CONSUMPTION CURED.

An old physician, retired from practice, having had placed in his hands by an East India missionary the formula of a simple vegetable remedy for the speedy and permanent cure of Consumption-Bronchitis, Catarrh, Asthma and all throat and Lung Affections, also a positive and radical cure for Nervous Debility and all Nervous Complaints, after having tested its wonderful curative powers in thousands of cases, has felt it his duty to make it known to his suffering fellows. Actuated by this motive and a desire to relieve human suffering I will send free of charge, to all who desire it, this receipt, in German, French or English, with full directions for preparing and using. Sent by mail by addressing with stamp, naming this paper. W. A. COXES, 320 Powers' Block, Rochester N. Y.

CAMP LIFE.

HERE'S THE "SLICKER."

The one thing you'll always find in every cowboy's outfit when he goes on the spring round-up is a "Fish Brand" Pommel Slicker. They make the only perfect saddle coat, and come either black or yellow. They protect the whole front of the rider's body, being made to fit round the outside of the saddle entire. When used as a walking coat, the extension pieces neatly overlap each other, making a regular overcoat with a double storm-proof front. When riding, the saddle is dry as a bone, from pommel to cantle, and the rider is entirely protected in every part of his body. These "Slickers," being of extra width, make fine blankets for camp. Beware of worthless imitations, every garment stamped with "Fish Brand" Trade Mark. Don't accept any inferior coat when you can have the "Fish Brand Slicker" delivered without extra cost. Particulars and illustrated catalogue free.

LOVE'S PROBLEM.

Etching down the days' white dome
I heard a sweet voice singing;
The night cast shadows like a tree,
But still the voice rang far and free
"East to the sea,
And south to the sea,
Wherever the swallow flyeth,
The fair gods lie
When they say loves die,
Oor true love never dyeth.

Belted with the sunlight the sun stole on
And still the voice rang clearly -
'East from the west—who marks the line? -
South from the North—where lies the sign?

One love is thine,
One love is mine,
Wherever the earth revolveth,
West to the sea,
And north to the sea,
Who loves love's problem solveth."
—MARION MANVILLE.

THE FIRST SUPERINTENDENT OF EDUCATION.

Hon. Amado Chaves, appointed superintendent of education under the new public school law, was born in the city of Santa Fe in april 1851. He was at San Miguel college for three years, and when 15 years of age went to Washington city, where he attended the public schools for three years and a half; took a full course at Bryant & Stratton's business college, and then attended the National University of Washington as a law student, graduating and receiving his diploma as attorney and counselor at law and was admitted to practice in the supreme court of the District of Columbia: his diploma as such is signed by Gen. Grant as ex-officio president of the University, and was handed to him in person by the general, then president of the United States. He was also employed a number of years in the interior department as clerk and translator. He returned to New Mexico 1877 and practiced his profession for a while, afterwards engaging in ranching and stock business. He was elected clerk and assessor of Valincia county, but resigned both offices; and was elected to the 26th legislative assembly and was by an overwhelming majority chosen speaker of that body. During that session, owing largely to his efforts and his work, much beneficent legislation was had, and, amongst other things the first school law was put through and became law.

He is the son of Col. Manuel Chaves, who was well and favorably known as one of the most successful Indian fighters in the southwest, a man of splendid courage, and as one of the first men who raised volunteers for the union cause in New Mexico. He comes from an old and honored Spanish family, Col. Antonio Duran de Chaves, of Cadiz, of the Royal Spanish army and knight of the order of St. James being his ancestor; the latter came to New Mexico in 1710 and established the colony of Atrisco on the Rio Grande, opposite Albuquerque—New Mexican.

HOUSE BILL NO. 89.

Introduced by Mr. McDonald, Jan. 24, 1891, read first time by title and, under suspension of rules, read second time and ordered translated and printed.

AN ACT To Amend Section 2788 of the Compiled Laws of New Mexico.

