

Outdoor Watering Is Restricted In Ruidoso

Major water leak and prolonged drought drain village tanks just before July 4

by Doris Cherry

Prolonged drought and a major water leak Monday night prompted Ruidoso Village officials to place the village under Phase Three of the Water Contingency Plan that restricts outdoor watering to one day a week for four hours in the evening.

July 4, one of the busiest days in Lincoln County. Every year, the village of Ruidoso gears up in anticipation of the thousands of visitors seeking some relief from the heat in the lowlands. Storing up enough water is a priority in the week before the Independence Day weekend. But storing water is difficult when no water is coming into storage tanks.

Tuesday night, Ruidoso village manager Alan Briley gave Ruidoso councilors the bad news that a 36 inch water main to the 10 million gallon water storage tanks broke on Monday night, losing about two million gallons of treated water. The pipe serves 65 percent of the village and is old and difficult to repair, Briley added.

Also Eagle Creek is now dry, and no water is coming into Alto Reservoir and no new water is coming into Grindstone which has also dropped two or three feet, Briley said. Because of these conditions, the village has been placed under Phase

Three of the Water Contingency Plan--Serious Condition.

Under Phase Three homes and businesses with odd numbered addresses can water outdoors only on Tuesday of each week between the hours of 5 p.m. and 9 p.m. Homes with even numbered homes or businesses can water outdoors only on Thursday of each week between 5 p.m. and 9 p.m.

Homes and businesses are allowed to hand-water potted plants and flower beds with a container at any hour. Hoses can be used only according to outdoor watering rules.

"This is a drastic step," Briley said. But as of 4 p.m. Tuesday, the main storage tank was down to just 18 feet of water from 52 feet just days before. With such a low level in the tanks, some residences in the higher areas of town lose water pressure.

Yet Briley didn't expect any total loss of water anywhere in the village as crews were working on the break and he hoped to have the treatment plant on line that night.

In order to help notify the populace about Phase 3 restrictions, village police, fire department personnel, code enforcement officers and other village staff will be patrolling neighborhoods, especially this coming weekend. Briley said the intent is to educate the public about the water contingency, and fire restrictions. "We want to let them know nicely," Briley said. "Most

County Appointments To EMS Region Board Stirs Controversy

by Doris Cherry

Should an employee be appointed to a board over her boss?

That question prolonged the appointment of the county's representative to the Eastern New Mexico EMS Region 3 Board of Directors during a special meeting of the Lincoln County Commissioners on Monday in Carrizozo.

Kathy Williams, EMT who works at the Carrizozo Health Center, has been the county's representative on the EMS Region 3 Board for the last three years and her term expires in July. She notified the commission in a letter on June 23 that she wanted to continue to serve on the board. After the motion from Rex Wilson to reappoint Williams and a second from Bill Schwettmann, commissioners discussed what was to become a controversial appointment. Wilson said he thought Williams had done well on the Board in the past.

On June 29, the day of the special meeting, acting manager Martha Guevara sent a memo to the commissioners stating EMS administrator Jim Stover was very interested in being appointed to the EMS Region 3 board of directors.

Commission chairman L. Ray Nunley said he needed to discuss the appointment with both Williams and Stover. He said that grant funding goes with a position on the board of directors. Williams said each EMS service submits its "wish list" and the selection committee, on which she has served two years, then reviews the grant applications and awards grants based on needs.

"My biggest concern is how much comes back to Lincoln County?" Nunley asked.

Williams said EMS in Lincoln County has done well with grants, because they had good applications that request funds for needed equipment and well researched costs and other documentation. Stover said that Ruidoso submits a grant for its own service and the county also submits a grant. In the last four years, $80,000 to $90,000 has been awarded to EMS in Lincoln County for special projects and ambulances.

However, Ruidoso has never been represented on the EMS Region 3 board because the grants are awarded through the county and the county commission appoints the board member. Typically that person has been from the county, Stover said.

Williams said that Bob Finley from Alto had served on the Region 3 board for 14 years.

Nunley said he talked to

NEW SUPER. Carrizozo Board of Education president Steve Harkey welcomes the new Carrizozo Schools Superintendent Glenna Goodwin. The Board offered Goodwin a one year contract at a special meeting Wednesday. Ten people applied for the superintendent's position.

Carrizozo Hires New School Superintendent

by Doris Cherry

Carrizozo Board of Education offered a one year contract to Glenna Goodwin as superintendent of schools during a special meeting Wednesday night.

Goodwin was selected as the best of 10 applicants. According to board president Steve Harkey, the board narrowed the 10 applicants down to a short list of four people who were interviewed.

Based on her qualifications, the board unanimously approved offering the one year contract.

Goodwin told THE NEWS that she was looking forward to being superintendent of Carrizozo School District. "I see my role as a facilitator and coach," Goodwin said. "So I can enable the people here to do their best."

Goodwin said she hopes to focus on team work, pride and commitment for, all at the school. She is especially excited about the accelerated reader program beginning at the school this fall.

This is Goodwin's first superintendent job, but she is not new to education. Originally from Big Spring, TX, Goodwin spent 10 years as first grade teacher in Hobbs. After moving from Hobbs to Cloudercroft, Goodwin was second grade teacher in the Cloudercroft Municipal School District for two years.

