INTERESTING TO MILL-MEN

The Loss of Quicksilver in Milling Gold Quartz.

Mining Industry.

In milling gold quartz great experience and good judgment are required to prevent the loss of quicksilver, and consequently of gold. The loss is heaviest when heavily sulphuretted ores are being worked; and ores that carry galena and arsenical pyrites always cause extra loss of quicksilver, particularly when battery amalgamation is practiced. In California the loss of quicksilver varies from one ounce to the ton of ore crushed, down to as little as one ounce to each five tons. The loss generally occurs through the quicksilver becoming "floured" when it is lifeless, becomes capable of division into angular particles almoft infinitesimally small and floats away on the water used in the batteries.

The killing of quicksilver is often the result of an unnecessary amount of stamping. Most mill men are afraid of losing gold by not reducing the quartz operated upon to a sufficient degree of fineness. In working low grade ores (in which the gold is generally finely divided,) the pulp must be made finer than where the contained gold is coarse. As the diameter of the screens controls the fineness of the pulp, judgment must be used in the selection of these; they must be selected with a view to the character of the ore to be worked. When there is much sulphuret in the ore it must not be kept too long under the stamps or there will be produced such quantities of pyrites slimes as will carry away valuable sulphurets. Also, particles of gold may be so hammered as not to amalgamate readily; or they may be beaten out almost to the thinness of gold leaf and thus float away.

It is beginning to be found out that a vast deal of "dead stamping" is being done, which is a waste of power that would much more than offset any loss that would occur from the use of coarse screens. It has recently been found by careful experiment at some of the big quartz mills at Grass Valley, California, that over 80 per cent. of ore discharged thro' a No. 30 screen, and thus no less than 30 per cent. will pass through a No. 60 screen, and thus no less than 50 per cent. will pass through a No. 120 screen.

That the pulp should be kept equally distributed in the mortar, thus preventing some stamps from "pounding iron," adjacent stamps should not drop consecutively. The best order to drop is probably 1, 4, 2, 5, 3. The order 1, 5, 2, 4, 3 is also extensively used.

In working gold qusrtz, one or two ounces of quicksilver are added to each battery for each ounce of free gold contained in the ore. The consistency of the amalgam on the outside copper plates, however indicates whether or not sufficient quicksilver has been added to the battery. When the amalgam is hard and dry, more quicksilver must be added; when it is too fluid to adhere to the plates the charge placed in the batteries must be diminished.

Quicksilver is "Quick" to escape under all circumstances—beats the elusive flea—and there is often waste from careless handling, and also in retorting. It finds every chink and cranny in the batteries, and wherever else it goes, it penetrates the pores of iron and other metals. Wherever it goes there is gold sufficiently fine to go with it. In the gold mills there is a constant absorption of amalgum by the copper plates. To the ordinary observer a sheet of copper does not appear to be filled with pores; nevertheless it contains more pores than does the skin of the humfin body. At Grass Valley, California, afttr a run of a year or two, the outside battery plates and apron are "sweated" to bring the amalgam out of the pores. At the Empire mill, a year two ago, when the ore worked contained at the rate of $18 a ton in free gold, the outside battery plates and the aprons from four batteries were "sweated" and yielded amalgum to the value of $19,000. This was the amount of gold absorbed—in connection with quicksilver—in a run of 18 months. The copper plates are only one-sixteenth of an inch in thickness.

However much care may be taken about a mill, quicksilver and gold are constantly escaping. The site of an old mill is always a mine of wealth. The ground to a depth of several feet is found to be full of quicksilver and gold; the sites of old silver mills are even richer than those of the gold mills.

An Irishman, full of enthusiasm and the "cratur," was walking along a street in Boston on St. Patrick's Day, and yelling "Hoora for St. Patrick! Hoora for Ireland!"

A Yankee walking in front turned around and in a disgusted tone, said: "Hoora for h-ll!"

"All right," replied the Irishman, "every man for his own country!"

"Come and dine with me to-morrow."

"Afraid I must decline—I'm going to see 'Hamlet.'"

"Never mind—bring him with you!"—Scraps.

GENERAL NEWS.

From Various Sources.

Deming Talk.

