

LCSWA Asks For Help When Landfill Closes

by Doris Cherry

Lincoln County Solid Waste Authority wants to know what private enterprise can do to solve the construction waste situation. LCSWA is closing its Capitan construction/yard waste landfill at the end of May, but it still has no real plan how to deal with the construction trash, except to process it through the compactor on Gavilan Canyon near Ruidoso and truck it to the regional landfill south of Alamogordo. At the LCSWA meeting Tuesday in Ruidoso Downs, interim manager Jerry Wright said he estimates the additional construction trash will require LCSWA to make at least four more trips per week from Ruidoso to the regional landfill south of Alamogordo. At the minimum, each haul costs $250.

"It was real hard to work in an extra $52,000 for expenditures for next year," Wright said about the proposed budget for 1996-97. "The situation is real pressing," Wright continued. "The transfer station has been getting more trash now than last summer."

To get a clear idea of what solutions the private sector proposes, LCSWA members approved a motion to advertise request for proposals (rfp) on how to deal with the construction trash. The rfp will be done a fast track, which will allow staff to draft the rfp and issue it. The motion came after LCSWA members heard another proposal on how to deal with construction trash. LCSWA had heard two other proposals, mainly to deal with pine needles and other yard waste. But the proposal offered Tuesday was more encompassing and a closer solution to the construction trash situation.

Private contractor Van

Patton, a partner in Perteet Construction Company told the LCSWA members his company has employed an engineering firm to pursue permits to install an air curtain destructor to dispose of the construction waste. Patton said they decided to pursue the device because of the LCSWA discussions about the Capitan Landfill closure and the discussion about the air curtain destructor. Suggested by Ruidoso member Gary Jackson, the destructor is a machine which forces air into a pit to make the trash burn at 2,300 degrees, and draws the smoke through a filtration.

Patton said about 22,000 cubic yards of construction

Comprehensive Land Use Plan Is Ready For Review And Hearings

The Lincoln Rural and Ag Affairs Advisory Committee will give the public opportunity to comment on the proposed Lincoln County Comprehensive Land Use Plan during a series of meetings beginning on Monday, April 22 in Carrizozo.

At 7 p.m. in the Lincoln County Commissioners chambers in Carrizozo, the Rural and Agricultural Affairs Advisory Committee will conduct a special meeting to review and take public comment on the proposed comprehensive land use plan. Copies of the plan will be available during the hearing.

The plan was drafted to establish a base-line assessment of how land areas are being used, historically and currently, and to provide a foundation for future land use planning.

To assure the comprehensive land use plan is developed at the grass roots, the advisory committee will conduct the series of public hearings. The next hearing is set for 7 p.m. Monday, April 29, at the Corona Schools Recreation Room.

Public hearings also will be held at 7 p.m. in Hondo on May 6, Capitan on May 13 and Ruidoso Downs on May 20. Locations of the meetings will be published in THE NEWS.

County EMS Will Host 10th Annual Mini-Conference

Lincoln County EMS Association will host the 10th annual mini-conference Saturday, April 27 at Swiss Chalet in Ruidoso.

The schedule includes sessions on diabetes diagnosis, child abuse and neglect, ALS intervention-when to call for help, AIDS in rural communities, and transport of the dementia patient.

Call Connie Hopper at 648-3885 for more information.

Republicans Sponsor Voter Registration Drives On Saturday

The Republican Party of Lincoln County will sponsor a voter registration drive at various locations throughout Lincoln County Sat., April 20.

Volunteers will be available starting at 8 a.m. in most locations. Call 354-4230 for locations.

NO CAMPFIRES, OR CHARCOAL in the Lincoln National Forest, except in USFS camp grounds or picnic areas. Smoking is restricted to campsites, inside vehicles, or in a space cleared of vegetation or debris. Fire restrictions were put in place recently due to a severe lack of moisture and high winds. On April 13, winds in excess of 50 miles per hour prompted forest service officials to post a Red Flag warning in Ruidoso, only to have the flag blown off the sign. The red flag warning is to advise citizens that fire danger has gone from very high to extreme. USFS fire officer Dave Cummings said currently the forests are teetering on the edge of extreme fire danger, when all campfires, even in campgrounds, are banned. State forestry officials said campfire restrictions will soon be imposed on state lands.

C'zozo Looking For Contractor At Airport

by Ruth Hammond

The Carrizozo Police Department may soon have another vehicle even though the majority of the Carrizozo Town Council was not aware a bid had been submitted for the vehicle.

New Carrizozo Trustee Wesley Lindsay asked about a memo that was included with the town's monthly bills during the April 9 town council meeting. Apparently the memo concerned the bid that the Carrizozo Police Department had submitted for a vehicle the Village of Capitan was offering for sale.

It was explained that the police department had submitted the bid with the request that the Carrizozo Police Department be allowed to pay for the vehicle in payments rather than a lump sum.

The Carrizozo Town Council did not discuss whether the bid being submitted without prior approval of the town council was a violation of the town's and the state's purchasing policies.

State purchasing laws require public entities to obtain price quotes, written or phone or by advertising, depending on the amount of the purchase. The town's purchasing policy, which usually requires each department to obtain purchase order (PO) numbers before making purchases, was also not discussed.

The board did receive a request from Randall Merten to develop eight homesites/one-third acre. The request will be placed on the agenda for the April 23 meeting.

In other business the board agreed to advertise for an independent contractor at the Carrizozo Municipal Airport. Former airport managers George and Carrie Slad have resigned. George has earned his master's degree and will be working in Albuquerque.

Inquiries/proposals for joint venture operator at the airport will be accepted until 4:30 p.m. April 22.

The board discussed the status of the Capitan Carrizozo Natural Gas situation.

Town resident Russell Griswold expressed his concerns and said he has talked to a lot of people and said everyone wants the trustees to do all they can. He added, "I don't like the rumors I hear."

The town council will hold a

Ruidoso Sets Mission Statement For Village

by Doris Cherry

Amidst a meeting termed quiet by the mayor, Ruidoso Village Councilors April 9 adopted a mission statement and goals to fulfill it.

Mayor Jerry Shaw attributed the quietness of the council to their suits and neckties which all councilors wore because it was picture night.

Quiet or not, the council took little time in conducting the night's business, including acceptance of the mission and goals which were developed during a council retreat on March 30-31 in Cloudcroft. Village manager Gary Jackson said the retreat, the first one for Ruidoso council, allowed the participants to interact and discuss items in a concentrated manner, which otherwise would have taken weeks of workshops.

The mission statement was developed to help focus and define the council's vision for the community, now in its 50th year and for the future, Jackson said. "The goals set the tone then staff can develop tasks and strategies to achieve those goals," he added.

