As I See It

By LLOYD P. BLOODWORTH

I notice in the daily press where Mrs. Agnes Kastner Head, publisher of the Lovington Leader, weekly, and the Hobbs Daily Flare, has announced her intentions to run for sheriff of Lea county.

There is nothing more delightful on a cool brisk night than to attend a snappy football game. Last Saturday night Ida and I attended the game between Austin High School of El Paso and Kermit High School.

I travel over the state of New Mexico quite a lot and stop at a lot of hotels. Some are good, some bad, and some indifferent.

Noticed in the daily press where Thomas B. Love of Dallas passed away last week. Tom Love was an outstanding fighter for the things he thought to be right.

I have taken quite a ribbing because a member of the staff wrote a story about the tremendous crowds we had during the summer months and that many of them had gone home.

September is the month in which most of the Ruidoso people take their vacations and they need it after a busy summer.

Next Sunday afternoon at 2:30 the new Hondo High School building will be dedicated.

Warriors To Play Colts Here Today

The Ruidoso High School Warriors play the New Mexico Military Institute Colts at Hollywood Park this afternoon at 2:30.

Greatly improved over their initial appearance, the Warriors held Eunice even during the first quarter of the game Friday.

However, a serious knee injury to Captain Quarterback Linebacker Chick Waltrip in the closing minutes of the first period forced him to retire for the remainder of the game and the Cardinals were never headed after that.

Co-Captain Don Alexander, Bill Hensley and Wade Hedgecock played the entire game in the backfield, as did Dan Griffith, Dave Parks and Wally Whitley in the line.

Birthday Party In Chihuahua

Miss Emma Serna from Capitlan, N. M., employed as stenographer at Holloman AFB in Alamogordo, N. M., Miss Anita Davalos, a nurse at the Mescalero Hospital, Mescalero, N. M., Sgt. Martin Trujillo, Jr., and S-Sgt. S. A. Breidert, both stationed at Holloman AFB, spent the Labor Day holiday in Chihuahua, Mex., where they enjoyed sight-seeing and dancing.

Miss Serna was honored with a surprise birthday party upon her arrival in Chihuahua, Sept. 4. Arrangements for the birthday party were made at the Hilton Hotel by Sgt. Trujillo and Sgt. Breidert and Miss Davalos.

Carriozzo Starts Hospital Drive

Following a meeting of the Carriozzo Community Council, composed of representatives from every organization in the town, Friday night, September 10th, the drive for the $15,000 to be raised for the County Municipal hospital to be located there was mapped out.

Fred Napp heads the committee making plans for organized committee to ask for donations through public subscription and for any benefit affairs which might be planned to help raise the needed amount.

Plans are being made for a big street fair to be held in downtown Carriozzo. This will include booths and concessions, a western dance, and guest speakers. The date will be announced soon.

Mr. R. E. Lemon will receive donations at the bank in Carriozzo and checks or money orders should be made out to Carriozzo Municipal Hospital Fund. By Friday of last week $320.50 in miscellaneous donations had already been announced by the committee.

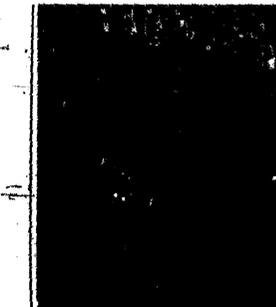

C. L. ROSE N. M. State Superintendent of Education

On August 12, 1947, at a meeting in Santa Fe, a decision was made by the State Board of Education that was momentous in the history of the Hondo Valley. The members of the board voted unanimously for the erection of a new high school building in the Hondo area.

On September 26, 1948, at 2:30 p. m. State Superintendent of Education Charles Rose, who helped immeasurably to secure this decision, will be the principal guest speaker at the dedication ceremony of the Hondo Valley Union High School. It was through his sympathetic understanding and knowledge of the educational needs of the community that the board was made to understand the definite necessity for a new school.

This fine building which now stands, glistening white against the green of the valley, is not merely a construction of concrete and steel—it is built of the dreams of the people. It is constructed of the determination of Superintendent Montes and his school board. It is fabricated out of the vision of the citizens of the valley who backed consolidation of the school districts and endorsed the proposal of a new high school building.

The way has not been an easy one; it has been long and fraught with keen disappointments. As early as 1921, when Mr. Wilberth founded the Hondo High School, the seed of this dream was doubtless planted. Sometimes later, Superintendent A. M. Friedman nourished it, followed by Superintendent S. G. Hester, who several years after leaving the school, contacted Mr. Rose and helped to present the needs of the community. His word weighed heavily in the final decision.

TOWN MEETING October 1, 1948

The senior class of Ruidoso High School invites all residents of the surrounding area to an old-fashioned "get-together" at Grade School Gym. Lots of entertainment has been planned starting at 7:30 for ages strictly 1 to 100. There will be no admission but women bring your box supper to be auctioned.

Mrs. Moulton Speaks For Republicans

Mrs. E. L. Moulton, Republican National Committeewoman from New Mexico issued the following statement to the press:

"The Republican Party of New Mexico is starting its 1948 campaign. It seeks to elect to office candidates who have been chosen by the party, nationally, and here in the State.

We are in an extremely critical period of our national history. There is a feeling of impending danger abroad, and even at home. We fought a war at tremendous sacrifice of lives and material resources in order to gain peace and security. Today we have neither. So all thoughtful people are tremendously concerned.

