

Ruidoso Approves $22 Million Budget

by Doris Cherry

Ruidoso village council approved its preliminary 1999-2000 fiscal year budget during a regular meeting on May 25.

Total revenue for all departments is $22,947,895, reported village manager Alan Briley. He said the amount is down from last year due to less federal funds, grants and major projects, and an estimated two percent reduction of gross receipt taxes from fiscal year 1998-99.

In the general fund, budgeted revenues are $5,225,961. The budget includes reserves of $437,497 for the one-twelfth of the general fund required by the state, and another one-twelfth reserve of $435,497 by village fiscal policy. After the required reserves the remaining balance is $36,298. During budget workshops the draft budget showed a $160,000 balance above the required reserves, Briley said. So with those funds councilors approved hiring an additional fire fighter, a Parks and Rec employee and a full time code enforcement officer, leaving the ending balance of $35,298.

The preliminary budget includes a four percent across the board cost of living increase for all employees, funds to cover an increased contribution to the Public Employees Retirement Association (PERA) if employees approve the higher option and funds to cover an assortment of increases due to employee certification, training, merit and years of service, said village finance officer Lorri McKnight.

Briley also reported that the village utility fund budget shows estimated revenues of $3,352,037 with no new increases in rates for water, sewer or garbage or licenses and permits. Budgeted expenditures in the utility fund total $3,653,281. Projected balance from the 1998-99 fiscal year in the utility fund is $744,888. This balance in addition to a transfer of $16,036 from the general fund will bring the projecting ending balance in the utility fund (at the end of the 1999-2000 fiscal year in July 2000) to $459,680.

Solid waste fund budget shows a large increase from the beginning balance of $21,926 (from 1998-99 fiscal year) to the ending estimated cash balance of $145,392. The fund budgets $1,329,743 in revenues and $1,143,928 in expenditures and a $62,349 transfer out of the fund.

Restricted use funds (those funds that are committed to a certain project, such as cemetery, gross receipt tax for infrastructure, EMS, corrections, lodgers tax fund, water meter trust and all capital

C-C Natural Gas Board Approves Budget

The Capitan-Carrizozo Natural Gas board approved the 1999-2000 fiscal year budget at a special meeting on May 26.

Capitan Carrizozo Natural Gas (CCNG) is co-owned by the Village of Capitan and Town of Carrizozo. The estimated revenue receipts for the 1999-2000 fiscal year are $651,400, with expenditures estimated at $641,228.

Receipts/revenues are derived from the metered gas service estimated at $620,700, interest on customer sales of $5,500, other sales and services (such as appliances) of $25,000 and return check charges of $200 (at $20 a returned check).

Operating expenses include payroll. CCNG has five employees-Kay Strickland and Vicky Sedillo in the office/administration, and Neo Vallejos, Rusty Leslie and Phil Wilson in the field. With an approved 50 cents an hour raise, the employees payroll for 1999-2000 will be $164,748, plus $23,430 in benefits that include a retirement plan. In addition the budget allows $2,000 for the year for uniforms for the three field employees.

Gas board members chairman Leroy Montes, John Whitaker and Norman Renfro from the Village of Capitan and Manuel Hernandez, Angelo Vega and Wes Lindsay from the Town of Carrizozo will receive $11,100 in directors fees. The chairman receives $300 a month and directors receive $100 a month.

Other expenses are $310,000 for the cost of gas, $14,000 for the cost of other sales such as appliances, $35,000 for outside services with $5,000 for legal counsel and the remainder for the audit and other professional services, $13,025 for office supplies including 900 bills mailed out each month, $19,500 property insurance, $3,500 regulatory expenses such as permits, $1,000 for advertising and promotion,

Carrizozo Will Buy Items For Centennial Celebration

by Barbara Culler

Tuesday, June 8, the Town of Carrizozo Board of Trustees held their regularly scheduled meeting at city hall. Mayor Manuel Hernandez and trustees James Silva, Eileen Lovelace, Wesley Lindsay, and Cynthia Morales were present. Town clerk Carol Schlarb also was present.

Joe Sanchez, route manager for Lincoln County Solid Waste Authority (LCSWA), discussed with the trustees use of the LCSWA roll-off that is available for Carrizozo's use every Saturday. Hernandez said that the one roll-off that Carrizozo has available is not enough. Sanchez said that when it is picked up it is full and there is between two to three tons of trash in it. He said the roll-off should handle 8 to 10 tons of trash if it is compacted down and it is picked up every Friday so that it is empty for use on Saturday. It costs about $200 per trip to take an almost empty roll-off to the landfill and they lose on a load that is not compacted down to its full capacity.

Hernandez asked Sanchez if a deal could be worked out if the town takes their backhoe out and compacted the trash. Sanchez said that would triple the capacity of the roll-off. Brush takes a lot of room in the roll-off and compacting that would help according to Sanchez. Sanchez said that he is the route manager and could not make a deal with the town; but, if he could he said that maybe if the town compacted the trash during the weekend perhaps one day out of the week the town could have a free day for the town employees to put couches and other items. Sanchez said that the trustees would have to talk to Jerry Wright, manager of the LCSWA, to see what could be worked out. Sanchez said that he would also discuss it with Wright and let the trustees know. Hernandez said that Carrizozo is a part of LCSWA and need the help and he doesn't want those who need the help with their trash having to foot the bill. Hernandez said that the town is just trying to help those who need it and most of those are the elderly.

Jim Payne, Carrizozo town foreman, said that the town needs to put into effect a program for the town to pick up burnable brush and take it off and burn it. The town now has

Fort Stanton Women Inmates To Leave Beginning In August

by Doris Cherry

Even though New Mexico Corrections Department will occupy Fort Stanton until the end of December, most of the women inmates housed there now will be moved out beginning in August.

According to information from the NM Department of Corrections dated June 8, a new agreement has been reached between the Corrections Department and the private Corrections Corporation of America (CCA) that will reduce the cost of housing female and male inmates. As a result, by January 2000 all state female inmates will be moved to the New Mexico Women's Correctional Facility in Grants, and the Fort Stanton Women's Correctional facility will be deactivated.

On Monday, Fort Stanton Women's Correctional Facility warden Lupe Martinez Marshall told THE NEWS the facility will be kept open through December. Since Marshall came to Fort Stanton in February after former warden Sandra McFadin left, she has improved the access for community members to provide religious programs to the women inmates. She also has continued the work release program which has 18 participants and is very popular with the inmates and the educational programs for the women Marshall said nothing has stopped at the facility.

However, by Tuesday, the Corrections Department announced that the Fort Stanton Women's Correctional Facility will be deactivated due to the contract with CCA.

Under the terms of the female inmate contract between the state and CCA, the Corrections Department will pay CCA $52 a day per maximum security female inmate and $45 a day per minimum security inmate to be housed at the Grants facility. However, the women at Fort Stanton will not go directly to Grants in August. Instead they will be taken to the South Unit at the state penitentiary in Santa Fe to wait until CCA completes construction of additional space at its Grants Women's Facility, which is scheduled to be completed in January 2000, NM Corrections Department public information officer Gerges Scott told THE NEWS.

Currently the South Unit houses 276 male inmates. But under the terms of a contract between CCA and the NM Corrections Department, beginning in August, the men

Ruidoso In Phase 2 Of Water Restrictions

by Doris Cherry

Large crowds in Ruidoso over the Memorial Day weekend drained village water tanks so low that the Phase 2 water restrictions were triggered.

