Warrior Drive Fire Is Deemed Arson

By Doris Cherry

A fire that charred another 15 acres off Gavilan Canyon Road on Monday was started by arson.

Investigators found a "timed incendiary" device on the side of Gavilan Canyon Road, about one-fourth of mile south of Warrior Drive, said investigating Lincoln County Sheriff's Deputy Robert Shepperd.

Shepperd said a task force has been set up with representatives from the Lincoln County Sheriff's Office, US Forest Service, Ruidoso Police Department and the state fire marshal's office to conduct a joint investigation of the Warrior Fire. At this time there are no suspects in the arson.

The fire was reported about 12:30 p.m. Monday, May 29 by numerous 911 calls. US Forest Service, Bonito Volunteer Fire Department, Ruidoso and Ruidoso Downs Fire Departments responded. Two slurry bombers and three smaller single engine air tankers (SEAT) and about 100 fire fighters in all responded to the fire which was quickly contained. No structures were threatened, but Gavilan Canyon Road was closed to traffic.

Lightning has been the major cause of fires in the last few days. Late Thursday, May 25, lightning started two fires on the northwest side of Carrizo Peak. According to fire specialist with the Lincoln National Forest Smokey Bear Ranger area Matt Reidy, the Carrizo Peak fires were spotted Friday. The forest service brought in about 100 fire fighters to contain the fires. Helicopters and a state forestry SEAT were also deployed.

The Carrizo fires were contained on Monday, but were not out by Wednesday. Reidy said the forest service will continue to monitor the Carrizo Peak fires. "We were lucky the fires sat on the backside of Carrizo Peak, CAPITAN RESIDENT Angle Province discusses the proposed improvements to Hwy. 380 with Paul Lindberg, project manager, during Hwy. 380 Open House in Capitan on May 24. Officials said because of public comments given last year on the proposed realignment and improvements to Hwy. 380 from Carrizozo to Hondo, the highway department has decided to go with wider shoulders and improve the highway with wider shoulders and new pavement in most areas. Three bridges will be replaced with those to be the first construction projects undertaken in the overall 20 year Highway 380 Improvement Project.

Mixed Thoughts On Water Rate Increase

By Doris Cherry

Ruidoso village council will hold another public hearing on a proposed ordinance that would increase water rates for high volume users on June 13.

At their May 30 meeting, councilors reviewed the proposed rate increase for residential users of more than 25,000 gallons of water a month.

Village manager Alan Briley said the proposal was brought to him by a councilor who believed high water users need to be penalized in the pocketbook in order to get them to conserve water. Other communities have similar high water use charges.

As an example of cost under the new rates, Briley referred to a list of customers who used over 25,000 gallons of water in the month of April. Of the 11, six used less than 20,000 gallons, two used less than 34,000 gallons, two used less than 41,000 gallons and the highest user consumed 116,490 gallons in April. Under the new proposed rates, the highest user would have to pay $2,430.41. Currently the user pays $710.32 for the water used. Councilors had discussed the possibility of publishing names of the high water users. Briley said he discussed this with the village attorney who agreed that since the water bills are public information the publication of names could be legally done.

Power Outages Caused By Fire On Monday And Falling Trees On Tuesday

Power blinked off and on for Otero County Electric Cooperative, Inc and Texas New Mexico Power Company customers on Monday and Tuesday.

Outages on Monday were due to the Warrior Fire on Gavilan Canyon Road. According to Jimmy Capps, Otero County Electric Cooperative (OCEC) assistant manager, the incident commanders on the Warrior Fire requested the power be shut down to the power line that runs down Gavilan Canyon.

For the Judge of the Court of Appeals Position 1, Democrat candidate is Manuel Tijerina, Republican candidate is Jonathan B. Sutin.

For the Judge of the Court of Appeals Position 2, Democrat candidate is Cynthia A. Fry, Republican candidate is Roderick Thomas Kennedy. For Judge of the Court of Appeals Position 3, Democrat candidates are Joel Jacobsen and Ira Robinson. Republican candidate is T. Glenn Ellington, Green candidate is Marvin H. Gladstone.

Candidates who filed on March 21 have until April 14 to withdraw from their races.

Voters may only select candidates from the party to which the voters are registered. Persons who are registered in an independent or minor party or who decline to state a party affiliation cannot cast ballots in the primary election.

Candidates registered in an independent and minor party or who decline to state party affiliation, can file on July 11 only to be a candidate in the November general election.

Write-in candidates for the general election must file on September 5, which is also the last day for candidates to withdraw from the general election.

with very little wind," Reidy added.

There were no threats to structures or White Oaks from the Carrizo Fire.