We are concerned over the evidence of spies and traitors within our government. We are disturbed over the inefficiency and ineptitude of a government gone stale. It is honeycombed by the worst elements of a party long in power. That corrupt element now is all powerful in our national government. It is the controlling factor of the party in office in New Mexico.

Fellow citizens, most certainly we must agree that we should recognize these dangers to our national safety and to our national integrity. We must have men and women in our government who are honest and efficient. Not people who are there for purely personal aggrandizement or gain. We must do something about it before it is too late.

State Demos Plan Campaign

The Democrats began their state campaign in earnest this week with all candidates planning to engage in active campaigning. Two parties, headed by Governor Thomas J. Mabry and Clinton P. Anderson, will tour the state and will appear in all counties.

Governor Mabry and Anderson opened the campaign Monday night with a joint radio broadcast over a state-wide hookup, including KOAT Albuquerque, KTRC Santa Fe, KSWB Roswell and KGAK Gallup.

After making appearances in several towns in San Juan and Valencia counties during the week, all state Democratic candidates will join up for a rally in Gallup, Friday, Sept. 24. On Saturday and Sunday the two groups will attend the State Fair in Albuquerque, after which they will separate for a swing around the state which will continue until election.

In the group headed by Clinton P. Anderson, Democratic candidate for U. S. Senator, will be Rep. Antonio M. Fernandez, candidate for Congress; H. B. Rodgers, candidate for State Treasurer; Alice Romero, candidate for Secretary of State; Joe Martinez, candidate for Attorney General and Guy Shepard, candidate for Commissioner of Public Lands.

The Mabry party will also include Lt. Gov. Joseph M. Montoya, John E. Miles, candidate for U. S. Representative in Congress; Charles L. Rose, candidate for Superintendent of Public Instruction; Dan Sedillo and Ingram Pickett, candidates for State Corporation Commissioners. E. D. Trujillo, candidate for State Auditor, and J. C. Compton, candidate for Justice of the Supreme Court, will make appearances with both groups.

NOTICE All voters who have not registered will have an opportunity to do so Monday, September 27th at the City Hall in Ruidoso. Register! Vote! THIS IS YOUR DUTY.

Bi State Meet Highway 70 October 4

On October 4, the Highway 70 Association of New Mexico will hold joint meeting with members of the Arizona Association in Lordsburg, N. M.

Representatives from Clovis, Portales, Elida, Kenna, Roswell, Ruidoso, Green Tree, Tularosa, Alamogordo, Las Cruces, Deming and Lordsburg will gather with men from Safford, Globe and other Arizona towns to map-out a publicity campaign to bring coast to coast travel over Highway 70.

Inasmuch as this highway is a main artery of tourist travel from coast to coast a concentrated program of advertising can increase year round travel on '70'.

To become a member of the New Mexico Highway 70 Association is to strengthen the power of the group in their effort to receive due recognition from tourist bureaus, and membership will be stressed during the October 4th meeting.

Plans for a map of New Mexico and Arizona showing the route of 70 across the two states will also be completed, including descriptive material and pictures of the many scenic and historical spots along this route.

Lloyd F. Bloodworth, president of the New Mexico Association is urging as many members as possible to make this trip to Lordsburg.

Glencoe And Capitan Lead Off With Dances To Raise Ruidoso-Hondo Valley Quota

The series of dances to be sponsored in each community in the southern part of Lincoln County as part of the effort to raise the quotas which will add up to $15,000 for the Ruidoso-Hondo Valley General Hospital starts with the Bonnell Ranch Dance tomorrow night, Saturday, September 25th.

Wilbur Coe will act as master of ceremonies and will have a real western band there to play for the dance according to the Glencoe Hospital Committee, Sydney Bonnell, chairman, Mrs. George Perry and Fermin Montes.

Besides the dance there will be a cake sale, special numbers, square dancing with Buck Noaker calling, and the admission is only $1.00 for adults and 25c for children.

The town of Capitan is enthusiastic over their "Hospital-Get-Together" to be held at the Capitan school gym Saturday night, October 2nd. The feature of the evening will be dancing. Roy R. Morgan, fiddler extraordinary of the town, has accepted the responsibility of arranging for the music. Cake and coffee will be served. Arrangements for this party have been made by their hospital committee, Mrs. Dorothy Ferris, Mrs. Ann Earling, Mrs. Ruth Bell, and Mrs. Mary Warner, chairman.

In accepting a part in the hospital drive Capitan made the decision to donate half-and-half to the Carriozzo Municipal Hospital and the Ruidoso-Hondo Valley General Hospital so those supporting the dance can feel they have helped with both projects.

Glencoe and Capitan are the first two parties to think about. They will be followed the next weeks by the Pecho Partido, October 6th; the Lincoln Fandangos, October 8th, and San Patricio Hospital Show and Dance on October 9th, Tinnie Roundup on October 14th, the Hondo Night Club on October 15th and the two day Ruidoso Hospital Fiesta on October 16th and 17th.

It Can Be Done

No man can estimate his full strength until he has been called upon to test himself to the utmost. This is also true of a community or area. It certainly is true regarding the hospital drive in Ruidoso and Hondo Valley. It will be the first time that this area has been called to meet a great challenge. A challenge that will in a large measure determine the future growth and development of our section of Lincoln county.