Village of Ruidoso Mission Statement reads: "The mission of the governing body of the Village of Ruidoso is to promote a social and economic environment that is consistent with the values, aesthetics, and natural resources of our community by providing quality public service." Following is a set of 14 goals: to operate in a cost effective manner; to plan for short, mid and long range; to strive to be proactive by planning for growth issues; treat all citizens with respect; represent all segments of the community and operate in a nondiscriminatory manner; recognize and promote cultural diversity of area; foster community pride; promote best interests of citi-

Capitan And Carrizozo Trustees To Meet With C-C Gas Board Monday

Capitan and Carrizozo Trustees will meet with the Capitan Carrizozo (C-C) Natural Gas Board at 6:30 p.m. Monday, April 22 at Capitan Village Hall.

The meeting will be held in closed session for the trustees and gas board members to discuss the litigation involving C-C Natural Gas Association and Zia Natural Gas. The two municipal clerks and the C-C Natural Gas Association clerks are also invited.

It was reported in last week's issue of THE NEWS that Zia Natural Gas would attend the meeting. Zia will not be included in the closed-to-the-public meeting.

BETTY LOU JOINER, FORT STANTON POST MASTER, and Capitan Postmaster Mike Curin show the special Smokey Bear postal cancellation designed by a third grade student. For the last three years Joiner has helped Capitan third graders collect U.S. postage stamps and learn about the their subject matter. Bessie Jones, Ruth Birdsong and Debra Ingle contributed to the project.

ens by inter-governmental cooperation and communication; encourage sound fiscal management; encourage highly motivated, trained work force; maintain and upgrade infrastructure and public facilities in a manner that is fiscally and environmentally acceptable; encourage an accurate census; define roles and mission of advisory boards and commissions. "We have a lot of work set out from our goals," commented mayor Shaw.

Another subject discussed at the retreat is the council meeting agenda format. Because of state open meeting act requirements, councilors cannot take action on a subject not on the agenda. Because of this, councilors voted to remove the "comments from visitors who wish to speak on items not on the agenda" from the agenda format. They added two standing agenda items, Board and Commission reports and village department reports.

Water is one of the specific village concerns, because it directly affects growth. Water will be the topic of a community update luncheon Friday, where mayor Shaw will speak on what Ruidoso has done, is doing and plans to do about water.

Councilors heard a report on what Ruidoso is currently doing about water from Dennis Bryant from Wilson and Company engineering firm which is leading water projects in the village. An immediate water concern is the water rights issue, Bryant said. "The village is trying to deal with the water rights issue and to work with other villages, and agencies in the area to move water around."

The village also is looking for additional sources of water. Bryant said a geo-hydrologist hired by his firm, and village water supervisor Richard Sanchez looked at several locations north of Ruidoso, where Ruidoso owns land and has access to land, and found some prospects. Bryant said an emergency contract has been let to drill test holes at those locations this week. Bryant could not be specific about the location of the test holes because he was unfamiliar with the area, but said it was in the Mon Jeau area.

Bryant said the geo-hydrologist will stay with the project as the drilling is done, and will update the council on the viability of the sources.

Another source for more water is at Grindstone Reservoir. Plans for expanding the Grindstone water treatment plant are underway by another firm, Bryant added. Once completed, the plant will provide water to the central part of the village and will help relieve the northern area. Bryant's firm is doing the plans on the water line project from the Grindstone plant to connect with the Mechem area. A project now underway is the replacement of two inch water lines in the Country Club Estates area.

Along with fresh water, comes the waste water. A project to upgrade the sewer system is underway, financed with the $1.5 million from the bond approved by voters last year. Preliminary plans for upgrades to the waste water system have been reviewed by village staff, Bryant further reported. Bryant said the sewer project will cause some traffic problems, but he understands the need for the contractor to work around the busy times in Ruidoso, and will try to have work done across business driveways at night.

A definite schedule of work for the projects will be ready by May, Bryant said. "We have a priority list of what needs to be done, to make sure we do the right ones first, before the money runs out," he added.

Bryant commended the village staff for its work to take care of the water system problems, and he advised councilors to continue to support the staff.

In other business, councilors:

--Approved a Zone Map Amendment for the old Y-Not Park on Sudderth Drive changing the zoning from C-1 heavy commercial to C-2 community commercial because the owner is developing a shopping center, which conforms to the C-2 zoning.

--Approved the vacation of right of way on Lot 2 Block F Ruidoso Springs subdivision. The action is one of a continuing process by owners in the Ruidoso Springs subdivision, one of the village's oldest developments, to clarify lot lines which have been altered by changes in Rio Ruidoso over the years. The applicant had to pay the village $904 at 50 cents a square foot for the vacated property.

--Set a public hearing for a zone map amendment on May 14.

--Gave approval for staff to invite all liquor license holders in the village to an informational meeting to take comment about being a liquor concessionaire at the civic center.

Special Meeting Set For LCSWA At Civic Center

Lincoln County Solid Waste Authority (LCSWA) will hold a special meeting at 7 p.m. Thursday, April 25 at Ruidoso Convention and Civic Center.

LCSWA will discuss the 1996-97 budget and the manager's position. During the regular LCSWA meeting Tuesday, interim manager Jerry Wright reminded members that his contract will expire April 26. Wright said he has fulfilled nearly all of his contract by providing a salary matrix and job descriptions which he will present at the special meeting. Wright said the adjusted matrix will cost LCSWA about $16,000 additional for personnel.

Wright also will present his proposed budget which will include an additional $52,000 for tipping fees at the regional landfill. It includes transportation for hauling to the landfill, which is expected to increase four fold once the Capitan landfill for construction waste is closed on May 31. Wright said the budget will get some help because the county agreed to allow LCSWA to postpone its $32,000 loan payment to the county next year.

Before the special meeting April 25, LCSWA will hold a joint meeting with the Otero County Solid Waste Authority at the civic center. The groups will take action on the 1996-97 regional landfill budget.

Also Tuesday, LCSWA:

—Approved a resolution making interim manager Jerry Wright the signatory authority for a $200,000 state grant. The grant was applied for to purchase equipment to deal with the construction waste once the Capitan Landfill closes.

—Approved the proposed grievance committee, which will be comprised of one employee, one LCSWA board member and a citizen at large. The committee will hear all employee grievances, instead of the full LCSWA board, and will make final decisions.

—Agreed to issue request for proposals for an auditor, and legal services. While the auditor's contract provides for a one-year renewal without rfp, LCSWA members voted to go for rfp because they were unsatisfied with comments made by the current auditor during a telephone audit conference.

