

Ordinance May Change Zoning In County Areas

by Doris Cherry

The Ruidoso-Lincoln County Extraterritorial Zoning Authority and commission will hold a public hearing Monday, June 21 at 6:30 p.m. in the Ruidoso Village Administration Center on a proposed ordinance that will totally overhaul the rules for development and land use in the Extraterritorial Zone (ETZ).

The ETZ is an area extending one mile from the village of Ruidoso municipal boundaries into county lands. The proposed ordinance would impose all rules and regulations concerning the development and use of land within the ETZ that are now imposed on properties within the village of Ruidoso.

An ETZ currently exists, loosely administered by the Lincoln County planning department. However, the Ruidoso Village council and mayor have complained about the need for the village to administer the ETZ because the village has the staff and know how.

Notice of the public hearing was published only in the RUIDOSO NEWS on June 14 and June 18, even though the property affected is solely in the county.

Under the terms of the proposed new ordinance, the ETZ administration will be given over to the Village of Ruidoso planning department. Property owners in the ETZ will have to request variances and special use permits by filling out applications on forms provided by the Ruidoso planning department. Business registrations will be required of any person doing business in the ETZ, with applications to be submitted to the Village of Ruidoso planning department 10 days before the start of business.

Property owners will also be required to have zoning permits before constructing, altering or reconstructing structures. Permits will be issued by the Ruidoso village planning department. Applications for the zoning permits must be done in triplicate, drawn to scale by a registered surveyor, architect or engineer. The zoning permit will be good for two years.

Before a structure can be occupied, a certificate of zoning compliance must be issued by the Ruidoso planning administrator.

Also under the new ordinance, property owners will be required to submit a site plan and have it approved by the ETZ commission before construction or development can begin. The site plan must be done by a registered engineer, surveyor or architect.

Appeals will be allowed, after filing a $40 non-refundable fee with each notice of appeal. Appeals will be heard

Ruidoso Approves Election For Employee Retirement Program

by Doris Cherry

Ruidoso village employees will have opportunity to vote for an increase in their retirement plans on June 25.

Ruidoso Village Council approved resolutions authorizing the employee election during its regular meeting of June 8.

Under state law, a majority of affected employees must adopt the coverage plan under the Public Employees Retirement Act (PERA). Ruidoso firefighters requested they be allowed to go to PERA Plan 5 which would give them a retirement of 3.5 percent of their annual salary per year of service. Under this plan a firefighter could retire in 20 years with 70 percent of his or her average salary and a maximum of 80 percent of his or her salary at the end of 25 years. The village would contribute 21.25 percent of the employee's annual salary and the employee would contribute 16.2 percent of his or her annual salary toward the retirement plan.

Village manager Alan Briley said one of the firefighters' concerns was retirement. "They brought this to us and asked us if we thought it was good," Briley said about the request for Plan 5. "We do think it is good."

Briley added that the PERA request was not part of the collective bargaining process. Ruidoso Mayor Robert Donaldson said he thought it important for firefighters to have the higher PERA plan. "The average employment of firefighters is 18 months," Donaldson said. "Maybe this will encourage them to stay (with the village) longer."

Councilors also approved a resolution authorizing an election of PERA Plan 2 for general employees on June 25. Under Plan 2, general employees could retire with 62.5 percent of the annual salary after 25 years of service with a maximum of 75 percent of annual salary. The village would contribute 9.15 percent and the employee would contribute 9.15 percent of his or her annual salary.

Also at the June 8 meeting, councilors amended their 1998-99 fiscal year budget to provide for several grants and unexpected revenue. The village received a $13,333 grant for the village senior citizens program from Eastern NM Area Agency on Aging. This must be spent by June 30 on capital purchases, so the village dedicated $7,500 to furniture, $2,000 to computer hardware, $2,933 for equipment. Another $3,770 will go to full-time salaries in the senior program.

Another special fund was established to deal with the estimated $12,000 in screening fees paid by participants of the DWI program for the remainder of this fiscal year. The funds will be spent on materials, counseling and an indigent fund.

A fund was set up for the library which received a $7,005 grant from the Gates Foundation. The money will

Capitan Clamps Down On Commercial Water Taps

by Doris Cherry

Commercial water taps in the Village of Capitan are now limited to one per lot and building.

Village trustees at their regular meeting June 14, adopted amendments to the village utility ordinance that allow only one 3/4 inch commercial water tap per lot/building, despite objections that it was very restrictive and would halt commercial growth in the village. But advocates of the amendments wanted just that.

"One meter, one lot, one building," trustee Debra Ingle defined the changes in simplistic terms.

The amendments were the result of citizens protesting commercial development in the south side of the village. A developer had requested a two inch commercial water meter, then a one inch commercial water meter for a mobile home park on the south side of the village. However, trustees tabled the request until they could further study the impact the meter would have on the inadequate water system in the subdivisions above the proposed mobile home park.

But according to the village utility ordinance in effect at the time the developer applied for the meter, the land owner was entitled to one 3/4 inch water meter, regardless for what reason. As a result the mobile home park is being developed with about 10 spaces, as opposed to the 45 spaces, then 25 spaces previously requested.

During the numerous regular and special trustees meetings and the village planning commission meetings, citizens demanded the village draft and adopt ordinances to regulate commercial water meters, where commercial operations such as mobile home parks could be located, and to regulate how such commercial developments could impact the village infrastructure.

