A special dispatch from the City of Mexico to the New York Herald says: Many merchants and bankers here believe that should the silver bill pass, silver, owing to the moneyed strength of the United States and the consumption of this metal by it, would gradually assume a greater value until it would nearly reach the value of gold and force European nations to accept it at prices dictated by the North and South American countries.

The village of St. Mahlen, near Hildesheim, Germany, was visited recently by severe hail storms, which have done considerable damage, and the people gathered in a church to pray for a cessation of the storms. While the services were in progress a thunderstorm came up and the church was struck by lightning. Four persons were instantly killed and twenty injured, four being rendered completely blind. The people became panic-stricken and in a rush for the door two children were crushed to death.

THE WISCONSIN SCHOOL LAW.

The Opposition of Catholics to the Bennett Law.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., May 27.—In the convention of German Catholics this morning several speeches were made. H. J. Spannhorst, of St. Louis, said the Bennett law presented a political question which Catholics could not ignore, because it directly affected the welfare of their institutions.

Bishop Flasch, in his address, referred to the Bennett law and upheld the right of the church to go into politics when its interests were attacked.

He was followed by Bishop Kaiser, of Green Bay, who attacked the Bennett law in the bitterest manner. He said the law practically denied the right of a child to obey its parents by putting its claims before those of its parents. The "friends of the law," he said, "tell us the child has rights which the State must see accorded to it; but the parents have more interest in the child than the State. The Governor and his 'little German boy' will be well taken care of by their parents if the State will let them alone."

As the bishop proceeded he warmed up to his subject and fairly brought his hearers to their feet by the intensity of his manner. He became angered, pathetic and sarcastic by turns.

"The manner of teaching English, they tell us, is what we are fighting," he exclaimed, "but this is not so. English is now taught in our schools, but if the State has the right to tell us we must teach English it shall soon be telling us what we shall eat and what shall be on the table for the family dinner. They are all of a class, these laws, whether in Wisconsin, Illinois or Massachusetts. The attempt to interfere with personal and parental rights, and carried out to their logical conclusion they would be very dangerous to the church and society."

"This Bennett law," the bishop continued, "was conceived in the minds of Free Thinkers and those opposed to the Catholic Church and her school."

He was told recently, he said, by a Mason that the Bennett law was first suggested by the Masons. "This man said: 'I could prove it to you if I did not put so high a value on my head, that the Bennett law was first suggested in the Grand Lodge of Masons in the State of Wisconsin.'"

The applause which followed this statement was deafening and the bishop had to stand fully half a minute before he could continue. In closing he urged his hearers to oppose all measures like the Bennett law to the best of their ability and stand firmly by the church.

Prohibition Students.

VERMILION, S. D., May 26.—This morning there occurred a very singular demonstration. At ten o'clock the law was to have been enforced by G. L. Salmer for a druggist's permit to sell liquor under the new prohibition law. The students of the university, to the number of two hundred and fifty, cut their classes and with banners paraded the streets of the town. Fully half the number were young ladies. Some of the mottoes were as follows: "University or Saloon?" "Will You Have the Saloon?" "We Are the People;" "Behold Our Fate." In connection with the following inscription was a huge dragon and a large bottle with a snake crawling from the neck—"Spirit of Education or Spirit of Alcohol." Other mottoes of like character decorated fifty or more banners. It was a mighty protest, as Salmer has been a violator of the liquor laws made for the protection of the university for the past three years.

After the parade the students and citizens filled the court and the case was called, Judge Girard Runyan presiding. Mr. Salmer asked for a continuance in order to procure counsel and by consent the hearing was adjourned until Thursday. The students were angry because of the adjournment and at once took up a collection to procure good legal talent. The end is not yet, as Mr. Salmer says he will try and have the ring-leaders arrested if any intimidation is attempted next week.

Newfoundland Is Mad.

LONDON, May 26.—Lord Knutford, the colonial secretary, has received an angry address to the Queen from the Newfoundland legislature. The address protests in the loudest manner against French aggressions, bounties and smuggling, which it says the English government appears to tolerate and absolutely declines to consent to the arbitration of the lobster dispute. The legislature calls upon the imperial government to cause the removal of the lobsteries and stop all fishing privileges until bounties are abolished, threatening to take its own measures if the government refuses.

An Editor Whipped.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., May 27.—The Florida Republican last week contained an article charging Captain Burroughs of Tallahassee, with others, with having made a recent attack on the house of Mrs. Craft. To-day Captain Burroughs called on Zeph Harrison, publisher of the paper, and demanded the name of the writer of the article. Harrison refused to give it, whereupon Burroughs gave him a severe beating with his fists and a cane. Harrison will be laid up for some time. Ex-Governor Reed, who was in the city, received several blows by accident.

Out of a Russian Prison.

