TRIED TO KILL MIZNER.

A Woman Attempts to Take the Life of the Minister to Guatemala.

CITY OF GUATEMALA, Sept. 1.—A daughter of General Martin Barrundia, who was shot to death in the cabin of the Pacific mail steamer Acapulco, at San Jose de Guatemala, last week, attempted to shoot United States Minister Mizner today.

Mr. Mizner was at his desk translating the guarantee given to him by this government that Barrundia's life would be spared in case he was surrendered, when the young woman came into the office. As the minister looked up from his work she was standing within four feet of him with a revolver in her hands.

She saluted him, saying: "Are you the American minister?"

Mr. Mizner replied: "I am. Can I be of any service to you?"

With flashing eyes she accused him of having been directly the cause of her father's death, and announced that she meant to kill him. Mr. Mizner took the matter coolly and tried to reason with the girl, who was apparently almost crazed with excitement, and in the most tragic manner poured on him the bitterest invective of which the Spanish language is capable. At last she pulled the trigger of the pistol.

Mr. Mizner had taken up a heavy law book which he, with apparent carelessness held between himself and the girl, and the bullet which was meant for his heart was caught in the leaves of the book. The sound of the shot attracted attention and before a second shot could be fired assistance arrived and the pistol was taken from the young woman.

Throughout the entire exciting interview, Mr. Mizner maintained the utmost coolness, though the only thing between him and the muzzle of a pistol held in the hand of a woman who evidently intended to shoot him was a heavy law book.

His coolness unquestionably saved his life. Police men were called in and the young woman was arrested. She proved to be Christena Barrundia, daughter of the murdered general. As soon as President Barrillas heard of the occurrence he sent his respects and offered the power of his government to protect the American legation. Mr. Mizner, however, declined the offer, will not prosecute the lady, and insists that no further notice be taken of the affair. It is generally believed here that Barrundia would have been in no danger of death had he not resisted arrest.

Train Robbery in the South.

MOBILE, Ala., Sept. 2.—The Louisville & Nashville cannon ball train last night was held up at Pensacola Junction by robbers, who entered the express car and compelled the messenger to give up the contents of the safe. It is not known at this time the extent of the loss. Having secured the valuables, the robbers jumped off and took to the woods.

Engineer Bob Sizer says he was pulling out and just as his train got under way he turned around and saw the men standing near him. Before he could ask a question or look twice, two big revolvers were in his face. He was then told to run his train up to the Columbia River bridge, some miles distant, and stop on the bridge. There was nothing left for him to do but to obey, and he did so. The engineer was told to get off his engine, and then the robbers directed Sizer to go to the express car and force an entrance, the robber putting a heavy mallet in his hand. Sizer did so and burst open the car door.

The express messenger, Archie Johnson, was standing in his car with his pistol in his hand, but seeing Sizer, he lowered it. The next minute he was covered and told to lay down his gun, and he obeyed. Then the robber standing in the car door compelled the messenger to open the safe and hand him all the money.

While this operation was going on, the fellow was standing in the door coolly looking at his victim and firing first to one side of the train and then the other to overawe passengers and the train crew. When he got the money, the robber told Sizer to follow him. The man showed the way to the engine and made Sizer pull out, and with a parting shot and a wild yell dashed off in the bushes and was lost to sight. A posse has left Flomston and another has left Mobile in pursuit of the robbers.

An Insurrection of Lepers.

A local steamer returned to Honolulu from the leper settlement at Molokai on August 11, with Marshal Hopkins, who, with Superintendent Evans and twelve policemen, had been there to investigate a reported outbreak. There were twenty-nine natives concerned in the disturbance and of these, fourteen were arrested and tried on a charge of assaulting Superintendent Evans, who was badly maltreated. They were convicted and sentenced to different terms of imprisonment. The cause of the disturbance was that the parties understood that Evans intended pulling down all the houses in Kalawao because one dilapidated structure had been torn down.

