RACE TROUBLES.

An Attempt to Arrest a Negro Outlaw Leads to the Death of a Number of Persons.

SAVANNAH, Ga., Dec. 26.—Trouble at Jessup yesterday began at 10 o'clock a. m., when Chief Marshal Leggett and assistants attempted to arrest Bob Brewer, the notorious negro outlaw and fugitive. Brewer raised his gun and deliberately shot and killed Assistant Marshal Barnhill. The chief marshal then fired at Brewer, but missed him, and Brewer returned the fire and shot Leggett through both legs. Brewer and his crowd, ten or twelve men, then fled to McMillan swamp. The negroes were followed into the swamp by several citizens. Among them were William Wood, a carpenter, and his son, William Wood, Jr. The negroes dodged into the swamp, and when young Wood ran in behind him, Brewer rose up and shot him through the head, killing him instantly, and shot Wood's father in the face. Accomplishing this much the negroes ran further into the swamp and escaped.

News of the death of young Wood and the serious shooting of his father spread like wildfire over town. Confusion reigned for a time and Jessup seemed to be in the hands of a violent mob. Mayor Hobbs called a meeting and hasty arrangements were made to protect the town. Seventy-five armed men were gathered in a few minutes and followed Brewer and party a distance into the swamp.

McMillan Bay covers over 400 acres, Brewer is so familiar with its hiding places that the efforts of the posse to locate him were regarded as to be vain. The strength of the posse was soon increased by a posse of twenty-five men and a picket line was formed.

At about 8 o'clock this morning a party of unknown men attacked the jail at Jessup, driving away the guards. In a few minutes the doors were battered down, and four men went inside and shot and killed Peter Johnson and Bill Hopps. The former was the man who had been wounded and captured in the fight.

There is still great excitement through out the country around Jessup, but affairs will doubtless quiet down in a few days. It is a region of turpentine distilleries and saw mills. Thousands of negroes are employed, and the Jessup trouble is apt to disorganize labor for some time to come.

Many negroes are quitting their homes and moving to other towns on the line of the railroad. A large number of them were taken from their homes by white men this morning and severely whipped, some of them being women of bad character.

The Latest from Brazil.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 26.—The Associated Press representative, who called at the Brazilian legation to-day to inquire for news concerning fighting which is reported to have occurred at Rio Janeiro, from December 18 to 20, found the Minister had just received the following telegram from Ruiz Barbosa, Minister of Finance under the new regime: "From cablegrams we learn that unfortunately there is no speculation from newsmongers against us which is not credited in Europe in spite of all our warnings against this sort of conspiracy. Reports about a meeting of the corps of artillery are false. The only meeting, that of a few soldiers, was immediately suppressed. This circumstance increased here the confidence in the government, which shows itself strong, prepared with prompt and decisive means to put down any disturbance of public order.

"The aggravation of General Fonseca's illness is not true. On the contrary, he is recovering speedily from his former complaint; at any rate the fate of the revolution, now accepted by the whole country, does not depend on the contingency of one man's life, however precious it may be.

"In the army itself, revolution can rely on other chiefs of great prestige and no less devotion to the cause. All the different political parties have espoused with enthusiasm the term fixed (November 15, 1890) for the meeting of the constituent assembly, they considering by this act the stability of the republic is insured.

Rain in California.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Dec. 26.—The heavy rain of the last few days continued this morning. All trains from the north, east and south are now cut off, and the damage to the tracks is very great. Santa Fe officials estimate their loss at $200,000, and the loss on the Southern Pacific lines reaches $150,000. The country from the line to the ocean is flooded, and many miles of track are under water. Great damage has been done to street cable lines and bridges in this city. Several bridges are gone entirely, many houses in the low lands are flooded and the families driven out. It is reported that the house of James Ryan, on the river bank, is washed away and the whole family missing. The levee has broken in several places. Fully twenty inches of rain has fallen here this season.

Water in the Snake River has been to low this season that settlers have bitterly complained of the dust raised by the salmon going up stream. They threaten to ask for an appropriation to sprinkle the river next year if the nuisance is repeated.

Son of a Gunn.—Teacher (to new scholar)—"What is your name, sonny?" Boy—"Gunn." "Give me your full name." "John G. Gunn." "What is the G. for?" "Getyer." "What do you mean by that?" "Well, all the boys call me Johnny Getyer Gunn, now."

The New Brazil.

WASHINGTON, D. C. Dec. 29.—The Brazilian minister received a telegram from Barbosa, minister of finance, regarding the statements repeatedly made that the provisional government of Brazil, had confiscated property belonging to the Imperial family. It has not been confiscated. On the contrary a decree has guaranteed to allow the Imperial family a term of two years within which to dispose of its property.

The Brazilian minister and Captain Maurity, delegate to the Maritime congress, who was present when the associated press reporter called to see the minister, declared their firm belief that the republic was assured beyond question. Reports of trouble they said were all hatched up in Lisbon by enemies of the republic. With regard to reports that German and other colonists had petitioned their governments for protection against the decree of the provisional government, Valente and Captain Maurity said this was a mistaken understanding of the government. The decree issued declared all foreigners resident within the country at the time of the republic was proclaimed to be citizens of Brazil unless they should prefer to continue their allegiance to their native country. There was nothing compulsory about it.