NEW YORK, May 25.—Among the cabin passengers on the Augusta Victoria from Hamburg was Herman Kempinski, a Russian by birth and a naturalized American citizen. He was on the way to his home in Bridgeport, after having spent thirteen months in a Russian prison on the charge of evading military duty. He was accompanied by his wife and two little girls, who remained near him. His wife was confined in jail.

They had returned to Russia to visit their parents, and the husband was arrested without charges.

Kempinski tells an interesting story of his experience and of his wife's efforts to procure his release. She first applied to Mr. Wurtz, the American Consul, who promised to intercede but nothing more was heard from him.

A few months later a friend coming to America laid the case before Secretary Bayard but the correspondence which followed had no result. The friend, a few months later, laid the case before Secretary Blaine, who, according to Kempinski's story, notified Mr. Wurtz to demand the prisoner's release, and failing, to demand a passport and leave the country.

As soon as this cable was laid before the Czar he ordered the prisoner's release. This was immediately done and the unfortunate man was treated with every consideration. He says that the Russian jailers demanded money for everything done and that his wife expended nearly $3,000 during his imprisonment. He will see Secretary Blaine and try to recover his money.

Manitou's Cog Road.

The engine is christened "John Hulbert" in honor of the originator of the scheme and president of the corporation. The cog and boiler are like any other full-grown steam engine, but the intricate machinery underneath the creature is what catches the eye. Three small wheels on either side run on the "T" rails, but the thing climbs the mountain directly through the agency of three sets of gearing directly over the center of the track. In these three sets of gearing are six cog wheels with steel teeth two and one-half inches thick, which fit into the two sets of cog rails running along the center of the track.

The propelling power will be applied directly to a drum above the two rear drivers. The front drivers are moved by a walking beam running from the second driver. The brake apparatus is especially strongly built. On either side of the cog wheels is a corrugated surface which the heavy steam brake operates with the suddenness of a Pueblo sand storm. The engine is fitted with hand brakes and an additional device by which the cylinders act as brakes.

Some Irish Statistics.

LONDON, May 25.—A return has just been issued of the number of persons proceeded against under the criminal law and procedure (Ireland) act of 1871. During the sixteen months from the 30th of November, 1888, to the 21st of March, 1890, the total number of persons proceeded against was 1,200, of whom 1,000 were convicted. In 102 cases the charges were withdrawn, in 32 cases the accused were acquitted and discharged, and 9 cases are pending.

There were 233 appeals lodged in 17 of which the sentences were reversed, in 10 the sentences were increased, 110 convictions were confirmed and 22 of the appeals are pending. The convictions were divided as follows: Criminal conspiracy, 1; intimidation, 11; riot, 2; unlawful assembly, 24; taking forcible possession, 4; assault on or resistance to a constable, 10; assault, 12; inciting to criminal conspiracy, 1; inciting to intimidation, 2; inciting to hold forcible possession, 1; inciting to assault or resistance, 18; taking part in a meeting of a suppressed branch of the National League, 6; and publishing the proceedings of a suppressed branch of the National League, 2.

Reckless Railroad.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., May 22.—It is known that the wreck of the Chicago & Alton passenger train, which occurred this morning near Blue River, by which ten or twelve people were severely injured was caused by the carelessness of the engineer of the passenger train, who was racing with the Missouri Pacific train going the same way. It develops that this is the usual custom with these trains every day.

In this instance the engineer was going at the rate of about sixty miles an hour and on coming to the crossing found that a freight train had already reached the post and had given the signal for crossing. The air-brakes were applied but they could not stop the train and the engineer endeavored to put on full speed and make the crossing ahead of the freight.

The freight engine struck the middle coach squarely, and such was the force of the passenger train's momentum that the freight engine was dragged clear onto the Wabash tracks. The most remarkable part of the whole accident was the fact that no one was killed, as the coach was landed.

Kemmler to be Executed.

WASHINGTON, May 23.—The Supreme Court denied the application for a writ of error in the case of Kemmler under sentence of death by electricity. Opinion by Chief Justice Fuller.

The court held that a change in the form of death was within the legitimate sphere of the legislative power of the State. The legislature of the State of New York determined it did not inflict a cruel and unusual punishment, and its courts have sustained that determination. This court cannot see that the prisoner has been deprived of due process of law. In order to reverse the judgment this court should be compelled to hold that the court of appeals committed an error so gross as to deprive prisoners of their constitutional rights. The court has no hesitation in saying they cannot do this.

The case will next come up before United States Circuit Judge Wallace, who made an order to operate as a stay of proceedings to save Kemmler's life until the United States Supreme Court could pass upon the question involved. This order was issued with the understanding that counsel would immediately apply to the Supreme Court for a writ of habeas corpus. Their application for such a writ was thrown out of court, but they were allowed a hearing on an application for a writ of error, and it was this application which was to-day denied. The same questions were involved in this hearing, as would come before the Supreme Court on a motion for a writ of habeas corpus, the only difference being one of form and court practice. It is therefore supposed that Judge Wallace, when the order becomes returnable on the third Monday in June next will vacate it, that being practically the understanding upon which the order was made.

