

New Horizons Celebrates 25 Years On January 21

By Doris Cherry
New Horizons Developmental Center in Carrizozo is celebrating its 25th year with a party on January 21. Everyone is invited to the party at 5 to 7 p.m. on Wednesday, Jan. 21 at the Center at 810 E. Ave. in Carrizozo. Awards will be presented at 6 p.m. New Horizons Developmental Center opened its doors in 1978 with five employees and since then has provided 24-hour residential services for developmentally disabled adults. New Horizons was established as a satellite of Zia Therapy Center of Alamogordo. The purpose of the center was to provide work opportunities for residents with developmental disabilities at Fort Stanton Hospital and Training School, operated by the New Mexico Department of Health. Residents were housed from Fort Stanton to Carrizozo five days a week. New Horizons is housed in the old Lincoln County Hospital and the former residence used by the nurses who worked at the hospital. The buildings had been empty for some time before New Horizons leased them from Lincoln County. Use of the facility has helped New Horizons keep its operating costs significantly lower than programs that have to pay for their housing facilities. New Horizons executive director Jenny Kelly told THE NEWS. In September 1979 New Horizons was incorporated and was no longer affiliated with Zia Therapy Center. In 1980, New Horizons opened Casa Linda, a group home for eight women from Fort Stanton. In 1983 another group home, Casa del Sol, was opened for four individuals. In 1987 Casa Linda's capacity was increased to 15. Coming into its 25th year, New Horizons currently has 16 residents whose ages range from 20 to 85 years.

"Turnover at New Horizons is minor compared to similar programs," Kelly said. In the center's group homes, Casa Linda and Casa del Sol, residents receive training in acquiring

The crossroads of US Highways 54 and 380 in Carrizozo is now a four way stop.

Tuesday, January 13, workers from the New Mexico Dept. of Transportation (NMDOT) installed the four way stop signs and changed the lens of the flashing warning light to red on both sides. They also put up reduced speed and warning signs on the approaches to the intersection to warn oncoming motorists. To further warn motorists on US 380, the department is installing "Speed Zone Ahead" pavement markings and rumble bars in the westbound lane on the overpass. The rumble bars will create additional visual and audible warning for motorists, said Robert Kurtz, District Two Traffic Engineer for NMDOT. Kurtz oversaw the intersection work on Tuesday.

U.S. 54 & 380 Intersection Is Now A Four Way Stop

commercial traffic, local officials over the years have requested the highway department do something with the intersection.

Last year the Lincoln County Commission joined with Carrizozo town officials in requesting NMDOT do something with the intersection. At that time many citizens requested the intersection become a four way stop, and county commissioners sent a letter suggesting a four way stop as a preferred option, if engineering studies allow.

Over the years, and just last year, DOT has told town and county officials that a traffic control signal is not an option for the intersection because the traffic numbers do not meet DOT criteria for such a light.

Some residents are concerned a four way stop at the intersection could result in rear end accidents when the roadway is icy, especially coming west over the overpass. Carrizozo Town Police will do close patrol of the intersection and DOT has installed a traffic counter to monitor the amount of traffic coming through the crossroads.

Capitan, Corona Schools Holding Two Mill Elections

Capitan and Corona School Districts are holding elections to continue their two mill levies, also known as SB9. Approval of continuing the two mill levy in each school district will not increase property taxes.

The special elections will be held only in Capitan and Corona on Tuesday, February 3. Polls will be open from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. Polling place in Capitan will be at the Lincoln County Fairgrounds and in Corona at the Senior Citizens Center.

Absentee voting is now underway for the special school district mill levy elections. Applications for absentee ballots may be obtained from the office of the Lincoln County Clerk in the Lincoln County Courthouse in Carrizozo or by calling the office at 648-2385 ext.

6. Applications will be mailed to the requestor who must then return the completed application in order to receive a paper ballot that must be returned to the county clerk's office, by 7 p.m. Tuesday, February 3.

Funds from the two mill levy, a property tax, can be used only for erecting, remodeling, making additions to, providing equipment for and furnishing school buildings, purchasing or improving school grounds and purchasing computer software and hardware and maintenance of buildings and school grounds. Mill levy funds cannot be used for salaries.

For more information about the mill levy elections contact the county clerk's office, or the offices of superintendents of Capitan and Corona Schools.

FOUR WAY STOP. The intersection of US Highways 54 and 380 in Carrizozo is now a four way stop. Highway department crews installed the new signs on Tuesday, and also put up signs to motorists as they hurry into the intersection. The NM Dept. of Transportation also changed the covers, on the flashing lights over the intersection, so that they now flash red, warning motorists they must now stop at the intersection.

Absentee Voting for Democrat Presidential Caucus Underway

*Caucus Day Feb. 3
At Ruidoso
Convention Center*

Absentee voting for the Democratic Presidential Caucus election is underway now. Absentee ballots must be postmarked by January 26 to be counted in New Mexico's first-ever presidential caucus on Feb. 3.

The caucus will be run by the Democratic Party of New Mexico.

Voters must request an absentee caucus ballot from the party. Applications for the absentee ballots are available on the party website at www.nmdemocrats.org; or by calling the state party headquarters toll free at 1-800-624-2457.

Application cards for the absentee ballot are available in Ruidoso at the office of Robert O. Goddard CPA at 1204 Mechem Drive, 258-1079, in Carrizozo at 309 Central Ave., 648-2333, and in Capitan by calling 354-2673. The state party headquarters must receive the application for the absentee ballot cards by January 20. Actual absentee ballots will be mailed to the person making the request on the application Completed absentee ballots must be postmarked to be mailed back to the state party headquarters by January 26.

Democrats who miss the deadlines for absentee voting by mail, can vote in person on Feb. 3, the New Mexico Presidential Caucus day. In Lincoln County the Ruidoso Convention Center is the only official county site. Voting hours will be 12 noon to 7 p.m.

All Democrats who were registered to vote in Lincoln County by Dec. 30, 2003 are eligible to vote for their favorite Democratic presidential candidates.

Candidates who filed to be on the New Mexico caucus ballot are retired general Wesley Clark of Arkansas; former Vermont Governor Howard Dean; Senator John Edwards of North Carolina; Rep. Dick Gephardt of Missouri; Sen. John Kerry of Massachusetts; Rep. Dennis Kucinich of Ohio; Sen. Joe Lieberman of Connecticut; and business consultant Fern Penna of New York.