Moving from the classroom into administration, Goodwin served as district administrator for Cloudercroft Municipal Schools for four years. In this position, she was special education and Title 1 coordinator, and she was principal of Timberon Elementary School which had 15 students in grades K-6 in the small community of Timberon south of Cloudercroft.

Carrizozo Offers Land, Water, Sewer For New County Jail

by Doris Cherry

Carrizozo again put in its bid as location for a new county jail.

Carrizozo Town Mayor Manuel Hernandez again offered land at the Carrizozo Industrial Park for a new jail to the Lincoln County Commissioners during a special meeting Monday night. As an added incentive, Hernandez offered free water and sewer to the land offer, as well as access to natural gas and additional land if needed for employee housing. Hernandez said he has spoken to local business people and ranchers who would support work release programs for inmates. Continuing education programs could be provided through Carrizozo schools, Hernandez went on. There is enough space to include a court complex to bring judges to the prisoners.

A jail in Carrizozo would also be close to the county treasurer's office that takes care of inmate money, and close to the Lincoln County Sheriff's Office with its connection to the National Crime Information Computer (NCIC). A jail in Carrizozo would be close to the new health center and Carrizozo airport.

In addition Carrizozo police would be available to assist with emergencies in the jail.

"You'll have the same transport costs from Ruidoso to Carrizozo as Carrizozo to Ruidoso," Hernandez said. "And a facility in an unincorporated area of the county could be dangerous."

"Carrizozo is the only realistic location," Hernandez closed. "Make the right choice gentlemen--Carrizozo!"

Earlier in the meeting during discussion about the service agreement with Ray Mitcham Associates architectural firm, commission chairman L. Ray Nunley said Carrizozo will be considered in the detention center study.

Commissioners want to know what the public thinks about a location for a new jail. To get input, commissioners will hold public hearings at 6:30 p.m. on July 24 and 31. Exact locations for the hearings has yet to be determined, however commissioners called for one to be held in Ruidoso and the other in the Lincoln County Courthouse in Carrizozo.

During the special meeting Monday night, in the sweltering, uncooled commission chambers in the Lincoln County Courthouse in Carrizozo, commissioners considered and approved their latest service agreement with Mitcham and Associates. However, Mitcham was in Europe and had not seen a

County Calls For Proposals To Manage Glencoe Center

by Doris Cherry

Lincoln County is looking for proposals to manage the Glencoe Rural Events Center.

In a surprise move, Lincoln County Commissioner Monroy Montes during a special meeting Monday night called for request for proposals (rfp) to manage the Glencoe Rural Events Center (GREC). Montes said the county has privatized the EMS, the detention center and animal control. Now Montes wanted the county to consider issuing an rfp for future management of the GREC. "We need a similar structure as we have with the Lincoln County Fairboard association," Montes said.

Montes asked for a single proposal to be advertised for two weeks. But when the county attorney asked if he could present the rfp at the next meeting, Montes said he wanted to see the rfp started immediately. Chairman Ray Nunley suggested an rfp like the one for the management of the Lincoln County Fairgrounds. When attorney Alan Morel asked how commissioners would review and authorize the proposed rfp, Montes said by "passing it around, like everything else."

Nunley said the county is in

County Tables Agreement To House Ruidoso Prisoners

by Doris Cherry

The county of Lincoln has no agreement with the village of Ruidoso to house their prisoners in the county jail.

The agreement for inmate housing expired on June 30 and no new agreement is there to replace it. Commissioners voted to table the proposed agreement renewal with the village of Ruidoso until they can include all the municipalities that house prisoners in the county jail. Commissioner Wilton Howell voted against tabling the agreement. "If there is no agreement, can we charge the village?" Howell said.

County attorney Alan Morel said the village may honor the old agreement. However, Morel was hesitant to recommend a year-long agreement because of the situation in the jail. Morel said that the contracts with all the municipalities are up for renewal on July 1.

Howell said he also wanted to send a letter to the state department of corrections to require probation offices to pay for probation and parole violators placed in the jail. "This is not addressed in state law," Howell said.

Morel reminded Howell of a letter from the state about

Carrizozo Offers Land, Water

copy of the revised agreement. Commissioners approved the agreement contingent to Mitcham's approval.

Mitcham agrees to provide a study with options based on an analysis of the county's criminal justice needs, design of the facility, location of the facility, construction details including financing, infrastructure costs for recommended sites, recommendations for staffing and operation, analysis of labor force for each proposed location, cost of inmate transportation for each proposed location, programs available for inmates, an analysis of possible consolidation with Ruidoso detention facility and dispatch center into one central detention center and dispatch facility for the entire county.

The agreement also states Mitcham will work closely with the Lincoln County Sheriff for input while gathering statistical, operational and all other types of information. And Mitcham will work with the current county jail management service contractor, involving design, management and operation of the Detention Center.

Mitcham agrees to provide the county with reports on the status of work, with a final report due in 60 days. The county will pay Mitcham $10,000 that includes gross receipt taxes.

In a letter from Mitcham and Associates dated June 23, Toby Michael from the firm wrote that a 100-bed facility would be completed in about 10 months after the design and financing plan are accepted by the county commission, if all the infrastructure is in place for the new facility.

Later in other discussions about the jail, county attorney Alan Morel said he has prepared a response letter to the state fire marshal about the non-compliance in the county jail. Last week, the county was notified that the fire marshal would close the jail in 30 days if problems. Commissioners and Morel did not discuss the situation any further.