It is preposterous to think we can build here a larger and better place to live without giving hospital facilities to those who will move among us and to the throngs of seasonal visitors from all over the United States. We cannot do without a hospital any more than we could do without our schools and churches.

There are always some who are afraid of a real challenge but we must remember that our entire history as a nation has been one of challenge. Through the overcoming of great difficulties our fathers pushed ahead. They were not waverers and afraid of every difficult task that confronted them. If they had shown the spirit of defeatism we would never have become the great nation we are today.

The leaders in our hospital drive are sounding the clarion call to every citizen in the southern part of Lincoln county to catch step with his neighbor and share the responsibility that is rightfully his. We must not consider our subscription as a gift, but rather, as an investment in the future of our community and county. We should not be influenced by the amount our neighbor subscribes, but we should be guided by our own ability to contribute.

It is as much a Christian virtue to take care of the sick and afflicted as it is to attend church. Our religion does not mean much to us unless it causes us to hear the cry of those less fortunate than ourselves. It is true that our hospital will be called upon to render services to but few charity cases as we have less poverty than in many places. However, we should be ready and willing to help those who need it. Only last week several patients were taken from our community to hospitals in nearby cities. During the summer season there were those who returned to their homes before their planned vacations were over because we did not have hospital facilities to take care of them. One doctor from West Texas told us that he could send several patients to us each year; patients would need the cool climate that is ours.

The Ruidoso News is calling upon all of our citizens in our beautiful valleys to respond in a noble way to this most urgent need and in the years to come be able to look upon the beautiful certificate and know that you had a part in this most worthy undertaking; "IT CAN BE DONE".

LLOYD P. BLOODWORTH

IT COULDN'T BE DONE

Somebody said that it couldn't be done,
But he with a chuckle replied
That "maybe it couldn't" but he would be one
Who wouldn't say so till he tried.

So he buckled right in with a trace of a grin
On his face if he worried he hid it.
He started to sing as he tackled the thing
That couldn't be done, and he did it.

