A GENUINE VICTORY.

A colored man of sixty-four years came to me with a sore heart. The "old woman" was his torment. His rheumatism was awful, but not a "smudgin" of liniment would she rub on it. He had stood it as long as he could, and now he was determined to bring her down. He had heard of divorces, and would have one if it cost five dollars.

Upon inquiry I found that he could not work, and that his wife supported him by washing and house-cleaning. He admitted that if he left her he must go to the poor-house, but he didn't care if he went to prison, he wouldn't bear with that miserable creature another day.

I asked for a bill of particulars. In the first place, she was "that hateful" that she would not give him a mouthful of breakfast unless he got up and ate when she did, and he sometimes was so bad with rheumatism he could not get up so early. In the second place, the doctor had told him that salt pork was poison to his joints, and that he must eat fresh meat; but she would get nothing but the saltiest pork. In the next place, he had a perfect cure for his rheumatism, but she would not rub it on. Then what right had a wife, anyway, to dictate to her husband—the head of the house? This last he repeated so often, it was clearly a case of wounded dignity.

I advised that he try once more to fetch her to terms. "Would you not like to bring her to her knees?" I asked.

"You bet, boss; but how can I do it? She weighs more'n two hundred; she is as strong as a horse, and as quick as a cat. You see, boss, I only weigh one hundred and fifteen, and my old bones is full of rheumatism."

"Heap coals of fire on her head," I suggested.

"I tried billing water wunst, but, Lordy massa, she licked me e'en a'most to death for it. I shouldn't dare try coals. I ain't no more'n a baby in her hands. No, boss, coals would'n't work, nohow."

Our conversation brought out the fact that they belonged to the same church, that the minister had tried to show her that she was the weaker vessel, and that, in the marriage ceremony, she had promised to obey. It seems that at the mention of "the weaker vessel," she had stretched out her immense arms and laughed derisively.

"I tell you, boss, she pretends to be a scripture woman, but she done forgets all her marriage vows, and treats me like I was a dog. Boss, I hain't told you all; I'm r.a.

shamed to tell you that she keeps a whip, and has licked me lots o' times!"

"And now you would like to bring her to her knees?"

"Wouldn't I, boss! If I could bring her down I would give my life."

I asked him to tell Amanda that I wished to see her, but not to mention that we had spoken of their quarrel. She came, and I was not surprised that she had whipped her husband. She was a splendid great animal, evidently of the fierce sort.

Matt dropped in soon to see if I could comfort him. I told him that his case seemed unpromising.

"You see now," said he, "that coals of fire won't work."

I had helped to untie many domestic knots, but I saw little hope in this case. I asked if he would manage exactly as I should advise. He would do anything if he could only fetch her down.

"Who prepares the kindling wood for her fires?"

"I used to, and would now, if she would treat me decent."

"Who builds her fires in the morning?"

"I always did, but now my rheumatism is bad,—and then I won't, anyway, she treats me so mean."

"What else did you use to do for her, that you don't do now?"

"I used to take her clothes home, and do lots of things; but I won't do a thing for her now."

"Will you do as I advise?"

"I will, if it is anything I can do."

"If you will do what I advise, I agree to help you through with your troubles."

"If you will help me fetch her down, I will do anything."

"I am afraid you will not have the courage."

"Don't be afraid, I will do all you say."

"Go home, prepare a large quantity of kindlings, get up to-morrow morning early, build the fire, keep it going, think over all the things you used to do for her, and do every one of them just as well as you can. Keep it up two days, and then come again. You see that we must have powerful proof that she is unreasonable and cruel, and that you do everything for her."

I waited for Matt's return with much curiosity. When he came again, a few days later, I was struck with his puzzled and embarrassed manner. He was almost disinclined to conversation, which was in strong contrast with his volubility in our previous interview. I saw the situation, and simply said to him, after learning that he had kept his promise:

"Now I wish you to go on this way, doing everything you can for her; and to-morrow morning, after you have got the fire built, say to her:

"Amanda, I have not done for you what I ought to do and I am sorry. You have done a great deal of hard work for me, and I don't ask you to do it any longer. I have got the rheumatism, I am getting old, and I won't stay in your way another day. You must say it just as kindly as you can, for you know we must be able to show that while you are affectionate, and do everything for her comfort and happiness, she is cruel and hard. Just as you are coming away, say to her: 'Amanda, if you get sick any time, and you will let me come, I will do all I can for you.' Now, if you will do all this very heartily, and she is still hard and cruel, we shall have a good case against her."