Lightning on Tuesday started several fires, including multiple strikes on the Valley of Fires Recreation area west of Carrizozo, and a fire on Goat Mountain about 10 miles northeast of Capitan. The Goat Fire was detected Wednesday morning by forest service aircraft spotters who were looking for lightning strikes. The Goat Fire had burned about eight acres by Wednesday afternoon. A crew of 20 fire fighters from Mescalero BIA was deployed, but will soon be replaced by the Tonka Alaska Hot Shot crew. The Goat Fire is also being doused by the SEATs. The fire is in Ponderosa pine and conifer mix. The fire threatened no structures. Because of the prolonged drought and extreme fire danger, the national forests continue to be closed. Reidy said the forest service has had good response from residents and visitors on the closure. "We have had such great cooperation from everyone," he added.

Reidy, who attended the Ruidoso Village Council meeting on Tuesday to report on the fires, said he was pleased considering changes to Ruidoso ordinances to allow people to thin trees on their lots. Reidy also supported a request from former Lincoln County Forest Health Coalition members and landowners who requested the village impose an ordinance that makes it mandatory to thin out diseased and overgrown trees in their Ruidoso lots.

Power Outages

This was to allow for slurry to be dumped on the fire. Capps said slurry dumped on live lines can cause the electricity to arc and cause additional problems.

On Tuesday, power outages were caused by a tree that fell on the 115,000 volt power lines near the Hollywood Substation west of Ruidoso. The transmission line feeds both OCEC and Texas New Mexico Power (TXNM). When the tree fell into the line, it tripped a breaker causing the power to go off. When TXNM cleared the tree, OCEC and TXNM went through a "restoration switching procedure" that caused power to come on, then off, until the lines were fully restored, Capps said.

Carrizozo School Staff Is Rehired

by Doris Cherry

Carrizozo Board of Education at its meeting May 16 rehired non-certified staff for the 2000-01 school year.

Staff rehired were Nenna Whittaker, Linda Brown, Margie Serna, Candie Aguilar, Margaret Barela, Lorene Baroz, Polly Chavez, Charlotte Emmons, Sandra Jiron, Steve Gore, Linda Greer, Sharon Hefker, David Roper, Juanita Vallejos, Pat Jiron and Lorenzo Sambrano.

The board also approved not rehiring Debi VanTussenbroek and granted her a leave of absence for May 1-28 due to medical reasons.

As per last official meeting as superintendent of Carrizozo Schools, Glens Goodwin presented reports on the Quality of Education Survey results. Of the surveys returned about 80 percent agreed or strongly agreed with the questions asked. Goodwin said there were very few answers that disagreed. Elementary and middle school parents returned their completed surveys at a better rate than the high school, Goodwin added, which is typical. "Elementary and middle school parents affected the outcome, but it was favorable," Goodwin said.

Other updates included one on the needed roof repairs, the status of the Suburban, wells and greenhouse and the flashing warning signs. After an inspection it was decided to repair the splash plates from the roof now, Goodwin said. The Suburban ordered last winter was to have left the factory on May 15 and should be at the school soon. Water was found in one of the wells near the football field. It produces about 40 gallons a minute which is not enough for the sprinkler system on the football field, which will have to use town water. Instead the well will be used to water the greenhouse which only lacks for natural gas piping.

The new flashing school zone signs are being installed on E Ave. and 8th Ave. The signs were purchased with grant funds. However, the school is having to install the signs and will have to pay a nominal monthly fee to Otero County Electric Cooperative. The signs can be programmed to flash for the morning, noon and afternoon slow zone times. Board member Lee-Roy Zamora was concerned about the children crossing Central Ave. (Highway 54) without a sign. Members then requested Goodwin contact the state highway department and/or the town for help in getting similar signs located on Central Ave.

Goodwin said she tried working with the town on the signs project, but it was too complicated in separating the money. Goodwin said she would write a letter to the mayor and trustees asking for the town to help with signs on Central Ave. and for traffic control in the morning when children are going to school.

Goodwin also said she will leave a folder of information about the grant that paid for the existing signs and all other pertinent information for the new superintendent who comes to work June 1.

Phase 2 of the high school remodeling project will begin as soon as school is out. Phase 2 will include the girls locker room in the old gym, the ventilation and wiring in the Ag classroom, the weight room, and toilets in Clegg Hall. Goodwin said she asked the engineer/planner Scott Safford to consider alternatives for the restrooms in Clegg Hall since that will take up some storage space. School board member Lisa Shivers said she wanted to talk with Safford who is doing the school master plan because of many concerns about the master plan. Goodwin said Safford is scheduled to meet with the board, to finalize the master plan.