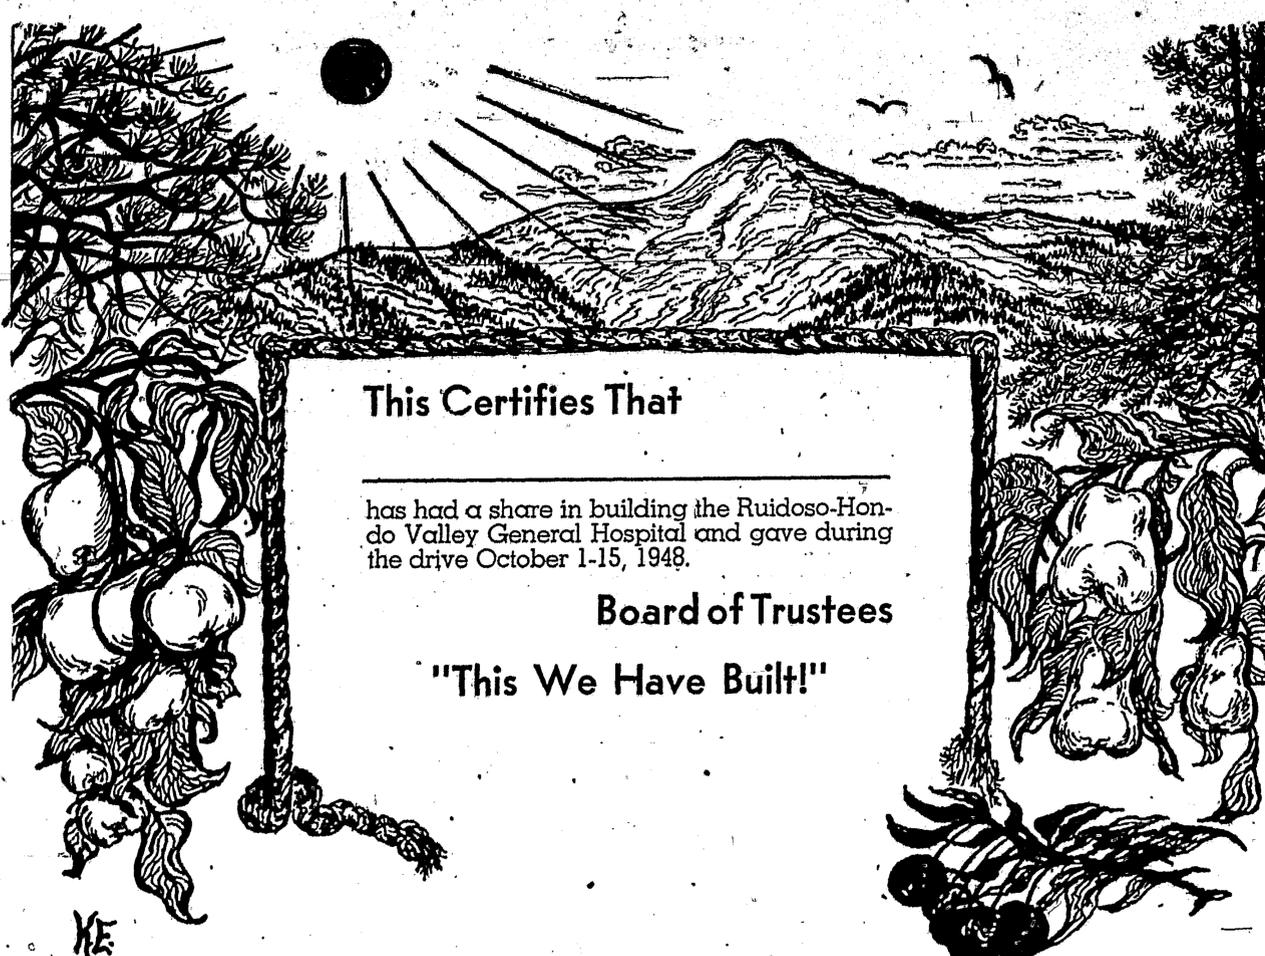

Somebody scoffed: "Oh, you'll never do that;
At least no one ever has done it";
But he took off his coat and he took off his hat,
And the first thing we knew he'd begun it.

With a lift of his chin and a bit of a grin,
Without any doubting a quiddit,
He started to sing as he tackled the thing
That couldn't be done, and he did it.

There are thousands to tell you it cannot be done,
There are thousands to prophesy failure;
There are thousands to point out to you one by one,
The dangers that wait to assail you.

But just buckle in with a bit of a grin,
Just take off your coat and go to it;
Just start in to sing as you tackle the thing
That "cannot be done", and you'll do it.

"This We Have Built!"

The "certificate" to be given to adults who give $5.00 or more toward the $15,000 being raised for the Ruidoso-Hondo Valley General Hospital, is typical of this area, inasmuch as it represents through the beautiful artwork the fertility of our valleys.

Miss Katina Ellebout created the drawing in black and white expressly for the purpose it will be used. She has shown her own great understanding and appreciation of the valleys in the picture.

The certificate is suitable for framing as it measures 10" by 8" and will be printed on a nice quality paper as a reminder in the years to come of the difficult but successful hospital drive held here in the year 1948.

Children will be awarded this certificate who bring $1 which they have earned to give to the campaign on "school day", Oct. 11th.

Eastern New Mexico State Fair Ready For Great Show

By CLAUDE SIMPSON
Secretary, Roswell Chamber of Commerce

Twenty-sixth annual Eastern New Mexico State Fair in Roswell, Sept. 29, 30, Oct. 1 and 2 has its goal the best fair ever held there. And there's more than a slogan in that goal—for this will be the last on the old fair grounds at Eleventh and Main streets where the fair has grown from a small local cotton carnival to its present size. Immediately following this year's fair, buildings which can be moved will be placed on the new large grounds south of the city. Directors want the last fair on the old grounds to be the best in order that the new and larger institution next year may get off to a good start.

The $50,000 livestock sales pavilion and barn already is completed on the new grounds on the Carlsbad highway at the south city limits. However it was impossible to get the new grounds in shape for this year's show. And then the Southeastern New Mexico Hereford Association wanted to dedicate the fine new livestock pavilion with their donation sale to be held in October, the proceeds to go to the fair association to be added to the $100,000 bond issued by the Roswell people for the new plant.

Three tents will be used for exhibits this year to supplement the existing buildings on the old grounds which have proved inadequate. Dairy cattle and poultry have been omitted for the past two years because of lack of space, and the tents will make possible a complete livestock show, with Herefords again being the outstanding division.

The opening day parade at ten on Wednesday morning, Sept. 29, a tradition in the southwest, will have a number of new features this year along with those which have proved so popular in the past.

Old Timers Day, on Friday, Oct. 1—another traditional feature which has been enjoyed by thousands of New Mexico pioneers during the years—will be a high light of the week. Those who have been in New Mexico 30 years or longer will be the participants, and thousands of others will be spectators. There has always been argument as to which group enjoyed the occasion the most.

"We have already heard from several New Mexico notables qualifying as oldtimes who will be with us for the first time this year," said Floyd Childress, president of the Eastern New Mexico State Fair. "All the committees have been at work for weeks on various phases of the fair, and the Old Timers celebration will be more enjoyable than ever. Moreover, we are going to close our tenancy of the present fair park in a blaze of glory and start immediately on completion of the new grounds where we expect to render outstanding service to the agricultural interests of all New Mexico—starting in 1949."

Eastern New Mexico State Fair has been financed entirely by business men of Roswell, with the exception of the $100,000 bond issue for the new grounds voted by the people of Roswell. (Reprinted Sept. issue "New Mexico Stockman").

Cattle Theft Reports Indicate Rustlers In New Mexico

High meat prices and increased cattle values are credited with an increasingly serious outbreak of cattle rustling on New Mexico ranges. Reports reaching the New Mexico Cattle Growers Association in recent weeks indicate that activities of cattle thieves are expanding throughout this state and the Southwest. In addition to the standing reward of $300 offered by the Cattle Growers Association for information leading to arrest and conviction of thieves stealing cattle from members, the Association offices in Albuquerque has received letters from individual growers offering rewards ranging from $50 to $1,000 for information that may help catch and punish rustlers. The association paid two $300 rewards in July.

Growers Offer Rewards
Martin Pavletich of Raton has offered a reward of $300 for information leading to the arrest of persons stealing his animals.