Deming, N. M., April 16.—Active work of traklaying on the Deming & Sierra Madre railroad commenced at this point yesterday. The road leads south into and through Mexico, terminating at Topolavampa, on the Pacific coast. It passes through the rich mining region of the Sierra Madres, touching Chihuahua and other important points in the northern part of the republic. The entire system, comprising about 1,500 miles has been subidized by the Mexican congress, to the amount of 12,000 pesos per kilometer. A company has been organized in Mexico to place a line of steamships on the Pacific to run in connection with this new line, it being claimed that the ocean from the leading ports of China and Japan to Topolavampa, is at least 800 miles shorter than to any other point on the Pacific coast, having railroad communication with the east, thus saving two days between Hong Kong and New York. Deming is the point at which the new road connects with the American system, and when it is completed the town will be the cenering point of five railroads.

From the Industrial Advertiser.

The reported discovery of valuable and immense veins of ore, bearing free gold quartz, near Gallup has had the effect of awaking a lively interest in this city. But it is safe to treat all rumors relating to the big find, with a due regard to the sensation that Gallup is hungering for a "boom."

The Rio Grande smelter is making extensive improvements in their plant. A stack considerably larger has just been completed, and an electric plant is now on the road. When the smelter is lighted by electricity it will be worth while going some distance to see it at night.

As the passenger train from Kansas City bounded in and stopped at the depot Thursday morning a party of sturdy and florid Britons stepped out of the car. They were equipped as hunters and were on their way to Idaho and the northwest to find a location for settlement with their families.

"Where are you bound to?" inquired a Socorro cad of one of the party. "To hide a hoe" sir. To where? "To hide a hoe." "Oh! you mean to Idaho." "Yes sir to hide a hoe."

Eulogies to Cox.

Washington, April 19.—After the speaker had laid before the house various public building bills, public business was suspended and the house proceeded to pay its tribute to the memory of Samuel S. Cox of New York.

Cummings, of New York, then addressed the house.

Battle of Lexington.

Lexington, Mass., April 18.—The 115th anniversary of the battle of Lexington was celebrated today. Salutes were fired, bells rung and, 150 old fashioned breakfasts were served at the Massachusetts house. Business was generally suspended.

Belgium.

Paris, April 19.—Stanley left for Brussells this morning. Prior to his departure he said he did not trouble himself about the churlish articles in the French press, nor the hostility shown by the members of the French Geographical society. He also said that he was glad he had been spared a reception in Paris as he would receive plenty of them elsewhere.

From Cerrillos Rustler.

The local campaign in Santa Fe county is expected to be hot and close this fall. It is understood that some portion of the Mexican vote has changed from Democratic to Republican, and this fact alone is creating a good deal of uneasiness among the Democrats. The fight will be made in earnest, and judging from past events it will be both hard and bitter in certain sections and among certain factions.

The Santa Fe Sun says that in a private letter to a friend, Hon. Anthony Joseph states positively that he will not be a candidate for re-election to congress this fall. This leaves the field open then for other aspirants, and the new delegate elect, whoever he may be, will have had a hard, close fight in order to triumph. Consequently it is in order not to make any mistake in selecting the man.

Hon. Felix Martinz, of Las Vegas, is talked of as a possible candidate for delegate to Congress, on the Democratic ticket. It may be a little early to mention these things, but, if desired to be kept secret they should not be talked in the presence of newspaper people.

The Rockey Mountain News is now the largest daily newspaper in the United States, having twelve nine-column pages of its regular issue.

A proposal to admit free of duty mining machinery, such as is not being now manufactured there, has been made by Mr. Forster, the Canadian Finance Minister, in the budget just introduced in the Canadian Parliament, and will be welcomed by mining men in the Dominion. At present there is a very heavy duty on mining machinery, and as little is manufactured in Canada, this has weighed grievously on those who have tried to develop the mineral resources of the country.—Engineering and Mining Journal.

THE PEOPLE'S VERDICT.

There was an interesting episode in the Senate on Tuesday. The Montana election case was under consideration. The discussion is one of great gravity. It concerns the right of a State to choose its own Senators. Every honest man in the country who understands the controversy knows that Maginnis and Clark, the Democrats, were elected. But the Republican Senators have determined to steal the State by refusing to count the votes cast in the Democratic Precinct No. 34. Mr. Pugh, of Alabama, was endeavoring to persuade them not to commit this crime, but they had made up their minds to vote for Saunders and Power, the Republicans, even before they heard the evidence. Therefore, only two of them remained in the chamber to listen to Mr. Pugh. The absence of all the Republican senators except these two was a bold advertisement of their deliberate purpose not to listen to argument, and Mr. Pugh postponed his speech until another day.

While this shameful exhibition of turpitude was in progress a despatch was received from Helena announcing that the Democrats had cried the city by a majority of several hundred, although the usual Republican majority is from 400 to 600. It is reported that the Republicans sneered at it, and that Mr. Hoar said it was the strongest argument that the Democrats had advanced.

