As I See It

By LLOYD P. BLOODWORTH

As the parade swung down the winding street I stood on the sidewalk. Cowboys—cowgirls—youngsters in colorful shirts and shiny boots. To many, these scenes simply meant that another rodeo was in progress. To others, it swung back the curtain of time and they lived again in those wonderful frontier days. Back in those days when men had time to do things. They were citizens of the great open spaces. They were not hemmed in by paved streets and big buildings. Where steel rails now glint down the pass, then there was only a cow trail.

I shall ever be thankful that I was born early enough to know something of the frontier country before it passed away. One of the earliest remembrances that I have was of the Goodnight Buffalo ranch in Northwest Texas. Col. Goodnight and his wife, Mary, were noble souls who knew how to dish out hospitality in large doses. My father was the circuit rider in those parts, and while the colonel was not very religious his wife was the main support of the church. In fact, I think that she came nearer to running the ranch as I now remember it. There were many other large ranches in that section. There was the Yellow House ranch, the old XIT and others that I have forgotten across the busy years. But anyway, those old cattle men were the finest I have ever known. Among other things they would not in any way tolerate dishonesty. A man's word had to be as good as his bond. Of course, a stray would come into the community occasionally but he would reform or leave the country.

The most important event of the year was the annual roundup. Boys simply lived to be old enough to make the ride with their fathers or older brothers. I can shut my eyes now and see the great banks of dust in the distance as the boys were driving the cattle. Burning campfires—yelling calves—the smell of barbecue coming from the pit that was twenty or thirty feet long. Tired men sitting around the camp fires in the evening telling stories and singing songs. I would give a hundred dollars to live again in those other years for a short while.

I saw an old man watching the parade. A tear trickled down his face, because he too, was living in his yesterdays. I wanted to talk to him but the parade was soon over and he was lost in the crowd. We of today have become soft and flabby, but no so with the men who pioneered the West. They were brave men who wrought well to build a fine civilization. Their tribe is passing and in few years they will be gone altogether.

Presbyterians To Organize

This past week in Ruidoso Dr. C. D. Peake called a meeting of those people who belong to a Presbyterian Church in this immediate area for the purpose of discussing organization of a church body here.

It was the unanimous opinion of those present that a Presbyterian Church is needed in Ruidoso and can be accomplished in the near future.

Dr. Peake, a Presbyterian minister who moved to Ruidoso to make his home last year, has announced services will be held at the Grade School gymnasium August 29th, with Rev. W. H. Taylor of Lubbock, Texas, in charge of services.

P. T. A. Dance Postponed

Announcement was made this week by the Ruidoso High School Parent Teachers Association that the dance scheduled for Friday night, August 20th has been postponed until September 2nd.

The reason for this is the St. Eleanor Fiesta which is being held Thursday night, and is a benefit for the Catholic Church. The P. T. A. feels that it is best not to divert attendance to two benefit dances in two succeeding nights.

The dance September 2nd will have as the feature of the evening an "Old Fiddlers Contest" with everyone who wants to compete invited to enter. Further details will be published from week to week.

Dick Martin, Red Covington Win Out Over 110 Golfers With 147 In Tournament

One hundred and ten golfers coming from as far away as Shreveport, La., registered to play in the first open tournament held at the Cree Meadows Country Club Course Friday, Saturday and Sunday, August 6-7-8.

Some of the golfers had played the course before, but the majority came on the recommendation of pros and friends in the golfing-world and none were disappointed in the results.

Golfers started registering in Thursday and were ready to play 18 holes, a qualifying round, Friday. The 54 hole Medal play included this first 18 holes, 18 holes Saturday and Sunday.

This tournament, unique in as much as pros and amateurs played together in all flights, sent approximately 40 men home with trophies and prizes given by business firms and individuals of Ruidoso and the surrounding area for the tournament.

Friday night most of the golfers and their wives, many visitors and Ruidoso residents were present for the Calcutta pool and the cocktail party honoring the winners. Mr. and Mrs. Joe C. Palmer were hosts, assisted by Mr. Oscar Samuelson.

Sunday afternoon a crowd of five hundred was on hand for the barbecue given for the guests. The Championship flight of the tournament brought both pros and amateurs to the fore with Charles Klein of Amarillo, Texas, pro, winning top honors with a low score of 144. The rest of the Championship flight follows:

There were winners in 1st, 2nd, 3rd, 4th and 5th flights, both amateurs and pros.

Mr. Joe Palmer, more than pleased with the results of his first tournament, is already making plans for bigger and better ones in the coming year.

Tickets To Home Games On Sale

Season tickets for the home games of the Ruidoso High School Warriors are now on sale at the school building and at a number of business establishments in Ruidoso and Green Tree. The Warriors will play five games here and five away from home this season. The home games open with Jal on Sept. 10. Other visiting teams will be New Mexico Military Institute, Carrizozo, Roswell "B" and Hatch. Out-of-town contests are scheduled with Eunice, Socorro, Fabens, Tex., Capitan, and Tularosa.

The price of the season tickets is $3.00, including tax, which gives the purchaser five games for the price of four.

Superintendent Thomas Crume of the Ruidoso-Stetson District pointed out that the Ruidoso Lions Club and Ruidoso business concerns and citizens made it possible last year for the Warrior team to have much equipment which was not otherwise available during the first year of the high school. The Hollywood Racing Association also donated the use of their facilities for the games. This season there will be a larger squad and an effort is being made to provide suits for every boy, including eighth graders who want to come out for the team. Several interested individuals have indicated a desire to outfit one player completely. This costs approximately $85.

Essence of Heaven

The essence of the prairie is in one's heart bloom, The essence of the garden, In drop of rare perfume. A raindrop is the river's With ocean as its goal. The essence of all Heaven, Is a pure, radiant soul.

By Grace Marie Scott.

(To write of a gallant spirit and a beautiful soul should only be attempted by masters of words who have known and through knowing possess both. I am still searching for both. The spirit of desire to write this story I do have.

By MARY NELL TAEGER

Grace Marie Scott, twenty-seven years old, lives up to her name in every way. A sunny disposition, a beautiful sense of humor, love of nature, an innate faith and acceptance of a life beyond the earth are all hers. These things have made it possible for her to turn a physical condition with which she came into this world, and which has kept her confined first to a bed and then a wheelchair for twenty-seven years, into living proof of God in His Divine Wisdom knowing the reason for all things.

When Grace Marie was quite young she became interested in poetry. Through poetry certain senses could be developed forbidden to her physically feeble because of her condition. She could listen and in her mind and heart learn of so many things in the world and those who inhabit it. At that time she particularly loved the verse of Robert Louis Stevenson and Grace Noll Crowell and still admires their works.

Poetry was the stepping stone; the beginning of her self-education. Reading, reading, reading, she grasped for herself a literary background on all subjects the majority of people never have. From reading she advanced to writing . . . and she chose the beautiful medium of poetry, through which she had gained her own personal world.

Firemen's Dance Big Success

The Ruidoso Volunteer Fire Department announced they sold over 600 tickets to their dance given at the Ruidoso gym last Saturday night, and as many of those 600 as could dance were on hand.

The crowd of residents and visitors enjoyed the music of an all string band from Alamogordo who played for the dancing.

