The Yale-Harvard Boat Race.

NEW LONDON, Conn., June 27 .- As usual, a great throng of people congregated to day to see the annual four mile, straightaway, eight-oared shell race between the Yale and Harvard crews. Yale won by three and one-half lengths in 21:29, Harvard 21:40. This is Yale's fifth successive victory and the record now stands in four-mile races: Yale 9, Harvard 6.

For three miles the race was one of the finest struggles ever seen on the Thames course." At no time in that distance was either crew able to get a decisive lead, and during that time Harvard had a slight lead twice. Yale, however, by grand spurting and staying qualities, quickly recovered the first position by a small margin.

After passing the third mile flag Harvard's stroke seemed to lose some of its effectiveness, which with a perceptible roll to their shell and three or four slight swerves of the coxswain, caused Harvard's boat to drop slowly but surely astern. Yale finished strong, keeping up their long steady swing with almost faultless precision, crossing the line and resting on their oars without the slightest sign of distress, while in the Harvard boat at least three men showed the effects of their determined efforts.

The fact that Robert C. Cook, the famous coach of the Yale crews for several years bast, was not able to train the "Blues" this year, somewhat disturbed the confidence of the Yale men in their own invincibility. They trained regularly every afternoon, and since coming to New London have been on the water a large part of every day, beginning with a spin in pair oars and afterwards setting down to the eights. They rowed in a new shell built at Troy, New York, especially for this race. Every man of the crew is perfect in the long, sweeping stroke first introduced by Cook, and which has given Yale to many victories in its contests with the Harvard crimson.

Wonderful Mining Find

BUTTE, Mont., June 27 .-- A big find of mineral, gold and silver, is reported from Logging Creek, in the Belt Mountains, 25 miles southeast of Great Falls. The news ass been confirmed, and it is said no such Riscovery has ever before been made in this region.

The discovery was made by one Mr. Douglass, who was in Great Falls to-day, and said that sixty feet below the surface he struck a 71 foot vein of ore carrying gold, silver and copper, and assaying into the thousands. He has uncovered nine teen feet of the vein, and the mass averages $2,000 to the ton.

Should the vein hold out, it will be the richest mine known to the world. It is the most remarkable discovery on the con-

The Chicago Strike Settled.

CHICAGO, June 27 .- The strike on the Illinois Central Railroad was settled this afternoon, the men going back to work on a compromise. They withdrew their demand for the dismissal of Division Superintendent Russell, and the company takes from him the power to hire or discharge men. General Superintendent Sul livan said that the strike was settled, not upon the basis of any concessions on the part of the railroad company out by the complete and entire surrender of the men. He says that Superintendent Russell's powers had not in any way been curtailed. but he will continue to give orders as he had always given them. He said it had always been the usage of the road for a division superintendent to give orders only to his immediate inferiors.

But one opinion was expressed among the Chicago railroad men on the termination of the Illinois Central strike. All felt a personal relief, as there was no knowing to what roads the strike might extend, but the main feeling was one of congratula tion that the road had won on the principles involved. The men demanded the dismissal of Superintendent Russell, an official distasteful to the strikers, but against whom the Illinois Central, as a corporation, found no word of fault. Had the road yielded it would have set a precedent railroad men claim would have worked untold injury to the roads in the future. The various brotherhoods among the employes had nothing to do with the beginning, continuance or end of the

To Educate the Indians.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 29 .- The Senate has passed a bill providing for the compulsory education of Indian children between the ages of eight and eighteen years, and require the attendance of each child at school for at least five years.

Regular order being demanded, Mr. Lodge, of Massachusetts, began the debate, upon the national election bill. Mr. Lodge made an eloquent speech in favor of the bill and at the close was warmly congratbill, and at the close was warmly congrat

Mr. Hemphill, of South Carolina, argued that the bill was unconstitutional and not national, but sectional. This was a measure of the section o ure to rob the people of their dearest rights. He had marched before the glittering bayonets of United States soldiers to cast his ballot. A troop of soldiers had been sent to his town, and every soldier had cast a ballot for Greeley. The result was that the Democratic party had a larger majority than they ever had in any preceding election. It needed no election preceding election. It needed no elequence to depict the horror of having thousands of men watching voters for $5 a day and owing their appointment to a man who did not owe his appointment to the vote of the people, but to a man appointed by a United States judge, who could not be got at under any circumstances.