There seems to be a growing feeling here among Brazilians in support of the republic and of opposition to monarchy. This feeling apparently is due to a considerable extent to supposed attempts at interference on the part of European governments with Brazil's national affairs. Even those Brazilians who were formerly devoted to Dom Pedro and for some time were not friendly to the new government are now strong adherents of the new government.

A Relic of the Revolutionary War.

CANAJOHARIE, Dec. 27.—At Stono Arabia the other day a citizen found a be- grimed and badly battered metallic box, six inches long and two deep. The contents consisted of a locket, a bundle of parchment letters and a faded piece of blue ribbon. The locket was of gold and of fine workmanship. On one side is a monogram in letters "F. H. D.," on the other a curiously wrought hunting scene. The letters were all written in 1775-77, by a lady of evident royalty residing in London, to her betrothed, and couched in most tender language. The superscription indicates the name of its recipient to be Captain Lowe of the British army. There is no record of a Captain Lowe having been killed at the battle of Stono Arabia, but he must have been present in that awful conflict and the box lost in the fight. The gentleman owning the metallic box will gladly surrender it to the relatives of Captain Lowe.

Mrs. Davis Undecided Where to Bury Her Dead.

RICHMOND, Va., Dec. 27.—Mayor Ellison, of this city, this morning received a letter from Mrs. Jefferson Davis in reply to a request that the body of her husband be buried here, dated Beauvoir House, December 21. In it she says:

"If gratitude for the manner in which the people of Richmond sustained him during the war, his affection for her citizens and the calm fortitude of her men and women under crushing defeat were to be the moving cause only, I might lay him there unquestioned; but the State of his birth, Kentucky; the State of his adoption, which showered every honor upon him within her gift, Mississippi; the State where the Confederacy first unfurled her banner, Alabama; the State in which his parents spent their early years; where his father was born and where my husband has received many honors, Georgia; a State in which we found friends and home, and where our dead repose, Tennessee; and last though not least, the State which now gives him sepulcher amid tears and the plaudits of the people, Louisiana. All these have put forth claims so strong that I cannot choose among them and have decided to wait, perhaps years, before making a selection.

"To rest in the same soil with your immortal heroes, Robert E. Lee and Stonewall Jackson, is a privilege highly appreciated, and I should be the last to undervalue the honor, but when a final decision must be made, I cannot be unmindful of the right of those who have done me the honor to claim the custody of my dead, and I beg you to have patience with me for a season.

Pennsylvania Coal Mines Shutting Down.

SCRANTON, Pa., Dec. 27.—Following the announcement yesterday that the Pennsylvania Coal Company had closed down eleven of its fourteen collieries, and the Delaware and Western Company six of its mines, to-day comes the news that the Hillside Coal and Iron Company, working the Erie railroad mines of Forest City, Germania and Pleasant Valley, with nearly 3,000 workmen, have also shut down. Individual operators all through the valley are unable to secure cars and have also ordered a shut-down until conditions are improved. These individual collieries number a dozen or more, and will average 250 men and boys each. The announcement is also made that the Delaware and Hudson Canal Company will at the end of the week shut down fifteen of its collieries, about half it operates between Carbondale and Plymouth. The closing of company works and individual mines will cause the idleness of upward of 13,000 men and boys. To this it is quite likely will be added a large number of workmen who will be thrown out of employment by the shutting down of the mines of Wilkesbarre and Susquehanna Coal Company in the Wyoming region.

RELATIONS WITH CANADA.

Proceedings Before the Senate Committee Now in New York.

NEW YORK, Dec. 30.—The Senate committee on Canadian affairs met here to-day and heard the testimony of Eastern fishermen in regard to the trouble they experienced in fishing and securing bait in Canadian waters.

Senator Hoar stated that Great Britain always conceded to the United States the commercial rights of fishing vessels. He always favored the interpretation that that right was invested in American fishermen. He declared that Great Britain always acted in harmony with Canada on the question whenever the matter came in the shape of a treaty or law. Our State Department should take steps at once to decide the matter finally.

In reply to a question by Senator Dolph for a remedy, one witness said that the only remedy he knew of was retaliation.

Erastus Wiman made an argument in favor of annexing Canada.

Senator Hoar said that in his opinion and that of his colleagues the movement toward annexation must come from Canada.

Francis Wayland Glenn, a former resident of Canada and a member of the Dominion Parliament for nine years previous to 1886, said: "Canada will come here unless the people of the United States prevent her. She sees the milk and honey beyond the St. Lawrence and she wants to share it."

Mr. Glenn, in support of his statement, said that Canada had adopted the free school system, decimal calculation, and the election methods of the United States and was more eager to adopt American business principles than she was those of England. Canada also wanted free access to American markets. He held, in fact, that she would declare her independence of English power and annex herself to the United States. The witness did not favor the commercial union of which Mr. Wiman talked. Many leading Canadians, the speaker held, favored annexation. Instead of reading English magazines, Canada read American publications and more Canada youths are educated, he said, in American colleges than in British universities. He thought that Sir John McDonald was a politician and not a statesman.

Twenty-Two Firemen Injured.