The fire department cleared approximately $560.00 after all expenses were paid. During the evening prizes were awarded as follows:

To end the "Grow a Beard or Pay a Fine Contest": 1st prize for best beard inside fire dept., Mannie Bedilla; 1st prize for best beard outside fire dept., Colby Delaney; Booby prize for least beard with most effort inside dept., J. W. Peterson; Booby prize for least beard with most effort outside dept., Hal Brasel; prize for best dressed Western girl, Colleen Dakan, a buckskin bag; second prize for lady, Mrs. John Philpot, Ladies' belt.

The following statement of thanks comes from the firemen: "We want to take this opportunity to thank all who helped the department in their efforts in getting the dance over in such a big way. We wish particularly to thank Ted Johnson and Tommy Hicks for their help as well as Heavy Drake and all others.

Such spirit of help and backing made all the boys feel great and we want the citizens to know that we are on the job at all times and ready for call.

Ruidoso-Carrizozo Hospital Trustees Named In Meet

Realization of Ruidoso's long-awaited hospital now depends only upon the raising of $15,000 through public support.

This development in Ruidoso's campaign for the institution resulted from a meeting in Carrizozo August 5 of Lincoln County Commissioners and hospital committees representing Ruidoso and Carrizozo.

The $15,000 necessary to complete the project must be obtained through public subscription, donations or proceeds from organized benefits before November 1, 1948, if this hospital is to become an actuality. This $15,000 will be added to further Federal Aid amounting to approximately $28,000, plus the amount already set aside and earmarked "Ruidoso Hospital", and the money subscribed through bonds already voted. The total amount involved in the project will be somewhere near $140,000.

In the Carrizozo meeting Leo P. Swartz, representing the Hospital Survey and Construction Division of the Public Health Service was present to explain in detail the further requirements to make plans complete. He discussed the fact that it is absolutely necessary to have every detail worked out and all papers and financial statements ready by December 1st, 1948, to meet Federal Authority requirements. December 1st, 1948 is the deadline for Ruidoso and Carrizozo to meet requirements to obtain Federal Funds as this money being granted has been held a year longer than is customary. It was impossible to get the bond issue voted in time to qualify the first year. Need of these hospitals has held the funds.

Next week one person, to be chosen by the city council and approved by Dr. Sutton, who will act as chairman of the concentrated financial drive in Ruidoso, Ruidoso Valley and Hondo Valley and from Hondo to Capitan, will be announced. At this time committees throughout the area will also be appointed and names will be published.

What Have You Given For Lunch Room?

Plans are going forward for the high school lunch room to be constructed on the grounds, work starting this week.

Some donations of materials and labor have already been made, but more materials are still needed, and no matter how small your gift might seem to you . . . IT CAN BE USED! Still needed are roofing, plumbing pipes, nails, stucco wire, and LA-BOR. There is enough strap lumber on the grounds to complete the building but these other things are essential.

The Parent Teachers Association of the Ruidoso High School has taken on the full responsibility of this project and although response has been good, more cooperation is needed.

Movie Pictures Thrilling African Adventure for Benefit

Everyone in this area will want to see the films of an "African Adventure," an action packed film of "big game" hunting in the heart of dark Africa opening at the Apache Theatre in Ruidoso, August 14, 15, 16 with a special matinee on Sunday afternoon, 2 p. m., and all other shows at 8 p. m.

Admission is $1.50 for adults and 60c for children. Proceeds will be divided between the Ruidoso Lions Club and the Boy Scouts of Ruidoso.

William G. McMillan, the "Frank Buck" of Texas, a Lubbock sportsman and businessman, who filmed the phenomenal picture, says his hunting expedition into Africa was the culmination of years of dreaming and planning. The movie is a true life representation of nature in the untamed jungle and veldt country of Kenya Colony. It is the edited-for-action portion of 30,000 feet of film taken by McMillan and his son during a four-month safari into the world's last remaining wild animal belt.

Everyone who has seen this show in Texas has proclaimed the real picture more exciting than any similar show filmed by Hollywood. Teachers who have seen the movie declare it worth more than an entire semester of geography to any child who sees it.

Editorial

The recent political scandal in Bernalillo county is a disgrace not only to that county but to the entire State of New Mexico. When any political machine becomes so deeply entrenched that it can intimidate voters and when a grand jury states, "We are confronted with the spectacle of an election which does not express the will of the people," it is time for the decent citizens of that county to rise up and destroy that machine.

All too long has a certain element sought to control the political machinery of this State through fraud. When such is the case the state government ceases to be in control of the people. Anyone who steals votes in an election is a thief and should be so regarded by all the citizens of the community or state.

If politics is rotten and corrupt it is because the decent people allow it to be so. When the time comes in New Mexico when the right thinking people become so indignant that they rise up and vote for honest men and women for office, regardless of party, a new day will dawn. The grand jury in Bernalillo county further said: "We recommend that the county chairmen and county committees of both parties 'clean house' and in the future submit in their list of officials which they present to the county commissioners only such individuals who can be depended upon to conduct an election efficiently and honestly."

In a Democracy the man who gets the most votes is supposed to win and not the one who can steal the most by getting his henchmen to miscount or miscount the ballots. Decent people are fed up with such stuff.

Hobbs Rodeo Aug. 21-22

Hobbs, N. M. — The Hobbs Lions Club and Hobbs Rodeo Association are busy completing plans for the 1948 Rodeo to be held August 20-22. Committees have been named to handle advertising and publicity, ticket sales, parade, finance, decorations, concession and other activities.

In addition to the regular entrance fee prizes, $3,100 purse has been added by the Rodeo Committee and a saddle will be given to the best all around cowboy.

As an added attraction this year, the rodeo will sponsor jerk down steer roping (rope, trip and tie) with an added $500.00 purse plus entrance fees.

Five performances will be presented beginning Friday night at 7:30 p. m. and continuing at 2:00 p. m., 7:30 p. m. Saturday, 2:00 p. m. and 7:30 p. m. Sunday.

Stock for the rodeo, which is approved by the Rodeo Corporation of America, will be furnished by Raymond Quigg and Bill Yale, Marathon, Texas, who have produced some of the southwest leading rodeos.

Special performers will be Jack Andrews, whip specialist and his trained Brahma bull, Carl Sattafield from Cheyenne, Wyoming, one of America's foremost clowns, has been booked.

Starting on Monday, August 9th, Hobbs will be decorated and businessmen and employees will be decked out in western clothes. A big rodeo parade will be held Friday afternoon, Aug. 20 and Saturday night, Aug. 21, the rodeo dance will be held at the American Legion.

According to the Rodeo committee, many of the country's outstanding rodeo performers will be present competing for the entrance fees and the $3,100 added purse.

SAN PATRICIO SENTINEL

Billy Babers is home from Camp Hood, Texas, where he was taking R.O.T.C. training.

Willy McNation was a business visitor in San Patricio Thursday. Mr. and Mrs. Tom Babers and Billy, Mrs. Frank Coe, Mrs. Helena C. Lucas and Nellie Ruth, Bette McCrary, Ronald and Fred, da Smith, Mary Stewart, Henry and Bill Latham, Junior Perry, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Hurd and Michael and Ann Carol, and Johnny Thomas and children attended the Old Timers' Day in Lincoln Sunday.

