PRICE: FIVE CENTS

As I See It

By Lloyd P. Bloodworth.

For many years I have been directing tourist business as a chamber of commerce official, but in all this time I have had only one side of the picture. Since I am returning to the tourist development business I thought it would be a good idea to hit the road and get first hand information.

I think too, it is good for everyone to take a vacation. Ida and I have been married more than half my life. We have both traveled far and wide but in all these years we have never taken a real vacation, so we decided to load up the car and go to far away places.

This column is being written from the office of Paul Tooley, publisher of the Hot Springs Herald. Paul and his wife know that I am in the way but are to polite to throw me out. He said it would be all right if I would say something nice about Hot Springs. Anyone who has ever visited this place would have to say something nice. Have not seen Burton Roach yet but will call by before we leave town.

We will stop tonight at Gallup where it will be good to visit with Frank McCarty and other friends. Tomorrow we will head toward Salt Lake City and after a day or so there will go to Yellowstone Park. In all my travels I have never visited Yellowstone but have longed for the time when I could. After our visit to the park we will turn our car toward Spokane, Washington. A short stop will be made at Coeur d'Alene, Idaho where our daughter's husband was stationed at Camp Farragut during the war. They tell me that this is one of the most beautiful spots on the continent.

After leaving Spokane we will drop down to Portland to visit with my brother and his family for a few days. It is possible that Joe and Maude will accompany us to Seattle and perhaps into Canada. Joe has lived in Portland twenty-five years and thinks the Northwest is the best part of the United States. He has reared a fine family and has done well for himself in a material way. As I now remember this will be the fourth time I have seen Joe in the past twenty years. We are all that is left of a family of six and if for no other reason I would gladly make the trip just to see him again. He is a fisherman and promises that we will get some full catches. Ida is so thrilled that she is planning to can a hundred pints of salmon to bring back.

After our stay in the Northwest we will return down the coast line to San Francisco. We will likely visit Reno and Las Vegas. I have always heard that it is easy to lose your wife in Reno and your money in Las Vegas. Ida says she will refuse to stay in Reno and by that time our money will be gone. At any rate it will be interesting to see these much publicized places in operation.

These columns will be filled from different places each week and we will try to give an interesting account of our first honeymoon. Just a little delayed but perhaps better than never. Great Northwest, Here We Come.

Jackie Peterson was in Alamogordo last Sunday to attend the dinner given to raise funds for the beginning operation of the Gerald Champion Memorial Hospital.

"Frontier Days" Begin Here Today

Parade, Rodeo To Start Three Day Celebration

The phone at the Ruidoso Chamber of Commerce has been ringing day and night for the past week as people call in for reservations and cowboys call in to enter events to be here for "Frontier Days" which starts today at 11 a.m. with the big parade.

The parade will form at Montie's Riding Stables and all floats and riders should be there by 10:30 a.m. It will proceed all the way down the canyon. Those working on this part of the celebration promise that this parade is going to be an eye opener and really show what Ruidoso can do.

Floats, Indians in native dress from Mescalero, Fiesta dancers from the Ruidoso-Hondo Valley, the Mounted Patrol from Carrizozo, beautiful girls in beautiful Western suits on horseback, the cowboys entered in the rodeo will make Ruidoso seem to really be the frontier town entertainment will depict during this weekend.

Street dancing is planned for each night by different groups including local square dancers in their lovely costumes.

The rodeo will start promptly at 2 p.m. at the Hollywood Park Arena all three days, Friday, Saturday and Sunday. Today all business houses will close from 1 p.m. until after the big show and everyone is urged to go. Tickets and programs are on sale at most of the business houses in the canyon at the Chamber of Commerce office.

Monday and Tuesday of this week a caravan headed by Louis Spain and including cars taken by Bob Boyce, Spencer Peterson, Ted Bonnell, Ezell Clarke, J. M. Fowler, Sandy Knoll, Bill Hart, Orland Bonoguide, Raymond Buckner left Ruidoso to make a tour which included Roswell, Artesia, Carlsbad, El Paso, Las Cruces, Alamogordo, and Tularosa.

The cars were decorated with Frontier Days advertising and banners.

The local color for the caravan, which gathered the crowds at every stop was provided by Ray Reed and his Western Band and a group of colorfully costumed dancers from the Mescalero Apache Indian Reservation, and a group of girls from Ruidoso in Western attire including the two candidates for Queen of the Rodeo, Mary McClendon and Helen Barajas.

In Carlsbad Joe Welch, owner of Silver Spur Night Club in that city and an ex-rodeo star, was Benefit Dance!

Friday, August 5, there will be a benefit dance in San Patricio, N. M. Scott Hages and his orchestra will be on hand for the music. Admission is fifty cents per person. Dancing will start at 8 p.m. The proceeds of the dance will go toward plastering and painting the Catholic Church in San Patricio. Everyone is welcome.

"Billy The Kid" To Escape On Sheriff's Horse

According to the story of the pageant to be presented by a volunteer cast of Lincoln County residents when Billy the Kid makes his last escape on August 14th, he rides away on a horse belonging to the sheriff of the town.

Almost every night this week practices have been going on over at Lincoln Town, with everyone feeling definite improvement in every phase of the presentation from time to time as Mrs. Ruby Douglas and Mrs. Caroline Davis, directors, whip the entire production into shape.

The Ruidoso Lions Club took over the ticket sale for the Lincoln County Historical Society and are being assisted by various other Lions Clubs in the area in this campaign.

Also interested in the pageant is the Ruidoso Chamber of Commerce, the Carrizozo Chamber of Commerce and the Capitan group which realize that every community in Lincoln County has a vital interest in the success of "A Day in Old Lincoln"

Some of those taking part in the play are Virginia Guest, Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Thomas and children, Owen Nosker, Kenneth Nosker, Irene Nosker, Ralph Bonnell, Tom Babers, Bill Babers, Louise Babers, Dan Storm, Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Ferguson and sons, John Davis, Nelle Ruth Lucas, Betty Lou Taylor, Le Roy McKnight, Wilbur Coe, Louise Coe, Mr. and Mrs. Ramon Maes and daughter Priscilla, A. Salas and others from several communities in Lincoln County.

PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS, the celebration to be known as the "First Annual Frontier Days" begins Friday, August 5th, 1949, in Ruidoso, N. M., and continues through Sunday, August 7th.

NOW THEREFORE, I, Ike Wingfield, Mayor of the Village of Ruidoso, N. M., do declare this day, Friday, August 5th, that all business houses are requested to close their doors at 1 p. m. and remain closed until 4 p. m. so that every man, woman or child, can attend the first performance of the rodeo at Hollywood Park.