FRIDAY, JUNE 27. SENATE.—The consideration of the bill for the admission of Wyoming was re-sumed, and Mr. Morgan addressed the Sen-

South American Triple Alliance.

New York, June 27 .- An alliance offensive and defensive has been entered into between Brazil, Peru and the Argentine Republic against Chili, by a secret treaty. The object is an attack upon Chili. The news is so generally believed that the Chilian government is said to be making big preparations. This word was received here yesterday by mail from the Argentine Republic. In confirmation of this news is an article in the Parvenia Militia, the organ of the Argentine army, which says: "Chili without doubt believes that some one desires to wrest from it the territory it has acquired, and which has produced good rentals since it was taken from Peru and Bolivia, despite the efforts made, particularly by the former nation, on battlefields. By thus acting Chili proves that it is somewhat unquiet respecting the deeds which have not yet been qualified by history, and that in a hostile and well prepared attitude it awaits judgment. Happily, however, the interests of the whole of South America are higher than those of Chili, and an effort is being made to check its advance. The Argentine Republic, true to the traditions of friendship for its neighbors and the United States of Brazil, in union with Peru, if rumors are to be believed, have concluded a defensive alliance in order to insure the maintenance of peace in this portion of the world and to let all know that any attempt to disturb the peace will be promptly met. This judicious policy, whilst opening up new fields for thought and speculation, also gives origin to new hopes, and serves as loyal and certain security that tranquility will not be disturbed. Judging from this treaty we feel pleasure at being able to state that the Argentine Brazilian-Peruvian alliance is bound to be productive of good results, and to check that violation of international rights which all have seen has resulted from the last war on the Pacific coast."

To Cross the Atlantic.

OTTAWA., Ont., June 29 .- A company of Boston capitalists have been quietly developing the foundations of a new port at the east end of the straits of Canso, N. S., and if expectations are realized it will have an important bearing on future communication between Europe and America. The place, which is to be called Terminal City, is five miles east of Port Mulgrave, on the Inter-Colonial railway, and the government has consented to the extension of a railway to the place and agreed to operate the extension as part of the Inter-Colonial system. Terminal City is situated on one of the finest harbors of the Atlantic coast, having sufficient water for the largest vessel affoat and being completely landlocked, absolutely free from ice, comparatively free from fog and open to navigation at all times. A straight line on the map of the world from Chicago to Liverpool passes through this point, and the distance between them is over four hundred miles shorter than by Portland, Boston or New York. It will take four days from Terminal City to Liverpool by the new steamers proposed to be put on the route. When the railroad is completed and wharves are built all passengers and mail from Europe will be delivered in New York or Montreal one day sooner than by any other route. It is the most easterly port open all the year round, and appears to be a natural shipping port for the products of the Dominion to Europe.

The Lottery in Louisiana.

NEW ORLEANS, June 30 .- The lottery question has been settled so far as the legislature is concerned. The opponents of the lottery finding themselves beaten in both houses agreed to the following compromise, a proposition which was accepted by the company. The lottery bill which has passed the House and is before the Senate is to be passed without obstruction, the State accepting $1,250,000 a year for the lottery privilege

This bill is submitted in the form of an amendment to the State constitution, and has to be voted upon by the people at the next State election in April, 1892. Before that time, however, and this is the compromise agreed upon to-day, a primary election to be held on some day, not yet agreed on, at which only white shalls vote on this question, either of accepting the ottery comnany's offer or against it.

SERIOUS CHITTING AFFAIR.