HAYANA, Dec. 30.—Last evening thousands of people assembled on the grounds of the Club Almendares to witness the firemen's exhibition, the object of which was to raise funds for the fire department. A two-story wooden building had been erected, which was to be set on fire. After the torch had been applied and the firemen had taken their places in different parts of the burning structure, it was discovered that the water supply prepared had been tampered with by a vile miscreant. The firemen were obliged to escape from the building as quickly as possible, some being compelled to throw themselves from the roof. Twenty-two were injured, three fatally.

Colored Colony for Oklahoma.

TOPEKA, Kas., Dec. 30.—D. B. Garrett, of the colored colony of Oklahoma, arrived to-day and states that there are now fully 4,000 colored people in Oklahoma and the colonization work will be pushed in all the cities of the West. Col. Mason, of Mississippi, who has been here two weeks, is advocating the purchase of the Cherokee strip for settlement by the colored race. Several prominent negroes of this city are moving in that direction and will ask President Harrison to appoint a commission of colored men to negotiate with the Cherokees for the purchase of the strip for homestead settlement for their own race exclusively. This proposition is founded on information that the Indians are willing to have the colored people settle on the strip. It is urged that a strong and united effort be made to this end, and the Afro-American league which meets shortly in Chicago will be requested to take the subject under consideration.

BAD NEWS FROM GERMANY.

The Mind of the Young Emperor Said to be Failing.

NEW YORK, Dec. 29.—A London cable to the Times says:

The former rumors mentioned last week as coming to diplomatic circles here from Berlin have taken shape during the last twenty-four hours and resolved themselves into a story that the young Emperor's reason is seriously threatened by a recurrence of the terrible ear pain to which he has always been more or less subject. As has been frequently explained before, his abnormal restlessness is largely due to his persistent pain. To escape thinking about it he seeks for incessant work or for diversion of some sort.

His nocturnal trick of surprising the whole garrison by routing them out for instantaneous duty merely reflects a torturing inability to sleep. He also reads a great deal, and seizes opportunities for discussion on all kinds of topics with his intimates, in the heat of which he strives to forget his grievous malady. A fortnight ago he took cold while shooting at Stettin, and this developing into a mild phase of the prevalent influenza, brought on an acute visitation of his ear-ache, and under the infliction of which he has been doing sundry queer little things, which, being noted by those about him, have spread an indefinable feeling of alarm among court people.

THE INFLUENZA.

Its Effects in Russia—The Epidemic Spreading in Europe.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 24.—George W. Wurts, in charge of affairs at the United States legation in St. Petersburg, has sent to the State Department an account of the prevalence of la grippe in Russia, with interesting comments.

He states that about the middle of November public attention was called to the large number of persons falling ill with much the same symptoms, fever and severe pains in the head, back and limbs.

For lack of a better name he states that the malady has been called influenza, but it shows signs of a typhoid character, though not of a malignant nature, and up to the date of writing, December 5, no fatal case has been reported. The illness in both cases is very light and lasts but a few days, seldom longer than two weeks.

It leaves, however, all persons who have been touched in debility and great depression of spirits. In fact, its after-effects are rather more unpleasant than the complaint itself.

The cause of the epidemic has not been satisfactorily explained. Most persons ascribe it to the abnormally warm weather of the past month, but that would not account for its appearance in Siberia, where it has burst out in several places, the weather there having been cold as usual this season.

Now that winter seems to have fairly set in here it is expected the malady will disappear, but in the meanwhile nearly everyone is affected. There is no exaggeration in printing the number of sick at fully two-thirds of the population of St. Petersburg—certainly not a house has escaped its visitation. The Emperor was very ill with it for several days, and scarcely a member of the imperial family has been free from it.

More than 40,000 cases have been medically authenticated, but these represent a small portion of the sufferers.

Just Learned She Was Free.

KANSAS CITY, Dec. 24.—A unique case was decided in the Probate Court of Cooper County to-day. At the commencement of the war Joseph Hickman, now a wealthy and influential farmer in the county, bought a negro slave and took her to his farm as a sewing maid. Since that time she has never been allowed to go beyond the bounds of the farm and in her petition alleges she had been permitted to hold converse with none of her race, and none of the family were ever permitted to tell her the results of the war. When her old master died three weeks ago she ran away to Boonville, and while there learned that the slaves had been emancipated. She told her story to a lawyer, and he brought suit to recover as wages $1,400 (wages at $3 a month for twenty-five years) from Hickman's estate. The court decided for the plaintiff to-day, and allowed one-half of the amount asked.

A Chicago Editor Goes to the Penitentiary.

CHICAGO, Dec. 23.—"Guilty, with a penalty of five years in State's prison and payment of $1,000 fine," was the verdict returned to-night in Judge Grinnell's court against James J. West, ex-editor of the Chicago Times. There was little delay in reaching a verdict, only two ballots being taken. The crime of which West was convicted was a fraudulent over-issue of the stock of the Times Company to the extent of 7,250 shares, an equivalent of over $125,000 in money. When the verdict was announced the defendant betrayed no great emotion. His attorney, on the contrary, seemed painfully affected and could scarcely be heard when entering the usual motion for another trial. Judge Grinnell stated he would dispose of the motion January 2. West was released on his original bond of $15,000 until to-morrow morning, when the question of a new bond will be discussed.