On this day I also ask that all local citizens take part in as many of the activities planned this weekend as possible beginning with the parade at 11 a. m. today, August 5th, and continuing through the last performance of the rodeo Sunday afternoon, and do also ask that western wear be the costume of all.

Passed and approved this 5th day of August, 1949.

IKE WINGFIELD, Mayor.

Firemen's Ball Saturday Night

The Annual Firemen's Ball of the Ruidoso Volunteer Fire Department is scheduled for tomorrow night, August 6th, at the Ruidoso Gymnasium. Admission for the dance will be $1.00 per person and a good Western band from Alamogordo, the same one they had last year, will make the music.

Joe Dryden, City Clerk, said "We are really counting big on everyone supporting this dance and buying tickets, or if they don't care to go to the dance making donations to the department. You see we are trying to build a new fire house for our fine equipment. The Village has purchased the lot next door to the city hall building. We hope to get fire participation money from the state to help with the building but every penny raised here counts too."

The Buyer's Market

We hear much these days of the return of the "buyer's market". The most apparent effects of it are found in more progressive selling effort by both manufacturers and retailers, and in lower prices in many lines. We are told, with accuracy, that this is the way competition works in our supply-and-demand economy.

The old cross-roads exposition of a generation or so ago marked the nearest approach to monopoly in merchandising. It was a long trip to the next town, and local consumers had to be satisfied with what goods they were offered and the prices charged.

Then the automobile and good roads gave us greater mobility. We could and did shop about if we were dissatisfied. More and more stores came into being. The early chain systems pioneered a new and almost revolutionary idea, the idea being to lower the profit made on each sale, and to earn an adequate total profit by increasing the volume of business and speeding up the turnover of stock. The independent stores, faced with chain competition, followed the trend. They brought new and successful ideas of their own into play.

Today the typical American community is a true reflection of the competitive system. Along Main Street are the chains, the independents, the variety shops—stores of every kind. Each is out to attract more customers—with better advertising, wider stocks, reasonable prices, improved service, more exciting styles, or some other inducement. That is what the "buyer's market" means.

Life in the United States, is not what the society and theoretically-minded people think and do.

One of these days everything will be known but we do not expect to be around for the revelation.

Quit Kicking!

According to some experts, the present downturn in business has been stimulated by the wait-and-see attitude of many consumers. It is probable that if we also been encouraged by that considerable group who simply feel that prices are higher than they should be and refuse to make avoidable purchases until they come down. These attitudes are far from logical and sensible as they sound. For one thing, they obstruct the normal functioning of supply and demand and inhibit needed production.

As far as prices go, who can judge a fair price under existing conditions? Rare is the farmer who is ready to concede that he is getting too much money for his product. The same is true of manufacturers and distributors of virtually every necessity and luxury, and where is the workman who would advocate a wage cut? It is folly for anyone to establish in his mind an arbitrary conception of a fair price—on the other fellow's goods.

Many businesses nowadays are operating on a thin margin of profit. One observer, commenting on the recent experience of the textile manufacturers, pointed out that "they concluded everything was too high in price and, urged on by the constant necessity of orders to run 24 hours a day, they have consistently and progressively cut away their profit. Today—almost profitless—they still seek to run 24 hours a day." Probably some people are still waiting for the price of textile goods to get down to a "reasonable" level before they buy.

The retail distribution industry is another that is operating on an extremely thin margin—its profits depend on efficient operation and volume. The annual statements of companies in all lines tell the same story. Survival depends on volume.

In really the United States at this moment is nearer to production-for-use under the capitalistic "profit" system than communism, socialism or any other theoretical social scheme could ever hope to achieve. The proof of this is all around us. Countless millions of cars, telephones, washing machines, gadgets, and abundance without end testify to the capacity of this country to fill the material desires of the people—at a price the people can pay.

So why sit around in morbid curiosity waiting to see if things are going to get? This country is going ahead, come what may. As far as price goes you are getting your money's worth, and American productive genius and science have made available the greatest selection of goods for your use in the history of the world. So quit kicking, and try to quit worrying.

Letters to the News

The following letter was received by Mrs. Ida Bloodworth, and evidently Bob didn't know that The Ruidoso News had been sold, but we are going to start sending it to him so he can better keep up with the place he is home-sick for.

Dear Mrs. Bloodworth:

"Undoubtedly you won't remember me, as you know very little of me, so I will endeavor to remind you of myself. I was a senior in the class of 1942. I played the part of Harry in the class play, opposite Mary Glenda Shock. I sang a series of Al Jolson numbers in the 'How Wow', and repeated the performance (?) at a later date, during the inaugural senior banquet which we held at Nob Hill. Probably you won't even remember these events, but I want you to always remember the gratitude of the senior class for whom you worked so hard to give a happy send-off. I shall always hold the prom and senior trip and all of those banquets as very dear to my heart.

When I got home from the trip, I joined the Navy. Little did I realize how far away from my old home I would be taken, and how I would miss it. As I was sitting, longing for the old hills of home, remembering all of the sweet gatherings of my friends there, I suddenly remembered a statement made by you at one of our banquets. I believe you said that each graduate of that class would be entitled to one year's subscription of The Ruidoso News. I may be mistaken about this, but at any rate I want to subscribe for the paper for a year if I may. How wonderful it would be to be able to know the news of my home town without having to depend on a few to write it in letters which come far too seldom. I don't know how much a year's subscription would cost, but there would be no end of my appreciation, if you would but start sending copies to me here in Japan. Whatever the cost, I'm positive that I'll be willing to meet it. I have been gone far too long now, and know far too little of what's up at home, to be near satisfied. Therefore, I needn't tell you how much prompt action would be appreciated in this matter.

Sincerely yours,

Another Democrat was brought into the world on Wednesday, July 27th when Dr. I. J. Marshall of Roswell delivered a baby girl to be named Linda Lee to Mrs. Carl E. Ness, wife of the Chairman of the Democratic Central Committee of Lincoln County. Dr. Marshall had to perform a Caesarian resection and it is well to be able to report that both the mother and baby are doing fine.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed White with Ethlyn and Jerry were Roswell visitors on Saturday.

Mr. John D. Rainey with his wife and two children came over from Globe, Arizona to visit his father and mother, Rev. and Mrs. O. J. Rainey. After a couple of days here they made the trip to Albuquerque and Santa Fe. Mrs. O. J. Rainey stopped off in Albuquerque and visited with her daughter, Elizabeth who is attending summer school at the University. Rev. Rainey went on to Ham Springs, N. M. where a four day retreat was being held for clergy.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Phillips spent the weekend with the Ray Bakers.