Monday night trustees held an hour and a half long public hearing on the amendment to the water metering section of the village utility ordinance. The amendment would limit all commercial lots to just one 3/4 inch meter that would service just one building or unit. The intent of the amendment was to limit any more possible mobile home parks until the village adopts new infrastructure and subdivision ordinances, expected within 90 days.

Other amendments to the utility ordinance included the new prices of water taps and meters and rates to reflect the

Carrizozo Police Patrol Prevents Accidents

Memorial Day traditionally brings tragedy to the intersection of Highways 54 and 380 in the Town of Carrizozo.

Carrizozo Police Chief Angelo Vega said traditionally there is at least one accident at the dangerous intersection during the first holiday of the summer season. But this year, Vega put his police officers on patrol on Highway 380 and his strategy worked.

"For the first time in many years there were no accidents at the intersection on Memorial Day," Vega told THE NEWS.

Carrizozo officers issued 43 citations over Memorial Day weekend to motorists traveling through the intersection. And Vega even had a small car chase with a subject from Albuquerque who was traveling 53 miles per hour in the 35 mile per hour zone.

Vega also commended Carrizozo officer James Stock who gave a class on the use of speed detector radars to six New Mexico State Police Mounted Patrol members (state police reserve) in Ruidoso on Monday.

"I feel it is important to work with local and state agencies to make a difference in making our community and county safe for all to live in," Vega said.

Vega also said that since summer season began there have been more problems with animal control in the town. Last week officers picked up 17 dogs and a kitten. Six of the dogs were puppies that had been abandoned.

Vega recommended residents try to have dogs and cats spayed or neutered.

by the ETZ Authority. With the new proposed ordinance property owners will have to file application to re-zone their properties, then go before public hearings with the ETZ Commission and ETZ Authority.

Under the new proposed ordinance, membership in the ETZ Authority and ETZ Commission remain as before. The ETZ Authority will be made up of two members of the Board of Lincoln County Commissioners and one member of the Ruidoso Village Council, and the ETZ Commission will be made up of seven members with three appointed by the county commission and three appointed by the Ruidoso Village Council and one member from an area of the county not within the zoning jurisdiction of the municipality or in the area affected by the ETZ Zone.

Under the proposed ordinance, the Ruidoso village planning administrator will also be the ETZ administrator. The administrator will have the duty of initiating or investigating complaints or violations of the ordinance then has the power to notify the owner or tenant.

Under the new proposed ordinance, property owners seeking variances must make application and go before the ETZ commission.

Property owners will also have to go before the commission for approval of an application for special use permits. The application for special use permit must be on the form provided by the administrator and must include plot plans and drawings to indicate layout.

Fees will be imposed on every application. Change of zoning will cost $100 for property less than one-half acre, for properties of one-half acre to less than five acres $120 plus $20 an acre, $200 for first five acres and $15 for each acre up to 20 acres, $425 for the first 20 acres plus $10 for each acre beyond 20 acres.

Vacations of public right of way will cost $100 per application, special use permits or variances will cost $50, use permits will cost $10 and application to amend, supplement or repeal any use permit will cost $100.

The ordinance provides penalties of up to $500 and/or imprisonment of 90 days in the county jail for violations of the ordinance. Each day the prohibited condition exists is considered a separate offense.

The public will have opportunity to make comment on the proposed ordinance during the hearing. Copies of the proposed ordinance are available from the Lincoln County Manager's office in the Lincoln County Courthouse in Carrizozo. The manager's phone number is 505-648-2385.

Ingle, who sits on the village planning commission, said the main change in the utility ordinance concerning water is in the section on metering of water and the definition of "several." Previous wording in the section allowed that "several dwellings may utilize one" separate meter. The developer of the mobile home park had said because of that wording he was entitled to a commercial meter to serve the park that would have "several" dwellings.

Fearing that undefined "several" would lead to more and more mobile home parks within the unzoned village, residents urged the village trustees to change the wording to be more restrictive. During the June planning commission meeting citizens again urged the restrictive language. However, in order to protect existing commercial enterprises with existing meters that serve more than one commercial unit on one meter, the commission included a grandfather date of October 10, 1994. With this any commercial enterprise existing before that date would be allowed to keep their multiple commercial units.

The new section excludes motels and tourist cabins from the restriction on commercial water meters. Village attorney Dave Thomsen recommended trustees delay adopting the ordinance until he could add definitions of mobile home/RV park and other commercial units. He said lack of definition could hurt the village.

"We know this (utility ordinance) needs more work," Ingle agreed. "But we're just trying to clarify several changes."

"The planning commission does not want to stop commercial growth because this adds gross receipt taxes," Ingle continued. Rather the amendment was to call a halt to growth now until a new ordinance can clarify and define where and how commercial development can occur.

"Why not adopt the wording now removing several then amend the ordinance again to add the definitions?" Ingle asked.

Citizen Lonnie Lippmann said he, and many others at the meeting wanted to see "several" done away with that night, then work on the definitions later.

While trustees agreed, resident Robert Goddard said limiting a commercial meter to serving just one building or unit was too restrictive for commercial or residential. He was concerned the wording would not allow a resident to have a detached garage with water (for a washer for instance). "If you allow two units that would not mean you would have a trailer park," he added. Another resident was concerned the ordinance would prevent someone from having a detached greenhouse.