Poor Matt seemed less talkative than in our previous interviews, and I thought I understood it. But I pretended not to see, and urged him to go on gently and kindly. He, promised, and disappeared. The next evening he did not come, but I met him on the street a few days later, and I was amused with his embarrassment. I urged him to step into my carriage, and on the way to my office, he told me that he had not come to see me as he promised, because he was so busy, etc.—the usual fibs.

I laughed, and seizing his hand, said; "Come now, Matt, tell me all about it."

Thus challenged he said: "Well boss, the truth is, before I got through saying what you told me to say, Amanda put her big arms around me and took me right into her lap, and ever since she has treated me like I was her real husband. Boss, I was never so happy in all my life, and my rheumatism is all gone. But boss, I must go home right away, 'cause I am afraid he will want something."

Once, a year or two later, Matt aired his dignity as head of the house, and there was a little trouble; but for years, and until the old man's death, she was very happy in his domestic life; and when he died, Amanda gave him a nice funeral, and sincerely mourned his absence.—Dio Lewis's Mouthy.

A hen is in the prime of her life at two years old. She will then give better results in the matter of laying and her eggs will hatch better than those of pullets. When three years old she has about done her best work as a layer.

TERRITORIAL.

The Santa Fe county election difficulties whereby County Clerk Delgado is now confined to jail for contempt, will be argued before the United States supreme court on Monday next.

The low places on the Santa Fe road, where trouble heretofore has been experienced from high waters, have all been rip-rapped and no fears are entertained this spring from overflows.

On homestead entries on 160 acres the fee is $14; on eighty acres $7; on forty acres, $6. These fees must accompany the application to file. When final proof is made, the fees are, for 160 acres, $4; for eighty acres, $2; for forty acres, $1.

More interest is manifested this year in the next exhibition of the territorial fair and driving association than has been known for four years past. The gentlemen elected as directors of the association who will have charge of the eleventh exhibition are all enterprising citizens who will make our next fair a success in every point of view. They are all largely interested in New Mexico and will exercise every effort to excel any territorial show that has been held.—Alb. Democrat.

A great deal of excitement was manifested yesterday over a lost child, the seven-year-old daughter of Mr. Summers, who was lost in the hills from 10 o'clock a. m. 'till late in the evening, when she wandered into Feagles' ranch, east of town. Hundreds of people searched the hill, some even remaining out all night. A good idea for parents to hobble such youngsters.—Silver City Enterprise.

The Pecos Valley railroad folks will soon begin preliminary surveys for the projection of their road, one of which will be up the Hondo from Roswell to White Oaks thence to San Pedro, which the same is in south Santa Fe county. They want the Cerrillos coal, and must have it since it is a fact that at Edly fire wood is sold by the pound.—New Mexican.

A petition is being circulated and extensively signed, asking that the town be incorporated, and will be presented to the board of county commissioners at their next regular session on Monday next. Already the number of signers exceeded 100.—Roswell Record.

P. F. Garrett and Jas. R. Brent, with their families, left Garrett's ranch on Monday, 6th inst., for Uvalde, Texas, where they will occupy Mr. Garrett's recently purchased possessions two miles west of that town. Mr. Garrett has rented his ranch, near Roswell, to J. R. Cunningham, reserving orchards, vineyard, and two buildings.

San Marcial real estate is in demand at the present by residents who desire to erect permanent homes.

Pinos Altos, having a population of 1090 will come under the $400 license tax. It will probably have four saloons. Silver City will have about ten.

The directors of the Territorial Fair Association will hold a meeting at an early date and make arrangements for the annual fair next fall.

The river has been cutting in at the west end of the Albuquerque bridge at Atrisco, so that it is now impassible. Freight and passengers are now being crossed by skiffs.

All around Cerrillos, Dolores, Golden and San Pedro are good showings of mineral, which in places as has been proven, is pocketed in masses of fissures of great wealth.

J. L. Smith, who was connected with, or rather is supposed to have concocted the scheme by which to rob the Southern Pacific train some months ago, a few miles from El Paso, has escaped from the El Paso jail by cutting the iron grating and bars of his cell.