W. O. Culbertson of Bueyeros offers a standing reward of $1,000 for this type information. Lee S. Evans, Marquez, A. T. Pfinston of Hondo and P. H. Herndon of Grier are others who have recently offered large rewards. Persons furnishing the information leading to arrest and conviction of cattle thieves would also receive the association standing reward of $300.

"All New Mexico cattlemen should make a special effort to report information which might lead to the arrest and conviction of cattle thieves," said G. W. Evans, Magdalena, Association president. "This is not only an honorable duty but it is one which will save the industry thousands of dollars."

VETERANS' NEWS

Veterans Administration advises World War II veterans who took out G-I insurance between October 1, 1940 and the beginning of the war to examine their insurance certificates to avoid loss of protection by expiration of the policy.

Insurance issued prior to January 1, 1946, expires eight years after the date of issuance. Policies issued after that date will expire at the end of five years from date of issuance. This means that all policies issued in 1940 will expire this year.

A recent law allows veterans, upon application, to renew their term insurance for an additional five-year period. If the original term insurance is not renewed, or converted into a permanent type of insurance, it expires. Application for renewal must be made before the present term policy expires. Renewed term policies are issued for a five-year term and requires slightly higher premium rates according to the age of the veteran at time of renewal.

Dependent survivors of service men who died while on active duty between December 7, 1941, and December 31, 1947, may be entitled to federal income tax refunds.

Subject to refund under a law passed by the 80th Congress are all federal income taxes paid by or behalf of such members of the armed forces for the taxable year in which they died, and for prior tax years dating back to December 7, 1941, during any part of which they served. Dependents should first make sure taxes actually were paid before must be made by December 31, 1948.

Most members of the armed forces, particularly enlisted men, were exempt from income tax under special wartime law. Consequently the number entitled to rebates is not expected to be large.

Forms for applying may be obtained from the office of any collector of internal revenue (Form 843). Applicants for refunds and any correspondence on the subject should be directed to the Collector of Internal Revenue where the tax was paid, and NOT to VA or the Bureau of Internal Revenue in Washington.

New Hondo High School Building Dedication Set For Next Sunday

and talked over plans for a new high school. But there were difficult obstacles to hurdle. The districts were not consolidated, and without such, a new school building could not be financed. As early as 1930 there was talk, but no action came from it. A consistent well-wisher of the community is the Honorable Georgia Lusk, and it was during those years of wishful thinking that she was the State Superintendent of Public Instruction. Later she did not forget the valley people, and she wrote a letter of appeal to the State Board.

What gave a great impetus toward the initial steps in procuring a school took place early in 1946. A public-spirited and generous citizen came forward with a gift of ten acres of land in the Hondo area, to be used as a building site for the then proposed high school. To Mr. George Tisworth of Capitan is owed much gratitude, for with this gesture, the dreams of the people began to take some shape.

awaiting the election returns, showed deep interest and concern. Adequate educational facilities for their children were at stake, and they desired intensely to see this new building.

The next step, that of a bond election, moved forward speedily. In June of 1947, it was carried by an overwhelming majority, and then began the real work of putting into concrete form a building that was not yet on the architect's draft board. Superintendent Montes, with the able and willing assistance of his board, Messrs. Frank Tisworth, Wilbur McKnight, J. H. Gallagher, Mrs. Ben Sanchez, and Shelton Taylor, after some exasperating and trying moments, won the final victory over those in the county who thought that the high schools should be consolidated.

When the State Board ruled out all objections and gave its blessing to the board, there was great jubilation. By the latter part of April of this year, complete plans and specifications were drawn up by Mr. Trent Thomas of Santa Fe, and the contract for the construction of the school was given to Mr. R. V. West of Roswell.

If the school was built of the hopes and dreams of the people, it was also built by the brawn, sweat, and hard work of the crew of men who labored during the hot summer months to construct it. To the contractor it was not just another piece of construction to supervise—it had in it the cherished desires of the people whose homes he saw scattered up and down the highways, along the river bank, and back on ranches out of sight. Toward the realization of these wishes, he bent every effort. He was never too busy to stop to explain the structure to many who stopped by. There were some with their cheeks who said that the building would never be ready by September.

But now its completion is no longer a matter of speculation. Almost a month ahead of schedule, the Hondo Valley Union High School will open its doors to the students. An expression of appreciation goes to Mr. West, the contractor, and to the business firms that have put forth their efforts to see the completion—Purdy's Electric Company, J. W. Jones Plumbing Company, Groslocke and Harper, and the Hamilton Roofing Company, all of Roswell and Sacra Brothers Company of Ruidoso. Each had its part in the transition of the dream to reality. There are thanks due Mr. Albert Kimbrell and Mr. Ignacio Torres, present members of the high school board, who took office early in the spring of 1948 and have done a great deal to assist. There are thanks due to Mr. Fred McTelgue who served on the high school board for a time and also to the members of the different local members of the valley, as well as to all of the taxpayers who voted the bonds.

On Sunday, September 26, Superintendent Rose will come to Hondo to speak at the dedication ceremonies. On September 27, the doors will be opened by Mike Maes, who has been chosen as janitor, and 76 high school students, led by 16 seniors, will file proudly inside the building.

Superintendent Montes and his faculty, Mr. Vernon Allen, principal, Mr. Emmet McBride, Mrs. Ruby R. Douglass, Mrs. Nan Moberly, and Mr. Laird Dunbar will meet their classes, thus ringing down the final curtain on the efforts and dreams of a determined people. The Hondo Valley Union High School is now a reality.