Ingle said she did not think the planning commission disagreed with Goddard. "But until the subdivision and infrastructure ordinances are in place we thought that the situation the village is facing with water pressure we had to put a limit, so we decided on one," Ingle added.

Thomsen said a greenhouse or a garage would not be considered separate units as long as no one lived in them.

After closing the public hearing, trustees unanimously adopted the amendments during the regular portion of their meeting.

Copies of the changes to the village utility ordinance are available at village hall.

State $$$ To Help Pay For Paving Yard Road

by Doris Cherry

Capitan Schools received notice on June 9 that it will get $64,495 from the New Mexico State Highway and Transportation Department school district 75 percent cooperative program.

The funding will be used to pave Yard Road, said school superintendent Diana Billingsley during the regular June 10 Capitan School board meeting. The district must provide a $21,495 match for a total of $85,981 available for the project. Billingsley said the plan is to begin paving Yard Road from Highway 380 and go as far as the money will take it toward Highway 48 to the south. Yard Road is half on school property and half on county property.

In addition to the Yard Road project, the district plans other projects funded with SB-9 money (derived from two mill levy on properties in the district). With $250,000 available, the board approved plans to spend $40,000 for a new storage building to be located at the southwest corner of the stadium complex, $45,000 for fire alarm systems in the high school, Traylor Gym and VoAg building, $42,000 for new heaters in the high school classrooms and hallway, $40,000 for 25 new computers, new server and printers in the middle school computer lab, $32,000 for furniture including new tables and chairs to be used in Traylor Gym, and $8,500 for an industrial size tilt skillet in the cafeteria. The list included $35,000 for a school vehicle, but that was deleted in order to provide the $21,495 match to the state highway funding for Yard Road.

Also, the board: --Awarded the sale of the $2 million in bonds to best bidder Dain Rauscher of Albuquerque which submitted the best interest rates of 4.6879974 percent. There were two other bidders with 4.85 percent and 4.9 percent interest proposed. The bid now goes through a 30 day formal protest period, which will end July 15 at which time the money from the sale of the bonds will be released to the district. School superintendent Diana Billingsley said the school engineer is already working on plans for the parking lot/bus loop projects to be undertaken this summer.

--Approved the 1999-2000 bus fleet contract with Frank Silva totalling $300,047 just for student transportation.

--Approved the 1999-2000 Boundary Agreement with Hondo Valley School District that allows five students who live in the northern portion of the Hondo District to attend Capitan Schools. The agreement now goes to the Hondo School Board for its approval then to the state school transportation department for final okay.

--Approved the Parent/Community/School Involvement plan with the Action for Children and Teachers (ACT) parent's group. The group meets from 1-3 p.m. the first Monday of each month.

--Approved the deletion of numerous inventory items that were submitted to the county auction on June 12.

--Adopted changes to board policy Section 1 that lists the time of school board meetings at 8 p.m. instead of 7 p.m. as previously listed, and Section II to make family and sick leave for administrative personnel to correspond with the rules for other employees.

--Adopted the District Strategic Plan.

--Awarded the bid for removal of the old metal storage building to Sombrero Construction for $1,400.

--Tabled action on proposed changes to the student dress code that would remove the time limitation for wearing shorts in the high school until student senate members were at the meeting to present the changes.

THOUGHTS

FROM THE EDITOR'S DESK

Zoning part of county

By Ruth Hammond

Zoning can be good for an area or it can cause problems. The proposed changes to the Ruidoso-Lincoln County Extraterritorial Zoning ordinance are interesting and may or may not be accepted by the public. The public hearing on changes to the ordinance will be held Monday, June 21 at 6:30 p.m. in the Ruidoso Village Hall. If you live in the Extraterritorial Zone (ETZ), which is one mile from the Ruidoso Village municipal boundaries into county land, you might want to attend the public hearing. If you live two miles from the Ruidoso Village municipal boundaries you might find it is in your best interests to attend the public hearing. And if you want to know more about zoning and live anywhere in Lincoln County the public hearing Monday could be educational and interesting.

Other communities in Lincoln County are being faced with the zoning situation. Capitan is considering zoning again, even though the previous attempt at zoning didn't meet with the approval of the residents. Carrizozo is also considering a zoning ordinance. Both communities could probably benefit from zoning if it is imposed to encourage the most appropriate use of land development. When the Lincoln County Commission tried zoning a few years ago there were many people against the idea because they believed it was a violation of their private property rights. Several of the sections in the proposed county zoning ordinance a few years ago were vague.

No portion of a zoning ordinance should be vague. Each section should be easily understood without having to have it interpreted in court. A zoning ordinance should be written in such a way that the people living in the zoned area are pleased with the zoning. Years ago people could choose to live in adult neighborhoods. We have been told it is now against the law to discriminate against children by not allowing them to live in certain neighborhoods. Zoning should not be a way to discriminate against any person or way of life. Zoning should not be a money-maker for the governing body that enforces the zoning ordinance. Zoning should improve an area, not cause hardships and undue expenses for the people involved.

Indiscriminate zoning can cause problems. If zoning specifies that mobile homes will not be allowed in certain areas, it is a form of discrimination. Mobile homes, especially the newer modular homes, provide a neater appearance than buildings that have been empty for years and have deteriorated. Look around, regardless of where you are, and you will see several buildings that should have been torn down a long time ago. If old buildings are designated as landmarks they should be restored, not left to deteriorate further.