The three little children of Dr. David Cooper, the new dentist got right into the scheme of things here and were all having a good time in the play pens on the lawn. Altitude, latitude or longitude does not seem to make any difference to kiddies.

A letter from Clovis brought the news that there will be a big delegation from the Curry County City at "The Day in Old Lincoln."

Dick Cordes was discharged last Friday, he has made connections with one of the automobile distributors in Albuquerque.

Mrs. Sutton and Miss Fletcher took Eve Harmon to Roswell on Sunday where she took off by plane for New Orleans.

Dr. Raymond Mitchell, Steve Teleky and yours truly, were over to Lincoln last Thursday night to see the first tryout of the play, "The Last Escape of Billy the Kid." Everyone seemed to get into the spirit of the old times as they will be visualized in the finished play. "Red" Ramey made some real cowboy coffee and Mrs. Bert Bonnell brought forth one of her wonderful cake creations. To me, it looked as if Virginia Guest was the "Toast" of the night.

Rev. and Mrs. Harry Webb of the Capitan Methodist Church were at the Fort for a visit on Sunday. They were supper guests of the Mitchells.

In one hour last Thursday between 2:00 and 3:00 p.m. 1.46 inches of rain fell, this of course included some fair sized hail.

Here's hoping that the Frontier Days Rodeo at Ruidoso will be a huge success and in case you might forget, the dates are August 5-6-7.

Another hope is that all the tickets printed for the "Day in Old Lincoln" will be sold and others have to be ordered.

Sunday where she took off by plane for New Orleans.

Dr. Raymond Mitchell, Steve Teleky and yours truly, were over to Lincoln last Thursday night to see the first tryout of the play, "The Last Escape of Billy the Kid." Everyone seemed to get into the spirit of the old-times as they will be visualized in the finished play. "Red" Ramey made some real cowboy coffee and Mrs. Bert Bonnell brought forth one of her wonderful cake creations. To me, it looked as if Virginia Guest was the "Toast" of the night.

Rev. and Mrs. Harry Webb of the Capitan Methodist Church were at the Fort for a visit on Sunday. They were supper guests of the Mitchells.

In one hour last Thursday between 2:00 and 3:00 p.m. 1.46 inches of rain fell, this of course included some fair sized hail.

Here's hoping that the Frontier Days Rodeo at Ruidoso will be a huge success and in case you might forget, the dates are August 5-6-7.

Another hope is that all the tickets printed for the "Day in Old Lincoln" will be sold and others have to be ordered.

If you want to know how much your hens are costing you for every dozen eggs they lay, multiply the average number of pounds of feed the flock is eating each day by the price of feed a pound, then divide by the number of dozens of eggs laid daily.

GLENCOE GLANCES

By Sydney Bonnell

Mr. B. J. Bonnell made a trip to Portales to visit his friend Abb French and while there attended a Lion's Club meeting and met many old friends. Returned home Thursday.

Mrs. J. V. Tully Sr. returned Wednesday, in time to enjoy the Extension Club meeting at Mrs. Wade King's home in Green Tree. She had visited her sister, Mrs. Paul Mayer in Carrizozo and attended the Nogal-Mesa Camp meeting for two days, then to Alamogordo to visit her daughter, Mrs. Murry Morgan and son Kivas, then to Tularosa to visit her sister, Mrs. Felix Miller and was brought home by her nephew and niece, Mr. and Mrs. Gilmore.

Mrs. Robinson and Mrs. Brink Randle of Placcho came by for us to see the new baby, Martha Ray, she is a very pretty, happy baby.

Tuesday evening Penny McKnight was thrown from the calf he was riding and broke two bones in his wrist. The doctor put it in a splint and let him come home, with the promise to come back in a few days to see if it was setting correctly. He was very brave about it and still determined to ride those wild Brahma bulls some day.

The bridge across the Ruidoso at Perry's is nearing completion.

We are happy to have Leoata

Pfingsten home again after her visit to McCreary Hospital in Excelsior Springs, Mo. She and her mother, Mrs. Bradford were over this way Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Ellis and children, of Santa Maria, California have returned to their home after a very pleasant visit with Mr. and Mrs. Herman Ellis.

The Extension Club met at Mrs. Wade King's home in Green Tree, Wednesday. It was a very interesting meeting. Miss Broyle from State College held a questionnaire and demonstration on Ladies' clothes, styles, materials and how to buy. The luncheon table was covered with a lace cloth and an unique bowl of flowers, with a Darkey figure fishing out of the second bowl, filled with fried chicken, pretty salads, vegetables, cakes and pies, with coffee and iced tea was the menu, served at different tables. Fifteen ladies present. The August meeting is to be a flower show, held at the Glencoe Club house and luncheon at Mrs. Bonnells, with invited guests from Roswell, Corona, Carrizozo, Capitan, Ruidoso, Mes-calero and valley. Mrs. Glover of Roswell will be guest speaker and a picture show promised.

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Clarke, of El Paso are spending a few days at Bonnell Ranch and Ruidoso.

As Kenneth Nosker came in for a landing at the field, Thursday, the brakes on the plane locked and the plane nose-dived and turned over. Thankful to say, Kenneth was not hurt and with a few minor repairs to the plane, will be ready to go again. Kenneth has a wonderful record, after all the over seas flying of big transports and his years here at home, this is the first near accident he has had. Want this carefulness and good luck to continue.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Coe and Richard Parker was at the Navajo dance.

Mr. and Mrs. Morris Callahan, of Silver Springs, invited us to their home for dinner Sunday, the scenery is grand out that way and after a very interesting trip, we reached their place. Mrs. Callahan had prepared a bounteous dinner, which she served in the School kitchen to a number of guests and several that were invited failed to get there and they missed a delightful day. Among those present was Mr. and Mrs. Young and children and Mr. and Mrs. Manire and children of Mes-calero, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Parsons and daughter of Ruidoso. Mrs. Tittsworth, Mr. Bonnell and myself.

Morris, Eleanor and Linda McClendon came home for a short visit.

Miss Gladys Allison was up this week end, returning Sunday evening.

Mrs. Peggy Wigley Wilson was visiting Irene Nosker, Sunday.

MESCALERO INDIAN CALL

By Edna Shields

Mrs. Deveau's aunt, Miss Eola Donavent of Chanute, Kansas, came Monday of last week, on the Imperial, to visit and rest.

Mrs. Juan Baldonado's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lee of Lubbock visited last week.

Don't know whether Mr. Bruenger was on the manhunt for the escaped convicts or not, but he and Mr. Quast and Witch Mendez went hunting Bert Shields who forgot to come down off Black Mountain. On the Convict hunt, Mr. Albert LaRose, Botone, and Cordrey, just about had to be hunted themselves. They ran out of gas at Wofford Tower and walked to Elk Springs.