Instructional leader Rick Cogdill reported on the successful prom and banquet and the supervised event that followed. He said 48 students attended the prom night event in Alamogordo, and had a good time. He also reported on the state track meet where Carrizozo did very well.

The board commended Cogdill for the work on the class schedules for next school year. The schedule will include a short activity period and a 7th period that allows student athletes to begin practice during the school hours, with a P.E. credit.

Goodwin also "bragged" on finance manager Nenna Whittaker whose budget received compliments from the school district's State Department of Education budget analyst. Goodwin said the analyst told her he wished all the school districts could turn in a budget as well done as the one from Carrizozo Schools.

THOUGHTS
FROM THE EDITOR'S DESK

Vote Next Tuesday

By Ruth Hammond

Every time you vote you are exercising a right that is not available in many other countries. Dictators don't allow elections, much like a local elected official who won't allow people to speak at a public meeting. People living in countries ruled by dictators don't have the opportunity to cast a ballot in hopes of making changes for the better.

Luckily, here in the United States elections are held regularly and people do have the right to vote for the candidates of their choice. Next Tuesday is Primary Election Day and every registered voter should vote. The polls will be open from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. If you don't know where to vote, call the county clerk's office. Sample ballots are available at the county clerk's office for all precincts.

Even if you think it is a nuisance, you should vote. It doesn't take much time to go to the polls, sign your name, and cast your votes. The new electronic voting machines make it even easier to vote, unlike the old paper ballots that were used for years and years. Precinct workers would have to count those paper ballots individually and recheck their figures. Sometimes it took all night before the final results were tallied. Now the electronic voting machine provides an instant readout of all the votes cast.

Candidates and their families and friends will be waiting impatiently Tuesday night for the returns to be posted. Many people go to the Lincoln County Courthouse in Carrizozo Tuesday night and keep track of the returns as they are posted in the county computers. Precinct workers call in the results and staff in the county clerk's office enter the numbers in the computer. Later the county clerk's staff will recheck their figures when the ballot boxes are brought in from each precinct. The official results of the election will not be available until after the county commissioners canvass the votes, usually on Friday.

The election process is much better than dictatorships. When a dictator takes office the general public has no voice in any action that is taken by the persons in power. Here in the United States people can voice their opinions about proposed increases in trash rates, even if the people in power have announced they will do what they want.

Instead of having to accept rules handed down by dictators, people here in the United States can ask questions as to why certain things are happening. Here in Carrizozo people are asking The NEWS why the US flag and the other two flags were moved from the lighted flag pole across the street from city hall. The flags are now out all night on the flag pole at city hall without a night light.

Often there are logical answers to questions but the flag situation has everyone wondering why there was a change and why there has been no explanation for the public.

Next Tuesday you won't have to worry about what is happening. The Lincoln County Clerk's staff will be happy to explain the election process, unlike the Carrizozo flag situation which is unexplained. We are quite fortunate to have dedicated county employees willing to be helpful.

Several candidates will win the primary election and proceed on to the general election in November. The complete election results will be in The NEWS next week.

Exercise your right to vote!

INSIDE THE CAPITOL

SANTA FE - How can Gov. Gary Johnson advocate the right to do something he opposes? That is the question on the lips of many New Mexicans as their governor travels the state and nation pushing drug legalization while at the same time preaching against drug use.

The most understandable reason for the governor's actions is the practical one. Drug prohibition isn't working any better than our great experiment with alcohol prohibition did 80 years ago. So why not stop the $17 billion we're spending on the drug war and take drug trafficking out of the bloody hands of cartels and pushers by turning it over to our nation's pharmaceutical companies or any other businesses in the private sector that might want it? By doing that, we can tax, regulate and control drugs in the same manner we do with alcohol and tobacco.

This privatization argument gains the governor a few more supporters, but many still worry that legalization will cause more people to do drugs. Gov. Johnson argues that 80 million Americans already are at least experimenting with drugs and most of them must be doing it responsibly because we don't have anywhere near 80 million drug users in jail - yet.

That argument gets our governor nowhere. The phrase "responsible drug users" turns people off. How can they be responsible when they're breaking the law? Johnson also argues that education and treatment programs would eventually reduce drug use to less than it is now. He may be right but his words fall flat when he vetoes drug education or treatment programs. Maybe he's waiting for some of that $17 billion from a discontinued drug war to finance education and treatment.

But these arguments still don't answer people's biggest question. To them it's really a moral issue. Isn't it inconsistent to allow people the right to do things that are bad for them? Both Republicans and Democrats pride themselves on supporting individual rights. But the rights they are talking about are only those rights with which they agree.

And the parties differ markedly about good rights versus bad rights. Generally Democrats want to limit rights in the business world by imposing tons of regulations. Republicans want to limit rights in people's private lives by telling them what they can't do.