Under Phase 2 of the water conservation plan, outdoor watering is limited to Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday between the hours of 5 p.m. to 10 a.m. Outdoor watering is prohibited between the hours of 10 a.m. and 5 p.m. in Phases 1, 2 and 3.

Phase 2 restrictions were triggered on Friday, June 4, when village water tanks were below the 50 foot water mark, one of the three requirements to go into the stricter conservation.

During the regular village council meeting Tuesday, June 8, village manager Alan Briley said during Memorial Day weekend tanks went as low as 33 feet. In addition to the lowered tank storage, production from the wells in Eagle Creek is down, the river flow has been reduced and the Grindstone and Alto reservoirs are also down. However since the Memorial Day weekend, the level of water in the storage tanks has come up to nearly 50 feet, Briley added. If the water levels continue to rise in the tanks, Briley said he may consider going back to Phase 1.

Briley said the water conservation plan mostly concerns outdoor watering, which

County Commissioners To Meet in Ruidoso June 20th

by Doris Cherry

Lincoln County Commissioners will conduct three public hearings and review the draft request for proposals for a new detention center during their regular meeting that starts at 9 a.m. on June 17, in Ruidoso Convention Center.

After conducting regular business in the morning, beginning at 1 p.m. commissioners will take public input on three proposed ordinances. The first would impose county-wide the second state allowed one-eighth of one percent gross receipt tax with revenue to go to an indigent health care fund. Commissioners are expected to take action on the ordinance.

The second public hearing is for a proposed ordinance that would impose the first state allowed one-eighth of one percent gross receipt tax with revenue to go to the construction of a new county detention center.

If both increments of gross receipt tax are imposed, the county's basic gross receipt tax rate will go to 5.375 percent gross receipt tax. Current county rate is 5.125 percent, one of the lowest in the state. Any new gross receipt tax increment approved now will not begin until January 2000.

Commissioners will hold their last hearing to take public input on a possible project to be funded by a a place to burn the brush. The trustees discussed residents piling up just their brush by the curb twice a month and the town picking it up. The town will put a notice in the paper stating that on the first and third Friday of the month, starting in July, the town employees will be picking up only burnable brush. The brush will be required to be placed in accessible place, by the curb if possible, for the town employees to pick it up. If there is any trash or paper included with the brush, it will not be picked up. The resident wanting their brush picked up will have to call 648-2143 to let the town know that the brush is there.

Carrizozo Chief of Police Angelo Vega gave the police department general report to the trustees. Vega said that his officers will be doing as much traffic enforcement as they can. He said that they enforce the city and state laws as equal to all people as well as they can and will continue to do so.

Municipal Judge C. O. Rominger gave the municipal judge general report to the trustees. Discussion of the traffic ordinance relating to unlawful riding was held at this time. Rominger told the trustees that he had a call from an attorney who asked how Native Americans traveling from reservation to reservation in the back of a truck would be notified at the edge of town that they could not ride in the back of the pickup through town because there is not a state law that states riding in the back of a pickup exactly like this.

Rominger called the Municipal League in Santa Fe and faxed them a copy of the ordinance. Rominger was told that it is quite a bit different from the New Mexico state law and maybe it should be rewritten. Rominger is supposed to receive a letter from them with this information. Rominger says that he likes the one Carrizozo has; however, he can see their point about somebody coming through Carrizozo and not knowing about the ordinance.

Lovelace said that when this ordinance was written it was basically for the town people in the Carrizozo city limits. She said, "if they are in town and they are just cruising town then I expect the police department to stop them and say you can't do that. If they are passing through town, don't stop anywhere, they don't cruise anywhere, they're just going through town. I would say that common sense tells you people are not from here... and, you know, this is to protect our children..."

Rominger said he understood and knows what the town is trying to do, but, this is in conflict with the state statutes and that is the problem. Lovelace said she can not see a problem and she also said that if the police department doesn't have a problem with it then leave it alone. Lovelace said "that she would expect the chief to tell his employees that they are not to cite people going through town that this is to protect our citizens..."

Rominger said that he would get a legal determination of the ordinance and bring it back to the trustees. Rominger said he had no problem with the ordinance but apparently there is a point of law concerning the ordinance.

Lovelace said that she hoped that they could stick with the townspeople because it is for their protection.

Pat Voss presented Lodgers Tax Advisory Board (LTAB) recommendations to the trustees. The recommendations that were approved are: 1) purchasing 20 dozen train whistles at $10.00 per dozen for a total of $200.00; 2) purchasing 144 train engineer caps at $2.00 each for a total of $288.00; 3) printing "1899 Carrizozo 1999" across the front of the caps by Barb's East Coast Subs at $2.00 each for a total of $288.00; and 4) purchasing an irrigation system for the caboose from Carrizozo Hardware for $428.50. The LTAB also recommended spending $1,500.00 to advertise the events to be held in August for Carrizozo's centennial. This item was not on the agenda so the trustees could not act on it. It will be put on the next regularly scheduled meeting agenda.

Jim Payne told the trustees that Dean Pool Service, from Roswell, came to check for a filtration system for the Carrizozo swimming pool. Dean Pool Service gave the town a price of $19,041.02 for the new filtration system. This price includes new pump, four filters, plumbing, sand, and installation. The system needs to be approved by the state engineer's office and the environmental department. It does not include a stand that drops pellets as needed into the pool. There is one of these at the pool and if it can not be used this would be about $250.00 more.

Payne was asked what the time frame for installing the system would be. He said he would not know until approval of the system has been received by the state engineer's office and the environmental department.

Lindsay motioned to approve Dean Pool Service using in the new filtration system for the swimming pool with the approval of the state engineer's office and the environmental department. This motion was approved by the trustees.

Town clerk Carol Schlarb said that since the amount was over $10,000 they should go out for bid again. The first time it went out for bids there was no response. Schlarb said that just because there was no response when it went out for bid for one month on Pro Pools specifications the town can not go back to that and then take the first offer after that bid has closed. That RFP is closed and the town can not go back to that.

Lovelace asked how long the town had to advertise. She wondered if the town could advertise it on Thursday and close it on Friday. Schlarb said that if the council feels that one day is sufficient enough for any competitive proposal that is fine.

Lindsay rescinded his motion.

Silva made the motion to advertise when approval has been received of the filtration system, using Dean Pool Service specifications. The advertisement will be published June 17, close on June 21, and be awarded June 22. This motion was approved by the trustees.

The trustees approved Jimmy Luna and Mary Val Luna's petition for formal determination of abandonment and vacation.

Hernandez read a memorandum by the town attorney, David Stevens, concerning litigation of town owned property. This concerns Michael Cain versus Carrizozo. Some of the items, stated in the memorandum were: there was a dismissal with lack of prosecution; it was an involuntary dismissal for failure of the plaintiff to prosecute, Cain can not re-file this prosecution, Cain can file an appeal of the dismissal which Stevens considers unlikely, it is Stevens' opinion that the town is free to remove all of Cain's former belongings from the property, inventory them, and advertise them for auction to satisfy Cain's remaining obligations to the town of Carrizozo.