Be it enacted by the Legislative Assembly of the Territory of New Mexico,

Sec. 1. Section 2788 of the Compiled Laws of New Mexico of 1884 be and the same is hereby amended so as to read as follows: *

Sec. 2788. The proceeds received from said sale shall be disposed of as follows: First, they shall be applied to pay the expenses of said sale; second, to discharge any outstanding claims incurred in entering the town site of said town: third, the surplus, if any, shall be paid over by said town trustees to the board of directors of the school district wherein said town is situated, to be used and expended by said school board in the erection of school buildings for the use of public schools of said district, and for the use furnishing of the same and for no other purpose.

Sec. 2. Immediately upon the passage of this act the treasurer of any board of town trustees provided for in the act to which this is amendatory, shall turn over to the treasurer of the school district all moneys and property, notes, bonds and securities which may have come into his hands by virtue of said act, taking proper receipts therefor, which money, property, notes and securities shall thereafter be vested in said school board and be expended and used as provided for in section 1 of this act.

Sec. 3 This act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

(From our special correspondent.)

To say that Washington is overrun by women is to put the case mildly. We are bounded by them north, south, east, and west. They throng the streets, fill the stores, congregate in hotel parlors and corridors, and long processions wend their way through the Capitol. The rain which has settled into a steady pour does not discourage them, nor detract from the sunniness of their smiles.

The accommodations of many hotels given out, but the delegates pack themselves three or four deep into one small room and accept their fate as cheerfully as a feature of the great National Council of Women.

The leaders have been here for several days. Miss Willard, Miss Anthony, Miss Seymour, Mrs. Sewell, Mrs. Thomas, and Miss Eastman were on the ground at the beginning of the work, and varied their official labors by a little quiet visiting and sight seeing.

The Western delegate can readily be distinguished from her eastern colleague. Take, for example, the Rev. Olympia Brown, of Wisconsin, who is on the programme for a Scripture reading Sunday morning. Wisconsin is written on every line of her face, and its bracing Western atmosphere shows itself in her voice, her walk and her whole-souled cordiality with the people she likes. She is said to have an exceedingly well-stored mind and a gift of oratory which has always won recognition.

A delegate who is attracting considerable attention here is Mrs. Virginia C. Meredith, the noted woman farmer of Indiana. She has one of the finest stock farms in the State, and is sole manager and overseer. Her husband died after a long illness, leaving his affairs in rather an involved condition. His wife knowing nothing of the work bravely began to learn: she persevered and matters smoothed themselves out under her direction until all debts were paid off and the old Meredith farm took first rank in the Hoosier State. Mrs. Meredith isn't a bit spoiled about it all and finds time in the midst of her labors to take a helpful interest in other women and their work. She is one of the Board of Managers of the Columbian Exposition and will doubtless be prominent in next week's discussion.

Let me take you in the parlors of the Riggs House, where the interest and women have centered. Seated near the window and surrounded by an admiring throng you will see a woman, gray-haired, spectacled, and plainly attired, whose slightest word is listened to with interest. No matter how noisy the room may be or how much talk is in progress, when this woman speaks there comes a great calm. Of course it is Susan B. Anthony, and equally of course the dark young woman sitting beside her is Rachael Forester-Avery. The two are inseparable. Together they planned this National Council of Women, together they worked for its organization, and together more or less they have been ever since.

Miss Willard will not be in the parlor. She is at another hotel, and besides she never sits during a woman's council. It is simply impossible to buttonhole her for one moment. A hairpin here or stray glove there are the only traces the little woman leaves behind her as she flies from place to place. I saw her take a car yesterday. That public conveyance was half a block ahead and was bowling along merrily, but Miss Willard started after it with the serene determination which has carried her and her cause triumphantly through the years. Her glasses leaped wildly off her nose, her matchbox flew open, she lost a handkerchief, a glove, and several trifles, but she got what was left into that car.