Both parties seem to agree that the first amendment is a good thing. They are fond of quoting the maxim; I may disagree with what you say but I'll defend to the death your right to say it. But the devil, as they say, is in the details.

Democrats are incensed at the U.S. Supreme Court's ruling that limiting campaign expenditures is a violation of free speech rights. Free speech shouldn't cost money, as they put it. Republicans, on the other hand, are so upset that flag burning is considered free speech that they want to amend the constitution to be sure no one ever does it.

Both Republican and Democrat parties agree that people shouldn't have the right to a drug of choice, unless it is alcohol, tobacco, caffeine or the myriad of prescription and over-the-counter drugs. That is why Gov. Johnson has zero support among elected state and local officials. They're all Republicans or Democrats, except for a few Greens, at least one of whom does support the governor's drug stand.

Gary Johnson has an (R) after his name but that's only because he couldn't get elected as a Libertarian, a party which truly represents his views. He chose to be a Republican because he is a businessman above all and Republicans believe in the Libertarian philosophy of minimal government interference in the business world.

But Libertarians also believe in minimal government interference in people's private lives. When Gov. Johnson's actions are analyzed in the light of his libertarian philosophy, they appear much less off the wall and become much more understandable.

A GLIMPSE OF THE MINING HISTORY OF THE SOUTHWEST

The following information is taken from the 'International Industrial Record', a mining publication (Devoted to the General MINING and Industrial Interests of the Great Southwest), which is printed on the front page of the 80 page booklet, and was published in El Paso, TX on July of 1901. The Lincoln County News will publish the entire booklet in the following weeks depending on space available. The publication is filled with in-depth history of the mining industry in and around Lincoln County and New Mexico. We hope you enjoy it.

The Great Southwest.

The Mining Resources of the Vast Mining Region Surrounding El Paso.

PART 16

WHITE OAKS

Is situated in a canyon of the same name well up in the mountains at an altitude of 6500 feet. It has a population of about 500; four churches-Methodist, Congregational, Baptist and Christian-the two former having church buildings, the other two using a hall. There are two general stores, one dry goods store, a bank, one saloon, and a large public school with a corps of three teachers.

Secret societies are K. P., I. O. O. F., A. O. U. W. and G. A. R. There are also a dramatic club and a musical organization known as the Twentieth Century Choral Club, which latter has regular monthly meetings with musical programs.

White Oaks is about six miles from the railroad at its nearest point, so can not in any sense be dependent upon the railroad for any prosperity it may have, rather upon the minerals in the neighboring mountains, of which there is great abundance, especially of coal, iron, sandstone and marble and gold.

The principal gold mines are the Old Abe, North and South Homestake, Lady Godiva, Boston, Boy, Compromise, and Rita. The first three mentioned have produced many thousands of dollars. There are several coal mines opened, but only one operating at present, viz, the Old Abe. Aside from the foregoing, the great mineral resources surrounding this place are underdeveloped.

There is now a movement inaugurated to establish water works here, the water to be brought in pipe line from mountain springs in Carrizozo mountain. Dr. M.G. Pader and Geo. W. Prichard are the leading spirits in the enterprise, and it is to be hoped the project may be brought to a successful issue, as it will be of material and lasting benefit to all.

The Old Abe.

This is a name that is synonymous with that of White Oaks. In fact, people have heard of White Oaks through the Old Abe mine. The owners of this remarkable property are Messrs. J.Y. Hewitt, H.B. Ferguson, Wm. Watson, Paul Mayer, M.

W. Hoyle, A. Reburn, M.L. Ott, the estate of Gibson Lamb and estate of Joseph Seybold, of Wheeling, W. Va. Mr. Hewitt owns one-third interest, Mr. Ferguson one-fourth, Mr. Watson five-twenty-fourths, and Mr. Hoyle five-forty-eighths. There are 1200 shares of par value of $100 a share.

This property is a free milling gold mine, and the main streak is a sulphide ore, which has averaged about $8 per ton since the mine opened about ten years ago, December 19, 1890.

Early in March, 1895, the main shaft of 650 feet was almost destroyed by fire from an explosion of unknown cause. In March, 1896, the old shaft then 840 feet, collapsed at the 300-foot level and was rendered useless. The company started a new one 200 feet north of the old, which is now down about 1300 feet. Ore was encountered in the new shaft at the 800-foot level, and the stations from there on are 50 feet apart. The vein is a fissure, without doubt.

In the new works there has been done about 3600 feet of drifting, and 4000 in the old works. Improvements on the Old Abe amount to about $55,000. The hoist is of 128 horse power, there is a 20-stamp mill, a 50-ton cyanide plant, saw mill and shops.