King Kalakua gave a banquet at Lontani palace to Rear Admiral Brown previous to the cruiser Charleston leaving the island, which she did under stated orders. It is stated that the United States ship marine, instead of the Iroquois, will relieve the Nipsic.

KILLED IN A MINE.

Eighty Victims of Man's Injustice and Cupidity.

VIENNA, Sept. 1.—A terrible and disastrous explosion occurred at Boryslava in Galicia. The accident happened in a drift off of the shafts of one of the deep mines. The explosion was caused by fire damp, ignited from open lanterns which were furnished the miners to work with. The level was crowded with workmen, there being about 800 in it in all. A small explosion occurred at the end of the drift, followed in an instant later by another and a most terrific explosion, and the tunnel immediately commenced to cave in. Dirt and rocks were blown in all directions, and many were injured by the flying debris. A cave in occurred near the end of the drift, and eighty miners were entombed. A relief gang was immediately organized and sent down into the drift.

The eight they saw was most repulsive and sickening. Men injured and dying were to be seen on all sides, groaning in their agony, and all efforts were made to afford them immediate relief. When the work had been completed, the men commenced to work with pick and shovel to remove the debris and rescue the men who were imprisoned in the drift. That consumed an hour's time, and when the dirt was finally cleared a cloud of smoke that had been confined in the cave rolled out, and some of the workmen were compelled to drop their picks and shovels and leave the drift. The lamps were put out so intense was the smoke.

When it had finally cleared the lanterns were lighted again and a more terrible sight met their eyes. The eighty men who were entombed were all, with one exception, dead, suffocated by the smoke, and the one who yet lived only lingered an instant or so and then expired.

The dead bodies were carried out of the mine to the surface and turned over to their friends or relatives. The scene at the mouth of the mine was most heart-rending. The mines are poorly ventilated but few safety lamps are used, the corporation owning the property preferring not to go to that expense.

Investigating the Strike.

NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—The State Board of Arbitration began an investigation here to-day as to the dispute existing between the New York Central railroad and Knights of Labor.

Third Vice President Webb of the New York Central was the first witness. He said that the company had no controversy with its employes. On August 8 a large number of employes left and their places had been filled. The alleged cause was that seventy-eight men out of 20,000 had been discharged. They were discharged for good cause, but only seven of these men applied to the company for information as to why they were discharged. Subsequently a gentleman from another State called and wanted to know why the men were discharged. Witness declined to give the reasons. This gentleman was Mr. Holland.

Upon being cross-examined by General Roger Pryor, Mr. Webb said that he had discharged the men on reports from members of the secret service of the company. The charge itself was unsatisfactory service. An engineer named Lee was discharged for unsatisfactory service. Lee was very arrogant and insolent, and said he would tie up every wheel between here and Buffalo if he did not get some of the Vanderbilt money.

Continuing Mr. Webb said several of the men knew the cause for which they were discharged. Their relations with the Knights of Labor had nothing to do with their discharge. Mr. Lee's prominence in the order was no reason for his discharge. Mr. Webb was followed by members of the Knights of Labor who were discharged from the New York Central's employ. Their testimony went over the ground of the alleged cause of their dismissals and incidents connected therewith.

Telephone Insanity.

A New York journal says: Telephone insanity is gaining a firm hold among the young women who operate the machines, and unless something is done and promptly there will be a most awful time among the employes. Up to now, as far as known, there have been nine cases of telephonic insanity in New York, every one of the subjects being girls. Doctors who were seen regarding the new disease say that there was no doubt but that constant attention at a telephone would affect nervous persons injuriously. Dr. Morgan related the case of a pretty patient about nineteen years of age, who had been for two years employed in the various telephone offices in the city and July 1st she found herself shouting "Hello," and "All right," and "Busy," and such things, in elevated trains and other public places.