A Vicious Horse.

FORT COLLINS, Colo., May 23.—At 1 o'clock this afternoon, as George Thompson, a native of Scotland, was leading a large Norman stallion belonging to W. F. Sherwood of Fort Collins, the horse suddenly attacked his keeper. Mr. Thompson endeavored to secure the vicious animal to a hitching-post, but was unsuccessful. He then tried to reach a club with which to defend himself, but before he could reach one the horse was upon him, knocking him down.

He then began trampling upon the prostrate man and to tear the man's clothing from his body. He caught two fingers in his mouth and nearly tore them from his hand. He then took the now unconscious man by one arm and swung him from the ground, lacerating the limb in a most shocking manner. He then dropped his victim in the street, the clothing being entirely stripped from his body.

During this terrible scene the wildest confusion prevailed. Women fainted and men shouted for help.

A few came to the rescue of the unfortunate keeper with clubs and rocks. One hit the enraged animal with a two by four scantling a terrific blow upon the head and another threw a rock weighing ten pounds which nearly crushed its skull. Thus the animal was finally driven from his victim.

The horse is said to have killed another keeper in Pueblo.

Mr. Thompson is a professional horse-trainer and has a family. The chances for his recovery are considered as almost hopeless.

Sam Wakes Up Saint and Sinner.

OGDEN, Utah, May 23.—Sam Small is creating any amount of disturbance among the unregenerated of this city. The Pharisee church members are also having his free lances buried deep in their spiritual anatomy, for Samuel gives saint and sinners their meat duly seasoned. Last evening he referred to the church people who were always wanting an "old fashioned revival." "You old spiritual tramps," said Sam, "you set back in your cushioned chairs, and cry for an old fashioned gully washing, trash-moving revival. Give us a gully-washing, trash-moving crowd, and we will have what you are so anxious to see. You are like rotten logs, only fit to clog up the course of the stream; to hinder the triumphant march of the car of salvation."

A Tour of Exploration.

ST. PAUL, Minn., May 22.—Through the liberality of L. F. Menage, of Minneapolis, F. S. Bourous of the University of Minnesota and D. C. Worcester, of the University of Michigan expect to leave Minneapolis August 1 for a stay of several years among the Philippine Islands upon a scientific exploration. Mr. Menage assumes the responsibility of the cost of the expedition with the hope that through this means a collection of great interest may be obtained and the cause of natural science be benefited. It is intended that the products of this expedition shall form the nucleus of a museum. The expedition is expected to gather specimens of mammals, birds and corals and the beautiful woods of the countries visited, and to some extent the arms and dress of the natives. The reports will be published in the bulletins of the Academy of Science or the reports of the State Geological and Natural History Survey. The results will be all the more important, because photographic views of the animals can be taken at the time of their capture, and since the specimens from the Philippines are so rare an amount of material can be brought back.

CONGRESSIONAL.

THURSDAY, MAY 22.

SENATE.—The silver bill was taken up. Daniels addressed the Senate in favor of silver currency.

Mr. Laurier ridiculed the idea of an avalanche of silver crashing down upon the United States in the case of free coinage of silver. It was obvious, he said, that the silver money abroad would not come to the United States mints, and it was also obvious that there was no such annual production of silver in the world (144,000,000 of which all but 51,000,000 were now coined), as to cause any fear on that score. At the close of Mr. Daniels' speech the silver bill was laid aside without any action and the naval appropriation bill was taken up. All the formal and minor amendments reported by the committee were agreed to and then the bill went over without further action.

HOUSE.—The House after transacting routine business went into a committee of the whole on the river and harbor bill. It appropriates $20,022,000 based upon estimates aggregating $2,500,000. Mr. Hutchings, of Mississippi, made a comprehensive and exhaustive explanation of the plans by which the government was undertaking the improvement of the Mississippi River. He gave an interesting account of the commerce now upon the river, showing that the river business to New Orleans was over $85,000,000 annually.

FRIDAY, MAY 22.

SENATE.—Mr. Call offered a resolution calling on the President for information as to the landing of an armed force from the revenue cutter McLane at Cedar Keys, Florida, for the purpose of houses and the pursuit of cutters in the surrounding country, and asking for its adoption. Went over.

The consideration of the naval appropriation bill was resumed. Several amendments were offered and disagreed to, but the silver bill was taken up as the unfinished business and laid aside informally.

The tariff bill was received from the House and referred to the committee on finance.

Mr. Stanford addressed the Senate in advocacy of the bill introduced by him some days ago providing for loans by the government on agricultural lands.

HOUSE.—On motion, Mr. Vandever of California, from the committee on irrigation, introduced a resolution, which was adopted, calling on the Secretary of War for information relative to the climate of Arizona, New Mexico, and parts of the United States.

The House then went into committee of the whole on the river and harbor bill. Mr. Williams of Ohio, speaking to a verbal amendment, criticized several items in the bill as evidence of log rolling on the part of the committee.