Not zoning versus zoning will probably be the cause of many debates in Capitan, Carrizozo and Lincoln County as well as at the ETZ public hearing Monday night in Ruidoso. Ruidoso's reasoning for wanting to administer the ETZ zoning is valid. If that one mile area should ever be annexed into the Ruidoso Village limits they will want the area to conform to their existing zoning ordinance. One of the main problems is that if that area should be annexed into the Ruidoso Village limits the ETZ area will automatically extend to one mile from the new altered Ruidoso Village limits.

Getting involved now, before the changes are made to the ETZ ordinance, is the best way for county residents to be informed about what will happen if and when Ruidoso annexes surrounding properties. The ETZ is in Lincoln County even though it is adjacent to Ruidoso, Lincoln County residents need to know what changes are being made that may affect zoning across the county later.

To zone or not to zone

Inside The Capitol

by Jay Miller

SANTA FE - We've talked at length about school vouchers recently, but not without good reason. Gov. Gary Johnson says they are his "premier" issue the next three years and he's not going to quit talking about them.

If he's nothing else, Gary Johnson is a newsmaker. In any popularity contest among members of the media he'd have to rank up there at the top. Unlike former President John Kennedy or former Gov. Dave Cargo, Johnson doesn't give us memorable quotes, but he gives us lots of quotes. He isn't afraid to open his mouth and tell us what he's thinking, even if it is a little quirky.

The public loves that about him too. He says what they're thinking. He truly has retained outsider status. He doesn't say what is politic. He says what's on his mind. And since vouchers are on his mind, that's what he talks about and that's what we report. He's been advised to use euphemisms such as "choice" or "scholarships" instead of the emotionally-charged "vouchers." But he won't do it.

Gary Johnson is a gift from heaven for those of us who write commentary six days a week. Former Gov. Bruce King wasn't. Old Bruce could rock along for days, weeks, without being seen or heard. He wanted everyone to work together to make government run smoothly and quietly. And it worked pretty well for him. But Gary Johnson wants to shake things up. And that makes news.

It makes even better news when he doesn't work cooperatively with others to shake things up. That may not be the best way to implement one's initiatives, but it sure gets a guy on the 10 o'clock news and in the headlines the next morning. Thanks a lot, Gary.

Gov. Johnson has accepted numerous speaking engagements this month. And he has used them all to talk about vouchers, whether it is a service club, a business group or Boys State and Girls State. They asked me to speak, so I can speak about any subject I want, Johnson explains, and I'm going to speak about vouchers. Maybe a word of advice is in order: if you want the governor to talk about something at your meeting other than vouchers, you'd better tell him - and then hope for the best.

The governor says he and his aides are working on an 18-month game plan for promoting vouchers in the next two legislative sessions and in the 2000 primary and general elections. That answers a couple questions about what Johnson can do about next year's Legislature, which is the same polarized bunch he dealt with this year, and whether he will get involved in the 2000 primary elections.

Johnson's answer is that he is determined to win the voucher issue, he will spend whatever political capital is necessary, and he will do it immediately. That's why he said he will support Democrats in next year's elections if they support vouchers. It's a pretty clear message to both Republicans and Democrats, incumbents and challengers, that if they support vouchers and their opponents don't, he'll support them regardless of political party.

That's one heck of a commitment by the governor. Dave Miller, Johnson's top legislative aide, calls it a "singular determination." No previous governor has ever supported a legislative candidate of the other party - openly, at least. I have first-hand knowledge of it happening behind the scenes, but always in a manner that it could be denied.

But Gary Johnson seems open about everything he does, even if it involves irritating the entire Republican Party by pledging to support Democrats. He also could break another political rule by supporting Republican challengers against the 15 GOP lawmakers who opposed his voucher program in the recent special session.

Not that it hasn't been done before, State GOP leaders picked off some of their own last year. But that was done quietly. There's nothing quiet about Gary Johnson.

be spent for new computer hardware and furniture.

Ronnie Hemphill CPA will provide audit services for the 1998-99 and 1999-2000 fiscal years. Councilors awarded Hemphill the contract based on the high points rated on his proposal. Two other proposals were received.

A townhome project in White Mountain Estates got final approval from councilors. Preliminary and final re-plot of Pepper Tree Place Phase 2 got the unanimous nod from councilors. The re-plot creates 10 townhome lots from two lots previously zoned for multifamily dwelling units. However, Donaldson said the re-plot of a lot zone R-4 (multifamily dwellings or condos) to R-3 (duplex and triplex units) created the "appearance" of making 10 lots out of two. "We need to look at our ordinances about creating lots for townhomes," Donaldson said. Current village ordinances do not address townhomes.

Approval of the re-plot was based on the developer meeting nine conditions, including variances for lot width, lots 1A-4B not to front on public street, driveway less than 25 feet and a grade up to 18.9 percent, approval of retaining walls built to engineered design, statement of maintenance responsibility, financial guarantee for construction of improvements and open space, posting no parking signs in emergency turn-around.

The former Pepper Tree Place will be known as the All American, Townhomes and is being developed by HBH Investments LLC of Palm Desert, CA, a Hubbard subsidiary. The development was the subject of an appeal from surrounding property owners who objected to a single family dwelling lot to be split to allow for the emergency turn-around in the development. The property owners lost their appeal.

Councilors also: -Awarded a bid for improvements to the solid waste transfer station to Carl Kelley Construction for $214,068.53 plus gross receipt tax paid on the county rate.