For more information about the caucus call the Democratic Party state headquarters toll free at 1-800-624-2457 or go to the party website at www.nmdemocrats.org. The Democratic presidential candidates will not appear on the regular June primary election ballot.

and maintaining self help and independent and community living skills. Casa Linda is a co-ed setting with private bedrooms and capacity of 15. Casa del Sol has private and semi private bedrooms with a capacity of four, currently occupied by four women.

New Horizons provides services for all ages, although many residents are older, retired individuals. Programming is individualized to meet the needs of each person. Development of independent living skills is emphasized in both group homes. Residents are allowed to be involved in daily aspects of living such as meal preparation, clothing care, home maintenance, and the development of recreational and pre-vocational skills to the best of their abilities and interests.

Other services provided to residents include psychological services, occupational therapy, speech therapy, physical therapy, pharmacy services, dietary, dental and social services, recreational services, counseling, active case management, individual program planning, evaluation and assessment, job coaching, referral and transportation.

Younger residents are encouraged to obtain job skills and some work in the community. Employment opportunities for younger residents are provided by Roy's Gift Gallery, Carrizozo Joe's, Theresa's Beauty Salon, Sierra Blanca Brewery, Lincoln County News and Carrizozo Recreation Center.

New Horizons now employs 25 people, who all live in Lincoln County. Twenty-three live in Carrizozo. Some have worked at New Horizons since 1980. This year New Horizons has an anticipated operating budget of $768,000 including annual payroll of $420,500.

New Horizons is a non-profit organization with a board of directors made up of community citizens. The board of directors meets at 12 noon on the third Wednesday of every month at New Horizons. Meetings are open to the public. Duties of the board include hiring the facility director, handling personnel problems, establishing policies, and administering the center budget.

Board of Directors are Rene Burton, president; Sarah Gnatkowski, vice president; Hayden Smith, secretary; Beth Hightower, treasurer; Martha Guevara, member; Archie Witham, member; and Dean Lollar, member. Burton has been affiliated with New Horizons since the beginning and is the only member who was on the original board. Gnatkowski has served on the board for more than 20 years. Witham has been on the board for more than 15 years. All board members are volunteers.

New Horizons also purchases as many supplies and services locally as possible. "The people of Carrizozo have long supported New Horizons, and they have welcomed the residents into the community," Kelly said.

Funds to operate New Horizons are provided by Medicaid Title XIX. Kelly said she is concerned about recent discussions on the state level to reduce Medicaid payments which will affect the residents at the center.

New Horizons accepts individuals regardless of level of functioning, degree of disability, sex, age, color, ethnic background or religious preference. Referrals for residential services are accepted from all New Mexico institutions, the community, and other social services agencies.

For more information New Horizons can be contacted at 648-2379 or by email at nhdc@nm.net. Office hours are 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. Monday through Friday.

LOUISE FLORENCE PURCELLA

Louise Florence Purcella, 81, a former resident of Lincoln County, died December 8 in Albuquerque. She was born January 19, 1922 in Angus, N.M. She attended Capitan Schools until her marriage to Charlie Purcella in 1937. The couple lived in Lincoln County and Capitan until they moved to Albuquerque in 1947.

Louise frequently attended Capitan High School class reunions and visited family throughout Lincoln and Otero counties. Her great uncle, John Copeland, was sheriff of Lincoln County for a short time during the Lincoln County War.

Charlie preceded Louise in death in 1982. She was also preceded in death by sons Jerry and baby Thurman.

She is survived by sons Charles and wife Viola, Gary and wife Cathi, all of Albuquerque, and Kenneth of Midland, TX; daughter Nancy Reinhardt and husband Clyde, of Albuquerque; brother, Roy Copeland and wife Lena of Santa Fe; sister, Loree Burton of Bermuda Dunes, CA; 12 grandchildren and 26 great grandchildren.

Memorial service was held in Albuquerque Dec. 11 and interment was at Angus Cemetery December 12.

LATTIE A. INGRAM KILPATRICK

Funeral services for Lattie A. Ingram Kilpatrick, 81, of Nogal were January 13 at the First Baptist Church in Corona with burial following at the Corona Cemetery. Officiating was Rev. Cal West.

Mrs. Kilpatrick died January 11 in Ruidoso. She was a member of the Rebekah Lodge and the Baptist Church. She lived most of her life in and around Lincoln County. She married Henry Franklin Kilpatrick on May 13, 1939 in Carrizozo.

She is survived by her husband, Henry Franklin Kilpatrick of Nogal; children, Willis F. Kilpatrick and his wife Carol of Overland, KS, Brenda L. Kilpatrick Zumwalt and her husband Lloyd of Nogal, and Neva Jacquelin Kilpatrick of Oxnard, CA; foster children, Frank A. Hughes and his wife Sheila of Arkansas City, KS, and Nancy L. Hughes Buller and her husband Lonnie of Mississippi; 10 grandchildren; 16 great grandchildren; sister, Joveta Hamilton and her husband Paul of Bosque Farms; brother, Mike Ingram and his wife Genevieve Ingram of California, and sister-in-law Elaine Ingram of Boise, ID. She was preceded in death by a son at birth, Ronald Wayne Kilpatrick. Arrangements were under the direction of LaGrone Funeral Chapel of Ruidoso.

Toothache? Try Sitting on a Stove -- Or Solicit Your Neighbor's Opinion

Ancients (and Moderns, Too) Offer Deluge of Panaceas Ranging from Garlic to Zulu Cherries; Even Shakespeare Philosophized About It!

The next time you have a toothache here's what not to do:

"Place a snip of garlic ground with oil and salt on the thumbnail on the ailing side and apply the concoction to the gums surrounding the aching tooth. Be very careful, however, to surround the garlic with dough to protect the flesh from leprosy."

If that doesn't work -- and it won't -- here's another prescription that's just as useless:

"Gather a number of earthworms and place them in a dish filled with moist sand. Strew over it the minced yolk of one egg. The earthworms shall eat it. After some time they are cleaned, put in a pot, which should be covered well, placed in a hot oven and dried."