THOUGHTS

FROM THE EDITOR'S DESK

No news about the Fort

By Ruth Hammond

We haven't heard much about the progress of Lincoln County being allowed to try and lease Fort Stanton. Maybe the entire fiasco was another smoke screen to make us think that the state really does care about what happens to Fort Stanton and all the former Fort Stanton employees and where they will be working.

It is sad to know that one of our nation's greatest treasures is sitting empty and from all indications the state of New Mexico, supposedly the caretaker of this historic site, doesn't care one whit. If the state did care it would be doing something. If the state had cared in the first place it would have kept promises made. It didn't. If the state had cared in the first place it would have been aware of what had previously been promised. It didn't. If the state had cared in the first place former Fort Stanton workers would not be waiting, waiting, and waiting for those promised jobs here near their homes in Lincoln County.

Indications are that the state doesn't care and is willing to allow the entire situation to die a slow death which will mean the end of Fort Stanton and the Fort Stanton Post Office. Once the Fort Stanton Post Office is closed Fort Stanton will no longer be on the map. It may not mean anything to the "state" and governor Johnson but it does mean something to those of us living here in Lincoln County. It will be like losing a dear and cherished friend. If the state cares how could it let this happen?

Historians will one day ask the questions, "Why was Fort Stanton allowed to decay? Didn't the people in charge realize that there is no way it could ever be restored?" Those same historians will wonder at the intelligence of the people making the decision to abandon a beautiful facility such as Fort Stanton.

Too often the people in charge want to "throw out the old" and bring in the new when all that is needed is common sense, but in our throw-away society of today there is little common sense when it comes to keeping old things, even if the "old" thing that should be kept is a historic facility that has served the people of the United States for more than 130 years.

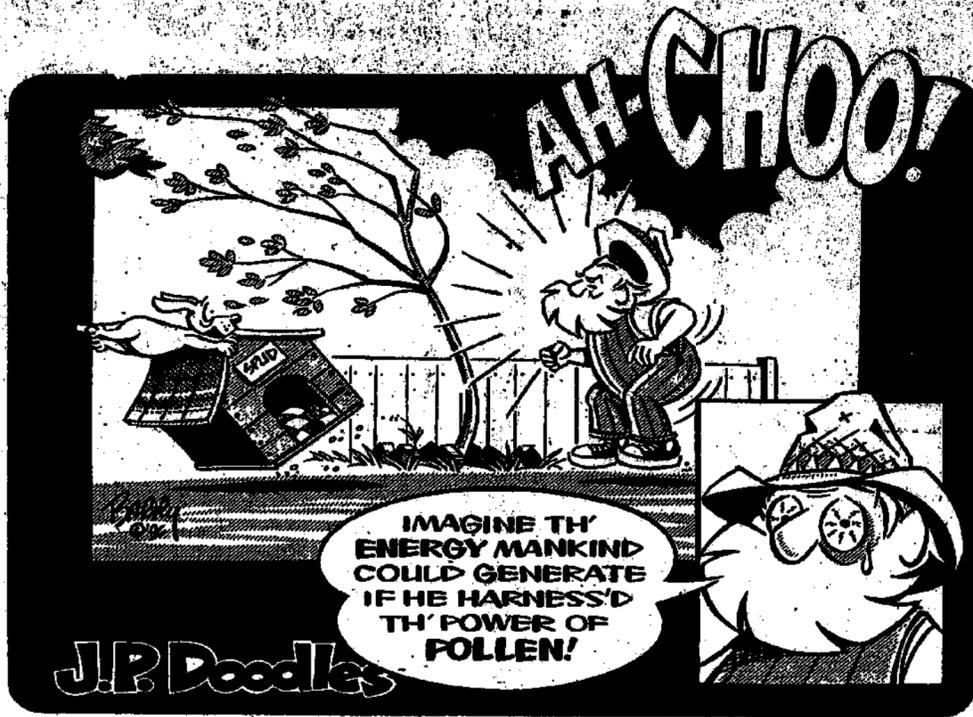

A classic example: Three daughters wanted to get their mother a new table about 50 years ago. The daughters bought a chrome table because it was the "style" at the time, and they tossed out a sturdy, solid oak, claw-foot, round table. Many years later when antique buyers were paying extremely high prices for solid oak tables the daughters realized the treasure they had discarded.

The state is now in the process of "tossing out" Fort Stanton and it appears that no amount of pleading from the people will influence the state, under the direction of governor Johnson, to reconsider and make an effort to save this beautiful facility.

If the state would listen to reason and be willing to talk to the people it might help. If the state would show, even in some small way, that it cared about Fort Stanton it might help. If the state would only take the time to communicate it would be a giant step in the right direction. Apparently the state is not willing to even take a baby step towards communicating with the people. As with other things at the state level, the Fort Stanton situation will be the governor's way or not at all.

Maybe one of these days the people in Lincoln County will learn the real reason governor Johnson closed Fort Stanton as abruptly as he did. Maybe one of these days we will be allowed to know what behind-the-scenes actions caused this tragedy. But for now we can only wonder why anyone, whether it is a person in power or a laborer, would have been willing to turn his back on a community of hard-working, caring people under the guise of supposedly being the best for the state. If it isn't good for ALL the people it most certainly can't be good for the state. But then again it could be very profitable for one person.

Restoring isn't the same as saving

Inside The Capitol

by Jay Miller

SANTA FE — Gov. Gary Johnson is still using the panic strategy that has failed to move lawmakers in the last two legislative sessions.

Last summer Johnson put construction programs around the state on hold in order to get lawmakers back to Santa Fe for a special session. Legislative leaders responded that the state's fiscal crisis wasn't that bad and refused to consider coming back early. When the regular session rolled around, lawmakers punished Johnson by delaying for another year the programs he'd put on hold.

This year Johnson wised up and voted lawmakers' pet building projects so he could get them back for a special session that he blamed on an Indian gas tax loophole that could wipe out the state road fund. Lawmakers reacted by passing their building projects again and giving Johnson a little of what he wanted, but they said the Indian gasoline question was complex, needed further study, and was unlikely to escalate because few tribes have expressed interest in the gasoline wholesale business.

So Gov. Johnson is pushing the same buttons again. His Highway and Transportation Secretary Pete Rahm has suspended all road projects using total state funding. As the special session ended, Johnson warned lawmakers they would be back again this year if his predictions came true that Indian tribes would start wholesaling tax-free gas throughout the state. It hasn't happened, but Johnson is pushing the panic button nevertheless.

Lawmakers and counties that were expecting the road projects are expressing dismay, but Indian leaders are downright mad. Three days before delaying the road projects, Johnson announced he would call another Indian Summit to discuss the gas tax situation. Tribal leaders now are asking what good a summit would do.