-Rejected the bid and approved rebid for the exterior painting of water tanks. The mayor asked the tanks be painted with a forest green color, instead of the pink so they will blend with the natural surroundings.

-Approved a cooperative agreement with the New Mexico Highway and Transportation Department for funding purchase of crumb rubber for the village asphalt operations.

LETTERS to the editor

EDITOR: For the past year residents of the Arabela community have been striving to organize a local volunteer fire department. It has been an arduous, and many times thankless task, accomplished only through the persistence of a few undaunted souls and the generosity of our neighboring Lincoln County communities, working with the Lincoln County Commission and the State Fire Marshall's Office.

On May 28 of this year the Arabela Volunteer Fire Department finally achieved probationary status from the State Fire Marshall's Office, when we took possession of a pumper truck and associated fire apparatus donated to us by Capitan. The pumper truck, along with a Forest Service pumper truck given to Arabela by the Nogal Fire Department, and several essential items of fire fighting gear and equipment given by the Capitan and Bonito Lake fire departments, have equipped Arabela's fledgling fire station.

I speak for all the members of the Arabela community on the recognition and appreciation to the firefighters of Bonito Lake, Capitan, Nogal, and the U.S. Forest Service for their help and generosity in making their surplus equipment available to us, thereby making our dream a reality, and enabling us to more effectively fight fires in our corner of Lincoln County. Our appreciation also to the members of the Lincoln County Commission for their assistance.

ANN S. KOTOWSKI, Secretary-Treasurer
Arabela Volunteer Fire Department

Capitan Village Hall To Extend Business Hours

by Doris Cherry

Beginning July 1, Capitan Village Hall will be open from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Village trustees approved extending business hours during their regular meeting of June 14. In order to keep the hall open the additional half hour, administration employees will adjust their lunch schedules. The longer hours will not affect field employees who get off at 4:30 p.m. Trustees also authorized advertising a notice of intent to hold public hearing and adopt an ordinance regulating the use and sale of fireworks at their July meeting. Village clerk Deborah Cummins said the village received a model ordinance from the New Mexico Municipal League that corresponds with the new changes made to the state law concerning fire works. She said the village ordinances are very vague about fireworks. Village attorney Dave Thomsen said in 1990 the state severely restricted municipalities from regulating fireworks. The legislature this year adopted a new law that will allow municipalities to restrict fireworks with certain conditions. "This is a small step in the right direction for municipalities to exercise their own control," Thomsen said. He added that where there are greater restrictions on fireworks there are fewer fires from fireworks.

In other business, trustees: --Accepted the resignation of Bobbie Shearer from the planning commission.

--Approved hiring Mark Maroum and Tate Pruitt to the street department and Kenny Crowe as police officer and approved termination of Jim Knowles as police officer because he failed to come to work for three days without notification.

--Accepted the $25,000 state appropriation for water improvements that will be used to do a cathodic protection seal of four village water tanks.

--Heard a letter of thanks from the new Arabela Volunteer Fire Department chief to the Capitan fire department for its donation of a tank truck and surplus equipment that allowed the Arabela department to be put on a probationary status.

--Tabled the bids for gravel until they could investigate whether Ruidoso Paving has a scale for weighing gravel and if it would dump gravel in windrows on village roads instead of in a pile. Ruidoso Paving had the lowest bid, but Pat Huey, second best bidder said his gravel was weighed and he would put in the windrows.

--Awarded the diesel bids to Wakefield Oil for on road diesel at 59.5 cents a gallon and to Brewer Oil for off road diesel at 60.75 cents a gallon.

--Accepted the engineering proposal for water improvements in the subdivision from Behannan of Las Cruces which rated the highest of three received.

--Approved signatures of trustee Leroy Montes, mayor Norm Renfro and assistant clerk Katherine Griffin on all village checks.

--Accepted the recommendation of the planning commission to vacate a utility easement requested by William and Terry McIntyre because no utilities exist in the easement or are planned for the future.

--Heard complaints from residents who live at the top of a hill in the subdivision that they have so little water pressure that their water softener does not work. Village maintenance supervisor Terry Cox said even with the new proposed water storage tanks the residents will not have more pressure, just more consistent pressure. He recommended the residents install a small pressure tank on their property to upgrade the amount of pressure to their house.

Josh Hammond Wins Kit Swedeen Memorial Race

Josh Hammond of Carrizozo won the main event June 11 at Sertoma Speedway in the street stock class. The main event was a Memorial Tribute race in honor of Colonel and Marie Swedeen's son Kit Shannon Swedeen. Kit died in a tragic accident May 3 in Oklahoma. Friends and family of the Swedeen's donated $100 to be presented to the winner of the Memorial Tribute race.

Hammond's #28 is sponsored by Carrizozo Auction Company, Carrizozo Texaco, Clay's Engine Service, and Lincoln County News.

Capitan Fire Chief Cummins Resigns And Passes The Hat

by Doris Cherry

Capitan Fire Chief David Cummins passed the chief's hat to newly elected chief David Cox during the Capitan Trustees meeting Monday, June 14. Cummins will be leaving the Capitan area this month to move to Texas where Cummins has taken a position.