"About two eggs shells full of this powder are rubbed to form a salve with bloodstone and red sandal, two ounces each, unadulterated musk, two scruples, lard obtained from a he-bear, lard from a boar, five ounces each."

"Smearing" is Helpful.

"If you wish to use the 'remedy', you should first scratch the tooth with a splinter of aspen wood and then smear the salve on it."

If the tooth still aches -- and it will -- don't bother to try this:

"An eel, a spiny back,

True indeed, indeed,

True in sooth, in sooth,

You must eat the head

Of said spiny back,

To ease the aching tooth."

This whole business may sound silly, and of course it is, but up until a hundred years ago in most parts of the world, and even in some remote corners today, toothache remedies such as these noted above were and are prescribed conscientiously for the relief of dental pain.

In Bavaria toothache sufferers were sometimes advised to chase a cat over a plowed field until the animal perspired. After catching it, the aching molar was to be rubbed with perspiration taken from the cat.

Looking into the history of aching molars and remedies, there is no evidence available that Adam ever had a toothache, nor is there any case history on the dental health of Eve, but it is a safe assumption that there have been sore teeth ever since the time of our common ancestors and it is almost certain that there have been as many remedies as there have been toothaches.

"Dentists" in Abundance.

One time, history relates, a fellow was asked to name the most widespread profession. With little hesitation he replied there are more dentists in the world than representatives of any other field. When called upon to prove his statement, he tied a handkerchief around his jaw and sat himself in front of a church on a great holiday, moaning and groaning with feigned pain.

Almost everyone who entered the church stopped to prescribe for his distress -- practically everybody who entered the church was a "dentist."

He proved that everyone is a "dentist" and what's more he showed that there are as many

WELLS FARGO

The Next Step

3.99% APR*

NO FEES, NO CLOSING COSTS

It's ironic how something with such low interest can generate so much attention.

TAKE MORE CONTROL OF YOUR FINANCES WITH A WELLS FARGO HOME EQUITY LINE OF CREDIT

Homeowners everywhere are using the equity in their homes to pay for things like bill consolidation, home renovations, college tuition--anything they want. With a home equity line of credit, you just use the money when you need it, as you need it. And the best thing is you only have to apply once no matter how many times you use it. Interest rates on equity lines of credit are lower than most other financing options and the interest is usually tax-deductible. The first step is to talk with a Wells Fargo banker and they'll answer your questions. Just visit a Wells Fargo banker, call 1-800-WFB-OPEN (1-800-932-6736) or visit wells Fargo.com.

*Effective 9/16/03 a variable annual percentage rate (APR) of 3.99% will be made available on home equity lines of credit ranging from $100,000 to $500,000 with a maximum combined loan to value of 70%, excellent borrower credit history, and a Wells Fargo PACE account. There is no annual fee. The rate is subject to change monthly, with a minimum APR of 3.99% and a maximum of 18%. This rate requires that automatic payments be made from a Wells Fargo checking account. Hazard and flood insurance (if required) must be in effect on the property securing the account. This 3.99% APR is based on an index plus a margin. The index is the highest prime rate published in the Western Edition Wall Street Journal Money Rates table. The margin is based on the credit limit combined with the loan to value and Wells Fargo's evaluation of the borrower's credit history as of 9/16/03. The index value was 4% plus a margin of .49%. Pack and auto debit are required to receive 3.99%.

THOUGHTS

FROM THE EDITOR'S DESK

Did you say "Thank You" today?

By Ruth Hammond

Getting your children to be polite is a life-long teaching experience. It takes much repeating to get them to remember to say "Please" and "Thank You" when they should. But as you know, it is important to use those two magic words, and use them often. Too often people don't show gratitude. That is a shame, because many people need to know you care enough to acknowledge their kindness, whatever it was.

Remember what happened this morning? Someone opened the door for you at the post office, or someone smiled and asked how you were, or someone waved as you went by. Each of these small acts of kindness were for you. And if someone cares enough to be polite, you definitely should reciprocate. Saying "Thank You" to the person who held the door open takes less than 10 seconds, but it could make a great difference to the person holding the door open.

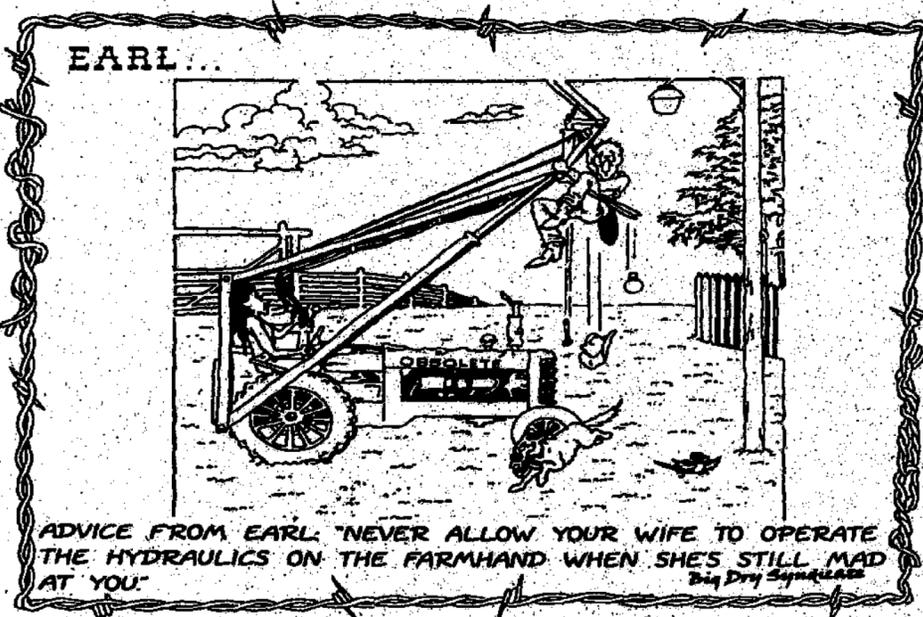

And that is what life is supposed to be about, making a difference. There would be no reason for us to be on earth if we were supposed to ignore others. Getting along and working together causes more happiness and that happiness should be shared, not kept in solitude. If you have great news, news that makes you feel better, share that news. It may not mean much to others but they could be down and need to know that someone is in good spirits. Hearing the gladness in your voice just might brighten their day much.