When the paragraphs appropriating $20,000 for the construction of the Illinois and Mississippi (Hennepin) canal was reached, Mr. Sumner of Georgia made the point of order that the committee on rivers and harbors had no jurisdiction over canals.

Pending a discussion the committee rose.

MONDAY, MAY 25.

SENATE.—Immediately after the reading of the journal the oath of office was administered by the Vice President to the same Charles as Senator from Kentucky for Mr. Beck's unexpired term.

Mr. Sherman presented petitions in favor of excluding from the mails the Police Gazette and similar publications.

Mr. Plumb introduced a bill to provide for the purchase of silver for use as lawful money, prepared by Banker St. John, of New York, which was referred to the finance committee.

The Senate resumed consideration of the naval appropriation bill.

The pending question was on Mr. Cockrell's amendment to strike out the provision for three heavily armed battleships and $10,000 each. Rejected 35 to 18. The bill then passed.

HOUSE.—Mr. Reed being absent to attend the funeral of his mother, the House was called to order by Clerk McPherson and upon motion of Mr. McKinley Mr. Burrows of Michigan was elected speaker pro tem, and took the chair at the same time. The committee on the District of Columbia secured the floor and the Rock Creek park bill was passed. After the passage of several other District bills the House adjourned.

TUESDAY, MAY 28.

SENATE.—Mr. Cullom offered a resolution calling on the Secretary of the Treasury for information as to the authority under which merchandise in bond, appraised or unappraised, and goods of domestic origin are permitted to be forwarded between Atlantic and Pacific ports of the United States over the Canadian Pacific Railroad, etc.

The Senate then resumed consideration of Wilson's liquor bill, the question being on the substitute reported yesterday from the judiciary committee.

Mr. Cook argued against the constitutional right of Congress to delegate its delegated powers back to the States.

Mr. George supported the bill.

Mr. Lusk said the effect of the passage of the bill would be to take the power coming to Congress soon and asking permission to exclude cotton seed oil, dressed beef and other articles and thus finally build up an impenetrable wall about their borders against the products from foreign countries and the other States.

New Mexico is All Right.

It is so easy to cry dull times. People can say this thoughtlessly, when nothing else is at hand to be said, or when a debt is due and ought to be paid. They say it largely from force of habit, or because somebody else has just said it; but are times really so dull as some people would have us believe? We think not.

Fourth of July Meeting.

On last Saturday evening a meeting was held in the Registrar's office for the purpose of making the necessary arrangements for the proper celebration of the 4th of July in Roswell. Owing to the fact that the meeting was not generally known only a small number were present.

Railroad Contract Awarded.

From the El Paso Times, May 28th. Yesterday at a joint meeting of the directors of the Pecos City Railroad Company and the Pecos River Railroad Company, the contract for the construction of the first 100 miles of the road from Pecos City, Texas, to Eddy, New Mexico, was awarded W. C. Bradbury & Co., of Denver, who promptly finished bond for the carrying out of their contract.

Bloom, of Hutchinson, Kansas, and Mr. Royal Mathews, president of First National Bank, Window, Kansas, closed a trade with the Lea Cattle Co. and El Capitán and Milne & Bush, for 4500 head of cattle. The Milne & Bush Co. will furnish fifteen hundred two and three year old steers, the Lea Cattle Co. and El Capitán, 2000 two and three year olds, and 1000 yearlings. These cattle must be delivered at Liberal, Kansas, between now and September 30th. We were unable to learn the consideration.

New Mexico's Delegation.

From the Denver Republican. Whatever may be the final result of their efforts to promote the welfare of New Mexico at Washington City, the interest in New Mexico affairs which the delegation of citizens from that territory to the national capitol aroused, reveals two truths worthy of consideration.

The first is that it pays for the people of a territory or far western states to send such a body of men to the national capitol to strengthen and aid the official representatives. The states lying east of the Mississippi have less need of this. They have a larger representation in the house of representatives, more is known in regard to their condition and needs, and a proportionately large number of their inhabitants visit Washington during the course of a year.

But comparatively little is known in regard to New Mexico in the east. Eastern people have their own affairs to attend to. They have little or no time to give to a consideration of matters in New Mexico. They require their memory to be jogged from time to time in order to keep them from forgetting that New Mexico has any interest calling for the attention of the national government.

The Fort Worth and Albuquerque.

From the Fort Worth Gazette. The Fort Worth and Albuquerque road, Fort Worth's twelfth outlet, is now being built, and the grade has been completed over twelve miles northwest from the city. A north and south railroad, up and down the Pecos river, will be built within twelve months. It will then be suddenly discovered that New Mexico has all the possibilities of California and none of its drawbacks. Our climate is milder than that of Colorado and our agricultural area as two to one compared with that state.

Our southwestern neighbors, Roswell and Eddy, and the Pecos valley generally, are now assured of a railroad—not from this direction, and not to the benefit of our people here, because it will give that territory and those towns a different outlet which will carry in a different direction some of our distant trade.