Ben Sanchez was a business visitor in Ruidoso Friday.

Tom Babers and Leroy McKnight were business visitors in Roswell Friday.

Mrs. Ben Sanchez and children Ben Herrera, and Jose Herrera and children also attended the Old Timers' Day in Lincoln.

Mr. J. W. Geezle has returned from Roswell where he purchased spray equipment to combat the red spider and the brown mite.

Louise Sellman, Nellie Ruth Lucas, Ronald Smith, Billy Babers, and Johnny and Jack Thomas attended the Ruidoso Ranchhands' Rodeo Friday.

Junior Perry and Mr. and Mrs. Tom Rigby were visitors in the home of Mrs. Frank Coe and Mrs. Helena C. Lucas.

Mary Stewart and Bette McCrary were week-end guests in the home of Mrs. Frank Coe.

Corporal Jake Chavez, Jr., is home on furlough from Japan where he has been stationed the past year.

The San Patricio Snake-killers had a practice game on the El Sentinel polo field Friday afternoon.

CORONA ROUNDUP

By MRS. A. E. MULKEY

An unusually heavy rain and hail storm on the east side of the Gallina mountains last week caused flood waters to sweep down the canyon leading from Red Cloud Camping grounds and doing considerable damage to several farms this side of the mountains. The flood was said to be caused by the recent forest fire which burned off about seven sections of forest land. One forest ranger said that it would probably be fifteen years before growth of timber would check floods in this area.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Klely from Japan and Korea were visiting friends in Corona this week. Mrs. Klely is the former Miss Dorothy Mosely, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Mosely of Cedarvale, Dorothy graduated from Corona High School a few years ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Archie Perkins and children made a business trip to Albuquerque the latter part of last week.

The Boy Scouts and their leader Mr. Walter Pfeiffer, are camping this week at the Scout Cabins in the Gallinas.

Mrs. Edna Lynch is the first of the teachers to arrive in Corona. She came in last week from Oklahoma. Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Knight and Mr. James Rizenhoover will arrive this week from Greeley, Colorado.

An afternoon of stunts, races, and contests were enjoyed by a large group of children at the Baptist Church last Saturday afternoon. A revival at the Baptist Church has been going on with good attendance all last week. Rev. Thurston Rock of Gallup was doing the preaching. Rev. R. M. Miller, the regular pastor, will preach next Sunday morning on "Heaven" and in the evening on "Jonah and the Whale".

The Intermediate and Senior Girl Scouts of Corona spent last week camping at the Scout Cabin in Red Cloud Canyon in the Gallina mountains. Thursday night was "Stunt Night" and the girls put on an outstanding program with excellent performance. Twenty-five guests were present for this last night in camp. Following the program everyone was served delicious popcorn and snow-on-the-mountain while songs were sung around the campfire.

GLENCOE GLANCES

By SYDNEY BONNELL

Mr. and Mrs. Buck Nosker have returned from their trip to California and Oregon and report they had a wonderful time.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bonnell and Johnnie from Phoenix have been visiting Frank's mother, Mrs. Bert Bonnell and the rest of the family at Bonnell Ranch.

Louise Sellman is returning to her home in Watrous, N. M. this week after a nice visit at Bonnell Ranch. Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Bonnell will take her home and after a visit at the Sellman Ranch will have a short fishing trip at Chama.

Mr. and Mrs. Reynolds Jones, of Ruidoso, Mr. and Mrs. Jones and Robert Gassaway of Chicago, Ill., visited at the Bonnell Ranch Friday.

Many friends and relatives enjoyed a party at the Wilbur Coe home Friday evening.

On July 29th, Mr. and Mrs. Elzy Perry were given a surprise party, wedding anniversary, by their children and near relatives. A young couple rushed into the house with an irate Father following with a shot gun, to start the merriment.

Mrs. Randolph Caldwell and sons, Joe and David from Dallas, visited at the Wilbur Coe home and Bonnell Ranch on their way to Ruidoso, where they plan to stay for a month or more.

Mrs. B. J. Bonnell and Mrs. Helena Lucas and daughters attended the dance at Navajo Club, Wednesday night.

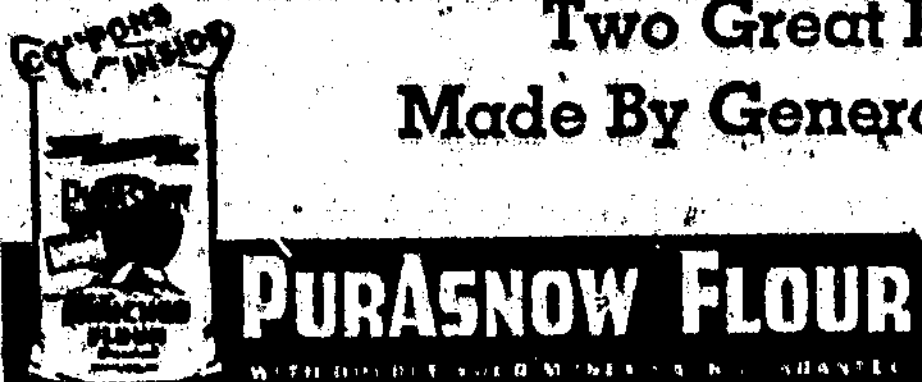

Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Griffith, Dan and Sue, have returned from a trip to New York and Boston, where they visited relatives and friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Bonnell and Mrs. B. J. Bonnell attended the "corn" roast and chicken fry at the Brenton Ranch near Noga, Saturday night. Very pleasant evening.

Most every one in Glencoe enjoyed the "Old Day in Lincoln". The Committee putting it on deserve great credit for such a fine program, also the ones that performed the Lincoln people were royal hosts.

Scouts express their appreciation to all those who co-operated to make their summer camping a success. Never before have we had so many visitors and so much friendly interest. We thank you. (Girl Scouts and their leaders).

One way to make Extra money

Ben Ryder, who owns a farm just out of town, figured a way to make extra money from that unused pasture on the highway. He opened up a trailer camp, and now has eighteen tenants on his land.

At first, Ben thought it was just a matter of putting up a sign. Then he learned he had to get a license making him responsible for sanitation, adequate plumbing facilities, clean water, wiring and anything else affecting the welfare of his tenants.

Like places selling beer, for instance. Their license commits them to definite responsibilities and subjects them to continual inspection. And the brewers themselves, under their program of Self Regulation, see that all taverns toe the line.

From where I sit, Self Regulation—whether applied to trailer camps or taverns—is not only a blessing to the public, it's good business practice, too!

dancing. A 6 tube R.C.A. Radio will be door prize for the evening.

The proceeds of the Fiesta will go toward completing the parish rectory of St. Eleanor's Church.

The history of St. Eleanor is an interesting story. It was the plous boast of the City of Colchester, England for many ages that St. Eleanor or St. Helena, as she is more commonly called, was born within its walls, and though this honor has been disputed, it is certain that she was a British princess.

She embraced Christianity late in life; but her incomparable faith and piety greatly influenced her son Constantine, the first Christian emperor, and served to kindle a holy zeal in the hearts of her Roman people. Forgetful of her high dignity, she delighted to assist at the Divine Office amid the poor; by her aims-deeds showed herself a mother to the indigent and distressed; in her 80th year she made a pilgrimage to Jerusalem, with the ardent desire of discovering the cross on which our Blessed Redeemed suffered.