A White Man Nearly Killed by a Mexican. Quite a serious cutting affair took place on the 3d of July, at the ranch of R. F. Barnett. It seems that two white men, Mr. Silver and Mr. DeSpain, together with a couple of Mexicans, Valentine Seras and Louis Armada, have been for some time occupying Mr. Barnett's place in the Farms, and up to the time of the cutting had been working together on perfectly friendly terms. In corder to properly celebrate the great and glorious 4th all hands proceeded on the 3d instant to fill up on whiskey, and while under its influence the cutting took colors. The proper place for sitting of the new court, but not quite so easy for of them to show why! On the affair says: "I had been drinking some and was a little full myself, the others were very drunk. Valentine Seras had been singing in a loud voice while lying on his bed and Mr. DeSpain told him to shut up or he would put him out of the house. Then as Valentine kert or sing. house. Then as Valentine kept on sing-ing Mr. DeSpain went to Valentine's bed of the district than any other accessable and commenced scuffling and playing with him in a good humored way, as drunken men do, both of them making considerable noise. At this time Armada supposing they were fighting, drew his greater and its demands for recognition supposing they were fighting, drew his knife run up and throwing himself on top of Mr. DeSpain stabbed him in the back under the left sholder. In the mean time seeing him draw his knife I had run up to him, but was uself to by all prominent doctors, that when a prevent the cut. I now grappled him, knocked the knife out of his hand and kicked it out of doors, and when I graph. kicked it out of doors, and when I grab bed him he seemed to go perfectly crazy and fought like a mad man. The fight sobered me perfectly and I teld Mr. De-Spain to go out side and keep out of the runs may read. way. This he did, sitting down at the door with his back to the house. Mr. DeSpain, we are glad to say, is recovering from his injuries, and will no

FORT STANTON ITEMS.

From our Special Correspondent. Paymaster is expected about 20th.

Lt. Brewster goes on leave about 22nd to remain six weeks. He will visit his home in Philadelphia.

Mr. E. L. Taylor, late of the firm of DeLany & DeLany, will leave for his home in New York in a few days. He has been here about a year and we regret to see him leave.

Mr. and Mrs. Hamilton left for Roswell on the 3d, where they will make their future home. Our loss is Roswell's gain, and we bespeak a host of friends for them in their new home.

The recent heavy rains in this section has caused a 7xb grin to illumine the faces of the festive ranchers and cattlemen. Even Andy Richardson has a semi-cheerful look about him.

Register Cobean spent the week here with his family. They entertained a party of officers and ladies from the post on evening of the 4th. Mr. Cobean returned to Roswell on the 6th. Mrs. Scott Truxton and daughter and Mrs. Railsback left for Hoswell during the past week. Wa do not know their reason for leaving so abruptly, but suppose, like the moon, there is a mun in it some where.

The 4th was appropriately kept at the post. A national salute of 42 guns was fired at 12 m. Match game of baseball between post nines, also game between Lincoln club and post were played during the day. A social hop at post library room in the evening was well attended, and rounded out a very merry day.

"Oh J. C. DeLany, Miss Lou Richardson and Miss Robertson spent the 4th at Mescalero indian reservation. They witnessed a wedding in "Lo" life which they say was quite a recherche affair. We were unable to get a discription of the brides dress. We heard she wore V shaped corsuge cut low, consisting of a string of beads and a bright smile.

We are proud, (and justly too we think,) of our baseball nines. All play a fair game, but there are a few in each nine who seem embued with the idea that what they don't know about baseball would make a very small book. When in fact it would make a very respectable yolume, and what they do know would hardly fill a vest pocket odition printed in large capitals. Striking attitudes and "chin music" do not win games nor elective encouragement or applause. If each player would "play ball" and let the mescot do the monkey act, if it is necessary, a much better game would be played, and if any players superior knowledge of the game hurts him much let him write a book instead or airing it on the the diamond.

The Glorious Fourth.

The glorious 4th has passed and in nearly all the towns and cities of the United States was celebrated in a fit-ting manner. The celebration at Ros-well will not be recorded in history as a grand one from the fact that no preparations were made and our celebration fell flat. A few fire crackers and anvils were fired, but they were scarce. In the alternoon a ball game between our two local nines was played, and was witnessed by quite a large crowd of people. In the evening a free ball was given in the new hotel, a neat program was arranged and danced out and a general good time was had. Refreshments were served at 11 o'clock, after which the dance again went on and was kept up till the wee small hours. So while we had no celebration the 4th passed off very pleasantly in Roswell, and every one reports à good time.

. THE NEW JUDICIAL DISTRICT.

Being the Most Central Point the Readquarters for the District Should be Located at Roswell.

The bill creating a new judicial district has become a law. It now becomes a question as to how it is to be formed. It has been proposed to constitute the present county of Lincoln into a district. The only plea for this is its size and that after November there will be three counties in that territory. As to the matter of business, Judge McFie is able to clean up the docket and clear the jails in a ten day's session. In some of the other counties the courts are one and two years behind with their business. Judge Lee suggested to the Reporter a much better arrangement. The new district should comprise the counties of Socorro, Lincoln, Chaves and Eddy, with Socorro as the seat of the U.S. Court. The es tablished line of mail and passenger transportation naturally connects these counties. This arrangement would not only furnish the new district with business sufficient to justify the establishment of a court, but it will greatly relieve the Second district, in which there is always a large surplus of business.— San Marcial Reporter.