Children can be especially enthusiastic when they are happy and as you know, their enthusiasm can be contagious. It is difficult to be around someone bubbling over with excitement and remain in a foul mood. Then again, you probably know more than a few people who never seem to get out of their gloom, and don't you wish they would? It is always pleasant to walk through the courthouse because there are smiling, friendly faces everywhere. And those smiles and pleasant greetings are definitely contagious.

If you want to try something new, start the day by saying "Thank You" for being able to get out of bed. You don't have to say it to someone, just say it. Then say "Thank You" every time someone asks how you are today. Then say "Thank You" when someone does something nice for you. Then say "Thank You" at the end of the day. You might be surprised at how much better you will feel at day's end.

And don't forget to say "Please" when asking for something, whether it is checking the price of an item at the store, or buying stamps, or doing any other business. It takes less than 10 seconds, and the pleasure it may bring can do wonders for someone else. And you will feel good too.

Suppose no one ever said "Please" or "Thank You" and there were no pleasantries of any kind being exchanged. It would be sad indeed, and you would miss the great pleasure of feeling good because someone cared. Don't go through life causing problems, share happiness and joy and maybe, just maybe, the idea will catch on and others will do it. How many times today did you say "Please" or say "Thank You" and really mean it? Try counting tomorrow.

INSIDE THE CAPITOL

by Jay Miller

SANTA FE -- There is considerable confusion about Gov. Bill Richardson's pork reform plan. Accounts carried in the media, this far, tell us that the governor wants half of all the pork to distribute instead of a third and that he wants the Legislature to have only half the pork to distribute instead of two-thirds.

But it's not that simple, folks. It takes a careful reading of the findings and recommendations of the Governor's Finance Council report, called Invest New Mexico, to figure out what's going on. It is on his Web site at www.state.nm.us, if you'd like to read it for yourself. It is concise and very readable.

Most of those reporting on the governor's plan don't seem to have read it, and those who have read it seem unclear on the concept. The recommendations to the governor do involve eliminating the split of the fund that has given a third to the governor and a third to each house of the Legislature.

And yes, the suggestion is to split capital outlay funds down the middle. But no, the governor is not proposing that he get to spend half the money the way he wants and the Legislature spend the other half of the money the way it wants.

That's where it requires a reading of the original document rather than depending on news reports. The major recommendation is that ALL the money available be prioritized by a group yet to be named. That group certainly would have heavy legislative involvement since only the Legislature may appropriate money. Since the governor can veto, that means there is a certain balance of power that will exist.

In deciding which projects are most deserving of funding, the governor's report recommends that half the money be used for capital projects of statewide significance, such as education and water and the other half go to capital projects of a local and regional nature, such as sewer systems and senior citizen centers.

But this doesn't mean the governor gets to decide on the state half of the money and the Legislature gets to decide on the local and regional half. Richardson wants to see all the money allocated by a sort of central planning council that would take all considerations into account. So in effect, the governor is proposing to take all the Legislature's money that it divides among its members for pet projects.

Lawmakers could still go with their constituent groups to the planning council to advocate for local projects and those that make the priority list would still get funded. But many wouldn't, and individual lawmakers no longer would be able to take credit for having "brought home the bacon."

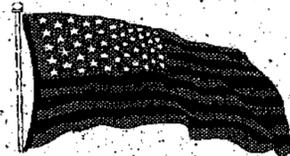

The report to the governor on reforming the distribution of the state's capital projects money was confusing because it summarized its recommendations by putting the "third, a third and a third" formula and the "50-50" formula into the same section, even though the concepts don't relate.

Obviously many lawmakers aren't going to like this arrangement. Some have charged this is a power grab by the governor. But actually Richardson is giving up his share too. The secret is going to be in the composition of the body that prioritizes the $15 billion of statewide building needs that have been identified. That may be impossible to fashion to everyone's satisfaction.

The Public School Capital Outlay Council may provide a model as to how such a body could be structured. It contains representatives from the executive and legislative branches of government along with some public members with expertise.

But the bottom line is that only the Legislature can appropriate money. So the funding priorities set by this planning council would be only recommendations to the Legislature that it could accept, reject or modify.

And most likely it would modify, as it already does with Highway Department priorities.

Have A Good Day!!

PSYCHIC PREDICTIONS FOR THE NEW MILLENNIUM

Capricorn (Dec 22 - Jan 19) Get ready, get set, go-go-go. Have every-thing ready for what you want to accomplish, in your new life. Get pencil and paper ready to jot down ideas.

Aquarius (Jan 20 - Feb 18) You're going to be happier, because you are leaving behind the, good, bad and the ugly. Surround yourself with like-minded people. Positive attitude.

Pisces (Feb 19 - March 20) You may feel like you're chasing your own tail for a while. You are. Soon you'll be back in the groove of things with a whole new outlook on life. Start fresh.

Aries (March 21 - April 19) Don't shut down just yet. Get away and think about what you don't want in your life, as opposed to what you need. Start saving money, you're moving up.

Taurus (April 20 - May 20) It doesn't matter what they think, it only matters what you think, and feel, that will change your situation. Quit asking questions. You have the answers.

Gemini (May 21 - June 20) Rock? River? or Road? Take your pick and get on your new journey of life. Do all three if you have the time this year. Meet your future head on. Smile.

Cancer (June 21 - July 22) What was, isn't anymore. You'll find more money and love, once you quit fighting it. Let the sun shine through you so others can see your light.

Leo (July 23 - Aug 22) When you're sick and tired is when you'll see what has been right there in front of you the whole time. The answer is inside of you. Let it out, be free.

Virgo (Aug 23 - Sept 22) A new journey can be just the ticket to get you out of your rut, you call life. Break the old mold and make a new start in life. Bet on yourself, it's a sure win.

Libra (Sept 22 - Oct 22) You're coming up on something big. You can handle it, once you think it out, (like you always do) Don't discuss this with anyone, just trust yourself this time.

Scorpio (Oct 23 - Nov 21) You'll see you don't have to prove anything to anyone anymore. You only thought you did. Walk talk, stand strong, and smile on the way out of your old life.

Sagittarius (Nov 22 - Dec 21) You have a good idea that could make you more money. Eat right, and exercise, so your body will start your mind and then the soul. It'll work.