The public school building of Las Vegas will be a grand, magnificent stone structure. It is located on a most commanding point of view—on a hill from which a large portion of the town can readily be seen. The stone masons have reached the second floor, and when the building is completed it will be a monument all Las Vegas will be proud to acknowledge and cherish. Alb. Citizen.

Geo. H. Thwaites came down from Socorro this morning to interview Superintendent Mudge in relation to the order for the removal of the side track at the Graphic Smelter. He was successful in securing a countermanding of the order, as the railroad company desires to do everything possible to develop the industries of the Territory. The inference to be drawn from the above is that the old Graphic smelter is likely to be put in active operation again.

Everything is progressing satisfactorily and there is no question but what the spring meeting of the Driving Association will be a grand success. While Secretary Geach is in correspondence with a number of horsemen but few entries have been made to date. The track is in excellent condition and a number of horses are in training. Many of the younger horses are showing up in excellent shape and are developing wonderful bursts of speed. Fine sport may be assured and an excellent attendance.—Democrat.

WINFIELD S. COBEAN, Register,

Many years practice have given C. A. Snow & Co., Solicitors of Patents at Washington D. C., unsurpassed success in obtaining patents for all classes of invention. They make a speciality of rejected cases, and have secured allowance of many patents that had been previously rejected. Their advertisement in another column will be of interest to inventors, patentees, manufacturers, and all who have to do with patents.

HEED THE WARNING.

It is not infrequently the case that itching pimples and irritating "cat boils" are the forerunners of larger boils, or the most serious carbuncles. Invariably Nature puts out her danger signals, and they should be heeded at once. The pimples and little boils show that the blood is not in a good condition and nature is trying to relieve the system. A few doses of Swift's Specific at this juncture will accomplish wonders. The eruption will be healed and the system cleansed of its impurities. The modern paraphrase of the old saying, "A stitch in time," etc., is that "Timely stitches will save nine pairs of breeches." The modern form has a touch of humor that does not modify the truth of it. In that vein, we may say that a course of Swift's Specific prevents "ills ter-rific."

The World Enriched.

The facilities of the present day for the production of everything that will conduce to the material welfare and comfort of mankind are almost unlimited and when Syrup of Figs was first produced the world was enriched with the only perfect laxative known, as it is the only remedy which is truly pleasing and refreshing to the taste and prompt and effectual to cleanse the system gently in the Spring time or, in fact, at any time and the better it is known the more popular it becomes.

Al. Rainbolt is dangerously sick with typhoid fever at his father's, a few miles from town.

Mr. J. Y. Hewitt is moving into town to-day.

J. R. Poole and J. Mahoney, mining men from Colorado, came to White Oaks, Wednesday. They are on their way to Nogal to look at mining property there.

Ridgeway will meet any prices made in White Oaks, on anything

Charles Belgen, of the firm of Rosenthal & Co., Lincoln, passed through this place, the other day, in search of a French cook. He did not find one in White Oaks, and con tinued his march to the railroad.

Mrs. Langston dropped into the Interpreter office for a few minutes, yesterday. She is just out, after a prolonged attack of grip.

Mrs. Sidney Parker spent half an hour, this morning, investigating the mysteries of the printing office.
We doubt, however, whether our teaching availed much, and fear she departed but little wiser than she came.

Mrs. Stella Kessler has the finest garden in town. For a week past she has been using lettuce of her own raising, and radishes, spinach, etc., are rapidly coming forward,
while on another lot she has pear,
apple and cherry trees in bloom.
With a little irrigation in the early part of the season, it is wonderful what results may be obtained, even in arid New Mexico.

Mr. J. A. Brothers, the popular proprietor of the Southwestern Ho

At White Oaks the Old Abe mine is proving a bonanza. If it proves to be the great true fissure which everybody fully believes, a discovery has been made which had eluded miners during eleven years of hard toil. When found at last it proved to be covered by less than a foot of earth and float rock.
From the grass roots down it aver aged $80 per ton to the thirty-five foot level. The shaft is now down over 200 feet, with the sixth level open. The grade of ore has so far improved that the milling has been brought up to an average of over $60 per ton from the start. The ore body varies from 30 inches to 11 feet in width, and has been opened for more than 200 feet in length. If the mine contained no more than now in sight the four owners would have respectable for tunes assured. These are Wm.
Watson, John Y. Hewitt and M.
W. Hoyle of White Oaks, and H.
B. Ferguson of Albuquerque. Be yond doubt this splendid fissure will hold out to a great depth, and there is not much doubt it carries gold nearly the entire length of the property.