When the cave-in occurred the company was $45,000 in debt. A large portion of this has been paid, together with $14,000 for sinking the new shaft down to the 800-foot level, $10,000 for new hoist, $7,000 for the cyanide plant, besides purchasing a coal mine and fitting it up for $10,000, and in addition paying out a great deal for "dead" work on the mine as development progressed.

The water plant includes a pipe line of 5400 feet. The well is 190 feet deep, and supplies sufficient water for the 20-stamp plant without re-using. Cost of well and pipe line, $20,000.

The daily output of the Old Abe is about 50 tons, all of which is treated on the ground, and there are 50 men employed about the mine and works.

White Oaks Coal.

The Old Abe coal mine furnishes all the coal used in White Oaks, both for domestic purposes and all the mining companies. The coal is of a first class quality and believed to be in great quantity. There has been much said derogatory to this coal by men with other coal interests, but all of the talk antagonistic to it has been shown to be unjust and baseless. The coal has been proven to be the best quality in New Mexico by Pennsylvania coal experts as they examined it side by side with other large specimens of coal from the Capitan country, in the Chamber of Commerce building in El Paso, and also by burning it. There is hardly any need to rake up the whys and wherefores of the disparagement of the White Oaks coal, for the public has long been conversant with the whole matter, and no good can be served by again bringing it before the public.

The normal thickness of the vein is 4 feet, sometimes more or less. There are 2 feet of rock under the vein, then comes a smaller vein of coal, 8 to 10 inches wide, which is being reserved expressly for blacksmithing purposes, as it is a very superior blacksmithing coal. The blacksmiths of Roswell and other towns use this coal.

As there had been many reports afloat to the effect that the White Oaks coal contained a large per cent of iron, the editor of the Record, when in White Oaks recently, made it a special duty to visit the ash pile the Old Abe work, and make a close investigation. After a thorough inspection of the ash pile, and no clinkers found, the Record man then visited all those using the coal in White Oaks, and every one to a man said that the coal left no clinkers, but burned to a fine ash, and, in fact, it was then being burned by all the residents (as it was in February and freezing), and in no instance could the editor of the Record observe any clinkers in any stove, grate or furnace in White Oaks.

Reports have also been circulated that the coal there did not exist in any quantity. How such a conclusion was reached it is difficult to determine, as there has been no diamond drill used in less than ten miles of White Oaks. It is believed by many well informed men that coal does exist in large quantities at White Oaks and in the vicinity. In 1893 Mr. Gordon of the El Paso Gas, Coke, and Coal company, of El Paso, bought the possessory right to several thousand acres of coal land near White Oaks for the Southern Pacific company. This company owns 1000 acres in one tract, Wells and Parker own 320 acres, and the Old Abe 160 acres of coal lands. Some of these lands are patented and some held under coal preemption right.

The Old Abe company is not anxious to market their coal, as they are taking out only a limited amount, with the use of a horse whim.

The Compromise. The owners of the celebrated Compromise gold mine are E. Heineman and H.C. Cray, of White Oaks. This mine would have been sold recently had it not been for litigation into which it was thrown, and seemingly without the shadow of excuse. The effect, however, of this lawsuit prevented the sale of the mine and did White Oaks a serious injury. Such things not only affect the individual, but the entire district as well, and they should be discouraged for this reason.

The Compromise was discovered about a year ago. Its location is parallel with and adjoining the North Homestake, and the shaft is 1000 feet from the Old Abe. The vein is 14 feet, and averages $21.60 in gold. There is a vein 50 feet west of the big ore body from 1 inch to 2 feet, that shows specimens ore all through. The main body is sulphides, and the rich seam is going into sulphides. The main shaft is 116 feet deep, with drift at the 65-foot level. There is a drift at 50 feet where the ore body is 14 feet wide. Another level will be started at 116 feet.

Two hundred tons of ore have been extracted, which has been stored pending the litigation. There is much more ore in sight ready to stop. The only upper improvements are a whim and ore bin. When the work was stopped 16 men were employed, and the owners expect to begin with 20 men when work is resumed.

The Boston Boy

The owners of this valuable property are Heineman, Cray and Sax. They have a 500-foot tunnel and a 155-foot shaft in connection with tunnel, at 400 feet. The ore is free milling, 15-foot vein, average of $6 to the ton. It is an ideal cyanide ore. The owners want an idea of the length of the vein before putting in plant. They expect to run 400 feet south. The vein crops out on the surface in several places. There are only five or six men employed at present, but more will be employed when stoping is begun. The location of the Boston Boy is north of the Old Abe, and it is in reality an extension of that property.