The Pecos River and Texas road, which is to be built from a point on the Texas and Pacific, near Pecos City, to Eddy, New Mexico, will be graded in five months. It is said that there is no place on the entire line where there will be much as an eighteen inch grade, and it is believed the work can be done at a cost of less than $400 per mile. Work will commence on the line at once.—Fort Worth Gazette.

Mr. White, of Seven Rivers, and J. B. Mathews, of Lower Pecosco, report that on last Wednesday and Thursday there was the heaviest rainfall that has been known for years in their section of the country. Cattlemen say that in a short time grass will be abundant there, and there will be no more reports of cattle dying.—Mesilla Valley Democrat.

After a careful examination of the June number of "Godey's Lady's Book," we unhesitatingly say that there is no fashion magazine published that is so well adapted to all classes—age, youth and childhood. The publisher deserves great credit for his efforts to make this a real home book. Price, $2.00 a year.

The Kingston Shaft of May 24th, was a six page paper printed in blue ink. The publishers must be rustlers.

D. M. OSBURNE MOWERS AND MOLINE PLOWS.

To those who use Machinery, and especially to the farmers of this country, we take this method of bringing to your notice that we are handling machinery, and the kind that you need, and guarantee any machine that we propose to sell, to give entire satisfaction, or no sale.

We have on hand the best Mower that was ever introduced in this country, and for many reasons: 1st.—It is the lightest draft machine made, no side draft, no weight on your horses necks, the draft comes direct from the main bar underneath the tongue. 2d.—It has the loose and flexible cutting bar, the outer end will drop 2 1/2 ft. into a ditch; the very thing you farmers need in this country to cut over your ditches.

The other truth revealed by the presence in Washington of this delegation from New Mexico is the fact that a territorial government will no longer suffice for New Mexico. The people of that territory should be permitted to form a state government in order that they might have representatives to speak for them and vote for them in the United States senate, and in order that they might have a representative not only to speak, but also to vote for them in the house of representatives.

NEW RAILROAD.

To Eddy, N. M., Through the Pecos Valley, From a Point on the T & P.

From the El Paso Times, 27th inst.

A meeting of the Pecos Valley Railroad Company, and the Pecos River Railroad Company was held to-day at the El Paso National bank, to arrange for the construction of their line from a point on the Texas & Pacific railroad, north through the irrigated lands of the Pecos Irrigation and Investment Company, to the town of Eddy, New Mexico. The former company is the New Mexico organization, and the latter the Texas organization.

The officers of the former are J. J. Hagerman, president; Charles B. Eddy, vice-president; H. C. Lowe, secretary and treasurer; S. P. Judy general manager.

DIRECTORS.
Sidney Dillon, New York; W. A. Oatis, New York; J. J. Hagerman, Colorado Springs, Colorado; H. C. Lowe, Colorado Springs, Colorado; Chas. B. Eddy, Eddy, N. M.; W. A. Hawkins, Eddy, N. M.; C. C. Blodgett, Eddy, N. M.

The directors of the Texas company are: J. J. Hagerman, H. C. Lowe, Colorado Springs; Chas. B. Eddy, W. A. Hawkins, Eddy, New Mexico; Edgar B. Bronson, W. H. Austin, H. P. Brown, El Paso Texas.

To a Times reporter yesterday, Messrs. E. B. Bronson and J. J. Hagerman said:

"These companies are entirely separate and independent to any other railroad companies. Their line will have a total length of ninety miles. Throughout its whole length it will traverse the 300,000 acres of land in the Pecos valley covered by the great canals of the Pecos Irrigation and Investment company, which are now nearing completion. The road will be stocked and bonded at the rate of twelve thousand dollars per mile. The steel is all bought and 2,500 tons will arrive at the place of beginning on June 1. At the meeting to-day bids for the construction of the road were opened and discussed. The contract will be let to-day and will provide for the immediate beginning of work and for the completion of the line to Eddy by November 10. "This road," said they, "is of great local importance, as it will bring to El Paso jobbers nearly the whole trade of the immensely rich Pecos valley. This enterprise is, moreover, of importance as being the culminating work of a great corporation which has now nearly finished the largest irrigation system in the whole west embracing canals taken from the Pecos river, adequate for the irrigation of 300,000 acres of remarkably fine fruit lands. The largeness of the investment, the prominence of the leading men who have directed the enterprise, and its marked success, will naturally be of great benefit in attracting northern capital to this section."

"Besides," said they, "it will tend to hasten the commencement of work on, or completion of, other railroads that are started or contemplated for this vast and rich section of country, and thus be of much additional benefit in indirectly causing the development of the resources of the Pecos and Rio Grande valleys."