J. J. Hill, the Northern Railroad magnate, has given a total of half a million dollars to establish a Catholic theological seminary in St. Paul. Two hundred thousand dollars will be devoted to grounds and buildings and the remaining $300,000 will be set aside as an endowment fund. The institution is to be under the direction of Archbishop Ireland, with whom Mr. Hill will confer about the selection of trustees on his return from New York. It needed more money will be forthcoming.

A HASTY LYNCHING.

A Negro Murderer Meets Swift Retribution.

HIGGINSVILLE, Mo., Aug. 29.—A robbery and terrible butchery occurred early Thursday morning at Mayview, in Missouri, a small town about five miles west of this city.

E. F. Parker, ex-postmaster and a prominent merchant of that city, was the victim, and Will. Warder, a colored man, is supposed to be the perpetrator of the terrible deed.

Parker slept in a small room in the rear of the store. Falling to come to his breakfast, he was sent for. The door was tried and opened, and there lay Parker in a pool of blood on the floor, deep gashes in his forehead and his jugular vein cut, his face downward, his right hand grasping his throat as if attempting to stop the flow of blood.

But by whom the deed was committed remained a mystery until late this afternoon. Will Davis (colored) made the statement that he passed Parker's store about 4 o'clock this morning and that he saw right into the store at the time and saw Parker selling goods to Warder.

This gave a clue and Constable Chin immediately set out on a search for him. A mob of excited men followed the constable. A thorough search was made through all the surrounding country and early in the afternoon Warder was found by the constable working on a neighboring farm, cutting corn with a bloody knife, the very weapon he had used to kill his employer.

The news soon spread among the various parties of searchers that the murderer had been found. The mob congregated around the constable and his prisoner. The sight of the bloody weapon incensed the mob's rage, and Warder was forcibly taken from the custody of the constable. He was asked if he had anything to say. He confessed the crime, stating that he had attempted to rob the store when Mr. Parker surprised him. He had attacked Parker with the corn knife and killed him.

A rope having been procured, the murderer was led to the nearest tree and the noose slipped over his head. Willing hands grasped the other end of the rope, and the murderer was swung into the air, where he straggled to death in terrible agony.

The body was left swinging to the tree to await the arrival of the coroner.

The Death Dealing Cable.

A life was lost in a cable-car accident in the Washington street tunnel, Chicago, last Friday. Many people had narrow escapes from instant death and had it not been for the heroism of several male passengers, three or four women would have been killed or mangled against the sides of the tunnel. The accident was caused by the gripman plunging his train heading into a runaway train that was coming at full speed down the opposite incline.

Frank Metzger, an express agent of St. Paul, was with his wife on the grip, and as everybody who could, jumped to escape the pending danger. Metzger was thrown under the wheels of the train and mangled to death. Other persons were more or less hurt and shaken up, and half a dozen women fainted. This was the last of four accidents that occurred on the Yerkes system during the day, and the council is appealed to pass such restrictions as will insure safety on the line or tie up the system until its running arrangements are perfected.

Cruel Treatment of a Lunatic.

Dr. Henry M. Wetherell, secretary of the Pennsylvania state committee on lunacy, of the board of public charities, returning from a visit to the western part of that State, reports that near Franklin, Venango County, he discovered a revolting case of cruel treatment by a father of his crazy son. He found a haggard, emaciated, pale-faced man, with thin beard, and long, unkempt hair, covered by a grimy remnant of a woman's calico skirt, in the house of a farmer named Young. Fastened about his waist, next to the skin, was a thick leather belt, to which was attached a strong iron chain about eight feet long, held by a staple driven in the window casing. The unfortunate was George Young, 28 years old. Beneath the window was a hard wooden settee, his only bed. The floor was worn in a circular groove, about which the poor fellow daily walked his weary way. Since his twelfth year he has been so confined. When two years old he was seized with acute pneumonia, and his mind became hopelessly shattered. The unfortunate man was taken in charge by the authorities.

Leopold Forgives Everyone.