No one knows better than Mr. Hoar that the Republicans have no argument whatever, and his remark was intended to be ironical. But in a measure his statement was correct; the election showed precisely what the people of Montana think of the Republican attempt to steal their State. The case of Precinct 34 was the issue of the campaign. Mr. Russell Harrison's journal urged the Republicans of Helena to stand by the leaders in Washington, and the result was a Democratic victory in a Republican city. The despatch was indeed a strong argument, for it showed how the people of Montana regarded the attempt to overturn their verdict at the polls.—N. Y. World.

Another republican congressman has been counted in. Republican victories are confined almost exclusively to Washington nowdays. —Albuquerque Democrat.

THIS WILL DO.

Washington, D. C., April 21st.—The feeling here has grown very perceptibly in favor of statehood for New Mexico during the last few weeks. The character of the recent delegation from the Territory has been of a kind to remove much of the opposition heretofore felt by those who looked further than the present political advantage of either political party. There is a feeling prevailing here that the conduct of the general government towards New Mexico has been anything but what it should have been under the treaty by which the country was ceded to the United States, and that if there are troubles in the way of the Territory's admission to statehood, the general government is most largely responsible for the state of the case.

With this feeling is another, to admit the territory and at the same time provide for the removal of the difficulties. It is the talk of those who profess to know the true inwardness of the status, that New Mexico will be admitted, but in the admission her three greatest troubles will be removed.

First of these is the uncertainty of her land titles. In their present condition even statehood could not give prosperity to the new state. So a part of the scheme not to be divorced from it, is a federal commission for the settlement of disputed land titles.

The difficulty growing out of the absence of a sufficient public school system is to be obviated by the establishment for the territory of a school system by the general government, and the making of a perpetuity of this system a condition of admission. Subsequent legislatures, even if so minded, will thus be prevented from interfering with the efficiency of the school system, by disabling strictures, as part of the school system will be the gift of sections 16 and 36 for purposes of public education.

The present unfair legislative districting of the territory is also to be provided against. As part and parcel of the admission the question of local representation is to be so adjusted that the legislature shall represent the will of the majority, and the party which has the most votes will thus be able to control the state government.

Such is the talk now amongst those who are here working in New Mexico's interest, and in view of the fact that the committees of both houses have reported favorably on admission, it now does not seem improbable that the territory will be added to the sisterhood of states before the present session of congress shall close.

The time is now drawing near when the voters of this county and Territory will choose their officers. There are already little juntas and quiet whisperings. Men are in the hands of their friends, or are being over persuaded (?) to sacrifice themselves for the public good. Certain newspapers, the self-styled leaders of public thought, in opposition to the old parties, are offering their columns to all who will come forward and pay the publication fee. Their negative support is much like the preacher's aid to salvation.

It will be well for the voters to watch closely those who have become too good to have a name attached to their political belief; who condemn everything and do nothing; who are above wearing a party collar, but not above being put forward to deceive those who may trust them.

It is time now to begin to consider the situation. It is always in order for people with brains to think; but ill considered promises and hasty outcroppings of irrepressible patriotism are a little premature. The dear people will, we think, look with suspicion upon men who represent only a diminutive ego.

We have a few Republican friends who are always entitled to the floor. They are chronic politicians, old war-horses who have outlived their usefulness and ought to have pensions with conditions attached. So long as they confine themselves to a mutual admiration society, no one will be more than annoyed.

Democrats, if you believe in the rights of the people, be careful of your tongues; be careful of every one, and everything that would persuade you to pin your faith to ignorant and prejudiced men—would-be-leaders. Do not prejudge and set down anything as wrong which has not yet come to pass. It is the privilege and duty of every citizen to act the part of a man in public as well as private affairs.

APATHY OR WRATH?

The Tribune accounts for the Democratic victories in the West by saying that they resulted from Republican apathy.

There is something startling about this assertion. What can arouse these lethargic people if the efforts of President Harrison do not? In his own State he has filled the Federal offices with his relatives; he has used the judiciary and the District-Attorney's office at Indianapolis to protect a notorious criminal, one W. W. Dudley, from punishment. His friends in Congress have shown their disposition towards the farmer by making his clothes, his implements, his home and all he owns or uses dearer. They have also pronounced themselves in favor of protecting him from floods of foreign wheat and corn which are pouring in upon him from the fruitful fields of Labrador and the Steppes of Siberia. A duty upon the eggs of Manitoba is to make the American hen cackle more freely.

