To start workin' on mom. By the time I'm ten years old, she'll be crazy as a peach orchard hog. I can practically guarantee it!"

BLM To Host Open House

On Saturday, September 23, the Roswell District of the Bureau of Land Management will hold an open house from 6:00 p.m. until 8:00 p.m. at Dr. Wood's Annex in Lincoln.

District Manager Leslie Cone says this open house will provide opportunities for Lincoln County residents to meet BLM's management team and talk about ideas for managing the lands along the Rio Bonito.

For additional information, contact Tim Kreager, Roswell Resource Area Manager, at 505-624-1790 or P.O. Drawer 1857, Roswell, NM 88202-1857.

Health Survey Indicates . . .

reason due to the high cost. The high cost of medical treatment was a reason why 38 percent of all respondents had trouble getting that care and 29 percent of the uninsured said they were turned away from medical care because they had no insurance.

For those with some type of medical insurance coverage, whether it be medicaid or medicare or private insurance, many indicated that the distance they must travel for care was a major barrier. Since 33 percent of the 65 years old and older population live alone, transportation to medical care is a major obstacle. "There is a large percentage of rural people who need health care where they live, or have access to it," Randolph said. "We need to get services out, or shuttle the people in."

How to provide that care is a community issue, she added.

Also in the survey, a large number of people use the hospital emergency room as their primary health care, which shows the need for more primary health care providers. "It's obvious the use of the emergency room for primary health care is based on the people's ability to pay," Randolph said. "The emergency room is obligated to treat anyone who comes in regardless of their ability to pay."

Because of the large number of uninsured, the high rate of poverty, especially among seniors and mothers as head of household families with children, Randolph said there is a critical need for more facilities like the Carrizozo Health Clinic where patients are charged on a sliding scale according to income.

"There is a pocket of people outside the system who feel they have no way to get in," Randolph said. Included in that group are the 36 percent of the county's population who earn below $15,000 a year, yet cannot qualify for Medicaid because they are not below poverty level. Some 47 percent of the county's population is below 200 percent of poverty level, which is still not enough income to make health insurance affordable.

Another barrier to accessing health care is a lack of information about what is available. Health providers at the meeting agreed with the need for an information-referral network in the county through which providers could set up appointments for their patients with specialists or others services.

In summary the survey showed the county has need for additional primary health care services that are accessible by locating them in the smaller communities, or providing shuttle services to the medical services now available.

Randolph said the high rate of visits to the emergency room for such minor problems as insect stings and minor injuries shows there is a need for basic health education, which can be provided to families through the public health department, to students in school programs and to social organizations like scouts or 4-H, and to young parents through such programs and WIC.

Behavior health priorities listed on the survey showed more family counseling as the top need, followed by outpa-

CAPITAN NOTES

Greetings from my old house by the side of the road to your house.

I do declare another week has come and gone and am afraid I was not even aware of it's presence. Have any of you ever felt that way about time?

Time comes to each of us and time leaves each of us, but time does not stand still. It keeps marching onward. What we do with our time is our decision and our's alone. We can sit still and let it march on or we can be determined to keep ourselves pushing and praying that we are doing our best, or at least, we can keep telling ourselves we are doing our best, but in all honesty just how many of us really and truly present to the world what we are really and truly capable of doing?

Having just read the following written by Marshall Field the First, and who built one of the largest store empires in the world, will share them with you.

- Twelve Things To Remember
1. The value of time.
 2. The success of perseverance.
 3. The pleasure of working.
 4. The dignity of simplicity.
 5. The worth of character.
 6. The power of kindness.
 7. The obligation of duty.
 8. The influence of example.
 9. The wisdom of economy.
 10. The virtue of patience.
 11. The improvement of talent.
 12. The joy of originating.

Marshall Field the First did not promise we would all reach the pinnacle of success like he did, but his advice is worth thinking on.

So sorry we have lost our Chief of Police Tony Cano. Tony we will miss you and wish you the best of things in your endeavors. Understand by the time this goes to print a successor will be selected to take your place and whoever that might be, we all wish him the best.

Here's a little quiz regarding sports, thought you might enjoy. So, test your memory.

What sport begins in front of the south stake? Croquet.

What state in the United States grants the most fishing licenses? And the answer is California.

In what country would you find the highest golf course? Peru.