If the summit is held, it may not be what Johnson had in mind. The All Indian Pueblo Council chairman says he wants to see the meeting held on tribal land this time and not be just "a lot of ceremonial stuff." Roy Bernal says issues should be worked out in advance and a process defined for government-to-government relations. The governor promised at the last summit that state officials would work directly with the counties in the tribes, but instead, underlings with no authority have been handling top-level business for the governor.

State government relations with Native Americans was summed up during the special session by Sen. Tim Jennings of Roswell as being one of "sticking it down their throats." Jennings, whose district includes the Mescalero Apache Reservation, says New Mexico's Indians "have never been asked to sit down at the bargaining table and work out solutions."

One of the possible benefits of gasoline wholesaling by tribes was said to be competition that would lower New Mexico's prices, which are especially high in the Northern part of the state where most of the activity would be located. But that argument already may be dissolving as commercial wholesalers and retailers that are buying tax-free gas from Nambe Pueblo are being very coy about whether they will pass on any of the saving to their customers.

I guess that really shouldn't come as a surprise. The only way tribes can increase competition at the pump is to retail the gas themselves.

So why is Gov. Johnson so concerned about Indian gas sales that he's willing to give up the relationship he built with tribes before and immediately after his election? Is it the small percentage of gas tax the state will lose? That revenue goes into building roads — in which we know he has more than a usual interest. Is he worried about the small effect on private gasoline wholesalers and retailers? And if so, why? Is it because the oil industry is unduly pulling his chain? Is it because he sees it as a political advantage with voters?

All we know is that candidate Johnson rode the six-cent gas tax increase to victory in November '94 and he's riding a similar horse again.

on May 10. Goodrum was selected from 27 applicants.

Capitan students will begin the next school year with half days on August 19 and 20. The board approved the 1996-97 calendar, which was a compromise between the calendar which received the most votes, and a way to address parents' concerns about starting early because of the heat, length of first days on very young students, and allowing at least one week for two-day sports practices. Staff begins on August 16. The calendar provides a Christmas holiday with early dismissal on December 19 and return to school on January 2, spring break and Easter from March 24 through March 31, graduation on May 24 and May 23 the last day of class.

New textbooks for Home Ec., drivers ed, business and VoAg are now on order. The books were rated and recommended by the textbooks committee. New multimedia materials will be ordered for the School to Career class.

The board discussed the 1996-97 budget, and reviewed proposed teachers' and non-certified staff salary schedules. While the board assured that salary increases for teachers is a priority, members made no decisions on the salary proposals. They did approve a 3.68 percent increase for the superintendent, but made no decision about teachers because this fall they will hire a full time middle school principal and a band director. Parent Ed Vinson commented that higher salaries help retain staff. He noted how well the cafeteria has done this school year, and suggested the district pay higher salaries to keep that staff from leaving. There were no official comments from Capitan Association of Classroom Teachers which requested a salary increase two months ago.

Billingsley said her staff is putting together the budget now, and requests for funding should be made in writing to the superintendent as soon as possible. The board will hold a budget hearing at 6:30 p.m. Wednesday, May 1.

The board also: -Approved Allen Sulzmeier and Linda Tostenson as substitute/activity bus drivers.

-Watched a 15 minute video of 2nd grade teacher Mary Shanks' "Project Soil" program.

-Congratulated FFA members Julie Barnham, Neil Montes, Casey Cunningham and Dwayne Gillesen and other FFA members who participated and placed at the various invitational and district and state FFA judging contests this school year.

Friends and the community are invited to attend the Capitan Schools Staff Appreciation night at Flying J Ranch in Alto on Monday, April 22. Tickets are available from any school staff.

Elementary Parents Night will be from 6-7 p.m. Tuesday, April 23.

LETTERS to the editor

EDITOR: The White House Press Office (democratic and republican) is essentially a group of "spin doctors". Their job is primarily to make the President look good. If the President or a member of his administration says or does something that could possibly upset the American people, the Press Office will issue a press release, usually within 24 hours. They will try to convince you that what you actually heard or saw was merely an illusion.

The White House Press Office is very good at its job of fooling the people. Each of us has been fooled, at one time or another, by our government. "How can we fool the people, today?"

Note: From my past letters, some of you may feel that I am anti-government; I am actually pro-government. Without a "reasonably" powerful government, there would be total chaos; however, an all powerful government results in a dictatorship. The barricaded Freemen in Montana are detrimental to our country! We must have law and order! This can't be accomplished by deliberately defying the law.

EDITOR: Let's face it folks, while the nation has a police problem, the state of California has a sick one. It's obvious police brutality is out of control.

It's a sad case that while the nations sends out team after team to other countries for the purpose of sitting in judgement on human rights abuses, we have some of the most vicious police brutality and terrorist acts right here at home. To grab and drag a defenseless woman by the hair and then beat or club her is an act of psychopathic behavior and an act of cowardice. These insecure insane individuals can only find security not only in obtaining a weapon but using it as well.

Indeed, while most nations have the means to lock up these psychopaths in mental institutions for the criminal trash were dumped into the Capitan Landfill last year, but he guessed the amount was actually closer to 40,000 yards. Patton said his company proposes to place the destructor facility next to the transfer station on Gavilan Canyon, on property which they will lease or purchase from Bill McCarty.

Patton said they would like to contract with LCSWA to bring burnable waste to the destructor facility, or private enterprise could take over the special pickups of yard waste. Currently LCSWA provides special pickup services in Ruidoso, at a cost to LCSWA.

Patton said his company based revenue projects on a charge of $6 to $10 a yard to dispose of any burnable waste.

Because such a device cannot be used to dispose of toxic items in construction waste, Patton requested LCSWA cooperate with them to take that un-burnable construction trash.

"Our idea is to alleviate the cost of trucking to the regional landfill," Patton said. "We'll be a private, stand alone entity."

Jackson said it would be an ideal public-private partnership. "We need to do something," Jackson said. "We have a landfill closing down."

In the last few months, LCSWA had heard proposals to deal with some of the waste now going to the Capitan Landfill. Tommy White and Paul Voderman, both of Ruidoso, proposed taking pine needles.

Tuesday, LCSWA members discussed how they could not just make a deal with Patton without considering the two other proposals. Patton said Lincoln County had enough pine needles to go around, and he would be willing to work with the other two on this.

Because of the state procurement code and the two other proposals members approved the rfp.

insane, the state of California rewards them with suspensions and pay! This is your tax dollars at work folks. The tax provided lawsuits will come later. It seems this is the only state and country that not only tolerates this sick behavior in its police forces but encourages it and rewards them as well. Those in charge of this system are no better than the lunatics they hire.