Vega told Hernandez that he has gone to the property and videoed the items that are there. Vega said that Stevens suggested that the town give the golf cart to Mr. Wheeler and receive a receipt for that. Then Stevens suggested that the maintenance crew and maintenance secretary do a complete inventory with a witness and prepare the items for an auction or for what ever the town could use. Hernandez asked Payne to do that and use one of Vega's officers for the witness. Hernandez asked that it be done within the next couple of days. The trustees approved a motion to inventory, store, and advertise for public auction.

Items that were tabled by the trustees were: memorandum regarding annexation process, public hearing on Proposed Ordinance 204 relating to Fireworks Restriction, and proclamation relating to Fireworks Restrictions.

Hernandez read a letter from Capitan Mayor Renfro asking Carrizozo to reject any LCSWA rate increase for refuse collection. No action was taken, on this as Carrizozo has not been approached with a rate increase at this time.

Hernandez also read a letter from the New Mexico Municipal League which appointed Hernandez to be a member of the Public Infrastructure and Communications Policy Committee.

The next regularly scheduled meeting of the Town of Carrizozo Board of Trustees will be held at City Hall on June 22 at 8:00 p.m. improvements fund and debt service on bonds), total $4,063,918 in estimated revenues, $668,944 transfers to other departments, expenditures of $3,036,595. Beginning balance from the 1998-99 fiscal year is estimated at $4,437,888 which includes $1,615,040 in required bond reserve funds. Estimated ending cash balance for the 1999-2000 fiscal year is $4,796,267.

Overall the budget starts with an estimated beginning cash balance of $2.7 million (from the 1998-99 fiscal year) and projected ending cash balance of $1.8 million (at the end of fiscal year 1999-2000) in all unrestricted funds. Combined with restricted funds, the preliminary budget shows a projected beginning balance of $8,809,097 and a projected ending balance of $7,533,878.

All departments have at least two months operations funds in reserve in case of fluctuations in revenues, Briley said.

"This was one of the easiest budgets I have done since I've been with the village," Briley said. One reason was a change in the way the budget was presented to village departments. Briley said this year management gave each department so much money to work with, instead of allowing departments to ask for what they want.

"That was one of the most critical things we changed," mayor Robert Donaldson said. In the previous process budgets were set too high and had to be parred down, he continued. With this process finance projects revenue then departments have to work with the money they have.

"This allows us to be extremely conservative," Donaldson added.

Councilor Bill Chance commended finance officer McKnight for "putting up with our nitpicking" during the budget workshops. Chance commended the new format for being easier to work with. "This budget seems very fiscally responsible," Chance said.

Briley also said the new budget includes a new way of dealing with equipment replacement and capital projects. Usually equipment requests and capital projects are the first items to get cut in a tight budget. This year the budget sets aside $114,000 from the general fund for a capital improvement plan. Also any funds left from the previous fiscal year budget will go toward an equipment replacement plan. "This way we don't have to go 20 years before we get new vehicles or motorgraders," Briley said.

Donaldson commented on the two percent reduction in the projected revenue from gross receipt taxes. He said this forced the council and village finance department to look at historical expenditures that typically were at 98 percent of the amounts budgeted. "So we removed the two percent fluff," Donaldson said.

"This is a new process, but we're excited and think we can do wonderful things for Ruidoso," Donaldson concluded.

Since there was no public input on the preliminary budget, councilors approved it unanimously. The preliminary budget now goes to the state Department of Finance and Administration (DFA) for review and recommendations if necessary. Once the current fiscal year ends on June 30 and ending cash balances are known, the council will approve its final 1999-2000 fiscal year budget, usually some time in August.

County will Receive Special Drug Grant $$$

by Doris Cherry

Lincoln County will receive more than $280,000 in grants to operate its drug enforcement unit, but will spend a total of $171,466 for the special drug enforcement officers.

Lincoln County has budgeted to receive a $200,000 federal grant to operate the Lincoln County Drug Enforcement Unit, and $80,708 from a New Mexico High Intensity Drug Traffic Area partnership grant.

The federal grant enforcement grant requires the county to provide the salary for one full time officer, who is Frank Hooper. His salary is listed under the Lincoln County Sheriff's Office that gets its revenue from the county general fund that is financed with county property taxes. Hooper's base salary is $29,827, plus the county's group insurance match of 4.858, PERA of $5,518, and FICA/Medicare of $2,281, and workers compensation payment of $1,308. His total cost to the county with his base salary and benefits is $49,793.

Other county employees under the Drug Enforcement Unit are paid directly by the drug enforcement grant with no funds from the county general fund. These are drug enforcement officers Minerva Davalos, whose base salary is $28,001, plus benefits of $2,142 FICA/Medicare, PERA $5,189, workers comp $1,229, and group insurance of $3,877, totalling $40,229; Alex Hinson whose base salary is $28,001, plus benefits of $2,142 FICA/Medicare, $5,180 PERA, $1,229 workers comp, and $4,712 group insurance, totalling $41,264; Gilbert Sambrano who receives from the county under this grant a base salary of $4,584, FICA/Medicare of $347, PERA $839 for a total of $5,720. The rest of Sambrano's salary is paid by the village of Ruidoso. The drug enforcement unit is provided with overtime pay of $37,585 plus benefits totalling $40,460 for overtime.

Total personal services for these officers, without Hooper is $127,673. With Hooper the total cost of employees for the drug enforcement unit is $171,466. These figures include a five percent pay increase from last year.

In addition to the federal drug enforcement grant, the county receives funding from 1998 and 1999 NM HIDTA partnership grants totalling $80,708. Of these funds $3,000 is for overtime salaries, $19,078 for facilities, $24,988 for services, $31,647 for equipment. Last year a vehicle was purchased from these funds for equipment.

Some of the results of this special unit are seizures of money, vehicles, weapons, personal property such as computers and electronic notebooks, real estate, and other items taken from individuals who are charged with illegal drug possession/operations. This fiscal year, the sheriff's office is budgeting $5,500 in revenues. In 1997-98 fiscal year, the actual seizure receipts was $15,300 with $793 investment income, the 1998-99 fiscal year budgeted revenue is $22,000 with $800 investment income.

For fiscal year 1999-2000 the budgeted expenditures are nothing for confidential funds (used to purchase drugs for undercover officer to use in drug buys to catch drug dealers) because the HIDTA grant will cover this; $1,000 for vehicle maintenance, $1,000 for vehicle fuel; $500 for towing fees; $1,000 for storage fees; $1,000 for capital outlay equipment for a total of $5,500 in expenditures.

During the Lincoln County

Commissioners' budget hearing on April 29, Lincoln County Treasurer Joan Park said that the county must give 12 percent of all revenue from seizure operations to the District Attorney's office and share half of the rest with the Village of Ruidoso. That leaves the county with only 44 percent of the seizure revenues. The estimated revenue for this year's seizure fund is still uncertain because some real estate seized is involved with legal issues.

C'ozzo Police Seize Narcotics And Firearms

Carrizozo police officer James Steek, assisted by Lincoln County Sheriff's Office, recovered several firearms from a Carrizozo residence early Saturday morning.

According to information from Carrizozo Chief of Police Angelo Vega, at about 1 a.m. on Saturday, May 29, officer Steek obtained a search warrant for a residence on H. Ave. in Carrizozo. From the house, officers recovered several firearms including a fully automatic long rifle, a small quantity of narcotics, drug paraphernalia, and money.

Lincoln County Sheriff's Deputy Randy Haskins brought in his trained dog to locate any items that were overlooked by officers.