DOWN MY LANE

(By The Vagabond)

ADIOS TO AN AMIGO

The Old Timer, mentioned many times in my column, is gone. No more will he walk the dusty lane in the summer heat and wintry winds. His well-known figure traversing the lane was a part of that familiar procession which passes to and fro daily, over the bridge to homes nestled peacefully along the banks of the Ruidoso.

No more will the chips fly from the log as he swings his ax whose blade cuts deeply into the juniper and pino. His aim was steady and his mark was true, and the thoughts of the yawning cook-stove door made him hurl the implement even more viciously, pausing occasionally to tilt back his hat and gaze absently at the valley receding in the distance. Always there was wood to be cut, but always there was satisfaction in contemplating the good food to be prepared on the stove in the bright, cheerful kitchen. No one could cook his frijoles and tortillas so well as his esposa, and there was always such an inviting welcome in comfortable warmth of the wood stove on the cold days that chilled him to his very marrow. Yes, there had always been wood to cut; he could not remember the day when this had not been so.

No more will the sun beat down on him as he kneels in his little garden to irrigate the chile and other vegetables. The happiest time of the day was in the evening when he could go out to work in the soil he loved so much. No money could have bought from him his little patch of ground with its windmill, which he patiently repaired so many times, and the clean, white adobe house that he and his help-mate had built. There had been some lean times back in those days, and they had lived one cold winter in a tent at Santa Fe while he worked for the highway and earned money to finish his home.

No more will he sit in his yard in the cool of the summer evening after the sun sinks down behind the hills and look at the stars reaching down until they seem to meet the top of the woodpile. A hard day's work brought contentment and repose, and he was glad to rest while the music of the rippling Ruidoso lulled his tired senses. Nothing marred the quiet of the scene except the distant sound of cars speeding along the busy highway. But this was muffled and unobtrusive in his little world of peace and tranquility.

I shall miss the Old Timer very much. He was the source of many things of the past related in my column. I shall miss the stories of his boyhood days in Lincoln County that he would recount as he sat on the wood box, knee drawn up against his chest and the other leg swinging from the box, with his hands ever busy gesticulating. The gaiety of his mood could always be determined by the angle of his Stetson, which he wore at all times except when ate and slept. Pipe and sombrero were as much a part of him as the merry twinkle of his eye as he related an amusing story, such as the one about the two brothers.

It seemed that of these two hermanos, one kept his place immaculately clean and went to all the trouble of putting his farm tools and implements in the barn when he was through with them. His ranchito was a model of excellence in cleanliness and order. The other was mannana-minded, and his farm machinery stood where he last used it. His little farm looked as if a cyclone had struck it. Poetic justice, or any other kind you wish to call it, broke down entirely in this story, for one night a fire destroyed the barn of the orderly brother. All within it was lost, and it was ever the boast of the shiftless one thereafter, "Don't you see it does not pay to work so hard and put all you have under a single roof? Did not my industrious brother do so and lose everything?" The Old Timer chuckled long over this unfair twist of fate and cast a mischievous and meaningful look at his wife. Somehow this story, which seemed an obvious moral, seemed to illustrate a bit of his own private and personal philosophy.

The Old Timer died with his boots on. He would have wanted it that way. He lived many years of his life in a rugged, struggling territory where there was little place for a man who could not hold his own with others. To have been forced to nurse carefully an old "ticker" that he already sounded some solemn warnings in recent months would have been revolting to his active and vigorous body that had known so many years of hard work of all kinds. He would have scorned an existence that would have made an invalid of him.

The Old Timer was a true friend to me and many others. He had away of doing the unexpected thing to show his friendship, little things that others perhaps, wouldn't notice or think of. Maybe it was a visit to a sick neighbor's woodpile to chop some wood, or even bringing a whole load of it and dumping it in his back yard. Or perhaps it was like my return by bus to my lane from the East this summer at a late hour. It was his flashlight that guided me over the logs of the dam, for our bridge was gone. And it was his willing arm that carried my

SAN PATRICIO SENTINEL

NELLIE RUTH LUCAS

The San Patricio students who attend the Hondo Valley Union High School are quite thrilled about moving into the new building. Jesse Gallego is opening up a cafe to feed us hamburgers and cokes. The new building is one of the best constructed and best looking buildings in this section of the state.

Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Bonnell of Glencoe were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Babers Wednesday evening for an enchilada supper.

heavy luggage the length of the lane.

A schoolmaster said to me of him: "He was an unusual man of fine type and gentlemanly manner. He had respect for all worthwhile things. He appreciated the church, the school, and the community. He was good natured and had a keen sense of humor. He appreciated others and put himself out day or night to help folks in need. Maybe in his last hours of work he was doing just that."

I can think of no finer words than those to express a farewell to a friend, and that is exactly what he was doing his last hours on earth. It was while the Old Timer was helping the other men down my lane construct a new bridge that he suffered a collapse and died a few hours later.

Ortiz Has Shop In Carrizozo

MESCALERO INDIAN CALL

BY VIRGINIA KLINKOLE
Juanito Via, our former plumber's assistant, is now taking vocational training in the National Training School, in Kansas City, Mo.