Ironically, for every psychopath in the California police system, there are many good ones who are no doubt afraid to speak out and probably more scared of retaliation by the derangement among them than the public is. These good ones do not get suspended with pay, they get fired! That is the main problem with the nation's police forces.

It is the fate of our times that while our nation loses one of its most outstanding individuals, Ron Brown, the sick behavior in California is allowed to exist.

EDITOR: The smear against Patrick Buchanan began shortly before the New Hampshire primary. Buchanan was doing great, but the smear had already been launched. It is believed that a group calling themselves the "Center for Public Integrity," showed little integrity as they attacked Buchanan's character. The New York Times picked it up, and suddenly it was lynch-time.

Patrick Buchanan was fair game no matter how true or how false the charges were. (To those of us who remember Barry Goldwater, it was 1964 all over again.) The wrath of the Eastern Establishment came charging down on Buchanan.

The attacker labels the attackee a racist, a bigot, and an anti-semitic. The Establishment chooses not to debate Buchanan on foreign aid; on the assignment of American troops to Bosnia; or on abortion. There are other issues, of course, but these few make a point. The point being, the Establishment has the power, the power to name the topic of debate, or the power to have no debate at all.

Americans are seeing a certain unfairness in this. On the other hand, shrill shouts emitting from within the Establishment tell us that Mr. Buchanan is getting in a few licks of his own every now and then.

I'm reminded of a story that my dear old dad told me many years ago. He said, "Son, if ever you have corralled a herd of pigs pick up a big rock and throw it right into the middle of the herd. I will guarantee you that the pig that squeals the loudest is the one you hit."

He's got a few of them squealing.

EDITOR: The thunder of silence!

This letter was written to save lives. All sarcasm directed toward big government and hypothetical legislative processes is intentional.

Since 1948 an important medical study has been conducted in Framingham, MA which has identified a correlation between high cholesterol and heart disease. The most important discovery about the group of subjects examined was that no person who consistently had a total cholesterol reading below 150 has ever suffered a heart attack.

For all adult Americans, the range of total cholesterol is represented by a density function called a bell curve. This means that more people have cholesterol readings clustered near the peak of the bell than near the edges. Knowing that total cholesterol below 150 is a safe level, it is possible to use yearly coronary death rate and average cholesterol statistics along with a mortality function represented by a ramp to predict the death rate for any national average cholesterol. A reduction in cholesterol to 190 from the current 205 will save 200,000 lives yearly. A more dramatic savings of 500,000 lives per year will require a reduction of average cholesterol to 167.

The yearly death rate of 923,000 due to heart disease is a national scandal because heart disease is now preventable. What will happen if the same number of people were killed by firearms last year? Congress would attempt to pass legislation to confiscate every registered firearm owned by private citizens. What will happen in 923,000 people died on our highways in 1995? Congress would not dare to confiscate our automobiles but certainly would attempt to lower the speed limit on the Interstate to 35 mph. Finally, what will Congress do when the latest statistics are released regarding heart disease deaths? All we will hear is the thunder of silence.

This amazing disregard for the sanctity of human life by our government indicates a serious leadership vacuum in this country. The leadership attribute we must expect from all our elected representatives is to improve our quality of life at the lowest possible cost while maintaining our national sovereignty. Heart disease is a quality of life issue because it is a life or death decision we can make with life extended by prevention of the disease.

The first action by Congress to mitigate this disaster is to establish truthful guidelines regarding safe total cholesterol levels. The current guideline recommending diet improvement or treatment only when cholesterol readings are above 240 is not laughable, but a very sad commentary about the arrogant disregard of prevention of disease as a cure.

Congress must surmount pressures from special interests and take the offensive against foods containing saturated or hydrogenated fat which are so dangerous to our health. A tax based upon total content of either type of fat in processed foods or beverages must be enacted. A tax causing a voluntary improvement in diet creates less social upheaval than an outright ban on dangerous foods. Citizens would rightfully object to formation of a federal food police. Imagining the outburst of resentment if an FEA margarine bust as a result of a false tip by an informer is attempted against a family enjoying a Sunday breakfast together.

Taxes collected on hard fats should be used to supplement the Medicare portion of FICA. The explosive growth of Medicare will decrease as wellness among the elderly increases resulting in a stabilizing cap on Medicare FICA taxes collected from wage earners.

CAPITAN NOTES

Greetings from my old house by the side of the road to your house.

First and foremost allow me to apologize to Willie Hobbs. She greeted me so warmly and said she had missed me. I walked right over to my house and forgot to write it down. At this point and time in my fast declining years, if I don't write it down, I forget it. If I am not careful to write it legibly, I can't even read it. Ah me.

I want to share my granddaughter Katie's report on our president, Bill Clinton. Each student in the third grade at Brownell-Talbot school had to select a president to write a paper on. As Katie decided that there was more news available at this time about our current president, she quickly opted for Mr. Clinton, which meant she would not have as much research to do.

Katie Anderson, March 8, 1996:

Bill Clinton: Did you know that Clinton's real name is William Jefferson Blythe IV but took the name William Jefferson Clinton after his mother remarried a man named Clinton?

Childhood: Bill was born Aug. 19, 1946 in Hope, Arkansas. He is a baby boomer. That means he was born after World War II. Bill never knew his father William Jefferson Blythe III who was a traveling salesman and died in a car crash several months before Bill was born.

One month after Bill became president he found that his father had been married at least three other times and that he had a half-brother and half-sister.

As a young child Bill lived with his mother and Virginia's parents in Hope, Arkansas. His mom's first name is Virginia. She married Roger Clinton when Billy was four years old. He was an alcoholic and abused Bill's mom and Bill would stand up for his mom. Wow, that must have hurt!

Schools: Clinton went to Washington, D.C. when he was in high school. He met president John F. Kennedy. He learned to play the saxophone. Sometimes he plays it in his meetings. He went to Georgetown University. He got very good grades. He got to go to London, England to study at Oxford. He went to Yale to learn to be a lawyer. In school he liked to study about politics. He had two or three jobs while he was in school.

Family: He met Hillary at Yale. Wow, they went to the same school. She was interested in politics too. They both are lawyers. They have one kid and her name is Chelsea. She is 16 and her birthday is Feb. 27, 1990. Her dad is going to teach her how to drive. Do you think she'll get an expensive car? They have a cat named Socks. Ewww, I hate cats. They live in the White House. Chelsea goes to a private school like us. Once somebody tried to assassinate the president in 1994. I went to the White House and they don't let you see a lot, it's a rip-off.