Vega said this was a successful search and seizure and he was pleased that his department and the Lincoln County Sheriff's Office worked so well together.

One arrest was made and others could follow, Vega said.

In other police activity, on Saturday, May 22, Carrizozo police officers Steek and Rocky Sanchez responded to a report of a burglary at Carrizozo Recreation Center. Officers searched the building and found that the only item taken was a Sony Play Station and eight games. Sanchez said it was obvious the suspects knew what they wanted.

Vega asks that anyone who has any information on this matter, or any parent whose child has recently obtained a Sony Play Station please call the Carrizozo Police Department at 648-2351.

THOUGHTS

FROM THE EDITOR'S DESK

Going back to basics

By Ruth Hammond

The Y2K situation has many people worried about what could happen at 12:01 a.m. January 1, 2000. Several people this past week have had a pre-experience. Seems this past week computers have been on the blitz at several different locations and it has caused extreme frustration for the operators of these newfangled gizmos. In the old days, before computers were the only way to keep records, people used pencil and paper, or ball point pens and ledger books. Can you imagine keeping records that way today?

We were told that when Mr. Thornton had a grocery store in Carrizozo decades ago that he would write down the cost of each item on a small receipt book, listing each item and the price. He had a carbon between the receipt book, one copy for the customer and one for Mr. Thornton's records. Can you imagine how long it would take today to have a store clerk hand write the name of each item and the price of each item and add the figures?

Or how about the minutes of the court proceedings or the county commission meetings? These were hand written with quite a flourish at times. The display of Bob Olinger's wallet and probate proceedings that is on the wall in the Lincoln County Clerk's office contains some of this writing. The minutes of county commission meetings were hand written in a large ledger. Can you imagine how long it would take the county clerk to hand write the minutes of the marathon meetings the county commissioners have been holding?

The thought of having to go back to the "good old days" may be nostalgic but not many people are willing to actually do it. It would mean having to wait weeks for your driver's license to be returned from Santa Fe instead of getting it when you applied for it. It would mean having to hand write letters instead of e-mail, which is the most popular way of communication these days. It would mean having to wait in line while cashiers totaled purchases on hand crank adding machines. And it would mean that you would have a real live person talking to you on the phone instead of voice mail.

If you wanted to order something by mail you would have to wait while the clerk looked through catalogs to find out if the item was in stock, all on your long distance bill of course. And then you would have to wait for the order to be hand written, hand packaged and delivered. By the time the item arrived you might not need it.

Maybe you might enjoy some of the "good old days" but the majority of people are accustomed to doing things faster today. The electronic era is quite different from years ago. Washing machines have replaced rub boards, dryers have replaced clotheslines, mixers have replaced hand beaters, electric impact tools have replaced hand wrenches, and computers have replaced hand crank adding machines. Electronic scanners in many businesses have replaced the old method of hand writing the name and cost of each purchase.

Even if you don't like some of the newfangled gizmos, they have made things much easier. Typing on a keyboard to list names and addresses of family and friends is easier than the old card file method. It might not be quite as dependable if the Y2K situation gets as bad as some people think it might, and you might want to print a hard copy to keep on file. Hard copy is the new term for a paper copy. Electronic lingo has even changed the terminology.

Saving is another computer terminology that is important. If you do use a computer, you should save your files often. If you don't save your files often, you could be in a situation far worse than Y2K. You might have to actually use a pencil and paper.

Natural Gas Budget

$11,000 for transportation including fuel for three pickups, two backhoes and one trencher, $12,500 for maintenance and repair, and $20,428 other operation and expenses such as communications, meals and travel, education, rental of equipment, service expense to install lines.

Net operation revenue is $10,172, added to interest on investments the total net operation revenue projected for 1999-2000 is $13,672.

Non-operational expenses include a $45,000 bond payment, leaving a negative net cash revenue of $31,328. The loss will be taken from the cash balance at the start of the 1999-2000 fiscal year of $178,754.14, leaving an estimated cash balance on June 30, 2000 of $147,426.

During the regular meeting of May 19, board members discussed the price of the gas, which office administrator Strickland said she used last year's fixed price of gas. Renfro asked why the cost is different when they get the bill for the gas from the provider. Strickland said the cost of service stays the same, but the cost of gas varies due to the current BTU value. Strickland said the additional cost is passed on to the customers.

Vega then wanted to discuss the budget in closed session. But Montes said they could table the budget, but they could not discuss it in closed session, only limited personnel matters and litigation were discussed in closed session. Hernandez made the motion to table the budget and the budget resolution until the special May 26 meeting.

The board also opened three proposals for auditing the 1998-99 finances, then tabled awarding the bid until they could review and evaluate them all. At the May 26 meeting, the board approved the proposal from De'Aun Willoughby to conduct the audit for $3,500, with option to renew for two additional years.

From now on all CCNG employees who drive a company vehicle must have a valid drivers license. The board approved the policy recommended by the insurance carrier because CCNG is liable for the actions of its employees. Hernandez said it was a safety precaution.

Carrizozo resident Linda King will get a letter advising her the lien against her property from CCNG will remain until she pays her past due bills or makes arrangements for the bills to be paid. Whitaker said the letter should request King do the best she can when she can in paying the bill.

Montes also commented that he had invited THE NEWS to report on the meeting. "So the public can have a better understanding of what we do," Montes said. Vega said he thought it was a good idea since LINCOLN COUNTY NEWS provides good information and CCNG does serve both communities. "It is a very good weekly paper," Vega added.

At the May 26 meeting, after the board approved the 1999-2000 budget and resolution, it recessed into executive session to discuss limited personnel matters. After coming out of closed session, the board directed that letters of caution about their job performance be written to Strickland and Vallejos. Strickland would not elaborate on what the letters involved.

Inside The Capitol

by Jay Miller

SANTA FE Gov. Gary Johnson has made no secret about his contempt for the other two branches of state government that have stood in the way of his running the state as he pleases.

Apparently Johnson believed the legislative and judicial branches of government would be answerable to him, or at least that they wouldn't be able to thwart his plan to make government run like a business.

Last year the New Mexico Supreme Court put the official seal on Gov. Johnson's contempt for that body by declaring him in contempt of court, an action no one has been able to find elsewhere in our state's history. The issue related to Johnson's insistence on enacting his own welfare plan, despite the Legislature having passed a different version. The court told the governor he couldn't implement his program without legislative approval. Johnson went ahead anyway, so the court held him in contempt.

The governor and Legislature are fighting again over the Medicaid portion of the welfare plan. The Legislature wants to see figures on Johnson's claimed savings. The governor, thus far, has refused. The interim Legislative Finance Committee has given Johnson until July 1 to produce the documents or else the Legislature will employ its rarely used subpoena power. If Johnson ignores that, as he did the court's order, the Legislature likely will hold him in contempt.

David Miller, who usually represents Johnson in dealings with lawmakers, thinks he can head off the confrontation by arranging a meeting between his boss and legislative leaders to decide what information should be supplied.

But it may not be that easy. Gov. Johnson has demonstrated a definite aversion over the years to getting his hands dirty dealing with lawmakers. He much prefers to let others do it and then decide whether he likes the outcome. Even if Johnson meets with legislative leaders, it may not be possible to agree on the information that is needed to prove the cost effectiveness of the changes he has made to the Medicaid plan because Johnson says many of those records don't exist.