B. H. Dye, the managing owner of Lady Godiva, is dumping mag nificent ore from the 650-foot level of that property. Mr. Dye is sink ing a winze from that level on the west vein, and will sink the work ing shaft on the east vein and make connection therewith at once.

Mr. Lee. "Why, Addie, you needn't cry about it! I only said Mrs. Allen was a very well-informed woman, and I wished you would follow her example."

Mrs. Lee. "You, and last week you said you wished I could manage to look as stylish as Mrs. Allen, and she makes all her own clothes. But she has what I haven't."

Mr. Lee. "What is that?" Mrs. Lee. "Well, she gets all of her information from the Magazine they take. I admit that she knows all that is going on, and is bright and entertaining in conversation, but I can't do as well as she does if I had the same source of information. She lent me the last number of her Magazine lately, and I found more in one hour's reading, about various social matters and the topics of the day, than I could pick up in a month by my occasional chats with friends. It certainly covers every top of interest, from the news of the day down to the details of house-keeping; and everything is so beautifully illustrated, too. Every time Amanda goes over to the Alens' she comes back and tells me to get you to take Democrat's Family Magazine, as the stories are so good. Even the boys watch for it every month, as a place is found for them all in its pages; and Mr. Allen swears by it. It is really wonderful how it suits every member of the family!"

Mr. Lee. "Well, perhaps I had better send for a Specimen Copy; for, if it is anything like what you say it is, it will amuse and instruct the whole of us."

Mrs. Lee. "I see that W. Jennings Demorest, the publisher, 15 West 14th Street, New York, is offering to send a Specimen Copy for 10 cents, so we can't lose anything. Each number contains a "Fashion Order" entitling the holder to any Pattern she may choose; and in any case, which alone makes each copy worth 20 cents; and I just want a jacket put on like Mrs. Allen's. The subscription price is only $3.00 a year; and I must say I can't see how they can publish so elegant a Magazine for so little money."

NOTICE OF FORFEITURE

White Oaks, New Mexico, March 13, 1891.

To John J. Cookrell, and his legal representative and assigns.

You, and each of you are hereby notified that the undersigned co-owner in the Comprohise Lode mining claim, situated on the westerly side of Baxter Gulch in Baxter mountain, in White Oaks Mining District, Lincoln County, Territory of New Mexico, has performed and caused to be performed and expended in labor and improvements upon the said Comprohise Lode mining claim during the year ending December 31, A. D. 1890, the sum of Thirty-three Dollars and thirty-three and one-third cents, the same being the proportionate amount due from you in labor and improvements upon said claim as co-owner of an undivided one-third interest therein, in order to hold the same under the provisions of Section No. 2324 of the Revised Statutes of the United States, for said year, A. D. 1890: and if within ninety days after the full publication of this notice, you fail or refuse to contribute your said proportion of said expenditures as co-owner, your interest in said claim will become the property of the undersigned as is provided by said section 2324 of the Revised Statutes of the United States.

$300 REWARD FOR ORE THIEVES!

The common experience of this camp shows that much is lost by the mine operators by the stealing of gold in specimens, if not in amalgam and bullion. Therefore the "Old Abe" Co. offers a standing reward of Three Hundred Dollars for the arrest and conviction, or for information leading to the arrest and conviction of any person guilty of stealing any of the property of the Old Abe Co., even the smallest specimen of ore. The rule of this company is to mill all specimens. Therefore none of the ore from this mine can be honestly held as specimens. And as the receiver, with guilty knowledge, is as guilty in law as the thief, this offer applies to the holders of Old Abe specimens.

Old Abe Co. J. Y. HEWITT, Wm. WATSON, H. B. FERGUSON. (4-347.)

CAM LIFE.

HERE'S THE SICKER.

The one thing you'll always find in every cowboy's outfit when he goes on the spring round-up is a "Fish Brand" Tommie Slicker. They make the only perfect saddle coat, and come either black or yellow. They protect the whole front of the rider's body, being made to fit round the outside of the saddle seat. When used as a walking coat, the extra-long pieces neatly overlap each other, making a regular overcoat, with a double storm-proof front. When riding, the saddle is dry as a bone, from pommel to cantle, and the rider is equally protected in every part of his body. These "Slickers" being of extra width, make the blankets for camp. Beware of worthless imitations, every garment stamped with "Fish Brand" Trade Mark. Don't accept any inferior coat when you see the "Fish Brand Slicker" delivered with-out color coat. Particulars and illustrated catalogue free.