Mrs. Quast and Mrs. Helberg, Mrs. Cordrey's mother, drove to Alamo Wednesday.

Mr. Sarlin was in Albuquerque Wednesday and Thursday.

Visiting the Jesse Campbells last week were, the Cisnes, the Landries, the Clarence Walkers of Presidio, Texas, the Bill Parkers of Alamogordo, the former Fern Hickson and her husband of El Paso, Mrs. Garfield, and the Carrells.

Mr. John Hall drove up Nogal Canyon and stopped for a chat with Bob Lee. While there he enjoyed seeing an old, school mate, Mr. Lon Lumbley, now of Artesia.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul (Carmen) Brusuelas are running the Big Chief Cafe, and will serve steaks, chicken in the basket, and excellent Mexican dishes.

Young "Pinky" Smith had an operation at the Albuquerque Indian Hospital, and his mother, Martina Smith is remaining there for awhile under observation.

Youngsters are having a time this summer. Lea LaRose, Johnnie Bruenger, Phil LaCourse and Polly Sarlin have all had various baffling symptoms. A Bumble Bee "bumbled on" Karen Ernst, but proved more frightening than painful.

The stork shower for Leeta (Mrs. Art) Blazer, given at the Jesse Campbell home was a very nice affair. The hostesses gave Leeta a pretty bassinet, filled, of course, with the gifts of friends. Games were played, and delicious chicken salad was served.

Somehow, inadvertently, no doubt, Mrs. Gayton's name was left out of our last week's account of our hospital staff. This won't do, because we are especially proud of Mrs. Gayton, Narcissus Duffy to old timers. She is one of the little girls who went away and made good—a full-fledged professional nurse come home to serve among her people.

Miss Wilma Turner, niece of Mrs. Stanley McNatt, is visiting from Ysleta, Texas.

Saw DaVerne Torres, all dressed up in his uniform, reporting back to his job with the Navy, after a nice long furlough here.

The Deveaus are driving a shiny new four door green Chevy sedan. We still see the old white one around—maybe Jackie will fall heir to that.

Mrs. Sarlin's brother, Mr. Warren Leyde flew in Sunday eve from Seattle, Wash.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley McNatt attended the Aggie dinner at Yucca Inn in Alamo Friday night, 29th, where Prof. "Dad" Jett from State College was in attendance. The McNatts have enjoyed company, Mrs. H. L. Kent of Austin, Texas and daughter, Mrs. Thomas R. Taggart and children of Barksdalefield, La. Also Capt. and Mrs. Oren Wingfield and daughter on their way to Fort Knox, Ken., just returned from Germany.

Does anyone need more jars for canning, quarts and half gallons? My family having flown the nest, leaves less canning to do, so would be happy to give quite a number of jars to anyone would like to have them.

Speaking of getting things done, following is an account by Mr. Juan Baldonado Jr., Commander of Legion Post 48, Mesclero: He, Supt. Crow, Chief Clerk LaCourse, Mr. Botone, Mr.

Percy and Mr. Juanito Via, recently drove to Albuquerque and on to Santa Fe, where they conferred with Gov. Mabry for an hour, with the result that Oct. 15 will be proclaimed Geronimo Memorial Day, which all Legion Posts in New Mexico will observe by giving a benefit towards the Geronimo Gym which is to be built here. All labor is being donated, and so far, a gift of a carload of cement, valued at over $900 dollars has been received, name of doner withheld. The above men plan a program which will take about 40 Indians and their Devil and War dance costumes on tours to Colorado, Texas, and Eastern New Mexico.

Much money must be raised, because the project is estimated to cost around $75,000.00. What an undertaking for a Post this size! Any donations will be gratefully received, or may be mailed to the Commander of this Post 48, Juan Baldonado, Jr., Mesclero, New Mexico.

The Chief would like to know "how we can get a decent burial for the done-to-death $64 question"

Our softball team has lost the last two games, by a small margin, but we won't talk about that.

To prove any argument about the time I rise and shine, how many others head the Red Brown show (on every morning over the El Paso Station from 7 a.m. to 7:30 a.m.) Tuesday morning of this week when Ray Reed was interviewed about Frontier Days. They shore missed a bet though by not giving the listeners the pleasure of hearing Ray sing, anyway they gave the rodeo and Ruidoso a good boost.

Those people having the most fun of anyone these summer nights are those gathering at Old Lincoln Court House to rehearse for the pageant to be presented Sunday August 14th, they keep the coffee pot boiling to drive off the chill, and are really working hours and hours each time to give those planning on attending the best possible production of "The Last Escape of Billy the Kid." When you go see this show watch carefully for the scene where the Horrel Bros. come riding through town, and Le Roy McKnight, playing the part of an innocent bystander gets shot, dead. At least he is dead after really going about it in the hard way. A touch of humour and whimsy in all the tense drama of the situation.

Things That Happened This Week
Dixie Dryden, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Dryden fished for the first time (age 6 1/2) was out by their house about fifteen minutes with a pole Joe rigged up to pacify her, an caught a twelve inch native trout, held on to a tree with one hand to keep from getting pulled in, held on to the fish until she landed it with the other. Tuesday afternoon, as a direct result of the Booster Trip the businessmen planned and made, a woman called from Carlsbad to make reservations for a family of five for "Frontier Days", said one of the men in the caravan sold them on the idea. It didn't rain quite as much, but the temperature stayed very pleasant, Walt Crosby was a'running around town getting out rodeo tickets and programs, Bob Boyce was moving at his usual gait doing chores connected with the big show, Spencer

Peterson was handling "entertainment."

Ruidoso Business Review

Highway 70 Folder Features Southwest Map and Pictures

Recently received in the Ruidoso Chamber of Commerce office are exceptionally well done travel folders and a map put out by the Highway 70 Associations of New Mexico, Arizona, and California naming the U. S. highway the "Scenic Courtesy Highway" and featuring 70 scenic and historical wonders along this route to the west coast.

The route enters New Mexico at Clovis, N. M., and copy on the folder lists the 70 outstanding points of interest along the route from that city to Los Angeles, California.

Ruidoso and the Ruidoso Hondo Valley are given mention as well as Mescalero. On the pictorial page of the folder a winter scene in Ruidoso is featured.

This route takes the travelers through the most interesting sections of New Mexico, The Land of Enchantment, of vivid and romantic Arizona, and of glamorous unique California.

Another outstanding feature of the highway is the fact that year around it is passable.