Lady Godiva Group.

The group of claims known as the Lady Godiva group is situated in the midst of the gold belt in Baxter mountain at White Oaks, Lincoln county, N.M., and consists of the following named lode claims, viz: Lady Godiva, Solitaire, Rita, Little Nell and the Large Hopes.

The owners have been mining in these properties for the last 10 years with a view of bringing them into production previous to erecting any reduction plant.

Lady Godiva

This property contains four well known veins, one of which is developed to the depth of 725 feet, and a second is developed to the depth of 450 feet. The remaining veins have had little or no attention.

This claim has nearly 100 feet of shaft work and about 2000 feet of drifting. Several hundred tons of ore have been milled, the average product by simple amalgamation being $23.50 per ton. It is well known, however, that the ores yield to amalgamation but a small per cent of their value. In the lowest level is an occurrence of very unusual ore, being gold, silver and copper, and so far as can be judged at this time this ore will, with additional depth, become the characteristic ore of the mine. It carries from 1 to 10 ounces in gold, 100 to 500 ounces in silver, and 3 to 17 percent in copper.

Rita.

This property was first opened in 1883, became involved in litigation and no further work was done until 1895. It was opened in botaniza at the grass roots, the ore yielding by simple amalgamation $55 per ton. During the period of litigation the old shaft caved in.

That shaft, however was located in the bottom of a canyon and offered no facilities for economical mining.

In resuming work in 1895 a new incline shaft was sunk on the vein 125 feet south of the old shaft and 125 feet deep. In doing this work enough ore was encountered to induce the management to abandon the incline and sink a perpendicular shaft.

on which work is now progressing at a depth of 135 feet, and being dropped 4 feet per day including timbering. It is double compartment, constructed with a view of operation cages, and will be sunk to the depth of 300 or 350 feet before making any attempt to extract ore. Stations, however, are being opened every 75 feet. This claim is the south extension of the Lady Godiva and the north extension of the South Homestake, lying between the Old Abe on the east and the North Homestake on the west. The gold, silver and copper found in the Lady Godiva also occurs in this claim near the surface, specimens of which have yielded by assay as high as 20,000 ounces of silver, 250 of gold and 12 percent copper. Although this ore has only been found in bunches the property is considered of great promise. Both the Lady Godiva and Rita are well equipped with mining machinery.

Since writhing the foregoing we have made a personal visit to the Rita mine and find that in running a crosscut from the new shaft to intersect a drift connected with the old incline for ventilating purposes, a new vein or ore body was cut at a depth of 150 feet carrying ore of marvellous richness. It consists of grayish white sugary quartz, carrying free gold, much of which is in shape of nuggets, running in value from 25 cents to $2 and upward. This ore body where cut (and the air drift intersecting it is all that is known of it) is pay for the width of at least 6 feet.

Rehab Efforts Begin At Cree And Scott Able Fire Areas

Rehabilitation efforts are underway on both the Cree and Scott Able Fire areas.

According to a release from the Lincoln National Forest a "Burned Area Emergency Rehabilitation" (BAER) team has done reconnaissance on both fires to determine the different areas of concern.

Cree fire rehabilitation efforts will concentrate on shallow soils which include silt loam with high erosion potential. The soils are present in five major drainages which cross private land, and lands in the villages of Ruidoso and Ruidoso Downs. Seeding of these areas was scheduled to begin Tuesday. Already, seeding and water barring of 12.7 miles of the constructed fire line has been completed.

Scott Able Fire re-hab efforts will concentrate on 15 canyons within the fire boundary. Two drainages, Pepper and Seep Canyons, were completely burned with a very high intensity fire resulting in numerous structures lost.

Other canyons in the Scott Able Fire burned with less intensity but still pose significant watershed concerns. Ground and canopy cover lost in these canyon watersheds is approximately 100 percent. Substantial soil loss is possible depending on the timing and intensity of rainfall.

Currently completed rehab work in the Scott Able Fire area includes construction of water bars and seeding of 37 miles of fire line. The BAER team is completing a plan for installing land treatments to assist in reestablishing ground cover and soil protection of burned areas. Measures could include increasing drainage culvert sizes, installing straw wattles, silt fences, rock structures, erosion matting and placement of contour logs.

Scott Able fire was expected to be fully contained by Wednesday night. Management of the fire was then transferred from the Fire Team to the Sacramento Ranger District.

U.S. Senator Jeff Bingaman toured the area on Saturday to discuss re-hab needs.

Due to the extreme fire conditions and recent large fire activity in the Lincoln National Forest, forest services lands within the Smokey Bear and Sacramento Ranger Districts will be closed to public access starting Wednesday, May 24. Only private landowners within the forest areas will be allowed access to their properties.