What is the age of the horses that compete in the Kentucky Derby? 3 years.

Which is the only Southwest Conference football team not based in Texas? The Arkansas Razorbacks.

How many Olympic games were cancelled because of World War II? Four.

How many consecutive misses constitute the elimination of a high jumper? Three.

Who hit an incredible three home runs in the final game of 1977 World Series? Reggie Jackson.

I copied this from the King Features Syndicate and it was written by Larry Duncan. And anyone knowing me knows that when it comes to sports, I never got past kindergarten.

Am getting tired looking at the empty building across the street. Several times I was certain that new life was to be pumped into it, but if there is a grand opening in the offing, I certainly know from watching, as the German Colonel used to say on the television series, Hogan's Heroes. Gosh, oh golly, that certainly dates me, doesn't it?

According to Owen D. Young, "Youth is not a time; it is a state of mind. It is not a matter of red cheeks, red lips and supple knees; it is a temper of the will, a quality of the imagination, a vigor of the emotions; it is a freshness of the deep springs of life. No-body grows old by merely living a number of years; people grow old by deserting their ideals."

What I am concerned about it this fast moving world is a time of crisis, both in foreign and domestic affairs, is not so much a mind as a heart. A program lives today and dies tomorrow. A mind, if it be open, may change with each new day, but the spirit and the heart are as unchanging as the tides. And there are times when God asks nothing of any of us except silence, patience and tears.

Things happen in bunches like grapes and then sometimes there is a long dry spell. That is my predicament at this writing. My well of knowledge "in re" the goings and comings of Capitan have hit a new low and I sincerely apologize. As I have stated many times, I do not go after the news like most reporters do. I just wait for someone to enlighten me or just accidentally trip over it when it happens. So if you are interested in having this column continue on it's merry way, please keep me informed of your comings and goings and your in betweens. And so for another week, hope all your trials will be little ones and your joys humongous. Have a good week and may God bless each and everyone.

Capitan School Board Adopts Changes To Discipline Policy

Capitan Board of Education adopted changes to the transportation and high school discipline policies at its meeting September 14.

The high school discipline policy now includes a section dealing with cheating. Cheating is defined and penalties are outlined for each offense. First time cheaters will be on in-school suspension for five days. During that time, the student will be allowed to make up work, but will be given only 80 percent credit on their homework or tests.

Students caught cheating, regardless of first time or third, will not be allowed to participate in extra curricular activities and/or athletic practices, contests or school functions.

Second time cheaters will be on out-of-school suspension for five days and will get zeros for each day.

On the third offense, the student will have long term expulsion from school for the remainder of the year.

A major change in the transportation policy will allow students to have food and drinks while on activity trips on the activity buses only. Any trash or spills resulting from the trip must be cleaned up by the group responsible.

As before, students may not drink or eat on regular route buses.

The other changes in the transportation policy is wording to correspond to changes in state laws.

In other business, the board:

—Accepted resignation from Linda Guitard as fifth grade teacher, resignation from Edna Sedillo as cafeteria worker; and approved hiring Michelle Samora as part time cafeteria clerk.

—Gave permission for the Capitan FFA chapter to attend the national FFA Conference in Kansas City after members Jill Lunsford, Joe Burchett and Shayna Crandall made a presentation.

—Applauded Capitan FHA members Jaime Meihling and Heather Wooddell for their accomplishments at the National FHA Leadership Conference in Washington D.C.

Capitan Chamber Reports Inquiries Have Increased

Inquiries about Capitan have been pouring into the chamber of commerce.

At the September chamber meeting, corresponding secretary Gordon Ross reported the chamber has received more than 1,000 inquiries including ones from people living in Australia, Italy, Bangladesh, Iraq, Germany, Canada, Switzerland, Kuwait, Belgium, Spain, South Africa and England. Of those inquiries, eight were interested in relocating to Capitan.

Chamber members learned some people from Roswell are planning to take over the hardware store soon. However, the new hardware store could be in a new location.

Another business is seeking to relocate in Capitan in the old Rusty Anchor.

Capitan Chamber of Commerce meets at 12:30 p.m. October 2, in the chamber building on 2nd Street. Members will discuss the village Christmas decorations.