Almost everyone in the Village of Green Tree, N. M., visits the business of Palo Verde Electric sometime during the day. Why? well, for the simple reason that the post office is in the same building, and Mrs. Jack Parnell, postmaster, also helps her husband with the appliance business. In September of 1946 Mr. and Mrs. Parnell and their family moved to Green Tree, then Palo Verde, from Capitan, N. M., where they had been operating Reddy's Grocery since 1938. At first they took orders for appliances, established their agencies, and Mr. Parnell did wiring contract work, for which he is well qualified, having graduated from the Cook School of Electricity in

In January of 1947 they moved into the present location which building is still undergoing remodeling and enlarging as their business as well as the post office grows.

Now the Palo Verde Electric carries a complete line of Frigidaire products including washers, refrigerators, ironers, home freezers, hot water heaters, cabinet units, ranges, etc. They also handle small appliances such as lamps, electric irons, toasters, waffle irons, coffee makers, etc.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Parnell are well known in Lincoln County. She moved to White Oaks in 1912 with her family, Mr. and Mrs. Reddy and then with them back to Artesia in 1924, then married and they both came back in 1938.

All previous records of United States grain exports were broken during the 1948-49 shipping season ended June 30, 1949. The total for the 12 months, July 1948-June 1949 is estimated in a preliminary report at a record 17,692,000 long tons (686,074,000 bushels), as compared with the 15,240,000 tons (588,000,000 bushels) in 1947-48.

DON'T MISS SEEING CLAYTON BENNETT'S

Carrizo Annual Indian Rodeo August 13-14

Several years ago, the Carrizo Community commenced sponsoring Annual Indian Rodeos to raise funds for the benefit of all the people in that particular district so that they could purchase the necessary recreational, farming, household and general home improvement items.

The other two districts, Elk-Silver and Whitetail, also followed this idea of raising extra funds, but soon abandoned their operations; and now, only the Carrizo District holds this event annually. The rodeos were such great successes, both financially and from the standpoint of entertainment, that all Indians of the Mescalero Reservation, Indians of other parts of the country, as well as our white neighbors and friends, look forward to this event every year almost as much as the Fourth of July Indian Ceremonials.

The location of the grounds is five miles west of Ruidoso with well-graded and paved roads leading to the grounds. Grandstand seating capacity is provided, or one can enjoy both the cool weather and a real western rodeo under the tall pines. Picnic grounds are ideal and are near the rodeo grounds. In addition to the Indian "feasting" concession stands are available for the convenience of all.

Indians of the reservation camp for the two-day event right on the grounds and entertain all the visitors following each daily performance with the following dances: The War, Hoop, Round, Devil, Back and Forth, and Morning Dance.

These rodeos were started under the management of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Hicks, former teachers of the Carrizo District, and with John Shants as manager, assisted by Leon Botella, Victor Randall, Gabriel Patty, San Randall, Franklin Torres, Fred Scott, Peter Gains, and Oswald Smith. This year the rodeo is sponsored by the Mescalero Indian Cattle Growers' Association, and is scheduled for the 13th and 14th of August. Starting time is two o'clock each afternoon, under the management of John Shants with Bruce Klinehole as arena director. Ray Reed, the singing cowboy of the Mescalero Reservation, is the announcer. Mrs. Bruce Klinehole will begin recording all entry fees at 10:00 o'clock the morning of the 13th. Mrs. Klinehole is secretary of the rodeo.

An all-around, worthwhile and entertaining program is scheduled for you and your attendance will be appreciated. Don't forget to come to see us the 13th and 14th of August at Carrizo on the Mescalero Reservation.

R.E.A. Meeting At Cloudercroft August 6th

Election of directors for next year will take up part of a business session of the annual meeting of members of the Lincoln-Otero county electric cooperative, to be held Saturday, August 6, at 2:00 p.m. in the REA office at Cloudercroft.

A free barbecue, spread in the shade of the tall pines and quaking aspen of the beautiful Cloudercroft park, will be served to the members at 12:00 o'clock noon.

All of the more than 1,000 members of the cooperative are urged to come to the meeting not only to take part in the business session but also to become acquainted with fellow members from all over Lincoln and Otero counties, the Mescalero Indian Reservation, and parts of Chaves county.

The road from Mescalero into Cloudercroft is graveled and in good condition, and the distance nineteen miles. Those coming from Lincoln county would find this road their best route.

A program committee appointed by the board of directors consists of Wilbur F. Coe, Glencoe; Bryan Runyan, Hope; and Reed, of Cloudercroft.

Electrical Demonstrations

Outstanding among the features of the program will be a demonstration of electrical equipment by various concerns throughout this area. New electrical appliances will be introduced, and prizes awarded.

A representative of the Rural Electrification Administration will be present to discuss the power-use program of the REA. It will be explained that a wide use of electricity on the farm and ranch not only adds to the livability of the home and builds up the agricultural income, but also brings down the cost of electricity to the individual and his neighbor.

This reduction is made possible by rate schedule set up by the REA. Electrical costs are brought down as the load is built up through greater use of the power. In this connection, the importance of the increased development of public power in our country will be brought out.

The local REA organization is a non-profit enterprise — the greatest enterprise ever to serve rural communities, our own community included. Each consumer owns an interest in this cooperative movement and has as much voice in selecting directors and running the affairs of the organization as anyone else.

The motto of the REA is: "To be served by those whom we serve." That is to say that we are all in this cooperative together — all rural people with problems, hopes, and needs in common each understood by the other, and all working to help one another.

Plans for expansion of the REA will be explained in the near future.

so enthusiastic over the caravan and the celebration they were boosting he paid for 15 minutes on the radio station, KAVE, for Ray Reed and his boys the day they were there, and for every day through Sunday. While the boys broadcast a transcription was made to be used all this week.

In El Paso, Dan Duke, Mayor of the City, took over all arrangements for the Ruidoso visitors and gave the group the key to the city. Monday morning Ray Reed and his boys were on radio station KOAB, telling about "Frontier Days." At 9:30 the whole caravan gathered in San Jacinto Plaza for a prelude of the entertainment to be offered here this weekend.

From El Paso they went to Las Cruces and then back into Ruidoso Monday evening via Alamogordo and Tularosa.

M., is assistant United States Attorney for the North Texas District. The Harrell family has been coming to Ruidoso for seven years.

When the rodeo is over we are going to Central City, Colo., to see Mae West in person playing 'Diamond Lil', should be a shapely show. Lois and Paul Mayer.