Cummins said by the fire department bylaws officers are elected on the first Tuesday of each June, provided two thirds of the membership are present. Since all members were present at the meeting, they elected David Cox as chief. Other new fire department officers are Terry Cox as assistant chief, Fred Payton as captain, Tate Pruitt and Brent Sultemier as second lieutenants, and George Schultz as secretary/treasurer and second lieutenant.

Trustee Benny Coker asked if there would be a problem since all three top officers are village employees. David Cox said in the past they handled the situation by alternating who would respond to fires and he was confident they could handle it in the future.

After trustees approved the new officers, Cummins presented David Cox with the traditional fire chief's hat. The hat had been passed down from a chief previous to Virgil Hall, who passed it to Pat Huey who then passed it to Cummins. Mayor Norman Renfro said the department has 25 members and is rated real high in the state.

Resident Molly Mason suggested the mayor recognize Cummins' years with the department. Renfro said Cummins had been a volunteer for 20 years.

Cummins resigned his post as chief because he is going to Texas to accept an employment position.

Trustees also accepted the resignation of clerk Deborah Cummins, who is moving to Texas with her husband David. In her letter of resignation, Deborah said she was proud of all the achievements the village has made since she has been an employee. Renfro said in the last five years, Deborah made all the applications for the Community Development Block Grants (CDBG) that brought funding for the street paving, water storage tanks, mylar maps, master plan and fire hydrants. "She will be a hard act to follow," Renfro said. He added that staff from the Department of Finance and Administration and Tony Elias with Southeastern New Mexico Economic Development District (SNMEDD) said they enjoyed working with Cummins and wished her well in what she does. "Thanks Deb," said trustee Leroy Montes who was the only trustee on the board when Cummins was hired as assistant clerk. "I enjoyed working with her and I hate to see her go," said trustee John Whitaker. "She was a salvation for me and I will miss her as a neighbor," trustee Debra Ingle said.

Coker said he was mayor when Cummins was first hired. With that Coker made the motion, with regrets, to accept Cummins resignation. Montes seconded the motion, all voted yes.

National Award Winner

The United States Achievement Academy announced recently that Brandi Dickerson from Capitan, has been named a United States National Award Winner in English.

This award is a prestigious honor very few students can ever hope to attain. In fact, the Academy recognizes fewer than 10% of all American high school students.

Brandi, who attends Capitan High School, was nominated for this national award by Capitan teacher, Mrs. Gail Brown. Brandi will appear in the United States Achievement Academy Official Yearbook, which is published nationally.

The Academy selects USAA winners upon the exclusive recommendation of teachers, coaches, counselors, and other qualified sponsors and upon the Standards of Selection set forth by the Academy. The criteria for selection are a student's academic performance, interest and aptitude, leadership qualities, responsibility, enthusiasm, motivation to learn and improve, citizenship, attitude and cooperative spirit, dependability, and recommendation from a teacher or director.

Brandi Dickerson is the daughter of Dick and Jackie Dickerson of Capitan.

Still In Nebraska

Greetings from Omaha, Nebraska again and probably the greetings will continue to flow from Nebraska for quite a while. In no way whatever am I endeavoring to put Capitan, New Mexico down. I have made many wonderful friends there and sad to say have lost the most of them through death, but the wonderful memories of them will always be a part of me and will live on forever.

Before I forget, let me thank you very loyal readers for your notes of appreciation and your inquiries as to when I will be returning to New Mexico.

This is a very, very busy household, said household containing head of household Jace Anderson, Dr. Patricia Maureen Sullivan-Anderson, head of household when Jace is not home and last, but certainly not least, is their daughter Katie Maureen Anderson, who definitely resides here with her entourage. Entourage consisting of Murphy Brown Anderson, Clancy Anderson, the two little dachshunds, one lone survivor of the mouse brigade, and the newest member of the menage, a beautiful little rabbit named, and hope you are ready for this, Mopsy McGregor Anderson. And then adding a lot of wonderful little girl friends that sit in and flit out, some sitting long enough to stay a couple of days and nights. What fun they all are, but sometimes a bit on the side of Much to Be Desired when your old nerves are on the verge of exhaustion when bedtime rolls around and the young generation is just getting started. But contrary to what you may think I can still remember being that young and visiting my girl friend's house and my girl friends visiting my house and we were anything but quiet. So I guess the more things change, the more they just remain the same, n'est ce pas?

And a few bits of this and that from the Omaha World Herald newspaper:

On June 8, 1808 Jefferson Davis, the first and only president of the Confederacy, was born in Kentucky. And do I remember when this hit air-waves: In 1937 the Duke of Windsor, who had abdicated the British throne, married Allie Warfield Simpson in Monts, France. In 1963 Pope John XXIII died at the age of 81. He was succeeded by Pope Paul VI. In 1968 pop artist Andy Warhol was shot and critically wounded in his New York film studio known as The Factory. In 1998 a high speed train derailed in Echeda, Germany killing 101 people. On June 5, 1968 Senator Robert F. Kennedy was shot and mortally wounded just

As usual June has had everyone trying to be in two places at once. The team penning put on by the Museum of the Horse was held at the Rural Events Center on June 5 and 6. Close to 160 teams competed in the team penning. Don Bogle furnished the cattle for the penning.