A Sad Death.
A young man by the name of Ike Perkins, died at the Texas House on last Sunday morning, about 11 o'clock, of consumption and heart trouble. He was a stranger in Roswell, having come to Mrs. Fountain on Wednesday evening from the Keys ranch, where he has been for about four years. From his letters it was learned that he formerly lived in Boston, Mass. Dr. Skipwith was tending him, but gave the young man no hopes of recovery. A short time before his death Mr. J. J. Hagerman, in his room and put a mustard plaster on his breast, and then at his request, went out to get some one to wait on him. He was gone about five minutes, but when he returned the young man had been summoned by the dread messenger and was sleeping his last sleep. He died alone, peacefully and calmly. He was a stranger in a strange land, without acquaintances or relatives to cheer his last hours or make preparations for the journey into the great unknown. Death is always sad and painful, but in an instance like this it is doubly so. He accepted the inevitable and has gone to join the great majority, as we all must do, but we trust that when the summons shall come, it will find us, not as it did this young man, alone in a foreign country, but surrounded by our friends, and that it shall be our privilege to look our last upon the faces of those we love. He was buried in South Park cemetery Sunday evening. Peace to his ashes.

About sixty small ranchmen, sheepmen and farmers from Lower Pecos, Seven Rivers and the Pecos are in town. They are here on an injunction case wherein W. A. Miley is plaintiff and James Gear and others are defendants. Messrs. Rynerson & Wade, and Col. A. A. Fountain will appear for the plaintiff, and Messrs. Fall & Young for the defendants. The case will come up before Judge McFie on Thursday next at 10 o'clock. The case is one of the right of the defendants to go up the Pecos above the plaintiff and take water out of the stream in a ditch to the detriment of an older ditch built by plaintiff. This is the first of a long series of important water-right cases which will arise in New Mexico. Both parties seem to be confident of winning and at present we will make no comments.—Mesilla Valley Democrat.

On last Saturday evening we were an eye witness of a most disgusting and nauseating scene. A man drunk and inflamed with liquor standing in the street cursing and swearing in a loud voice, using the most vile and obscene language, compelling the ladies and young girls who were in hearing distance to seek shelter in the neighboring houses to escape from his foul and indecent rabble. When the ladies of Roswell can not go to the postoffice for mail, or go for an evening walk, without being compelled to witness a drunken fight or have their ears greeted with a volley of oaths and indecent language, it is high time something was done to stop it. Scenes of this kind are altogether too numerous. Roswell is fast assuming the proportions of a small city; new citizens are coming in every day, and it behooves our people to make some move towards the suppression of this drunken carousal on our streets.

No letters will be entered for the prize offered by Jaffa, Prager & Co., for the best letter written by a boy or girl under 12 years, after June 15th. Those who intend to write should do so at once. EDITH.

PRIZES!

THE CHILDREN!!

To the little girls and little boys of Lincoln county: We are anxious to see what improvement you have made this year in penmanship. We want every boy and girl in Lincoln county, from 6 to 12 years of age, to write us a letter. You are to tell us your name and age, how long you have been going to school, what books you are studying, how many scholars are in your school, your teachers name, and as much more news as you wish to give us. Also your papas name, his occupation and address, so we can send your present in his care, should you win a prize.

No letters will be entered for competition after June 15th, so write early.

Your letters will be carefully read by a committee appointed for that business, and on the 4th of July a prize will be sent to each writer of the best letter according to age—one for a boy and another for a girl. In all there will be 14 prizes, one of which will be given to the 6 year old girl who writes the best letter, and one to the 6 year old boy; one to the 7 year old girl and one to the 7 year old boy, and so on to the 12th year. The persons who examine the letters will consider the composition as well as the penmanship.

The value of prizes to be given away amounts to One Hundred Dollars.

Letters to which prizes are awarded will be published in the PECOS VALLEY REGISTER, with name of writer. All letters must be addressed to "EDITH," care Jaffa, Prager & Co., Roswell, N. M., and she will acknowledge receipt of same.

THE QUEEN'S MEWS.

HOW THE EQUIPAGE OF ENGLISH ROYALTY IS CARED FOR.

Two Wonderful Strains of Horse Aristocracy, Pure and Undeveloped.

"The stables of the Queen which are known as the Royal Mews, adjoin Buckingham Palace, but however, are not under the same management. The head functionary is the Master of the Horse, at present the duke of Portland. The office goes with the government and is always given to a man of rank and wealth as well as great political influence.

"The main entrance to the stable is through the handsome gateway that opens upon Buckingham Palace Road. In the quadrangle formed by these gates and the archway leading to the main court yard are the offices of Mr. William Norton, the superintendent of the Royal Mews, with those of the Duke of Portland and his lieutenant, Sir George Maude and Mr. Norton. The former selects all the horses, arranges the processions, and has the general ordering of affairs, while Mr. Norton looks after the minor details. Some idea of the work of managing such a large affair as the queen's stables can be inferred from the fact that there are 110 horses in the stables and eighty men employed as coachmen, grooms and outriders. The head coachman, Mr. G. Paine, has been for fifteen years in the queen's employ. He always drives the stage carriage in which her majesty sits, and handles the ribbons over the famous 'creams.'