Roosevelt and Thompson, to be Civil Service Commissioners; Mr. Maylor, to be United States Railroad Commissioner; Mr. Holliday, to be Commissioner of Customs; Mr. Bates, to be Commissioner of Navigation; Mr. Morgan, to be Commissioner of Indian Affairs, and Mr. Dorchester, to be Superintendent of Indian Schools.

A generous patriotism will support expenditures for the protection of our coast lines with their innumerable harbors and seaside cities.

WHITE OAKS CHESTNUT AGAIN.

Inside Facts on Several Extensions—Through the Manzano and To the Gulf.

A visitor from Lincoln county, Judge Terrell, called on the New Mexican today and made earnest inquiry concerning the prospect for the extension of the Santa Fe Southern road to Cerrillos and Pedro. When informed that the route has been permanently laid out; profiles completed and estimates made up; that Chief Engineer Coleman and B. M. Read are now engaged in securing right-of-way, and that the necessary money has been as good as secured, Judge Terrell expressed both surprise and gratification, and explained his anxiety in the matter by saying he had just learned some reliable news about the extension of two roads into Lincoln county, and he felt that if the Santa Fe Southern ever reached San Pedro it could see its way clear to a further extension that would make it one of the most important roads in the west. The gentleman went into details and added that Morris R. Lock & Co., of New York, have recently adjusted the difficulties so long surrounding the El Paso & White Oaks project, and it could now be stated with much confidence that this line would be finished to White Oaks this spring. He said further that while in Fort Worth the other day he had positive assurances that the Fort Worth & Albuquerque road would be built during the coming year. A contract for the first 200 miles having already been let and work upon which is now in progress. Judge Terrell said that the route selected for this route is west of Roswell, thence to White Oaks, from which point it is to run northwest through the Manzano valley, up through the San Pedro district and thence via Tijeras canon to Albuquerque. With this road and the El Paso line both heading for White Oaks that town is assured of two distinct routes to the Gulf of Mexico, and Judge Terrell argues that if the Santa Fe Southern were extended from San Pedro through Manzano valley to White Oaks, it would there meet both these lines and thus become an important line in a new system of roads having advantages that few western lines now enjoy. This is certainly an admirable suggestion, well worthy the attention of the promoters of the Santa Fe Southern.—New Mexican.

Wild Cat Irrigation.

[From the San Marcial Reporter] The Reporter thinks it has been wasting sympathy upon the Boston capitalists who have been paying their good money to some of our local schemers for the franchise of the Rio Grande Irrigation & Colonization company. We understand that the engineers are at work investigating the practicability of the enterprise. In our humble judgment any set of men who put up the amount of money reported to have been paid several enterprising rustlers of New Mexico, upon a proposition the practicability and engineering difficulties of which are still problematical, are little short of being idiots or else they are hunting for something to take in their confiding friends with. This is frequently the case with mining deals. The mining interests of the west have received frequent "black eyes" from "wild cat" schemes floating by eastern promoters. This enterprise may be all right and be a legitimate proposition and the amount realized from the floating of $5,000,000, in bonds may be used in legitimate improvements, but that trust deed racket looks a little suspicious. It is all right, a little criticism and investigation will do no harm, and it may save the important interest of the Territory which requires the investment of large capital in legitimate irrigation enterprises from a serious setback. Another thing that the Territory is interested in; how are the vested rights of many small lands owners below the point where this enterprise proposes to dam, store and appropriate the water to be protected?

The Liberal Country Editor.

Whenever you want any "dead-head" puffing call on us, and whenever you have any paid work to do take it elsewhere. Of course, we are wealthy and this "puffing" of meetings, societies and persons helps to "fill up" the paper and enable us to while away the monotonous intervals between the cutting of coupons off our bonds. If you want to see your "puff" after it is printed, it is a very easy matter to step into a store and borrow the paper.

The building of a line of railway from Fort Worth, Texas, via Roswell to White Oaks, there to meet a line running south through the Manzano valley would open up a grand section of country, full of possibilities for the farmer, the miner, the stock raiser and the lumber man, and it would afford a fairly direct connection with the projected deep water harbors on the gulf coast that could not but have an important bearing on New Mexico's mercantile interest. It is cheering to realize that this is one of New Mexico's probabilities for the coming year.—New Mexican.

BURDETT'S SERMON ON LIFE.

The Iowa Funny Man Describes the Seven Ages.