Cave Vandals Plead Guilty

On September 13, five juveniles from Lincoln County pled guilty in Federal Magistrate Court to charges of destruction of government property, entering a recreation site without a permit, and littering. The charges rose from a break-in at Fort Stanton Cave.

Due to past vandalism incidents at the cave, Bureau of Land Management Rangers spotted the youths during surveillance of the area. The Lincoln County Sheriff's Department and local police cooperated in identifying the youths.

Federal Magistrate Jack Smith sentenced each youth to perform 10 hours of community service at a BLM recreation facility, attend a cave appreciation class, and write a paper or give a talk about what they learned to their local high school.

Fort Stanton Cave is one of the largest caves in New Mexico and is open to the public by permits which are available from the BLM office in Roswell.

Lady Grizzlies On 5 Game Win Streak

by Sarah Funk
The Lady Grizzlies continued their winning streak by defeating the Corona Cardinals at home on Sept. 14 in three straight games: 15-6, 15-7, 15-3. The Cardinals played a good game but were no match for the Lady Grizzlies.

Setter Michelle Barela started the first game off with three serving points, two of them being aces. During that game, Amanda Najar also made five serving points, and Sarah Funk made two. In the second game, Jessica Barela made six serving points and Keri Shafer made five. Both of them served an ace. During the third game, both Sylvia Zamora and Joanie Bingerman contributed six points each to the downfall of the Cardinals. Throughout the game, Naomi Vallejos, Katie Hightower, and Shafer dominated the front row with numerous kills and blocks.

The Lady Grizzlies will host the Mountainair Mustangs on Thursday, Sept. 21. The game will start at 5:00 p.m. with the JV going for their second win of the season. Friday the varsity will travel to Capitan for the Capitan Tournament. They will play three games in "pool" play, with Ft. Sumner at 1:30 p.m., Cloudcroft at 2:45 p.m., and with San Jon at 4:00 p.m. They will then play later that night in a regular match and play two matches on Saturday.

The Carrizozo Jr. High volleyball girls traveled to the Hondo Volleyball Tournament Saturday, Sept. 16 and won first place. The defeated Capitan and Hondo to capture the title. The Jr. High plays at Hondo next on Thursday, Sept. 28.

The Lady Grizzlies are having one of their best seasons ever. They would appreciate if the community would come to their games and support them.

Grizzlies Improve Record To 3-0 In Easy 46-0 Romp

by Renee L. Beltran
The Carrizozo Grizzlies are 3-0 for the first time in many years when their score of 46-0 against El Paso school, Covenant Christian, brought the Saturday night game to an end less than halfway through the third quarter.

Another new aspect of six man football calls for the game to end when one team is 45 points ahead of the opposition, as the Grizzlies were. "The crowd should realize we could have beaten them 80-0 if we had wanted to, but that's not what we were out there to do," coach Sid Wright said.

The Grizzlies scored early in the first quarter when they sacked Covenant's ball carrier behind the goal line for a safety. A minute and a half into the ball game Jeff Maynard scored the first touchdown, with Willie Silva running in the point after touchdown (PAT). Carrizozo scored again two minutes later on a pass from quarterback Jim Brown to Justin Serna, who also ran in the PAT.

The game continued in much the same manner with Covenant unsuccessfully struggling to contain the Grizzlies. Carrizozo pushed the score to 18-0 after scoring on another safety.

With four minutes remaining in the first quarter, Maynard broke loose on a 15-yard run to score once again. Bud Maynard scored the next TD with Silva kicking the PAT. Meanwhile the Grizzly defense, including Ray Barela, Briton Goad, Bud Maynard, Shad Roper and Josh Thornton, continued to shut out Covenant and hold them to minimum yardage.

Early on in the second quarter, Serna blocked a Covenant punt and scored the third safety of the night. Four minutes later Barela broke loose on an exciting TD run to raise the score to 40-0.

With three minutes remaining in the second quarter Covenant finally scored, but the TD was called back for illegal procedure. For the remainder of the game the Grizzly defense continued their excellent coverage and Covenant never had another chance to score. With Serna, Silva, Barela and Thornton churning up the yardage, the Grizzlies worked their way up the field before the drive stalled and Jeff Maynard was wide on a 45-yard field goal attempt. The score was 40-0 at halftime.

When the game resumed Covenant was once again stymied by the Carrizozo defense, and in less than four minutes, Serna scored again to bring the game to an end with the scoreboard reading 46-0, in another Grizzly victory.