WHITE OAKS MINERS DAY

was held on June 5. Friday and Saturday night was so windy! The Rustic Roots did their excellent cooking, the petting zoo survived the winds and the Madam Varnish contest was colorful with 12 people dressing up and nine being judged for the title. Lynn Story sold out of all the tasty baked goods, Willie sold several of the cachet envelopes with the miner's day pictorial cancellation. The posse along with several other brave ones tried to ride in the wind and made it down the long street of White Oaks. Another fun day with just a tad of bad weather. Betty Stewart was the winner of the Madam Varnish contest and received her banner from last year's winner Mary Dell Jones.

The posse met for their monthly meeting on June 6. A potluck with lots of good food preceded the meeting. Sales of white elephant articles brought in some money. The group voted to co-sponsor the NM High School Rodeo on the 19th and 20th. This is the money maker for the Lincoln County Rodeo club. The Blues Festival is this same weekend so some of the members will be patrolling this event. The Smokey Bear Stampede will be coming up shortly and the members will be spread thin this year with four big days going on.

Roland Oaster offered to make neat name tags for the posse members to wear at the meetings and Ruth Birdsong was nominated to finish out the year as secretary. Teresa Woodard is having to work two jobs and had to resign.

The poster is still not printed and as soon as it is we will be selling envelopes and posters, for the 4th annual artists participation. Sure are hoping the rains begin as the forests are already very dry and have their "Extreme Fire Danger" posters out!

Plan to attend the Grady Le Memorial roping on June 12, the NM High School rodeo 19th and 20th, the Blues Festival and get ready for the Smokey Bear Stampede.

Run to the post office and check out the latest stamp "The Prostrate Stamp" went on sale last week.

NMTRA HOLDS HOPING AT RURAL EVENTS CENTER

County Commissioners Are Committed To Presbyterian

by Doris Cherry

Two years ago the Chaves County Commission sold its hospital in order to raise the capital to pay for its new detention center.

Lincoln County also is in need of a new detention center and is the owner of a hospital. Currently Presbyterian Health Systems (PHS) is in the middle of an eight year contract to manage the county-owned Lincoln County Medical Center (LCMC) in Ruidoso, and Carrizozo Health Clinic. But judging from the response of the Lincoln County Commission, the company will remain as the management and the county will keep its facilities.

Although none of the county commissioners have publicly complained about PHS, two different unsolicited groups have approached the county to take over management of the hospital. Once again during the Lincoln County Commission meeting on May 20 held in the Lincoln County Court-

Jody Crosthwait and his dad Joel Crosthwait, a father and son team from Elida, were the winners of the two saddles given each day.

Another big roping will take place during the 4th of July weekend and then the big roping will be held at the Symposium in October.

The 10th Annual Lincoln County Ranch Rodeo had 10 teams vying for prizes and money. Winners of this year's rodeo was Turkey Track Ranch with Wayland Newberry boss, and his cowboys were Eddie Davis, Jim Herring, Mike Wilson, Phillip Osborn, and Chris Taylor. Their times for the remuda race 1.25, team penning at 1.35, team branding at .38, team roping and doctoring 58.00 and the wild cow milking at 40.67 were what won the first place.

Other teams competing were Canning Block Ranch, Bonita Ranch, Roadrunner Ranch, Rafter 19 Cattle Company, CR Ranches, Rancheros de Hope, Black Hills Ranch, L7 Ranch, and Milesand

Ranch. Money raised by the association goes into a crisis fund for needy ranch families. Since its beginning over $12,000 dollars has been made available to help pay for medical and emergency expenses. The organization is a non-profit one which is trying to preserve the family values and the ranching heritage in Lincoln County. Their membership is open to all with similar goals.

Happy Father's Day Dads!!

Due to the vacancy created by the resignation of Jack King, the Capitan Board of Education is looking for a new school board member.

During the regular meeting of June 10, the board made a formal request for applicants to fill the position that has two years left in its term. Any registered voter who resides within the Capitan School district is eligible to apply. Applicants need to submit a letter of interest and a resume by June 25.

Letters may be mailed to Capitan School Board president Tom Frost at Box 278, Capitan, NM 88316, FAXed to 354-2240 or brought in by person.

Two board members and a teacher representative will review the letters and resumes and conduct interviews if necessary. The committee will then make recommendation to the full school board at its July 8 meeting. The board will take action to approve the recommendation and the person will be sworn in at the same meeting.

The board also approved personnel recommendations of hiring Elizabeth Bode as middle school special education teacher/coach, Julian Romero as middle school language arts teacher/coach, Cindy Torry as middle school P.E. teacher/coach, Maria Lano as high school special education teacher, Jason Hightower as fourth grade teacher, Grant Hambrick as high school math teacher/coach, Karen Haughness as middle and high school counselor, Franci Bergener as high school computer teacher. Transfers approved were Becky Schultz from elementary to middle school science, Royce Brown from middle school to high school P.E., Zale Woodward from middle school to high school language arts. Resignations were accepted from Gail Brown who is staying home with her new baby, and Mel Holland who is going to Carrizozo.

Since the board meeting, kindergarten teacher Dottie MacVoigh submitted her resignation because she has accepted a job at Hondo. The board will act on this resignation at its July meeting.

This fall students eating in the cafeteria will have more choices in their meals. After the cafeteria employees were approached by a private company that provides the food service for Ruidoso Schools, food service director Liz Montes drafted a proposal for multiple food choices. The board accepted her trial program that will be offered the first semester of school. Under the proposal middle and high school students will be offered a multiple of entrees at lunch. Along with the meal offered to elementary students, middle and high school students will have a choice of pizza, hamburger or burrito served with French fries and fresh fruit, along with a variety of drinks. Instead of a salad bar, students and adults wanting salad would have to request a chef salad that would be made prior to lunch. To accommodate the increased choices an additional employee will be hired for three hours a day work. Students will give their choice of entree in the morning when the cafeteria count is taken.