Man born of woman is of few days and no teeth, and indeed it would be money in his pocket sometimes if he had less of either. As for his teeth, he had convulsions when he cut them, and as the last one comes through, lol the dentist is twisting the first one out, and the last end of that man's jaw is worse than the first, being full of porcelain and a roof built to hold blackberry seeds. Stonebruisers line his pathway to manhood; his father boxes his ears at home, the big boy cuffs him in the playground and the teacher whips him in the school-room. He buyeth Northwestern at 110, and when he hath sold short at 96, and his neighbors unloadeth upon him Iron Mountain at 63 1/2, and it straightway breaketh down to 52 1/2. He riseth early and sitteth up late that he may fill his barns and storehouses, and lol his children's lawyers divide the spoil among themselves and say: "Ha, ha!" He growleth and is sore distressed because it raineth, and he beateth upon his breast and sayeth, "My crop is lost!" because it raineth not. The late rains blight his wheat and the frost biteth his peaches. If it be so that the sun shineth, even among the nineties, he sayeth, "Woe is me, for I perish!" and if the northwest wind sightheth down in forty-two below, he crieth, "Would I were dead!" If he wears sackcloth and blue jean, men say, "He is a tramp," and if he goeth forth shaven and clad in purple and fine linen, all the people cry, "Shoot the dude!" He carryeth insurance for twenty-five years, until he hath paid three over for all his goods, and then he letheeth his policy lapse for one day, and that same night fire destroyeth his store. He buildeth him a house in Jersey, and his firebrorn is devoured by mosquitos; he pictheth his tent in New York, and tramps devour his substance. He moveth to Kansas and a cyclone carryeth his house away over into Missouri, while a prairie fire and 10,000,000 acres of grasshoppers fight for his crop. He setteth himself in Kentucky and is shot next day by a gentleman, a colonel and a statesman, "because, sah, he resembles, sah, a man, sah, he did not like, sah." Verily, there is no rest for the sole of his feet, and if he had to do it over again he would not be born at all, for "the day of death is better than the day of one's birth."—Philadelphia Times.

The agricultural college of New Mexico opens at Las Cruces on January 21, 1890. The board of regents are go-ahead, active and energetic business men. This is the first territorial institution of learning in the history of New Mexico. May it flourish and be successful for all time to come. The following, from the act of congress, governing the management of agricultural colleges, is in point:

"Its leading object shall be, without excluding other scientific and classical studies, and including military tactics, to teach such branches of learning as are related to agriculture and mechanic arts, in such manner as the legislature of the states may respectively prescribe, in order to promote the liberal and practical education of the industrial classes in the several pursuits and professions in life."

The pictures of the eclipse of the sun taken by the astronomers at St. Paul de Loanda, December 23, on the coast of Africa, were made by a photograph of forty foot focus, with automatic charges. Each circumpolar plate of twenty-two inches diameter had ten images of the sun in eclipse printed upon it. The color effects caused by the terrifying rapidity of the motion of the earth's shadow on the water and the sky were exceedingly brilliant, changing from dark blue to livid green and purple. It is believed that the most accurate measurements yet attained can be made from the pictures taken by this astronomical party. They were carried to their point of observation by the U. S. frigate Pensacola.

Little Folks Entertainment.

Owing to a press for time and room we have this far neglected to give a full report of the childrens entertainment at Mrs. J. C. Lea's on Christmas night. We can not now give a detailed account of it, but will say it was one of the prettiest and most entertaining shows we ever attended. The performers, were Willie Day, Ella Lea, Jennie Lea, and Wildy Lea, assisted by their trainer the accomplished wife of Captain Lea.

The entertainment was given in the parlors of Mrs. Lea, a neat stage was curtained off in miniature which became the little performers. The first number was a play entitled "Aunt Peabody's visit to the City," in which Willie Day made a hit as "Aunt Peabody" Wildy Lea also brought down the house as a fashionable young lady richly attired with abundant bust and bustle, he was quite a success, Ella Lea and Jennie Lea also carried parts very successful. The program was too long to report entire but did not in the least lack in interest nor was it drowsy. One thing we must however speak of, and that is the farce "Courtship under difficulties" by Willie Day, Ella Lea and Wildy Lea, Willie Day played the part of a young lady who was about to receive attention from a young man who was represented to her, by her brother, as being quite deaf, the same brother represented to the young man that his sister was quite deaf. Ella Lea impersonated the young lover, she of course was dressed in boys clothes, she certainly looked very pretty and as the ladies all said, "too sweet for anything" she was cute not only in appearance but in action. In fact every performance of the evening was characterized by a manner that bespoke good training on the part of some one. This entertainment pleased us first, for its excellence, second because it was given by children under the care and direction of their parents and third because it was given at home. Grown people require amusement and we are sure young children much more require it, nor can they have too much of it when under the eye of their parents. Entertainments of this kind are good because it makes home attractive and it gives children the cultivation of appearance that makes them feel and look comfortable in Company.

Another very attractive feature of Mrs. Lea's entertainment was her piano playing, we have taken occasion before to speak of this ladies accomplishment in this direction, but we cannot refrain from doing so again, her playing is excellent, she has a broad comprehension, an intelligent interpretation and as clear an execution as one will listen to in a long time; her rendition of the storm was good and very greatly appreciated by her listeners. We thank the lady for the excellent entertainment, and hope it will not be the last.

Every portion of the southwest produces some specialties in crops which give prominence to its agricultural operations. The staples of Texas are cotton and corn; of Colorado, wheat; California, wheat, oranges, raisins, grapes and wines. New Mexico has not yet a distinct produce in which she excels. It is probable that the irrigation enterprises on the Pecos and Rio Grande, and the climate of those sections will give three products in which New Mexico will be distinguished, alfalfa, grapes and olives. Alfalfa seed has a great value in commerce for the product of a purple die made in France, which adds to the market value of this grass for feed it the opinion of the agricultural bureau officials, from experiment already made, that the olive will flourish abundantly in the Pecos and Rio Grande valleys. It will be a very profitable crop.—New Mexican.