"Although this game may have been easy, it was a good workout for the kids. Everybody played well and worked hard," Wright said.

Justin Serna was named offensive player of the game; Bud Maynard was named defensive player of the game; and Ray Barela named special teams player of the game for the Grizzlies.

Aside from the exciting game, the Grizzlies had several other positive factors in their favor. Townspeople turned out in force to support the team. Also, the playing field is in noticeably better condition and, a newly painted scoreboard lit up the night, courtesy of the Carrizozo Volunteer Fire Department. In addition, the Grizzlies were cheered on by a spirited new squad of cheerleaders: Tami Means, Nikki Duncan, Cortney Maynard, Krystal Winfield, Kayla Hammond, Amanda Miller, Tara Earwood and Andrea Whyatt. Friday night at 7:30, the

Carrizozo Student Art Is Displayed In Booth At State Fair

The art of 45 students from Carrizozo Schools is on display at the New Mexico State Fair in Albuquerque.

Carrizozo and more than 50 other schools from New Mexico have art booths in the Student Art Building, located next to the flower exhibit and near Indian Village.

The Carrizozo multi-media art represents the work of students in the first through fifth grades.

State Fair ends Saturday, September 23.

this summer. The students represented New Mexico in the competition categories.

Okayed the annual Head Start Agreement which allows the federally funded program to operate in district facilities.

Heard parent concerns. Board president Beverly Payne advised the parents to follow the chain of command of first going to the teacher, if not satisfied go to the building principal, and then the superintendent.

Grizzlies will face Ramah-Gallup at Laabs Field. "We will definitely be tested next Friday; Ramah-Gallup is a very tough team," stressed Wright.

Lady Tigers To Host Classic VB Tourney September 22-23

Capitan Lady Tigers will host the Capitan Classic Volleyball Tournament Friday and Saturday, Sept. 22 and 23.

As with the Roadrunner Tournament last weekend, the Capitan Classic will feature pool play to determine seeding in the regular matches Friday night and Saturday.

Pool A will consist of teams from Capitan, Grady, Elida and Magdalena. Pool B will be Cloudcroft, San Jon, Fort Sumner and Carrizozo. Pool play begins at 1 p.m. Friday and continues through 4 p.m. The first regular match of the tournament is set for 6 p.m. Matches begin at 10 a.m. Saturday, with the final match set for 7 p.m.

Despite another series of losses for the Lady Tigers in last weekend's Roadrunner Tournament, Coach Bryan Massé said the girls played tough and showed signs of maturity on the court.

Massé attributed much of the losses to the girls' exhaustion from the split scheduling of the tournament, (Thursday and Saturday, with school Friday) and the excitement of Homecoming.

In pool play Thursday, Capitan lost to Dexter in two hard played games. The girls played the Tatum powerhouse next, again losing. Fort Sumner was next on the list for Capitan to play, and the Lady Tigers split the games, winning one and losing the other.

After a full day of pool play, the Lady Tigers ended up playing Eunice the winner of the other pool. It was a five game marathon, with the Lady Tigers winning the first two games. The Capitan girls had Eunice down in the third game when they got stuck on 12. The Eunice team won that game 16-14, and went on to win the next two games 15-12 and 16-14 for the match.

Exhausted when they arrived at the Roadrunner tournament finals Saturday, the Capitan girls lost to Loving, then to Hagerman.

The Capitan team will get another chance to play Hagerman on September 28 in Capitan.

Tatum won the Roadrunner Tournament.

"The girls are working hard and putting in overtime," Massé said. "I feel that when they play well, they could play anyone anywhere."

Massé said the Capitan Classic will feature some good volleyball. Admission to the matches is $3 for adults and $2 for students.

Cloudcroft Record At 2-2 After Beating Tatum Coyotes 27 to 6

The Cloudcroft Bears improved their season record to 2-2 by beating the Tatum Coyotes 27 to 6 last Friday evening. Tailback Neil LaSalle scored the first six points on a 50-yard scamper early in the first quarter and then kicked the PAT and Cloudcroft led 7-0 at the end of the first quarter.

In the second quarter wide-receiver Brian Pearson caught a 50-yard pass from LaSalle, on a pitch-back from quarterback John Henry, setting up another LaSalle touchdown on an 18-yard run on the next play. The PAT failed and the score at half was 13-0 in favor of the Bears.