Employees Club was the scene of a bridge-desert party a week ago tonight at 7:30 where Mrs. Orval Wall and Mrs. William Magoosh met with Mr. Henry Wehlofen, an attorney from Washington, D. C., and Mr. R. Mobley, to discuss the Apache Claims commission, last week.

Word has been received that Christie LaPaz is serving in the Armed Forces in Hawaiian Islands, and is enjoying his service.

Supt. John O. Crow spent three days in Albuquerque last week on business.

Former agricultural agent at this agency, Hal D. Yoder, and now residing in Roswell, was a business visitor at the agency last Thursday.

Juan Baldonado, Jr., attended a dinner given in honor of Manuel Lejan, nominee for State Governor and Mr. Herman Baca, running for State Congressman in Alamosordo last week. Republican publicity man, Mr. Benton, was also in attendance.

Everyone is always happy to see Mr. George Wells visit our agency. He holds position as Regional Educational Supervisor, in Phoenix, and was on the campus several days last week.

Mr. C. Deveau accompanied

Frank LaPaz, Bernard Little and Eric Tortilla to Three Rivers to once again investigate the water situation.

A delicious lunch was served by Mrs. R. Ten Haken, Mrs. H. Tebeest, B. Kazhe, W. Magoosh, E. Yuzza, A. Yulay and E. Washington between the store and postoffice last Wednesday noon. Proceeds were for the Dutch Reformed Mission.

Mr. C. L. Sonnichsen from the College of Mines, El Paso, spent one whole day at the agency office last week writing an article on the Apache Indians.

Field Nurse Ritter was involved in a car accident near Carrizo Day School last Wednesday. The 1947 Ford which Mr. Crow used to drive is badly torn up, but fortunately, Miss Ritter was not seriously hurt.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Little are proud parents of a baby girl, born at the Mescalero Hospital on September 13.

Our sincere sympathy goes to Mr. and Mrs. Richard Magoosh who lost a baby girl last Sunday morning. Funeral services were held at the Dutch Reformed Church the same day.

(Ruidoso News wishes to correct the error in the name of Evelyn Pellman, secretary to the business council of the Mescalero Tribe. The paper printed it as Virginia Pellman, which name was given to us when we asked for their information.)

Crop Report Shows Gains In State

Rainfall during August was possibly below normal for the State but was sufficient in the important non-irrigated farming counties to improve the production prospects from estimates of a month ago. Estimates of production as of September 1 were increased over last month for spring wheat, barley, broomcorn, potatoes, peanuts, alfalfa hay and apples while no changes were made for corn, sorghums for grain, wild hay and peaches and decreases for oats and dry beans. Production this year is above 1947 for all crops except oats, potatoes, peanuts and hay crops. Crop production this year promises to be the best in four years due to more rainfall being greater than for the past three dry years. Late August rainfall was very light and reduced prospects for fall and winter range feed but there was sufficient moisture in the important winter wheat producing counties for seeding fall acreage.

From indications around September 1 the 1948 corn production is estimated at 2,220,000 bushels, the same as was estimated last month and 1,904,000 bushels last year. Early August rainfall was of some benefit to the corn on non-irrigated farms, but dry hot weather during the latter part of the month depleted considerable soil moisture.

The spring wheat crop as of September 1 is estimated at 432,000 bushels which is about 45 per cent above last year's production of 300,000 bushels and also considerably larger than the 10-year average (1937-46) of 288,000 bushels.

The oats crops for 1948 is estimated at 704,000 bushels which is less than last month's estimate and also below the 1947 production of 708,000 bushels.

The New Mexico barley crop is estimated to produce 846,000 bushels which is one of the largest barley crops in recent years and well above last year's production of 702,000 bushels. The indicated yield per acre is 22.0 bushels compared with 19.5 bushels last year.

The estimate of New Mexico production of dry beans is 507,000 bags, a reduction from last month but about 85 per cent above the 1947 production of 273,000 bags but below the 10-year average (1937-46) production of 676,000 bags. Hot dry weather during August produced prospects in some of the non-irrigated production areas.

Letter To Editor

Bunt and I have been celebrating our 30th anniversary by traveling leisurely thru 9 of these western states and so far have found nothing that is prettier or nicer than old Ruidoso. Taking into consideration that most Ruidoso units have kitchens with cooking facilities prices on accommodations are not as high as they are in several states. We are visiting friends here in the Rockies among the blue spruce and will be until after hunting season, so send our paper to Box 84, Durango, Colo., so we can see what is going on at home.

Regards to all the canyon.

The New Mexico Weekly Newsletter

Dr. G. Ward Finley

Every now and then — when I think my wife won't see this koin — I have to take a swing or so at the follies of feminine nature.

It's not that I'm allergic to women but simply that — well they do and say such crazy things.

Take For Instance
An El Paso woman phoned the

State Shorts

FLOCKING IN
Lovington — Realtors are adding new personnel in their offices, and are apparently getting ready to do a landoffice business. The opening of the new irrigated agricultural district has brought many new people to Lea County and many more are expected.

GARBAGE PROBLEM
Springer — Considerable discussion was had by the town board last Friday night of an ordinance which will provide for garbage and refuse disposal in Springer. While it was the consensus of the town officials that something should be done in this direction, there is no clear opinion as to just what factors such an ordinance should cover. Mayor Garlison said that the town officers were hopeful of being able to enact an ordinance, within a few weeks which would keep the municipality clean, and at little cost to the residents.