The nomination of Charles Foster to be Secretary of the treasury caused no surprise in any quarter. It had been confidently expected for several days. Never at any time probably did the President have but two names under consideration in connection with the vacant Cabinet place. It is said he turned at once to Ohio and resolved to find his man either in Mr. McKinley or Mr. Foster. The selection of Mr. Foster was not a matter of much difficulty. The President was his warm personal friend to begin with. He was anxious to make the appointment and the delay about it grew out of his fear that some of Mr. Foster's numerous business connections might make the appointment unwise. A careful inquiry on that score was instituted, which resulted in assuring the President that the coast was clear, and the appointment was thereupon made.

GOVERNMENTAL MATTERS.

To the Editor of the Optic.

Washington, D. C., February 24. It seems quite probable, now, that Forts Lewis, in Colo., and Union and Stanton, New Mexico, will be abandoned and the reservations and property sold; that troops will be concentrated at Fort Wingate, and at small posts, both in Arizona and New Mexico, disposed of, and that Santa Fe will be made headquarters. The government is paying large rents in Los Angeles and there are abundant and comfortable accommodations at Santa Fe belonging to the military department. There is nothing serious in the talk of establishing the headquarters at Indianapolis, although the railroad facilities in that beautiful city are much greater than in Los Angeles—in fact, the facilities for getting away from there are unequalled.

The World's Fair.

The appropriation for the exhibit from New Mexico amounts to $25,000, to be expended as follows, Ten thousand dollars during 1891 $10,000 during 1892 and $5,000 during 1893.

Mr. Blaine's Article.

"The Youth's Companion" of March 5th is to have an important paper by HON. JAMES G. BLAINE, entitled, "How Reports of Debates in Congress Grow." Such a paper, relating to the National Legislation and written by our eminent Secretary of State, will be of universal interest.

Another of those Double Numbers which the publishers of "The Youth's Companion" seem to delight in offering as a pleasant surprise to its readers comes to us this week. A careful reading of one of these Special Numbers makes it easy to understand why this favorite paper rarely loses an old friend and gains so many thousands of new admirers every year.

Half a Million copies of this, the March Double Number, are published.

Under the new school law the territorial board of education is to select the books for all the schools in the territory, and such books when selected, cannot be changed for five years.

By authority of the legislature, the territorial superintendent of public instruction will issue in pamphlet form all the public school laws of the territory, just as soon as the same can be compiled and arranged.

It is estimated that the text book provision of the new law, which makes the books uniform all over the territory, and enables the territorial board to contract for them at wholesale, will save to the people of New Mexico at least twenty-five thousand dollars a year.

THE INTERPRETER,
White Oaks, N. M.

The Deming Headlight has the following regarding the Late Legislature:

Fall of Dona Ana, Burns of Sierra, McDonald and Richardson of Lincoln, George, of Socorro, Paulin of San Juan, Walker of Colfax, Young of Taos, Easley and Gable of Santa Fe, and Mills and Montoya of San Miguel, represented an honesty and determination of purpose in a good cause—an intellectual and legislative ability—an aggressive, fearless and forceful power of young manhood, rarely witnessed and never excelled in a legislative body of corresponding numbers.

On the Republican side, also, there were marked changes for the better, conspicuously so in the cases of Stover, of Bernalillo, and Anchetta of Grant.

It is creditable to the body that no great number of bills was passed as not many were needed—that while a few may be objectionable, none are viciously bad, and several are of the first importance to the well-being of the Territory—which cannot be said of any session of the Territorial Legislature for many years past.

If one were to ask what has this Legislature done for the good of the Territory, a sufficient answer would be, and one that would debar just criticism even if nothing else had been done, that it made a complete law for the establishment of the the American free public school system in New Mexico. Even if that had been all, the name and fame of the body just adjourned would have passed with high honor into the history of this Territory, entitled to and receiving the grateful plaudits of coming generations. Nothing else was so much needed—without it, no matter what else might have been done, the session would have been a failure. That done, it was a grand success.