King Leopold II, on the sixtieth anniversary of the independence of Belgium, which was coincident with the twenty-fifth anniversary of his reign, and which occurred on July 21st last, granted amnesty to all military deserters. This includes all those who deserted while performing their compulsory military duties, and those who left the country without having served any of the stipulated time in the service. In order to obtain the benefit of the amnesty, all Belgian subjects affected thereby must present themselves to the Belgian consul in the district in which they are located as soon as possible and receive from him credentials which will allow them to return to their native land without fear of arrest on the charge of either evasion or desertion of their military duties.

In the Grip of a Bear.

A dispatch to the Denver Republican.

Mr. Best of that place with a big silver tip bear, last week. While out in the brush hunting for horses he was suddenly met by the bear, which rose on her hind feet and made for him. He managed to catch her by the feet and, being possessed on ordinary occasions of enormous strength, which now in this excitement became superhuman, he held her feet in such a manner that she was unable, although trying her best, to strike or tear him with her claws.

She proceeded, however, to chew his head and was doing terrible work when fortunately she was called away by the growls of her cubs which were near by.

Mr. Best, half unconscious, and blinded by the blood that was flowing from the many wounds that had been inflicted on his face and head, was unable to rise, but turned over on his face and tried to think what to do. When the old bear returned, as she did in a few minutes, Mr. Best feigned death and lay perfectly still. Bruin came up and waited for him to jump or move, and seeing that he did not she bit him on the arm, and then finding he did not move she nosed him a little, and after a few farewell bites granted to her cubs and plunged into the brush.

Mr. Best succeeded in dragging himself to a tie ranch five miles distant, and medical assistance was summoned. The physician found the man in a critical condition and his recovery is still uncertain.

British Capital in West Virginia.

The Scotch Coal, Iron and Railroad Company, backed by ample British capital, has purchased, for immediate development, over a quarter of a million acres of the finest timber and mineral land in West Virginia, lying in Wyoming and McDowell counties, and will proceed at once to develop it. This company has already been incorporated under the laws of West Virginia to construct a railroad from Charleston, a point in the Clinch valley, to connect with the Norfolk & Western railroad, and construct railroads which will penetrate the lands of this company. This will open up a large area of undeveloped land in this State and bring to market some of its finest coal and timber.

Fell From a Balloon.

WOODFIELD, O., Aug. 30.—Yesterday was the last day of the fair here and more than 10,000 people assembled to see the final races and balloon ascension by Professor Carter, the well-known aeronaut. The balloon was a simple, hot-air affair, and was kept in its position over the furnace by ropes held by the bystanders. When it had been inflated and all was ready Carter gave the word to let go.

The balloon shot upward and the thousands of spectators were horrified to see dangling at the end of a small line, Milton Rodin, one of the most prominent young men of the county, and an officer of the fair association. Hundreds of persons shouted to him to drop, but Rodin was either entangled or had lost his head, and he clutched frantically at the rope, attempting to climb up the slender line into the basket.

A number of women in the dense crowd fainted, and all the spectators grew sick with horror as the balloon sailed upward and began moving southward. Carter could be seen making desperate efforts to draw Rodin up the rope on which he swung to and fro. For fully ten minutes their efforts continued and then, at a height of over 1,000 feet, the balloon took a sudden lurch, Rodin's hold was loosened and his body shot downward.

It was found half a mile away. The clothing was torn off, all his bones broken and the body crushed out of all human semblance.

Rodin's brothers and sisters were in the crowd and saw his terrible fall.

Clam Got the Widow.

Lewis Clam lives in Burnside township, La Peer county, Mich. So does Albert Butler. Likewise a pretty young widow. Both Butler and Clam fell in love with the widow and she kept them both on the string.

Clam called on her Tuesday night and told her he loved her and wanted her to change her name. She consented and the day was named.

Clam had no sooner left the house than Butler, who had been waiting outside, called and earnestly advised her not to be a Clam. She said she would not if he would make haste and get a marriage license. Butler promised to use all haste, but Clam found out Butler's intention, and as soon as the county clerk's office was opened Wednesday morning he got a license. Less than an hour afterward Butler got his license and Clam heard of it.