"We enter the Royal Mews through the main gate-way, which is surmounted by a large clock that chimes the hours. The whole mews was designed by John Nash, of Dover, Kent, and was completed in 1825. The court-yard is about 400 feet square. The right side is taken up by the royal carriages. Opposite these are the stables for the chargers, the harness-room and several stables of carriage horses. Opposite the entrance are the 'creams' and 'blacks,' and the celebrated thirty-two stabled stable.

"I suppose in no stable in the world can such a collection of horses be seen. All are over sixteen hands high, and most over sixteen and a half. The general color is bay or brown, and white legs and feet are conspicuously absent. The animals are all given names that commence with as many letters of the dealer's names as practicable, as a record of their purchase. Thus Blackbird and Blackcap were both purchased from a dealer named Blackman, and Jonquil came from Jones. All the names are placed on iron plates above the racks. The floors of the stable are all sanded in patterns and the straw litter is finished off with a neat straw plait. Against the posts are neatly arranged sheafs of straw. There is a foreman in charge of each stable, and to every eight horses a coachman, who has under him a competent number of men and an assistant coachman.

"The horses are all clothed alike in neat red, white and blue rugs of a small check pattern, bound with red. The initials V. R. are on the quarters, and the quarter-cloths have the same initials with no display. The prices of the horses varies from £150 to £250 apiece. They must be young and pass a rigorous veterinary examination. After being purchased they are thoroughly trained. The chargers have a special drill in the riding school, over timber, walls and hurdles, and are also taught to 'stand fire.'

"The coachman have four liveries apiece—the state livery, which is a mass of gold; the capulet livery, which is but a little less costly; the ordinary scarlet livery, and the plain black livery with white waistcoats, that is used on all occasions. All the men live in the rooms above the stables, and almost a military discipline is maintained.

"The first stable on the left contains eight good-looking bays and browns that are used in the smaller carriages. Other small stables are passed, all in perfect neatness, and then comes the chargers' stable. In it are many grand horses, particularly the big sixteen and a half hands bay horse 'Sunrise,' that the late Emperor of Germany rode in the jubilee time.

"All are perfect chargers and will stand with their noses close to the largest guns when they are fired and not twitch an ear. The next stable contains the small chargers, all about fifteen and three-quarters to sixteen hands high, and equally well broken. Among them is the charger that the ill-fated Prince Rudolph rode in the jubilee time. Indeed, all of the horses in these stables have some special association connected with the royalties who have been on their backs. In the equestrian's stable the horses are smaller than most of the others.

"On this side of the square also is the state harness room—a very interesting apartment. On the left hand is the 'creams' state harness. The leather is red morocco and the heavy plating is gilt on a brass foundation. The weight is not less than 112 pounds. This harness never leaves Buckingham Palace and is used only on state occasions. The gilt crests and arms are of beautiful design and work, and the whole outfit is superb. Hardly less handsome is what is known as the 'black horse state harness.' This is made of black leather, and the crest and royal arms are of brass; the trappings of this are covered with crests, and the effect is very beautiful. The weight of a single set is eighty pounds.

"In the thirty-two stabled stable are thirty-two fine-bred horses from sixteen and a half to seventeen and a quarter hands, all glistening bays, so perfectly matched that almost any four could be placed in front of a carriage. The perfect ventilation of the building disposes almost entirely of any stable odor.

"The other half of this wing is occupied by the 'creams' and 'blacks,' all stallions, over sixteen hands, and the wheelers, sixteen and a half. The heavy, massive harness and the peculiar coloring of these horses make them look much smaller than they are. "The breed originally came from Hanover in 1820, and the stud at Hampton Court, where they are bred, is the only pure specimen of the breed. Since their sojourn in England, not a mixed colored animal has been born, which augurs well for the purity of the breed.

They are a curious cream color, with very silky manes and tails almost touching the ground. Their eyes are white, with pink centres, and their noses are pink, almost like human flesh. They are very tractable and sagacious, and I was told by Mr. Norton that they have wonderful memories. Of course they are used only on great state occasions, and the effect of the eight horses, with their massive, handsome harness, attached to the gilded coach, is very fine. Occo is the handsomest of the creams, and is a very intelligent animal.

"Opposite the creams are the eight blacks. The wheelers are no less than seventeen and a half hands in height. They also came from Hanover in 1820, and a special breed is maintained at Hampton Court. Their coats have a marvelous gloss, and their jet-black tails touch the ground. The effect would be a good deal heightened if the red harness was used with the black horses and the black harness with the creams, but the opposite is the rule.

"The whole of the side of the yard opposite the harness room is occupied by the coach houses, in which upwards of thirty state and semi-state carriages are kept. The center of interest is, of course, the state coach built in 1761, and which is known as the 'glass coach.' It is the most superb carriage ever built. The paintings on the panels are by the celebrated artist, Cypriani, and are so valuable that £5,000 were offered for the panel on the back by a connoisseur.