Commissioners Monroy Montes and Wilton Howell did discuss further their recent tour of the new 250-bed Otero County Detention Center. Montes said they negotiated with Otero County officials for a price of $50 a day if Lincoln County guarantees 25 prisoners a day. "If we guarantee 25 beds what happens to the Lincoln County Detention Center?," Montes said.

Montes said using the Otero County Detention Center is an option. "The Otero County Detention Center cost $6 million," Montes said. "It is over-built, now they are trying to pay for the operation."

"I ask that Lincoln County does not over-build (a new jail)," Montes said.

Howell said another problem with the Otero County offer is Lincoln County would have to pay in advance, which he did not favor. Howell was also concerned about building larger than needed facilities, because the judges fill the empty space. "If we build em, they'll fill em," Howell said about the judges.

Howell went on to say the county should be cautious in building and managing its new jail because he is concerned the judges are not looking at alternatives to incarceration such as work release.

He then told of a judge who threatened to fine the county $1,000 an hour if an inmate was placed on the electronic bracelet monitoring system.

Howell had concerns about large numbers of inmates who were in the jail because of probation officers. Added to that were additional people incarcerated by the drug task force and sheriff's office. Howell said that municipal, magistrate and district judges should be a part of the county's jail budget process. "They need to be a part of the solution," Howell said.

Howell said that when the county runs out of money for the jail, that is all the jail will get next year. "I'm tired of solving problems in the jail at the expense of roads, senior facilities and youth recreation programs," Howell added.

Since about 25 percent of inmates in the county jail come from the Adult Probation Office, Howell suggested the state provide extra money to the county to incarcerate probation violators. He also said judges should be willing to look at alternative options such as work release and the ankle bracelet. Howell also said the jail administrator should be able to decide which inmate be on the bracelet or go to re-hab programs.

At the beginning of the special meeting, county commissioners met behind closed doors to discuss personnel problems with private jail administrators Charlie Turnbo and Mike Borrego from CSI (Corrections Systems, Inc., the private company that has the contract to administer the jail). No decisions were taken after the closed session.

housing state prisoners and how the state wants credit for one county inmate who was placed in a state institution by a district judge. Howell said the district judge does not work for the county. "We didn't cause the inmate to go to jail," Howell said.

"Either we need a joint powers agreement with the state or they can take their prisoners to Otero County," Howell said. Of the inmates in jail, 25 percent are probation or parole violators, Howell added.

Without the agreement with Ruidoso, Howell said that the jail now has the right to reject any Ruidoso prisoner.

Goodwin, also worked as an Educational Consultant for the Region Centers in Texas and New Mexico.

Goodwin is married to Jim Goodwin and has two grown sons who live in Hobbs with their wives and children.

Also at the special meeting, the school board accepted the superintendent's and principal Robert Chavez's recommendation to hire Lorenzo Sambrano as custodian.

The board also accepted the resignation from Gabe Papponi as teacher.

Board member Pat Vega was not present at the meeting.

Billy The Kid Byways Is National Scenic Byway

Billy the Kid Scenic Byways has been recognized as a National Scenic Byways by the U.S. Secretary of Transportation.

Billy the Kid Scenic Byways and three others in New Mexico were named along with 29 other locations nationwide early in June. The National Scenic Byways program recognizes exceptional road routes that exemplify regional characteristics of the nation's culture, history and landscape. The routes are often the "beaten path" and provide a real taste of America, according to a press release from the U.S. Dept. of Transportation.

Routes receiving the national byways designation were selected by representatives from the tourism industry, historic preservation organizations, tribal communities, and other public and private organizations. They evaluated nominations submitted by states and federal agencies.

With the designation, Billy the Kid Scenic Byways will receive national and international promotion from the Federal Highway Administration, and recognition on commercial maps and at trade shows. Marketing money will be available also, reported Billy the Kid Byways chair Bill Hirschfeld in a memo to Ruidoso village manager Alan Briley.

Briley told Ruidoso Village councilors about the national designation during their meeting Tuesday. He said in addition to the media promotion, the national program will provide a Web site for the Billy the Kid Scenic Byways, and will give the program a better chance for funding.

Billy the Kid Scenic Byways is a loop route that begins at the Billy the Kid Interpretive Center next to the Museum of the Horse in Ruidoso Downs. The byway goes through Ruidoso, north on Highway 48 to Highway 380 in Capitan, east on Highway 380 with a side trip to Fort Stanton, back to Highway 380 through Lincoln to Hondo and west on Highway 70 back to the starting point at the byways center in Ruidoso Downs. The route passes through many of the historic locations associated with the famous outlaw Billy the Kid with Lincoln and its museums a highlight.

For more information about the Billy the Kid Scenic Byways call the Billy the Kid Scenic Byways Visitors Center at 378-5318.

For more information or brochures about the 1998 national designations, call 1-800-429-9297, or visit the web site at www.byways.org.

THOUGHTS

FROM THE EDITOR'S DESK

Big weekend ahead

By Ruth Hammond

Thousands of people will be in Capitan this weekend to enjoy the 43rd annual Smokey Bear Stampede. Events include a parade on Saturday, rodeos on Thursday, Friday, Saturday and Sunday, a music festival Saturday and Sunday, dances Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights, the crowning of the Lincoln County Fair Queen, cowboy church and gospel singing Sunday morning, a cutting horse exhibition, sanctioned senior steer roping, and a fun run and walk.