Each knew the other's intention and each hired a horse to beat the other to the widow's house. Butler played in hard luck, as he got a horse that had the heaves, and while his horse was standing still in the road and coughing as if his ears would drop off Clam dashed by and arrived at the house ten minutes ahead of Butler, and by the time the tardy young man arrived at the justice's house to argue his case the widow had become Mrs. Clam.

The emigration of the Jews from Russia has now been placed upon a systematic basis, and they are leaving in great numbers. During the last few weeks thousands of families have left Russia, Poland, Lithuania and Volhynia for Brazil.

HOUSE.—The House finally sustained Speaker Reed's decision that the lard bill was unfinished business, and it was passed by a vote of 126 to 21.

The House then, under the special order, proceeded to the consideration of the bill called up under the special order by Mr. Connell, of Nebraska, constituting eight hours a day's work for all laborers, workmen and mechanics employed by or on behalf of the government, or by contractors doing work or furnishing material for the government, and providing penalties for violations of its provisions. Mr. McCutcheon, of Michigan, moved to strike out the clause which provided that no contractor shall permit any laborer to work more than eight hours. Agreed to—87 to 52.

On motion of Mr. McComas, an amendment was made striking out the clause requiring contracts for furnishing material to the government to be on the basis of the eight-hour law. The law was then passed.

The conference report on the joint resolution for the relief of funding in Oklahoma was presented and agreed to.

The tariff bill was again taken up and on motion of Mr. Plumb the duty on brandy was increased from $2 to $3 a gallon; on champagne and other sparkling wines, so as to make the rates on bottles not more than a quart, and more than a pint $10 a dozen instead of $7; and on ale, porter and beer in bottles or jugs, 60 cents per gallon instead of 35 cents, and on bottles or jugs 25 cents per gallon instead of 20 cents.

SATURDAY, AUG. 30.

SENATE.—Mr. Morgan presented resolutions of a colored men's mass meeting in Birmingham, Alabama, against the passage of the federal election bill. Several important bills of a local character were passed, and the tariff bill was taken up, the pending question being on Carlisle's motion to strike out the wool paragraph so as to place wool on the free list. After considerable debate a vote was taken and Carlisle's motion to strike out the wool paragraph was rejected—ayes 17, nays 27.

Discussion of the wool tariff continued until the close of the session. Mr. Plumb attacked Mr. Allison for his refusal to allow the bill to be amended, so as to reduce the duty on some articles.

HOUSE.—The House this morning took up the bill for the adjustment of accounts of laborers, workmen and mechanics arising under the eight-hour law.

Mr. Brewer offered an amendment, providing that the act shall not be operative whenever the Court of Claims shall find that the claimant performed the service under any contract, express or implied, and has been paid the amount agreed upon. The amendment was adopted, and the bill was then passed.

The House then proceeded to the consideration of the bill amending the contract act. Passed.

Messrs. Blair and Hoar wanted to let the tariff bill go over, and as it was Labor Day, "do something for labor," by considering labor bills.

Mr. Aldrich thought Messrs. Blair and Hoar were inclined to be unbecomely, whereupon Mr. Blair characterized Mr. Aldrich as a "representative of the monkey." The presiding officer called Mr. Blair to order for unparliamentary language, and the tariff bill was taken up.

The conference report on the bill in relation to collisions at sea was presented and agreed to.

The "sign of the times" are very encouraging for the success of the Democratic ticket this election—Territorial, District and County.

The act of Oct. 2d, 1888, has been repealed by Congress, but until the red tape gets strung out from the general land office to the local land offices, no more filings will be allowed.

THE ALLIANCE BARBEQUE

Lang to be remembered as one of the most Pleasant Events in the History of the Pecos Valley.

The barbecue held last Saturday under the auspices of the Farmers' Alliance was a success in all respects.