In Ohio, Gov. Foraker has done his utmost to excite interest in his party by encouraging forgery and bearing false witness. Throughout the country there should certainly be more or less concern felt in an administration which leans so completely upon Quay that it cannot refuse any request which he may make. One would suppose that apathy would not characterize this year's elections, in view of all these things.

On the whole, isn't the Administration organ wrong? Doesn't it mistake wrathful excitement for apathy.—N. Y. World.

The democrats have twice carried Rhode Island by the popular vote since the national contest of 1888, but the rotten pocket borrough system of representation in the legislature defeated the popular will. Now even this has failed the republicans. They seem to have lost their grip on the state and henceforth it will not be merely debatable but naturally democratic. —Democrat.

The best republican political authority in North Dakota is credited with saying that if the republican majority in congress pass the McKinley tariff bill the result will be to make North Dakota a strong democratic state.

Local elections in many States this week have emphasized the condemnation of this Administration and Congress which was so apparent in the general elections last Autumn. In New York, Ohio and elsewhere the Democratic gains have been remarkable, but especially significant are the results in Indianapolis and Helena, Mon. In Helena the Administration organ, owned by the President's son, made special appeals to the voters to give their approval to the theft of Montana's senatorial seats by increasing the usual Republican majority in the city; yet, with this issue to the fore, the usual Republican majority is utterly wiped out and a strong Democratic majority has taken its place, the Republicans carrying but one ward, and that by but one majority. In Indianapolis the result is still more significant. President Harrison's own township, which has been strongly Republican—the majority being about 1,500—has this year gone Democratic by a majority of about 2,000. Obviously something is the matter, and Republican statesmen would do well to find out what it is.—N. Y. World.

REPUBLICAN LEAGUE MEETING.

By our Special Reporter.

The chosen people—the self-lauded saviors of the nation's glory and man's freedom—the ancient patriots of the decaying g. o. p., have mustered shoulder to shoulder. Speak not of the Grecian phalanx and the Roman legion in comparison with the magnificent compact front of the Republican League.

They were all there last Saturday night. The general ex-officio, defuncto, fairly aglow with patriotic enthusiasm, superinduced by an over dose of ipse—the col. rising superior to self in his modest estimate of notable services performed for his party—the maj, he of Spartan valor, who never yet refused to meet the enemy face to face and down him—and the capt., versed in the combination system—the shrewd and artful who beguiles the unsuspecting and plays the spider act. There was nothing to regret at the meeting except the absense of the col. of the home guard and the hero of the last battle.

Such events stir the blood of the younger generation; and they, in their high regard, decline to even breathe the sacred atmosphere of their heroic leaders.

MILK! MILK!!

We are indebted to Mrs. Ella G. Timoney, P. M., for a specimen copy of WHY?, a new society Magazine published in Denver, Col. It is neatly gotten up and sparkles with wit and humor. Peter McCourt, while at Roswell, secured the centract for the roofing and tin work on the new court house. He also secured other contracts that will keep him busy most of the summer. Mr. McCourt has employed a first-class tinner, so that White Oaks will be supplied with a tinner, as it is the intention of Mr. McCourt to operate a shop at White Oaks and Roswell, and be prepared to do all kinds of tin, sheet iron and copper work.

All the legal fraternity and many others of our citizens are attending District Court at Lincoln, causing White Oaks to look rather deserted—it is Lincoln's harvest.

El Paso, Texas, April 20.—Secretary Saterlee, Commiss. Abrams and Simeon Drake, of New York, who are largely interested in the Texas Pacific, arrived here to-day in their special car. The party are evidently here in connection with Mr. Gould's contemplated purchase of the White Oaks railroad, as they rode out to Lanora to inspect the completed portion of the road. Mr. Saterlee said: "The Texas Pacific is being rapidly improved all along the line. We aim to make it a first-class road in all respects. The outlook for the road is very satisfactory.

Peter McConrt, accompanied by Dan Diehl, have just returned from Roswell, and Pete reports that Roswell is alive with first-class enterprising citizens and good mechanics. There is a large force of men employed in erecting the foundation for the new court house. Mr Sparks will build a fine residence and Trotter and Daniels have the contract for building the same. There are a great many other buildings in course of construction. Roswell will not fail in building itself up and becoming a first-class town for the want of citizens pulling together.

The most interesting thing in print last year, was our last summer girl. We state this as we go to press.—Why?

The rich ore recently struck in the Silves Cliff mine seems to continue as developement progresses.