It will be conceded, all things considered, that the legislature which has just adjourned, was probably the best New Mexico has ever had. It would have been better could the personnel have been changed in a few particulars. Then some more needed legislation would have been had. The most hopeful and encouraging fact in connection with the whole matter is that public sentiment in favor of certain needed legislation, such as the school bill for instance, was so strong that the vicious elements in legislature dared not exert their power and prevent the enactment. The people are the masters, and even the most selfish and unscrupulous dare not resist the will of the people too far. Public sentiment, however, must be educated to such an extent, by the meeting of the next legislature, but not only that good legislation will be demanded but only such men will be elected to that body as are sure to advocate and pass good measures. The vicious elements of the last legislature must be excluded from the next.—Optic.

The residents of White Oaks by the passage of the law printed on our first page entitled An Act to amend section 2788 Compiled Laws of 1884 are placed in a position to construct a school house this year if deemed advisable. The amount available under the law passed is about $1200 principle and interest for two years $288 a total of $1488. The school district Treasurer will receive this amount, the license money about $800. Poll Tax and Gambling Tax, a 8 mill general tax will create a fund this year ample to build a school house and conduct school the full term. The exemption of $300 has been repealed increasing thereby the tax payers largely in White Oaks. And should it be necessary a special tax of 5 mills can be raised in addition. Every one in White Oaks is interested in the subject of the earliest construction of a school building to meet the requirements of the district the subject should receive the attention of the citizens at large who should express themselves frankly to the school board their opinion. The district has a school house site of several lots between the residence of Col. Heman and the Parsonage. What kind of a building will we have and when should the board commence to build it? The board will most likely desire to hear from the tax payers and the time has come to express yourselves. Do not lay back to find fault when action is taken by the board but canvass the subject at once and inform the board of your desires. We have the money now and should construct the school house. A building costing about $2,000 furnished with two apartments is our opinion, now discuss the question and let the school board know your sentiments

Our representatives in the 29th Legislative Assembly: Senator Richardson in the Council and W. C. McDonald in the House have made a record with which their constituents regardless of party are highly gratified, their strict attention to every local measure and their position and advocacy of the beneficial laws passed has made the members from Lincoln, Chaves and Eddy conspicuous among the leaders in the legislature and the influence possessed gave them a strong following, which the gentlemen did appreciate by their conduct toward the other members. They made friends of political opponents and exerted an influence second to none of the many able men composing the two bodies.

The following from Max Frost contributes for a wonder to the general opinion:

Senator G. A. Richardson, who represented the counties of Lincoln Chaves and Eddy in the council of the 29th legislative assembly, although a strong partisanship, made a very good and useful member of the body he belonged to and in a successful and thorough manner looked after the interests of his constituents. He is honest, hard-working, attentive and intelligent. He guarded well the interests of his section. The New Mexican is gratified to be able to acknowledge that Senator Richardson made a good record personally.

Mr. McDonald was called as presiding officer of the House more frequently than any of the other members. The School Bill, Jury Bill, World's Fair appropriation, Militia Warrant report were the few measures that Mr. McDonald gave much time and labor to. The local measures, Town Site School fund, memorial to open a portion of the Mescalero Reservation and other measures he was the author and conducted them to a final passage.

Both Richardson and McDonald made splendid records and worked hard, they did not become entangled with schemes of a doubtful character. The people of Lincoln, Chaves and Eddy counties made no mistake when they gave Richardson and McDonald their splendid vote at the polls in November. Both are young men and by the record made in the late legislative body have placed themselves in front among the able public men of New Mexico. In common with all the people the INTERPRETER congratulates the gentlemen and return thanks for documents and courtesies bestowed.

The more that can be learned of Mr. Kyle, the new senator from South Dakota, and the causes which led to his election, the better are the democrats satisfied with the result. It means in effect that South Dakota will be removed from the republican column and will move in the interest of the people and be jealous of their rights.