On The Level

By Hal Middlesworth

Ed. Note: The following article was clipped from the Daily Oklahoman, and was published in the Wednesday edition of that paper, July 6th, by Hal Middlesworth, Sports Editor, following a vacation trip to Ruidoso. It came as a pleasant surprise to La Verne Carlton, mentioned in the article and a summer resident of Ruidoso, when he received his home town paper. Everyone to whom it was shown deemed it worthy of reprinting for everyone to read.

"Being Odds and Ends, this and that, from a vacation trip into the desert and mountains of far west Texas and southern New Mexico:

Ruidoso, a bustling New Mexico resort (winter and summer) claims few Oklahoma Cityans but plenty of Oklahomans. Councilman LaVerne Carlton is an old settler in the pine-studded mountains of the Mescalero country there, with a luxurious cabin of his own but few others from Oklahoma City find the interesting spot.

Those who do get there will discover, among other things, horse racing — complete with pari-mutuels and Oklahoma steeds, including quarter horse. Pre-race 2-year-old favorite of the Hollywood track's current meeting was Hank H. Jr., owned by Oscar Cox of Lawton. He was confidently expected to take down the $12,000 futurity purse and added money of 5 percent of the mutuel handle on that race.

But, two days before the race, Hank H. Jr., was discovered dead in his stall—a victim of pneumonia. He was buried in the Hollywood infield (just as Black Gold, another Oklahoma racer, was interred in the Fairgrounds oval at New Orleans) and now they'll run a memorial race in his honor every year. Young Hank had covered 330 yards in 17 1/2 seconds, only three tenths of a second over the world record.

Aside from its speedy quarter horses (who contest three of the 10 daily events), Hollywood park is noted for its ancient gallopers. Outstanding is a 16-year-old chestnut gelding, Pecos Lad, who last week led nearly all the way in a half-mile feature, only to be nosed out by an upstart of a 6-year-old, Captain Tom. But Pecos Lad showed his heels to a couple of other "youngsters"—Bulolo and Pair Sally, both 10-year-olds, and a pair of "beginners," only 4 years old.

It must be that mountain air. In addition to the horse racing, Ruidoso offers plenty of other sporting attractions. The little but noisy Rio Ruidoso is alive with mountain trout running up to a pound in weight and eager to bite on worms.

One vacationer reported snaring 42 of them in one day—but says fishing is spotty. There are

Schenck Heads State Legion Committee

Roger Schenck, recently re-elected Commander of the American Legion for District 5, and a resident of Ruidoso, has now received a letter from Seaborn P. Collins, Department Commander, telling him of his appointment as Chairman of the Americanism Committee of the American Legion, Department of New Mexico.

At the present time Mr. Schenck, in addition to all of his other Legion activities, is helping make plans for the Geronimo Memorial Gymnasium at Mescalero, N. M.

Airmen Tell Towns Of "Frontier Days"

Tuesday morning of this week Ralph Brown, flying one of his own planes, and Dick Ratliff, took off from the Ruidoso Airfield on their own private booster trip preceding "Frontier Days." With the plane loaded to capacity with their enthusiasm, and many sheets and handbills advertising "Frontier Days," they flew toward Roswell, and during the trip managed to stop in or fly over the following towns to be sure the residents knew of the Ruidoso celebration this week-end.

Kenna, Elida, Portales, Clovis, Muleshoe, Hereford, Olton, Springlake, Plainview, Abernathy, Shallowater, Amherst, Tahoka, O'Donnell, Lamesa, Levelland, Brownfield, Hobbs, Lovington, and Tatum, completing a circle of quite a number of miles in New Mexico and Texas.

Duane Evans of Roswell has been visiting his grandmother, Mrs. Willie Evans, and had with him Jerry McFadden, a friend of his.

Mrs. Esther Agnew and a group of friends from Alamogordo were in Ruidoso last week for the Harris Shelton art exhibit. They were very interested in his work.

Days when they won't bite for anyone and if you want to go up to the headwaters of the river you'll find some big ones that will give you a tussle on the best fly you can devise.

Deer, bear and wild turkey still fill the fine forests in the upper heights of the Ruidoso area, which runs from about 7,000 to 10,000 feet in elevation and which calls for three blankets at night.

It's also a popular winter resort with 125 inches of snow last season and a good ski slide in operation.

The wonder is that more vacationers from this section haven't discovered it earlier.

News Of Coming Golf Tournament At Cree Meadows

Approximately 60 professional golfers are expected to play in the second annual Cree Meadows Open Tournament to be held in Ruidoso, August 28, 29 and 30, according to an announcement this week by Warren Cantrel, pro-manager of Cree Meadows.

Among the top-flight professionals who have already indicated their intention to be here for the tournament are defending champion Chuck Klein of the Ross Rogers Course in Amarillo, Jack and Wally Harden of the El Paso Country Club, Ray Gafford of Ridgelea Country Club in Fort Worth, and Shorty Hornbuckle of the Odessa Country Club.

Gafford is the current Texas PGA champion. Jack Hardin played Cree Meadows last week and was four under par on the first nine with a 32, and completed the 18 holes with a 36 for a total of 68.

Cantrel, who is almost completely recovered from an illness which kept him in the hospital for much of the summer, stated that the amateur division this year will be divided into three flights: "A", those with a handicap of 5 or under; "B", those with a handicap of 10 or under; and "C", for those with more than a 10-under handicap.

Play for both the pros and amateurs will be 54 holes medal during the three days—18 holes each day. Cash prizes of more than $1000 will be up for the pros, while the simon-pures will compete for $500 worth of merchandise prizes.

Jay McClure, assistant pro at Cree Meadows, who has been in charge during Cantrel's absence this summer, stated that the fairways and bent-grass greens are in the best shape ever after the regular rains of the past month. West Texas and New Mexico golfers have kept the club-house personnel busy during the past few weeks, even on weekdays. Everything points to the most successful tournament in Cree Meadows' short history.

Miss Deona Smith, honor graduate of the Ruidoso high school this spring, has been awarded an academic scholarship to attend Highlands University, John W. Oiler, director of public relations, has announced. Miss Smith will enroll with the opening of the fall quarter September 1.

Mr. Milt Maby and Louise Massey and daughter Joy Maby were in Ruidoso Sunday visiting the Jack Hulls and Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Rooney.

CARRIZOZO ITEMS

NEAR DISASTER!

The rains came again last week but this time they brought what could have been a tragedy. Mr. T. O. "Lefty" Hayes narrowly escaped serious mishap when his truck was washed down Coyote Canyon on Highway 54. Mr. Hayes and another motorist had waited over an hour for the boiling waters to lower before he attempted to pass through. When the water had dropped several feet, Lefty tried to cross only to be hit by a second wall of water mid-way through the canyon. He was washed out of the truck and in spite of a crushed hand suffered when the vehicle overturned on him, Lefty clung to a rock until his companion rescued him. He was badly shocked but recovering rapidly. Meanwhile Mrs. Hayes is driving the bread route.