The Smokey Bear Stampede is an excellent example of tourism in Lincoln County. Visitors from other parts of the country will visit, eat, buy from local merchants, and some will stay a few days. Tourism is a business and the Smokey Bear Stampede is not only an annual event that draws tourists into Lincoln County, it is also an example of how people working together can help promote the area and many of the things that Lincoln County has to offer.

Volunteers were working at the Lincoln County Fairgrounds this week, helping to get the arena and buildings ready for the big event. Workers were painting, welding, cleaning, and doing all the necessary things to prepare the facility for the events scheduled. The most important thing is that these people were volunteers. The county road department temporary employees weren't asked to work during the Smokey Bear Stampede, but they were asked to work at another county owned facility during a grand opening.

When a tractor is needed at the arena at the Lincoln County Fairgrounds, there will be a borrowed tractor to use, unlike the new $13,000 tractor Lincoln County Commissioners recently bought for the Glencoe Rural Events Center. County owned equipment should be used for any of the county facilities, especially for a county owned facility that is used more than 50 weeks a year instead of being reserved for a special area that supposedly has 16 events booked for the entire year. Apparently the county commissioners have designated which equipment can be used where and by whom.

Fees charged for using the Lincoln County Fairgrounds are readily available, unlike the secret charges at the Glencoe Rural Events Center. When we asked for a listing of the events scheduled to be held at the Lincoln County Fairgrounds the Lincoln County Fair Association provided the information immediately, unlike the events supposedly scheduled at the Glencoe Rural Events Center that are being kept secret. Regulations for using the Lincoln County Fairgrounds are published annually, but we don't know if the county has any regulations for using the Glencoe Rural Events Center. The Lincoln County Fair Association promotes the Lincoln County Fairgrounds county-wide as well as in other areas, unlike the private announcements at the Glencoe Rural Events Center.

The Lincoln County Commissioners have given preferential treatment to the Glencoe Rural Events Center over the Lincoln County Fairgrounds for several years. County commissioners griped about spending $19,000 a year for a management contract at the fairgrounds but spent hundreds of thousands of dollars at the Glencoe facility. Now the county is asking for proposals to manage the Glencoe Rural Events Center. Apparently there is some kind of rush because of a secret announcement that was not made public. Will the county commissioners accept a proposal to manage the Glencoe facility for $19,000 a year, the same as the fairgrounds?

The Lincoln County Fair Association doesn't keep secrets. The Smokey Bear Stampede and all the events this weekend are for everyone. Have a safe and happy Independence Day, July 4th.

Stampede fun for everyone

Inside The Capitol

by Jay Miller

SANTA FE: UFOs are helping New Mexico's economy once again. On Memorial Day weekend, Aztec celebrated the 50th anniversary of a reported crash near there and on July 4th weekend Roswell will observe the 51st anniversary of that famous crash.

Isn't it interesting that UFOs tend to crash in New Mexico on holiday weekends? Do you suppose it has to do with aliens celebrating too much before they hop in their saucers for a flight home?

Aztec's events were staged to benefit the local public library. The town of 5,000 has used several creative ideas in the past year to help raise $1 million to build a new community center, Boys & Girls Club and library complex. After seeing the success of Roswell's UFO festival, Aztec librarian Leanne Hathcock decided a similar event could help raise money for her library.

Activities included a tour of the purported crash site, a symposium, a parade, a banquet, movies, speakers and panel discussions. One of the speakers was Rep. Andy Kissner of Las Cruces who talked about working with U.S. Rep. Steve Schiff to get the government files on Roswell opened. The event didn't attract as many out-of-towners as organizers had hoped, perhaps because the Aztec crash was revealed to be a hoax by two con-men later convicted of fraud for trying to sell "alien technology."

But others still swear it happened. A book called UFO Crash at Aztec has been published. One of the authors is reported to have been in hiding ever since the book was released. There are stories of one of the aliens living with Native Americans in the area and blending in because he looks just like them. And supposedly many people in the Aztec area know about it and are afraid to speak out.

That should be enough to keep any self-respecting myth going. The event was promoted as the "first annual" so maybe Aztec can keep it up—at least until the library is built.

Roswell is now into its fourth annual UFO festival. Founder Stan Crosby has turned over direction of the event to a committee of local business people. This year's theme "The truth is here" appears to be a take-off on the X-Files theme "The Truth is out there." Mulder and Scully have been looking for it for five years now. Maybe this will give them the clue they need.

The Air Force is providing its usual help drumming up interest. It recently launched a test balloon from Holloman Air Force Base near Alamogordo that it said would land near Roswell. Last June the Air Force issued an explanation that Roswellians who saw space aliens in 1947 had them confused with high-altitude crash test dummies dropped from the skies near Roswell a decade later.

In June of the previous two years, the Air Force released revisions of its balloon story in response to Rep. Steve Schiff's investigation of a Roswell cover-up. The first revision created so many questions that the Air Force issued a 1,000-page clarification the following June. The balloon the Air Force says was mistaken for a flying saucer supposedly was launched from Holloman and landed near Roswell in 1947. Expect the Air Force to announce any day now that it recovered this year's balloon in exactly the same place as the 1947 crash.

Roswell also got help recently from another source. Kiplinger's Magazine named the town one of the six best places to retire in the United States. Kiplinger's criteria were cost of living, availability of medical care, weather, cultural activities and volunteer opportunities. Retirees are a tremendous resource. They complement economic development and tourism as components of a financially healthy community.