If this scenario plays out the way it appears headed, it could produce the biggest battle of wills yet between the executive and legislative branches of government. All Republicans on the powerful LFC joined the Democrat majority in requesting the needed information and at least one GOP lawmaker included some very pointed words toward the governor.

Sen. Joe Carraro, an Albuquerque Republican, said during the LFC discussion, "For me to do my job, I need as much information as possible and the Legislature has the right to that information."

The information the Legislature is requesting relates to privatization, one of the hallmarks of the Johnson administration. Since taking office four years ago, Gov. Johnson has contended that it is more efficient and economical to shift certain government functions to private companies and to contract with temporary employment agencies to perform work previously handled by state employees. Johnson has used these two practices to cut state government by some 1,700 employees, a figure he used often during his reelection campaign last year. Another campaign theme was that the state will save $400 million with his new Medicaid program.

The Legislature now is asking where it can find that $400 million savings, considering that administrative requests for Medicaid funding keep increasing.

Privatization of prisons has been a sore point for several years. Johnson claimed he could house prisoners for half the cost with private prisons and fired a corrections secretary who disagreed with him. But Johnson's request for prison funding also rose this year. Another frequently asked question is how many of those 1,700 state jobs that have been cut are we still funding in the private sector.

There may be good answers to all these questions, but lawmakers want to see the evidence. And they have the right to see it.

Ruidoso Repeals Ordinance For Collective Bargaining

by Doris Cherry

Despite appeals from blue collar and firefighters union representatives, Ruidoso Village Council voted unanimously to repeal their collective bargaining ordinance.

During their regular meeting Tuesday, June 8, council members heard from firefighter Chet Southard who said repealing the collective bargaining will adversely affect his career with the village of Ruidoso. They also heard from Henry Diaz, president of the local Steelworkers union that represents the "blue collar" village workers. Both men urged the council to retain the collective bargaining ordinance that gives village employees the explicit right to collective bargaining if a majority of the employees vote for it.

In 1994, the state legislature passed laws mandating municipalities of certain size to enter into collective bargaining if employees voted to organize. There was a sunset clause on the legislation that allowed the mandate to end on June 30, 1999 if not renewed by the legislature and signed by the governor. This year the legislature approved a bill that would have continued the collective bargaining mandate, but governor Gary Johnson vetoed it. The governor's action is now in a lawsuit.

The village ordinance repealing collective bargaining will go into effect if the state law does sunset. If the lawsuit succeeds and the legislation is allowed, continue collective bargaining, then the Ruidoso ordinance repealing the collective bargaining would be void. Mayor Robert Donaldson said the purpose of the repeal is to get the village out of collective bargaining. "I'm not a real fan of collective bargaining in government," Donaldson said. He added that did not mean he had no concerns for the employees. Instead he preferred to offer employees schedule wage increases, additional benefits and options for wage increases due to training, education, certification and merit based. Donaldson said he met with the blue collar workers and understands why they wanted collective bargaining. He said that he would rather deal with employee concerns in house.

Also, Donaldson said he is reasonably sure that after Johnson's term is over, the state will elect another democrat who will bring back collective bargaining.

Councilor Bill Chance said he hoped the village will provide opportunities to address employee concerns and salaries.

Councilor Bob Sterchi, whose career was in human resources, said he also was not a big fan of collective bargaining, but he understands why some employees like it. "But I think employees will flourish in the programs we are proposing," Sterchi said.

Southard said collective bargaining gave firefighters a voice to sit with management and come up with a mutual agreement. He said it took collective bargaining to get what they got. "We had gotten no raises or step increases before collective bargaining," Southard said. "When we have collective bargaining we have a real say."

Southard agreed village manager Alan Briley worked well with employees and the employee committee for non-union employees was a good idea. But he predicted that without collective bargaining, employees will come to the manager every two weeks to handle complaints. "Your decision will affect my entire career," Southard said.

Diaz said the blue collar workers want to keep collective bargaining because they have a voice. While the village council was promising a lot of good stuff, Diaz asked what would happen in three or four years when the current councilors are gone. He said with the union, the employees have gained a lot of respect and salary increases. "We had to fight for them," Diaz said. He added that for eight or 10 years employees got no raises. "You've got a lot of good employees in the union and if you take care of them it will make your job a hell of a lot easier," Diaz added. "So show the employees respect and pay them." He then urged councilors to vote against repealing the collective bargaining ordinance.

Looking to improve employee relations, the village plans to incorporate the grievance procedure that was part of the negotiated bargaining agreement. A public hearing is set for the June 29 council meeting on adopting this to the village personnel ordinance. Also Donaldson said he asked the workers to look at things in the collective bargaining agreement that are important to employees that can be incorporated into the personnel policy. "It is incumbent on us to keep our employees happy," Donaldson said.

What most bothered Donaldson about collective bargaining was the fact that the state forced it on the municipalities. "We can still have collective bargaining without the state statute," Donaldson added.

"It was wrong that employees went so many years without a salary increase," Donaldson continued. "And collective bargaining will be back if we don't do our job. I've got three more years (as mayor) so I am committed to

THOSE WHO REMEMBER. Several elderly veterans listened solemnly and remembered as names of men who died in action were read during the 10th annual War Veterans Memorial Service at Fort Stanton on May 29. Several younger people and boy scouts and their leaders also attended the ceremony that included invocation by Rep. Dub Williams, recognition by Victor Schaefer, national anthem by Katie Armstrong Ruidoso High School flutist, benediction by Rev. Jeamsie Price and taps to close the ceremony as the flag was raised to full mast.

Ruidoso Okays Issuance Of Industrial Bonds For Hotel

by Doris Cherry

Ruidoso Village Council, during a special meeting June 8, approved an ordinance that authorized the issuance of industrial revenue bonds in the maximum amount of $8,770,000 to finance the convention hotel that will be operated by Hotel Ruidoso, L.L.C.

Village attorney John Underwood explained that the village has no liability on the bonds or indebtedness for the bonds. The bonds also will not affect property taxes. Instead, Hotel Ruidoso, L.L.C. will be liable for payment of the bonds.

According to the ordinance

Hotel Ruidoso, L.L.C. will purchase the bonds at a private sale. Also, the rental payment from Hotel Ruidoso L.L.C. for lease of the property must be sufficient to pay the bond debt of $335,209 in 1999 and $701,600 each year from year 2000 to 2029 which renders the financing of the project "entirely self-liquidating."

The ordinance explicitly states the village has no obligation toward payment of the bond from its general funds, or contribute to the costs of acquiring, constructing or equipping the project. The ordinance will be irrevocable until the bond has been paid.

The same week councilors were approving the ordinance for the revenue bonds, District Court Judge Karen Parsons was hearing a suit filed by a group of Ruidoso lodgers. The group sought an immediate restraining order against the village to stop the hotel, but Parsons did not grant the immediate order. She now has 20 days to act on the request for a stay of work on the project.

Part of the objections by the lodgers group is the portion of the marketing agreement between the village and Hotel Ruidoso L.L.C. that will provide the new hotel a minimum of $80,000 a year paid from Lodgers Tax funds. Part of the money will go toward the salary of a Convention Sales Director who will administer bookings for the convention center on behalf of the village. In addition the director will be allowed to travel and promote the convention center and do media advertising.