—School opened Monday morning with a fair attendance. Parents should send their children to school and see that they get a good education. It is true that the school house is some distance from town, but the nice weather we are having makes the walk amount to nothing.

—Considerable complaint has reached us from our citizens that the burros which run loose about town peel the young trees that have been set out. Parties in town, and freighters who have burros, should take pains to see that they are kept away from the trees. Protect the trees.

—J. A. Erwin, editor of the REGISTER started yesterday morning for the north. He will visit Las Vegas, Santa Fe, and Albuquerque in the interest of this paper, and attend to some legal business. Before returning he will visit Denver and purchase an entire new and complete job outfit for the REGISTER.

Mr. Gilmora is one of the oldest and most substantial business men of the town, and we are sorry to have him go even for a year. His store at this place will be in charge of Mr. S. Joyner, and the public will find him courteous and accommodating.

—The shelving and counters are being put in the store room to be occupied by Carter & Martin, of Amarillo. Trotter & Daniel is the firm that is doing the job, and we wish to say that it is a first-class piece of work in every particular. In fact we think it is the best piece of that kind of work in town. Trotter & Daniel understand their trade and it will pay any one who has work to do to call on them.

—The dramatic club entertainment came off as announced last Friday night, the evening had the appearance of storm, on account of which we presume the house was not as full as it would otherwise have been. The play and farce were well received, both being greeted by liberal applause. We think the entertainment was a success, however our position was not one to form a correct opinion of the players.

Magic Lantern Show.

The Lincoln Independent gives the following graphic description of Hodsoll's show in the school house the other night. We have refrained from saying anything about the show thus far, and as the Independent man has done it as mild as it is possible to be done under the circumstances, we will indorse him and dismiss the matter.

Roswell had an 8 by 10 magic lantern show on Christmas night. The fake drew a large crowd at 50 cents a head. But after the manipulator had shown up several of his 8 by 10 pictures, chief among which was "Columbus Discovering America," "Napoleon Crossing the Alps" and "A Boy Riding a Donkey," the male portion of the audience compelled the exhibitor to desist, and the crowd turned in and had a lively Christmas ball. The show man didn't kick. He had the money. The crowd had all the show they wanted and a dance thrown in.

Refused to Allow Prosecution.

The Justice of the Peace of Precinct No 7, G. M. Davidson, adopted a new and novel rule in the matter of procedure in criminal cases, before him last week. One John C. Berkley was arraigned for Assault with intent to kill, a man by the name of Coffee who works on the big ditch and where also Berkley has for the past several months been running a whisky and gambling joint. Berkley pounded Coffee over the head, fractured his skull and did him other serious injuries. A complaint was sworn out against Berkley, he was arrested and arraigned. The court was asked to refuse to hear the case, because a complaint had previously been made and dismissed against the same party. The Court refused to hear the prosecuting witness or any examination into the matter charged against Berkley. It was a most astonishing proceeding. Mr. Davidson should have examined into, and under the law is in duty bound to examine into every case as directed by the statutes, this is brought in due form of law before him, in this case he refused to do so and certainly without any right or authority of law.

Newspaper Pleasantry.

The Advocate refers to the editor of the Shaft as a "burro." We prefer to be known as a burro rather than a mule. Our ears is not filled with English bran, nor is our conscience fatigued by running a good Democratic paper at Las Cruces and a poor mule organ at Hillsboro at the same time.—Kingston Shaft.

Is A. D. Wright Dead?

We are in receipt of a number of letters from Ohio, asking, "Is A. D. Wright dead?" Some weeks ago we said we found the report was true, but since that time on account of some things that have developed and a good many things that have not developed, we are left in doubt as to his death. First, there is no authentic report of that fact, no one who claims to have seen him at the time of his death has ever been heard from, no particulars about it, or when or where he was buried, or who was with him or how the word came from that place to Mr. Gaut who reports it here. Mr. Gaut even does not claim to know a thing, except the fact that he is dead. Mr. Wright left Roswell for the purpose, as he said, of making a living through the winter, he claimed if he staid here he would come out in the spring in debt for his board, that he had not money enough to live on, but he could go to the mines and make $3 to $4 a day and come back in the spring out of debt, he sold two lots for less than they were worth in order as he himself said to get some money. It appears that Mr. Wright represented to his friends in the east that he was worth $80,000, while here all the money he had certainly was invested, and it did not amount to over $3,000, and it is thought that part of this was borrowed. There are some things we do not care to speak of now but if any of our readers can enlighten us on this matter we would be glad to hear from them. The friends of Mr. Wright, both here and in the east, will be under obligations to them. We clip from the Alliance Review, the following:

"News reaches this city through a letter written by G. A. Richardson, of Roswell, N. M., to box 110, of this city, to the effect that A. D. Wright, who attended school at Mt. Union last summer and who subscribed $500 to the Gymnasium building, was killed in an accident in Idaho Territory about December 1st. Mr. Richardson writes that Mr. Wright left some property in his care at Roswell, and as no known relatives survives him the proper disposition of the property becomes a serious question. Mr. Richardson seeks informations in the matter.