Roswell has had an outstanding economic development effort ever since the air base closed and the business community did the right things to recover. Retirees also have long known about Roswell's advantages and this recognition should increase that awareness.

And now Roswell finally has tourism. Keep up the good work.

Commissioners Can't Take The Heat

by Doris Cherry

It's cool again in the manager's complex of the Lincoln County Courthouse in Carrizozo.

But last Monday night the temperature must have hovered around 99 degrees in the Lincoln County Commissioners' chambers. But the heat didn't keep the group of five men from spending nearly three hours in the sweltering room holding what originally was to be a special meeting with a one or two item agenda.

At the end of the three hour session that included an overly long discussion about the E911 and rural addressing grant from the state and a prolonged discussion about who was more worthy of being appointed to the Regional EMS board, commissioner Monroy Montes said something had to be done about the heat in the building.

Commission chairman Ray Nunley said he could declare an emergency to get something done without having to go through procurement procedures.

Commissioners then went through a long discussion with the owner of their contracted mechanical and plumbing service—Mike Cobb, of Lincoln Mechanical. Cobb said he knew about the problem six or seven months ago and had brought it to (former manager) Frank Potter's attention. Cobb said at that time the part to fix the cooler would have cost $100. Instead, the work was delayed until a county employee tried to repair the blower and the repair did not work and the blower shaft deteriorated, damaging other parts of the cooler.

"Is this what we asked Mike Cobb to do?" asked commissioner Wilton Howell.

Cobb said he gave a ball park figure of $2,500 to replace the blower. But acting manager Martha Guevara said Cobb refused to give her a quote for the work. Cobb said he refused to give a quote for the work under the maintenance agreement. "I didn't refuse to install it," he said.

Cobb recommended the county replace the entire unit instead of trying to repair the 20 year old cooler. However the price would be $7,500 to replace the unit. Another quote came in about the same price and another was $3,500 to replace the unit.

But something had already been done, and the parts were on order, to be delivered and installed the next day. Guevara said because of the situation with the quote, she arranged to have someone else install the rebuilt blower.

County maintenance supervisor LeeRoy Zamora said Anderson Refrigeration was going to replace the blower unit for $1,700 installed.

"For two and a half weeks, this building has been this hot," Howell commented.

"The sheriff's office cooling is still out also," said sheriff's administrative secretary Janice Silva.

By Tuesday, the cooling was on again in the manager's complex. By afternoon the temperature was down to 84 degrees and falling.

Appointment Stirs Controversy

Williams and Stover and hoped they would work out the situation. Nunley praised Williams for her EMS work. But commissioner Wilton Howell said "we have a different animal now," in reference to the county's EMS administered by Ruidoso EMS.

"I want to place Jim Stover on the board," Howell said. But Wilson said his motion was not to open nominations. "My motion was to appoint, not nominate," Wilson said.

Stover said it was his goal not to put the commission in a situation, because they were going to talk about the service contract with Ruidoso EMS later. "It's awkward for me to operate all the services but have no access to the board," Stover said.

Nunley continued to ask about grants and wondered if Stover could secure more grant money. Stover said he may be able to get more grant money, but if he was on the board he would be able to negotiate in closed door discussions. "The key is input," Stover added.

Williams said the grant review committee is not open to discussion or negotiation on the grants, rather the group evaluates and prioritizes grant requests. "I always argue for both Ruidoso and Carrizozo," Williams said.

But Nunley responded that now other entities are involved. "We've grown," he said.

Williams said Stover would not have any say on grants unless he served on the grant selection committee.

When the vote was taken, Wilson, Schwetmann and Monroy Montes voted for Williams, Howell and Nunley voted against her appointment.

EMS discussion was far from over. Stover presented the newest version of the service contract between the County, Presbyterian Health Services, Lincoln County Medical Center and Ruidoso EMS to manage the County ambulance service. Stover said some things need to be clarified in the contract, but he needed to know if the county was comfortable with the level of service and if it was benefiting both. "I can't say tonight that Lincoln County Medical Center is ready to sign this contract," Stover said.

But Wilson said he thought that was the intent to sign the agreement because June 30 the current agreement expires.

With that Montes made the motion to approve the contract with Ruidoso EMS, and send it back to LCMC for its approval. County attorney Alan Morel said the contract was fine from the county's stand point, but he was concerned about the financing, and whether there was money in the county budget to pay for the service. County finance officer Punkin Schlarb said commissioners budgeted $20,000 for the Alto area agreement and $22,000 for the rest of the county.

Morel explained that the new agreement terminates the existing four year contract for the Alto area service and begins a new agreement that includes Alto and the rest of the county. The new agreement also includes radios as equipment exhibits to be leased to Ruidoso EMS.

Montes said he hoped the EMS agreement did not step on the contract with the communications people. But Stover said LCMC wants to update the equipment because it is liable for the response,

That led undersheriff Rick Virden to say that the radios in the Sheriff's dispatch have to stay with the sheriff's office. "There seems to be a problem with who owns the radios," Virden said.

Wilson asked Virden if there had been a problem and Virden said that a Ruidoso radio person had checked out the system in the sheriff's office dispatch center in the courthouse.

Stover said he had talked to a representative from a Motorola company out of Albuquerque and the hospital to replace dispatch equipment that meets Ruidoso EMS needs. Schlarb said she has concerns about crossing lines when it comes to the 911 dispatch.