The length of the carriage is twenty-four feet, the width eight feet three inches, and the height twelve feet. It weighs four tons. This coach is hardly ever taken out of the house now. The last time it was used was when the queen opened Parliament in state twenty years ago.

"The state coach used nowadays is not by any means so splendid an affair, but it is a very handsome carriage. The coach used by her majesty two years ago, at the jubilee, when the creams made their latest appearance in public. There are six other state coaches in scarlet and gilt, and the rest of the carriages are painted dark blue.

"The royal mews can always be visited in the afternoon by an order from Sir George Waudes, and yet Londoners do not visit there nearly as frequently as foreigners and country people."

WAY TO FIND OUT A NAME.

Brown's Native Place and His Visitor's Great Dilemma.

Young Mr. Brown one day invited a friend in Boston to go with him to the country next day, to pay a visit to his native place.

"We can go tomorrow and spend our vacation in my native place," said he. "My old aunt keeps the house my father left me, and if you're agreed I'll telegraph the dear old lady to look out for us. We'll have some fine fishing."

Mr. Peters accepted the invitation, and Mr. Brown rushed away to telegraph to his aunt. When Peters went to his boarding-house that night he told his landlady that he was going with Brown—to his native place.

"What place is it?"

"Why, I don't know, I declare," laughed Peters. "I never thought to ask."

A messenger boy soon after brought a note from Mr. Brown. He wished Mr. Peters to meet him at the Eastern station the next morning at 10 o'clock. Business would prevent his seeing Peters until they met at the station, ready for the journey.

Mr. Peters went to the Eastern station a few minutes before the appointed hour. Mr. Brown met him.

"Come, hurry!" he cried. "Our train starts in three minutes. This is the car. Get in; I have our tickets."

Mr. Peters got into the car and had a pleasant journey of two hours. That night he wrote this letter to his dear friend White in Boston:

DEAR DICK—I arrived safely in Brown's native place about noon. It's a very pleasant place. There is no signboard on the station. Write me at once and tell me what the post-mark is on this letter.

Yours,
—Youth's Companion.

The Groo Family.

A few days since Sergeant Groo, of the New York police force, met five brothers at his father's house in the town of Neversink. The total weight of the six was 1,125 pounds, and their aggregate length 35 feet. The father is a sprightly old man of seventy-four years, and can yet hold his own with any one of his boys.

Tobacco Down East.

The "staff of life" down in Maine appears to be tobacco. A contractor who has employed a crew of twelve men for six months on setting up with them found that ten of them, who are tobacco chewers, had consumed $53 worth of tobacco, besides cigars, and that the cost of hay for the whole dozen was only $57.

Protect the System from Malaria.

It is possible to do this even in regions of country where miasma is most rife, and where the periodic fevers which it causes assume their most formidable types. The immense popularity of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is very largely attributable to the fact of its efficacy as a remedy for chills and fever, bilious remittents, and as a preventive of the various forms of malarial disease. In those portions of the West and South where complaints of this nature prevail, and in the Tropics, it is particularly esteemed for the protective influence which it exerts; and it has been very widely adopted as a substitute for the dangerous and comparatively ineffective alkaloid, sulphate of quinine. Physicians have not been among the last to concede its merits, and the emphatic professional endorsements which it has received have added to the reputation it has obtained at home and abroad.

Winning a Fortune.

Cortland (N. Y.) Democrat, May 8.

Learning that Mr. Thos. Carby, of this village had drawn a $5,000 prize in the Louisiana State Lottery, at their drawing on the 15th of April last, the Democrat despatched a reporter to learn the full particulars. Mr. Carby keeps a restaurant on Orchard St. He received the reporter pleasantly and gave the following history of the transaction: Some time during the latter part of March, he enclosed $1 in an envelope and sent it by U. S. Express to the address of the company at New Orleans. In due time he received by the same agency one-twentieth of ticket No. 27,994. About a week after the drawing he received from New Orleans a list of the numbers drawing prizes and found that the ticket No. 27,994 had drawn the second prize of $50,000. He at once sent the ticket to the company by U. S. Express and on April 10, Mr. Robert Bushby, the local agent, handed him the $5,000 in cash. The money will be safely invested and will serve to keep the wolf from the door for many a day.

THE GREAT SPRING TONIC.

W. H. Gilbert, Druggist, Albany, Ga., writes: "We are selling large quantities of Swift's Specific for a spring alternative and general health tonic, and with the best results. It is now largely used as a preventive and cure for Malaria. There are many remarkable evidences of its merit in this section."

Rev. L. B. Paine, Macon, Ga., writes: "We have been using Swift's Specific at the orphan's home as a remedy for blood complaints and as a general health tonic, and have had remarkable results from its use on the children and employees of the institution. It is such an excellent tonic and keeps the blood so pure, that the system is less liable to disease. It has cured some of our children of Scrophulous."