MR. LEE. "Why, Addie, you needn't cry about it! I only said Mrs. Allen was a very well-informed woman, and I wished you would follow her example."

MRS. LEE. "Yes, and last week you said you wished I could manage to look as stylish as Mrs. Allen,—and she makes all her own clothes. But she has what I haven't."

MR. LEE. "What is that?"

MRS. LEE. "Well, she gets all of her information from the Magazine they take. I admit that she knows all that is going on, and is bright and entertaining in conversation; but I could do as well as she does if I had the same source of information. She lent me the last number of her Magazine lately, and I learned more in one hour's reading, about various social matters and the topics of the day, than I would pick up in a month by my occasional chats with friends. It certainly covers every topic of interest, from the news of the day down to the details of housekeeping; and everything is so beautifully illustrated, too. Every time Mamie goes over to the Allens' she comes back and teases me to get you to take Demorest's Family Magazine, as the stories are so good. Even the boys watch for it every month, as a place is found for them also in its pages; and Mr. Allen swears by it. It is really wonderful how it suits every member of the family!"

MR. LEE. "Well perhaps I had better send for a Specimen Copy; for, if it is anything like what you say it is, it will amuse and instruct the whole of us."

MRS. LEE. "I see that W. Jennings Demorest, the publisher, 15 East 14th Street, New York, is offering to send a Specimen Copy for 10 cents, so we can't lose anything, as each number contains a 'Pattern Order' entitling the holder to any Pattern she may choose, and in any size—which alone makes each copy worth 30 cents; and I just want a jacket pattern like Mrs. Allen's. The subscription price is only $2.00 a year; and I must say I can't see how they can publish so elegant a Magazine for so little money."

ROSWELL ROUNDUP.

From Our Regular Correspondent.

Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Holt are visiting Roswell friends.

Jno. O'Neil, son of Mrs. A. B. Liles, is shaking hands with the boys. John has been away four years and we are glad to see him back again.

A Mr. Tracy of Kentucky is tracing the future of Roswell to his friends at home. Mr. T. is here with an eye to business,

Some of our young men are going courting next week—Lincoln ladies, take notice.

Two private schools have been started—Miss McPherron and Miss Mabel Howell have them in charge.

Our citizens are about to employ a marshal, or peace officer, who will devote his entire time to the town. This is a move in the right direction, let us keep up our reputation of having the most orderly and peaceable town in the west.

Eddy will win—score, 17 to 0.—Eddy Argus, of last week.

Well, of course, considering the the strange ground, and our boys only having practiced about a week and being tired from the trip, it was an easy victory for Roswell.—Eddy Argus, of next month.

Result of yesterday's game, 35 to 0, favor of Roswell.—Pecos Valley Register of same date.

Miss Sadie Williamson is a new arrival at the Chisum ranch. Miss W. will teach Mr. Roberts' boys during the summer. As young ladies are very scarce in this neighborhood, we hope she may be induced to become a permanent settler.

A FEW THINGS WE SHOULD LIKE TO SEE.

More rain.

The court-house and hotel completed.

Good officers elected at the next election.

Brick buildings now instead of adobes.

Suitable grounds donated for parks.

Old bachelors like Richardson, Prager, Long, Robertson and Lea, take unto themselves better halves, and increase our society.

Some one with pluck, energy and capital enough to start an ice factory here.

The Pecos Valley Register changed into a Daily.

The Roswell Dramatic Club rehearse another play.

Some one muzzle the burros, which are destroying our trees.

A Justice of the Peace who can please both sides on every case.

Every boy and girl to write a letter to Edith, care Jaffa, Prage & Co., and try to win a prize.

The next legislature pass an act providing for village incorporations for sanitary and other necessary purposes.

A PECULIAR CASE.

Dr. H. C. Edmuns, of Elberton, Ga., writes: "A very peculiar case of blood poison came under my attention a short time ago. A gentleman came here from Atlanta, Ga., where he had been bitten on the hand by a vicious mule that he was breaking to work. The hand was in a horrible condition, and the inflamation was rapidly extending throughout his entire system. Every knuckle on his hand was an ulcer that was deep and sloughing. He stated to me that he had consulted several physicians, and taken their medicines without deriving any benefit. I gave him a course of Swift's Specific (S. S. S.), and in a few days he reported to me a marked improvement, and in one week from the time he commenced taking S. S. S the hand was healed up and the poison entirely eradicated from his system. It is my opinion that he would have lost his life had it not been for the health giving properties contained in Swift's Specific. He frankly admits himself that S. S. S. did the work.