Nunley said his only concern was the county approve the contract. "I think the sheriff's office and EMS are big enough and old enough to work together," he said.

Montes made the motion to accept the contract, Howell seconded it. All commissioners but Wilson approved it. Wilson later said he voted no because of his concerns about financing the service agreement.

Ruidoso To Allow B&Bs In R-1 Zones

by Doris Cherry

Beginning in five days, bed and breakfast homes will be allowed in residential zones in Ruidoso.

Ruidoso Village Council adopted an ordinance that amends the village zone text to allow bed and breakfast homes on residential properties with frontage on arterial or collector streets of Sudderth, Mechem, Gavilan, Hull, White Mountain, Warrior, Cree Meadows, Paradise, Meander and Upper Canyon. B&Bs will be limited to five guest rooms with each having its own separate bathroom plus bathroom for owner/operator and must be on a lot of at least one acre. B&Bs will be allowed under a Conditional Use permit obtained through the planning commission.

Councilor Leon Eggleston at first did not approve of the ordinance and voted against it. He was concerned the B&Bs would violate restrictive covenants, resulting in legal action against the village. The planning commission had received a letter from a property owner who was concerned about B&Bs violating restrictive covenants that do not allow commercial enterprise in single family dwelling residential areas.

"I am not in favor of this," Eggleston said. He also wanted the minimum lot size for a B&B home to be one acre, not the half acre as in the proposed ordinance.

Mayor Robert Donaldson said currently the village allows rental of any home in a R-1 zone. Also the B&B requires a conditional use permit that has to have the support of neighbors for the village planning commission to grant.

Donaldson said the concerns over violation of restrictive covenants "closes the door to allow evolution of the village." Donaldson said at some point deed restrictions get broken and different uses are allowed by the neighbors. "We never knew Cree Meadows would be such a busy road," he said in example. "We will allow B&Bs but they must fit the character of the neighborhood."

Councilor Bill Chance supported the change, as long as residents and neighbors have an avenue of appeal.

Councilor Ron Anderson also wanted the bathroom per guest room and owners rooms which had been left out of the proposed ordinance wording. He also had some concerns about allowing commercial enterprise in the R-1 zones. But Donaldson said that was why they restricted the B&Bs to the arterial and collector streets. "It's evolution for a higher use than R-1," Donaldson said.

When the vote was taken councilors Chance, Anderson and Bob Sterchi said yes, Eggleston said no. Councilor Frank Cummins was absent and Ovella Estes position was still vacant. However, later in the meeting the vote count led to a discussion from village attorney John Underwood that there was no super majority, which is needed to approve an ordinance. The mayor then called for reconsideration of the motion. Reluctantly, albeit reluctantly, Eggleston voted for the ordinance which passed unanimously.

Under the new section to the village municipal code, Chapter 10, Articles 3 and 4, a B&B home is defined as a private owner occupied residence with one to five guest rooms where lodging and morning meal is provided for compensation on a daily rate basis with length of stay not to exceed 14 consecutive days.

Under Article 4 regulations a B&B home must be compatible in looks to the residential character of the neighborhood and will not alter the structure's single family dwelling character. No food preparation or cooking will be allowed in any guest room and only a breakfast meal can be served. Parking must be provided with one space per guest room and two for the resident owner/operator. The parking area must be designed so vehicles do not back onto a public right, and must be landscaped to maintain a residential character.

No one from the public spoke about the ordinance although a man told the mayor during a break that he did want to discuss the issue but did not hear the mayor invite public comment.

One citizen did comment on the proposed changes to the animal control code. Jordan Cameron, who first brought the issue of animal restraint to the council, was not pleased with the final proposed changes. "We need chains and fences," Cameron said. "We must reduce animal incidents, which we can only do with an ordinance."

Cameron had asked for more restrictive rules on animals running at large because she feared for her safety while walking. Instead, the council adopted changes to the animal control ordinance that redefines restraint as any animal secured by a leash or lead no more than eight feet while under the control of a owner or responsible person or while in an enclosed area, or by a tether not less than 12 feet to confine the animal within the boundaries of the property of the animal's owner. Responsible person is defined as a person who owns an animal, or who takes care of an animal for 30 days or more or an adult placed in charge of the animal in absence of the owner.

The ordinance does address problem pets by requiring owners to secure a nuisance animal in a restrained area when it is not in the presence of its owner. A nuisance animal is defined as an animal whose owner has been cited or turned into the animal shelter three or more times in a three year period.

Councilor Sterchi said the newest proposed changes were a "good compromise." Sterchi, Chance and Donaldson worked on the changes as a committee after the public rejected some harsher proposed measures. Chance said this version includes a statement of rights and process for appeal.

The newly adopted changes to the village zone district regulations and the animal control regulations of the Municipal Code will be added to the newly adopted municipal code. With absolutely no input from the public, as no public was left at the meeting, councilors unanimously accepted the newly drafted Code of Ordinances for the Village of Ruidoso.

Village clerk Tammie Maddox said the village has been working on the revised code book since 1996 when it contracted Municipal Code Corporation. After two years of review, drafts and rewriting, the final document was ready. The new document clarifies discrepancies, contradictions and illegal ordinances in the old village code. It changes the format to make referencing and cross referencing easier and refers to the old code.