Jobs: He taught at a law school in Arkansas. He ran for governor and won when he was 32 years old. He was elected five different times. Boy they must have like him. Then he ran for president. He built roads and help give people jobs. He also tried to make the schools better. He helped African Americans find jobs and keep them. They thanked him by voting for him again and again.

The president is elected: He was voted governor so many times he decided he wanted to be President of the United States. So he ran for president of the U.S. He ran against President George Bush and H. Ross Perot in 1992. He got the most votes. Here are some pictures. One is about George Bush and another is H. Ross Perot and the rest are Bill Clinton. Clinton is the 41st president.

Katie is in third grade and I have seen papers written by high school students that could not compare to this one. I am very proud of her. I am not only proud of her, I am proud of her fine parents Trish and Jace Anderson and I am mighty proud to put this composition in my weekly column. P.S. I did not see the pictures.

Ran into Hollis as I was dashing out of the store and he made the mistake of asking me how I was. Don't ever, and I repeat, don't ever ask an elderly woman how she is unless you have at least an hour to hear how she is.

I told Hollis as I was in such a hurry at that time, that I think I am so darned important and if I died tomorrow, probably no one would even miss me. To which Hollis gallantly replied, "Well I'd miss you." So thank you Hollis. You made my day for several days.

Also ran smack dab into Betty Joiner, she exiting and me entering the busy post office, and she gave me a huge hug and said she missed me.

Funny, when I have been giving serious thought to pulling up stakes, selling and returning to my roots in the midwest, and after a few nice hellos and "Glad to have you back" comments, decided this is just about the nicest place there is to be.

Also ran into Edith Malcolm and she met me halfway with a hug and welcome back. Thanks Edith. Think she must have found the fountain of youth while I was gone. She sure looked mighty pretty and a lot younger than when I left. Any secrets Edith?

The last installment of Herbert Lee Traylor's Trailing Around With Traylor is titled Jack Forrester's 1927 Christmas Dinner. As this is a much longer story than usual, will only submit half of it.

This story was told to the author by Jack Forrester and as many of you old timers and young timers also know that Jack is well remembered as a great and interesting story teller.

First of December 1927
The Diamond A people and Gus Chandler brought a fellow they called Boots out to the ranch to help gather several carloads of steers I'd been looking after, along with the regular range cows. I don't

CORONA NEWS

Crown CowBelles met Thursday, April 11 for lunch at the Crown Cafe with eight members and one guest present.

Helen Kay Lindsey, 1st Vice President - New Mexico CowBelles and president. Chuckwagon local, installed officers. Her back robe and quick gavel gave an impression of sternness and order in the court. Bailiff June Tyree presented each culprit in turn and all pled innocent to the charges. The judge listened to the charges and pleas and then with a quick rap of the gavel found all guilty and sentenced each appropriately.

Sabra Davidson was charged with having her freezer stuffed with crab legs, Thomasene Romans with eating at Red Lobster, Shelly Frost with eating at Long John Silvers, Muriel Pounds for buying chicken strips from the Schwan's Man, and Lee Sultemier for having chicken bones in her trash can. Each culprit was given a certificate of sentence and were sentenced to performing the duties of office for a period of eight months to two years. Lee president, Muriel 1st VP, Shelly 2nd VP, Thomasene secretary, and Sebra treasurer.

The president then introduced June Tyree who spoke on the recent Gallinas fire. Mrs. Tyree, who is not opposed to all prescribed fires, was definitely against this one since it destroyed much of the main recreation spot for Corona and visitors. She had maps and letters and stated that her research stated that the only lightning caused fire in those mountains was in 1934. She had no criticism of the Mountainair staff and said that those who choose to live at the edge of the forest have certain responsibilities and should expect some damage. The fire came within a half mile of their home on two sides. Her concern is that no more fires be started again in that area. She spoke from experience as a 34 year resident at the forest edge.

Corona had been asked to send some artifacts of history for the Rural Economic Development for Tourism display at the Sales Barn. Fourth, 5th and 6th graders will enjoy this exhibition as a field trip and Crown voted $50.00 dollars to help with their lunch.

Crown will give a skit to help out entertainment at the Corona Festival. Time is 1:00 to 3:00 p.m. and this will include cowboy poetry. Mrs. Romans was named to carry the Beef Ambassador information to the school.

Mary Smith, Home Ec instructor, asked for help in having her home-ec and one Spanish class prepare three meals, one low cost, one medium cost and one high cost for 20 people. She will stress nutrition and the nutrients to be found in beef. She was allowed $100.00 credit at Corona Trading Co. At the last meeting the Trading Co. was granted an associate membership because of the friendly cooperation of the staff.

Applications for the scholarship will be given seniors this month. There are no changes in qualifications this year but the committee will meet later and change any guidelines thought necessary to be in line with local conditions.

Mrs. Frost invited the members to her home for the next meeting but since that is the date National Day of Prayer which all ranchers and others should observe, there may be a change in plans.

Erdine Behunin spent a few days visiting her son and his family, Kevin and Emma Kiefer, Justin and Megan in Williamsville, Missouri. They have bought a small farm so Erdine got to see their place. She also spent several days in Little Rock, Arkansas visiting another son and family, Steve and Alice Kiefer, Britney and Brandon. Erdine spent two days taking care of the children while Steve and Alice went on a short trip.

On Saturday a pickup turned in the driveway, a man jumped out and said he thought he had been snakebit. Sure enough, that old copperhead had scored two points on his hand. The paramedics told Erdine it had to be a copperhead since a cottonmouth was so much more deadly and he probably wouldn't have made it that far.

The FFA had a successful enchilada dinner Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Erramouspe visited friends and family in Tatum over the weekend.

Guests of Mrs. and Mrs. Bob Burton recently were Lena Dilbeck, Clovis and Tom and Lorna Gaither, Hot Springs, Arkansas.

Mrs. Raychel Ware, Santa Fe, visited overnight with her daughter and family, Renee Kessler.

22 degrees Saturday morning made the snakes lethargic in the box. Cotton Yancey is enjoying the hunting and visiting at the same time with ranch owners.

Weekend guests of the Rasaks were Don and Gayle Buschke of Fort Worth. Mr. Rasak brought beautiful strawberries this trip. Mrs. Rasak took her guests to Carrizozo to hear Steven Spencer speak about his great-grandfather Gov. McDonald and the development of the Bar W Ranch.

Heidi Smith, Colorado Springs has called her mother, Mary Smith to report excitedly that she accepted a position with United Air Lines. She will have one week of training in Denver. Her goal is to be a hostess with overseas travel.

The Corona FFA has sent Crown an invitation for members to attend their awards banquet Friday, April 26.