I was at the democratic headquarters a short time after Mr. Kyle was elected. when he was brought down to receive the congratulations of his friends, writes the Chicago Tribune correspondent. Judge Tripp first stepped forward and offered his heartiest and most sincere congratulations. He said;

"Senator Kyle, I have just sent telegrams to Grover Cleveland, Senator Gorman, David B. Hill and others of our friends, stating that we have today elected an independent democrat to succeed Senator Moody. Was I correct in sending such telegrams?" Mr. Kyle answered before the room full of witnesses and democratic friends: "Yes you were entirely so. I will expect to accomplish through the democratic party, the party I have acted with for the past four years, the particular demands and reforms for which the people of this state have elected me." Nothing could be more direct. The first man is yet to be found who would care to impeach the statement in the least that Mr. Kyle is an honest man."

It was said to a Washington paper by H. B. Ferguson, now in that city to work for the Wickham land court bill, when asked if the native Mexicans are not unfit for statehood:

On the contrary, they are eminently qualified for statehood. For more than forty years New Mexico has been under our flag. Many of them were therefore, born under that flag. And they are, as a race, singularly loyal, as well as intelligent, and interested in public questions. They have been greatly slandered in this respect. The women are virtuous and very devout; and the men are loyal, intelligent, industrious, and already creditable American citizens.

Passed the Senate.

The Democrat was yesterday in receipt of the following cheering news which will be gladly heralded by every citizen of New Mexico:

Washington, D. C., Feb. 24, '91.

Our land court bill has just passed the senate and goes to the conference committee. The prospect for an early passage by the house is bright.

H. B. FERGUSON.

The above goes to show very clearly that the delegation appointed by Governor Prince and endorsed by the legislature to go to Washington and urge the passage of the land court bill was one of the very best measures completed by that body. Mr. Ferguson was one of the best that could have been chosen, because he has shown by his indefatigable and untiring zeal in pushing forward public measures to be the right man in the right place.—Democrat.

Senator Carlisle shows pretty conclusively that the Treasury will show a deficit of about fourteen millions next July, predicts that a year from that time the deficit will have increased to something like eighty four millions. These figures will make a good showing in the Presidential Campaign of 1892.

A STAMPEDE.

Corralling a drove of horses gives you plenty of work for hours. You don't have time to think what the weather is. You let everything slide, till the work is over. But the cowboy is never unprepared. When this "picnic" happens, whatever the weather, he is not drenched and wet to the skin before it's over, because he is always provided with a "Fish Brand Pommel Slicker." With one of these saddle coats on, you can't get wet if you try. Your entire saddle will be inside the coat, and it will be dry, too. Did you ever try the Pommel Slicker? Just try one, they cost very little. Then no more colds, fevers, rheumatism, and other results to exposure of weather. Every garment stamped with "Fish Brand" Trade Mark. Don't accept any inferior coat when you can have the "Fish Brand Slicker" delivered without extra cost. Particulars and illustrated catalogue free.

The World Enriched.

The facilities of the present day for the production of everything that will conduce to the material welfare and comfort of mankind are almost unlimited and when Syrup of Figs was first produced the world was enriched with the only perfect laxative known, as it is the only remedy which is truly pleasing and refreshing to the taste and prompt and effectual to cleanse the system gently in the Spring time or, in fact, at any time and the better it is known the more popular it becomes.

TWO PAPERS A WEEK FOR A DOLLAR A YEAR.