After many labors, three crosses were found on Mt. Calvary, together with the nails and the inscription recorded by the Evangelists. It still remained to identify the true cross of Our Lord.

By the advice of the bishop, Marcellus, the three were applied successively to a woman afflicted with an incurable disease, and no sooner had the third touched her than she arose, perfectly healed.

The pious empress, transported with joy, built a most glorious church on Mount Calvary to receive the precious relic, sending portions of it to Rome and Constantinople, where they were solemnly exposed to the adoration of the faithful.

In the year 312 Constantine found himself attacked by Maxentius with vastly superior forces, and the very existence of his empire threatened. In this crisis he bethought him of the crucified Christian God whom his mother Helena, worshipped, and kneeling down, prayed God to reveal himself and give him the victory. Suddenly, at noonday, a cross of fire was seen by his army in the calm and cloudless sky, and beneath it the words, "Through this sign thou shalt conquer." By Divine Command Constantine made a standard like the cross he had seen, which was borne at the head of his troops, and under this Christian ensign they marched against the enemy, and obtained a complete victory. Shortly after, Helen herself returned to Rome, where she died in 328.

with Fermin Montes, Glencoe; George Fuchs, Green Tree; Lon Merchant, Capitán, and Harlan Williams, Ruidoso, has this to say, "Those who have been working to make this hospital possible have done so because they knew the people carried the project over many hurdles. The $15,000 which must be raised by November 1st is the biggest hurdle yet. Not one penny has been accepted to date on this project but beginning NOW we will take your gift. Donations over $50.00 will be receipted and may be handed to me, the chairman to be chosen, or any of the committees. In your community to be announced."

At the Carrizozo meeting those chosen for the Board of Trustees in that town were chairman, Dr. J. P. Turner, T. A. Spencer, Vernon Petty and Ben Griesen, all of Carrizozo; and Corbin Hester of Corona.

Mr. Truman Mathews of Santa Fe has been chosen as architect for both buildings. Plans call for Spanish style architecture and complete working drawings will be submitted for final approval within 60 days so everything will be ready by the December 1st deadline.

Carrizozo will proceed under a plan similar to Ruidoso's to have their money on hand by November 1st.

It is absolutely imperative for everyone interested in the hospital either in Carrizozo or Ruidoso or both to begin at once to assist in some way to raise the needed money. Clubs can organize to concentrate efforts; churches can emphasize the importance of the project; individuals can work with the benefit the hospital will be to them and their families and friends in view; until the needed $15,000 is raised.

Ruidoso Resident Tells Of Days As Gov't. Trapper

Lee Ritchie has written the following and intensely interesting story of some of his adventures during the years he was a government trapper in the State of New Mexico. He now lives in Ruidoso and is known to his friends for the fine stories of those days. We asked him to tell our readers of these things.

LEE RITCHEE

To My Dear Friends and Readers of the Ruidoso News:

I have been asked to write a little story on hunting and trapping, the habits of predatory animals and methods of catching them.

I was employed by the United States Biological Survey as a government hunter, April 15, 1915. Mr. J. Stokley Ligon was supervisor where I first worked in the Mesalero Indian Reservation. He was a very fine man.

The Lobo wolves were doing a great deal of damage in the Mesalero Reservation at that time and I was sent in there to work after them. I made my first camp at Rock Tank on Elk Canyon. I had thought I was a fair trapper but I had never trapped for the "Lobo," believe me he learned me more tricks in a few short months than I thought was in the book.

I lived in the hills and I yearned them. They would kill a yearling here tonight, eat and leave it. In a couple of nights maybe 15 or 20 miles away they would make another kill. Where next? I had to stop that killing. How? I trailed them as much as possible. The thing I had to learn was what would make them stop at a set trap and not be suspicious or leery of anything wrong.

I found that the scent of another wolf or the scent of a dog were the only two things I could depend on, and I had to kill all scent of man some way. To do that I used the method of leaving only the natural range scent. Before setting a trap I would look around until I found fresh cow manure. I would rub that on my gloves and boots, ride back to a few steps of where I wanted to place the trap, step off my horse, and make the set, leaving nothing but range scent and the scent of the wolf at the trap. This is the most successful method I know of to catch a Lobo wolf, the most destructive and hardest to catch of all predatory animals. He is not like his little cousin the coyote that is chuck full of curiosity and has got to be shown. If things look all right and he finds nothing but his natural wolf scent he will walk boldly into the set, but if he detects anything wrong he will have nothing to do with the place.

One time I rode three or four days from the camp but had only found old tracks that had been made in the wet ground probably three weeks before. Then it came a four-inch snow and I was anxious to find where they were. I hunted toward the cow camps to the east. About noon I found tracks of two wolves and that morning I rode up on the mountainside to rest and eat my lunch. While eating my lunch a wolf howled up the side of the mountain. . . . that gave me quite a thrill. . . . this being pupping season with the wolves. I hoped I had got near a den of young ones. Working cautiously up the mountainside hoping to get a shot at the old wolf I noticed the tracks of puppies all around in the snow and mud.

The old wolf gave a low howl; I heard the little ones come running within 30 steps of me and go in the den. So intent on trying to get a shot at the old one I had not seen the den. When the little ones were in the den and everything was quiet I saw the mother wolf across the canyon nearly to the top of the mountain.

Keeping well in the timber I watched her go over the top but I could not get a decent shot at her. I had two traps with me so I plugged the mouth of the den so the little ones could not get out and set my traps at the entrance of the den for the old one thinking she would try to get the little ones out and get caught herself, but no. . . . she came up within about fifteen feet of the den. She saw something was wrong and she left them and never came back. After three days waiting for her I trapped the little ones in the den.

I was too far from where the wolves were, so I moved to camp No. 3 in the east side of the reservation. There I found Mr. Tom Loveless trapping. I knew he was somewhere in that country for Mr. Ligon had wrote us both—if we could work together for awhile. Mr. Loveless was experienced in wolf trapping, and I certainly wasn't. We worked together a couple of weeks taking five more wolves. Mr. Loveless was a good worker and was a wonderful help to me. The Indians reported wolves on Water Canyon south of the agency. I moved camp up there.

In the meantime I got me a dog working it with Loveless dogs. . . . It was by then a fair trap dog. I found signs of wolves working from Nogal Canyon to Elk Springs. I had caught three or four wolves there and to my glad surprise Mr. Ligon, rode into camp. This was the first time I had met him as I had went to work for him by letter of recommendation.

We had a wonderful time taking two more wolves, a bear and a good many coyotes and bob cats. In the meantime Loveless had moved to Elk Springs. Mr. Ligon spent some time there with him and they both came to my camp and they planned a hunt for lions on the upper Ruidoso, but only got a couple of bob cats. Then planning our future work Mr. Ligon returned to the office at Albuquerque. Loveless went his way. . . . I went mine and I never saw him again. On account of snow and freezing weather we thought it best to abandon wolf work till the coming spring. That winter I worked the sheep range west and north of Tularosa to the Rio Grande trapping coyotes and bob cats.