The wagons carrying the little folks and the banner of the order from Roswell to the beautiful grounds at the Chisum ranch were tastefully decorated with the emblem of loyalty.

Shortly after our arrival at the grounds the members of the order formed in procession and marched in double file onto the platform in front of the speakers' stand.

After the song Lucius Dills took the stand and addressed the audience. Mr. D. succinctly set forth the principal causes which have brought about the various labor organizations in the United States.

Wm. Fountain, in the absence and on behalf of his brother, C. C. Fountain, the Democratic candidate for sheriff, replied to Mr. Garrett and made the humorous speech of the day.

F. Williams, the Democratic candidate for probate judge, placed himself square on the party platform "so long as there was a plank remaining."

After the speaking the dancing began and continued until the rain and darkness interfered, and the festivities closed.

The Tin Infant.

It is proposed by the Republicans in Congress to more than double the duty on tin-plate, for the protection of an infant industry which is not yet born.

The duties paid on tin-plate last year amounted to $754,000. Under the proposed duty the consumer of this article of universal use would be compelled to pay at least $10,000,000 additional for a period of five years.

Mr. Moody, one of the new Senators from South Dakota, said in debate that his State "contained the most extensive and probably the richest tin mines in the world."

And yet with all this natural wealth waiting to be developed, under conditions, if truly stated, which no other country can rival, Senator Moody asks, and his party associates propose to vote, a duty of 4 cents a pound on metallic tin and a duty of 22 cents per pound on tin-plate.

For better and cheaper would it be to pay the proposed duty as a bounty to the tin syndicate.

The census man who was assigned the enumeration of the Sea Island coast of South Carolina made a remarkable discovery. Kiawah Island, some miles down the coast, is owned by two of the families of anti-bellum Sea Island barons.

"I know personally scores of farmers who have always voted the Republican ticket," said Mr. Martin P. Schafer, a talented young lawyer of Belleville, Ill., to a Washington Post reporter.

Joe Whiteman left Wednesday for White Oaks with a feeble look of determination on his face. Joe doesn't seem to be at all prepossessed with Roswell nowadays, and we sincerely hope he will not return until he has rectified matters and can greet us with a pleasant smile as of old.

At the New Mexico Southern Methodist Conference recently held in El Paso, a man named C. W. Snow was selected to occupy the pulpit at Roswell for the next year and will be here soon. It is to be hoped he will be acceptable to the majority of our people as no other man they have ever sent here has to our knowledge.

At the close of services of the Pecos Valley Sunday School last Sunday the following officers were elected for the ensuing quarter: Rev. Caleb Maule, superintendent; L. G. Green, Asst. superintendent; Miss Dora Reynolds, secretary and treasurer; Charley Poe and Robt. Cunningham, janitors.

Owners of hogs around town should be very careful in the future to see that they don't get away, for hereafter they will be impounded by the officers and held for costs. It's needless to say that a hog is a nuisance around town—everybody knows that to be a fact—a nuisance of the very worst type and we reiterate the voice of the people when we say that such a state of affairs will never be tolerated again in Roswell.

People from all parts of the county were at the barbecue and expressed themselves in the most favorable terms about Roswell. Everything exceeded their most sanguine expectations.

LOST—By Geo. T. Ovard at the Barbecue, on Sept. 6, one Black Cashmere Shawl. Finder will be liberally rewarded by leaving same at this office.

BARBECUE NOTES.

Lou Pullen said that the next time he went to a picnic he was going to consult the clerk of the weather or come home before dark.

Dick Barnett: "I didn't have any girl myself as my teams were all out, so I got a lantern and went out to pilot them in. I run into the wire fence and tore my pants, but I got the ladies in all safe and that was glory enough for me."

Joe Lea says that he was not lost—the road was lost—but he was so happy with himself and his surroundings that he even felt sorry for the road.