FACTS & FICTION

BY BETTY LOU JOINER

RUSH! RUSH! RUSH!
This time of the year along with the first of August is always too hectic. Missy, my apologies for the mistake about the benefit dance. Heading to Roswell to see the doctor I had my news ready and asked Willie if she would mind typing it and adding your piece to mine. I had written; NM Power Co. down on the notes so I would remember to go to another meeting and she assumed the dance would be there. Once again I goofed! This will probably be the end of most of these mistakes. Look for the final Fort Stanton Facts and Fiction article coming up real soon.

CAPTAN POST OFFICE SITE FOR THIRD GRADE CANCELLATION

The looks and ways people acted while I was out front of the Capitan Post Office on Friday was real funny. Everyone thought I was begging for money and would try to hurry past! I know the feeling as I have been there so many times before. I was giving away my Fort Stanton pens and had everyone who would, sign their name for a free sheet of Legend Stamps. This is just a little thank you for all that have helped me throughout the year. Cokes, coffee, and lemonade were served inside. The winners of the sheet of stamps and some former cancellations were Mr. Ray Steve Reich, Elaine LaMay, Mr. Cozzens, Cheryl and Virgil Hall and Mrs. Chapman. The quilts that the 1993, 1994, and 1995 students had made were on display for all to see. Time flew by and it was time to head off to the school to spend the rest of the day.

A bake sale was in progress in the foyer, and so we combined cookies, cupcakes and stamps. From about 1:00 til 5:00 it was a steady sale of stamps. The third graders did not leave the foyer with one penny, it all went to stamps. Know this was the biggest "ONE DAY" sale of my career here at the Fort. Delana Stephens was very kind and went to get me a coke and Willie made sure that I ate lunch. Kathy Dean was a life-saver helping me with the tearing of stamps and making change. Becca Ferguson had had me prepare enough envelopes the day before for all the 3rd, 4th and 5th graders. Thanks Becca.

Her dad, Richard Phillips was the big buyer of the cancellation. Thanks to you too Richard. One mother made my day when she said that her daughter, her husband and her were heading out to Albuquerque that day to attend a stamp show there. I told her to be sure and bring me back some ideas, and sure enough on Monday morning she called with all kinds of ideas, offering to donate some glassine envelopes and help me wherever I needed the help. Once again from this little encouragement I know all my fun pays off.

A man from Roswell, Mr. Jim Applegate, visited with us and had the most interesting album of Smokey Bear cancellations. The cachet envelopes were of everything about Smokey you could think of. My only regret was I was too busy to get to look at the book. I had planned to sell cachets for the kids and we got into so much discussion on what and what not we can sell, I decided to forget it this year. This man told me that we can sell a cachet envelope with whatever on it. Still am confused with all this. Hope someone can straighten me out on what is legal and what is not.

Will hope to soon be judging the folders of the third graders and have the winners from each class announced real soon. They can hardly wait as they will get a 1993 commemorative set, a sheet of Legends and a Smokey poster, for 1st, 2nd and 3rd places.

SHERIFF POSSE MEETS: PONY EXPRESS MEETING HELD

On April 10, Clarence Leslie called the meeting of the Pony Express committee to order with lots of business taking place. The brochures were passed out and have been sent out to every corner of the USA. Holly Hollingsworth showed the committee the envelope and posters that were designed by the artist from Oklahoma. This artist donated all his work for free because of his friendship with Holly. The group decided to accept the art work and voted on it at the regular meeting on April 13.

The group decided to charge $10.00 per poster and $5.00 for the envelopes. A large number of both will be printed. I have found close to 500 pony express stamps and hope to obtain a few more. Have some New Mexico statehood ones and the Santa Fe commemorative. The new members joining the posse is unbelievable. On Sunday more than 12 were sworn in, with many not present to be voted on. Strawberry short cake was served to more than 80 people. Real tasty!

TOURISM FAIR

The Lincoln County Tourism Fair will be going on the day this comes to print. Come out in the evening from 5 to 9 to see what Lincoln County has to offer. Looks like a LOT!!!!

BUFFALO SOLDIERS

Recently had a letter from a lady in California by the name of Mrs. Lewis. She was trying to find information about her great, great grandfather Jacob W. Wilks. She remarked that trying to find out about his unique historical background became the most gratifying endeavor she has ever taken. She had found her grandfather featured in "The Black Military Experience in the American West", "The Forgotten Hero" the story of the Buffalo Soldiers, the Frontier Times Magazine and he was featured in a display at the Museum at Fort McKavett, TX. A story was also written in the San Angelo, TX, Texas Standard Daily newspaper about his life. Going to Oklahoma this summer she will attend the 130th Anniversary Reunion of "The Buffalo Soldiers". Think this is interesting.

Last Wednesday thru Saturday many of our team ropers from Lincoln County were once again in Albuquerque trying to throw the lucky loop for the big money at the roping. Cody Wilson and Pecos did real good winning 3rd in their roping. If I'm right they brought home a $6,000 purse. Eddie and Todd won a fast back and made their entry fees back, close to $800 apiece. Know it was tough for Audrey to sit and watch Kersti while they were out roping. A little brother is going to be joining our family in a few months and if Grandma can handle two little ones, Audrey will be back in the saddle real soon. The only thing this time around, she will have a little girl following on a little horse right on her heels. Hope to have a few more details on this next week.

Lots to gather up for tomorrow so better get busy!!!

Till next week: Thanks to everyone who helped me with the 3rd grade project, especially Debra Ingle and the faculty at school and thanks to everyone else for all they have done for me this past week! I do appreciate it!!!!

Sheriff's Report

High winds on Saturday blew a tree and power line down across Carrizo Canyon Road near Ruidoso and blasted tons of dry Lincoln County dirt into Chavez County. Fire restrictions have been replaced in Lincoln and Cibola National Forests in Lincoln County. Campfires and charcoal grills are prohibited.

The following information was taken from dispatch reports in the Lincoln County Sheriff's Office in the courthouse in Carrizo:

April 8:
9:49 p.m. a caller reported a breaking and entering of a cabin on Ski Run Road. A vehicle had been towed from the residence. Two deputies responded.

April 9:
11:09 a.m. an ambulance was requested to make a transport to Lincoln County Medical Center (LCMC) in Ruidoso from a residence on East Last Road in Capitan. Capitan ambulance responded.

11:37 a.m. a caller requested help, she was locked out of her vehicle. Capitan police responded.

12:40 p.m. a caller from the Angus area requested a deputy to make a VIN report. A deputy responded.

1:20 p.m. Vaughn Police Chief advised of criminal damage to property on the Road Runner Ranch, about 17 miles south of Vaughn. The chief made no further contact.