For more information about the fires and forest closure, call 434-7200, or toll free at 1-877-864-8885.

Additional information is available on the Southwest Region Fire Website at www.fs.fed.us/r3/fire.

Water Rate Increase

When the public got a chance to comment, citizen

Tony Seno said the village is the biggest water user with a 10 percent leakage from water lines. He said the village should not selectively persecute one group of people with the high rates. "This is unfair, and un-American," Seno said.

Councilor Ron Anderson said the problem with the higher rates is most on the list of high users can afford to spend the extra money. "Why not turn the water off if a resident ignores the water conservation rules?" Anderson asked. Village attorney Charles Rennick said this is not in the current ordinance, since the village never considered an ordinance for water rationing where it could actually limit how much water goes out.

Mayor pro tem Bob Sterchi said he thought with these high rates, high users will put in domestic wells for their landscaping.

Citizen Jay Ross said the village should restrict building permits until the water issue is resolved with a bond issue or such. "Shut off the spigot on building permits until we resolve this," Ross added. "I don't think people should be abused if they water their plants. We should have a water system that generates adequate water."

Sterchi said soon the village will have enough water rights and can allow people to water.

Seno said he has heard many reasons why the village cannot allow its residents to water outdoors. But he was concerned that all the information on creating fire defensible spaces around homes show a lawn with green grass. Seno accused councilors for not fighting for the right to have a domestic well.

Councilor Leon Eggleston said he never voted to restrict the use of domestic wells for outdoor watering.

"We're in a drought," replied councilor Linda Flack. "This was not something the council did, the weather did it."

Councilors also:

- Awarded the bid for the SCADA electronic monitoring system for the village water system to Carl Kelley Construction for $532,064.82 that includes gross receipt taxes.

- Approved the restaurant beer and wine license for the Deck House at 200 Mechem Drive.

- Approved the restaurant beer and wine license for Spanky's Grille at 2206 Sud-derth.

- Adopted an ordinance that prohibits mobile vending in C-3 parking lots. C-3 is the mid town area from Grindstone Drive to Country Club Drive. There was no public comment for or against the ordinance.

- Approved the vacation of public right of way for 10 feet of lot 404 and all of lots 405 and 406 in Skyland Sub-division.

- Okayed the vacation of public right of way for Lots 38 and 39, Ponderosa Heights Unit 1 subdivision.

County Resolution Protests Alleged Move Of Post Office

Lincoln County Manager Tom Stewart got no response to his letter to the US Postal Service Regional Office about a rumored move of the Post Office distribution center in Carrizozo and sent an invitation to postal regional manager Lee Salazar to attend a county commission meeting to discuss the proposed move.

So on May 18, Lincoln County Commissioners adopted a resolution formally protesting the manner in which the postal service has handled an alleged movement of operations.

"Whereas it has been rumored that the US Postal Service is considering the transfer of distribution operations from the Carrizozo Post Office to the Alamogordo Post Office some 58 miles to the South of Carrizozo:

PUBLIC NOTIFICATION OF RURAL UTILITIES SERVICES FINDING OF NO SIGNIFICANT ENVIRONMENTAL IMPACT

The U.S. Department of Agriculture, Rural Utilities Service (RUS) has received an application for financial assistance from the Village of Capitan, New Mexico. The proposed project consists of improvements to the water distribution system including additional storage capacity and increased pipeline sizes within and near the Village boundaries. Specific improvements included: construction of a new standpipe water tank (Tank #5) at the southeast corner of the intersection of Maria Drive and Main Road; connection of existing water supply lines at two locations along Mt. Capitan Road; and replacing existing pipelines with larger diameter pipes at several locations. The proposed improvements will not result in significant impacts nor conversion of important or protected resources.

As required by the National Environmental Policy Act, the Rural Utilities Service has assessed the potential environmental effects of the proposed project and has determined that the proposal will not have a significant effect on the human environment and for which an Environment Impact Statement will not be prepared. The basis of this determination is based on the Environmental Assessment and comments received from the Federal, State and Local agencies contacted. In order to minimize or avoid any adverse environmental impacts, the Rural Utilities Service will require the applicant to incorporate the following mitigation measures into the proposed project's design:

- * Designing project elements within existing rights-of-way and easements;
* Maintaining traffic, noise, stormwater, runoff and dust controls during construction;
* Scheduling construction outside of the nesting season of migratory birds (April 1 through August 15) or conducting field reconnaissance for nesting sites;
* Minimizing impacts to existing trees and other natural vegetation and to existing animal burrows;
* Immediately ceasing construction if historic or cultural resources artifacts are identified in project excavations; and
* Reclaiming disturbed areas upon completion.