Mr. and Mrs. Omer Spurlock went to Roswell last Sunday where Mrs. Spurlock entered the hospital for observation. When last heard from she was resting comfortably.

Softball continued high on the list of "things to do" on Sunday afternoon with Lincoln coming to Carrizozo for a two game program. Carrizozo seniors came from behind in the last half of the last inning to win 8-7. In the second game, Lincoln's juniors jumped at our juniors to the tune of 28-4. The highlight of the day seemed to be the public address system that was rigged on the new softball field. There was music before both games and the announcer, Dee MacDaniel, kept the spectators informed as to balls, strikes, innings and the score through both games. There is no doubt that Dee's continual chatter kept the attendants interested.

Travels Of A Lincoln County Old Timer

By Mrs. A. E. Mulkey

"We are never too old" could be applied to Mrs. Hattie Dishman. Recently she made a trip by train, bus and car to see relatives and friends, some she had not seen for fifty years, traveling several thousand miles, and spending seven or eight months away from 520 Terrace Street, Ashland, Oregon where she makes her home.

Mrs. Dishman is an old-timer of Lincoln County having arrived at Corona from Hill County Texas in 1907 with her husband, Frank Dishman, and his parents and brothers and sisters. Two of the sisters were married to the Knox brothers. There were four covered wagons which brought the Dishman and Knox families to Corona. They filed on land and homesteaded all within a few miles of Corona. The men worked at the sawmill in the Gallina Mountains while the women and the children held down the land claims. At first the families had to camp on their land until houses could be built. Mrs. Dishman says she and her husband and two children moved into their house January 1, 1908. Their homestead is located two miles north and one mile east of Corona, and is now owned by the C. C. Ashcraft family.

Mrs. Dishman had five children, three of whom were born on the old homestead. The children are Elizabeth Mae who passed away in 1911, Herman, Bud, Lillie, and Edna. At present three of the children live at Oakland, California. They are Edna Tracey, Lillie Ford, and Bud Dishman. Her son, Herman, and his wife live near Corona on the old Knox homestead. Mrs. Dishman's husband passed away in 1941, and she and her son, Herman, stayed on at the old homestead until 1947 when they sold the ranch and moved to California. A year later she went to Ashland, Oregon to visit a niece.

While in Ashland, Oregon Mrs. Dishman decided to take a trip and visit her relatives and old friends. She traveled by train from Oregon to California, and from there to Brownwood, Texas. From Brownwood she took a bus to Glen Rose, Texas to visit her brother, J. C. Smith. About ten miles from Glen Rose in what is known as the Oden Community was where she spent her girlhood days. Her brother had lived there for 60 years. She visited the old home place, saw the shrubbery her mother had planted in her yard, and the pecan, walnut, mulberry, and pear trees her father had planted years ago. The old well was still there that she and her brothers and sisters had carried water from more than 60 years ago. Her Dad's old tank was there where the children used to fish. She attended what is called Home Day at the old Oden Chapel where she used to go to big camp-meetings when a girl. She saw many of her hold friends, among them two women, sisters, she had not seen for 50 years.

From Glen Rose, Texas Mrs. Dishman went to Waco, Texas for a visit with old friends, then to Houston, Texas to see a sister of her husband's, and a trip over to Beaumont, Texas to see some cousins, three of them she had not seen for 42 years. She later went to Coleman, Texas to visit some old girlhood friends. These friends were neighbors to her parents when she was a girl at home. Their mother, Aunt Ruth Jones, was 100 years old last March. Mrs. Dishman spent two nights with Aunt Ruth and they sat up talking until almost midnight both nights. (Aunt Ruth, by the way, happens to be a great Aunt of the niece with whom Mrs. Dishman makes her home in Ashland, Oregon.)

From Coleman Mrs. Dishman took a bus to Myrtle, Texas to see her husband's brother, Will Dishman and his wife. She says Will seemed to be in good health for a man of 80 years, but since her visit he has passed away.

From Myrtle, Texas Mrs. Dishman went by bus to Lilla Lake, Texas to visit her husband's oldest sister, Mrs. Knox. Mrs. Dishman and Mrs. Knox camped together on the line of their claims back in the fall of 1907 at Corona. She visited the Knox family a week and from there went to Heddy, Texas to visit Perry Dishman another one of her husband's brothers. After this visit she went to Shawnee, Oklahoma to see a sister-in-law, Mrs. Bessie Clark.

Coming back to Texas after a weeks stay in Oklahoma she visited some nieces at Amberst, Texas. Two of the nieces and their husbands brought Mrs.

Dishman to Corona in their car. While in Corona Mrs. Dishman visited her husband's brother, Mr. Wilbur Dishman and family and many more old friends and neighbors. (Mrs. Dishman is a slim, medium height woman, of a pleasing personality.)

After a few weeks visit in Corona Mrs. Dishman took a through train from Vaughn to Oakland, California and was on the train 42 hours. She visited her three children and their families in Oakland for a few weeks and from there she went to Yuba City, California to visit the late Jimmie Dishman's wife whom she had not seen for 35 years. They lived near each other at Corona when their children were little.

Finally leaving Yuba City, California Mrs. Dishman took the bus to Ashland, Oregon where she now lives happily upon a hillside at the edge of town. She says lots of people live on the hillside, and there are lots of beautiful roses, and all different kinds of flowers, fruit trees, and vegetables. She is raising a vegetable garden, and also a flower garden for her niece who is an invalid. They have at this time many different kinds of flowers in bloom. They both attend church regularly at the Ashland Tabernacle on East Main Street. The Pastor calls for them taking them to and from church since her niece has not walked since 1938.

It took courage, perseverance, and resourcefulness to live out a claim, and to raise five children, four of them to manhood and womanhood, and we believe Mrs. Dishman, at the age of 71, deserves the best that life has to offer.

School Bus Drivers To Institute And Training Program

R. E. Carter of Green Tree, Ben Sanchez of San Patricio, and R. H. Hedgecock of Ruidoso, all three men bus drivers for Ruidoso-Hondo Valley Schools, were in Silver City, N. M., at the ninth annual Bus Drivers Institute August 1-5 at the New Mexico State Teachers College.

School bus drivers from all over the State of New Mexico were there for the training program sponsored by New Mexico State Teachers College in cooperation with the State Board for Vocational Education and State Division of Transportation Department of Education.