The above article is incorrect when it states that Judge McFie is able to clear the docket in ten days. The fact is, that not one case was reached on the civil docket last term for trial, and the business on the criminal docket was not all cleared up; indictments were returned and court not being in session criminal trials were put over to next term. As to the proper place of the U. S. Court, Lincoln for the present is the most central point and if held there will save thousands of dollars to litigants and witnesses. To have a U. S. Court at Socorro, will make the travel all one

EDDY LOCALS.

Clipped from the Argus, 28th inst. We mat the enemy and we were theirs by an appalling score.

T. W. Emory, one of the Roswell visitors, remained several days in town after the departure of his friends.

The Roswell people unanimously declared that they were royally treated in Eddy. There is some consolution in that.

The Eddy men who bet on Eddy and lost, to-day feel a great deal more comfortable than the Eddy men who bet on Roswell and won.

We have no fault to find with our baseball boys. They fought nobly, and they accepted defeat like the gentleman that they are. None of them felt sore, except in a physical sense.

sore, except in a physical sense.

W. P. Seymour says that he and A. Green and seven other old men are coming down from Seven Rivers to wipe up the late defeat. Let 'em come on. That's all we've got to say. Let 'em come on!

We are not absolutely certain, but we believe that C. C. Blodgett has played his last game of ball. Ditto Tom Blackmore. Ditto—well ditto all except Miller, Sullivan, Burt, Greene and the balance of the nine. Their late disaster defeat only strengthened their ardor.

Bird Greenwood got in Monday with two toos.

Bird Greenwood got in Monday with two tons of ice. Only about ten per cent melted on the way. The ice was stored in the house prepared for it in the rear of the new hotel. Since then Eddy citizens have been reveling in ice water, ice cream, and other iced things. We are afraid some of them will overdo the thing and get sick. some of them will overdo the thing and get sick. We intended to publish this week the score of the late baseball match, but the scorer lost it. It thinks it was in a pocket of a coat he gave to a tramp the day after the game. The tramp started south and as soon as the loss was discovered a courier was sent after him, but he could not be found. We are very sorry, but it can not be helped. The Roswell Register will publish the score next week, and we could copy it were we not bound by a vow not to publish Eddy news second-handed.

The last issue of the Roswell REGISTER flies The last issue of the Roswell REGISTER flies a rooster and contains over a column and a half of good natured railery about the base ball game. In refering to Eddy's hospitality the REGISTER snys: "We take great pleasure in saying that the Eddy club as well as the people generally of that town are clever hospitable and gentlemanly fellows. They entertained the Roswell people splendidly notwithstanding they are crowded for room at present on account of the new hotel not being opened."

The leaks of the dam havent last been entirely closed. In a few days the scourgage will be closed, when the water will rapidly rise in the reservoir and flow into the main canal. Of course it will have to be let in slowly and a little at a time. It has been estimated that it will take 45 days for the water to reach the canal bridge west of town. The town will get its supply of water from the great canal, the small ditch being connected with it a short distance below the dam. Chief Engineer H. H. Cloud, ander date of June 23, sends the following from Pecos City: "To-day at 2p. m. the first rail was laid and spike driven on the Fecos River railroad. Grading and tracklaying forces are arriving and work will be pushed without delay. Eddyites will in the near future hear the sound of the locomotive whistle which will announce connection with the cutside world."

The Trade of the Pecos Valley.

The El Paso Herald says that the trade of the Pecos valley within a year will be worth more than the combined trade of the whole southern tier of New Mexico counties has been heretofore. Yet arrangements are making totake all this trade to Texas, and this part of New Mexico and the Santa Fe system are doing nothing to prevent it.-Albuquerque Democrat.

Correct you are, and when it is too late you will see your mistake. The trade of the Pecos valley is worth looking after.

Offered Land In New Mexico,

WASHINGTON, D. U. June 9, 1890. Washington, D. & June 9, 1890,
The Commissioners of the General Land Office.