Take the coyote. . . . as some people call him a wolf. . . . though he's of the dog family, he should hardly be classed even as a cousin to the wolf. He is full of curiosity and you got to show him. . . . on the other hand if you aren't careful the wolf will show you. We use many different methods of trapping the coyote, such as carcasses of dead animals, fish oil, rotten fish, and the urine and droppings of the coyote. . . . in this different from the wolf. . . . The following spring I moved to the Black Range Mountains. I found there were quite a lot of bear and mountain lions in those mountains and I got some dogs to hunt these animals, with my wolf work which made it much more interesting.

The bear has a name of being mean and dangerous. I found them quite different from that. I have killed many bears and have had only two of them to fight me. One of them was a large male grizzly and the other a mealy little brown bear, but it came to get me and I still have its hide.

The mountain lion is just a cat, but a very large cat and his principal food is deer and horses. By nature he is cowardly, but from experience I say the female lion is the most dangerous of them all. Get one of them cornered and you better shoot quick and straight.

I was kept on the trail of the wolf going from ranch to ranch over the state until he was practically extinct. Taking hundreds of coyotes and bob cats during this period of time. With a pack outfit which consisted of two pack burros and three saddle horses and three hound dogs, Bess, Buck and Bugle by name, I took to the trail of the elusive long tail cat, the mountain lion. The lion kills some cattle, sheep, and goats but he loves horse and deer meat. Sometimes he kills grown horses and the largest bucks that roam the hills.

One time here I am camped way back in the mountains, maybe ten or fifteen miles from the nearest ranch with my dogs. I want to be up and going as early as possible. Breakfast over and my horse saddled I am on my way. I take up a long rough divide, maybe one has traveled this high country and passed across it sometime during the night. No luck I drop down the side of a rough canyon. Soon my dogs strike a trail. Away they go up the canyon! A short ways and over on the other side they bark "treed". I work my way over there as fast as possible hoping to see Mr. Lion in that tree. But no. . . . just a bob cat. Horse and dogs rest a few minutes while I skin him and on we go working our way through the rough mountains and over to the next canyon circling back to my camp for the night. Morning comes. I am up on my way over the mountain across the canyon of a rough canyon I find the carcass of a deer been killed probably ten days. So old my dogs can't find a trail but Mr. Lion is probably not far away and is by now feasting on another deer or colt. I hunt in that area of country until the sun is dropping behind the mountains. I must return to camp tired and empty handed, but not discouraged.

As the sun began to streak the high mountain peaks I was on my way again. Hunting the rim-rock of a deep canyon my dogs working just ahead of me, I see them pause for a second. . . . noises in the air they charge! Into the thick timber back from the rim rock, then to the bluff! Following the buff for a half mile and barked "treed". When I rode up I found the lion had climbed onto a large rock that had broken loose from the main body of the rock. I couldn't see the lion but I knew it was on that rock. I managed to climb until I could reach the tip of the rock. . . . bracing myself so that I could hold with one hand I drew my revolver and peeped on top! Not more than five feet away the lion was crouched and ready to spring on me! I shoved my revolver at its head and as I shot I ducked. The lion hit the edge of the rock. . . . brushing against my shoulder. . . . as it fell to the ground dead. . . . After I had skinned it I rode back to see what I could find, sure enough it had just killed a four point buck and had eaten what it could but had not yet left its kill.

One mid-afternoon I brought my pack animals to a stop at a small spring and unfinished tank high in the Sanmateo Mountains. I had just got my pack animals unpacked and cared for and was arranging my camp when the rancher, Mr. Sullivan and his son came in to finish work on the tank.

Mr. Sullivan says, "Lee, I am awfully glad to see you here." He says, "that big old lion killed one of my mules about five days ago. I hope you can get him." As they were eating breakfast next morning I left camp in high hopes of success. I hunted a deep rough canyon hoping Mr. Lion had come into it for water or crossed the canyon. Sure enough, about two miles down he had crossed and gone up a deep side canyon. I made my dogs work slow so I could stay with them till we got out near the head of the canyon. But near the top they charged and I could not control them. Mr. Lion was feasting on a deer just killed, and he had no chance. As he went bounding back to the bluffs I took a quick shot. . . . lucky! I broke his shoulder and he had to stop and fight. Another bullet through his neck and it was all done.

As Mr. Sullivan and his son were eating dinner I come in with the lion's hide, the head not skinned out. Quite a load, but I wanted them to see the head, as it was. I have killed many lions but this was one of the two largest I ever saw.

The other large one my dogs started to trail early in the morning. Following it all day over mountains and across canyon I am sure it was twenty miles or more, my dogs overtook him and made him take a tree. I got to them and shot the lion just before sunset. About a mile over the mountain was a little saw-mill. I made it there and stayed with a friend that night. The next morning the mill hands spread the hide out on a carpenter's work bench and it measured 9 feet 7 inches from tip to tip.

Hunting lions with a good pack of dogs I get a thrill I don't get from any other hunting. They will lead you through the deepest canyons, over the highest mountains, a chase you can't forget. So long friends, I hope you have enjoyed this. Sincerely, LEE RITCHEE.

District School Bus Schedule

The following schedule is being printed for the benefit of those pupils in the Ruidoso-Stetson School District, who ride the school busses.

Hedgecock bus. Same as last year except the seventh grade pupils will report at the High School building.

Smelers bus. Will pick up both seventh and eighth grade pupils in Green Tree at eight and come on to the high school building. It will pick up all pupils in those grades between Green Tree and School. Due to the fact that there have been several Indian families move in on the upper end of this route he cannot haul all of them until he unloads the first group. Then he will make the run by Clayton Bennett's place and back to Stetson.

Carters Bus. Same as last year except he will pick up only high school pupils this side of Stetson. There is a possibility that slight changes will have to be made after school begins. Signed, THOMAS CRUME, Superintendent.

Robinson-Randle Married Aug. 7

The marriage of Miss Patricia Ann Robinson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. G. Robinson of Pico, formerly of Artesia, and Mr. Brink Randle, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Bunk Randle, Sr., of Roswell, is of interest to their many friends in this area.

The wedding ceremony was solemnized in a candlelight service at Saint Anne's Episcopal Church at Glencoe, N. M., Saturday, August 7, at 10 a. m. Rev. C. A. Clark of Dexter, N. M., a long time friend of the bride and her family performed the rites.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a beautiful beige crepe dress, accentuated by a picture hat. Her bouquet was of red roses and white daisies. For something old she wore a bracelet given to her by a great aunt and bogrowed a beautiful lace handkerchief of her maternal grandmother's, and also had the something new and something blue.

Appropriate music was played by Mrs. Wilbur F. Coe and Miss Carol Hensley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Owen Hensley of Artesia, sang "Because" and "Tell Me Why."

Miss Alice Nelson of Las Cruces, and a close friend, was the bride's only attendant. She wore blue linen with a corsage of white carnations.

Mr. Ambrose Guest of Tinnie acted as best man. Mrs. Robinson, mother of the bride, wore a brown crepe dress with beige straw hat and brown accessories. She wore a corsage of white gladiolus.