J. B. Trotter: "I have no desire to discuss that picnic."

Sam Joynes: "I'll bet a snake couldn't follow the track I made out there on the prairie hunting for that road. I thought I saw a buggy on ahead of me and chased it around for about half an hour, and when I found that it was a cow I had been following I wasn't what you would call happy."

John Pollock: "Say, mister, if you are writing for that paper just let me down light please."

The young ladies: "It was so good of Mr. Barnett to come with that lantern and bring us all home, or else we would have had to stay out there all night. Oh! oh! oh!"

A New Era of Prosperity.

Our people are enthusiastic over the condition of our country. A. H. Whetstone, who has been all over the county of late, says: "I am happy to see the range in such fine condition. During my eleven years residence in Roswell, I have never seen better grass, nor fatter stock. This state of things is peculiarly gratifying in view of short grass and heavy loss of cattle during the past spring. Cattlemen have made large sales at good figures, and the cattle business is somewhat like it used to be. Crops are good everywhere. The experience of the present year shows that farming in Chaves county pays. Many new buildings are going up in Roswell. We will surely have the Pecos Valley railroad next spring which will open for us an era of prosperity of which our people little dream. I believe the verdict of all people coming to Roswell will soon be verified. It is this: 'You have the best portion of New Mexico we have ever seen.'"

DIED.

On Wednesday, the 10th inst., little Minnie, infant daughter of Ezra W. McGallum, aged two months and eight days. Buried at South Park Cemetery at 3 o'clock Thursday evening. Funeral services held by Rev. Caleb Maule. Many sympathizing friends followed the little one to her last resting place. The bereaved parents and hope that they can feel that their loss is her eternal gain.

"Suffer little children to come unto me and forbid them not, for of such is the kingdom of Heaven."

Our good and pious late pastor of the M. E. church, Rev. Robt. N. Francis, left this week with the Lea and Block trail herd for Kansas, a school. Poor man, he sought bad company for his journey, and we feel sorry for him. Maybe he thinks he can, and will try to bring about a reformation among those cow-boys, but he don't know them like we do. They will most assuredly turn the tables on him and he will fall a victim to their practical jokes more times than one on the trip, and we will wager any amount that if those boys don't make a sinner out of him on the way he will never take another trip with such a crowd. They say they are regular to have preaching twice a week, regular.

R. W. Cloud came down from the Captain mountains last Sunday and found a telegram awaiting him from his brother telling him to come at once to the Rio Grande to begin surveying the much talked of Jornada canal. This looks as though they were going to make a success of the canal. We understand that men of nerve and money have taken the matter in charge. They could not have secured two more competent engineers than the Cloud brothers.

Complaints are numerous of a wholesale slaughtering of cattle near Fort Stanton thought to have been carried on for some time by soldiers and other people. We understand there are evidences of at least one hundred having been killed recently. These are certainly very grave offenses, and time nor money should be spared in catching the villains and seeing that justice is meted out to them.

G. W. Hall, an artisan well man from Wichita county, Kansas, and who has an auger at Pecos City, Texas, was prospecting in Roswell this week, and says he will bring his machine here if the proper inducements are offered. Do not be timid Mr. Hall, but step right in and put down a well and show the people what you can do and there will be no trouble about inducements.

Work is being rapidly pushed on the dam and head-gate of the P. I. & I. Co's Northern canal. We are glad to see this canal nearing completion as it is destined to be one of the greatest factors in the development of Chaves county.

Some miscreant, without the fear of the law before his eyes, and being moved and instigated by the devil, surreptitiously percolated the entire legal library of the peace out of F. Williams' office. The J. P. threatened the entire town with the majesty of the law if that library was not forth coming, still the library came not forth until last Sunday when Fred Hodesell happened to spy it peacefully reposing on the ground underneath Williams' office. Some one thought it was a good joke no doubt, but if the court and bar can find him out it will be a grim reality.

I have for sale at my farm 3 and 1/2 miles southeast of Roswell, from thirty to fifty bull calves, ready for service spring 91. These are from Shorthorn cows by Pedigreed Herford bulls.