Dear Sir:—By letter of December 6, 1890, you represented that on May 8, 1870, the President issued a proclamation for the offering of certain public lands in New Mexico for sale at public auction, thereupon in August following said lands were so offered, and that those of them remaining undisposed of were subsequently treated as subject to private entry under the act of April 24, 1820 (8 states, 556.) sections 2357 and 2464 ktevised Statutes, that on July 10, 1883, Commissioner Sparks directed the local officers at Las Cruces to allow no futher, cash entries "until the question of legality of the alleged public offering of lands August 19, 1870, is determined by this Department," that all proceedings with reference to such entries be suspended in your office and so continued; that you have caused an examination of the subject to be made, and have reached the conclusion that the offering so made was not authorized by law.

You state the point involved to be "whether the statutes enacted by Congress from time to time empowering the President to offer and sell public lands, or any of them, at public sale, and thereafter at private entry extended so far as to include the particular lands embraced in the offering mentioned, there being no general enactment giving such power. You futher state that congress has provided for the survey of said lands and their disposal by donation, pre-emption, homestead and in other ways, "but it has made no provision by statute for the offering of them at public sale, or their subsequent disposal at private entry, as contemplated with regard to offered lands by the act of April 24, 1820, now substantially embodied in the Revised Statutes of the United States,"

You suggest in case the Department concur in your conclusion, that Congress be called on to The Commissioners of the General Land Office.

Yet the facility with which the truth could have been originally shown by them  the changed condition of parties and property from lapse of time; the difficulty of this cause of meeting objections which might perhaps at the time been readily explained, and the acquisition of interest by third parties upon the faith of the decree, are elements which will always be considered by the court in determining whether it be equitable to grant the relief prayed. All the attendant circumstances will be weighed, that no wrong be done to the citizens, though the government be the suitor." See also the Atlantic and Pacific Railroad Co. (8 L. In the light of these authorities I conclude the question presented has became res judicate and for the purposes of this case must be accepted as finally and legally determined. This will render it necessary to further consider the recommendation of this office.

You will cause the opinion to be made known to the parties in interes by sufficint publication. The papers are herewith returned.

Very Respectfully, Secretary, G. C.

Two Hearts That Beat as One.

Last night at 8 P. M. Mr. Benj. F. Daniel and Miss Pinkey Camp were married at the residence of James A. Manning, Rev. Maul officiating. Owing to the large number of friends present the ceremony was preformed on the lawn, in front of the house, which was tastefully arranged for the occasion. Promptly at 8 o clock the bride, beautiful in white mull, and the groom in the conventional suit of black, walked slowly up to the officiating clergyman and amid perfect silence were made one, The following is a partial list of the brides presents:

The glorious Fourth has come and gone, and with it, as usual, the general amount of drink, drunkeness and disorder. Even Roswell usually so quite and orderly, was unable entirely to escape the consequences of the national holiday. Among the most prominent effects of the glorious 4th was a slight disagreement between a couple of our good citizens, in which a baseball bat seems to have played rather a prominent part. Except as a weapon in common use to reduce umpires to submission, we do not know that we have ever heard of such an article being used as a weapon either of offence or defence, but such is in this instance at least surely the case, and one of our prominent baseball players is now suffering from the effect of too much baseball bat, and strange to say the bruises are all in his back. To us it seems that any little difference in opinion should have been settled in a quiet and peaceable manner, and without the assistance of such a weapon as a stick of wood. No doubt the 4th was to blame, and all parties concerned are sorry the affair occured.

Oh No! We Did Not Bluff Them!

Late on the evening of July 3d Manager Prager, of the Roswell B. B. club, received a very polite letter from Lieut. A. W. Brewster. Manager of the Fort Stanton B. B. club, stating his regret at their inability to keep the engagement previously entered into between the two nines to play a match game of ball at Roswell on July 4, for $50 a side. Only two explanations are possible to account for this letter. Either Maj. Adams at the last moment became dictatorial and refused to let the men come, which is of course absurd on its face, or which is more probable, the boys became afraid and backed out. We are the champions and don't you forget it.

-Dr. Bearup informs us that as soon for some time, as it reverses the decis ion of the Land Office heretofore made, and declares in forcible language that the entries in question are legal and binding and that patents for the same quarters will be here. A JERSEY MOSQUITO?

Winged Monster That Two Ranchmen Killed.