Mrs. Randle, mother of the groom, was dressed in black crepe with black accessories and a corsage of white carnations. A wedding breakfast was held immediately following the ceremony at the Bonnell Ranch. The three tiered wedding cake was served by Mrs. Bert Bonnell. Mrs. Charles D. Fuller of Pico assisted at the punch bowl and Mrs. Ambrose Guest of Tinnie served the salad course.

The bride chose for her going away ensemble a dress of brown striped crepe and brown accessories. After a short wedding trip the young couple will be at home on the Fuller Ranch in Pico where Mr. Randle is foreman.

The bride is a graduate of Artesia High School and attended Loretta Academy in El Paso. The groom attended Roswell schools and has been at the Fuller Ranch for some time.

Hondo Fiesta Dancers Perform In Santa Fe

Before an assembly of several hundred teachers, administrators, and other school officials from New Mexico, twenty-four dancers from the Hondo Valley Union High School put on a thirty-minute exhibition of dances from their April Pan-American Fiesta.

The occasion was the Administrators' Work Conference which met in the House of Representatives at the Capitol. The main floor and gallery rang with the applause given to the colorfully costumed dancers as they went through their routine, which included the Polka Suelta, Las Esqueletas, La Cuna, El Jarabe, and several other traditional Spanish dances from the valley.

At the close of the program State Superintendent Rose came forward and praised the work of Sup't. and Mrs. Montes, urging that the other school officials and teachers return to their homes and discover the talent they have.

In addition to giving their dances, there was time for a picnic lunch at noon and visits to various places of interest in Santa Fe. At Albuquerque those making the trip had dinner and went to a picture show, before starting on the return trip home.

The dancers were Le Roy Brady, Cecilia Sanchez, Alfred Richardson, Libby Torrez, Alfred McTelgue, Olivia Richardson, Cleatus Grey, Martina Martinez, Frank Analla, Mary Kamees, Emiliano Villaseca, Rudina Silva, Ed Silva, Martina Silva, Sam Kamees, Helen Marrufo, Humphrey Chavez, Angelina Calderon, Robert Gonzales, Eucy Sanchez, Bill Knox, Joe Maes and Lupa Lara. In addition to Sup't. and Mrs. Montes, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Kimbrell and son, Jimmy, and Mrs. R. R. Douglass made the trip.

Artesia, N. M. (Special)—The United Veterans Club of Artesia will stage its second V-J Day Celebration featuring a three-day show of the famous Howard Brown Rodeo from Dublin, Texas, August 13-14 and 15, with a big parade and other special attractions on Saturday, August 14.

Purses totalling $2,500 will be offered rodeo performers for four shows: Friday evening, Saturday Matinee and Evening, and Sunday Matinee.

The V-J holiday events on Saturday will start off with a parade at 10 a. m., for which the Chamber of Commerce has offered prizes for $100 for the best three floats. Many of the Artesia merchants and a number of organizations will enter floats.

The colorful Santa Fe Indian Band from Winslow, Arizona will appear in the parade, as well as rodeo performances on Saturday. The Indians, representing eight tribes, will come to Artesia in a special car furnished by the Santa Fe Railway, for which all members work at Winslow.

and the daughter was growing into a fine healthy infant Grace Marie wrote for her "Lullaby For Barbara." The coldest person in the world will read the lines and know the consolation the verse will bring to the child of her friend as she grows into adolescence and then womanhood. It is much too beautiful to leave to chance seeing a copy of "Bitter Sweet Fragments" and says: "Your mother has a score Of cherub's cheeks to be kissed; A score of curly heads that peep From blue celestial mist!

But often she must long To stroke your dark, curly hair; Give you but one star-jeweled kiss, A charm against earth's despair. So if you wake, to feel Her kiss upon your fairy cheek, Smile sweetly—that shall be All she shall seek. . . . Grace Marie loves the Ruidoso and New Mexico. . . . As an inspiration much better than her native Texas, where she lives with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul H. Scott, in Abilene, For twenty years the family of three has been coming this way and for the last eleven years they have owned a summer home in Ruidoso.

Many of her poems have been inspired by things she has seen, heard, and sensed in the mountain country of Ruidoso. The following poem so well expresses the feelings of so many who come to the canyon. "AZURE BOWL" The Sky Is an azure bowl. . . Brave things, like souls And pine trees Reach up to touch it. Volumes could never say any more beautifully or with more feeling the thought expressed in the eighteen words. The things Jesus Christ was crucified for with complete willingness, the gallant spirit and beautiful soul, have reached an apex in a young woman who has surmounted a seemingly insurmountable obstacle. The subconscious desire of man to accomplish miracles, so rarely seen brought forth to work with the conscious desires, has reached for the stars and found them in Grace Marie Scott.

and the daughter was growing into a fine healthy infant Grace Marie wrote for her "Lullaby For Barbara." The coldest person in the world will read the lines and know the consolation the verse will bring to the child of her friend as she grows into adolescence and then womanhood. It is much too beautiful to leave to chance seeing a copy of "Bitter Sweet Fragments" and says: "Your mother has a score Of cherub's cheeks to be kissed; A score of curly heads that peep From blue celestial mist!

But often she must long To stroke your dark, curly hair; Give you but one star-jeweled kiss, A charm against earth's despair. So if you wake, to feel Her kiss upon your fairy cheek, Smile sweetly—that shall be All she shall seek. . . . Grace Marie loves the Ruidoso and New Mexico. . . . As an inspiration much better than her native Texas, where she lives with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul H. Scott, in Abilene, For twenty years the family of three has been coming this way and for the last eleven years they have owned a summer home in Ruidoso.

Many of her poems have been inspired by things she has seen, heard, and sensed in the mountain country of Ruidoso. The following poem so well expresses the feelings of so many who come to the canyon. "AZURE BOWL" The Sky Is an azure bowl. . . Brave things, like souls And pine trees Reach up to touch it. ## Nogal Mesa Camp Meet

At Nogal Mesa each year there is a tabernacle tent which seats 500 people, two kitchen tents, a permanent cook shack, and twelve small tents. All of this portable equipment is brought to the grounds with the leaders of the camp. Feeding the two hundred camped on the grounds plus those who come to spend the day is a major job of the whole program. But a cook and assistant cook that travel the entire summer program with the "outfit", and have for years, keep the situation under control.

Santiago Moreno of Valentine, Texas is the chief cook. He started cooking for the camp meetings thirty-five years ago up at the original Blos camp meeting in the Davis Mountains, started by the father of Joe Evans, over fifty years ago. He has been cooking for them all ever since. Rosendo Seoura is his assistant and goes right along to help.

In each place where the meetings are held several local men are added to the kitchen staff, depending on the number to be fed. This year the kitchen workers prepared food for four hundred persons three times a day. Good solid, square meals, well planned, prepared and seasoned.

For an example . . . they cooked better than a beef each day and one hundred fifty pounds of potatoes. All other food, frijoles, fresh vegetables, fruits, bread and butter, were prepared in the same proportions.

On Sunday, the last day of the Nogal meeting, they cooked for over one thousand twice that day . . . preparing three beaves and two hundred pounds of potatoes with all the other foods. All rations used for feeding the crowds are paid for by donations. There is not a collection taken.

Many committees are appointed in each locality to help make preparations and keep the camp running smoothly. The Board of Directors named the following committees for Lincoln County for 1948-49.