Copies of the Environmental Assessment can be reviewed or obtained at the following locations:

Proclamation Made In Honor of Fire Fighters

by Doris Cherry

Signed by the mayors of Ruidoso and Ruidoso Downs and the Lincoln County Commission chairman, a proclamation honoring the fire fighters of the Cree Fire was presented during the Ruidoso Council meeting May 30.
The proclamation was presented to Ruidoso Emergency Management Coordinator Thomas Chavez and fire fighter Robby Hall, "two heroes from the fire."

Councilors also commended US Forest Service fire specialist and Ruidoso Fire Chief Virgil Reynolds. "We can't thank everyone enough for what you all have done," said mayor pro tem Bob Sterchi.
Fire prevention educator with the Montana BLM John Kohn who has been stationed in the area to assist with the fires, said he was impressed by the support of the area citizens.
Kohn also announced that fire workshops will be held on June 13 and 15 at the Ruidoso Fire Station #2 (on White Mountain Drive at the north end of the golf course) from 7-8 p.m. each night. The workshops will show property owners how they can make their homes more fire defensible.

Village manager Alan Briley, in speaking about creating defensible spaces, said the village has relaxed its rules about trees to allow property owners to clear their own lots. Under the new rules, any tree less than 10 inches in diameter at chest height can be cut without a permit. Also any tree that is diseased, dead, dying or within 10 feet of a home can be cut without a permit. Also homeowners can now put their yard waste and slash at the curb side to be picked up by the village.

The village is planning to purchase another grappling truck and hire another employee to shorten the pickup time of yard waste from the current six weeks to about three weeks. Also property owners can take their own yard waste to Sierra Contractors for disposal for free by showing a recently paid water/sewer bill. To help pay for the disposal, Briley announced that there will be an increase in yard waste fees to dispose of the more than 45,000 cubic yards of tree waste, more than household garbage.

To help property owners identify which trees should be removed, Briley said they can call the village fire department, or after July call village hall to speak to the new urban forester. "The village relaxed its rules to allow property owners to begin to clean up their lots," Briley said. "Now we are working on a way to dispose of the waste."

Councilors also heard a presentation from Scottie Savage, water management specialist with the interstate stream commission, on cloud seeding. Savage told of the positive effects of cloud seeding and the multimillion dollar price tag to increase rainfall by about 13 percent.

"We need a weather modification program in all of New Mexico," Savage said. "But cloud seeding is not a quick fix to drought or fires."

As a way to better communicate any emergency messages to residents, Briley reported the village has purchased a multi-phone dialer machine that will be delivered in 30 days. The machine will telephone up to 600 residential phones in five to 10 minutes and give a short recorded message. The machine was purchased with a $300,000 grant from the Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA). Briley said the machine will be beneficial in case of evacuations, or for the schools to inform parents of snow days and other emergencies.

County Protests

and whereas this alleged movement will cost the loss of four employment opportunities in the Town of Carrizozo; and whereas the population of Carrizozo is estimated to be 1,351, such a proposal will impact this small community and the local employees; and now therefore be it resolved that this commission, on behalf of the people of the Town of Carrizozo, specifically protest the manner in which this proposed shift in operations has been handled and the impact of the move to the community.

"Whereas the Congress established May 30 each year as Memorial Day to remember and pay respects to our Veterans through whose valiant efforts we enjoy the freedoms we do today; and,

"Whereas a combined Merchant Marine and Military Memorial Service will be held on Saturday morning at 10:30, May 27, 2000, at the Memorial Cemetery near Fort Stanton;

"Now Therefore, we the Board of Commissioners of Lincoln County, New Mexico, do hereby proclaim the week of May 21 through May 27, 2000 As Veterans Appreciation Week"

County commissioners unanimously approved the proclamation.

LCSWA Sideloader Truck Breaks Down

Trash usually picked up by the Lincoln County Solid Waste Authority piled up over the Memorial Day weekend.

According to Lincoln County Solid Waste Authority (LCSWA) interim director Carol Virden, the new sideloaded trash collection truck used to pick up the commercial accounts and county residential dumpsters broke down just before Memorial Day weekend. The truck was taken to the dealer in Albuquerque for repairs, but LCSWA was informed the dealer could not begin work on the vehicle for three weeks, Virden said.

LCSWA was able to repair the old side loader truck and get it back into service by Wednesday morning. Virden said the route driver was busy emptying commercial containers in Carrizozo and Capitan and getting to the resident county routes.

Virden said while the trucks were out of service, LCSWA employees were picking up some areas with a smaller service truck.

LCSWA chairman Rick Simpson was out of town Wednesday, having located another side loader truck to purchase.