Eggleston said when he first worked for the village the printed ordinances were piled in stacks. He was the first to transcribe those ordinances into a computer. When Maddox became clerk she has kept the ordinances up to date as well as possible.

The new municipal code will be made available in the loose leaf binder or on CD-ROM or floppy disk. Maddox said the Municipal Code Corporation also includes the Ruidoso Village Code on the InterNet.

Councilors also approved a zone map amendment to change designation of two lots in Ruidoso Springs Subdivision from R-1 residential to C-3 Mid Town Commercial.

Ruidoso Mayor Nominates Linda Flack To Fill Vacancy On Council

On July 14 Ruidoso residents will have their say about Ruidoso Mayor Robert Donaldson's nomination to fill the council vacancy.

The seat won by Ovella Estes has sat empty since Estes' death in May. Donaldson during the regular council meeting Tuesday, announced he intended to appoint community leader Linda Flack. He called for a public hearing during the July 14 regular meeting to take public comment about his appointment.

"I never considered the fact that I might have to appoint more than one councilor during my term as mayor," Donaldson said. "I knew I would have to fill my seat, so I'd given a lot of consideration to that. Ron (Anderson) has worked out better than I could have ever imagined. Now because of the loss of Ovella Estes I must go through the process again."

Donaldson said in selecting

No Outdoor Watering In Ruidoso

don't know about the restrictions."

Briley asked that everyone conserve water by not watering outdoors at all until the tanks have filled. "The more water we use right now, the longer it will take to recoup the water in the tanks," Briley said.

Residences and businesses with private wells that were drilled after July 1996 are also subject to the water restrictions. Any wells drilled before July 1996 have no restrictions on use.

Briley said once the leak is repaired and the tanks come back up to a full level, the village may go back to Phase Two of the Water Contingency Plan. Phase 2 has an odd/even watering system but allows watering on designated days between the hours of 5-9 a.m. and 5-9 p.m.

Prolonged drought has also created Level 2 Extreme fire conditions in the village and surrounding forests and federal lands. Under Level 2, no campfires, charcoal or open flame fires are allowed anywhere in the Village of Ruidoso, including on private property. Gas grills are allowed. Smoking is allowed only inside private buildings or vehicles. No fireworks are allowed in the village of Ruidoso or in any national forest.

Police, fire department and code enforcement officers will patrol for violations of the fire restrictions as well as the Water Contingency Plan. Briley said police have been instructed to cite smokers who are seen throwing cigarette butts out of cars.

Mayor Robert Donaldson said that anyone who witnesses a person throw a cigarette from a vehicle to write down license plate numbers of the vehicle and give it the village police who will then cite the individual. "This is our town, and we don't want it to burn up or run out of water," Donaldson said.

Briley also recommended citizens notify police dispatch if they see anyone with charcoal or open fires.

After the water report, Angel Shaw public information member of the village disaster response committee, showed a video produced to help citizen respond to seasonal disasters and hazardous materials. Production costs were donated by On Track Inc. of Ruidoso Downs. One copy of the video is available for loan from Ruidoso Public Library or the village manager. Copies are also available for purchase.

Councilor Bill Chance, chairman of the public information committee for the LAPC, said the information given for each topic follows FEMA and American Red Cross Guidelines.

Domenici will be at the Ruidoso Chamber of Commerce Thursday, July 9 from 9 a.m. to 10 a.m. Anyone who is experiencing difficulty with a federal agency who would like Senator Domenici's assistance is welcome to visit with the Senator's staff. Anyone who would like to convey an opinion to the Senator is welcome to do so.

American Academy of Ophthalmology And National Association Of State Fire Marshals Warn About Dangers of Fireworks

(DM)—The American Academy of Ophthalmology (Eye M.D.s) and the National Association of State Fire Marshals have joined forces to encourage families to attend public fireworks displays instead of using fireworks at home this Fourth of July. The reasons for this warning can be seen in the following statistics:

- Of the approximately 7,000 fireworks-related injuries each year in the United States, about 2,000 are eye injuries caused by consumer fireworks. Nearly one-third of these injuries result in permanent eye damage. Almost one in 20 victims lose all useful vision or require removal of the eye.
- One-fourth of all eye injuries caused by consumer fireworks are inflicted on bystanders.
- Three-fourths of all fireworks-related eye injuries are to boys between the ages of 13 and 15.
- The single most dangerous type of firework is the small, explosive "bottle rocket." Bottle rockets are the most dangerous because they fly erratically, causing bystander injuries. The bottles and cans used to launch fireworks often explode, showering fragments of glass and metal.

Sparklers, often given to young children, burn at 1800 degrees Fahrenheit, nearly hot enough to melt gold.

"Attending a public fireworks display on the Fourth of July is a safe way to honor our tradition of independence, our shared values and our hopes for a healthy future," said Elliot Finkelstein, M.D., President of the American Academy of Ophthalmology.

For more information, visit the American Academy of Ophthalmology's website at www.eyenet.org or the National Association of State Fire Marshals' website at www.firemarshals.org.

Ruidoso Mayor Nominates

a person he looked at the make-up of the council and found that women are not represented and needed to be considered. He also wanted someone connected to the community, who serves on boards and commissions and community organizations. "Most of all I want someone whose personal success is tied to Ruidoso's success," Donaldson said. "I have found such a person again."

Flack lived in Ruidoso from 1978 to 1988 operating a lodging establishment and selling real estate. She left Ruidoso for El Paso until March 1994 when she returned to Ruidoso to manage a mortgage company and later opening her own in 1995.