General committee: Cleve Hester, Barney Wilson, Pat Withers, Bob Withers, Jim Beverly, Brees Sloan, Floy Skinner, Austin Reeves.

Finance Committee: Buster Bird, Ray Lemon, Walter Jones. Food (buying and delivering to grounds) and kitchen: Pat Murphy, Claude Brannan, Demmitt Bond.

Grounds Committee: Roger Sherman.

Water Committee: Gilbert Peters, Floy Skinner, La Moyne Peters.

Meat committee: Lum D. Merchant, Mark Sloan, Bryan Peters.

Light Committee: Joe Wigley. Chairs and music: Henry Peebles.

Wood committee: Jack Robertson, Bobby Peebles.

Young peoples committee: C. A. Brannon, Walter Wilson, Helen Sloan, Joe Evans.

All old committees were reappointed for another year. However, a young man was added to each committee so they will be learning the ways of the camp and camp management so they can take their share of the responsibility in the future.

Action was taken at this year's meeting to build a permanent tabernacle to seat six hundred persons. Plans are already being made to have this building ready for next year. It will be called simply, "A Tabernacle of Worship". Also included in the improvement plans is a fence taking in the twenty-five acres to which plan the forest service has consented.

The desire for this permanent building is prompted by the feeling that this camp meeting will be an annual one for many generations to come for Lincoln County families. Although some of the leaders feel they should always camp as their fore-fathers did in a primitive and back to nature style, others are in favor of others are in favor of improving and modernizing the grounds in many ways in the next few years.

A committee has been appointed to take charge of the finances on the tabernacle and fencing projects to add to the $2,000 subscribed at the meeting for these purposes. The money will be raised before the final plans for the building are chosen and work will go on as according to the amount of money given for the project. On the committee to take the donations are Mark Sloan, Pat Withers, and Gilbert Peters.

This year there were about 30 people present who have never missed a Nogal Ranchers Camp Meeting. They are Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Merchant of Captain, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Evans of Ruidoso and El Paso, Mr. and Mrs. Brack Sloan and family of Carrizozo, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Brannan of Carrizozo, Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Peters of Captain, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Peebles of Alto, Mr. and Mrs. Floy Skinner of Nogal, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Bird of Roswell, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Withers of Carrizozo, Mr. and Mrs. La Moyne Peters of Captain, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Kelley of Carrizozo, Mr. Pat Murphy of White Oaks, Mrs. M. E. Pflingsten and son Ben of Captain, Mr. Bob Leslie of Captain, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Hall of Albuquerque, and there may be others whose names are not listed here.

Many people from over the countryside try to spend at least one day at the meetings and sooner or later those who come for the whole time get the see everyone they know one or the other of the days.

The Nogal meeting is only one in a series planned to start the 1st of June each year and continuing through until the 1st of September in widely scattered locales. Rev. Ralph Hall and Mr. R. B. Sherman make them all. Included in the program are five camp meetings, two in New Mexico, two in Arizona and one in Wyoming; and four intermediate young peoples conferences, three in New Mexico and one in Colorado.

Rev. Hall, Sherman, the cook and his assistant, travel in a truck, pick-up and trailer, hauling the necessary gear to set up camp with them to all meetings. After the Nogal meeting everything is packed and moved to the Montosa Ranch, 18 miles west of Magdalena, N. M., and services there start July 28th and run through Sunday, August 1.

From Montosa Ranch they go Sonoma, south of Tucson, Arizona on the ranch belonging to Lloyd Douglass, United States ambassador to England. This opens August 5th. Prescott, Arizona is the last meeting and starts August 12. From there the group goes to the Davis Mountains to attend the Bloys Camp Meeting, and the original of all Ranchers Camp Meetings.

These men of God in the 20th Century will go down in history just as surely as the Bible tells of Christ and his disciples, for they are His disciples in words, actions, and deeds. There are wealthy and prominent men throughout the Southwest who feel they owe their success and happiness to the camp meetings where their souls have been fed those things all the money in the world cannot buy.

Information From Draft Headquarters

WHEN to register—August 30 through Sept. 18, 1948 (See Governor's Proclamation of July 28, 1948).

WHERE to register—At spots designated by local boards appointed by President for each county in New Mexico. 8:00 a. m. to 5: p. m. on designated days. Registrars will be board members and volunteer registrars including school teachers and members of civic organizations. Local boards will post placards and announce to the press the places of registration. It is estimated that it will require a registrar 20 minutes to handle each registrant.

WHO to register—All men who are between 18 and 26 years of age, except those exempt by law. To be more exact—any male who achieves his 18th birthday before Sept. 19, 1948, and any male who does not achieve his 26th birthday until after August 30, 1948 must register. Thereafter, each 17 year old boy must register with the local board within five days after he reaches his 18th birthday.

EXEMPTED from registering by law are: Officers and enlisted men of the Regular Army, Navy, Air Corps, Marine Corps, and Coast Guard. Members of the Reserve components of the armed services, including the National Guard, so long as they remain on active, full-time federal duty. Members of foreign diplomatic corps, etc., and certain classes of aliens residing in the United States only temporarily.

REPEAT. Note that all males between 18 and 26 years of age must register. This includes veterans and members of the National Guard, unless they are on full time federal duty. The same rule applies to members of the Naval Reserve, Officers Reserve Corps, etc.

Form of Registration. Registrants will use Form SSS No. 1, SSS o. 2, and SSS No. 4 to accomplish the registration. Form SSS No. 2, will be given to the registrant as his receipt. Form SSS No. 1, Registration Card, gives the local board all necessary information about the registrant. The veteran registrant must furnish the date of his entry into the military service, the date of his discharge, the name of his last organization and his serial number.

Training and Service. Registrants age 19 to 26 will be inducted for a period of 21 months service in the armed forces and thereafter transferred to a reserve component for five years, and shall be subject to such additional training and service as may be required by law. In lieu of liability for five years service in the reserve the registrant may serve three years in an organized service or National Guard unit or an additional year of active duty in the armed forces.

Eighteen (18) year olds may enlist in the armed services for a period of one year. Thereafter they are liable for six years service in the reserve which may be discharged by serving 4 years in an organized service or National Guard unit. While in the reserve such person may be ordered to active duty for 30 days in any one year. Those who fail to refuse to perform their duty in an organized reserve unit may be ordered back to active duty for a period of 12 months. Eighteen year olds may not be ordered to a permanent station outside the continental limits of the United States.

Deferment and Exemptions From Service. Registrants exempted from military service and training under the act include veterans who served honorably on active duty, (a) For a period of 12 months between September 16, 1940 and June 24, 1948, and/or (b) For a period of 90 days between December 7, 1941 and September 2, 1945.

The veteran's service may have been either in the United States Military forces or in the forces of a friendly, foreign, belligerent ally. Veterans who do not meet the above standards of exemption but who served more than 90 days and less than 12 months between September 16, 1940 and June 24, 1948, are exempt if they are a member of an organized reserve unit or the National Guard.

(NOTE: The local board may excuse such membership in an organized reserve unit where the man lives in a remote rural area, etc., and would be unable to attend weekly drills without undue hardship.) Military personnel honorably discharged after June 24, 1948 after three years military service are exempt from further service.