Historian Metz Will Speak About Pat Garrett June 12

Historian Leon Metz will speak at the Lincoln County Historical Society meeting at 7-9 p.m. Saturday, June 12, at the Hubbard Museum of the American West on Highway 70 in Ruidoso Downs.

Metz will discuss some of his new information about Pat Garrett. He will include anecdotes about his own experiences with the Garrett family, as well as some of the myths and legends that have grown up around Garrett.

Metz has lived in and written about the southwest since the early 1950's. He was a friend of the late writer Eva Ball of Ruidoso and Dr. C.E. Sonnichsen. He has more than a dozen books about history to his credit many about his hometown of El Paso. In 1995 Metz received the Saddleman Award for his contributions to western writing and research.

Ruidoso Repeals Ordinance

the employees." Southard asked what the council had against collective bargaining. "I am worried for my long term career. What you do tonight will affect my stay with the village of Ruidoso," he said.

Donaldson said he had no problem with unions in private industry, but government is unique as it operates on taxpayers money. "We can't depend on raising taxes to raise salaries," he added.

Southard said it took so much work for the employees to get where they are now. "To throw it out in one night," he said.

"What we are throwing out is the state mandate," Donaldson said. "We can do the same for employees without a state forced collective bargaining. Don't take this as us being against employees, it isn't. I promise to have my door open to talk about things we need to incorporate into the employee code."

On a roll call vote, councilors unanimously approved Ordinance 99-09 that repeals Ordinance 94-07 Collective Bargaining. Councilors Ron Anderson and Linda Flack were absent.

Memorial Tribute Race In Honor Of Kit Swedeen At Sertoma Speedway

The Sertoma Speedway board of directors has scheduled a Memorial Tribute race in honor of Colonel and Marie Swedeen's son Kit Shannon Swedeen on Friday, June 11 at Sertoma Speedway.

An anonymous group of Carrizozo friends and family of the Colonel and Marie donated $100.00 to be presented to the winner of the street stock class main event at the races held May 29 during the monster truck program. The Sertoma Board of Directors did not find the letter in time to present the $100.00 to the winner that night.

The letter with the $100 donation told of the death of Kit Shannon Swedeen, age 26, who died in a tragic traffic accident May 3, 1999 in Cleveland, OK, Kit's wife Lori, and their two daughters, the youngest being only 34 days old and a namesake Kitryna Swedeen. The letter explained that 36 hours prior to Kit's accident, their 33 year old son Torrey was in a traffic accident in Garrison, MN. He rolled five times. He is alive and in a big fight both for physical and mental survival.

The two sons both had blowouts, left front and right front tires, both on bridges, and both had brand new tires and next to new tires.

Kit was raised in the Swedeen's 22 year auction business, and a 13 year auctioneer himself, starting at the age of 13.

The letter also stated: Some of us aren't even race fans and a couple of us never have been. We are several Carrizozo residents who know they sponsor the #28 car of Josh Hammond. We used this as our way to do something for them.

A letter to the anonymous Carrizozo Friends and Family of "Colonel" and Marie Swedeen from the Sertoma Speedway Board of Directors stated:

We regret not finding your letter in time to conduct the memorial tribute in honor of Colonel and Marie Swedeen's son on the night you were all at the races. When the letter was found it was read to the other Board of Directors; we were all so touched by your thoughtfulness. It is also wonderful to have such caring people in our communities as you all are. The Colonel and Marie Swedeen have some very kind, generous, and caring friends, neighbors, and family. In response to your letter, we will be holding a Memorial Tribute race in honor of Colonel and Marie Swedeen's son, Kit Shannon Swedeen, on June 11, 1999.

To the Colonel and Marie Swedeen the Sertoma Speedway Board of Directors wrote: On behalf of Sertoma Speedway and Motorsports Sertoma Club we send you our sincerest sympathy. We join your friends in thinking of you in this difficult time. May you find comfort in the knowledge that so many people care about you and your family.

GREAT DEALS, GREAT BUYS, GREAT SERVICE

Still In Nebraska . . .

by Maureen Sullivan

Greetings from the beautiful state of Nebraska again, and again and again and at this moment and time am still not certain when I will be returning to the beautiful state of New Mexico.

Time is of the essence so they say, but up here where all things are tuned into the future am having a bit of a problem, or should I make that plural and admit that most things of any consequence present some kind of a problem to my tired anatomy. As the old adage goes, time marches on, but to some of us older folks it doesn't march anymore, it gallops, n'est ce pas? (Which means "Is that not so?") But enough of my excuses for trying to fill the page with nothingness and hoping that it will somehow sound like I have prepared for this missive.

Was a bit homesick a couple of months ago when the entertainment section of the Sunday World-Herald showed pictures of the El Morro National Monument at Ramah, New Mexico. There is something about New Mexico that you just take for granted when you are there, but when you are away, there are so many little things, and even big things, that begin to tug at your memory and you find yourself forgetting why you were so anxious to leave for a vacation and begin to sorta kinda feel a bit homesick.

The picture of the El Morro National Monument was the trigger this time for me. You see, I have never seen that monument. In fact, come to think about it, there is so very, very little of New Mexico that I can boast of visiting. We lived in Santa Fe, New Mexico when we first moved to the beautiful state, but only for a year, then we were transferred to Las Cruces, then to Roswell, and then back to Las Cruces. I was always so busy packing or unpacking that much of the time was not certain which I was doing.

The El Morro National Monument is in western New Mexico, about 45 miles south of Gallup. El Morro is a white sandstone bluff that stretches 200 feet high and the all-important 200,000 gallon water hole is at the base of the monument. However, El Morro's major distinction results from the thousands of historical drawings and signatures carved into the bluff's sandstone sides. The tradition of carving dates back to the early petroglyphs of the Anasazi Indians, ancestors to the Zuni. Attracted by both the high vantage point for purposes of defense as well as the available water supply. The Anasazi, known as master builders, constructed an 875 room pueblo atop El Morro in the 13th century.

One corner of the pueblo was excavated in the 1950s and the ruins are open to public viewing. The site is indeed intriguing and well worth the mile hike to the top of the bluff.

And hope I have interested some of you in visiting this piece of National History and may I extend my thanks and gratitude to Will Okun of the Associated Press.

Let me say adios and sayonara and a happy week to all those that read my trivia and even to those who cannot be bothered.

Forest Health Field Day Is June 12 In Ruidoso

Forest landowners are invited to attend a forest health/fire hazard reduction field day from 10 a.m. to 12 noon, Saturday, June 12, in Ruidoso.

The field day begins at the parking lot of White Mountain Primary School on White Mountain Drive. From there participants will tour the Gavilan fire that burned on May 16 and threatened homes and forced evacuation of more than 50 residents. Before the tour Ruidoso Fire Department will make a presentation on chain saw safety and maintenance. Dick Fleishmann, fire prevention, and soil conservation specialist with the US Forest Service will discuss rehabilitation efforts planned to reduce damage in the burned area. Ruidoso fire department personnel will give a demonstration on erosion control in the burn area and show how tree thinning can create defensible space zones.

The event is sponsored by the Ruidoso Fire Department, Forest Health Coalition of Lincoln County, Local Emergency Planning committee, the US Forest Service, and the New Mexico State Forestry Division. For more information call Ruidoso Fire Department at 257-4116 or NM State Forestry Division at 854-2231.