The "Twice-a-week" Edition of the ST. LOUIS REPUBLIC is at once the best and the cheapest news journal in the world. It is a big seven-column paper, containing six to eight pages each issue, or 12 to 16 every week, and is mailed every Tuesday and Friday. Its readers get the news of the day almost as promptly and fully as the readers of the daily and half a week ahead of any Weekly in every State in the Union. Yet the price is ONLY ONE DOLLAR A YEAR. Special Missouri, Illinois and Texas Editions are printed, and a General Edition for other States contains nothing but details of important events of interest everywhere. THE REPUBLIC is the leading Democratic paper of the country, aggressive, but at the same time liberal, and the only thoroughly national journal in the whole country. Remember the price is ONLY ONE DOLLAR A YEAR. Sample copies, also an illustrated Premium Catalogue, sent free on application. Address THE REPUBLIC, St. Louis, Mo.

Rev. Dr. Lane preached his farewell sermon, on last Sabbath evening, a farewell to his congregation and the ministry. The Dr. has been pastor of the Congregational Church at White Oaks for the past two years. As a worker he has been indefatigable, and has accomplished a great deal of good during his pastorate. He inaugurated and carried out the building of a beautiful church edifice without any visible means to commence with, to a successful issue, by his indomitable energy and pluck in the face of very discouraging conditions. Those who have not heretofore appreciated fully the Dr's services, now that he is gone from us will have much to regret. His familiar and kindly countenance will be missed by all. He goes in company of several of our boys, to Old Mexico, there to try to better his condition by mining operations. We wish the Dr. and his comrades abundant success, and we trust he and they will all return in the near future to abide with us. The Dr. in the mean time leaves his family here to await developments.

The Optic wants to know whether the community grant incorporation act passed the Council "by the aid of Mr. Catron or against his effort." One of the hardest fought battles of this session was on this bill. Gov. Stover led the gallant fight in favor of the bill, carrying six votes at each roll call, while Mr. Catron fought as hard against the bill as he did when he killed the "Kistler" school bill or when he defeated the repeal of the libel law, and had 5 votes each time. —Sun.

Robt. Sniffen, John McCutchen and W. H. McBrayer, left one day last week on a prospecting trip to the country north of White Oaks. They will be gone several weeks.— Socorro Chieftain.

Our exchanges are increasing, in the constant demand for a Rail Road to White Oaks. The El Paso Herald says:

But the one thing the citizens of El Paso do need is the White Oaks road. With the completion of this line we could look for an influx of people and capital, and through this increase public improvements could easily be made. It is all right to have a tow line out, but it is not well at the present time to have half a dozen. In the present state of affairs it is much better to complete that which would bring capital to El Paso, and not something which would be principally an ornament.

The Optic says:

It looks, now, as though the road from Deming to Topolobampo will be built, opening up one of the finest sections of Old Mexico. This furnishes another reason for building the Las Vegas & White Oaks Air Line. From El Paso to Deming is only about forty miles, on the Southern Pacific. With the Las Vegas and El Paso road, Denver could easily compete with the Atchison road for this Mexico trade. Without this Las Vegas road, the Mexico trade will go east by the Texas & Pacific, or to Kansas City and Chicago by the Atchison. In either case, Denver gets none of it.

The Deming Headlight says:

We would not needlessly annoy our El Paso friends, but we cannot refrain from remarking that the Deming & White Oaks railroad is now more than a mere possibility. Both the Southern Pacific and the Mexican Pacific feel the necessity for a competing coal supply at Deming.

and a fierce storm of cutting sleet which strikes the face like a thousand needles. Wind forty miles an hour. You say a man couldn't stand such a posture? No, he couldn't, without just the proper clothing. And there's only one outfit that can keep a man both warm and dry at such a time, and that is the "Fish Brand Slicker." They are guaranteed storm-proof, waterproof, and wind-proof. Inside one of them, you are as much out of the weather as if indoors. They are light, but warm. Being re-enforced throughout, they never rip, and the buttons are wire-fastened. No railroad man who has once tried one would be without it for ten times its cost. Beware of worthless imitations, every garment stamped with "Fish Brand" Trade Mark. Don't accept any inferior coat when you can have the "Fish Brand Slicker" delivered without extra cost. Particulars and illustrated catalogue free.