For the purposes of computing the period of active service performed by the veteran, time spent in the army specialized training program of the Army Air Force College Training program, or any similar program of

Letter To Editor

Aug. 1, 1948
Mr. Lloyd Bloodworth,
Ruidoso, N. M.
Dear Lloyd:

I have just returned from another of many visits to Carrie Tingley Hospital at Hot Springs. Nancy Carolyn is having her operations on her feet and will soon be walking perfectly.

On each visit I have occasion to observe the wonderful work the staff of this hospital is carrying on. It is amazing the number of little twisted and broken bodies being brought in from all parts of the state for treatment. Here is one with a broken back, there one with deformed hands, another without muscular control, another without legs and many helpless from the ravages of polio. After a few weeks or months of treatment, these same little bodies are beginning to straighten and walk again.

As you know this hospital was established thru the efforts of Mrs. Carrie Tingley and there is no better in the whole west. No other institution is answering a greater need than is this one. Equipped with every known device for the treatment of children's bodies, and having an abundance of warm health-giving water, it is staffed by the best in the medical profession. Of all this, nothing can be said except praise, but after more careful study, you find a side of the operation that is being sadly neglected, that is the financial side.

As I understand it, some of the hospital's funds come from the National Infantile Paralysis Fund but the greater part comes from appropriations made by the state legislature. The last few years have seen this amount become more and more inadequate due to the increase in the number of patients and the increase in cost of operation. The entire staff is working long hours at insufficient pay, trying to get the most important job in this state done, a job we are prone to turn our backs upon.

When one travels about the state as you and I have and sees the waste of public money, then to find a condition like at Carrie Tingley Hospital it makes your blood boil. Nothing can compare with it unless it be the Navajo situation. Hundreds upon the public payroll, doing nothing in return, but depriving some child of proper hospitalization. If that man in the Bureau of Revenue office, or the Tax Commission the navy or period of time spent while being processed. Into or separated from any such program, does not count.

Also deferred from service are members of organized reserve units and the National Guard who were members on June 24, 1948. The deferment continues so long as the member continues to attend scheduled drills and training periods.

Persons who join the organized reserve or National Guard after June 24, 1948 will not be deferred on that account. Any member of a senior division of an ROTC unit shall be deferred so long as he remains a member of the unit and if commissioned so long as he continues in a regular or reserve status.

Men who enter a senior division of an ROTC unit after June 24, 1948 will not be deferred unless they agree in writing to accept a commission if tendered and serve on two years active duty after being commissioned. Elected public officials, including state officials, members of congress, members of the state legislature, and judges are exempt from service. The same is true of regularly ordained ministers and divinity students.

Deferred by Regulations. The President is authorized to issue regulations deferring by categories persons whose endeavors may be found to be necessary to the National health, safety or interest, including persons employed or engaged in Agriculture, industry, other occupation, public office, study, or medical or scientific research.

The President may be regulation defer by categories: Persons who have wives or children; those who are physically, mentally or morally deficient; persons with dependents and the fact that family allowances may be paid shall not be deemed conclusively to remove the grounds for deferment.

High school students will be deferred by local boards until they graduate, become 20 years of age, or "flunk out", whichever is the earliest. College students will be deferred by local boards until the end of their academic year. The President may also issue regulations deferring types of college students by categories.

The local boards may defer bonafide conscientious objectors. Registrants claiming to be conscientious objectors and not deferred by local boards, may appeal. The FBI will prepare a report for the appeal board to consider.

The sole surviving son of a family who had sons or daughters killed in action, or who died in line of duty in the armed forces of the United States, is exempt from service.

More Echoes

Mrs. Harry Cornelius left Ruidoso Wednesday to go to Brownfield for a visit with her parents and friends there. While in Brownfield she will go on to Lubbock to consult a throat specialist there.

Mrs. M. F. Boldon of Topeka, Kansas, a sister of Mr. S. B. Bostian is here visiting for the rest of the summer.

Mrs. Juanita Frost and her daughter June Hudson are in Ruidoso from Abilene, Texas, on their annual visit. They usually plan to be here for the annual rodeo, and are always guests of the Navajo Lodge.

Mr. and Mrs. Russ Dobbs of Carlsbad, were guests of Mrs. Ethel Hunck last Sunday.

office or the Land office, or the Highway Department, who is on the payroll, not because he is needed but because he can deliver a few dozen votes in his home precinct, were fired and the money used to hire more doctors, nurses and orderlies or to replace the rotting woodwork in the building itself, we would not have to hang our heads in shame when it is called to our attention.

It behooves every voter in this state to investigate the records of those men now running for the legislature and vote solidly against every one who cannot assure us he will support a larger appropriation for Carrie Tingley Hospital. I think your idea of a state-wide Carrie Tingley Hospital day a good one. If the governor would appoint a committee in each county, provide them with literature and proclaim such a day, I believe a great deal of money could be raised and the people would become conscious of the fact they have one of the best hospitals in the country.

Sincerely yours,
BILL HART.

Lamb Crop Report Shows Decline

The United States lamb crop is estimated at 20,467,000 lambs, or about 8 percent and about 1,700,000 head smaller than the 1947 lamb crop. This is the smallest lamb crop in 24 years of record. The 1948 lamb crop is about 17 percent or 4,073,000 head below the 1946 crop of 24,450,000 lambs. The 10-year (1937-46) average U. S. lamb crop was 29,668,000 head. The U. S. lambing percentage in 1948 was 86 percent compared with 88 percent in 1947, 89 percent in 1946, and the 10-year (1937-46) average of 86 percent.

The 1948 lamb crop in the 35 Native Sheep States is 7,111,000 head, compared with 7,527,000 in 1947, and 8,118,000 head in 1946, and the 10-year (1937-46) average of 10,243,000 lambs. Lamb percentage in the Native States in 1948 was 101 percent, compared with 102 percent in 1947, 103 percent in 1946, and the 10-year (1937-46) average of 99 percent.

The New Mexico Weekly Newsletter

G. WARD FENLEY

The Portales yarn about Mrs. Holcolm's cow that wore a lost diamond ring imbedded in her hoof for six years has certainly made the rounds. First in the Portales Daily News—thence in the NEWSLETTER—thence in Time Magazine and it's finally wound up in Paris, France.

How's Your French? The French editor wrote: "Depuis plus de six ans, 'Maggie', la plus belle vache du troupeau de M. Millard F. Holcolm, qui habite Portales, New Mexico, boit-elle tres bas"

Then he retold the whole story and illustrated it with curious wild Indiana standing around while Mr. and Mrs. Holcolm operated on the cow's foot to retrieve the lost ring.

This is New Mexico The point to the yarn is that everybody the world over thinks of New Mexico as a wild and woolly place, still inhabited by Indians who are eternally on the war path ready to scalp some foreign individual.

New Mexico is Different New Mexico is different and that's the reason for all our tourists who try to arrive during the month of August.

Down at historic old Lincoln town (near Carrizozo) the old settlers get together on August 1 and celebrated the feud that developed into the "Lincoln County War" of 1877 between two pioneers named Major Lawrence G. Murphy and Alexander McQueen. Out of this came on blatant young man who lived under the name of Billy the Kid and an international incident when an Eng-