In the third quarter on 4th down the Coyotes made a bad snap to the kicker and chased the ball into the end zone where Cloudcroft was awarded two points on a safety. Four plays later Cloudcroft scored again on a 20-yard run by LaSalle. The PAT failed and after three quarters of play Cloudcroft led 21-0.

Tatum's only score came on a 10-yard scamper with 6:13 left in the game. The two-point conversion try failed and the score moved to 21-6. With three minutes remaining in the game LaSalle scored his fourth TD of the night on a 4-yard run to make the final score 27-6.

LaSalle totaled 179 yards rushing for the Bears; fullback Josh Turnage complimented the Bear running attack with an additional 87 yards.

Cloudcroft will play an away game this Friday when they visit undefeated Ft. Sumner. Game time will be 7:00 p.m.

Tigers Whitewash Hagerman Bobcats 21-0

Steady Josh Peralta, nifty Neil Montes, and wild and wicked Wayne LaBelle led the undefeated Capitan Tigers to a 21-0 victory September 15 over the Hagerman Bobcats in Capitan. The Tiger offensive live moved 'em out, the stingy Capitan defense looked good, and Wayne Ellison's Tiger Band kept things stirred up. Things seemed to be just about right for Capitan homecoming fans.

The Tigers travel to Loving to do battle with the Lovings Sept. 22; to Texico on Sept. 29, and return home Oct. 6 to face the Reserve Mountaineers.

Public Hearing Set For State Consolidated Plan

LEGAL NOTICE

NOTICE OF PUBLIC AUCTION SALE OF PERSONAL PROPERTY FOR DELINQUENT PROPERTY TAX

Notice is hereby given that, pursuant to the provisions of 7-38-55 thru 59, NMSA 1978, the Lincoln County Treasurer will offer for sale at public auction beginning on October 12, 1995 at 10:00 a.m. at the County Courthouse in Carrizozo, New Mexico, the following described personal property, the sale to continue until all the described property has been offered for sale.

THE TERMS OF THE SALE ARE AS FOLLOWS:

1. A sale properly made under the provisions of 7-38-55 thru 59, NMSA 1978 constitutes full payment of all delinquent taxes, penalties and interest that are a lien against the property at the time of sale, and the sale extinguishes the lien. The property is sold subject to the lien for property taxes for the year of the sale, provided those taxes are not yet delinquent. The buyer at the public auction, or his successor in interest will be liable for those property taxes when they become due.

2. The description of the following personal property is designed to permit the identification and location of personal property; by potential purchasers, or taxpayers. The Lincoln County Treasurer warrants no title to properties purchased at public auction sale.

3. Section 7-38-74 NMSA 1978, prohibits officers or employees of the State of ANY of its political subdivisions engaged in the administration of the property tax from directly or indirectly acquiring an interest in, buying or profiting from any property sold by the county treasurer for delinquent taxes, except that an officer or employee may purchase property sold for delinquent taxes if he is the owner of the property and was the owner of the property at the time the taxes became delinquent. Any officer or employee violating Section 7-38-74 is guilty of a fourth degree felony and shall be fined not more than five thousand dollars ($5,000.00) or imprisoned for not less than one year nor more than five years, or both; and he shall also be automatically removed from office or have his employment terminated upon conviction. A personal property sale in violation of Section 7-38-74 is void.

4. Successful bidders are required to make payment in full of the amount bid before leaving the premises on the day of the sale. Payment is required to be by money order, certified check, cashier's check or personal check which is accompanied by bank letter of credit for the amount of or in excess of the amount of the personal check drawn to the order of the Lincoln County Treasurer.

5. Upon receiving payment for the personal property sold, the Lincoln County Treasurer shall execute and deliver a certificate of sale to the purchaser. The certificate of sale transfers all the former property owners interest in the personal property as of the date of the sale. The purchaser takes the personal property free of any unrecorded or untitled interests unknown to him at the time of sale.

6. The sale price of the personal property at this public auction sale is not to be taken or considered as being the value of the property for property taxation purposes.