Guns

Every two hours, a child in the United States is killed with a gun. Eighty-eight percent of children who are killed or injured in the United States are shot in their own homes or in the homes of relatives or friends. Every six hours, a child between the ages of 10 and 19 years old commits suicide with a handgun. The statistics are alarming. It makes you wonder why anyone would want to own a handgun. Many households, however, do own a gun. The only way to make your family safer is by educating your children to the dangers of guns and making their surroundings safer.

Here are some things that you can do to make your children safer:

- * Think long and hard about having weapons in your home. A firearm in the home is more than forty times as likely to hurt or kill a family member than to stop a crime.
- * Start educating your children early and repeat the message periodically because children learn gradually.
- * Teach your children what harm guns can do.
- * If you have a firearm in your home make sure that you and everyone else in your household are trained in firearms safety.
- * If you own a gun, make sure that any firearms in your house are unloaded and securely stored in a locked gun case. Lock the ammunition in a separate area. Consider investing in trigger locks.
- * Encourage your children to tell you about any weapon he/she knows of. Report the weapon to the police department if warranted.
- * Teach your children not to touch weapons.
- * Stress that what they may see on television is not real and that, in real life, guns do real harm.
- * Make it clear that you do not approve of violence as a way to handle anger or solve problems.

State Police Almanac
Soliciting Is A Fraud

The District Attorney's Office for Lincoln and Otero County has issued a fraud warning about individuals soliciting funds for a State Police Almanac.

Businesses and homes are being contacted by telephone with requests for donations to purchase advertising in the State Police Almanac. They are requesting $95 a year and $125 for two years of advertising.

A representative from New Mexico State Police said there are no solicitations being conducted on their behalf. In fact, State Police do not solicit donations of any kind.

Complaints received by the District Attorney's Office indicate the soliciting caller's telephone number on caller ID is blocked. Complaints have stated if a person does not make a donation at the time of the call in a day or two the person receives a $95 COD envelope from UPS.

The DA's office recommends that anyone who is called by a solicitor for donations to the State Police Almanac or any similar solicitation to just hang up the phone. And if they do receive a UPS COD envelope they have not ordered they should refuse to accept it.

Citizens who have encountered such solicitations are urged to contact Investigator John Stubbe at the DA's office at 505-437-3640 Ext. 26.

Extreme Gardening

by Doris Cherry

Welcome to Extreme Gardening, a monthly column devoted to gardening in the extreme climates of Lincoln County.

This column will be dedicated to organic food garden methods, with additional tips for ornamental gardening, in the south central mountain area of New Mexico. I have chosen to garden organically because I believe this is the safest way to grow food. With organic methods the concerns for chemical contamination are lessened. With organic methods birds and insects that are beneficial to the garden and to the rest of the earth are not killed, deformed or damaged by harsh chemicals that can sometimes be misapplied.

Most of the information in this column comes from my own organic gardening experiences, and from experiences of gardeners in the area.

As fears for food safety continue to hit the headlines nationwide, anyone with a little desire, time and a little patch of dirt can grow some of their own food. Growing food at home gives the grower control over everything, from how the garden soil is prepared and what is added to it, what type of seed or bedding plants are used and how the vegetable is grown and harvested.

Why garden now? Some ask this as drought lingers into its fourth consecutive year. My answer is this is THE time to convert to Extreme Gardening with my proven methods.

I have gardened in Lincoln County since I moved here in 1976. My first garden was fantastic, in the deep soil of Capitan, with a very wet summer!! After we moved onto our own land west of Capitan, I had to learn to garden all over again. My first garden was in a wind-protected area a long way from the house.

Things grew very well, getting tall and green, when suddenly the great looking celeriac and corn began to disappear, right before my eyes!!! Let me introduce you to the pocket gopher, and the local mule deer herd who thought that little four foot fence was nothing, and apple trees and garden plants were there just for them.

So the garden moved next to the house, easier to watch over and basically easier to take care of. Over the next 20 years we learned more about dealing with the extremes of gardening at 6,600 feet altitude in the wind. In this column I will try to provide information on how to deal with the wind; the wide divergence of temperatures even in the summer; drought; pests, including your own pets; and the best vegetables and flowers for different climate zones, wildlife, bird and butterfly attraction and so on.

Occasionally the column will feature interviews with gardeners in the area, and will provide their time tested advice on various garden subjects.

Since this is the first column in Extreme Gardening, my advice for a first time gardener is to locate a site for the garden, and begin soil preparations. For established gardens this is the time to work on the soil and site.

To choose the best site for a garden, make sure it is sunny, although some shade is very acceptable as the earth's ozone layer lessens and the Ultraviolet rays of the sun intensify. A blaring bright full day sun location will not necessarily grow better vegetables. Remember the sun will be far more overhead during the growing season.

Try not to locate a garden under deciduous trees like elms or black walnuts. A garden spot can be near or almost under pines, pinons or junipers, if you thin these out or trim their branches extensively. A site can be made by creating raised beds and importing soil.

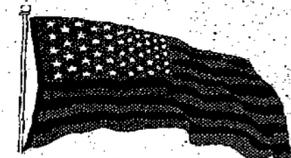

Be careful where the dirt comes from, sometimes the worst of plant pests can come along, hidden innocently as roots or seeds. If unsure sift the dirt and heat it by covering with clear plastic.

Once a garden spot is chosen, watch how the winds affect that location. Is it blasted by the wind? If so, you might consider relocating the garden to the wind protected side of the house or garage or property. Or put up a wind resistant fence around your garden spot. Some neighborhoods have deed restrictions and Ruidoso, Ruidoso Downs and Carrizozo have zoning regulations so check with your neighborhood association or the Carrizozo, Ruidoso, or Ruidoso Downs municipal offices.

My method of Extreme Gardening is based on a fenced garden site. In areas prone to deer and elk the fence must be at least five feet, or higher if elk are a problem. Fencing material can be wire if deed or zoning restrictions allow.

However, wire is not needed unless you have big dogs, horses, cattle, sheep or goats that might get into recipes for toothache relief as there are dental advisers.

Since time immemorial there has been, indeed, a legion of medicines, a host of magics and a startling multiplicity of procedures intended to cure the evil of toothache. All three kingdoms of nature -- plants, animals, and inorganic substances, have been called upon to stop dental pain.