CORONA NEWS

CORONA ELEMENTARY TEACHERS Ginger Shafer (left) and Betty Ann Bell (right) presented a workshop at the state conference for the Center for Teaching Excellence in Taos on June 3, 4 & 5. Their presentation deals with strategies and materials to enhance learning in science and social studies K-6. This is their final presentation for the three year Action Research Grant which netted $8,908.20 for Corona Schools. Mrs. F. Lightfoot and Mrs. G. Bell helped with the project entitled: Super Social Sciences, the Effect of Learning Styles on Academic Performance.

The Corona School Board held a special meeting on May 25. Present were board members Rick Gage, Danny Luera, Jeanene Gibbs, Pete Gnatkowski and Denise Byrd. Also present were business manager Janet Stewart, interim superintendent Sid Miller, and Ronnie Dunsworth.

Motions made and carried were to approve Sid Miller's contract check for April; approve contract with Greer/Stafford, to release JNR Partners as architect for the rock building; to approve Lee Sultemier attending "Owner Operators Contract Course" during school bus institute this summer; to approve boundary agreements with Vaughn and Hondo Valley for the 1999-2000 school year; to approve Chapter 1 BAR; to approve Technology for Education BAR; to approve cash transfer; to approve Travis Lightfoot as principal for the year 1999-2000.

The board went into executive session with no action taken and only personnel was discussed. Meeting was then adjourned with the regular meeting of the board to be June 8 at 7:00 p.m.

Patrick Jones and Frankie Lovato of Albuquerque were married on May 23 at the ranch of Ella Hodge. This is where the couple had met. Patrick is the grandson of Loretta Proctor and son of Sissy (Proctor) Jones of Tatum. Rev. John Sprull of Estancia married the couple. Approximately 100 guests were in attendance.

Ronnie, Angie, and Payton Dunsworth took a four day trip to Rocky Ford, CO to visit Angie's mother, Mary Medina. This was Payton's first long trip, and first time to meet her other grandmother.

Had a report that there were other 4-H members entered in the rodeo at Santa Fe. Taos Muncy placed 1st in the steer roping, Victor Perez placed 3rd, and Riley Tuley placed 6th. Out of 21 entries the Corona area participants took 4 out of 5 places. Victor Perez also placed 3rd in the steer stopping, 4th in calf touch, and 4th in ribbon roping.

Competing for the first time in the novice division was Jordan Muncy who placed 5th in the goat tying and 6th in the barrels. Congratulations to these youngsters! They are headed for a rodeo in Artesia this weekend.

The Corona Summer Festival committee is still looking for persons interested in booths or have musical talent for the Summer Festival on July 25. Contact Loretta Manning at 849-1650 if interested.

Scholarships were awarded to senior Monica Alirez from NM State Regents, Marine Corp scholarship, Central NM Electric Co-op, American Legion, St. Theresa Catholic Church, Nancy Ranney Memorial, A.O. Thompson Memorial, ENMR Plateau and Masonic Lodge.

Senior Rocky Bagley received scholarships from Water and Soil Conservation, NM State Opportunity, football and agriculture scholarship to Western NM.

Senior Robert Zook received the Norwest Bank scholarship.

Senior Maryah Romans received the following scholarships: Presidential Academic, Corona Invitational Golf, ENMR Plateau, Carisoso Masonic Lodge, American Legion Post, Johnson and Wales University FFA National Student Organization, and Johnson and Wales Achievement.

Courtney Perez will be attending the Washington Leadership conference on June 17 for a week. This trip is made possible by Central NM Electric Co-op.

Corona High School held cheerleading tryouts before school ended this year. Cheerleaders for the 1999-2000 year will be Monique Johnson, captain of the team, Sunshine Luera, Rhiannon Alirez, Elyssa Winchester, and Christina Boltran.

Justin Washburn won the PRCO saddle bronco event in Ft. Smith, AR and Clovis, NM.

Graveside services will be held Friday at 2:00 p.m. for Geneva Cleary.

Tommy and Melissa Mulkey have started back to college. Tommy is at ENMU-Portales campus and Melissa is attending Clovis Community College. Jonathan and Montana are enrolled in a day care.

Ella Stewart enjoyed the company of her two grandchildren, Tyler and Taylor from Dexter. Jim Bob and Patricia brought them down and came and picked them up.

Lee and Patsy Mulkey, Byron and Cathy Yancey, Bill and Carolyn Wilson have just returned from a two week trip to Alaska.

They left from Albuquerque on May 22 and flew to Vancouver, Canada. They stayed there two days and went to Vancouver Island and went to Victoria on a ferry. It was most amazing that the ferry carried 20 greyhound buses on the bottom deck, the 2nd floor carried cars, and the main deck was a restaurant and for viewing.

On the 24th they boarded the "Crown Princess" which held 1900 passengers and 500 crew members. First stop was Ketchikan, Juneau, Skagway, and then docked at Seward on May 31, where they were met by Judy and Marshall Bagley of Anchorage. Judy is a former Corona resident. They stayed with the Bagleys for four days. Lee, Bill and Judy went king salmon fishing. They also visited the Native American Cultural Center, and other points of interest during their stay.

Byron and Cathy visited Byron's nephew, Dwayne in Kaslof, about 150 miles from Anchorage for several days. The crew returned home on June 4.

Amanda Mulkey came last week to spend the summer with grandparents, Lee and Patsy Mulkey. Amanda is from Conroy, TX.

Greg and Mary Fox from Spring, TX are visiting for a week in Corona. Greg is the grandson of Mary Fox. Children, Sandy, John and Gayle made the trip also, and brought with them eight boys from their church and their son's graduating class. They have been camping in the mountains and staying some at Lee Mulkey's cabin at Red Cloud.

Bob and Hazel Burton made a trip to Clovis on Monday to have supper with Bob's mother, Lou Thompson. Visiting Mrs. Thompson was Bob's sister, Louise Dunmore from Santa Fe, Bert and Jo Davis from Portland, MA, Pauline Davis and daughters, Irene and Linda from Amarillo, TX.

Mrs. Bernice McCord has just returned home from a two week trip to Melrose where she stayed with Lillis Hampton, her sister-in-law.

Vacation Bible School will be held June 14-18 at the Corona Baptist Church. It will be for children ages 4 through 12. Contact Margaret McConnell or Rosetta Finley if more information is needed.

Community Development Block Grant (CDBG).

Business items on the tentative meeting agenda include:

- Approval of the agenda.
- Approval of minutes from the May 20 meeting.
- Consent agenda with agreement with Otero County for the salary of the South Central Resource Conservation and Development council secretary, agreement with Southeastern New Mexico Economic Development District (SNMEDD) in exchange for the budget appropriation for membership, a resolution to continue active membership with SNMEDD, and a requested increase in the supplemental sole community health provider payment. Consent agenda is approved with one motion instead of action taken on each item.
- Regular business items in the order they appear on the tentative agenda include:
  - An update from NM Forestry Division ranger Barbara Luna and NM Forestry Division fire officer Bill Rogge on the fire conditions in the county.
  - Update of the fire and fireworks restrictions resolution. The resolution must be updated every 20 days to remain effective throughout the fireworks season.
  - Proclamation declaring extreme/severe drought conditions in the county. The proclamation must be declared to make the resolution to continue fire and fireworks restrictions effective.
  - Report on the military Roving Sands operation.
  - Public Land Use Advisory Council (PLUAC) reports on the Southwest Border Initiative, Clean Action Water Plan Initiative and comments on the Fort Stanton Plan.
  - Action on Lodgers Tax expenditures recommendations.
  - Review of request for proposals for a new detention center.