Flack held local and district positions in the Boy Scouts, served on the Ruidoso Lodgers Tax Committee and Ruidoso Planning Commission from 1995 to 1998. She is currently member of the Ruidoso Rotary Club, Ruidoso Valley Chamber of Commerce, and Ruidoso Realtors Association.

Donaldson also invited the public to call himself or councilors, or leave a message for them at village hall at 257-4343.

Flack said she was honored by the nomination to fill Estes' position. Flack said Estes was a friend and business associate.

Later in the meeting during a break, Donaldson was asked why he did not appoint Ross Dingman who came within a few votes of being elected to the council. Donaldson said there are two schools of thought on this—select the next person on the ballot, select someone else because the person on the ballot did lose and he chose the second.

OPEN MEETINGS ACT NOTICE POLICY

Resolution

WHEREAS, Section 10-15-1(B) of the New Mexico Open Meetings Act (NMSA 1978, Sections 10-15-1 to 10-15-4) states that, except as may be otherwise provided in the Constitution or the Open Meetings Act, all meetings of a quorum of members of any board, council, commission, administrative advisory body or other policy-making body of any state or local public agency held for the purpose of formulating public policy, discussing public business or for the purpose of taking any action within the authority of or the delegated authority of such body, are declared to be public meetings open to the public at all times; and

WHEREAS, any meetings subject to the Open Meetings Act at which the discussion or adoption of any proposed resolution, rule, regulation or formal action occurs shall be held only after reasonable notice to the public; and

WHEREAS, Section 10-15-1(D) of the Open Meetings Act requires the Capitan Municipal Schools Board of Education to determine annually what constitutes reasonable notice of its public meetings; and

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED by the Capitan Municipal Schools Board of Education that:

1. All meetings shall be held at the Capitan School Board Room at 6:00 p.m. or as otherwise indicated in the meeting notice.

Regular Meetings
2. Unless otherwise specified, regular meetings shall be held each month on the second Thursday of each month. The agenda will be available at least twenty-four (24) hours prior to the meeting from the Superintendent whose office is located in Capitan, New Mexico. Notice of any other regular meetings will be given ten (10) days in advance of the meeting date. The notice shall indicate how a copy of the agenda may be obtained.

Special and Emergency Meetings
3. Special meetings may be called by the President or a majority of the members upon three (3) days notice. The notice shall include an agenda for the meeting or information on how members of the public may obtain a copy of the agenda. The agenda shall be available to the public at least twenty-four (24) hours before any special meeting.

4. Emergency meetings will be called only under unforeseen circumstances which demand immediate action to protect the health, safety and property of citizens or to protect the public body from substantial financial loss. The Board will avoid emergency meetings whenever possible. Emergency meetings may be called by the President or a majority of the members upon twenty-four (24) hours notice, unless threat of personal injury or property damage requires less notice. The notice for all emergency meetings shall include an agenda for the meeting or information on how the public may obtain a copy of the agenda.

5. For the purposes of regular meetings described in paragraph 2 of this resolution, notice requirements are met if notice of the date, time, place, and agenda is placed in newspapers of general circulation in the state and posted in the following locations: Capitan Post Office and the Office of the Superintendent. The Superintendent's Secretary shall also mail copies of the written notice to those broadcast stations licensed by the Federal Communications Commission and newspapers of general circulation which have made a written request for notice of public meetings.

6. For the purposes of special meetings and emergency meetings described in paragraph 3 and 4 of this resolution, notice requirements shall be met by posting notice of the date, time, place and agenda in the office of the Superintendent. 7. In addition to the information specified above, all notices shall include the following language: If you are an individual with a disability who is in need of a reader, amplifier, qualified sign language interpreter, or any other form of auxiliary aid or service to attend or participate in the hearing or meeting, please contact the Superintendent's Secretary at 354-2239 at least one week prior to the meeting or as soon as possible. Public documents, including the agenda and minutes, can be provided in various accessible formats. Please contact the Superintendent's secretary at 354-2239 if a summary or other type of accessible format is needed.

8. The Capitan Municipal Schools Board of Education may close a meeting to the public only if the subject matter of such discussion or action is exempted from the open meeting requirements under Section 10-15-1(H) of the Open Meetings Act.

a. If any meeting is closed during an open meeting, such closure shall be approved by a majority vote of a quorum of the Capitan Municipal Schools Board of Education taken during the open meeting. The authority for the closure and the subjects to be discussed shall be stated with reasonable specificity in the motion for closure and the vote on closure of each individual member shall be recorded in the minutes. Only those subjects specified in the motion may be discussed in a closed meeting.

If the decision to hold a closed meeting is made when the Capitan Municipal Schools Board of Education is not in an open meeting, the closed meeting shall not be held until public notice appropriate under the circumstances stating the specific provision of law authorizing the closed meeting and the subjects to be discussed with reasonable specificity is given to the members and to the general public.

c. Following completion of any closed meeting, the minutes of the open meeting that was closed, or the minutes of the next open meeting, shall state whether the matters discussed in the closed meeting were listed only to those specified in the motion or notice for closure.

d. Except as provided in section 10-15-1(h) of the Open Meetings Act, any action taken as a result of discussions in a closed meeting shall be made by vote of the Capitan Municipal Schools Board of Education in an open public meeting.