SAVE MONEY AND SUFFER LESS.

One feature of the thousands of testimonials that have been given in behalf of S. S. S. is remarkable. In numbers of instances it is related that a great deal of time and money have been spent in a vain effort to secure relief from disease in the usual way. A knowledge of the virtues of Swift's Specific would have saved the time and the money, to say nothing of the prevention of the suffering. There need be no such mistakes made now. The great blood purifier is for sale by druggists everywhere, and the S. S. S. company in Atlanta will send to any address their Treatise on Blood and Skin Diseases free, and a pamphlet containing a few of the thousands of testimonials they have received from those who have experienced the benefits of this wonderful medicine.

NOTICE OF FORFEITURE.

White Oaks, New Mexico, April 10, 1891

To Edward Schaefer:

You are hereby notified that the undersigned co-owner with you in the "Miner's Placer Claim" situated in Baxter Gulch, in Baxter mountain, White Oaks mining district, Lincoln Co. Territory of New Mexico, has performed and caused to be performed and expended in labor and improvements upon the said "Miner's Placer claim," during each of the years 1888, 1889, and 1890, the sum of thirty-three dollars and thirty-three and one-third cents aggregating the sum of One Hundred dollars, the same being the proportionate amount due from you in labor and improvements upon said claim as co-owner of an undivided one-third interest therein in order to hold the same under the provisions of Section No. 2324 of the Revised Statutes of the United States, for said years 1888, 1889, 1890, and if within ninety days after the full publication of this notice, you fail or refuse to contribute your said proportion of said expenditure as such co-owner, your interest in said claim will become the property of the undersigned as is provided by said section 2324 of the Revised Statutes of United States.

THE SANTA FE ROUTE.

This is the short line to and from points east to White Oaks, Ft. Stanton, Lincoln, and all stage stations in Lincoln County. Cross daylight connections are made by stages to and from above points with trains from Carthage, Engle and Las Cruces, which have through sleepers to Kansas City, Chicago, St. Louis, and New York, without change.

Connection is made at Albuquerque with through trains for all California points. These trains are unsurpassed in modern improvements with luxurious day coaches and emigrant sleepers, the latter under the management of the Pullman company, are furnished with elegant curtains and clean bedding at a small cost per night.

Shippers will find it greatly to their advantage to consign all freight via the Santa Fe route, a saving of from three to five days time will be gained from all eastern and northern cities.

Freight from Chicago and points west of Chicago is brought through without transfer, thereby saving breakage and delay.

Call on nearest agent for rates and information, or address C. H. Morehouse, Division Freight and Passenger Agent, El Paso, Texas.

RAIN! RAIN! RAIN!

If there's one set of men who appreciate a good waterproof coat it is the farmer. He knows that a "Fish Brand Slicker" costs him less per year than any garment made. Did you know it rains on average one day in three the whole year through? A "Fish Brand Slicker" makes every day a pleasant day to its lucky owner. Go anywhere with it in rain, hail, sleet, snow, or blizz, it is wind and water proof. Costs less than rubber, and lasts ten times as long. Rubber is good for show days, but will rip in a week. If you want a coat for hard wear and hard weather, get the "Fish Brand Slicker." Every good thing has its imitations, so has the "Fish Brand Slicker." Look out. Beware of worthless imitations, every garment stamped with "Fish Brand" Trade Mark. Don't accept any inferior coat when you can have the "Fish Brand Slicker" delivered without extra cost. Particulars and illustrated catalogue free.

and a fierce storm of cutting sleet which strikes the face like a thousand needles. Wind forty miles an hour. You say a man couldn't stand such exposure? No, he couldn't, without just the proper clothing. And there's only one outfit that can keep a man both warm and dry at such a time, and that is the "Fish Brand Slicker." They are guaranteed storm-proof, waterproof, and wind-proof. Inside one of them, you are as much out of the weather as if indoors. They are light, but when you are kept throughout, they never rip; and the buttons are wire-fastened. No railroad man who has ever tried one would be without it for ten times its cost. Beware of worthless imitations, every garment stamped with "Fish Brand" Trade Mark. Don't accept any inferior coat when you can have the "Fish Brand Slicker" delivered without extra cost. Particulars and illustrated catalogue free.