But before we learn more about the weird remedies of magic, superstition and ignorance, it is fitting, perhaps, to find out just what a toothache is and how to cure it. Any member of the American Dental association will tell you that toothache is not a disease in itself -- rather it is a symptom of disease; the most common of all human ailments, tooth decay.

Only One Way to Stop Pain.

Decay results because there is a break in the hardest substance in the human body, tooth enamel. When decay exposes the nerve of the tooth, pain results.

CHINESE CURE
Garlic and saltpetre should be applied in the left ear to ease an ache in the right side of the jaw, and vice versa. So runs an ancient Chinese toothache cure.

Medicaments will give temporary relief, but modern thought is that the best way to stop a tooth from aching is to relieve its nerve from exposure.

Of course ancient people knew little of the why and wherefores of toothache and even today many people know little of the pathology of the teeth, with the result that many of the ancient recipes based on superstition are still being prescribed today. The ancients did know, however, that toothache is a painful thing.

There is a story told of a Turk in Bosnia, who upon encountering a weeping child, asked, "Why are you crying?" When the child replied, "A snake bit me," the Turk said, "That's nothing. I thought you had a toothache."

The English of old had a proverb which pointed out that "He Who Hath Aching Teeth, Hath Ill Tenants." The proverb embodies more truth than the author realized, for modern dental and medical study has shown that aching and diseased teeth can upset other tenants in the human structure, such as the heart, eyes, tonsils, joints, etc.

Shakespeare Was Right.

Shakespeare immortalized aching molars in "Much Ado About Nothing," when he said:

*"For there was never yet philosopher
That could endure the toothache patiently."*

The majority of toothache remedies since time unrecorded have been applied to the aching member of the dental arch, but relief of pain has been sought by the application of toothache cures to cheeks, nostrils, ears and even to more distant parts of the body such as the upper arms, elbows, forearms and wrists.

Folk dentistry in all parts of the world uses almost every type of plant life for relief, from acorns to Zulu cherries. The Polish Jews eat an apple which has been roasted with a species of palm leaf over a fire for tooth comfort. East Indians inhale an infusion of bamboo.

The ancient Greek dentists, believe it or not, prescribed buttercups. Garlic has been the remedy of many people, while others have used lemon, lily-of-the-valley, wheat, moss, parsnips, tobacco and a host of other types of vegetation.

One Austrian remedy urges the patient to cook garlic in vinegar and to tie a poultice of same on the wrist on the side of the aching tooth. In Bavaria they peel a piece of garlic and place it in the ear. The Chinese made pills of garlic, horse-radish seeds, saltpetre and human milk, which they inserted in the nose.

In Brandenburg a dental genius "discovered" tooth ailments could be relieved if the sufferer ran around a church three times without thinking of a fox. The Ruthenians placed their hopes in a concoction of dog tooth powder. Once people were convinced that oral pain would disappear if the teeth were picked with the nail from the middle toe of an owl.

Mice and Lion's Teeth.

Another Central European physician of the Middle ages advised his patients to bite the head

LEGAL NOTICE

COUNTY ASSESSOR
ORDER NO. 03-59
NOTICE OF REQUIREMENTS TO REPORT CERTAIN MATTERS RELATING TO PROPERTY VALUATION AND
FOR CLAIMING EXEMPTION FROM PROPERTY TAXATION

The County Assessor, hereby publishes notice to property owners, pursuant to Section 7-38-18, NMSA 1978, as follows:

1.) If you own real property not valued by the Assessor in 2003 for property taxation purposes, it must be reported to the Assessor no later than February 29, 2004, unless it is not subject to valuation for property taxation purposes in 2004. The report must contain certain required information and be in a form that may be obtained from the Assessor's office. Section 7-38-8(A)(B), NMSA 1978.

2.) If you have made improvements to real property during 2003 and the improvements cost more than Ten Thousand Dollars ($10,000), the improvements must be reported to the Assessor no later than February 29, 2004. The information required and the form of the report may be obtained from the Assessor's office. Section 7-38-8(C), NMSA 1978.

3.) All real property owned by any nongovernmental entity and claimed to be exempt from property taxation under the provisions of Paragraph (1) of Subsection B of Section 7-36-7 NMSA 1978 shall be reported for valuation purposes to the appropriate valuation authority. Section 7-38-8, I NMSA 1978.

4.) If you own property that has decreased in value during 2003, and that property is subject to valuation for property taxation purposes, you must report the decrease in value to the Assessor no later than February 29, 2004. The report must contain certain required information and must be in a form that may be obtained from the Assessor's office. Section 7-38-13, NMSA 1978.

5.) If you believe that you or your real property is entitled to exemption from property taxation, you must apply to the Assessor for exempt status no later than thirty (30) days after the mailing of the county assessor's notices of valuation, in order to be entitled to exemption from taxation in 2004. Exception: If an exemption from taxation was in effect for 2003 and the basis of the exempt status or use is unchanged from that year, application for exemption need not be made for 2004. If required, application for exemption must contain certain required information and must be in a form that may be obtained from the Assessor's office. Section 7-38-17, NMSA 1978.

6.) If you or your real property was exempt from taxation in 2003 but the basis of the exempt status has changed during 2003 so that there is no longer eligibility for exemption, you must report that fact to the Assessor no later than February 29, 2004. The report must contain certain required information and must be in a form that may be obtained from the Assessor's office. Section 7-38-17 (D), NMSA 1978.

7.) Head-of-family exemptions claimed and allowed in the 1974 or a subsequent tax year, veteran exemptions claimed and allowed in the 1982 or a subsequent tax year or disabled veteran exemptions claimed and allowed in the 2000 or a subsequent tax year need not be claimed for subsequent tax years if there is no change in eligibility for the exemption nor any change in ownership of the property against which the exemption was claimed. County assessors shall apply head-of-family and veteran exemptions allowable under this subsection automatically in the subsequent tax years. Section 7-38-17 NMSA 1978.

8.) If you claim "residential" status for your real property, you must declare this status to the Assessor no later than February 29, 2004 unless the property was classified as "residential" by the Assessor in 2003. In the event that the predominant use of your real property has changed from "residential" to "nonresidential" during 2003, that fact must be declared to the Assessor no later than February 29, 2004. The declaration must contain certain required information and must be in a form that may be obtained from the Assessor's office. Section 7-38-17, I, 7-36-2 (D), and 7-36-2.1 NMSA 1978.