7. All persons intending to bid upon property are required to register and obtain bidders number from the auctioneer and to provide the auctioneer with their full name and address. Certificate of sale will be issued to registered names only. Conveyances to other parties will be the responsibility of the buyer at auction. Persons acting as "agents" for other persons will register accordingly and must provide documented proof as being a bonded agent at time of payment for property.

8. The auctioneer reserved the right to withdraw from sale any of the properties listed below; to sell any of the properties listed together; or to sell only a portion of any of the properties listed below. If any dispute arises between or among the bidders, the auctioneer's decision with respect to the dispute is final, and the auctioneer may auction the property again, in his discretion. The auctioneer reserves the right to reject any and all bids. The personal property listed below may not be sold for less than the listed minimum price.

No. CV 95-131, Div. III
GE CAPITAL MORTGAGE SERVICES, INC. Plaintiff, vs.
JUAN R. BACA, MARLENE A. BACA, and ALTO LAKES GOLF & COUNTRY CLUB, INC., Defendants.

NOTICE OF SALE

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the undersigned Special Master will, on Thursday, September 28, 1995, at 10:00 a.m., at the northeast entrance of the Lincoln County Courthouse, Carrizozo, New Mexico, sell and convey to the highest bidder for cash all the right, title and interest of the above-named defendants in and to the following described real estate located in said County and State:

Lot 23, Block 2, of High Mesa Subdivision, Unit 1, Lincoln County, New Mexico, as shown by the plat thereof filed in the Office of the County Clerk and Ex-officio Recorder of Lincoln County, August 25, 1970 in Tube No. 352.

The address of the real property is 226 Sunrise Drive, Alto, New Mexico. Said sale will be made pursuant to the Decree of Foreclosure entered on August 21, 1995, in the above entitled and numbered cause, which was a suit to foreclose a note and mortgage held by the above plaintiff and wherein plaintiff was adjudged to have a lien against the above-described real estate in the sum of $98,802.65, plus interest from August 15, 1995 to the date of sale at the rate of 9.0% per annum, or $23.44 per day. The cause of sale, including the Special Master's fee of $200.00, publication costs, and plaintiff's costs expended for tax, insurance or keeping the property in good repair. Plaintiff has the right to bid at such sale and submit its bid verbally or in writing. The Plaintiff may apply all or any part of its judgment to the purchase price in lieu of cash.

Defendant Alto Lakes Golf & Country Club, Inc. has a second lien against the property in the amount of $599.53, plus interest thereon at the rate of 18% per annum from July 1, 1995.

At the date and time stated above, the Special Master may postpone the sale to such later date and time as the Special Master may specify.

Dated: August 28, 1995.

PUBLIC NOTICE

The Alto North Public Water System wishes to advise its consumers that the Maximum Contaminant Level for Fecal Coliform / E. Coli in Drinking Water was exceeded during its most recent reporting period of 8/29/95. The New Mexico Environment Department (NMED) and the United States Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) set drinking water standards and have determined that the presence of fecal coliforms or E. coli is a serious health concern. Fecal coliforms and E. coli are generally not harmful themselves, but their presence in drinking water is serious because they usually are associated with sewage or animal wastes. The presence of these bacteria in drinking water is generally a result of a problem with water treatment or the pipes which distribute the water, and indicates that the water may be contaminated with organisms that can cause disease. Disease symptoms may include diarrhea, cramps, nausea, and possibly jaundice, and associated headaches and fatigue. These symptoms, however, are not just associated with disease-causing organisms in drinking water, but also may be caused by a number of factors other than your drinking water. EPA has set an enforceable drinking water standard for fecal coliforms and E. coli to reduce the risk of these adverse health effects. Under this standard all drinking water samples must be free of these bacteria. Drinking water which meets this standard is associated with little or none of this risk and should be considered safe. State and local health authorities recommend that consumers take the following precautions: boil water before drinking and/or drink bottled water.

patient prevention counseling for DWI and drug abuse. Randolph recommended the county's health providers collaborate on writing grants to obtain federal and state funds. Medical providers had a chance to ask questions and make comment after Randolph made her presentation. A mental health medical provider commented on the lack of community based medical systems for those people evicted from Fort Stanton, and the need for two or three "de-tox" beds (for alcoholic patients) and staff trained to care for the patients in the county. Randolph said the purpose of the survey and needs assessment was not to deal with any one particular problem, rather to provide a basis to plan an integrated health system for the county. Lincoln County Medical Center administrator Valerie Miller invited anyone interested in being part of a group which will work on a health system plan for the county to contact her at the hospital. "The element of the plan is to focus on primary care," Miller said. Miller also announced that LCMC on November 1 will begin offering an HMO insurance plan for local employees and members of such associations as chambers of commerce. Miller said that a lot of the high percentage of uninsured people in Lincoln County have "Mom and Pop" businesses with just a few employees. The HMO will be for businesses with three or more employees and will give access to a comprehensive health care system.