Marjorie F. Martin, Albuquerque instructor in school bus safety for the college, headed the institute. She was assisted by her husband, Ernest L. Martin, who is consultant to the state director of transportation. The institute is fully sanctioned by J. T. Reece, director of school transportation in New Mexico. Reece points out that 982 buses are traveling 43,500 miles each day transporting 33,000 New Mexico school children.

Visiting instructors helped conduct institute classes. Upon successful completion of the outlined training course, drivers received certificates of achievement for school bus driver education and training at a special picnic. Dr. H. W. James, college president, made the awards. Courses are so scaled that some college credit will be offered.

Driver enrollees took 25 clock hours of course work including (1) discussion of school bus driver problems; (2) consideration of the New Mexico State Traffic code and State Department of Education regulations and standards for pupil transportation as they affect the school bus driver; (3) determination and demonstration of sound driving practices in connection with school bus operation; (4) participation in demonstrations and practice of first aid methods; (5) formulation of procedures in use of school safety patrolmen assigned to school buses; and (6) observation and practice in driving a school bus under supervision.

Livestock Meetings Scheduled For Six West Texas Cities

Special to Ruidoso News

Seeking greater support for the American National Live Stock Association among cattlemen in West Texas, officers of the New Mexico Cattle Growers Association will attend a series of meetings in that state which have been arranged by the national organization. G. W. Evans, President, Magdalena, and Huling Means, Vice-President, Silver City, of the New Mexico Association, will appear as speakers in six West Texas cities. They will be accompanied by F. E. Mollin, Denver, and Radford Hall, Denver, Executive Secretary and Assistant Secretary of the American National Association.

Livestock meetings are scheduled for Amarillo, Texas, on August 3; Wichita Falls, August 4; Ft. Worth, August 5th; Midland, August 6th; Marfa, August 7 and 8, and San Antonio on August 9th. The group will be joined by Albert K. Mitchell in Midland, Texas. Mitchell is scheduled to speak on the Foot and Mouth Disease situation in the Republic of Mexico. He is chairman of the National Advisory Committee to the Secretary of Agriculture on control and eradication of the disease south of the border. He is also a former president of both the New Mexico association and the national organization. Evans and Means are both former Texas ranchers and have a wide acquaintance among cattlemen of that area. Means is chairman of the Finance Committee of the national organization.

"We hope these meetings will renew and increase interest among ranchers in the important work now being done by the American National Live Stock Association," Evans said. "We are both looking forward to these meetings as it will give us an opportunity to renew many old friendships, and to discuss the vast changes which have been made in the cattle business in this area in the past forty years."

Apache Trading Post Opens Here

Mr. and Mrs. Elmo C. Carter have opened their new business, the "Apache Trading Post" in Skyland across the street from Jack Lee's Market.

Mr. and Mrs. Carter have been in the curio business for three years and are planning on keeping their new business open the year 'round. They have every confidence in the growth and future of the town and hope their new business can grow with it.

In addition to featuring Mexican and Indian crafts of the Southwest as well as Old Mexico for gifts and curios, they are carrying many practical items in stock suitable for use and particularly attractive in typical houses of this part of the country.

They plan to make frequent trips to direct markets to keep their store stocked with desirable items.

Arts and Crafts Exhibit Week Aug. 14th Thru 21st

A Judges Committee of Artists in residence will judge the Arts and Crafts Exhibit from Aug. 14 to Aug. 21 as the final work of the summer group studying at The Arts Colony, according to the announcement of Mr. Donald MacKay, Director.

The instructor in art, Ernest Beagley of Los Angeles has invited the Artists in residence to exhibit their paintings. This in itself will be worth a trip to the mountain resort community, says Mr. Beagley.

The crafts will be an extensive showing of ceramics under the direction of Vaye Fulton, Colony instructor and producer of ceramics in her own right. Mrs. Fulton says the leading center of interest in the Student Exhibit may be the Virgin of Peace done by a summer student, Father Cotter of Ohio. Other interesting choice pieces of creative work will attract attention. It is planned for winning prize pieces to be shown in the State Crafts Exhibit at the Museum, Santa Fe, New Mexico, Sept. 18 to Oct. 15.

Large Groups View Harris Shelton Work

Friday afternoon, July 29th, over three hundred and fifty men and women representing almost every community in Lincoln county and many towns and cities in the surrounding area were present between the hours of 2:30 and 5 p.m. at the Educational Building of the Community Methodist Church for an exhibit of oil paintings by Harris Shelton, Artist of the Southwest.

Shelton's work, that of a careful craftsman, depicts landscape of the Southwest in exquisite detail and colors rarely reproduced on canvas by any artist. He works carefully on detail, sometimes spending two weeks on sketches and notes regarding composition as he plans a picture and the colors to be used in the exact spot he has found desirable for the pleasure of those who will view the finished work. In this way he catches fleeting and elusive moments of grandeur—sunsets, sun rises, moonlight in the desert those not so talented see and try to store in their minds as beautiful memories of perfection in nature.

Among the thirteen paintings exhibited in Ruidoso were included several by Mr. Shelton loaned through the courtesy of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Slator of Odessa, Texas and Ruidoso and Mr. and Mrs. A. Hart of Ruidoso. The list of paintings viewed by the appreciative, sincere and enthusiastic crowd were the following: "New Mexico Sunset", owned by Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Hart, painted in the Organ Mountains near Las Cruces, N. M.; "Faraway Places," an Arizona desert scene; "Afterglow" picturing a portion of the Hueco Mountains west of El Paso; "In The Still of Night", a moonlight painting of Superstition Mountain in Arizona, and voted one of the most popular in the exhibit; "When Is Done", a scene of the San Geronimo Mountains between Alamo and El Paso; "It Rains in the Franklin Mountains; "A Daybreak", another Arizona desert scene; "October" a vivid and colorful portrayal of fall in the Lincoln National Forest; "The White Sands", showing the magnificent colors created by lights and shadows and the sun on the moving sands of one of the wonders of the world; "Arizona Sunrise" and a scene of "Mt. Elbert", both owned by the Slaters; and "Evening Sentinels", painted in the foothills of the Organ Mountains.

Hostesses for the occasion were Mrs. Kiel Bonnell, Mrs. Bruce Smith, Mrs. Zach Collier, Mrs. Mrs. St. John Graves, Mrs. H. Graves, Mrs. Warren Barrett, Miss Mary Glenda Shook. During the afternoon they greeted the guests and served refreshments from the tea table decorated with garden flowers.

Attention!

Dr. A. D. Foreman, former pastor of the First Baptist Church of Amarillo, Texas, who has been spending the summer in Ruidoso, will preach at the First Baptist Church Sunday morning August 7th.