LINCOLN COUNTY, AUGUST 11, 1972, IN TUBE NO. 458.

The address of the real property is 220 East Rainbow Drive, Ruidoso, NM 88345. Said sale will be made pursuant to the Decree of Foreclosure entered on May 8, 1999, in the above entitled and numbered cause, which was a suit to foreclose a note and mortgage held by the above plaintiff and wherein plaintiff was adjudged to have a lien against the above-described real estate in the sum of $108,887.93, plus interest from December 1, 1998 to the date of sale at the rate of 8.500% per annum, or $22.46 per day, the costs of sale, including the Special Master's fee, publication costs, and plaintiff's costs expended for taxes, insurance or keeping the property in good repair. Plaintiff has the right to bid at such sale and submit its bid verbally or in writing. The Plaintiff may apply all or any part of its judgment to the purchase price in lieu of cash.

At the date and time stated above, the Special Master may postpone the sale to such later date and time as the Special Master may specify.

NOTICE IS FURTHER GIVEN that the real property and improvements concerned with herein will be sold subject to any and all patent reservations, easements, all recorded and unrecorded liens not foreclosed herein, and all recorded and unrecorded special assessments and taxes that may be due.

NOTICE IS FURTHER GIVEN that the purchaser at such sale shall take title to the above-described real property subject to rights of redemption.

Dated: May 21, 1999.

Women Inmates

Inmates in the South Unit will be moved to the CCA men's facility in Estancia in Torrance County. The reason for the move is cost. The contracted cost to incarcerate the men at CCA in Estancia is $48 a day per inmate. The estimated cost to house inmates at the South Unit is $90 a day per inmate.

"This agreement changes our current cost of housing female inmates from one of the most expensive in the country to perhaps the cheapest," NM Corrections Secretary Robert Perry said in a release.

The release also states that the deactivation of Fort Stanton as a women's correction facility was mandated by the legislature.

Scott told THE NEWS that many of the staff now at the Fort Stanton facility will have the option to transfer to the state corrections facility south of Roswell, or to any other state facility. "We have vacancies all over," Scott said. "We don't anticipate any layoffs or firing due to the moves."

Scott also said that CCA will have positions open for any current corrections staff who wish to apply. However, employees who leave the state for CCA cannot transfer their Public Employees Retirement Act (PERA) benefits.

Once the female inmates are moved out of the South Unit at the Main Penitentiary, the unit will be vacant for a period of time as the department readies the facility for the increase of inmates expected under the Truth in Sentencing Law that takes effect July 1999. The department anticipates the need for an additional 400 beds to accommodate the inmates who will not be released because of the changes in the good time law enacted in the 1999 legislative session.

FACTS & FICTION

by BETTY LOU JOINER

Last week was a sad one with three special people no longer being around. N.E. Britton (Nigger) died Sunday, May 16. Understand he had been having trouble trying to beat cancer. Many of his friends will miss him and know several from Mesalero will hate to hear of his death. Nigger had been in Texas close to over a year. Carlton had come and moved him to a retirement home close to where he lived. Jack Pogue's funeral was held on Monday the 17th at the Trinity Baptist Church. Jack and Jenny had given much to the town of Capitan in the years they had made their home here.

In Glencoe I have already made close friends with so many of my customers. Vic Brooks has been one that had made me feel really welcome and he had such a positive attitude about everything. He loved his job with security at the race track, had said that the new casino was really an asset and the food there was the best he had eaten in a long time. Hearing of his passing still has me thinking it just can't be true. Inez, we all send our sympathy to you and your family. He was a part of a big family and spoke highly of all of them.

Della and David attended the birthday party for Johnny Bond on May 15. Johnny how old were you? I know you can't be a day over 40 right? Wish we could tell everyone about all the laughs we have when David and Johnny got together. What one didn't think of the other one did. Wish I could have been there but still send our best wishes and hope you have at least 40 more.

Mescalero's big fire that burned for close to a week really made us realize how dry our area is. Understand there was another fire in Ruidoso too. May 20 when we all met at the ENMU college for our final computer class that was on power point we could all see the smoke from the fire from miles away. Closure of the road meant it had been pretty big. Mary Weaver, our computer teacher, let us bring some goodies and we ordered pizza to enjoy one last class.

Lisa Phillips and Charlene Worrell had given their presentations the week before. Art and caring for the terminally ill were their subjects. Showing collies, buying fire wood, about Texas, what the library has to offer, Merrill Lynch information, hummingbirds, New Mexico history in stamps, Jamaica and about art were the many different and unusual presentations given by our bunch. This was about the most fun we had in these classes and I am already hoping to incorporate these presentations into my stamp presentations to the third graders.

Becky Sebring, Pat Williams, Carrie West, Willa Stone, Ruth Gatto, Nancy Barone, Mrs. Stephens, and Mandy were some of us that had become friends while helping each other out trying to learn these programs. We all would like to thank Mary for her constant help in and out of class. We all hope to be back this fall to continue with the advanced class. You better plan to join in. We missed Karen Butaud and the Andersons at the last three classes.

Friends of Smokey meeting that was held last week had the annual community update report. Norm Renfro reported on the city agenda. Larry Bandy reported on the state park, and Diana Billingsley was there to encourage everyone to be sure and vote for the bond issue. Glad it passed and if you go to the school at all you know how bad more room is needed. I went to see about picking up the folders the stampers had done in the past year today. The books that each class writes each year were out in the hall for parents and friends to read. You should go by and look at these works of art. It makes you appreciate what our teachers have done through the year. The individuality of each book is so interesting.

Vic and Jean Schaefer were Glencoe visitors two weeks ago. They always come by Fort Stanton at this time to get ready for the Memorial Day services, so they had come by to mail some programs out. It is always good to see two people who have really made a difference in a landmark. Vic showed me a letter that he had received from

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING

The Town of Carrizozo Governing Body invites you to attend the 4th Public Hearing on Tuesday, June 22, 1999 at 5:00 p.m., at Town Hall Conference Room, Carrizozo, N.M. The purpose of the public hearing is to discuss the Small Cities Community Development Block Grant (CDBG) Program to advise citizens of the program objectives, range of activities that can be applied for and provide other pertinent information; to obtain the views of citizens on community development and housing needs to include the needs of low and moderate income people. The CDBG program is designed to meet activities which will address one to three state and national objectives.

1. Benefit principally low-moderate income families.
2. Aid in the prevention or elimination of slum and blight.
3. Meet other community development needs of recent origin which pose a serious and immediate threat to the health and welfare of the community.

All counties and municipalities under 50,000 population are eligible to apply. Applicants may apply for funding assistance under categories including: COMMUNITY INFRASTRUCTURE, HOUSING, PUBLIC SERVICE CAPITAL OUTLAY, ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT, EMERGENCY, PLANNING AND COLONIAS.

Complete information concerning this program can be obtained at the public hearing along with information on how to receive technical assistance on preparing a proposal for consideration. For further information, contact Carol Schlarb, Town Clerk at 648-2371, Carrizozo, New Mexico 88301. The public is encouraged to attend.