Mr. Wright, who was a highly intelligent man, about thirty years old, came to the Mount as a student in the fall of 1888. He was understood to have very large interests in mines and real estate, and called himself worth $80,000. He was eccentric, but liberal and popular, contributing $500 to the new M. E. church building fund, and $500 to found a Greek prize. We are not certain whether these sums have been paid. Mr. Wright was engaged to marry an estimable young lady, daughter of a retired clergyman of the Sixth ward, but the engagement is understood to be broken off. He was expected to return to Mt. Union early in 1890, and the news of his death comes as a shock and disappointment to his many friends.

While in this place Mr. Wright was a heavy depositor in our local banks, and gave indications in many ways that his claims to wealth were well founded. The letter written by Mr. Richardson was received by Jacob Dorner, who rents box 110 in Alliance, but there is no doubt but that it was intended to Prof. J. L. Shunk, who leases box 110 at Mt. Union, and to whom Mr. Wright was greatly attached."

Fire at White Oaks.

The White Oaks papers report a disastrous fire on the 29th of Dec. at White Oaks. It caught from a defective flue in Hughes' barber shop, located in M. Whiteman's frame row on White Oaks avenue, and from Whiteman's residence, at the east end of the row, to the post-office, all went up in smoke. Whiteman saved most of his effects. Peter McNiely, his building, worth $1,000, Charles Anshuts saved most of his effects. Other losses, nominal. The postoffice was in jeopardy and everything was removed. The Chinese restaurant was also emptied of its contents, but was saved. The fire swept over half a block frontage.

A GREAT RIVER.

The Source of the St. Lawrence Discussed.
Where does the river St. Lawrence rise? How many can answer this question in geography? Some will probably say in Lake Ontario, others in Lake Superior. Neither answer is quite correct.

Like the Amazon, this river has a different name for each part of its course. The lower part of the great South American river is called by the natives the Amazonas, the middle part is the Solimoes, and the upper part the Marañon.

So the St. Lawrence, between Lake Erie and Lake Huron on the St. Clair and Detroit river, and between Lake Huron and Lake Superior the St. Mary's river. Yet are these all one and the same river, the lakes being but so many expansions of its waters.

Beyond Lake Superior, to the northward, there is still another portion of its course, called the Nepigon, a noble stream of clear azure-tinted water nearly as large as the Hudson in volume, which flows down from the great Lake Nepigon in the heart of the Canadian wilderness.

Until recently Lake Nepigon has been but little known. On our maps it is figured as a much smaller lake than it really is. Its actual dimensions are about seventy-three miles in length by fifty-one in breadth. These figures give but an inadequate idea of its size, for there are five great bays varying from twenty to ten miles in length. The actual cast line of the lake is not much less than 600 miles.

Twelve rivers of considerable size, four of them rising far up on the "divide" toward James Bay, flow into it, and its waters rival those of Lake George in purity and clearness. It literally swarms with whitefish and trout.

The Nepigon River—the outlet of the lake—may be fairly termed the northern and upper course of the St. Lawrence, not only from its size, exceeding greatly all other rivers flowing into Lake Superior, but from the clearness and color of its water, and other general characteristics.

Whereas the other smaller rivers of Lake Superior are "black-water" rivers, that is to say, having turbid or stained water, the Nepigon is a clear and beautiful river of the same azure, sea-green and marine-blue water which one sees at Niagara and in the St. Lawrence.

The Seven Bibles.
The seven Bibles of the world are the Koran of the Mohammedans, the Tri Pitakas of the Buddhists, the Five Kings of the Chinese, the Three Vedas of the Hindoos, the Zendavesta, and the scripture of the Christians, says a writer in the Orange (N. J.) Journal.

The Koran is the most recent of the five, dating from the seventh century after Christ. It is a compound of quotations from both the Old and New Testaments and from the Talmud. The Tri Pitakas contain sublime morals and pure aspirations. Their author lived and died in the sixth century before Christ.

The sacred writings of the Chinese are called the Five Kings, the word "kings" meaning web of cloth. From this it is presumed that they were originally written on five rolls of cloth. They contain wise sayings from the sages on the duties of life, but they can not be traced further back than the eleventh century before our era.

The Vedas are the most ancient books in the language of the Hindoos, but they do not, according to late commentators, antedate the twelfth century before the Christian era.

The Zendavesta of the Persians, next to our Bible, is reckoned among scholars as being the greatest and most learned of the sacred writings. Zoroaster, whose sayings it contains, lived and worked in the twelfth century before Christ; Moses lived and wrote the Pentateuch 1500 years before the birth of Christ; therefore, that portion of our Bible is at least 300 years older than the most ancient of other sacred writings.

The Eddas, a semi-sacred work of the Scandinavians, was first given to the world in the fourteenth century.

The Center of Population.
Gath said to Congressman Hill, "Will not the next census show that the center of American population is some where about the Wabash river?" "I am rather of the opinion that the next census will locate the center of the American population in the vicinity of Bloomington, Ind. At the last census it was at Taylorsville, which is almost within sight of Cincinnati. When the constitution was adopted the center of population was not far from the head of Chesapeake Bay or somewhere near Baltimore City. It has gone on by a waveling line until it is probably now turning some to the northwest from the point where it last was indicated. Of course, Texas has pulled off a good deal of population, but not so much as the northwest. Not improbably St. Louis will some day turn out to be the line of the American focus. The western people bring to bear upon any material problem of this kind which is to help them onward a coherence, definiteness of purpose and almost fierce resolution which is hardly known elsewhere in the world.