9.) Valuation for property taxation purposes of a single-family dwelling owned and occupied by a person who is sixty-five (65) years of age or older, and whose "modified gross income" was not greater than $19,200 in 2003, may be eligible for a limitation on the taxable value of your residence. If you think you are eligible, you must apply to the Assessor not later than thirty (30) days after the Assessor mails the notice of value for your residence. The application must contain certain required information and must be in a form that may be obtained from the Assessor's office. Section 7-36-21.3 NMSA 1978.

10.) If your land was valued in 2003 in accordance with the special method of valuation for land used primarily for agricultural purposes, and the land is still used primarily for agricultural purposes, you need not reapply for that special method of valuation in 2004. If your land was not valued in accordance with that method of valuation in 2003, and it is now used primarily for agricultural purposes, you must make application to the Assessor in order to obtain that valuation method in 2004. If your land was valued in accordance with that special method of valuation in 2003, but it is no longer used primarily for agricultural purposes, you must report that fact to the Assessor no later than February 29, 2004, and must contain certain required information and be in forms that may be obtained from the Assessor's office. Sections 7-36-20 NMSA 1978.

11.) If you own "livestock" that are subject to valuation for property taxation purposes, you must report such livestock to the Assessor. All such livestock that are present in the county on January 1, 2004 must be reported to the Assessor no later than February 29, 2004. If the livestock are transported into the county after January 1, 2004, they must be reported to the Assessor no later than the first day of the month following the first month in which the livestock have been present in the county for twenty (20) days. The required reports must contain certain required information and must be in forms that may be obtained from the Assessor's office. Section 7-36-21 NMSA 1978.

12.) If you own a "manufactured home" and it was present in the county on January 1, 2004, you must report it to the Assessor by February 29, 2004. The report must contain certain required information and must be in a form that may be obtained from the Assessor's office. Section 7-36-26 NMSA 1978.

13.) Certain mineral property and personal property of contractors operating in more than one (1) county are required to be reported to the State of New Mexico, Taxation & Revenue Department-Property Tax Division in Santa Fe. Information about property to be reported to the Taxation & Revenue Department-Property Tax Division, can be obtained from the County Assessor or the State Assessed Property Bureau at P.O. Box 25126, Santa Fe, New Mexico 87504-5126, Phone: (505) 827-0895.

THIS NOTICE IS ONLY A BRIEF STATEMENT OF THE PROVISIONS OF Sections 7-38-8, 7-38-8.1, 7-38-13, 7-38-17, 7-38-17.1, 7-36-2 (D) 7-36-2.1, 7-36-21.3, 7-36-20, 7-36-21, and 7-36-26 NMSA 1978, and related Taxation & Revenue Department Regulations. It is not intended to reflect the full contents of these provisions, which may be examined at the office of the County Assessor.

the garden. To make the garden fence wind defensible, use a shade cloth or ground cover, like the polyester material that is used on the ground to block out weeds over the wire structure. Or stretch the materials between the fence posts and secure well. Old sheets, blankets, curtains or tablecloths can be used if allowed.

Sheet metal or wood slats can be used but will not let in light. I prefer shade cloth because it allows filtered light to come through the fencing and still breaks the wind.

Once a site is selected and fenced the next step is to prepare your garden bed. With new or old gardens now is the time to do soil preparation to retain moisture and enrich the soils, especially with this dry mild winter. Mulch and composted forest debris are available now from Sierra Contractors in Ruidoso Downs. (Call the company first to make sure someone will be there to load and for their hours of operation.)

Compost fluffs up our rocky, heavy clay soils, reduces the alkalinity and helps retain the moisture. Mulch, placed on top of the soil keeps in moisture which evaporates slowly in the winter. Mulch can be made of pine needles or decomposed forest debris, straw, grass clippings, newspapers or paper feed sacks (try to avoid colored inks). Sheet plastic can be used, however it does not decompose into a beneficial soil use.

Compost can be purchased or made at the garden. All non-meat kitchen scraps can be composted. Get a lidded plastic bucket to keep under the kitchen sink and empty it often onto the compost pile near the garden. Kitchen debris may be placed directly into the garden beds at the end of the growing season. But don't do this in January because the scraps will tend to freeze instead of rotting. Make a lasagna looking compost pile with scraps, layer of horse, cow, chicken, sheep or goat manure (fresh if possible), layer of mulch, then topped with dirt and just a bit of water, covered by a thin layer of mulch (or plastic sheeting well secured). Compost piles have to be kept damp to decompose.

Special products to help accelerate compost are available from many seed companies and gardening supply houses, local nurseries and plant stores and where garden products are sold. Check the labels to make sure they are organically derived if you want an organic garden.

Gardening for me is a fun experiment that gives back the most wonderful of gifts. My garden is a place of pleasure, serenity, retreat and surprises.

Looking Back...

off a mouse and then suspend said head from the neck. It was believed, too, that a youth would be free from aching teeth for the remainder of his life if he wore the canine tooth of a lion around his neck.

Just as "surely" as plants and animals were infallible cures for toothache, so were treatments with human organs and secretions considered sure-fire relief, for example:

*"To ease the tooth, you well might,
Visit the graveyard at midnight.
Make sure you dodge the morning sun--
Then bite the bone of a skeleton."*

MOST FANTASTIC
According to an anonymous humorist, all one has to do is take a mouthful of cold water and sit on a hot stove until the water boils. The toothache's then supposed to be gone.

In Prussia it was believed that the index finger of the right hand had greater healing power than the other fingers, so the Prussians, among other remedies, urged that the index finger of a corpse be placed against the aching tooth, with the plea:

*"To thee, the deceased,
I complain of my pain.
Take me toothache from me
And keep it in thy grave."*

The inorganic substances used for toothache cures run from agate to zinc, with demand for arsenic, iron rust, lead, salt and water. Water, perhaps, is involved in the most fantastic of tooth remedies. All one has to do, according to the advice of an anonymous humorist, is to fill the mouth with cold water and sit on a hot stove until the water boils.

And that advice is just as good for the relief of toothache as any mentioned above.

Modern science, "which has released the mind the oppressing grasp of mystical bugaloos, which has liberated our surroundings from the presence of spirits and ghosts, of demons and devils" has demonstrated that toothache is merely the symptom of a disease, namely: dental decay.