MELONS GET PUSH
Tucumcari — When the members of the Amarillo Rotary club were advised that the cantaloupes being served to them at a recent meeting were gifts from the Tucumcari Lions club it was only a matter of minutes until the Amarillo Lions heard of the deal. The Amarillo Lions threatened injunctions and other drastic action, however, the publicity gained for Tucumcari melons paid off when the president of the Panhandle Fruit Co., a member of the Rotary club in Amarillo, said his trucks would be in Tucumcari daily to haul away 10,000 pounds of the melons each trip until the season was over.

DIDN'T GET AWAY
Hot Springs — Have you ever landed a 48 pound fish with an ordinary casting rod and reel? S. J. Duncan and Glen Thomas, Hot Springs residents, were fishing in the upper lake near old Fort Craig recently when Duncan hooked what he thought was the nemesis of Jonah, but what turned out to be a 48 pound catfish, Jerry Murphy, also of Hot Springs, landed a 38 pound cat near San Marcial. Several 15 pounders have been caught recently by local fishermen.

DEEP WILDCATS
Artesia — Two new deep test wildcats were rigging up big rotaries about 25 miles west and a little north of Artesia. Both are scheduled to drill to granite unless production is obtained at a lesser depth. Although both wells are in Chaves County, it is expected to have a great influence on the oil industry here if either or both should strike pay.

WHY LAMBS EAT WOOL
Wool eating is a form of depraved appetite in young lambs that leads to formation in the stomach of dirt - and - wool balls, and death sometimes results. According to veterinary authorities, lack of necessary minerals, especially phosphorus, may be a major causative factor, since wool eating rarely occurs among pasture-reared lambs from well-nourished mothers.

Times last week griping about Gov. Dewey's attempts to appear taller.

Said this dame: 'I don't like small men. They are bossy, impossible to work for; fussy about details, dictatorial toward women, and have an inferiority complex.'

Continued the dame: 'Take Napoleon. He wasn't even a good general. He was as shortsighted as he was short of stature. The Duke of Wellington who defeated him was a big man.'

Sour Grapes
I'll bet ten to one, it was a case of sour grapes with this Texas lady. She probably wanted to become president. I agree with Johnny Desmond of the Milwaukee Journal who said: 'A woman can't become president because when a woman throws her hat in the ring, by the time people recognize what it is, the election is over.'

And personally I resent such chatter about a man of Dewey's caliber. Being rather on the below average height, it has been somewhat of a personal gripe to have my six-foot, three-inch, 180-pound son look down at me and say: 'Daddy, why don't you eat your spinach and grow up to be a man like your son?'

And Other Things Feminine

Women are such impractical creatures. Take, for example, the Clovis Journal's yarn about the wife of the high school basketball coach. Her husband left her to finish drilling in a batch of wheat. Husband Bill returned later to find Bonnie had finished the job. The only trouble was she had drilled in most of the field with an empty seed box! And always waiting until the last minute, they get into super jams. Dr. Harriet Smith, new instructor in modern languages at Silver City Teachers College, found her last minute plane from Europe grounded. She reported late and out of breath for the first class.

Perfume and Chocolate Ecstasies
Some folks just have a hankering for that feminine smell. Harry Haselby, pressman for the Roswell Dispatch is one of the culprits.

Last week, Roswellites were astonished at the scent of the morning paper after Harry had mixed a bottle of "Evening in Paris" perfume in the ink fountain. Editor McEvoy expects every morning now to drop into the composing room and find lace panties adorning the linotype machines.

Besides all that, men can usually beat women at their own game. Odell Webb and Donald Clark, East Side New Mexico 4 H'ers, beat the bobby sox off all girls entered in the muffin and cookie contest at Pleasant Hill.

The Last Word
And this is a good word for the ladies. Orchids to a sweet little ole Ohio lady tourist who diastranged a small Las Cruces boy last week when his pants leg got caught in the sprocket of his bicycle and ditched him with the bicycle on top.

Also, a nice bunch of sweet peas to Helen Hittson, formerly of Tucumcari, for her nationwide drive to encourage careful,

And In Conclusion.
That's all this week except to remind you that politicians along with the fair are making life in Albuquerque a fast and furious proposition this week.

First off, Governor Warren spoke last Saturday night in the University stadium, Governor Tom Dewey held forth in the University gymnasium on Wednesday.

Everything went off much smoother than the reported appearance of Henry Agaard Wallace at Taos. From the Raton Range account, while Wallace was smiling his best presidential smile, a Wallace enthusiast just simply had to sneeze.

A candid camera caught the smile with the other guy holding his nose. Don't look now, says the Raton Range, but somebody shipped the picture off to Life Magazine.

EXPORT LICENSES

Export licenses are no longer required for shipments of wheat, wheat flour, grain and sorghum, oats, wheat semolina and barley to the Philippines and to countries in the Western Hemisphere, according to an announcement by the Commerce Department. Removal of these licenses was made possible by the easing in domestic supplies of these commodities.

STORAGE SHORTAGE

A serious shortage of storage facilities threatens the farmers of the nation with the loss of millions of dollars in income this year, according to the Agricultural Department, which estimates the storage at about 1,000,000,000 bushels. It is most acute in the corn belt, where 3,500,000,000 bushels of this grain alone are nearing harvest.