Molasses their Favorite Beverages.
The country (Republic of Columbia) from Cucuta to Bogota is thickly settled with important towns; trade is very active; provisions, principally wheat and maize, bread, pork and beef, potatoes, yuca and many excellent grains, are abundant. The favorite beverage in the hot valleys is a sour-sweet liquor made from molasses mixed with water, which refreshes, without being injurious to health. On the table-lands the lower classes literally degrade themselves to the level of the brute by the use of a distasteful beverage called chima, made from Indian corn and the molasses first extracted from the sugar cane. This beverage not only produces, by its long-continued or excessive use, a stupefaction of the faculties, but also gives rise in time to the disease known in Italy as pelambria.

A Motor's Grief.

A man in New York makes a good living by waking people up. Two years ago he was a mechanic and out of a job. Though idle he kept up his habit of early rising. His present trade originated through a sleepy bartender who asked him to awake him every morning. A milkman, a butcher, and a baker who were likely to oversleep themselves were soon on his list for early calls. From the beginning the business grew, until he is making more money in it than he ever made in his trade. He has never failed in a single instance to awake a customer at the stated hour.

A Very Old Vessel.

A remarkable vessel, a fore and aft schooner of about eighty-five tons register burden, called the Vigilant, is now, and has been, regularly running from Santa Cruz to St. Thomas and vice versa as a passenger, freight and mail packet for upward of four score years. The Vigilant, it is said, was built in Baltimore, Md., during the very first years of our national independence, making her upward of 110 years old. She was of the "Baltimore clipper" class, so famed many years for speed, and must have been a wonder and a beauty when launched.

"Time is money." If you have a bad cold, don't mope around and half do your work. Get a bottle of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup; take a dose at night and get up the next morning—cured.

He is on a Vacation Now.

Helena (Mont.) Journal, November 11.
Mr. M. Nyberg, the gentleman who drew one-twentieth part of the second capital prize of $100,000 in the Louisiana State Lottery last month, leaves the city to-day to visit his mother in Michigan.

The money Mr. Nyberg drew from the lottery came in very handy to him; he has been striving very industriously, and managed to get along by using considerable economy. It has been a part of his custom for some time to invest a dollar every month in the Louisiana State Lottery, and his judgment has been well rewarded. As soon as the lucky numbers were announced, Mr. Nyberg deposited his ticket in the Thomas Cruise Savings Bank and they advanced him the money on the same. The bank forwarded the ticket to New Orleans and received $5,000 cash a few days later. Mr. Nyberg has invested his money in Montana real estate which will double in value before the spring, and will continue to invest a few dollars every month in the lottery which has enabled him to take a much needed vacation without minding the expense.

THE SAILOR'S DARING.

"Man overboard!" Stand by to lower away the boats! With what alacrity every man on board springs to his post at the dread cry, knowing a fellow creature's life is at stake! Yet that life is in no more danger than that of the man or woman who trifles with what may seem a simple blood disorder, but which in reality is fast sowing the seeds of a fatal disease, when the early use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery would cleanse the blood, restore impaired digestion, tone up the vital organs and ward off consumption. It should take the place in the family corresponding to that occupied by the life preserver on shipboard. If taken in time, and given a fair trial, "Golden Medical Discovery" is guaranteed to cure. This it will do if taken in the earlier stages of consumption, but after a large part of the lungs have broken down, no medicine can stay its fatal progress. How important then that the earliest premonitory symptoms be heeded! Short breath, spitting of blood, occasional chilly sensations creeping up the spinal column, hacking cough, variable or poor appetite, feeble digestion, with gradual loss of flesh, cold feet, lassitude or general debility, should admonish one that all is not right. You can't afford to foot away precious time suffering from any considerable number of the above significant symptoms of approaching danger! It's madness to trifle and experiment with uncertain means of relief and cure when thus afflicted! Don't forget, at such a critical time, that the only medicine possessed of such positive curative properties as to warrant its manufacturers in selling it, through druggists, under a positive guarantee of its benefiting or curing in every case, is the world-famed "Golden Medical Discovery." For all Bronchial, Throat and Lung Affections, Weak Lungs, and kindred ailments, it is an unequalled remedy.

For a Complete Treatise on Blood and Skin Diseases, or for one on Bronchial, Throat and Lung Diseases, enclose ten cents, in stamps, state which book you want and address, WORLD'S DISPENSARY MEDICAL ASSOCIATION, 683 Main St., Buffalo, N. Y.

Don't Fool

away precious time and money and trifle with your health experimenting with uncertain medicines, when Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is so positively certain in its curative action as to warrant its manufacturers in guaranteeing it to cure diseases of the blood, skin and scalp, and all scrofulous affections, or money paid for it will be refunded.

PROGRESS.

It is very important in this age of vast material progress that a remedy be pleasant to the taste and to the eye, easily taken, acceptable to the stomach and healthy in its nature and effects. Possessing these qualities, Syrup of Figs is the one perfect laxative and most gentle diuretic known.

Deafness Can't be Cured
by local applications, as they can not reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure Deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by Catarrh) that we can not cure by taking Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free. P. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O.