The moral of our story is that when a tooth aches the nerve is either exposed or in danger of being exposed. Permanent relief is assured only by relieving the nerve from exposure or losing the tooth.

Mendoza-Salazar

Miss Tonito Mendoza and Mr. Fred Salazar, a prominent young couple from San Patricio, were married Saturday morning, April 8th, at the Catholic church here, by Rev. Fr. Salvatore.

The bride was lovely in a white satin wedding dress with veil. A reception and dance followed the wedding. They will live at San Patricio.

School Activity Day

The annual Lincoln County Track and Field day activities will be held in Carrizozo, on Friday, April 28.

This is the red letter day of the year for many Lincoln county children, for then they have an opportunity to test their physical and mental powers against those of other boys and girls from other schools.

A spelling match, a "ciphering" or arithmetic contest, group singing and part singing, oratorical contests, etc. are on the program for Friday morning, and the public is cordially invited. In the afternoon the field meet will be held at the local race track. The public is also cordially invited to these events.

The curricular events will begin at nine o'clock at the high school building. All citizens interested in the above should not fail to attend these interesting contests.

OBITUARY

Julia Penfield Reidy

Julia Penfield Reidy, 94, died on January 2 from complications of stroke. She was born in the Territory of New Mexico, in Lincoln on June 26, 1909. She was preceded in death by her husband Theodore F. Reidy in 1988 and her siblings, Edward Penfield, Ruth Penfield, and Joanna Amastae.

Julia is survived by daughter Dr. Ruth Reidy and daughter Margaret (Meg) Reidy and her husband John Tiwald and two grandchildren, all of Albuquerque. Her nephew Dr. Jon Amastae and his wife Sharon of El Paso survive Julia with their two children.

Julia began her education in a one-room school house in Lincoln, NM. She graduated in one of the early graduating classes from El Paso High School in 1927. She immediately began her college career at the University of New Mexico, finishing her first year before the onset of the Depression. Julia finished her Bachelor of Fine Arts degree from the University of New Mexico in 1943, studying with the painter Clinton Adams. She studied painting at the Harvard School of Art in Taos during the height of the Bohemian period, participating in the Taos Art Colony. She did additional graduate work in education for teaching certification at UNM. Julia began her teaching career in Picacho, NM, teaching various grade levels and in different communities including the New Mexico School for the Blind in Alamogordo where she taught art. She retired as an Albuquerque Public School teacher in 1975 from Corrales Elementary School. In the summer of 1975 she started Penfield Company in Old Town (now Penfield Gallery of Indian Arts). Penfield Company was an extension of the original Penfield store started by her parents in Lincoln. Her parents were pioneer merchants owning and operating the General Store, Museum, and Post Office in the center of Lincoln from 1898 until 1959 when they sold it to the State of New Mexico. It remains a historical site and State Museum.

Julia was a lifelong Democrat active in Democratic Party politics from a young age in Lincoln County. She was a member of the Lincoln County Historical Society, Pan American Round Table, and the New Mexico Educational Association.

Funeral service for Julia was conducted by Episcopalian minister Reverend Laren Winter on January 7 in the Lincoln Community Church. Burial took place in Lincoln Community Cemetery.

Carrizozo Okays Town Hall Plans

by DORIS CHERRY

Carrizozo Town Trustees gave their final stamp of approval to the design plans including interior finishes for the new city hall with hopes of going to bid for construction by March.

Meeting in regular session on Tuesday, January 13, town trustees unanimously approved the building plans as previously submitted by the architect, with no changes made to the design. They also approved exterior wall colors and finishes, and interior wall colors, floor tiles, carpeting and counter finishes and colors.

Town clerk Leann Weihbrecht and the mayor met with the architect the previous week to review recommendations made by the architectural firm's interior designer.

Part of the building will have exterior walls of decorative split block in dark brown and a grey/tan colors. Stuccoed exterior finishes will be sand colored with feature areas of rust color over the entrances. The canopy over the front entrance will be smoke gray.

Interior wall colors will be tan, with features of the same rust and dark brown as the exterior. Interior floorings will feature dyed and finished concrete floors in the foyer and lobby, multi-colored beige ceramic floor tiles in the public restrooms and regular vinyl floor tiles of blue, tan and dark tan in the break room and employee work areas. The floor in the public meeting room/courtroom will have carpeting in a combination of loop pile in dark brown with blue and tan highlights and tan colored cut pile. The offices will have the dark brown multi-colored loop carpet. Counter tops will be dark brown with beige highlights formica.

Trustees did not change any part of the design plans for the building structure as presented last year. THE NEWS had questioned having a glass wall facing to the northwest in the meeting room because of the loss of heat and possible security issues. Weihbrecht said she did mention this to the trustees, however they chose not to change the design.

During the Tuesday, January 13, meeting there were questions about the need to move the eight inch main sewer line that runs down 4th Ave. The new city hall will take all the space now occupied by the old city hall plus part of 4th Ave. that currently goes in front of the old city hall, and 4th Ave. will dead end at the new city hall.

Weihbrecht said the architects have been aware of the main sewer line and moving the line has been included in the plans. Weihbrecht also said most of the small Veteran's Park on 4th Ave. will be retained, however the grass and sick and dying trees will be removed and replaced with drought resistant plants at a later date.

The town has $490,000 for the new city hall project from state legislative and governor's appropriations made in 2003.

"If all goes right with no unexpected problems," Weihbrecht said. "And we can afford everything, we hope to be in the new building by October."

The town already saved some of the cost for the new city hall. Trustees at the meeting Tuesday unanimously accepted a proposal from Jack Ward of Carrizozo for the removal of the old city hall building. Ward proposed to remove the old city hall; remove tree stumps; remove all concrete under and around the buildings, sidewalks, wall and railing; remove all debris associated with the demolition and tear out and remove the asphalt for 4th Ave. in exchange for the old city hall building. This will be a direct exchange and will involve no cash from either Ward or the town. The town advertised for proposals to remove the old building and Ward was the only proposal submitted.

Conceptual drawings of the new town hall, and samples of the building block, tiles, carpeting and formica may be viewed during regular business hours at the town hall offices located in the Carrizozo Recreation Center.