Meeting For Input On Highway Construction Set For Sept. 28

ign collectors have also shown great interest in government and corporate financial and trade date.

Economic spies steal most of their information through computer break-ins and telephone intercepts, says the report. They also break into offices and hotel rooms when necessary to get what they're looking for, and cultivate company insiders, foreign employees, and even exchange students to assist in their illicit quest. Secrets can also be obtained through trade organizations, front companies, and joint ventures, not to mention mergers and acquisitions.

Living and working in the freest country on earth gives American businessmen a tremendous advantage over foreign competitors — but it's a fair advantage, and one that could be enjoyed by our friends and enemies alike, if they would devote as much effort to liberalizing their economic and political systems as they do to stealing the benefits of ours.

LCSWA Will Interview . . .

member Don Dutton cautioning the group about meeting too infrequently. "The board of directors is charged with overseeing the day to day operations of the corporation," Dutton said. "There are a lot of things we need to look at."

But Cummins and Capitan member Dr. Bernie Reimann explained that LCSWA is not a board of directors for a corporation. Rather LCSWA is a legislative body, charged with making policy. LCSWA then hires a manager who deals with the day to day operation.

"We are a government entity," Dr. Reimann added. "The manager carries out the policies and we have to support the manager."

Cummins said the LCSWA personnel policy specifies that the board depends on the manager for day to day operations and dealing with personnel.

Dutton said that is why the board needs to meet monthly, to oversee what is going on with the authority. "I'm personally concerned about delinquent accounts in the county," Dutton added.

Dutton went on to comment on statements from former LCSWA manager Joe Lewandowski about "factions" on the board. "I was going to ask who are the members of the faction, to see which team I was on, if I was on any team," Dutton said.

Dutton then encouraged the group to continue to meet once a month. Because the year is nearly over, and changing the meeting schedule would require a new resolution, members voted to keep the meeting date and time as is—the third Monday of each month at 10 a.m.

At the end of the meeting, Cummins commented on the LCSWA personnel policy. He said it is essential that LCSWA board members not approach individual personnel about problems. "The policy provides a way to deal with personnel problems," Cummins said. "Individual personnel must take problems to the manager, who then comes to the board if the problem cannot be resolved. "No authority members can take action as an individual," Cummins added. "All personnel need to address their complaints to (acting manager) Beverly (Foote)."

Dutton asked if that had occurred. Cummins said it was brought to his attention that some board members had approached some personnel to ask about other personnel. "That puts all personnel at a distinct disadvantage," Cummins continued. "That is why we have the procedure to protect personnel."

Cummins encouraged the members to work together to keep the authority working right. "We have a good foundation, with a few things broken, but nothing that can't be fixed," Cummins said.

"Solid waste is an ongoing problem. If we have a difference of opinion we can discuss it as a board, rather than through the employees," Cummins concluded.

LCSWA board members also:

—Approved financing of a residential collection truck and the carts for Carrizozo.

—Okayed a request from the City of Alamogordo to purchase a larger scraper tractor for Cell #2 construction at the Regional Landfill.

—Reviewed a final report from Lewandowski on projects underway, or proposed which included the Capitan Landfill evaluation, code enforcement, employee evaluation and merit program, contingency plan at the transfer station and landfill, inventory update, recycling center/main office property purchase (completed and awaiting documents from former owner), proposals for lubricants and fuel, Corong Compactor, Carrizozo commercial list, future capital outlay needs for computer and radio system and scales, commercial and residential list updates, collections, status and accounts receivable and payable.

After the meeting, members of the planning and solid waste departments from Rio Arriba County, San Miguel County and the staff members from the New Mexico Environment Department visited the LCSWA recycling facility, Gavilan Canyon transfer station, and the regional landfill in Orogrande. The counties are seeking to establish similar solid waste authorities.