Also the board:

Approved the federal 1999-2000 National School Lunch Program and School Breakfast Program, that reimburses the district for meals served to students whose families meet certain income criteria.

after claiming victory in California's Democratic presidential primary. And gunman Sirhan Bishara Sirhan was immediately arrested.

In 1917 about 10 million American men began registering for the Draft in World War I.

And in 1967 war erupted in the east as Israel raided Egyptian military targets. Then Syria, Jordan and Iraq entered the conflict and on and on it has been going ever since, and when it will ever stop, the conflicts I mean, nobody knows.

So enough of history for today. In fact enough of my ramblings also as the clock is tick-tocking on its merry way and my daughter is getting a bit on the hurrying up bit of dear old mother. There are more places to go, and things to do before night falls again on the Sullivan-Anderson household.

And on that note, let me say sayonara and adios to my faithful readers and even to those folks that cannot be bothered. And in closing, my love to my two sons, my daughter-in-law, my grandson, his wife and three little boys, and to my special neighbors and friends. God Bless you one and all.

Commissioners Committed To Presbyterian

(Con't. on P. 8)

calling it a management arrangement the county would retain control. "Our management fee will be our profit, and we also take the risk of loss."

As for the recent $1.2 million of county mill levy funds that went to LCMC, Howell said it was for capital improvements, an investment by the taxpayers to make a nice facility.

At the end of the lengthy presentation from Dunn about the attributes of his privately held OHS, county commissioner Bill Schwettmann asked if any county commissioner had approached him for the presentation, either formally or informally. Dunn said it may be a question they need to pose to each other as a commission. "When we looked at Roswell (Eastern New Mexico Medical Center) the Chaves County Commissioners had that discussion internally," Dunn said.

Then Schwettmann asked if anyone in the hospital committee had expressed dissatisfaction with Presbyterian. Dunn said no.

Schwettmann said the commission never considered holding a hearing on changing its management or selling LCMC. "I feel I know where this is coming from," Schwettmann said.

With that county commission chairman Rex Wilson closed the discussion on OHS, giving Dunn no commitment.

Also in the county commission meeting agenda was a letter from Community HealthCare Partnership, Inc. an Iowa Corporation expressing an interest to enter into "aggressive negotiations for the acquisition or long term lease of LCMC." County manager Tom Stewart said the county received the unsolicited letter in the mail. "I just want you to be aware of it," Stewart said to commissioners. They held no discussion about the letter and did not respond.

Graduates, their scholarships and awards and their future plans are listed below.

Fifth Sunday At Bar W Ranch

A large gathering was held at the Bar W Ranch June 13 for an Episcopal Church service and Holy Eucharist. The four Episcopal Churches of Lincoln County - Holy Mount of Ruidoso, St. Annes of Glencoe, San Juan Batista of Lincoln and St. Matthias of Carrizozo joined together to participate in this event.

Conducting the service was the Rev. Canon John W. Penn, Rector, and Acolyte Eric Flores, organist, Dr. James A. Fenimore, choir director, and Danny Flores.

The service was conducted in a lovely portion on the ranch premises. The food was provided by each church parish and was enjoyed by a congregation of more than 50.

Bone Density Evaluations Now Available At LCMC

Bone Density, the latest technology for prevention and early detection of osteoporosis, is now available at Lincoln County Medical Center (LCMC) in Ruidoso. Fifty percent of post-menopausal women will have a fragility fracture caused by osteoporosis. Bone density evaluations allow patients to take advantage of a number of new treatments now available to prevent or treat osteoporosis and help document the effects of these interventions.

Post-menopausal women under age 65 who have one or more additional risk factors for osteoporosis, and all women age 65 or older, should have bone density evaluations.

Bone density evaluations help physicians determine if a patient has osteoporosis, and also allows them to monitor the results of therapy. Left undetected, osteoporosis leads to low trauma fragility fractures of the hip and wrist, compression fractures of the spinal vertebra, loss of height, and loss of mobility. Diagnosing the disease in its early stages helps physicians to alleviate substantial patient suffering and reduce the risk of subsequent disability.

Risk factors for osteoporosis include a family history of the disease, smoking, inadequate calcium intake, inadequate vitamin D intake, a sedentary lifestyle, excessive alcohol consumption, estrogen deficiency in post-menopausal women, and early menopause. Some medications, such as steroids, and those used to treat cancer and rheumatoid arthritis can also cause bone loss.

Several new medications and treatments are now available for patients at risk or those already showing signs of the disease. Ten years ago, the only treatment available was estrogen therapy, and it was only effective in certain types of cases.

Increasing elemental calcium intake to 1,200 milligrams to two grams per day by eating foods rich in calcium or taking calcium supplements can help prevent bone loss and osteoporosis. Milk is a good source of dietary calcium, an eight ounce glass of skim milk contains 260 milligrams of calcium, or 16 to 25 percent of the recommended daily intake. Tums are another source of calcium. Taking a multi-vitamin that contains 400 units of vitamin D daily, doing weight-bearing exercise such as walking and lifting weights, quitting smoking and reducing alcohol consumption are other important preventive measures.