7:32 p.m. a caller reported theft of property at a ranch east of Capitan. A deputy responded.

know to this day his name. I noted when he came he had a new pair of Amonett boots. Whether that was the source of his name, I do not know. I know when I saw the fellow, I thought to myself, "another one to wait on and be in my way, especially when I'm so busy."

Well Boots proved otherwise, even though he was a city boy, he was willing to learn and turned out to be a real nice fellow and helped me with those steers. The ranch I was looking after is about four miles north of Riverside as the crow flies. I mention Riverside as most everyone is familiar with the location today.

In 1927 there wasn't any building where the present buildings are. A filling station and a small country store run by a fellow named Sam Camise was located about a mile west of the present Riverside.

You old timers who were here in 1927 will remember Sam's store. It was actually the mid-point between Roswell and the towns west, especially Carrizozo, Nogal, Capitan, Fort Stanton and Lincoln. Ruidoso was just a summer place at that time.

You will also remember that Picacho Hill and Model T's. When you descended the hill, you most likely took a couple of hours replacing bands on the Model T's cylinders that Sam kept on hand while the family ate chocolate bars and drank soda pop. When the bands were replaced, the gas filled with 15 cent gas, three or four quarts of oil in the engine that cost 20 cents a quart, the radiator filled and the five gallon can used for emergency water mounted on the left fender of the car filled, the family was off west. Those going east had to be sure the cylinder used for low gear was in good shape in order to get over the hill. In case it was worn the Model T had to be backed up the hill.

I am anxious to read the rest of your story Herbert Lee. I will remember the hills, the gas, and especially the Model T's. More next week.

Just got a card from Elaine Beaudry and she will be returning to these parts in another week. If she has written any of the rest of you anything different, please don't tell me. I have marked off the days ever since she left. I miss her and how.

Went up to Senior Citizens on Monday with Emmeline and Dick. As we were standing in line Emmeline forgot something and left the line. When she returned, the vacancy where she had been had sort of kinda closed up. In her inimitable way, she just stood there and asked, "Can anyone tell me where I just was?"

It was so good to see Margie and Joe Gemoets again. So sorry that they had that accident and Joe does not look any the worse for wear, but Margie is carrying a reminder with her broken arm in a sling. Welcome home to Capitan, you two. You are always so missed when you take up winter residence in El Paso.

And with a hug for Sarah smiling above her puzzles, and one from Lois Aldrich, looking very perky and sassy, will call it a day and say a prayer I make it to the post office on time.

See you next week if the creek don't rise. God bless each and everyone. Sayonara.

The dispatcher called the father of one of the teenagers and advised him of the situation. The subjects left Corona and tried to make it back to Ruidoso, but broke down just south of Corona. The deputy took the juveniles to meet with the father, and the vehicle was towed.

For the Love of Gregory

by Joann Rice

A Cave By Any Other Name

Sunday, Gregory came in and sat wearily at the table. "I think I have strength enough to tell you about seeing the Caverns now, Queen Mother. Boy, picking a hundred clinging bats off your body is hard work."

"I can imagine, Gregory. I once fell in a cactus patch and it took me three hours to get all those cactus needles out of me. But even that painful experience doesn't compare with when I came head on into a porcupine convention down in the woods by Spiney Creek. Get it? Porcupines? Spiney Creek?"

"You're a regular barrel of laughs, Queen Mother. Now do you want to hear about the Caverns or not? 'Cause my strength is waning fast."

"Oh, you mean those holes in the ground outside of town?"

"They're not holes! They're caves! Caverns!"

"A cave by any other name is still a hole in the ground."

"Nay, Queen Mother. These are not just holes, I tell you. They are massive and go way, way down. They have pools and streams and beautiful rocks in the walls. There's stalactites and stalagmites. There are rock formations that will blow your mind. I tell you, Queen Mother, it's a work of art. But no artist could make anything so stupendous. Only Mother Nature could produce such breathtaking, awesome beauty."

"You read the brochures, eh, Gregory?"

"Yeah, but I'm only using their words 'cause I don't have any of my own to describe the journey through the world famous Caverns. That's how great they are. I'm simply left speechless."

"That's a new one. But surely you can rustle up your tongue to tell me more."

"Well, it's cold so we had to wear sweaters. And it's a long walk straight down so we had to wear sturdy shoes. And it's damp. So if anybody is allergic to damp, they shouldn't go. And it's dark so you have to take flashlights. And it's dangerous so you have to stay on the path. And you're not supposed to climb on the rocks or chip any of them off or nothing like that. And it echoes when you holler out real loud. And you can't spit in the bottomless pit or mirrored pool. And there's a lunchroom at the bottom where you can eat 'cause you're real hungry after not being able to do all that stuff. And then you get on an elevator to go back up. And you have to make sure you get on the elevator with your mom. 'Cause if you get on the wrong one, you just keep going down to the very center of the earth, which may or may not have been the best part of the trip."

"Your mom lectured you before you went, eh, Gregory?"

"It's just a short ride out there, but she managed to get it all in, plus my life history of ill-behavior."

"Well, at least we have established that the Caverns are a must to see."

"I guess, I didn't pay much attention."

"Fell asleep and had to be carried?"

"The whole three and a half miles through."

Guidelines Focus On Variety Of Foods And Exercise

By Betty McCreight
Lincoln County
Home Economist

Variety is more than the spice of life. A variety of foods also is a key ingredient for a healthy life.

The new Dietary Guidelines for Americans, established by the U.S. Department of Agriculture and the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services, stress eating a variety of foods to supply the body's nutritional requirements and promote a healthy lifestyle. Selecting foods from each group of the Food Guide Pyramid provides necessary amounts of approximately 50 nutrients required by the body.

The food groups and recommended daily servings are dairy products, two to three servings; breads, cereal, rice and pasta, six to 11 servings; and meat, poultry, fish, dry beans, eggs and nuts, two to three servings.

Like their predecessors, the new dietary guidelines emphasize grain products, and fruits and vegetables, because these provide vitamins, minerals and dietary fiber. They also are naturally low in fat and salt, help lower or maintain weight, reduce intestinal problems, and are associated with a lower risk of heart disease and some types of cancer.

A diet low in fat, saturated fat and cholesterol, with moderate use of sugar, sodium and alcoholic beverages, also is recommended. Fats, sugars and alcoholic beverages contain calories, but few nutrients.

In addition to eating a variety of foods, regular physical activity also is important. Try to do at least 30 minutes of moderate physical activity at least three times a week. Activities can include brisk walking, gardening, moderate exercise and dancing.

A 150-pound person can burn five calories per minute by walking briskly, seven calories per minute bicycling, and two calories per minute doing housework.