A winged monster resembling nuge alligator, with an extremely elongated tail and an immense pair of wings, was found on the desert between Whetstone and Huachuca mountains by two ranchers who were returning home, says the Tombstone. (Ari.) Epitaph. The creature was evidently exhausted by a long fight, and when discovered was able to fly Sullivan class. She is called the Flerabut a short distance at a time,

After the first shock of wild amaze ment had passed, the two men who were on horseback and armed with Winchester rifles, regained courage to pursue the monster, and, after an exciting chase of several miles, succeeded in getting near enough to open fire with their rifles, wounding it. The creature then turned on the men, but owing to its exhausted condition they after a few well directed shots the shades drawn up, and placed in the window monster partly rolled over and remained motionless. The men cautiously approached, their horses snorting with terror, and found that the creatus was dead.

They then proceeded to make an examination, and found that it measured ninety-two feet in length, and the greatest diameter was about tifty inches. The monster had only two feet these being situated a short distance in front of where the wings joined to the body. The head, as near as they could judge, was about eigh. feet long; the jaws were thickly set with strong, sharp teeth. Its eyes were as large as a dinner-plate and protruded about half way from the head. They had some difficulty it. measuring the wings, as they were partly folded under the body, but finally got one straightened sufficiently to get a measurement of 78 feet, making the total length from tip to tip about 160 feet. The wings were composed of a thick and nearly transparen: membrane, and were devoid of feathers or hair. The skin of the body was comparatively smooth and easily penetrated by a bullet.

The men cut off a small portion of the tip of one wing and took it home with them. Late last night one of them arrived in this city for supplies and to make the necessary preparations to skin the creature, when the hide will be sent east for examination by the eminent scientists of the day.

Ferdinand Ward.

Of all the prisoners in Sing Sing it is probable that Ferdinand Ward feels his degradation more keenly. He is employed in a little printing office adjoining the head keeper's quarters, and has the best employment of any of the involuntary tenants of the place. His office is bright and cheerful, if any place within a prison wall can be considered cheerful, and his task is a light one. The walls of his workroom are adorned with many lithographs and opposite his "case" may be seen the photographs of a handsome woman and a pretty child, his wife's and his child's. With all his faults Ward was a devoted husband and a loving father. What memories must have rushed through his mind when he learned or that wife's death, and what thought filled his brain when he reflected tha: his acts had divorced him from her dving bed and prevented him from shedding a tear over her coffin! For him Sing Sing is no health resort, and if his mental anguish is as great as his appearance indicates he is likely to end his days within its walls.-New York World.

Which is Your Right Hand?

An anatomist told me the other day that I could not tell him which was my right hand. I immediately held out my right hand, but he objected. He said that he did not say that I could not show or extend my right hand, but that I could not tell him which was my right handthat is, I could not describe it in words so that one who had never heard the distinction we make between the right and left hands, would be able to find it. I thought that would be easy enough also until I took time to think the matter over, then I gave it up, for on the outside of the human body there is nothing to distinguish the right hand from the left. No one can describe it in words so that an ignorant person (one not knowing the distinctions we make) can find and locate it.—St. Louis Republic.

False Teeth Not a New Idea. A Roman doctor has discovered in many of the skulls in different Etruscan tombs, as well as in those deposited in the various museums, interesting specimens of ancient dentistry work and artificial teeth. The false teeth were in most cases carved from those of some large animal, and in many instances were fastened to the natural ones by gold bands. The skulis examined date as far back as six centuries before Christ, which proves that dentistry is not a modern art.

If About to Travel or Emigrate

The voyager cannot be provided with a safer remedy and protective medicine than Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. Abundant testimony exists to prove that it nullifles hurtful climatic influences and the effects of exposure, that it reconciles the stomach to unaccustomed food, and prevents injurious results from impure water. Mariners, tourists, emigrants and miners have all contributed their quota of testimony in its behalf, and its protective influence has been most effectually demonstrated in re-gions and under conditions where, if not really effective, that fact would long since have been exposed. In no class of disorders have its remedial and preventive properties been more conspicuously shows than in cases of malarial fevers, maladies for which it is the most popular specific in existence, both here and in the tropics, where its reputation is scarcely second to that which it enjoys on this continent. It is, moreover, a most agreeable appetizer and nervine.

From the car windows of the trains of the Denver and Rio Grande railroad can be seen the greatest spectacles of Nature's wonders presented by any railroad on the globe, on account of which this road has gained the much merited title of the "Scenic Line of
